Zoo Issue: A Catalyst Of Major Importance

What a lively, nay - passionate - explosion of public opinion has followed the sound decision of the Sanford City Commissioners (4-1) to phase out the Sanford Zoo as a matter of budgetary necessity.

creation of a zoo within the confines of Seminole County and we are watching with interest as the Seminole County Commission, plunged into this issue by the newly elected Sidney L. Whien, Jr., deals with this solution.

So long as the fire department is making do with inadequate equipment and minimum personnel, the police department, with additional responsibilities confronting it daily, with fewer than needed personnel it is obvious the responsible city commissioners had no other course to follow.

Newspapers Help

Newspapers have done such a good job of alerting the public to the problem of pollution and misuse of natural resources that they have found themselves under the scrutiny of conservationists.

Some are alarmed by the fact that vast forests are wiped out to produce the nearly 30 million tons of newspaper that this country consumes each year. Others say that wasteful newspapers are a waste and a strain on disposal facilities.

The Newsprint Information Council, composed of a group of Canadian newsprint mills, has checked into the allegations. (Canada supplies about two-thirds of all newsprint used in the United States.)

The committee confirms that it takes about 17 trees to make one ton of newsprint. But because forests are run on a sustained-yield basis, the annual harvest, plus all losses to fire, insects and disease, is less than half the annual growth.

Chief were the forests of the Tribune Co., owner of a string of newspapers, including two of the largest in the world. These forests have just marked a half-century of turning out increasingly larger harvests of wood for the Chicago Tribune, New York Daily News and others.

"Like wheat," says the committee's publication, Newsprint Facts, "trees for newsprint are a renewable crop, although with a much longer growth cycle."

"Cutting down 17 trees merely makes room for 17 other trees to grow. Frequently they are better, straighter, fatter trees, more economically harvested."

It's quite likely that someday virtually all used paper will be recycled as better methods of reclaiming it are developed and as demand for newsprint and other paper products increases.

In the meantime, it's good to know that we are in no danger of printing ourselves out of forests.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - In Mississippi, while private academies are at their peak in numbers, but appearances are deceptive, since attendance is dropping at some and there are predictions of a marked decline by the end of this school year.

When the U.S. Supreme Court ordered an abrupt elimination of the state's dual public school system by last February, there was a heavy outflow of white pupils in some places. Roughly 100 new private schools sprang up. More than a few were born in rural areas of limited means.

Integration is quite thoroughgoing and evidently is recognized by most Mississippians as irreversible. Soon after the crushing change occurred in February, there were said to be about 10 school districts where the white exodus from the public system was so sweeping as to block altogether the court's announced objective.

Movement Hints At Financial Difficulties

The Friendly Season

By: Fred Van Pelt

Tuesday is another election day for Sanford voters - the fourth in two months. And the governmental ledger, under why expenses are so high.

Current Sanford City Commission, it appears, is skirting trouble. Violation of the "government in the sunshine" law carries a jail term.

FLASH: Just now had a 'phone call from Carom Gager, the educator. He's speaking of a taxpayers' meeting, Friday (tonight) to discuss the zoo situation.

It is rather ironic that Sanford wants to close out its only tourist gimmick, the only zoo in Central Florida, just as Orlando announces a drive to raise $5 million to build a new zoo.

For a long time now this column has referred to politicians and some politicians to speak out after the election.

It's been a week since our last commentary, but that's not because we've had nothing to say. It's quite the contrary we've been waiting for the proper time to say it.

It's been over a month since the general election and we've been waiting for some politicians to speak out after the election like they did before that fateful day.

Now, let's get to some specific cases to illustrate our point. First, the legislative pay raise. During the summer of '69, the legislative pay raise. During the summer of '69, the legislative pay raise.

Timetable Off Schedule To Free Cuba From Reds

By ISAAC M. FLORES Associated Press Writer MIAMI (AP) - A highly publicized Cuban exile scheme to liberate Cuba one time served as a great unifying force among the exile elite. "But we are not going to commit ourselves and sacrifice our people by telling Fidel we mean their drive to overthrow Fidel Castro has been abandoned. The movement's timetable is just a bit off schedule."

standing promise, the movement's leaders hinted at financial difficulties. "It takes a lot of money to carry out a war," said one. Jose Elias de la Torre, originator and namesake of the popular movement, was expected to formally announce the temporary delay in plans within a few days.

