Smart Luggage Light, Bright

With six of every ten students attending an out-of-town college this year, one of the most important purchases a freshman makes, is his luggage. Lightweight leather luggage that takes hard knocks without showing scuffs, scars or scratches is a good investment for the next four years—and beyond.

A bag of rugged, mellow luggage is traditionally a sign of quality on the campus, notes Leather Industries of America. This year there are new bags made of a smooth, waxy self-renewable leather. Processed in new chemical waxes, the leather erases surface scars. Waxes in the leather come into the scratch mark, filling and coloring it in a matter of days.

Fashion Rates Leather Tops

Back-to-school time is leather jacket time. Neatly styled and brightly colored to match fall foliage, smooth grained and suede leather coats and jackets come in every length to please individual tastes. Durable, easy-to-clean and styled to add versatility to the wardrobe, leather coats and jackets are a "best buy" in school apparel.

In new smooth and sueded tannges, leather jackets are lightweight though wind and weather-proof, according to Leather Industries of America. In late fall and winter, a wool shearing lined leather coat or jacket is warm enough for all outdoors.

In length, the leather coats and jackets range all the way from a traditional windbreaker that ends at the waist to a well-over-the-hip car coat that has swept the high school crowd. One very popular school garment this fall is the tailored "Eisenhower" styled smooth-leather jacket.

For boys and young men knit cuffs, collars and under-the-arm insets offer freedom of movement. Across the shoulder yokes, slash pockets and toggle closings add male fashion interest.

High colors mark girls' smooth luster and suede leather coats this season. Warm greens, rich browns, sky blues and crimson share honors with creamier tans and bones for young girls and high school co-eds.

Shearling lined, belted, double-breasted coats are a great favorite with all the girls, as are zip-out, three-quarter length coats. Soil-resistant suede leather jackets stay dainty all day long.

The soft feel and look of suede leather makes it a perfect companion for tweed, wool and twill skirts and dresses seen on the nation's campuses this year.

State Welfare Agency Investigation Here Urged

SOME OF THE SUB-STANDARD HOMES IN SANFORD

(Herald Photos)

'Neglect Of Duty' Charged By Nurse

A Sanford private nurse today accused the State Welfare Agency in Sanford of neglect of duty and called for a governor's investigation of conditions here.

The nurse, Mrs. Eleanor Ravenel, said that in one case the welfare department turned over welfare checks of a Negro to the landlord of the house and the Negro, near 100 years of age, was given four slices of bread and a banana for a 24-hour period.

Mrs. Ravenel made the statements after District 4 County Commissioner Vernon Dunn Friday called on society to take a hand in certain state welfare cases in Sanford where persons were living in hovels and treated like animals.

Mrs. Ravenel said she discussed this situation with County Commissioners last week who toured some of these homes.

One case in particular, Mrs. Ravenel said found a Negro living in "inhuman condition and a state welfare worker had not made a check for at least a year-and-a-half.

"A welfare worker admitted to me that no check was made," Mrs. Ravenel said, adding that the worker said she knew the man was not dead yet, "because the checks haven't come back."

She said it was the duty of the state welfare agency here to check all welfare cases and follow up to see how these persons were doing.

"In this case the welfare agency sat down and did nothing," she added.

Agency Defends Welfare Policy

Mrs. Troy Ray Sr., head of the State Welfare Agency here said today "We are glad to have cases such as that of the two aged Negro men who were living in squalor and whose condition aroused the concern of the county commissioners, brought to our attention."

"The two men have been persuaded by the concern of the county commissioners to let themselves be moved to the Good Samaritan Home for the Aged.

"However," she continued, "an examination by a local doctor showed neither of them to be in serious enough physical condition to require admission to the hospital."

Mrs. Ray, in reply to a question from the Herald as to why these two men were allowed to live in condemned houses, said:

"Unless these people have been declared incompetent by the judge or by papers signed by relatives, this agency has no authority to force them to live any place that they do not want to live.

"Our case workers have tried many times to persuade these two elderly men, (James is 85 and Joe is 79), to move into the government housing which is provided for them, but they refuse to move."

"This is probably because of restrictions on behavior and habits, by which they do not wish to abide."

Mrs. Ray told the Herald that there are approximately 992 cases of aid-to-the-aged in the county and that it is impossible for the limited staff at the department to keep a constant check on their conditions.

"These men receive their welfare checks straight from the state each month," she said, "and they spend their money as they see fit. Unfortunately, these two men spent most of it on liquor."

"Cases such as this are not unusual . . . we see this kind of thing much too frequently," Mrs. Ray continued, "and any time the county commissioners or the newspapers wish to follow us around we will be glad to show them many very sad cases."

"We agree with the commissioners and newspaper that these conditions are deplorable, but we do not have the authority to force these people to move or tell them how to spend their money."

Jaycees To Study Missile Problems

COCOA BEACH (UPI) — The Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce set up a special space committee Sunday to study problems related to the industry in Florida.

The Jaycees adopted a resolution calling on the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and members of Congress, the Defense Department and other agencies to utilize the advantages of Florida by giving "careful, non-political consideration for placing future rocket and missile installations in the state."

Weapon Arsenal Found In Tampa

TAMPA (UPI) — Hillsborough County Deputies reported they found a small arsenal of weapons, believed to have been stolen, in the home of two Tampa boys today.

Deputies said the cache included two .45 caliber machine guns, two .30 caliber carbines, two M-1 rifles, two 12-gauge r.o. guns, four .45 caliber pistols and five bayonets.

Nobody asked me but I wonder how many of our residents know the names of our school board members? Another increase in millage next year and I'll bet they'll be on everybody's lips.

The County Commission will be looking for a registered doctor to take Clyde D. Brothers' place. We hear they'll want him to oversee welfare and jail patients also. Sure, and sure, but I'll bet you, and I'll bet you, and I'll bet you.

The County Commission deserves a lot of credit in bringing out into the open the sad plight of some of our state welfare cases. I wonder if the state welfare agency ever will wake up to what's going on here.

When the present County Commission took over in January there were 67 men working in our road department. Now there are 49. One commissioner told us that services have increased by 400 percent.

By the way, we tried that $20 electric shaver in the Tax Assessor's office last week. It's amazing and we're going back for more today.

Two Navy wings from the Sanford Naval Air Station will be coming home within the next seven days.

Oviedo Boy Killed In Mishap

A 16-year-old Oviedo youth was killed instantly early this morning on SR 426 three miles north of Oviedo in a "freak" accident which also sent two other men to the hospital.

Trooper Sikes at noon identified the two injured men as Archie Simmons and Raymond Rusben. Rusben suffered a broken back while Simmons received a fractured left wrist.

The Sheriff's Office and Trooper J. L. Sikes said that Larry Calo Simmons of Oviedo was killed after being pinned under water under the wheels of a truck.

Deputy J. Q. Galloway said that Simmons was steering a large truck being towed by his brother, Arthur Simmons when the driving shaft fell out of the truck being pulled.

Both vehicles went into a skid and Larry was thrown off the truck and was pinned under the wheels in a ditch of water.

Simmons' brother was unhurt but two men in the truck were taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital. The names of the two men were not known at press time.

In another accident Sunday night an Orlando couple was hospitalized after a one car mishap on SR 419.

Trooper Jim Foster said that a car operated by Harold Rouse driving north on SR 419 smashed into the Lake Howell Bridge.

Rouse, who was charged with reckless driving, was hospitalized with a fractured rib while his wife, Emma, suffered a fractured jaw. The car was a total wreck and damages to the bridge were set at $100.

Berlin Tension Easing

BERLIN (UPI)—Most of the West Berlin police force was taken off a "state of alarm" today as tension eased in the Berlin crisis. West Berliners took heart from Vice President Lyndon Johnson's pledges of support and the appearance of reinforced American army garrison.

East Berlin Communist police, troops and militia still patrolled divided Berlin's borders and workers in the Red-held area continued to strengthen the barriers dividing the city.

West Berlin police noted that workers were placing barbed wire atop the concrete wall they began erecting last week, apparently to tighten their squeeze on the refugee exodus that was the original cause of the Red's sealing the border a week ago.

Despite these moves, some of the tension appeared to have vanished. Most West Berliners seemed a little spent after their emotional explosions Saturday and Sunday in welcoming Johnson and 1,500 fresh American combat troops from their base near Manheim.

Johnson flew home to report personally to President Kennedy on his weekend visits to Bonn and West Berlin, leaving firm American pledges of "no retreat" from this city and a salute to its people as brave allies.

West Berlin newspapers reported that retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who accompanied Johnson here, would take a military post in Berlin to bolster the people's morale in these crisis days. However, authoritative sources said there were no plans for the time being to recall Clay to active duty.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is scheduled to make one of his rare visits to West Berlin Tuesday, but apparently will return to Bonn before nightfall.

The official East German news agency ADN, reporting Johnson's departure, said he came to Berlin to boost falling U. S. prestige and to "stoke up" the West Berlin atmosphere.

Special Session Of UN Called

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—The General Assembly opens a special session on the Bizerte crisis today with the powerful Afro-Asian bloc backing Tunisia in its dispute with France.

