Seminole Declared Farm Disaster Area

Growers To Get Low-Interest Loans

Qualified farmers and growers in Seminole County are eligible for low-interest federal loans from the Small Business Administration because of losses suffered in the Christmas weekend freeze.

The SBA declared Seminole County and 17 other counties as farm disaster areas Tuesday, including nine which were designated disaster areas Feb. 14 by the Farmers Home Administration.

While Seminole County has become eligible for low-interest loans from SBA it has not been designated a disaster area by the FmHA, according to Glenn Walden, acting state director of the organization.

Walden said that determination was scheduled to be made this week by FmHA's Washington D.C. office but as of this morning, none of the 51 counties including Seminole under consideration have been declared freeze-struck by the FmHA.

Seminole County is being considered for the low-interest loan status because at least 30 percent of the county's agricultural crop was damaged by the freeze. The loans can cover the cost of up to 80 percent of the loss.

To be eligible for the loans a farmer must have lost substantial crops to the freeze and at the same time not qualify for loans from any other sources.

Counties declared disaster areas by the SBA and which have also been designated by the FmHA are Brevard, Citrus, Hernando, Hillsborough, Lake, Osceola, Pasco, Pinellas and Polk.

Added to the list by the SBA were Seminole, Volusia, Flagler, Manatee, Marion, Orange, Putnam, St. Johns, and Sumter counties.

Bobby McKown, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual said the SBA will offer loans of up to $500,000 at 8 percent interest to qualified farmers unable to get credit elsewhere. Those able to get loans elsewhere still can get SBA loans, but at 11 percent interest.

"The (loan) decision is much more important now than ever before for hundreds of Florida citrus growers who are in critical financial condition due to freezes that have hit the industry three of the last four seasons," McKown said.

"In all probability, many growers are facing the plight of bankruptcy unless they can avail themselves of low interest loans for the next two or three years," he said. "Farm Home Administration and Small Business Administration loans give them a number of options to additional short and long-term

Firms Near Bankruptcy May Cancel Union Pacts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that companies on the verge of bankruptcy can cancel union contracts, a move denounced by labor unions recently when it occurred in the beleaguered airline industry.

The justices said firms may cancel union contracts as long as a U.S. bankruptcy judge agrees. They rejected claims from the National

Labor Relations Board that negotiations should be required before allowing firms to act alone.

The justices used the near failure of a New Jersey building supply firm to outline the rule that bankruptcy laws supercede negotiated contracts if a judge rules the solvency of the firm is at stake.

Writing for the court, Justice William Rehnquist said Congress knew how to exempt collective bargaining agreements from bankruptcy proceeding and could have done so if it wished.

"Its failure to do so in this instance indicates that Congress intended that the (bankruptcy laws) apply to all collective bargaining agreements" covered by the National Labor Relations Act, Rehnquist said.

The court left open the possibility that labor groups could have some say in bankruptcy proceedings, ruling that "a somewhat stricter standard should govern the decision of the Bankruptcy Court to allow rejection of a collective-bargaining agreement."

While five members of the court also ruled a debtor cannot be found guilty of an unfair labor practice for abrogating a labor contract, four justices said they would rule the National Labor Relations Act should allow for a finding that an unfair labor practice occurred if the firm makes changes in its contract after filing for bankruptcy.

The court acted today on a case involving the New Jersey firm, Bildisco & Bildisco, which filed for bankruptcy in April 1980.

The company had asked a federal bankruptcy judge to allow it to reorganize to improve its financial condition.

Evans Scores Twin Firsts:

First Black, First Woman In Top-Level School Post

Dr. Hortense Evans of Geneva has become the first black and the first woman named to a top administrative post at the county's school administration office in Sanford.

Dr. Evans, 45, was appointed administrative assistant to schools Superintendent Robert Hughes at an annual salary of $37,873.

"My job covers the waterfront of duties," she said. And she insists she was appointed to her new position because of her competence and ability and not because she is either black or a woman.

Her job responsibilities, as listed in her official job description, are to assist the superintendent in managing the duties of his office, coordinating local policy review and serving as the superintendent's representative on matters affecting legislation, regulations and grants before federal, state and local legislative and executive committees.

Dr. Evans received her early education in the segregated public school system of Seminole County in the 1950's and much of her higher education in black colleges.

She gives much of the credit for her success to her perseverance and the support she received from her "extended family" — a network of not only parents, brothers and sisters, but also her grandmother, aunts, uncles and cousins.

"I would have been a disappointment to my family if I had quit or failed," she says.

And she perceives herself and her success as a "role model for minorities — blacks and women."

"I hope this says something to blacks — the underprivileged can break out of the cycle. They are somebody," Dr. Evans said.

"We have got to have something to reach for. We must keep trying. We must establish goals and work toward reaching those goals. I don't permit people to tell me who I am and what I can do," she said.

The most difficult part in her education was her work toward her doctorate at Atlanta University, then a black institution in Georgia.

One of 10 persons chosen from more than 200 applicants nationally for the Rockefeller fellowship through a series of written and oral examinations, she obtained her doctorate in 1978.

A native of Seminole County, born in Geneva, Dr. Evans, in the first through eighth grades, attended with about 25 other students a one-room all black school in Geneva, graduating from the eighth grade with a class of about 6, she said.

She remembers being about four years old when she began school by "tagging along to classes with an older brother and sister" and was accepted by the teacher despite her tender years. The one room school in retrospect seems to have been an advantage because of the older students and her siblings.

"We didn't know we were poor or underprivileged," she said.

She said much was expected of the children in her family. "We were expected to do well," Dr. Evans said.

She was later bused to Sanford to the segregated Crooms High School from which she graduated in 1954. From there she went to Clark College (a black school) in Atlanta, receiving her bachelor's degree in elementary education.

Dr. Evans taught in totally segregated schools in Manatee County for two years before returning to Seminole County and teaching at Jackson Heights elementary, still a segregated school at that time, for the next eight or nine years.

With desegregation under federal court order in 1970, Dr. Evans moved from Jackson Heights to teach at Bear Lake Elementary and Pine Crest.

She also attended then all-black Florida A & M University, taking courses leading toward her specialization in reading.

From Florida A & M University, she went to the University of Connecticut and received her master's as a reading specialist. She also attended Rollins College to become an education specialist in administration.

In the Seminole County school system, she was acting director of special projects and coordinator of compensatory education and migrant education from July, 1978 to January, 1979 before accepting the job of education program specialist with the U.S. Division of Education for the Disadvantaged in Washington.

She returned to Seminole County as an administrative trainee from August, 1981 to June, 1983 and served as project director of school-based management from July, 1983 until her promotion earlier this month. —Donna Estes

Merit Pay Teachers Group Unhappy With Graham Bonus Plan

By Donna Estes Herald Staff Writer

Neither the Seminole County School Board nor the Seminole Education Association — which acts as a teachers' union — are happy today with the plan adopted by Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet for merit pay raises for certain teachers in the state.

The plan adopted Tuesday calls for some teachers to receive bonuses of up to $3,000 a year. The first merit paychecks are scheduled to be delivered in October.

School Board Chairman Bill Kroil says the money would be better spent for pay raises for teachers with the system for five years or more who intend to stay in teaching.

SEA Executive Director Ron Boeth says money is needed first to boost the base salaries of teachers to attract and Kroil said he is "totally opposed to the proposal and sees no need for it." His colleagues on the board at a recent meeting indicated they are unanimously opposed.

"Every teacher in the Seminole County system is a good teacher or shouldn't be here," Kroil said. "Principals already have tools for eliminating bad teachers."

Under the merit pay plan approved, qualified teachers would be eligible for bonuses of up to $3,000 a year as "associate master" teachers. Graham's new budget proposal includes $17 million for bonuses for about 5,000 teachers.

To qualify for the bonuses educators would have to meet specific education and experience requirements, and score above average in performance evaluations and on a National Teachers Examination. Teachers will be reviewed in the classroom by their principal, another teacher and a specialist in their subject area. Union officials said the performance evaluations couldn't be completed as required in September.

Kroil suggested before the state implements the merit pay plan that it be tried on a pilot basis for a year or two or three to get the bugs out of it.

"Frankly I think this is a big show on the governor's part. I would like to see a plan of how it would be administered. I don't think it would ever work," he said.

Kroil insists that state money should be used to "give a pay raise to the teachers here now who are going to stay here."

Kroil said he has been told that the state in a similar rush in the 1960's tried a merit pay plan and it fell by the wayside after two or three years.

Boeth said merit pay is being addressed in the wrong sequence.

"We have advocated establishing a base salary in the state high enough to attract and retain good teachers," Boeth said.

"During Graham's term, the Legislature and the Cabinet have committed to raising teacher salaries to the upper quartile of the nation. And during the same governor's term, we have gone backwards from 28th in the nation in salary to 37th. So actually we are moving away from the goal," Boeth said.

"We are very pleased the governor in his budget proposal has finally made a recommendation for substantial increases in the base salary for teachers in excess of $2,800 per teacher. We feel if the Legislature passes the $2,800 we can sit down and take a good hard look at merit," Boeth said.

Man Arrested After Chase

A Sanford man armed with a handgun was taken into custody this morning by Sanford police after a foot chase in west Sanford around 6th Street and the area of Cedar Avenue.

According to Assistant Police Chief Herb Shea, Det. Ray Bronson chased a suspect at about 9:30 a.m. after seeing the suspect sell what is believed to be marijuana to an unidentified man. Bronson was joined in the chase through yards and across lawns by approximately 10 officers and detectives. After a search lasting approximately 20 minutes, the police entered a bamboo thicket in the area to arrest the suspect.

Police then searched the path the suspect took looking for discarded contraband.

The suspect did not brandish the gun and no shots were fired, Shea said.

The police arrested Leroy Whelstone, 20, of #80 Higgings Terrace, and charged him with two felonies — carrying a concealed firearm, and possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana.

Lt. Russel was in charge of the arrest. Because the arrest occurred in late morning, the police were still compiling facts surrounding the case at press time.

More U.S. Marines Pack-Up

Gemayel To Scrap Troop Pull-Out Pact With Israel

By Phillip Williams BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — President Amin Gemayel has decided in principle to scrap Lebanon's troop withdrawal agreement with Israel, news reports said today, as more U.S. Marines packed their gear for the second day of withdrawal from Beirut.

The influential Beirut newspaper An Nahar said Gemayel already has conveyed his decision to Parliament Speaker Kamel Assad and pro-Syrian former President Suleiman Franjleh.

But the newspaper said a formal announcement by Gemayel depended on "replies to certain questions which he has put to Syria." Syria, which is backing Druze and Muslim rebels fighting the government of Gemayel, is the main opponent of the U.S.-mediated May 17 troop withdrawal accord.

Cancellation of the Lebanese-Israeli pact is reportedly one part of a four-point Syrian proposal to end the Lebanese civil war, Israel, which occupies south Lebanon, has said it opposed cancellation of the pact.

Meanwhile, more U.S. Marine peace-keepers packed their gear for the second day of a pullback from the Lebanese capital, which shuddered from the sounds of mountain artillery battles between Druze rebels and Lebanese army troops defending Gemayel's palace.

From the capital, exploding shells could be seen flashing late Tuesday in the Shouf mountains at Souk al Gharb, the key southern approach to Gemayel's palace and the Lebanese Defense Ministry in an east Beirut suburb.

The Marine compound, where the 1,300 U.S. peace-keeping contingent spent 17 months, much of it planned down under sniper fire, lies opposite and to the west of the ridge overlooking the capital.

Helicopters airlifted the first wave of Marines Tuesday in what spokesmen described as a week-long operation to redeploy the U.S. forces to ships offshore. But after losing 264 dead in 17 months in Beirut, they were silent about the proposed schedule and would not say how many men were taken out.

As the first batch of Marines left Beirut Tuesday, Israeli warplanes struck 5 miles east of Souk al Gharb, pounding "terrorist command posts and bases" near Bhamdoun on the main highway to Damascus, the Israeli military command said.

There were no reports of casualties in the air strikes — the second wave in 48 hours.

Also Tuesday, defense sources said U.S. Navy F-14 fighters on reconnaissance flights over Syrian-controlled territory in Lebanon have come under near-daily fire from the ground.

None of the carrier-based planes has been hit, they said.

Pentagon officials said they had no information about F-14 Tomcats encountering hostile fire over Lebanon.

Gemayel's opponents had no immediate comment on the An Nahar report.

Quoting political sources, the newspaper said Gemayel insisted the announcement of abrogation of the pact be preceded by the formation of a national coalition cabinet or the resumption of factional peace talks in Geneva.

The sources reportedly said Gemayel wanted the cancellation announcement to come from such a cabinet or the leaders of the nation's warring factions.

Gemayel's "conditions" were conveyed to Damascus, where Syrian officials and Saudi Arabian mediators met at length today, the sources said.

Saudi mediator Prince Bandar Bin

Sultan was quoted as saying the "meeting was good and we are optimistic." He did not elaborate.

Political sources also say the Syrian peace proposal included a demand that the withdrawal of Israeli and Syrian troops that occupy most of the country not be linked. It also is said to propose a restructuring of power inside the country with formation of a national unity government.

The Israeli air raids Tuesday came just after the U.S. Marine contingent in Beirut officially began to redeploy from the airport to the 20 waiting vessels off the coast. Individual Marines said they were leaving with mixed feelings.

"We don't like to leave anywhere knowing we didn't accomplish everything we started out to do," said Lt. George Miller, 24, from Nashville, Tenn.

IN BRIEF

Reagan Holds First News Conference Of '84

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, facing tough questions on his Middle East policy tonight at his first news conference of the year, "has no reason to apologize for having made an effort at giving peace a chance" in Lebanon, a senior official says.

The official said that barring some unforeseen event, Reagan will have nothing new to announce on Lebanon at tonight's news conference — the first since he ordered the Marines in Beirut to pull back to ships offshore.

Reagan told about two dozen Republican leaders Tuesday the situation in Lebanon had deteriorated so badly that the Marine withdrawal now under way was his only option short of a "massive military intervention," said the official, speaking on the condition that he not be identified.

Reagan will be questioned by reporters today at 8 p.m. EST for the 22nd time in his more than three years in office and for the first time in two months.

Televise Execution?

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — The Texas attorney general says the state Department of Corrections has the authority to grant killer James David Autry's request that his scheduled execution by injection be televised, a spokeswoman said.

Autry's second scheduled execution for the 1980 slaying of a convenience store clerk was set for March 14 recently by a Beaumont district court judge, and Autry said he wanted the proceedings televised.

"It's not all that real to the public if they don't see an execution," Autry said last week. "If they are serious about using the death penalty as a deterrent they should let the people see it."

Spokeswoman Elna Christopher said Tuesday that Attorney General Jim Mattox read of Autry's request and informed the Board of Corrections it had the authority to allow television broadcast coverage and to issue strict guidelines on such coverage.

Mother Describes Murder

CAMDEN, N.J. (UPI) — A woman tearfully pleaded guilty to murdering her four children, telling a judge she dropped them one by one into an icy river to keep them from her estranged husband's custody.

After Jeanne Anne Wright, 28, entered her pleas Tuesday, Superior Court Judge Rudolph Rossettli set a sentencing date of April 19.

"On the night of Nov. 11, 1983 she took a walk to Cooper River with her children, sat for a couple of hours and then one by one placed each of them into the river," Assistant Prosecutor Dennis Wixted said Mrs. Wright told the court. Mrs. Wright said she "laid them" into the river one by one, starting with Jonathan, 2, and following with Emilio, 5, Janah, 7, and Juan Jose Roldan, 11 months.

Steel Production Up

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Domestic steel production increased 3.3 percent last week, the American Iron and Steel Institute said Tuesday.

U.S. steelmakers produced 1,961,000 net tons of raw steel in the week ended Feb. 18, up from 1,898,000 tons the week before, the Washington-based industry lobbying group said in a weekly report.

The nation's steel mills ran at an average 75.9 percent of capacity last week, compared with 73.4 percent.

Orlandoan Nabbed In Drug Sale Offer

An Orlando man who allegedly offered to sell three pounds of high grade marijuana to an undercover Altamonte Springs police officer posted a $5,000 bond and was released from the Seminole County jail.

The officer reported that he received a tip that the suspect had pot for sale. He contacted the suspect and arranged to meet him in the parking lot of Wekiva Square, Altamonte Springs, just before midnight Tuesday.

When the suspect arrived for the meeting he allegedly approached the undercover agent's vehicle and offered to sell the three pounds of pot for $3,900. The officer asked to see the drug and the suspect allegedly took him to his car, showed him the product and gave him a sample to "check."

The agent walked away from the suspect and Altamonte Springs surveillance officers arrived and arrested the alleged drug dealer.

George Lewis Brewer, 34, was charged with delivery of marijuana at just after midnight today.

Convicts Kill Man; Kidnap His Wife

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Two escaped convicts killed a man in a backyard shootout in west Tennessee and abducted his wife across the state to Knoxville, authorities said today.

Paul Windrow Sr., carrying a .45-caliber pistol in his belt for fear of the fugitives known to be hiding in the area, was slain Tuesday while grilling steaks outside his home near Brownsville.

Ronald Freeman, 41, and James Clegg, 30, forced Windrow's wife into her car and drove 400 miles to a rest stop outside Knoxville, where friends picked them up.

They left Mrs. Windrow on the floorboard of her car with orders to count to 500 before leaving, police said.

"Mrs. Windrow was unharmed," prison spokesman Dick Baumbach said.

Freeman, serving 198 years for two murders, and Clegg, in for life as a habitual criminal, were among five convicts who escaped Fort Pillow prison Saturday with handguns apparently left for them in a work field.

A Knoxville police spokesman said Mrs. Windrow told them her husband was carrying a pistol because of concern about the escaped convicts, subjects of an intensive manhunt around Brownsville since Sunday.

"They were grilling steaks at home and these guys walked up and they had a shootout," the spokesman said. "She said she didn't see the shooting. She was inside the house."

