New Franchise Directive Submitted To Board

A new liberal franchise directive was submitted to the County today by the three-man committee authorized to draw up the new plan earlier in the year.

The committee is comprised of William A. Lefler Jr., Warren E. Knowles and William A. Kratzert.

The main points of the new directive stress elimination of franchise tax billed to customers; no mandatory connections for existing buildings for a period of two years after the sewer line is laid and the area to be franchised be no larger than what can be serviced within one year.

It eliminates large franchises tying up one special area.

The new proposal cuts the franchise period from 30 to 20 years and was called by the committee as one method of attracting capital and at the same time providing "greater protection for the people."

The committee also has recommended a special committee be set up to administer and supervise the directive. The three-man committee has suggested that no county employees sit on the special group, only public citizens.

The committee, in submitting the lengthy directive, said the main thought was to provide "protection to both public and utility companies."

"During the coming years of rapid population growth throughout our county, the public must receive the maximum protection for a potable (drinkable) water and to eliminate ground pollution. At the same time, it is necessary to attract private capital to make large initial investments to provide the desired protection by means of safe utility systems."

The committee made two recommendations not included in the proposed directive: that all utility franchises be exclusive whereby the directive regulations prevent the utility system from rendering unsatisfactory service and insure each parcel of property of receiving service; All utility systems in the county be brought under the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission rules and regulations, regardless of size, by means of proper legislation.

Another major item in the franchise is that whenever an area embraced within any such franchise is annexed to and incorporated into the corporate limits of any municipality, such municipality shall have the right to purchase the water or sewer franchise and facilities in such an area for compensation agreed upon by the municipality and the franchise holder or as a court of adequate jurisdiction shall determine.

A previous franchise directive was drawn up by two county commissioners and other county officials. This met strong opposition from many citizens. They complained about mandatory sewer connections and the excessive length of time a franchise is granted.

At that time, County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchinson was authorized to appoint a three-man committee to draw up a revised directive.

Drawing up the new plan took a little over two months.

Tax Deadline Is March 31, Galloway Warns

Last date on which taxpayers can pay 1961 taxes without penalty will be March 31, Tax Collector John L. Galloway said today.

Failure to pay taxes on or before that date he said, will result in a minimum penalty of three percent on real estate taxes and one percent on personal and intangible taxes. He also pointed out that the tax laws required the additional charge of cost of advertising the property as delinquent.

Attention was also called to the fact that interest, advertising and other collections are added to the tax and all becomes a lien against the property owned by the delinquent taxpayer.

Tax certificates will be sold at a tax sale to be held May 29, on each parcel of real estate on which the 1961 taxes have not been paid, Galloway explained. At the same time he said warrants will be issued against all personal property tax items, which are not paid, directing the levy and sale of the property to satisfy the taxes and cost. Executions will be issued on all intangible tax items not paid, Galloway said.

Pitt Varnes Files For County Board

W. Pitt Varnes, Fern Park developer, today announced his candidacy for County Commissioner of District 4. Varnes qualified today.

Varnes is a 32 year old Florida native and has made his home in Seminole County for the past nine years.

Incumbent commissioner Vernon Dunn has indicated that he would not seek reelection for the next term.

Varnes told the Herald, "Announcement of my candidacy is made after giving thoughtful consideration of the increased responsibilities during the next four years because of the accelerated growth of Seminole County.

"I realize the personal sacrifices a man has to make to serve as a commissioner. I have sufficient time to devote to the duties of this office and pledge my best efforts to all the people of our county.

"It is my belief that we will have to work in harmony as a team to succeed in solving the many problems arising in the future. We have greater needs for school, roads and other improvements.

"We are developing from an agricultural county to an urban and industrial economy. This brings new problems which will require planning and sound thinking. We will need to make our tax dollars go as far as they will and maintain a sound fiscal policy, without burdening the property owner with exorbitant taxes."

Varnes is a member of the Baptist Church, Kiwanis, a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner.

Storm Damage $100 Million

By United Press International

Damage estimates mounted to well over $100 million today in the slowly subsiding storm tides which battered the Atlantic Seaboard and transformed scores of oceanfront communities—some of them plush resorts—into vast quagmires.

From sunny Florida to New York, thousands of persons were driven inland by the erupting sea which sent mountains, gale-whipped waves pouring over beaches and into towns.

The erratic storm was expected to move harmlessly out to sea following its initial assault on Tuesday, but instead it swerved back for another lethal, day-long attack on coastal dwellers Wednesday. And in some areas more punishment was predicted for today.

The death toll from this and other storms raging across the nation since Tuesday has climbed to at least 40.

Authorities said they would be unable to get a clear, over-all picture of the damage until floodwaters recede, but preliminary estimates indicated destruction figures would be well over $100 million.

Hunt Girl, 14, On Spree With Mom's $4,000

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police in two cities today were looking for a 14-year-old girl accused of treating her teen-age playmates to a fun spree in Miami with her widowed mother's $4,000 savings.

Rosanne Fine, a high school sophomore, was being sought by detectives in both New York and Miami.

The story of the weekend fling in sunny Florida was revealed Wednesday in adolescent court where five of the girl's companions faced charges stemming from the theft of the money.

Police said they also were seeking two other members of the party that flew to Miami Feb. 27.

Testimony revealed that Rosanne went to the savings and loan association where her mother's savings were kept and withdrew them with the aid of one of her friends, 19-year-old Dorothy Gieb who allegedly posed as her mother.

Police said Dorothy signed the withdrawal slip cloning the account and with the $4,000 converted to cash, they hunted up other pals and headed for Idlewild Airport.

The Florida spree included fine food, heavy losses at the dog track and for two members of the party, wedding bells.

Help For Burned-Out Families Flowing To Red Cross

By Dot Higginbotham

Response has been immediate to the needs of the five Negro families who lost nearly everything they had in a disastrous fire that destroyed their homes Tuesday, during the high winds.

Red Cross officials, Mrs. Alice Ivers and John McCloskey, reported today that the ter's Motel on Southwest Rd. where the families were temporarily housed, more clothing and some food has also been brought in. However, Mrs. McAllister has asked that no other contributions be brought to the motel, as all the families but one have found temporary shelter elsewhere and the remaining family will probably be gone by the weekend.

There is a great need for men's clothing, dishes, pots, sheets, blankets, bedding, towels, other household supplies and money to purchase food and other necessities.

Four men are badly in need of clothes.

All are of average height and weight, ranging from about size 36 to 40. The five women are also average, size 14 to 18.

Take all offerings to the Red Cross office at 122 Palmetto Ave., (opposite the fire station), or call the American Red Cross for pickups of furniture.

Red Cross president, John

"If there had been running water available, instead of hand pumps, the blaze could have been confined to the house where it started when children accidentally knocked over an oil heater," McCloskey said.

Four of the homes were owned by Annie Burrows and Lake Monroe Joffins . . .