The 17 Afro-Asian members claimed sufficient voting strength to gain approval of a "moderate" solution critical of the French.

Special Tunisian representative Mongi Slim was expected to begin the debate with a long statement in support of his government's charges of French aggression at Bizere.

France announced it would buy out the session and would not consider itself bound by any decision taken by the 99-nation assembly.

TB Offices Close Until Sept. 5

Offices of the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Assn. will be closed until Sept. 5 while Mrs. Lorraine Graham, executive secretary, is on vacation.

Mrs. Graham today joined her sister, Mrs. Dot Reynolds of Orlando, for a week's stay at Daytona Beach. Upon her return Saturday, she will join another group of friends to spend the second week of vacation on a boat cruise up the Suwannee River.

Kennedy Aides Push Aid Program

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy's top aides and advisers began streaming to Congress today to make a final plea for his beleaguered long-range foreign aid loan plan.

The Senate and the House were expected to appoint members of a conference committee today or Tuesday that will be charged with working out a compromise between sharply different foreign aid bills the two chambers passed Friday.

The Senate passed a $4 billion aid bill, including the five-year program of loans to be financed by borrowing instead of year-to-year congressional appropriations. The House approved a $4.3 billion version but dumped the loan provision.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed a continuing delegation of presidential representatives to the Capitol today. Rusk was to testify before the Senate appropriations Committee considering Kennedy's request for the actual cash to finance the program.

Kennedy's aides will be buttonholing individual congressmen in an effort to win them over to his plan.

Johnson said that in the days of crisis ahead "communications must be kept open, we must reason together, we must build together."

"The Communist threat to Berlin is very real and is but a part of the continuing a struggle between the world of freedom and the world of coercion," Johnson said.

Johnson said his talks with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt had given him "even greater confidence in the distinction and responsibility of free leadership."

Board Adjourns

The County Commission today adjourned as the board of equalization until Sept. 1 at 9:30 a. m. Chairman J. C. Hutchison said.

West Strength Firm, Vice President Says

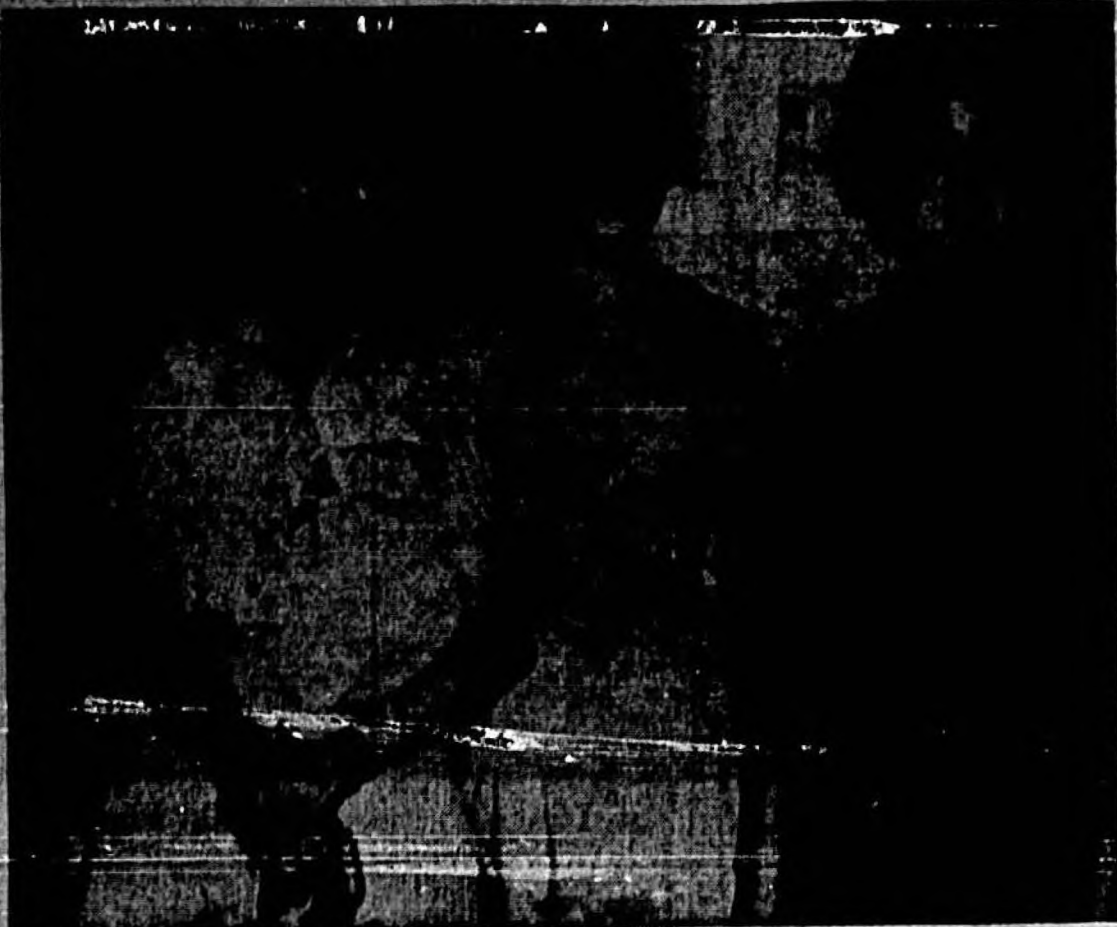

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned from a morale-building mission to Germany today, confident that his flying visit has firmed up Western strength and unity in meeting the communist challenge to free Berlin.

Arriving at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., after a whirlwind 82-hour trip to Bonn and West Berlin, Johnson hailed the "heroic conduct" of the Red-encircled West Berliners as "one of the major assets of the free world."

The vice president planned to report at 3:30 p. m. to President Kennedy, who hurriedly dispatched him to Germany last weekend to allay West German fears of U. S. inaction after the Communists sealed the border in Berlin.

Prizes, Bargains Result In Busy, Bustling, Jingling Shoppers Night

Two Bulova watches, worth $60 each, were given away Friday night by the Downtown Merchants Assn. and the lucky winners were Mrs. Thomas Roberts of DeBary and W. L. Roche of Sanford. Mrs. Roberts, her husband and daughter, Sharon Sue, live at the River's Edge Trailer Park in DeBary. Roberts is a bulldozer operator for the White Construction Co. of Chiefland. Roche is retired from the Fruit Growers Express Co. of Sanford and lives at 809 Catalina Drive. Jamie Ritchie and Jean Carter were the two children picked from the audience to draw the tickets out of the basket to name the winners. The drizzling rain which had fallen on Sanford all day ceased just in time to make a pleasant evening for Seminole County residents who flocked into town for their Friday night shopping tour. Business was brisk all evening, particularly in stores featuring back-to-school needs. A neighborly friendliness was noted up and down the streets as groups of people stopped to chat and greet friends. One large family group with five children was noted walking down the street, each child happily clutching a box of new shoes. It appeared that a good many families took advantage of the shopping to include a night out for everyone, including "eating out" at local restaurants, fountains and other establishments. Many folks brought along not only their children, but also grandparents, neighbors and friends and when all these got together the result was a busy, bustling, jingling Friday night.

NAVY CORPSMAN and Mrs. Chester Macek and their seven children, Janet, Frank, Anthony, Mike, Steve, Laurie and Donna made a pilgrimage to town Friday night to shop for night lights, fixtures, school clothes, school supplies, book bags, lunch boxes and shoes. Four of the Macek children are in school this year. "This is very good having the stores open," said Macek. "It gives working people a break." (Herald Photo)

Atmosphere Bitter As Guianians Vote New Legislature

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (UPI)—Guianians voted for a new colonial legislature today in an atmosphere embittered by violence and charges that the colony is in danger of becoming another Communist beachhead in the western hemisphere.

Political observers predicted the extreme leftist Peoples Progressive Party, led by Dr. Cheddi Jagan, would sweep the election as it did in 1953 and 1957. The PPP's principal opposition came from the People's National Congress backing Forbes Burnham, and the United Force, supporting Peter D'Aguar.

Police took special precautions to guard against disturbances which have marred the past week. Colony leaders urged restraint in the atmosphere of racial tension.

Police scuffled with a crowd of 300 blocking the road Sunday outside the Corentyne village stronghold of Jagan. Sixteen persons were arrested on charges of throwing missiles, carrying weapons and causing damage to property.

Other violence was reported at the Albion sugar area where another crowd attacked police with stones and injured three policemen.

Jagan, an American-educated dentist who once called himself a Marxist but now says he is a socialist, was the focal point of the elections. He presumably will become prime minister if the PPP wins.

Sen. Thomas Dodd, (D-Conn.) charged recently that a victory by Jagan's PPP would mean Communist domination of British Guiana, a colony about the size of Idaho on South America's north-eastern coast.

Leaders of the People's National Congress appealed to Negroes on purely racial grounds. The United Force was backed by businessmen and the Roman Catholic Church here.

Any Old Paper?

Sanford Sea Scouts got going today on their pickup of old newspapers and magazines and alerted residents of two more areas for Tuesday and Wednesday pickup routes.

