New Issue Of Convertible Debentures Recommended By A.T. & T. Officials

NEW YORK CITY, Aug. 23. (Special)—The board of directors of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company voted yesterday to recommend to stockholders a new issue of convertible debentures in an amount not to exceed $251,000,000, an increase in the authorized capital stock of the company from 25 million to 35 million shares, and the adoption of an employee stock plan under which up to 2,800,000 shares may be issued and sold to employees of the company and its subsidiaries.

A special meeting of stockholders to vote on the recommendations will be held Oct. 16. Proxies and accompanying statements describing the proposals are being prepared and will be mailed Sept. 7. Since approval by holders of two-thirds of the shares outstanding is required to authorize the convertible issue, the company emphasizes the importance of stockholders returning their proxy promptly if they do not expect to attend the meeting in person. Stockholders registered at the close of business Sept. 13, 1946, will be entitled to vote. Proceeds from the sale of both debentures and stock would be used to provide funds for extensive additions and improvements to the plant of A. T. & T. and its subsidiary and associated companies, and for general corporate purposes. The company points out that because of the improved service and in order to extend and improve existing services, the Bell System has entered upon the largest construction program in its history. This will necessitate obtaining over the next few years very substantial amounts of new capital.

The company estimates that on the initial offering more than 500,000 Bell System employees will be eligible to purchase shares, and that approximately 2,800,000 shares would be offered, out of a total of 2,800,000 which would be authorized for employees.

Arabs Demand Britain Consult Grand Mufti

Request Made To Invite Exiled Leader To London Parley On Palestine

JERUSALEM, Aug. 26 (AP)—A new element was injected into the explosive Palestine situation today with an Arab demand that Britain consult the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem. A formal request was made that the Mufti, who played ball with Hitler during the war, be invited to the London conference on Palestine scheduled to begin in September. The request was handed the British government by the Arab Higher Executive Committee.

There seemed little likelihood that Britain would extend an invitation to the Mufti. The exiled Arab leader is none too well liked in official London circles, where his record of collaborating with the Axis is still remembered.

The Palestine picture was further complicated today when a Zionist leader, Richard Lichheim, sharply criticized the World Jewish Agency. Lichheim said the agency has secretly agreed to the British plan for dividing the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab states, but that the agency has not yet made its new position public.

In Palestine itself, there was a spectacular raid on a tiny Jewish town today by British forces. Two hundred residents of the village of Sefot Yam were rounded up and herded into barbed wire enclosures for questioning. The British surrounded the village before dawn and searched homes and buildings. They were looking for the men who attacked bombs to the refugee transport Empire Rival in Haifa harbor last week and almost succeeded in blowing up the vessel.

The surprise raid on Sefot Yam followed the pattern of a full-scale military invasion. Long lines of trucks crammed with British troops took part in the operation, along with field kitchens, radio equipment and Sherman tanks. All roads in the village were blocked off and guarded by machine guns.

Team Honored Tonight

Tonight Manager Ed Levy, above, and his Celery Feds will be honored at the Municipal Park when the Orlando Senators meet Sanford for the last time during the regular scheduled season. The evening has been designated as "Player Appreciation Night" and all proceeds will be turned over to Manager Levy and his players. Some 1,600 fans are slated to witness tonight's contest and the field events which begin at 7:30 o'clock. Sanford has downed Orlando the last two times the clubs have clashed at the local park.

Fans To Honor Sanford Ball Club Tonight

Appreciation Night Gate Receipts To Be Turned Over To Celery Fed Players

Manager Ed Levy and his Sanford Celery Feds of the Florida State League will be honored by local fans tonight at the Municipal Park in a "Player Appreciation Night" contest which will be played against the pennant winning Orlando Senators.

One of the features of the night program will be the five special night events which are slated to get underway at 7:30 o'clock. Sanford players will vie with members of the Orlando squad in tennis hitting, darts, throwing contests and a watermelon race.

Local baseball officials said that through the courtesy of several local fans the gate had been purchased and all proceeds from admission to the park have been earmarked for the local players in appreciation for their success in the Florida State League this season.

The Feds today find themselves wrapped up in a bitter race to maintain their second place standing in the loop. During the latter part of May, the Feds trampled the St. Augustine Saints in a series to knock the ancient city crowd out of second place and into third. The Feds have held the position ever since.

The local baseball however, usually two games in front of the last moving Saints as they move into the playoffs with the Orlando Merchants. St. Augustine will meet the boys Gainesville G-Men tonight in the first off of a two-game series. Wednesday night the Feds travel to St. Augustine and return here Thursday evening for the final tilt of what will probably be a crucial series.

They were aboard the C-47 transport plane forced down by Yugoslav fighters on August 2. Back row, left to right, they are Capt. William Combs of East Longmeadow, Mass., Sgt. Joseph H. Huber of Chicago, Lt. Donald Galt of Upton, N. Y., Lt. William McNew of Atlanta, and Capt. John Dick of McKeesport, Pa. Front row, left to right, they are Raymond S. Blackburn of Englewood, Ohio, member of the Italian mission at UNRRA, Dr. Mader Polay, of Hungary, and Dr. Anthony Lederer of International Red十字.

