Solons Sink Giants On Miscues, Breaks

Visitors Are Outbit By Sanford 11-9; Locals Journey To Orlando Tonight

The Orlando Senators took advantage of a bucketful of Giant miscues and one lucky break to get back the locals 7-6.

The first Solon explosion came in the fourth when they scored four runs on two hits, two walks, and two errors. The visitors came back in the fifth frame to notch another three runs on three hits and an error.

The invaders were outbit by the Sanford squad 11-9 and also outwalked 7-3, but Sanford was unable to produce a hit in the clutch. The locals left 11 men stranded on the sacks.

An eighth inning Giant rally fell short of the mark when Manager Levy slammed a line drive at Senator pitcher Currier. The relief artist held his glove in front of him with more thought on self-protection than in actually stopping the drive. The ball, however, stuck in the webbing of glove. He turned and threw to third doubling off Chadderton to retire the side.

The Giants journey to Orlando tonight to face the Solons who are now in a three way tie for first place. Manager Cal Ermer indicated that he would send Hank Bradley to the mound. Manager Levy is countering with Clyde Stevens.

DAYTONA BEACH—Deland Red Hats last night edged out the Islanders 4 to 3, to tie up first place in the Florida State League. Stan Pitula and Ed Saez duled on the mound with about even honors, six hits each.

An error by Second Baseman Jack Healey of a double play ball in the first inning set up two runs for Deland. The Hats scored two more in the sixth on three hits and a walk for their final count.

LEESBURG.—The Leesburg Packers took a 12 to 7 victory over the Gainesville G Men here last night before 583 home town fans. The Packers beat Paul Grant, a former Packster and to Gainesville about ten days ago.

PALATKA.—Palatka eked out a close 5-4 victory over St. Augustine here last night behind Ed Smith hurling of veteran Ed Cook. The Analeas blasted two Saint tossers for 10 hits including Tom Tieney's game winning homer in the seventh to snap a 4-all tie.

Recreation Program Will Begin Monday

Cassius Goose Kettles and Fred Gans announced today that a recreation program will begin Monday at Seminole High School for boys of all ages.

The Neutral Corner

By BILL HERING

Principal Herman Morris and Coach Goose Kettles of Seminole High School asked The Neutral Corner to thank all the people of Sanford, the many local civic clubs, and the Giant organization for supporting the recent Group A baseball tournament that was held here. Coach Kettles said such displays of support go a long way toward making baseball popular among all the kids in Sanford. The coach also reminded high school fans that the Seminole squad has been in four out of a possible six state tournaments.

The Sanford Giants are presently trying out a new catcher who, from all reports, seems to possess a bucketful of gainly attributes. The 20-year old youth, Earl Murphy, pulled on a mitt Monday night prior to the game with St. Augustine to show Manager Ed Levy just what he has on the ball. A source who asked that his name be omitted said the North Carolina boy had more natural hitting ability than any player he has seen in quite a spell. Murphy played centerfield for the now defunct Melbourne squad of the East Coast League. He played one year at Michigan State before transferring to the University of North Carolina under the tutelage of Bunny Hearn.

NOT TOMORROW... BUT SOON DEPT: Cocon, of the East Coast League, appears in line for the Palatka franchise. The Neutral Corner was informed that everything was discussed but the naming of a price. There are, however, a few legal obstacles that must be cleared before the deal is finally settled.

These few words are not meant to extoll the virtues of a free press. We'll let that angle remain on the editorial page where it rightly belongs. However, a wire story was laid on our desk several days ago that deserves, we think, a few sticks of comment. The dispatch read: "The entire sports staff of a Communist controlled Berlin newspaper resigned today in protest against what they termed 'orders to write sports from a political viewpoint.' We were wondering just how an account of a baseball game written with numerous political interjections would sound. Maybe something like this:

The Sanford Reds lost a 1-0 game last night, which incidentally was Jefferson Democratic dinner night in Washington, to the Daytona Beach Dinks. The game was played in Flathead Stadium, named after that able Senator from Schon County, Cornelius Q. Flathead. Senator Flathead, you'll remember, recently led a delegation of isolationists in a parade down Pennsylvania Avenue to Capitol Hill. The solon also voted against the L.E.P.Y. law, the oleomargarine tax, and the trade embargo.

