

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES F. STEWART

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Congresswoman Florence P. Kahn of California emphatically denies that she aspires to leadership of the wet bloc in the House of Representatives.

Maybe she doesn't, but there's such a thing as being drafted. Mrs. Kahn is being talked about for the job, anyway.

CONGRESSMAN John Philip Hill of Maryland is wet leader now, but Hill is figuring on breaking into the Senate.

Besides some of the wets have an idea there would be strategic advantages in having a woman as their standard bearer, assuming, of course, that she was a capable one, which there isn't any doubt about in Mrs. Kahn's case.

The popular impression is that women are dryer than men, on an average. A good many of them might be won over, with a woman leading the fight for dry law modification.

So the wets reason.

MRS. KHAN, by the way, reasons otherwise.

"On the prohibition question," she told me, "women, like men, differ with localities and groups, but I believe they average about alike, the country over."

CONGRESSMAN HILL certainly isn't jealous of the talk about Mrs. Kahn, as wet leader. Indeed, Mrs. Kahn says she thinks he started it "for a joke," as she puts it.

Mrs. Kahn's unduly modest. The wets aren't joking.

SPEAKING of "wets," Mrs. Kahn doesn't take kindly to the designation, "wet," as if she were a friend of the "demon rum."

"I'm for modification of the Volstead Act—for light wines and beer," she said to me, "in the interest of temperance—not to encourage drinking—to discourage it."

"I'm for an enforceable law."

IT never seemed to me that 2.75 per cent drinks would improve conditions the wets complain of. We have one-half of 1 per cent beer now.

It doesn't satisfy the bibulous and their efforts to find satisfaction elsewhere is what makes all the trouble. I don't believe they'd like 2.75 per cent much better, so how would it help anything? I put this question to Mrs. Kahn.

"PERHAPS 2.75 per cent is just a resture," she replied.

"I'm not well enough acquainted with alcoholic beverages to know exactly what percentage of alcohol would be the minimum—which is what it ought to be kept at—to make beer and light wines acceptable."

"But, personally, when I say beer and light wines, I mean real beer and real light wines, with a sufficient alcoholic content to make them so."

THE wets know they can't do anything in this Congress. They may even have to submit to having some things done to them.

But they do hope for gains in the next congressional elections.

If this hope is realized, even though the wets still lack a majority to modify the law, their succeeding drive will be terrific. On the other hand, if they lose ground, their demoralization will be very considerable.

HUSBAND ADMITS KILLING LOVER OF HIS YOUNG WIFE

Pearl Dorland, Sandusky, Mich., Man, Tells Officers That His Love for Pretty Mite Caused Him to Slay

SANDUSKY, Mich., Mar. 23.—The signed confession of Pearl Dorland, that he shot and killed Roy Lee, 19, during a party the night of March 6, has cleared up the mystery of the slaying and the death of Mrs. Pearl Dorland, who drank poison during the afternoon of the slaying.

Dorland made his confession yesterday, after more than two weeks of investigation in the deaths by local officers and state police.

Dorland said that it was his love for his wife, coupled with a few drinks of liquor, that caused him to kill Lee. He said his wife had left him and later returned to him, confessed that she had been intimate with Lee.

Mrs. Dorland obtained Lee's revolver, while the latter was sleeping in an automobile in front of the house where the party was being held. Dorland's confession said. She gave the weapon to her husband and he went to the automobile where the youth was sleeping and shot him.

"I'm glad it's over," Dorland sobbed, when he had finished his confession. "It's been on my mind for weeks and I couldn't stand it any longer. I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't been drunk. I wish I had a good drink now."

It was because of fear of questioning on the slaying of Lee that Dorland committed suicide, Dorland said, in his confession. It was supposed at first that Lee had committed suicide, but finding of his revolver some distance down the road from where he was shot, caused the investigation to be started, which resulted in Mrs. Dorland's committing suicide and Dorland's confession of the crime.

Dorland will be arraigned here today on a charge of murder, first degree.

Night Coughing Relieved At Once

Why suffer continually from a persistent, weakening night cough when you can get almost instant relief, usually break the cough completely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and treats irritation but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. As a result even the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children too—no harmful drugs. Very economical. The dose is only one teaspoonful. A few good nights' rest. Ask for

College Founder To Talk Before School Press Convention

LEXINGTON, Va., Mar. 23.—(AP)—Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee University, will deliver the opening address to high school and preparatory school delegates at the Southern Interscholastic Press convention here April 5 and 6.

Dr. Smith's address will be upon General Robert E. Lee, who in founding the Lee School of Journalism in 1883, took the first practical step toward inaugurating collegiate instruction in journalism.

He gave a series of press scholarships to southern typographical union members, assisting John I. Lafferty, a southern editor and newspaper owner, as superintendent of instruction.

Prominent southern editors will also address the convention and a median picture illustrating the editorial and mechanical processes incident to producing a New York newspaper will be shown.

Invitations to enter the convention were mailed to more than 600 high schools and preparatory schools in Southern states. The editors and faculty advisers meet at Washington and Lee University to discuss reporting, editing, and financing of high school papers and magazines.

Reserve Officers Invited To Attend First Annual Meet

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 23.—A call to all reserve officers in Florida to attend the first annual meeting of the Florida department of the Reserve Officers Association at Gainesville on Saturday, April 2, has been sent out from the office of the commanding officer of the 328th Infantry, Florida's reserve regiment of United States army.

In a letter to members of the reserve corps, Captain James H. Day, executive officer of the 328th Infantry and acting secretary of the Florida department, R. O. A., calls attention to the fact that every effort is being made to make this first meeting a success and the aid of all officers is solicited. The captain points out that the Reserve Officers Association is fast becoming a unit of power as a national organization and that it is receiving much attention from both Congress and the war department.

Other states have perfected strong departments of the association, according to the letter and have been able to exert much influence on national defense legislation.

Red Pepper Heat Quickest Relief For Rheumatism

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It cannot hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package. For Free Sample mail this advertisement to Whitehall Pharmaceutical Co., Inc., 638 Madison Avenue, New York, N. Y.

READ THESE TRUTHS ABOUT A "REAL FLORIDA" CITY

(A day-by-day story of a Florida community that we believe will show more comparative progress in the next five years than any other city in the state.)

THIS IS NO. 14 A Resume of Sanford Facts and Features

It is our desire to have you preserve the following data, which represents the sound foundation upon which Sanford bases its claim to the title, "The City Substantial."

Population—Doubled in 5 years. Florida's twelfth largest city. Now over 11,000.

Location—In the Solid Central Section of the State, on Lake Monroe, head of navigation on the St. Johns River. Midway between Jacksonville and Tampa.

Bank Deposits—January, 1925, $4,000,000; January, 1926, $6,500,000.

Schools—Five; high, grammar and three primary schools in Sanford section.

Churches—Five churches, of leading denominations.

Organizations—All important civic clubs and fraternal branches.

Transportation—Freight and passenger ocean steamers (lower freight rates and lessened effect of embargo). Through trains to all parts of the country. Bus lines with connections to all parts of the state.

Municipal Facilities—City budget ample to cover expenditures. Premiums paid on every bond issue. Forty-seven miles of paved streets. City-owned waterworks and gas plant to be augmented by $2,500,000 bond issue. Bulkheading 7 miles of lake-front and construction of lake boulevard. $400,000 for new municipal pier and municipal bonded warehouse.

Agriculture—$8,000,000 record celery crop now being harvested. Profitable citrus fruit and vegetable production. Plans consummated to make Sanford one of the greatest poultry sections in Florida.

Industries—Largest icing plant at original point of shipment in the world. Similar additional plant under construction. Division and repair shops Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. $12,000,000 electric generating plant of Florida Light and Power Co. being erected.

Hotels—New tourist hotel, three excellent commercial hotels and many smaller hotels and boarding houses, all at reasonable rates.

NOTE—A very important inclusion that cannot be treated in a statistical way, is the unusually progressive and cooperative spirit of Sanford's citizenship.

At Sanford are inexpensive homes and homesites, farms, acreage, business and industrial locations, forty-seven miles of paved streets, 18-hole golf course, fishing, hunting, water sports, etc.

Information, booklet and reprints of any or all of the advertisements in this series will be mailed upon request.