Faircloth Campaign Is Probed By Solons

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth will be asked to testify about his campaign finances if evidence of irregularities is found, House Elections Committee Chairman Rep. Elvin Martinez, D-Tampa, said Thursday.

He said the committee has decided to ask Miami Herald reporter Joseph Averill to appear before it next Monday to present whatever evidence he had concerning the financing of Faircloth's losing campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"If it appears after we talk to Joe that we need to call the attorney general before us, then we'll do it," Martinez said. "I want to call the man who made the allegations and find out whether they're true or not."

Averill's Sunday article said that nearly $225,000 in contributions were not reported or else were misreported. Either action would be violation of a generally toothless election law.

The article also said that Pompano Beach restaurateur James Stephanis gave $50,000 in cash to Faircloth campaign treasurer Lester Ryals. State law limits the amount an individual can give to $5,000.

"The who-what, who-how-it law has been violated according to the allegations by Mr. Averill," Martinez said.

He said a factor the committee will have to consider is the timing of the contributions to Faircloth. A law limiting period applied pending to $35,000 applied only to contributions received after July 1.

Faircloth received well over $300,000 in contributions. If indeed he got a large chunk of unreported cash.

Suspect Held In Threat Of Spaceport Bombing

COCOA, Fla. (AP) - Internal security measures around the nation's spaceport following a bomb threat warning netting one suspect but failed to uncover any explosive devices late Thursday.

The man was being held on outstanding warrants from another county but the Brevard County Sheriff's Department said no charges had been placed against the man in connection with the bomb scare.

Telephone calls to the FBI in Daytona Beach and the Daytona Beach News Journal Thursday evening were a riddle. "After 11 o'clock, the Cape won't be there any more."

The anonymous male caller warned that two cars, one of them bearing Louisiana plates, were being headed to Cape Kennedy to blow it up.

The action was supposed to be tonight between 10 p.m. and 11 p.m., said Brevard Sheriff J.L. Wilson.

Wilson said the caller gave the car's license plate number which matched that of the arrested man's car. The man was apprehended by deputies here after he sought directions from security guards at the nearby Kennedy Space Center.

No explosives were found in the auto, Wilson said.

Let's continue our series with pre-election activities: This past summer two of our elected officials, in particular Governor County Commission Chairman Paul Pickett and County Solicitor Rom Powell, both up for election, created headlines denouncing the Park concerts at the Orange Sports Stadium.

Chairman Paul Pickett made it sound like a lot of money. Peter Athcock does that again we'll run like a lot of money. County Solicitor Rom Powell made it very plain to the media his investigations were on the scene and legal action to close the place was imminent.

