FAIR ROBBED OF 54 QUARTS LIQUOR

MOORE HAVEN, Fla., Oct. 18.—The sheriff of Glades county has offered a reward of $200 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who robbed the county jail here Saturday night of 54 quarts of a high grade Scotch whiskey. The bandits cut a heavy wire screen and two iron bars, gaining entrance to the cell in which the liquor was stored. They were discriminating bandits, for none of the large quantity of moon shine liquor stored with the Scotch was removed. They did show their opinion of "shine," however, by breaking the jars and bottles containing the white lightning and allowing it to flow over the floor.

PLAN NATION-WIDE SCHOOLING AGAINST LOSS BY FIRE

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Widespread instruction in fire prevention methods among the general public is the purpose of the convention here today of the annual three-day meeting of the Railway Fire Prevention Association.

In the year 1921 in the United States, a property loss of $1,000,000,000 was common, killed nearly 10,000 persons and injured more than 10,000,000. Of these casualties, 84 per cent were suffered by mothers, children and invalids.

These figures are published by the Association to show the need of increased campaigns against carelessness where fire is possible. Nearly 10 per cent of these losses of life and property are due to carelessness and lack of proper education as to existing hazards, according to the Association.

The meeting is the culmination of fire prevention work as recently designated by President Harding. The campaign of the Association this year will be actively supported by various insurance activities and by the United States Chamber of Commerce and many local chambers. CROWLEY, La., Oct. 17.—The Southern water hyacinth, praised by the beauty lover, hated by the navigator of the bayous and dubbed a nuisance by the irrigation men, has proven its right to live.

In Louisiana, this plant is choking the smaller streams, blocking navigation, and where removed at a heavy cost, speedily return even more prolific. The plant can be converted into an asset according to a group of chemists, who have prepared and displayed at the Chamber of Commerce quarter here samples of paper pulp, other products, tannin, fertilizer, fire-proofing compound and stock food, all based on the hyacinth.

Whether this transformation can be made at a cost that will render the process economically worth while, is to be determined later. However, the enormous volume, rapid growth and easy gathering insure cheapness in raw material, according to chemists.

AN OPEN FORUM

In the olden days of Greece and Rome the open forum first came into being and for many years while those countries were in the glories of their world power all the big questions of state were discussed in the open space in the center of the cities and called the forum. It is well for the people of this day to have the open forum for the getting together of the clans and the discussion of all questions that affect the public welfare. It is well for the people to know why they are voting and what they are voting for before they go to the polls to cast their ballot. The Herald has always favored public meetings of all kinds at all times. We favor public meetings and discussions before every election day in order that the voters may know what the candidates stand for and what they intend to accomplish if anything. Since the referendum election has but little to offer in the political line being merely the ratification of the wishes of the voters at the primary elections about the only questions of moment are the amendments to the state constitution and these amendments, not all of them important, have several that are very important and two of them especially bring the referendum for those parties to stand at the polls and vote on the referendum of the state.

That proposition before the time to be investigated. The department is investigating and for all they know something about it. All of these amendments will be discussed in an open forum at the court house on Thursday night, October 20th at 7 o'clock. Just 104 women in the county considered the referendum. The ladies are anxious for the referendum to be held.

MORE APPLICANTS THAN JOBS

A St. Petersburg business man recently advertised for a janitor, the salary to pay 20 a week. He was swamped by applicants. Men of all ages and many positions in life applied for the place. There must have been 35 men who sought to get the position, even though the pay was not what one would expect some of the applicants to accept. Talking to some of the applicants it developed that many had come to St. Petersburg with money enough to pay their expenses here only two or three weeks. These men said that when their small supply of cash should be exhausted they would be "up against it" and did not know what would happen to them. Some of those who applied for the janitor's job were men of education and refinement, men who had been used to better positions. Others were young men who had come to St. Petersburg to spend the winter and had to find work at once to live. All were in need of work.