The Scouts will travel all streets from Eighth St. south to 13th St. and from Virginia Ave. west to Persimmon Ave. Tuesday and asked all residents of streets in that locality to please stack old paper in front of the houses.

The Wednesday route will follow boundaries made by 13th St. south to 20th St. and Summerlin Ave. west to along County Club Rd. to Central Ave.

The collection of old papers will continue through Friday. The Scouts also will take phone calls at FA 2-0940.

Riders Go On Trial

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—The first of 192 "freedom riders" appealing police court convictions for breach of the peace goes on trial Tuesday.

The 192 riders will be tried one by one and the trials are expected to last into 1962 if allowed to proceed as scheduled.

Among defendants is James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, who announced Sunday in New York that more riders would head for

Jackson and Houston, Tex., in "a couple of weeks."

In response to Farmer's announcement, the non-white 450,000-member Improved Protective Order of Elks of the World endorsed CORE's sponsorship of "freedom rides."

An Elks spokesman called CORE's efforts to integrate Southern transportation facilities "the most important issue in the country today." The interracial group consists mainly of Negroes with some Chinese lodges.

Henry J. Thomas, 20-year-old Negro from St. Augustine, Fla., will be the first rider tried before a jury in county court here, but a legal maneuver could eliminate county court trials for most of the riders.

William Kunstler of New York attorney for the riders, has transferred the cases of five riders from county court to federal district court.

Mississippi Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson Saturday asked Federal Judge Harold Cox to return the cases to county court. Cox said he will rule on Patterson's motion next week.

Kunstler has said he will transfer the cases of all 192 riders to federal court if Cox rejects Patterson's plea.

Li. Governor Of N. C. Dies

LExINGTON, N. C. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held today of Lt. Gov. H. Clyde Philpott whose death Saturday night brought mourning across the Tar Heel state.

Services for the 52-year-old lieutenant governor will be held at 3 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Lexington with the Rev. J. Roy Clifford, former minister at the church, presiding.

Survivors were to be set up outside the church so that the services could be heard by those not able to be seated.

Gov. Terry Sanford, who visited the Philpott family here Sunday, ordered a motorcade to leave Raleigh at noon for the funeral. He said flags on state buildings would be flown at half staff.

The governor and Mrs. Sanford will lead the caravan which will include state officials and members of the legislature.

State officers also will suspend operations from 3 to 4 p.m., the governor's office announced.

Philpott's death Saturday night of a heart ailment has apparently broken the chain of succession to the governorship if anything should happen to Sanford. Atty. Gen. Wade Bruton said that he was of the opinion that the Senate would have to elect a president to perform the duties of the lieutenant governor.

There Are Times When Even A President Hollers For Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—What does a president do when his defense secretary decides to close down a big defense installation in his own home state?

Like many lesser men, he calls for help. That's what President Kennedy did last week when he learned that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara had decided to phase out the Boston naval shipyard, along with the Philadelphia and San Francisco shipyards.

Kennedy apparently was bothered by the decision to shut down the shipyard in his very own backyard. But he remained obviously reluctant to reverse the decision.

Looking around for help, he finally landed on Rep. John F. Shelley, a tough but personable 65-year-old one-time labor leader, wartime Coast Guard officer and longtime Democratic representative from San Francisco.

Shelley, cornered by Kennedy during a tour of the White House with his wife and children, was told of the planned closing from what he later was to describe as an "unmistakably reliable source."

"But, Mr. President, they can't do that!" Shelley exploded. "Well, why don't you go to work on it," Kennedy reportedly answered.

The one-time truck driver did exactly that. He crossed party lines to get the help of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, the effective Republican whip from California, and Rep. William S. Mailliard, his Republican colleague from San Francisco. He also was assisted by California's razor-tongued Democratic senator, Clair Engle.

Shelley and his staff got on the phone and alerted San Francisco leaders to the dangers of losing the shipyard which, with its more than 7,000 employees, is the city's biggest employer.

Within hours, Defense Secretary McNamara was deluged with telegrams and telephone calls protesting the planned closure.

The White House chose not to deny the report but to declare that the recommendation to close the three shipyards had been rejected by the President himself because of the Berlin crisis.

The statement made it clear that Shelley's fears were real and his protest against the planned closure was based on actual recommendation.

Once the word of the President's decision was out, a jubilant Shelley sat back in his office as the congratulatory calls poured in from his colleagues and from San Francisco.

Polio Vaccine License Okayed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Public Health Service today issued a license for the manufacture of the live, oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin for use in preventing one of three types of polio.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry emphasized that the vaccine being licensed today provides immunity only against Type 1 polio.

Mr. W. L. Harrison Dies In Hospital

Mr. William Letson Harrison, 72, died in Seminole Memorial Hospital Friday following a brief illness.

He was born in Dacula, Ga., and came to Sanford in 1925 from Avondale Estates, Ga., to go into farming. His home was on Beardall Ave. He was a member of the Sanford First Methodist Church, a member of Campbell-Losing American Legion Post No. 53 and was a veteran of World War One.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Viola E. Harrison of Sanford and four brothers and three sisters.

Funeral services were scheduled at 3 p.m. today from Brison Funeral Home with Rev. John Adams officiating. Graveside services at Oaklawn Memorial Park were to be under direction of the American Legion Post.

Active pallbearers were named as Robert Mahan, Post commander; Joel S. Field, Bob Williams, Charlie Webster, Lynn Lyons, John McClosky and George Maybury. Honorary pallbearers were named as Charles Flowers, Roy Kelly, Fred Pope, Francis Meriwether, Lee Hunter and Charles Lawson.

UAW Enters Crucial Stage Of Auto Talks

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union today entered the crucial phase of new contract negotiations with the auto industry, confident the Big Three companies were nearly ready to make major economic offers.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler were known to be preparing such proposals. They were expected to be presented early this week, with GM or Ford taking the lead.

The UAW's contract with GM and Ford expires Aug. 31. The UAW-Chrysler pact also will expire then if a 10-day notice is given today.

Indications were Chrysler and the UAW, both unhappy with the results of seven weeks of negotiations, would exchange cancellation letters at today's meeting.

The union said latest tallies from its strike vote of Big Three workers showed — as expected — overwhelming support for a walk-out if necessary to back up the UAW's demands.

Returns from one Ford and 11 GM plants had 13,326 members approving a strike, with 1,318 opposed, an average far above the two-thirds required to authorize a walkout.

One GM plant, however, will not take a strike vote and will not go on strike if one is called.

The UAW said the 3,200 workers in the AC Spark Plug plant in Milwaukee, Wis., were exempt because they make guidance systems for the Titan and other U. S. missiles.

UAW Vice President Leonard Woodcock said he believed "there should be uninterrupted production of these vital defense systems." He said he was confident "the plant's 'special problems' can be solved 'jointly and without difficulty' by GM, the UAW and the government.

Don't neglect your chrysanthemums now if you want them to pay off with a riot of fall blooms. Disease and insect prevention now is a key to profuse flowering later.

Be sure to inspect your mums daily. Keep an eye out for septoria leaf spot, mildew, botrytis and ray blight — the worst plagues of mums.

Septoria leaf spot spreads rapidly in wet weather. The centers of these spots become brittle. The disease usually begins with the lower leaves and works upward.

According to Dr. R. S. Mullin, plant pathologist with the Agricultural Extension Service, you can control septoria with weekly sprays of captan, ferbam or zineb. He suggests alternating between ferbam and zineb until the buds begin showing color and then use only zineb.

Mildew is another fungus you may discover. It'll appear as a whitish, powdery growth on the upper surface of leaves and tender portions of the stems. Control mildew with weekly applications of karathane.

Botrytis is a scourge of flowers. The mum petals develop little brown freckles. Later the entire petal begins to rot, and then often is enveloped in a grey mold. Use zineb to control the disease.

Ray-blight-infected flower heads have chocolate-covered petals and a dark brown base on the florets. Use the same treatment for ray blight as suggested for septoria.

Several insects attack chrysanthemums. However, hardy plants aren't often damaged to any great extent by these vegetarians. Aphids may take a liking to the tender mums. Often a herd of friendly insects will devour a colony of aphids. But if you fear that nature is not on your side, try a malathion spray.

A near microscopic varmint that can suck the mum leaves dry is the spider mite. Leaf injury shows up as mottled and off-color yellow. Suggested control measures include malathion, aramite, kelthane and oxev.

Thrips are warm weather insects that damage flowers. They are tiny, slender pests about 1/32 inch long. Malathion and dieltrin are recommended for halting attacks of thrips.

Foliar nematodes may appear in your mums. These pests destroy the leaf tissue between the veins, causing browning of a wedge or pie-shaped section of the leaf. You'll find malathion usually effective in halting these pests if you apply the material before the infestation becomes too severe.

For more information on mum care, see your county agricultural agent.

Senate Prepares For Rights Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate cleared the decks today for a short skirmish in the long legislative war over civil rights.

Prospects were that neither proponents nor opponents of civil rights legislation would be pleased with the outcome.

Opponents unhappily conceded in advance that the Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders would be successful in their joint drive to attach a two-year life extension to the Civil Rights Commission to a pending money bill.

"The commission has long since completed the duties which were assigned to it when it was created in 1957," said Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.), strategist for Southern opponents. "But the commission has become a political symbol in both parties and I rather apprehend that the extension will be approved."

