MEXICAN AFFAIR AT A STANDSTILL

Fear Lest Delay Bring About Unexpected Conditions.

PEOPLE OPPOSED TO WAR.

Seems 'Politicians Favor It Because They Believe Inaction Will Be Unpopular—Republicans Have Remained Quiet, Thinking It Good Policy to Leave Problem to Democrats.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 11.—[Special].—As much doubt as ever hangs over the Mexican situation. No one seems to know just which way affairs will turn...

Continued delay may bring about an unexpected condition when coupled with a possible menace against Mexico. It may serve to bring the various revolutionary leaders under Carranza and enable him to set up a government with a semblance of a united people behind him...

People Versus Politicians

It looks as if there was quite a sharp division between the people and the politicians in regard to Mexico, judging from the reports received in Washington. The people do not want war...

NYE'S STUDY OF THE BEE

Humorist Went Almost as Deeply Into His Subject as His Subject Did Into Him.

I love to study bees, and once kept bees myself. I often think of what a late writer has said, 'that within so small a body should be contained an apparatus for converting the various sweets which it collects into one kind of nourishment for itself, another for the common brood, glue for its carpentry, wax for its cells, poison for its enemies, honey for its master, with a proboscis as long as its body itself, microscopic in several parts, telescopic in its mode of action, with a sting so exceedingly sharp that were it magnified by the same glass which makes a needle's point seem a quarter of an inch across, it would yet itself be invisible, and this, too, a hollow tube—that all these varied operations and contrivances should be included within half an inch of length, and two grains of matter is surely enough to crush all thoughts of atheism and materialism.' The queen, during the propagating season, lays as high as two thousand eggs in a day, and I have given much thought to the grafting of the queen bee upon the Plymouth Rock hen, with a view to better egg facilities, but so far met with but little success...

era of business. The academic trail, as usual, is over it all. There are ominous remarks about the free use of books in French and German, and something about being 'well grounded' in European and American history. The 'fields' listed for the general examination of the candidate for the new doctorate are more to the point, although economic theory is required for everybody instead of for those only who do not intend to go into business, and there is nothing in the description of the courses in marketing, foreign trade, industrial management and labor problems, and money and banking, about laboratory work. It is but too evident that our most advanced universities still look upon their business courses as having long looked upon their law courses—as convenient means of imparting knowledge merely. If Harvard wants to make a hit let her induce some millionaire to put up a stock exchange in the Yard, which may do for thousands what her medical school and her courses in play writing are doing for a comparative handful.—New York Post

Tiny German States.

Some of the German states are of titanic size, as is evidenced by the fact that it is quite possible to visit eleven of them, including two kingdoms, two duchies and three principalities, in an easy walk of four and a half hours.

A good walker, starting from Steinbach, in Bavaria, will arrive in half an hour at Lichtentanne, which is situated in Saxe-Meiningen. Thence the road proceeds in one and a half hours to Hauschengeggen (Reuss, elder branch), after which in a few minutes Gleina, in Schwarzburg-Rudolstadt, is reached.

Half an hour's walk brings the pedestrian to Altengeeggen (Reuss, younger branch). An hour farther on lies Drogitz, on Prussian soil, and the last stage is another hour's stroll, finishing up at Saalthal, Saxe-Altenburg.

Origin of 'Dago' The word 'Dago' was originally given by sailors to Spaniards, Portuguese and Italians. In general there are several theories as to its derivation. Probably the most widely accepted is that the word is a corruption of the Spanish name Diego, used as an equivalent of the English Jack or James. Others believe it to be purely a corruption or nickname derived from the Spanish word dago, which came to be applied to any foreigner from Latin Europe. It is now used chiefly as a nickname for Italian immigrants in this country.

History in Almanacs. It is possible to trace in records of almanacs all the changes of popular belief and taste. They were prepared to meet the current demand and to constitute a systematic study of what took place in successive eras and how knowledge increased with the revolving years. It is almost most that we know of the people for whom they were made and by whom they were interested.

Ancient Greek Had Wisdom. The earliest writer to conceive of the idea of a rotating earth was Philolaus, a Greek, who lived in the fifth century before Christ. The same man, on purely philosophical principles, also hit upon the idea of the sun as the center of our system—an idea that had to wait 2,000 years for confirmation, until Copernicus came in 1543.

FLORIDA BOYS WILL LEAVE FOR BORDER

SECOND REGIMENT WILL LEAVE ON NEXT THURSDAY

State Camp, Black Point.—Information was given at the state camp today that orders have been received from the headquarters of the eastern Department, United States Army, changing the designation of the Second Infantry, National Guard of Florida, from Del Rio to El Paso, Texas, and these orders contemplate that the regiment shall proceed to destination as soon as it shall be completely equipped. It is an interesting fact that although the regiment has been mobilized for now nearly four weeks, the supplies necessary to equip the regiment to war strength, which under army regulations, are supposed to be supplied from the proper depots of the war department as soon as the troops are called out, have not yet been all received.

It is now definitely certain however that the regiment will leave for the border in about a week, and during the time by recruiting the regiment up to its full war strength. For this purpose recruiting parties were sent out today, one party heading down the east coast, one going down the center of the state, and one to Tampa and points of the line. As the regiment is to be sent from the southern part of the state no effort will be made to recruit from North Florida. The regiment is to be composed of men from the southern part of the state, and it is expected that the recruiting parties will be successful in securing a large number of men. The recruiting parties will be active for some time, and it is expected that the regiment will be ready to leave for the border in about a week.

The recruiting force that will go to Tampa will consist of Lieut. J. R. Smith, a sergeant, a corporal and a private.

Some Ball Game

It was in Sanford on a rainy afternoon. Sunshine it would have been the name. Sanford vs. Orlando and the championship was at stake.

Tommy Rackley hurled for Orlando and did his level best, but it was the same old story, he was just like the rest.

The Orlando pitchers all look good to Sanford, as Mister Rackley soon found out that no matter how hard he tried he could not get that Sanford boy out.

Mister Rackley thought he had a bunch with his famous Ingersoll wind up, that he had the Sanford bunch, he took too long to wind up and the Sanford boys had lunch and they sure had the punch.

Rackley might play ping pong but not base ball. So Tommy take a fool's advice—don't try base ball.

Poor Rackley twisted and jumped around like a real live flea and looked at the crowd. Sanford got tired and started to throw fireworks with a pound and a half landed against the fence.

That bird Crow not to be outdone hit one to the tall uncut and the way he did run! The next up walked and Tommy knew that he could not keep Leon from stealing and he did steal every base in sight. When Pop Wallace came to Tommy pulled down his hat and tried with might and main to keep Sanford from scoring and praying for a rain.

Furina hit a beauty that sure did give Tommy a pain and he was thinking how much longer the slaughter was going to last, but runs came thick and fast.