Sanford FLORIDA THE CITY SUBSTANTIAL

Sanford's Claim of Potential Values

Set forth in a series of fourteen statements in this newspaper, in which the story of Sanford, the City Substantial, is being told, and by which you will be shown that Sanford NOW has every advantage for a great city.

- 1—Sanford is the World's Greatest Celery Producing Center.
- 2—Sanford's Recreational and Pleasure Facilities.
- 3—The Hotel Forrest Lake, Sanford's Tourist headquarters.
- 4—The St. Johns River and Lake Monroe.

- 11—Real Estate Possibilities in Sanford.
- 12—Sanford's Moderate Cost of Living.
- 13—Business Necessities in Sanford.
- 14—Recapitulation of Facts and Statistics.

Come and See for Yourself

Why Sanford values are undated and why investments are strictly income earning and not speculative you'll see, for instance, an $8,000,000 record celery crop being harvested.

You'll see a city fronting on a magnificent lake of navigation on the St. Johns River afforded cheap transportation by all-water route to principal business centers; 140,000 municipal pier and bonded warehouse to be built.

You'll see a city on the main line (division headquarters) of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and on cross-state Dixie Highway midway between Jacksonville and Tampa. Pullman bus service to all parts of Florida.

You'll see, too, the new half-million-dollar Forrest Lake Tourist Hotel.

You'll see property values like those you are accustomed to up North and you will be convinced, as you have become that today, Sanford offers the same opportunity as St. Petersburg, Miami, Orlando and Daytona—started ten years ago.

MARKETS

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(A)—Pronounced reactionary price tendencies developed at the opening of today's stock market.

General Electric dropped 3 points to a new low record for the year at 310 1/2.

In addition of speculative disappointment over the 1925 report showing smaller earnings than the year before.

Sears, Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, American Can (new) and Coca-Cola. Initial losses of a point or more also were recorded by Dupont, American Locomotive and Central Leather preferred.

Selling assumed a huge proportion soon after the opening, with sharp breaks taking place in a number of the high-priced industrial specialties.

Bearish sentiment was created by reports of a slowing up in various lines of business and by the government's investigation of recent oil mergers.

There was strong resistance to the selling pressure. Chesapeake & Ohio was one of the issues to reflect strength. Dupont and General Electric each extended their early losses to six points by touching 205 and 190 1/2, respectively.

Sears, Roebuck, Woolworth and Savage Arms slumped 3 to 4 1/2 points and May Department Stores, Pressed Steel Car, Hudson Motors, Mack Truck and Case Thrashing Machine, were among the issues to sell off 2 or more points in the first outbreak of selling.

Foreign exchange opened irregular. French francs sagging 2 points to a new low record for the year at 3.48 1/2, or within 7 points of the lowest price ever established. Demand sterling held firm around $4.85 1/2. Norwegian kroner rallied 7 points.

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(A)—An abundance of selling orders swept down on the stock market today, carrying more than a score of issues off 3 to 15 points to new low records for the year.

The government's investigation of recent oil mergers, reports of a slackening in various industries and of wide spread collection automobile orders and the omission of the Pittsburgh Coal preferred, contributed to the bearish sentiment.

CHICAGO, Mar. 24.—(A)—Potatoes are rapidly becoming close rivals of wheat in regard to kaleidoscopic market conditions.

A report today from the government bureau of agricultural economics says that the potato situation has shifted again. Instead of expected lighter plantings in the south, it now appears that early potato acreage will be heavier than last year, and that instead of moderate supplies of new southern stock it looks as if there would be liberal quantities to meet shortage of old potatoes.

Furthermore, instead of potato prices continuing upward in the middle west, they have declined and a rise has occurred in the east.

Grand Opera Week Inaugurated In Daytona Beach With Much Success

DAYTONA BEACH, Mar. 24.—Greeted by the largest and most brilliant gathering of music lovers ever gathered in Daytona Beach auditorium and featured by definite announcement that grand opera will be sung in other Florida cities during the future winters.

Grand Opera Week was inaugurated Monday evening with the presentation of "Aida" by internationally known stars.

Among the famous patrons was John D. Rockefeller, who declared, "The production is indeed a marvelous one and a credit to the community in which I am privileged to live. It is my hope that its success will be repeated in other Florida cities."

The initial production will be followed by these operas: Tuesday "Rigoletto," Wednesday "Carmen," Thursday "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pgljari," Friday "Lucia," Saturday "Il Trovatore." In the manner in which "Aida" was produced, members of the audience contributed $1,500 with which to stage a free children's matinee at which selections from various operas will be sung Saturday afternoon.

Among the artists engaged for the series are: Carmela Ponsolle, Drebna, Oves, Florida Negri, Alice Kurkjian, Devora Nabeworney, Beatrice Over, Jeannette Anderson, Lita May, Luiga, Delk Molle, Almedo, Granbaffi, William Fischer, Antonio Nicolich, Max Toft, Ludovico Olivio, and Leonard Snyder.

"The opera movement inaugurated by the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce" said Frank Pierson, secretary, regard of their body was every angle that we hope it will be taken up in Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Palm Beach, Orlando, Tampa, St. Petersburg and other Florida cities. The success of no venture could possibly prove of greater value to Florida from either cultural or publicity standpoint.

In the quarrel in his office on Jan. 19 Marshall was alleged to have confessed, he choked her only to scare her, but went too far and she died. Frantic as to what to do, he decided to dismember her body and hide the parts.

On Sunday Mr. Henderson, assisted by Captain Hamilton, ex-pilot of the British Royal Air Force and a veteran contemporary of the famous Eddie Stinson, will stage an exhibition, following which passengers will be taken up for a nominal fee in modern, safe planes for a view of the city from the air, and a trip over the new Seminole race track at Longwood if desired.

Regular passenger flights from the local aviation field on the Sanford-Orlando road have been inaugurated by Mr. Henderson, who was a former air service instructor at Brooks Field, Texas, and according to reports many Sanford people are availing themselves of seeing the nearby country from the air.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—Well, a prohibition debate is getting to be so continuous in Congress, especially in the House of Representatives, that it's interfering with other business.

But tariff medicine's being considered, the debate degenerates into a pro-wet wrangle.

There's no excuse about this it's only necessary to turn to the March 6 Congressional Record, in which appears a protest of Congressmen John Q. Tilson, Republican of the lower house, and a long list of names, beginning the liquor question discussions wholly unrelated to the wet-and-dry thing, in Congress, as the prohibition doesn't seem to be which it's possible to do.

Wets—in principle or from questionable wet districts.

Those who don't care personally and are willing to vote as they think their districts want them to vote.

This third group probably outnumber the other two put together. Most of them believe the districts are predominantly dry, and they vote that way. They'd fight they thought their districts should.

The wets hope to show that their districts do. That's why they want to make prohibition clean-cut issue next November. The dries prefer not. Both positions are natural. The wets can lose and may gain. The dries can gain and might lose. The same country's still dry, but anybody can be mistaken.

Writing Norrises Are In Literary Popularity Race

BY THE NEA BOOK SURVEY
Through an amusing publishing coincidence, the writing Norrises—Kathleen and Charles—find themselves engaged in a literary adventure that has no precedent.

By this coincidence their latest novels were released upon the same day, and practically at the same hour. And now a very husbandly and wifely race for popularity is under way.

The two books are quite as different as the average husband and wife, for instance.

Kathleen's tale, "The Black Flemings" (Doubleday, Page), is quite as "sweet" as most of her very popular writings. The course of true love never is rough but that it quickly can be smoothed before the last page. The touch is soft and tender. The Flemings are a wealthy, social crew. But, ah, there is Gabrielle—so sweet and good and virtuous—who is caught by a poor relation. Fear not! Cinderella has never lingered in her corner; not since the day she was first written for the fairy tales. And, again, fear not! Kathleen's great array of readers will fairly devour this latest opus.

As for Charles, he has turned out a hard-boiled tale, "Big Iron" (Dutton's). This writing gent has a very genius for the short and peppy title, as witness, "Bread," "Salt" and the others. Here and there Samuel Smith ascending to industrial heights. He follows an ambitious dream, in which great hordes of men obey his slightest command. He is shown in New York in the early eighties. Then come years of stirring competition. In these chapters Norris has written a strong story and his character is typical and true.