Mrs. H. L. Johnson Okay, I'm sure sorry that I said it was Spring. I take it all back and I am trying to blame it on some one. I accused Genna and Mack Hudson of bringing it down here with them from Fredericktown, Mo. They are here visiting their son and our daughter, Don and Shirley Hudson. Also with them are Genna's sister, Mrs. Jerry Emmert and daughter Jean. I also tried to blame it on Lucille Fitzgerald's mother, Mrs. Cash who is visiting her from Virginia. She said it wasn't so either. . . Anyway it's been cold and we don't mean maybe. But cheer up better days are coming. Sure hope it won't be that way Saturday as the High School Band along with Tommy McLain and myself are going to Daytona for district contest. It's an all day affair and will be held at the Peabody Auditorium. In the evening there will be a combined band concert which will be very nice. Mr. Cowley has been working hard with his hand and they are going with the determination to win. So here's hoping they do. Last Saturday the Band went to Orange City to play for Pioneer Days. . . Mrs. J. C. Sapp and daughter Clara Wyatt motored to Daytona last weekend to visit with the H. W. Holdridges. . . The William Carrolls Sr. have as their guests from Binghampton, N. Y., their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. George Manning and also a friend Miss Pat Forgary. I can't blame the cold weather on them because it was already cold when they got here. . . The T. B. Unit will be in Monroe on March 11th. It will be at Gardner's Store from four o'clock until seven p.m. Sure hope everyone will take this free opportunity to have their chest x-rays. . . The Home Demonstration Club will have charge of the registration. . . Mrs. G. B. Sapp is in Tampa where she was called by the serious illness of Mr. Aaron Wetherington. . . Rena Hawkins motored to Jacksonville last week to see her sister Myrtle Pickett. . . A delayed happy birthday to Lynn Giles and also happy birthday to Don Hudson. . . Alice Nordgren gave a nice program on "The Wise Use of Credit" at the monthly meeting of the Monroe Home Demonstration Club last Thursday. The club met with Naomi Sapp at her home on Orange Blvd. Louise Bushlow was co-hostess. We enjoyed her talk very much. . . We all got to compliment Troy Thayer on her winning the sweepstakes prize at the Central Florida Fair. She entered several loaves of bread. The loaf of oatmeal bread won first and sweepstakes and the wheat bread won second. . . By the way, congratulations to Miss Myrtle Wilson who has been our Home Demonstration Agent for eight years. She has just started on her ninth year. . . Sure glad that they finally finished the paving of the Paula road. It was torn up so long. . . Wonder if you noticed all the icicles Tuesday. There were some on the palm trees at the Wilson School and over on the Country Club Road at the Fred Harris home they were on the orange trees. . . Another reminder about the big two day laundry clinic to be held here March 20 and 21st. It is open to ALL interested persons and will be held at the Home Demonstration Center on 25th St. and Sanford Ave. Any and everything connected with the laundry will be given. So be sure it is marked on your calendar for those two days starting at 9 o'clock. . . Some one told me that Mr. William Bailey is in the hospital. I hope that it is nothing serious and he is soon out of there. . . So glad that Grace Edwards is her old self again. And she will be back with us real soon on her old bus run. As I always say, you can't keep a good lady down. . . Thank you Lorraine Graham for the nice compliment. . . This week, for the thought of the week, I am giving two that were asked to be repeated. This one was by Brooks and goes like this: A Man who lives right, and is right has more power in his silence than another has by his words. The other one is by President Lincoln. Let us have Faith that right makes Might and in that Faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it.

Refreshments of coffee and tea, poured from two beautiful silver services by Mrs. Mattie Biam, Mrs. J. D. Wright Jr., Mrs. Fred Dyson and Mrs. Glenn Lingle, were accompanied by tiny open-faced sandwiches, dainty petit fours, mints and nuts. Major Breakthrough

County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison accomplished the first major breakthrough of better relations between the press and commission Tuesday when he urged the board to allow reporters to sit in on informal discussions.

In a letter to members of the board, Hutchison said: "The relationship between representatives of the press and County Commissioners during the past year, for the most part, left much to be desired. It is believed that this situation can be improved."

The only way we feel that we can have confidence in our officials is to be allowed to sit in on private off-the-cuff meetings. This paper has never broken a confidence nor does it ever plan to embarrass any official without due cause.

Gen. Hutchison, in his letter to the board, said, "If we adopt an attitude of friendliness and confidence in the press I believe it will be well received and that we will find that the press will prove worthy of our confidence."

We feel that members of the press should be invited to informal conferences and be trusted to use our discretion in publishing comments from such meetings of the board.

If members of the press are present at informal commission meetings it will put us in a better position to give better coverage when the results of discussions are presented at formal meetings.

This procedure, which now has the backing of the entire board, should result in a friendlier climate and lead to an attitude of helpfulness rather than criticism.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Jim's sin was evident to all around him though he didn't dream it was ruining his social success. Every professional singer and speaker should also be on guard against Jim's fault. And you smokers must be doubly careful for tobacco smoke partially deadens your sense of smell.

CASE L-658: Jim R., aged 28, is a good looking teacher. "But I have no luck with girls," he protested. "Oh, I have dated a dozen different ones the past year. "But they never seem interested in having me come back. And I have tried different methods. "For example, some of them I kiss on the first date. In other cases, I have refrained from kisses. But neither method helps much. "Dr. Crane, what is wrong with me? Or is it my technique?" "Why should a cultured, good looking fellow like Jim be unpopular? Well, he was guilty of one of those personal faults that wear four best friends will not mention. He had a severe case of halitosis, yet he didn't seem to realize that fact at all. And a lot of people likewise suffer from similar bad breath or even "B. O." If you use tobacco, your nostrils become partly insensitive to odors so you girls, as well as men, may then use too much perfume or toilet water. "You can always tell when Fran enters the room," a college man recently commented about a coed classmate. "She reeks of perfume. You can smell her a block away." Fran was a heavy cigaret smoker, so she had lost part of her sense of smell and thus didn't know she was employing too much perfume. Since men perspire more freely than women, they often exude unpleasant "B. O." or perspiration odors. Thanks to a heavy advertising campaign here in America by various soap and deodorant firms, few modern males are offending feminine noses. But there are still too many who either can't smell their own "B. O.", due to tobacco paralysis of their olfactory sense, or who are ignorant of the "poor" they leave behind them. Jim had thus never been told of his halitosis. Yet when he kissed a girl, he almost asphyxiated her! I could detect his bad breath from 10 feet away! So I urged him to brush his tongue, as well as his teeth, for the surface of the tongue is often coated with smelly debris. If you have tonsils with crypts therein, use the built end of your toothbrush to squeeze out the cheesy, odoriferous contents of those crypts. If you have decayed teeth, have them treated at once. And use dental floss to clean out the decaying meat fibers that often get wedged between your teeth. Also, avoid odorous foods when you are heading for a date. This means eliminate radishes, onions, garlic, and cooked cabbage, as well as liquor and tobacco. And drink plenty of water, for a dehydrated condition often creates foul breath. Men should use after shave lotions freely as well as deodorants. Thereafter, try to mask your breath by flavored mints or chewing gum. And don't exhale into the face of your girl friend when you kiss her! For further details, send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Dick West Says

Ham Best Actor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "Almost anything I, or others, might say about Marine Lt. Col. John Glenn's triple orbit of the earth last week would be superfluous."

