Heart Drug Tests Term 'Impressive'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Heart Institute Monday announced "impressive" results with a new drug for lowering blood pressure. It said research physicians of the institute have found that the drug, known as JH 516, "produces marked and sustained lowering of blood pressure in patients with hypertension." Hypertension is the medical name for the disease commonly known as high blood pressure, one of the nation's leading causes of death. The research physicians are Drs. Louis Gillespie Jr., Luther L. Terry and Albert Sjoerdsma. They presented a formal paper on their research today before a scientific session of the American Heart Association at San Francisco. The findings were simultaneously made public here by the institute, a branch of the National Institute of Health at Bethesda, Md. The physicians reported that JH 516 does not seem to produce some of the undesirable side effects of other blood pressure-lowering drugs now in use. These side effects include sexual impotence, dry mouth and constipation. In some patients JH 516 has produced a unique side effect of its own—temporary color blindness. This condition has disappeared upon withdrawal of the drug. It has been administered to date to 21 patients, of whom 19 responded with "significant and sustained lowering" of blood pressure. The physicians said however that further clinical tests must be made before the drug's lasting value in treatment of hypertension can be known.

Although demonstrations are technically illegal, police made no attempt to interfere with the greeting.

Horse Players: U. S. Versus Russian

By ANTHONY AUSTIN
United Press International
MOSCOW (UPI)—The Ministry of Agriculture conducts horse racing in Russia as a "testing ground for the improvement of the breed," but just as in America, the Muscovite horse player's main interest is in winning a bet. From an official standpoint, Garmyr and Zaryad, the two Russian horses which will race in the $100,000 Washington, D. C. International at Laurel on Nov. 11, will not be running just for the prize money like bourgeois capitalist—nation entrants. The Soviet steeds seek a higher objective.

The two three-year-olds are "horses of the people." Thus when Garmyr and Zaryad finished one-two recently in the Moscow Derby, the importance of this from the Soviet standpoint lay not in the payoff at the parimutuel windows but in the future of the two horses when they are stationed at stud farms after their racing days are over.

Horse Players Name
For while horses have all but disappeared from American farms they still are much in use at the collective farms in the Soviet Union and are an important part of the national economy.

But although "improvement of the breed" may be the official reason for horse racing, thousands of Muscovites have other ideas when they flock to the running tracks during the summer and harness tracks which operate throughout the year. The Russian horse player is not much different from his counterpart in Western countries. And while Soviet racing is surrounded with some controversy, in Moscow and half a dozen other Soviet cities it continues to enjoy the status it had in Russia in pre-revolutionary times. The ornate Moscow Hippodrome is said to be 150 years old and here on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons, an average of 10,000, with 30,000 on Derby Day, show up for the racing. The minimum bet is 10 rubles $2.50 at the "official exchange rate. This amounts to about two hours pay for the average worker—and there is win betting only. The usual bet is the "double," picking the winners of any two consecutive races. Picking the winner of just one race is "ordinary" betting and since the payoffs usually are so small, most bettors go for the double. Jockeys have a guaranteed wage of 700 rubles $175 monthly augmented by a percentage of the handle depending upon how they finish even through there is only win betting.

Harry, Nixon Invited For Piano Duet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A piano duet starring Harry S. Truman and Richard M. Nixon?

It probably won't, but it could happen at the National Press Club one of these days. The club president has formally invited the former president and the current vice president to join in just such a collaboration.

The idea grew out of a statement by Nixon over the weekend. He said he and Truman would "bury the hatchet," ending their long verbal feud. "When the National Press Club invites us to play a duet."

Reporters had asked him about the apparent thaw in Truman-Nixon relations. In a recent speech Nixon referred to the Democratic leader as a "gallant warrior." The next day, Truman told newsmen that sounded to him like an apology and "making up our differences is okay with me." On hearing of Nixon's latest comment, Press Club President John V. Horner promptly sent off telegrams saying: "The National Press Club applauds the harmonious sounds coming from two of its most distinguished members who play at opposite ends of the keyboard. . . . We guarantee a full house and an appreciative audience. Further, we assure you the critics will be there en masse."

LONDON (UPI)—The British Post Office Monday announced the resumption of normal telephone service with the Iraqi capital of Baghdad following an interruption of more than three months. The service had been halted by the revolution last July 14.

Groom Collapses, Twice, At Altar

ROME (UPI)—Giuseppe Magri is a married man today, but he found the wedding service such a strain that he may have to spend his whole "honeymoon" in a hospital.

The 28-year-old groom fainted twice during the ceremony in a church in suburban Cantecelle, once just as he should have been saying "I do" and again just after the priest had pronounced him married. He was hospitalized for treatment of "severe nervous exhaustion."

Invasion Flop; Nuts Probably

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Police today held for mental examination a man who staged a brief invasion of the Quantico, Va., Marine base, armed with a toy six-shooter. The invasion was a flop, and the man later was arrested in a Washington hotel room by a corps of FBI men, metropolitan police, military police and a lone postal inspector descended on him.

New Tax Return: One Line Out, 2 Put in Its Place

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service has taken out the controversial "taxpayer account line" from 1956 income tax returns and added two new lines in its place.

They are: (1) a line for expenses and (2) a line for the amount of tax paid. The new line for expenses is intended to give taxpayers a detailed accounting of their expenses and the self-employed, must itemize expenses and reimbursement on the tax return.

The tax service feels the new arrangement will make filing a return easier for taxpayers who agree their expenses with their employers, and the self-employed, must itemize expenses and reimbursement on the tax return.

There are two exceptions to the new rule. Taxpayers who receive reimbursements that exceed their actual expenses must list the difference as taxable income. Those who claim deductions on grounds that their expenses exceeded their reimbursements must itemize all outlays and expense money received.

Timberland Saved By Man's Action

A public spirited citizen who took the time to report forest fire yesterday, credited with saving hundreds of acres of Seminole County's valuable timberland.

L. I. Cox of Longwood spotted a fire Tuesday afternoon about two miles from Longwood on the Longwood-Markham Road. Ranger Robert Levert of the Florida Forest Service went into action with a fire-fighting crew and 30 gallons of water and saved the timberland.

V. W. Mizette, owner of the land, said he and his helper were burning brush piles when the winds fanned the blaze. The fire became too hot for them to keep it under control. About four acres were burned.

Levert today issued a warning to owners of timberlands and hunters to "be aware of similar episodes." He further advised the public that this is a good time to put in fire lines. Anyone desiring protective firelines may call the Florida Forest Service at Longwood.

Negroes File Suit Against New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four Harlem parents filed a million-dollar damage claim against the city Tuesday, accusing it of perpetuating "racial segregation" in five school districts.

The parents contended they had been forced to seek other means of educating their children.

The claim, expected to lead to a lawsuit, said the alleged segregation tended "to retard the educational development of Negro children."

The claim firms were among eight Harlem parents who kept their children out of junior high school.

Probers To Watch Polls

Attorneys Ordered To Act Promptly On Discrimination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers ordered U. S. attorneys today to be ready to act promptly on all reports of ballot-box tampering and discrimination at the polls next Tuesday.

Rogers instructed all federal attorneys to stay on the job as long as the polls are open and to be prepared to move swiftly on all complaints of federal election law violations.

The Justice Department's Civil Rights Division will have a staff on hand throughout election day and during the night, here until the last polling place in the country closes.

The division, headed by Asst. Atty. Gen. W. Wilson White, enforces federal voting statutes.