Mrs. Windrow told police, "The men made numerous calls to Knoxville as they were coming over. She said the men told her they didn't know why her husband shot at them when he knew they were both armed."

At the rest stop on Interstate 40, Mrs. Windrow said, the fugitives "made her get down to the floorboard and count to 500 and while she did, they changed cars. She drove back to Knoxville in her car and called police."

When they escaped the five convicts took two families hostage briefly and then split up. They fired at correctional officers and police twice, but the killing of Windrow was the first time they had harmed anyone during the escape.

One of the fugitives was captured Sunday hitchhiking on a West Tennessee Highway. Another was believed to have fled the area in a stolen car several days ago and one was talked into surrendering Tuesday by a Bible-quoting, 73-year-old grandmother.

Administrator George W. Collins, 43, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Bruce Becker, 46, former dean of boys, were scheduled to be arraigned in Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today on child abuse charges for allegedly ignoring evidence a male student had been raped.

The students were sent home for 3 1/2 weeks while state education officials review the situation at Nebraska's only state-run residential school for children with severe hearing problems.

Collins and Becker were arrested Tuesday following a police investigation. It uncovered allegations of sexual abuse of students by staff members, sexual misconduct among students, misappropriation of funds, and drug-related problems.

The felony charges they face carry a maximum penalty of five years in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Becker, who has spent 30 years at the north Omaha campus, is a former student and longtime dean of boys who switched to a job as a house parent in January. Collins has been the school's administrator for nine years.

A warrant issued as a result of the investigation alleges that on May 12, 1983, a 15-year-old boy at the residential state school was sexually assaulted by another student. The boy required hospital treatment.

A house parent reported the assault to Becker and Collins. An Omaha police officer said in an affidavit Becker and Collins did not report the incident to police, and did nothing to prevent a second assault, which did occur.

Collins was released after posting $5,000 bond. Becker was held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Jury: Funeral Home Showed Disrespect To Deceased's Family

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — A circuit jury has ruled a funeral home showed a pattern of unconcern and no respect to a family who received a broken casket and was asked if their station wagon could be used to pick up a relative's body.

The six-member jury ordered Eternal Light funeral home and cemetery to pay $240,000 damages to St. Petersburg Fire Chief Jerry Knight and his family.

"We thought it was an outrageous thing, to have a man fall out of a casket," said juror Ronald J. Encardo.

An attorney for Eternal Light on Monday said the verdict will be appealed.

Knight sued the company after the funeral for his 73-year-old father Elias Knight in October 1980.

Witnesses during the five-day trial testified that the funeral home management misled Knight before his death into believing he had paid all of his funeral and burial expenses, and during a visitation at the funeral home an employee tried to sell a grave site to a mourner.

But the major complaints involved events that occurred the day of the funeral.

Witnesses testified when the hearse was late arriving for the service, the general manager asked if he could use the Knights' family station wagon to pick up the body.

When the hearse finally arrived, the casket began to break apart exposing the top half of Knight's body, knocking a piece of heavy iron onto his face, they said.

They also testified that during graveside services, family members had to watch insects crawl across the man's face.

Shelton Phillips, attorney for the funeral home, argued the case was unfair and exaggerated, said the company never tried to deceive Knight about his funeral expenses, and did its best for his survivors after he died.

Phillips said there were problems and mix-ups, but said they could not have been prevented.

He said the suit was filed by the younger Knight because of a grudge stemming back years ago to a sales tactic the company had used, and to make money.

Joan Loblanc Walker, attorney for the family, denied the suit had anything to do with greed or hatred, and introduced a sworn statement from a former employee who said she saw the company's general manager using duct tape to hold the casket together.

Grandmother Gets Convict To Surrender

BRADEN, Tenn. (UPI) — An escaped murderer packing a shotgun proved no match for a Bible-quoting 73-year-old grandmother who disarmed him with a dose of old-time religion and then insisted he finish his bacon and eggs before returning to prison.

Louise Degrafnried didn't flinch when she saw Riley Arzeneaux, 26, marching her husband into their rural home at gunpoint Tuesday.

"Put your gun down. I'm a Christian woman and I don't want no violence," she told him.

Arzeneaux, one of five "armed and extremely dangerous" convicts who broke out of Fort Pillow State Prison Saturday, meekly obeyed, placing his shotgun on a sofa.

"All I knowed to talk to him about was Jesus, and I did," said Mrs. Degrafnried. "When he came in I went to giving him Bible. I told him I love him and Jesus loves him."

Authorities today continued to search the rural area about 20 miles northeast of Memphis for two other fugitives. Another prisoner was captured Sunday while hitchhiking and the fifth is believed to have fled in a stolen Cadillac.

Authorities said Arzeneaux, sopping wet from running through creeks, curled up to sleep under an old rug outside Mrs. Degrafnried's house Monday night and leveled a shotgun at her husband, Nathan Degrafnried, 71, when he stepped outside Tuesday morning.

"Call the police," Mrs. Degrafnried told a neighbor. Then she talked Arzeneaux into putting down his gun.

While Mrs. Degrafnried prepared scrambled eggs, bacon, bread and a quart of powdered milk for Arzeneaux, who had not eaten in three days, her husband went outside and disabled his pickup truck to prevent any escape.

After breakfast, the convict walked out of the house unarmed and surrendered. He was returned to Fort Pillow, where he was serving a 25-year term for murder.

The escaped convicts still loose were identified as Ronald Freeman, 41, serving 198 years for two murders; James Clegg, 30, serving life as a habitual criminal; and Sylvester Alexander, 23, serving 40 years for armed robbery.

Not Guilty Of Assault

An Orlando man was found not guilty in Seminole court of aggravated assault of a woman at a liquor lounge.

Keith Lambert, 31, of Orlando, was found not guilty by a six-member jury Monday of assaulting Kristin Hefner, of Orlando, at the ABC Liquor Lounge at state road 436 and county road 15 on Sept. 8.

According to a deposition given by Ms. Hefner, Lambert was accused of holding a switch blade to her face when she refused to dance with him at the lounge. She said he had asked her to dance several times and became upset when she refused.

Supreme Court Inaction In Bias Case Blow To Civil Rights Forces

By Elizabeth Olson
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today ended a major civil rights challenge to the Reagan administration's controversial settlement of a race discrimination case against North Carolina universities.

The justices let stand a ruling throwing out charges that the Education Department failed to enforce laws barring racial discrimination by institutions receiving federal funds.

The court's refusal to hear the case is a defeat for civil rights forces. Civil rights lawyers argued that enforcement of the anti-discrimination law was the key to halting discrimination in institutions receiving federal money.

Last June, a Washington, D.C., appeals court panel upheld the government's settlement of the 13-year-old discrimination case against North Carolina universities.

Four judges bitterly dissented from the ruling, saying it "makes a mockery of Congress" and our nation's moral sense that racial and sexual equality must begin in the schools where our children are educated.

Civil rights groups filed suit opposing the settlement, arguing that the Education Department abrogated its responsibility to enforce civil rights law when it worked out the desegregation plan with North Carolina.

The suit said the settlement agreed to by North Carolina officials and Education Secretary Terrel Bell flouts the Education Department's responsibility to enforce Title 7 of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits racial bias in institutions receiving federal funds.

It charged the desegregation plan for the state's universities is inadequate and worse than previous desegregation proposals rejected by earlier administrations.

One of the plan's greatest defects, challengers argued, is that it allows the state to add programs at North Carolina's five largely black colleges, but does not require duplicate programs to be dropped from its 11 mostly white schools.

The settlement was denounced by civil rights groups and the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights.

Opponents filed suit in federal court in Washington, D.C., to overturn the settlement and force North Carolina to come up with a new desegregation plan. But a U.S. district judge said he could not interfere.

A majority of federal appeals court judges agreed, ruling they had no authority to dictate how the Education Department should comply with civil rights laws.

In dissent, Judge J. Skelly Wright said the ruling cuts off an important avenue for contesting the actions of federal agencies in their enforcement of laws against race and sex bias in federally funded institutions. Three other judges on the nine-judge panel also dissented.

Wright said the ruling could limit individual challenges to racial discrimination to specific instances of bias, and shield systemic problems from court scrutiny.

Appealing to the Supreme Court, Kenneth Adams and others challenging the settlement said the ruling restricts the right to sue in such cases solely to victims of discrimination.

Adams' lawyer, Joseph Rauh, argued that "it was precisely to prevent the necessity of individual litigation that the new federal law (the 1964 Civil Rights Act) proposed vesting direct responsibility in federal agencies to enforce the rule of non-discrimination."

Rauh said North Carolina's colleges and universities remain segregated, with only 7 percent black students and 3 percent black faculty in the white institutions.

Plus, black institutions continue to have programs and facilities inferior to those at black schools, he said.

The federal government opposed high court review, saying the agreement "has governed the administration of the North Carolina higher education system for several years ... (and) the orderly administration of justice weighs heavily against reopening of the dispute ... at this late date."

North Carolina was one of 10 states that the federal government found had segregated educational systems.

In 1973, federal courts ordered the government to ensure desegregation in the states. The states covered by those orders, in addition to North Carolina, are Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Florida, Arkansas, Pennsylvania, Georgia, Maryland and Virginia.

...States Can't Ban Tandems

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court Tuesday upheld a ruling overturning Connecticut's ban on tandems — double trailer trucks — from interstate highways.

The justices rebuffed the state's arguments that the trucks are a safety hazard for drivers.

In 1982, Congress passed a law barring states from restricting tandems on interstate highways.

The legislation wiped out laws barring the dual-trailer trucks in Connecticut, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and the District of Columbia.

It also voided state laws barring dual-trailer rigs over 55 feet long in New York and Georgia, over 60 feet long in Mississippi and over 65 feet long in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri, Louisiana, Kentucky, Maryland and Florida.

In April 1983, Connecticut passed a statute barring the twin trailers on highways in the state.

Within a month after the bill was signed, state police issued a summons to a truck driver operating a tandem on Interstate 95.

Federal officials said the statute conflicted with the federal law and went to court to block Connecticut from enforcing its ban on tandems.

Two federal courts ruled against Connecticut and the state appealed to the Supreme Court.

Connecticut Attorney General

Joseph Lieberman argued that the double trailers pulled by a single cab "have a tendency to roll over and sway and have ineffective braking mechanisms."

"These defects are especially threatening for Connecticut drivers because of the exceptionally high frequency of exits and the numerous lane terminations on Connecticut's highways, conditions which tandem trucks cannot accommodate safely."

He also said the threats to motorist safety "are significantly aggravated because Connecticut's highways are among the most congested roadways in the nation."

He said Congress did not consider the safety aspects of tandems or their ability to adapt to varying operating conditions.

The law "significantly interferes with Connecticut's ability to formulate and implement policy in the vital area of highway safety," he told the high court.

Connecticut's arguments were supported by the Council of State Governments, the National League of Cities and several other municipal groups, which argued that "regulation of highway safety, including the use of roads by trucks, is a longstanding function of state governments."

In opposition, the federal government argued that "interstate trucking over federal-aid highways is the lifeblood of the nation's commerce, and the substantial burdens imposed on commerce by nonuniform regulation of truck size" are unacceptable.

...Price-Fixing Suit Rejected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court Tuesday let stand a ruling that prevents thousands of cattle producers from suing the nation's 25 largest grocery store chains for conspiring to fix the wholesale price of beef.

The justices rejected a claim made by ranchers and feedlot owners that a lower court incorrectly ruled they had no right to sue Safeway Stores, Albertson's, A&P and 21 other major retail food stores.

The beef producers charge Safeway and A&P effectively control the price of beef cattle by setting weekly limits on the price they will pay to meat packers — intermediaries between the growers and the stores — for edible meats.

The cattlemen claimed the other retail outlets peg their price offering to packers on the price Safeway and A&P pay and the packers accept that price more than 70 percent of the time.

Beef producers filed 19 separate cases in 1975 against the retail grocery store chains, alleging they were engaged in a price-fixing conspiracy aimed at holding down the wholesale price of beef.

But while the antitrust cases were making their way through the courts, the Supreme Court ruled in another case that only those directly affected by an alleged price-fixing scheme has the right to sue.

A federal judge in Texas then ruled that the packers, not the producers, were the only group entitled to sue the stores because they, and not the producers, were directly affected.

On appeal, the meat producers argued packers were disinterested intermediaries who were not concerned with what price they got from the stores for edible meat because they made profits on the by-products from the slaughter, including pelts, bone meal and non-edible remains.

The producers argued they have a direct relationship with stores that sell their meat and are, therefore, entitled to file antitrust lawsuits.

The Texas federal judge rejected that argument and threw out the case.

...Genetic Defects Suit Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today refused to consider whether children who suffer genetic defects and whose fathers were exposed to radiation during military service can sue the government seeking compensation.

The case involves children of soldiers exposed to radiation during early atom bomb tests so scientists could study the effects of the radiation on human beings.

The justices refused to disturb lower court rulings dismissing two suits brought by children of former soldiers who were exposed to radiation during active military service.

The action bolsters a long-standing rule that present and former military personnel — and by implication their families — cannot sue the government for military decisions involving the health and safety of soldiers.

The law is clearly established prohibiting soldiers from suing the government for damages arising from active military service, but challenges have been made to extending that law to children who suffer from radiation-induced genetic defects because their fathers were exposed to radiation while in the service.

Howard Hinkle of Philadelphia, and his family sued the government after his wife had three miscarriages and two of their children suffer from birth defects traced to genetic problems.

During February 1955 Hinkle was ordered to Camp Desert Rock, Nev., where he was exposed to radiation from 17 or 18 nuclear test explosions. He was ordered to walk, unprotected, in and around the "Ground Zero" — the center of the blast.

One of his sons was born with severe mental retardation, had no joints in his thumbs and a constant twitch in his eyes. Another son was born without an esophagus and died at the age of 2.

A federal judge in Pennsylvania ruled the Hinkle family had a right to sue the government because Mrs. Hinkle and the two children were not soldiers and, consequently, were not subject to the rule barring suits against the government.

But the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals reluctantly reversed the lower court ruling.

"We are forced once again to decide a case where we sense the injustice of the result but where nevertheless we have no legal authority ... to decide the case differently," the appeals court wrote.

The government asked the justices to reject the appeals because giving families of soldiers and sailors the right to challenge military orders could affect military discipline.

...Medicare Bias On Docket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today agreed to decide if Tennessee discriminated against the handicapped by cutting the number of hospital days paid by its Medicaid program from 20 to 14.

The justices accepted Tennessee's appeal of a 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling that the regulation change, which had been scheduled to take effect in 1980, discriminated against the handicapped.

A group of handicapped Tennessee Medicaid recipients filed suit against the state, Gov. Lamar Alexander and three other state officials in 1980 charging the reduced benefits violated the Rehabilitation Act of 1973.

Evidence presented in a federal court trial showed that 92.2 percent of all non-handicapped Medicaid patients could be adequately served by a 14-day hospital stay.

However, only 72.6 percent of the handicapped Medicaid patients could be adequately served by a two-week stay.

The district court upheld the benefit reduction, supporting the state's position that only about one-fifth of all eligible handicapped Medicaid patients actually needed hospital care in a given year and of those, 95 percent could be served in 14 hospital days.

The appeals court, however, overturned the lower court's decision and ordered it to reconsider the case. The appeals court agreed the state was justified in wanting to reduce its Medicaid costs but said Tennessee should find another way to do so.

Victory, Defeat At State Fair

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer
While several of the 4-H'ers representing Seminole County at the Florida State Fair in Tampa last week came back winners, for a few it was a bitter disappointment.

The best showing was in the fashion show, where Clint Pratt of Longwood was the only boy to win first place in the "Sewing for Others" category for the T-shirt and black slacks he made.

Other winners in the fashion show included a first prize for Tiffany Moore of Altamonte Springs for her cheerleading outfit; second prize for Francine Higgins of Altamonte Springs for her corduroy suit; and third place for Allison Cammack of Oviedo for sportswear. 4-H leaders Bonnie Moore, Altamonte Springs, and Linda Warner, Oviedo, won second prize in the fashion show. Mrs. Moore for her dress, which she modeled, and Mrs. Warner for a prom dress modeled by her daughter.

In the youth steer show, Christy MacLeod, 15, and Tommy Black, 13, both of Oviedo saw both their steers take second place in their weight class. Christy, who had the Grand Champion steer at last year's Central Florida Fair, sold her Angus-Chianina steer at the Tampa auction for $2.10 a pound on the hoof. This was the first year to show a steer for Tommy, who received $1.65 a pound for his Hereford-Brahma cross steer.

Mike Lee, 15, of Sanford, entered a Limousin-Charolais-Angus cross at state and it came in eighth in its class and sold for $1.85 a pound.

But for Christy's nine-year-old sister, Carrie, entering for the first time, and Wesley Nunnery, 16, of Chuluota, it was only heartache. The steers which they had been tending since June or July were cut from those picked for the show and they had to take them home again.

A horse judging team — one of two from Seminole — composed of Missy Warner, Oviedo; Barbara Buccino, Longwood; Deborah Sargent, Sanford; and Stephanie Keller, Longwood, placed third at the state fair.

George Nunnery of Chuluota, who was Seminole's first entry in the poultry barbecue contest, finished out of the money with his barbecued chicken.

For those who failed to win ribbons, 4-H Coordinator Barbara Hughes said, it was a "learning experience and a chance to have fun at the fair," but several of them now have their sights set for the upcoming Central Florida Fair to open March 1 in Orlando.

Christy hopes to duplicate her 1983 Grand Championship award at Central Florida with her Angus-Simmental steer expected to weigh in at between 1,160 and 1,170 lbs. at the Youth Steer Show on March 3. Tommy Black, Wesley Nunnery, Mike Lee, David Nunnery, 13, and Debbie Jacobs, 15, of Chuluota, also plan to show at Central Florida.

10 More Acres Eyed For School

The Seminole County School Board at its 7:30 p.m. meeting today will consider purchasing 10 acres to add to a 15 acre donated tract in the Crossings planned unit development near Lake Mary as the site for the proposed new $7.5 million "Middle School X" scheduled for construction completion in time for the 1985-86 school year.

