Withdrawal Of Walsh Makes Selection Of New York Candidate At Convention Sure

Senator Reed Is Only Rival Left

Smith Enemies Admit No Other Candidate Can Defeat Him Now

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Senator Thomas J. Walsh's withdrawal from the Democratic Presidential race accepted today by all shades of Democratic opinion in Washington as copper-riveting the nomination of Gov. Al Smith.

All but a few of the most bitter enemies against Smith, however, are not convinced that the withdrawal of Walsh, who is backed and sponsored from the outset by Wm. G. McAdoo and the so-called "McAdoo group," leaves but one major candidate in opposition to the New York Governor, Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, who has approximately 500,000 votes to date, as against well over 500,000 for Smith.

Senator Reed does not intend to run. He has based his entire campaign on the issue of "corruption in government" and he intends to stand with it.

"I entered this contest," said Reed, "because I believe some of the things which are being done in Washington ought to be done in the country. I believe that the people of this country are entitled to know the truth about the things which are being done in Washington and I believe that the people of this country are entitled to have a say in the matter."

Although he did not say so directly, Senator Reed left the impression that so far as he is concerned, the nomination of Smith is a foregone conclusion.

Reed and Smith will come to grips again in Oregon on May 18, and in West Virginia on May 22, without the diverting factor of the Walsh candidacy. Reed ran second to Smith in California.

While Walsh's withdrawal forecasts the nomination of Smith at Houston, it does not by any means follow that the Texas convention will be to any great extent a foregone conclusion. Wounds such as that which he experienced in the last few years do not heal so easily, nor are great differences so easily reconciled.

In the opinion of many Democrats here, both Smith and anti-Smith, the main fight will now be transferred from the candidates to the platform. Wm. G. McAdoo saw and presumably approved Walsh's statement of withdrawal before it was issued. So did several others who are militantly pro-Smith, and to whom Smith's prohibition views and his Tammany affiliation were a source of concern.

Seventeen Year Old Boy Confesses To Murdering Members Of Family

FLORIDA, Kan., May 5.—(INS)—Owen Oberst, Jr., 17, only surviving member of the Owen Oberst family of eight, found in the ruins of their home Apr. 30, last, confessed to authorities here today that he had killed his five brothers and sisters, his father and mother, and set the farm home near Burns, Kan., on fire to hide his crime.

The youth had been under suspicion since the finding of his bodies in the burned home. He had professed his innocence, however, until last night when he confessed. Authorities made public the youth's story today. According to the confession young Oberst said his father and mother had quarreled

Yacht Is Believed To Be Lost In Gale

NORFOLK, Va., May 5.—(INS)—The yacht Zeldia is believed to have gone down at sea, according to Capt. W. Flaherty master of the Yacht W. J. Connors III, owned by W. J. Connors, publisher of the Buffalo Courier-Express. The Connors yacht arrived here today from Palm Beach having consumed 10 weeks in making the trip. She, with 20 other yachts were obliged to put in at Southport, N. C., and other way ports to escape a series of storms that swept the coast last Monday and Tuesday. The Zeldia put out from Southport in rough weather and has not been heard from according to Captain Flaherty.

BREMEN FLYERS WILL TAKE FLING AT HORSE RACES

Atlantic Aviators Will Have Seats Of Honor At Famous Oval Where 3rd Event Will Be Named After Noted Aces

NEW YORK, May 5.—(INS)—The Bremen flyers will take a fling at two of the most famous horse races in the world after their arrival in New York.

Baron Ehrenfried Günther von Huenefeld, Major James C. Fitzmaurice and Captain Hermann Knehl have been invited to seats of honor at the Long Island oval and told they can play long shots or "sure things" which ever strikes their fancy.

Aspirant For Office Of Court Clerk Gets Out Of Race Today

R. A. Cobb, candidate for the nomination for clerk of the circuit court, today announced his withdrawal from the race for "business reasons."

The removal of Mr. Cobb from the primary race leaves Vance Douglas, the incumbent; D. I. Thrasher and R. K. Dens in the running. None of these candidates has shown any inclination to leave the race.

Mr. Cobb had nothing beyond "business" as a reason for withdrawal, his friends said after the announcement was made. It is understood his work as secretary and treasurer of the Sanford Office Truck Growers demands so much of his time that he was unable to devote sufficient time to his campaign.

DR. MACKENZIE QUITS IN FAVOR OF HATHAWAY

Reaches Decision Because He Believes Road Chairman Is Most Likely Candidate For Defeating Menace Of Catts

T. J. Appleyard Also Withdraws Name

Action Of Two Men Leaves 5 Aspirants In Primary Race For Democratic Nomination

LEESBURG, May 5.—(Special)—Dr. W. A. Mackenzie, Leesburg, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor yesterday afternoon announced his withdrawal from the race in favor of Dr. Fung A. Hathaway, chairman of the state road department.

Fear that Sidney J. Catts, avowed candidate of the race track interests, would be nominated caused his withdrawal, Dr. Mackenzie declared in the statement announcing his action. He stated he would support Hathaway because the road chairman, in his opinion, had the best chance to defeat Catts.

Dr. Mackenzie's action leaves five candidates in the primary race for the governor's chair: Hathaway, Catts, Doyle E. Carlton, James M. Carson and Senator Taylor. T. J. Appleyard, of Tallahassee, announced his withdrawal shortly before Mackenzie took his stand yesterday.

CONFESSIONS TO MURDER

FOLSOM STATE PRISON, Cal. May 5.—(INS)—J. C. Barrett in a confession made to Warden Court Smith today claimed to have been the slayer of William Desmond Taylor, noted movie director, whose murder in Los Angeles six years ago has remained a mystery.

Germany borrowed nearly 3,000,000,000 marks from the United States last year.