Automobile tourists report seeing many men walking and beating their way in automobiles to get to Florida for the winter. Most of these were not plain grumps, but rather men who were out of work in the north and had figured that they at least would get a winter in Florida and a job for the year.

The wish of the unemployed to get to Florida is so great and the number of job seekers in St. Petersburg is the largest that has ever been known. Many more are planning to come here to spend the winter than in any other city in the north. This is a serious situation for the rush to Florida and the conditions in the north are not likely to improve. Writers are reporting that many of the unemployed are coming to Florida and that the number of job seekers is increasing.

than the barbarous and destructive strike for settling labor disputes will be devised. It is a reproach to our civilization that no better way has yet been devised. One cause for congratulation is the abrogation of the "national agreements." It was an absurd proposition to bind all railroads and all workers all over this broad land to one hard and fast agreement. A scale of wages which might be easy for one prosperous railroad to pay might mean bankruptcy for a weak and struggling railroad. What is a "living wage" in one locality might be entirely inadequate in another. The only fair way is for every line to settle with its own employees. It knows their conditions and its own. If injustice be done, or an agreement is impossible, then an appeal should be taken to the railroad labor board, which should have the power to enforce its decision. Its authority has been too often flouted in the past by both managers and men. This work for congress which should be attended to promptly. Let it once be known that the decisions of the labor board must be respected, and that it is not the authority of the government behind it, and there would be little or no trouble. The public, the ultimate employer of every railroad man, from section hand to president, and the public may be trusted to be just and fair.—Tam

GRAPEFRUIT LOWER: According to reports 124 cars of grapefruit and 122 cars of grapefruit were shipped from Jacksonville between the dates of October 1st and October 10th. These figures indicate a very heavy shipment out of the state for so early in the season, and there can be no doubt that considerable of the fruit shipped, especially grapefruit, must be of very ordinary color. There is no question but what these shipments will be the strength of the market in the future, in fact the influence has already been felt, for we now find that the price of grapefruit is down to $2.00 per box of 24. This is a very low price for grapefruit. Information from Jacksonville indicates that many cars are being shipped on account of color. It is reported that many cars are being shipped on account of color. It is reported that many cars are being shipped on account of color. NEWS PRINT DISCUSSION BEFORE PUBLISHERS

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Questions pertinent to the publishing profession will be discussed by national authorities at the meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association, to be held here today and tomorrow, October 17 and 18.

Mrs. Florence Riddick Boys, of Plymouth, Ind., who has made a national reputation for editing a woman's page for newspapers and who has been called to Washington to assist one of the political parties in directing the publicity for women voters, will speak on a non-political subject.

Charles I. Stewart, publisher of the Lexington, Ky., Herald and president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, will address the meeting and take a prominent part in the news print market discussion when that is reported by E. P. Adler, chairman of the committee having that work in charge.

R. S. Kellog, of the News Print Service Bureau, New York City, also is scheduled to speak on the print situation from the manufacturers viewpoint.

"GOATS HEARD" TO RE-PLACE "BEE'S EYEBROWS?"

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Instead of the "bee's eyebrows" or the "lizard's knees," it threatens to be the "goat's beard" pretty quick.

Whatever all this modern argot may mean to the rising generation, the "goat's beard" is indicated as an advance fashion by no less official a publication than the Panama Canal Record, which ordinarily speaks of marine spikes, garboard strikes, and ship chandeliers. Witness the following official bulletin:

Attention in the cargo of the steamship Felix Taussig, passing thru the canal on August 18th from Paris to Atlantic ports of the United States, was 47 bales of goats beards weighing 24,127 pounds. Another was 24 bales of human hair stumps weighing 24,127 pounds.

The fashion announces the return of the pompadour, it necessarily means the return of the "rat" and that accounts for the human hair stumps. If a bale of goats beards weigh approximately 500 pounds how many goats had to be barbered?