Benny Arnold, assistant superintendent for facilities and transportation, said today the price negotiated with the Crossings Limited for the purchase is $25,000 per acre or $250,000 for the 10-acre parcel. An appraisal of the parcel has been commissioned through Arnold.

Arnold said he is recommending that the board commit to the purchase at its meeting at the school administration office, 1211 Mellonville Ave., Sanford.

The closing date on the purchase of the property probably will be sometime in June, Arnold said.

The sale is contingent on the Crossings Ltd. successfully negotiating with the county its PUD plan to move the 15 acres committed as a donation to the school board for a school site next to the 10 acres being considered for purchase, Arnold said.

The 25 acres chosen would abut the Lake Mary High School campus.

When the original Greenwood Lakes PUD was approved by the county some years ago, the school administration thought it would need 15 acres for an elementary school. However, the board has found that instead it needs a middle school in that area and a middle school site must be at least 25 acres.

Arnold said he hopes the delay in acquiring the site will not delay the construction of the school.

"We are working closely with the architects, Leonard & Baugh of DeLand, and hope this won't get us too far behind with the construction," he said.

Plans are to award a contract to a builder for the school by early August, Arnold said.

The school as planned will have 140,000 square feet of space and cost an estimated $7.5 million to construct. Arnold noted that four additional classrooms are now planned and the cost estimate may go up.

In other business at the meeting, the board will consider a formal legislative program, prepared by Carey Ferrell, assistant superintendent for finance, and the board's lobbyist, from a workshop held last week.

Mexico, U.S. Must Work For Peace

There is a cautious optimism in U.S. diplomatic circles that Mexico may be seeking a common approach with Washington to bring peace to Central America.

Hopes for such a rapprochement depend, more than anything else, on the continuing desire of Mexican President Miguel de la Madrid Hurtado to put aside the anti-American rhetoric of his predecessors.

De la Madrid already has impressed the United States by refusing to parrot former Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo in blaming nearly all of the world's ills on the United States.

In simply cooling Mexico's anti-gringo rhetoric, de la Madrid has taken a giant step toward healing the long-festered wounds that have kept the two great countries on opposite sides of the Rio Grande from cooperating to bring their ideals of peace and justice to the troubled nations of Central America.

Lopez Portillo, whose administration was one of the most corrupt in Mexico's history, willingly fell into the trap of playing big brother to Cuba's Fidel Castro and the leftist guerrillas in Central America.

Mexican politicians, before de la Madrid, delighted in telling the United States that it did not understand the political and social aspirations of Latin American countries and should listen to Mexico City's pronouncements of what was best for the region.

In reality, of course, Mexico knows that it traditionally has been no more popular with Central America than has the United States and that it would be much more threatened than the United States if Central America were to be overrun by Marxists.

The people of Honduras, Costa Rica, El Salvador and Guatemala do not identify with the government of Mexico, which in the past has sought to be their "Third World" spokesman.

And realists in the Mexican government have long recognized that Marxist guerrillas supported by the Soviet Union, Cuba and Nicaragua will next move against Mexico if they succeed in Central America.

Only part of the divergence in U.S.-Mexican policy on Central America is attributable to lingering anti-U.S. feelings in Mexico City going back to the warfare that turned over much of Mexico's territory to the United States.

There has also been a belief in Mexico that President Carter's failure to prevent the expansion of communist influence in Central America dictated that it would be in Mexico's best interests to attempt to moderate the extreme left by supporting its causes.

In this context, Mexico made the same mistake as Costa Rica, which supported the Sandinistas in Nicaragua because of old hatreds and is now directly threatened by Marxist Nicaragua.

It now remains to be seen if de la Madrid and Mexico will learn from Costa Rica's experience.

Peace with justice in Central America requires more than the input of the United States. Mexico does understand the issues as well as does Washington.

If democracy in Central America is thought to be important, it would behoove Mexico and the United States to put aside rhetoric and old animosities and call upon their combined expertise and shared understanding of human longings to end the warfare.

Khadafy's Threat

Libya now has gone public with its terrorist campaign. For years it has served as one of the world's largest training centers for pro-Soviet terrorists, and financed guerrilla actions in many parts of the globe. And it said publicly that the radical factions it backs would go after allied multinational forces in Lebanon if they didn't withdraw.

Moammar Khadafy, the junior-grade Hitler who runs Libya, long has been frustrated by his inability to realize his grandiose dreams of turning all of northern Africa into a greater Libya where he could map new conquests.

He looks upon terrorism as a means of expanding his influence and striking at those who stand in the way of his dreams of conquest.

Khadafy had better confine his plans for terrorist acts to talk. If he tries to carry them out, he could well discover that he has gotten his country into more trouble than it can handle.

A rejuvenated United States under Ronald Reagan is not going to permit Khadafy or any of his extremist friends to commit terrorist acts against American forces with impunity.

Fritz Faces A Question Of Integrity

DES MOINES, Iowa — As a public official for virtually all of his adult life, former Vice President Walter F. Mondale has accumulated the share of ideological opponents who have differed with him on public policy.

Until now, however, nobody has challenged Mondale's reputation as a politician of extraordinary honesty and integrity. Indeed, his record of more than two decades of public service without a trace of scandal or controversy involving his personal ethics is rare in contemporary politics.

All of that changed, however, when former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew, a fellow contender for this year's Democratic presidential nomination, posed a hostile question to Mondale during the recent candidates' debate here.

Askew wanted to know about Mondale's "paid lobbying for a law that could make consumers up front pay for additions to a multimillion-dollar (natural gas) pipeline to Alaska that'll never be finished."

Some background: The 4,794-mile-long pipeline was to stretch from Alaska's North Slope, through Canada and into the "Lower 48" but the project's capital costs were so massive that even the country's largest commercial banks could not satisfy them.

To gain additional funds, the pipeline sponsors devised an outrageous "pre-billing" plan under which consumers would begin paying for construction costs after pipeline sections were completed but long before the entire project was finished and natural gas began flowing south from Alaska.

That approach required passage of federal legislation, and in late 1981 many of Washington's most influential lawyers, lobbyists and consultants began appearing on the payrolls of the companies participating in the project.

Mondale received $43,750 in 1981 for unspecified consulting or legal services provided to one of those firms. In addition, the pipeline's principal promoter, Salt Lake City businessman John G. McMillan, donated $5,000 to Mondale's personal political action committee in 1982.

"The pre-billing issue that you're talking about, I was always opposed to that," Mondale told Askew during the debate here. Regardless of Mondale's specific role in McMillan's operation, that position lacks credibility because pre-billing was the lynchpin of the pipeline's entire financial plan.

The man who is rightfully proud of his reputation for probity owes the public a better explanation.

Whistle Blower vs. Faceless Bureaucrat

WASHINGTON — The real tyrants in our system are the faceless bureaucrats who inhabit the catacombs of government and become bogged down in trivia. Yet within their limited jurisdictions, they can sometimes overrule the president, himself.

One such bureaucrat named Thomas J. Conley has delayed justice in a case that outraged President Reagan when he first heard about it. Conley is a lawyer in his late 30s who presides over an obscure corner of the Commerce Department's legal offices.

The case he refuses to settle is that of a courageous young mother, Billie Garde, who blew the whistle on her boss in the Census Bureau and was driven to ruin as a result.

The persecution of Billie Garde was reported to Reagan at a Cabinet meeting in 1981. He was so outraged that he reportedly pounded his fist on the table and declared: "Tell me this couldn't happen! Not in my country! Not in my country!"

But it did happen. From interviews and official documents, my associate Indy Badhwar has pieced together the

There's always a new scam — or at least one you haven't heard about before. This one intrigued me:

Moving to a smaller home, Mrs. Johnson (not her real name) had a number of antiques, furniture, pottery and knick-knacks, she wanted to sell. In the Yellow Pages under "antiques" she found an Orlando area dealer who advertised "Buy-Sell-Trade" and appraisal services. She called and the dealer came to her home.

The first thing he was shown, a porcelain bowl, he appraised at $200 and he offered to buy it.

Mrs. Johnson, never dreaming the bowl was worth that much, and thinking the value estimate probably on the high side, accepted his offer.

The dealer then went around appraising her other items, often admiring and praising them and offering to buy many, especially items of furniture.

Having no idea of the value of her furniture, but lulled into a false sense of security by the man's very high offer on her bowl, Mrs. Johnson agreed to sell most of her things for what he offered.

When the appraisal session was over and time came for the dealer to pay for the items he chose, he said, sorrowfully:

"Mrs. Johnson, I've bought so many of your things, I just can't afford this lovely bowl."

In the end, the lady was left with having sold many of her fine possessions at much under their value and a bowl she later learned was really worth only $30.

The essentials of this story were related to me by American Society of Appraisers senior member Harriet Cordell of Orlando. Mrs. Cordell recently appraised items for Sanford area residents as a fund-raiser for the General Sanford Memorial Museum and Library. Privately, she expressed indignation with rip-off artists in her profession and gave a few tips on how to guard against them.

Unfortunately, when you go to sell family heirlooms, antiques and other items, she said, there's no sure way to know you're dealing with an honest or knowledgeable person. But there are ways you can protect yourself.

• Check the appraiser's reputation. Try to find an appraiser recommended by an insurance company, legal firm, bank trust officer or someone you know. Perhaps an appraiser who has been called as an expert witness in court. Ask the appraiser to name a public entity that has used his or her services.

• Look for credentials such as membership in the American Society of Appraisers. While no guarantee, members of the non-profit society must pass tests to join. The new International Society of Appraisers is offering courses to members. Keep in mind there are no regulations on appraisers: no occupational licensing or state testing. Many firms, such as moving companies, give appraisals and don't know anything more about your items than you do — often less.

• Never agree to pay the appraiser based on a percentage of his valuations. Obviously this would tend to make the appraiser give inflated estimates. Better ways to pay are by the hour, by the day or by the job. Agree on the price in advance.

• Steer clear of "free appraisals." Why would a busy professional person give a free appraisal? Because they want to buy, Mrs. Cordell says. Such deals should be called offers not appraisals. You shouldn't get both from the same person.

• Thus, don't sell to the appraiser if you can help it. At least.

• Get a second opinion.

• Never get anyone but a certified gemologist to appraise jewelry.

Pope Picks Cautious N.Y. Bishop

Whether the political complexion of the American Catholic bishops matters much may be disputed, but the pope thinks it does, and therefore the appointment of Bishop John J. O'Connor as the next archbishop of New York is important.

It probably does matter in the long run what the American Catholic hierarchy is saying politically, and during the past 20 years that hierarchy has been substantially, well, McGovernized.

The recent pastoral letter on nuclear warfare emerged after much controversy within the American church, and its earlier drafts were so hostile to our nuclear deterrent that the personal intervention of John Paul II was necessary to keep the document barely within the bounds of plausibility.

It is against that background that observers of Catholic politics were waiting for the appointment to the New York diocese. It would be a signal regarding the pope's intentions as regards the American hierarchy. The New York diocese is the wealthiest and most prestigious in the country, and the New York episcopate speaks with a good deal of weight in the American church.

When John Paul II named Bishop O'Connor, shock waves went through the Catholic left, and through much of the secular media.

Bishop O'Connor is a conservative in Catholic terms.

As a member of the committee drafting the nuclear pastoral, he was the most cautious, and favored deterrence. For 27 years, he served as Catholic chaplain to the U.S. Navy, and holds the rank of rear admiral as chief of Navy chaplains.

His doctrinal opinions are severely orthodox. "In all of our communications," he wrote last summer in a letter to the priests in his Scranton, Pa., diocese, "of course we are completely open to the widest variety of ideas and opinions and enthusiastic about listening to others discussing issues of interest and concern. At the same time, certain teachings of the church are quite clearly determined and while we are anxious to discuss them to dispel misunderstandings, we raise unfulfillable expectations if we pretend that such teachings can be changed through discussion."

Of course, the teachings of the church have changed over the centuries, not on fundamental matters like the Trinity and the Resurrection, but on more temporal matters. When was the last time you heard a bishop or pope denounce the taking of interest, for example?

EDWARD J. WALSH

The Budget And Deficit

Editor's Note: Mr. Walsh is a staff writer for the United States Business and Industrial Council Writers Group. His column appears in newspapers throughout the U.S.

The dreary winter of 1984, made drearier by the antics of Democratic presidential hopefuls, has been suddenly enlivened by the release of President Reagan's budget proposals for fiscal 1985. Both conservatives and liberals are aghast — albeit for different reasons — at the numbers, which feature projected spending of $925.5 billion, with an expected shortfall of $180.4 billion.

The remarkable quality of this latest Reagan budget is that, while giving an initial impression that Ronald Reagan's war against Big Government is continuing, it fervently aims to please. In the annual election season budgeteering, it is a classic.

The budget tries to satisfy conservatives who are interested in national security by calling for an 18.1 percent increase in defense spending, or $48.8 billion over last year's budget, to a total of $305 billion in budget authority. This would work out to actual spending of $284.4 billion, or 14.5 percent above last year's level.

For the liberals outraged at the Pentagon, the President offers spending increases for education (up $100 million); environmental protection (a 19 percent increase, including 700 new employees for the EPA); and housing (100,000 new units for poor families and $3.45 billion more in federal grants for the elderly and the disabled).

If these political assets — more spending on defense and domestic programs don't cause Americans to begin whooping it up for Mr. Reagan's reelection right now, it's because of the other, darker side of the budget, or the spending of money the government doesn't have. In fact, beginning with the $180 billion deficit this coming fiscal year, the red ink will rise in a tide of $177 billion in 1986, and back to $180 billion in 1987.

Plenty of people profess to be worried about deficits: liberals who don't like the defense budget, businessmen worried about higher interest rates, and the average, red-blooded taxpayer. But Mr. Reagan has a trump card for them. His ace-in-the-hole is the middle two-thirds of the budget that rises somewhere between food stamps (cut 4 percent) and agriculture (up 9 percent).

These programs, the "entitlements," are not emergency welfare programs for residents of urban ghettos or the hollows of Appalachia. They are middle-class subsidies, thus a broiling, bubbling volcano of fiscal disaster, since they have proven invulnerable to the budget-cutter's pencil.

Mr. Reagan is not about to raise taxes in an election year. He recognizes that, for once, political expediency coincides with economic common sense. He isn't about to toss more cash to the free spenders in Congress. But they're content to let the entitlements crisis boil over, and our economic stability with it. A dose of initiative by the chief would be appreciated.

the behavior Mrs. Garde had exposed, it also considered indicting her — for not blowing the whistle fast enough!

Thanks to a diligent investigation by the Commerce Department's inspector general, Sherman Funk, Mrs. Garde's story was corroborated. Funk's 400-page report contains evidence that Hudson tried to help deprive Mrs. Garde of her children.

Hudson eventually went to jail on charges arising from his operation of the census office. (There is no federal criminal law governing sexual harassment of employees.) Mrs. Garde got her kids back and the ridiculous kidnapping charges against her were dropped. Larry Garde has now told federal investigators, "I wonder if I was used as a pawn to shut Billie up."

But Billie Garde had paid a terrible price. The legal battles had impoverished her, her retired parents and her grandmother. The children wound up in the care of psychologists.

Citing the role of government officials in her troubles, Mrs. Garde asked the Commerce Department to pay the expenses of her custody fight and the move from Oklahoma. Her case was brought to the president's personal attention by Edwin Harper, then director of the President's Council on Integrity and Efficiency.

The president, after expressing his outrage, said he wanted to meet Mrs. Garde in person. They weren't able to meet because of scheduling problems, but the president's feelings in the matter were made abundantly clear at the Cabinet meeting in 1981.

Yet because of Conley's stubborn obstructionism, the Commerce Department refuses to compensate Mrs. Garde for the grief it caused her. Conley argues that Mrs. Garde's custody battle was unrelated to her troubles in the Muskogee census office — an astonishing conclusion, considering the evidence set forth in the IG report that the custody litigation was part of the retaliation against Mrs. Garde for blowing the whistle on her boss.

So Billie Garde may have to go back to court again to seek justice, all because a petty official apparently has more power than the president.

Footnote: Conley did not return calls for comment.

Denied Landfill Permit, Operator Will Appeal

The operator of a 10-acre dump which infuriated nearby homeowners because of the sight and smell has vowed to appeal a Seminole County Board of Adjustment ruling denying him a permit to operate the site as a landfill.

John Falls, of Stable Road, today said he would take his case before the county commission, seeking to use the tract off County Road 427 near County Home Road as a landfill. He was 30 days in which to file his appeal.

Falls, who plans to purchase the land from owner Panning Lumber Co. of Casselberry, has indicated he would use the site as a landfill for two years, then convert it to cow pasture.

Falls appeared before the board of adjustment Monday night on a request for a landfill permit, but was opposed by about 45 property owners. After a 45-minute debate, the board voted unanimously to deny Falls' request.

The crux of the issue is what Falls has been using for the past seven months to fill the area. Herb Hardin, director of the county's office of land management, said Falls was permitted to use only "clean" fill, materials Hardin said includes "natural organic things like rocks, muck, palm fronds, etc."

What Falls has been using, however, is "unclean" fill such as scrap building materials, old appliances, even oranges damaged by the Christmas freeze, Hardin said.

Falls disputes the claim, except for the oranges which he said were removed after he was notified they were not permitted at the site.

Edna Wren, a spokesman for those opposing Falls' plans for a landfill, said she can see "the garbage from my home. At one time, it was three stories high."

"A lot of people around here can't open their windows because of the stench," Mrs. Wren said.

She said the dump site is low-lying area across which rain water flows to Lake Jessup. "The trash has backed up the water and caused it to stagnate," she said. "The smell is awful."

FLORIDA

IN BRIEF

NAACP Threatens Suit Against Florida DOT

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The NAACP, claiming that the Florida Department of Transportation is not really trying to channel business to minority contractors, is considering a federal suit against the state.