Rickenbacker Declares Flying Will Bring Peace And Prosperity To World

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Aviation in the next few years will be "the insurance of permanent peace and international prosperity, or the most terrible instrument of war and destruction ever conceived by man," in the opinion of Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, American war ace expressed here today.

The noted flyer predicted a world social and economic revolution within the next generation in the picture he drew of the progress of aviation and communication since he was "blugging" Germany overseas only a decade ago. "The plane of today," he said, "is several hundred percent more efficient and safe than the plane of the World War, only ten years ago, but it is a mere kite to what the plane of ten years hence will be. I am not insane enough to predict the progress of transportation and communication, by aviation and television, within that period."

"Television will accelerate the transfer of money and credit to an incredible extent. Within ten years almost every bank in this country will have a telephoto department, which will receive checks and credit by that medium from distant banks. Already styles in hats are being communicated from Paris to New York on the telephoto screen in exact colors three hours after they are designed."

CAUSE OF PLANE'S CRASH MAY EVER PUZZLE AVIATORS

Accident Which Resulted In Death To Inventor Of Quicker Flying Machine May Always Remain Mystery To World

CURTIS FIELD, N. Y., May 5.—(INS)—What caused the ill-fated airplane "Bonney Gull" to crash here yesterday, resulting in the death of its inventor, Leonard W. Bonney, probably never will be known.

Aeronautical engineers were not familiar with the operation of the unique plane, which was modeled after a sea gull, and they were in the dark today as to the specific cause of the crash.

Bonney was taught to fly by Leslie Wright in 1910 and was one of the pioneers of the air. A few minutes before the crash he appeared to have realized his dream of success. For the huge bird had flown gracefully for half a mile, and the veteran aviator had suddenly taken to the waters below. Then the plane, never regarded as a machine of sound design by aeronautical engineers because it was so different from other flying machines, turned on its creator like the Frankenstein monster and fell to earth like a plummet.

Bonney was thrown fifty feet and died a few minutes after being taken to a hospital. His skull had been fractured. Bonney, who was fifty-two, had been experimenting with the "Bonney Gull" for several months. Until yesterday, however, he had not succeeded in getting it more than ten or twelve feet from the ground.

COUZENS WINS FIGHT

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—Senator Couzens (R) of Michigan today won his fight to prevent paying an additional $10,000,000 tax assessment to the government.

RIISING FLOODS MENACE AREAS OF S. CAROLINA

Excitement Reigns In Fertile Saluda Valley As Huge Dam Threatens To Release Big Body Of Water On Citizens

GREENVILLE, S. C., May 5.—(INS)—The grim spectre of devastation hovered over the fertile Saluda Valley cotton mill and farming region today, as the gigantic power company dam at Table Rock Cove, 30 miles from here, began crumbling, and 6,000,000 gallons of water began flooding over the vast area.

Engineers at the power house adjacent to the dam believed that it would be only a short while before the crumbling dam would give way entirely. Early today a small crack was discovered in the structure, and by 10 o'clock this morning this had widened to a gap of more than thirty feet.

The water, which had been leaking from a drain pipe throughout the night, rushed in great volume to the Saluda River below, after the dam cracked, and the great Saluda River was rising at a fast rate.

From 6 P. M. yesterday until midnight the river was rising at the rate of a foot and a half each hour, but the rise of the stream dam began to give away this morning.

The break in the dam, which is located on the Greenville-Pickens County line, occurred on the Pickens County side. The 30-foot crack extended from the top to the bottom of the dam, a length of 112 feet. The dam is 700 feet long, 115 feet high, 750 feet thick at the base and tapers off to 100 feet at the top. While the huge reservoir was not completely full, it was estimated there were between 6,000,000,000 and 7,000,000,000 gallons of water piled up behind the dam.

It was estimated shortly after 11 A. M. that the water was rushing at the rate of 600 gallons per minute. The rugged walls of the break were gradually widening, and the volume emptying into the already swollen Saluda River was increasing steadily, and kept out of the banks.

Mill villages, less than 24 hours ago humming with activity, and prosperous farm communities throughout the 50-mile valley were deserted by the time 20,000 residents of the low sections, who fled to the hills and the mountains for their lives.

Behind them, they left their homes and belongings to be swept away by the surging torrents. Many of the completed their Spring planting, and the crops seemed doomed. Only a few belongings, which could be taken away easily, were moved away by the thousands of refugees.

Most of the valley people left their homes last night when the first alarm was spread throughout the countryside and villages, and fled in consternation. This morning, when the dam began to give way, the telephone lines to points through the valley, and those who had not fled during the night, made ready to flee.

It was feared that other dams further down the turbulent stream would crash when the full force of the reservoir is let loose in the Saluda River. There are two mill dams, a Piedmont, another at Piedmont, and others further down—six of them, all told. Beyond Ware Shoals, the flood was not expected to wreak much havoc, except to form lands, as there are no towns along the river until it joins the Broad to form the Congaree at Columbia.

Grave Crisis Looms As Japan Opposes Nationalist Armies

State Department Reasserts Neutrality But Is Ready To Protect American Lives

Japs Engage In Bitter Fighting

U. S. Unwilling To Join Concerted Efforts Against The Chinese

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—An international crisis of grave potentialities is presented today in Shantung province by the interference of Japanese troops in the northward sweep of the Nationalist forces toward Peking. The State Department has reasserted its policy of neutrality, but is ready to protect American lives and property.

Japan's decision to information received today at the British and French embassies, is determined to protect her 8,000 Nationalists in Shantung at any cost up to military occupation of the entire province. This step would at once frustrate the second time in as many years, the climactic effort of the Southern armies to capture Peking and consolidate the Nationalist revolution within the ancient capital.