Thus begins the current edition of the weekly "Newsletter" that Rep. Florence P. Dwyer sends to her constituents in New Jersey.

Mrs. Dwyer was not just being modest. She went ahead and said about 250 words about the flight, and, sure enough, they were superfluous.

I had a feeling akin to Mrs. Dwyer's as I made my way to the House caucus room Monday to view the official films of the flight taken by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

I figured the film was bound to seem superfluous to anyone who watched the event on live television. But like Mrs. Dwyer, I couldn't resist the extra helping.

This was the third such film I have seen, the other two being the space rides of Ham, the astro-chimp, and Alan Shepard, another human astronaut.

The Glenn film was a bit more elaborate than the others, but all three were very much alike. If I were a movie reviewer, I would rate Ham's film as having the most entertainment value.

The reason is that I could "identify" better with the chimpanzee. Ham's reactions were more like what my own reactions would have been during a similar experience. For instance, few who saw the films of the chimp are likely to forget the way his lips curled when he began to feel the pressure of atmospheric re-entry. Mine would have been quivering.

Glenn, on the other hand, appeared to have been a good bit calmer. Other than occasional smiles, he displayed no emotion, even when there was concern that his heat shield might have been loosened.

This spoke well of his courage, but it didn't help the film any, dramatically speaking. In the same situation, Ham probably would have won an Academy Award.

Incidentally, during his personal appearance before Congress, Glenn jokingly complained that he had to make the entire flight without a single banana.

Thereupon, Sen. Clifford P. Case, who knows a good gag when he hears one, carried it a step further by sending the astronaut a package of banana pellets.

Which brings us back to what Mrs. Dwyer was saying about superfluity.

Old Game

Original version of the card game "rummy" was introduced early in the 20th century and was called "conquin," a name which came from the Spanish words "con quien," meaning "with whom."

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Changing industrial conditions in the United States are causing American labor union leaders to make some startling new demands in negotiations with major employers.

Aircraft and missile workers of the International Assn. of Machinists and United Auto Workers, in their second biennial joint conference just ended here, have decided to ask for new employment security guarantees for their half-million members in renewing contracts which expire in 1962.

One of the key demands is a proposal that the government reimburse every contractor for supplementary unemployment benefits and separation payments to laid-off workers.

An alternative proposal is that an industry-wide fund be established by contributions from employers, this fund being insured by the U. S. government to pay for loss of jobs in a new and rapidly changing industry.

American Federation of Labor-Congress of Industrial Organizations has initiated a move for legislation to establish a government-operated insurance system to pay retired workers their pensions when former employers fail in business.

The contention is that thousands of retired workers lose their pensions every year because hundreds of employers—most of them with the best intentions in the world to stay solvent—go broke. In other instances, inadequately financed pension trust funds find they cannot meet commitments.

Either way, the retired worker stands to lose. Being over 65, he may have trouble finding a new job. If he has to fall back on his government old age insurance payments as his sole source of income, his living standard goes down.

United Auto Workers have asked the automobile manufacturers to abandon "excessive and unnecessary overtime" in the interests of reducing unemployment and spreading employment. UAW claims this practice by the auto makers deprives 25,000 workers of jobs, in an industry where automation has hit hard.

The issue is simply that every time a new employee is added to the payroll, the employer must pay additional social security and unemployment insurance taxes. The employer must also pay supplementary unemployment benefits if the new worker is laid off.

From management's standpoint, it is more efficient to keep the work force as small as possible and pay a little overtime now and then when the orders pile up.

Railway labor conditions are now so confused that, in the opinion of some observers, the best solution would be to wipe the slate clean and begin all over again with a new transportation policy for both management and the employee brotherhoods.

Management contends that there must be mergers and freer competition between all forms of transportation. Rail management also contends that the so-called "featherbedding" practices must be eliminated for more economical operations.

Railway labor replies that mergers can only mean a reduction in the number of jobs. It is therefore asked that no mergers be approved unless they include employment security.

The presidential commission of five employer, five management and five public members—trying for a year to find some solution to the work rule issue—has finally come up with recommendations so adverse to brotherhood interests that a strike is threatened.

In comparison to demands such as these, the new steel industry contract negotiations now going on appear relatively simple. This is in spite of the fact that the steel talks have been a key issue of stabilization by the Kennedy administration.

To people who hate organized labor and all its works, these new demands will be viewed as more evidence of the unions' growing power and the instability of their demands.

To others, the overriding issue is the reduction of unemployment, still far too high. The AFL-CIO Executive Council, at its winter meeting in Florida, criticized the Kennedy administration for being overly timid in fighting unemployment.

Another way of expressing the same idea is to say that the president and his advisers are trying to let management and labor solve their new problems in collective bargaining. If they don't, then demands will grow for the government to step in and try to do something about it.

Some Fertilizer Still For Sale

Jaycees still have some fertilizer for sale, a spokesman said today, and advised that homeowners may call the Jaycee Information office to order their supply.

"We'll deliver it right to their carport or garage, all ready to go to work on spring gardening," said Bud Stewart. The fertilizer is a well-known 6-6-6 with 25 percent organic proportions.

Letters

To The Editor

To The Editor, "Why do we need franchise regulations?" Some of the citizens of our County are asking this question.

The following statement is submitted to answer this question:

A franchise regulation is needed in Seminole County to protect both the public and the utility company.

The public is protected from overcharge, assured of good, potable water, adequate and safe treatment of sewage and assurance that the operations of the utility company will continue.

The utility company is protected by knowing that its investment will not be lost from undue competition, as long as its operation is in accordance with good practices and that it will be given an opportunity to make a reasonable profit.

The lack of a franchise regulation could result in excessive rates, inadequate and intermittent service and high deposits and connection charges.

The State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission has control over only those plants serving 400 or more customers, and is presently overloaded to the point that hearings and adjustments are much delayed.

Prior to the tremendous population growth in Seminole County during the past few years, individual water supply and septic tanks presented no appreciable health hazard, but density of population is changing the situation to such an extent that individual water supply and septic tanks in certain areas are no longer adequate; in fact, they are creating a serious health hazard.

The need for central water and sewer plants has increased to the extent that much future development will be stopped unless these plants become available. Only by the granting of franchises can companies be induced to build these needed facilities.

Business Briefs

Sid and Fran Morrison, owners of the Mary Carter Paint Store at 209 W. First St. recently attended a meeting of the Central Florida franchise dealers at the Cnetry Plaza Hotel in Orlando.

They heard Mary Carter Co. President Jack Davis and head chemist, Tom Marek, from the Tampa factory review the successful business record of 1961 and look a look to the future for 1962.