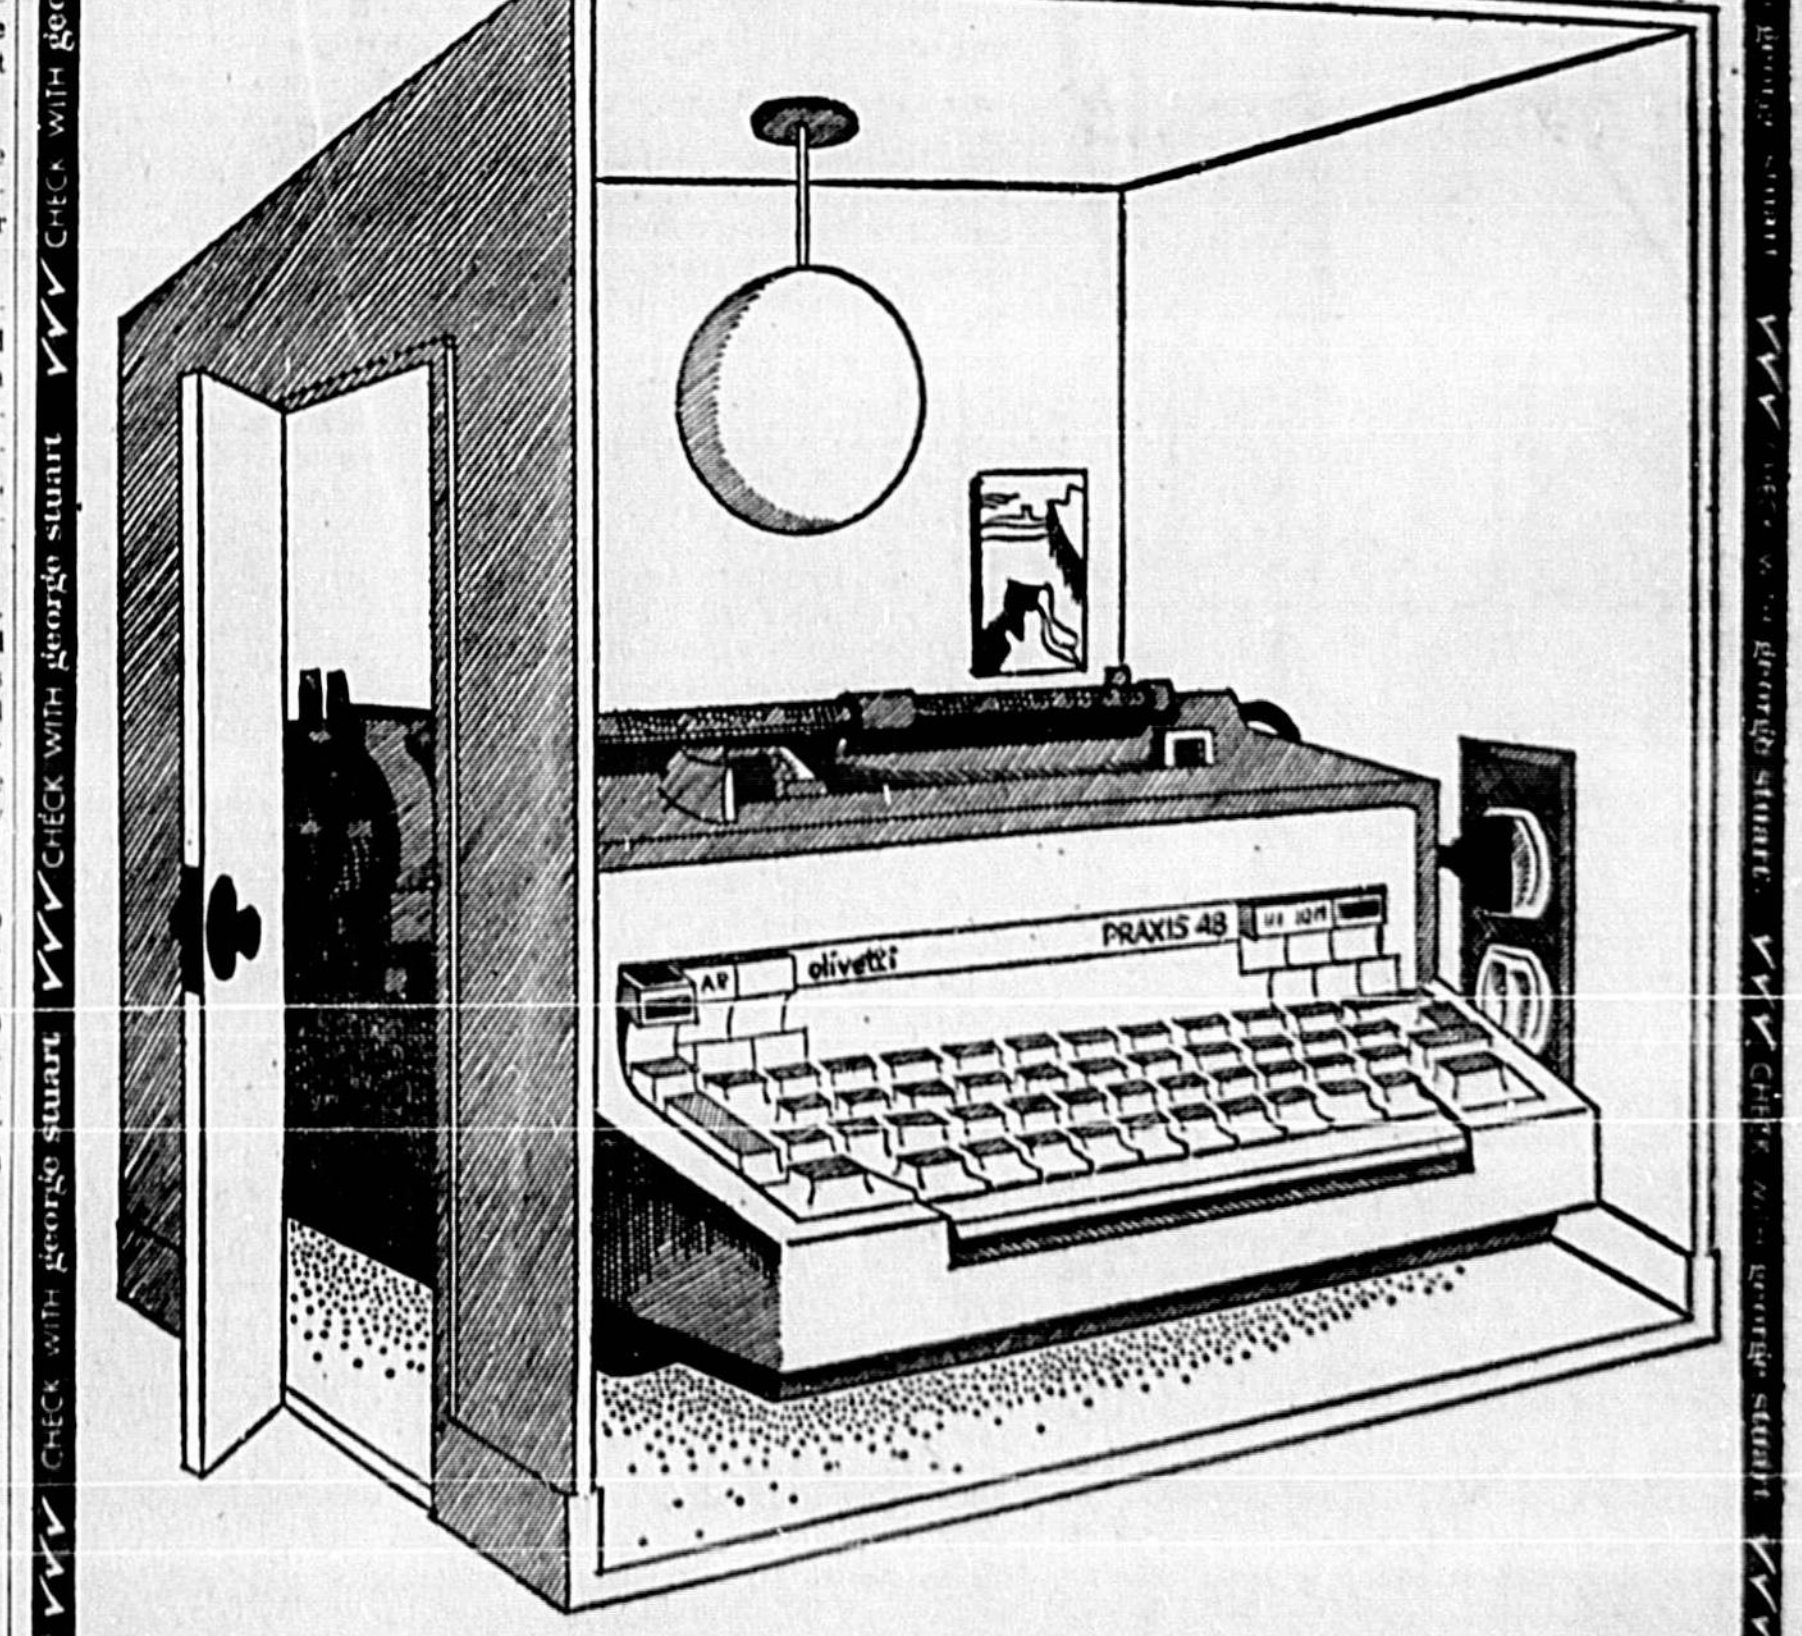

Keep in mind all this was before Nov. 2nd. Now it's December and we haven't heard a public peep out of either one of them despite the fact there have been three concerts at the stadium since election day. We're not saying the concerts are good or bad... we're just wondering what happened to Pickett and Powell and their public proclamations on Rock concerts.

Let's project into the future for just a bit. Governor-elect Reubin Askew during the campaign hung his hat on tax reform... specifically getting legislation to bump down on corporations. We're to wait and see what happens... we won't forget it.