Anti-Japanese feeling throughout China is described as riotous and there is grave fear that the situation may get out of hand on all sides. Minister Mac Murray, at Peking, advised the State Department that violent anti-Japanese pamphlets distributed in Chefoo and Tsintau, presumably by the Chinese Nationalists, have created a situation menacing to all foreigners. American gunboats are standing by at Chefoo.

Despite reports of attacks upon foreigners by Chinese detachments, the power have been unable to secure any policy for coping with the degradation. The United States is unwilling to join any concerted movement against the Southern armies without adequate justification under the accepted usages of international law. Japan and England, whose interests are more closely associated with the fortunes of the Peking Government, are already satisfied that due cause for their military interference is at hand. Mac Murray's reports indicate little anti-American feeling among the military hands which have broken away from the Southern commands.

The small group of Americans remaining in Tsinan, China, are not in any immediate danger as the result of the Japanese offensive in the opinion of the State Department.

On Jan. 1 the department had its consular representatives in Tsinan to make a careful check of the Americans in that city. The number at that time was approximately 70. Since then, however, the majority of those had moved down to the coast city of Tsingtau, which is under Japanese control and where there is stationed a fleet of American submarines and destroyers. It is not believed there are more than 20 or 25 Americans remaining in Tsinan, if that many.

The only means of communication out of Tsinan at present is the official Japanese wireless service, the Chinese Nationalists having cut the railway and telegraph service lines to Tsingtau, and if any Americans had been killed or injured, it was believed at the State Department that information to that effect would have been received.

Senate Presidential Campaign Fund Committee Prepares To Push Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—With fifteen Presidential candidates waiting to take the witness stand, the Senate's Presidential Campaign Fund Committee prepared today to push its inquiry into primary campaign expenditures to a conclusion before the Republican gathering at Kansas City June 12.

The committee will open its hearings Monday and meet daily until all the Presidential candidates, their managers and representatives are heard. The Senatorial candidates will be heard first, it was announced.

The committee will decide today whether to go to Albany, N. Y., to hear Governor Al Smith, and

SANFORD DEFEATS MIAMI HUSTLERS, 11 TO 2

FEDS ROMP ON 3 HURLERS FOR 17 SAFE BLOWS

Hymel Holds Hustler Batters To 4 Hits; Blanks Them After Bad Opening Inning

Frisbie Makes 4 Hits; Leads Team

Second Game Will Be Played This Afternoon In Miami Park

MIAMI, May 4.—(Special)—Driving out 17 hits off three Miami pitchers, Sanford's Celery Fed's won the first game of the series with the Hustlers here yesterday, 11 to 2.

Hymel was in great form. He held the Hustlers through the nine innings to four hits and struck out eight men. His only weakness was occasional loss of control. He gave four passes and hit Alben, Miami catcher, twice.

Frisbie was the Celery Fed's star at the plate. He got one three-bagger and three singles in his only appearance in his last with three singles.

Sanford's shagging crowd, Davis from the mound in the third and he was followed by Meyer and Crowe, but neither could seem to control the Celery Fed's onslaught. In the first inning Sanford got a lead Hymel in a tight place but after that he had no trouble keeping the Hustlers in check.

Today the Fed's will play the second game of the series in Miami.

Dempsey Signs Theatrical Contract With Provision Allowing Him To Box Again

NEW YORK, May 4.—(INS)—Jack Dempsey, the man who won't fight any more, has signed or will sign a theatrical contract with David Belasco, which specifically provides that Dempsey may be allowed to step off the stage and into the ring at any time he sees fit.

Estelle Taylor, wife of the man who won't fight any more, made this statement last night before the couple left for the Wilmington, Del., home of Miss Taylor's parents. Previously, Dempsey, the fighter in permanent retirement, and Tex Rickard, the man who retired him from circulation, had spent all of Wednesday evening in each other's company and found some little to talk about that they lunched together yesterday noon, in another effort to discover whether they didn't really have interests in common, after all.

They probably talked about the pitiable state of affairs in Grand Rapids and this naturally was the reason they got together in strict privacy.

The clause in the Belasco contract, giving Dempsey the right to step off the show in the event a race opportunity was in sight, was pointed out that stage and that Dempsey's serious intention to return to the ring in the future is a possibility, for instance, Miss Taylor made a rather significant remark.

"He'll be in shape to fight," she said.

years; misapplication of bank funds, 3 years; making a false entry, 3 years; making an over-loan to himself, 4 years, and another misapplication of funds, 1 year.

Lake's bond will have to be the equivalent of $35,000. He is already under $36,000 appearance bonds and part of these will be used as appeal surety. In addition there will be a $3,000 bond for each of the cases in which he has been sentenced, a total of $15,000. Among the bondsmen is M. B. Hutton, his son-in-law and a witness for the banker in several of the cases. The bonds are backed by real estate.

Pleads Insolvency
Anti-climax followed the passing of the sentences. Lake's attorneys were making desperate efforts to have the bonds fixed so the banker will not have to go to jail.

Then Lake was put on the stand to testify to his insolvency and inability to pay the costs of appeal to the supreme court. At four o'clock it appeared that this would require the remainder of the afternoon.

Judge Gray was comparatively lenient in his sentence in one sense. The maximum penalty he could have exacted was 45 years and a $5,000 fine. On the other hand, the 63-year-old banker will come from prison an aged man if he serves his term. He will be 76 years old when he is released.

Buffalo trails

For miles they stretched across the prairie and up into the foothills, smooth, clearly marked, beaten hard as rock through the centuries by the hoofs of buffalo on their way to the salt licks. When the railways came, and the engineers were confronted with the great bastion of the Rocky Mountains, these buffalo trails assumed a new significance. It was found that they always followed the easiest gradients, that they penetrated the mountain fastness by the most direct and practical route.

