

Local F. P. & L. Co. Records Indicate Housing Increase

Number of new electric service connections considered a reliable index to the number of new buildings completed, were greater in this district during September of this year than in September of last year, H. H. Coleman, division manager for Florida Power & Light Company, announced.

"During September of this year," Coleman said, "we connected thirty-two new electric services in our Sanford district, a sixty percent increase over the twenty new connections during September of last year. This increase reflects favorably on our area here."

"It shows that, despite defense restrictions on construction, building activity here has held up favorably. Most of our new electric connections have been to residences, indicating that our local people are prosperous and new homes are being built."

The company's construction program is feeling the pinch of material shortages, particularly copper and steel. However, McGregor Smith, company president, said in a communication to its stockholders, "Assuming government controls will assure equipment and materials for expansion of this vital industry, we will supply all power needs in our territory this year, in 1952, in 1953, and in 1954."

Floridians will recall that in World War II the company's advance planning and its ability to get materials through government allocations, made power available to all defense industries and military installations in its territory.

The company's outstanding performance was recognized by Admiral W. R. Mumroe who, in delivering a special citation for meritorious wartime service, made the dramatic statement, "When we called for Power, we got Power and not—thank God—alibi!"

The Sanford district, Coleman said, showed a gain of 25 percent in new electric service for the first nine months of this year over a similar period last year.

flying missiles since July, 1950. Major Evans said, and the program has been tremendously accelerated since the Korean war. It was originally set up as a joint service operation, though now it is primarily an Air Force operation, though the test center is a unified project for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The launching area is at Cape Canaveral, and the range extends southeastward toward Puerto Rico. Missile stations have already been constructed at Canaveral, Jupiter and Grand Bahama with other stations under way at other points along the route to Puerto Rico. Present plans contemplate full operation some time next year, he said.

Major Evans showed pictures describing the construction of a typical guided missile, including the instrument section, the control section, the fuel tanks, engine and jet exhaust. The present range is about 1100 miles long, he added, but can be doubled by turning the missile around while in flight and bringing it back up the course. It can also be extended to about 10,000 miles by moving it slightly to the north.

Major Evans produced a model of a guided missile, following his talk, and gave a brief demonstration of a missile in flight.

The Allies and Communists were in disagreement even on location of the actual battle contact line at some points, as well as location of a cease-fire line.

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Screaming Chinese Communists three times today charged an Allied-held hill mass southeast of Kumsong but failed to regain the positions Allied forces took three days ago.

A frontline dispatch said the pre-dawn attacks broke off in company strength at 1:30 A. M. (11:30 A. M. Standard EST) and built up to battalion size three hours later.

Whopping mortar fire pounded Allied infantrymen as the Reds rolled down a slope facing the U. N. held hills on the central front.

AP Correspondent Milo Parrott reported from the central front that Allied officers believe the division to the Kumsong area to the Reds have shifted a fresh reinforce a Red division badly mauled earlier this month.

On the western front Allied forces slogged forward as much as 1,200 yards.

In the east they seized a hill and gained up to 1,000 yards after turning back three separate night attacks.

Between 80 and 90 Communist jets were sighted Monday over northwest Korea but a Fifth Air Force officer said the Reds "weren't aggressive and went out of their way to avoid tangling time in nine days the Reds had with our pilots." It was the first refused a fight.

pillitteri denied charges by some pro-Ryan men that the Police Department was not providing enough protection to stevedores who wanted to go back to work.

The critics claimed the mayor was biased because the brother of his administrative assistant, Frank Sampson, was a key strike leader.

"There is absolutely nothing to that charge," the mayor said. He added the department has "provided more than ample protection to take care of any outbreak of violence."

"There's no trouble anywhere so far," a police spokesman said. John J. Sampson, leader of the strikers' revolt against a new contract, said of Ryan's threat to send in non-strikers to crash picket lines:

"He said that two weeks ago. The next will stay out as long as we are on strike."

He also scoffed at Ryan's charge that "strangers" were among the strikers.

"There are no strangers here," Sampson said. "The trouble is that Ryan is not close enough to the membership to know who they are."

Some early-morning meetings of strikers a Jesuit priest, the Rev. John Coridan, led a group of about 150 in a prayer, in which he said in part:

"God grant that our government may order us back to work in honor. May God protect and preserve us this day. God bless you all."

Father Coridan, an associate director of the Xavier Labor School, termed "lies" charges that Communists are influencing the strikers. He said "at least 90 per cent" of the strikers are non-Communists.

Ryan, lifetime president of the AFI, International Longshoremen's Association, yesterday wired President Truman, promising that his followers will not be kept from work by picket lines.

Ryan belligerently added that his men would "never go around" the pickets, but through them.

But while commercial piers and more than 100 ships here and in some other eastern ports remained strike-bound, work was humming, at an apparently accelerated pace, at military piers in Brooklyn, Staten Island and New Jersey.

Green at the military piers were manned by both specially recruited civil service workers and some regular stevedores. At the huge Brooklyn army base, rebel strike leaders announced plans to send a conference with the commanding general to arrange for the full force of regular stevedores in return to work there.

"We want to keep Army and Navy cargo moving," said Frank Nawrocki, a strike leader.

President Truman late last week urged an end to the strike, saying defense shipping was being hampered.

Sampson yesterday wired the President, urging creation of an "emergency impartial body" to review the strike.

The air, there was no chance of the pilots surviving, the Air Force said.

In the air Sunday, Allied and Russian-made jets battled for the eighth straight day. The Fifth Air Force said one Red MIG was shot down and another destroyed in three battles involving 64 U. S. Sabre jets and 180 enemy jets.

Blues In The News

"Excellent! A fine group of men!" These were the compliments of Capt. John L. Chittenden to the men of NAAS after he had finished his personnel inspection Saturday morning. The Captain then called Leo W. Salval, ADC/AP front and center and presented him with Presidential Unit Citation insignia for service with Patrol Squadron 102, operating against enemy Japanese forces in the Philippines and Netherlands East Indies Area from Dec. 8, 1941, to Mar. 8, 1945. Outstanding congratulations to Chief Mate W. Salval who is also the holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal, Gold Stars in lieu of the Second and Third Air Medals and Permanent Citation.

The topic of conversation Sunday morning was the Station Dance held Saturday night at the Army. The dance was a huge success and there was a fine presentation of both officers and enlisted personnel. Among the notables present were Capt. and Mrs. J. L. Chittenden and Commander Mrs. C. R. Pearson. A special presentation was made in connection with the recent Bond Drive held here on the station in which the Medical Department came out on top with an average of 96% of the men in their department buying bonds.

Joseph C. Wilder, HM1 and Dr. L. E. Banks were on hand to accept the award from Capt. Chittenden. The award was a specially decorated cake with the words "Congratulations—Medical Department—Bond Drive Winner" inscribed on it. The cake was turned over to the refreshment committee and was served along with ham sandwiches, potato salad, olives, pickles, and coffee. Intermission time found Phil Gard on stage entertaining the crowd with his imitations of Phil Harris, McTear, and Frankie Laine. Fred Petersen was busy all night decorating hall tables with pictures and with a lot of other work. Without a doubt the whole dance was one of the best all-night functions since the commissioning of the station.

Lambert J. Sues and Tony Szabo, ironically enough, changed places Friday as Sues was flown to the Naval Hospital in Jacksonville with a case of acute appendicitis and reported back aboard from the same hospital where Sues was being treated for a trick knee. Tony says he sure is glad to be back in Sanford. Both men are now NAAS. Three newcomers to NAAS are N. A. Albertson, Fred Green, and Charles Fisher who reported back yesterday from recruit leave spent in Jaxville, Fla., Lake Road, N. C., and Goodwill, Va., respectively.

Ralph Gasman, FABRON 2, has reported back from his emergency leave in time to write tomorrow's column. Ralph reports his mother is in much better health.

Tomorrow morning at 8:30 A.M. Miss Katrina Agnew of 808 Maple, Sanford will become wife of N. A. Albertson, Y. Cheatham. The ceremony is scheduled to take place at the Court House with Judge Stenstrom officiating the young couple. Bill and Katrina have tentative plans for a honeymoon to Miami about Nov. 4.

