Close Match Highlights Fronton Action

The Monday night feature eighth game at the Jai Alai Palace was a close match between Gasti, Echaniz and Sagas. Iriarte who had previously taken three of these features in succession threatened twice but managed to squeeze in a tight fourth.

Gasti who won the Fireball Roberts Trophy Match last week took command after faltering twice to hit the winners circle again. Echaniz placed to fill a good $118.00 perfecta to the quincela paid $37.50. Crowd favorite big bruising Sagas looked like a winner but had to settle for a show position.

Wednesday's eighth feature will bring scrappy little Astiga against Gasti and five other top stars. After Saturday's timely win of the beautiful John Roosevelt Trophy, Astiga feels confident that he can win another of the berths in the next big trophy game at the fronton.

Ask Funds For Enterprise Team
Funds to buy uniforms for the Enterprise Junior League basketball team are being received by two couples who have taken an interest in the group of youngsters. They are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Braddock and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Henderson.

The team has been playing in any and all kind of so-called uniforms, including bathing suits, the couples pointed out. The Braddocks and Hendersons, since taking an interest in the team, have been transporting the members to their games.

They are now seeking donations which can be turned over to either couple or can be left in a donation box which has been placed in Ryan's store. Gifts of any amount will be acceptable, the couple said.

Stengel Starts 'Pitching'

United Press International
Casey Stengel has been managing baseball teams since 1925 while Hank Bauer has less than a year of managerial experience—yet both men agree there's no substitute for hustle.

When Stengel greeted members of the New York Mets at their first official workout at St. Petersburg, Fla., Monday he reminded them that "a lot of jobs are open and if you hustle I personally will see to it that you get a raise because my owners have money."

Bauer didn't promise any raises to the Kansas City Athletics when they opened spring training at West Palm Beach, Fla., but he did insist on a "fighting, hustling ball club."

"These fellows are paid well and they're going to put out or else," said Bauer, a former Stengel protege who relieved Joe Gordon as Kansas City's manager in mid-season last year.

"There'll be no loafing on this club," the former Yankee outfielder added. "I want a lot of hustle. That's the way I always played and that's the way my team will play."

Both Bauer and Stengel have their work cut out for them—and they know it. The A's finished in a last-place tie with Washington in the American League last season while the Mets have rounded up a collection of oldsters and youngsters, mostly oldsters for their first season in the National League.

Stengel, pushing 72, showed lots of hustle himself in the Mets' first workout. He was all over the field, working with both pitchers and catchers, showing them how to throw and how to bunt. Oie Case then advised his players to be ready for two workouts daily.

"You could train on a railroad track if you've got guys who can throw bullets and hit the ball," he said. "But there's nice grass here, and I like grass, so we'll work twice a day."

The Yankees, Stengel's old club, staged their official camp opening at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., by engaging in a simulated intra-squad game. The only absentee among the 22 batters was relief star Luis Arroyo, who was detained in his native Puerto Rico.

Harmon Killebrew signed with the Minnesota Twins for a salary that club President Calvin Griffith described as "the highest in the history of the team." Although Griffith declined to state the figure, it was estimated at $38,000. Killebrew batted .288, hit 46 homers and knocked in 122 runs last year.

Plenty Of Action Set In SOKC Feature

Six young greyhounds born in 1959 and '60 should pack plenty of action into the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight. They are Brandon Bell, Rapid Roy, Ruth Cruce, O.B.'s Irishman, Hurry Now and Hello Charlie.

Both Charles Lovely's Hurry Now and Carl Tracy's Rapid Roy broke into the racing game here like balls of fire. Hurry Now created a sensation opening night by winning his maiden start with a long lead of 25-lengths. He has soared into feature competition by winning seven of his 13 starts.

Veteran speedsters in this octet are Hiking and Go Lefty both born in 1958.

NAS To Curtail Off-Base Fire Fighting March 1

The Sanford Naval Air Station will limit off-base fire fighting aid effective March 1. Base commander Capt. Robert M. Ware told the County Commission Tuesday afternoon.

Capt. Ware, in a letter to the commission, said a reduction of station fire fighting personnel and an increase in the number and age of on-station structures has reached a stage where the station fire protection potential is jeopardized when responding to outside calls. However, Ware emphasized that aid will still be given in alarms involving schools in the immediate area and the county home for the aged. The commission thanked the fire-fighting personnel for their previous service rendered. In other business during the lengthy four hour session the commission: AUTHORIZED County attorney Harold Johnson to meet with the Gasselberry town attorney and council to work out legal "angles" and come up with a firm commitment in the four-laning of access roads to Seminole Parks Raceway and Fairgrounds. Officials of the raceway have offered to furnish materials for the project at an estimated $120,000 with the county to participate with labor and equipment. A major portion of the roads, Seminole Blvd. and Winter Park Drive, lies within the city limits and an agreement would be necessary with that city as well as the raceway. According to County Engineer Carlton Bliss, the roads would be termed "municipal connecting links" in the county road system which would make it legal for the county to participate in the project.

FIRE GOT AWAY from a Paola housewife burning trash early Tuesday afternoon and swept through some 600 acres north of Wilson's Corner before Lake Mary Volunteer Firemen and Florida Forest Rangers from Longwood could bring it under control. According to the Lake Mary men who were at the scene for more than three hours, some 15 to 20 houses were endangered due to wind and extreme dry conditions which made the fire very hard to extinguish. Glenn To Tell All About Orbit

GRAND TURK ISLAND, Bahamas (UPI) — Astronaut John Glenn today begins describing for science the sights, sounds and feelings he experienced while rocketing America into the era of earth orbit. After two days of rest, briefings and physical observation, he will return to the United States for a hero's welcome. A score of medical and engineering specialists, along with two fellow astronauts, were on hand here to gather and document all the details of the 40-year-old Marine's triple orbit. Project Mercury officials are particularly interested in how Glenn reacted physically and mentally to 4 1/2 hours of weighing nothing, and to a brief period of weighing 1,200 pounds. It is likely Glenn will be questioned especially about the thousands of tiny particles he saw during one of his swings around the globe. The astronaut mentioned these only briefly in a radio message, and space officials have offered no speculation on what they might be. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was scheduled to fly to this little island today, and on Friday will accompany Glenn back to Cape Canaveral where the trail-blazing astronaut will receive the personal plaudits of President Kennedy. There was speculation that the President might decorate Glenn or promote him from lieutenant colonel to colonel. In Washington, government leaders said the astronaut's flight had boosted the nation's morale and might be a strong influence on nations torn between the East and West. Praise of his feat flowed in from all over the world. And in Arlington, Va., his wife and two children glowed with pride. Mrs. Glenn celebrated by having champagne with friends. Aside from fatigue, ached knuckles and touch of seasickness while his capsule bobbed in the sea, the astronaut suffered no apparent ill effects during the flight. Monday or Tuesday, the freckled Marine pilot will go to Washington for a White House visit, a parade to the Capitol and a congressional reception.