Mister Palmer came to bat and knocked the ball a mile. Mister Rackley couldn't smite.

Gus and Selo got a bingle or two and little Burdick helped himself too.

The Royal Rooters wanted to hit some too. Tommy had his troubles, so did Sorren-du and Hunter too. The outfield were up the air and stayed there too.

I sure felt sorry for little Tommy and you would have too. I thought we would have to call out the fire department, police department and others too, to let poor Rackley rest. Windy.

Surprised Miss Waldron

The Priscilla Club of the West Tampa Union Congregational church on last Monday night gave Miss Ruth Waldron, president of the club a surprise at her home No. 2401 Highland avenue. There were thirty-five present. Games were played and every one had an enjoyable time. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the girls of the club. Miss Waldron has just returned from a visit to Sanford, and she was accompanied home by her friend, Miss Edna Clifton, who will visit Miss Waldron for some time. The young ladies went for a walk at 7 while they were going to the club together with the president, called at Miss Waldron's home. When she returned she found that she had been surprised.

HONORS EVEN IN FIGHTING FRONT RANKS

NOTHING OF IMPORTANCE IN BIG DRIVE OF ALLIES

The fighting in the region of the Tiber has dwindled perceptibly in intensity, Sunday witnessing merely heavy bombardments on the British front and comparative calm on the Italian front. The French, in the meantime, are endeavoring to break through the German lines near Verdun, but their progress is slow and uncertain.

In the eastern theatre in the region of Lutsk heavy fighting has been renewed with the Russians, the aggressors. According to Vienna, all attacks here have been repulsed. Neither the Vienna nor Petrograd official communication touches upon the operations in the Carpathian region, but Petrograd recedes the capture from the Turks of the important town of Raburt, in Turkish Armenia, 50 miles south of the Black Sea port of Trebizond.

The Italians still are making headway against the Austrians according to Rome, especially on the Posina line and have repulsed violent counter attacks with heavy losses to the Austrians.

Social Evening at Parish House.—The members of Holy Cross church and their friends will enjoy a delightful evening of social enjoyment and entertainment tonight at the Parish House. Members were urged to come and bring with them their families and friends and participate in the good time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herby returned Friday from their summer home in Dayton, Ohio, where they have been for some months. Mr. Herby states that Sanford is a good place to live, and that the climate is as pleasant here during the summer months as it is in the north.

Miss Anna LeGette who has been the attractive guest of Mrs. Clarence Carter left on Saturday for Valdosta, Ga. She was the recipient of many charming attentions while here.

W. I. Tyler leaves today for New York where he will join Mrs. Tyler and spend several weeks at Troy, Syracuse and other points.

CAROLINAS GOOD MEET STORM SWEEPED TRADE BODY WITH BIG LOSS

ASHVILLE AND OTHER SECTIONS SUFFER BY FLOOD

Asheville, N. C., July 17.—Taking a toll of five human lives, with a property loss estimated from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000, and with hundreds of people rendered homeless by the destruction of more than 100 houses, the worst flood in the history of the state swept the river section of Asheville and the French Broad Valley early this morning and the waters of the Swannanna and French Broad rivers were fifteen feet above their banks, but receding.

Reports from towns in the French Broad Valley, covering a territory from the Lake Toxaway section to Hot Springs, near the Tennessee line, put the property losses at nearly $10,000,000. Reports from these sections are difficult to obtain, owing to the interruption of telephone and telegraph communication, lines being down everywhere. At Asheville today the Western Union Telegraph Company was closed in looking up a cablegram wire to Atlanta, thus getting the only line of communication to the south coast.

The dead, so far known, are Capt. L. E. Lips, Nellie Lips, an infant child, and Mrs. M. J. Lips, who were drowned in the French Broad river at Asheville.

The water had reached the highest point shortly after daybreak this morning. These conditions were further aggravated when the storm center hit the waters of the French Broad at Hendersonville and Keokoke, La. at Kasato, near the headwaters of the French Broad Valley, through Henderson County, past Asheville and into the adjoining county of Madison.

Communication with the latter section by either telephone or telegraph has not yet been established, but it is feared that the entire town of Marshall has been wiped off the map.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon fears were entertained for the big dam at Lake Toxaway, the bursting of which, it is said, would send the waters sweeping through South Carolina and would create conditions worse than those of the Johnstown flood.

Hundreds of children from a cotton mill section of the city, whose homes were swept away early this morning, crowded the city hall this afternoon. Hastily formed relief committees are making every arrangement for the sheltering and feeding of the city's homeless.

Closed for Summer.—Comfort Cottage has closed the dining room for the summer but has rooms to rent furnished.

GOOD MEET TRADE BODY LAST FRIDAY

NEW BOARD OF TRADE SIGNS UP GOOD MANY MEMBERS

The Sanford Board of Trade apella success in large letters for at no time in the history of Sanford has such a spirit of cooperation been manifested. Last Friday night there was a large assembly of the men of Sanford and vicinity to join the new board.

President Dutton called the meeting to order promptly at eight o'clock and stated the object, calling especial attention to the fact that it meant for every member to pay the best half of the membership fee. He also called attention to the benefits to be derived by the members of the section as members of the board of trade and many of them were present.

Fifty-two members came forward and paid their dues and since that time six more have signed up with the secretary. A determined effort will be made to obtain the name of every business man in Sanford and every resident and control them as members.

The meeting adjourned at nine o'clock. It is hoped that the new board will be successful in its efforts to improve the trade of the city.

OUR GROWERS ARE ACTIVE ON THE FARM

SANFORD SECTION PRESENTS A BUSY SCENE

This is the season of the year when our growers are returning from their vacations and getting ready for the big money crops that will be shipped next winter.

Everywhere the fields are being plowed up, hay is being cut, corn is being husked and placed in the cribs and the celery delta presents the scene that the farmers farther north will present in November. This is the fall season in this section of the world and it means money. The many hands that are being employed will soon be augmented by hundreds of others and the seed beds will soon rear their white tents looking like an encampment of soldiers.

Demonstrators of traction engines and plows are on Celery avenue today plowing up the land and demonstrating what gasoline will do in competition with mule power. Fertilizer and crab men are erecting new warehouses and making ready for their busy season.

All these activities tend to show that another top season is ahead of the growers of the Sanford section and that they are in the good crops and the good prices that prevailed last year.

Senator Fletcher realized one of his fondest wishes today when he signed the Rural Credit Bill. The bill is designed to provide for the establishment of rural credit banks in Florida, which will be able to loan money to farmers at a low rate of interest. This is a great step towards the improvement of the rural economy in the state.

SELL YOURSELF SOME HAY

Florida has a large hay crop and it is now the season when the growers are ready to sell. The hay is of good quality and is well suited for use as feed for stock. It is a great asset to the farmer and should be sold at a profit.