Activity Seen On 9 Of 13 Farmers Markets For Nov.

WINTER HAVEN, Oct. 29.—(Special)—Activity is anticipated on nine of our 13 vegetable markets during November, though volume will vary to a great extent due to weather conditions. In addition to vegetables and fruit, beans will be added to the commodity list, William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets said in reviewing market conditions today.

The first bean sale of the season on the Bonifay State Farmers Market brought growers $2,411.91 for 11,641 pounds. Stewards brought 25c per pound and Seedings sold for 17.6c.

Early fall vegetables continue to increase in volume on the Wauchope State Farmers Market with cucumbers leading. Better than 15,000 bushels, brought prices ranging from $2.50 to $3.10 with an average of $2.87 this past week. Light supplies of pepper, eggplant, white and yellow squash, pole beans, tomatoes and okra moved through the market at very satisfactory prices to the grower. High quality beans reported on all commodities. Gross receipts to growers totaled $59,223.61.

The Fort Pierce State Farmers Market officially opened Wednesday, Oct. 24, with six or eight growers starting picking operations. Volume will gradually increase with the peak expected around late November or early December. Wet weather has had some effect on the quality, but good volume and quality fruit is expected the first week in November.

The Sanford State Farmers Market experienced a good trading in locally grown beans last week with 5000 hampers averaging $2.10 each. Cucumbers were in good demand, a light supply bringing $4.55 per bushel. Orange volume totaled 1,000 boxes selling at $3.00 to $3.75. A light supply of Duncan Grapefruit brought $2.25. Over 3,000,000 cabbage plants averaged $2.25 per bushel. In addition to Florida products, apples and apples from North Carolina moved out in good volume.

Newsman-Tried For Defamation Of Public Officials

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Arraignment of five newsman on charges that they defamed 16 public officials and three admitted gamblers during a anti-gambling crusade was postponed in district criminal court here today. The arraignment was delayed because the newsman appealed to the Louisiana supreme court from a decision by special Judge Bernard Coche of New Orleans that he was qualified to try the case and Assistant Attorney General M. E. Culligan was qualified to prosecute it.

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 27.—(AP)—Five newspapermen will be arraigned today on charges they defamed 16 public officials and three admitted gamblers in a crusade against gambling.

The defendants are: Thomas Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press; Hugh Shearman, his son and co-publisher; Kenneth Dixon, managing editor; James Norton, city editor, and Carter George, police reporter.

The American Press is the only daily newspaper in this southwest Louisiana city with a population of 50,000.

The five were indicted Aug. 27 by a grand jury that had been called to investigate gambling conditions. They have been free on bond.

The indictments were based on articles appearing in the American Press that allegedly defamed District Attorney Griffin Hawkins, Melvin Wetherill, assistant district attorney, Sheriff Henry Reid, and the parish policy jury-governing body of the parish (county).

They were originally called up for arraignment on Oct. 15, but defense attorneys submitted motions challenging the appointment of a special outside judge and prosecutor to handle the case. Last Monday special Judge Bernard Coche of New Orleans denied in district court motions challenging his right to hear the case and the right of Assistant Attorney General M. E. Culligan to prosecute.

Clement Moss, defense attorney, told the court he would ask for writs of review from the state supreme court. If granted, the defense would have the right to appeal to the high court Judge Coche's decision on the motions.

In the motions, it was charged that District Attorney Hawkins manipulated the appointment of an outside judge "for his own purpose and design."

Coche was appointed by the supreme court to fill in for district Judge Mark Pickrel. Pickrel had charged the grand jury to look into possible defamation of public officials.

The defense objected to Culligan's appointment by Attorney General Bolivar Kemp on grounds that the law calls for a qualified local attorney to fill the vacancy of the district attorney if he cannot serve.

Hawkins said he thought an outside judge and prosecutor should handle the case so there would be no "cloud of suspicion."

won the medal in Korea.

The Marine Corps gave these accounts of their achievements: Myera was ordered to recapture dominating hill which had been seized by a reinforced Communist regiment in November of last year. He began his attack on the snow-covered 600-foot high hill with only 250 men, in full view of the enemy.

After 14 hours of raging combat, he and his 70 remaining fighting men firmly held the hill and had beaten back an estimated 4,000 Communists. His force killed 600 of the enemy and wounded 500.

In the meantime, Sitter, led the Third Battalion's Company "G" up another frozen hill through blistering fire, took it and held it through nine hours of constant counterattack. He and his men were under enemy grenade, mortar and machine gun fire, and engaged in hand-to-hand fighting in the darkness.

Hit in the face, chest and arms by a grenade fragment, Sitter refused to stand down. At daylight the enemy withdrew with more than 50 casualties.

Secretary of Defense Lovett's Secretary of the Navy Kimball and other high ranking officials were invited to the ceremony.

So were Mrs. Reginald Myera, their daughter Susan, 7, and son, Scott, 4, and the parents of Major and Mrs. Myera; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Myera and Mr. and Mrs. George E. Bachelor of Boise.

Major Sitter's wife and son, Richard, and his father, William A. Sitter of Pueblo also were invited.

IS THE TERMINAL AN ISSUE? Or merely a SMOKESCREEN?

When my opponent was a member of the City Commission he introduced and voted in favor of Resolution No. 736 which saddled the home owners with $24,115 in debt service for payment of current "notes, contracts and interest thereon", in spite of the Constitutional provision exempting the homesteads from current operating taxes.

The following year the homesteads were again saddled with a $16,000 tax burden from which they were constitutionally exempt but for which my opponent voted. Part of this, or $9,000, was used to purchase a site for the port terminal.

The effect of his vote on these two resolutions was to increase the tax burden of all home owners and to decrease the taxes of the LARGE PROPERTY OWNERS.

In view of my opponent's record of taxing the poor in order to spare the rich, I do not believe his election to the City Commission would be in the public's interest, and I ask your vote and support on a platform of lawful distribution of the tax burden.

Federal Grant For Hospital Is Approved

Government Agrees To Put Up $270,000 On $767,000 Fish Memorial Hospital

The United States Public Health Service today approved a federal grant of $270,000 as the government's share of the cost of the proposed Fish Memorial Hospital at First Street and Meltonville Avenue.

The total cost of the hospital which will have 50 beds has been estimated at $767,000 of which $497,000 will be expended by the Bert Fish Estate trustees in accordance with the will of the late Judge Bert Fish of Deland, who left funds for the building of hospitals in Deland, Sanford and New Smyrna.

Announcement of the $270,000 grant was made this morning by Senators Holland and Smithers and Congressman Herlong.

Fred R. Wilson, a trustee of the Fish Estate, said this morning that detailed specifications and blueprints of the project cannot be completed by the architect, Melton Fish, until the latter's preliminary plans are approved by the government. It will take some time to get the detailed specifications and plans completed, he added.

The Fish Estate, he declared, recently received title to 18 additional lots on the west side of the block on which the hospital will be located, and this gives the Fish Estate title to the whole block.

Sixteen of the lots were purchased a few days ago from Hattie N. Bolger and wife, and two lots from Joseph L. Corley and wife. The City refunded to (Continued on Page 2)

Freighter Rams Into Barge Loaded With High Test Gasoline

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Coast Guard said today the death toll in the fiery collision of three vessels in Buffalo harbor might reach 17.

Three men burned to death when the 22-foot Great Lakes freighter Penobscot rammed a loaded oil barge last night. The barge blew up, showering its puny tug and the freighter with 800,000 gallons of gasoline.

Fourteen crewmen were missing and feared dead. Seven were taken as crewmen on the barge Morania and the tug Dauntless, and three from the Penobscot crew. Four others, not identified, were believed to have been aboard the freighter.

Thirteen were injured, none seriously.

One of the dead was unidentified.

Gator Hunting To Be Permitted By Game Commission

Spotted Deer In Volusia County Put On Protected List

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Alligator hunting banned in Florida since 1944, is to be permitted again.

The state Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission agreed last night to permit sportsmen to kill the thick-skinned, ferocious, sword denters of jungle waters.

The commission acted on the recommendation of Ross Allen, a veteran hunter and former alligator expert, who said it is time to "keep the alligator in his place."