Many new plans are being made for the unprecedented growth of the company with close to 1,000 stores from coast to coast, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Chief Chemist Tom Marek reports that the lab slogan "The incessant search for better products," still prevails in the factories at Matawan, N. J., Conroe, Texas, and Chino, Calif., as new products, colors and other components are being developed for every kind of paint job the many Mary Carter customers may use.

Davis presented detailed information about the company's new proposals for new products, new promotions, new merchandising, new sundries new advertising and new training aids.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison thought the meeting quite helpful and informative and will be even better equipped to serve their old and new customers in 1962 under the now famous, "Buy one gallon, get one free," policy.

POWERFULLY IMPORTANT!

Are we letting it fade away?

Today, the Spirit of '76, which won our Independence and freedom, still lives. Yet, unless we keep America powerful—strong enough to defend against all threats—our independence and cherished freedom could fade away!

Complacency is as great a threat as communism... and much more subtle. To take freedom for granted is to risk losing it. Only so long as we zealously guard freedom of the individual and of enterprise will America continue to be the most powerful, progressive, and prosperous nation on earth.

Keeping America the world's most powerful electric nation is the constant goal of all investor-owned, tax-paying power companies. As a member of that family, we are working with other Florida power companies to improve, expand, and strengthen Florida's interconnecting network of transmission lines. More and more power—dependable, low-cost power—will meet the challenge of Florida's continuing population and industrial growth.

By 1966, projects now under construction will add 1,875,000 kilowatts—nearly doubling FP&L's present system capability in a sustained drive to help make Florida... and America... more powerful!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The worst thing that can happen to a guy is to be born two years before his sister. I am 16 and my sister is 14 and my parents won't let me get a date for anything until my sister has a date. If she doesn't get one, I have to take her. They say, "Just take her there and she will make her own good time." It never happens that way. I have to dance every dance with her and it's no fun for me. What should I do? I can't say I don't feel good again as I have used up that excuse already.

STUCK WITH MY SISTER
DEAR STUCK: Your parents may mean well but they are being very unfair to you. This sounds like a mother's idea. Appeal to your father.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter (24) wants to marry a divorced man (29). He is Protestant and so are we. No children are involved. I have met him and believe, if given half a chance, he would make a good husband for our daughter. The big problem is my wife... doesn't want to know him. All she knows is that he is a divorced man and that makes him no good. I am interested only in why he and his first wife were divorced, whether he would treat our daughter with respect and support her, and for my part that is good enough. These young people love each other. I have investigated him at his place of work and they speak very well of him. He looks like a gentleman and acts like one. How can I convince my wife to give him a chance? She thinks it's a case of one man sticking up for another. DAD

DEAR DAD: Dear Old Supernom is both wrong and presumptuous in this case. A divorce doesn't blacken a man's character any more than bachelorhood purifies it. And a 24-year-old woman doesn't need Mom's approval for a "chance" at marriage.

DEAR ABBY: This is from a heart-broken 11-year-old girl. My mother is 37 and very pretty. My dad is 39 and a wonderful father. Lately my mother has been asking me to tell some lies to my father for her. Like where she is if he telephones and she is not at home. I think she is not being true to my father. I cry at night over this because I don't want our family broken up. Abby. What can I do to keep them together. Nobody listens to children.

HEART-BROKEN
DEAR HEART-BROKEN: Some people DO listen to children and perhaps your mother will if you tell her what's on your mind. Frequently "from the mouths of babes" can come some timely advice.

Still worrying about the same old problem? Write to Abby for a personal reply. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge

Today's hand was sent to me by Robert Willman of New York to illustrate a point in play. Namely, that too much finessing is like too much salt in the stew. It can ruin a well bid hand. Playing at six spades, South ruffs the opening heart lead. If he is finesse-happy, he enters dummy with a diamond and tries the spade finesse. It loses and later he has to guess the location of the queen of clubs to make his contract. To make his bid South simply lays down the ace of spades, enters dummy with a diamond, ruffs a heart, enters dummy with another diamond, about the queen of clubs. If West ruffs he will be end-played, if West doesn't ruff he will be thrown in with the king of spades and end-played just as surely. The hand also illustrates the use of the back-in bid. After East passes West's opening bid, South backs in with the strongest bid at his disposal, which is a cue bid in his opponent's suit. He also does not stand for North's double of four hearts, whereupon North puts him in six. Perhaps the bidding by North is overly aggressive, but the hand certainly belongs in a slam and proper play brings it home.

Bridge hand diagram showing North and South hands with cards and suits.

We The Women

"I think this is some kind of first," said Mary Martin, summing up the elopement of her daughter, Heller Halliday, and a young advertising man, Anthony Weil. What made this elopement different from others was not only that the couple had planned a big wedding and eloped to escape it—but also that both sets of parents

"eloped" with the young couple. This may be the first elopement complete with parents of bride and groom—but it sounds like such a smart move it likely won't be the last. Fathers of brides have so come to dread all the rush and confusion and expense of big weddings that many a father today tells his daughter only half-jokingly, "If you'll elope I'll give you kids the cost of the wedding for a nest egg."

The only real drawback to that plan has been the fact that mothers and fathers want to be at their children's weddings, and an elopement has, in the past, cut the parents right out of the wedding picture. But if elopement plans include both sets of parents—then an elopement ought to please everybody—but most especially the father of the bride. He could see his daughter married without all the months of confusion and

Giambra Bout Set Saturday

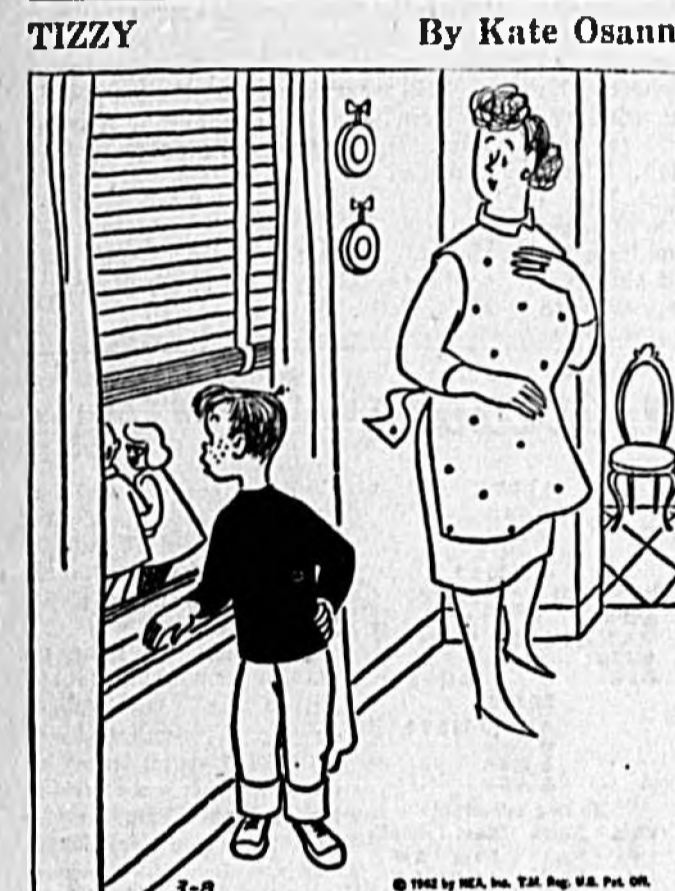

NEW YORK (UPI)—Middleweight Joey Giambra represents the fifth substitution in nine nationally televised fights this year when he meets Farid Sallim of Argentina at St. Nicholas Arena Saturday night. Former contender Giambra of Buffalo, N. Y., replaces ninth contender Yama Bahama of the West Indies, who withdrew Wednesday because of influenza. Bahama out-punited both Giambra and Sallim last year. Official Hints At Possibility Of Future College Being Located In Village Of North Orlando