P. O. Pulls Fast One With Glenn

By United Press International The Post Office Department won the secrecy sweepstakes in the first U. S. manned orbital flight—issuing a surprise commemorative stamp just as soon as astronaut John J. Glenn was safely back on earth. Once the wraps were off this first in U. S. philatelic history late Tuesday, eager collectors and just plain folks swamped post offices across the nation to buy the blue, 6-cent Project Mercury stamp. The rush forced some post offices to extend hours—as in Cincinnati, where stamp windows were kept open an additional three hours. In some places there was near riotous frenzy, such as in Brooklyn where a pushing, shoving disturbance developed among stamp hunters in the lobby of the federal building.

Slyton, blond bomber pilot from Sparta, Wis., who turns 38 on March 1. U. S. Officials, halting the Glenn flight as just the beginning of American space exploration, seemed to regard it as a crucial turning point in the race with Russia. Flated by Glenn's success and undaunted by the control problem he had in his Mercury spacecraft, government and industry officials were set to bring a new "man-rated" Atlas rocket booster here promptly from Convair's San Diego, Calif., plant.

Area Scouts Attend Scout-O-Rama

By Jane Casselberry
Casselberry units participating in the Wekiva District Scout-O-Rama held recently at the Orange County Agricultural Center in Orlando were Boy Scout Troop 341, sponsored by the Lions Club and Cub Scout Pack 540, sponsored by the Men's Club of the Community Methodist Church.

Troop 341 set up a booth demonstrating food and equipment needed for lightweight camping in the wilderness showing how to cook soup over a small campfire and bake biscuits in a reflector oven.

Cubs of Pack 540 proved again that "the hand is quicker than the eye" with feats of magic demonstrated in their magic show.

Other displays of Scouting skills were presented by units from Orlando, Winter Park, Maitland, Apopka and Union Park.

Traditional Indian tribal dances were performed by the Order of the Arrow dance team and aerial trapeze acts were presented by Orlando Explorer Scouts.

During the weekend, local cubs and scouts and their leaders also observed Boy Scout Sunday by attending the Community Methodist Church in a body and were welcomed from the pulpit by Rev. Oscar Poole, pastor of the church.

More than 200 potential candidates for the various offices up for grabs have signified their intention to run. But it won't be official until they pay the qualifying fee and file between noon today and noon March 6.

L. R. Van Ness Dies At Home

Mr. Leo Roy Van Ness, 69, of 215 West Fifth St., died this morning at his residence. He came here from Waverly, N. Y., a year ago after his retirement. He had been employed by the New York State Road Department as a truck driver. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Ella. The remains were to be forwarded to the S. J. Genung and Son Funeral Home at Waterloo, N. Y., for funeral services and interment. Gramkow Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

now been established throughout the country. Dr. Munson said, with several of these centers in Florida, the nearest one being in Tampa. Patients anywhere in the state can be referred to these clinics by their own doctor.

A movie, entitled "Back On The Job" was shown, which depicted the work of the cardiac-work-evaluation teams, in judging when, how and under what conditions a heart patient can resume his normal activities and work.

Points which are considered include, the seriousness of the attack, the kind of work, the emotional feeling of the patient toward the job and the physical requirements of the job, and many other factors.

More than 10 million Americans have suffered heart or vascular disease, which has changed their life in regards to their work, it was pointed out, and the evaluation teams search out and determine how best a rehabilitation course can be undertaken.

Pointing out that overweight puts added strain on the heart, Dr. Munson remarked that eating is a conditioned reflex and one of the most difficult habits to cure, often worse than the drug habit.

He emphasized that parents often start a child on the road to a life-long habit of overeating by forced feeding. Dr. Munson also encouraged parents to set up the habit of routine regular exercise. It was announced that Robert Bessner, new hospital administrator had become a new member of the Rotary Club.

Concerted Drive

"Operation Registration," a one-month concerted drive to increase voter registration in Florida, has been kicked off by the Florida Jaycees, with the blessings of the state's supervisors of registration and Secretary of State Tom Adams.

Special deputy secretary of state for the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees is Bob McKee, who will head the Seminole drive.

Forrest Maurer of Coral Gables, state coordinator of "Operation Registration," said that the Jaycee State Executive Committee voted for the drive because it felt it was the greatest contribution to public service which could be made by the organization.

"We felt that public apathy was the greatest enemy of good government in our state and nation and nowhere is this public apathy more obvious than in the election of our government leaders."

"Today, nearly one and a half million Floridians, or 40 percent of those over the age of 21, have not even bothered to register to vote," Maurer said.

Rites Thursday For Mrs. Leggett

Mrs. Lena Leggett, 87, died at Seminole Memorial Hospital at 10 a. m. Tuesday after a brief illness.

Mrs. Leggett was born Aug. 16, 1874 in Hilliard, Fla., and was a member of a pioneer Florida family. She moved here from Waycross, Ga., and made her home at 420 S. Oak Ave. for the past 15 years.

She was a member of the First Methodist Church and wife of the late Allen Leggett. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Fred H. Williams, three granddaughters, Miss Sally Williams, Miss Betsy Williams and Miss Linda Williams; one sister, Mrs. D. S. DeWitt of Jacksonville.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at Brison Funeral Home with Rev. Grover Sewell Jr. and Rev. Thomas Makin officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Pall bearers will be Dr. O. L. Barks, C. L. Powell, James C. Higgins, John Walasek, Gordon Swain and Dick Aiken.

Powers Submits To Lie Detector

NEW YORK (UPI)—U2 Pilot Francis Gary Powers submitted to a lie detector test and was probably given a truth serum during his intensive examination by the Central Intelligence Agency, according to a report in the current issue of Newsweek magazine.

Powers has been wrapped in a tight veil of secrecy since his dramatic return to this country, and so far there has been no official word regarding his detailed interview with CIA agents.

But Newsweek, quoting sources close to the Powers case, said the U2 pilot volunteered to take a lie detector test which indicated he still does not know for sure how his high-altitude plane was brought down.

The magazine also said there was reason to believe that Powers was given a truth serum like sodium pentothal to see if he could remember any undisclosed admissions made to his Soviet captors.

Lake Mary UPW Holds Program On Work Of Mission Stations

By Frances Westler
A Valentine motif was carried out in the invitations sent out to the members of Circle One of the UPW of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary for their February meeting held at the home of Mrs. John W. Pillely last week. Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, chairman, gave information concerning the mission station to be remembered on meeting date by the Association everywhere with the offering of prayers. Mrs. Pillely added prayer for members of the Circle in their Christian work. A short business session followed with reports from Mrs. Arolyn True, secretary; Mrs. Marion Lee, treasurer; Mrs. H. M. Gleason, Fellowship Chairman; Mrs. Horace Cochran, news of Sunland Training Center, and Mrs. Margaret Ulmer, World Service Chairman. Mrs. Charles Sassman, program chairman, gave each officer a chance to explain her duties and then gave an exposition of how all their work interlocked and required the cooperation of all members. The goals of activity and study for the year were included. The meeting was concluded with the Mizpah Benediction. A social hour followed with refreshments served by the hostesses. Other members present were Mrs. Harvey Pugh, Mrs. Evelyn Rice, Mrs. James M. Thompson, Mrs. Richard Keogh, Mrs. C. K. Hickson, Mrs. Dale Alexander, Mrs. Robert Rugenstein, Mrs. Mabel Brown, Mrs. A. E. Freese, and Mrs. J. D. Parkinson.