The killing of alligators was prohibited in 1944 because of their being a Florida trademark. Alligator was becoming extinct. Allen said alligators now are abundant in the state and are being a "nuisance."

"Since hunters have not been able to kill them, alligators have become unafraid of men and even are apt to attack them," Allen said. By permitting them to be hunted, alligators again will become afraid of man.

Only alligators eight feet or longer may be killed.

Lions Will Wind Up Auction Sale Friday

The Lions Club will wind up their auction sale this afternoon at the Farmers Auction Friday night. Clarence Welch announced at the Lions luncheon today.

Reports on earnings so far from the auction are not complete but it is estimated that the total will go over $500. The money will go to Lions supported charities.

Hallowe'en Will Be Celebrated Here For Two Nights

Hallowe'en will be celebrated by Sanford youth with big school parties and carnivals, one at the West Side Primary School tonight, and another at the South Side School tomorrow night.

Police Chief Roy Williams said this morning that he wanted Sanford youngsters to have a good time, but not to tear anything up or destroy any property. Extra men will be on the lookout tonight to see that no vandalism occurs, he added.

Since shopping of downtown windows is looked upon as inevitable, merchants today appealed to children to use soft types of soap and not use hard or scratchy soap such as Lava or any soap containing hard or gritty material as his scratches and permanently damages expensive plate glass windows.

Supper will be served tonight at 6:00 o'clock at the West Side School carnival. The "tea room" will be especially decorated with corn stalks, bundles of hay and pumpkins. The program will include a picture show, hay rides and other events, and fire games and other events will be enjoyed.

The South Side events tomorrow night will include a supper at 5:30 o'clock, a dance review in the auditorium by the Duxbury School pupils, and a carnival that will include games, pony rides, a country store and other novelties.

The South Side PTA will have charge of the program and admission.

The PTA Club is sponsoring a Hallowe'en party for Navy and service men tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Navy Center. Refreshments will be served. Games and contests will be enjoyed.

Pirates May Take Spring Training Camp To Florida

MIAMI, Oct. 30.—(AP)—There is a "very strong possibility" that the Pittsburgh Pirates will transfer their spring training camp from San Bernardino, Calif., to the Leon Springs, Fla., Miami Daily News said today.

Sports Columnist Morris McLemore reported that Branch Rickey, Sr., general manager of the Pirates, was in Florida over the weekend studying the situation and that the deal for the Pirates to jump to Florida "appears ready for closing."

Addition of Pittsburgh would give Florida 11 major league clubs this spring.

The New York Yankees will train at St. Petersburg, the Detroit Tigers at Lakeland, the Cincinnati Reds at Tampa, the Houston Red Sox at Sarasota, the Boston Braves at Bradenton, the Washington Senators at Orlando, the Philadelphia Athletics at West Palm Beach, the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater, the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg and the Brooklyn Dodgers in Miami.

Pittsburgh's move to Florida would assure the Pirates a full exhibition schedule "without the long hauls between Arizona, New Mexico and California," McLemore wrote.

"This dispersion of major league teams in Florida makes it simple for any team to find opposition within a comparatively short distance of its main base, a factor to be considered because of high operating costs and limited travel time."

Several Pirate farm clubs drilled in Florida last spring.

GASOLINE TAX

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The State of Florida netted $4,288,676 from the gasoline tax during the month of September, the Comptroller's office reported today.

A total of 61,679,977 gallons of gasoline was sold in the state during the month.

The 1951 collections for September exceeded those for September, 1950, by $258,447. The State received $4,025,239 in taxes on the sale of 57,502,328 gallons in September last year.

French Official Is Stabbed To Death; Killer Is Sought In Giant Manhunt

SAIGON, Indochina, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The French commissioner for the Indochinese state of Cambodia was stabbed to death by a servant yesterday as he lay sleeping in the bedroom of his heavily guarded palace in Phnom Penh.

French police announced that Jean Leon Francois Marie De Raymond, who had been commissioner since 1949, was slain by Phnom Penh, Laos, a Vietnamese servant who fled after the crime.

An accomplice also a servant of the palace staff was arrested last night and confessed details of the crime, police said.

Thousands of police, French and Cambodian troops engaged in a huge manhunt for the assassin.

There was speculation that the assassin might be a member of the Communist (terrorist) group responsible for the killing of Brig. Gen. Charles Marie Chanson, French commissioner for South Viet Nam, and Thai Lap Thuang, governor of South Viet Nam, last July 31.

Their slaying was a 25-year-old member of a Vietnamese suicide battalion. He killed the two officials and himself with a grenade at Sadek, a village 60 miles south of Saigon.

De Raymond's body was found by his assistants on a bed in the high collared bedroom of the palace rambling over granite palace grounds. French officials started to search the palace when De Raymond did not appear at his office at the usual hour.

Police said they had not yet established whether De Raymond was murdered as an act of vengeance or for political reasons.

Vietnam guerrillas are active in Cambodia and are trying to rally Cambodian insurgents to their cause. French officials are said to be hunting the French admiral (Continued on Page Three)

Yugoslavia Would Like To Borrow A Few Atomic Bombs

Brilliant Flash Marks 3rd Blast In Atomic Tests

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A top-ranking Yugoslav general said today Yugoslavia would like to have some American atomic bombs and possibly other atomic weapons to bolster her defenses against the Soviet Union.

Gen. Petko Deganovic, deputy chief of staff, threw out this suggestion today while paying an interview to members of a group of 14 American newspapermen who are making a tour of Europe.

Deganovic estimated that the Soviet Union today might have about 100 atom bombs. He said he thought the United States might have about 500 A-bombs.

"We would like to have some of them," he said. "We could use them well if we are in a good position to use them."

The general said the next step would be to see the use of certain atomic weapons. Russia, he added, was ready to offer to attack Yugoslavia in 1949, when the Soviets cut off the Yugoslav Communists from the Cominform, but did not do so for fear of the U.S. atomic bomb. Now, he declared, Yugoslavia is ready to defend itself against any aggression with weapons now available. But, he added, this country wants as much modern equipment as possible from the United States.

He repeated Premier Marshal Tito's stand that Yugoslavia would not fight an aggressive war. But he added that the next war "probably will be everywhere." He said Yugoslavia does not want to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, a move he described as "unnecessary" and not to the advantage of either the Atlantic alliance or the Yugoslavs.

Deganovic studied military tactics at Moscow from 1936 to 1938. As deputy commander of Yugoslav forces, he is one of Tito's most trusted lieutenants.

Woman Is Trapped By Dead Husband's Side For 20 Hours

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Oct. 30.—(AP)—A mother trapped on the side of a road by her dead husband for 20 hours today was rescued by police.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Mortonson, 37, and her husband, Karl, 46, were mangled after Karl, 46, was mangled by a truck on the side of a road.

Her husband, Richard G. Mortonson, 35, was killed outright in the crash, and the car was crushed in 20 hours. Mrs. Mortonson said she believed the boy suffered a skull fracture.

The Seattle family crashed Sunday night on a steep, rocky road here while returning in their private plane from a visit toellingham 80 miles to the north. They were not located until yesterday afternoon.

"I knew Dick was dead," said Mrs. Mortonson from a hospital bed. "But I stayed for a long time as we lay there. I believe he died just a little while before the crash, and the car had had some sooner he would have lived."

"We were just going along and suddenly I heard a big bang," she said. "That's the last thing I remember before we hit."

Officials said they believed the "bang" was when a wingtip hit a tree. The plane continued on a few hundred yards, cut a swath through trees and landed upside down in dense woods.

The wingtip was found by a farmer yesterday and the plane was located some time later. Rescuers virtually had to tear the plane apart to reach the victims. Two hours were required to free them.

"I was conscious as we lay in the plane all jammed together and unable to move," said Mrs. Mortonson. "I was aware of the fact that I was lying there and I kept trying to get out but I could hardly move at all. My foot was numb and I kept trying to wiggle my toes to keep it warm."

Mrs. Mortonson suffered a left arm fracture and a severe scalp wound. Kathy had a broken right ankle and a cut tendon in her right hand. Both she and her mother were extensively bruised. They also suffered from shock and from exposure to cold. Their temperatures below 40 degrees.