Sanford pitcher, Lefty Joe McGork, aside from voting the straight Republican ticket for 15 years, was tagged with the loss. He now has a season record of 9 and 2. His only other defeat came at the hands of the politically radical Gadenyville squad. In all fairness to the T-man it should be said that his manager, the well-known liberal Al Feebly, has been doing his best to indoctrinate the players in the advantages to be found in adhering to a more stable party.

An inspiring play dropped up in the ninth inning when the fans were listening to an address by Secretary of State Cordell Acheson on the Anglo-American policy pool our natural resources. Spikes Larin, a 20-year old youth from New Jersey who has yet to vote but has already made known his intention of casting a straight socialist ticket when he becomes 21, was called out trying to stand second by Commissioner Blindman Backata. Although he clearly arrived at the bag a full 10 seconds before the throw from the catcher, Larin proved conclusively to the assembled thousands that he had already slipped on the yoke of the administration-held state when he not only failed to protest the Commissioner's call, but thanked him for a just and honest decision. The fans applauded Larin's humbleness in the face of totalitarian authority and also Backata's carefully planned political taster.

Tonight the Reds will take on the league leading G's from that party-split town of Lakeland. Staff correspondents report that the bolshevik uprising in Lakeland was stamped out last week when several members of the ball club were enrolled as forced labor in the western salt mines. Joe Marblemind, whose turn it was to hurl for the G's, will not make an appearance at the park for quite some time. Marblemind was one of the team members "enrolled" after the unsuccessful putsch.

Read the Red Star for tomorrow's comment on the game, the players, and their political affiliations as seen by your sports writer Bill Hering who is, who has always been, and shall always be, a Republican. Long live Happy Chandler.

Without heisting the star-spangled banner, we'd just like it understood that every day, in every way, we're happy to be living in a country where the umpire is a thief, the sports writer a mallethead, and a baseball man is judged by his playing abilities and not his party connections.

The Neutral Corner deserted the press box at Municipal Ball Park recently for a bit cooler seat in the bleachers, and in the process had a long forgotten, cow-webbed face dusted off and brought to light.

Baseball fans are like opera lovers: to find one who really appreciates the finer points of the drama they are watching, you have to hunt in the unimpeachable tier of the Metropolitan, or in the bleacher section. Only in the bleachers you don't have to hunt to find the baseball arguers; you're surrounded by 'em. Among the writer and sports-casters at MBP, facts and figures, both past and present that concern the Giants, are as a rule gotten only after a careful search of the records or little red books. Among the bleacherites these same facts and figures roll off every tongue in the manner of a person saying his own name.

The barrage of statistics that greets each batter usually starts a rapid look at the speaker to make sure he's not a fan's an old-time machine carefully hidden under a lounge. And the chokes phoned that mean the umpire gets to blame any error previously heard this year in the grandstand. To try and prime them all would require removal of every and would take the edge off the press carefully prepared and balanced word pyramids. It's a case of being

Eight-Dog Race To Highlight Thrills At Volusia Track

The thousands of enthusiastic patrons of the Volusia County dog track will be given the added thrill tonight of an eleventh eight-dog race, and this extra attraction will be continued every Wednesday and Saturday nights throughout the season. As usual the beach course has been selected for the final race of the evening and it will bring into action such veteran marathoners as Howdy Lay, My Rustie, Pretty Pert and Mike Dotzer. The feature ninth race tonight has been designated the Johnston's Coffee Shop Handicap and is owned by Duke Watts has handicapped an all-star octet of celebrity greyhounds to go to the post, namely Trim Trick, Jiffy Jet, Jack Riland, Masturina, Toke, Value, Official and Sly Banter. Handle-owed Trim Trick, winner of the West Plagier Derby, won the feature here last Friday night. Owned by Mrs. O. Z. Ferrell has landed in the money six times in six starts this summer, and earned purses totaling $417. Sam Baxendale's Sly Banter also will be highly regarded. She romped home two and a half lengths in the lead in Monday's feature. Lee Anthony's Masturina will be competing in his first race this season, but the big brindle has been schooling like a house afire, and burned up the futurity course in 23.3 seconds, the fastest time of the season.