Rogers noted in a statement that the primary responsibility for running elections rests with the state, and the federal government has no authority to supervise generally the conduct of balloting.

However, he added: "Where violations of federal statutes occur, the Department of Justice will promptly and vigorously take prosecutive action."

Rogers said that every U. S. attorney has been directed to be "particularly watchful and prepared to act upon reports concerning the intimidation or prevention of voters from casting ballots as their free will dictates."

In addition, he said reports dealing with false or fictitious ballots or other means used to prevent a ballot from being counted, will be investigated.

"No responsible complaint of discrimination, ballot-box tampering or other possible federal violation will be disregarded," Rogers declared.

New Pope Appeals For World Peace In First Address

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII began the first day of his reign today with an appeal to the leaders of the world to abandon their monstrous arms and ensure peace with justice.

The 65-year-old pontiff, in his first papal address, asked the world leaders to "look at the people, listen to their voices."

"What do they ask? What do they desire? Not more monstrous arms but peace... but justice... but tranquility and concord!"

Pope John, his voice firm and at times almost musical, spoke in Latin from the papal throne in the Sixtine Chapel where a secret conclave of cardinals elected him Tuesday as the 262nd pontiff.

His speech followed a Solemn Mass that brought the electing conclave to an end and opened the sealed area of St. Peter's to the world for the first time since last Saturday.

Needs Free Peace

He said the world needed a free peace—not a peace existing under conditions of slavery.

Addressing himself to those who "hold in their hands the fate of nations," the Pope asked: "Why are dissensions and discord not settled? Why are efforts directed at creating harmful instruments of war instead of civil progress?"

"Come, act courageously and confidently... the light from above shines on you."

He quoted from St. Augustine: "Pax est tranquillitas animi"—"Peace is the tranquility of the soul," and from St. Thomas: "Between peace and slavery there is a great difference. Peace is tranquility of freedom."

35 Miners Killed In Two Explosions In West Virginia

RICHMOND, W. Va. (UPI) — Two coal mine explosions in 45 minutes in West Virginia last night killed 35 men.

Twenty-two were killed in a similar explosion at the Bishop mine of the Pocahontas Fuel Co. at the Virginia border Monday morning.

Charles Ferguson, United Mine Workers safety inspector, said he believed this was the first time mine disasters had occurred on consecutive days in the United States.

The men killed Tuesday "never had a ghost of a chance," according to a state mine official.

Last year 31 men lost their lives in a blast at the Bishop mine.

Thirty-seven miners working on one section of the mountaintop pit at Craigsville scrambled to safety. But 17 others in another section were trapped when a wall of fire and earth sealed off passages.

Four of the 17 were rescued and hauled to the surface on conveyor belts from two and one-half miles inside the mine. William Tucker, 31, and Paul Davis, 41, were admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital with serious burns. The other two were in fair condition.

State Mines Chief Crawford Wilson listed gas ignition as the cause of the explosion.

Harrison Carter, 31, one of those who escaped, said "when we felt the air reverse after the blast we ran out and didn't even pick up our lunch buckets."

Among the dead were Mine Superintendent Olin C. Gates, and his assistant, Edward Stephenson.

Finances Squeezed By State's Growth

ORLANDO (UPI) — The executive vice president of the Florida Chamber of Commerce said today the major reason for the current squeeze on the state's pocketbook was the sudden and gigantic population increase.

Harold Cole, addressing the Orlando Rotary Club, said "our great growth is indeed something to crow about, but it is no unmitigated blessing."

"The seamy side comes out in our state government's financial picture, for growth must be paid out by an expansion of our public plant. This is just what our state government's financial leaders are trying to do now in shifting public funds," he said.

Cole noted that Florida's constitution prohibits capital borrowing, making it necessary to finance capital improvements with current tax collections.

"The upturn in the economy of Florida from the short dip of the first of the year first became apparent in April," Cole said, "but delayed effects of the dip are still being felt."

However, Cole said recovery should be completed by mid-1959. Some of the other ill-effects of rapid population growth, according to Cole, are inability to build roads and schools fast enough, neglect of natural resources preservation, and an increase in slum areas.

President Delays 'Space' Decision

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today postponed "for some time" a decision in the explosive controversy between the Army and the new civilian space agency.

The President met for one hour with his Space Council. He had summoned it to the White House to discuss control of scientific talent and space projects.

But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President wouldn't "make a decision for some time" and would hold further meetings with the council before doing so.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 95-pound gold ingot worth $24,000 disappeared from a shipment of bullion being flown from Chicago to LaGuardia Airport Tuesday night.

The ingot was discovered missing after the shipment was unloaded and hauled into a hangar by a freight tractor. It first was thought to be merely misplaced, but a thorough search turned up nothing.

Church Used As School Could Lose Tax Status

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Churches that open their doors to private school classes in the fight against integration may lose their tax-exempt status, it was learned today.

Approximately 35 churches in Little Rock, Ark., and two Virginia cities are already actively involved or have offered facilities to help in private schooling plans substituting for public schools closed in integration battles.

Emergency Service

In many instances the churches offered their facilities to help the children during the emergency rather than in an effort to aid the anti-integration fight. However, tax officials indicated the effect on the churches' tax-exempt status would be the same regardless of their intent.

Under existing tax laws, churches need not pay income taxes on the federal government or even make reports of their income and spending to the Internal Revenue Service. This does not apply to salaries of ministers and other church employees which are taxable like all other personal income.

White churches as a general rule do not have large incomes over and above their expenses, the tax-exempt status is important to them in relation to their contributors.

Contributors Hurt

Church contributions may now be deducted from the contributor's income taxes up to 30 per cent of his gross income. If a church lost its tax-exempt status, this deduction would not be allowed, according to the IRS spokesman. This might cut materially into a church's income from contributions.

New Navy Leaders To Be Introduced

The monthly meeting of the Coffee Club of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at 10 a. m. tomorrow at Mrs. Appleby's Valdez Restaurant will be highlighted by the introduction of three officers at the Naval Air Station here who recently assumed charge of units at change of command ceremonies.

Captain James D. Bama, commander of the outfit involved, will present Cmdr. Ed. Winter, commanding officer of VASRON 31, Cmdr. Floyd Harris, skipper of VAI-9, and Cmdr. Ernie Horrell, commanding officer of VAI-3.

The meeting is another in the series of events intended to foster the pleasant relations existing between the Navy and the citizens of the community," Charlie Morrison, who arranged the program, said.

Mansion Buffers

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Cabinet Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund are expected to vote officially soon against purchasing a sixth parcel of land as a buffer zone for the new governor's mansion.

The Trustees agreed informally Tuesday not to buy the property of the G. W. Estate, located across the southeast corner from the new mansion.

The city of Tallahassee had the option to buy the land for about $2,000 and the date could purchase it from the city at the appraised price of some $50,000.

Several parcels of property have been purchased around the mansion to protect it from encroachment by business property.

Nationalists Boost Fishing Fleet Size

TAIPEI (UPI) — Nationalist China declared today it has boosted the size of its commercial fishing fleet in the Matsuo Islands despite a Communist buildup of fortifications on the mainland.

Strengthening of the Matsuo fishing fleet underlined President Chiang Kai-shek's determination to hold the Matsuo and Quemoy offshore islands at any cost and to develop their civilian agriculture and fisheries.