Hospital attendants said their condition was not critical but was "worse than fair."

Lid Is Reported On Keys Gambling For Warren Visit

MIAMI, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Miami Herald said today that a lid was "rumored" to be on the keys gambling in Key West during Governor Warren's visit last night.

"The chatter of dice, shuffle of cards and the whir of roulette and '10' wheels all faded sounds of the night along the aged city's 'Backlot' howl," a responsibility and uniformly stated in reference to Gov. Walter Warren's visit last night.

"Even the bolita drawing which milks crowds of hundreds of motorists, shouting, 'Don't bet! Don't bet!'" (Continued on Page Six)

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Have you exhausted the possibilities of your right hand? You will have a larger room when you have. Thou hast not my feet in a large room.—Ps. 31:8.

There are now 3,224 registered voters in the City of Sanford. It now remains to be seen how many of these will vote.

A proposed license tax on cats has been receiving some support. A powerful lobby of mice is said to be behind the measure.

One of America's foremost entertainers, Fuller Warren, will bring his band and all, will be here Wednesday to put on a free show for the public. But if it costs as much as it did last time, it won't be free.

The bus accident in California which caused the death of seven persons, the injury of 22 more, and which resulted when an automobile which it was following crashed into a concrete abutment of the San Francisco Bay Bridge, reminds us of the article on "defensive driving" appearing on the same day in "Parade". It is not enough to avoid running into someone yourself; it is necessary to watch out for the other fellow, be prepared for him to do some sudden and utterly inexplicable thing. Everyone should drive as if he were a frontiersman in enemy territory stalking Indians.

Downs, the first nine months of 1951. General Motors took $1,629,000,000, according to a financial statement just received from the company. Socialists like to believe that most of this profit could be devoted to the support of the poor if the company were operated by the government. Actually every dollar received by General Motors is divided as follows: 49% cents to suppliers of materials used in General Motors products, 26% cents to employees of the company, 15% cents for taxes, 1% cents to replace worn-out machinery, 1% cent for maintenance, 4% cent for reconversion and 4% cents to shareholders (representing the actual profits).

What the United States is up against in trying to sell democracy and free enterprise to the Western world, to say nothing of other countries, is shown by the results of the voting in Churchill's recent "victory" in England. Although the Conservatives were given control of Parliament, they did not get a majority of the votes. The Socialists had 13,911,000 votes; the Conservatives, 13,721,000. Because the Socialist vote was concentrated in the cities, the Socialists won only 294 seats in Parliament the Conservatives, 307. When you remember that there is very little difference between Socialism and Communism, except in the amount of blood each is willing to spill, you can see what a hard job we have in selling capitalism.

Those who get a bang out of Saturday afternoon westerns could also enjoy reading Robert Henry's "First With The Gun," a biography of General William B. Franke, famed Confederate cavalry leader. As the story of the battle of Shiloh, it is an American classic, and in that sense it is a masterpiece of cavalry fighting. It is a story of a man who was wounded in the battle of Shiloh, and who was later killed at the battle of Stones River.

The only other body recovered was that of an unidentified man, the body of which was found in the water. The Coast Guard's investigation machinery was thrown into immediate action. Preliminary reports were dispatched to the USCGC Albatross, which was en route to the scene of the accident.

"The old man and Roy stayed in the tower, put her in reverse and sent her back toward the dock. They were both dead when we rammed the dock. They were burned so badly neither could be recognized."

End Of A War

Almost without notice the President put his signature on the Congressional resolution which officially ended the war with Germany. Almost ten years have passed since the United States entered the war against the Nazis. In the interval German military might has been crushed and a new aggressor has replaced the old.

Hitler is almost forgotten now, except by those whose lives he wrecked. The rubble from the buildings shattered by the war has largely been cleaned up. Although the war is only now officially ended as of October 19, 1951, it has been more than five years since the surrender of the German army.

The signing of the document was crowded out of the public eye by the more spectacular stories of present war and unrest in other parts of the world. In Korea, Americans are again fighting and dying beside allies from the free nations. Violence and threats in Egypt claimed their share of attention.

When Germany and Japan capitulated in 1945 the hopes of the world for peace seemed brighter than they had ever been. But before the peace treaties and other formalities of ending World War II had been completed, another ambitious set of rulers had decided to set out on the path of world conquest, and the bright hopes faded. The closing of the war seems now like anti-climax.

Halloween Preparations

Halloween should be a season of color and fun for the young people. But it must not be allowed to be a time when willful destruction of the property of others and malicious mischief will be tolerated. Many Halloween pranks are harmless and anyone with a sense of humor can smile at them even when he is the victim. But the property destruction which sometimes occurs around Halloween is inexcusable, not only because of the damage done but because it tends to weaken the respect which all young persons should be taught for the property of others.

Halloween parades, parties in the schools and refreshments and entertainment for the youngsters at home all help to reduce the amount of Halloween mischief. Exercise of enlightened parental discipline can be most effective of all.

When jack-o'-lanterns burn in windows there is bound to be some mischief abroad. Halloween is a good time to keep a close eye on the garden gate and a close touch with the ideas of mischievous children.

Political Complaint

An American politician undergoes hardships of which the public is seldom aware. Long and frequent speeches sometimes leave his throat hoarse and raw, his hand is often sore from shaking the hands of his constituents, and his digestive system is thrown out of kilter by the fare at banquets.

But the mayor of Baltimore has a complaint which makes those of his fellow politicians seem trivial. Since he became mayor he has had to serve as official greeter for new animals at the zoo. Pursuing that duty he has been clawed by a lion cub, bitten by a snake and kicked by a camel. He recently drew the line at getting chummy with an 18-month-old gorilla which arrived from Africa. It is not too difficult to feel sympathy for him.

How much simpler are the lives of those politicians who must merely kiss babies and hand out cigars.

THE WORLD TODAY

By FRANK O'BRIEN (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—If Gen. Mark Clark becomes the ambassador of the United States to the Vatican he will be ambassador to one of the youngest states in the world.

The state of the Vatican City, as it is officially known, dates only from 1929. But its monarch is the Pope of Rome—at present Pope Pius XII—and the papacy is one of the oldest sovereignties in the world. The present state was established as a temporal kingdom of the Pope by agreement in 1929 with Benito Mussolini, then dictator of Italy.

Also, General Clark, if he becomes ambassador to the Roman Catholic Church State, will be a diplomat at the only country in the world that hasn't even enough room to house its official guests. Yet he will be a representative to a world power.

Those are a few of the considerations that make the question of diplomacy with the Vatican confusing, apart from purely religious considerations.

President Truman has asked the Senate to approve sending Clark to the Vatican as ambassador. The Senate has to give its consent to presidential nominations for ambassadors. Clark would be the first full U. S. ambassador to the papal court.

So the decision involves something new in U. S. diplomacy. Leaving aside the religious question, the Vatican is interesting because of the unique character of the state to which Clark would be accredited.

(The general, if he becomes ambassador, will have no superior in state for him. As the World War II conqueror of Europe, he is familiar with the Vatican set-up and is a personal friend of Pope Pius XII, although Clark is an Episcopalian.)

The Vatican City state consists of but 108.7 acres of population is only a little over 1,000 people. But because the Pope is the supreme religious authority in the Western world, he has a powerful voice around the world—inside and outside the Iron Curtain—in public opinion.

So an ambassador to the Vatican is in a sense one of the world's great confidants.

According to tradition the Vatican got its start as seat of the Roman Catholic faith in the mid-13th century. It was the city of St. Peter, the city of the Tiber River from Rome in A. D. 47. Tradition says St. Peter was buried there, and a shrine grew up about his tomb. In time, the Vatican became the seat of St. Peter. In the Middle Ages the old, crumbling shrine was pulled down, and the present vast basilica decorated. It was designed, built and started by the greatest artist of the Italian Renaissance.

Around the church there grew up a closely woven scheme of other magnificent buildings—the papal palaces. Among the buildings are famous gardens, where the Pope exercises.

That is Vatican City, Rome, the capital of Italy, is all around it. Almost everything in the city is hundreds of years old and of great beauty. That is why diplomats to the Vatican (from 36 nations at present) cannot live in the country to which they are accredited. It is too crowded with splendors. The diplomats have their embassies in Rome. Their countries maintain separate embassies in Rome to the Italian government.