Molotov Points Out That Fields Industries, Cities Devastated By War

Moscow today fired a new blast at American policy toward Yugoslavia. The Soviet charged that the U. S. is using the strong arm of the United States Navy in an effort to secure Marshal Tito. The Russians pointed to the presence of the giant American aircraft carrier, the Franklin D. Roosevelt, in Mediterranean waters. Declaring the Soviet charge, "Anyone who has watched attentively cannot fail to have noted a number of facts showing that the United States is definitely attempting to put pressure on Yugoslavia."

PARIS, Aug. 26, (AP)—Russia today was called upon to account for her reparations demands. Australia's delegation to the Paris Peace Conference urged a panel on the post-investigation to determine if the demand for reparations can be met. The Soviet demand was that Russia receive 20 percent of the total reparations from Germany and Italy.

A Russian representative said that Russia's demand for reparations was based on the fact that Russia had borne the brunt of the war. He said that the United States had not paid its share of the war costs and that the reparations should be based on the amount of damage done to the Soviet Union.

Continued Shortage Of May Food Items Seen By State Market Head

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 26 (Special)—International and domestic conditions remain uncertain and confusing, but there is one point out which there is no question whatsoever, and that is the continuing shortage of food items, said William L. Wilson, director of State Markets, back in Jacksonville today after an extended trip to points in the North and East. "I have been impressed during these recent days with the idea that market-women producers tend to make money for some time to come but that we are nearing the end of the period in which practically nothing can be added at a good price, regardless of quality."

"Discussing the current situation with Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture in Washington, just before my return home, I found him most interested in the problems facing Florida Producers. Naturally, I was delighted with his sympathetic attitude and his general grasp of conditions affecting our farmers, as well as farmers throughout the country."

"Secretary Anderson has shown a keen appreciation of the difficulties we have faced from time to time, during his service as head of the United States Department of Agriculture. This is a true statement of many of the high-ranking officials in his Department. I was particularly glad of this opportunity for a conference with the Secretary, because of numerous matters of immediate concern to our producers, which I gave me an opportunity to discuss with him. I am hopeful that this conference as a representative of Commission, Mayo of our own Florida Department of Agriculture may prove helpful by giving our latest available information, and viewpoints, to the head of the Federal department."

Escaped Negro Convict Nabbed By Local Police

Recent arrest of Eddie Groover, escaped negro convict, who had been serving a four year sentence for housebreaking and larceny in the penitentiary at Columbia, S. C., may clear up the mystery of some house robberies in Sanford, Police Chief Roy G. Williams said today.

An argument with a "girl friend" resulted not only in Groover's arrest on charges of assault and threats against the girl, but caused much of his criminal past to catch up with him.

His fingerprints, taken at the police station, were sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and back came a report, according to Chief Williams, that listed Groover not only as an escaped convict, but many other charges made previously were listed.

At the time of his arrest here, Groover was wearing a naval uniform and posing as William Alfred Green, Stewards mate first class, USNR. Chief Williams, upon questioning the negro, found that he had assumed this name from an identification card that he had found in one of two suitcases that he had stolen while traveling in Florida on a bus. He had also appropriated and wore the uniforms he had stolen.

Warrants for Groover's arrest on various charges have been received by Chief Williams from Valdosta, Ga., Columbia, S. C., Monticello and Tallahassee.

Survey Of State's Milk Supply To Be Undertaken Again

JACKSONVILLE, Aug. 26 (Special)—Florida to determine its milk supply is once again being undertaken by the Bureau of State Engineering of the State Board of Health, after a lapse during war years. David B. Lee, chief sanitary engineer, said today.

Status of milk sanitation in each municipality will be measured by means of a compliance rating survey. This system will determine whether or not local conditions are good and how well they are enforced.

The safest communities are those in which all the milk is pasteurized and the milk is delivered to the consumer in a clean and safe manner. Several useful purposes are accomplished by this rating. It enables citizens and community officials in judgment whether they are receiving a proper return for their milk consumption and how to increase the production to a quart a day for each child and a pint for adults.

Plans of the Bureau of State Engineering are to survey the communities in the state during the next six months so that the milk improvement goals can be set up for the following year.

The Fire Department reported this morning that it had a very unusual weekend since the station received no calls. Assistant Fire Chief R. T. Thomas said that such a weekend happens very infrequently.

Municipal Airport Is Offered As Permanent Site For Soaring Group

SANFORD, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Sanford Municipal Airport is tentatively returned to municipal ownership by the Navy, yesterday was offered to the Soaring Society of America as a permanent national glider site.

The offer came from R. H. Browning and Harry Robinson, who operate the $5,000,000 airport under lease from the city. It followed an invitation from Gov. Caldwell and State Aviation Supervisor Lazarus to the Soaring Society to set up a headquarters in Florida.

The governor's invitation, addressed to Capt. Ralph B. Barrows, USN, president of the SSA at Elmira, N. Y., said:

"Recently a new world's record for two-place sailplanes was established in the State of Florida when Paul Tundland reached a height of 22,700 feet above sea level near Orlando. I present this fact as evidence of the excellent soaring conditions which prevail in our state.

"An invitation is hereby extended to the Soaring Society of America to establish a permanent soaring site in the State of Florida for the purpose of further exploring and enjoying our superior soaring conditions.

"With over 200 airports in the State of Florida, many of which are surplus military fields, I feel that excellent facilities can be provided for a permanent soaring base."