Tonight's feature winner will be presented with a trophy by Mrs. Virginia Williams, hostess of Johnston's Coffee Shop. John Johnston, assistant manager of the track, will be highly interested in the race. "They can go to hell, too. Not all, but most of them. They will because I won't bother with them. Why should I, when all they're interested in is digging up dirt. They lurk behind pillars hoping to catch you in some wrong. Sports writers today don't care about facts and figures. All they're interested in is your personal life. A Boston newspaperman, Al Hershberg of the Post, offers an explanation for Williams' attitude towards fans and sports writers alike: "He's the toughest person I ever thrown before. Youville came along in 1918 to break Torrance's record after it had stood for 14 years. Youville, too, got off the throw of his lifetime. He went 56 feet, 3-8 inch, a foot better than he ever had thrown before in competition. "Fuchs, on the other hand, has shown consistent improvement. He has all but one of all the recorded puts over Torrance's record. He is throwing over 57-0 nearly every week. If he continues to improve, and then gets that 'once in a lifetime' throw that the others got, he could get over 60 feet. "It's an interesting possibility. Fuchs has won several left this summer, and then he may top Europe as he did last season. The national AAU meet will be held June 23-24 at Washington, D. C. "Fuchs sends a bit under 200 pounds during track season. This is small for a weight thrower. He gets his tremendous distance by leading far back before he throws and then almost exploding across the ring. This method, of course, calls for tremendous muscular coordination. "An oddity about big Jim is that he is a capable sprinter, still able to run a 10-second, 100-yard dash. He was both a dash man and a weight thrower at Hyde Park high school in Chicago, and he won three events in the City League track meet there. He was the only athlete in 17 years to win

Baseball Fans Can Go To Devil Says Boston Slugger T. Williams

BOSTON, June 21 — (AP)—Most baseball players eagerly seek to win the favor of fans and sports writers alike. Not so Ted Williams. He is at sword's points with all but a few Boston newspapermen. And the exchange of insults between Williams and Fenway Park's leftfield bleacher crowd has already caused an explosion.

Does the constant booing of the fans affect his hitting? Does he trace that to the batting slump he underwent recently that dropped his average down below .300? "I don't give a damn about the fans," says the great Boston Red Sox outfielder. "Most of them can go to hell. They don't bother me one damn bit. They're been on me for years but I'm not worrying one bit. Let 'em boo all they want and let 'em cheer me all they want. I'll ignore them just the same. If they get on me too much, I'm just hot-tempered enough to tell them exactly what I think of them."

"The majority of the fans are all right but those burns in left field are just plain morons. They say I take offense too easily but there isn't a man alive who could take all that filthy abuse every day. Some of the fellows without fishing some of it back."

Why doesn't he get along with the writers? "They can go to hell, too. Not all, but most of them. They will because I won't bother with them. Why should I, when all they're interested in is digging up dirt. They lurk behind pillars hoping to catch you in some wrong. Sports writers today don't care about facts and figures. Clubhouse

By FRANK ECK AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor AP Newsfeatures

Editors note: This is the fourth of a four part story by Frank Eck which deals with Bob Carpenter, president of the Phillies.

The Waitkus shooting cost Carpenter $10,000, half for hospital and doctor bills and the other half for a four-month recuperation period with Trainer Wiechec at Clearwater. Baseball has a rule against training before March 1 but the alert Carpenter felt the shooting of his special dispensation. He phoned star first basemen called for Commissioner Chandler and got it.

Carpenter believes getting Waitkus from the Chicago Cubs was the best deal he ever made. All baseball agreed.

Carpenter knows from memory all the promising players in his chain.

Each spring training he sits either in left field or on an some of his minor leaguers. He is so well liked that the kids often go directly to him with their problems. He'll talk over in left field, as he did with Catcher Andy Seminick last spring, or in someone's else's hotel room as he did with 23-year-old Robin Roberts and veteran Ken Heintzelman.

