Daytona Banker To Serve 18 Months

DELAND, Fla., Feb. 29.—(INS)—Howard G. Skiles, former Daytona Beach banker, was today sentenced to serve eighteen months in the Florida State Penitentiary on a charge of misappropriating funds of the defunct American Bank and Trust Company, of Daytona Beach. Notice of appeal was filed immediately. Sentence was passed by Judge Paul C. Albritton, of Sarasota, who presided over the seventh judicial circuit in place of M. G. Rowe, technically disqualified. Skiles was convicted on the charge on Jan. 30 but sentence was not handed down until today. A number of indictments are pending against other officers of the defunct American Bank and Trust Company, alleging violation of state banking laws as a result of the failure of the institutions.

EXHIBIT AT FAIR HELD IN ORLANDO IS GIVEN PRAISE

Six Blue Ribbons Are Won By Seminole Products; Booth Is Given Third Place In Competition Between Counties

Seminole County's exhibit at the recent Central Florida Exposition staged at Orlando, was declared a tremendous success today by E. J. Trotter, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who had charge of the booth and who was assisted by L. C. Hebert and R. S. Holly.

Six blue ribbons were won by Seminole products placed in competition with those of several other central Florida counties. In addition the display won third place among the county exhibits and third place for miscellaneous products.

Arranged primarily because of the publicity it would bring, the exhibit attracted widespread interest of the thousands of persons who visited the exposition grounds. Competition for prizes was made an incidental part of the show, according to Mr. Trotter, who pointed out that of the few products placed in the judging, all received awards.

One of the features in connection with the booth was the distribution of free celery on Saturday, the last day of the fair. Fourteen crates were given away, the celery being of exceptional quality and chilled in tubs of ice. Many favorable comments were received.

Woman Asks Burial With Faithful Dog

HAVERHILL, Mass., Feb. 29.—(INS)—City officials and the legal post of the American Legion were arrayed today against the officials of Linwood Cemetery who insist that if Mrs. Grace Wade Keppel, widow of an army lieutenant, is buried in the cemetery her dog "Buster" cannot be buried with her.

The cemetery officials contend that when the Legion Post purchased the plot for Mrs. Keppel's burial no mention was made of the dog. Mrs. Keppel took her own life by gas poisoning. Her last wish was that the pet dog she had held in her arms to die with her be buried in the same grave.

Cornell Visits City In Behalf Move To Ban Advertising Signs On Roads

Col. Edward S. Cornell, president of the National Highway Protective Association, paid Sanford a visit today in the interest of a campaign to prohibit the placing of unnecessary signs along the state highways.

An enthusiastic good road boost, Col. Cornell has devoted considerable time and energy in an effort to rid roads of unsightly signs and posters. He has toured the country, calling attention to the problem and urging legislation to remedy the situation. He has been instrumental in having laws enacted in various states prohibiting the placing of every advertising sign along the highways.

The New Jersey state law, Mr. Cornell said, reads: "Whoever puts up or in any manner affixes to any fence, structure, pole, rock or other object which is, if the matter is brought, enough to the attention of the people that some such action will be taken."

Accident Will Force Aviator To Make Hazardous Landing At Albany Flying Field

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Feb. 29.—(INS)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who hopped off from Curtis Field at 10:12 o'clock this morning, where he spoke this afternoon on aviation measures before the New York State Legislature, landed at the local flying field at 11:53 o'clock.

His arrival here was entirely unexpected. It is believed to close the local landing field so as to avoid a crowd of several hundred persons who were waiting for him at Albany Field.

Miss Kathryn Waters Named

"Miss Sanford" and Sandy Anderson King Of Babydom; Stewart's Child Is Queen

Featured by the crowning of Miss Kathryn Waters as "Miss Sanford" and Miss Adlia Lavigne as "Miss Longwood," the American Legion's coronation pageant and grand ball, staged at the City Hall Monday evening, was attended by one of the largest gatherings ever assembled in the auditorium. Despite inclement weather upwards of 1,200 persons were present for the elaborate ceremonies.

The occasion also marked the close of the Legion Baby Show, which has been under way for the past three weeks. Sandy Anderson Stewart was crowned king and Neil Price was crowned queen of babydom, while Edith Ginter was adjudged the most beautiful girl baby in Sanford and Jack Rhodes the most handsome baby boy. Second grand prize in determine who should be king of babydom also went to Jack Rhodes.