German Student, Cuban Doctor Speak For DeBary Civic Group

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Miss Doris Demtroeder, German exchange student at Seminole High School in Sanford and Dr. Manuel Zuniger, who successfully fled Castro's Cuba, were guest speakers at last week's meeting of the DeBary Civic Assn. Introduced by Chester Healy, program chairman, Miss Demtroeder told of differences in the two country's school systems and of Germany's East and West Zones. She reported that food and living conditions are much better in the western sector and that before coming to America she saw many fleeing the freedom of the West. Dr. Zuniger told of the help he received in his escape from Cuba and reported that people of his country, fooled into thinking Castro was the right man to head the nation, soon learned to their sorrow of his Communist leanings. Zuniger said that Castro has taken over all big businesses in Cuba and among the sugar workers alone, pay has been cut by 45 per cent, since Russia is now buying sugar from Cuba at half the price the U.S. paid for it. Gas is being rationed for cooking and many have gone back to cutting wood for heating and cooking, he said among many other illustrative points citing the hardships his people are suffering.

Heart Of The Matter

The case for citizen contributions to the annual February Heart Fund drive is easy to make. More than half the yearly deaths in the United States result from heart ailments and related blood vessel diseases.

Some people may imagine that with the federal government established in heart research through the National Heart Institute, there is no need to enlarge private research efforts or perhaps even maintain them at current levels.

Obviously, however, the more individuals and groups who are digging into the problem, the more likely it is we may find the critical answers to the nation's biggest health scourge.

In the 1960-61 fiscal year, about 1,400 individuals undertook heart studies in programs under the guidance of the American Heart Assn.

The agency's research committee says other "scientifically meritorious" inquiries could be started if more money were available. But as matters stand, rising research costs actually are constricting present efforts.

The call, therefore, is for a bigger 1962 contribution than the $26 million total reached the two previous years. Says AHA:

"There are dangers in permitting basic medical research to come entirely under the aegis of government, or indeed of any single granting agency . . .

"It is clear that many of the programs initiated (by AHA) have been successful because they have been emulated by government and by other voluntary health agencies.

"Only by sustaining this trail-blazing role can other new concepts be developed . . .

Thus, say the Heart Fund's managers, those Americans who respond to their appeal will be helping to attack the leading cause of death in this country, and at the same time sustaining the useful role of private research in a period when government tends more and more to command the field of scientific inquiry.

Worry Clinic

CASE L-45: Donna Z., aged 17, is the mental patient mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane," her grandmother told me, "Donna was an only child and very timid. Her father and mother are socialists. They are good people and mean well, but they left Donna to be cared for by a governess. Then they sent her away to boarding school to get rid of their parental responsibility.

"Even when she was a little girl, she was starving for affection. She cried and begged for a kitten, then a puppy, but her mother said those animals would get hair all over the house.

"Donna came to visit me occasionally and seemed so delighted to get away from the tense type of home life.

"I tried to explain this to her parents, but they were so busy in civic and social affairs, they never realized Donna's problem."

PARENTH, WAKE UP!
It would do you parents a lot of good to take a tour of our mental institutions.

Then you'd see thousands of cases like Donna. And it might wake you up in time to prevent such unnecessary tragedy.

Mankind has several flight devices that he uses in order to get away from a cold, cruel or humiliating reality.

Alcohol is a very common one. So is the vagabond or "rolling stone" method.

PHANTASY WORLD
Other teen-agers will find that the world looks unreal so they flee via the "phantasy of unreality."

In brief, they repaint the external world in order to disguise it, much as sleepers will disguise repugnant moral ideas by dream symbolism.

Others develop medical ailments of a psychological nature in order to make a final bid for the interest and sympathy of their neighbors.

We call these patients hypochondriacs or psychosomatic cases.

Suicide is also an extreme route away from an unhappy world. Insanity is just a very widespread method to withdraw inwardly and shut out all contact with the forbidding external reality.

So teach your children to LIKE the world. Give them love. Since youngsters measure love by tangible signs, kiss them goodnight and good-bye. Tell them you love them.

Men, you can squeeze the arm of your son or pat him on the head and say, "Good boy!" when he does something that merits praise.

Quit being so tongue-tied with your own family! Loosen your tongue and let it phrase a compliment every day to your children.

Most kids are yelled at and scolded from dawn to dark, so they tend to believe their parents don't care for them much.

So show by daily, tangible signs that you love your children (and mates, too) for they can't read your mind via telepathy.

"Why, Dr. Crane," Donna's dad protested, "she should have known we loved her! She was our only child!"

Well, she definitely did NOT know it or she wouldn't have fled into schizophrenia!

And give your children pets. Also show them how to win friends.
Send for my booklet "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Parental sins of omission often drive children into insanity!

Dick West Says:

Joe College Then And Now

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A notice from the alumni office advises that next June will mark the 30th anniversary of my class graduation. Twenty years!

I can't resist setting forth an obvious conclusion: Campus life certainly has changed a lot in the past two decades. Nowadays, you read about college students frittering away their time on "panty raids," phone booth stacking and other frivolous behavior. In my day, even our free moments were spent in academic pursuits.

As evidence of this, consider the night that two of my contemporaries, whom I shall identify only as Joe and Squeak, conducted a notable experiment in aerodynamics.

Joe was the leading beer drinker in the senior class. Had he been enrolled in a brewery, rather than a university, he would have graduated magna cum laude.

On the night in question, as he and Squeak were boozing it up, they became involved in an argument that led to a wager.

I forget what the stakes were, but the point at issue was whether Joe could fly from the roof of the college administration building to a corner drug store located about one block away.

By some means or other, they gained admittance to the building, a four-story structure with a steep slate roof, and made their way to the top floor.

Joe then crawled out of a window and was proceeding along a ledge to the take-off point when he suddenly blacked out. His body silently plunged from the ledge and disappeared in the darkness.

Squeak, considerably alarmed, ran down the stairs and found Joe sprawled out in an evergreen bush. Whereupon, Squeak fainted dead away.

Third parties who had witnessed the fall called for an ambulance. It arrived promptly, but in the excitement the stretcher bearers carried away Squeak instead of Joe.

This was just as well for it subsequently turned out that Joe had survived the four-story drop completely unharmed. Squeak, however, had broken his thumb when he fainted.

The question of whether Joe could have successfully flown to the drug store, had he not blacked out, was never resolved. Nevertheless, the exploit did have a certain scientific value.

Joe had conclusively proved that it's possible to make a crash landing even when you aren't flying. They don't hardly make college students like that anymore.

Seminole County School Board
c/o Mr. Raymond Milwee
Supt. of Public Instruction
Gentlemen:

Last Wednesday, Feb. 14, the papers carried the news that Thursday being Children's Day at the County Fair, schools would be closed an hour earlier than usual to allow them to attend the fair.

Last Wednesday, Feb. 14, the school children were told by their teachers that although they would be given free admission tickets to the fair on Children's Day, school would not be closed any earlier.

Due to the confusion resulting from these announcements, a number of parents called the schools to find out exactly when to expect their children to be dismissed from school. They were told that school would be dismissed at the usual hour.