As the fashion designers are putting false whiskers for one of the latest winter modes.

Letters Of A Florida Citrus Grower To His Nephew

IX From Jonas Arland at Hammock Groves, Florida to Samuel Newcomer, Bentonville, Mich.

Dear Sam: Your letter is very welcome. The news that you have decided to become a member of the local association where your grove is located and thus to market your fruit through the Florida Citrus Exchange makes me feel good.

I am inclined to rejoice both for your own sake and for the sake of the organization. I know this will be a very good thing for you, and I am glad now to be sure that your fruit is not going out through some other channel where it will compete with mine in the markets to the detriment of the price of both.

You are not very complimentary; but I appreciate your honesty all the more. When I had finished reading the first half of your letter, to the effect you had decided to become one of us, I was shaking hands with myself and receiving congratulations from the same source on the visible effects of my ability as a letter writer.

Enclosed is an application blank for membership in the St. John's Citrus Growers Association; and I have had you recommended for membership by Old Man Brown, who is one of the head men in the association. That practically clinches the thing, for there is nothing difficult in joining an Exchange association. All you need to become a member, and to stay a member, is, as Dr. Ross says, "So to conduct yourself that others may work with you." There is no initiation fee; there are no dues. The actual cost of the operations involved in handling your own fruit, which are deducted from your remittances, cover everything.

As you can see, the application is simplicity itself. Also I enclose a booklet giving the full Charter and By-Laws of the Florida Citrus Exchange, the various sub-exchanges, and the local associations. As you will be subject to these, I advise reading this booklet carefully. However, I know you will agree with me that in straightforward, honest phraseology, these are simplicity itself. No honest man or woman can find any reason for hesitating in signifying a willingness to conform to them. For that matter, they have been passed upon time and time again by able lawyers as there are in this country, because among the members of some of our associations are some of the biggest business men in the United States. Likewise there are several estates of former prominent Northern financiers which own Florida groves. Such as these make no move of any sort, without the approval of a whole covey of highly paid lawyers.

Just the same, I want you to read these charters and by-laws and to make sure of things for yourself. In an organization as big as this, with a thousand members, there is no room for trickery and sharp dealing. Just the same, a man should know precisely what he is doing. A man who considers a business proposition makes a big difference. Which is not to say that you are not a man of the time when Colonel Jones, our local officer, gave the "Woman Without Her Man Would Be a Savage." This was all right and the subject is a very timely one, but after the local paper came out, he had to explain to delegations from the Woman's Club and the Ladies Aid Society, and they kept him busy explaining for quite a while. For the inspired printer had quoted the Colonel's words as "Woman Without Her Man, Would be a Savage."

With best love to Etta, the children and yourself, I am, somewhat hastily, Your Uncle, JONAS

X From Jonas Arland at Hammock Groves, Florida to Samuel Newcomer, Bentonville, Mich.

Dear Sam: I am sending your certificate of membership in the St. John's Citrus Growers Association, which, you will note, was passed upon at the last meeting of the association directors, and according to the endorsement of the secretary, you are now a full-fledged member and thus fully affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange.

Keep this carefully. Possession of it is not necessary to prove your rights to anything, but now and then reference to this will help you to recall the time when you took a very definite step for your own good and for the benefit of Florida, which I am trusting may before long become the adopted state of you and your fine little family.

If you live up to your threats and knock off for a couple of months next winter, and you and Etta and the kids spend the time down here and get some sand in your shoes, I don't believe it will take much to persuade you to cast your lot among us.

We have the finest country on the face of this green earth. We don't have to prove it, we admit it. All we need to enable us to take our place at the head of the ranks is more good people like you and your folks. In a few years that grove of yours is going to be worth more money than your hardware store in Bentonville that you think so much of. Also you and your folks will find that your round living here is certainly delightful as compared with your round living most anywhere else. I have traveled all over the United States, and over fourteen counties in Arkansas, and I feel I know.