By Ginny Skislaak
 Promising in the near future an announcement of such tremendous interest that it could result in North Orlando becoming the biggest taxpayer in Seminole County, John Schwartz only hinted at the nature of the announcement at Sunday's grand opening of Horizon Homes, the community's newest residential development.

His only reference to the opening statement came when, as he pointed toward Village Hall, he said, "can you imagine looking over there and seeing a college housing more than 600 students?"

(A Village official recently told the Herald that there is a possibility a branch of Orlando Junior College will locate there.)

Schwartz, acting president and vice president of the North Orlando Co. and official guest at the grand opening, also expressed the company's interest in the community and future plans the company owners have for the village.

He stated that dedication of the new recreation center could be expected on March 25 or on the following Sunday.

In a jovial manner and making light of the dismal weather, Schwartz continued, "planning with a head and my heart feeling lighter with the sun creeping through, the interest of the owners of the North Orlando Co., with a true and real sincerity, is the desire to build with the community, a real community."

"I wish there were someway," he continued,

"for people to find a cooperative spirit of keeping their lawns and trash up so that anyone visiting here from in or out of state would have the feeling that our people have real pride in their town, home and garden."

Schwartz reminded that "the community has lost the opportunity of gaining new residents because they ride in and see how lawns are kept and ride out and never return. The company's sincerity in words and in its investment of more than $100,000 cannot do this by itself. The community must help."

(The North Orlando Co., in an effort to further and aid such interest, is cooperating with the community in giving a minimum water bill for April which has been designated as Beautification Month by the North Orlando Garden Club.)

He stated that the company, with owners, plans soon to build six new homes in the Ranchette Sites, giving free architectural design to the owners and will continue to give free design to others who wish to locate in the area.

B. Robert Swartzburg, president of the company and a leading architect in the country, has built 50 hotels on Miami's Gold Coast and presently is building Horizon Apartments in Winter Park, he reported.

Asked if his opening statement had any reference to a swimming pool for the recreation center, Schwartz said "all of this is peanuts compared to what is coming."

Firemen Plan Fund Campaign

North Orlando Fire Chief Bob Stephenson has announced that the volunteers will plan a money raising campaign in order that the necessary repairs can be made to put the truck in running condition. Stephenson appeared at the February Village Council Meeting to request financial aid but was advised that the Village has no allotted fund for the fire department.

The chief said that there now are 14 active members who meet the second Wednesday of each month in the Village Hall but that the group will want at least 25 members when it can find its own hall.

"It is hard to ask men to join the department when there isn't anything now to offer them. When we get helmets, boots and coats, we'll ask for new members and when we get our own meeting place, a Ladies Auxiliary also will be formed," he advised.

He reported that all of the men are eager to have a fire hall and have offered their help in building one. "Plans are under discussion to raise money to get the project started," he said.

He also reported that the firemen will sponsor a soft ball league for boys but due to lack of funds to join an organized league will have to be limited to North Orlando activity. Play, for boys between the ages of 8 and 15 years, is scheduled to begin the first of next month.

Five Qualify For First North Orlando Election

By Ginny Skislaak
 Last Thursday's qualifying deadline for candidates seeking Council Seats Two and Four in North Orlando's first election set for March 30 closed with five men announcing for the posts.

Qualifying for seat Two are Robert S. Stephenson and Henry A. Ward Jr. and for Seat Four are Woodrow W. Anderson, F. Stewart Helmly and William H. Wolfe.

The following information, given to your reporter by each candidate, in addition to a brief personal record, contains the answer to one question: What is your feeling on the failure of North

Orlando residents thus far to register to vote in this election: (Registration books close on March 15)

Stephenson, a resident of the community for 18 months came to Florida from Dundee, Mich. A member of the North Orlando Volunteer Fire Dept., he is the elected Fire Chief and comes to the department with more than 15 years experience as a volunteer fireman in his former community.

In answer to the question, he said: "It's necessary to represent all of the people in a community. By not exercising their vote, they only hurt themselves. Someone is going to be elected. If enough people register in this community, the County Commission has offered to donate a voting machine for our use."

Ward, a resident for the past two and a half years, is employed by the Martin Co. of Orlando as a member of staff, Model Engineering. He attended Florida State University in Tallahassee where he majored in education. He is a member of the Central Florida Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, where he is a communications officer.

Anderson, in North Orlando for the past two years, is employed by the Columbia Ribbon and Carbon Manufacturing Co., Inc. in his new branch office in Orlando.

He attended Jacksonville University, Massey Business College in Jacksonville and Stetson University in Deland where he studied law.

He is a member of Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, of the National Machine Accountants Assn. and is the retiring president of the North Orlando Civic Assn.

In answer to the question, he said: "A city will thrive and grow despite it. It makes this easier if votes are cast. Whoever is elected will represent the people. A good representative will throw away his own way of thinking for his constituents. It's an American principle serving the majority."

Helmly, here since August 1950, is a retired Chief Warrant Officer and served in the Navy during World War I and World War II.

A realtor in Sanford, he is self-employed and is a member of the Sanford Kiwanis Club and of the Retired Officers Assn.

His comment to the question: "Anyone who fails to register to vote is negligent in his responsibility as a first class citizen. That is the only way to get representation in government. My philosophy is the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln... 'government of the people, by the people and for the people,' as expressed in his Gettysburg Address."

Wolfe has lived in the Village longer than any other resident having been here for the past three years.

A graduate of Boone High in Orlando, he is employed by the New York Life Insurance Co. in Orlando and is a member of the Central Florida Underwriters. He is a member of the B.P.O.E. Lodge and of the Orlando Jaycees. He was chairman of the Christmas Dance to raise money for the Big Brothers' Shopping Tour and was named "Jaycee of the Month" in December.

His statement in answer to the question: "Basically, if a person doesn't register and vote he has divorced himself from his community and the finest privilege that he has ever been given."

Singer Of Bavarian Music Now At Florida Power Club

OTTO ENGLEMAN

By Shirley Westworth
 A recent interview with Otto Engelman, new steward of the Florida Power Employees Club on Big Bear Lake revealed that he has quite an interesting and illustrious background in the entertainment field.