Buffalo trails became one of the greatest assets of the early railway builders. Time, money, energy were conserved; a vast amount of fruitless pioneering and surveying was eliminated, by trusting to the infallible instinct which had led the herds along these obscure and little known ways.

Advertising, like those old buffalo trails, provides a clear and unmistakable path among the perplexities of modern buying. It points the way to the goal of safety and sound value; it avoids the pitfalls of unreliable goods. By following the advertisements in this paper you are following the high road to true economy.

Marines State Conditions Were Very Bad In Chinese Occupation Until Righted

BOSTON, May 5.—Conditions in China for the Marines were pretty bad for awhile but the government authorities soon had them righted and the devil dogs lived in better conditions from then on.

The Marines went over in the Henderson, a ship that was built to carry about 1,000 people. There were 2,300 on it on that trip in addition to ammunition rolls, tanks, trucks, motorcycles, machine guns and baggage. We lived on the Henderson for 23 days.

Spaces was so limited that we had to line up for everything and sleep wherever we could find room.

For awhile after we landed conditions were tough, then things began to pick up. We had buildings then and camps that were models of cleanliness—Camp Woodrow Wilson and Camp Smedley Butler, the latter named after the Marine General who was in charge.

The water was poisonous. The doctors were afraid of the typhoid and cholera in the water and advised all the Marines to drink beer. We did too. Before water could be used, it had to be cured with chlorine. That gave it a terrible taste that it took with it to vegetables and other cooked food-stuffs.

Ate Canned Food

We ate canned vegetables for the most part. It was safer.

During the first few months, each marine had a boy, a coolie for a servant. That was while we were in the camps and before we were able to secure the buildings to live in.

The coolie made the bedshined shoes, washed clothes and shined our equipment for a dollar a month and kept. The marines gave them heart failure with a five or ten cent piece for running an errand. The coolies came in handy in the middle of the month with pay day two weeks away. They could get us credit for beer, cigarettes, etc., by signing chins with the native merchants.

The Chinese are honest. They despise anyone who won't pay his bills and place him in a wicker cage in the street for passers by to revile.

The marines did not do a great deal of fighting over there. They were sent over to protect American lives and property just as the border and East Yorkshire regiments of England, the Sengulose of France and the Italian Marines were over there to protect the lives and property of their countrymen.

There was a United States Marine Club near the camp. It was run by a New Yorker by the name of Landeau. He came over just after the marines did and opened up shop.

The prices that he charged for food and liquors, are the best advertisement that I know of for joining the marines. A marine would order steak, six fried eggs, a double order of French fried potatoes and a bottle of German beer dish, but they make up the favorite of all foreigners in China.

Ten Cent Tips

The restaurants had boys for waiters. No. 1 boy was the one who knew the most English. He got all the business. The marines would wave away any of the No. 7 or No. 8 boys in the restaurants. No. 1 boy made all the tips and a dime tip there was pretty nearly three day's pay for a boy.

Champagne cost about $8.00 a bottle in the city, but the French would sell it to us at the French arsenal outside the town for a dollar a bottle.

Prohibitionists over here ought to be interested in the fact that when the marines landed, there was a two year supply of beer in Tientsen. It lasted three months. The Marine corps always lived up to the highest ideals of the service while over there. There was the usual good natured joshing and good times; but never anything else.

COMMIT SUICIDE

LONDON, Apr. 28.—(INS)—A double tragedy in the presence of a gay crowd which had just witnessed a performance at the opera house was reported from Moscow today. At the conclusion of a ballet dance two ballet girls committed suicide by flinging themselves beneath a descending iron curtain, said an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Moscow.

Tiny patients of the Sunshine Home for Blind Babies in London have organized their own jazz band.

DOG IS LONESOME

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—"Duff," a huge mastiff which was for many years the pet of the Hon. Elsie Mackay, is feeling keenly the loss of his mistress, who was lost in an attempt to fly the Atlantic Ocean with Captain W. G. R. Hinneliff.

Ever since she started on the flight, the dogs has gone whining about the house in search of her. Miss Mackay had five dogs, but "Duff" was the favorite.

Members of her family declare that all attempts to reconcile the dog to his mistress' loss are unavailing.

Turning out the finest money's worth you ever found in a motor car in all your born days

TODAY'S Chandler is manifestly the result of a determined aim to build the very finest motor cars it is humanly possible to produce within a price range of $995 to $2195 . . .

Chandler motor cars have long possessed a good reputation and world-wide good will . . . But never . . . never before in Chandler history has a new model shown such advancement over previous models as these new Sixes and Royal Eights of today . . .

We have not only made these cars extremely beautiful, but magnificent . . . not only smart, but fashionable . . . not only distinctive, but distinguished.

Under the hood, more power . . . an increase in the capacity and range of the high-compression Pikes Peak engine principle . . . just to make sure that Chandler performance shall continue to remain unchallenged!

And you have no doubt heard about Chandler being the first car in America to adopt Westinghouse Vacuum Brakes . . . But we ask you . . . have you tried these new brakes?

They make Chandler by all odds the easiest and safest car to control you ever knew . . . With the mere weight of your tiptoe you can stop today's Chandler much quicker and more smoothly than any car equipped with hydraulic or mechanical brakes . . .

And who hasn't heard of Chandler's famous "One Shot" centralized lubricating system? It's a wonderful convenience . . . Without stirring from the driver's seat you can lubricate the entire chassis simply by pressing a plunger.

Great qualities . . . Great features . . . Great automobiles . . . The very finest cars it is humanly possible to build within a price range of $995 to $2195 . . .

Fashionable throngs . . . sparkling motor cars . . . and standing out like a flock from Paris—today's Buick!