Well, those are just a few examples of the confusing world of some politicians. And, speaking of confusing, we in the news business are being going to miss Governor Kirk... no matter what each of us as individuals thought of him most of us agree he was something else... hard to understand most of the time... but something else.

Point System On Ducks Outlined

Editor, Herald: After reading yours and Bill Vincent's remarks on the new point system for ducks, I thought I had better drop you a line to possibly clear up an apparent misconception. According to the best information I can come up with, there was a meeting sometime last spring between the Dept. Fisheries and Wildlife Fed. and the Florida Fish and Game Commission. At this meeting the Fla. GFC was given a choice of adopting the point system or reducing drastically the bag limits of certain ducks including mallards, redheads, canvasbacks, wood ducks, etc. The GFC chose the point system because it would give the duck hunter more for his money. The reduced bag limit would allow the hunter to take only one of the ducks but under the point system he may take two of these ducks even though they are 90 pt. ducks.

Seminoles Travel To Satellite Beach Tonight

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
Something's got to give. The Seminoles will either be the winning or a losing team. They carry their 3-3 record on the road to Satellite Beach tonight, where they will try to gain their second straight win. Then tomorrow night they will play at home for the last time in 1970. Eau Gallie will play in the game as well as the Seminoles.

The tournament is scheduled for December 28-29. After the holidays, the world is really out for the Tribes. They tangle with Titusville January 9 on the road. In the first game of the new year, the Seminoles have defeated Titusville earlier in the season, 52-47, but the game was much closer than the score. That was the first game played with the Seminoles.

Coin Toss Could Climax End Of Football Season

The casual flip of a coin could climax a frantic final day of the National Football League's regular season Sunday. With 10 teams still holding five remaining playoff berths, the closest races in NFL history go down to the wire and things are so tight that Dallas, Detroit and the New York Giants may need a telephonic coin flip to settle the muddled situation.

Great Game

Editor, Herald: It was a great game, the Satellite Seminoles versus the Edge water Eagles... the powerfull Seminoles outdistancing the Eagles in the air by 122 yards, and on the ground by 40 yards, a total of 162 yards more total offense than the Eagles could mount... the Seminoles completing a greater number and percentage of passes... the Seminoles earning more first downs... the Seminoles having downed the Eagles once while the Eagles were required to rid themselves of the ball four times... yes, sir, a great game. Of course, the Eagles moved the ball well, too... to shoot nine 10 pt. ducks and then shoot a 90 pt. duck and then shoot a 90 pt. duck or one 10 pt. duck. An Open Letter To The Citizens of Sanford:

I hope you will accept this as a personal message. I simply cannot afford the $650 or so it would cost to send each of you a personal letter. But I want you to know I would like to serve you on our City Commission. I know this City, I know its people, and I know it has problems. Sanford is a fine City. Its people are among the best in the world, and our City ought to grow and prosper. With the cooperation of our elected officials, our cultural, civic and church leaders, and our people, Sanford can move forward.

I pledge to you that I will work for a dollars worth of services for each dollar you pay in taxes. I will vote to keep garbage cans where they belong because it would be an imposition on our widows, our senior citizens, and our people in ill health to require them to "tote" cans to the curb. I will oppose the establishment of a state prison facility in Sanford. I will work with local, state and federal authorities to combat any further pollution of the St. Johns River and our Lake Monroe. I will vote to reconsider the zoo question. When the zoo committee finalizes its plans, I will vote to let you, the taxpayers, make the final decision in a referendum.

As a family man, married 28 years and with two children in our schools, I will strive to maintain and improve recreational programs and the use of our parks and other facilities for the benefit of our youngsters. I will do everything one Commissioner can possibly do to put the floating docks at the Marina back where they belong. I believe every citizen has a right to be heard. If elected, I will see to it that you will be given an opportunity to present your views and guarantee you that you will be treated with dignity and respect. As a native of Sanford, I strongly believe that fresh approaches, new ideas and new procedures are needed as we face the next three important years. I pledge that I will work with your other elected officials on all levels of government to move Sanford onward. I cordially invite your consideration of my candidacy. If you feel that I am the kind of citizen you would want to serve you on the City Commission, I welcome your support and will appreciate your vote Dec. 22. Respectfully Yours,

MIAMI—Perhaps the South's most gala city. You can reach this city of cities by air from most any spot in the world. Unfortunately, the Raiders of Seminole Junior College will have to resort to the old fashion mode of transportation—driving. From the time the Raiders hop aboard their station wagons to the time they reach this city in Florida's southern tip, they will take approximately four and one half hours.