The fleet was paid for in part by U. S. economic aid funds. Eleven mechanized sampans launched a few days ago in the Matsuo Sea at the northern end of the straits are equipped with diesel engines.

Meanwhile Nationalist sources said the Communists had increased work on fortifications opposite the islands.

Red shelling of Quemoy continued light and sporadic on this numbered day which the Reds reserved for all-out bombardments if they desire under their alternate-day war plan.

He Got His Wish

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Maurice McGovern, 22, an inmate at the Hartford County Jail, wanted to transfer to more permanent quarters at Wethersfield State Prison, where he figured he "could settle down, learn a trade and get straightened out."

McGovern joined in an attempted break from the jail, was recaptured and got his wish.

Seminole Farmers Get Federal Housing Loans

The Seminole County FHA Committee has approved housing loans amounting to $193,143 in the past few months, according to Curtis J. Green, FHA supervisor.

Green said the loan total involved 21 loans for construction, alteration or repair of farm dwelling houses, constructing barns, poultry houses, greenhouses, equipment sheds, dairy barns and tenant houses.

These loans can be obtained by Seminole County farmers for construction or repair of dwelling houses or other essential farm buildings, Green said. To be eligible for these loans, the applicant must be the owner of a farm which is in agricultural production at the time he applies.

In addition to these qualifications, the applicant must be unable to obtain the necessary financing from other sources. The loans are made for a maximum period of 25 years at the interest rate of four per cent. A real estate mortgage is taken on the farm, but a first mortgage is not required.

Green said that this construction program has provided better homes for Seminole County farm families, better shelter for livestock and improved storage facilities for machinery and feed. He added that many part-time farmers who previously were ineligible now may apply. This is possible due to relaxed eligibility requirements, Green said.

The FHA office is located in Room 417, Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building. Full information and application blanks may be obtained at this office. The FHA Committee, which approves all loans in the county, is composed of William G. Kilbee, Green, chairman; William P. Chapman, Sanford; and Leslie T. Bran, Altamonte Springs.

Such Bad News, So Early Sends Him Back To Bed

This morning seemed just like a routine day to E. Anderson, manager of Mather Furniture Store, who resides at 321 West 13th St.

That is, until he answered the door shortly after he awakened only to find Sanford Police men Hayden and Dick Groggins, who told him all about an accident his car had been involved in during the night.

Anderson's 1952 Dodge was stolen from his home. At 11:00 p. m., the "borrower" drove the car from the north side of the Market Terminal Restaurant and hotel at 13th St. and French Ave. As he crossed French Ave. he crashed into a Vauxhall driven by Glenn Franklin Tucker, who was headed north.

The impact caused Tucker to lose control of his car and he crashed into the Shell Oil Station on the East side of French Ave. and 13th St., causing damage to the station in the amount of $1,000.

By this time life was so complicated for the driver of Anderson's car that he decided it was time to leave. This he did, and hasn't been seen since. The Dodge rolled 41 feet and came to rest on the East side of French Ave.

Damage to the Vauxhall was estimated at $1,200, and to Anderson's car at $150.

The Mather manager heard the officers report, then asked them to please excuse him, he believed he would go back to bed!

Price Of Coffee May Double Soon
BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — The price of coffee may double here shortly, the Federation of Coffee, Tea and Spice Industries warned Tuesday night.

It reported in full-page newspaper advertisements that the rise would result from a government order increasing the official dollar exchange for coffee.

It said that until mid-September the government had provided an exchange at the official rate of 16 pesos per dollar. The rate now has increased to a point where Argentina's coffee dollar costs more than 60 pesos, the federation said.

Britain's Election Law Would Snare U. S. Senators

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican and Democratic senators who want sharper teeth in the Corrupt Practices Act governing U. S. elections are referred herewith to the Representation of the People Act (RPA) which governs elections in Great Britain.

RPA imposes the strictest kind of rules such as to banish an honest American politician and almost surely entrap a crook.

British Socialists imposed RPA in 1948 and 1949. Conservatives and Liberals, however, cheerfully have accepted these campaign restrictions which would make the going hard for almost any American seeking almost any public office, honest though he be.

The idea was to limit or to abolish any campaign advantage a rich man might have over a poor man. The Socialists enacted laws to limit spending, and they are enforced. Use of automobiles to haul voters to and from the polls is limited, and "treating" by a candidate is positively forbidden. No campaign cigars. It is not against the rules to kiss babies. But don't lend a voter money if you plan to run for Parliament.

Even a small loan to a voter made in god faith would be sufficient to disqualify a candidate if, by chance, a national election were called within six months after the loan transaction. Your British neighbor may take members of his own household to the polling place in the family automobile. But he must not offer you a lift, nor any person who is not of his household.

The candidate's campaign manager or agent may register before polling day a limited number of automobiles to transport voters, one car for every 2,500 voters in a city district, one for every 1,500 in the country. If a car breaks down on election day, it may not be replaced.

One of the penalties for breaking some of these campaign and election day rules is disqualification of the candidate if he is elected and punishment for his campaign agent.

The agent is responsible for his candidates conformity with the election rules. The person he manages and gets elected to the House of Commons probably will need outside work to support his family. The salary is $2,800 a year, with $5.60 added for each day Commons is in session. That usually brings it to around $3,500 before taxes.

Integration Goal In State Is '63, Group Announces

TAMPA (UPI) — The Florida NAACP today urged its members to work for "complete" racial integration in Florida by 1963—the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation.

The state organization issued a policy statement Tuesday night, following its convention at Daytona Beach, in which it said it will not be satisfied until all racial barriers are removed.

Its goal, the NAACP said, "shall be the complete end of segregation in this state by 1963, the 100th anniversary of the signing of the emancipation."

The Negro group said it had considered "the progress, although minute, that has been made in the state . . . toward the elimination of racial segregation and discrimination from a few areas."

However, it added, "we cannot sit idly by, accepting this as the measure for progress of freedom. We consider it the duty of the Florida (NAACP) branches to take the lead in the establishment of a completely democratic society."

The policy statement also attacked legislative measures designed to sidestep forced integration or permit "token integration" only.

The statement also: —Asked Congress to kill the filibuster rule.

—Called for federal aid to stop job discrimination.

—Asked Negro support of the NAACP voter registration drive.

—Called for state aid to provide relief for Negroes displaced by highway projects.

—Set aside Sunday, May 17, 1959, as "Freedom Sunday" to celebrate the 1954 Supreme Court ruling outlawing public school segregation.

Coroner Expected To Return Verdict In Student Death

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A coroner's jury was expected to announce its findings today in the apparent suicide of a University of Florida freshman, found hanging from a beam in his room early Tuesday.

Campus officials said William Wallace Teague, 18, of Sarasota, had a longstanding sense of dependency probably accentuated by academic problems.

Police listed his death as "apparent suicide" but a final report was withheld pending an inquest. Teague's body was found by his roommate at 3:30 a. m. hanging from the top of a two-decker bed. The roommate had been studying in another room of the men's dormitory.

Two Pilots Dead In Trainer Crash

PENSACOLA (UPI) — A propeller-driven 700 trainer crashed near the Pensacola Municipal Airport Tuesday, killing two Navy pilots.

The victims were identified as Lt. Cmdr. R. R. Downard, 35, and Lt. William J. E. Moss, 28, both stationed at Pensacola Naval Air Station.

The Navy said the plane crashed after a "touch and go" practice landing. Both men were trapped in the plane, which caught fire and burned for half an hour.

