Child Suffers Hypoglycemia

By Lawrence F. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB—My two and a half year old son has hypoglycemia. Last New Years day he was acting very strange all morning. By strange I mean very irritable, throwing up and terribly crabby. I laid him down for a nap, and an hour later I heard a loud scream. I ran to the bedroom. His bed was covered with vomit, and he was in a coma. We rushed him to the hospital, and over an hour later it was established that he had a low blood sugar. As soon as he received sugar he came out of the coma within minutes. He remained in the hospital for a week, but they never came to a conclusion as to what caused the episode. About two weeks ago he was showing the same symptoms, and I gave him a glass of juice with a lot of sugar in it, and in about 10 minutes he was fine again. Our son is super active and seems to always need something to eat or drink. I try not to give him sweets to snack on. Can you help me as to what is causing this? Will he have it the rest of his life? I have read about hypoglycemia in your columns, but it doesn't seem to fit my boy.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR READER—Your description sounds like he has primary hypoglycemia. The usual type of disorder seen in most adults is secondary and is often related to a previous stomach operation or certain poor dietary habits. These people usually get hypoglycemia after eating, whereas the primary attacks can occur before eating. I can't tell you exactly what your son has, but I do know that he will need some very specialized tests and for that reason you should arrange to have him seen by the endocrine-metabolic section of the nearest university medical center. Don't delay as repeated attacks in children sometime lead to brain damage. He can probably be treated. The most likely problem is some defect in complex enzymes in his metabolic system. Of course, he could also have some extra insulin-producing the ten after dummy played low! Oswald: "Actually, the nine was played from dummy. Perhaps he should have played the king on the theory that I was then the sort of young genius (idiot) who might underlead an ace against a slam, but no one can really blame him." Jim: "Culbertson really should have held the king of spades for his six-heart bid. Give him the king and East the queen and you would have been a genius." Oswald: "It still hurts. The Culbertson team won the tournament. Our team came in an unhappy second." A Michigan reader asks what happens when the wrong player leads and the normal declarer puts down his hand on the table while his partner who should have been dummy plays the hand. They decided to play the hand out that way and they were correct in doing so. This doesn't happen often, but it does happen. Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Jacobs" care of this newspaper. The Jacobs will answer individual questions. If stamped, self-addressed envelopes are enclosed. I've never seen a more unified group. They're putting up money, not words," commented Paulucci.

Downtown Plan Voted in 66-0

By AUDIE MURPHY
Herald Staff Writer
"It's happened," said a jubilant Sara Jacobson, executive director of the Downtown Development Council (DDC), when approximately half of Sanford's downtown property owners and businessmen voted unanimously to support a rejuvenation project recommended by the DDC Monday. The 66-0 vote called for the formation of a non-profit Downtown Development Corporation, complete with offices and fulltime staff. This corporation will implement training sessions, recruit new businesses, restore the Victorian character of the city's old storefronts and conduct surveys.

A jubilant Sara Jacobson kisses Jenio Paulucci as downtown businessmen endorsed the redevelopment plan.

Outcome Delights Paulucci

By JEAN PATTISON
Herald Staff Writer
When Jenio Paulucci left the Sanford Civic Center after Monday night's meeting between the Downtown Development Council (DDC) and downtown property owners and merchants, he literally skipped across Sanford Avenue in irrepressible excitement. Paulucci approved the redevelopment program outlined; was pleasantly surprised by the eager pledges for financial support from the assembly; and forecast his future role in redevelopment as liaison between a downtown development corporation and officials in Washington who he reported have grants and loans for Sanford's ailing. "The easiest fund raising I've ever seen," the specialty foods entrepreneur marveled, shortly after the DDC's development program was accepted unanimously by property owners and merchants attending the meeting. "I've never seen a more unified group. They're putting up money, not words," commented Paulucci.

Plan For St. Johns River Aired

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer
Flood control problems and how to fund proper water management of the St. Johns River system were aired by state and local officials present at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce's Personality Breakfast this morning. George Griffith, with the St. Johns River Management District office in Palatka, said regulations concerning wells and consumptive use will be delayed until after a March statewide referendum in which local funding participation will be decided.