When Roberts, after a 10-minute salary conference, left the room signed up and while the players were working out he asked rather politely: "Mr. Carpenter, is it all right if I put on a uniform?" "Why certainly," said the survised Carpenter. "Another man might have said 'That's why you signed.' But not Carpenter. He's never gruff, never gets on a player for any reason. By the same token he does not believe in pampering them. They cost Bob too much money."

Baseball laughed at him when he sat down to write out a $10,000 check for Schoolboy Simmons back in 1947. But he's been writing them out ever since and now those who opposed the idea have fallen in line with their eyes cash.

Carpenter started a new trend in baseball. The days of buying ready made ball players as Col. Ruppert did when he built the Yankees and as Yawkey did after he took over the Red Sox are gone. Youth must be served. Carpenter and his young Phillies are proving that right now.

Weight Hurler Has His Sight Set On Sixty Foot Marker

By JIM BECKER AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer NEW YORK—Yale's Jim Fuchs a husky brute but no whale in the old tradition of weight throwers, has a fine chance to be the first man to top 60 feet in the shot put, that would rank with the four-minute mile in track.

Fuchs already has beaten the outdoor and indoor shotput records, both several times. His marks are awaiting approval. He has 23 of the 24 best puts in history. The senior from Chicago has set more records than any man in EI history.

But his best toss, a 58-foot, 5 1/2 inch effort in Los Angeles, is a foot and a half short of the magical 60-foot mark. Why then, are track observers tabling him as the first 60-footer?

For two good reasons. First, Fuchs shows no signs of slowing down. Since he has been at Yale, under the general direction of head coach Bob Glezen, and the special instruction of Frank Ryan, weight coach, he has added 11 feet to his tosses. It has been a steady improvement.

The second reason is explained by Glezen: "From past experience, it would seem that in every great shot putter's career, there is one 'throw of a lifetime.' That throw came from Jack Torrance, for example, in 1924, when he set the world record of 57 feet, one inch. That was almost a foot better than Jack had

Flying Disc Is Seen Again By Air Force Men

"Object" Makes Five Roaring Passes At Hamilton Air Base

OAKLAND, Calif., June 21—(AP)—The Oakland Tribune said a "disc shaped object" roaring at an estimated speed of 1,000 to 1,500 miles an hour made five "passes" near Hamilton Air Force Base early today.

The newspaper quoted three Air Force non-commissioned officers who said the "flying saucer," shooting blue flame and with a "roar like thunder" dived near a beacon just north of the field. Hamilton Field is 25 miles north of San Francisco.

Corp. Roger G. Pryor, a control tower operator at the field, said he saw a blue flame shooting out as the saucer flashed by from the southwest and headed northeast.

"I thought it was a falling star," the Tribune quoted Pryor. "But it didn't fall. It just kept on going."

The Tribune said Pryor's observation was verified by Staff Sgt. Ellis R. Leiner, another control-tower operator, and Staff Sgt. Virgil Cappuro, member of the Airways Communications Staff.

They said the saucer returned from the northwest and made another pass north of the field, then later made three more approaches. The Tribune said the object was described as circular, thick in the center and tapering to the sides. They used binoculars in following its course.

The men said the disc was accompanied by a roar like thunder and the blue flame looked like an acetylene torch. They described its approach altitude at between 5,000 and 5,000 feet.

The men said the sky was clear over Hamilton Field, although high fog prevailed elsewhere in the San Francisco Bay area.

Dapper Don Dies

But by 1939 he had sunk to cheap swindling, when he drew $100 to $500 in Sing Sing prison for stealing $200.

He was transferred here last Nov. 4. He spent his last days cleaning cell blocks.

Next February he would have been eligible for parole consideration.

Warren Walter B. Martin said "Dapper Don's" real name probably was Robert A. Tourbillon. He probably came from Atlanta Ga.

The prison knew of no relatives. Meanwhile in Montgomery, Ala., an old Negro life termor who died at Alabama's Almore prison left his life savings, $210, to help a crippled fellow prisoner.

Officials said Warren Riggs, 65, asked them to give the money to his friend, Tyler Russell, 32, whose legs are paralyzed. Russell walked on padded knees.