The plane had gone less than four yards after the take-off when the tail skid snapped off, dropping the rudder to the ground. Lindbergh pulled up sharply, glanced out the side door to determine the damage, and then waved away the mechanics who had rushed up, and "gave her the gun" again. The motor roared, the plane bumped alone, and with a minimum run

Wilkinson To Seek County Judgeship In Coming Primary

Samuel A. B. Wilkinson, Sanford attorney, today announced his candidacy for the office of county judge in the approaching Democratic primary. Commenting upon his candidacy today, Mr. Wilkinson said:

"If the people elect me to the office of county judge, I guarantee an efficient, effective and economical administration of the affairs of the office."

Mr. Wilkinson has been a resident of Sanford for nine years, coming here from Gainesville. He is a native of Alabama, but has lived in Florida for the past 10 years.

He attended the University of Florida, graduating in 1916 with the degree of bachelor of law. In 1918 he received a bachelor of science degree in education. He has served in the World War, being a member of the 1921 opening class of the Legion.

Following his discharge from the army, Mr. Wilkinson taught school for two years, serving as principal of two of the largest high schools in Florida. He began the practice of law in 1921 opening offices in Sanford.

Mr. Cornell believed that Florida in its own defense and to protect its own interests as well as to preserve the natural beauty of the state, ought to adopt a similar law and also thinks that if the matter is brought, "freely enough to the attention of the people that some such action will be taken."

The residence of R. D. White at Lake Mary was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning about 10:30 o'clock. Cause of the blaze has not been determined, the fire occurring when members of the family were absent. Mrs. White was in Sanford at the time of the blaze.

The loss is estimated at about $2,500, partly covered by insurance. Mr. White is a truck farmer and well known here.

French Court Refuses To Grant Divorce To Former Wilson Cabinet Member

PARIS, Feb. 29.—(INS)—The Versailles divorce court today refused to entertain the petition of Bainbridge Colby, former American Secretary of State, for a divorce from his wife Ruthie Sedgwick Colby. The court held that Colby's residence within the jurisdiction of the tribunal was insufficient to action upon the divorce suit.

Colby was represented by Alexandre Millerand, former President of the French Republic. He alleged that his wife's "capricious temperament" made it impossible to live with her and that she ridiculed him in her writings.

Mrs. Colby entered suit for divorce in the Seine Court in 1925. Later Colby was permitted to file an action in the Versailles court holding the petition of his wife.

The couple were married at Stamford, Conn., June 22, 1896.

Colby served as Secretary of State under Woodrow Wilson. He practiced law in New York both before and after his term of office.

Colby died in 1925. His widow, Ruthie Sedgwick Colby, is now 62 years old.

Colby was greatly surprised by the court's decision. "I have lived here for ten months whereas only six months' residence is required by law," said the former Secretary of State.

"I cannot understand why my case was thrown out of court.

I hardly feel that I will appeal the case because it would take another year before it could come up for a new suit."

Runners Will Attempt To Lower Records Tomorrow Night In Race Of Century

By Davis J. Walsh,
International News Service
Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The army that travels on its stomach and the soldier who sleeps on his watch may have a new gymnast in the act by tomorrow night in the runner showing on his elbow. The elbow you know, used to be something which one kept old family retainer and beautiful women, although I don't mind saying that I almost never use my elbow on the latter. That, however, has little to do with the fact that Lloyd Hahn will race the Herr Doktor Peltzer and Ray Conger tomorrow night, except that both of the latter somehow were born with a complete set of elbows. This not only lends them an air of distinction but gives the defeated runner a chance to explain in full. The current indoor season has been rife, as we say at the fruit stand, with stories of this kind, and, in a spirit of helpfulness, I suggest that when they run this mile of the century tomorrow night they have elbows McFadden, the old lightweight, as one of the judges at the finish.

In this way, it is hoped to eliminate the "long count" that followed in the wake of these contests: Ray Dodge versus the Herr Doktor's elbow.

Lloyd Hahn versus Ray Conger's. It may or may not be significant that the runner who won both of these races also was generously conceded a victory in the elbow contest by the defeated runner; so that it might appear that Hahn is taking on at least one elbow too many tomorrow night. But, the experts, after due deliberation, have decided that an elbow operates rearward only and that Hahn will be in the rear like a front door step.