Drunken Driver Is Cause Of Accident

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A "very drunk" sailor has been blamed for the Grayhound bus tragedy which killed seven persons and injured 23 just before dawn Sunday.

Wayne Pettit, chief traffic investigator for the Oakland police department, said laboratory tests showed that Navy boatswain Mate Grillo C. Russell, Jr., was in a highly alcoholic state when his car smashed a concrete abutment on a ramp of the San Francisco Bay Bridge.

That crash hurled a huge concrete block into the path of the bus, causing it to blow a tire, careen through the guard rails and plunge 40 feet to the ground.

A freighter sailor who said he was driving behind Russell—Robert Sanders—said Russell was traveling about 35 miles an hour. "Without putting on his brakes or apparently making any effort to avoid the crash, Russell drove smack into the concrete abutment," Sanders told police.

Capt. B. H. Shaffer, head of the California highway patrol's bridge detail, said Russell would be prosecuted for a drunken driving if he returns. The sailor is in serious condition. His car

And Italy—right in Rome—has its embassy to the Vatican.

When he first arrives he will be taken to see the Pope, in the lovely apartment the pontiff occupies in the palace just to the right of St. Peter's basilica.

After this first meeting, the ambassador will see the Pope only if he has some particularly important business with him, or at an annual papal meeting with diplomats accredited to him, or at other special occasions.

Other times, he will deal with the regular machinery of the Vatican state, which operates through its own diplomatic corps and church hierarchy. In most of the world except countries dominated by Communism, the ambassador

The commission voted to declare a regular alligator hunting season starting Oct. 1 and ending Feb. 1 each year. However, this year, the alligator season will not be open until 30 days after the commission regulations have been certified by the secretary of state.

The commission also voted, at the request of sportsmen of the area, to close fresh waters in the third conservation district, embracing West Florida, to fishing during April and May. This is the spawning season for most of the sport fish in the area.

John DeQuine, commission biologist, told the commissioners there was no necessity from a biological standpoint for the closed season, but that it would have "psychological value."

The commission honored two of the state's best-known sportsmen by voting to name wildlife management areas for them. The Wetlands breeding grounds in Bay, Gulf and Calhoun counties will be named for Judge Roy C. (Daddy) Blount and the Indian Trail breeding grounds in Palm Beach county for J. W. Corbett of Ft. Pierce.

Volusia county's spotted deer were placed on the protected list by the commission at the request of Porter Lansing, president of the Port of Palm Beach, who rolled on top of him when it tumbled off the abutment.

Korean War

A battalion of screaming Chinese stormed against Allied infantrymen in the early morning darkness.

P.N. troops dug in on a ridge recently won from the Communists west of Haeju, struck to their foxholes and trenches and cut down the shouting Reds.

With daylight, other U.N. infantrymen in the same area jumped in on an attack. By noon they had pushed forward 1,000 yards against light opposition.

Monday 110 fighter-bombers, most of them operating over the eastern ridges, bombed, strafed, and strafed the Reds in front-line areas.

Although the Fifth Air Force mounted 300 sorties by Korea-based planes. This is only the second time that more than 300 sorties have been flown from Korea. More than 100 other flights were made, by planes from Japan and Okinawa, including B-29 strikes through heavy flak at newly built airfields in northwest Korea.

Red anti-aircraft batteries shut down three Allied fighters—Shooting Star jet, an F-61 Mustang and a Marine F-41. Eighteen pilots reported they inflicted 320 casualties Monday.

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 30—(AP)—A United Nations truce negotiator said today "we're losing our guts trying to get this war settled" but the Reds are making "no attempt to get a reasonable solution."

The statement came from Maj. Gen. Henry L. Hodges, chairman of the U.N. truce subcommittee, during a news conference.

Ole Miss Will Do Battle With LSU In Top Conference Game

With the three top teams facing off in the most Southeastern Conference interest centers this week on the Mississippi-Louisiana State battle at Baton Rouge Saturday night.

Both teams, first division outfits in the SEC, went outside the league last week and took convincing beatings—Mississippi from Miami and L.S.U. from powerful Maryland.

Tennessee Holds Ranking As Top Team In Nation

Tennessee remained a solid choice as the No. 1 team in the country in the Associated Press fifth weekly football poll today.

The unbeaten Vols, who swamped Tennessee Tech last Saturday, 48-0, garnered 1,213 points and 59 first-place votes from the sports writers and sportscasters across the nation.

Trailing in second place was Michigan State, which also was the runner-up last week.

The rest of the first ten included Illinois, No. 3; Maryland, No. 4; Georgia Tech, No. 5; Princeton, No. 6; Southern California, No. 7; Baylor, No. 8; California, No. 9; and Wisconsin, No. 10.

The first six teams in the poll are among the nation's undefeated and untied slaves.

Strangely, Stanford of the Pacific Coast Conference, with a 4-0 mark, could do no better than eleventh.

Only one newcomer joined the first ten. That was Wisconsin, which jumped to 10th from 14th after its 41-0 triumph over previously undefeated Northwestern.

There was some shuffling inside the first ten, though. Georgia Tech, which had been hot on the trail of both Tennessee and Michigan State, dropped to 11th.

As a reward for its startling 43-15 shearing of Cornell, Princeton jumped from eighth to sixth.

Leading Pigskin Carriers Losing In Scoring Race

ATLANTA, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The three leading scorers in the Southeastern Conference—Bobby Marlow, Jimmy Lear and Dick Foster—were practically immobilized last week and their lead in the point race was sharply cut.

Both Marlow of Alabama and Lear of Mississippi were pointless. Vanderbilt's Foster managed one conversion.

Tennessee's Andy Kosar blasted twice at little Tennessee Tech and scored 12 points to move into three-way tie for fourth place.

The solid team most heavily loaded was the 8th Infantry Regiment "Blue Spaders" who mustered only four minor leaguers.

Joe Louis Still Has Problem Of Old Income Tax

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Joe Louis' possible compromise settlement of income tax indebtedness appeared delayed indefinitely today because of his reluctance to announce his retirement from the ring.

John T. Jarecki, collector of Internal Revenue for the Northern Illinois District, said a compromise is possible if Louis intends to quit fighting and proves inability to pay his full back tax.

Louis' tax troubles started when the government refused to allow a report $60,000 (that was deducted from his 1946 return. The sum was given to his former wife Marva from Louis' $675,000 purse from his title bout with Billy Conn. It was for services rendered as one of Joe's managers.)

The government, however, ruled it was not a services contract Joe had entered into with Marva but a divorce settlement agreement, and rejected the deduction.

Celery Fed Jayvees Play Here Tonight

It promises to be a wide open slam bang football game tonight when Sanford's Jayvees take on Mainland of Daytona's B at 7:15 on the Seminole High School field.

The home squad has suffered only one defeat this season and that was their opening game against Mainland which they lost 14-0. Tonight the boys will be out to wipe the slate clean.

The B squad games always give the spectators their money's worth as the boys play a wild wide open brand of football with plenty of long gain running plays.

The biggest man on the Notze Dame football squad is Joe Ketchik. He weighs 255 pounds and plays end.

Ted Totten, Colgate's star half-back from Sherill, N. Y., never played 11-man football until he enrolled at Colgate in 1942.

TV Called College Athletics' Big Worry

MODESTO, Calif., Oct. 26.—(AP)—President Hugh Willitt of the National Collegiate Athletic Association says television "is the biggest problem before the NCAA today."

Willitt, a University of Southern California professor, told the Stanislaus Quarterback Club yesterday.

"We have secured the best legal counsel obtainable and have spent thousands of dollars in a scientific survey to determine the effect of live television on intercollegiate football."

The trouble began two years ago when gates began to fall off because of widespread telecasts.

Budge Sees U. S. Sweeping Aussie Davis Cup Squad

FALM SPRINGS, Calif., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Don Budge, the old tennis "chicken" predicted rather optimistically today that the United States Davis Cup squad will score a clean sweep over Australia.