When children left for school Thursday morning, parents expected them home at the usual hour and made plans accordingly. However, children arrived home an hour to an hour and one-half earlier than usual.

Schools were able to notify some parents of the change. Some parents, not notified, just thought that their children had misunderstood their teachers the day before.

Some parents, not having been notified, were not at home when their children arrived.

I was at home and was one of the ones notified about the change. My immediate reaction was concern about the children—especially the little ones—who might be left alone for an hour or so because mothers did not expect them.

I called Mr. Milwee between 10 and 10:30 that morning to ask that he retract these orders. A number of other parents also tried to get in touch with him. Between 10 and 10:30 we were told that he was in a meeting and we all left messages to be given to him as soon as he finished. To put it briefly, Mr. Milwee was not available Thursday.

At a meeting that night, I discussed this matter with Mr. Milwee and was told that he had made an error in judgment—that there had been a misunderstanding between his office and the fair officials—that the fair officials would be greatly inconvenienced if the children did not arrive earlier—so, he gave orders while school was in session to dismiss earlier.

I do not feel that the inconvenience of the fair officials in any way compared to the inconvenience to the thousands of parents involved or to the dangers to the number of children involved.

I agreed with Mr. Milwee that he made an error in judgment. I feel that he or someone with authority should have been available to correct this error in judgment before it was carried out. They could not possibly have been unaware of the number of people concerned or of the nature of their concern.

If there is no such policy now in effect, I would like to request that this board establish a definite rule whereby, except in cases of emergency, school hours would be consistent unless parents of every child were previously notified by teachers.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Jean Baker

Dear Sir:

I think it is a shame for you to keep referring to the paddling at the Junior High School. Mr. Ted Barker is a fine man and a good assistant principal. Many of us feel that he is justified in doing what he does.

I also think you can serve the cause of justice better by forgetting the paddling incident.

Thank You,
A student

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The job of making an action program out of the nine resolutions adopted by the Latin American foreign ministers after nine days of struggling at Punta del Este, Uruguay, now falls on the Council of the Organization of American States—OAS—in Washington.

Two of the nine resolutions are considered of special importance. They are Resolution II, which calls for the establishment of Western Hemisphere security against international communism, and Resolution VII, which calls for severance of economic relations with Castro's Cuba.

Resolution II sets up in the OAS Council a consultative committee of experts to warn its member governments against any acts of aggression, subversion or dangers to peace and security from continued intervention in Sino-Soviet powers in the Western Hemisphere.

This watchdog committee is to be selected by the OAS Council from lists of nominees submitted by each of the now 20-member countries.

The committee will also have authority to recommend to member countries measures for collective self-defense and for countering threats or acts of aggression.

The committee reports are to be secret unless released by the receiving governments. It may take some weeks to get this group organized, but it is required to submit its first summary report to the Council by May 1, 1962.

Resolution VIII on economic relations with Cuba calls for the suspension of all trade with the Castro government in arms and implements of war of every kind. This will outlaw inter-American gun running and Cuban shipments of arms to other countries. But it will not block shipments of arms to Cuba from other Communist countries, which would be an act of war.

Resolution VIII also calls on the OAS Council to consider extending the suspension of trade with Cuba on other items, with special attention to strategic supplies.

So far, the United States is the only country that has placed an embargo on all trade with Cuba. But 14 other American republics have broken diplomatic relations with Cuba in the last three years. So tightening of trade restrictions is expected. This would be in line with OAS action in suspending trade relations with Dominican Republic's Trujillo government.

Three other Punta del Este resolutions give the OAS Council new responsibilities. Cuba was excluded from further participation in the Inter-American system by Resolution VI and was expelled from the Inter-American Defense Board by Resolution VII.

Before these bans may be lifted and normal trade relations with Cuba re-established, there must be approval by two-thirds of the members of the Organization of American States.

By Resolution IX the OAS Council was also instructed to broaden and strengthen the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights statute so as to establish international legal protection for these rights throughout the Western Hemisphere.

The other four resolutions adopted by the foreign ministers are largely declaratory and final, requiring no further executive action by the OAS Council.

The little-publicized OAS Council, made up of a special ambassador from each American republic, meets regularly on the first and third Wednesdays of each month in the Pan American Union building.

In the past few years the council has held more special than regular sessions because of recurring Cuban, Dominican and other Latin American crises.

Significance of the council's actions on these matters is not generally understood nor appreciated in the U. S. as they are elsewhere.

Only Rambler and Cadillac Have It!

DOUBLE PROTECTION with DOUBLE-SAFETY BRAKE SYSTEM

PARIS (UPI) — French officials expressed confidence today that there would be no hitch in the signing of a pact to end the seven-year-old Algerian war.

Officials said it was conceivable that "minor changes" might have to be made but there will be no "basic changes."

The Algerian rebel provisional government was summoned to meet in Tunis today to hear the report on the negotiations with French officials that ended Sunday night.

Wednesday the rebels' parliament—the 80-member National Council of the Algerian Revolution (CNRA) — will meet in Tripoli, Libya, to study the agreement.

The four rebel negotiators who returned to Tunis Monday were extremely cautious in their statements about the negotiations.

Foreign Minister Saad Dahlab said the talks were "not yet ended" although they had made a lot of progress and "can resume with good results."

You stop when others can't! Only Rambler and Cadillac, of all American cars for 1962, have the major safety advance of Double-Safety Brake System. Tandem master cylinders with 2 separate hydraulic systems. If front brakes fail, rear brakes still work, and vice versa. Priceless protection, and standard equipment at no extra cost, all models. So are self-adjusting brakes. So are a whole host of new advancements. And still Rambler prices stay low. Suggestion: see your Rambler dealer this week.

Chocolate Sale Set By Girl Guard

This week the Girl Guard, a service organization sponsored by the Salvation Army, holds its annual Chocolate sale in Sanford, according to Captain R. L. Clark, Commanding Officer of The Salvation Army.

The Girl Guards will visit every community offering 50 cent boxes of pure chocolate squares. The girls will canvas house-to-house as well as offices and transportation terminals.

The Girl Guard organization was founded in England in 1915 and in the following year the first United States troop was formed. Since that time the Guards and the younger Sunbeams have grown steadily in all parts of the country, including Hawaii and Alaska.

There are now four national division headquarters in New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Atlanta and more than 1300 active troops.

The purpose of this dedicated organization is to instill in girls a love for God and country, to build sound character and healthy bodies and teach them to help others in the true spirit of service.

Any profit from the sale is used exclusively for troop equipment, campships and for purchase of the familiar grey uniforms which are furnished to the girls by the troop.

Seminoles Dumped, 70-31

Apopka's Blue Darters got off to a fast start in the first quarter and never were threatened as they went on to down the Sanford Seminoles by the score of 70-31, Tuesday night in Apopka.

Apopka jumped off to an early 19-8 lead in the first period behind the scoring of Dan Goolbsy. The Seminoles couldn't seem to find the basket and by the time they had found themselves, they were 19 points behind by the end of the first quarter. Mike Woodruff made half of Sanford's eight pointers in the first.