They have him all set to exact ultimate revenge on his boy friend, Conger, who made him walk home in this famous 4,000 yard event at Kansas City. They also think he knows too much about indoor running for the Doktor. The latter, in making his world's 1,500 metre record against Nurmi and Wide, was running at the rate of about 4.10 for the mile, but this distance ~~not~~ only is a little long for him but the average indoor track is a little short for his stride.

Peltzer is "ready," according to the word that comes from his training quarters at Georgetown University, but conditions and chances are too much for Hahn's. He is going to give the Doktor belt rather than an outside chance.

As for Conger, the general idea is that he hasn't been running long enough and is too young to make strides with this pair at the mile. It is thought, in other words, that the man who beat both Hahn and Peltzer at 4,000 yards is due to race third behind them in this race. He won't be able to hold Hahn's pace through the third quarter, they say.

Tagging All Bases

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 28.—(INS)—Members of the New York Giants who have been "hotting out" here will leave today for the regular training camp at Augusta, Ga., in the first practice game of the season. The scrub team battled to 2 to 2 yesterday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 28.—(INS)—The New York Yankees will hold their first regular workout today; if Jupiter players are agreeable, Rain practically ruined the opening day festivities yesterday.

The Yanks will have two sets of twins this season—the home run twins and the Moore brothers. Nick Moore, rookie pitcher, is alone, a ringer for his famous brother, Wally.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 28.—(INS)—Babe Herman, slugging first baseman, is the first member of the Brooklyn Robins to hit a training camp home run. The Babe is determined to prevent Del Hissom, a rookie, from grabbing his job.

CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., Feb. 28.—(INS)—With all of his Cubs finally in camp, Manager Joe McCarthy has divided them into two teams for the purpose of practice games and to alternate fielding and batting practice. It is noticed that Ki Ki Cuyler appears third in the lineup on his team, indicating that Boss Joe may use him in that position in the regular lineup.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—(INS)—The White Sox, under the direction of Manager Ray "Cracker" Schalk, were to leave for their Shreveport training camp today. Chalmers Cissell, the new $123,000 addition to the Sox family, is on deck and ready to start south with the rest of the boys. He met Manager Schalk yesterday for the first time. Ray thinks he is a "great kid."

Recent statistics from the Prefecture of Police show that the French capital is still "gay Paris." It now boasts one hundred and fifty theatres, music halls, and cinemas, together with four hundred and fifty ballrooms.

MEN OF HARVARD AWAIT NAMING OF FOOTBALL HEADS

Alumni Off Famous University Are Anxious To Learn Who Will Be Assistant Coaches In Rehabilitation Of Team

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 28.—Harvard University men in whose breasts "hope springs eternal" are anxiously waiting the announcement by Head Coach Arnold Horween of the men who will assist at Cambridge in football next fall.

Prior to the coming of Horween, the Crimson eleven had rapidly deteriorated from the champion ship group of the late Percy Haughton to the mediocre team of Bob Fisher's final years at Harvard.

Horween has been at the helm for the past two years and the success that was prophesied for him, has not instantly come to pass.

Realizing that a head coach cannot do everything and that he must depend, in different departments of that game, upon his assistants, Horween, men the country over are inclined to excuse Horween and place the blame upon the assistant coaches and the material in Cambridge.

Alumni Interested

That is the reason that they are interested in the appointment of a student mentor for the 1929 campaign.

Roggie Dunn, line coach, will return in the fall. That is the only definite information that has leaked from Harvard in regard to the situation.

H. W. Clarke, coach of center, and Vic Kennard, former star who now has charge of the kickers, will probably return.

Charles R. (Chuck) Carney, former Illinois wingman, was the coach of the ends last autumn, but Dunn rumor who is talking a lot right now, has it that the Mid-Western man will return in the fall.

Charlie Buell, former quarterback star, who was in charge of

Washkowsky's Old Shoe

We call the attention of the American Bankers Association to the case of Mr. Washkowsky of Brooklyn. Mr. Washkowsky is a hard worker and thrifty, but his education is defective, which is to blame for that. We must thank Mr. Washkowsky for his hard work in being a part of his wife's life. As a result of our work, Mr. Washkowsky told Mrs. Washkowsky where he was going to go to college. That was a natural, probably, but an inquiry into it reduces to another branch of education with which it is probable the bankers association cannot be held to have any concern.