There seemed small chance, however, that proponents of civil rights bills could successfully use the appropriations bill as a vehicle for substantive civil rights proposals, though they were pledged to try.

In a prepared statement, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, (R-N.Y.), said he would make such an attempt as to offer "a last chance at this session to get meaningful civil rights legislation." But he said he is acting "without any illusions as to what can be accomplished."

Legislative riders are prohibited on appropriation bills and each such addition will require a two-thirds vote to suspend the Senate rules. The subcommittee-approved extension of the commission's life, advanced by the combined Senate leadership, should command that support.

Measures advanced by civil rights partisans, however, have never been able to show such strength. If they should and the rules were suspended a filibuster could block final action.

Closing off a filibuster—like suspension of the rules—takes a two-thirds vote. With the administration unfavorably disposed to civil rights action this year, there seemed to be no possibility of that. Partisans of civil rights bills were unable to attach them in 1959 when the rider technique was applied to extend the life of the rights commission.

"There are a number of senators who will vote to extend the Civil Rights Commission who will not vote to invoke cloture if all of these other controversial matters are included," Russell said.

Soviets Secretly Testing Nuclear Weapons?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three Democratic members of Congress believe Russia is secretly testing nuclear weapons in violation of a 34-month test moratorium.

The three influential legislators said Sunday the United States, therefore, should seriously consider resuming atomic tests.

Rep. Chet Holifield, (D-Calif.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said President Kennedy feels the same way.

But, Holifield said, Kennedy is "willing to walk the last mile to obtain an agreement" at Geneva on a nuclear test ban.

Holifield, said in a radio interview that he had advised the President to follow a formula of "test and talk." He said this would include resumption of underground tests while continuing to explore possible agreement on a test ban with Russia.

Sen. Stuart Symington, (D-Mo.), expressed a similar feeling. Symington, in a TV interview, said

"of course" Russia has been conducting secret tests during the Geneva test ban talks. He declined to give the source of his information.

He said the United States would find itself in a "really difficult, if not hopeless position" if it continued its voluntary test suspension while the Russians secretly conducted nuclear tests.

Sen. John Stennis, (D-Miss.), said the United States should resume nuclear tests now because it is clear Russia never will agree to a test ban pact.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Mary's case is tragic but often occurs, so study it with care. Mary has a compulsion to cross the color line and date somebody of an alien racial caste. She is pushed into this unwise romance by a mistaken sex notion. Her parents are no more to blame than our high schools that still fail to offer a course in "Applied Psychology."
CASE J-47: Mary M., aged 19, is a clergyman's daughter.
"Oh, Dr. Crane," her distraught mother began, "we are in a terrible situation."
"Her Daddy and I have never showed any partiality. Among our five children, we have tried to love and counsel them well."
"But Mary has always been of a peculiar temperament. In her last year of high school, she developed a crush on an exchange student from the orient."
"After graduation, she decided she wanted to become an airplane stewardess, so came to Chicago."
"That was six months ago. We thought she was getting along fine. But when we dropped in last week to visit her, we found she has married across the color line and is pregnant."
"Furthermore, her husband has already left her, for he had no job and was totally unprepared to support a family."
"Mary insists her life is her own and that we should leave her alone. What went wrong, Dr. Crane? Where did we fail Mary? We feel terrible about the case."
"What went wrong when Christ lost one of his 12 Apostles, despite three years of constant companionship with them?"
"So don't feel that you are to blame just because a child may fall to live up to expectations."
"If you do the best that you know how to set a good positive example and the child still goes bad, don't torture yourself by wondering where you erred. It is more likely you didn't but some outside personality helped turn your child away from the right pathway.

Mary's case is not rare, for many girls develop a compulsion to marry across the color line or into an alien educational or economic level. Why?
There are several reasons. If a girl has indulged in auto erotic practices, she may feel that she is "low" or inferior and probably excessively sexual.
Although self sex practices are common among unmarried folks, millions of young people think they are pariahs or at least SHOULD be ostracized for their secret masturbation habits.
This idea that "I ought to be ostracized" then may make them try to marry into a taboo race.
Mary thus had a secret compulsion to pick a boy friend across the color line. That's why she first tried to romanticize about the exchange student from the orient. And as soon as she reached Chicago, she pushed herself into an affair. It wasn't love. It was what we call a compulsive romance based on an inner god.
If all high schools offered a course in Applied Psychology where these daily true office cases could be discussed, Mary might have avoided this compulsion, for she would then have seen how it originated and why it was unnecessary. But Mary carried her burden alone.
So despite her brave front, she is miserable and has caused great sorrow to her devoted parents. Scrapbook this crucial case and its follow-up tomorrow.
Meanwhile, send for the booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Get it in to your high schools, too, for it can clear up many false notions.
(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

"Berlin Is a Rotten Tooth"

Peter Edson's

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Even if the Berlin crisis can be settled without a war with the Russians, little prospect is being held here that all other international tensions will relax and that the extra expenses for U. S. defense build-ups can be curtailed.
Every statement on the Berlin situation made by President Kennedy at his last press conference indicated his hopes for a peaceful settlement by negotiation.
Russia's Nikita Khrushchev is making many statements which taken by themselves and out of context—seem to have the same intent. But when his full remarks are studied, there is always a catch.
An example is his recent speech in which he insisted there would have to be negotiations with the East German government, which the United States and other western powers do not recognize.
It is for reasons such as this that any thought of returning to business as usual and relaxing to easier living is considered out of the question. Settlement of any one phase of the cold war will still leave other crisis areas where trouble can break out and where guaris must be kept up; Korea, Formosa, Southeast Asia, the Middle and Near East, all of Africa and finally South America as exemplified by Cuba. So plans are being made for continuing preparedness.
President Kennedy nevertheless has shown his serious interest in wanting to further disarmament efforts in several ways. He has proposed legislation to set up a much stronger disarmament agency in the State Department. He has sent Ambassador Arthur H.

Dean back to Geneva to try again for an agreement with the Russians on nuclear test bans.
Previously, the President sent Ambassador John J. McCloy to confer with Khrushchev on disarmament. This actually resulted in an agreement from the Russians to resume talks in New York Sept. 5.
The report just made to him by a committee of scientists on the impossibility of detecting nuclear explosions has made the President feel that only the type of inspection proposed by the United States can guard against secret testing.
This inspection system will cost big money to set up and still more money to maintain. Even the inspection system proposed for conventional weapons disarmament will be expensive.
But the overriding item of continued government expense will be the need to maintain a constant alert against encroachments by Communist conspiracy all over the world.
President Kennedy has at no time referred to America's stepped-up defense efforts as a "mobilization." That is considered a scare word which might induce scare buying and other inflationary pressures.
There is plenty of concern already over the possibility of a new automobile industry labor contract which will increase wage levels and an increase in steel prices when previously negotiated wage hikes in that industry go into effect in October. Increased steel buying for national defense might touch off this latter start of a price rise spiral.
The desire to avoid government economic controls is manifest in present planning. But a relatively free economy can be maintained only if there is restraint in private business.

The full impact of the stepped-up defense effort on the U. S. economy will not be felt this year. The bill for next year will be higher and the inflationary pressure greater. There is little prospect it will be less, even if the Berlin problem is settled without shooting.

From Rome Henry McLemore

LONDON—What is the most important thing in life to the average Englishman?
Is it the Queen, whom he adores?
Or is it his liver pills and liver salts, which he swallows by the millions and the ton every year?
Is it his neat, small back garden? His cup of tea? His joint of beef on Sunday?
Maybe one of these is dearest to the heart of the Englishman, but I have my doubts. My guess is that with the possible exception of his family, the thing that means most to him is his betting.
I don't have any statistics at hand, and even if I did they probably wouldn't be accurate, but surely no race on earth makes as many bets on as many things as the English.

England is a tight little island, but not when it comes to placing money on the outcome of sports events, and it doesn't matter what the competition is.
Horse and dog tracks run the year around, and they are to be found everywhere. No matter where you find yourself in England, there is sure to be a horse running nearby in the daytime and a dog streaking after a rabbit after dark.
The papers devote more space to race track selections, results, and general horse gossip than they do to world and local news. No one knows for sure how many millions of pounds are bet every day at the track with bookmakers and through the pari-mutuels, and the millions wagered with off-the-course legal bookies by mail.
Everyone talks horses and, if not horses, dogs. The dogs are a minor business in America, but not here. Tracks ring London and all the major cities, and crowds of 30,000 and more are common for a big race between top greyhounds. The English also bet on motor races, bicycle races, tennis, golf, and even yachts. And they bet on their own skill at darts and shove ha'penny in the pub.

But the real money—the tremendous chunks of it—is laid on the line in the soccer pools. Once the soccer season starts, everybody in England has a bet going every week in the mad hope of winning a tremendous—and tax free—fortune for an outlay of a few pennies.
The two big pools—Blackwoods and Vorness—handle millions of pounds each week as the bettors try to guess the win and the draw, the victories at home, and the victories away.
All the popular papers maintain staffs of "experts" who advise on how to mark the cards, and they are followed as if their guesses were the last word. It's the most expensive guessing game in the world, and the fact that tens of thousands have played the pools for years and years without winning a cent, does not slow thing down.
The pools really amount to a national disease. And it's a disease that no one would want cured. It is bread and meat to the average Englishman—even if it does sometimes cost him his bread and meat.