Stem End Rot Likely to Follow Scale Insects

Scale insects not only damage citrus fruits themselves, but they are likely to be the forerunners of stem end rot. Stem end rot is caused by a fungus which is unable to enter the fruit except where a wound or weakened tissues give them entrance. The disease is usually found at the stem end and is because it finds conditions for entrance favorable there.

Scale insects usually collect at the stem end and weaken the tissues around the stem. Since the spores of the fungus are usually abundant infection is almost sure to occur if the disease has been in the grove during a year or two previous. The fruit drops and decays sets in. If infection occurs late in the season decay may not develop until after the fruit is picked and shipped.

H. E. Stevens, plant pathologist to the University of Florida Experiment Station recommends that growers watch closely for scale insects. If they become numerous they should be sprayed with a good contact insecticide. Spraying may have to be repeated once or twice to keep the fruit free from scales until the picking season.

Pruning the dead wood is also a good precaution. The fungus lives over in dead wood and is ready to infect fruit when favorable conditions arise. Dead wood should be removed and burned. This will lessen greatly the chances for spread of the disease.

Seal Silo When It Is Filled

Silage always spoils when it is exposed to the air. Consequently, unless it is protected a layer about eight inches deep spoils at the top of the silo. C. L. Willoughby, professor of animal husbandry in the University of Florida College of Agriculture, recommends that the silo be sealed when it is full.

Grass, straw or hay may be run through the cutter and blown on top of the silage. Oats sown on top of this will sprout and form a turf that will protect the silage. It is cheaper to put on this top dressing and let it spoil than it is to let the silage spoil.

Dear Kitty:

Sanford Saunterer:
Why don't you move the cemetery closer to town?

Dear Citizen:
A perfectly natural question for an old citizen who has lived here for years and made no effort to move it closer. From my observation here the cemetery could probably do better work if moved closer. There are plenty of dead ones that need burial.

Dear Saunterer:
I have not come into the Board of Trade because the Commercial Club never accomplished anything and I was a member of that body.

Dear Friend:
If you were a member of the Commercial Club it never cost you anything, consequently you have no kick coming. You will find out that the Board of Trade means business and you will have to pay before you kick. The Commercial Club was all right when you consider that no money was ever raised in dues. The few people who have been doing it all here for several years are tired and the Board of Trade was organized to give the citizens a chance to hear part of the burden. Come in, the water is fine.

Dear Saunterer:

Sanford is in better shape right now in the hotel line than ever before in her history. If you would come down town once a month and look around you would not be classed among the foolish ones. At least you ought to subscribe for the Herald and stop hounding the neighbors once a year.

Movements of the Atlantic Coast Line

General Superintendent J. C. Murchison passed through the city Saturday morning enroute to Jacksonville, after having been over the Leesburg and Astor branches. Mr. Murchison was accompanied on the trip by Mr. L. L. Sparrow, division engineer from Jacksonville.

Supt. T. W. Hansell spent Friday on the Leesburg branch, and accompanied the general superintendent from Astor to Sanford Saturday morning in his private car enroute to Jacksonville. Mr. Hansell stopping off at Sanford.

Road Master B. E. Haley of Kissimmee was a visitor in Sanford Saturday. Mr. Haley being in company with the local Finder Agent W. K. Ketter, and adjusting some matters with Mr. W. A. Gunn of Sanford, Florida.

Road Master T. M. Hill of Lake Springs was in the city Saturday morning on the 70 Saturday train, enroute to Sanford, Florida.

Dispatcher H. J. Kennedy, who has been spending the week vacation in the hotel at North Sanford, has returned and is at the office at the depot today.

Friday, bringing with him his family who cut their visit short on account of sickness of the little girl, who is now reported as improving. Engineer Crosby left the city Friday evening for Apopka to take charge of the run between Apopka and Kissimmee temporarily. Mr. Crosby will be greatly missed next Thursday at the Ball Park.

Road Master Renfro spent Friday and Saturday on the Leesburg and Astor branches, traveling on his motor car, making inspection of his territory.

Train Master J. F. Kretzel left Sanford Saturday afternoon for Jacksonville to look after the handling of state troops Saturday night and Sunday morning, returning to their homes, having been released by the government.

Coast Line trains are heavily crowded with mountain travel daily, almost every train being forced to operate with extra equipment to accommodate the travel.

The Atlantic Coast Line will operate special train on Thursday, July 27th with a solid train of Kissimmee Valley Florida cattle for LaForte, Texas, this being the second train of its kind this summer. Such an Accident Never Heard of in the History of the Railroad.

The Jacksonville Tampa fast freight, commonly known as the package train was wrecked one mile north of Huntingdon Saturday morning under very peculiar circumstances. Two large Florida bulls were engaged in a fight along-side of the track as the train was passing by at a speed of thirty miles an hour. Thirty five cars of the train had passed the fighting animals, when one of them pushed the other under the side of the moving train causing two cars to leave the rails and partly turn over. The Sanford wrecker was immediately despatched to the scene and track cleared up and cars retailed with slight delay to traffic and practically no damage, thus much as one of the bulls was killed outright and the other severely injured. Officials of the company were greatly in course of investigation to get statements as to the cause of the accident.

Another Chief Dispatcher H. H. Gentry, who has been spending the week vacation in the hotel at North Sanford, has returned and is at the office at the depot today.

Mr. W. K. Ketter, division engineer, who has been spending the week vacation in the hotel at North Sanford, has returned and is at the office at the depot today.

Special Train over the Line
A special train carrying home special train with ten cars from state camp passed through Sanford early Sunday morning. The train consisted of two classes, Tampa and Westport.

Mr. W. K. Ketter, division engineer, who has been spending the week vacation in the hotel at North Sanford, has returned and is at the office at the depot today.

Dispatcher R. L. Peck is the proud father of a fine girl baby, who arrived in the city Thursday evening. Mr. Peck is wearing a regular morning glory smile at the reception.

Measuring Human Energy
The present of the future will be recognized not for the time consumed in performing a household task, but in order to the human energy required. If the studies now under way at the home economics division of the department of agriculture are successful. These studies are made by means of a calorimeter, which is a double walled chamber, in which the subject for study is securely sealed up. Every exertion made by the person inside of the calorimeter increases the bodily heat which is registered in calorimetric units. Even the process of breathing consumes from 15,000 to 20,000 calorie units in a day. A woman doing some light work such as dishwashing may register 25,000. Heavier work may increase the consumption of energy to 60,000 or 70,000, according to the individual. In this way the actual amount of "work" required for any task can be accurately measured.

Doings.
"If I had my way," said the positive woman, "I'd make every unmarried man pay a special tax."
"What would be the use?" rejoined Miss Cayenne. "Any man who can dodge matrimony would surely succeed in dodging his tax."