KING MEETS KING — Private Elvis Presley, now stationed with a U. S. Army unit near Frankfurt, takes time out from his military duties to listen to some rock 'n roll guitarizing by "rock-around-the-clock-king" Bill Haley at Frankfurt, Germany. Presley visited Haley during the latter's tour of Germany, but Frankfurt police asked that he stay backstage, in order to curb the enthusiasm of some of Elvis' youthful admirers. So he got a private show. (UPI Telephoto)

Pasternak Rejects $41,000 In Cash

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Soviet author Boris Pasternak has rejected the Nobel Prize for literature apparently because of extreme pressure brought by Communist authorities, informed sources reported today.

Authoritative information reaching here indicated the outspoken author of "Dr. Zhivago" had rejected the previous acceptance which he telegraphed to the Swedish Academy last week.

Pasternak, since winning the $41,000 award, has been attacked in the Soviet press and expelled from the Soviet Writers Union—a move that could threaten the livelihood of the 67-year-old author.

The academy, which awarded him the first Nobel literature prize ever given a Soviet citizen in Russia, was expected to receive a renunciation of the award in his name shortly.

The treatment of Pasternak contrasted sharply with the praise

If, as said O'Hara, they will be shown to the committee.

To The People Of Seminole County: Don't Be Mislead!

First, let me say that I recognize that if I committed an error of judgment, it is solely a result of my own making. Never in my life have I committed such a blunder, and I would choose this most inappropriate time to do so. However, I do not want anyone to understand that by admitting my error, I am admitting that I was driving while under the influence of intoxicants, nor is it my intention to try a lawsuit in the press. That matter is to be tried in court and I honestly do not believe I am guilty of that offense. This unfortunate incident did not arise out of a brawl. It was an appreciation dinner honoring leading citizens, developers and builders.

Here are a few of the guests who were present and who either saw me there or talked with me:

- Lee Gary (Mayor of Oviedo and Write-In-Candidate)
- Douglas Stenstrom (State Senator)
- John Krider (Manager - Chamber of Commerce—Chairman of County Commissioners)
- O. F. Herndon (Clerk of Circuit Court, Seminole County)
- Tom McDonald (President JCC)
- Gene Tucker (Banker)
- Howard McNulty (Banker)
- Dave Gatchel (Nominee Commissioner District No. 2)
- Scott Burns (Florida Power and Light Company)
- Kenneth Leffler (Student)
- Hert Peterson (Real Estate)
- Homer Little (County Commissioner)
- Fred Dyson (Defeated Candidate for County Commissioner)
- Mack Cleveland, Jr. (President Chamber of Commerce)
- And many others.

But, I am not trying to convince any of you that I am innocent of such charge. Assume, if you will, that I am guilty. Then ask yourself whether or not this one isolated mistake on my part is sufficient reason for you to undo the progressive things you indicated you wanted done by voting for me in this place. I assume, and with considerable justification I believe, that when you voted for me—a person in this county only three years—and one comparatively unknown to many of you—that you were sick and tired of letting the people most able to PAY taxes get off with paying practically nothing.

There is no point in anyone trying to fool anybody about the REAL reason there is a Write-In-Candidate in this race. The "BIG-MONEY-BOYS" and the remains of the "OLD COURTHOUSE GANG" figured I didn't have a chance — so they didn't pay much attention to me. It came as a shock to them, and frankly, to me and my friends, that you were so tired of favored tax treatment for the special few who didn't really need it, that you would be willing to vote for a comparatively unknown man.

Take a look at the names of the men which appeared in the Sanford Herald advertisement Monday who said they were for the Write-In-Candidate. The vast majority of them are either extremely rich and owners of large acreage or the people who work for them. They certainly are not fooling me into believing they were ever for me in the first place and I don't believe they will fool you either. However, I assure them that if I do sit on the Board of County Commissioners, I will give them fairer treatment than they have shown me. All I want, and I believe, all you want is that each one of us pay our fair share of the tax burden of this county—not one cent more—and NOT ONE CENT LESS!

It is my sincere hope that the employees of certain industries in this county will not be intimidated by the threats which have been made to use other methods of transportation—or competing lines — or different feeds, seeds and fertilizers if they do not vote for the Write-In-Candidate. He should be able to stand on his own merits without any coercion on the part of any or all of his supporters.

I apologize to those of you who feel a keen sense of disappointment in my having committed an error of judgment in driving home while under sedative. I hope you can find it within your hearts to recognize that each of us, at one time or another, errs.

WATCH FOR FRIDAY'S DISCLOSURES

Seminole Will Form 'Committee Of 100'

The Seminole County "Committee of 100" will be organized Nov. 11 at a meeting in the Sanford Civic Center.

This committee will have as its goal the location of more industry. It will be composed of business and professional leaders from all sections of the county, from all segments of the economy. It will serve as the voice of the people when industry wants to know how the average man or woman in Seminole County feels about new industrial plants.

The Committee of 100 will be an independent organization. Its funds, at the outset, will come from the Chamber of Commerce. The organization will elect its own officers, committee chairman, conduct its own affairs.

Black Cleveland Jr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, said the committee is patterned after similar organizations in other cities. Cleveland said the local group selected the "most successful" such organization it could find to serve as a guide.

Officials believe that the Committee of 100 will provide Seminole County with a much stronger voice in its battle to win new payrolls for the county's growing population. Cleveland said prospective industrialists often inquire about the reaction of the people when looking over the county as a possible location.

This committee will be Seminole County's answer. Industrialists will know that they are welcome. This will not be the Chamber of Commerce talking. It will be representatives from all groups, all areas.

A similar organization was formed once before in the county. It did not survive. This was due, largely, to the limitations placed on membership and participation, officials said. The new committee should serve as a continuous voice.

The Herald believes such a committee is needed. We believe that the group can accomplish much for this county and its people.

Spending Road Funds

The Florida Highway Users Conference has called for a "realistic appraisal" of road revenue spending. At the same time, the organization went on record as opposed to any increase in taxes on gasoline or motor vehicles.

Sydney O. Chase Jr., Sanford, chairman of the conference, said that state motorists already carry 40 per cent of the state's total tax load in highway levies. In addition, motorists pay all of the same general taxes paid by other groups.

Chase said that $18 million from license tags is allocated for county school capital outlay. He said $31 million from the sale of tags goes into the state's general fund. This, he charged, is diverting the funds from their proper channel—construction of roads and highways.

He predicted that Florida eventually must see the wisdom of enacting laws to protect road funds. In 27 states, revenue from road-users is earmarked for roads and highways.

The Highway Users Conference makes several good points in its statement. If the state is to keep present roads repaired, and build badly-needed new highways, adequate funds must be available.

Too, there should be a limit on the taxes that any one group should be asked to pay.

OCTOBER'S NUT BROWN ALE

Fred Othman Says

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
WASHINGTON, D.C. — The man says put up or shut up. If I want an automobile with a crank, a step to get in, no fenders to dent, and a general backward look, he makes 'em. Just write a check for $1,025.

So there I was, pondering quietly his brochure on a 1901 merry Oldsmobile as a manufactured today in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., when in dropped a friend of mine from Evansville, Ind. He said the whole town was interested in its new factory now making, on a modern production line, street lights that burn gas, also as in 1901.

Whether this indicates a return of high-button shoes, mustache cups, dust ruffles, lic-tie whips, sleeve garters, horse ears, ten-men buttons, tinypies, checker collars, brass-bound brewery wagons, flypaper, torchlight ax-ades, horseshair sofas and was fruit under glass, I do not know. But I'm beginning to wonder.