Fleet, low lines, suggesting rocket-like getaway and unrivaled power . . . glistening colors, vivid and varied as the harmonies of Spring . . . and soft, rich upholstery, delightful to the sight and touch.

Luxury like this ordinarily costs a thousand dollars more.

But Buick leads any other three cars in its field in dollar for dollar sales; and this tremendous volume makes possible unequalled value.

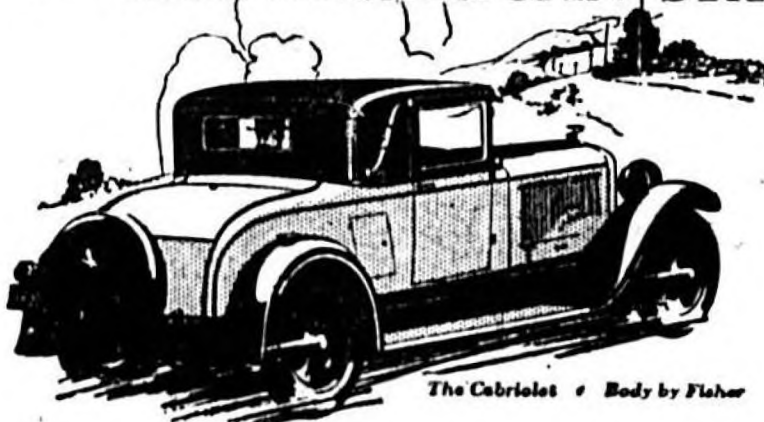

You may as well have a fine car, when you can buy it at Buick's price. Smart—youthful—colorful—Buick leads the fashion parade.

Two Men Capture Baby Bob-Cat Being Carried By Mother

A baby bob-cat, dropped by its mother as she was frightened while crossing the Sanford-Orlando Road last night was picked up and brought to Sanford by two Florida Power & Light Company employes, driving the car which secured the big cat.
The mother cat nearly caught the two men after they had picked the kitten up, according to the story they told S. A. Rive, whom they gave their haul. They said the kitten of their cat, the mother in the middle of the road and that the baby cat was in her mouth. She dropped it and fled into the underbrush.
They jumped out of the car and caught the kitten which was only a few days old and unable to run. As they carried it to the car, the mother came out of the brush and gave chase but they got the car started and escaped her. The baby cat today was being fed from a bottle and Mr. Rive will attempt to tame it.

Yes, politics does make strange bed-fellows, and sometimes a good many blankets are necessary to cover up.

That Grand Rapids newspaperman who was recently appointed a senator, A. H. Vandenberg, says that he remains a newspaperman by choice, that he is a senator by sufferance.

Al Smith supporters are jubilant but Al Smith has not made the required two-thirds majority yet; and McAdoo in the 1921 convention at one time had more delegates than Smith now has, but wasn't nominated.

Emory S. Martin, candidate for comptroller, came in to see us Friday. We gathered from what he had to say that he is a supporter of Sidney J. Catts. We earnestly urge all the Catts followers to vote for Mr. Martin.

Mrs. William Lyon Phelps, a Colonial Dame, and wife of the head of the English department of Yale University, recently resigned from the D. A. R. because she believes it is time, she says, "to resign to protest our patriotism."

"The State is forever disgraced and the confidence of the State is totally destroyed if the voters put Sidney J. Catts in the governor's chair," said Dr. Broughton, of Jacksonville, a minister of the same faith as the gambling candidate himself.

Joe Sears stopped at the Con-way Store a few days ago to inquire the way to the Cheney highway. Had he been here last week Ruth Bryan Owen would have furnished him with a complete map of the roads in Orange county.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

The thing for the gubernatorial candidates to do is to get together and formulate some plan for the decisive defeat of Catts. We believe the only way this can be done is for some of them to withdraw and if they sincerely have the welfare of Florida at heart some of them will.

Ernest Amos, state controller, was a visitor in Ocala yesterday. Mr. Amos is closely confined to his office in Tallahassee by official duties but occasionally finds time to get away over the weekend to visit with his friends in various parts of the state in furtherance of his candidacy for reelection and says he is receiving assurances on every hand that the people of Florida will give him a substantial majority in the June primary. Marion county will undoubtedly express its confidence in Mr. Amos' administration at the June primary, the general public having accepted the recommendation of its bankers, all of whom have endorsed his candidacy for another term.—Ocala Star.

What Others Think Of Mrs. Owen

If it means anything to have women in our national councils, the Democracy of this country could not find Ruth Bryan Owen's superior.

This is the statement of C. W. Barron, editor of the Wall Street Journal and financial authority who is widely quoted throughout the country. It was made in a letter to Mrs. Clark D. Stearns of Coconut Grove and made public by the friends of Mrs. Owen in Miami.

"If I were a Democrat I should certainly be proud to vote for the daughter of William Jennings Bryan," Mr. Barron says in his letter, "not only because she must have inherited and been trained in many good principles of Democracy, but because she is herself a noble woman of great moral worth and unusual capacity for service in public life."

"If it means anything to have women in our national councils the Democracy of this country could not find Mrs. Owen's superior."

"She is ambitious to serve her party and her country, and I think she should have, and will get, that opportunity in Washington."

This statement coming from such a man is illustrative of the respect in which Mrs. Owen is held and of the influence which will be hers outside of her own district. Mr. Barron is a Republican and was in disagreement with most of Mrs. Owen's father's political principles, yet he can recognize the value of sending such a woman as Ruth Bryan Owen to Congress and feels that Mrs. Owen while being a "chip off the old block," has qualities of her own which are entirely different from those principles propounded by her famous father.