Budge, who is helping whip the team into condition here prior to its departure Nov. 3, has it figured this way:

"I think both of our singles men should win against Ken McGregor of Australia. After Tony Trabert and Ted Schroeder play a little more together they should have a 60-50 chance against McGregor and Frank Sedgman in doubles."

"Dick Savitt, I believe, will beat Sedgman in singles. His powerful ground strokes make it difficult for Sedgman to reach the net. And Dick can score a good percentage of passing shots."

N. Y. pitcher and manager of the 8th Infantry, is a veteran of six years in the Brooklyn Dodgers' chain system. He had a record of 20 wins and 3 losses in the Canadian-American League.

90% For! 10% Against

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Time to settle...

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act... An Act largely fathered by the unions themselves... made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules") in railroad language which had been in dispute between employees and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employees Accept
Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employees—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse
But three unions with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total, have refused to accept the recommendations of the Emergency Board. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employees. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by B.L.E., B.F.E. or O.R.C. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employees are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot accept.

What Do the Railroads Offer?
They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to rescind that agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?
Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $3.33 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19% cents an hour—$1.58 per day. Larger sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?
The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be generated to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employees covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?
The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employees in yard service. The employees can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower at any station is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Plan Do the Union Leaders Demand?
The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service" runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would like progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a railroad where they can arbitrarily stop divisional runs. The carriers propose that a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround it—establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the B.R.T. and covered by the White House Agreement, but have never agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed
With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems far to suggest that the leaders of B.L.E., B.F.E., and O.R.C. stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employees.

Jammed Wheels Give 40 In Plane Nervous 2 Hours

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30—(AP)—An airliner carrying 40 persons came down safely last night after getting instructions 400 miles away for lowering a jammed landing gear.

The Chicago and Southern Constellation circled Midland International Airport for two hours and 13 minutes while Flight Engineer Ed Acree of Memphis, Tenn., worked on the landing gear.

Acree, baffled after emergency measures failed to lower the giant liner's left wheel, asked C. and S. headquarters at Memphis for advice.

The maintenance department there broke out a diagram of the plane, diagnosed the trouble, and teleyped the airport control tower here instructions how to lower the wheel manually.

Wiggling through a narrow emergency hatch in the plane's belly, Acree cleared away stacks of heavy luggage, squeezed through another emergency compartment, and shut off a hydraulic gear that controlled the landing mechanism.

Safe aground, 35 passengers, many with tear-filled eyes, praised Acree and the four other crew members.

James R. Mary of New Orleans said, "The crew is really to be commended. They didn't tell us anything. But we knew the landing gear was stuck."

Mervin LeBlanc of Rochester, N. Y., said Acree kept going down in the belly of the plane and coming back. "There wasn't any smile on his face. He didn't have to tell us it wasn't fixed."

"We were all scared silly," said William Epperson of Covington, Ohio, but he added that he never became hysterical.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius R. Clark of Cleveland, Ohio, added, "We were among those scared to death."

Said Ben Sugarman of San Francisco: "We were all on the hot spot. A Catholic fellow started praying." Sugarman, a Jew, said he knelt down beside the Catholic and started praying, too.

Standing in the airport's lobby, Sugarman pulled out a thick wallet, thumbed through a batch of $1,000 bills, and said: "I thought on that plane how I wished I had left this money at home when it looked as if we were going to crash."

James E. Hopkins, 70, Died Early Today James Edward Hopkins, 70 year old resident of Floral Heights died early this morning after a short illness.

Born in Smith county, Va. May 3, 1881, Mr. Hopkins was a retired farmer. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church of Street, Md. and had lived in Sanford for 11 months.

Survivors include the widow and five children, Mrs. Fula James, Westover, Md.; Harold Hopkins, Edgewood, Md.; Bryce Hopkins, Frederick, Md.; Palmer Hopkins of New Park, Pa.; and Archie Hopkins of Joppa, Md.; two brothers, W. A. Hopkins of Sanford and Vivian Hopkins of Marlon, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Ernest of Joppa; Mrs. R. L. Vernon and Mrs. C. B. Snyder of Marlon, Va.; also 12 grandchildren.

Funeral services are incomplete and will be announced later.

Services In Orlando For Geneva Resident Funeral services were held at the Orlando Church of Christ at 4:00 P.M. for Sam Glenn Hampton, 75, who died Sunday night in an Orlando hospital. The Fairchild Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

A retired electrician, formerly of Mt. Pleasant, W. Va., Mr. Hampton had lived in Geneva since 1944.

He is survived by the widow, three daughters, Mrs. Herman Fischer of Geneva; Mrs. Thelma Cunningham and Mrs. Algon Fincher of Charleston, W. Va.; four sons, Ray E. of Orlando; Ralph of Dayton, O.; Roy and Charles of Geneva; nine grandchildren; one brother and three sisters.

De Bary Doings

By KAY BENNINGER

So many newcomers have been added to the community in three years, that we thought you might like to know something about the first man who built his home in DeBary, Gustav M. Mathisen.

His native town was Horten, Norway, where he was born on Nov. 27, 1886. He has no recollection of his mother, who died when he was only four years old.

His father was a wheelwright and, soon after his wife's death, he emigrated to the United States. He secured a position in the Catskill Cement Works and boarded with a family named Finger.

Gustav joined his father when he was 14 years old and became a part of this American home and family. After some schooling in Catskill, he went back to Norway for further education and qualified as a ship draughtsman.

In 1921 his work took him to the Panama Canal Zone where he was employed as a ship designer for 22 years. He told us that during ten of these years, he often worked in the same building with James P. Young but never knew him until they met in DeBary last year.

Mr. Mathisen was married in the Panama Canal Zone in 1928. He had two daughters, Liddy, who lives in Daytona, and Josephine, who lives in Bellemeade, Long Island, N. Y. There is a grandson up there in Long Island, but he is only one year old and has not yet traveled to Florida to see his Grandpa.

In 1943 Mr. Mathisen was stricken with polio and, upon the advice of his physician, he took a disability retirement and went North to live in Merrick, Long Island. In June of 1948, he came to DeBary to live as a result of some newspaper advertisements of the Plantation Estates. In September of that same year, his wife, who was ten years younger than he, and in perfect health, became ill and died very suddenly.

We found Mr. Mathisen to be a most gracious host. He lives alone with just his dog and his books for company. He was reading a copy of Edna Ferber's book about Saratoga, translated into Norwegian by Norway, and sent to him by a friend in Norway. On his book shelves stand a complete set of Joseph Conrad's sea stories, a set of encyclopedias which he especially enjoys, and many other adventure books, both old and modern. Many photographs adorn walls, tables and shelves and his home impressed us with its warmth, lived in atmosphere.

We asked Mr. Mathisen if he missed the life and snow of his native Norway. He lived so many years in the tropics that he is accustomed to the warm climate but he does hope to return to Norway in the spring for a walk and many frozen hot. DeBary hope he will get his wish and enjoy seeing his old home again.

Ex-Tax Collector Jailed In Cashing Of Rubber Checks

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 30—(AP)—A former Federal deputy collector of Internal Revenue, state police said today, has been arrested in Miami, Fla., on a charge of passing bad checks between here and Charleston, S. C.

Police said he had cashed the checks at a number of Elks clubs since leaving Middletown about two weeks ago. The amount of the checks was not reported.

He was identified by police as Harry Hauser, 47, of Middletown. Authorities reported that after Hauser left here an Orange county grand jury indicted him on a larceny charge for allegedly pocketing $6,000 of money belonging to the Middletown Community Concert Association.

Hauser was reported unaware of the indictment, handed up Oct. 17. The larceny count is separate from the check charge, police said. Miami police took Hauser into custody yesterday, authorities here said. They had no details on the Florida action.

Police gave this account of Hauser's dealing with the Concert Association: He was the group's treasurer used successfully to remove the black printing:

1. Scrub bags with hot water and laundry soap. This often removes nearly all the ink. The rest usually disappears if bags are boiled in soapy water for half an hour and rinsed. A mild chlorine bleach may be necessary to take out last traces. If water is very hard, the "built" synthetic detergents sold for general laundry use may be used.

2. Wet a bar of laundry soap and rub on the bag until it is entirely covered with a thick layer of soap. Roll up the bag and let stand several hours. Then wash, and boil if necessary.