At 60, Samuel is shown reflecting philosophically on the worthwhileness of his success and a brooding sense of failure hangs upon him. Norris, it seems to us, has done nothing quite so good since "Salt."

The latest report from Baker & Taylor, wholesalers, shows the six books in greatest demand are, in order:

"The Private Life of Helen of Troy" (Bobbs-Merrill), by John Erskine, a best seller that truly deserves its popularity, as amusing and civilized a bit of reading as the year has produced.

Fannie Hurst's "Appassionata" (Knopf); we told you so some weeks back.

Anita Loos' highly diverting "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" (Doubleday, Page) (Doran).

Phillips Gibbs' war-time novel, "The Unchanging Quest" (Doran).

Christopher Morley's fantasy,

In New York

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—Perhaps it is because I stopped to watch workmen building a "suicide fence" in Central Park.

You see, New York is rimming a lovely lake with ugly wire to prevent the despairing from ending their lives. Or such is the theory.

Anyway, the case of Peggy Clark keeps coming to mind. It's so typical of willful youth and impersonal New York.

Peggy came from Tennessee, Nashville, I believe. At 15, so Peggy believed, she was quite competent to decide life's problems for herself. So she married, though her parents thought her too young. Not long after there was a separation. Yes, her parents had been right. And that made it all the harder. Well, she could face the world. She was pretty. She could dance.

Peggy came to New York. Most of them do, it seems. A baby came to Peggy. She went on the stage to support the baby. She got into the chorus of a musical comedy stock outfit. The show went into Connecticut. The baby took sick. That made no difference to the show. Peggy had to go on and dance and sing. Then the baby died. Peggy broke down. Perhaps she might have pulled herself together to go back to work, but the show manager skipped out. The company was left stranded. All life seemed to go crashing about Peggy's ears. She was then 18.

Somehow she got together $3 and returned to New York. She was taken to a public hospital. There she took poison on New Year's eve. Two months passed before her identity was learned in Potter's field.

Now if Peggy had been just a little wiser, just a little more prepared for life.

If one could only wear all the Peggys to build themselves a strong, life-proof armor before they set out to conquer New York.

Which brings me back again to the grim "suicide fence" in Central Park.

Soon the ice will be melted upon the lake. Soon the buds will burst in the trees that hem its edge. Soon warm spring nights will call out the little army of moonlight paraders. Sweethearts will stroll up and down gold-dipped highways.

And the beauty will call out the despairing as well, if only to mock them. Their lots will seem all the more bitter because all about them is a beauty in which, they feel, they have no share.

In former springs they have watched, lonesomely the shadowy paraders. They have wandered to the lake's edge and watched their reflections shimmering in a moonlit circle.

The sense of being "out of it" overwhirls them. Suddenly comes the decision to be entirely "out of it." And the morgue book enters another suicide. It took many such to bring about the ugly wire fence.

LOOK at Sanford!—see it crowding and pushing its way southward along the Dixie. Imagine the prosperous and comfortable homes springing up along this busy thoroughfare. Sanford is growing southward—no one doubts it! That is why discriminating home builders have their eyes on Palm Terrace. Here is a community unusually high and rolling, offering beautiful sites for substantial homes.

Stately palms mark the well-kept parkways of Palm Terrace. Boulevards, curbing, broad sidewalks, water, gas, lights and everything that the home owner requires for convenience is included in the purchase price of a lot in Palm Terrace.

Ahead of us is the biggest market in residential property that Florida has ever seen. Thousands today are making ready to leave the northern states earlier than usual this fall in order to get established before the heavy tourist season begins.

The scramble for homes and for desirable building locations in Sanford will start much earlier than usual this year. By all means avail yourself of this opportunity to buy a site in Palm Terrace at the remarkably low prices now available and you will make money. #### GALLANTRY

When love has laughed and passed me by,
When wonderment has set me free,
I will not mourn for youth and cry,
For days that used to be!

When grim despair has touched my hand,
With fingers that are cold and white,
I still will try to understand
That dawn-time follows night!

I think that I will wear a dress
Of scarlet silk, and that my head
Will be so high that none will guess
My heart is dead.

And, oh my laughter will ring out,
When I shall have a cold and sore,
And I will gather folk about,
Whose faces glow.

My soul will glimpse, beyond the sky,
The gleaming gold of April weather,
When youth and love and life and I
We all together.

And I will thrill to murmured words,
To little words that once were spoken,
The spell to which the past belongs
Shall not be broken!

When love has laughed and passed away,
When wonderment has set me free,
My path will lead, through yesterday,
Toward all that is to be!

go a long way toward regulating the number and character of shows that come to Sanford. This generally has been overrun with tent shows this winter and many thousands of dollars have been carried off by the only as a result.

Misguided Efforts

Is Sunday a day to be observed according to individual judgment, or should individual conduct on this day be regulated by law? This long discussed question has been revived fiercely in the rather ridiculous attempt of the Lord's Day Alliance to paint Washington in a coat of blue thick enough to snuff out every conceivable form of harmless amusement.

Certainly rowdy ball parks and cheap shows and cabarets and such should be made to close their doors on the Sabbath, but here the attempt to regulate Sunday observance should cease. The idea of locking a man up for weeding his garden or nailing up a chicken roost, or otherwise putting around his home on Sunday is absurd, and any law calling for this medieval foolishness will never be tolerated by Americans.

Supporters of the Lankford bill designed to make Washington the model moral city of the nation should realize that the great majority of Americans still cherish their liberty and freedom above all other possessions. They justly cling to the belief that a citizen is privileged to observe the weekly day of rest in any manner that pleases him, provided his actions constitute no breach of law and order.

Any attempt to crowd people into churches by removing all open sources of Sunday recreation is destined to meet miserable failure, and rabid propagandists agitating for the passage of foolish Blue Laws would do well to divert their energy into more constructive channels. Far greater results would be obtained if advocates of such laws would attempt to lead, and not force people into churches.

Civil law will never bring men to God. Something stronger, something infinitely deeper and more powerful than jail sentences and fines is necessary to make Christians out of men.

With the world experiencing a woeful shortage of ministers of the Gospel, religious workers wasting their time attempting the passage of foolish legislation would be of much more practical value in the pulpit, preaching and living the doctrines of their creed.

Make It Longwood Tomorrow

Tomorrow an outdoor get-together entertainment is to be held at Longwood under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce of that progressive and wide-awake little city. Plans are such as to insure those attending the celebration a pleasant time, and everyone knows that whatever Longwood people undertake to do, they do well.

The Herald hopes that thousands of Seminole county people will be in Longwood tomorrow. One of the fastest growing points of Seminole county and populated by a far-sighted people, Longwood is in a position to teach many of us how to do things. That community has taken enormous strides in recent months, far beyond the growth expected by the most optimistic booster. Compared with what it was a year or two ago, Longwood is an entirely new town where the outlook for big developments and sensational growth is exceptionally bright.

Such get-together meetings as the Longwood people will hold tomorrow are good for all of us. They tend to make us better acquainted with our neighbors and make it possible for Seminole county people to work together more unitedly. Longwood should be crowded tomorrow with Sanford citizens who are interested in progressiveness.

Because there was a recess in buying Florida property, some people are declaring "the Florida bubble is about to burst." There has been no "Florida Bubble." The prosperity of that state, in addition to those things that other states possess, are climate and tropical fruit and truck. People who wish to go in surfing or bask in a warm sun from November to March have not been disappointed in Florida and are not disappointed. People who raise truck and oranges and grapefruit have not "gone broke." People who invested in real property at fair prices have seen no "set-back." These assets in Florida are permanent and will never be less valuable than now. Indeed, when the speculative fever subsides Florida will draw bigger dividends from its climate, and from its truck and fruits than ever. Some people attracted there by the glamor of getting rich quick will decide to prosper by growing truck and fruit.—Raleigh News and Observer.