Three officials of the Broward County chapter of the civil rights group said Tuesday businesses owned by blacks, Hispanics, Asians, women and other "disadvantaged businesses" got only 5.9 percent of the FDOT's business last year. The department had set a goal of 8.3 percent contracting with disadvantaged businesses.

"Even the 5.9 percent has to be understood in the context of charges by minorities that many whites created businesses for their wives and families, and secured and procured contracts from FDOT as minorities," said Mathes Guice, chairman of the Broward NAACP Fair Share and Economic Development Committee.

Guice and Al Calloway, another member of the NAACP committee, came to Tallahassee to meet with Transportation Secretary Paul Pappas. They said they would seek a federal court injunction to block federal funding of Florida road projects if the FDOT does not come up with a plan for reaching its 10 percent contracting "set-aside" goal.

Church Here To Stay

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Rev. Jerry Falwell, in Florida to promote his nationwide voter registration drive, said conservative churchgoers are gaining political importance in national elections.

"Liberal clergymen have been involved (in politics) for years," Falwell said Tuesday. "We are finally getting our conservative people involved."

Falwell, national president of the Moral Majority, was in Jacksonville to drum up support among local religious leaders for his nationwide campaign to register conservative churchgoers. Falwell planned to be in Tallahassee next week to help Florida's Moral Majority leadership map out a state voter registration effort.

Budget: Deficit May Hit $192 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The non-partisan Congressional Budget Office today projected President Reagan's proposed fiscal 1985 budget would result in a $192 billion deficit, $12 billion higher than the president estimates.

The budget Reagan presented Feb. 1 projected the deficit would be $180 billion in fiscal 1985, which begins Oct. 1, and gradually would decline to $123 billion by 1989. That estimate was based largely on a prediction of sharply declining interest rates.

But the independent CBO, in its estimate of Reagan's budget, said the deficit would steadily increase: to $192 billion in 1985, $211 billion in 1986, $233 billion in 1987, $241 billion in 1988 and $248 billion in 1989.

"The bulk of this difference results from different long-run economic assumptions, primarily with respect to interest rates," the report said. "The remainder is the result of technical estimating factors."

The deficit this year is about $195 billion.

As an example, the administration predicts the three-month Treasury bill interest rate will drop from its current level of more than 9 percent to 5 percent by 1989 due largely to declining inflation.

The CBO, on the other hand, estimates the interest rates will only drop slightly by the end of the decade, to 7.8 percent.

Death Penalty Bill Up For Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, already on a get-tough-on-crime binge, is being asked for the first time in a decade to vote on whether to reinstate the death penalty for federal crimes.

The Republican controlled Senate was scheduled to vote today on a proposal backed by President Reagan to allow execution as punishment for treason, espionage, kidnapping and attempted assassination of the president.

Even one of the Senate's chief capital punishment foes, Sen. Carl

Levin, D-Mich., has "pretty much accepted the possibility of passage," an aide said Tuesday.

However, the death penalty measure still would need House passage to be enacted, and chances there are slim.

The federal government has been without a death penalty, except for aircraft hijacking crimes in which people die, since the Supreme Court in 1972 struck down capital punishment laws then on the books.

Since then, 38 states have made capital punishment legal again for state crimes by updating their statutes to conform to the high court's requirements.

Congress has failed to revise the federal criminal code to provide a constitutionally sound method for imposing the death sentence, except for hijackings.

Although bills have been submitted annually to revise and reinstate the death penalty, the last time any such measures have advanced this far was on March 13, 1974, when the Senate voted 54-33 for capital punishment.

Israel Stages Another Air Raid

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israel staged its second air raid in three days on suspected Palestinian guerrilla bases in central Lebanon in an operation Israeli officials said was aimed at preventing a guerrilla re-entrenchment.

The Tuesday attack was backed by armored columns ranging 8 miles north of Israel's fortified line, which is 20 miles south of Beirut. It coincided with the start of a U.S. Marine pullout from Beirut soil.

The involvement of hundreds of Israeli troops, tanks and armored personnel carriers flying large blue and white Israeli flags made the operation the biggest show of force by the Jewish state since the army withdrew from the Shouf mountains last September.

It was clearly aimed at preventing a resurgence of a Palestinian rebel power base in Lebanon.

Israel invaded Lebanon in 1982 in an offensive aimed at pushing Palestine Liberation Organization guerrillas away from the border area. Israel has repeatedly warned the Lebanese rebels fighting the government of Lebanon President Amin Gemayel not to ally with Palestinian guerrillas.

Israeli warplanes struck what the army described as "terrorist headquarters and bases" — suspected

Palestinian positions — near Bahamdoun east of Beirut and along the main highway to Damascus.

"We will continue to attack bases of the Palestine Liberation Organization in Lebanon to prevent them from coming near to our frontier or to our military lines in Lebanon," Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir said in Brussels, where he met with European Common Market leaders.

Although the operation coincided with the departure of the first Marines from Beirut, a senior Israeli official said the timing had more to do with the setbacks of Gemayel's army.

"The situation is very fluid, new lines are being determined," he said. "Some people may think that now that the Marines are leaving ... they, the terrorists, will be able to move south."

"We're saying, 'sorry, gentlemen, no, you cannot move with impunity. Israel is still there and we mean business.'"

Defense Minister Moshe Arens shrugged off suggestions the Israeli operation was aimed at bolstering Gemayel.

Woman Gets Four Years

A Fern Park woman was sentenced Tuesday to four years for robbing a Sanford convenience store manager of $1,118.

Shannon Elizabeth Barnes, 34, of Pine Grove Motel, was sentenced to four years by Circuit Judge Robert McGregor for the March 21 robbery of Kimberlee Reynolds, 26, of Elder Springs Park. Mrs. Barnes, also known as Shannon Newman, received a concurrent four-year sentence for burglary to Ms. Reynolds' automobile.

According to court records, Mrs. Barnes and another woman forced their way into Ms. Reynolds' car when she was stopped at the intersection of State Road 436 and Oxford Road. She was transporting the day's receipts from the Cumberland Farms store, U.S. Highway 17-92, Fern Park, to the bank.

Barnes, armed with a knife, sat in the front seat with Ms. Reynolds while a second woman sat in the back with a gun.

Ms. Reynolds was forced to drive down a dirt road whereupon she was bound at the wrists and ankles and gagged with nylon stockings. Her captors forced her to lie down on the back floor of her 1975 Cadillac. The women then drove the car to an orange grove on Tusawilla Road near Aloma and left the woman bound at the hands under an orange tree. They drove off in the car which contained two bank bags of money.

Ms. Reynolds freed herself, flagged down a passing motorist, and was taken to a gas station on S.R. 436 and Howell Branch Road where she phoned for help.

The car was later found at Wiliu Springs Plaza, Tusawilla Road.

Mrs. Barnes, who has three children, was arrested March 30 at the HRS Crisis Center in Sanford.

According to court records, Mrs. Barnes lived near the Cumberland Farms store and bragged about the robbery.

The state decided Dec. 8 not to prosecute a second woman arrested in the case because the victim could not positively identify the woman who sat in the back seat.

The prosecutor was George Wallace. —Deane Jordan

The disposition of a charge of driving with a suspended or revoked license was not stated in court records.

—Sherrie Lynn Collins, 31, of 1108 E. 1st St., Apopka, arrested Oct. 29 by a sheriff's deputy near Sunland in Sanford after her car was seen driving in the wrong direction on U.S. Highway 17-92, $250 fine. Today, dentists treat the patient as a total personality. The psychology of the individual is important and a mouth that is merely healthy without being attractive, may be unsuited to the patient's urgent psychological need.

An attractive, comfortable, properly-functioning, healthy mouth is required if one is to enjoy a thoroughly happy and productive life.

Every face to face contact one has in business, social and home life, is affected to the benefit or detriment of the individual by the appearance of the teeth.

Frequently, beautiful effects can be obtained without the loss of healthy teeth. Proper preventive and reparative dental care is worth many times the investment required.

4A DISTRICT 9 TOURNAMENT
At Lake Mary High

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Going into Tuesday night's opening round game of the 4A District 9 Tournament at Lake Mary High, Lake Howell's Silver Hawks had an 0-16 record in district play. And, after falling behind by nine points to Lyman's Greyhounds with five minutes remaining in the game, it looked like the Hawks would end the season without a win in the district.

However, the scrappy Silver Hawks started putting the pressure on defensively and Lyman started turning the ball over, enabling Lake Howell to climb back into the game. Still, Lyman held a three-point lead, 60-57, and had the ball with 30 seconds remaining.

Efrem Brooks then made the play of the game as he came up with a steal with 25 seconds left, raced downcourt for a layup and was fouled in the process. Brooks hit the free throw to tie the game at 60-60 and, after a Lyman turnover, Brooks fed Keith Woodriddle underneath for a layup with two seconds left that lifted the Hawks to a stunning 62-60 victory.

Lake Howell now must face number one seed Spruce Creek tonight at 7. In tonight's second game, Sanford's Fighting Seminoles clash with Lake Mary's Rams. The tournament pairings in Tuesday's paper were agreed upon by the coaches in the district meeting, but then changed by Lyman Principal and District 9 leader Carlton Henley when no record could be found of the coaches' plan in the minutes of the meeting. Lyman coach Tom Lawrence kept the minutes. The coaches had planned on having the top two seeds (Spruce Creek and Mainland) play tonight and get another day's rest. The corrected pairings were not announced until Tuesday afternoon.

"We had it, then gave it away, then took it back again," Lake Howell coach Greg Robinson said. "We started trapping on defense and made some big steals down the stretch. We played good defense when we had to and that was the key."

Brooks' crucial three-point play gave the smooth-shooting junior a career-high 36 points for the game, including 14 of 25 from the floor and 8 of 9 from the free throw line. Woodriddle came through with a clutch performance down the stretch as he scored 11 of his 15 points in the fourth quarter including the game winner. Woodriddle also had a good night from the free throw line, hitting 7 of 7. Lake Howell played strong inside from the charity stripe as it made 18 of 21 free tosses for the night.

Lyman sophomore T.J. Scaletta put on a dazzling display for Lyman, pouring in a career-high 27 points. Reggie Douglas added 18 for the Greyhounds.

Brooks came out firing Tuesday night as he scored 11 points in the first quarter, but seven turnovers by the Hawks enabled Lyman to stay within one point.

Brooks scored 12 more points in the second quarter, giving him 23 for the first half, including four straight free throws near the end to boost the Hawks to a seven-point lead, 31-24, at halftime.

Lyman went to its full court defensive pressure in the third quarter and forced 10 Lake Howell turnovers, including six consecutive turnovers at one point. After leading 33-26 early in the quarter, Lake Howell saw its lead disappear as Lyman outscored the Hawks, 15-4, in the quarter to take a four-point lead, 39-35, into the fourth.

Lyman clung to its four-point lead in the early going of the fourth quarter until a three-point play by Scaletta, one of three on the night for the sophomore guard, gave the Greyhounds a seven-point lead, 51-44, with 5:25 remaining. Douglas then came back to hit a driving layup with 5:10 remaining to give Lyman its biggest lead, nine points, 53-44.

Lake Howell scored four straight points to cut the lead back to five, 55-50, but Scaletta hit a pair of free throws with 2:50 left to put Lyman back up by seven, 57-50.

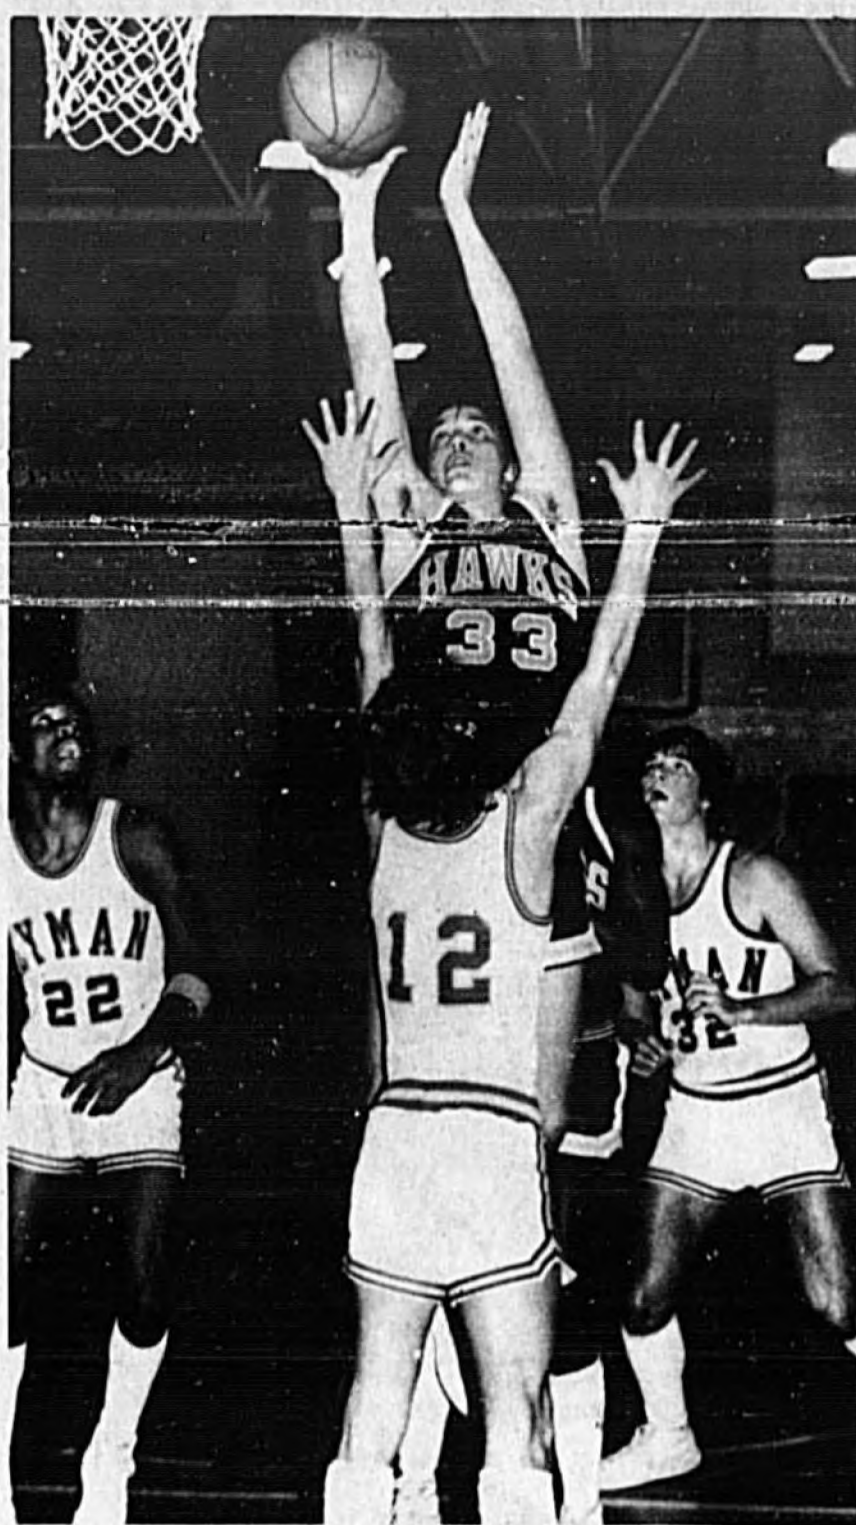

Brooks then hit a jumper and, after a Lyman turnover, Woodriddle converted a three-point play to bring Lake Howell within two, 57-55, with 2:30 left to play.

Scaletta then hit two more free throws with 1:53 left and Scott Russell made one of two with 1:35 remaining to give Lyman a five-point lead, 60-55.

Woodriddle came back to hit a layup with 1:24 left to cut Lyman's lead back to three, 60-57. The Hawks twice had an opportunity to pull within one, but failed both times and Lake Howell ended up sending Scaletta to the line for a one-and-one with 48 seconds left. Scaletta, who had made 10 straight free throws, missed the front end and Lake Howell again had a chance to pull within one. The Hawks couldn't convert again and, with 32 seconds left sent Scaletta back to the line for a one-and-one.

Again Scaletta missed the front end and again Lake Howell couldn't convert on the other end. Lyman then came down to try and take some time off the clock, but Brooks came up with the steal and the three point play that tied the game.

Lyman then came down to set up for a last shot, but Scaletta threw an errant pass, giving Lake Howell the ball out of bounds with 12 seconds left. Brooks received the inbound pass, dribbled the length of the floor and the passed off to Woodriddle for the winning layup.

Lake Howell's Jeron Evans popped in a jump shot over Lyman's T.J. Scaletta as Greg Pilot waits for a rebound. Lake Howell rallied from three points down with just 30 seconds left to overcome Lyman in 4A District 9 Basketball Tournament action at Lake Mary High. In the revised tournament pairings, Seminole takes on Lake Mary tonight at 7 while Spruce Creek plays Lake Howell in the opening game at 7.

Lions Open With Jones

3A DISTRICT 6 TOURNAMENT
At Oviedo High

Thursday's game:

8 p.m. Leesburg vs. Bishop Moore

Friday's games:

6:30 p.m. Oviedo vs. Jones

8 p.m. Thursday winner vs. Osceola

Oviedo's Lions have the tough task of taking on powerful Orlando Jones in the first round of the 3A District 6 Tournament Friday night at Oviedo High. Jones has handily beaten the Lions in their two prior meetings this season, but Oviedo coach Dale Phillips is hoping to turn the tables on the Tigers Friday.

"We hope to give Jones a good ballgame," Phillips said. "We'll try to slow the ball down a little. If we can control the tempo we'll have a chance of pulling it off and that would be the high point of our season."

Oviedo will be looking for 6-5 center Mike Schwab to continue putting the points on the scoreboard. Schwab averaged 20 points per game during the regular season. Additional scoring punch comes from Darrin Reichle, Steve Cohen and Eddie Norton. Schwab and Reichle must also do a good job inside against Jones' tremendous rebounding strength.

The winner of the Oviedo-Jones matchup will advance to Saturday's 8 p.m. final probably against top seeded Osceola Kissimmee.