The merry Olds, as made in Florida by the American Air Products Corporation and distributed by Old Time Autos, Ltd., of New York, gives a fellow passenger. It is a genuine buckboard automobile with a tiller bar, a horn with a rubber base for squeaking, tires something like those on a bicycle, and a seat up high for two — who'll have a better view than through a panoramic windshield. The Olds has no glass front; you get the full benefit of the breeze.

A crank is standard equipment. If you want an electric starter and a generator system, that's optional equipment at extra cost. The man said he had been reading the ad about all the fancy fins on the other 1959 cars. The new Olds has no fins; it doesn't even have fenders. Ride this car at high speeds through the mud and you need a linen duster.

The specifications claim the four-horsepower engine will run her at 38 miles an hour top speed and get 67 miles to the gallon. Let any other car in production today match that.

The 1901-model Olds will come out of the factory at the rate of somebody came along with a newly perfected and exceedingly efficient gas mantle that glows white when lit.

This resulted obviously in the manufacture of street lamps that burn gas. These now are being 2,000 during the next 12 months and the following year, if the demand holds up, at 8,000. And that brings us to those gas lights on the street corner.

My pal from Indiana said the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company opened a whole back in Evansville a plant in manufacture some unnamed cities to light their streets with gas. Then turned out at the rate of 1,500 a day. Demand was so great, my friend said, that when the management saw newspaper ads offering old-time gas lights ripped from the streets of Baltimore. It bought the entire stock to supplement its own production.

My man said that many a private citizen is buying such a lamp to illuminate his driveway, lighting it with a match, and forgetting it. It burns night and day at a cost of something under 40 cents a month, he said.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS
PORTLAND, Ore. — "Forget the party label. Forget that you're a Republican or a Democrat. We've got to unite all the people of Oregon."

The speaker is 36-year-old Mark Hatfield, the Republican candidate for governor and his words are a measure of the extraordinary transformation that has come over the Pacific Northwest. What has happened here should be a grisly lesson to Republicans everywhere looking in 1959 and contemplating the decay of the party organization.

This was one Republican territory almost as reckoned as Maine. Winning the Republican nomination for office in the primary you were virtually guaranteed election. Only in rare years of deep economic trouble did the Democrats come out of the woodwork to benefit from a national tide.

Today all that is changed. The Democrats have 53,000 more registered voters than the Republicans out of a total of more than 800,000, a margin undreamed of 20 years ago. With an extensive organization of which labor is perhaps the most important element they are conducting a grassroots get-out-the-vote drive.

Democratic incumbents are rated as almost certain to hold the three congressional seats they now have. Walter Sorensen, the Republican in the fourth of these seats is in danger. Neither of the two Senators, Richard Neuberger and Wayne Morse, both Democrats, is up this year.

In the neighboring State of Washington the forecasts show that Senator Henry M. Jackson will win something like a landslide. His Republican opponent, William Banta, a former United States District Attorney, is said to be running merely a trial heat in preparation for a later effort. Of Washington's seven House seats, the Democrats now hold one and they are given a fair to good chance to pick up two more.

It is not to be wondered at, then, that Hatfield is making a strong non-party appeal. A former political science professor and dean of students who looks like the all-American egghead, Hatfield is pushing a resourceful campaign. He says the polls show him leading Governor Robert D. Holmes, and he is confident that he will win even though he readily concedes that the Democratic majority in the state legislature will be larger than ever. Elected to fill an unexpired two-year term, Holmes has been having familiar difficulties with the demand for more schools and highways and at the same time lower taxes. His backers believe that with the Democratic tide he will be narrowly pulled in along with the others on his ticket.

Why should this transformation have occurred in what was once safe Republican territory? There are many answers, but two — one immediate and one long range seem to be most relevant.

Dependent on lumber, agriculture and minerals and, in Washington, the aircraft industry, the Pacific Northwest felt only a faint breath of the Eisenhower prosperity. The recession hit hard and there are still pockets of unemployment. The Democrats blame the Eisenhower Administration for stopping the New Deal public power program which they insist is essential to a state still in the first phases of industrial development. Governor Holmes has wired the Federal Reserve Board protesting the recent hike in interest rates as likely to damp down the housing industry again, and housing is vital to Oregon, with 65 percent of payroll in forest products.

But what has long-term significance is the fact that there is

Butler University Men Elect Carol Nutt Homecoming Queen

Miss Carol Nutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Nutt, was chosen Homecoming Queen at Butler University, Indianapolis, Ind., during Homecoming festivities the weekend of Oct. 18. Carol's parents drove to Indianapolis for the event and report a wonderful time. While there they attended all the festivities, including the parade. Carol was the girl selected by the Women's Residence Hall to compete for the honor with girls representing the sorority houses. Men on the campus voted for the queen and the outcome was kept secret until the pep rally held Oct. 17. At the rally Carol was crowned by the captain of the football team and presented an orchid from the president of the University. Saturday afternoon Butler defeated Valparaiso during the half-time the queen and her court were escorted to the center of the field.

where she was presented with a bracelet and a spray of roses from the Alumni Association. Before the Ball Carol and her escort, John Moses, a quarterback on the team, had dinner at the Key West shrimp house with the football team. At the Ball that night she was crowned again, this time with a rhinestone tiara. She was presented with a trophy and another spray of roses. Carol is a sophomore. During her freshman year at the Fall university Carol was May Day Queen, Watermelon Queen, and runner-up in the Photo Flash State Beauty Contest.

A professional auctioneer will be on hand for two auctions to be held in connection with the Southside School Halloween carnival this Friday night. The first sale of white elephant items will begin at 7:30 p. m. with auctioneer Herb Collier telling to the highest bidder. The last will begin at 8:30 and will continue until all left over items are disposed of.

In addition the carnival will feature two dance programs to be presented by the students of the Deanna School of Dance.

The committee in charge of the pony rides has announced that they have secured additional ponies and a cart for this year's carnival. This booth is always a leading attraction with children standing in line for hours just for the chance of a ride. It is the hope of the committee that better service will be afforded, in that a horse may ride in the cart at one time.

The initiation ceremony was followed by a banquet celebrating the sixth anniversary of Rho Chapter. Dr. Edna Parker, state president of Delta Kappa Gamma, was the guest speaker. Also attending from Seminole County was Mrs. Margaret Gout.

Where Do Food Dollars Go?

Editor's Note: Your acquaintance with the facts in this dispatch will not reduce the cost of a sirloin steak at your neighborhood butcher counter, nor change the price of milk. But it WILL help you figure out whether you are getting the most for your food dollars.

By BERNARD BRENNER
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The amount of money you spend on food and the type of food you eat depend not only on how much you earn, but also on where you live.

For meals, which account for a full quarter of the total national food bill, what you eat and spend depends both on type of community and the region in which you live.

The data shows there are some regional differences in food buying habits. In the south for example, the average housewife spends less at the grocery store than women in other sections. In the northeast, a housewife shopping for meat is more likely to bring home a leg of lamb than she would be in any other section.

How much does your location affect your grocery bill? If you live in the city, your cash outlay is likely to be double the amount spent by a farmer.

The 1955 survey indicated all urban families spent an average of $8.90 per person for food each week. Farm families, although they ate more total food, spent only $4.21 per capita weekly. Rural non-farm families were in between, with an average per capita food bill of $6.20.