Buzhardt Big Phil Hero

United Press International
 Forget Maris and Mantle a minute, and meet baseball's real man of the hour — Johnny Buzhardt — a guy who finally batted one of the worst batters since Napoleon's retreat.
 Buzhardt's credentials aren't especially impressive.
 He gets about $9,000 a year to pitch for the Philadelphia Phillies, he had an undistinguished 3-16 record last season and his current 4-13 mark doesn't scare the likes of Frank Robinson, Hank Aaron and Willie Mays.
 But Buzhardt carved out a special place for himself in the hearts of all the Phillies when he ended the longest losing streak in modern major league history Sunday by beating the Milwaukee Braves, 7-4, in a 12-inning doubleheader.
 The victory for the Phillies, who had lost the opener, 5-2, was their first following 23 consecutive defeats. They set the modern major league record after dropping 21 in a row and would have equalled the all-time mark established by Cleveland in 1889 had they lost the nightcap Sunday.

 The last previous time they won a game was July 28. Buzhardt was the winner in that one, beating the San Francisco Giants, 4-3, with a five-hitter in the second game of a doubleheader.
 Elsewhere in the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals ended Cincinnati's six-game winning streak, 7-4, but the Reds remained three games in front when the Giants defeated the Dodgers, 11-8. The Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 1-4, in 11 innings.
 Roger Maris hit his 40th home run and Mickey Mantle his 40th in a 4-4 tie and 1-2 sweep over the Cleveland Indians that preserved the New York Yankees' three-game lead in the American League.
 Detroit, doggedly trying to keep pace with the Yanks, swept two games from Boston, 8-1, and 7-6; Baltimore walloped Washington, 9-2, in the first of two scheduled games, the second being postponed because of rain; the Chicago White Sox took two from the Kansas City A's, 5-3, and 7-0, and the Minnesota Twins downed the Los Angeles Angels, 9-7.

 Ray Sadecki won his 11th for the Cardinals with an eight-hitter against the Reds.
 Felipe Alou drove in four runs for the Giants with a pair of homers that sent the Dodgers down to their seventh straight defeat, their longest losing streak in 13 years.
 Billy Williams' 11th inning single broke up a fine pitching duel between Don Cardwell and Bob Friend and provided the Cubs with their victory over the Pirates.
 Maris and Mantle, each homered in the Yankees-Indians opener as Ralph Terry brought his record to 11-1. Bill Showron hit a two-run homer off Gary Bell in the nightcap to help rookie Roland Sheldon gain his ninth victory.

 Frank Lary won his 18th for the Tigers when he stopped the Red Sox on seven hits in the opener, and Norm Cash hit his 31st homer in the first inning of the nightcap but the Tigers still had to come from behind to win on a two-run single by pinch-hitter Bubba Morton in the eighth.
 Chuck Estrada hurled a five-hitter and struck out 12 Washington batters to win his 16th for Baltimore.
 A pair of errors by third baseman Ossie Virgil paved the way for the White Sox' opening game win over the A's and Juan Pizarro then checked Kansas City on three hits for his ninth victory in the nightcap.
 The Twins and Angels slugged a total of seven homers at Los Angeles but in the end, it was a pair of errors by Earl Averill and Joe Koppe that helped Minnesota win.

Wightman Cup Win Not That Big A Shock

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United States Wightman Cup victory over Great Britain's "greatest team in history" came as a huge surprise to almost everybody except socialite Margaret Osborne Du Pont.
 Mrs. Du Pont, who captained and coached the three brash teenagers who paced the United States to a 6-1 victory over Britain's defending champions, said she "was not completely surprised" over what was hailed as the biggest upset in the 33-year history of the international women's tennis championships.
 She said that her three youngsters — Karen Hantze, 18, Chula Vista, Calif.; Billy Jean Moffit, 17, Long Beach, Calif., and substitute Justine Bricks, 18, of St. Louis — were "extremely competitive."
 Mrs. Hantze fired the opening shot against the British by beating Miss Truman, co-holder of Britain's top rank, on Saturday and joined with Miss Moffit for a doubles victory to give the United States a 3-0 edge after Miss Moffit had scored an intervening triumph over Ann Haydon.
 Miss Bricks sewed up the best-of-seven series Sunday at the Saddle and Cycle Club by pulling off the next surprise, a 10-8, 6-4, 6-3 victory over Wimbledon winner Angela Mortimer.
 Miss Hantze ran the United States edge to five consecutive victories with a 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Miss Haydon.
 The American girls were romping toward the U. S. Wightman Cup team's ninth shutout over the Britons until Miss Truman scored a 6-3, 6-2 sweep over Miss Moffit.

Palatka Growing Stronger In FSL

By United Press International
 Last-place Palatka, growing stronger as the Florida State League season closes, captured both ends of a doubleheader Sunday night.
 The team has laid down a 14-0 attack to defeat Tampa 8-4. Tom Catto played the winning run with a single as Palatka won the nightcap 3-1 over Daytona Beach.
 Sixth-place St. Petersburg sprouted muscles, too, outslugging Leesburg 11-8. Saints left fielder Wayne Norton hit a grand slam homer in the ninth inning and St. Pete right fielder Joe Maggio chipped in with a bases-empty homer, a double and a single.
 First-place Sarasota split two with Orlando. The Sun Sox took the first 7-6 on the wings of a two-run triple by Perry McGriff. Orlando won the second by the same score, mounting a 10-hit attack.

Gonzales Wins

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) — Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles won the Geneva Gold Professional Tennis Trophy Sunday by beating Ken Rosewall of Australia, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 sweep over Miss Moffit.

 CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — As long as Bernard "Tut" Bartzan is around, there's hope of bringing the Davis Cup back to America.
 Bartzan, 33, America's old reliable, played the key role Sunday as the United States scored a dramatic 3-2 comeback victory over Mexico in the American Zone finals.
 The Dallas southpaw easily defeated Rafael Osuna in the fifth and deciding match, 6-3, 6-3 and 7-5, to keep alive America's hopes for another meeting with Australia.
 Chuck McKinley, 19, of St. Louis, set the stage by overpowering veteran Mario Llamas, 6-3, 7-5 and 10-8.
 David Freed, the U. S. captain, gave Bartzan full credit. "Tut is the sole reason we won," Freed said. "He works, fights and trains hard. He has less natural ability than any other member of this team, but he still is the key man."
 Osuna beat McKinley Friday and teamed with Antonio Palofax Saturday to down McKinley and Dennis Ralston in the lone doubles match. Bartzan topped Llamas in his other singles match.
 American will now play India, the Eastern Zone champion. The winner will face Italy, the European champion, for the right to challenge Australia.

 MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies snapped a 25-game losing streak by defeating the Milwaukee Braves, 7-4, in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

U. S. Gets Boost For Cup Return

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — As long as Bernard "Tut" Bartzan is around, there's hope of bringing the Davis Cup back to America.

Hunt Tops Field

RAMSTEIN, Germany (UPI) — Bernard Hunt of England fired a 64 Sunday to win the Woodlawn Open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 264 — three strokes better than runnerup Eric Brown of Scotland.