Discussing the future of the Upper St. Johns River Basin at Tuesday's Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Personality Breakfast are, from left, executive director of the Water Users Assn. of Florida Inc. Grand Jury To Resume Wednesday

The Seminole County Grand Jury is scheduled to resume its reported probe of county government actions and allegations of sunshine law violations on Wednesday at 9 a.m. The four-week probe is expected to continue after a holiday week recess but observers speculated today that the grand jurors may present an interim report to the circuit court sometime Wednesday. During the apparently rambling investigation the grand jury has heard testimony from county commissioners, real estate salesmen, a title insurance firm executive, owners of a tract of south Seminole acreage that the county contracted to buy as a day pit but later refused to buy, a state legislator and other witnesses.

Drizzle Slows Area Vote

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer
Drizzling rain this morning was slowing down the trek of voters to the polls in three south end cities—Casselberry, Longwood and Winter Springs. But City Clerk Kay Sassenan of Lake Mary continued confident that 60 per cent of the voters in her community will make their choices known by closing of the polls there at 7 p.m. Casselberry City Clerk Mary Hawthorne, who had "optimistically" predicted 60 per cent or 2,488 would turnout of Casselberry's 4,147 eligible voters, said the rain had caused a slowdown in the turnout. While 200 had voted by 9 a.m. (which projected would see a turnout of 1,500, less than half the number predicted by the veteran clerk), Mrs. Hawthorne was hopeful the turnout would brighten with the weather later today. The ballot includes: Bill Griener (incumbent), Gerry Christensen and Councilman John Zacco for mayor; and two councilmen are to be selected from a five-person field which includes Fred Bussey Jr., Edwin L. Duerr (incumbent); August (Gus) Hodak, John Lighty and Nathan Z. Van Meter. City Clerk Mary Norton of Winter Springs, who had conservatively predicted a 35 per cent (400) turnout of the city's 1,438 eligible voters appears close to having her forecast upheld. By 10 a.m., 126 had voted at the one-machine polling place, the city fire hall on Moss Road.

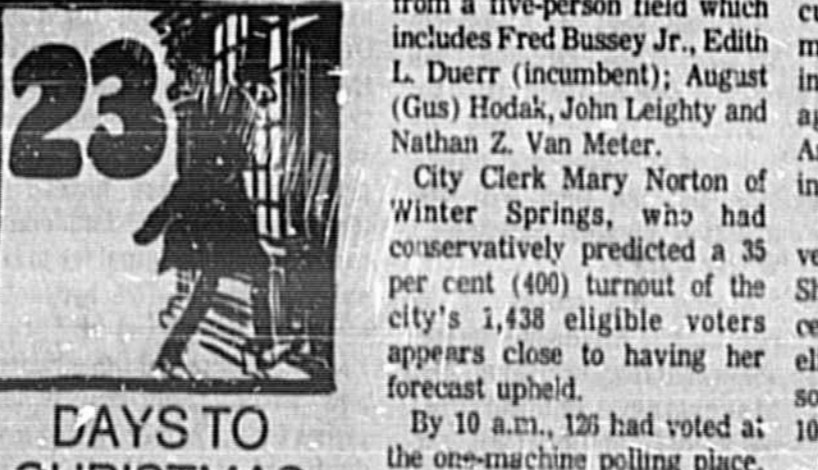

hand at the city hall council chamber polling place. While the weather was a bit misty in Lake Mary early this morning, it began turning cooler at 10:30 a.m., City Clerk Kay Sassenan said, noting that 146 voters had cast ballots by 10:45. She remained optimistic that 60 per cent (637) of the city's 1,051 eligible voters would take advantage of the opportunity to choose three councilmen. During Seminole's youngest city's brief 28 months existence, voters have turned out 60 per cent or better strong at each of the previous four elections held. Polling place is Lake Mary Elementary School. Included on the Lake Mary ballot are DeLores Laak, incumbent, and a challenger, but neither was opposed for the council post which Virginia Mercer did not seek re-election to; incumbent Martin Bacon Jr., Henderson Ferguson, county maintenance director, and Roger Stumbo, trustee of the volunteer fire department for seat three; incumbent Harry Terry and former mayor Margie Hays for seat five. Lake Mary's election will be canvassed as will Casselberry's immediately after the polls close. City law requires the vote to be cast on a runoff election must be held at the canvassing board includes Mrs. Sassenan, Councilman Butch Perinich and Mrs. Mercer. Absentee district four election is in Longwood, Lake Mary and Casselberry will be returned no later than 7 p.m. today.