The field here is one of the largest in Florida, comprising 150 acres and including a large hangar and several buildings suitable for pilot housing.

Ben Shupack, vice president of the SSA, who has been assisting in the Weather Bureau thunderstorm project at Pinecastle Army Air Field near Orlando for the past six weeks, said he believes Central Florida to be the best soaring area in the United States. Shupack was scheduled to leave tomorrow for New York to confer with the society's 20 directors concerning the Sanford site.

New Heights Of Fury Reached In Chinese Conflict

PEIPING, Aug. 26 (AP)—The war of attrition and fury reached new heights in the Chinese today. A Communist General Chen Yi and his forces fought their way into the Communist capital of Peiping.

In Peiping, the chief negotiator for the Chinese Reds blamed the United States for the breakdown of Chinese peace talks. General Chen asserted that special envoy General Marshall and Ambassador Stuart had to end the civil strife because of America's policy of continuing support to Chiang Kai-Shek's government. Nevertheless, Chen said, the U. S. had refused to make a commitment to the Nationalist government, and the Communist-Soviet pact guaranteed that at the conclusion of the negotiations a cease-fire order would be issued at once.

Industrial Research At Florida University Explained By Morgan

The University of Florida today explained the industrial research program being conducted at the university by Dr. Ralph Morgan, director of the Institute of Industrial Research, in a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Commercial Hotel.

Dr. Morgan said that the program was designed to help Florida industries solve their problems by applying the principles of science to their work.

He said that the program was being conducted in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Federal Reserve Bank.

Two Auto Wrecks Occur In County During Weekend

At 6:30 A. M. Saturday, a 1941 Ford coupe, driven by George Williams, Jr., a sailor stationed at the Banana River Air Station, attempted to pass a 1938 Chevrolet driven by Anthony Pease of Orlando at Altamonte Springs. Williams' car swerved, struck the Chevrolet, continued down the road for 150 feet, knocked down a sign post, went between a tree and a telephone pole and finally stopped in the yard of the Altamonte Springs Hotel.

Both cars, according to Patrolman Bender, were damaged considerably. Williams was arrested for reckless driving and fined by County Judge R. W. Ware. None of the occupants of the vehicles involved was injured.

Wood To Speak

Guy D. Wood, advertising manager of The Sanford Herald, will be the main speaker at Wednesday's noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club. Mr. Wood will speak on his experiences while serving as an officer with the United States Navy in and around Trieste.

Three Persons Hurt In Death Valley Accident Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Gale of Orlando, former residents of Sanford, received minor injuries Saturday night when their auto, a 1939 Pontiac sedan, crashed into a careening 1938 Ford coupe, driven by Alfred M. Williams, on Highway 17, near the intersection of State Road 100, near the intersection of the highway and the railroad tracks.

Mr. Williams, who was driving for reckless driving and under the influence of alcohol, was arrested by Sheriff R. W. Ware and taken to the county jail. He was held on $5,000 bail for arraignment.

The auto was being driven by Williams when it crashed into the side of the Ford. The Ford was being driven by Williams when it crashed into the side of the Ford.

Draft Holiday Is Over For Eligible Young Americans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The draft holiday is over for eligible young Americans from 19 to 25. Selective Service officials today are making out their families. Presidential proclamations again call for a special effort to meet the Army's quota of 200,000 men for healthy GI's by the end of September.

The draft is not entirely over, but the Army Department asked an induction moratorium, however, is now over. The nation's youth will be called up to the front lines in a few days.

Shanghai Property Sales To Be Probed

SHANGHAI, Aug. 26, (AP)—Both U. S. Army and Federal Liquidation Commission officials are investigating charges of irregularities in sales of American surplus property in Shanghai.

Thomas B. McCabe, special assistant to the FLC commissioner and to the U. S. Secretary of State, announced the investigation today. He promised newsmen an appropriate statement in due course. He gave no details of the charges, explaining only that they alleged "irregularities."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THOSE WHO HAVE VAST RESPONSIBILITIES HAVE BEEN ADVANCED BECAUSE THEY ARE FAITHFUL IN SMALL THINGS: He that is faithful in a very little is faithful in much.—Luke 16:10.

We wonder if all the people who are making soapbox speeches
on what's wrong with the world, or participating in riots or mob rule, or who spend all their time arguing against this or for that, actually went to work producing the goods and services of which this world is in so much need and want of which is the main thing wrong with it, whether there would be starvation or shortages anywhere.

Henning Heldt, political editor of the Miami Herald, reveals that Jim Leo may have opposition in his race for comptroller two years from now. Newton L. Umms, Dade county's able tax assessor, who has had frequent clashes with the State Controller, may take a crack at him in the next election. Although Miami does not have a brilliant record in electing state officials, the fact that Lemmus was born in Tampa may take some of the sting off.

Marshall Tito's prompt response to American related ultimatum has saved the United Nations organization an embarrassing situation. For if Tito had defied the ultimatum, the crisis would have been dumped into the lap of the Security Council. In a position to veto every proposal offered, and the true nature of the United Nations would have been shockingly revealed. It is but a house of cards which only awaits the first little puff from some big bad wolf to come tumbling down.