"Jones has beaten us badly both times," Phillips said. "But we played well in our last regular season game (Saturday against Seminole) and we hope we can carry it in Thursday against Jones."

Murphy Leads Upset

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Jacksonville University freshman Ronnie Murphy scored 16 points to lead the Dolphins in a 63-58 upset Sunbelt Conference victory over South Alabama Tuesday night.

Murphy hit the go-ahead shot, a baseline jumper, with 5:28 remaining in the game. The bucket accounted for two of his 12 second half points as Jacksonville improved to 12-14 overall and 3-10 in the conference.

Connors' Decision Makes Powerful Davis Cup Team

A few weeks ago I wrote a column about the Davis Cup. The 1983 Cup champion is Australia and I, along with thousands of other tennis buffs, was complaining about such a weak team, the Aussies, winning this year's competition.

I also complained that the U.S. was not sending out its best team. The main reason was that one James Scott Connors, the number two ranked American would not play. Well, guess what? In 1984 Connors has decided to play. That will give the U.S. a team that should be unbeatable. We will have John McEnroe and Connors in the singles and the number one ranked doubles team in the world, McEnroe and Peter Fleming in the doubles. Folks, this will be an unbeatable team and I am sure that the Davis Cup will come back to the good old U.S. of A. in 1984.

Connors said that he just woke up one morning and said, "Hey, I'd like to play Davis Cup" — after all it's one thing that he hasn't done in some time and at age 31 he is getting up there in age (for a professional tennis player). Anyway, I, for one, am simply elated that Jimbo will be playing and I think that this year for sure the very best team will win.

The U.S. opens up Feb. 26-28 in Bucharest to play the always pesky Romanians, but have no fears now that Nastase and Tiriac are no longer in their prime this first round will be a breeze.

Major competition this year will come from Argentina, The Czechs, Sweden and Australia.

Necvet Demir, former SCC All-American, recently visited the area with the South Florida University team. USF was in Winter Park to play a strong Rollins team. Rollins jumped on top by winning four of the first five singles points. Demir was playing number one against Rollins' Brian Talgo. At 4-4 in the 3rd, Demir broke and then served out the set to win the match 6-3, 1-6, 6-4. This now made the score Rollins 4, South Florida 2. Rollins still seemed to have the match well under control but South Florida won all three of the doubles to take the match 5-4.

As Yogi Berra said, "It ain't over till it's over." This match proved it. It was a really fine college match though and Rollins has an outstanding team. The Tars play about 30 home matches, admission is free so get down to Rollins and see some good tennis.

In a recent return match Rollins whipped USF, 6-3, in Tampa.

Tough Break Department, Coach Jimmy Edinounds, Seminole High's girls' coach, reports that his already thin girls' team has received another blow.

Freshman Kelly Castle has broken her right ankle and will be lost for the year.

Late Wildcat Goal Nips 'Hounds

By Lou Stefano
Herald Sports Editor

WINTER PARK — Winter Park scored two quick goals and then held off a spirited Lyman comeback to claim the 4A Region 5 soccer tournament with a 3-2 victory over the Greyhounds Tuesday night at Ward Field.

Winter Park, which whipped Lyman earlier this year, 4-0, takes on West Palm Beach Twin Lakes, a 2-1 winner over Merritt Island, in Friday's sectional.

Despite the setback Lyman coach Jim Buckman was impressed with his team's effort and satisfied with the season. "You have nothing to hang your heads about" he said. "Heck, you shouldn't have even been here." Meaning that no one expected them to get this far.

Winter Park opened the scoring with two goals that were both spectacular and well earned. The two goals did as much to dampen the spirits of the Lyman spectators as the rain that the game was played in.

But the Greyhounds came back with two goals of their own to tie the game. A defensive mistake gave the Wildcats the winning goal and the regional crown.

But Buckman was anything but disappointed.

Region Soccer

"I'm proud of them (his players)," Buckman said through a grin. "I mean come on, we're behind 2-0 and I said to them, 'It comes down to respectability, you guys got here on guts and played good ball all season long. Are you going to go out of here without any respectability?' Then they went out and put the points on the board," he added.

Because of the weather the officials started the game 15 minutes early and it looked like the Greyhounds weren't ready for the early start.

Winter Park's Gary Edwards took a pass to the right of the goal as the Lyman defense went left. He then drilled a shot that Lyman goalie Ben Ritter got a hand on but not enough to avert the score.

It was about this time that Lyman midfielder Carter Mays asserted himself defensively. Mays went about playing defense the way a German Shepard protects his bone. Anytime a Winter Park player came close to Mays with the ball, Mays would either strip him of it or bodycheck him to "relieve" him of possession. Winter Park was aggressive but in another way. Midway through the first half Lyman's hottest scorer the past three games, Brian Ocasek, had a fastbreak opportunity just inside the penalty area.

When it looked like he would score, Winter Park defender Tim Gallagher, an All-State player last season, pulled Ocasek down from behind like he was a wider receiver about to score a touchdown.

Lyman couldn't score on the indirect kick.

Mark Lee, a Wildcat senior, then blasted a shot over the Lyman defense and off the goal post for the second Winter Park score.

That got the Greyhounds attention and they looked to get "offensive." And they did, just before the half was over.

The referee called obstruction on a Wildcat defender one foot to the left of the goal post. Mays took the indirect kick and wedged a shot through the Winter Park wall to close the halftime deficit to 2-1.

In the second half, the 'Hounds came out shooting. But they scored their second goal on another indirect kick from inside the Winter Park penalty box. Bryan James, another Wildcat all-star last season, was called for obstruction on Lyman's Keith Young inside the penalty arc.

Young bent a kick over a wall of Winter Park defenders that Pat Howard headed in for the tying score.

Derek Handy scored the winning goal for Winter Park when he nailed a shot in traffic that trickled off Ritter's hand and into the net.

"That was a defensive error," Buckman said. "Two defenders ran into each other and left the ball free for the Winter Park player to kick it. That left him one-on-one with the keeper."

Even though the winning goal came on a Lyman error, Buckman refused to slight the Winter Park victory.

"You can't take any credit away from Winter Park," Buckman said. "They're a senior ballclub and they worked for every goal. I'd say that they'll finish in the top four (in the state)."

"I don't like to lose but our guys walked off the field with their heads up tonight."

Lyman finished the season with a 12-8 record and a district trophy in the trophy case.

DeLand Shocks No. 2 Edgewater

ORLANDO — Most basketball players wait until their senior year to lead their team down the state tournament path. Bridgette Gordon, however, is not like most basketball players.

The 6-0 DeLand junior has started a year early. Gordon poured in 22 points and grabbed 18 rebounds Tuesday night as the Lady Bulldogs stunned previously unbeaten Edgewater, 38-35, to win the 4A Region 5 championship at Edgewater High.

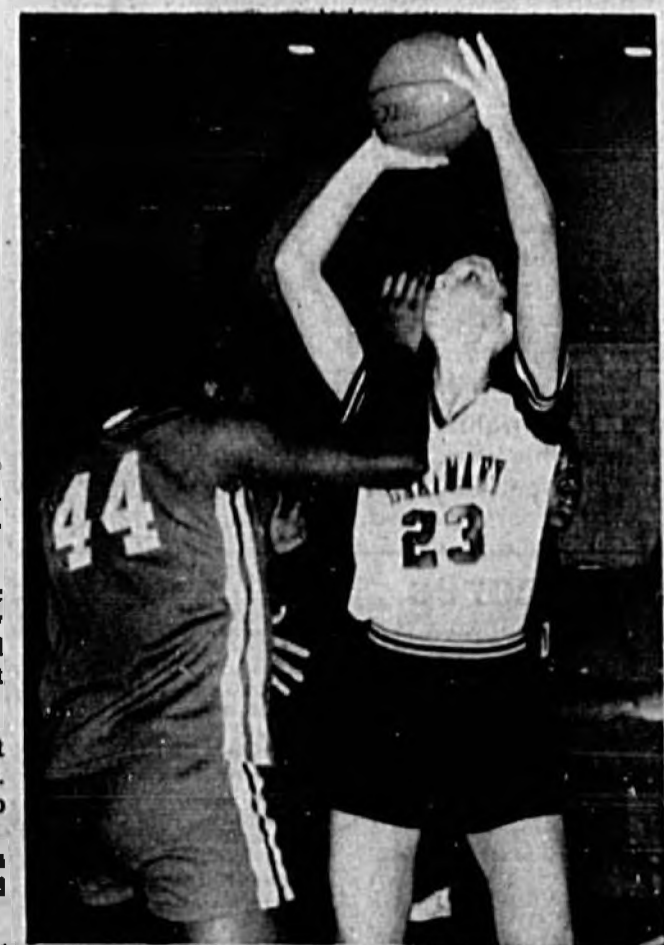

Coach Clifford Cox's girls return to DeLand Friday to host Palm Beach Gardens in the 4A Section 3 playoff. A victory Friday earns the DeLand girls a trip to Lakeland for next week's final four.

No one gave DeLand much of a chance against the state's second-ranked team Tuesday, but the Lady Bulldogs overcame some dreadful first-half shooting and then took advantage of Edgewater's game-long drought to pull out the win.

The Lady Bulldogs hit just 3 of 16 shots in the first half, but still trailed by only three (15-12) at halftime. The Lady Eagles, winners of 28 in a row prior to Tuesday, converted just 17 of 50 for the game.

Edgewater's two big guns — Tris Bell and Sharon Simmons — were in foul trouble most of the night and never did get untracked.

DeLand came out gunning in the second half, hitting 11 of 18 shots, and finally taking a 29-27 lead with six minutes to go.

DeLand's Bridgette Gordon applies the defensive pressure to Lake Mary's Peggy Glass.

Gorman, Jensen Lift JVs — Winter Park Rips Lions

Sophomore Donny Gorman twirled a four-hitter and freshman Roy Jensen drove in two runs with a single as the Seminole junior varsity baseball team opened the season with a 5-3 victory over Lyman at the Seminole Pony Baseball Complex near Winter Springs.

Coach Ernie McPherson's JV will play at Colonial today at 4 p.m.

Seminole gave Gorman an early cushion to work with as it scored four runs in the first inning and came back with one more in the second. Jensen, a catcher, supplied his big hit in the four-run first.

In varsity baseball Tuesday, Winter Park pushed across three runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth to stomp Oviedo, 12-2, in a game shortened to five innings by the slaughter rule at Oviedo High.

Both teams scored in the first inning, but Winter Park picked up four in the third to chase starter and loser Craig Duncan.

Freshman Mark Merchant led the 4-4 Lions with two singles.

Modest Turner, Waresak Not Shy On Success

If there's one thing that county wrestlers Troy Turner of Seminole High and Joe Waresak of Lake Brantley have in common is their modesty in talking about their successes in last week's regional tournament at Lyman High.

Waresak, a rugged 159-pounder, came away with the regional championship in one of the most exciting matches of the night. His victim was Turner with a 14-10 decision.

"It felt good to win," said Waresak. "Kind of a mix between fired up and take it easy."

Turner put it another way. "I was happy to do good," he said shyly. "I wasn't sure how I'd do."

And each wrestler comes from similar wrestling backgrounds.

Turner is just a freshman and his record, 23-5, is phenomenal considering that wrestling is a sport where experience is as important as physical ability.

Turner's first year wrestling, anywhere. He took up free style wrestling this past summer with the Lake Mary wrestling club.

"My brother wrestled at Seminole last year and I went to Lake Mary summer wrestling program last year and thought I'd give it a try," said Turner.

He went on to say that he was pinned in his first match ever. But like any true natural athlete, losing made him more determined to win.

His coach, Roger Beathard, calls Turner a natural wrestler. "He picks up things so fast it's unreal," Beathard said. Turner echoed his coaches statement. "I can see a guy make a move and say to myself, 'I'd like to learn that move' and I'm usually just able to do it after some practice."

"Troy also has a natural ability to know where his body is at all times on the mat and how to counter with a move to better his position," Beathard added.

"Troy gets better every time I see him," said Lake Mary wrestling guru Frank Schwartz. "He's amazing for a ninth grader."

State 4A Wrestling

He's got some moves that you usually see come from a four-year wrestler."

But the biggest compliments come from Turner's peers. Derek Smith, who wrestles 159 at Lyman, was this year's Five Star conference champion and District champion.

Smith was undefeated when he faced, and lost, to Turner in last week's regional tournament. "I shouldn't say this but I hate to wrestle him," Smith said. "He knows all my moves and he's really hard to shoot on."

Waresak relates the time that he first wrestled Turner. "It was at a meet at Stetson and I said, 'Oh boy, a freshman.' Well I only beat him by two points that day and I never took him for granted again."

For Turner, being the youngest in an "old guys" sport isn't a handicap at all. "I never really think about it," he said. "Once I step on the mat, I just forget about everything but wrestling."

Turner isn't shy about his goals for this weekend's state meet. "I'm hoping to finish in the top four," he said. "If I do that I'll be happy."

Waresak is another wrestler who hasn't as much background as his performances would indicate. He moved to Florida after his freshman year in high school from State College, Pennsylvania.

He wrestled in his freshman year at State College High under the tutelage of a coach who hooked him on the sport.

"State High is a good school for wrestling," Waresak stated. "When I was there they were fifth in the state and this year they're ranked fourth."

This is Waresak's first year wrestling at Brantley. He missed last year because of a knee injury he suffered playing linebacker on the Patriot football team.

Because of the hazards of football, he won't be playing it next year. He prefers to save himself for wrestling. "I just like the dedication and competition in wrestling," he said. "Wrestling is by far the toughest sport. You have to be in the best condition."

"My mom won't even come to the matches because she worries about me getting hurt," he went on. "My dad comes to all the matches but mom stays home."

Watching Waresak warm up before a match, he resembles a caged tiger. "I get into a state that I call 'mellow out,'" he said. "I just try to get my mind relaxed and get in control."

Waresak's strategy at the state meet will be to "wrestle offensively. I'm an offensive wrestler and I won't change. I just want to do well there. I really don't know where I'll finish."