Exercise.
Visitor—Do you give your dog any exercise?
Owner—Yes, he goes for a traump every day.

Sure Thing.
Charles M. Schwab said at a dinner in New York:
"It's old-fashioned nowadays to believe that crookedness pays. We have no more crooked advertisements. We have no more crooked millionaires. We have no more crooked jokes. They're old-fashioned."
"What sort of a chap is your fiance?" a girl was asked last week.
"Oh," she answered, "he's the most honorable, upright, generous, godly fellow in the world."
"Goodness, you'll starve to death!" is what this girl would have been cynically told in the past, but the answer she got last week was:
"Then one of these fine days you'll be living in a white Fifth Avenue house with 17 baths overlooking Central park."

Wisdom of Willie.
Mother—Why didn't you come when I called you the first time?
Willie—'Cause I didn't hear you till you called the third time.
Mother—Now, how could you know it was the third call unless you heard the other two?
Willie—Easy enough, ma. I knew it was the third time 'cause you sounded so mad.

Reciprocation.
Sammie's parents were moving to another town and the little lad had come to bid adieu to his beloved teacher. When she put her arms around him his sorrow at parting mounted to tears, and to her adjuration to "always be a good boy and grow up to be a fine man" he blurted between sobs, "The same to you."

GEORGE WASHINGTON NEVER HAD A THING ON THIS PAGE

M'GRAW WILL DEPEND ON HIS VETERANS

Great Things Expected of New York Giants' Pitchers

John McGraw, Giant manager, says he has three pitchers on whom he can count for good work this season. Poor pitching put the Giants in the second division last season.

Boys that Matty is through and that some of the other pitchers who did not do well last season will not be good this year is not borne out by baseball experience," says McGraw.

Rube Benton is one of the greatest left-handers in the league, and I expect good work from him. I also count on Ferris Matty, Trosnan Schupp and Schauer."

by giving $50,000 for Eddie Collins, then not being satisfied he opened up his heart again and bought the great Joseph Jackson who is about the highest priced ball player in the world, except Tyrus Raymond. As far as the other two teams in the league are concerned, St. Louis and Philadelphia clubs are helpless lost. The Athletics are in the cellar for the rest of their natural lives, while St. Louis looks like a lost case also. Next week an article will appear on the National League clubs and their different chances of winning the flag in their respective league.

So you find your way to the ball game, yes?

Only part of it. She thought they wanted a great deal of time running around the lot, but she thought the arguments with the umpires were quite interesting.

They are all right to be kept on the base ball team. They keep the interest stirred and also to keep these star players which we have it is necessary for the fans to see out. The local officials are determined to give the fans the best of the game. They are the only ones who can do this. They are the only ones who can do this. They are the only ones who can do this.

That boy Erickson has been getting some ground this season. It has been his great fielding in center field that has saved many a hit from being chalked up against the local pitchers. Gus has also been hitting the old apple.

Where is Our Wandering Rackley Tonight?

Oh, where is our wandering Rackley tonight?
 The pitcher that Sanford needs so well.
 The boy that has all the speed and delight
 The one that makes Leon's batting average small?
 Chorus:
 O, where is our Rackley tonight,
 O, where is our Rackley tonight,
 The one we love and love so well
 O, where is our Rackley tonight?
 Longfellow.

Try the above over on your piano, also to be continued.

Question—I was told that Orlando had a ball team. Please inform me in your valuable paper whether there is any truth in the statement.
 Answer—Unable to say.

Question—Who is the world's greatest ball player?
 Answer—Ty Cobb has been called the greatest living player for the last ten years. Though this year he is slowing up already, this season he is leading in stolen bases. Also ahead in runs so scored. A few points behind the league leader in batting and leading in total bases will not likely be able to finish the season on account of the league getting so fast.

HARD PLACE TO PLAY

Shortstop Most Difficult Position on the Diamond.

On Account of Long Throw Player Must Make His Plays Quick and Clean—Third Base is Easiest Position to Play.

That shortstop is the most difficult of the seven fielding positions to play in the opinion of all good judges among baseball men.

The shortstop has as many chances as the second baseman, and they are usually much more difficult. While the guardian of the second sack has oceans of time in which to make his plays to first base, the shortstop, on account of the much longer throw, must make his plays as clean as a whistle. Plays to first base are exceptionally difficult. He has to cover a world of ground and he must follow up most of his stops by a long and accurate throw. He must do his share of touching runners at second base. In many cases, as in that of Hammeroff of the Phillies, he does practically all of the covering of second base on thrown balls to prevent stealing.

When all are agreed that shortstop is the most difficult place to play on the field, there is not so much agreement about the easiest place to play. Opinion being divided between the first and second base.

The first baseman, however, is in favor of shortstop, where there are less numerous and where there are only one or two difficult situations. The first baseman is not so difficult to play as the shortstop. He plays rather close in as a rule, gets the ball quickly and has more time to get it away. The third baseman has a hard time when there is a man on second base, with a batter up who can get a hit on a ball. The better then does not know just what to do with the ball. If he plays fast, the batter may lay down a bunt and beat it out.

Shortstop Bancroft

He plays too close up on the bases a clever hitter is likely to slip past him for a clean hit. But taking it all in all, the third base play is more mechanical than that at second and the number of chances to be taken is vastly less. On the four field positions it seems to be the most difficult to cover provided a man has the arm and the mechanical ability.

BASEBALL STORIES

The American league race is tightening up.

The Red Sox are not climbing toward the top very fast.

Janvlin and Barry are a great pair around second for the Red Sox.

The batting of Amos Strunk is one of the features of the Athletics' games. Louie Mann, Cub outfielder, formerly of the Braves, has at last recovered his batting orb.

Judging from the way he's cutting up at bat these days Zack Wheat must be feeling his oats.

"Phillies Answer the $900,000 Suit of the Baltimore Feds." reads a headline. Probably said "No."

Those nations now at war in Europe are looking for peace. But why overlook Umpire Rigler?

If the Red Sox do not miss Tris Speaker, their percentage in the league standing dogs.

The Brooklyn have overcome their big weakness, that of being unable to get left-handed pitchers.

Fans along the eastern end of the American league call Fielder Jones' Brownies the "St. Loners."

The Tigers are drawing the fans in Detroit despite the fact that the team is not very high in the race.

"Steve" O'Neill is doing most of the catching for the Indians and he is filling the position most competently.

There is absolutely no truth in the report that the Athletics would arrange a separate peace with Cleveland.

Detroit feels confident that some day Ty Cobb will become as good a hitter as Dave Robertson of the Giants.

Connie Mack insists that "Mi" Crowell, the Brown university lad, is going to be one of the star hurlers of his staff.

Just Split the Difference.