And in this view Mr. Barron is entirely correct. Mrs. Owen, for instance, is an ardent supporter of a protective tariff which will give our Florida farmers protection against unfair competition of foreign fruit, vegetables and other farm produce. She has pledged herself to vote for such a tariff if she is nominated and elected as representative in Congress from the Fourth Florida District.

Mr. Barron is but one of a number of national characters who have endorsed Mrs. Owen as a woman in whom is found exceptional qualities of statesmanship. All have tended to give us folks right here in her district an opportunity to see Mrs. Owen as she is seen by the people of the nation and to get an idea of the tremendous influence she can bring to bear in obtaining the things for Florida that should have been hers years ago. Will Rogers, Fannie Hurst and the larger newspapers and magazines of the country are among those that have endorsed her as a statesman.

All of these things should impress the minds of voters of the Fourth Florida District that they have an opportunity of obtaining the highest sort of congressional service by sending Ruth Bryan Owen to Congress. They should not pass it by.

Mackenzie Withdraws

Hathaway stock rose to unprecedented heights yesterday when Dr. Mackenzie withdrew from the gubernatorial race and announced that he would use every legitimate means he possessed to aid in the election of the Road Department chairman as governor of this state. The strength of no candidate in any race with which we are familiar has suffered so many fluctuations as has that of Dr. Hathaway.

At the time of his announcement on account of his record as a road builder and his state wide popularity, was almost a hundred to one shot. Shortly afterward, however, when Doyle Carlton came out with his famous charges, the market began to waver. And when the notable Doctor took the stump and began his speech-making campaign, it dropped out of sight.

With almost superhuman efforts Hathaway has been retrenching, bolstering himself, and staging a remarkable come-back. At first assuming a somewhat "holier than thou"—or at least, as holy as thou—attitude, he refused to take any notice of these damaging statements, and contented himself with such refutation as "Could I do any wrong?"

Either the injection of some political adviser in his campaign, or an awakening on his part, has recently impelled him to take notice of charges against his record in office. Not only has he procured the services of men who can talk to take the stump in his behalf, but also he has prepared a very complete circular which answers practically all of the Carlton charges. We now, as least, have Hathaway's word against Carlton's.

But nothing which has happened so far in this campaign has had so powerful an effect in Hathaway's destiny as Dr. Mackenzie's statement yesterday. Among a great many other things, he said:

"A grave crisis has arisen in the political affairs of this, our beloved state. No nation, or political subdivision thereof can truly prosper which turns away in brazen wickedness from God, the giver of all prosperity. A certain gubernatorial candidate, in his platform, proposes to open wide the gates of destiny in Florida to the sinister powers that prey: to put its future into the selfish clutching talons of the children of the dark. That righteousness may not perish from this flowerland, that evil forces may not suck the veins of healthy growth and decency, I gladly embrace the opportunity to patriotically rise above petty personal and political ambitions to do my utmost in a great and clean movement for the common good."

Dr. Mackenzie is well known in this section of the state, where hitherto Hathaway's strength has been the weakest and Carlton followers prevail in greatest numbers. Had Dr. Mackenzie remained in the race he undoubtedly would have received a substantial vote in this county. As it is, in view of the Leesburg mayor's sullied reputation for honesty and his support of Dr. Hathaway, many citizens will be inclined to discount much which has been said against the Road Department.

AMERICANISM WASHINGTON POST

President Coolidge performed a public service when he reminded the country, through his address to the Daughters of the American Revolution, that the United States must stand upon the foundations laid by its founders if it is to endure. He named local self-government as the inspiring principle of the Revolution, and he exhorted his hearers to oppose the modern tendency to drift away from that principle. The growth of bureaucracy, the attempt of selfish interests and sections to obtain special favors from the Government, the demand that the Government shall go into business, the readiness of the States to sell their independence for a Government appropriation, are all developments which the fundamental rule that made and preserved liberty in the United States...

and they look together. The corrupters of youth do not hesitate to take to the highways and the highways of religion lose their attachment to home and country when they lose their God.

The Daughters of the American Revolution are in a fortunate position to combat the triple-headed evil that manifests itself in immorality, atheism, and pacifism. The society is organized, and can express the common will of American women from Maine to California. Let it stand where the forefathers stood, and fight to hold what they fought to win. In the field atmosphere of slackerism, pacifism, atheism, and imported immorality it is refreshing to see American womanhood banded in the good old-fashioned cause of Americanism.

The motorist who careful is, may live long in the driving biz.—Albany Herald.

The reason why they call them filling stations is because all towns are being filled with them.—Brunswick Pilot.

THE BANDWAGON

Backets of two gubernatorial candidates have advised us to get onto the bandwagon. But we can't ride two bandwagons at the same time. Some candidates seem to be able to ride two vehicles, even if going in the opposite direction; but they are more nimble creatures than the average man.

Besides as a boy, we got more fun running along beside the circus bandwagon laughing at the clowns seated up there than we could possibly have gotten mixing up with them. We feel that way about the political bandwagon.

There's more fun watching the antics from the ground. Why should any free self-respecting American citizen be influenced in his voting by the probability of a winning bandwagon? No good citizen will be influenced by the clamor of the crowd or the gesticulations of the man on top of the bandwagon. It is a matter of principle with the good citizen and he would rather cast his vote for a man he would have confidence in than to cast it for a "sure winner" when he knows he should not win. The bandwagon holds no inducements for us. We are not seeking any appointments in the hands of any one making any favors of him not accorded other citizens, no matter whom he may be. We have the next governor of Florida, not to ambition to be "next to the governor" except as any other citizen may be. We are interested in politics, and our only desire as newspaper publishers is to aid the people of the state of Florida in the selection of their officials by giving out safe conclusions based on fact rather than political fiction made up to sell the purification of the road. Believing as we do that it is highly important to the taxpayers of this state that they study candidates carefully and make up their minds on reliable information rather than on self-serving statements of candidates and their backers who have axes to grind, we shall stay off the bandwagon of any candidate and continue to be independently. We'd rather fight than ride with the major. And the people had better be certain of their candidate now to be sorry later. The situation in Florida is one calling for sober and unbiased judgment. A mistake in the government will be made reaching than will appear on our thought. The future of the state depends very largely on what is done in the June primary. A bandwagon joy ride now might be disastrously. Better stay off the wagons, dear voter.