For meals, which account for a full quarter of the total national food bill, what you eat and spend depends both on type of community and the region in which you live.

The surveys show that city families use more beef and less pork than farm families, and sharply more veal and lamb.

Housewives in the west buy more beef than in any other part of the country. Western families eat more than three times as much beef as southern city families and nearly five times as much as southern farm families.

If you live in the south, on the other hand, chances are you buy more pork than the average family in any other part of the country.

Family income also has an important influence on meat spending, the studies indicate. Government economists said that in many cases, spending shifts from cheap to costly items as family income goes up.

Low income families reported in the 1955 survey showed that they paid an average of 94 cents a pound for meat. High income families paid an average of 66 cents.

What does all this mean for the future?

Population experts have predicted a steadily rising national population combined with a continued decline in the number of farmers. With a greater percentage of families taking on the buying habits of the urban and rural non-farm groups, food spending may rise faster than the increase in population.

Agriculture department experts believe the combination of rising incomes may shoot the average family's food spending up by one-third to as much as one-half by 1970, measured in 1954 dollars.

The greatest spurt in food spending, the experts believe, will come in the South where the "back-to-the-land" movement is gaining momentum. Moving from city to farm, the national food bill will rise in other sections.

Food spending per person in the South rose 30 percent more than in the rest of the country in the next 20 years.

Here's why. The rice pudding is spiced by the addition of raisins and cinnamon. These two ingredients normally make a hit with children. The pork chops are first broiled well. They are then placed atop the rice mixture in a greased baking dish, covered and baked in a 350 degree F. oven for 40 minutes. The dish is then uncovered and baked an additional 15 minutes.

Let Junior Help

CHICAGO (UPI)—Mom can lighten household chores by teaching Junior to make his bed before school.

Experts at a bedding manufacturing firm (Sealy, Inc.) recommend this quick and easy method for teaching the small fry.

Treat all covers (except the bottom sheet) as a single cover. This cuts the time in half.

Line up hems of top sheet, blankets, and spread at the bottom. With the hems even, flick the bedding forward over the length of the bed and tuck in all covers at once under the mattress and only the bedding will hang straight and neatly along the sides.

Pump pillows and arrange bedding under and over them. It works for Mom, too.

After Seminole Defeat, Vols Make Big Changes

United Press International
Tennessee Coach Bowden Wyatt is making some sweeping changes in the Vols' team that lost 35-0 to Florida State last week, but says it will be several days before he makes them public.

Backfield Shines In Miami Drills

CORAL GABLES (UPI)—Imminent backfield and Miami coaches talking about a "rework" today as the Hurricanes prepared for Friday's scrap with Vanderbilt. Coach Andy Gustafson said the revamped offense seems to be "gelling" off. He particularly mentioned the alternate backs.

The Hurricanes will be looking for their second victory after three defeats this year when they meet Vandy in the Orange Bowl Friday night.

Dawkins Running

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UPI)—Halfback Pete Dawkins is running at near full speed again and probably will be in the lineup Saturday when Army plays college at Miami Stadium.

Dawkins, who suffered a charley horse in his left leg against Virginia, was used in only one play last Saturday in Army's 10-0 loss to West Pittsburgh.

plucky and resourceful Seminoles pushed them all over the field Saturday.

Tennessee meets arch-rival North Carolina this weekend, and Wyatt apparently is looking for a combination that will get his team back on the credit side of the ledger.

Practice fields were busy all around the Southeastern Conference today—particularly at Mississippi and Louisiana State, one of which will spoil the other's perfect season record this weekend.

Vanderbilt Coach Art Guape ordered both offensive and defensive drills Tuesday and gave the reserves plenty of work. The freshmen ran Miami pass plays against the varsity.

The Auburn Plainsmen worked against Florida defenses. The Gators were the last team to defeat Auburn, and that was back in 1956.

There was bad news on the Florida campus. First-string left end Don Fleming was confined to bed with flu and there was some doubt he would be recovered by game time.

The Kentucky Wildcats and the Mississippi State Maroons continued getting in shape for their game this week. Fla also has attacked the Kentucky squad, halfback Bobby Cravens being the latest victim.

Tulane speeded up its practice, splitting up into two groups for defensive scrimmage Tuesday. The Greenies play Texas Tech Friday night and will begin tapering off Thursday.

Indicators to both Georgia and Georgia Tech Tuesday. Shifts were being made to fill gaps on the Bulldogs' starting unit. The Yellow Jackets, anxious to avoid further injuries, had a light session.

RALPH 'SNUG' JORDAN, AUBURN COACH, CAN'T IMPROVE ON LAST YEAR'S PERFECT SEASON BUT SEEMS TO BE ANOTHER WINNER OF HIS HANDS.

Bayou Bengals Favored To Top Ole Miss Rebels

NEW YORK (UPI)—Odds-makers today favored Louisiana State, a six-point favorite over Mississippi for Saturday night's "meeting of the unbeaten" that may well decide the Southeastern Conference championship.

Both squads sport identical overall records of 6-0 for the Baton Rouge, La., encounter, with LSU winning three SEC games to Mississippi's two.

In the featured Big Ten contest, top-ranked Iowa is an eight-point favorite over Michigan at Ann Arbor, while Wisconsin is the choice by six over Michigan State in the nationally televised game at East Lansing, Mich.

Second-ranked Army, buffed from the perfect list by virtue of its tie with Pittsburgh last weekend, is a 12-point pick over Colgate.

Oakland, Notre Dame and Southern Methodist hold slight edges in the weekly odds. Oklahoma is seven over Colorado for their Big Eight conference showdown at Boulder, Colo. Notre Dame is three over Navy at Baltimore, Md., and SMU is a three-point choice over Texas in a Southwest Conference clash at Austin, Tex.

Three weekend games are rated tossups. They are Duke vs. Georgia Tech, Georgia vs. Alabama, and UCLA vs. Washington State. Point spreads for other leading games:

East: Cornell 14 over Columbia, Harvard 6 over Pennsylvania, Princeton 4 over Brown, Dartmouth 3 over Yale and Pittsburgh 1 over Syracuse.

Midwest: Purdue 7 over Illinois, Minnesota 1 over Indiana, Ohio State 6 over Northwestern, Missouri 6 over Nebraska and Kansas State-Kansas even.

South: Clemson 5 over Wake Forest, North Carolina State 4 over Virginia Tech, Auburn 4 over Florida, Virginia Military 4 over Virginia, Mississippi State 3 over Kentucky, South Carolina 3 over Maryland.

Southwest: Houston 11 over Tulsa, Texas Christian 10 over Baylor and Texas A&M 4 over Arkansas.

Far West: Southern California 6 over Stanford, Oregon 3 over Washington, Oregon State 1 over California.

Greasy Neale Says Brown 'Greatest'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jimmy Brown, professional football's greatest "big wedge," was labeled by former coach Greasy Neale today as the "best pro back of all time."

Brown is the former Syracuse All-American who was the pro game's rookie of the year last season. This time around he is going to knock the all-time yardage and scoring records of such as Steve Van Vleet and Don Hutson into a cocked hat.

"He is out of this world," says Neale, who coached Van Brown to greatness. "Brown has to be as good as any back who ever played—and probably better."

Club Passed Up Brown
One thing that puzzled Neale is how four clubs—Green Bay, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Pittsburgh—could have bypassed Brown when he was no better than the sixth pick draft choice in 1954.