All humor arises from an inward consciousness of our own want of merit, from a discontent which ever accompanies that envy which foolish vanity engenders.—Gotho.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

During the Republican National Convention of 1920 the leaders behind the scenes, fearing Senator Johnson's room at the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago on the night before the ticket was named, saw Johnson's secretary came to say that Colonel Roosevelt was on the telephone desiring to speak with him. Johnson took down the receiver and heard him say this, with pauses between words: "No-no-no-no-no-no-yes-no-no-yes." When Senator Johnson had hung up the receiver and returned to his seat, one of those present said: "Senator, I'm curious to know what the question from Colonel Roosevelt was which caused you to reply in the affirmative when all your other answers were such positive ones." Johnson's eyes twinkled. "That," he said, "was when the young man asked me if I could hear distinctly what he was saying."

HOW LANSING VIEWED THE WAR

MANUFACTURER'S RECORD

On July 29, 1917, Secretary Lansing of the State Department, in an address to 1700 members of the Officers' Reserve Corps in New York, said:

"If any of you have an idea that we are fighting other people's battles and not our own, the sooner you get rid of that idea the better it will be for you and for all."

Secretary Lansing stated that case fairly and squarely. The battles upon which we were entering were battles for our own salvation from Germany's domination. President Wilson, Secretary McAdoo, Secretary Lansing and many members of Congress fully realized the truth of this fact, but later on we were lulled into a false sense of security, being taught that the United States went to war not for its own safety, but to save the Allies. No false statement was ever made. We went to war wholly for the purpose of saving ourselves, and every honest investigator by that situation is compelled to realize it. But though we went to war and Germany was doing its utmost to destroy our world's respect or love.

As Brisbane Sees It

Let the State Decide. 14 Billion's Cheap. Socialism Defined. Science Counts. By ARTHUR BRISBANE copyright 1924 by Star Co.

MR. BUCKNER, United States attorney in New York, who knows about prohibition, its enforcement being his impossible job, talks sense to this effect:

Let each state decide for itself what drinks are to be sold within its territory. How much alcohol they may contain.

To let the different states make their own experiments, in accordance with the will of the majority might be sane. Each state is allowed to make its own laws for divorce, to regulate punishment for horse thieves and different ways of putting criminals to death. To let each state make its own prohibition law, subject to the eighteenth amendment forbidding intoxication might be wisdom.

THE BUREAU of industrial technology says it costs the United States fourteen billion a year to buy automobiles and keep them running.

That more than the amount lent Europe during the war and it is also a better investment than the war loan. From Europe for our ten billion we get criticism; the accusation of meanness.

From Europe for our fourteen billion we get national health, saving of time, much pleasure, millions of families united. At fourteen billion a year the automobile is a bargain.

If you haven't got yours yet, get it now, with the opening of spring.

We spend thousands on a fine bride path in a great park, supplying soft footing for the horses for the wedding. That's well.

But when the governor of New York suggests using public moneys to solve the housing problem for the poor, providing decent living quarters at reasonable rentals, that is a "rank socialism."

POLITENESS

FT LAUDERDALE NEWS

Are manners on the decline? This question is being asked on all sides today in nearly every section of our country. The answers vary. The hard shell optimist who resolutely refuses to see any flaw in our national habits and customs enters a hot denial. But a latter-day definition of an optimist is given, somewhat cynically, as a fool who is unfamiliar with the facts.

The main body of opinion on the question of manners and deportment is heavily on the other side. We have only to take note as we go our daily ways to see the truth of this. Manners are on the decline.

The "little humiliations" that "make up the small change of decent human relationship are going into the discard shortly but surely. The rule of the species still takes off his headgear to the female; it is true, and in a certain measure still accords her the time honored courtesy and consideration due to her sex, woman being potentially the mother of the race.

Religion is the greatest thing in the world, and it deals with the infinite. Science and education are important also.

AN UNPLEASANT story of slave labor comes from Alabama. The owner alleged to have made a profit of more than half a million dollars in 1925 by putting convicts to work in the mines as slaves, under conditions of dreadful cruelty.

Conditions are not as bad as they have been formerly, however, not as bad as when English laborers were branded with a red-hot iron on the cheek, if they sought work outside of their own parish, not as bad as when men, sent to the mines by Peter the Great lived and died, chained to their wheelbarrows.

a condition of organization, enlightenment and progress. This very shifting of the meaning of the word is typical of the altered attitude of man toward life, its meaning, purpose and conduct. It looks very much like the vanguard of the materialistic idea engaging the outposts of the old order one by one.

And yet the campaign for the observance of the amenities has never been so hotly waged as at this time. This in itself is an indication of the general decline of courtesy of which we speak. The need for some section has become so apparent that institutions, business offices, transportation vehicles and what not are plastered with signs drawing attention to the need for more courtesy on the part of all.

Perhaps these exhortations and pleadings have the desired effect. If so, well and good, they are to be encouraged. But the real field for the tillage is not in the adult realm but in the growing child. Manners instilled in youth become rooted as part and parcel of their nature when adolescence comes along. After this nothing can eradicate the seed.

But parents today, whether due to skepticism induced by the rush and tumble spirit of the times or to mere carelessness, are far too prone to let the whole thing go. Many of them feel that their offspring will be none the less fitted for the battle of life ahead of them if they go into the fray armed with a certain brusqueness of demeanor. Their children are in reality burdened with a great handicap, never at any time were so many individuals being "fired" for their jobs for nothing but discourtesy as at the present time. And the tragedy of this is that little good comes from such drastic measures. Those who have not had the benefits of early training in the matter of their bearing toward their fellow men find it hard to alter their natures in conformity to set requirements later in life.

The leopard cannot change his spots. They are born and bred in him. True courtesy partakes of the same order of things.

single notorious exception it is vain to inquire into the motives of women, but we have sometimes thought it not impossible that there may be extraneous reasons for this decline of years and arrangement of hair beyond which female highway robbers are forbidden to work. It may be, of course, that they have their regular unions and that to have bobbed hair and to appear at least not more than sixteen years old are indispensable qualifications for admission into their ranks; but what's the fascination of it all and how do they get that way?

It can't be the pay alone. Statistics seem to show that their average wage for a total of fifteen jobs is no more than a dollar and ninety cents, and a Chinese coolie makes more than that every six months. Perhaps, as in the case of a baseball umpire, the attraction lies in the hours which may be like his somewhere about two a day, but then what do they do with their spare time? The only solution we can think of is that this bandit is only a part-time job and that they're allowed to do outside work when business is not so good.

But even so our original question remains unanswered. We can not take our bandits or leave them alone according to our whim and we must derive what comfort we can from the thought that sooner or later we are bound to meet a specimen face to face, if that's the way one meets a bandit, and then we can get our information direct.

THE BOB-HAIRED BANDIT

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

Although properly the function of another department in this newspaper which goes on in society always interests us, and in this connection we rise here and now to ask why it is that these male bandits who through out social centers must always be bobbed as to the head and seldom if ever more than sixteen years old.

Mr. Robert Burton, the learned author of the Anatomy of Melancholy, among other recondite matters with which his volumes are filled notes the experience of a man who by the exercise of his peculiar art raised a demon who appeared before him in the guise of a handsome young man in Greek dress twenty-seven years old, and it may be that girl bandits, like demons, have to the outward eye an appropriate and invariable age.

Outside of books fiends in human or any other form are, we hope it is needless to say, foreign to our experience and so far, praise of an appropriate and invariable age, of handsome young men in Greek dress twenty-seven years old, and it may be that girl bandits, like demons, have to the outward eye an appropriate and invariable age.

SANFORD CLUB WOMEN LEAVE FOR CONVENTION AT JACKSONVILLE

A number of Sanford club women left Tuesday for Jacksonville where they will attend the thirty-second annual meeting of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, which will be held Mar. 23-26, with the Women's Club of Jacksonville as hostess to the delegates.

The delegates from the visiting clubs throughout the state, state officers, national officers and visiting club officials will be entertained at a number of luncheons, dinners, banquets and other entertainments. Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the General Federation, will be the guest of honor at these affairs.

A complete program cannot be announced at this time. Enough, however, is settled to insure a convention of unusual interest and great inspiration.

"THE WOMAN'S DAY"

Chatter, Chatter! A Brooklyn truckman takes to drink because his wife bobs her hair. That's what he tells the Judge. Yes, girls, they're still saying "it was the woman who gave it to me to eat. She tempted me. I suppose when he begins to steal and murder and commit arson he'll say, 'her permanent wave drove me wild!' And some judges let them get away with it and preach sermons about it!"