A native of Austria, Engelman traveled extensively presenting his troupe of Alpine Bavarian singers which featured authentic folk songs, dances and comedy skills.

He started on this career when, as a boy in Cleveland, Ohio, he won a scholarship enabling him to study singing in Vienna at the Conservatory of Music.

Following conclusion of his studies there he returned to this country and went on to study grand opera in New York. He left opera to tour with "The Student Prince" Road Company for five years and also sang for the NBC network where he was billed as the "Viennese Baritone."

He appeared, too, on a German program in Cleveland.

In 1933 and 1934, he presented his act, "The Student Prince Overture," at the Chicago World's Fair. For eight years he entertained in Canton, Ohio, at the Haulbrau, heading his own singing and dancing group.

In 1947, after extensive traveling, he came to Florida and was booked at the Heidelberg in Miami. From there he moved up into the Central Florida area where he entertained in and around Orlando.

With his wife, Helen, he established and operated the "Alpine Tavern" in Pinecastle for 11 years, providing the customers with their special brand of entertainment. Illness forced Engelman to close this business, however two years later he opened a similar one in Winter Park which he operated for three years before retiring.

He bills of his life as an entertainer with ready enthusiasm and will enthral the listener with tales of many and varied experiences in the "wonderful world of entertainment."

Those who visit the Employee's Club will find him ready to assist in any way possible and he will make the visit a memorable one by obligingly reminiscing over his very interesting lifetime.

'Come As You Are' Invitation Brings Fun To Class Meeting

By Jane Casselberry
 Invited to "come as you are," members of the Christian Homemakers Class of the Casselberry Methodist Church were treated to a comedy skit and guessing game following the last regular business and program meeting of the class in Weaver Hall.

Social hour hostesses, Mrs. Angel Mendes and Mrs. Frank Messick, gave the skit and humorous descriptive verses were read about various class members and their identity guessed by the group.

Although bare feet and curlers were much in evidence in response to the invitation, the class conducted its scheduled business meeting with customary dignity and accepted, with regret, the resignation of President Mrs. Robert Deppen who soon will move to Ohio. Appreciation was expressed for service to the group during her two terms in office.

Appointed in her place was Bill Shook, program chairman for the class, who read the opening devotionals. Prayer was given by Rev. Oscar C. Poole.

In other business, Saturday's corn boil and wieners roast to be held at the McClain Farm near Oviedo was planned and those wishing to ride to the party on the Sunday School bus were advised to be at the church by 7:30 p. m.

Refreshments of angel food cake topped with strawberries and whipped cream were served with iced tea to close the meeting.

Casselberry Scouts Initiate Dads To Rigors Of Camp Life

By Jane Casselberry
 Boy Scouts of Troop 341 of Casselberry initiated their Dads into the rigors of outdoor life as they braved cold winds and cloudy skies for the Father and Son Camping Trip to Camp Lanoche near Talleys last weekend.

Saturday afternoon the boys took their fathers on a tour of the camp and that night they enjoyed a campfire program of songs and stories and shared experiences of other such trips.

Scoutmaster Ted Daniel explained the Ash Ceremony in which ashes from the campfire are saved to add to the fire on the next trip in hopes that it will be an equally happy experience.

The campers slept in open Adirondack type shelters and the boys cooked Saturday supper and Sunday breakfast for their dads.

Rev. Darwin Shea, troop chaplain, conducted Protestant worship services on Sunday morning and Assistant Scoutmaster Wally Krohne took the Catholic Scouts to Umatilla for Mass.

To top off the weekend of fun, the group consumed 22 pounds of barbecued beef, a huge pot of beans also burned in the pit for the long,

Nominees Withdraw

 W. W. Anderson, incumbent president of the North Orlando Civic Assn. who was nominated at the last meeting for the office of second vice president in the next club year, has announced that he has decided to decline the nomination.

At the same time George Worth also declined the nomination for president. Henry Ward Jr., the other committee recommendation for the presidency, withdrew at the meeting.

EDITORIAL COMMENT Getting Ready

A big step in the "preparedness program" being advocated by Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of Seminole County's long range planning and development committee, was voluntarily taken by the Forest City Civic Assn. Monday night when it voted to petition for establishing Precinct 12 as a Fire District.

In addition, this civic minded group also voted not only to organize a volunteer fire department but to include a rescue service unit as well.

From all indications, when the population explosion fallout begins to hit this area of the county, Forest City will BE PREPARED.

Serviceman Chooses North Orlando Home

By Mona Grinstead
 A native German who made his first visit to the United States in 1924 as a school aged lad and later returned to give 20 years of his life to our Armed Forces has chosen to make North Orlando his permanent home.

Gus Miller, in the Village a little more than a year, now, lives on Lombardy Rd. with his small pet and constant companion, Beauty, a dog he brought from South America.

From 1937, when he returned to America, he served first with the Army, then the Marines, then back to the Army and finally for the past six years before his retirement last year, with the Air Force. Thirteen years of his time was spent in foreign countries.

Early in his second stint with the Army, he was shipped to Italy with the Texas Rangers, 36th Division, which met with its ill fate there in 1943. He transferred to the Ninth Division in North Africa and early in 1944, while in France, was captured by the Germans and taken to a prison camp in Berlin where he remained for 18 months and three days before the Russians captured the camp and he was turned over to American authorities.

In 1945 he went back to occupied Germany where he served through the Air Lift before returning once more to the U. S. He volunteered for duty in Alaska, spent 12 months there and six months with the British in East and West India, returning home in 1950. In 1951, he volunteered for the South Pacific and was sent to Tokyo, Japan and from there on to two school aged lads and later returned to give 20 years of his life to our Armed Forces has chosen to make North Orlando his permanent home.

When he returned in 1954, he joined the Air Force and saw duty in Okinawa, Formosa, Hong Kong, Siam and Tokyo before finally winding up at Orlando Air Force Base where he received his retirement discharge.

During the short periods of civilian life, Miller also traveled extensively and he tells of a trip by camel from Jerusalem to Arabia where the meals consisted solely of Vienna sausage and grasshoppers.

He tells, too, of being in Hitler's prison and of seeing and hearing the dictator many times.

In 1948, before going to Alaska, Miller lost an eye while working to help free 37 passengers pinned under an overturned bus when a cable broke and hit him. A cornea transplant was successfully performed from a man in prison for a 99 year term.

All of Miller's dress clothes were tailor made in Hong Kong and he has a set of gold plated dinnerware from Siam which occasionally he is asked to sell, however, he says "I won't part with it."

Presently he is studying Russian to add to his vocabulary of foreign languages and when these studies are completed, he plans a trip around the world.

Longwood Firemen To Give Annual Dinner On Saturday

Fred Esclavon and Garland Shaw will don their chef's caps and aprons Saturday afternoon to prepare platter after platter of Southern Fried Chicken for the annual dinner sponsored by the Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept. for the public.