Incidentally, your old uncle is getting no younger as time passes. I should like to be able to feel that some of my own blood relations were qualifying to carry forward the things I have brought along thus far. It would in a way compensate me to an extent for having no children of my own to take up my responsibilities.

I have not hinted at this before; but believe it is just as well that you now understand how I feel. That is one reason why I was so bent on having you start off right, and have the first fruit from your grove go through the Florida Citrus Exchange.

Michigan is a grand old state, and I love it; but after a quarter of a century here I love Florida more. Loving Florida as I do, I am bound to use my best efforts always in behalf of the Florida Citrus Exchange. For, could you see things as I do, you would know that the Florida Citrus Exchange has done more for Florida than any other institution in the state. Not only that, but it must continue to be the big factor in the progress and development of the state. The future of Florida's citrus industry and the future of Florida are inseparable; and the future of our citrus industry rests upon the Florida Citrus Exchange.

I am not very strong on giving advice, as a usual thing. In a way I am somewhat like Old Doc Towner, to whom I went to school in Dorbridge Township, when I was a boy. I remember one Friday afternoon when just before school closed he said to us: "Boys, I suppose you know there is a horse race at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon. You must not go. But if you do go, you must not bet on the races. But if you do bet, be sure to put your money on Abercrombie's mare."

I have no ambition to influence you and Etta to come down here and take over my responsibilities; but in the event you should decide to do so, I believe it would be a profitable thing for you, and I feel sure that each and all of you would enjoy mightily living here in Florida.

Even if, as long as I last out, you have to put up with my company and companionship. On the basis that the good die young, I believe Deacon Walker would hazard the guess that I am dug to live to be about one hundred and twenty before I lay down my burden. However, you must not let that discourage you unduly.

Love and best wishes to Etta, the youngsters, and yourself. I am looking forward to seeing you now before so very long.

Your Uncle, JONAS

PITTSBURGH'S WAR MEMORIAL A USEFUL HIGHWAY

(By The Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—Pittsburg has officially dedicated a $2,200,000 memorial to its sons and daughters who served in the World War.

The memorial is a municipal highway called The Boulevard of the Allies. It extends from the business to the Oakland district, approximately two miles.

When city officials discussed ideas for a suitable memorial, public opinion was accepted as favoring a general appropriation for any monument which might perform valuable public service and in this way perpetuate the effort of Pittsburgh's service men and women.

At the time the city faced a serious problem. A tremendous amount of automobile traffic between residential section and the business district was compelled to use a single boulevard.

Instant demand for a second artery of travel punctuated by hundreds of accident—minor and fatal—caused the city council to decide upon the boulevard memorial.

The highway, built chiefly of concrete, is 40 feet wide. Construction was begun in September, 1921. Starting at Grant street and Second avenue the boulevard stretches up a hill to the Bluff and follows the Bluff to Forbes street and Craft Avenue. An extensive system of retaining wall construction was necessary.

There are no streets crossing the Boulevard proper, and officials expect that early morning and late afternoon traffic problems in the downtown sections, will be eased considerably.

Last month 32 persons were killed in traffic accidents in Pittsburgh and the fatality record during the summer averaged 25 per cent.

A beautiful project of the city of Sanford, Fla., will be the subject of Friday, Oct. 20th, 7 o'clock in the evening, at the Graded school auditorium. The committee is invited and urged to come en masse. A large number of all will give a most helpful and interesting program. Don't forget the date, Friday night, Oct. 20.