Riggs, suffering Bright's disease and heart trouble, had been warned by doctors he would not live much longer, prison director Frank Boswell said.

He was convicted of murder 18 years ago. Boswell described his record as unblemished for the entire time he was in prison.

Russell, also a Negro has three more years of a five-year sentence to serve for assault with intent to kill.

(Continued From Page One) House, but four members are ill and may not be able to attend the crucial session. Under these circumstances, any unusual absenteeism—or absenteeism by party members who think Britain should take a more positive attitude toward the Schuman Plan—could be disastrous.

Meanwhile, in Vatican City, news sources here declined to comment on reports the Vatican had intervened in negotiations between the U. S. and Hungary to exchange American businessman Robert A. Vogeler for the crown of St. Stefan.

The reports were that the negotiations had been disrupted temporarily by Vatican belief the crown should not be returned to Hungary while the Communists are in power.

Reliable sources in Vienna said earlier that negotiations for Vogeler's release are under way with the return of the ancient crown the price. He was sentenced to 15 years last February on charges of spying.

And in Frankfurt, the U. S. Commission announced today that City 31 Henderson, 33, a U. S. Vice Consul in Frankfurt, committed suicide yesterday.

Henderson, an official announcement said, was found dead of a self-inflicted gun shot wound in his apartment.

Henderson who was born in Puchontas, Ark., has a mother and brother living in Ventura, Calif.

Henderson's body was discovered last night after a member of the consulate staff in Frankfurt had been sent to investigate his absence from his office.

Henderson's body, the commission stated, was found lying beside a gun.

"Mr. Henderson had shot himself through the right temple and apparently had died about 3 P. M. yesterday afternoon," the announcement said.

Two other hand guns and two sporting rifles were found in the apartment.

Henderson left three notes, the high commission said. One was addressed to his mother, Mrs. Virginia R. Henderson, one to a woman acquaintance and one was an open letter.

Nothing in these indicated any reason for his act except mention of his deafness which necessitated his wearing a hearing aid. Associates said he was extremely sensitive about this affliction.

But that nothing in his actions recently indicated contemplation of such an act," the announcement said.

Fourteen others ran about the grounds. They were rounded up quickly authorities said.

Three girls escaped Sunday, but were returned.

In Albany officials of the State Department of Welfare, which operates the school, termed the Monday escape an "aftermath of the Sunday break."

The mass escape was led by "three chronic runaways," Miss Goldhamer said.

Escapes by two or three girls are not unusual. There are no guards at the institution and the girls are given freedom of the fenced-in area.

There are about 225 girls under 16 years of age in the school. Some have been committed because they are "uncontrollable" and some because of moral charges.

Labor Dispute

The main demands of the $250-man union include a five days work week with six days pay, an increase from $10 to $13.50 in drivers' daily minimum and restoration of a two cents a bottle cut in commissions.

Acheson Declares Allies Now Reach New Peace Period

Secretary Of State Says U. S. Arms To Stave Off Blow, Not To Strike It

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 22—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson declared today the United States and its allies "are on the threshold of a new period" in their quest for peace.

Despite the obstacles posed by the "inordinate ambition" of Soviet leaders, he said, war is not inevitable.

"We are building our strength," Acheson said in a speech prepared for the Harvard University Alumni Association, "in order that we may eliminate the conditions which would give rise to war, and we are on the threshold of a new period of peace."

"We face this new period with confidence, but we must be very clear in our minds about our purposes in times that lie ahead."

Declaring that it is "the determined purpose of this country, working with us, to prevent war," Acheson asserted:

"We do not aim for purposes of conquest. Our strength is a shield, whose purpose is to defend our people and the world against a progressive and successful revolution of the difficulties which would beset the international community."

"The second purpose of our strength is to enable us to carry ahead a creative relationship with the other nations of the free world."

He said that "Democracy is a dynamic idea in the world," and added:

"Both the North Atlantic community and the community of the American people are institutions founded on principles which must eventually prevail."

These principles, he said, include the cooperative association of nations, individual liberty, mutual aid and respect, and the responsibility of aiding other peoples to achieve their own development in their own way."