To take place in the Park, serving of crispy, golden chicken along with mashed potatoes and gravy, peas and carrots, cole slaw, cupcakes, coffee and cold drinks is expected to begin at 4 p. m.

Maurice Rudolph, serving as ticket chairman for this year's dinner, reports that preparations are being made in expectation of the biggest attendance ever recorded. Last year more than 800 persons were served.

All proceeds from the dinner will go towards the purchase of badly needed equipment for the fire truck and firemen. The department purchased its two-way radio system now in operation for city, police and fire departments from last year's profits of the dinner.

Craft Club To Celebrate

The second anniversary of Chuluota's Hobby Craft Club will be observed next Wednesday with a trip to Orange Lodge at Lake Apopka, which is managed by Wally Payne, formerly of the Lake Catherine Inn.

Special birthday cakes will be baked by Mrs. Minna Morrison and Mrs. Margaret Crews for the occasion.

WOW DEPARTMENT: It will cost from $12,000 to $15,000 to air condition portions of the courthouse. The County Commission today agreed to hire Jack Anderson of Orlando as consultant for the project. Cost to Anderson... $500.

The City Commission met in closed door session Thursday afternoon for 45 minutes. All the commissioners were present as well as city attorney Bill Hutchison. The press was not invited. When the doors were opened we questioned City Manager W. E. Knowles who said the commissioners got together "informally" to discuss the pros and cons of annexation with property owners of a proposed shopping center on Hwy. 17-92.

Well, at least the county has agreed to invite the press to all its informal discussions from now on.

I remember when we were criticizing the county for closed door sessions one city commissioner told me, "You won't have to worry about that around city hall. We have nothing to hide."

The 20 doctors in Sanford have pledged financial support to help pay for completing the new wing at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Look for the City Commission Monday night to back up the proposed legislative program for Florida municipalities including an increase in the cigarette tax to three cents a package.

One more item on the fire the other day... Sanford taxpayers pay $128,000 annually for their fire protection.

Seminole County was well represented at the SRD hearings Thursday, about 50 present... including State Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr., Gordon Frederick and Sen. Bernard Parrish... About 40 from the Chamber of Commerce's long range planning committee on roads as well as our governing body... All had little flags in their lapels and SRD District Member Max Brewer complimented the chamber group for planning to get surveys for needed roads... "Should have been done a long time ago," said Brewer.

One item we neglected to mention at the last County Commission meeting was Vernon Dunn's proposal that the board look for a deputy clerk instead of an administrative aide (like Orange and Volusia).

Hearing on 17 condemned buildings scheduled Monday night before the City fathers.

The Sheriff's office has served notice on the County Commission to answer within 20 days on the Dike Road damage suit, or it will come to court. Property owners asking $2,500 in damages.

County Commission will meet with the three-man Franchise Committee next Thursday informally to discuss new franchises. THE PRESS IS INVITED. Opposition already forming to the new proposal.

In closing minutes of the County Commission's special session this morning, J. C. Lavender, county road superintendent, was given the go ahead to get a CD truck for use as a County Home Fire truck.

Shame, shame, shame... from Seminole County's 32,000 possible voters of which little more than 17,000 are registered, only 10, including a Herald reporter turned out Thursday to hear legislative candidates and a county commission candidate speak at their first planned and announced public meeting since they qualified for office.

County Asks Full Report On Drainage

The County Commission met in special session this morning to amend certain regulations to the zoning ordinance and ended up in a full-time hassle over granting a building permit for Eastern Shopping Centers, Inc.

After motions were tabled back and forth for close to 30 minutes the commission agreed to have Zoning Director Robert Brown notify Eastern to withhold any construction of its new $300,000 building at the intersection of SR 436 and Hwy. 17-92 pending a full report to the County Commission by the County Engineer and sanitarian regarding drainage.

A temporary building permit had been issued by Brown but Commissioner James P. Avery declared that we "gain nothing until drainage problems in the area are solved."

Avery, who said he favored the shopping center calling it an important development for South Seminole, added that he feared strong legal battles over dumping water onto private property.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn, said he favored issuing the permit and "let nature take its course." J. C. Hutchison backed up Dunn favoring the issuance of the permit while Ted Williams supported Avery's statement.

Dunn proposed that the building permit be issued subject to approval on surface drainage but the motion died for lack of a second.

Avery came back asking that it not be granted until deeds for rights of way and proper drainage is received by the county.

"I'll walk out on that motion," Dunn said and did.

Dunn and Hutchison voted no while Avery said yes.

John Fitzpatrick was not present at the special meeting.

Other business at the meeting saw the commission amend the zoning regulation to forbid any residential construction in future commercial areas.

Heard Brown report that he is writing an amendment to the zoning regulation giving more control to the county on issuing beer and wine licenses.

Amend regulations to allow mobile homes in industrial areas to be used as watchman trailers.

Amend regulation for the temporary use of A-1 property for use as asphalt site plants for specific projects.

Rezone from agriculture to commercial an area by Hwy. 17-92 northeast of Longwood Plaza to pave the way for a farmers auction market.

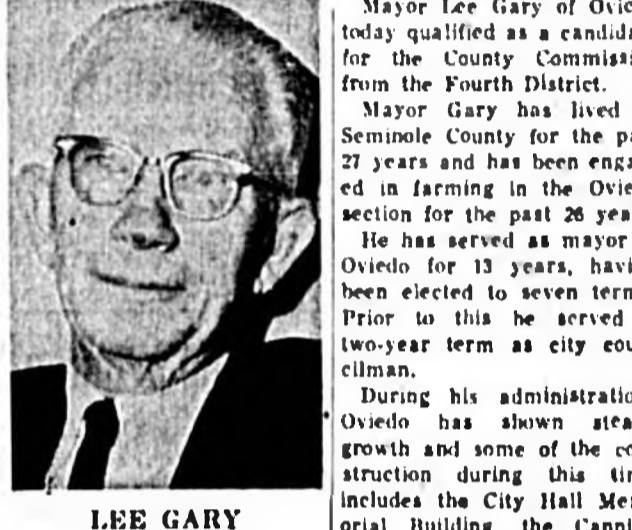

Tabled action on rezoning from R-1 to C-2 an area on Country Club Rd. and 3rd St. pending additional study.

Amend zoning regulation to create recreational and County estates districts.

Cleanup Begins On Gold Coast

A massive clean-up campaign begins today on Florida's glittering Gold Coast where the backlash of a fierce Atlantic storm sent scores of winter tourists scurrying for shelter.

The 20-foot waves, which pounded an 80-mile strip of swanky resorts from Miami Beach to Palm Beach, caused multi-million dollar damage to the crowded hotels where northerners gather every year to escape the discomforts of snow and ice.

One person drowned and many others were injured as the flood-tides crashed over seawalls and poured into lobbies and basements of motels and hotels. The famed sandy beaches of the area were strewn with debris and Collins Avenue—the great white way of Miami Beach—was closed during high tide.