The second period saw the Darters continue their barrage of the baskets. They added 20 more to their total and led at the end of the half by the score of 39-10. Goolbsy hit for 15 points in the first half and Woodruff, Johnson and McMurray each had four for Sanford.

Apopka kept pouring it on after the halftime intermission as Goolbsy kept setting the pace. Davis, Gustavson, and Williams hit for the Seminoles, but Sanford kept falling behind and were down 53-22 as the buzzer sounded ending the third quarter of the ball game. Sanford could score only nine in the final eight minutes and with the Darters scoring 14 more, the final total had risen to 70 for Apopka and 31 for the Seminoles.

Goolbsy had a 23 point total for the evening, scoring 11 field goals and three free throws. David Sellers added 11 more. Ken Gustavson led the Seminoles with eight points while Don McMurray added six to the total. Mutt Johnson also had six.

Sanford now has a season record of 11-8, with one regular season game left to play.

Cosch Ralph Stump's Seminole Junior Varsity was edged out Tuesday night in Apopka by the Apopka JV's by the score of 53-40.

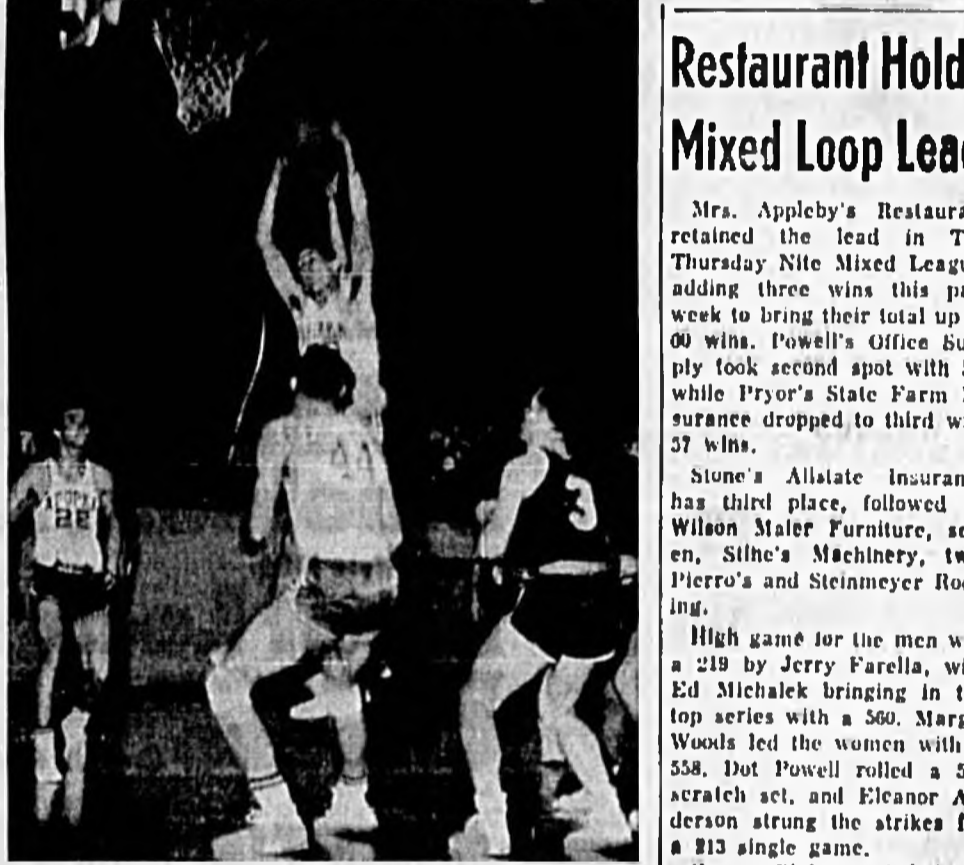

Apopka took an early first period lead of 11-7 and was never headed from there on out.

Apopka was ahead 20-17 at the end of the first half behind the scoring of Colley and Baleman. Ken Tyre and Berry Johnson were keeping the Seminoles in the game.

The Seminoles had closed the gap slightly in the third period and were behind 35-28 as the third eight minutes came to a close.

Heading down the home stretch, the Darters reopened the gap and steadily pulled ahead to come out on top by the score of 53-40.

Bateman was top dog for Apopka with 16 pointers, while Smith and Payne added ten each. Berry Johnson paced the Baby Seminoles with 11 points. Tyre added nine, and Bill Higgins hit for eight.

In B squad action, Oviedo won, 54-46.

Floyd In Top Form (Humor)

NEW YORK (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson made these two announcements today:

"My next fight will be the most important one of my career."

"My 19-year-old brother Ray will turn professional in May and I'll manage him."

Floyd returned to his training camp at Highland Mills, N. Y., early today after witnessing brother Ray's repeat triumph Monday night in Jamaica Madison Square Garden.

where Ray kept the New York Golden Gloves heavyweight championship by outpointing Tommy Watkins of Brooklyn.

Sports writers interpreted champion Floyd's announcement about the most important fight of his career to mean that Sonny Liston will be the challenger for sure.

"But I didn't say that," grinned Patterson.

Floyd was in excellent humor and enjoying his brief vacation workout with the writers.

Battle Between Tournays Fizzles

United Press International That expected battle between officials of the NCAA basketball tournament and the National Invitation Tournament in curtailing independent teams was no contest.

The NCAA, in slightly more than 24 hours, lined up eight of the nine so-called "at large" members they needed for their annual jamboree, which gets underway with regional play-offs March 12. The other 18 berths in the 28-team field will be filled by conference champions.

When the embargo on the signing of independent teams was lifted Monday, the NCAA landed Villanova, Oregon State, Creighton and Detroit while the NIT sponsors received acceptance from defending champion Providence, Loyola of Chicago, Duquesne and Houston.

The NCAA bounced back Tuesday with four additional independents — Seattle, New York University, Butler and the Air Force Academy. This may have caught the NIT gang by surprise but they recovered in time to sign up St. John's of New York, one of the East's best teams, Tuesday night.

The NIT customarily reserves two of its berths for the runner-up teams in the Missouri Valley and the Skyline conferences, so they presumably have only five spots to fill for their show opening at Madison Square Garden March 18.

Texas Tech and Southern Methodist remained tied for first place in the Southwest Conference race Tuesday night when Tech whipped Texas Christian, 74-6, and the Mustangs downed Texas, 69-64. Texas A & M lost its share of the lead by bowing to Rice, 63-62.

Houston celebrated its acceptance of an NIT bid by whipping Tulsa, 98-71. Donnie Schverak scored 22 points for the Cougars, who have lost only 5 of 24 games. Gary Havelon paced Tulsa with 25.

Gale Catlett's 20 points paced West Virginia to a 79-60 victory over Penn State and gave the Mountaineers their seventh consecutive 20-win season. Rod Thorn added 17 for West Virginia, which now boasts a 20-8 record.

By Jack Trim
The Fishing Liars Contest is beginning to rout out some of the number one experts in that field.

Among the entries received so far is the following episode in the fishing life of one George Bell of Lake Monroe and it's a lulu:

"Ever since I was a small boy here in Sanford I have heard of a lake down south where fish were so thick that they had to jump out of the water to move."

