

VIEWS WIDELY DIVERGENT ON FOUR POWER TREATY CAUSING SOME CONCERN

Constitutes the Unfinished Business of the Arms Conference HARDING'S STAND

CHARACTERIZED THE DIFFERENCE INTERPRETING THE PAST AS UNIMPORTANT

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Conference delegates hoped to conclude at today's session of full naval committee their discussion of British proposal for abolition of submarine and with decision on that issue to clear the way for consideration of the question of auxiliary tonnage allotment for France under limitation plan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The submarine problem and the new four-power treaty, the one constituting the unfinished business of the arms conference and the other attracting increasing interest because of the difference in view between President Harding and the American delegation, last night divided the attentions of the plenipotentiaries of the powers assembled in Washington.

New prominence was given the treaty discussions during the day by a public statement by the president, characterizing the differences over interpretation of the past as "unimportant" and declaring the American delegates had the "full confidence" of the White House.

Mr. Harding added that the treaty contemplated no "alliance of entanglement" and asked that lesser questions of difference be not permitted to obscure the central purpose of the agreement to preserve peace and provide means for friendly consultation as a means of settling international controversies.

Within the arms conference proper, the day's only session was devoted to a continuance of the debate over Great Britain's proposal to abolish the submarine. The discussion was not finished and the conference giving up plans for an extended Christmas recess will meet again today to consider it. In the meantime, discussion of the question of auxiliary tonnage allotments remains in abeyance, pending despite that additional instructions on the subject reached the French delegation today from Paris. The French have taken the position that the abolition proposal should be carried to a decision before allotment details are taken up, and apparently their viewpoint has been approved by the other powers.

In replying to the British proposal yesterday, however, Admiral DeBon, chief French naval expert, gave the conference a glimpse of France's position on auxiliary tonnage by declaring no important naval power could afford to maintain less than the 50,000 tons of submarines proposed in the American reduction plan for the United States and Great Britain. The 908,000 ton figure would be greatly in excess of the present French submarine strength and would be three times the amount she would have under an application of the ratio already agreed to as to capital ships.

MAN'S BODY FOUND NEAR JACKSONVILLE

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 23.—The body of an unidentified white man, bearing two gun shot wounds in the back and two through the head, was found partly submerged in a small stream about five miles from Jacksonville on the St. Augustine road late today. The body was found by a small negro boy, who, walking along the road, had stopped at the stream for a drink of water. Extending his body from the bank the negro sighted the body just as he dipped his face into the water. In addition to the gunshot wounds the man's skull was fractured. A log had been placed across the body to weigh it down in the stream.

County authorities immediately started an investigation but late tonight were without clues as to how the man met his death. Apparently he had been dead about 24 hours. He seemed to be about 25 years old and was moderately dressed.

A brief funeral service yesterday and placing of the body in the vault today without ceremony. Mrs. Watterson bowed down with grief is still confined to her room. The said said today no definite plans for the winter had been made, the arrangements depending upon his mother's condition. It is expected, however, the family will spend a least part of the season at the winter home of General W. B. Haldeman at Naples.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAKES FURTHER PLANS TO AID BAND

The Sanford Band, which has reached a high degree of efficiency as a result of the able leadership of Bandmaster Bull, is now a popular institution in Sanford. The people of Sanford are justly proud of this organization of local talent which has been the means of affording excellent entertainment each Thursday and Sunday.

The Tourist and Convention Committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce which secured the appropriation for the band and has collaborated with Mr. Bull in every way, is indeed pleased to know that its efforts have met with success and that Sanford has at last a real band.

Mr. Bull appeared before the Board of Governors at their meeting yesterday and requested additional seats in the park as well as better lighting arrangements and was assured that these requests would be acted upon.

The engagement of the band is additional evidence of what the Chamber of Commerce is doing for Sanford. It is financed jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the City, and can always be assured of the support of the Chamber in anything that will tend to greater efficiency in promoting the welfare of the community.

Individuals and business concerns are requested to notify the Chamber of Commerce of any vacancies in their organizations for individuals whose services can be utilized by the band.