The Secretary spoke on the third anniversary of the day on which his predecessor, General George C. Marshall, proposed the European Recovery Plan that bears his name—also in a speech at Harvard.

Acheson said that while strength may now be essential to a settlement of the world problems, it is not a substitute for discussion and accommodation."

And he expressed hope that a healthy European community will be the determining factor in bringing peace to the world.

3 Wounded When Violence Flares In C. I. O. Strike

State Officials Dispatch 70 Police To Trouble Center

WASHINGTON, June 22—(AP)—The Federal Conciliation Service said today it is powerless to act in the strike at the American Enka Corp. plant in Morristown, Tenn., until the National Labor Relations Board determines whether an AFL or CIO Textile Union represents the employees.

MORRISTOWN, Tenn., June 22—(AP)—Three men were wounded by gunfire at the American Enka Corporation today and two hours later a barrage of gunfire shattered windows in the strike harassed rayon producing plant.

Gunfire erupted at 7 A. M. during a change of shifts at the plant, scene of recurrent disorders since the CIO Textile Workers Union Local 1054 went on strike May 28 in support of a wage increase and other benefits.

Three men were killed in this firing.

The rattle of gunfire was heard again shortly after 9 A. M. when plant officials said, bullets apparently were fired from a highway leading to the main gate. Windows were shattered by these slugs but no one was injured.

The official said at the time of the second outbreak about 60 to 75 men were milling around the gate armed with rifles, shotguns and pistols.

The State Highway Patrol immediately sent 70 heavily armed patrolmen with gas bombs speeding to the trouble center.

One report received by highway patrol said that the rioting was apparently organized, said two men had been killed. There was no confirmation of this report from any source.

State Safety Commissioner Sam Nelson and Patrol Captain W. T. Shelton started here from Nashville by automobile. Other details of patrolmen were rolling toward Morristown from Knoxville, 40 miles to the west, and Kingsport, 60 miles northward.

Morristown, a city of 8,000, is an industrial and agricultural center in a tobacco area 42 miles east of Knoxville.

The patrolmen have orders to disperse strikers milling about the gate of the Enka plant, seven miles from here. The pickets reportedly had barricaded the gates with automobiles.

The shooting broke out as these workers attempted to cut across a field to avoid the picket line to report for the early morning shift. Their cars were halted and bullets were fired as they fled the machines.

William McElmish was shot in the leg and head. He was brought to a hospital, where his condition was reported as critical.

Victor McDaniel and James McAnney suffered superficial flesh wounds.

McElmish told Joe Q. Dougherty, industrial relations officer for Enka, he returned the fire before bullets of the ambushers knocked him out.

Dougherty said no law enforcement officers were present when the shooting broke out.

The violence broke out near the plant entrance and employees picked up McElmish and carried him inside.

The shooting occurred after a night of rioting during which workers due off at midnight were kept on duty through a second shift to avoid possible trouble outside the plant gate.

5 Seminole County Boy Scouts Headed For U. S. Jamboree

Five boy scouts of Seminole County will leave Monday for two weeks of adventure and fun at the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., the historic site where George Washington and his small force of patriots braved a bitter winter during the Revolutionary War.

This morning the scouts and leaders picked their decorated tents for the Chamber of Commerce to be photographed. The units bear many trophies and point out Sanford as a fishing, baseball farm camp and fishing center. The painting was done by the Oles Sign Co.

Donald Futrell, scout leader of Post 84, sponsored by the Lions Club, is one of the group. He recently graduated from Seminole High School, and after school hours has served the group as a mailing clerk. Volney Davis, scout leader of Troop 544, also will attend the jamboree. John Pierson, former scout master, will serve as a leader on the team.

Three Negro Boy Scouts will be in the group leaving here. They are Eddie Bell, Jr., second class, and Major Williams, star scout from Troop 544, and Louis Stalkeworth, star scout and class of Troop A-1, Orange. Peter Cobb will serve as team leader, and may be accompanied by James Fenton, star scout of the Central Florida B.S.A.

Eric Nelson, Scoutmaster, will serve as leader of the 10 scouts from Central Florida, who are making the trip on a special train. They will leave for the jamboree on Monday.