"Well, one Friday I decided to drive down there and when I arrived I found you could not drive into this lake, but had to go in on horseback I started out, but came to a gate."

"I got down to open the gate and when I looked around the mosquitoes had eaten my horse and were pinching the shoes to see which got the saddle. In desperation, I walked on to the lake."

"Sure enough, it was all I had heard about."

"I got my reel and rod and started, but didn't get any strikes. I tried all kinds of lures, but they didn't seem to be hitting anything. Then I noticed they were after frogs."

"I got to looking for a frog and finally heard one holler. When I found it, a big moose-casin had it in his mouth."

"I grabbed the frog and poured a good sized drink of corn liquor in the moose-casin's mouth. Then I put the frog on my hook and got a strike soon as I threw it into the lake."

"I ain't telling how big the fish was, but there was a hole in the water when he came out."

"While I was trying to land the fish, I felt something pulling on my pants leg. When I looked down, there was the same big moose-casin holding up another frog in his mouth."

"He sure must have liked that Seminole County dew!"

Now, brethren, that's a real fish yarn.

But to keep a little credence in this part of the world, here are some fish facts that are no bull.

Another striped bass has been reported in the St. Johns near Sanford. It weighed a pound and was caught by Tom Gordon of Green Cove Springs while he was trolling for shad. Maybe those striper are beginning to drift this way up the river. It would add a real punch to our fishing if they did become thickly populated in this section.

Maris, Yanks Heading For Salary Battle

United Press International
It looks like Roger Maris and the New York Yankees are heading for an old-fashioned salary battle.

The 61-homer-a-year man and Yankee General Manager Roy Hamey met for the fourth time Tuesday and the official report from Hamey was: "No appreciable progress."

Insiders believe this means that Maris refuses to budge from his asking price of $75,000 and that the Yankees are holding firm at about $67,000. Hamey is believed to have tried "to split the difference" Tuesday—because it is fairly well established that the Yankees' original offer was $60,000.

Hamey said that he planned one more meeting with Maris before Feb. 28—the date on which any unsigned Yankee will officially be classified as a holdout.

The possibility of a prolonged holdout arises because Maris and Hamey are split on a basic issue: The Yankees think their stars should be raised gradually and compensated in the closing days of their career by slight cuts while Maris believes the time to be rewarded is right now.

The Yankees point out that it has taken Mickey Vernon 10 years to rise to $85,000 but Maris points out that he has won the American League's Most Valuable Player award the only two years he has been with the club.

The Yankees did have some good news at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Tuesday when relief ace Luis Arroyo arrived. Louis, who had a 15-5 record in 1961, said he is in "top shape" and expects another fine season.

The possibility of a major trade developed when General Manager Paul Richards of the Houston Colt 45's and General Manager John Holland of the Chicago Cubs conferred at Mesa, Ariz.

"I can't say what positions are involved," said Richards. "But we hope to make a swap with one or another of the two clubs."

It is believed that the Giants might part with first-baseman Willie McCovey, a rookie-of-the-year hero in 1960, in order to obtain 26-year-old pitching stylist Bobby Shantz from Houston.

At St. Petersburg, Fla., Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Mets greeted veteran infielder Ted Lepico a week before he was scheduled to arrive and also took notice of John H. Glenn's orbital flight.

"I warned them," said Stengel, referring to his players' wind sprints and other workouts, "that they shouldn't try to jump too high just because of what that fellow did."

A husband's failure to provide coffee for his wives once was grounds for divorce in Turkey.

There have been several people with methods of smoking shad which made the bony rascals pretty tasty, but Kermit Wiggins, formerly of Enterprise and now living at Lemon Bluff, has a way of smoking them that beats most.

Wiggins smokes them about four hours over oak or hickory and they turn up with a smoky, barbecued taste. He'll smoke them for a small fee for anyone who contacts him at the bluff.

Don't forget to send in your favorite fishing yarn to the Fishing Liars Contest. It will end March 17.

Kegler Trophy Contention High

The Spare-Ribbers, Friday Afternoon Bowling Club as of Feb. 16, the following are in contention to receive the General H. P. Newton Trophy for the month of February: Paul B. Wood, Ellsworth Ogden, Al Potter, Glenn Smith, Ed Conley and Ed Alkan.

The winners will be decided at the club's session Friday.

The Nominating Committee composed of Chris Wiehern, chairman, Al Potter, Arnold Hooper, Ellsworth Ogden and Al Sallabury will hold a meeting Friday, Feb. 23, prior to bowling.

Herman Burger has been accepted as a new member.

Arrangements are now in progress for a dinner to be held at the close of the season, early in May, for members and their wives. This committee is headed by Ed Conley and assisted by Fred Dominek and Arnold Hooper.

Dellary No. 1 and 2 Teams, competed in the Golden Age Tournament at St. Augustine, Feb. 18. The ladies attended the competition and dinner after the bowling.

Announce Center
NEW YORK (UPI) — A multi-million dollar, 60-lane bowling center will be included in the new Madison Square Garden. It was announced Tuesday by former Princeton football star Dick Kazmaier, now president of Major League Bowling and Recreation, Inc.

Mrs. Fleischer Decor Chairman For Annual Tea

The decorations are always beautiful and interesting at the Shrove Tuesday teas, sponsored by the Episcopal Churchwomen, each year.

This year decorations are under the capable leadership of Mrs. Irwin Fleischer, avid gardener and member of the Sanford Garden Club. Her floral arrangements have won ribbons and praise at numerous flower shows.

Mrs. Al Wallace, general chairman of the tea, was fortunate in securing the assistance of Mrs. Fleischer. The spacious rooms of the Richard Deas home, where it will be held, should make a perfect background for her talents.

All efforts are being aimed at March 6, date of the annual event. Hours are from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the Deas home at 2018 Mellonville Ave.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read in the newspaper that all the "Tarzan" books were banned from children's libraries because Tarzan and Jane were living in sin! What child would ever think of that? That is just another example of what some dirty-minded adults can stir up. I would like your opinion on this.

ADULT AND DISGUSTED

DEAR ADULT: As I recall the Tarzan stories, he and Jane just "went together." If they did any high living, it was all in a tree, and unrecorded.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married a year and have not as yet invited my in-laws to my home for dinner, although I have had many other dinner guests. I have nice dishes and people tell me I am a good cook, but here is my story: My mother-in-law has made fun of, criticized and held her nose in describing dinners she has had in the homes of mutual relatives and good friends. She talks about how messy the house has been and how terrible the meal was, when I know how hard some of her hostesses have worked to make it nice. Am I wrong? If I am, I will invite her.

NO NAME PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: You don't have to invite her for MY sake, but perhaps you should for your husband's. Do your best and prove he's wrong.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a man I have gone with for two years. I am 19 and he is 22. I moved 80 miles from where he lives. He makes very good money and drives a new car, yet he claims he can't afford to drive down to see me on week-ends. He says if I go with anyone else, he'll break my neck. But I hear that he runs around with a different girl every night. Do you think I'm wasting my time sitting home?

NO WEEK-END

DEAR NO: Yes. And if you sit at home while he chases around, YOUR "week-end" is your head!