Speaking of bobs, in Japan a girl who puts the cold steel to her dome must fall prostrate before the seat of forgiveness and beg the evil spirits to flee from her. The Japanese dads have to hold their flapper daughters down, though, and pray for them!

This wise-crack comes forth from an erudite session of a convention of the American Medical Association: "Overfat people are that way because they eat to satisfy some secret dissatisfaction in their lives. Something is fundamentally wrong in their emotional lives."

That's probably why all fat people are so dependent and harassed and worried. You've noticed, of course, how much cheerier and Pollyanna-ish the skinny sisterhood is! And you are convinced, I know, that that smelly old grandmother of yours with the three laps and a passion for keeping the ginger cookies full for you had a raging secret sorrow in her life!

Out of the Kitchen
Women from 36 countries of the world meet in Paris in May for the International Woman Suffrage Alliance convention. Their present job is suffrage for women of all nations and colors. We in America who have had suffrage all of a little more than five years already have forgotten that it is not just taken for granted everywhere by this time! The very idea that every woman cannot have a vote!

The Style
Not only checkered careers will pass up and down spring's highway. Checkered coats will bump elbows with the checkered pasts. Blue and white, black and white, beige and brown, do the checking stuff in spring coat materials!

After the show
If the H. C. L. of the theater supper restaurant has got under your skin, why not bring the movie game home with you for a spread made on your own gas stove or chafin dish? A college giffy, idly known as a tinkum-dilly is ideal for such a blow-out, and is a pleasing variation of Welsh rabbit. To one quart of tomato soup add a chopped onion which has been cooked up in a tablespoon of butter. Boil and add a pound of cheese cut fine. Stir until all is melted, add paprika, tabasco sauce, two beaten eggs, and a pinch of salt. Serve on toasted salted cracker or plain crackers.

When You Play
If you have furnished your flat with the cut glass and silver collected from bridge parties you'll enjoy coming Raymond's "Whys of Auction Bridge." It not only says "don't do this and do that!" but it explains why!

Woman Gossip
Melba, the contralto, still is shy and afraid every-time she sings, in spite of her years on the concert stage. They tell the tale of her appearance before Queen Mary, the Princess Mary, Princess Maud, and other lights. Melba was so nervous she dropped her handkerchief. Worse, she got the sniffles, and

ADVENTURES A of the TWINS

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Yes, sir! It's in the air," he said. "I can smell it."

Mosey Mud Turtle opened his eyes at last.

All winter long he had kept them closed—down under the mud at the bottom of Ripple Creek.

Most of the time Ripple Creek had been covered with ice, but now the ice was gone and the water and mud felt warm.

So Mosey slowly moved out of the mud and crawled up on the bank. It was then that he lifted his top shell and stuck out his head—and opened his sleepy eyes.

Mosey sniffed.

"Yes, sir! It's in the air," he said. "I can smell it. Spring! I'll have to go and get scrubbed up so I'll look decent in the Land-Where-Spring-Is-Coming."

Slowly but surely he made his way toward the little secret bush

So he hopped on Mosey's hard back, and away lumbered the turtle again.

Pretty soon Mosey came to Mike Mole's house under the sugar maple tree.

"I may as well get Mikey, too!" said old Mosey.

So he rang Mike's doorbell, and pretty soon a voice called out sleepily. "Who's there?"

"Me!" said Mosey Mud Turtle. "I'm on my way to Scrub-Up Land to get spring-cleaned. I'll ride you over if you like."

"Oh, all right!" called Mike. "I never refuse a joy ride. Besides, I can't see so very well and I'll be sure to get there."

So he climbed on too.

The next place Mosey passed was the stone pile under which Chirk Chipmunk lived.

He rang Chirk's doorbell.

"Who's there and what do you want?" called Chirk by and by.

"It's me!" called Mosey. "Spring is nearly here and you'd better be getting around, hadn't you? I'm on my way to Scrub-Up Land."

"Is buckwheat ripe yet, and are the corn sprouts up?" asked Chirk.

"My gracious goodness, no!" exclaimed Mosey. "Neither are the flies nor mosquitoes nor skippers here yet. But they'll all come in good time. You'd better come along before the March Hare gets after you. He's putting black marks after everybody's name who doesn't go to get spring-cleaned and the Fairy Queen will find it out."

"I'm coming! I'm coming!" said Chirk hastily, for he didn't want a black mark. All the wood and meadow people liked the Fairy Queen. She was the best friend they had.

Out came Chirk, and he got on Mosey's back too.

Then Mosey gathered up Tommy Toad and Flop Field Mouse and about six others, and off he went to Scrub-Up Land by the path that turned off at the little secret bush.

There he met the March Hare and the Twins almost flying in their haste to get away and find out what was wrong. The burglar alarm over Rubadub's wash-tub had been ringing like everything.

"Oh, so you're the burglar!" cried Nick as they all stopped.

"Yes, I'm the burglar," grinned Mosey. "I think I look more like a bus, though, don't you?"

Heavy Track Cause Of Slow Marks On Tuesday Race Card

Feature Event Goes To Casanova With Grace Mayers Taking Next Best Race

Sanford Purse Is Chief Race Today

Overlook, Mac O'Boy And Brownie Smile Rule as Favorites

TODAY'S SELECTIONS
First Race—Cottager, Conscript, See It Through.
Second—In The Bag, Dora Lutz, Paulina M.
Third—Kendall, Brown Rock, Aristotle.
Fourth—Berkeley Square, Roheek, Ananias.
Fifth—Mac O'Boy, Overlook, Brownie Smile.
Sixth—Shanghai, Thor, Gailford.
Seventh—Geel, Gold Mark, Admirer.

The heavy track at Seminole yesterday afternoon resulted in some very slow marks being chalked up, but the day was considered a success by those who came out to the course over the muddy roads and who stuck through the afternoon to watch Casanova outstep the Hedderman entry of Green Woods and Sandia in the feature event of the day, the Orange and Black Hotel purse.

The next best race of the program came in the seventh when Grace Mayers, who was due for a win, caught Brownie Smile in the final strides and took the mile and one sixteenth event.

Silk Sox, the heavily backed favorite in the sixth race, at one mile broke well, moved up to a good lead and came in under wraps with two lengths of daylight showing between her and Royal Alrman, a long shot who ran in second place throughout the going.

Mentals, another favorite, took the third event after being outrun during the early stages. See It Through and Ready managed to beat out Marble for the show money.

Fasciste, with Walker up, captured the fourth, after some of the most spectacular riding seen so far at the track. Walker was shunted back at the start and his mount was almost left at the post. His proper rating, Fasciste responded nobly and thundered down the stretch and under the wire a neck in front of B. D. Murphy.

On today's program is the Sanford Purse, a mile claiming event for three years olds and up, with $1,000 at stake. The race is fifth on the day's program and brings some of the best horses now quartered at the track before the public's eyes for the second time. The heat between Brownie Smile, Overlook and Mac O'Boy, with the latter having the edge.

In the first race today Conscript, Oil Lady and Jim Dalgard are to fight it out with See It Through and Cottager. The latter should be in the money, along with Conscript and See It Through.

In The Bag should take the second with plenty of space although Paulina M. is figured to be up there and running. Dora Lutz stands a good chance for some of the money.

Foxmore, Brown Rock and Kendall are the best in the third with Viking, a winner in his only start here, making a good pace.

Ananias, Berkeley Square and Merry are favored to run well in the fourth. Berkeley Square was heavily played on Monday but failed to get up in time to pay his backers.

Gail Ford, who ran a miserable last yesterday, is down in the sixth against Shanghai. Along with Zole, these two should furnish the fastest going with Moonbrook given an outside chance.

The seventh is expected to be run out between Sward and Geel, with Admirer a close third.

COLLEGE HATTER

BY ART CARLSON
TWO JOBS OPEN
SEVENTY-FIVE baseball candidates turned out at Fordham recently. Not many had 172.

But—Fordham has seven regulars back, virtually a veteran outlay. The big fight is for the two vacant berths. Hence, it appears, there's plenty of diamond spirit floating around Fordham's campus.

HENRY HARRIS, Wisconsin basketball captain, turned in his suit in midseason. He couldn't hold his job. He then went out for the crew. All of which recalls the case of Howard Birks, Michigan cage leader a few years ago. Like Harris, Birks found the traveling too fast. Unlike Harris, Birks stayed on the bench. When a captain falls to land a regular place, put it down the competition is unusually keen.