It Was Long Battle For Gay

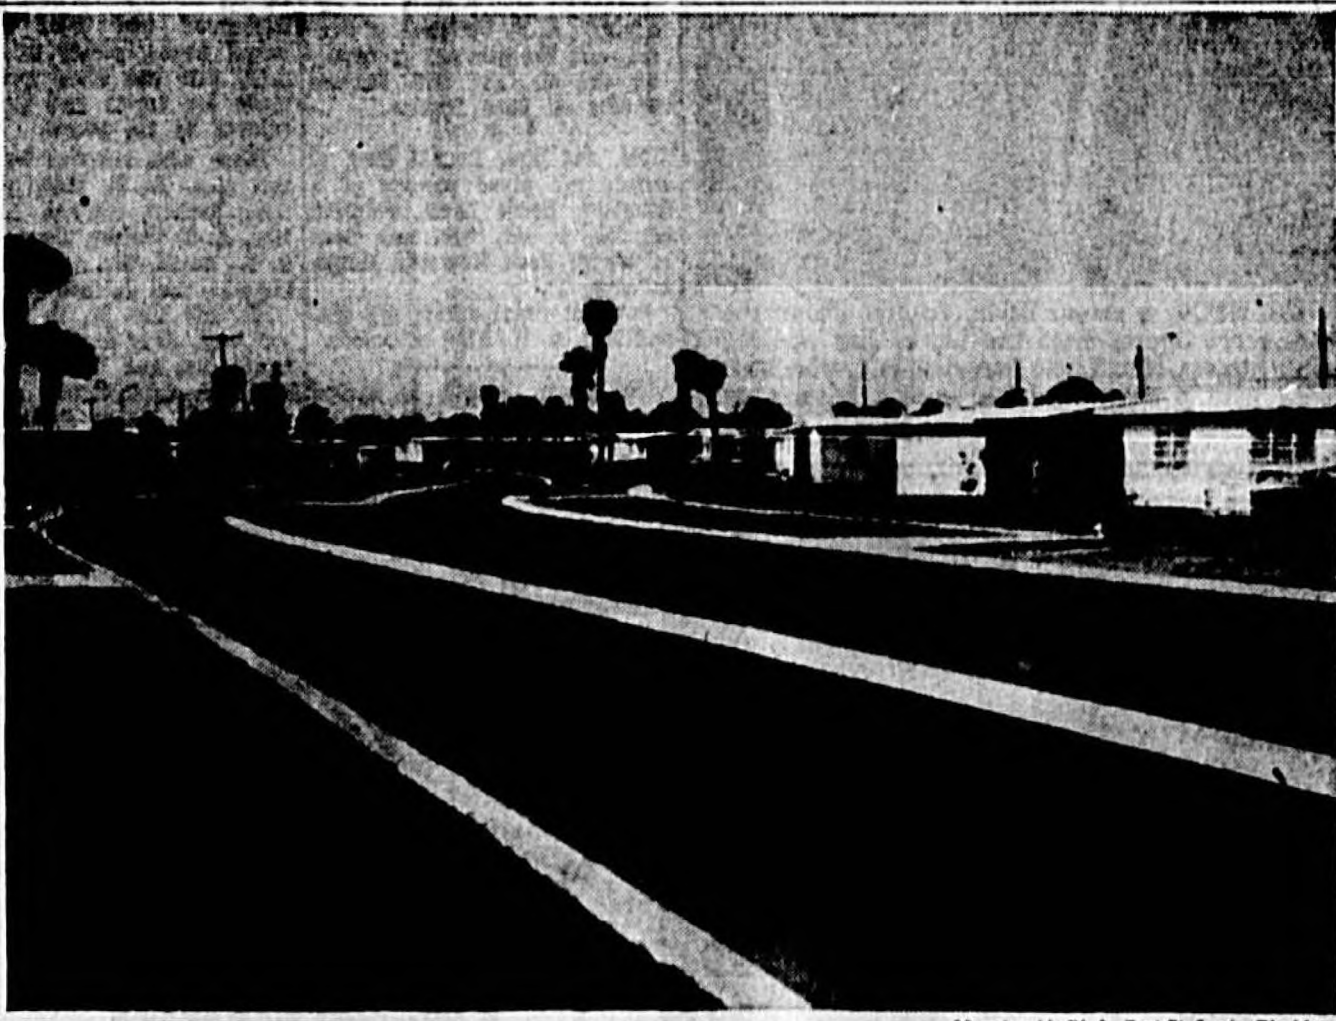

SILVER SPRING, Md. (UPI) — It took Gay Brewer Jr. five years on the pro golf circuit before he won his first major tournament, and he had to scramble plenty to get it.
 The 29-year-old Brewer shot a final-round three-under-par 67 Sunday on a rain-soaked course to win the $5,300 first prize in the Carling Open tournament. Brewer's 72-hole total was 277, three under par.
 Brewer beat Bill Maxwell of Dallas by one stroke. Maxwell, winner of last week's Insurance City Open, might have tied by sinking a 35-foot putt on the final hole, but his effort stopped one foot short.
 Bill Casper Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., who led after the third round, soared to a 73 Sunday and wound up in a third-place tie at 279 with Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass. Harney shot a fourth-round 71.

"We insist on value...that's why we're paving all our streets with soil-cement!"

... Says ELLIOTT MACKLE, President, The Mackle Co., Inc.

"Soil-cement is our choice of pavement for the many miles of streets paved each year by The Mackle Company at Port Charlotte, Port Malabar, Port St. Lucie and other General Development Corporation communities in Florida.
 "Soil-cement is economical to install, which means savings and value for our customers. In addition, many blocks of soil-cement streets can be completed in a single day. This is a vital factor to us in maintaining land development and construction schedules and in holding down paving costs.
 "Just as important, these streets assure low maintenance costs. They stay solid and don't pothole or wash out at the edges. This means continuing economy for the community and for the property owners."
 Taxpayers especially like soil-cement. Most of the materials cost nothing. The main ingredient is soil at the site—or old broken-up black-top or gravel. Mixed with portland cement and water, rolled and topped with bituminous coating—the pavement's finished. Soil cement can save a tax money where you live. Soil cement grows stronger year after year. It's the strongest pavement short of concrete.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "Bored" (the mother of five whose husband was a nut on baseball) hit an all-time low. When the husband sits around with the transistor radio plugged into his ear while his poor wife is dying for adult companionship, you tell her to work on needlepoint or take a bubble bath. Really!

My advice would have been, "When your husband comes home and settles down on the couch with his radio, get all dressed up and leave him with the dirty dishes and the kids. Go to visit friends or to a doublefeature movie, and don't hurry home." I'll bet after you did that a few times, your husband would find time to talk to you.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to the lady who hates baseball was terrific. It reminded me of myself ten years ago. When we were first married, my husband was crazy about baseball, but I didn't know a shutout from a dugout. I used to nag him when he'd listen to the games, and I refused to go to one with him. Finally one day I decided to change my way of thinking. I forced myself to watch baseball games and, believe it or not, I became as excited about them as my husband was. Now we each have our favorite teams and make small wagers with each other, and I can truthfully say that baseball has brought us closer together, and gives us more enjoyment, than I ever dreamed was possible.

DEAR ABBY: Your reply to "Bored" is another step toward helping baseball ruin the American people. Ask a small child who God is, and he doesn't know, but ask him to name all the players on the Yankee and Giant teams and he will name them and tell you their batting averages. The baseball parks are full every time there is a game—but the churches are empty. That woman asked you for bread and you gave her a stone. Abigail Van Buren, in you I am—

"DISAPPOINTED"

DEAR ABBY: I want to thank you for advising "Bored," who didn't share her husband's enthusiasm for baseball, to do something else and let him enjoy the game.

A wife who acts neglected and plays the martyr because her husband enjoys baseball and she doesn't is, in my book, a foul ball. A really sharp gal would learn the game. She'd soon find out that pleasures shared are pleasures doubled. Sign me...

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Like most women, I improve the shining hours spent under a hair dryer leafing through the beauty salon's copies of fashion magazines.

On one of those recent excursions into never-never land, by way of a chic magazine, I spotted the cover blurb: "Trace yourself, dear—I'm bringing 12 people for dinner." Now the coping was done. How that's more like it, I thought. This magazine is getting practical.

But when I turned to the story and pictures depicting how one woman had coped with 12 "unexpected" guests, I discovered that the magazine's heroine had two days to prepare for the guests, two helpers in the kitchen, and apparently an unlimited amount to spend on food and wine. Maybe the editors of a fashion magazine call that "coping with unexpected guests," but not many housewives would.

What most housewives call coping with the unexpected in entertaining is having a husband say, "Let's all go to our house for breakfast" when the dance orchestra has folded up for the night and his wife is ready to fold up, too.

Or, having a high school age daughter say in an off-hand manner, "Would it be all right if I had a few girls—just 10 or 12—for a slumber party tonight?" Or wondering frantically what she can scare up for dinner on an hour's notice when one of her old school friends traveling with a husband and six children telephones and says, "I just couldn't go through your city without calling you up. No, we wouldn't think of barging in on you for dinner! Well, if you promise you won't go to any trouble—"

That's what most housewives mean by "coping." Two days' advance notice and two uniformed helpers in the kitchen is not coping. That's just soup.

You'll realize that unexpected guests are only one of her problems, men, if you'll read "Happier Wives (hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

If you can keep from looking at the East and West hands do so. Then plan your play at four spades against the king of diamonds opening.

You follow suit to the first diamond and trump the diamond continuation. Right here is where you have a chance to make a careless mistake. You must trump with a high spade, not the three spot.

Now, if you are an average good player, you will have no trouble making six since everything is going to break nicely. You start by cashing a high trump and a high club. Then you lead the three of trumps to dummy's eight, take a club finesse, drop

South Ahead In TV Gains

ATLANTA (UPI) — The South, with TV sets in four out of every five households, has progressed faster than any other section in the nation in providing television facilities, the U.S. Department of Commerce said today.

Five years ago, the Commerce Department reported, only every other household in Dixie had television receivers.

The South boasted its distribution of television sets by 32 per cent in the five-year period while the West produced a 28 per cent, the North-Central 19 per cent, and the Northeast recorded a 14 per cent gain.

Florida, Georgia, the Carolinas, the Virginias, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia had 86 per cent of households with television sets while 82 per cent of those in Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky had sets.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A lesson from the past and a picture of the present: gave televiewers Sunday evening a clear historical view of what the Berlin crisis is all about. And especially why President Kennedy's position is as firm as it is. In an hour and a half of news programming, the arrival of 1,500 American troops in West Berlin Sunday was related meaningfully

Gunderson Set To Defend Play

TACOMA, Wash. (UPI) — Jo Anne Gunderson, of nearby Kirkland, Wash., set out in defense of her crown today as the first round of the 61st annual Women's National Amateur golf tournament got underway on the tree-lined and sun-swept Tacoma Country and Golf Club.