If there is one thing more dangerous to a gubernatorial candidate than being identified with successful people, it is to become known as a gubernatorial candidate too early in a campaign. And so we apologize to Fuller Warren who if not actually a gubernatorial candidate is the nearest thing to it in this state at the present time. Fuller will be a speaker before the Sanford Rotary Club on Sept. 23 when Rotarians will be able to see for themselves that if he should decide to run for governor in 1948, he will not suffer for want of words to express himself.

Veterans and veterans' organizations should be the first to expose and condemn rackets of any kind operated in the name of veterans. In New Orleans
three Alabama war veterans discuss that they were hired at $40
a week to sell magazine subscriptions as disabled war veterans and were told to "practice limping in their rooms". That the magazine racket is spreading to other sections was indicated here when one irate housekeeper told us the other day that two "veterans" called at her house selling magazines she had never heard of at $6 a piece.

Governor Arnall of Georgia does not believe that the Republican party will ever have a chance in the South as long as its name remains Republican. And since the Republican party is the only other one available for the South, it would seem from his remarks that a two-party system down there is something this generation is not likely to experience. However, Governor Arnall could be wrong about this as he has been about some other things. At least, it is conceivable that the South may vote Republican in presidential elections again, as it did to some extent in 1928, particularly if issues close to its heart are at stake.

Boltonia is one of those formerly free and independent little Baltic countries which have been annexed by Russia since the war. It is highly logical to expect the "front curtain" and virtually nothing has been heard from it for several years. Then the other day it announced that it had made contact with the United States in order to seek recognition as an independent nation. We have lived under both German and Russian rule, they said, and there is no choice between these two. Other nations would be entered in the dead of night. Neighbors would disappear without a trace. Liberty has been restored.

The Crime Wave

That the Biblical proverb which counsels a soft answer to turn away wrath may still be a wise bit of advise for the Atomic age is indicated by a mounting toll of homicides with the majority of slayings ascribed to petty quarrels and domestic disputes as immediate causes.
For the first six months of 1946 the rate was more than one-third above the figure of a year ago, and the highest in seven years, among industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

While the homicide death rate among these policyholders rose to 4.2 per 100,000 for the first half of 1946, a parallel increase was also noted among the general population of the United States. Latest official reports, based on a 10 per cent sample of the deaths reported in the country, indicate that the homicide death rate for the first five months of 1946 was 5.2 as against 4.0 for the like period of 1945, an increase of nearly one-third.

Among industrial policyholders, the rise has been fairly uniform for the several color and sex groups, except for white females, among whom homicide mortality is negligible. Figures for the first six months of 1946 show that the rise from the like period of last year was 36 per cent among white males; 33 per cent among colored males; and 37 per cent among colored females.

When the data are examined by age, however, very considerable differences and even contrasting trends are observed, the Metropolitan notes. At the age periods under 45 years, large increases in the homicide death rate are evident. But at ages 45 and over, the rates tend to decrease.

The explanation for the observed increase is not altogether clear, Metropolitan officials remark: "In the government figures for the general population of the United States, a part of the rise may be attributed to the inclusion in the records for 1946 of large numbers of returned veterans who were not included in the official statistics for the United States population while abroad during the war years. These men are precisely in the age groups which normally contribute a large proportion of both the culprits and the victims of homicide. But this cannot be the whole explanation, because the mortality records of the Metropolitan Industrial policyholders show the same trend, although they include the men in service overseas.

"Among the various contributing factors to the rise in the homicide rate must undoubtedly be reckoned a postwar letdown in national morale, particularly a natural unrest among discharged servicemen, suddenly left on their own resources and responsibility. In addition there is the wartime acquired familiarity with firearms
and an unusual number of these weapons available, largely souvenirs from the war. In the general civilian population, another possible factor has been the cut-back in industrial employment and the discontinuance of civilian war activities. As a result of these, presumably people have found more time and occasion for petty quarrels and domestic disputes which are notoriously the cause of a large proportion of homicides."

While the Metropolitan sees no simple solution to the complex problem, further restricting the sale of firearms is suggested as undoubtedly having a salutary effect.
"More generally," it concludes, "greater efforts should be made to eliminate such environment factors as poor housing, ignorance, and the lack of proper recreational facilities, conditions that encourage crime and anti-social behavior."

Fast Mails

Same-day delivery of mail from coast to coast, and for a three cent stamp, is the aim of Second Assistant Postmaster General Gael Sullivan.

First will come a five-cent air mail cost October 1.
Long-range air transports will be augmented by the use of local helicopters, already operating in Los Angeles and Chicago. Sullivan, once a school teacher, dreams of all first-class mail being flown. It would take ten times the 600 planes now flying the mails to achieve this. But post office and aviation authorities see this coming, soon.

Of course there's a lot of mail a person wants to get as soon as possible. But there are other communications that can wait—bills, income tax forms and the letters from the relatives wanting to spend their vacation with you. Sullivan needn't get himself worked up into a lather over these.

County Recipients Of Assistance Get $241,543 In Year

Mrs. Roy Holler, Seminole County
member of the District Welfare Board, No. 12, announced today that she had been advised
by State Welfare Commissioner Leland W. Hiatt that cash payments to Seminole County recipients of public assistance for the fiscal year ending June 30 totaled $241,543.50. Of this amount, $213,- 075.50 was paid to recipients of old age assistance, $7,738.00 to recipients of aid to the blind and $20,700.00 to recipients of aid to dependent children, she reported.
Both the State Welfare Board and the District Welfare Board, Mrs. Holler said, were pleased that large legislative appropriations in 1945 had made it possible to relieve much of the increased need of the aged and blind resulting from higher living costs and reduced incomes. She explained, however, that although appropriations for aid to dependent children were larger, funds had not permitted investigation of new applications filed after Feb. 23.