"It's a mystery to me," says Neale of the 23-year-old 220-pound fullback who even the most cautious observers are calling "the greatest since Jim Thorpe."

"I saw three men trying to stop him and he ran right through them. Now, imagine what the greatest will be like all records in only eight games, and that leaves him four more games in which to boost them out of everybody's sight—except his own."

Neale isn't critical of Brown when he criticized defensive play in football today as "not as good as it used to be."

"I'll have to admit that maybe Brown benefits somewhat from the weaker defenses as the teams try to stop the passer," he explained.

$1 Million Spent For Young Talent, Tebbets Reports

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves paid out more than one million dollars in the past year for young talent and will not have to trade to win their third straight National League pennant in 1958, executive vice-president Birdie Tebbets reported.

Tebbetts, baseball's newest executive who has become heir apparent to the Braves' presidency, told a press club audience Monday that during the 1957 season Milwaukee was "75 per cent stronger" than any other team in the league.

"I've always believed a championship club has to be 25 per cent better than the others," the former manager of the Cincinnati Reds was quoted as saying to the group by baseball writer Leo Chapman of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

"And the Braves, despite their injuries, were more than 25 per cent stronger than the rest of the teams in the National League last year to win," Tebbets said.

Tebbetts said he was completely in the dark about reports that shortstop Johnny Logan, who in the 1958 season had about his worst year in major league baseball, might be traded.

He also said the Braves finally gave pitcher Gene Cooney permission to play professional basketball this season because Cooney is an exceptional case. He had his greatest season in the majors the year he played basketball.

Tebbetts tabbed his former Redlegs as the toughest team in the league next season after the Braves and then listed Los Angeles and Pittsburgh as the perennial contenders.

Flu, Injuries Hurt Chances Of Gators

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Injuries and illness may cause several changes in the University of Florida's starting lineup Saturday when the Gators play once again in a Southeastern Conference headliner.

Don Fleming, the Gators' star left end, joined the list of doubtful participants Tuesday when he was confined to bed with the flu. He is unable to play, his place will be filled by either Pat Patsen or Perry McGriff.

Also listed as "doubtful" starter are end Dan Edgington, with a sprained wrist, halfback Billy Booker, and left tackle Dick Brandley.

Halfback Don Lundy, who started the first two games, is reported recovering from injuries suffered in the Mississippi State game and may be ready to go again against Auburn.

Another heavy scrimmage was scheduled today for the Gators.

Longden Hopeful Of Riding Again

ARCADIA, Calif. (UPI)—Johnny Longden, all-time riding champion with more than 1,000 victories to his credit, said today he was hopeful that he could resume riding this winter at Santa Anita.

The 30-year-old Longden, who says he has no thoughts of retiring, has been hobbling around on crutches since fracturing a leg at Del Mar on Sept. 7. He discarded the crutches Monday.

Squadron 11 Ends Month's Training; Many Back Home

Heavy Attack Squadron Eleven has returned from a one-month training cruise in the Caribbean area.

VAH-11 operated from the aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt and from the U. S. Naval Air Station, Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

The majority of the training period was spent in day and night qualifications of the crews for landing the mammoth A3D Skywarrior aboard the FDR. The A3D is the largest aircraft in the U. S. Navy to be taken aboard an aircraft carrier, a virtual sea going naval air station.

Concurrent with the CarQuals, as carrier qualifications are called, the crews of VAH-11 were training for their primary mission, which is high and low level bombing.

Simulated bombing attacks were carried out against many Radar Bomb Scoring Sites (RBS) in the US and the Caribbean. Some of the sites in which these sites are located are Jacksonville and Tampa and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Five bombs were actually dropped on target range at Montita Island of the west coast of Puerto Rico.

At the completion of the training period VAH-11 participated in its first operational Readiness Inspection of the fiscal year 1959. This is a theoretical problem in which the squadron simulates actual war strike missions and are judged on their effectiveness.

After the completion of an Operational Readiness Inspection, the squadron started its return to NAS Sanford on Oct. 24. Many of the men in the squadron flew back home to Sanford, both by squadron aircraft and Navy aircraft, while others remained aboard the USS FDR and will return from Mayport.

The National Automobile Club estimates that traffic accidents in the U. S. in 1957 took one life every 13 minutes.

New Pope: Successful Vatican Diplomat 27 Years

United Press International
"Traveller of God" — fully a pastor — "a man who always sees the good side of things."
These are a few of the descriptions used by those who know the new Pope, elevated from Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli.
He also is described as the good-natured son of an Italian shoemaker. He has served 27 years as a successful Vatican diplomat.

the chance to devote himself at last to episcopal work.
Finest Work
"Here I have a new chance," he said at the time, "to be entirely a pastor. I am convinced that the ministry of the pastor is the most fascinating, the finest that a man can be offered in his life."
A radiant smile lighted his severe but kindly face.
As a cardinal, the 74-year-old prelate's door was always open to anyone — friend or foe.
It was this openness and his humorous joviality that earned him success in one of the most difficult posts in Vatican diplomatic history — nuncio to Paris in the stormy postwar years, when French leaders had not forgotten that the Vatican had maintained relations with the wartime Vichy government.

Slowly and steadily he sowed the seeds of good will and when he left the Paris post in 1953 after more than eight years, relations between the Vatican and France were excellent.
Tough on Reds
His tolerance and forbearance could not be taken for appeasement. When the Christian Democrats of Venice in 1948 started talking of forming a city government with the pro-Communist Socialists of Pietro Nenni, he issued a pastoral letter which mined no words in condemning the idea from a religious viewpoint.
Cardinal Roncalli became known as a learned historian and art lover. He speaks Italian, Latin, Greek, French and some Turkish, which he learned as apostolic delegate in Istanbul. He also is familiar with German, Spanish, Rumanian and has some knowledge of Oriental languages.
He is a native of a small North

Italian village and his church career was unexceptional.
Farming Family
He was born Nov. 25, 1881 in the village of Sotto il Monte near Milan, the third of 13 children. One of his sisters and two of his brothers still live there on the family farm. The family has been there for five centuries.
His father had counted on Angelo Giuseppe to help him in the fields, but when at the age of 11, his third child and eldest son said he wanted to be a priest, the father raised no objection.
The boy went to study first at the Bergamo seminary from 1892 to 1900, then at the Apollinare seminary in Rome where he graduated in theology in 1904 at the age of 22.
He was ordained a priest in the Rome church of Santa Maria in Montesanto Aug. 10, 1904.

British County, Rhode Island, and Bristol County, Massachusetts, are believed to be the only counties sharing the same name that also border on each other in the U. S.

Six Days In Mine, 12 Men Alive; 57 Others Are Dead

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (UPI) — Twelve grimy coal miners trapped for six days in a dark tunnel of their wrecked mine were brought out safely early today to cheering relatives and friends who had given them up for dead.

The 12 survivors, discovered Wednesday when rescue workers pushed a pipe through the debris that imprisoned them, appeared to be in good condition although one was reported to have a broken leg. Some of them grinned and waved wildly to the crowds that the good news brought to the pithead.

Women and husky mine workers wept with unabated joy as the men were hauled from the depths of the continent's deepest coal mine on slope-climbing carts called "trucks."

Others unaccounted for — But mine officials said there "is no hope for 57 more miners" unaccounted for today. The intergranular gas "blow" or "bump" that ruined the Cumberland Coal company's mine No. 2 struck last Thursday when 174 men were working. During the next few hours 81 men were rescued or made their way out and 24 bodies were recovered.