In a jury trial in a small town not many miles from civilization the rural gentlemen into whose hands the case of the plaintiff and defendant was placed were so stubbornly divided that they were some twenty odd hours in reaching a verdict. As they left the court, after having rendered the verdict, one of them was asked by a friend what the trouble was. "Waul," he said, "six on 'em wanted to give the plaintiff $1,000, and six on 'em wanted to give him $3,000, so we split the difference and give him $500."

"Wild Bill" Donovan Running Wild With New York Yankees

The baseball world is all stirred with their success, while Morton and Stanley Coleskie, the phenomenal pitcher of the Indians, later with the National League. In the American League, the New York Yankees seem to take the edge on the other teams. Wild Bill Donovan, who has not lost a game this season, is being followed by such other stars as "Red" Kinnear, Manned, Galle, hood, and Lee Magee seem to be the wild as the best bet in the American League. The Cleveland Indians are probably the best bet in the American League, but the Yankees are probably the best bet in the American League. This is one club that has never had a great hitting team, depending mostly on the renowned Walter Johnson and the other star pitchers of the Washington club, but Clark Griffith, the former manager, has sprung a surprise on the American League and turns in a pennant-winning team for the capital city.

The Detroit Tigers never known to have had a pitching staff always manage to get in the first division. Of course every one knows that such famous stars as Ty Cobb, Samuel Crawford and Bobby Veach play on this club and these players alone account for the great showing of the Tigers each season.

The most expensive team in the whole world is the Chicago White Sox, with such stars as Eddie Collins, Jackson, Fouriner, John Collins, Jim Scott and several other able stars of the base ball world all playing on this club and still they seem to linger behind in the second division. They have no business to be so low down in the race for any one to look over this vast amount of playing talent would wonder why they don't make a more creditable showing. Chicago deserves a winning team for if ever a great sportsman lived, this old Roman, Charles Comiskey is the man. Money seems to be no object to Comiskey, always turning loose the money to get the best in the country. He startled the base ball world

The State Press Association of Illinois refused to accept an invitation to a banquet to be prepared in their honor, because the host was Sears & Roebuck, the big mail order house.

Sanford has just passed through an experience in advertising that should prove a lesson to all Florida communities. According to the Herald a slick individual whose name ought to be J. Rufus Wallingford collected one thousand dollars from the Sanford suckers for a book that was supposed to tell of the crisp Sanford celery, the large heads of lettuce that grows so abundantly in the neighborhood, and the artesian water that spurts health and wealth on every acre.

How about also dropping it from the list of periodicals carrying the "Florida First" advertising? Not as a matter of retaliation for its wanton results to our country and people, but purely as a matter of business.

Business is good all over the country. Our New York dispatches bring details of the wave of prosperity which is subsiding on towards a second breaking tide.

Foreign trade is growing in all districts. In New England states general business is described as excellent, with some signs of temporary slackening.

Chicago reports business in the middle west brisk in most lines and the outlook satisfactory.

Throughout the southwest business conditions generally are satisfactory.

Missouri, Minnesota and Kansas report business on a good, sound basis, with industries working overtime and bank clearings increasing.

interference with other people's business. We do not believe there are many that take such an extreme view, but there can be no doubt that the number is considerable who do not regard the matter of securing conventions as worth while, or who fail to appraise public work at its true value.

THE SOUTH AND COLLIER'S

Collier's Weekly is supporting Mr. Hughes for the Presidency. Collier's was one of the leaders of the revolt against "Cannonism," etc., and supported Mr. Roosevelt in 1912.

Collier's says: "The truth is, the geographical center of gravity of the Democratic party is somewhere in the fastnesses of the Ozark mountains, Democratic solidarity is greatest where illiteracy is most common, where public education is least regarded."

Colliers hates the south and everything southern worse than the devil hates holy water. Because Wilson is southern born, forgetting that Lincoln was also, it just simply hates him and supports Hughes.

CATTLE WILL BE FENCED

TIME DRAWS NEAR FOR PRECINCT LAWS IN FLORIDA
(E. A. Moore, in Florida Grower)
With the widespread interest, following the holding of the South Florida Cattle Conference at Tampa February 15, 1915, there has come an increasing demand for regulation of cattle and stock in the various localities in the state and the best and proper methods that may be taken to secure such laws for the various precincts and districts that may desire to vote such laws upon themselves.

There seems to be an impression that the state legislature can enact such a law, similar to the local option liquor law, but this is an error. The local option liquor law was not simply an act of the legislature, but was the result of the adoption of an amendment to the constitution of the state of Florida, and a local option cattle law or "no fence" law, applicable to the whole state, would have to be brought about in the same manner.

There is, however, relief that may be obtained in special acts of the legislature for each county, which may be acted upon at the county meeting, and the form given by the legislature to the precincts for a vote in the state of Florida as a whole with reference to cattle and hogs.

It is, however, relief that may be obtained in special acts of the legislature for each county, which may be acted upon at the county meeting, and the form given by the legislature to the precincts for a vote in the state of Florida as a whole with reference to cattle and hogs.

As to the requirements of a "legal fence," Section 1215 of chapter 15 General Statutes of the state of Florida, reads as follows:
Requirements of fence:
A fence shall be a fence of such material, height and construction as to be effective against the passage of cattle, hogs, sheep, swine, horses, mules, dogs, cats, chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, and other domestic animals, and shall be so constructed as to be effective against the passage of such animals.

Also, Section 1215:
Wire Fences Against Cows and Horses:
All wire fences made of barbed wire, not less than five feet high, tightly stretched on posts, not less than twenty feet apart, the bottom wire not less than eighteen inches from the ground, the second wire not more than twelve inches above the first, and the third wire not more than eighteen inches above the second, and the fourth wire not more than twelve inches above the third, shall be a legal fence.

The other law regarding counties or precincts where fences have been dispensed with, is section 3421, General Statutes of Florida, as amended by the legislature of 1913 and approved June 7, 1913.

In Counties Where Fence is Dispensed With:
"Whenever fences or inclosures have been or shall hereafter be dispensed with in any county or part of county in this state, by reason of any no-fence law, or law making it unlawful for livestock to run at large in such county, or part of county, the laws of this state applicable to offenses of trespass against realty, or injury, thereto, or to property therein, or connected therewith, and in regard to hunting or fishing or other kinds of trespass on lands, shall not become inoperative, but shall apply to such unenclosed or unfenced land with the same force and effect as if such enclosure and fences had not been so dispensed with. Notices required to be posted on lands shall be sufficient if the sign board shall have thereon in letters easily seen and read the word 'POSTED' in letters not less than two inches long, followed by the owner's name."

In those counties or parts of counties that have the benefit of the special act establishing a "no fence" law, the cattle owner must fence or else be liable for damages for trespass committed by his stock.