DEB'S SENTENCE COMMUTED BY PRESIDENT HARDING, CITIZENSHIP NOT RESTORED

Others Panned in Federal Prison Get Their Christmas Gift

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Eugene V. Debs, former Socialist candidate for president serving a sentence of ten years at Atlanta penitentiary for violating the espionage act, and twenty-four other persons convicted on various charges of hindering the government during the war, with Germany, received yesterday from President Harding commutations of sentences to become effective Christmas day. At the same time five former American soldiers serving life sentences pronounced by a military court for the murder of a British officer while serving with the American army on the Rhine received full pardons, effective Christmas day.

The action was taken after the department of justice had studied separately the cases of 197 persons serving sentences for violating war time laws and after Attorney General Daugherty had discussed the situation at length with President Harding who was said to be desirous if possible, of granting some pardons for Christmas. The commutations, it was explained, does not operate to restore citizenship lost by the felony conviction but the pardons do. Several of the civilian offenders will be deported to the European countries of their nativity, two are under observation at hospitals for insane, and others are now out on paroles which were granted by President Wilson.

JACKSONVILLE IS SELECTED VOCATIONAL TRAINING SITE BY THE U. S. GOVERNMENT

Vocational Training University to Be Established by Veterans' Bureau

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—The selection of Camp Johnston at Jacksonville, Florida, as a site for the vocational training university to be established by the Veterans' Bureau was understood today to be practically decided upon by Director Forbes. Mr. Forbes planned to see Harding today to obtain his authorization of the use of the former army cantonment in the South for one of the training universities being established in various parts of the country. If unable to see the president today Forbes expected to obtain desired authorization Monday. While the bureau officials were non-committal they are understood to believe that unless some last minute changes in plans are made the institution will be placed at Jacksonville. It is believed the University will be put into operation as early as possible with several hundred students and would be expanded as needs of that section arose. The University would be along lines of Camp Sherman which recently opened with five hundred students and has a capacity as high as five thousand former service men.

After Refusing to Allow Same Upon Two Separate Occasions

SIX PER CENT

PROFITS ALLOWED THIS COMPANY AFTER THEY HAD ASKED FOR EIGHT

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 24.—The Florida Railroad Commission has handed down its decision in the matter of the application of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company to increase its general schedules of toll and exchange rates in the state of Florida.

The first hearing held in this case was conducted on the 15th day of November, 1920, at which time the telephone company presented evidence to show that it was not earning a reasonable rate of return upon its investment in Florida. At the conclusion of this hearing the commission announced that it would not allow the telephone company an increase of rates until the commission had made a thorough audit of the company's books, accounts and contracts, and until the commission, by its engineers, had inspected and appraised the physical properties of the telephone company. This work was begun in January by the accountants, statisticians, accountants and engineers of the commission, and was finished in April. The case was assigned for further hearing May 18, last, when the result of such audit, inspection and appraisal was put in evidence. The examination and appraisal of the physical properties of the telephone company in Florida and the audit and analysis of its books and records made by the commission was thorough and complete and showed that the telephone company was earning only 2.64 per cent on its total investment in Florida.

The telephone company asked for rates sufficient to yield 8 per cent on its total investment, but this rate was denied by the commission, the commission saying that in view of the economic conditions prevailing throughout the country it would not grant so great an increase, but would allow an increase in exchange rates at exchanges where the revenue receipts showed no reasonable return to the company, which increases so granted result in exchange rates being increased at some of the exchanges in the state.

The commission denied the application of the telephone company to increase its rates for toll service, money and changes and extra mileage charge and also refused to allow the telephone company's application to make charges on reports and on person-to-person calls.

The increase in rates allowed by the commission will, in the opinion of the commission, yield the telephone company approximately 6 per cent on its 1920 average investment. The telephone company contends, however, that the increases allowed by the commission will yield only approximately 4.12 per cent on business for the ensuing year.

The order of the commission as handed down shows that Commissioner Wells dissented.

WARNING

During inspection of electrical work, I find many dangerous installations done by owners or tenants themselves. Some know better and take the risk, others think that as long as one is capable of finding a place to attach common lamp cord and run it to where light or power is needed, all that is required has been accomplished. They ignore the overloading of circuits and other conditions of the code and city ordinance deemed necessary for safe electrical work. I have inspected the work of the regular electricians for eight years and no fires could be attributed to their negligence, but we have had trouble from added fixtures, through carelessness or ignorance. As Holidays approach many are tempted to use the electric lamps covering them with fancy paper attractions. This is positively dangerous as the high powered bulbs in use will surely set the paper on fire.