Applications for old age assistance and aid to the blind are investigated on practically a current basis.

Higher cost of living, loss of wartime jobs by persons not normally employable and discontinuance of military allowances were cited by Mrs. Holler as principal reasons why the number and need of public assistance recipients had increased.

Are You Tired?

By W. V. BITTING
Touchton Drug Co.
Fatigue is a natural thing.
It is a warning that the body
needs rest.
It is unnatural, however, for one to be tired too much, to tire too frequently. Then, something is wrong.
Perhaps your diet is wrong.
You think that you eat wisely and well. And yet that overpowering listlessness comes on every day.
Check with your physician.
Perhaps a complete change in food habits, not one in which you eat less, or more, but one in which your body actually gets what it needs, will restore that old feeling of well being.
Only a physician, however, can properly diagnose your trouble.
If medication is indicated he will, if requested, give you the name of a reliable pharmacist.

Sanford Celery Feds Cop One And Drop Two Over Weekend

Jim Schantel To Pitch Tonight; Locals Entertain Orlando Team

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor

In a hectic weekend of play the Sanford Celery Feds dropped two games and won one affair. Friday evening at the local park the locals, behind the pitching of Jodie Huntington, dropped the Palatka Azaleas by a 7 to 6 count. This tilt marked Huntington's 19th victory of the current season.

Saturday night in Leesburg the Packers nosed the Feds out in a 7 to 3 game. Goose Kettles coiled on the hill for Sanford and Emanuelson was given the hurling chores for the Leesburg aggregation.

Yesterday afternoon the Packers tallied five runs in the eighth inning to down the locals by a 5 to 4 count. Charlie Blison went the route for the Feds and allowed but a single hit through seven innings of the tilt. In the eighth the visitors scored five runs on five hits to wrap up the game.

Sanford scored the first run in the second inning when Ed Levy led off with a single, advanced to the second sack on an infield hit by Byron Sharpe, stole third and came scurrying home on an error by Bill Good on a hot ground ball hit by Al Bryant.

The locals scored a pair in the seventh inning when Sharpe was safe on an error by Good, followed by a long fly to left by Oasie Gloriz to drive Sharpe to third. Bryant lined a single into center field to score Sharpe. Bryant advanced to second on a fielders choice by Blison and scored on a base knock to center field by Jerry Silverman.

The final tally for the Fed aggregation came in the ninth inning when Gloriz led off with a single to center, followed by another error by Good on a hot grounder by Bryant. Bryant and Gloriz advanced to third and second respectively on a double steal and in the eighth the ball was tossed around the Leesburg infield long enough for Gloriz to break for home and to be thrown out as he attempted to return to the third sack. Silverman drew a free pass and Bob Tuttle dropped a single into center to score Bryant and end the hostilities for the Feds.

The big Leesburg inning came in the eighth. Bill Driggers, the Packers' moundman, led off with a double to right center, followed by a single by Ridgeway and a double by Stebbins to score Driggers and Ridgeway. Good went out third to first, followed by a fielders choice issued to Salter. A single by Mornino scored Stebbins and a two base blow by Latsko sent Salter over the platter. Capone was hit by a pitched ball and Pearson rolled out to Ed Levy. Mornino scored on the play to place the game in the cooler.

Centerfielder Dave Bride led the Fed attack on the offerings of Driggers with three safeties in four trips to the plate. Levy and Sharpe each had two hits in four trips.

SPORTS LAUGH

Old-timers of the baseball world still like to spin yarns about a tough old umpire who once worked in the American League in the days of Miller Huggins.

One day Wally Pipp complained over a called strike. The tough ump snarled, "To the ashen with you." Pipp knew that the ashen meant he was out of the game.

Pipp protested again and the tough ump told him: "To the ashen and if you don't move fast I'll wrap it around you."

Just then the diminutive manager, Miller Huggins, moved into the argument. The ump glanced at Huggins, looked back at Pipp and said, "And you can take your bat boy and put him in the ashen too."

Musial Leads Card Drive On Pennant

If the St. Louis Cardinals fail to win the National League pennant, it won't be the fault of Stan Musial.

Musial has been on a terrific hitting rampage, climaxed Thursday when he rapped out six hits to lead the Cardinals to a double win over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Musial now leads the National League in batting, runs, runs batted-in, hits, doubles, and triples. He also is doing a great job holding down the first base post for the Cardinals.

THE CELERY FEDS

The 1946 Sanford Celery Feds have accomplished one of the most outstanding feats in recent baseball history. They have actually ploughed their way into second place in the Florida State League, one could almost say, without a franchise in the league.

In 1941 during mid-season the Fed machine fell to pieces for various reasons. Therefore the franchise for the Sanford Baseball Association had to be withdrawn from the league.

Due to the war the league directors decided that sufficient material and patrons would not be available for a season of play in 1942, the league disbanded operations for the duration of the emergency.