The 6,200-yard course, well-pocked with hazards, narrow fairways and towering pines, will provide a thorough test for the field of 102 players.

COMPARISON

It has been estimated that some 600,000 Americans alone visit Mexico as tourists each year, as compared with fewer than 25,000 foreigners from all countries entering Honduras.

to the appasement of Adolf Hitler in 1938 by British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain at Munich. The first show was a half hour review by NBC news of how West Berlin depression after the Communists sealing of the border soared to new hope with the arrival of Vice President Johnson and the troops. The next half hour, also on NBC, was a timely questioning on "Meet the Press" of Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in which the diplomat said—calmly but firmly—"We'll not be pushed out of Berlin."

But nothing could have been more timely than the final half hour — a rerun on CBS "Twentieth Century" of "Crisis at Munich." It was perhaps the most valuable rerun of the summer, CBS, of course, said.

The gesture of sending added military aid to West Berlin from Britain and France, as well as the United States, gave it a dramatic immediacy. No words can equal the film of Chamberlain, hat in hand, greeting Hitler at the Nazi dictator's lair in the Bavarian alps, Berchtesgaden. It was the pronouncement of the spider and the fly. Hitler, unprepared for war but trying to see how far he could push the Allies, demanded the Sudeetenland, the German-speaking portion of Czechoslovakia. Chamberlain and his French counterpart, Edouard Daladier, gave it to him after war-scare propaganda by the Nazis. They thought they had bought peace, and they were welcomed home as heroes, but within a year all of Czechoslovakia was in Hitler's hands.

The Munich theme weaved also through the NBC show on Berlin, which had Edwin Newman as an excellent anchor man and proved again that the network's news staff is far more than just "black and white."

Avery's Statement On Civil Defense

(Ed. Note: District 3 County Commissioner at a recent County Commission meeting, said "let's see if the Herald has enough guts to print this." We surely do, and will follow it up with the other side of the ledger Tuesday.)

Remarks by James P. Avery, Jr. on Aug. 14, 1961 at Board of County Commission meeting relative to Civil Defense Budget:

"Gentlemen, at this time I would like the opportunity to make a statement supporting my stand on the tentative budget for Civil Defense.

"Firstly, I would have you know my position on the subject of Nuclear Warfare, its effects and effective defenses against said event. A military education lasting 20 years has not recently been terminated, and all at the expense of the U. S. Government. Scores of thousands of dollars were expended on my education during the last 20 of that 20 year period, all on the subject of Nuclear Weapons and interests attendant thereto. During this period of instruction, the finest available anywhere in the world, I had access to, and was privileged to view, motion pictures of every single nuclear explosion caused by the United States, and was required to study literally hundreds of pounds of written material relating to the effects of these blasts. I tell you this so you will understand my position when I say, I think I know of what I speak.

"Secondly, the only adequate defense against nuclear attack, is to prevent its ever occurring.

"Thirdly, if I sincerely believed that a siren warning system of the type and coverage proposed for Seminole County would save as many lives as a traffic signal at S.R. 436 and S.R. 434, I would vote this morning for a tax mileage increase to provide it. PLEASE DO NOT FORGET THAT MY FAMILY LIVES IN THIS COUNTY AND THAT I HAVE EVERY DESIRE TO PROTECT THEM.

"Fourthly, before the people of Seminole County are panicked into placing their hopes on a siren, because of being subjected to printed two act plays, misinformed editorials, however sincere they may be, and a great deal of talk by people who knew NOT of what they speak, let us calmly and rationally look at some facts.

"1. Should an attack be launched upon Florida, it is generally conceded that it will be by missiles. Further, if American Armed Forces were manning a $ Billion Dollar warning system along the coasts of Florida, of which I doubt such a system is in existence, we would get a warning time equal to about 5 rings of your telephone, MAYBE.

"2. Let us assume you receive your warning, now head for your fallout shelter, of which there are but two in Seminole County, accommodating a total of 10 persons. Sounds foolish, does it not?

"3. If you had done a nuclear explosion look like. A fairly good example would be that if an explosion occurred in the center of Orlando, every person in Seminole County not wearing the proper goggles, that saw that fireball, would be instantly blinded. Let us go farther away from home and assume an explosion occurred over Jacksonville, having a yield large enough to destroy the complex, you could see it from any point in Seminole County with your eyelids closed, should you be facing in that direction. That, fellow citizens, is a nuclear explosion.

"4. The second best defense, in my opinion, the people of Seminole County, or any other county for that matter, can offer to nuclear warfare, is to educate and prepare themselves against the effects of fallout, survival in a devastated countryside, and medical treatment (not just first aid) for nuclear caused injuries. This defense can be undertaken by every individual today. This program of education should be expanded from its present scope immediately.

"5. Should a siren warning system be authorized this morning by this Board, it would not be operational for one year. This is due to a large backlog of orders placed by panicked citizenry all over the United States.

"6. I predict, that in less than half that time, devices will be on sale in Seminole County that plug into any household circuit and will be automatically set off by the Central Power Plant, in the event there is the slightest bit of warning time.

"7. You can believe this when I say, your greatest chance of survival does not come before the blast, but after the blast.

"Fifthly, this will be all the comment you hear from me about sirens, for I have no intentions of engaging in a dual of words over proposals that do not face up to reality.

Allow me to close by saying that Seminole County is indeed fortunate to have a dedicated individual like Mr. Peterson to head up our Civil Defense. While respecting no man more than him, I reserve the right to differ in opinion. On a siren warning system, we do not agree. Thank you."

Highway Dispute Goes To Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. William C. Cramer (R-Fla.), has taken his long-standing highway dispute with Florida Gov. Farris Bryant to Congress.

Cramer introduced a bill Thursday designed to guarantee construction of 135 miles of the interstate highway system between Daytona Beach and Fort Pierce.

Cramer announced that the Public Works Committee, of which he is the ranking GOP member, has scheduled hearings next Tuesday.

The state's only Republican congressman, who has been feuding with Bryant on Florida's road program for months, introduced his bill after Bureau of Public Roads Administrator Rex M. Whitton testified before the committee.

Cramer said Whitton told the committee that "conditions" would be placed on the construction of the freeway between the two Florida East Coast cities if Bryant carried through plans to extend the Sunshine State Parkway, a toll road, from Port Pierce to Orlando.

Future Farmers Win Top Awards

Allen Sandifer and Kenneth Higginbotham, both members of the Seminole High Chapter, Future Farmers of America, brought top honors home this summer from forestry training sessions at Camp O'Lea State Park, July 16 through July 22.

The Seminole FFA boys were awarded Scribner Tree Scale Sticks for placing in the top 10 percent of the group attending camp in extensive tests given at the end of the forestry training classes.

J. Edwin Moore, chief information and education officer of the Florida Forestry Service was in charge of the summer training program during which six-hour daily classes were held for the boys who also enjoyed many hours of fellowship and fun during the week.

Court Set To Hear Testimony On Threat To Kennedy Count

HACKENSACK, N. J. (UPI) — A court hears psychiatric testimony today in the case of a 28-year-old man charged with attempting to send a threatening telegram to President Kennedy. Judge Benjamin P. Galanti ordered Herman B. Norris of West New York, N. J., to appear before the Bergen County Court to hear further testimony by doctors and a psychiatrist.

Last week, Dr. Laurence E. Collins, a psychiatrist and retired clinical director of the Greystone Park mental institution, testified that Norris suffered from a paranoia reaction and was anti-social. He said Norris was a danger to himself and to others.

Norris was arrested last July 9 while trying to send the telegram to Kennedy. It read: "You have taken the bait. You would rather see a war than deport one man. For that I am relieved of all duty to my fellow men. I give my word; make your peace with your God. I will have you killed as soon as it can be arranged."

New Boom For Cows

ARTESIA, Calif. (UPI) — Teo Albers thinks he has invented the greatest thing for cows since milk-lined automatic milkers — a very hygienic machine that washes a bovine in 4 1/2 seconds.

The contraption is called a "cowwash" and might develop the cleanest, if not the most contended cows in the world.

Albers, a native of Holland who came to the United States in 1946, says the cow enters a concrete block-walled runway, activates a spring valve to turn on the shower, sloshes to the next station and gets a speedy scrubbing, rubdown and rinse. It is something like an automatic car wash.

The invention requires only three gallons of water per animal and saves better than one-third of the milker's time. California law insists a dairy cow must be washed daily.

No such law exists for people.

Minimum Benefits To Increase

Some 2,175,000 persons automatically will receive increased Social Security Payments after Sept. 1 according to a statement released from the office of Orlando District Manager Byron R. Patton.

Getting increased benefits will be those who now receive the minimum or near minimum of $33 a month. Patton said, for under the new law the lowest benefit payable will be $40.

Dependents of these retired workers also will receive increases in their benefits so long as the total family payments are not more than $60. Survivor-families who have been getting a total payment of less than $60 will receive a small increase.

Adenauer Promises Soviet-West Negotiations Over Berlin Crisis

BERLIN (UPI)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer came to West Berlin for an eight-hour visit today and immediately assured the beleaguered city there would be East-West negotiations soon.

The 85-year-old chancellor said the West would use all its political and moral weight to maintain West Berlin's ties with the free world.