The new road to this locality is progressing as well as could be expected, but the detours since the heavy rains are almost impassable. Machines and trucks are cutting through the woods in every direction, some go by the way of the boulevard through the woods and our near the Palmetto road, others by Mrs. Greenhaw and out near Richardson and through Keokuk road. All the Automobiles are enough but suggest that you take the grammar school road Friday afternoon to celebrate Columbus Day. An attractive little playlet in keeping with the occasion was staged. NEW RAILROAD IS BUILDING FROM BARTOW TO STUART

The steel rails of a new railroad, the Florida Citrus Highlands rail road, have been laid from Garfield Lake, on the Seaboard Air Line, near Bartow, to within five miles of Avon Park, in Highlands county, and the right of way is granted to Lake Vigo on the northern part of the Avon Park town lot. Promoters made that the new railroad will be hauling this year's crop of Avon Park by the way of Lake Vigo. The information is given by the promoters of the Avon Park road, that the road will be built from Bartow, Fla., to Stuart, Fla., and thence to the Gulf of Mexico. The road will be built in sections, the first section being from Bartow to Stuart, and the second from Stuart to the Gulf of Mexico. WILL PERMIT PEEP AT ROYALTY FROM UPSTAIRS

(By The Associated Press) TOKIO, Oct. 19.—Instead of 2,000 police being ordered out to line the streets and order people from upper windows whenever an important member of the Royal family makes an appearance, as has been the custom for centuries in Japan, the authorities have decided that the number shall be reduced and are considering a proposal to allow the people to pay respects to their Emperor or Empress from up-stairs. Should a member of the Royalty decide to drive across the city, a large force of police was ordered out, street cars were stopped, traffic diverted, every person strictly scrutinized and upper windows ordered closed, no matter how hot it was. The patriotic Japanese, however, considers it a grave offence to look down on his Emperor of divine origin.

They Couldn't Know

Back in 1818 the greatest newspaper of the day declared that the world had reached the limit of human expansion. It even went further, saying that there weren't enough supplies in the world to support further growth of population.

The mind of 1818 couldn't conceive of the miracles that human ingenuity would perform during the twentieth century. It couldn't imagine the wonders that would be wrought by new agricultural methods and modern manufacturing genius. It was ignorant of transportation as we know it, or the progressive sales methods of today. It could not see the vital part that would be played by advertising.

Even today there are some who fail to realize what an important factor advertising has become. Advertising is as much a part of today's life as electricity, anti-septic surgery or automobiles. It keeps us up-to-date on the many things we need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives. It presents for our approval articles of all kinds and for all purposes. The requirements of each member of the family are met by advertised offers of good merchandise of proved value.

The advertisements save time, money and effort for those who read them and follow their guidance. They are practical guarantees of satisfaction.

A better man shows up next week like Ralph Stevens will be the winner of the case of shells in the Rod and Gun Club for next showing the best increase in season's average for the last season, that is of course Ralph does as well on next afternoon as he did yesterday.

Of his 50 the good doctor's average two points above all the others out yesterday managed to hold their own still plenty of opportunity "dark horse" to show up and shoot the entire 100 and the grand prize.

Two contests is at present property. Ralph Wright has 14 out of his first 50, a late and was only in time to frame of 25 and broke Stevens is credited with 9 and this contest will not be officially closed. If anything that somebody will get fifty fine birds, shells and this will be will have to wait after the smoke clears away.

Despite the fact that the day dawned dark, cloudy and threatening, that the heavy rain of yesterday and last night left the fairways somewhat damp and making the play a little more difficult, at ten minutes before time for the starting, going this morning the country club grounds were thronged with the lady members of the club who are to participate in the golf tournament for the day.

Daily fifteen entries were on the job, all of them confident of either winning one of the prizes or giving the weather a case study for the hour.

The interest among the men runs just as high and some excellent scores for beginners is expected as a result of today's play.

This tournament is not to be played exactly like a real golf tournament as there are so many entries and the time in which to play is so short. The purpose of the day apply to both the lady and the men, and the other a woman's hold with the intention that the ladies will only play about the course while the men will make the full rounds.

The players are paired off in two teams and the final score of each player will be tabulated and the prize will be distributed amongst the players in such a way that no one will have a chance. The best and second best scores will receive a prize and a trophy.