Miami Question: Who Will Replace Earl?

MIAMI (AP)—Earl Morrall did what he's supposed to do. He came off the bench in place of sidelined Bob Griese and quarterbacked the Miami Dolphins to victory over New England.

But now the question is: will someone have to come off the bench next Sunday in place of Morrall?

Morrall's 41-year-old body held up long enough to lead Miami to an easy 20-7 victory in the Miami Dolphins' 1975 season on Sunday night, but a knee injury may leave the Dolphins depending on an inexperienced thirdstringer at quarterback.

Morrall completed his 11th season as Miami's starting quarterback, passing to quarterback a strong running attack. He had the Dolphins ahead 17-0 in the quarter before leaving the nationally televised game with a leg injury.

Coach Don Shula said Morrall's status for Sunday's American Conference East Division first-place battle between the Dolphins (6-3) and Buffalo (7-4) was up in the air.

Strook is the only reserve available. "If Earl's out, we'll look around — but this late in the season, it's hard to find anyone," Shula said.

Shula's fretting didn't draw any sympathy from Patriots' Coach Chuck Fairbanks. "We were just overmatched," said Fairbanks. "They have a hard road to the Super Bowl but have the potential to get there."

Morrall ended up with 14 completions in 17 attempts for 138 yards but Fairbanks, a 1954 Michigan State teammate of Morrall, warned, "They will miss Griese. I thought Earl played well — but he's not Griese."

Morrall was still walking after the game and predicted, "I'll be ready (Sunday)." He completed seven of his passes to the Dolphins and relied on the running of Don Nottingham (55 yards), Benny Malone (52 yards) and Norm Bulach (37 yards) to control the game.

Polls

Ohio State, 11-0 and headed for a Rose Bowl encounter with UCLA, grabbed first place in the final college football poll conducted by the Associated Press. Texas A&M, Oklahoma and Alabama followed in order. Florida's Gators finished 13th.

There's no doubt about who's No. 1 in college basketball these days. Indiana planted its feet firmly on the top rung of the college hoop ladder by thrashing defending NCAA champion UCLA 84-64 Saturday night. That impressive performance, before a national television audience, helped the Hoosiers strengthen their grip on the No. 1 spot in the Associated Press' weekly rankings, released Monday.

Cancer Claims Nellie Fox, Former White Sox Sparkplug

BALTIMORE (AP)—The skin cancer that finally claimed Nellie Fox Monday "had to be incurable because if it wasn't, Nellie would have beat it," said Jim Lemon, one-time outfielder and manager of the old Washington Senators.

'Bama's Todd Is Satisfied

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—"I've taken a lot of criticism but no inconsistent this season, so it feels especially good to have a game like I had," quarterback Richard Todd says of his efforts against Auburn.

Vandy Star Gains Honor

ATLANTA (AP)—"If my head doesn't ache, if my neck isn't sore and if my legs aren't tired, then I haven't played a good game," says Tom Galliers, Vanderbilt's senior middle guard.

Player-Writer Kenny Dies

SARASOTA (AP)—Nick Kenny, who played professional football for 19 years and then began writing sports columns, songs and poems, is dead at 60.

Die Miss' Cooper Top Coach

ATLANTA (AP)—Ken Cooper, who rapped sports writers before the season started, saying they were underestimating his University of Mississippi football team, proved it on the playing field.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL For Wednesday, December 3, 1975 ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're generous, up to a point today. You do, however, require appreciation or you could turn sour in the evening. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The day will not be as profitable as it could be. While you're plugging the leaks, you'll also be pulling the coals. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A serious matter confronts you today. You're wise to treat it in an affable manner, while still recognizing its gravity. CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're an effective worker today as long as you don't take on an unrealistic load and wind up going nothing really well. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're sure of yourself today — to a limited degree. A strong-willed person could browbeat you into doing something against your better judgment. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today you'll get your fair share by being honest and straightforward, but not too pushy. Respect those you deal with. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) A friend has an annoying habit of shooting down ideas you feel are good. Today, save aggravation. Don't tell him what you have in mind. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) You're still under favorable financial aspects but there's a small warning: Avoid any kind of extravagant conduct. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Anything important you have to do today will be better accomplished with as few people as possible. Two of you company — four is impossible. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You could be upset today. Those you've done favors for expect more and more. Be compassionate, but don't be used. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Everyone needs to let his hair down once in a while. Trouble is, you may not know when to quit today. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This will be a very rewarding day if you don't trip over your own feet. Avoid impulsiveness. YOUR BIRTHDAY Dec. 3, 1975 Expose yourself this coming year to an environment where you'll be able to make new contacts. You can form beneficial alliances if you cultivate the right people.