REMEMBER—"Slicker" Parks, Michigan's famous pitcher of six or seven years back? Parks was virtually invincible in school. Took a fling at big time with Detroit. But it was too big a jump. Others have found the same thing. "Slicker's" successor, they used to call Parks at Michigan. They were a bit off the line.

DAN MEEHAN captained Columbia's basketball team in 1914. Mayhap you remember Dan. Columbia tied Cornell for eastern intercollegiate honors that year. Two was Columbia's last winner up to this season. Now it boasts one of the best quintets in the country. Oddly enough, Dan Meehan is the present Columbia coach. It's his first season at the helm—and Columbia's greatest since the same Meehan led the Blue and White a dozen years back.

INTRODUCING—Johnny Stuart, former grid star at Ohio State. Luckey rooters recall that October afternoon in 1921 when Stuart picked up a loose ball to whip Michigan. It was smart thinking. Stuart's playing pro baseball now. With the St. Louis Cardinals and Syracuse. He's a pitcher.

AT Michigan State is Fred Alderman. Alderman won the future dash in the Big Ten meet at Columbus last June. He set a new record. But it wasn't allowed. In the recent Illinois relay Alderman tied the record for 300 yards. He's only a junior. So you'll hear more from him.

ILLINOIS basketball hopes received a terrific jolt during the last two weeks of the Western Conference chase. With but three games to play, the Champaigners were leading the procession. Two were home tilts. The team looked quite secure in first place. But it wasn't. It finished with three defeats. The Illinois tumble was emphatic. Showing you can't overlook the final drive even long enough to take a deep and much-needed breath.

Jockeys' Request for Licenses Are Held Up

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(AP)—Close upon the banishment of four jockeys by the racing authorities of Kentucky, comes announcement from the Jockey Club, which controls New York state tracks, that L. Mark Fator and Clarence Krummer are under cloud of some sort. Requests for their licenses have been laid on the table, equivalent, in many instances, to denial.

Fator's situation is apparent for he was ruled off the Empire City course last October after a questionable ride on Siren. But racing followers are unable to explain the attack toward Krummer.

Krummer is under contract to J. F. and W. M. Byers, of Pittsburgh, while Fator performs for the Hancoccs stable.

Much has been written of late about the ideal American. . . . The ideal American, from the standpoint of Mr. O'Goofy, is a bird who will let you have a smacker until next Monday without asking too many questions.

Major League Managers Commence Task Of Cutting Squads Down For Opening

By The Associated Press
Big league managers now are busy hitting on ivory, cutting their squads to early season strength by giving a number of recruits their tickets to the minors.

The Athletics have farmed Brame and Wright, pitcher and infielder, to the Reading International. Bucky Harris seemingly has decided to retain only Kelly, Thomas and Morrel to augment his veteran pitching staff.

Brooklyn will trade two players for an American Association practice game. Red Sox batters tried their stuff on their own best pitchers at New Orleans.

Amateurs To Begin Second Round Of Augustine Tourney

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Mar. 24.—(AP)—This ancient city saw the second round of the match play for the golf championship played today. Some of the country's best golfers survived the qualifying rounds and were played with several "dark horses" in the championship flight.

In the upper half, Frank Thompson, Toronto, Ontario, former Canadian amateur champion and medalist yesterday, was paired with Roy Culvert, Port Jervis, N. Y., while in the lower half Harry Evans, St. Augustine, yesterday's runner up, played with George Yearby, Narragansett, R. I.

George P. James, Washington, versus H. C. Dodge, Boston. In the lower bracket, other pairings were: Joe Craig, Jacksonville versus Van Culer, Port Jervis; J. L. Anderson, Cherry Valley, N. Y., a handicap six men of the Metropolitan open golf championship, versus J. Boland, New York; Roy Hamilton, Fox Hills, N. Y., versus W. C. Butler, Chicago.

World's Champion Horse Shoe Pitcher To Perform At Legion Hut Thursday

The Sanford Tourist Club is to have the world's champion horse shoe pitcher, it was learned today from a telegram sent to C. W. Brown, president of the Club.

Orren Puttman Mossman, better known as "Put", will leave the East Coast of Florida to come to Sanford, to give his famous demonstration of what skill of eye and hand will do in the gentle game of horse shoe pitching. The exhibition is scheduled for this Thursday at 2 o'clock, at the American Legion grounds.

Put Mossman is an attractive lad of 19 years. In his teens, he has become a champion in a large field of competitor throughout the nation. He has brought to the limelight and glorified the once belittled backyard game of horse shoe pitching. This year "Put" states there is strong evidence of increasing interest in this game.

"Put" is by no means the originator or pioneer in horse shoe pitching. Long before young Mossman became famous, contests in this game were staged at many county fairs and church picnics. His success has been a matter of constant practice since he was knee-high. In the last three or four years, however, he has successfully met the greatest shoe

LEADERS Their Records 1925

Bill Shergel Made major league debut with St. Louis Cardinals in 1918, coming from Milwaukee. Had best season in 1925. Won 15, lost six, percentage .714. Led league in win and lost column.

Rated sixth in effectiveness, allowing 3.11 earned runs per frame. Issued but 42 passes in 92 games. Pretty good for a southpaw. In 1922 won 17 and lost 13. Next season had 15 wins, 13 defeats. Fitted better ball last season than at any other time and is figured one of the Cards' best bets for the coming campaign.

Bobby Cruikshank Leads The Field In West Coast Meet

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 24.—Bobby Cruikshank of Chicago, unattached professional, went into the second 36-hole play of the qualifying round of the West Coast Open Golf Tournament, a leader today by virtue of his low card of 140 yesterday, but the gallery was most concerned over the figurative contest between Bobby Jones, national amateur champion, and Walter Hagen, national professional titleholder.

Jones played what golfers considered the best golf in the tournament yesterday. He turned in a card of 144, despite a bad start, which netted him a count of six on both the first and third holes. Hagen was only one stroke above the youthful amateur champion, but he did not equal Jones' feat of six birdies for the day's play.

At Espinosa of Chicago, started in second place yesterday, his card yesterday being 142, while Tony Armour, Sarasota, who won the winter professional tournament at St. Augustine last week, teed off on a parity with Jones, which he won yesterday.

Clear and warm weather today displaced Chicago's clouds and rain which hampered the players greatly.

Fans And Promoter Armory Fight Card Disappointment To

What promised to be the best fight card of the year turned out to be the biggest flop, when last night at the Armory when Promoter Henry Godale announced that Jack Dempsey and Young Lewis had run out of their matches with Young Wallace and Al Irving and had failed to appear in Orlando to post their forfeits.

Godale arranged an eight round bout between Joe Wallace and Billy Murphy, in which the latter hit Wallace with everything but the rafters. Those he could not reach, Wallace was game and kept coming up for more in each round. He scored some good points against Murphy and had the latter's right eye closed, before the final round.

Murphy was scrapping under a severe handicap. A cold on his lungs kept him from giving his best, although the crowd enjoyed his clown antics in the ring and also his fighting action.

In the main bout, Godale brought Joe Daly up against Young Wallace and the former lasted for three rounds. Wallace knocked him cold in the third after Daly had hit the canvas once for the count of 9.

champion, will seek to regain the crown which she held in 1924. She will meet formidable opposition in Miss Helen Payson of Portland, Me., who conquered her a few days ago in the Belleair, Fla., championships.

Another prominent golfer, Miss Bernice Wall, Wisconsin women's champion, will be 22 entrant, while Miss Marion Bennett, New Britain, Conn., last year's runner-up, also will play.

"Lost" Cities Of West Rapidly Decaying As Old Gold Prospector Passes

Mar. 24.—(P)—The "lost" cities of the West are passing. Hardly a year goes by but word comes from some remote spot that a rotting cabin in the mountains has been found. The cities of Colorado and the mining camps of the West, many of them, are passing. Once well worn streets are overgrown, and pack-rat buildings are left to rot. Doors are creaking in the breeze or grunting in the mountain gale, sunshine pours alike through gaps in the roofs and the skeletons are outlined through the openings by storms.