Bliss Hopeful After DeLand Road Meeting

County Engineer Carlton Bliss was optimistic today that the state would construct portions of two of the top primary projects in Seminole County during the 1962-63 fiscal year.

Bliss said he felt that SR 436 from Hwy. 17-92 to Altamonte Springs and SR 40 from French to Mellonville would be started before the end of the 1962-63 fiscal year.

The engineer further reported that he felt that contracts would be let within six months on the top secondary project, SR 427 from Altamonte to Longwood.

Bliss made these remarks today after the County Commission presented its road requests to the State Road Department in DeLand late Thursday afternoon.

Max Brewer, State Road Board member told the Seminole delegation that he realized the need of SR 436 and "that something had to be done soon." However, regarding SR 40, Brewer felt that the entire four-laning project to the Volusia line would not be needed for at least another four or five years.

A $35-million matching fund program for interstate highway projects in the State SRD's 5th district is planned for the next fiscal budget, Brewer told this County as well as 11 other county delegations.

Lake Hayes To Install Lights

The board of directors of the Lake Hayes Assn. has decided to install the smaller type street lights in the unincorporated community south of Oviedo.

These lights will cost $15 per year per light and each resident will be asked to pay this amount annually, the board decided. At the suggestion of the power company the lights will be paid for in advance. The association will collect the payments from each family and open a bank account for the deposit of assessments and dues.

Each residential unit in the area will be asked to sign a contract with the power company. The association is studying the costs of membership cards which would be issued with the payment of the annual $2 dues.

Register!

The Jaycee registration trailer is parked in downtown Sanford at First and Magnolia, all day today to 9 p. m. for anyone who wants to register to vote in the May primaries. Lack Of Funds May Force Halt To Construction

The new $650,000 wing at Seminole Memorial Hospital may never be completed unless the hospital raises an additional $50,000, Robert Besserer, hospital administrator told the Jaycees Thursday.

"It certainly is a shame that for $50,000 we must fail to complete the new wing, but that is the problem we are faced with now," said Besserer.

"Costs have risen so much since construction was begun, that we find ourselves unable to complete the south end of the third floor, which contains the delivery and labor rooms, unless we can raise this amount of money through public donations," he added.

Besserer said that the actual cost would be higher but that the contractor was obligated to finish it for that amount.

"However, if we let it go now and finish it next year, it will cost closer to $100,000 to re-contract the work," he said.

"In fact," Besserer remarked, "it is amazing that you have been fortunate enough to have a million and a half dollar hospital without a cent of public donations having been solicited."

"By law, we are allowed to ask three mills of tax money for the hospital, but we are using only .06 of a mill," the administrator said.

Besserer outlined several improvements at the hospital which are already in use or will be included when the new wing is completed in July.

Number one is the emergency room which is now open 24 hours a day. When the new wing is opened there will be two emergency rooms, both staffed 24 hours a day with a registered nurse and an aide.

Another step forward will be the X-ray technician training school which will be started next year, beginning with one student and gradually increasing.

"This has the full endorsement of the AMA," Besserer said, "and will provide an ever-widening service to the people of Seminole County."

The administrator urged the Jaycee businessmen to investigate a good group insurance plan for their employees, commenting that few patients admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital have hospitalization insurance to help pay their bills.

In explaining the lack of the hospital's ability to have an intern or resident physician, Besserer said that only 7,000 medical students were graduated last year and there were openings in the country for more than 14,000. The same problem applies to resident physicians.

"One intern wouldn't do us any good anyhow," Besserer pointed out. "He couldn't work seven days a week, 24 hours a day. We would have to have at least four interns and our hospital is too small. They just wouldn't come here."

Terrorists Hit French Barracks

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—Terrorists exploded a plastic bomb inside the main army barracks in Algiers today in another act of defiance by extremists who want to keep Algeria French.

First reports said one soldier was killed and two others wounded.

The barracks explosion was followed less than an hour later by another plastic bomb attack in the downtown region of Algiers. The second bomb damaged a European apartment but caused no casualties.

The afternoon bombings in Algiers followed a similar bombing inside army corps headquarters at Oran Thursday night.

The Oran attack coincided with a visit by French Defense Minister Pierre Messmer, who currently is on a top secret tour of army command posts in Algeria with instructions on how to handle the situation when an expected French-Algerian rebel cease-fire is announced.

West Warned On Peace Pact

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union warned the West anew today that it will not postpone indefinitely the signing of a German peace treaty.

The warning, published in the official Communist party newspaper Pravda, reaffirmed Soviet support for East German sovereignty and rejected Western claims of access rights to West Berlin.

While the Soviet Union has taken this position before, the statement in Pravda was the latest of several signs in recent weeks that the Kremlin is rushing toward a showdown on the Berlin and German issues.

Lormann, Davis Open Campaigns In Joint Appearance

Editors Note: The following reports were taken from the first planned and announced public appearance of the Seminole County political candidates have made since qualifying for office. Ten persons, including the reporter, were present to hear what they said. Even with cold weather, illness and many other demands of the day, surely more than this mere handful of some 17,000 registered voters out of the estimated 32,000 eligible to vote, are interested in who and what will make up their local representation in government.

An admitted need for some form of medical aid for the aged was recognized by both Al Lormann and Joe Davis, candidates for the State Legislature in group 2, Thursday.

Both also readily agreed that Seminole County is sadly lacking in its health program with Lormann pointing out the urgent and growing need for a full time health director.

Speaking to members of the South Seminole Democratic Women's Club which met in Howell Park, Lormann frankly stated that he definitely would be against a federal program but would favor some form of locally controlled aid plan.

Strongly for giving the county more home rule, Lormann said that he felt a national aid bill would be another step toward control by Federal Government.

Davis, who pointed out that the State Legislature actually has very little authority in a national undertaking such as the medical aid bill, said that he too favored local control and states rights to an extent. However, he said that of necessity, aid must come from the Federal Government unless an adequate plan can be provided through the free enterprise system.

This did not mean, he clarified, that he was in agreement with the proposed national medical aid bill in its present form.

In answer to a question on whether or not special action is needed for control on interest rates charged by private loan companies, both men said they were inadequately prepared without further study to make any commitment at the present time.

Lormann advised that he would fight any move to repeal the Homestead Act which he said he felt should be re-

Varnes Views

W. Pitt Varnes of Fern Park, who qualified Thursday for the District 4 County Commission post, also spoke for the South Seminole Democratic Women at Thursday's business and program meeting.

Beginning by stating that his views could be termed liberal to a certain extent, he went on to caution that

"I'm open minded but I by no means have what you would call a 'blue sky philosophy.'"

He added, "I know from experience the value of a dollar and promise to try to handle the taxpayers money as carefully as I would my own."

Against the county's hiring an administrative aide, he pointed out that he was opposed to the action because he felt that perhaps it would be easier to influence one man than it would be to influence five.

Among the many problems faced by the county, schools