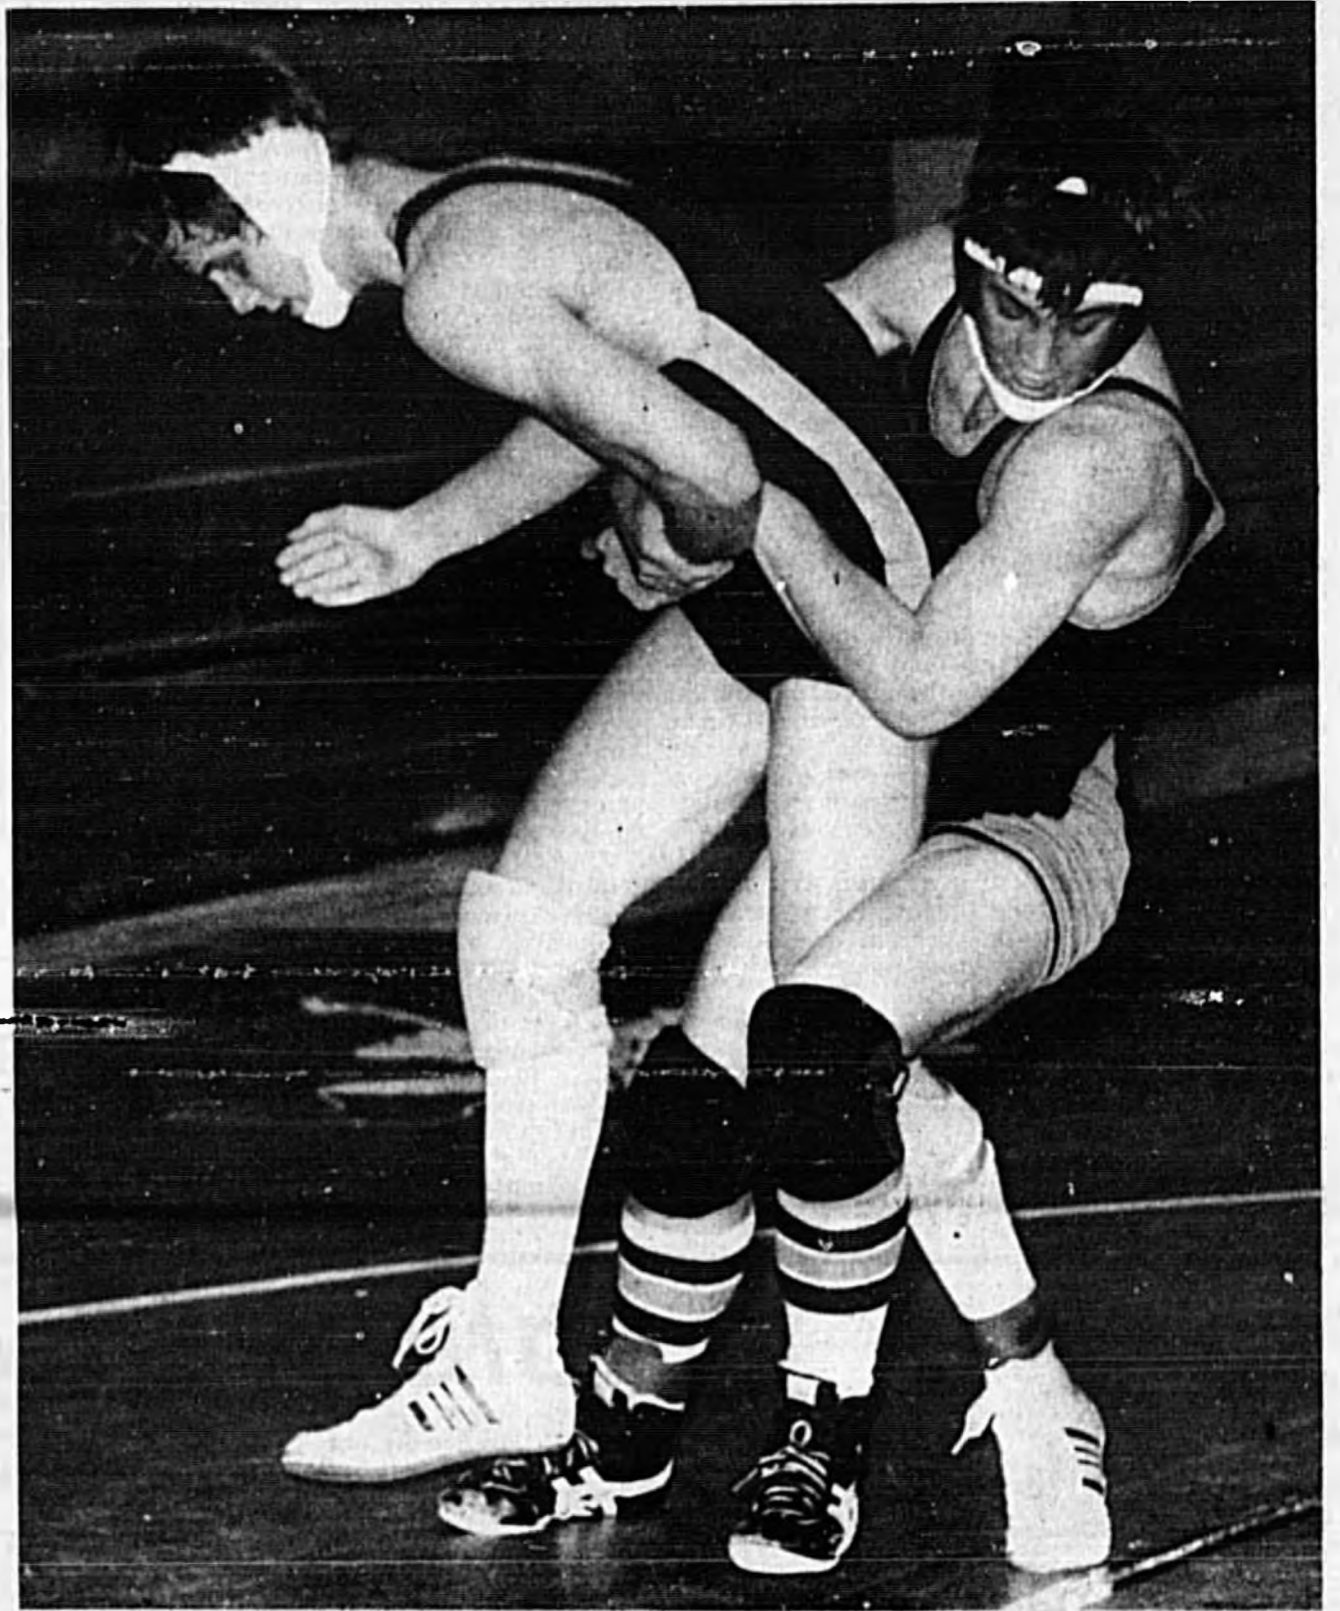

The 4A state tournament gets underway Friday at Clearwater Countryside High School. The first two rounds will be Friday with the semifinals set for Saturday morning and the finals Saturday night.

Lee Leads Lady Raiders To Berth

ORLANDO — Pam Lee fired in 15 points as Seminole Community College's Lady Raiders went on a second-half tear en route to a 76-57 rout of Central Florida Community College in a Mid-Florida Conference playoff game Tuesday night at Valencia Community College.

With the victory, the Lady Raiders earned a berth in the state tournament, which begins next Thursday (March 1) at the University of Central Florida.

Central Florida's Charlene Thompson funneled in 16 points in the first half to lead the Ocala based team to a one-point lead, 34-33, at halftime. But, the Lady Raiders put the defensive clamps on Thompson in the second half as she didn't score again before fouling out.

Lee led the way for the Raiders with a game-high 21 points and Val Roesaler, a sophomore, didn't want Tuesday night's game to be her last at SCC as she pumped in 20 points and ripped down 23 rebounds. Evelyn Smith, also a sophomore, added 17 points and 10 boards.

Roesaler was recently named to the All Mid-Florida Conference First Team for the second year in a row. Lee and freshman Juana Coletti were named to the All-Conference second team.

In boys junior college playoff action Tuesday, Daytona Beach walloped St. Johns River, 72-54, and Valencia topped Santa Fe, 101-95. Daytona Beach plays SCC Thursday at 9 p.m. while VCC takes on Lake City at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The two winners meet Friday at 7:30 p.m. for the final playoff spot for next week's state tournament.

Mullen Scores 33 Points As Redmen Upset Hoyas

By United Press International

Though he really didn't have much choice, Georgetown coach John Thompson looked on the bright side of his team's 75-71 loss to St. John's Tuesday night and offered an honest appraisal.

"We were very fortunate, in some regards, the score was as close as it was," said Thompson. "We never got in a rhythm, offensively or defensively."

The loss snapped the second-ranked Hoyas' 10-game winning streak, dropping them to 23-3 overall and 11-2 in the Big East Conference. It was the fourth consecutive win for the Redmen, 16-8 overall and 7-6 in the conference.

Chris Mullen deserved much of the credit for the Redmen's upset on Georgetown's home court, scoring a career-high 33 points.

"He's an exceptional player," St. John's coach Lou Carnesecca said of his star forward. "Just watch him. Just enjoy him. The good ones do things for themselves. The great ones do things for others."

"This was the hardest we played as a team," said Mullen. "Our intensity level was very high, we didn't fold. We controlled the game pretty much the whole time."

"They ran, and that was a surprise to us," said Thompson. "St. John's is usually very conservative. It (the fastbreak) is something they don't ordinarily do."

St. John's opened up a 23-6 lead with 11:33 to play in the first half. The Redmen were 2-for-9 from the free-throw line in the final two minutes of the game, and Horace Broadnax brought the Hoyas to within 72-69 with 48 seconds to play. But Mark Jackson connected on 1-of-2 free throws and added a slam after a Mullen steal to put the game out of reach.

Georgetown was led by David Wingate with 13 points. Center Pat Ewing was held to 11 points and just two in the first half.

"We tried to keep him (Ewing) outside of his normal spot, so he wouldn't have the easy move inside," said St. John's Bill Wennington, who guarded Ewing. "It worked for us."

In other games of note, Villanova defeated Penn 65-51, and Virginia beat Clemson 77-70.

At Philadelphia, Dwayne McClain scored 15 points and Ed Pinckney added 14 to pace Villanova. The Wildcats, 14-10, never trailed after McClain scored the game's first points on a jumper, and led 33-25 at the half. Penn, which fell to 8-14, was paced by Karl Racine with 12 points.

College Basketball

Clemson players should have known they were in trouble when they shot 60 percent from the floor in the first half and still trailed. They were.

Virginia eked out its fifth win in its last 14 tries Tuesday night by combining a Cavalier trademark, defense, with a Cavalier rarity, good foul shooting.

The Cavaliers used a short defensive spurt to take a second half lead and then hit 18 of 21 free throws in the second half to down Clemson 77-70 Tuesday night in the only ACC game.

The loss dropped Clemson to 12-12 on the season, 2-10 in the conference. It was the 300th career win for Cavalier Coach Terry Holland, whose team is now 15-9 overall and 4-7 in the league.

"Clemson was obviously playing extremely well," Holland said. "On the bench we were saying they must be shooting 80 percent in the first half. I think that's the first time I've ever said that about a team and looked at the stat sheet to find out it was true."

"They continued to shoot well throughout the game (67.5 percent)," Holland added. "We showed patience on our end. We got balanced scoring and got good play off the bench."

All five Virginia starters ended in double figures, led by 17 points from freshman center Olden Polynice.

Clemson Coach Bill Foster said "There was no way we could shoot any better, but Virginia played a great ball game, too. They were able to pound the ball inside to their big guys."

Despite Clemson's hot first-half shooting, the Tigers trailed 35-34 at the break. Early in the second half the Cavaliers found a way to stop the Tigers — not let them shoot.

On four straight possessions, Clemson didn't get the ball past halfcourt because of defensive pressure from guards Othell Wilson and Ricky Stokes. Virginia used the turnovers to convert a 44-43 deficit into a 50-44 advantage.

Clemson came back to tie the score at 58-58 with 6:17 to play, but back-to-back baskets by Rick Carlisle and Stokes gave Virginia a 62-58 just over a minute later.

After that it was a matter of foul shots and Virginia — statistically the worst free throw shooting team in the league — hit them to seal the win.

Dolphins Deal Woodley To Steelers

MIAMI (UPI) — Quarterback David Woodley, a key player in the Miami Dolphins' trip to the Super Bowl two years ago, has been traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed draft choice, sources say.

An announcement on the trade is expected Wednesday in Pittsburgh. Steelers spokesman John Evanson in Pittsburgh would not comment on the trade Tuesday night.

Reached at his home in Miami, Dolphins Coach Don Shula refused comment. Woodley spent four seasons with the Dolphins and spent most of the time as the club's starting quarterback. He led them to the Super Bowl in the strike-shortened 1982 season.

In 1983 the LSU alumni was removed in favor of rookie Dan Marino after the team got off to a 2-3 start. During the season he dropped to third-string behind Marino and Don Strock.

Woodley, who was in Pittsburgh Tuesday night, became a free agent on Feb. 1. He will now be playing in Marino's hometown.

The Steelers lost one quarterback when Cliff Stoudt went to the Birmingham Stallions of the U.S. Football League. Stoudt became the regular quarterback last season while Terry Bradshaw was recovering from off-season elbow surgery. Under Stoudt the Steelers finished 9-7 and lost in the first round of the playoffs. Bradshaw tried to come back and managed to play about one quarter late in the season before pain in his elbow forced him back to the bench. He has said he will decide this spring whether or not his arm is strong enough to make a comeback.

Mark Malone, the Steelers' other quarterback, has seen limited action.

TAMPA (UPI) — Veteran running back Larry Key has been traded to the Oklahoma Outlaws for an early round draft pick, the Tampa Bay Bandits announced Tuesday.

Key joined the Bandits this year after playing five seasons in the Canadian Football League.

In three-preseason United States Football League games, Key carried 21 times for 56 yards and caught six passes for 59 yards and one touchdown.

Key played his collegiate ball at Florida State and was the Seminoles' all-time leading rusher until he was passed last season by Greg Allen.

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Houston Gamblers

open their first U.S. Football League regular season on the road, but Coach Jack Pardee isn't complaining.

"It's better to open in Tampa than Chicago," Pardee said Tuesday at a season kickoff luncheon. "At least it'll be warm in Tampa."

The Gamblers meet Tampa Bay at 1:30 p.m. EST Sunday.

In fact, the Gamblers, winners of both their exhibition games and an unofficial scrimmage against San Antonio, play their first three games on the road. But Pardee predicted his young team will respond well.

"It's tough to start with your first three games on road but that will even out as the season progresses," Pardee said. "We had a great camp. We've got a very talented group of youngsters. They're like sponges. They absorb everything you throw at them."

"All aspects of our game can score points. Our defense has done a super job. And I expect our special teams to be among the best in the country."

Pardee also has a quarterback who was judged among the best in the country during his senior year in college — Jim Kelly. "Jim Kelly got the work he needed," Pardee said.

OBVIOUSLY THAT IS NOT GOOD, BUT BECAUSE IT CAN OVER EXTRACT THE BODY TUN, NEITHER IS TOO "TUCKED" A RIGHT ELBOW GOING BACK.

SO DON'T EXAGGERATE.

TRY AS IN ALL THINGS, FOR A HAPPY MEDIUM.

EPA: Mercury Rules Need Refining

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Noting that people are exposed to mercury by eating fish from acid rain-damaged lakes, an internal EPA study suggests refining government pollution standards for the toxic chemical.

The report focuses in part on "long-distance transport of mercury" in the air from industrial sources to surface waters. The problem, it says, is made worse by "the acidification of rainwater in certain areas of the United States."

Researchers, the report says, have found a statistical relationship "between the acidity of lakes and elevated levels of methyl mercury in fish."

While scientists agree mercury levels in the environment have been decreasing, the study suggests revising EPA standards for the toxic chemical to measure more precisely its "indirect health effects."

The health hazard is indirect because it involves eating fish that accumulate mercury in their bodies from air pollution that gets into water.

Mercury in the air "has the potential to produce indirect health effects through increasing levels of methyl mercury in edible tissues of freshwater fish," it said.

Low-level exposure to mercury can produce personality changes such as shyness, insomnia and anxiety. Children and fetuses are most at risk from mercury, which with high exposure can cause memory loss and damage the central nervous system.

When the EPA originally drew up standards for mercury contamination in 1973, indirect health effects were not considered due to lack of scientific data.

EPA officials have considered making mercury standards more precise, particularly since completion of a massive research document in May assessing the chemical's impact on the environment.

Mercury gets into the atmosphere through metal refining, some chemical production, oil and gas combustion, coal burning, cement manufacturing and municipal incineration.

The latest report emphasizes that scientific understanding of what happens to mercury in the air still is incomplete. But it says research in the last 10 years "strongly suggests the possibility of long-distance transport" in the air from industrial pollution.

The report says there are a variety of reasons for the problem.

"But the overall effect is that methyl mercury levels in fish are, to some extent, indirectly affected by airborne mercury and acid deposition (acid rain)," the report says.

Move Over, Mrs. America; Here Comes Gail Smith

By Doris Dietrich
PEOPLE Editor

Gail Smith calls herself a "military brat," meaning she's been around. As the daughter of a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel, Gail says she has either lived in or has visited 49 of the 50 states. Somehow, she has missed Alaska.

Gail and her husband, Dr. John Robert (Bob) Smith, a Sanford orthodontist, have lived in Sanford for over six years. Gail can add world travels to her interesting itinerary since she has accompanied her husband, a world lecturer on invisible braces, to speaking engagements at several global joints, including Paris in late 1983.

Vivacious Gail has her tapered fingers diligently working in a lot of pies, even outside the kitchen.

She's community-oriented and has begun her second term as president of the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford Inc. She speaks with pride about the club with only 45 active members. And she brags a little with just cause. Last year the members donated 13,000 volunteer hours to the community and contributed more than $65,000 toward community projects.

Under Gail's administration, the club was appointed to a seat on the Ronald McDonald House Board of Directors, Gainesville, covering five counties. The club sponsored the second Annual Miss Sanford Scholarship Pageant, a preliminary to Miss Florida and Miss America pageants. In 1983 the club began researching and started a Mothers Against Drunk Drivers (MADD) Chapter in Seminole County.

Gail and Bob reactivated the Toastmasters Club in Sanford when they started the morning meetings. She is a member of the Board of Directors of Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole and is immediate past president of Orlando Advertising Federation.

A graduate of the University of Florida (advertising major), Gail works nearly fulltime in her husband's office in public relations and marketing. She says she likes calligraphy and designing free lance logos. Gail plays the piano and says, "I'm a collector — I collect experiences."

And Gail is a mother. She and her husband are the parents of a 21-month-old daughter, who is the apple of their eyes.

Gail is adventurous. "I Thoroughly enjoy life. Do you know what my newest venture is?" She is a candidate for the Mrs. Florida Pageant, a forerunner to the Mrs. America Pageant. The pageant will be held in March at Cypress Gardens.

Gail says Mexican food is the favorite of her family. She learned to prepare Mexican food "really by trial and error." A lot of it rubbed off on her through her mother and traveling, she says.

Enjoy cooking with Gail.

Miss Bush Bride Of Robert H. Pflueger

Mary Martha (Molly) Bush and Robert Hunter Pflueger were married Feb. 4 at 4 p.m., at Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Sanford. The Rev. LeRoy D. Soper performed the double ring ceremony in a candlelight setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bush, 2025 Hibiscus Court, Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edward Pflueger, 2782 Ridgewood Ave., Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows an Ivory English net and organza gown fashioned along the Queen Anne silhouette and highlighted with clusters of shimmering iridescents and seed pearls. Re-embroidered Alencon lace appliques embellished the sculptured neckline, long tapered sleeves and gently flowing skirt. Her chapel-length train was edged in a deep border of hand-cut Alencon lace. Her illusion waltz-length mantilla was secured to a softly shaped headpiece of matching Ivory Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of ivory roses.

Candace A. Booth of Charleston, S.C., attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a deep burgundy jacquard crepe gown designed with a heart-shaped neckline and gathered, puffed elbow-length sleeves. Her floral headpiece and bouquet were in shades of pink, mauve and burgundy.

Dr. William Arthur Pflueger was the bridegroom's best man. Ushers were William Bradford Bush, Robert B. Walling, Bruce E. Pflueger and James T. Pflueger. They wore navy blue tuxedos with white pleated shirts and blue ties.

Following a reception at Mayfair Country Club, the newlyweds departed on a 7-day honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas and Virgin Islands aboard the Royal Caribbean's Song of America. They are making their home in Sanford. The bride is a representative on Amtrak Auto Train at the Sanford terminal. The bridegroom is an attorney practicing in Altamonte Springs.

French women were first allowed to vote in 1945.

Salvation Army Helps Families Find Relatives

DEAR ABBY: When I saw the item in your column letting people know that the Salvation Army is expert at locating lost relatives, I had to write.

Dear Abby

I am Dutch and my wife is of Ukrainian descent. We were married 32 years ago in Sydney, Australia, and later moved to the United States. We learned that about half my wife's family was "missing." A friend suggested that I contact the Salvation Army, so I did. I gave it as much information as I could about these missing relatives.

After two years the Salvation Army advised us that my wife's sister had been married and was living in Chicago! Contact was made with that sister, who had located another sister in Poland!

Thanks to the Salvation Army we were able to track down all our relatives with the exception of one brother. Is it any wonder I am eternally grateful to it?

A.C.S., ANCHORAGE, ALASKA

DEAR A.C.S.: Here's another touching testimonial: DEAR ABBY: Last Dec. 22, my wife called her brother in Chicago to wish him a "Merry Christmas," only to be told that the apartment-hotel where he lived had burned two weeks before — that her brother was not among the listed dead or injured, but he couldn't be located.

My wife immediately called all over Chicago trying to find him. Thank God we called the Salvation Army's missing persons division in Chicago, for that was the one organization that got the job done!