In those counties or parts of counties that have the benefit of the special act establishing a "no fence" law, the cattle owner must fence or else be liable for damages for trespass committed by his stock.

Of course there are a multitude of questions involved in these classes of cases, where damage for injury to stock by property owners and damage to property by cattle owners occur. Each has its own individual merits and demerits, and must be decided by the facts in each case as they occur.

Coming to the question of the property owner's liability against the trespasser for damages, where the no-fence law prevails, the property owner must prove that he had in fact fenced his property.

There is no permanent form of law so far as the having these certain counties or parts of counties set aside as "no fence" districts. No law has been passed in Florida that is alike. Precinct commissioners have from time to time over the whole county, La Costa, Morris and Gasparilla islands, prohibit them from running at large over the whole county.

Proposed Law:
An act empowering the county of ... to call and have an election in any precinct thereof and prescribing the conditions under which livestock, cattle and hogs shall be impounded in those precincts, which vote to prohibit same from running at large within the limits of such precincts.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida:
Section 1. That whenever a petition signed by ... percent or more of the registered voters of any election precinct or precincts in ... county, shall be presented to the Board of county commissioners of that county at any special or regular session of the said board, asking that an election be held in the said precinct or precincts, for the purpose of voting upon the question of allowing livestock, cattle, hogs to run at large, the said board shall call such election in the voting precinct or precincts, to be held within thirty days after the receipt of said petition, fix the date upon which such election or elections shall be held, giving at least ten days notice of the same by posting in the most conspicuous places in the said precinct or precinct and, by publishing in one or more newspapers in the county, the object for which such election or elections are called, the date of holding same and the time and places at which they shall be held.

The board of county commissioners shall appoint three registered voters in each precinct, filing a petition for an election, to act as manager of said election, and said managers shall hold said election and certify the result to the board at its next meeting after said election. The election herein provided shall be held in accordance with and the returns made according to the election laws of the state of Florida. The board of commissioners shall make the necessary provisions for holding said election and the supervisor of the registration of said county shall upon notice from said board send out the proper registration books to the said precinct or precincts for holding said election. The expenses of calling and holding the election or elections, after being approved by said board, shall be paid out of the county funds upon proper warrants issued therefore to said board of county commissioners.

Fairy Lightness in Party Frocks

Party frocks for the young maid could not symbolize more clearly youth and gaiety and irresponsibility than they have this season. The thin, light and most vaporous of materials have divided honors with laces in point of favor for making them. And everywhere—silver and gold thread laces lend sparkle to the general scheme of white and light colors in the sleekest materials.

One of the prettiest is made of white net and Venice lace. A tiny quality of voile might be used instead of the net with good effect. Two-inch ruffles, with a small ruffle on the neck, and a small ruffle on the wrist, and the ruffles covering all the surfaces. The skirt is short and round and the bodice is cut in the simplest fashion with the bust line to be the main feature. The figure is flatter and the waist is not so much defined as in the past. GLAD TO BE OF USE

RICH WOMAN REALLY WANTED TO HELP HER NEIGHBOR.

Offer Touched Victim of Accident More Than All the Condolences and Offers of Assistance She, in a Measure, Expected.

It was Sunday morning Pa Jenkins, wearing a kitchen apron, shirt-sleeves rolled up and his arms covered to the elbow with flour, stood at the kitchen table trying to make bread. Ma sat nearby and directed the operation.

"To think I had to go and slip and break that arm on a Saturday," he moaned ma, gazing disapprovingly at her handiwork right arm, "and leave us without any fresh baking for Sunday."

"Well, your little old William is on the job," cheerfully quoth pa "So long as I've got any muscle we'll have bread." He knoaded with added energy.

"You must not work it as hard as that," declared ma. "Now cut it into pieces and make loaves and then it'll have to rise again. No—not like that. That won't make a nice-shaped loaf."

"What's shape if it's good to eat?" inquired pa. "You just stop worryin', ma. Everything's going to be all right, and you'd better lie down a while. Soon's I get this dough stuff off my hands I'll make the beds."

"I do hope nobody'll come in today," fussed ma, thinking of the undusted house and her inability to provide refreshments. Pa meant well and was more than willing to "do his durned-est," but of course he couldn't do things right.

And company came! Word had gone abroad that Ma Jenkins had suffered an accident, so everybody called—all the neighbors and club women and members of the Ladies' Aid, and the minister's wife and mother-in-law.

Some brought flowers and others brought such substantial as healthy looking yeast loaf, two beautiful loaves of homemade whole wheat bread, a couple of pans of home-baked rolls, a large loaf of white bread, a plateful of business-looking currant jelly, tartaric glasses of jelly and jars of fruit and cookies galore. Besides the flowers and the cakes, all brought condiments and thrilling tales of accidents that had happened in other families, and it was a most interesting social gathering.

When the ladies had all departed Ma Jenkins, who had been sitting in a chair waiting for her, slipped and was a member of the Ladies' Aid, and the minister's wife and mother-in-law.

An Interesting Linen Frock.

Considerable interest in linen is manifested by the leading dress makers of New York and Paris in their summer collections. A morning frock in blotting pad blue linen is shown here, made attractive by touches of white introduced on the collar and tiny straps finishing the lower part of the sleeves. If desired, the bodice may be omitted, leaving a trim waist finish, with the front extending below the belt. In medium size the dress requires 4 1/2 yards 44-inch or 5 1/4 yards 36-inch linen.

The material is folded in half in the cutting table, then each section. The material is folded in half on the guide, before any attempt is made to cut the dress. If the skirt or sleeves are desired shorter than shown, cut off the pattern on the lines of small "o" perforations.

The pieces for the gores are laid along the selvage edge of the material, so that when the front and back gores are laid on the linen on a lengthwise fold, nearly every available inch of space is taken.

The cutting guide shows the various small sections to be placed into position to avoid waste of linen. The jumper front and back and back of the underbust are laid on a lengthwise fold, as is also the collar. On the upper row place the underbust front, sleeve, bodice and round collar. If this is used instead of the straight one, on a lens, who thread, in the order named.

The underbust is perforated for two different neck outlines, round or V-shaped, allowing for the introduction of a vest, if desired.

One of the most attractive shades this season is named after the humble black pad and appears to advantage, trimmed with white linen, in this morning frock.

Latest Mourning Hats of Crape

The new deeply ribbed crape make up into the most attractive hats that have been shown for those who are in mourning. This crape is lustrous and seems more nearly transparent than has heretofore been put on the market. In the two hats shown in the picture given here the exquisite workmanship appears which one always looks for in hats made of crape.

These hats fulfill all the requirements for correct mourning millinery. They are conservative in shape, of medium size, graceful, and made entirely (both trimming and shape) of one material. Black crape is used only for mourning wear and is therefore the correct material for first mourning. It is no longer heavy, or even somber looking, as may be seen in these pictures.