Does Artificial Grass Lead To More Injuries?

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State University, playing all of its 10 game football schedule on supposedly softer artificial turf, this year suffered more player injuries than ever before. But while the team doctor believes a synthetic field allows players to run faster and hit harder, he doesn't blame that. Instead, says Dr. Lawrence Jarrett, the culprit is the modern equipment that's worn their days. Out of 26 injuries for the MSU Spartans this year, 13 suffered from victims for the rest of the season. Jarrett said some 19 "important factors" missed "considerable portions" of the field.

Georgia Tech Is Favored

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI)—Georgia Tech, with a senior quarterback starting—and a sophomore ready to receive, has been installed as a six-point favorite to defeat Texas Tech Saturday in the 36th annual Sun Bowl game.

Georgia Tech's first loss was a 17-6 decision to Sugar Bowl champion Texas Tech in 1959. The Yellow Jackets were routed 31-7 by Gator Bowl bound Pat Sullivan and Auburn and then were barely edged 19-7 by Notre Dame, a team returning to the Cotton Bowl for the second straight year.

Texas Tech's losses came to the National Champion Texas Longhorns, Arkansas and Mississippi State. A capacity crowd of 31,000 and a national television audience was expected to see the 1 p.m. (est.) kickoff.

Yellow Jacket Coach Bud Carson has decided to start senior Jack Williams at quarterback, but said sophomore Eddie MaShain will also see action.

Texas Tech finishing third in the Southwest Conference after being picked for fifth, will start junior Charles Napper at quarterback. Coach Jim Carlen said Larry Hargrave and Doug McCutchen would start at running back with Ronnie Ross at flanker.

Joining Williams in the starting jacket backfield will be Brent Cunningham at tailback, Larry Studdard at flanker and Steve Harkey at fullback.

Saturday's game marks the seventh Sun Bowl appearance for Georgia Tech. The Red Raiders have a 1-5 Sun Bowl record.

Georgia Tech boasts a 12-6 postseason record, but lost 27-12 to Florida in the 1967 Orange Bowl—the last postseason game for the Jackets.

Texas Tech has a 2-8 bowl record, including a 31-21 loss to Georgia Tech in the 1965 Gator Bowl. That was the only previous meeting between the two schools. The Raiders fell 7-

Deltonans Re-Live German Christmas

By ELLA MAY FRAZIER

DELTONA — German fare greeted 200 guests at the Deltona Woman's Club 3rd "Round the World" dinner last Saturday night. Hot wine punch was served on entering, followed by Gausebrauten with red cabbage and spatzels, rye bread, and jello upside-down cake with coffee. Mrs. Edna Boyette was in charge of the dinner.

"Christmas in Germany" was a big success as Rev. Herbert Goers, pastor of the Lutheran Church of Providence, rounded out the evening with stories of how pagan customs early were mixed in with Christmas celebrations, to make the Christmas holiday season what it is today.

He also told of some of the Christmas customs in Germany in earlier days, and during his childhood. Then he called on Mrs. Wilhelmina Johnson to tell of her childhood Christmas memories in north Germany.

Mrs. Johnson is in her eighties, so her memories covered a long span.

The New Year Story How To Handle A Hangover

In this season to be jolly, a lot of people will miscalculate their capacity for liquid cheer and wake up with their classic New Year's Day malaise, the hangover.

To Bra... Or Not To Bra?

BY BUKETTE HARGROVE
PARIS (NEA)—The French are all for the women's liberation movement—so far as the bosom is concerned. The problem facing many girls over here these days is: To wear, or not to wear a bra.

many homemade prescriptions for this unhappy syndrome of headache and fatigue as they are victims, none is what you could call a surefire cure. The oldest is "more of the hair of the dog that bit you"—a recommendation that may help some, but start others on the way to a new hangover.

A list of supposed hangover cures ranges from a vitamin B injection, to a session in a hyperbaric chamber where pure oxygen is breathed under pressure, to drinking egg yolks whipped with Worcestershire sauce.