3. Soak the bag in kerosene overnight. Then wash—first in lukewarm water, then in soapy water—and rinse thoroughly.

4. Cover the black print with hard or soft petroleum jelly, rubbing the grease into the fabric thoroughly. Leave overnight to loosen the black, then wash in soapy lukewarm water and rinse.

5. Roll bags in water with sodium hydrosulphite or other dye removers which may be purchased at drug stores. Follow directions on the package and rinse thoroughly.

Negro Population In The South Is Down 3 Percent In Ten Years

By GORDON BROWN AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—There was a definite trend of Negro population away from the South to industrial areas of the country during the 1940-1950 decade, census figures showed today.

The Census Bureau hasn't yet issued its final figures on population by race or on movement of population from state to state but a tabulation of its preliminary figures on white and non-white population for each state shows the trend.

The bureau classifies as non-white the country's Negro, Indian and Asiatic population except in certain instances the non-white population is virtually all Negro. This is the picture: From 1940 to 1950 the non-white population of the 13 southern states, commonly known as "The South", was virtually at a standstill, showing a net gain of only 55,537. Seven of the 13 states shows declines.

During the same period the white population in those 13 states gained 4,533,364—nearly 100 times the gain shown by the Negro population.

In that decade the non-white population of eight major industrial states—California, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania—rose from 2,808,549 to 4,364,000, a gain of 1,555,451.

And in that same decade the white population of those eight states rose 7,887,052. In other words, in the South the white population gained about 1 percent and the non-white population gained about 45 percent. In the southern states, seven showed actual declines in non-white population. They were Mississippi with a drop of 87,000, Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Oklahoma and Texas. Southern States showing a gain in Negro population were Florida with 90,000 increase, Virginia with 75,000, North Carolina with 75,000, Louisiana, South Carolina and Tennessee.

The net gain in Negro population in the southern states, experts say, does not equal what the natural increase through births would be for the ten years. This obviously there was a migration of Negroes from the area sometime during the ten years.

Presumably this migration came during the war years when many Negroes left the South to take work elsewhere in the country. The big gains in Negro populations of the big industrial states support this theory.

The census figures show that in 1940 the Negro population was approximately 33 percent of the white population in the 13 southern states. In 1950 it was down to about 30 percent.

On the other hand in the eight industrial states the Negro population was about five percent of the white population in 1940. By 1950 it had increased to about seven percent.

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes

The sturdy, soft cotton fabric of many flour and feed bags has been used for years by economical rural homemakers for making everything from aprons and children's clothing to bedspreads, draperies, and ten towels. The first step in making this material usable is to remove the black lettering that labeled the bag, and letters to the U. S. Department of Agriculture frequently ask how to do it.

Homemakers sometimes weaken the fabric by using too strong a bleach for the purpose or by bleaching too long.

ELECT RANDALL CHASE FOR A PROGRAM OF SOUND GROWTH LET'S PUT FIRST THINGS FIRST AND LET'S WORK TOGETHER TO:

EXPAND OUR WATER AND SEWERAGE FACILITIES to those areas of Sanford which need them. This must include cleaning up our lakefront, which should be much more attractive to us and our visitors. This is one of the first things that should come first.

GET SANFORD A HOSPITAL. A modern Hospital is one of our greatest needs. As Chairman of the Executive Board of your local Hospital, and a member of the Association for years, I have diligently worked toward this end, and I shall continue. Let's all work for a Hospital.

BUILD OUR CITY SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM for both white and Negro children. Supervised recreation is one of the best ways to develop in our children a sense of civic pride. Providing wholesome, healthful activity is an effective safeguard against juvenile delinquency. Let's work for our children.

DEVELOP OUR TOURIST INDUSTRY by providing facilities in Sanford for them. Tourists attract other tourists. It means more business for all of Sanford and more prospective home owners. Our City has not been getting its share of tourists. Let's work to bring them, and make them feel at home when they arrive.

PROVIDE GREATER POLICE PROTECTION AND BETTER TRAFFIC CONTROL. According to reliable statistics Sanford has 4 or 5 less men on their police force than the average community with our population. More police protection and better traffic control means fewer accidents and greater safety for our people, particularly our children. An adequate police force should insure that every policeman would be an ambassador of good will to our tourists or strangers and, last but not least, to our home people.

THE CITY'S FIRST OBLIGATION IS TO ITS CITIZENS.

Your Vote and Support will be Appreciated.

Reds Propose Fighting Zone As Truce Line

U. N. Negotiator Suspicious Of What Reds Call Last And Best Offer

By NATE POLOWETZKY
MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 31—(AP)—Red truce negotiator offered today to create a buffer zone along their version of the present battle line in Korea. They called it their "last and best proposal."

The surprise Red offer approached demands of the United Nations command. It brought the two sides closer together than they ever have been on the question.

It was feared in this truce camp that a U. N. command spokesman said there were two important differences between the new Red offer and the Allied proposal.

1. The Reds want to keep Kaesong, former truce talks site. The Allies want to take it over.

2. The Communist version of the battle line is two or three miles south of where the Allies place it.

These differences were pointed out by Col. Andrew J. Kinney, chief U. N. liaison officer.

Kinney said there were certain other things the U. N. negotiators could not accept immediately.

But, he added, the Communist offer brought the buffer zone question nearer to a solution than at any time since truce talks first started July 10.

Red negotiators submitted their plan unexpectedly near the close of Wednesday's meeting of truce subcommittees in a rain-soaked tent at Panmunjom. The plan was outlined on a map.

Three times, Kinney said, the Red delegates said this was their "last and best proposal."

This makes us very suspicious, Kinney said.

Nevertheless, Kinney said, the new Red proposal "is the biggest step I've seen" for solving the buffer zone question.

It was on this question that the current battle line. Negotiators call it the "line of contact." The buffer zone would be 2 1/2 miles wide.

Washington Ready For Arrival Of British Princess And Duke

By ED CREAM
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—(AP)—Official Washington put on its best bib and tucker today to greet Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

And in spite of possible showers, thousands of men and women in the street planned to join in the capital's televised welcome for the British royal couple on their first visit to the United States.

President and Mrs. Truman and their daughter Margaret headed the list of government officials, foreign diplomats and other dignitaries meeting Elizabeth and her blond, handsome husband on their arrival by plane from Montreal at 4 P. M.

A 21-gun salute was to touch off a rapid-fire succession of receptions, dinners and other ceremonies for the royal visitors. The first: A reception by some 900 news correspondents as soon as the couple had a chance to freshen up and sample American-style tea.

Elizabeth and Philip are guests of the President at Blair House during their 48-hour visit.

Tonight at 8 P. M. there's a "receptional dinner"—very formal, limited to about 20 guests because of cramped dining space in the Truman family's temporary residence. The gold table service, and the blue-bordered china bought by Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be used.

Afterwards there's a reception for some 100 persons—Supreme Court justices, cabinet members, other high officials and their wives.

Laborites Outvoted In 1st Contest

Conservatives Name House Of Commons Speaker Despite Stiff Opposition

LONDON, Oct. 31—(AP)—Winston Churchill's Conservatives elected one of their own number as speaker of the new House of Commons today in the first contest for the office since 1945.

The winner was W. S. Morrison, 58, a former Minister of Agriculture. The outcome cut the new government's overall majority from 18 to 17, since the speaker is traditionally neutral.

A group of Labor Party insurgents precipitated the contest over the speaker. The vote was 318 for Morrison and 251 for the Labor candidate, Maj. James Milner. Milner, 62, was deputy speaker in the old House.

The contest plainly meant that the Labor Party intends to fight the new government on every conceivable issue, just as Churchill's followers fought the Labor government when it was in power.

In a speech to the House before the voting began, Prime Minister Churchill accused the Laborites of reneging on an original agreement to let Morrison take office unopposed. Churchill asserted this agreement was made on Monday.

He said the Laborites unexpectedly sent word yesterday they must either have Milner as speaker or a Scottish Conservative, Sir Charles MacAndrew, in place of Morrison.

Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee, now leader of the opposition, denied that he had committed his party to support Morrison.