Both of the models are trimmed with a butterfly of crape, beautifully made over a wire form of outline. It seems appropriate that this lovely emblem of the soul should be used in this way.

In making mourning millinery, neat and exact workmanship is used in fashioning the folds, tucks and collars which the best designers agree in using on this class of hats. Crape lends itself to this kind of work particularly well. No extremes of the mode are to be chosen in shapes, but we only select white crape instead of black or have black and white made up together.

Net veils with crape borders or with bindings of crape are preferred to all crape veils for summer wear. But in any case, the veil is not featured in the latest hats and is apt to be simply a short length of crape or net falling in a box plait from the back of the hat.

Faced Ruffles on Skirts.
A very new note brought out on dresses copied after the nineteenth century period is the facing of the many ruffles which add to the bouffant lines of a gown. One dress of wood-green faille has six narrow but full ruffles around the bottom of the skirt. Each ruffle is faced with sand-colored silk. Wider ruffles outline the neck of the pointed bodice and edge the cuffs of the full sleeve. These are also lined with the contrasting color.

Pockets Held Firmly.
When stitching pockets on aprons and shirts or any other garment that the pockets are attached on, you will find that they will not rip off so easily if the stitching is begun about half an inch from the top and stitched upward, then turned downward. When you come to the other side stitch downward the same distance as you stitched upward on the other side.

to the coat at the shoulders. They are of narrow ribbon, matching the grille in color. Black velvet ribbon may be used for them and for the grille if a touch of dignity is needed to adapt this gown to an older wearer.

In one of those very dainty frocks whose outlines begin and end with a flourish, a very pretty and simple dress may be worn both for afternoon and evening.

In the new "bureau" style of dress for the use of those who prefer simplicity, they are in the market, and are made with the best of materials. They are made of a light material and are cut in a simple, straight line. The skirt is made of a light material and is cut in a simple, straight line. The bodice is made of a light material and is cut in a simple, straight line.

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Habit of Happiness"

"Sunny" Wiggins
- Douglas Fairbanks
His Father George Backus
His Sister Clarice Grace Rankin
Jonathan Pepper George Fawcett
Elsie Pepper Dorothy West
Foster Macey Harlan
Jones William Jefferson

In "The Habit of Happiness," the new Triangle Fine Arts release, Douglas Fairbanks has the fitting profession of making people laugh. He begins it in his efforts as idle son of a banker to uplift the working man. He has come to the conclusion that what the working man needs more than anything else is to laugh occasionally, and while he is giving them exercises morning, noon and night, his success draws the attention of a certain Dr. Stone, who has all but given up his task of trying to make Jonathan Pepper, his richest patient relax into a smile.

As Stone's assistant, therefore, he invades the gloomy mansion of Pepper, where the power of the financial world sits in sour state listening to a supernatural minstrel playing Chopin's "Funeral March" on a bass viol. Fairbanks almost throws up the job, but he suddenly finds that old man Pepper has a beautiful daughter who is well worth going after. So he stays.

In the course of events some business rivals of Pepper delegate a band of thugs to visit his home and do him up while accrooked part is put over in Wall Street. Fairbanks meets this crowd and, out of his book tries another course, uses his fists in a manner that is a delight to beholders.

Unfortunately, the thugs draw their guns and, one of them proves too many for the hero, and he drops in his tracks at the head of the stairs. But the situation is solved in a clever manner that makes for more thrills and much laughter.

made to the paramount program by the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company. It is a picturization of James Forbes' comedy of stage life of today - a play which ran two whole years in New York and several seasons uninterruptedly on tour. Thousands have enjoyed its wholesome fun and have laughed through tears at its human qualities.

It is a play which lends itself excellently to picturization. The frequent and compelling incidents which lead to the dramatic climaxes are specially suited to the photodrama. Patricia O'Brian, the brave little-chorus girl who is quick of tongue and big of heart is represented in splendid fashion. Her sister, Nora O'Brian who insisted upon going on the stage despite Patricia's warnings, furnishes a human example to thousands of girls throughout the world.

The story of life behind the footlights, across which young women smile is universal in appeal. The glimpse behind the curtain which hides the world of powder and rouge is a faithful representation of a side of life that never fails to interest.

Maryon Moore, the charming and talented artiste, and William Nigh, foremost of actor-directors in the stellar roles will be presented at the Star Theatre tonight.

Miss Snow is seen at her best in this Metro wonderplay. She essays the role of a daughter of a wealthy judge who becomes interested in a youth, the product of the slums, who comes into her life in a rather peculiar manner. It is one of those delightful parts which have endeared Miss Snow to admirers numbering millions.

Miss Snow was last seen in the Metro program in "The Half Million Bride" with Hamilton Revelle. Other Metro features in which she has been starred include "Rosemary," "The Silent Voice," Roscoe Arbuckle gets a soft job as janitor in the Shortacre Building, New York city, and is put to work, with many trials and tribulations ensuing. In the course of his journeyings about the office, he happens into the quarters of I. Steele, a broker, who is expecting a Mr. Stout, of Showme, Mo., to close an option at 3 o'clock with a $10,000 check. Mr. Steele's wife is in the office, and she, thinking Roscoe must be the expected Mr. Stout, determines to make things pleasant for him until her husband arrives. So she invites Roscoe out to lunch.

Roscoe, delighted with the attention of a pretty woman readily accepts. While they are enjoying luncheon in a very swell cafe, Mr. Steele returns to his office only to be told by his office boy that his wife has gone out to luncheon with the new janitor.

Wild with jealousy Steele grabs his 16-centimeter revolver and goes after his recalcitrant spouse. Shortly after his departure the real Stout arrives, and the office boy rushes with him in pursuit of Steele. As it is a quarter of three and the papers must be signed by three o'clock it becomes a race against time. And as their arrival at their destination means also that Roscoe will not be murdered, the suspense is great indeed. And it is kept up in the most approved Keystone style.

In the dark, the other horsemen were about to ride over her when she was spied by one of the cowboys who threw himself in the way. In discussing the accident Miss Ridgeley said, "I don't remember a thing that happened from the time I struck the smoke until I found myself being revived, although they tell me I went through my part without a mistake."

"The Waifs," starring Jane Grey and William Desmond, is the story of a young Episcopal clergyman, who is made drunk before his colleagues by the practical joke of some underclassmen, who have doctored the party punch with Frank. As a consequence of his disgrace he is unfrocked and cast out.

Hiding from the persons who know him he sinks lower and lower in the world until his money is gone and he can get no more to drink. The prank of the freshmen has awakened in him an inherited craving for liquor which he now is unable to satisfy. At last he yields up the cross, which has been given him by his bishop, as the price of one last drink, and then consumed by shame he tries to commit suicide by throwing himself into the river.