"Ghost cities," is aptly the direct way of referring to the old camps. Crested Mountain and Crazy Horse are all named in honor of obvious reasons. In the southern part of Colorado is even a Cannibal place because a guide once charged parties of tourists high rates and then the graves of his victims may be seen.

Memories of the bonanza mines are still fresh in the minds of the old prospectors and Colorado is now a new kind of mining camp. It is perhaps the most interesting example of the change. A few years ago it boasted a population of 12,000. Today there are only 500 persons there. The place has fallen from a city to a sleepy, though interesting village.

Grant and his daughter lived in Central City and the old Teller House, a fine building, is one of the old buildings in the town that still keep up an air of prosperity. A few travelers stop there and the mining men make it their headquarters.

Saloon signs hang over the windows and are legible. In one place the proprietors are eager to remove a grand old building that has settled with the dust. Bars are covered with years of dust.

At West, near Central City, the mine has been opened, a few workmen but vacant houses are on row. The two-story boom which for years was the center of the town's interest.

Without inhabitants except for one or two old prospectors who still dream that the boom days will return. Nevada has two towns left: American City about the same number. A person can wander through Owl, Tincup, Mound City and Aultman for days at a time without seeing a face.

Nevada had the first Masonic lodge charter in Colorado and the third in Kansas territory, which then embraced this state. The lodge still exists and then travel by burro, in automobiles or at long distances to attend regular meetings. Aultman was called the highest town in the world, although it lost the title to several places in the Chilean Andes.

Others Exist

Gunnison, Colo., on the western slope, started as a mining town. It has become the center of a ranch and livestock region. Olay, the most famous gold camp in the San Juan district in southwestern Colorado, is still existent but only as a country town. Tom Walsh discovered the Camp Bird mine outside Olay and sold it to British interests for millions of dollars. The late Senator Samuel D. Wickson, rose to wealth in the San Juan district by ownership of the Olay and Olay properties. Silverton, Telluride and Lake City were other leaders in the district which once attracted a population of more than twenty-five thousand.

The towns once spelled romance in capital letters to a large part of the nation. They were built with infinite labor and money, the materials often being hauled for miles over treacherous mountain trails. Most of them were too inaccessible to make razing of the buildings and shipping the lumber out practical. So they are left to rot.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 24

If so, you'll never wait a second knock by Opportunity. You are the "go getter" type, eager always to outwit your competitors in any and all fields. ## Here's A Man Who Never Spent A Dull Moment in Asheville

HE WAS born in Indianapolis, but he is best known in the South. He has entered with a will into great business developments. One far-Southern city in particular, one now famous throughout the nation, has been the scene of his operations.

He Is Coming to Asheville to Live

The reason is this. He has visited Asheville in all seasons. He has never found a time when the climate wasn't delightful. He says he has never spent a dull moment. Always cool in summer, far enough South to be mild in winter and protected from extremes by her encircling mountains, Asheville's climate has made it the all-year-round resort.

But Asheville's claim does not rest on climate alone for it has great natural beauty of surroundings as well. Her visitors find the great mountain peaks a source of unending delight to the eye. Towering grandly toward the sky, playground for sunshine and shadows, a background of ever-changing colors, now green, now blue, now emerald by the evening, as changing and mysterious as the sea.

Winding through those mountains are hundreds of miles of fishing streams, now tumbling over the rocks in graceful cascades, now widening into a crystal pool where the trout lurk. There are mountain lakes that afford swimming and other water sports.

Asheville now has four golf courses, among them two of the finest in the country where the game can be played twelve months in the year.

There are a thousand miles of motor road in the immediate vicinity, all of it well graded, most of it hard surfaced. There are many motor trips of interest: to Mount Mitchell, the highest point in the East, to Mount Pisgah, to Chimney Rock, to the National Forests, or to the beautiful scenery of the Great Smoky Mountains.

You will find plenty to do in Asheville. Come for a visit and see.

You know that Asheville's hotels are famous, comprising some of the most unique and luxurious in America in addition to several which offer quieter quarters.

Stop at Asheville on your way home. If you plan to come by motor you will find good roads all the way and we will gladly furnish maps and folders or any specific information you may desire. If you come by train, you can get a through Pullman via the Southern Railway.

Millions Of Tons Of Coal
Consumed In 67 Year Fire
Raging Far Below Earth

SUMMIT HILL, Pa., Mar. 24.—(P)—Anthracite strikes may come and go but, like Tennyson's brook, the Summit Hill mine fire apparently goes on forever.

It has been burning for sixty-seven years, ever since February, 1859, and is the most destructive, expensive and famous mine fire in the history of mining in the United States.

The area involved is about one mile long and 1,500 feet wide. More than $3,000,000 have been expended in fighting the fire. The top, which seemed to isolate it for many years. Eventually the fire "king" of mine fires can only be guessed, but estimates run as high as $14,000,000.

The coal area embracing the scene of the fire is owned by the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company, founded in 1820. Summit Hill lies in the Panther Creek Valley in what is known as the Schuylkill or Lower coal field of the anthracite regions.

In the years since the fire first was discovered, many stories have been told of its origin. But the true story, vouched for by the company, is that it was started through hot coals being mixed with ash.

An empty car was standing near and he shoveled the ashes and he sent the simple tools of the civilized people. But they learn quickly to the three Rs we teach the boys, carpentry, the manual arts.

When they started to do it they found the fire well under way. The hot coals, mixed with the ash, having ignited the wooden car and the fire having spread to the ground. As it was an old worked-out gangway the fire spread rapidly to the loose coal.

There was little, if any, expense then in fighting mine fires. The only method employed was to flood the place. This was done by pumping the water out it was found that the fire had gained a considerable headway and should be extinguished that water was of little use.

Broadway Producer Attributes The
Vogue Of Sex Plays To City Visitors

DETROIT, Mar. 24.—(P)—Certain kinds of visitors from interior cities and towns are responsible for the vogue of sex plays around play meales," Miss Bonstelle said.

New York is splashed with sex "Dark Hours" it is called, and it plays that have biblical foundations on Broadway, in the opinion of Jessie Bonstelle, producer of several New York successes and now operating her own theatre here.

"It is an epidemic that will pass. Such things perish themselves, of their own rapidity. Your New Yorker is no more unhealthy in his tastes for drama than anyone else. He enjoys clean plays and patronizes them. The travelling public, the man in New York for a good time, keeps these sex things going. He wants to see 'naughty' plays. He neglects the clean shows. The 'good' plays, he reasons, will come to his home town and he will see them there because they are the kind he can attend with his wife and daughter."

A play has no chance of New York productions, Miss Bonstelle holds, unless it carries across its

WHAT would you say of a man who owned a gold mine but hadn't the gumption to get out the gold. He's not rich either. He's working for a salary or wages just as you are. And what's more, he could make good use of some extra money if he knew of a way to get it—just as YOU probably could use some extra money. Yet, here's the man with a gold mine, and he doesn't even bother to get the gold out. But don't be too hard on him because you also have a gold mine and maybe you're not working your mine either! Your idle dollars are the gold mine. Now a gold mine has to be WORKED to get the gold out. And it's the same with your savings. If you WORK them they will produce money for you. The way to work your savings is to INVEST them. For instance: if you invest $1,000.00 in our Preferred-Stock you will be entitled to receive a dividend of $17.50 every three months from this Company.

Winfield, Texas—My back hurt night and day," says Mrs. C. E.
Eason, of R. F. D. 1, this place.
ached and ached until I could hardly go. I felt weak and did not like doing anything. My work was a great burden to me. I just had to do up the dishes, even. I was no-account and extremely nervous.
"My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do good, so she told me to take it.
My husband got me a bottle and began on it. I began to improve once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby birth.
"I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me.
It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better.
"I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers, for me it was a wonderful help. In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine.
Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs.

Agricultural Notes

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Mar. 20.—(P)—Experiments in nutrition are to be conducted at the Experiment Station here by the aid of Norwegian white rats and some baby chickens. The work will be in charge of Dr. Ouida Davis Abbott, head of the home economics department, assisted by Miss Georgia Davis, assistant in home economics investigations.