Do not use lamp cord in show windows in any manner. Do not use it at all unless suspended freely in the air from an approved rosette.

Christmas trees can be safely lighted only by using approved fixtures installed by a competent person, then it becomes the safest decorative light possible. When candles are used constant care must not be relaxed for an instant.

These Holidays, as in preceding ones, will see some life forfeited and valuable property destroyed by fire. Don't let it happen in Sanford.

G. P. PAXTON,
Electrical Inspector.

LAKE MONROE

An entertainment for the benefit of the health and sanitation campaign for this county, under the auspices of Mrs. John Leonard of Sanford was given Wednesday evening by the Sanford folks in the Auditorium of the Graded school. The program consisted of readings, songs, dancing and a playlet. Miss Williams, the Expression teacher of the Sanford High School opened the program by giving several readings, which she rendered in a well trained manner. Mrs. Phillips whose voice is appealingly sweet, then charmed the audience by singing "In My Garden," and the old familiar song, "My Old Kentucky Home." The little play "Two Old Maids and a Picture" staged by Misses May and Mildred Holly, Kittle DuBose and Maude Lake was laughable in the extreme and Miss May Holly and Maude Lake who portrayed the characters of the old maids proved very delightful old maids indeed. Instead of the soured and crabbed kind we have expected, they were filled with glee. In fact the laughter grew so animated that suppression seemed impossible and only after a hurried exit where the ante room was sought for composure could the "old maids" regain equilibrium enough to return to their role. When pooh the giggles broke out in a fresh place, the contagion spread, the audience caught the hal hal and loudly applauded the two gay and very lively old maids. Miss Mildred Holly closed the program in a graceful manner with a classical dance, which with the pretty costume, the lithesome movements and the very winsome little girl, made this feature a very striking one.

Mr. John Leonard, county chairman of the tuberculosis state campaign in Seminole county, has been a welcome guest at the school a number of times within the past two weeks. About fifteen dollars worth of Christmas seals have been sold by the children. The patrons have as usual, responded most generously and are making an effort to procure the service of a trained nurse for the school.

The real estate of John Mtoah in this section is undergoing improvements. About seven acres being retitled and cleared and a bungalow being built. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence J. Stone of Old South Road, Woodhaven, L. I., prospective purchasers, will lease the place the ensuing year.

Mrs. Hill is a lyceum singer of much prominence and has just completed a tour of the United States where she sang in many of the larger cities. Miss Grace Jacobs is a trained nurse from the French Benevolent Hospital of New York city.

FINE BEEF CATTLE ARE BEING RAISED AROUND SANFORD

The editor of The Herald saw 40 beef cattle yesterday on Joe Cameron's place south of the city that look like they will make beef equally as fine as any western beef that could be shipped in here. The cattle came from Mr. Cameron's ranch in Putnam county and were turned into the pen with some other steers that he had on his ranch in this county. The Putnam county cattle had never been dipped and they looked much better than those that were dipped here for tick eradication. Ticks do not get on fat cattle and there are no ticks on this bunch that he proposes to fatten for the local market.

Mr. Cameron is raising a new kind of grass on his place that is a native of South America and it grows to a height of five or more feet and looks very much like sugar cane. This new grass will be grown in quantities by Mr. Cameron and he will fatten his cattle on it, making different pens on his farm and alternating his crops to give the cattle a change of pasture and change in feed. By careful study of local conditions in many years of cattle raising Joe Cameron has probably learned more about cattle than any government expert that ever lived and his experience compiled in a book would go a long way toward giving the owners of cattle some good points on many of the problems that confront the cattlemen of this part of the state.

Joe Cameron is not worrying about the foreign markets since he markets all his beef locally and gets top prices for good fat cattle all the year round.

NOTABLE FEAT ACCOMPLISHED IN "THE SHEIK"

Bringing not only the edesert but the dwellings and people of the desert to the screen, is the feat accomplished by the production staff in the filming of George Medford's latest Paramount production, "The Sheik," which comes to the Star Theatre next week. The feat in question consisted of building a complete village in the center of the "Argyle lot" at the Lasky studio. Picturesquely Arabic and technically perfect, it represents one of the most notable achievements in present day picture-making.