Indictments Returned By County Grand Jury

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer A number of indictments — perhaps as many as three — were returned today by the Seminole County Grand Jury which for four weeks has been probing county governmental operations. Circuit Court Judge Joseph A. Cowart Jr., immediately ordered the grand jury report sealed. He said under law the report can remain sealed for 15 days giving persons named in the indictment the chance to reply to the charges. Though Cowart did not specify the number of indictments returned, he ordered Circuit Court Clerk Art Beckwith Jr. to make four copies of the jury's report for the judge to distribute to the person or persons accused. Two attorneys, Gerald Rutberg and Newman Brock, were in the courtroom and immediately went into a huddle after the grand jury presented its report. Rutberg represents County Commissioner Mike Hattaway and Brock represents Commissioner Harry Kwiattkowski. Hattaway and Kwiattkowski were the only two county commissioners who did not testify before the jury, which was reportedly probing allegations of violation of Florida's Sunshine Law and other statutes.

Police Chief's Daughter CETA Worker Nepotism Charged In Oviedo

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer State officials have charged Oviedo city officials with nepotism in demanding repayment of $4,000 in federal funds used to pay the salary of the Oviedo police chief's daughter over a nine-month period. Police Chief Ken Triplett's daughter, Shirley, was hired on Feb. 2 as a police radio dispatcher-jailer. She was terminated on Nov. 12 after county officials advised Mayor Leon Olliff that the state nepotism law was violated and that the $4,000 must be repaid. Ma. Triplett was hired under the county's Comprehensive Education and Training Act (CETA), a federal program geared to offset unemployment. The $4,000 was salary paid over the nine-month period which came out of CETA funds, CETA Director Jim Bedole said. Hiring Ma. Triplett was a "clear violation of CETA requirements in regard to nepotism," said Mrs. Betty Stone, the deputy director of manpower planning in Tallahassee. The city of Oviedo must reimburse Seminole County for the cost incurred by an ineligible applicant," Mrs. Stone said in a letter to Bedole. At a meeting Tuesday, the county commission decided Oviedo officials must either produce the $4,000 or an adequate explanation. "I personally feel they should come up with the $4,000," Commissioner Harry Kwiattkowski said. "They should send the $4,000 or a reason," Commissioner John Kimbrough agreed. Kimbrough said the hiring looked like a "mistake" and did not involve any illegality on the part of Oviedo officials. Bedole said the Oviedo incident is the first of its kind in Seminole County's CETA program. He said it was only by "accident" that it was even discovered. "How do you control a program such as this? It's very difficult," he said. Bedole said Mrs. Triplett was one of four candidates who applied for the post. He also said she was one of the "most qualified." A CETA supervisor in charge of pay vouchers discovered the Triplett name on an Oviedo voucher. He notified his supervisor. County CETA officials then wrote Atlanta seeking direction. At the same time Oviedo's mayor was notified. Then on Nov. 18, the letter arrived from Mrs. Stone stating nepotism was involved. Bedole said he had contacted officials in Atlanta prior to the letter from Mrs. Stone and had received differing opinions about whether the hiring of Ma. Triplett was a clear-cut case of nepotism. The special commission meeting Tuesday was called by Kwiattkowski. Kwiattkowski had recently been made aware of the incident and wanted full board concurrence as well as county course of action — which was to concur with the state.