The people at Salvation Army located my wife's brother, unidentified at the Cook County morgue — possibly just days from a potter's grave, and miserable days of wondering by his family for the remainder of their collective lives as to what happened to him.

Thanks to the Salvation Army and its concern for others everywhere, my brother-in-law now lies peacefully at rest beside his mother and father in Tennessee.

His living loved ones still grieve his loss, but that loss would have been many times greater if he had never been located.

My respect for the Salvation Army has always been great, but it has increased a thousandfold with this experience. My wife and I feel that no organization on earth excels the Salvation Army as a caring, efficient and humane organization that "practices what it preaches" concerning the physical and spiritual well-being of all mankind.

JOHN E. STANFORD, FRANKLIN, TENN.

DEAR ABBY: How do you politely turn down someone who asks you to be a bridesmaid?

I have been in nine weddings already, and I just can't afford to be in any more at this time. Every wedding calls for a new bridesmaid gown with shoes to match, and they keep getting more expensive every year.

So please tell me what to say when a friend says, "I would like you to be in my wedding."

NEEDS AN EXCUSE

DEAR NEEDS: Don't give an "excuse" — give a reason, the real one. Say, "Thank you for the lovely compliment. I wish I could, but I can't afford it." You will be respected for your honesty.

(Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood Calif. 90038. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Frozen Dessert Wins $5,000 In Contest

Macadamia Mocha Supreme, an easy, make-ahead frozen pie recipe, has been chosen the $5,000 best-of-contest winner in the 1983 Kraft Marshmallow Creme "Easy Secret Ingredient" Recipe Contest. This impressive Grand Prize creation was submitted by Jeanne Noonan, a retired receptionist and accounting clerk from Fremont, Calif.

Macadamia nuts and coffee flavored liqueur are long-time favorites of Noonan's. The prize-winning pie highlights both. Chopped macadamia nuts are sprinkled onto a chocolate crumb crust, then an easy, light-textured filling prepared with whipped topping, coffee flavored liqueur and the "secret ingredient," marshmallow creme, is added. The marshmallow creme assures that this frozen recipe will be creamy and smooth without the extra steps and special equipment required for traditional frozen desserts.

Across the country, desserts are "in," and contest entries proved it. Many entries, including the Grand Prize winner, were prepared with chocolate, an annual contest favorite. A great number of recipes also combined marshmallow creme with fruit, whole grain products and nuts, in many different and unusual ways.

The versatility of marshmallow creme was underscored by the variety of recipes entered. In addition to a large number of pies, contestants submitted ice creams, sherbets, snack bars for the family and elegant creations to serve guests.

Noonan reserves her creative food preparation for the several civic and historical organizations in which she is active. She is renowned for her luscious desserts and frequently brings several for meeting refreshments.

Noonan also enjoys entertaining family and friends at home for dessert. "I leave the creative dinner parties to my son's wife who is an excellent cook," she said. At these small late-afternoon, early-evening gatherings, Noonan frequently "jazzes up" the flavor of her recipes with liqueurs and flavored brandies.

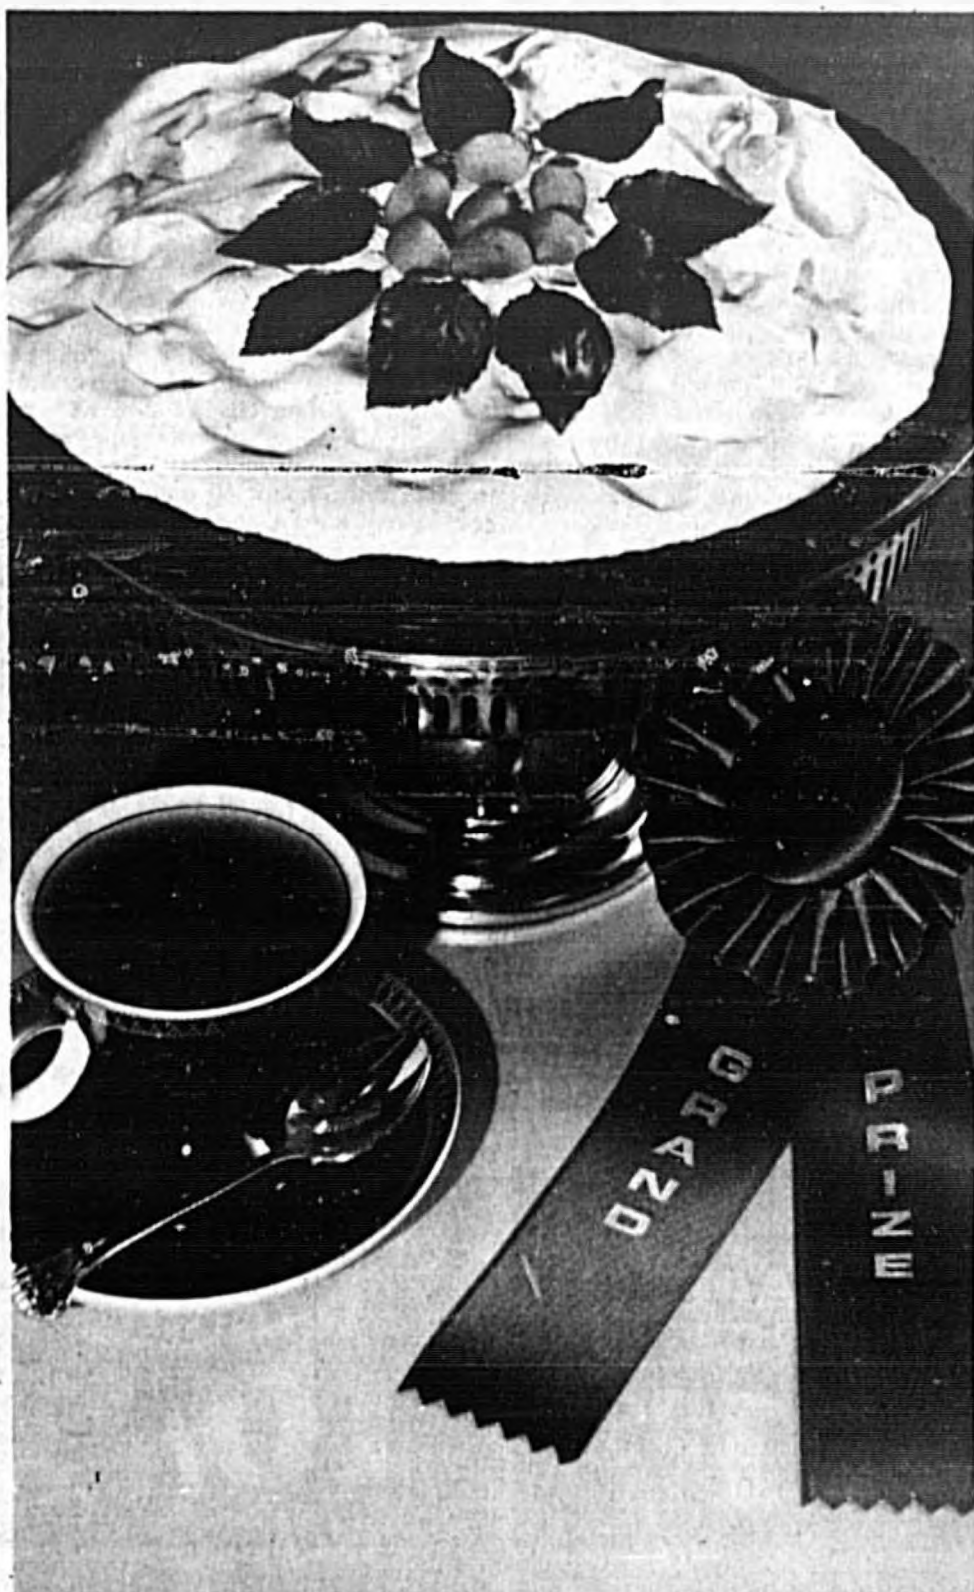

In her spare time, Noonan enjoys gardening and traveling to visit friends. She is also enjoying the new video cassette recorder which she recently purchased.

MACADAMIA MOCHA SUPREME

- 1/2 cup chopped macadamia nuts
- 1 9-inch chocolate wafer crumb crust
- 1 7-oz. jar marshmallow creme
- 2 tablespoons coffee flavored liqueur
- 2 tablespoons water
- 1 12-oz. container (4 1/2 cups) whipped topping with real cream, thawed

Reserve 1 tablespoon macadamia nuts for topping; sprinkle remaining nuts onto bottom of crust. Combine marshmallow creme, liqueur and water, mixing with electric mixer or wire whisk until well blended. Fold in whipped topping. Pour into crust; freeze. Top with reserved macadamia nuts.

Six to eight servings.
Variations: Substitute walnuts for macadamia nuts. Substitute 1/2 cup cold coffee for liqueur and water.

Caramel Entry Takes First Place

An impressive caramel and apple-flavored dessert recipe has been judged as a $1,000 First Prize winner in the 1983 Kraft Marshmallow Creme "Easy Secret Ingredient" Recipe Contest. Created by Mrs. Micky Kolar, of Fountain Hills, Ariz., Carmallow Apple Swirl won top honors in the "Special Occasion Desserts" category.

The winning recipe's striking presentation immediately caught the judges' eye. The rich flavor, a mixture of cream cheese, whipped topping, marshmallow creme and caramel ice cream topping with attractive tasty swirls of apple butter, is what clinched the prize. Carmallow Apple Swirl and other "Special Occasion Desserts" entries proved that smashing desserts don't necessarily require hours of preparation.

Apple, fresh, canned, as apple sauce or apple butter, was the fruit most frequently included in this year's contest entries. Many contestants also used marshmallow creme as the "secret ingredient" for creating smooth, velvety-textured frozen desserts.

Contest recipe entries proved that Americans still enjoy creative desserts. This year a greater number of contestants than ever before combined marshmallow creme with whole-grain products, such as granola, oats and whole-wheat flour, fruits and nuts, with great emphasis on high-quality fresh ingredients. The variety of recipe entries illustrate the great versatility of marshmallow creme. From pies to ice cream, snack bars for the kids to sophisticated end-of-the-meal creations, all were represented in the 1983 Contest.

Kolar, who won Grand Prize in the 1982 Kraft Marshmallow Creme "Easy Secret Ingredient" Recipe Contest, said she spent little time experimenting with new recipes this past year. Most of her time was occupied entertaining a steady stream of out-of-town guests. She and her husband Frank also enjoyed a trip to Egypt where Kolar, an avid collector of miniature camel figures, experienced her first camel ride.

CARMALLOW APPLE SWIRL

- 2 cups oatmeal cookie crumbs
- 1/2 cup margarine, melted
- 1 12-oz. jar caramel topping
- 2 7-oz. jars marshmallow creme
- 2 cups sour cream
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
- 2 8-oz. containers (3 cups each) whipped topping with real cream, thawed
- 1/2 cup apple butter
- 1/4 cup chopped walnuts

Combine crumbs and margarine; press onto bottom of 9-inch springform pan.

Reserve 1/4 cup caramel topping. Combine remaining caramel topping, marshmallow creme, sour cream and cream cheese, mixing at medium speed with an electric mixer until well blended. Fold in one 8-oz. container whipped topping. Add apple butter; cut through mixture with knife several times for marble effect. Pour over crust; freeze. Top with remaining whipped topping, reserved caramel topping and walnuts.

12 to 14 servings
Variation: Substitute 13x9-inch baking pan for springform pan.

Coffee beans are not beans at all, but the pits of a cherry-like fruit.

With A Little Ingenuity, Young Executive Can Entertain With Style

The young executive doesn't have much time to prepare a balanced meal, and many an executive feels that the only way to eat well is to eat out.

Not so! With a little ingenuity, good ingredients and attractive china and crystal, an interesting meal is easy to prepare and you'll even have time for dessert! In fact, you may decide to make the dessert the center of attraction.

Buy a roast chicken, make a fresh garden salad, serve a sparkling, white wine spritzer, and spend a little time on the dessert, and you've made an elegant meal in just minutes.

"Don't be afraid to use your finest tableware and serving pieces, and don't feel as though you must wait for a special occasion to bring them out of the cabinet," advises Isabelle von Boch, an international hostess, etiquette expert and eighth generation member of the family who designs and manufactures Villeroy & Boch china and crystal. "Even the most basic, seemingly ordinary meal can be made more glamorous and appealing when it's beautifully presented."

With dinner show your sophisticated side and serve your guests a unique white wine.

Dessert is the menu highlight. Here are two cold gourmet chocolate desserts that are easy to make ahead of time. The Swiss Almond Parfait is unbeatable and looks exquisite served in crystal fluted champagne glasses.

Another impressive, yet efficiently easy to make dessert is Lindt's Corporate Mold Mousse, a three tiered "upwardly mobile" dessert. Three different types of Lindt Chocolate are used, making this finale a conversation piece. The secret to success on both is using Lindt of Switzerland, an extraordinary chocolate and the choice of chefs the world over in preparing rich desserts.

Here are some other hints for the gourmet touch:

- Prepare ahead. If you're having company, there's no need to rush home early. Serve your table the night before. Mix rather than match china and be sure to have attractive wine glasses — they're inexpensive and "dress up" any table.
- Make your mousse and parfait a day ahead. Each takes only minutes and they will set well overnight. Be sure to cover tightly to protect the rich chocolate flavor.
- Chpp vegetables for your salad the day before the dinner and refrigerate in ice water.
- Chill the Bollini wine and place in an ice bucket near the table to remain chilled. Open a few minutes prior to serving to allow the wine to "breathe."
- Intermingle china and crystal patterns using colors and shapes as unifying themes and discover new multi-uses for your crystal. For example: champagne flutes make exquisite parfait glasses for chocolate mousse and other desserts.
- Set a special table with accessories such as ceramic figurines, paperweights or individual ceramic boxes filled with "goodies" such as nuts or after dinner candies.
- Be innovative with your table linens. Find fabric that will make a fun and festive backdrop for your china.
- Set up a serving table with foods, salads, and dessert dishes nearby, allowing you to remain seated while serving guests.

3 oz. (1 bar) Lindt Surflin Swiss Dark Chocolate
1 1/4 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 six-cup mold or Pyrex bowl
Vegetable oil

Oil the mold well. In a food processor, chop the chocolates separately, beginning with the Lindt-Blancor Crocant, then the Lindt Milk Chocolate and, lastly, the Lindt Surflin. Keep separate and set aside. Beat egg yolks with 1/2 cup sugar till very thick and fluffy and when the beaters are lifted a wide ribbon forms. Scald the light cream, being careful not to burn it. At low speed, slowly add the light cream to the egg mixture.

Transfer to an enamelled saucepan and stirring constantly cook over low flame until mixture thickens and coats the back of a wooden spoon. Do not boil or the custard will curdle. This should take about 10 minutes. Remove from heat. In three separate bowls, measure out custard in three equal portions. Add the Lindt Blancor Crocant to the first bowl whisking it in quickly so chocolate is completely melted and blended. Cover with plastic wrap so wrap touches the custard mixture and chill 10 to 15 minutes, till the consistency of egg whites. Repeat the procedure with the Lindt Milk Chocolate in the second bowl and the Lindt Surflin Swiss Dark Chocolate in the third bowl. While custards are cooling, whip the cream. First add 1/2 of the whipped cream to the white chocolate custard and fold in. Pour into the mold, cover with plastic wrap and freeze 30 minutes till set, no longer. Mix second third of whipped cream with the Lindt Milk Chocolate mixture and pour over the set white chocolate layer. Freeze till set. Mix Surflin mixture with the remaining whipped cream and pour over the Milk Chocolate layer. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate four hours or overnight. Unmold when ready to serve. (Hint: Set mold in warm water for 30 seconds to facilitate unmolding.) Garnish creatively with chocolate curls and whipped cream.

Preparation time: 1 hour.
Yield: 6 servings.

Hot Cereal Warms Up Morning

If you like the taste of 100% natural cereal, you'll warm up to this idea — cook it!
Ready-to-eat cereals can leave you downright cold on wintery mornings. What you need is something just as quick and tasty, but that'll leave you feeling ready to face a blizzard.
Hot 100% natural cereal really makes sense when you think about it. It's made with rolled oats — just like oatmeal — but it's also got rolled whole wheat, shredded coconut and chopped almonds, among other goodies. What makes it taste so good as a cold cereal makes it taste just as good hot.

ORANGE HONEY HOT NATURAL CEREAL
¼ cup Quaker 100% Natural Cereal, any flavor
2 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon wheat germ or unprocessed bran
1 teaspoon honey (optional)
For 1 serving: In heavy 1-qt. saucepan, combine all ingredients. Bring to a boil over medium-high heat. Reduce heat; simmer about 1 minute or until desired consistency, stirring frequently. Serve at once with milk, if desired.
For 4 servings: Increase cereal to 1 cup. Increase orange juice and water to ½ cup each. Increase wheat germ and honey to 1 tablespoon each. In heavy 2-qt. saucepan, combine all ingredients. Prepare as directed above, simmering about 2 minutes.

MICROWAVE OVEN DIRECTIONS (For 1 serving): In 2-cup microwavable bowl, combine all ingredients. Cook at HIGH 1-1½ minutes; stir. Let stand 1 to 2 minutes or until desired consistency.

BANANA NUT HOT NATURAL CEREAL
¼ cup Quaker 100% Natural Cereal, any flavor
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon chopped nuts
Dash of cinnamon
Dash of nutmeg (optional)
¼ cup banana slices
For 1 serving: In heavy 1-qt. saucepan, combine all ingredients except banana. Bring to a boil over medium-high heat. Add banana; reduce heat. Simmer about 1 minute or until desired consistency, stirring frequently. Serve at once with additional milk, if desired.
For 4 servings: Increase cereal and milk to 1 cup each. Increase nuts to 1 tablespoon, cinnamon to ½ teaspoon and banana slices to ¼ cup. In heavy 2-qt. saucepan, combine all ingredients except banana. Prepare as directed above, simmering about 2 minutes.