This village is the fortified stronghold of the robber sheik, Ibrahim Omar, who is the villain of the story. In the picture it is attacked and captured by the sheik, thus furnishing the background for much of the stirring battle action of the drama. Rudolph Valentino, who plays the title role, leads the attacking force against the robber sheik—played by Walter Long—for the possession of the leading feminine character, Diana portrayed by Agnes Ayers, who is featured with Mr. Valentino.

CHRISTMAS

Tomorrow is Christmas and all the great preparations made in the thousands of homes in Seminole County and in every other part of the civilized world will be at an end and the busy ones who have been working for weeks can sit down for a few minutes and watch the delight of the recipients of the gifts.

Here in Florida and especially in Sanford Christmas will be observed as usual. We have no snows and no sleigh bells to remind us of the old time Santa Claus but he will come in an auto through the woods filled with evergreens and holly berries and mistletoe and Christmas is Christmas and much more enjoyable for the absence of the snow.

Christmas and the unfolding of the new year is also a time for retrospection and another stock taking and everyone should go to church tomorrow and get back to the real spirit of Christmas which is not an occasion for gift giving but another chance to worship Him who is the giver of all things.

Many of us think we have gone through many privations and hard times during the past year and many of us think we still have to face more of them in the year 1922. Whether this is true or not there is always one to whom we can go in times of stress for the strength to combat all misfortunes and Christmas morning is the time to remember this and to look upon the bright side of all questions and resolve to start the new year with face to the front and ready for all that the year may bring.

The world is passing through a crucial period and the spirit of Christmas will do much to weld together the hearts of all nations. America, as usual, will do all in her power to succor the needy of all nations and American relief will extend round the world.

Merry Christmas

Here in Sanford those who are in distress will be relieved by the good people of Sanford and all of those (there are very few of them) in this part of the state will be remembered on Christmas day.

Let us all enjoy the day to the fullest. Let us all do our full duty toward our loved ones and those outside the family circle and never forget the significance of the real meaning of Christmas.

WHAT IT MEANS

At a meeting recently of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Florida, held at Kissimmee, the following resolution was proposed:

"Be It Resolved, That the members of the Cattle Raisers' Association of Florida are advised to put on voluntary tick eradication work beginning March 15th, next, and continue to December 15th, or later, of the same year, dipping their cattle every twenty-five days or oftener; with the further advice that beginning March, 1923, they dip their cattle every twenty days or oftener, until the following December, as by this method we can procure local, and possibly, foreign markets, thereby exterminating the range cattle and destroying the oldest industry in the state, and one that has done the most good to the greatest number."

The Orlando Reporter-Star read it carefully, once or twice, and then asks some one to please tell the meaning of the resolution.

Either the resolution is a sarcastic challenge to those determined to rid the state of the cattle tick, and the open free range, or else it is the victim of mutilation at the hands of some printer.

If the word "preventing" be placed before the word "exterminating" in the latter part of the resolution, we have a laudable movement on the part of the cattle men to assist themselves out of the hole they dugged a year ago. That they should by now realize the possibility of doing for themselves voluntarily what it was proposed to make them do by law involuntarily, is reasonable. No man of sense needs to be compelled to be good to himself; and we have been expecting to read any day that more cattle men than Mr. Koon of the lower part of the state, have adopted the plan of helping themselves by complying with the requirements of federal quarantine laws.

But if the resolution as the Reporter-Star prints it, and as it is quoted above, be its true reading, then the advocates of tick eradication, no fence cutting, anti-forest burning, and putting the range cow behind a fence, will please note "there is yet much stern work to be done."—Tampa Tribune.

It means nothing of the sort. We know nothing of the meeting at Kissimmee but we do know that the cattle men of Seminole county were in favor and are now in favor of dipping their cattle when they need it. They tried dipping every fourteen days and it killed the cattle for many reasons. The cattle men are now willing to dip but they have tried it out and believe in dipping only as the cattle need it and they are having success by this method. It occurs to the Herald that the cattlemen know more about the cattle business than those who never raised a cow and they should be allowed to work out their own salvation without any of the new-fangled laws and restrictions that threaten to abolish the raising of cattle and that have never worked out in the manner as the government agents predicted.