DDC Confident Of Funding

By AUDIE MURPHY Herald Staff Writer With $40,000 already in its coffers, the Downtown Development Council (DDC) is confident of acquiring the balance of the $1 million needed to fund the first year of its redevelopment program, according to DDC Executive Director Sara Jacobson. The vehicle for that program will be a non-profit Downtown Development Corporation, now being drawn up by Doug Stenstrom, local attorney and DDC member. "There are two things that have to be done now," Miss Jacobson said. "One of them is maintaining the continuity of the funding effort by contacting those who have made pledges; the other is to contact those who haven't contributed to solicit their pledges." She said that it was imperative that redevelopment plans be acted upon as soon as possible, while enthusiasm for the project is at a high level, and said the DDC will get down to business when it meets next week. Mrs. Jacobson said she would deliver a report to the DDC members at the meeting, tentatively scheduled for Wednesday, on "those ends" that need to be taken care of. The crucial step of voting on a board of directors for the development corporation probably will come next week also, she added. The non-profit development corporation will be designed to operate as a full-time business to carry out the DDC's four-point program to revitalize Downtown Sanford. Meanwhile, Miss Jacobson said she is confident more large contributions will come in, because some corporations contacted had to await authorization from their boards of directors before pledging. At Monday night's meeting at the Civic Center, redevelopment promoter Jero Paulucci announced approximately $25,000 in large contributions had been raised from a dozen businesses and property owners raised that amount to the $40,000 level and the DDC is expecting more pledges to come in every day. The Downtown Development Corporation, as soon as it begins operations, will begin to study the feasibility of locating a community center complex in Downtown Sanford, Miss Jacobson said. The multi-million dollar complex, including a new city hall, a cultural center, a chamber of commerce building and other offices, was suggested by specialty-foods magnate Paulucci, who has participated in the redevelopment of Duluth, Minn. Funding for the complex would come via federal money made available through the Economic Development Administration, after matching funds were generated at the local level. Miss Jacobson said if the city commission planned to spend $1.8 million for a city hall, it would make more sense to use the money to match funds to obtain a multi-million dollar complex for the city.

Questions Machine, Count Lake Mary Loser Stumbo Protests

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer LAKE MARY — Unsuccessful city council candidate Roger Stumbo has filed a written protest of Tuesday's official election results that retained in office Councilmen Martin Bacon Sr. and Harry Terry and returned to a council post Mrs. DeLores Lash. Stumbo, Tuesday night after the election results were certified by a canvassing board composed of Mayor Walter Sorenson, Council members Bert Perinich and Virginia Mercer and City Clerk Kay Samsam, filed the protest over the tabulation of votes for the council seat three post. In the protest he questioned "the accuracy of the voting machine and the tabulation directed by the city clerk. I also request an investigation of said same," he said. The single voting machine used at the Lake Mary Elementary School polling place was impounded by the police department, on Stumbo's request. The vote as certified gave Mrs. Lash 463 tallies for election to seat one. In the contest for the seat three position, incumbent Martin Bacon received 301 votes to 153 for Ferguson and $6 for Stumbo. For the seat five office, incumbent Terry received 308 while his opponent, former mayor Margie Hess, received 228. Wallace Hall, whom Stumbo contacted Tuesday night after the polls closed. Mrs. Stumbo said the official ballot for the election was "not in order" and that candidates' names would have been listed alphabetically. Mrs. Stumbo added that voting machines are automatically impounded for five days following an election and that her husband is asking for a recount of the results. Stumbo said the vote may have been reversed on the machine, giving Bacon Stumbo's votes and Stumbo Bacon's. Stumbo was jubilant today, noting he had campaigned for a professional full-time fire chief and department when the city can afford it. Stumbo is a volunteer fireman and a member of the department's board of trustees. Bacon said he changed his campaign strategy from last year when he won a one-year split term. Last year, he said, he conducted a door-to-door effort while this year he concentrated on a mailing to the voters and meeting citizens on the streets of the community. Terry has been a councilman since designated an interim official in the city charter adopted in August, 1973. He was elected to a two-year term in December the same year. Mrs. Lash, who was designated a council member in the city charter, was subsequently elected to a one-year split term and declined to seek re-election in December, 1974.