Tick Tock

Carlton and Hathaway are busy as ever trying to convince the people that neither of them fit to be a governor of Florida. We would not go as far as that but it is of course an absolute necessity for any record of accomplishment in public affairs or raising his election to that high office.—St. Petersburg Times.

Turn in your used tires now at good prices!

Advertisement for Goodrich Silvertowns tires. Includes text: 'Get credit for all the unused mileage in your tires. Get rid of the risk of blow-outs, skids and punctures which come from driving worn tires. Just as you "turn in" an old automobile for a new one—you can now "turn in" your used tires for new Goodrich Silvertowns. NO TIRE CAN OFFER YOU MORE! No tire can offer you more than you get in fresh new Goodrich Silvertowns. No tread has a stronger, firmer grip on wet pavements or on muddy country roads. No tread gives you greater freedom from uneven, choppy wear, than you get in the famous hinge-center tread of Goodrich Silvertowns. No tire has tougher rubber than Silvertowns—because they are cured from inside and outside both by the Goodrich Water Cure. And no tire has more uniform strength than the carcass of Goodrich Silvertowns—made from cords, which are accurately matched for stretch, and rubberized to protect them from internal friction. A BUSINESS PROPOSITION FOR US—FOR YOU. There is always a market for used tires—re-conditioned or re-treaded. If we get them before they blow out, we can get the money out of your old tires but if you let them blow out—they're only worth "junk" prices. Turn in your old tires now, for good prices, at any Goodrich dealer's where you see this sign.'

TO BE REUNITED

LONDON, May 5 (INS)—Engaged eight years ago—then a break through force of circumstances ending in one of the parties sailing for America—and now Madeleine Seymour, well-known actress and Philip Strange, actor, are to be reunited.

Eight years ago the couple were playing in "Who's Hooper?" at the Adelphi Theatre, London. There was a secret engagement then, but it was broken off, and Strange, who had previously been an officer in the Grenadier Guards, sailed for America, where he rose from an unknown actor to a prominent film star, becoming Pola Negri's leading man.

Last month he returned to England. He met Miss Seymour again and they fell in love all over again. They will be married in London before Strange returns to America to fulfill his movie engagements.

Table tennis in England has become so strenuous that those over 40 are regarded as being too old for first-rank players.

Every loyal citizen should attend Mass Meeting Tuesday night.

As an illustration of what can be done with this form of treatment, a dear old lady, age 70, widow of a New England banker...

SANFORD WINS SIXTH FRISBIE TITLE FROM AMIAMI

HUSTLER CREW HELD TO 6 HITS BY HATHAWAY

Frisbie Leads Sixth Inning Rally Which Nets Four Runs And Wins Game For Feds

Quick Play Nips 9th Frame Rally

Celery Feds Pummel Hustler Hurler For Thirteenth Safe Hit

MIAMI, May 5.—(Special)—A bunch of singles coupled with a perfect sacrifice in the sixth inning brought in four runs and won for Sanford's Celery Feds yesterday over the Miami Hustlers, 5 to 3.

Hathaway, pitching for Sanford, held the Hustlers in check until the last inning when two Miami runs oozed across the plate. A fast double play by Sanford ended the game.

Sanford scored first in the second inning when Culbreath singled, stole second and went home on Warren's single. Miami scored once in the fourth, squaring the count.

The sixth inning rally by the Feds was partly heavy hitting and partly poor playing on Miami's side. Frisbie led the Feds off with a single, Parker sacrificed, then single by Culbreath, Warren, Toppino and Hathaway boosted four runs across the plate.

Sanford held the edge at bat over the Hustlers. The Feds gleaned a total of 13 hits off Ferguson, while the Hustlers were struggling to pluck six off Hathaway's curves. Today, the third game of the series is scheduled.

The Feds are now two games behind the Sheriffs of West Palm Beach. If the Beach Boys lose and the Feds win today they will go into a tie for first place.

Odds In British Open Golf Tournament Do Not Favor Americans Winning Event

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service
Sports Editor

NEW YORK, May 5.—Event usually, with Walter Hagan stopping that Compton wallop full on the complexion, the British have decided that the eagle's scream this time is only a jolly blast of dissent. Anyhow, the British Open Golf Championship will begin at Sandwich on Monday and, for the first time since 1923, an American golfer is not the ranking favorite in the betting.

The American invaders—Hagan, Gene Sarazen, Tommy Armour, Jimmy Barnes, Larry Nabholz and Bill Mehlhorn—are representative of preceding visitations that brought back the title in 1921, 1922, 1924, 1925, 1926 and 1927. Yet the British have undergone a freudian alteration of viewpoint since Hagan, the American bellwether, thrust that arrogant chin of his out to take, receive, accept and otherwise become heir to that 18 and 17 defeat at Moor Park last week. No longer do the British look forward to one of those "glorious defeats" or "moral victories." They have tasted American blood for the first time during this post-war era and have found it rather palatable.

In consequence, we have been regaled with stories to the effect that Compton and Abe Mitchell have been held reigning choice for the open at odds of 7 to 5. Now you tell me and I insist that it be me of your best. No golfer—not even the great Jones himself—is worth more than four or five to one in any given championship and, if you think those British bookmakers are the kind of blighters who like to dabble in statistical innovations, then I suggest that you go right up to one of them and ask him to give you the right time for nothing.