Poisoned bait has been recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture as beneficial in tobacco raising. The bait, made of 50 pounds wheat bran or shorts, 1 pound of Paris green and water to moisten, is an excellent preventive against cutworms in keeping a cover crop on the land until shortly before setting time. Warning was also sent out that the battle be carried on against the worm, especially after mild winters.

Dip young citrus trees with a good contact insecticide to prevent aphids, J. R. Watson, entomologist for the Experiment Station, says. The trees can be beat over and immersed in a bucket containing a solution of soap and nicotine sulphate, at the rate of about one half ounce of soap to a gallon of water, and a teaspoonful of Blackleaf 40, or a teaspoonful of derris. The aphids, it was stated, are increasing over the state, and are harmful to the citrus crops.

Shelled corn, fish meal, alfalfa and cottonseed meal, meat meal with additions of dried buttermilk and skim milk were found to be effective as feed for hogs. They were used in separate quantities and gains noted in most instances. Shelled corn and sorts, fed along, and then with fish meal, also produced weight, John M. Scott, animal industrialist at the Agricultural Experiment Station, found in experiments.

M. H. Ensign, extension entomologist, warns cotton farmers not to forget what experiment station workers have told them about battling the boll weevil. In six "commandments," the entomologist tells the cotton producers to provide first for food and feed, and then plant cotton; to plant only good seed of tried varieties, with at least one bushel per acre; use only rich, well prepared land and high-grade fertilizer, of the 8-5-5 type; dust and mop with poison mixtures when the squares are about the size of peas and if squares are punctured by about July 1, apply the poison every 4 or 5 days.

Preserve the wild flowers and shrubbery of the woods, urges "Spruce" Johnson, in his Rural Common Sense. People should not mar the growth by digging up shrubs and flowering plants, destroying their beauty and preventing the future production of flowers, dogwood, redbud and Jessamine are particularly the "victims," he adds.

New York Man Now Faces Death Penalty For Slaying Woman

NEW YORK, March 24.—(P)—Harry W. Cowan, 37-year-old hotel clerk and absconder, blind from a self-inflicted bullet wound, today faces death in the electric chair for the murder of Edith Burton, 27, last December. He was convicted in the first degree by a jury last night, after five hours' deliberation. Monday he will be sentenced to death. The only penalty for first degree murder provided by New York statutes is death.

The jury found Cowan had shot Miss Burton because she planned to break her friendship with him to marry former State Senator Arthur B. Lewis of Utah. Cowan maintained that Miss Burton killed herself as a result of a suicide pact with him. Cowan, who was estranged from his wife, fired a bullet into his head shortly after Miss Burton's death. He succeeded only in destroying his sight.

Spaniard Easily Wins Over English Heavy

PARIS, Mar. 24.—(P)—The heart of Harry Drake, English heavyweight boxer, was the subject of jocular comment today. Henri Bernheim, noted referee, declined to officiate at a fight between Drake and Paulini Uacudin, the "Tiger of the Pyrenees," on the ground that the Englishman had a bad heart and might be killed. Some who saw the fight last night said Drake had no heart at all. In the Cirque d'Paris, the Spaniard polished off the Englishman in one minute and 25 seconds of fighting.

Dry Referendum Is Lost in New York

ALBANY, N. Y., March 24.—(P)—Advocates of a state referendum on the question of asking Congress to modify the Volstead Act claim they can muster enough votes in the lower branch of the legislature to turn a defeat of yesterday into a victory. A referendum proposal yesterday was supported by 49 Democrats and 14 Republicans, three short of the 76 necessary.

RESOLUTION NO. 17. A RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE PAVING, RE-PAVING, HARD SURFACING AND RE-HARD SURFACING OF ORIENTA AVENUE FROM ALTAMONTE AVENUE TO SOUTH ALTAMONTE AVENUE, A WIDTH OF SIXTEEN FEET.

Whereas, the Town Council of the Town of Altamonte Springs, Florida, deems it advisable to improve, grade, construct, re-construct, pave and re-pave, to a width of sixteen feet with surface treated macadam the following Avenue in the Town of Altamonte Springs, Florida, to-wit:

ORIENTA AVENUE, from Altamonte Avenue to South Altamonte Avenue.

All of said improving, grading, construction, re-construction, paving and re-paving to be done in compliance with plans, specifications, profiles and estimates of said proposed improvement of Orienta Avenue from Altamonte Avenue to South Altamonte Avenue, now on file in the office of the Town Clerk of the Town of Altamonte Springs, Florida, which said plans, specifications, profiles and estimates have been heretofore approved by the Town Council and constitute the plans and specifications for said work, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that the Town Council of the Town of Altamonte Springs, Florida, deems it advisable, as a necessary public improvement, to pave, re-pave, hard surface and re-hard surface with surface treated macadam Orienta Avenue from Altamonte Avenue to South Altamonte Avenue a width of 16 feet; that all of said paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing of Orienta Avenue, as aforesaid, shall be done in strict compliance with the plans, specifications, profiles and estimates therefor, now on file in the office of the Town Clerk of the Town of Altamonte Springs, Florida, which said plans, specifications, profiles and estimates have been heretofore approved by the Town Council and constitute the plans and specifications for said proposed improvement of Orienta Avenue between Altamonte Avenue and South Altamonte Avenue, a width of 16 feet, and this Council hereby declares the necessity of the paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing of said portion of Orienta Avenue, as aforesaid, as a necessary public improvement.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a total expenditure not exceeding Eleven Thousand Two Hundred Twenty-eight and 36/100 ($11,228.36) Dollars, is hereby authorized to cover the cost of paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing Orienta Avenue, between Altamonte Avenue and South Altamonte Avenue, a width of 16 feet, which said sum of Eleven Thousand Two Hundred Twenty-eight and 36/100 ($11,228.36) Dollars, is the total estimated cost of said improvement; that the entire cost of the improvement aforesaid, shall be assessed against all property abutting and fronting upon that portion of Orienta Avenue between Altamonte Avenue and South Altamonte Avenue, to be so improved by the paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing of said portion of Orienta Avenue a width of 16 feet, and against all lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon said improvement; that Eleven Thousand Two Hundred Twenty-eight and 36/100 ($11,228.36) Dollars is the total estimated cost of said contemplated improvement in the paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing of said portion of Orienta Avenue, to be specially assessed against all lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon such improvement; the sum of $1,77664 is the estimated cost per front foot for said improvement.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That it is the determination of this Council that all lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon Orienta Avenue between Altamonte Avenue and South Altamonte Avenue, will be benefited by the improvement provided for by this resolution, and that the special assessments to be made and entered against all lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon such contemplated improvement shall be made upon a foot frontage basis; that is to say, that in the preparation of the special assessment roll covering the contemplated improvement, such special assessments shall be determined and prorated according to the foot frontage of the respective properties specially benefited by said improvement.

of industry, commerce and labor, over the question whether leases acquired prior to 1917 shall be changed into 50-year concessions under conditions which the Mexican government may prescribe. Thus far they have declined to accept the government's provisions and negotiations are at a deadlock. It is considered probable that the dispute will be referred to President Calles.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Tax Assessor and the Town Clerk of the Town of Altamonte Springs, Florida, in accordance with the provisions of Sections Six and Seven, Chapter 2368, Laws of Florida, 1923, shall proceed without delay to make a special assessment roll, assessing the special benefits to be received as the result of the improvement contemplated against all lots and lands adjoining and contiguous or bounding and abutting upon such improvement, and upon the completion of said assessment roll to cause a copy thereof to be published two times consecutively, once each week, in a newspaper published in Sanford, Seminole County, Florida, attaching to said special assessment roll so published a notice directed to all property owners interested in said special assessments, stating in accordance with the provisions of law in such case made and provided, a definite time and place where complaints will be heard and when said special assessment roll will be finally confirmed by the Town Council sitting as an Equalizing Board.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the special assessments provided for by this resolution to be made and entered against property bounding and abutting upon said improvement shall be payable at the option of the property owners owning property bounding and abutting upon such improvement as follows: either in full within thirty days after said assessments shall stand equalized, approved and confirmed, or in ten equal annual installments with interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum upon all deferred payments from and after the time the said special assessments shall be and stand finally equalized, approved and confirmed, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this resolution shall be and become effective immediately from and after its passage and adoption. Adopted this 15 day of March A. D. 1926.