MICROWAVE OVEN DIRECTIONS (For 1 serving): In 2-cup microwavable bowl, combine all ingredients. Cook at HIGH 1-1½ minutes; stir. Let stand 1 to 2 minutes or until desired consistency.

Chicken Cooking Contest

The National Broiler Council (NBC) is crossing the country to determine how America cooks chicken.

NBC will survey food editors of leading newspapers and other food experts in close contact with consumers in each of six regions from coast to coast, according to George Watts, NBC president. Local recipes, preparation techniques and methods of serving chicken will be collected in the national promotion to compile an authentic cross-section of truly American chicken recipes.

"American cuisine is a rich heritage of traditional cooking from all parts of the nation," according to Watts. "Chicken has always been important in this country's cookery and fried chicken is often called 'the all-American dish.' However, there's even diversity in the way Southerners fry chicken.

"The industry feels this year, when the National Chicken Cooking Contest will not be held, is the ideal time to conduct this comprehensive search for chicken recipes which are well-known in different localities but might not be used nationally," Watts said.

NBC has divided the nation into six regions: Northeast, Midwest, Pacific, Southeast, Southwest and Northwest. When chicken recipes from each have been compiled, they will be published in a brochure to enable cooks in different parts of the country to try the special ways chicken is cooked in other areas.

The National Chicken Cooking Contest has been the broiler-fryer chicken industry's major annual promotion for the past 35 years. It is now beginning an alternate-year schedule with the next Cook-Off to take place in May, 1985, in Asheville, North Carolina. Watts said that while "How America Cooks Chicken" is the industry-wide focus for 1984, entries for the 36th Contest are also being received throughout this year. Deadline for entering a chicken recipe in the contest is December 31.

Newspaper food editors were chosen as the source for obtaining regional recipes because of their close contact with each community and its food preferences. Contest entries, selected from each state and the District of Columbia, represent a wide variety of chicken recipes but are not necessarily "typical" of local cookery, Watts explained.

Recipes compiled in this year's coast-to-coast survey are expected to reflect the importance and diversity of chicken in the nation's culinary history, he said.

Seasonings

Start A Culinary Adventure With Soups

Seasonings can be the soul of cooking but the cook must take care that they retain their vivacity through proper storage.

Heat, moisture, foreign odors, air and light are all enemies of dried herbs and spices. The best place to keep them is in an airtight jar made of glass, which resists odors and can be used. Don't keep spices over or near a stove, nor should they be placed in cork-topped jars since the cork "breathes" and will diminish the flavoring's power.

Seasonings and condiments such as mustard and ketchup can be refrigerated but Tabasco pepper sauce should be stored at room temperature in the same place you would keep herbs and spices, as the vivid red color of Tabasco sauce will fade with exposure to bright light.

One of the most spectacular ways to use seasonings in intriguing ways is in soup. These two meatless soups — Black Bean Soup and Navy Bean Soup — rely on the flavorings of herbs and red pepper sauce for their distinctiveness.

Black Bean Soup is ubiquitous throughout the Caribbean although it is the Cubans who claim it and are justly famous for it. The seasonings that sparkle in this version are garlic, oregano, orange peel and pepper sauce. This variation also incorporates a Mexican touch with its sour cream topping.

Thyme and marjoram are the dominant herbs in the Navy Bean Soup, which is an old New England favorite. This stick-to-the-ribs supper in a pot needs only crusty bread to make a warming winter meal.

You'll find that soup provides a great "host" for the various seasonings at your disposal. Experiment, starting with these two recipes for a delightful culinary adventure.

BLACK BEAN SOUP

- 1 package (1 pound) dried black turtle beans, rinsed
- 6 cups water, divided
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- ¾ teaspoon dried leaf oregano, crumbled
- 1 can (13½ ounces) chicken broth
- 3½-inch strips of orange peel
- 1¼ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
- Sour cream or lemon slices, optional
- Lemon slices and chopped parsley for garnish

In a large bowl soak beans in 5 cups water overnight. Or, in a large saucepot, bring 5 cups water and beans to a boil; remove from heat, cover and let stand 1 hour. In a large saucepot, heat oil. Stir in celery, onion, garlic and oregano; cook 5 to 7 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add soaked beans, bean liquid, chicken broth, remaining 1 cup water, orange peel, salt and Tabasco sauce. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover, simmer 2 to 3 hours or until beans are tender. Serve with sour cream or lemon slices, if desired.

Yield: 9 cups (6 to 8 servings).

Fresh Florida citrus contributes eye appeal and delicious flavor to Citrus Fruitatta.

Fruitatta Filled With Fresh Citrus

Bright-flavored, pretty-as-a-picture dishes that can be whipped up in minutes are as welcome as a gentle breeze on a sweltering day. A dish that satisfies all those requirements is Citrus Fruitatta, which is filled with ingredients that are low in cost and high in nutrition. The secret lies in the plump, juicy oranges and grapefruit from Florida, which add lively citrus taste and nutrition while enhancing the flavor of the other ingredients. Protein-rich eggs at the base with pears bringing their juicy goodness, chopped dates adding texture and richness and the orange and grapefruit sections offering their naturally sweet succulence to make the recipe an outstanding success. For family...for guests...Citrus Fruitatta is a winner.

CITRUS FRUITATTA

- 8 large eggs
- ½ cup milk
- ½ cup cored, diced, fresh pear
- ½ cup chopped, pitted dates
- ½ teaspoon freshly grated orange rind
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¾ cup Florida orange sections
- ½ cup Florida grapefruit sections

In a medium bowl, beat eggs and milk until well blended. Stir in pear, dates, orange rind and salt. Pour into a well-buttered 8½-inch quiche pan. Bake in a 350°F. oven 10 minutes. Arrange orange and grapefruit sections on top and continue baking 20 to 25 minutes longer or until eggs are set. Allow to stand 5 minutes before serving.

Yield: 4 servings.

You've Come A Long Way, Potato

These hearty entrees, Chili-Beef Stuffing Bake, top, Chicken Stuffing Bake, center, and Italian Stuffing Bake, use stuffing mix to satisfy appetites without straining the family grocery budget.

Satisfying Meals On A Budget

Hearty, satisfying meals please family appetites while easing the family food budget. Homemakers are always looking for a mainstay recipe to serve for everyday family meals. You want an entree that's convenient and easy to make, but one with lots of variations so the family never tires of it.

Stuffing Bake, which uses Stove Top stuffing mix as the base for these delicious versatile entrees, is a recipe that you will want to add to your recipe files. With a one-two-three preparation method, this dish, which uses any one of four different fillings, will be ready to pop into the oven in no time. Because vegetables and seasonings are already part of the stuffing mix, you don't need a lot of extra ingredients to make these hearty one dish meals.

Chicken Stuffing Bake, which also can be made with turkey, is a great way to transform leftover roast poultry. Try Chili-Beef or Italian Stuffing Bake and you'll avoid those familiar groans of "hamburgers, again!" The Chili-Beef Bake has Tex-Mex style, and Italian Stuffing Bake is a decidedly different way to use up your leftover homemade spaghetti sauce — or give extra pizzazz to prepared sauces. Frankfurter Stuffing Bake is a zesty change for this American favorite.

Stuffing Bakes are a good way to satisfy your family's appetite for filling meals with recipes that don't call for expensive ingredients. Of course, well-balanced meals are important anytime, but it isn't necessary to feed your family steaks and chops to give them their full complement of protein. Stuffing Bakes provide your family with a filling and nutritious meal that won't drain your pocketbook.

STUFFING BAKE

- 1 1/4 cups very hot water
- 1/4 cup softened butter or margarine
- 1 package (6 oz.) cornbread or chicken flavor stuffing mix

1 egg, slightly beaten
Chicken, Chili-Beef, Italian or Frankfurter Filling

1. Combine the hot water, butter and Vegetable/Seasoning Packet from the stuffing mix in a bowl, stirring to melt butter. Add Stuffing Crumbs and stir until moistened. Stir in egg and let stand 5 minutes. Spread half the stuffing mixture evenly in greased 8-inch square pan.

2. Top with one of the fillings, then remaining stuffing mixture, spreading each layer evenly.

3. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes then cut into rectangles. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Half the stuffing mix may be divided among three small aluminum loaf pans; top with filling and remaining stuffing and bake as directed. (Or, freeze; then bake without thawing at 425° for 45 minutes.)

CHICKEN FILLING

- 2 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup
 - 1/2 cup milk
- Combine chicken and mayonnaise and mix lightly. Then prepare as directed in basic recipe. Mix the cream of mushroom soup with milk and heat. Pour over each serving, if desired.

CHILI-BEEF FILLING

- 1 pound ground beef, browned and drained
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 1 can (8 oz.) kidney beans
- 1/2 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- Shredded lettuce (optional)
- Sour cream (optional)

Combine the drained beef, chili powder, tomato sauce and beans. Heat thoroughly, then let stand about 5 minutes. Layer and bake as directed in basic recipe but in last 3-5 minutes of baking, sprinkle with the cheese. Serve with additional spaghetti sauce that has been heated, if desired.

FRANKFURTER FILLING

- 1/4 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons pickle relish
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 8 frankfurters, sliced
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese

Mix filling ingredients together and prepare as directed in basic recipe. Serve with additional catsup, if desired.

The early forerunner of the potato is thought to be the papas, grown by South American Incas.

Papas were prepared by the Incas by an unusual method: they were soaked in water, left to freeze in the cold air and then dried in the sun. The Incas then removed the skin by walking on the potatoes with bare feet. Hard as stones and black in color, the potatoes then had to be soaked several days before they could be cooked.

Today, preparation of potato dishes is much easier. So easy, in fact, that potatoes can be enjoyed at all meals. This tasty Ham and Potato Breakfast Casserole, for instance, starts with hash brown potatoes to eliminate peeling and slicing.

It combines tender potato strips, Cheddar cheese, chopped ham and eggs in a golden, custardlike baked dish. Ready in less than an hour, it's ideal for brunch, a weekend breakfast or for dinner.

HAM AND POTATO BREAKFAST CASSEROLE

- 1 package hash brown potatoes
- 1 1/2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese (6 ounces)
- 1 cup finely chopped fully cooked smoked ham
- 1/2 cup sliced green onions (with tops)
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon salt

- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- Dash of ground red pepper
- 5 eggs, beaten
- Paprika

Heat oven to 350°. Mix all ingredients except paprika in large bowl. Pour into ungreased rectangular baking dish, 12x7 1/2x2 inches; sprinkle with paprika. Bake uncovered until knife inserted in center comes out clean, 40 to 45 minutes. 6 servings.

High Altitude Directions (3500 to 6500 feet): Increase bake time to 55 minutes.

BRING HOME THE "REAL THING"

How do you know if the russet Burbank potato you're buying is genuine Idaho? Look for the "Grown in Idaho" seal, the logo with the state seal that guarantees you're bringing home true Idaho russet Burbanks.

DON'TS WHEN BUYING POTATOES

Don't buy potatoes that are soft and have cuts, cracks, bruises, discoloration and decay. Also, don't purchase spuds that are green because they have a bitter flavor and could be harmful if excessively green. If your potatoes have any green spots, pare them off before cooking.

WHAT TO AVOID WHEN SHOPPING FOR SPUDS

Avoid shriveled and badly sprouted potatoes. If your spuds have sprouted, cut off the sprouts before cooking.

Ham And Potato Breakfast Casserole is a custardlike baked dish made with tender potato strips.

Microwave Magic

Mushrooms: Non-Caloric Taste Treat

Mushrooms are available all year, but the peak supply seems to be the winter months. I have noticed that every vendor at the Winter Park Farmers Market has mushrooms at a most reasonable price. The produce counters at the leading grocery stores are stacked with 1/2 to 1 pound packages of this no calorie food stuff.

Choose firm, clean mushrooms and store no longer than 2-3 days. Do not wash before storing. Cover loosely with plastic wrap.

The size determines the use. Serve small mushrooms whole, slice the ones that are medium-sized, and stuff the extra large ones.

Wash the mushrooms in cool water. Do not soak or peel. Cut a thin slice from the stem. When preparing mushrooms in the microwave, choose ones of uniform size. Place 1/2 pound mushrooms in a 1-quart baking dish. Add 2 tablespoons butter. Microwave at 100% power for 3-4 minutes. Stir frequently. Do not salt or cover. Mushrooms will darken slightly and will be tender.

Mushrooms are a tasty side dish or an appetizer.

SHERRIED MUSHROOMS

- 1/4 cup chopped green onion
- 1/4 cup sherry
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 pound fresh mushrooms, cleaned and cut in half

Midge Mycoff

Home Economist
Seminole Community College

2 tablespoons butter
In 2-quart microwave safe dish combine onion, sherry, salt and pepper. Add the mushrooms. Stir to coat. Dot with butter. Microwave at 100% power for 3-7 minutes or until tender. Stir several times.

PICKLED MUSHROOMS

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 green pepper, cut into strips
- 1 clove of garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup wine vinegar
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 1/4 cup chopped stuffed olives
- 1 teaspoon parsley flakes
- 1/4 cup chopped stuffed olives
- 1 teaspoon parsley flakes
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 small bay leaf
Combine all ingredients in a 2-quart casserole. Cover. Microwave at 100% power for 5-7 minutes or until vegetables are fork tender but still crisp. Stir after half the time. Refrigerate for 8 hours. Drain before serving.

Mushroom sauce served over spaghetti or noodles is a change from the red sauce usually served.

MUSHROOM SAUCE

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
- 1 rib of celery, sliced thin
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon instant chicken bouillon
- 1 tablespoon sherry
- 1 1/2 cups half and half cream
- Dash of cayenne pepper

In a 2-quart casserole, combine vegetables, mushrooms, and butter. Cover. Microwave at 100% power for 5-7 minutes or until tender. Stir once.

Mix flour, seasonings, bouillon, and sherry. Blend in half and half. Microwave, uncovered, at 100% power for 9-10 minutes or until thickened and bubbly. Stir several times during cooking to prevent lumps.

Stuffed mushrooms are a favorite appetizer which can be quick when microwaving. I usually microwave them on the serving platter and blot up excess moisture with a paper towel.

CHEESE STUFFED MUSHROOMS

- 1/2 pound of large fresh mushrooms
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup seasoned bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 teaspoon parsley flakes
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- Dash of salt and pepper

Wash mushrooms; remove and chop stems. In microwave safe container, combine stems, onion and butter. Cover. Microwave at 100% power for 2 minutes. Stir in bread crumbs, cheese and seasonings. Mound in the mushroom caps. Arrange caps on microwave safe platter. Place the larger caps to the outside. Microwave at 100% power for 2-3 minutes or until heated through. Rotate the platter if your microwave does not have a carousel.

Registrations are now being accepted for the Tuesday night microwave class offered at SCC. The class begins Feb. 28, and it will be the last class until September.

Oranges Star In Oriental Favorites

No Chinese feast is complete without oranges and pork. With fresh Florida available nine months out of the year, it's easy to adapt many classic recipes such as Oriental Pork.

The following recipes are delicious any season:

HACKED CHICKEN

- 1 can (13 1/2 ounces) chicken broth
 - 2 pounds boneless, skinless chicken breast
 - 1/4 cup smooth peanut butter
 - 1/4 cup soy sauce
 - 3 tablespoons wine vinegar
 - 2 tablespoons sesame oil
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons Tabasco pepper sauce
 - 1 teaspoon sugar
- In a large skillet bring chicken broth to a boil; add chicken breasts and simmer 5 to 7 minutes on each side until chicken is no longer pink. Remove chicken; cool. Shred chicken. Reserve chicken broth. In a medium bowl stir together peanut butter, soy sauce, 1/4 cup chicken broth, vinegar, sesame oil, Tabasco sauce and sugar. Add chicken to sauce and toss to coat. Cover. Chill. Serve on a bed of cucumber slices or lettuce leaves.

ORIENTAL PORK

- 2 tablespoons finely chopped scallion
 - 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh ginger
 - 5 tablespoons soy sauce, divided
 - 1 teaspoon sugar
 - 1 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce, divided
 - 1 pork tenderloin (about 1 pound) cut into 1/4-inch slices
 - 2 oranges from Florida
 - 1/4 cup cornstarch
 - 1 cup plus 2 teaspoons peanut oil
 - 1/2 cup orange juice from Florida
 - 2 scallions, cut into 1/4-inch pieces.
- In a shallow dish combine finely chopped scallion, ginger, 3 tablespoons soy sauce, sugar and 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce. Add pork pieces and turn to coat. Cover. Refrigerate 3 hours or overnight. Score peel of one orange in quarter sections; remove peel. Remove all white membrane from peel; cut peel into long, thin strips. Peel second orange; section both oranges. Reserve sections and prepared orange peel. Coat pork pieces generously with cornstarch. In a large skillet, heat 1 cup peanut oil; fry pork 1 to 2 minutes on each side until crispy; remove with a slotted spoon to paper towels to drain. In a large saucepan, heat 2 teaspoons oil; stir-fry orange peel 1 1/2 minutes. Add orange juice, scallion pieces, remaining 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce. Bring to boiling; add pork pieces and toss to coat evenly with sauce.

ORANGE SESAME SEED COOKIES

- 2 1/4 cups self-rising flour
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 2 tablespoons sesame seeds
 - 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 - 1/2 cup orange juice from Florida
 - 1 tablespoon solid vegetable shortening
 - Oil for frying
 - Confectioners' sugar (optional)
- In a medium bowl stir together flour, sugar, sesame seeds and orange peel. Stir in orange juice and shortening; knead to form a soft dough. On a lightly floured board, roll out dough to 1/4-inch thickness with a lightly floured rolling pin. Cut dough into 3 1/2 x 1 1/2-inch rectangles. Make a lengthwise slit in the center of each and bring one end through center to make a twist. In a saucepan or deep-fat fryer, heat 2 inches of oil to 375°F. on a deep-fat frying thermometer. Fry twists until golden on both sides, turning once. Remove with a slotted spoon and let drain on paper towels.