The British figure these things no closer than a hamlet. They do so, first, because they are British and, second, because they have to handle a tremendous play on any sport event and naturally they can't afford to find some stranger's hand completely surrounded by their pockets. They wouldn't give 7 to 5 that the King can speak

Major League Teams Will Settle Down To Hard Play For Intersectional Games

NEW YORK, May 3.—(INS)—After giving its customary slapstick prelude of early April Major League baseball may be depended upon to settle down to legitimate roles in the next fortnight, beginning tomorrow with the first of East-West intersectional meetings.

Always a show down of authority, the intersectional factor will serve its usual purpose this time in temporarily answering a few pertinent questions, or one thing, it may determine definitely and to all practical purposes whether clubs like the Cleveland Indians, St. Louis Browns and Brooklyn Dodgers belong where they happen to find themselves today or merely are occupying first division positions by gratuity of "squatters' rights."

For another, it may show just how far John McGraw can hope to go with his Giants this season. The club is moving West today in first place, regardless of injuries to O'Doul and Walker and the failure of Vic Aldridge to report. But it gets where it is by pushing the Braves, Dodgers and Phillies around, and if that kind has anything, then Coogan's bluff is something that ought to be called. All the speed of the National League, barring the Giants, is in the West. Therefore, their next sixteen ball games figure to prove just who has it—in addition to the customary four out of five.

The Giants open their Western invasion in Cincinnati tomorrow.

Then they double back to Pittsburgh jump over to Chicago and finish in St. Louis. Every series will be crucial as the dependability of a suspended button. The Reds, getting real pitching again, are playing the kind of baseball they showed in 1926 when they chased the Cardinals in. The Pirates apparently have come back from an indifferent break from the barrier and seem headed for the first division. The Cubs aren't hitting 6-7-8, hat size, but the chances are they will be ready by the time the Giants reach Chicago. The Cards are running pretty true to form already.

The Giants of course, will be taking on a recognized contender in each series. The three other Western clubs, meantime, will be fattening on the Phils, a natural victim; the Braves, who are shot up like a bull's eye with injuries and illness, and the Dodgers, who are beginning to discover that baseball requires a minimum of nine (9) ball players. Unless that pitching to which the Giants have just taken so kindly can rally around itself, the Dodgers figure to tumble out of second place before they have proceeded very far through the West.

With little help available from the other Eastern clubs, the Giants will do very well to return home, running one-two, but the West will find the McGraw entry hard to catch for a month or so, if it is still in first place when it reaches the Polo Grounds again.

Trade Figures Show That Orient Consumes Over 15 Percent Of U. S. Exports

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(INS)—The Orient consumed over 15 percent of America's total exports of $4,000,000,000 in 1927, according to an analysis of these important markets prepared by Janet H. Nunn, of the Far East Section of the Commerce Department.

While there was a decline of three percent in the trade with the Orient last year, bringing the total to $744,992,000, it may be charged to temporary conditions and not to the development of any fundamental adverse trade currents, in the opinion of Miss Nunn. Exports to the far east have more than tripled the last five years. The purchasing of American goods in that year represented a large gain over the 1910-1911 average—550 percent—and was 12 percent in advance of the 1925 total.

Shows Increase
"While this increase is undoubtedly accounted for in considerable measure by readjustments following European industrial changes, as well as by higher postwar prices, its maintenance is firmly based upon the development of the natural resources and the economic progress of the oriental countries," Miss Nunn said.

"Higher standards of living, combined with greater degree of prosperity, are stimulating a steady demand in the Far East for both raw and manufactured materials which the United States has been rapidly growing in purchasing power by countries in a group which were regarded as least important commercially in earlier years. The combined average of United States exports to five countries, Japan, China, India, the Philippine Islands and Australia, represented 90 percent of the Oriental trade from 1910 to 1911.

Since, then, however, Miss Nunn pointed out, the smaller countries, also were important in the expansion of more per cent in sales to Australia New Zealand since the period is attributable to increased demand for gasoline, machinery and steel.

Notwithstanding the continued trade disruption the consumption of American goods in that country in 1927 averaged 240 percent in excess of the average. Most increases occurred in the raw cotton, machinery, and steel.

Last year raw cotton, automobiles, iron and steel, tobacco and American Oriental trade

Netherland East Indies, New Zealand, Malaya, Ceylon, Siam and Indo China, have forged ahead until 1927 the five larger countries took 87 percent of the exports. From 1910 to 1914, the five countries supplied eighty per cent of the Oriental imports purchased by United States and in 1927 but 67 percent.

In 1927 the Netherlands East Indies brought approximately ten times more American merchandise than the average for pre-war.

Fully one-fifth of the total went for automobiles, not only to serve the tourist traffic but also to provide increased transportation facilities to promote the development of the country's resources.

Sahara Sea Plan Grows

Flooding the Sahara Desert so that it may become a sea with ships visiting ports that now are towns on the edge of the desert, is one of the dreams of John Ball, of the Geological Survey of Egypt. The plan, which has been under consideration for some time, is growing more definite and now includes a canal extending 200 miles to the Mediterranean Sea and big enough for ocean liners. Evaporation from the inland sea, according to Doctor Ball, would increase rainfall on what are now arid lands.

Argentina's presidential campaign this year had no effect on commerce.

Battledores for Flappers

Long respected as a custom dating back fully 500 years, the game of battledore and shuttlecock has taken on a new life in Japan. During the past season children played with battledores decorated with pictures of movie and other stars, and Japanese flappers wearing latest Eastern styles. The game which once was declared to be a New Year custom because it was fatal to poisonous insects, has become a pastime for the rich, some of the battledores being made of expensive materials and priced as high as $125 each.