Attlee said he consulted his party members after informal talks with Churchill and was instructed to submit Milner's name, with MacAndrew's as an alternative. MacAndrew has had considerable experience as a substitute speaker in the past.

Party moderates led by Attlee considered that both the Scot and Milner had better claims on the chair than Morrison.

It was reported that Labor Party moderates led by Attlee tried in vain to head off Milner's nomination.

Milner's backers were said to have argued that since the outgoing speaker, Sir James Duff, was a Conservative, a speaker to the old House, the Conservatives should now agree to give the chair to a Labor Party man.

The old speaker was Sir Douglas Clifton Brown. He did not seek reelection.

Clifton Brown had been elected to the chair without a contest by amicable agreement between the two major parties—the usual procedure.

Explosion Traps 12 Coal Miners Deep In Tunnel

3 Bodies Recovered; Others Are Given Only Long Chance

KAYFORD, W. Va., Oct. 31—(AP)—An explosion trapped twelve men deep down in a coal mine today.

Ten hours later three bodies had been recovered and the other men were given little chance of being saved.

No official casualty list was compiled, but members of the grim crowd around the mine entrance said a father and his son were among the missing.

The father, chief engineer for the Truax-Truax Coal Company, said they had only a "very long chance." They were three quarters of a mile back in the mountain.

Rescue workers toiled slowly through the mine tunnel, littered with rock and debris. The air was foul and they were oxygen equipped.

They still were 800 feet from the main explosion area, Cuthbert said he could not guess how quickly they could dig through.

The explosion ripped through the Truax-Truax mine, United No. 1, about 2 A. M. The entry is half way up a rugged hillside about 3 1/2 miles southeast of Charleston. The tunnel goes straight up the mountain, with little slope.

The men inside were members of a maintenance crew, getting the mine ready for today's work.

Two hundred anxious friends and relatives gathered in small groups on the level graded area around the mine entrance.

The few women were calm. A drizzle subsided as the morning went on. Fog covered the upper part of the mountain.

Arch J. Alexander, state mines chief, went underground with the rescue teams. His department rushed all available inspectors to the scene.

E. E. Glascock, a bookkeeper at Truax-Truax headquarters here, said sixteen men were in the mine at the time of the explosion but "four walked out the other twelve unaccounted for." The men who walked out "apparently were not in the vicinity of the blast."

A mines department official said the first reports indicated coal dust exploded.

The mine is near Wavona, twelve miles up Cabin Creek from company headquarters.

The state mines department lists it as employing 55 men and producing 161,000 tons a year.

It was West Virginia's second coal mine disaster in sixteen days—two men were killed Oct. 18 at the Truax-Truax Company's mine near Morgantown in the northeast corner of the state.

C. Ferris Bryant Tells Kiwanis Of State Problems

Work Of Legislature Results In Cut In Welfare Payments

Significant problems facing the State Legislature at its next session, were today outlined to Kiwanis at the Yacht Club by C. Ferris Bryant, representative from Marion county and speaker of the House of Representatives for 1951.

He was introduced by John Pierson, program chairman and by Judge Douglas Stenstrom, who pointed out that Mr. Bryant is a graduate of the University of Florida and of the Harvard Law School and during the last five years has been cited as the most outstanding representative in the Florida Legislature.

Expressing satisfaction with recent State legislation dealing with welfare allotments, Mr. Bryant pointed out that as a result of legislation for welfare assistance during September of this year were 35 percent under those of September, 1950.

Although the Legislature may have created some hardships, we are on the right track, he declared, and stated that some persons who are not entitled to aid are not willing now to apply for welfare assistance due to threats of exposure.

He expressed concern that during a 10 year period while the population of the state was 45 percent, the increase in the number of people over 65 years of age was 81 percent, and that 25 percent of those over 65 are now getting welfare benefits.

The percentage of those under 18 has also increased and this places an increased burden on the earning portion of the population, he said.

Mr. Bryant expressed sympathy with teachers seeking a $300 annual pay increase, pointed out that on a two year budget, $25 million more than $12,000,000, a problem the Legislature must face at its next session.

He told of a proposed constitutional amendment that would divert motor vehicle license tag funds to schools.

Ohio, with one central tax collection agency, spends only 1 1/2 percent of its revenue for collection, he stated. Florida with 17 (Continued on Page Six)

County Tax Books To Open Tomorrow

John L. Galloway, county tax collector, announced today that tax books will be open tomorrow for payment of 1951 real estate, personal and intangible taxes.

He added that tax bills have been prepared and are being mailed to the owners of real estate, personal and intangible taxes for 1951.

Plan To Settle Rows Proposed By CIO Leaders

Arbitrator Would Be Named For Jurisdictional Disputes

By HAROLD W. WARD
NEW YORK, Oct. 31—(AP)—CIO leaders today proposed a far-reaching plan for settling their own jurisdictional quarrels, calling for appointment of an "organizational disputes arbitrator."

The CIO's executive board, consisting of 10 union presidents and the top leadership of the CIO, was handed the plan for ratification today. The vice president approved it yesterday.

The issue of jurisdiction was raised by the GMA, CMA and Chemical Workers' Unions, which claimed that other CIO groups were raiding its field. However, even that squabble never reached the intensity of some historic fights between AFL unions, such as the 40-year-old conflict between the machinists and carpenters over which union should install machinery in plants.

The CIO leaders, in presenting their plan for settling such matters, said they wanted to avert inter-union warfare and the strikes which sometimes have resulted from it by wiping out "competitive organizational campaigns" between its member unions.

An elaborate progression of steps was proposed, ending with the organizational disputes arbitrator, if necessary. He is to be named by the executive board.

The peace proposal is to be signed by heads of the various unions and if approved today will be reported to the CIO convention next week.

The unions would commit themselves not to make "deregulatory statements" about each other, and to respect certification of one union as the bargaining agent by the National Labor Relations Board.

"But if disputes arise between unions, they would be dumped in the lap of the regional director of organization. If he cannot settle the problem promptly, then national director of organization Allan S. Haywood, will take over. Haywood is about to become cumulative vice president of the CIO, with broad executive (Continued on Page Two)

Negro Child Dies From Taking Pills Given By Accident

A three year old Negro child died shortly after noon yesterday from swallowing sodium nitrate pills that a playmate had taken from a neighbor's home and given to her.

Justices of the Peace W. E. Watson, who with Sheriff Charles Beck, investigated the death, learned of the cause of the death only after the pills and broken bottles were discovered under a house by a Negro woman who lives in the neighborhood of 1112 Maple Avenue where the child lived.

Rushed to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital, the child, Rosemary Wilson, daughter of Ruby Lee Wilson, was pronounced dead on arrival.

According to Mr. Watson, the little girl had been playing with a group of children, some one five years of age, and one of the children, who lived two doors away, had taken the pills from a shelf in its home and had given them to Rosemary Wilson, the only child in the group that had swallowed any.

The investigation revealed that the pills had been prescribed by a local physician for use by a Negro woman who had high blood pressure.

Tito Pledges To Cooperate With Western World

By ALAN SINGLETON
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 31—(AP)—Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia declared today he is willing to cooperate with the West.

Tito, wearing a military uniform, met with the Yugoslav and local newspaper editors in a four-hour news conference, the largest and longest news conference of the state, and answered a barrage of questions.

These were some of his answers:

"I hope for better relations with the West and Europe."

"I support the rearmament of Western Germany."

"I warned repeatedly that there is danger of war, but that the people should not despair of preventing it."

"I felt that the future of Yugoslavia probably will be decided directly, very soon, between Yugoslavia and Italy."

"Speaking in Serbian through translators, Tito told that he supports the Atlantic Pact as a logical consequence of Soviet policy." As a result of that Russian policy, he added, that there could be no neutrality on the part of a European country in the event of World War III.

"On all questions of economic and cultural relations, on all questions of international affairs that do not conflict with Yugoslavia, we will be willing to cooperate with the countries of the Atlantic Pact." Tito said, but made it plain he would not join the pact, and that arms aid from the United States would not change his policies.

"Our policy is in the interests of the security and independence and the strength of Yugoslavia. There is no essential change in policy. It is a logical continuation of our policy since our break (Continued on Page Six)