Talent In Pacific Coast League Very Skimpy This Year

By RUS NEWLAND AP Newstratures

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast League, which has prospered in baseball, has presented only a skimpy assortment of talent this season to lure its cause.

Four of the half-dozen teams were ticketed, or likely to be for big league inspection in 1947 are pitchers. The other two are first basemen. Outstanding and catching prospects are scarce commodities.

As a time went by there were suggestions that the league operate with nine clubs instead of the usual eight. This brought unfavorable comment from some of the cities already entered because one club would be idle every night and no schedule could adequately be drawn up to accommodate the nine entries. It was thought, however, Sanford was finally admitted to the circuit.

Ocala, finding that they were having financial difficulties at the outset of the year, decided to withdraw their franchise. This was just what the Sanford delegation was expecting, the league went back on an eight club basis.

From this point the local men had to build a winning team to place on the field. This was a problem because no connections could be made with higher class half clubs for a working agreement. We had to start without a man.

Slowly the team rounded into shape. The first man to be signed was the jovial Sanford manager, Ed Levy. St. Paul optioned Dave Bride, Jim Schantel, Byron Sharpe, Jerry Dovanak and Don Zaspel to the local club. Later they released all of them except Jim Schantel and he is still on option.

Jerry Silverman came on an option from the Tampa Smokers in the Florida International League. Al Bryant and "Cape" Kettles were signed to a con-

As the 1946 Florida State League season draws to a close some fans may give a sigh of relief while others may have a feeling of regret to think that their favorite player may not return again so they may cheer or rage, according to their wishes.

That freedom of the American public to attend a ball game and vice versa to their feeling with a razz or a cheer for a player or a fan empire's decision has made the game so popular. Thus it is called the national pastime.

Possibly the thought has come to the minds of many fans in Sanford, as well as fans in other State League cities, that the classification of the league should be stepped up to C, B or even class A ball and make it a faster circuit. By doing this there would probably be less errors and mistakes. This is always the feeling where a club has had a good season or won a pennant, however, the higher classification will not eliminate errors because so long as the ball player is trying desperately to grab a batted ball some are going to see errors in a hot game.

There may be a few less mistakes in higher classification of baseball because of the more experienced players, but considering the classification, they will be just as costly, correspondingly making

In organizing a class D league Judge Brandom, president of the National Association, will tell you that the prime objective of D baseball is to train the beginner and feed him the knowledge of good baseball. He must see his experience somewhere and so according to tradition, he naturally goes out at the bottom or the lowest class of organized ball.

The club will contain the most interested setting up a league on a sound basis by choosing the right classification. For example, the class of a league should depend on the combined population of the cities or towns included in the circuit or territory.

The greatest recent ever establishment of the history of organization of baseball for continuous operation without break in charter members was the old Mississippi Valley League. The loop operated approximately 15 consecutive years. The league was strong and solid in every possible way, and the men representing these cities as directors were business men.

The idea was conceived in the league by the directors of holding the classification down to develop up young ball players even though they had the population, particularly with cities like Dubuque, and Cedar Rapids, for a class A loop.

As the Florida State League looks today the clubs will finish about as they are at this time, Orlando, Sanford, St. Augustine and DeLand. Considering the fact that the league was disbanded during the war years, it is believed that every club in the circuit can be proud of their respective teams. If there has been any one thing that has characterized the teams over other years, it has been the ability to fight the umpires in, instead of the opposition, and, of course, the excellent support given the clubs.

Many fans will not agree that Ed Levy, general manager, and John Krider, as general manager, performed the outstanding job in the league. If you take everything into consideration.

It is a matter of record that the following difficulties were encountered: Sanford did not have an operating franchise in the league until approximately two weeks before the actual season was underway. Even just before then three citizens, headed by Krider, put up $750 in order that the Feds might operate and this was a big chance they were taking.

Quite naturally, all the good ball players were signed to contracts by other clubs that late in the Spring. Players were an unknown quantity that late.

Because of the deal the city had with the Brooklyn club which was conducting its training school here, our state league club had the park just six days prior to the season's opening.

Outstanding Fed Player

Roddy Lake, one of the outstanding players on the Celery Fed organ when the year of the offense and on the defense, is currently leading the Florida State League sluggers in the hitting department and has broken the long standing runs batted in record which was held by Smith of DeLand since 1939. Lake won the League batting crown in 1940 with an average of .42 for the season. In 1940 Lake was playing for the St. Augustine Saints. In addition to playing left field this year Lake has played center field and taken a turn at playing third base for the Feds and also in the mound.

SPORTS ODDITY

A schedule freak recently lodged up in the Pacific Coast League. By coincidence the schedule made the first and second place teams, the third and fourth the fifth and sixth, and the seventh place team against the cellar club.

Justice and Byron Sharpe after the schedule has just gotten a little underway and, as we all know, that didn't help the club. In fact, Justice was expected to be the class of the league as a second baseman and Sharpe was doing an excellent job on third and also at the plate.

If the talent on the Sanford club will be measured by the way they play, there is no doubt that they would probably be in second division. This statement is based on a very careful consideration of the last two months.

During the season I have mingled with the players and made road trips with them. From the top down, and including the grounds keeper and the hot box, they all say that Manager Levy is a swell guy. Levy never tells the players, and if he catches them play, he does it in the dugout or clubhouse and not in front of the grandstand.