Kidney Disease Not Understood

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D. DEAR DR. LAMB — I am trying to find out as much as I can about the kidney disease, myoglobinuria. I have been told by my doctor that I have it. I had my first attack in 1965 with discolored urine and exhaustion when physical exertion was involved. A day or two of rest would clear the urine. I've had at least eight attacks since then. Since 1970, though, I have felt "done in" even after getting a good night's sleep. I'm 45 and weigh 145 pounds and have had a very active life, bowling, baseball, football, track, basketball and swimming. I can't do any of these things after a long march if they have not been trained to tolerate that much activity. The injured muscles are sore and release myoglobin. The myoglobin is eliminated in the urine, giving it a red or brownish color. The swollen and sore muscles involved, plus the discolored urine, are a pretty good indication of the nature of the problem. Special tests of the urine and blood establish that the substance is myoglobin. There are some cases where the problem has occurred in children, giving it a red or brownish color. The swollen and sore muscles involved, plus the discolored urine, are a pretty good indication of the nature of the problem. Special tests of the urine and blood establish that the substance is myoglobin. Your case is rare enough that your doctor might want you examined at a university medical center. By quite complex tests they might be able to pinpoint the basis of your recurrent attacks and offer something more constructive. For information on Anemia, send in 50 cents for The Health Letter, number 4-3. Understanding the Anemias, with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Tom Freeman Asks For Special Counsel County Attorney Tom Freeman asked the county commission Tuesday to hire separate counsel to represent the commission in the upcoming clay pit litigation. A suit filed in circuit court alleges commissioners illegally aborted the $317,000 purchase "in pursuit of personal reasons" and asks in excess of $10,000 from the county and individual commissioners. The suit was filed by Greater Construction Corp. of Castellberry. The firm's president, Lester Mandell, was quizzed by grand jurors who are probing governmental operations. A report from the jury is expected later today. Freeman asked to be relieved because he said he will be a principal witness in the trial. "It's necessary for me to testify in the case," the attorney said. Commissioner John Kimbrough asked if commissioners could retain individual counsel, but Freeman advised the commission to retain only one attorney. Sanford Attorney Vihlen and Kimbrough were not present when that decision was made. Freeman said he saw "little merit" to the suit, but he said if the commission hires individual attorneys the "public is going to get it in the ear when it comes time to pay." Commissioner Dick Williams said he saw no "merit whatsoever" in the Mandell suit and didn't see why it couldn't be "dismissed." The suit also claims the county's reasoning of the clay pit tract near Markham Woods place was impounded by the police department, on Stumbo's request. The vote as certified gave Mrs. Lash 463 tallies for election to seat one. In the contest for the seat three position, incumbent Martin Bacon received 301 votes to 153 for Ferguson and $6 for Stumbo. For the seat five office, incumbent Terry received 308 while his opponent, former mayor Margie Hess, received 228.

Tom Freeman Asks For Special Counsel

TOM FREEMAN: Mack Cleveland Jr. was mentioned as a possible candidate for the job. County Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr. signed the contract with Mandell. On Oct. 14, the commission reversed its decision and decided against the purchase.

State Commerce Secretary Also To Join Ceremonies

Gov. Askew Here For Auto-Train Celebration including the auto-ferry service between Washington and Centra Florida. The linkup with Amtrak was Garfield's brainchild, and was the choice of Sanford as the location where "passengers from up north" would have the sense, when stepping off the train, of having been "plunged into the heart of Florida." Garfield usually travels in a private car. But the exciting executive can also be seen about the train, according to employees, seeing that the service is all he envisioned it to be when the project came of the dream and onto the project board. Garfield, pleased with the agreement with Amtrak, said, however, that Amtrak will retain its individuality. Some Washington officials hailed the cooperative merger as a new and serious form of transportation to be considered by America's future travelers.

Gov. Askew Here For Auto-Train Celebration

Florida Gov. Reubin Askew will touch down today at Sanford's Auto-Train terminal to be on hand when the one-millionth rider is selected by Auto-Train officials. Also scheduled to attend ceremonies is Ed Trombetta, the state's secretary of commerce. Trombetta is the chief honcho on state tourism. Director of Corporate Affairs Tom Blayney said the name of the one millionth traveler won't be known until today at 4 p.m. when the ceremony is scheduled to get under way. Askew is expected to give a short talk on Florida tourism before greeting the one millionth rider, who will travel to Lorton, Va. Blayney said city officials are invited to attend the event at the terminal, which is located at 600 Perannoon Ave. Blayney, a former aide to the governor, said Askew decided to stop off in Sanford because "the governor is close to Auto-Train President Eugene Garfield." Blayney said Auto-Train is a "big boom" to Florida tourism. Auto-Train recently announced an agreement between the firm and Amtrak to cooperate in expanding nationwide auto-ferry services.