HERE'S AN OUTRAGE.

Unprecedented, without a scintilla of justice, equity or understanding the Interstate Commerce Commission today refused to permit a public carrier to reduce its rates so that the freezing and starving populace in that area traversed by a railroad could have coal at twenty per cent less through such a reduction.

It is criminal autocracy, nothing short of it. When we have a republican administration boasting for the plutocrats at one end and bearing down on the poor at another there is little wonder that some of the unreasonable laboring classes resort to violence. The Solomons are pulling down the temple on their own heads.—Palatka News.

You are right, Goode. We were just wondering how long the press and the people of this country will stand for this sort of thing, especially in the present condition of affairs when so many are out of employment and every effort should be expended to relieve the situation and bring down the price of every commodity?

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT WINS!

The voters of St. Petersburg, by almost a two to one vote, reaffirmed their recall of former Mayor Mitchell, whom they had pulled out of the chair in which they had placed him; because of acts and things deemed unfitting for the chief executive of their city to do.

In the election of Frank F. Pulver, the people of St. Petersburg have shown themselves wise choosers of municipal executives. Mr. Pulver is one of the best and most successful business men in the Sunshine City, and will doubtless prove all, and do all, that city has a right to expect of its officials.

Immediately on his recall Mr. Mitchell announced himself a candidate for election to succeed himself, there being no provision in the charter that any recalled official could not again be eligible for a certain, or any, length of time. It was, to say the least, of it, an impudent move on his part. Certainly the spirit, if not the letter, of the charter was that no man who was recalled by the people was wanted or was deemed fitted to hold the office.

The election proves two things. First, the power of the commission form of government to rid a community of an unworthy official without loss of time or expensive court proceedings. Under this form of municipal government you simply order a vote "for" or "against" the recall of the official or officials wanted removed, and if the majority vote is for removal, they are out. Under the old mayor and alderman system of city government, St. Petersburg would hardly yet have begun her fight to depose Mitchell; and there would be probably many months, if not years, before the course would have settled the question. The St. Petersburg case marks a strong case for commission government.

The second thing proven by this election is that when the people get together and agree on a candidate for office, there is little likelihood of the wrong man getting in, as is so dangerously common under our open primary practice in all elections except federal. If not in name, certainly in effect, St. Petersburg held a "convention" and agreed on the man and his "platform," who should receive the support of the majority party. This "convention" knew just what each man offering stood for, was able to dictate to them what they should have as a platform, and pick the strongest and the best man to put out against a powerful opposition. They defeated the opposition, overwhelmingly. If all the good men who first announced themselves as candidates for the position from which the city was recalling Mitchell had stayed in the race, Mitchell undoubtedly would have been elected, for his vote was practically a third of the total cast, and the opposition, he it always remembered, votes solidly.

The Democracy of Florida needs but look at this St. Petersburg election to read the strength of The Tribune's many editorials showing why a convention of the party should, and must be, held in this state before the next primary election.

Those cities and towns wavering in their mind whether commission form of government really presents any points better than the old aldermanic form, need only look at St. Petersburg which, in a few weeks, rid itself of an undesirable official and filled his place with one on whom the citizenry united as the man needed to recoup the loss sustained before his election.—Tampa Tribune.

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Increasing cloudiness Saturday followed by rain Saturday night or Sunday. Much colder in extreme north portion Sunday and in north and central portion Sunday night.

Merry Christmas.
This week has been a good week.

No Daily Herald on Monday. The news wants a holiday.

And always remember that the Daily Herald will be with you at every season of the year in winter and summer helping to boost your business and your town.

Turkeys seem to be roosting high this year although there are more of them in the country than have ever been before. However, there is plenty of other meat if one does not want turkey.

Rev. F. D. Hunt and wife of Thomsville, Ga., are in the city, the guests of Mrs. J. N. Whitner, and will spend the holidays here. Dr. Hunt is a former resident of Sanford, where for many years he was pastor of the Presbyterian church and he and Mrs. Hunt are loved by a large circle of friends. They have spent Christmas in Sanford for the past five years and their host of friends are giving them a warm welcome "back home"

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Summer weather, summer weather right at Christmas time but it is God's weather and we cannot kick for despite the fact that colder weather is really needed this is certainly grand weather. Think of the temperature the day before Christmas being 81. But this is why thousands of tourists come to Florida and if we lose on one thing we will gain on another and anyhow no one will kick on the weather or any other subject at Christmas time. Take a Merry Christmas on us. We will see you next Tuesday afternoon. Two whole days of vacation and we should worry about the weather.