But with Mr. Washkowsky's disposition it has. He chose for that purpose an old shoe. He kept the shoe and its mate in his closet, and up to the other day had packed away in one of them savings amounting to $150. On that same other day Mrs. Washkowsky came to Mr. Washkowsky's closet like a good housewife, seeking what she could throw away for transfer to another place where Mr. Washkowsky could find it, as he hasn't yet which again should cause no consternation.

But what we would like to hear from the American Bankers Association is what steps it is taking to discourage people of meagre means from keeping their money in such shoes, mantle clocks, boxes, wall pictures, under floor boards and similar places. We have made no exact calculation, but from casual evidence we are inclined to believe there are enough funds hidden away in such places in this enlightened and progressive country to pay off the national debt. Not that we advise paying it off, because that would leave congress nothing to fess with Mr. Mellon about; but if deposited in banks, our banker might have some to lend when we need it, which he may never has, he says money is very scarce. We hold it is not in merely in Mr. Washkowsky's shoe.

Saying that we have been pursuing education, or something called that, for several centuries, we cannot but feel this is a bad showing, and that the bankers association is somehow responsible. It hasn't sufficiently impressed on the people that it has banks and what they are for. Mr. Washkowsky hasn't heard. And there are a lot of us in this country.—KANSAS CITY STAR.

A distraught man was Mr. Washkowsky when he next went to make a deposit in his old shoe. "What new place?" he asked in his new place, affected by his hands on his hips.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Quite a few more dollars of my豪華ance—we never really become imitate—will go for a ride tomorrow night on the belief that Mr. Tunney's scheduled date for the entertainment of the June trade will not be Oval Chapdelaine, alias Jack Delaney. These sanguine dollars will be laid end on end. At the current odds, in support of a theory that the monsieur will blow this one with his customary aplomb and that Tom Heeney, the poor but honest heavyweight, will flat-wheel off with the verdict.

This intelligent money will say that the monsieur is not the man to deal properly with a rugged situation like this but it is none of my ding-dong business, you understand, if you prefer to bet the other way and lay your eight dollars against five. These are the existing odds and it may be significant that some of the discerning money that rode in with McNamee last week will come back for the short end tomorrow.

The lady will meet in the first of two battles of the split-second to determine just who shall have the technical pleasure of meeting Mr. Tunney unsightly in June, the Sharkey-Riske affair of Mar. 12 being the other. It may be that Mr. Tunney will find himself with exactly no opponent by the time they get through but I can't help that, either.

The trade, for example, is taking this undertaking very seriously, as always, and the understanding now is that perhaps as much as $200,000, a new indoor record for a $20 fight, will be in Rickard's "pocket" by the time the last mugg is shaken loose from what he has.

There is no way of accounting for this except to say that the mug is a sap. The sap is a chronic customer and that things equal to the same thing are quite equal to each other.

Anhoy, the conniving money thinks the bout justifies its existence, at the odds. And affords a fair chance of confounding the intelligent. Usually the intelligent is more than confounded but I, for one, don't care for that kind of language.

"He's a bum," they, the intelligent, said yesterday. They were looking at Mr. Heeney plotting about the premises of a local gymnasium. Then they looked again and maybe they changed their minds, anyhow, they were heard to add: "no, we were wrong; he's a big bum!"

At a similar hour, another section of the craft was staring with knowing intent at the pacific lines of the other man in Bridgeport, Conn., when they had forcibly severed their focus from this vision of light and grace, they rendered their report with unanimity and gib assurance.

Tagging All Bases

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 29. (INS)—Minus catcher Zach Taylor, who was released to the Boston Braves at the waiver price, Manager John McGraw and battery men of the New York Giants are due here to-night from Hot Springs, Ark., most of the other regulars are already at the training camp here.

Declaring that Hogan and Cummings are capable receivers, New York players here said the loss of Taylor would not hurt the team's pennant prospects. The Braves needed a catcher badly.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 29. (INS)—Three of the heaviest hitters on the Brooklyn squad, Babe Herman, Del Biagio and Harvey Hendrick, all want to play first base, but uncle Willard Robinson is grooming Herman for an outfield berth. Although he was beaten by a fly ball in his first workout, the Babe insisted upon fielding alone.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 29. (INS)—Lazzaro Hoyt and Shearer have not yet signed with the Yankees, and Lazzaro is reported to be holding out for a two-year contract at $15,000 a season. Manager Miller Higgins probably need not be worried by Lazzaro's absence in view of the brilliant fielding exhibition given by Leo Durso, a rookie, in his first workout here. Durso, formerly played with St. Paul.