Also highly recommended by some are raw clams, sauerkraut juice, a square of cheese hollowed out and filled with tabasco sauce, an icebag on the head, and a milk punch of milk, rum and yeters.

Since science as yet has no cure for the hangover, the best medical advice is to take aspirin and go back to sleep. The aspirin will help relieve the throbbing headache, while sleep relaxes the body, restores energy and buys time for recuperation. For an upset stomach, an antacid is helpful.

The hangover comes from a number of different causes, beginning with an excess of alcohol consumption. This upsets the blood sugar balance as well as the salt and water in the body's circulation system.

In addition, say medical authorities, the admixture of social excitement, the conglomeration of champagne, loss of sleep, and even guilt feelings, all contribute to the making of a colossal hangover.

Scientifically speaking, the main cause of a hangover is not the alcohol itself. It is an intermediate metabolite, acetaldehyde, which develops from the oxidation of alcohol.

Since the alcohol in one's system will not vanish until the Rev. Goers mentioned the writing and composition of music for the loved hymn, "Silent Night," and invited those in the audience who knew the German words to sing it with him in German. Then the group sang it together in English. Other carols followed.

Cooking was Mrs. J. Arthur Anderson and her two assistants who used original German recipes for the meal. Menus were most attractive Christmas Trees with German notations of the various foods comprising the dinner.

Maggie and Jane worked all morning making their snowman. He got so big that they had to fetch a stool and stand on top to make his arms and to embed buttons in. The children helped put on his hat.

When they stepped that afternoon, the sun shone hot and bright, and the south wind blew. When they woke, their snow had melted and his wooden face cried dry streaks badly they turned away.

Sometimes it is like that snowman — grand and glittering with all the things we love. Then the hot winds of disaster blow, and their importance vanishes and we are left with emptiness.

What makes life meaningful? If persons can't make us happy, what can?

Our churches have the answer. Through worship and prayer they teach us to find the joy of spirit.

And Still Another Delay?

Only Seminole County Commission action approving participation by the county maintenance department to help in the renovation of a Sanford Airport facility is needed before a regional narcotics laboratory is established.

This was disclosed today by Sheriff John Polk, who said the commission would be asked to approve maintenance participation at Tuesday's meeting.

The commissioners will also be called upon to approve $3,200 expenditures for the salary of a bookkeeper.

Sheriff Polk said the City of Sanford had already participated in the federally-funded laboratory by furnishing $1,000 worth of materials to be used in the remodeling.

The sheriff said barring any unforeseen problems, the first stage of the crime lab, would begin operations in mid-January with Pete Hagdale, as chief chemist and a female bookkeeper.

As the facility adds additional crime fighting units in phases each year during a total five year period, employment will increase to a total 20-25 persons.

Most of these will be highly trained technicians with yearly salaries between $12,000 to $14,000, Polk said. They will include three chemists, a ballistics expert, fingerprint expert and others, he continued.

Recently the sheriff received a $18,102 check from the Intergovernmental Law Enforcement Planning Council at Tallahassee, through a grant made under the federal Omnibus Crime Bill.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

You talk about being in the spot at the right time. . . Miami was The City and the exact place was Tropical Park where the second largest big perfecta in its history was recorded when an anonymous ticket (would it be any other way?) holder struck it rich for $1,517.80.

Now, if you're a betting man . . . how much you wanna wager that if Mr. Anonymous is married . . . THERE'LL BE ONE TERRIFIC SHOPPING BINGE THROUGH LINCOLN ROAD'S BUSINESS DISTRICT.

We do take pride and enjoyment in printing all of those cute Letters to Santa . . . I'm not too certain that this one was written by a youngster, though:

Dear Santa:

Please bring to all the people of Sanford and Seminole County a city manager and city commission, with an understanding of the need of a few friends for everyone.

So many of us do not have private pools or membership in a golf club. An afternoon at a zoo, (with a small charge) would be a PRILL for so many families; or a public pool for a swim during the hot summer-time.

Please Santa; let them think about others also.

Waiting . . .

Like this kind of news . . . especially so at this time of the year.

Mrs. John Fischer lost her wallet, while shopping recently, containing $50 in cash, plus a check valued at $90.

You're ahead of me . . . yes, it was returned to her . . . thanks to Mrs. Menendez of 501 1/2 Celery Avenue in Sanford.