Stevens' fight Joe Beckett. Joe will be better than you, but don't send Bill to the front.

Mr. Smith expects to win the match today and Mrs. Smith the ladies. Don't know though, whether it is a draw or a loss.

The friends of Ray and Joe are one of the best golfers at the club. They are expected to either win or lose today, with the odds in favor of Ray. But they will not more than likely be a close runner up.

Belmont Whitner is one of the best players of Sanford that will be at the club today to defend his title on the golf course.

They will talk about the city, and the club, and the game. They are expected to win on the score of 80 and 85. They want a whole day in which to play their match.

WEDDER AND CROP COND. LOSS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING OCTOBER 17-22

The mean temperature averaged below normal for the week, the daily deficiency ranging from 3 to 4 degrees; the last several days of the week were much warmer than usual. Sunshine. The percent of sunshine, as compared with possible, was much below normal, deficiency being most decided in north, central and southern divisions. Rainfall. The week gave us very heavy rains over much of the northern division east of the Suwannee River, most of the central division, and especially in the south, where the weekly totals ranged from 3 to 7 inches. Rain was especially heavy in the counties of Broward, Dade, Palm Beach, St. Lucie, diminishing somewhat in the interior of the Everglades district, although much of that section is still covered with water. The week's total rainfall ranged from 3 to 7 inches over the northeastern counties from about Marion to Nassau. West of the Apalachicola River the rainfall was much less than in the peninsula on the coast near Apalachicola, where it was from 3 to 4 inches. Rains were needed in the interior of the western division. Except in the western division, where the rainfall was moderate, very little work was done during the week. Work was suspended over most of the peninsula the exception being over a small portion of the west-central counties, where some activity prevailed in the way of replanting truck. The truck crop has been ruined in the southern division, and much local damage resulted from excessive rains in the central and northern divisions. Soil is too wet to plant seed; fortunately seed beds are available and the work of replanting will be pushed as soon as the soil is in good condition. The warm, wet weather was unfavorable for citrus fruits, which is getting larger than usual with some complaints of "splitting." Berries have suffered with other crops, especially on low lands. Broadly speaking, the week

SAYS PUBLIC READY TO BUY REAL VALUE

These are more popular in price than ever before, had previously supposed, according to the Seminole Overland Co., of Sanford, Florida.

Supporting this is cited the public's reaction to Overland's new low prices, which went into effect September 15th.

Sales of this car indicate that many prospective buyers had just been waiting for the latest value increase before making their investment.

Overland's all steel body, real baked enamel finish and large, strong rear axle, are among the extreme values at the new low price which especially attract buyers.

These are new values on a popular priced light car, and have added appeal in view of the latest price reduction to $525 for Overland touring and roadsters.

Overland is now the only car stilling below $800 that has an all steel body and real baked enamel finish. It is also the only light car using both Tanken and New Departure bearings in a semi floating rear axle, with axle shafts that are removable, as in high priced cars, without tearing down the housing.

CLYDE LINE LENAPE MAY BE TOTAL WRECK IF STORM CONTINUES

Florida Metropolitan, who with his wife, was on board.

Liberty women and small children were numerous among the Lenape's passenger list, he said, and the strain of events told hard on them. In taking the passengers aboard the Managosa the order of the sea children, women and men, was followed.

In the separation of families there were many pathetic scenes. The sea which coupled with their pent up emotions, caused excitement among the less staunch.

The Lenape was in charge of First Officer Reginald Dexter, at the time of the accident, according to H. G. Whool, Florida passenger agent for the line, who was aboard the vessel.

The first officer had been on duty only 12 months, however, having taken the watch at 4 a. m. from the ship's doctor, Dr. J. H. Whool, on the morning of the disaster.

At the end of the 12 months' term the reading and instruction was 100 per cent, and the ship was in the hands of the first officer, who also made the ship's doctor, Dr. J. H. Whool, on the morning of the disaster.