Bonn. His first-hand inspection of the Western sectors of the city which is now divided by a barbed wire-topped concrete wall that was constructed by the Communists, came a little more than 24 hours after U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson concluded a weekend visit.

Adenauer's visit was aimed at boosting the morale of West Berliners during their hour of crisis. The elderly statesman planned to attend a special session of the West Berlin City Council this afternoon and was scheduled to hold a news conference.

The Communists tightened their net to prevent East Germans from fleeing to West Berlin. West Berlin police said the Communists barred West Berliners from traveling out to Steinstuecken, a West Berlin enclave 1,200 yards deep in East German territory.

City Finishes Budget Chops

The City Commission Monday night finished cutting its 1961-62 budget and after a two-hour review authorized City Manager W. E. Knowles to reap the appropriations and submit the budget for adoption at the board's next meeting Monday night.

There was little cutting Monday night with the board apparently satisfied with Knowles' proposed budget including some $708,199 for city operation and $274,650 for debt service.

Indications are that there will be no millage change with 12 mills for city operation and six mills for debt service.

At the same time the board gave its tentative approval to the utility budget totaling $164,830 although Commissioner J. H. Crapps said he hated to be pushed by the state into constructing a sewage treatment plant and setting aside $53,000 for this facility.

"I'll vote for it, if I can find a sensible reason for it," Crapps said.

The major changes in the operating budget include an across the board pay raise for all city personnel, hiring of two additional firemen and the board's alert action in renewing equipment on an annual basis.

VAH-5 Slated To Return Thursday

Heavy Attack Squadron Five will return to home base at Ramsey Field, Thursday after a seven-month deployment in the Mediterranean on board the U.S.S. Forrestal.

VAH-5 and the Forrestal were the backbone of the fast carrier striking force of the Sixth Fleet which has patrolled the seas, defending the peace in this area of the free world.

The "Skywarriors" will take off from the deck of the Forrestal off shore in the vicinity of the Virginia Capes at approximately 9:15 a. m. EST and will fly directly to Sanford, where plans have been made by squadron wives for a big welcome home demonstration.

$190 Stolen From Osteen Home

Even a peace justice isn't safe from thieves now-a-days. The home of J. S. Peterson, peace justice for Osteen, was entered sometime Monday night and $190 was stolen from his wallet.

No Curtailment Of Health Services, Commissioner Says

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery today denied that there will be any curtailment of public health services in the county during the next fiscal year even though the board continues to hold the millage line.

Avery in a statement said that the public has been confused and somewhat alarmed as a result of so-called facts about the anticipated operations of the department during the next fiscal year.

In discussing the proposed 1961-62 health department budget, Avery said that he will recommend that the services of a clinic aide and janitor be terminated and that they be replaced by two trustees to be assigned to the department.

He estimated this action would result in savings of $4,272.

Avery also reported that he plans to ask the board to cut $9,000 in expenses by eliminating capital outlay and by making more economical use of the telephone.

"We should save some $7,000 by this," Avery added.

Herald Marks Birthday Today

Today is the birthday of the Sanford Herald.

On this date in 1908 the first edition was published in Sanford, and the 53 year old newspaper has been rolling steadily off the presses for 10 these many years. Millions of words have poured out of the pens and typewriters of the editors and writers, telling of every phase of life in Sanford from the days of a sleepy little river town, up to the present bustling community.

German Reds Arrest Four U. S. Soldiers

BERLIN (UPI)—East German Communist police today arrested four uniformed American soldiers returning from East Berlin in an official sedan.

The arrest took place at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point in the center of the city.

Eyewitnesses reported the auto was stopped by Communist police who claimed the Americans had "misbehaved" and were traveling without proper documents.

At 3:25 p. m. about 35 minutes after the Americans were stopped, they were released by the East Germans and permitted to move on.

The Americans, a sergeant and three other enlisted men, were halted halfway through a zig-zag course made of low cement barriers which the Communists erected at the crossing point last week.

Western reporters, police and just plain curious stood in a group about 150 yards distant, and were unable to hear the conversation between the 25 or 30 Communist police who surrounded the car.

Band Drills To Start Soon

Pre-school drills for the Seminole High School band will begin Thursday at 9:30 a. m., according to an announcement today from Bandmaster Ernest Cowley.

The band members will study and drill for two hours each day until school starts on Sept. 3.

Following drill, all band officers will attend officer's leadership school in the band hall.

Neglect Charges Denied

The state welfare director of Florida today promised a full investigation into operations of the welfare agency here but called charges of neglect of duty "ridiculous."

Monday a Sanford private nurse charged the agency with neglect of duty and said that in one case welfare checks of a Negro were turned over to the landlord.

Frank Craft told the Herald by telephone that his office will look into the charges, but said, "it would surprise me if they are true."

Craft also said it was impossible for any checks to be turned over to any landlord when it is in violation of federal laws and all checks got to the payee.

The Herald also contacted District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery who said that the rules governing state welfare are not initiated on the county level but are promulgated from the state.

"Bound by these rules, and in my opinion, woefully understaffed, the local state agency has accomplished a tremendous job for the blind, aged and disabled of Seminole County," he said.

"In spite of aid programs administered by federal, state and county governments, a critical social problem very definitely still exists with these people.

"The blame should not be shouldered by a handful of workers who have proven abilities and a dedication of mission."

The Sanford nurse, Mrs. Eleanor Ravenel also accused the welfare agency of allowing welfare cases to live in condemned housing.

Mrs. Anne Curtwright, district supervisor of welfare in Winter Park, told the Herald that the state only allows $66 per month for these persons and can't tell them where to live.

Spacemen Start MacDill Survey

TAMPA (UPI)—A group of scientists looking for the best place to locate the U. S. man-on-the-moon project headquarters spent today surveying MacDill Air Force Base and Tampa.

The inspection team, from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), arrived here Monday night from Jacksonville, after spending Monday looking at the Green Cove Springs Navy Base.

The group, after leaving here tonight, will look at other sites in New Orleans, Houston and Sacramento, Calif. NASA plans soon to move its space headquarters from Langley Air Force Base, Va., to more convenient quarters.

The team said Monday that if the project landed at Green Cove Springs, it would bring a $60 million annual payroll and about 1,500 scientists, technicians, administrators and their families.

The team planned to spend today looking over MacDill and Tampa's industrial, port and educational facilities.

Nobody asked me but did you know that a voluntary pay slice for the County Commissioners was proposed during one of their budget hearings and it was defeated by one vote. It was a 50 percent pay cut . . . and don't ask me who cast that deciding vote!

The County Commission in an informal meeting Monday approved the working of prisoners on County roads and the board hopes to put the plan into operation around Oct. 1.

Did you know it cost $3,900 to feed the animals in the zoo last year and will cost $4,500 for the coming fiscal year.

The City Commission has okayed the use of three bump caps for workers in the cemetery. Are they for protection from ghosts?

Reports come in from Tampa that the Circusland organization has gained favor with many officials there and may get a site to locate the big attraction somewhere in the Hillsborough County section.

City Manager W. E. Knowles was told Monday night to get that grass sticking out on First St. cleaned up. Commissioner Earl Higginbotham called it a disgrace.

"Get it done even if you have to use an eyebrow tweezer," Higginbotham said. Our comment: There's no appropriation in the budget for a tweezer.

Kennedy Rejects Bargain Proposal

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—President Kennedy rejected Monday a proposal to use a hijacked Cuban vessel to bargain with the Cuban government for the safety of relatives of Cuban defectors.

White House assistant George Bundy said in a reply to the skipper of the freighter Bahai do Nipe the President was unwilling to use the ship in "trade" with the Cuban government.

Jorge Agustin Navarro, master of the 3,805-ton motor vessel, had asked Kennedy to hold the ship until his relatives and those of fellow defectors were allowed to leave Cuba for the United States.

Welfare Official Denies Charges Over Checks

Mrs. Camela Ray, supervisor of public welfare here today denied charges that her office has ever turned over any checks to landlords.

In replying to charges against the State Department of Public Welfare, Monday, Mrs. Ray, made this statement:

"This article did not identify the welfare recipient involved in the charges. However, we can assure the citizens of Seminole County that such practice as 'turning checks over to landlords' has never been followed by this agency.

"The checks are mailed directly to the recipient to use the money for the purposes for which it was granted.

"In situations where a person has been declared incompetent and a guardian has been appointed by the Court, the check is issued to the guardian for the benefit of the client.

"In regard to the statement that the 'welfare worker had not made a check for at least one year and a half', we would like the public to know that our agency is required to contact every welfare recipient annually to redetermine need and eligibility. Additional contacts are made during the year as the situation indicates.

"In reference to the comments made about 'a welfare worker,' Mrs. Ray continued, "I would like to make it clear that this complaint has never been brought to my attention."

"It is unfortunate," Mrs. Ray said, "that there apparently has been a misunderstanding concerning a 'welfare worker' interpreting agency policy regarding a client's situation. Such complaints should be made directly to the supervisor.

"Our agency fully approves of a slum clearance program," Mrs. Ray emphasized. "We would like to point out that this does not come under our jurisdiction, but is a community problem about which we hope some action can be taken."