CATALINA ISLAND, Calif., Feb. 29. (INS)—Freddie Maguire and Norman McMillan, both candidates for the second base job, have taken the eye of Boss McCarthy of the Cubs. The way these boys are hitting the apple makes manager Joe, with he had the second base berths to fill, Another who found his batting eye early is Wandy English, the expensive shortstop. With Ki Ki Cudler and other slingers in the lineup, it looks like a fence-busting year for the Cubs.

SHREVEPORT La., Feb. 29. (INS)—Visiting frenemy and others were in line here today to give the old glad hand to Manager Ray Schalk and his White Sox troupe when they stream in from Chicago to begin the Spring training grind. Local fans are en-for a glimpse of Bill Cissell, the high-priced newcomer who is said to have cost Mr. Comiskey $768.75 a pound on the hoof.

GIRL JOCKEYS IN TIA JUANA MEET IS NEW FEATURE

Women Have Invaded Another Heretofore Masculine Role When Female Jockeys Will Ride In Horse Race Sunday

TIJUANA, Mexico, Feb. 29.—And now women have invaded another heretofore exclusively masculine field of endeavor. Girl jockeys will ride every horse in a special race at Tijuana on Sunday, March 11, an innovation without parallel in the recollection of the oldest turf followers.

The Coronado Town plate, patterned after the famous and incidentally the oldest stake race of the English turf, the Newmarket Town Plate, in which women jockeys ride, and which has been won to the past three years by horses piloted by members of the fair sex, has been added as an annual racing feature of the Tijuana jockey club, it was announced here today.

The distance will be 6 furlongs, which means the start will be out of starter Cassidy's new starting stalls.

Since the first intimation that such a racing fixture will become a part of the Tijuana Jockey Club's annual program, a number of expert woman riders have expressed the intention of riding in the event.

Dorothy Taplin, 16 year old daughter of Eddie Taplin, the famous ex-jockey and present trainer for Alexander Pantages, who regularly gallops horses for her father, says the race will give her the opportunity she has longed for to ride in a real race.

Hope Bare, known as "Mrs. Los Angeles of 1926," when she won the beauty contest over a horde of entrants, probably will have a mount, a horse noted as a horses' woman, having ridden and broken horses all her life. Toni Mex paid Miss Bare the compliment of saying he had to doff his hat to her when it came to riding.

Mrs. Lillian Jenkins, a 14 year girl of Monroe, N. C., sure to have a "top up," in the very recently applied for regular jockey's license with the avowed intention of making that her regular vocation. Racing rules, however, blocked this ambition.

Others who may be seen in the "plot seat" in the Coronado Town plateau are Judy Johnson, 19 year old trainer of horses at Belmont Park, Helen Johnson, sister of the noted jockey Albert Johnson, and one or both of the Irwin sisters, Pauline and Frances, whose father, C. B. Irwin, is now racing a big stable.

Godfrey Defeats Paolino Uzcedun In Ten Round Battle

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29. (INS)—A good little man, as his pedigree quotes, the shoulder blade a good big man and the matador of the likes of futanari and toro, he fought his way to victory at Wrigley Field when George Godfrey, the "Black Shadow" of Los Angeles, was awarded a ten round decision over Paolino Uzcedun, the basque woodpecker.

A crowd of 10,000 persons paid $125,491 to see Wrigley Field promoter Jack Doyle estimated that 60,000 more were turned away.

It was not an exciting fight nor was it packed with thrills save when the Basque exhibited the same ruggedness that he has shown in other engagements elsewhere.

The negro swarmed all over him, handled him handily when he wished to and came into the final rounds with such rush to more than offset whatever advantage point scoring allows an aggressive game fighter such as Uzcedun moved to.

Lawn Tennis Judge Predicts Bennett Will Lead Players

LONDON, Feb. 29. (INS)—Miss Eileen Bennett, in the opinion of the best lawn tennis judges in England, will be the outstanding British woman player of the year.

In the Riviera tournament, she has beaten Miss Elizabeth Ryan twice, also Miss Betty Nuttall on the only occasion on them met. In the Galia Cup at Cannes she beat Miss Nuttall 14 to 12 in the semi-final in 9-7, 2-6, 12-10 and beat Miss Ryan in the final 8-6, 6-3.