30 Persons Hurt When Cinema Roof Falls On Balcony Crowd

REDWOOD CITY, Calif., June 22—(AP)—Thirty persons were hurt in a freak accident which dumped some tons of ornamental plaster on movie-goers in the balcony of the Sequoia Theater here last night.

Fifteen were injured enough to need hospitalization, but only one was in serious condition early today. The others required only first aid.

Mrs. Vangie Case, 84, of Redwood City, was still unconscious in Palo Alto Hospital several hours after the accident. She either jumped or fell from the ornamental plaster in front of the balcony. She was not in the area where the plaster fell. No one was certain in the confusion which followed the crash.

Dr. Robert Case, a staff member of the Palo Alto Hospital, said her injuries consist of a possible concussion, possible internal injuries and a broken finger. First report that her legs were broken in the 30-foot drop to the main floor were not borne out by hospital examination.

Six other persons were taken to the Palo Alto Hospital and eight to the San Mateo Community Hospital. None of the injuries, besides those of Mrs. Case, was considered serious.

The accident occurred about 15 minutes before midnight, when most of the patrons had already left.

The crash of the ornamental plaster and wire lath reinforcing came suddenly with a roar like thunder and seemingly dropped in a single sheet, said Police Officer William Goldsmith, who was attending the show at the time. Another policeman, Phil Bray, said the collapse was "like an earthquake." A brief panic among patrons immediately died down.

Redwood City Fire Chief Joseph Lodi said the ceiling seemed to have given away in the center and sent "peeled off" to the sides. He estimated that about 10 tons of

Defense Chiefs Meet With MacArthur In Tokyo

Solons Produce Top Document In Amerasia Probe

Paper Refers To Information Given Reds By Service

WASHINGTON, June 22—(AP)—Senate investigators today produced a document, seized in the 1949 Amerasia case, which referred to information received from career diplomat John S. Service on two "top secret" wartime messages from President Roosevelt to Chiang Kai-Shek.

The document was put in evidence by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) at a public hearing by committee investigating charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Service collaborated with Communists.

Services was in the witness chair when Hickenlooper produced the material.

Hickenlooper described the document as a copy of one of the documents seized by the FBI when its agents raided the New York offices of Amerasia, a magazine no longer published, and found hundreds of secret government papers.

A Justice Department notation on the material quoted the State Department as saying "this is a personal note and not an official government document."

It was not immediately brought out at the Senate hearings just what the document had prepared the note.

Before Hickenlooper produced it, Service had denied he ever aided the Communists while serving in diplomatic posts in China.

That was one of the accusations McCarthy made against him. Service declared that on the contrary he had done all he could to resist the domination of China by Communism.

The Senators had first planned to hear him behind closed doors, but Service asked for a public hearing.

A thin wiry man, Service leaned forward in the witness chair and told the Senators it just is not true that he was a "collaborator with Communists" as McCarthy charged.

Service and five others were arrested in the Amerasia episode and charged with conspiracy to obtain illegal possession of the government documents. A grand jury refused to indict Service and he was returned to duty in the State Department.

Only two of the others were prosecuted. Philip Jaffe, editor of the magazine, was fined $2,500 and Emmanuel Larsen, a State Department employe, was fined $800.

Some Republicans in Congress have charged there was a "cover up" on the case and "bungling" of the prosecution.

Service told the committee today:

"When I was arrested by the FBI on June 6, 1945, I told the arresting officer and the interrogating agent that I was innocent of the charges, that I was mystified by the arrest, and that I wished to do what I could to help solve the matter. That has been and still is my attitude.

Service testified in the big caucus room of the Senate Office building. Since the decision to hear him in public was made only at the last minute, there was only a handful of spectators in the chamber when he took the stand. By contrast, the committee's previous public hearings had drawn standing-room-only crowds.

McCarthy sat behind the committee table, facing directly toward Service. It is not a member of the investigating committee.

Two State Employees Prepare Pirate Map For Gold Hunters

Want to Spend Your Vacation Hunting Doubloons and Pieces of Eight

TALLAHASSEE, June 22—(AP)—Want to spend your vacation hunting doubloons and pieces of eight?