For this reason the Sanford club has been outstanding in the league and gotten more out of what material was available than any club in the circuit. Every player and town that will not participate in the post season playoffs will be pulling for the Sanford club, believe it or not. The umpires will tell you that our club and the Sanford fans have given them very little trouble and so I'm sure that many of the hundreds of Sanford fans will join me in saying to the Fed skipper, "A job well done, Ed!"

Haynes And Williams To Meet Security Lumber Company

The Haynes and Williams nine will meet the Security Lumber Company aggregation in the first game of the finals in the playoffs in the City Softball League tomorrow night. The game will get underway promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

Haynes and Williams dropped the Sanford Herald from the playoffs in 1945 games straight as the Security Lumber team downed the Moss Amusement Company in a two out of three game series.

The tilt tomorrow night is the first game of the playoffs and promises to be a well played affair. Security will probably send Junior Dwyer to the mound to the hurling duties and the Lumbermen will have Arthur "Red" Williams on the hill.

Celery Feds Pass 50,000 Mark; Set Goal For 60,000

Only Four Home Contests Remain For Local Nine

Playoffs Expected To Break All Attendance Records

Officials of the Sanford Baseball Association, Inc., announced today that the Celery Fed attendance has passed the 50,000 mark and that the locals were well on their way to attracting a possible 60,000 fans through the gates before the season comes to a close on Labor Day.

Including yesterday afternoon's tilt, 52,780 fans had paid their way into Sanford's Municipal Park thus far during the current Florida State League season. This figure, officials declared, includes the persons passing through the gate and using their season tickets.

According to unofficial records available, the best past season any Sanford club had was in 1937 when some 52,000 fans saw the old Sanford Lookouts in action.

There are four home stands remaining and officials this morning declared that they are going all out to set a new mark of 60,000 for the regular season. During the playoffs with St. Augustine, they said an anticipated attendance of 4,500 would be expected for three home games with the Saints and should Sanford get into the final playoff by beating the DeLand Red Hats, officials said that no gate would run less than 1,500 fans. There is a possibility that the Reds may draw well over 70,000 before seasonal activity finally ceases here.

Officials, however, did not overlook the Georgia-Florida league playoffs but asserted that it was just yet a bit to far in the future.

Tonight the Feds tackle the Orlando Senators. The locals go to Orlando tomorrow night and play in St. Augustine on Wednesday. Thursday night they return here for a contest with the Saints and then entertain Daytona Beach in a twin bill here on Friday night, if it becomes necessary to play two games. If it isn't, officials said there would be only one tilt played.

Saturday night the locals travel to Daytona and then play in Gainesville on Sunday afternoon, returning to Sanford for the final contest next Monday evening.

Fed Infielders

Byron Sharpe

This trio of Celery Fed infielders has given local fans their share of baseball thrills during the current Florida State League season which is drawing to a close. Bob Tuttle, left, took over the keystone when Joe Justice left the club in May to attend school. Tuttle is probably the most improved man on the Fed roster. Al Bryant, center, is one of the most sensational fielding shortstops in the circuit, and easily the most popular among the majority of managers. Byron Sharpe, at right, was going great before he suffered a knee injury. After a long layoff, Sharpe returned to third base but still was troubled with the ailment. He was later given a regular catching assignment.

Tonight's Special Events

Manager Ed Levy and the Sanford Celery Feds will compete with the Orlando Senators tonight in a number of special events. These events will precede the game and will begin promptly at 7:30 P. M. The events include:

Accurate throw to second base: Byron Sharpe, Don Zaspel and "Goose" Kettles. 50 yard dash: Jodie Howington, Al Bryant and Dave Bride. Circling the bases: Ossie Glorig, Bryant and Howington. Wheelbarrow-watermelon race: Charlie Blason and Zaspel. Fungo hitting: Jim Schantel, Cal Blanc and Ed Levy.

Fed Receiver

Don Zaspel, Celery Fed catcher has been one of the favorites of Sanford fans during the current season although he has not worked regularly for Manager Levy during the past several weeks. Zaspel, a Minnesota youth, was signed to a Sanford contract following his participation in Spring training activities here with the St. Paul Saints of the American Association.

HERAT, Afghanistan — Ancient Herat, once host to the invading armies of Genghis Khan, Alexander the Great and the Islamic crusaders—more recently an isolated half-forgotten trade center for nomadic tribes, is going modern.

With motor transport and the world's growing appetite for karakul providing prosperity, a new city of parkway streets and modern buildings is being constructed. "In twenty or thirty years," said the director of the provincial government's foreign relations division, "you'll see a great city in this valley."

In less than ten years, resident engineers say, 3,100 homes and buildings have been constructed. Government offices, fashionable homes and a big almost-modern government-owned hotel (in which was the only guest) circle a carefully planned central park and sodded soccer field within sight of the crumbling parapets which knew the shock of Alexander's ancient phalanxes.

Telephone and power lines reach out to the new city and the canyon suburbs in the nearby foothills. From dawn to dark, uniformed traffic policemen give vigorous hand signal to a trickle of donkeys, horse carts, camels and a few American automobiles moving English-style along the left side of the road.

Brick shop buildings are nearing completion along a broad avenue outside the ragged old bazaar, and small homes with lawns and gardens have sprung up along pine-shaded drives.