Provided a Merry Christmas feeling to both parties involved, I'm sure . . .

Listening to Bill Taylor of WDBO radio this am . . . caught a thought provoker . . . Use to be that marriage was a sacred contract. Now, it's more like a 90 day option!

A really, really big battle coming up, I'm told, between the telephone company and movie/TV star Steve McQueen. Evidentially, there's been more than a mild misunderstanding between the two parties recently . . . and now, McQueen goes on the boob tube, giving his credit card number . . . and invited anyone and everyone to go ahead and call wherever their little ole heart dictates.

So? Well, suppose he refuses to pay? Like he threatens to do, cause he didn't place the calls . . .

Zoo-In Attracts 300 Commission 'Gripes' Growing

GORDON MEYER

By BILL SCOTT
 Approximately 300 chanting, sign-carrying zoo zealots turned out Saturday noon at the Sanford Municipal Zoo to display their opposition to the phasing-out of the city's major tourist attraction.

With television cameras grinding, loud speakers blaring and politicians pronouncing; a "zoo-in" was held by the Sanford Zoo Committee with help from the SISTERS civic improvement group for the purpose of disagreement over the action of four city commis-

Efficiency Study Is Sought

By MARION BETHEA
 County Attorney Harold Johnson has been directed by the County Commission to prepare legislation, which will be considered by the Commission at its next meeting, and subsequently, when adopted, submitted to the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation.

This legislation encompasses a local government study commission which Chairman John Alexander has recommended over the past four years. Studies would relate to revisions in county government in order to make it more effective and economical. Alexander has stressed that this would not be a consolidation study, per se, but could relate to a metro-type government, or could effect little or no change in the government structure.

Johnson had been requested to advise the Commission whether to initiate the studies under home rule provisions or a legislative act. Johnson has stated that since the matter is within the scope of the whole of the county that a legislative act would be necessary.

Commissioner Sid Vihlen said that he favored the studies if it would improve the county efficiency and if funding could be provided. Commissioner Greg Drummond had questioned the possibility of the legislative delegation calling for a referendum for the committee to be funded by the county, and operated through municipal bodies.

County Commission To Get 'New Look'

As the old year draws to a close, so do the terms of office on the Seminole County Commission of John Alexander and Robert Parker. These remain only three meetings until the new Commission is installed, which will include new faces . . . of Al Davis and John Kimbrough.

Re-elected to the Commission is Greg Drummond and still serving a term of office is Edward Yarbrough.

Elected to the Commission in his own right is Sid Vihlen Jr. Vihlen was appointed to the Commission by Gov. Claude Kirk Jr. to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dan Pelham.

Davis ran on a platform of being concerned for the needs of the county, promising 100 per cent effort for all of the county. He contended that he is a successful business man (real estate and insurance business) and is capable of providing responsible leadership. Davis further promised that he would be a voice on the commission, would keep taxes to a minimum, favored development of a county-wide road program which would handle present and future needs, was for stronger law enforcement to fight crime and protect the citizens and for establishment and maintenance of a zoning plan which would provide proper, orderly growth for all of Seminole.

Kimbrough, employed at Sebring Pharmaceutical Company and a resident of Seminole County for six years, ran for office because he "wants the county to stop dragging its feet and become an efficient, productive body of government." Kimbrough cited that there is an urgent need for far-sighted planning and business-like management. He advocated an eight-point platform:

- Abolishment of the outdated constable fee system.
- An improved road system.
- The judicial and law enforcement sections of the government be given the necessary resources to remain effective.
- Concentrated effort to im-

Seminole's 'Big D' Picked AA All-State

DALLAS BROWN

Seminole High junior standout Dallas Brown was named to the Class AA All-State team released today by the Florida Sportswriters Association. The 6-foot-3, 220 pound tight end was named to the offensive team, but was a Sanford Herald All-Seminole County first team choice on both offense and defense.

Clifford Martin was named to the second team on defense for his outstanding play at defensive end. Mike Hardin, defensive captain of the Seminoles, and the only other player to receive dual honors on the All-County team, was named a linebacker choice of the third team. Hardin was the recent winner of the Peter Schaal trophy.

Rounding out the list of Seminole players receiving recognition was Dick Settle, a defensive guard named to the Honorable Mention List.