CONFIDENTIAL TO HELEN AND THE GIRLS: Pizza is a pie. It should properly be eaten with a fork in public.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

Every time I see the President and the First Lady together on television I have the feeling that somebody ought to tell him to pay a little more husbandly attention to his beautiful wife.

Usually when you see them together the President is climbing off a plane without turning to give his wife a helping hand, or he is striding ahead of her while she meekly but smilingly tags along behind, or he is shaking hands with dignitaries, while she is standing just outside the charmed circle.

No doubt the President is, in such moments, in a great hurry, or preoccupied, or maybe he just knows that somebody will look after his wife. But still such husbandly unconcern makes a very poor impression on the feminine public.

If the President doesn't realize just how off-hand his public manner toward his wife appears to be—he ought to look at some newsreels of the two of them together. And then he should look at some newsreels of President and Mrs. Eisenhower when Mrs. E. was the First Lady of the land.

Always, Ike was looking after Mamie—helping her in and out of cars, making sure she was seated before he began an address, leaning over to hear the words she addressed to him, smiling at her as the two chatted.

That kind of husbandly concern really got the women. It gave like a warmth of personality that women loved.

There's some feeling that President Kennedy's public image is a little lacking in warmth. One way for him to change that—at least so far as women are concerned—would be for him to act a bit more like a proud and protective husband in his public appearance with his beautiful and radiant wife.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

North's bidding was unusual to say the least, but South was mighty happy with his final contract of six clubs.

The game was duplicate and South noted that his side only had 26 points in high cards. The chances were that not many other pairs would be in a slam and he wanted to try the best play for six.

Actually, this is one of those hands where any number of lines of play look promising and probably several will work, but the one South finally selected offered the best chance for success since it practically insured his contract provided there were no abnormal breaks.

He led a club to dummy's king at trick two, played the king of diamonds, led a diamond to his ace, ruffed a diamond in dummy, returned to his own hand with the king of spades and ruffed his last diamond with dummy's last trump. East could overruff or discard, but his one trump trick would be all his side could make.

It was just as well that he decided on this line of play. While it looked as if several plays would work, this was the only way he could have made the hand.

TV Time Previews

7:30 - 8:30 p. m. (NBC) Wagon Train. "The Daniel Clay Story." You can't ask for a better actor than Claude Rains. Once again, there is intramural conflict to make you wonder how the Wagon Train ever manages to reach its destination. Rains plays a judge whose reputation for harsh sentences is put to the integrity test when he is challenged to pass similar judgment on his own son. Chief antagonist is well played by Fred Beir, who figures his pretty daughter (Maggie Pierce) has been wronged by the son (Peter Helm). Scout Bob Horton isn't around for this episode, but Wagonmaster John McIntyre carries on nicely in his mediator role.

charges against a young girl involved in the accident, Horton first discovers that greed, not justice, has prompted the charge—then proceeds to exonerate the girl by exposing a scandal that makes a man-slaughter seem mild by comparison. Carolyn Groves, Alan Luce, Sheppard Strudwick, Nancy Wickmire and Richard Waring are featured.

10:30-11 p. m. (NBC) David Brinkley's Journal. (Color) NBC reports that Brinkley has gained an "exclusive" interview with James H. Donovan, the lawyer who negotiated the releases of Francis Gary Powers, Frederic L. Pryor and Col. Rudolf Abel. Donovan is articulate, concise and fascinating in his account of the negotiations and actual release of the prisoners. He also defends his position as a defending attorney for a Soviet spy, in keeping with the American concept of justice for all. The other portion of tonight's telecast is equally interesting, especially for New England fishermen who are suffering from the advanced techniques of Russian fishing trawlers invading their traditional fishing grounds. Brinkley presents a filmed report on this legal form of high-seas hi-jacking.

8:30-9:30 p. m. (CBS) Checkmate. "An Assassin Arrives, Andante!" Noah Keen plays an assassin who wants others to do his killing for him. Target is a former underground hero (Richard Conte), now carrying on his fight against tyrannical rule in a presumably iron curtain country as a San Francisco resident. Signs Hasso as his wife, and it's she who calls on the Checkmate three (Anthony George, Doug McClure and Sebastian Cabot) to forestall the murder. The plot really gets involved when it's learned the assassin is the former husband of Miss Hasso, whom she had presumed had died a hero. Is Conte a traitor, as the assassin insists, or is he the assassin's target because he has taken his wife? Even Conte's brother (John Alderman) begins to believe the slander and sets out to kill him.

Not since the fourth week of the season have the Buckeyes enjoyed this total prestige of a perfect 350-point score. During the interim Ohio State consistently received 34 first place votes, with the other 10-point ballot alternating between Kentucky and Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, the defending NCAA tourney champion, retained its customary second place rating with 301 points. Kentucky was a slim choice for third place, by a single over fourth-ranked Kansas State, 218-217.

9:10 p. m. (NBC) The Perry Como Show. (Color) Johnny Carson, the cause of quite a hubbub in the television industry over the announcement that he will become the regular replacement for Jack Paar (in October), is Perry's top guest tonight.

9:30-10 p. m. (CBS) The Dick Van Dyke Show. Amusing dialogue and slight gag overcome a hackneyed plot, the resolution of which has little if any meaning. Rob (Dick Van Dyke) is set to make a speech before son Ritchie's (Larry Matthews) grade school class and Rob's pride is wounded when he discovers his son presumes he'll be a deadly bore. Isabel Randolph is good as the teacher and Van Dyke once again proves a master at getting laughs.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ohio State topped the United Press International major college basketball ratings for the 12th straight week today, the unanimous choice of the 35-member coaching board.

Not since the fourth week of the season have the Buckeyes enjoyed this total prestige of a perfect 350-point score. During the interim Ohio State consistently received 34 first place votes, with the other 10-point ballot alternating between Kentucky and Cincinnati.

10-11 p. m. (CBS) United States Steel Hour. "The Perfect Accident." Robert Horton steps out of his "Wagon Train" role to star in a "good story, well-acted" drama in which he portrays an insurance investigator sifting the facts in the automobile death of a brilliant lawyer. When the widow institutes manslaughter charges against a young girl involved in the accident, Horton first discovers that greed, not justice, has prompted the charge—then proceeds to exonerate the girl by exposing a scandal that makes a man-slaughter seem mild by comparison. Carolyn Groves, Alan Luce, Sheppard Strudwick, Nancy Wickmire and Richard Waring are featured.

Presbyterian Youths Make 'World Trip'

The Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford recently enjoyed a "trip around the world" in observance of the denominational ethosias on World Missions in February. The first stop was at the home of R. Adm. and Mrs. R. W. Jackson where the theme was Taiwan (Free China). A course of foods native to the country was served and explanation was given of the mission work there.

Going on to the Canal, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Greene, the group enjoyed another treat of appropriate foods before getting a bit of Mexican cuisine at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Alken. Rev. and Mrs. Graver C. Sewell were hosts for the dessert course featuring Japanese food, the last country to be visited.

Adult advisors of the fellowship are Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Jones who assisted with arranging the evening's program.

White Collar Pay Hike Is Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Tuesday asked Congress for a $1 billion pay increase for 1,640,000 white-collar government workers over the next three years to bring their salaries into line with private industry.