The men were discovered alive at 1:45 p. m. Wednesday, but it took rescue workers more than 12 hours to break through to the life-saving pocket where the men had been entombed since 7:30 p. m. last Thursday. The pocket kept poisonous gases from the men and trapped with them enough air to keep them alive, rescue workers specialized.

This Whisky Was Real Snake Poison

ATLANTA (UPI) — Two patrol men emptying a sack of bottled moonshine whisky reached in four times and brought out four half pints.

On the fifth draw, Pat G. P. Hicks and R. B. Harfield said, "out came a 14th snake. They said they kept it stomped the snake and finished it off by dousing it with some of the whisky."

Crash Kills Negro

WEST HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Paul Carlisle, 22, a Fort Lauderdale Negro, was killed Wednesday when a truck slammed into another truck stopped for a traffic light.

Atom Can Bring Variety Of Rich Benefits To All

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The men in charge of the U.S. atomic project hope the world won't reject use of nuclear explosives for peaceful ends.

They believe the atom's violence can be made to produce not a harvest of death and desolation but a rich variety of benefits for all mankind.

For this reason Chairman John A. McCone and his colleagues on the Atomic Energy Commission hope the East and West in test ban negotiations starting Friday in Geneva will exempt peaceful nuclear explosions.

Americans Capture Coveted Prize For Cancer Research

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI) — Three American scientists won the 1958 Nobel Prize for Medicine today for their pioneer work in genetics — studies that could lead the way to a cure for cancer.

One-half of the $41,250 award went to George Wells Beadle, professor at the Rockefeller Laboratories, Pasadena, Calif., and Edward Lawrie Tatum, professor at the Rockefeller Institute, New York, for their discovery "that genes act by regulating definite chemical events."

The other half of the prize went to Joshua Lederberg, professor at the University of Wisconsin, for his discoveries concerning "genetic recombination and the organization of the genetic material of bacteria."

The awards were made by the staff of Sweden's medical research center, the Karolinska Institute, which said the American discoveries would have a strong influence on the search for a cure for cancer.

Discuss Pasternak Uproar — Today's announcement completed Stockholm's part in awarding Nobel prizes this year. However, it was overshadowed by the rejection of the Nobel Prize for literature by Russian writer Boris Pasternak. The Swedish Academy will meet later today to discuss the situation created by his renunciation of the award.

'Hiroshima' Sized Blast Detonated; Record For Power

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI) — The most powerful underground explosion in world history violently rocked a lonely desert mesa today as atomic scientists detonated a "Hiroshima" sized device 850 feet beneath the earth's surface.

The device, dubbed Blanca, blasted the core of the mesa from its cavern below ground at the end of a 3,000-foot tunnel. It dislodged millions of tons of rock and dust as scientists raced the clock to meet a proposed test deadline.

Scientists rated Blanca, which relinquished its devastating might through nuclear fission at 7 a. m. p. m., as equal to 20,000 tons of TNT.

The A. E. C. officials said it was the largest manmade underground explosion ever "we know of."

The blast was felt as a rumbling earthquake to observers some 40 miles from ground zero. A huge, dirty cloud of dust rose from the mesa top an instant after the blast and towered 2,000 feet into the clear morning air. Rocks tumbled down the mesa edge.

An atomic bomb with the same "blast" rating leveled the city of Hiroshima, Japan, during World War II, leaving 14,500 dead and bringing that country's surrender a week later.

Felt In East — Blanca sent its shock waves rippling under the earth's surface to be picked up on seismographs at such distant points as New York and Alaska. Seismic readings on an Oct. 15 blast with less than half the yield of Blanca, were made on the Atlantic seaboard.

Debbie Reynolds Enters Hospital

HURDANK, Calif. (UPI) — Actress Debbie Reynolds who broke up her "ideal" marriage with singer Eddie Fisher after he squandered Elizabeth Taylor around New York last month was hospitalized Wednesday.

The petite, 26-year-old Miss Reynolds probably will be kept in the hospital until Friday, Dr. Charles Levy said. She was reported suffering from exhaustion and acute indigestion.

Postmasters Plan Sanford Meeting

Sanford will be host to the postmasters in Florida's Fifth District on Nov. 9.

In addition, state officers have been invited to the meeting, which will be held in the Civic Center. Field service officers also are expected to attend.

Official host for the meeting will be Sanford Postmaster Joel Field.

Contract Accepted

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — Union workers at two big atomic plants voted early today to accept a new contract, but following the vote members of a machinists' local renewed their picketing of the plants.

Refrigerator Law Goes Into Effect

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A curly-haired 3-year-old boy climbed into a refrigerator and the door slammed shut.

His mother found him five hours later — dead. Tiny finger marks on the inside of the refrigerator door testified to his efforts to escape.

A federal law aimed at eventually ending such "free box deaths" went into effect today.

The law requires that all refrigerators sold in interstate commerce must be constructed so a small child can open them from the inside.

Must Open Easily — Refrigerator doors must be built so they will open when — Not more than 15 pounds of pressure is applied from the inside where the handle is located.

—Or, an inside knob requiring not more than five pounds of pressure is turned.

—Or, some automatic device requiring not more than 15 pounds of pressure to operate.

Congress passed the law in 1956 and directed the administration to draw up specific requirements.

Many refrigerator manufacturers have been installing the required safety features for some time.

The law requires that all refrigerators sold in interstate commerce more than a dozen children a year on the average are trapped in refrigerators and ice boxes and reach 26.

Most of the deaths have involved children becoming trapped in abandoned ice boxes or unused refrigerators. However, some have involved refrigerators in use.

UP GOES THERMOMETER—The United Fund climate was warmer today, some $2,000 worth. Marcel Fallo stands on a ladder to paint the new "temperature" to the $11,000 mark.

United Fund Climbing; Total Passes $11,000

The Seminole County United Fund climbed past the $11,000 mark today, Roy Mann, campaign treasurer, announced.

The "big rush" came from Odham & Tudor. Employees of the firm gave $750. This amount was matched by the company. Art Harris, representing Odham & Tudor, yesterday presented checks and pledges to Harold Kastner, UF president, totaling more than $2,000. Harris is the chairman of the building and suppliers division of the UF drive.

Russia Gets Tough On Nuclear Tests

GENEVA (UPI) — The Russians assumed a tough attitude today against Western proposals to suspend nuclear weapon testing for one year. There were reports the United States and Britain would refuse to budge from their position on a firm control system.

Diplomatic sources said the two countries would tell Russia an agreement to end the tests without proper controls would be worthless.

But Radio Moscow, quoting the newspaper Sovetskaya Russia, said the Soviet Union would continue to explode nuclear weapons until the West agreed to an immediate cessation of nuclear tests.

The Russian news reports said the Communists would reject the proposal of a one-year suspension.

This Whisky Was Real Snake Poison

ATLANTA (UPI) — Two patrol men emptying a sack of bottled moonshine whisky reached in four times and brought out four half pints.

On the fifth draw, Pat G. P. Hicks and R. B. Harfield said, "out came a 14th snake. They said they kept it stomped the snake and finished it off by dousing it with some of the whisky."

Crash Kills Negro

WEST HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Paul Carlisle, 22, a Fort Lauderdale Negro, was killed Wednesday when a truck slammed into another truck stopped for a traffic light.