Less than 20,000 of the approximate 300,000 residents remain inside the old city which is said to have housed one million before the coming of Genghis Khan. Complete abandonment of the old city is planned by the efficient young landowners in European dress who constitute an unofficial chamber of commerce.

"After centuries of backwardness resulting from war and confusion Afghanistan is committed to a policy of peace and progress," said the president of the city government. "As a buffer state between great powers—and friendly to all our neighbors—we now can begin an era of internal improvement completely free of foreign interference for the first time in our history."

The country's almost complete lack of modern transportation media does not dampen the enthusiasm of merchants whose fortunes were built on camel caravans.

"Herat is a good investment," said the manager of the Banque Mellé (National Bank).

"Herat is on a cross-road connecting Iran, Russia, Baluchistan and India. Already there is a growing stream of motor transport using trucks brought to Afghanistan by Britain and America during the war."

"Eventual pavement of our national roads will accelerate that flow. Karakul, the so-called black Dave Bride, above, currently playing an outstanding game for the Sanford Celery Feds in center field has been an important factor in leading the Feds to win games this season. Bride has performed a dual purpose for the locals this year. He has played right field and center field as well as taking a turn at playing second base when there was a need for capable play on the infield due to injuries having been sustained by other members of the aggregation. Bride is a Minnesota lad and came to Sanford last spring with the St. Paul Saints for preseason conditioning. The Saints, however, thought that Bride needed additional "seasoning" and left him here to play for the Celery Feds this year.

Celery Feds Have Nucleus For Good Outfit Next Year

Chances Are Good That Levy Will Be Named Skipper Of Squad In 1947

By JULIAN STENSTROM

There may still be some doubt that Sanford will end up in second place in the Florida State League season this year. However, regardless of what happens to the Celery Feds, many fans have been wondering about what is in store for Sanford as far as baseball is concerned next year.

Truthfully, there's not much planned at all. But there is no reason why such plans cannot begin to take shape before the current season is over.

Local baseball officials at the opening of the season had hoped that the club would have a successful year since that would induce some higher class club, possibly a major league organization, to take over and operate the club next season.

Such plans has its advantages as well as its disadvantages. Whether or not such a plan is worked out, local officials should immediately begin to chart an alternate course in the event no major league connections are made. There are many fans who will argue the advantages of operating a club with a local organization such as was employed this season and there are, of course, many who do not believe in a local organization trying to operate a club in class D baseball.

We imagine the main reason against a local baseball association is due to the fact that a major league club could operate a class D team and suffer any financial loss much easier than a local group. That much is certainly true. But what if a big league club has a good season and then decides to move the club elsewhere?

In the event the Sanford Baseball Association, Inc. decides to operate the local club next year, the Celery Feds will have an excellent chance of producing a potential flag winner since a majority of the players can be retained for next year.

In the mound department there's Charles Bisson, Goose Kettle, Cal Blane and Jim Payne. There's no doubt that southpaw Jodie Howington will advance to higher circles and the chances are that the local club will get some mighty handy cash for the able pitcher on the winter trade market. Jim Schantel may not advance to a higher league next season but the chances are slim that St. Paul will option him to Sanford for the 1947 season.

season in professional ball. Payne, who hails from Lakewood, has hurled creditable ball throughout the season, including a seven-inning no-hit, no-run contest. Cal Blane, another local product, had three years in professional baseball before the current season.

Blane has lost more games than he has won this season but the portly right-hander has hurled several excellent hits here in the local park. Charley Bisson came in the Feds just after the season began. His first appearance at the local park was a masterpiece. Bisson took over the mound duties in a relief role one evening and hurled no-hit ball against the St. Augustine Saints for six innings.

Brown's Manager Has High Praise For Sox

Manager Luke Sewell of the St. Louis Browns says the Boston Red Sox are a good club, but not a great one.

Sewell comments: "What's great about them except Ted Williams?" To this: "Take that bat away from Williams and what have you got?"

As far as the club as a whole is concerned, however, Sewell doesn't believe it can compare with the New York Yankees of 1937. That was the team that had Babe Ruth, Earl Cunniff and Bob Meusel in the outfield, Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri, Mark Koenig and Joe Judge in the infield, and Waite Hoyt, George Pipgras, Herb Pennock, Urban Shocker, Bob Shawkey and Dutch Reuther as a pitching staff.

The chances are good that Ed Levy, since better than 1 veteran will again become nod of the Feds next year, particularly since this is now Levy's home town and because of his financial interest in the Sanford Country Club. And that, by the way, takes care of first base too.

Levy, and this is strictly a guess, will probably make every effort to place Joe Justice in a Fed uniform next Spring. Both were college chums at Rollins and both are the best of friends.

It is no doubt that Levy will have Al Bryant back on short-stop next season. Bryant has shown a great deal of improvement this season, his natural eye of professional ball. Bryant has definitely shown that he is far superior to any other player in the Sanford Fed roster. Tittle may be developed into a third sacker next season. A lot of people have not applauded Tittle's work this season but baseball minded people have agreed that Tittle came in mighty handy on two occasions this season when he replaced Justice at second and later took over third when Shantel was forced out because of an injury.

Buddy Lake, the "Iron man" will probably be back in left field next season, since he is a local Joe. Buddy's ability this season at the plate has been one of the