But he is saved by "Rags," a girl who plays the piano in a cheap saloon, and she ignites of his high station helps him to get back on his feet. When he does redouble himself somewhat he opens a sort of work program, which is a new and clean recreation and uplift.

It is a play which lends itself excellently to picturization. The frequent and compelling incidents which lead to the dramatic climaxes are specially suited to the photodrama. Patricia O'Brian, the brave little-chorus girl who is quick of tongue and big of heart is represented in splendid fashion. Her sister, Nora O'Brian who insisted upon going on the stage despite Patricia's warnings, furnishes a human example to thousands of girls throughout the world.

Nature's Jewels.
What a world we live in! Where are the jeweler's shops? There is nothing handsomer than a snowflake and a dewdrop. I may say that the maker of the world exhausts his skill with each snowflake and dewdrop that he sends down. We think that the one mechanically coheres and that the other simply flows together and falls, but in truth they are the product of enthusiasm, the children of an ecstasy, finished with the artist's utmost skill.—Thoreau.

Anthrax Father of All Germs.
The anthrax germ is the father of all germs since it was the first discovered by the weak microscopes of half a century ago. That was because the germ was so big. The microscopes could not show the smaller germs. It was the anthrax germ, therefore, that led to the development of the microscope which has aided such an advance in medicine.—Boston Globe.

Way to Get Harmony.
We have lived quite a while and, first and last, have observed a good deal. The best way to achieve harmony is with an ax, or a club. A good stout club industriously applied will do more to convince the brother who has fallen out of step than all of the soft words in the language.—Tapeka Capital.

WOULD CUT SCHOOL HOLIDAY

By the Newspaper. One to the Times. Lost by the Times. Generating Victory.

Baron Vorwärts publishes the text of a regulation issued by the Prussian ministry of public instruction ordering a school holiday for the children as a reward for their services during the period when subscriptions for the fourth year began were being sent.

A victory should not be celebrated by the suspension of school work on the following day. When a victory of importance is announced during the school hours its significance may immediately be explained to the children who then may be dismissed for the rest of the day. That should be enough for the cultivation of patriotic sentiment in an educationally minded household way. Only very great and decisive events would justify a whole holiday.

PIRATES ARE NOT FOR SALE

President Dreyfuss Says No One Has Made Him an Offer for Pittsburgh National Team.

President Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh Pirates denies the story that the team was for sale. "The story is news to me," said he, "and is not true. I never have offered the Pittsburgh club for sale to anyone and no one ever made an offer to me for it at any time. Furthermore, the Pittsburgh club is not for sale." Dreyfuss owns over 80 per cent of the club.

Need for Consideration.
"What should one do," asks the young doctor, "when a patient comes in and diagnoses his own case exactly?" In such a situation explains the experienced physician, you must use your best judgment of human nature. If the patient is one kind of man he will appreciate your agreeing with his diagnosis as showing that he knows as much as you do, and the other hand he may go about and say that you don't know any more than he does."

SANFORD CITY GOOD REPORT LIVE BURG IN ST. JOHNS IN THE SUMMER LAND CANAL

GREATEST TOWN IN STATE SUMMER AND WINTER

There is no dull summer here. With new buildings, both residential and commercial going up, with new business houses starting, new factories contemplated, with the new Board of Trade starting under most favorable circumstances and last but not least with a good ball team in the field Sanford can well lay claim to being one of the most wide awake cities in the state.

The farmers who are the backbone of any community are not pessimistic in the Sanford section. They are getting their fine farms in shape for another season. They are building nice homes that will spell comfort to them and their families in large letters. They are taking an active part in the Sanford Board of Trade. They are taking an active part in everything that tends to help their condition and help this community.

Among the new plants and buildings that are being erected in Sanford, Fla., are the new Sanford post office and a well driving machine is there getting out at a depth that will set the postmaster architect. Major J. H. Miller, architect, is in charge of the building of the new post office.

The new school houses will soon be started that will give our educational institutions the needed buildings for the constantly increasing population. The new brick roads for which the county has $250,000 on hand will be started in about two weeks, giving Seminole one of the best systems of brick roads in the state.

And best of all, few people are leaving this summer to try the so-called cool weather of the north. The natural springs, the bathing pools, the clear water lakes and the many points of interest around Sanford are giving the home people and visitors plenty of amusement, and staying at home benefits every one of them in the city.

Therefore despite the war, "Eh Kibehel!"

CHAIRMAN WALKER REPORTS TO HIGHWAY ASSOCIATION

At the recent meeting of the Central Florida Highway Association in Orlando the report of the Inland Waterways Association was read by C. R. Walker and appears in the annual report of the Highway Association. It is given below:

Your committee on the inland waterways has much that is encouraging to report regarding the general situation. Meetings have been held and attended by large numbers up and down the east coast, and in part through central Florida. Representative delegations also attended and participated in the national "Deeper Waterways" convention at Savannah, Ga., with the result that the public is awakened and alive to the importance of this invaluable asset as never before. Not only is universal interest aroused in at least small proportions in what it should be, but the campaign has been one of all hands and the people are better informed than ever before. and refuting the mooted assertion that a cut across via Salt Lake to the coast would militate against navigation through lowering the waters, besides an erroneously contended necessitating the construction of expensive locks. Many who, on account of not being posted, conceived the idea that the east coast canal was the channel through which this link should be made to pass, now grasp the broader situation and see the greater good to the greater number, together with the commercial, economic and strategic advantages afforded by the St. Johns river, as for instance, Messrs. Coachman, Cummer and numerous other leading spirits of Jacksonville, the board of trade and practically, the entire citizenship of Miami, Ft. Lauderdale and largely all down the lower east coast today favor the natural and logical St. Johns. We are encouraged to believe that the board of engineers' report when it comes, must and will be a designation of the beautiful St. Johns river route. Your committee greatly appreciate every assistance rendered by this association as a body and through its individual members, and bespeak for the future even larger and more telling moral support and aid in behalf of an accomplishment greater and farther reaching in benefits to ourselves and posterity than any other one public improvement that can possibly be conferred upon our beloved and heaven favored state of Florida.

BIG DRIVE IS RESUMED BY FRENCH

CLAIM TO HAVE CAPTURED SEVERAL TRENCHES

The French have resumed their driving offensive along the Somme in northern France, forcing back the Germans on a wide front both north and south of the river.

From Barieux to Soyecourt south of the Somme, a distance of five miles from German trenches fell into the French hands according to the French afternoon report.

North of the river the French advanced pushed to Hardecourt and captured trenches along the Compiègne railway. The operations here are close to the right flank of the British advance. Combos itself being little more than three miles southeast of Longueval, for possession of which British and Germans are still fighting.

The French push forward at Soyecourt marks the farthest southward point carried by them in their offensive.