Miss Bennett, 20, the same age as Suzanne Lenglen when she first won the championship at Wimbledon in 1919. She is the daughter of Gerald Bennett, a wealthy London stockbroker, and was educated and learnt most of her tennis in Paris. As in the case of Betty Nuttall the constant care of her mother has had much to do with the shaping and development of her game.

First born in 1924, when she won the Junior Championship of Middlesex, she has always attracted attention by her beautifully easy style. She has a terrific service, and when the first one "gets over" very few women can take it.

At Wimbledon last year she made a sensation by the grueling battle that she gave Miss Wills, and many people think that her surprising omission from the Wigand Cup team was responsible for the victory going to America.

On her present form, there is little doubt that, in the absence of Miss Wills, she will win the title at Wimbledon this year, and in any event, should she meet the world's champion, there will be a historic encounter.

The reports of this laboratory would be used in future plant control work.

The delegation in favor of "local contributions" read as follows: "It is hereby declared to be the sense of Congress that the principle of local contribution toward the cost of flood control work, which has been incorporated in all previous bills, is sound, in recognizing the special interest of the local population in its own protection and in aid of preventing unnecessary expense in the administration of work having no material national interest."

The bill, it said, that the largest expenditure, estimated at $72,000,000, heretofore made by the local interest in the alluvial valley of the Missouri River for protection against the floods of the river, would be looked upon as a full compliance with the principle of local contributions.

The national sense of the project was recognized through express sense of national concern in the control of these rivers in the interest of national property, in the effect on the flow of navigable commerce and the works involved in the area.

So well was the exhibit received and so numerous were the inquiries about Sanford and Seminole County, Mr. Trotter stated today that tentative reservations have been made for next year's fair. In this connection, however, Mr. Trotter pointed to the urgent need for a Seminole County fair.

"We are missing a fine opportunity to stage a display of our own," Mr. Trotter said.

Seminole County should continue its exhibits at the Orlando fair, but we should make some trophies to those in the queen category. In addition three diamond rings and a number of smaller rings were made to those taking part in the competition for queen of the celebration.

Imported gunmen were believed to have been the slayers of the nine union officials last night, closed up, without license plates, sped up to the car in which Campbell and Sardinas were seated after a conference, and pumped a deadly spray of bullets into the two men's bodies with pumpeons and revolvers. Twenty bullets were found in each body. The car was later found in Moosic, near Scranton.

The two men were killed shortly after a conference with members of the district attorney's staff and county detectives. Chief County Detective Richard Powell rode part of the way home with them, and the men stopped at the detective's to let him out of the car before they headed for Campbell's home, where they were overtaken by the gunmen's car.

Pittston is confident that other deaths will follow for they know the mine feud code an eye for an eye—a life for a life. Meanwhile details of state police combed the northern section of the county, and were reported to have taken four suspects into custody.

The following day, Saturday, the fall wing girls composed the Miss Sanford Fairies; the Misses Mary Alice Shipp, Ruby Martin, Ann May, Mary Nixon, Kathleen McMichael, Dorothy Marshall, Grace Williams, Lucia Mahoney and Jane Grier.

In addition to the grand pageant in the lobby contest, the following received cups in their division: One to six months, Naomi Fellowes as second lady of the court, Miss Lucille Tomlinson as first lady in waiting, Miss Mary Griggs as second lady in waiting and Miss Carmen Guthrie as third lady in waiting. Queen Ellen Telford was first lady of the court, Fred Perester, Terpsichore, earl of trans-Pacific flier, will address the law makers today. Others expected at the Capitol included F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of War, William P. McNamee, assistant secretary of Commerce for aeronautics, Edward F. Warner, assistant secretary of the Navy in charge of aviation, Porter H. Adams, president of the National Aeronautical Association and Major Charles G. Hanna of Syracuse head of the state aviation conference.

the effort to find the killer, and to come to the Capital. State troopers were on guard throughout the building, and only persons with official passes were to be admitted to the assembly chamber where Colonel Lindbergh was scheduled to address the operators.

The statement calls on authorities to release Bonita, Adam Meleski and Steven Mendola, the latter two also helped in the Agave murder.

As soon as Colonel Lindbergh flies away to Boston tomorrow, the law makers will lay host to Ruth Miller, intended aviator. Miss Miller will be decorated tomorrow afternoon in the Senate Chamber with the Legion of Honor.