Scene from 'The Old Oaken Bucket' AT STAR THEATRE MONDAY.

The many friends of Mrs. M. Martin are giving her a warm welcome home. Mrs. Martin at present is a guest of the Montezuma but will shortly remove to her old home at the corner of Fourth and Magnolia known for many years as Comfort Cottage, and we hope Mrs. Martin will open this fine place to the public again as a place in which they can get an excellent room during the winter. Mrs. Martin is the manager of a summer resort at Highlands, N. C., and has been spending her winters at Ortega, near Jacksonville.

J. S. Dinkle of Longwood is among the visitors to the city today. Mr. and Mrs. Dinkle are happy over the arrival of their son, E. L. Dinkle, who has been living in New York ever since his discharge from the A. E. F. He was in seven battles in France during the World War and his discharge from the army gives him a fine record. He was among the volunteers from Seminole county who went to the call of their country to take their places in the front ranks and his many friends in Seminole county are glad to see him back.

Spoken of casts, just listen to this: Florence Reed, Norman Trevor, Hyron Power, Earle Foxe, William Roselle, Henry Stephenson, Paula Shay, Mlle. Dazie, Paul Ducet, Eugene Breen, Henry Carvill, Will Bourlion, Ernest Lambert and Charla Jackson. They're all in the big W. K. Ziegfeld cinema special, "The Black Panther's Cub" which will be shown at the Star Theatre Friday and Saturday, Dec. 23rd and 24th.

THE CHURCHES

METHODIST CHURCH
Christmas will be observed at the Methodist church tomorrow, Christmas sermon by Dr. Walker at 11 a. m. subject: "What Christ Has Meant to the World" at the evening hour a special service of song and white gifts for the king.
Dr. Walker will tell the story of the "Lost Word."
At all the services beginning with Sunday school 9:30 a. m. You are invited to meet with us.

DR. WALKER'S CLASS
The Sunday School class of Dr. Walker at the Princess Theatre was a month old last Sunday and like all babies at that age had the picture taken, the faces reveal a big per cent of the business men of First street. Men who count in the city's affairs. They mean to make this class a vital power in the things of the city. All men not attending other classes are invited to attend tomorrow.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT ALL SOULS CHURCH.

Tomorrow is the feast of the nativity of Christ, which will be a low mass and will be celebrated at 6:30 a. m. This mass is only for those approaching holy communion.
Second mass, a high mass, will commence promptly at 10 a. m. The celebrant will be Father Mainville; the preacher, Father Hennessy. This is the parochial mass.
The music will be taken from Rosewig's beautiful mass and sung by a specially trained choir. The offertory will be sung by Mrs. Takash.
A crib and manger, typifying the lowly birth of the Christ, will be constructed in the church.

Sunday school, as usual, at 9 a. m. during which the teachers will explain to the children incidents connected with the birth of our Savior, and together they will view and examine the manger. The public is invited to all the services. Sittings free.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Christmas Sunday will be observed by us with special music and exercises suitable to the occasion. Mr. Burban's sermons will give emphasis to the living Epistle sent from heaven to earth: "God's Love Letter to the Children of Men." We will try to read that letter tomorrow morning and get its message.
At night we will consider the answer men have given to God's letter and the answer that should be given. Let there be a full attendance of all our members and friends at both of these services.

Our children's Christmas service for the Sunday school will be given on Monday night beginning at 7:45 and all are cordially invited to be present.

Mr. Burban has arranged for a series of lectures on the subject of Christian Psychology to be given by Rev. Lillian Britton Fulton of Jacksonville. These lectures are of surpassing interest and throw a flood of light upon the new thought that is interesting so many. There will be eight lectures beginning on Sunday night, Jan. 1st, 1922, and continuing one each night until Sunday night, January 8th when they will conclude. These lectures are free to all and we shall be pleased to have you fill the house to its capacity. Do not forget the date of beginning, January 1st, 1922.