In a special message to the House and Senate, Kennedy proposed reform of the federal pay system to provide for wage hikes ranging from 3.7 per cent for clerical workers to 23 per cent for top-bracket employees.

The proposed 10 per cent boost in the federal payroll would be spread over three annual stages, starting Jan. 1, 1963, with the first year accounting for about four and one-half per cent of the raise.

Kennedy said that enactment of the reform plan was fundamental to the "maintenance of a standard of excellence in the federal service." He said it was "essential if we are to achieve and maintain proficiency in the federal government."

The President stressed the need for putting the pay of top-flight professional workers on a par with private enterprise, in order to attract and retain competent personnel.

Members of the association who met with Volusia County Commissioners advised that Poinsettia Dr. and Plumosa Dr. will be resurfaced and that other roads will receive attention as soon as the work can be done.

The program will be preceded by a covered dish fellowship supper beginning at 6:30 p. m. and all interested residents are invited to bring a dish, table service and friends for an evening of fun and fellowship.

Civic Reports Of Interest To DeBary

By Mrs. Adam Muller DeBary citizens attending last week's meeting of the DeBary Civic Assn. heard numerous reports on items of interest concerning the community.

Members of the association who met with Volusia County Commissioners advised that Poinsettia Dr. and Plumosa Dr. will be resurfaced and that other roads will receive attention as soon as the work can be done.

It also was reported that five buildings in DeBary have officially been designated for Welfare in Civil Defense, among them the Community Center.

Announcement was made that the DeBary Library Assn. has donated a $100 check to go towards the Center's Building Fund and a request for chair donations for the new building was made by President James Duffy.

It was suggested by Fred Kammerer that the group consider the purchase of room dividers in order that small groups could meet individually without tying up the whole building.

The association voted to go on record as being opposed to locating a trailer park on W. Highbanks Rd.

Prior to 1900, the French referred to all Americans as "Bostonians."

Landscape
Study Course
Set In April

A Landscape Design Study Course Series has been scheduled by the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, Inc., in cooperation with the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., at Miami U. April 16 to 18.

The program is open to all, but only Garden Club members may take the examination and receive an Appraiser's Certificate. This study course will be Course I in Series II.

It is required that those taking the course read, "The Book of Landscape Design" by Orloff and Raymore; "Art Out-of-Doors" by Van Rensselaer; and "Art and Nature Appreciation" by Opyke. The Landscape Design Study Courses project has been called "the most dynamic program underway in America at the present time for improving man's environment."

Other commentators said, "Outdoor beauty in the USA, including such important matters as billboard regulation, subdivision control, green spaces in our towns and cities, intelligent zoning regulations, etc., seems doomed to an inert status until a large group of representative citizens can become informed as to what should be done and how effective controls and cures can be obtained."

Westminster
Groups Join
For Meeting

By Frances Wester
The Westminster Fellowship organizations of Lake Mary and Uptala joined forces for their Sunday night meeting which followed a fellowship dinner held at the Community Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary.

The group went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, on the Longwood Road, to have their program and participate in a group discussion on four chapters of Genesis.

Afterwards a social hour was enjoyed during which the favorite game of rhythm was played. Refreshments of peanut butter crackers, potato chips, and root beer were served.

Those attending were Pamela Grinell, Penny Grinell, Sherry Spinelli, Sonja Wester, Mellanie Williams, Linda Mohr, Susi Stubbings, Kathleen Julian, Richard Thayer, David Wilson, Dale Alexander, Corky Bucklew, Terry Bucklew, Robert Hopkins, Larry Chester, Robert Teslow, Richard Scott, Mrs. Troy Thayer, and Rev. John Pilley.

WOMEN SPECTATORS

THE PHANTOM MARY WATNE

By LARRY VERSHEL
It happened Tuesday: A tardy tag-buyer in the long line that stretched northward from the court house door commented, "In the time that's it taken me to move 100 yards in this line, John Glenn has gone around the earth three times."

Since the County Commission is worried about the lights at Sunland . . . They might worry a little about those weeds in the playground . . . By the way, those keys no one could find were turned over to John Fitzpatrick yesterday. Art Harris of Kingswood told us this morning that the light bill amounts to a little over $1 per month.

There was an interesting note in my typewriter this morning. "Keep working on the access road to Seminole High" . . . it was signed "a reader." . . . I wish the county and city would work on it instead of me. . . I'm not too handy with a grader.

I wonder how many people realized that the Seminole High Boosters Club almost folded up last year because of lack of interest? However, things are different now. The revitalized group is hard at work aiding in the constructing a new track for the school.

Although the city turned down the Seminole High swim team's request to use the Ft. Mellon Park Pool the youngsters are currently working out at Silver Lake . . . thanks to Tom Ownby.

Lee Gary tells us he has been "approached" about running for the district 4 County Commission post. "Still not committed," says the popular Oviedo mayor.

The word is that Mason Wharton is thinking of running for one of the school board posts.

On Jan. 19 of this year the County Commission asked the board of medical examiners to set up some ground rules regarding the issuance of death certificates in the county. Nothing done about it yet and we questioned one of the examiners. "Oops, forget all about it," he said.

Regarding recent criticism of the civil service board, Maj. W. E. Bristol has done a real outstanding job. As for utilizing the office space, Maj. Bristol conducts tests and interviews all day long.

By the way Bristol and A. B. Peterson Sr. (CI director) are among the few public officials that work unnoticed doing their best without any proper financial rewards. Instead of all the knocks they have been getting they should get some support.

Interesting to note that Zoning Director Bob Brown was called for jury duty from Federal Court in Orlando and Building Inspector Fouts Yelvington is summoned to appear for jury duty here next Monday. Wonder if they can get off? Fouts is supposed to attend the Building officials' assn. meet Monday (he's the president). Brown is spending over 12 hours a day on specs for renovating courthouse.

Hold the phone Hornc—A carrier pigeon from South Seminole just blew in with a note saying: Ford Cavanaugh will definitely NOT be a candidate for anything in the forthcoming Primary.

Woman from Paula called telling us we should commend the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept. and NAS fire crews for the work done at Paula the other day. Ralph Abell, fire chief of the Lake Mary volunteers has really been on the ball protecting homes outside the city.

Bliss Road Report

County Engineer Carlton Bliss today painted a bleak picture of road building for Seminole County estimating that the county will only get about a million and a half dollars for construction and acquisition of rights of way from the state for the next five years.

Bliss and State Reps. Gordon Frederick and Mack Cleveland are expected to make their report to the long range planning committee on roads of the Chamber of Commerce tonight.

The committee at its initial meeting appointed the three to come up with a comprehensive report on the county's status on secondary road funds.

"There just won't be enough money to build these roads," Bliss said, adding, "particularly with the skyrocketing of rights of way costs for the state."

Bliss estimated that the county will get only about $500,000 per year out of secondary funds. "What it means is about one project per year . . . when we could use five."

Discussing the county's bonding program, Bliss said the million dollar bond issue will mature in 1970 and "we'll get an additional $200,000 per year. The half-million dollar program will mature in 1974 and the "old boom bond program in 1973."