A lawyer who never went on a treasure hunt himself has made a case for you to go in search of pirate gold. He's Assistant Attorney General Ralph L. Odum who with district attorney Walter Landrum of the State Road Department has prepared a colorful Florida treasure map.

He's titled dozens of legends, rumors and tales of treasure hidden in Florida's sands and waters. Three years of research in the state libraries, the Library of Congress and the files of the Encyclopaedia Britannica have gone into the map.

Selecting the best documented of the stories, Odum wound up with the whereabouts of some $105,000,000 worth of treasure—shown approximately on his map.

The "true chart of pirate treasure" doesn't pretend to be an exact guide to the ancient buccaners' loot.

"If I could do that, I'd go and dig it up myself," Odum said. "What he's done is to mark the map of Florida with crosses indicating the areas in which persistent stories say treasure is to be found. Sanford has indicated the spot with sketches of swashbuckling pirates, hapless victims, a three-masted sailing ship flying the jolly flag, and a treasure chest overflowing with doubloons, the hull and cross bones.

Odum has visited almost all the sites shown on his map but says he has done up to date.

Head Of American State Landlords Farm Bureau Will Give Warning By Make Radio Speech R a i l Commission

ORLANDO, June 22—(Special)—Allan B. King, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will join with three other American farm leaders to report on European agricultural recovery and American aid on a special broadcast from Paris, France, on the National Farm and Home Hour, Saturday, June 24 (NR 1:00 P. M., Florida Time).

The other farm officials, who along with Mr. King, represent the bulk of organized farmers in the U. S., are Jess T. Spindler, legislative counsel of the National Grange; James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union; and John H. Davis, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

This report is expected to be the most significant agricultural enforcement report it will be on the start of American aid.

The service was suspended after Attorney General Richard E. Byrd investigators found what was described as a hoodlums' communications center in the building.

The commission told Odum the service may be resumed Aug. 24 when 90 days of suspension will be up, provided no law enforcement report it will be on the start of American aid.

Complaints Point To Huge Expenditure In Senate Battle

WASHINGTON, June 22—(AP)—Senate Finance Committee today will check numerous complaints of alleged huge expenditures in at least four Senatorial primary races.

The committee will investigate complaints in North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania and Illinois and other undesignated states.

Call to the chairman of the committee, Senator William F. Knowland, in a preliminary report, which he has filed with the Senate, is that the group is spending and ready to spend more money than any other group in the country.

The committee will investigate the money spent in connection with Senatorial campaigns in the states of North Carolina, Florida, Pennsylvania and Illinois.

Truman Declares Finances Not Congress Will Decide Size Of Air Force

WASHINGTON, June 22—(AP)—President Truman today declared the nation can't afford a 70-group Air Force at the time.

He made the news conference statement in commenting on a Congressional proposal to limit the Air Force to that strength. It now has about 48 groups.

Mr. Truman hammered on the theme that this country should buy the armed forces which are within a budget capacity. He said it doesn't make any difference how many Air Groups are authorized if the question is how many the budget will allow.

The President's discussion with the newsmen also ranged into the field of domestic politics, foreign affairs and other matters.

In the politics, the President said sharply that it is very wrong in other spheres. Senator Ladd, Republican, is running for re-election in the world. The President said that the question of the size of the Air Force is a question of the budget. He said that the question is how many the budget will allow.

Provincial Police Hunt Bank Robber

LANGTON, Ont., June 22—(AP)—Heavily armed provincial police, looking for a young man and his bloodhound, pushed through tangled swamps near here today in search of a bank bandit who already has shot two pursuers to death.

The bandit armed with a sub-machinegun, disappeared into the bush yesterday, abandoning his loot from the Langton Branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada.

Chief Fanning W. of Mount Clemens, Mich., arising on his bloodhound, led a posse of police and armed citizens, numbering possibly 100 men. Plans and radio were guiding the pursuers.

They searched for a killer about 28 years of age, of medium height and wearing a pith helmet and dark glasses. This man, police said, shot down Arthur Lierman, 31, and William Godlyn, 24, after they forced his escape car into a ditch yesterday.
