CROCIAL QUESTION

The chance is good that Bobby will get the right answer... that is, if Bobby has been given sufficient knowledge to put this problem within the limits of his capability!

And don't believe that any of these new electronic brains are any smarter than Bobby. Before one of them undertakes its task it must be fed every fact essential to arriving at an accurate solution.

Many folks worry about the youth of our nation. Too many boys and girls are coming up with tragically wrong answers to some of life's crucial questions. But there is nothing inherently wrong with our youth. We simply must provide them, early enough and continuously, with the moral and spiritual understanding which life's problems demand.

The right program of religious training today will make possible right answers tomorrow.

Taxes, Welfare Brake Urged

By JACK LIVELY
"Touch the brake before it is too late" cautioned Attorney General Earl Faircloth, of Florida, in addressing the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees Saturday night at the Sanford Civic Center during the annual Distinguished Service Award banquet.

Democratic Attorney General Faircloth was formally introduced to the Jaycees, their wives and guests by Republican Sen. Kenneth Plante, of Altamonte Springs.

In presenting the top trophy, the "Distinguished Service Award," Wayne Albert, Jaycee president, outlined the role of C. Howard McNulty, winner of the award, in the civic, commercial and political activities of the Sanford community.

McNulty, president of the Florida State Bank of Sanford, and an attorney as well, jokingly made the remark on acceptance of the plaque, "I am probably the first lawyer ever applauded by the Jaycees."

Longwood City Hall Picketed

By DONNA BERTS
Expectant mothers, women with infants in arms and others with their young children following close behind picketed the Longwood City Hall, some 60 strong Saturday for more than three hours demanding that H. D. Shinn be reinstated as police chief.

While the demonstrators were marching in orderly fashion two of the councilmen, meeting inside the City Hall to interview an applicant for police chief, were reported to be engaged in a scuffle.

Earlier, Councilman Eugene Jacques, a constant supporter of the police department, arrived on the scene, he unhooked the Council Chamber doors and invited the picketers in.

A scream went up from the crowd. "Mr. Scott hit Mr. Jacques!" the women at the front yelled and the word was quickly passed from one to the other.

Jacques, white-faced and shaking, came out of the Council Chamber, admitted Councilman H. A. Scott had attacked him and said he planned to swear out an arrest warrant charging "assault with intent to do bodily harm."

"He said that I instigated this demonstration and that I should be out here marching with the rest of you," Jacques said. "I told him this was not his mind and I was not admitting the word was quickly passed from one to the other.

Chief Deputy Sheriff J. Q. Galloway arrived 20 minutes after being called and stayed with the councilmen for the remaining hour of their meeting.

It was reliably reported later that Galloway had been told by Councilman James Brown and Williamson that Jacques had attacked both Scott and Brown and that they would swear to this in court.

When the picketers were given this information several women said, "Gene is being framed. We saw it all and he didn't lay a hand on either of them."

The demonstrators kept their picket line moving until after 1 p.m. when they disassembled to "spread the word all over town."

One of the picketers, Mrs. Joyce Lopez, of Longwood, claimed her foot had been hurt when the Council chamber door was slammed on it.

The signs carried by the picketers were inscribed with slogans including "Mayor and Council versus the People," "Impatch Mayor Lorman," "Impatch Mayor Whatkins," "Longwood's Lemon, Al Lorman," while another showed the rear end of a donkey and said, "There's one in every crowd, Impatch Mayor Lorman."

Others said, "I'll trade Mayor and Council for Shinn," "Put Longwood and its People back in good hands—re-instate Chief Shinn," and "We want to have Shinn re-instated."

Shinn, saying he was present only to see that he reported did not break the law in any manner, warned the group of times not to block traffic and to be orderly. At another time during the three hours plus, patriotic songs, "America" and "God Bless America" were sung as well as the hymn, "We Shall Not Be Moved."

Meanwhile, petitions have been circulated throughout the city requesting Council to reinstate the young police chief who was "terminated" at midnight last Sunday. Shinn had earlier reported to the Herald that he planned to resign, effective Jan. 31, but changed his mind and served out his term and the word was quickly passed from one to the other.

ED YARBROUGH Re-Election Sought By Yarbrough

Edward Yarbrough of Geneva announced today he is a candidate for reelection as County Commissioner in District One.

A native of Seminole County, Yarbrough said, "I am completing my first term on the County Commission and feel this experience has qualified me for the work of the next four years of continued growth and expansion."

"I am concerned with the development of all Seminole County and will continue to work for the best interests of all the people with proper consideration and fairness."

Yarbrough is married, the father of four children and a Democrat.

Contracts on paving of Queens Mirror Circle and North Triplic Drive are expected to be awarded at the meeting of the Casselberry City Council scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Women's Club on Overbrook Drive.

Bids were opened at a previous meeting and referred to the city engineer for study and recommendation.

Other items on the agenda include authorization of an ordinance for the purchase of a water cooler for the city office and determination of a method of financing paving.

From the police blotter: "Call from Seminole Hospital: There is a man here who is out pretty bad on the head. He was hit by his wife."

Wonder why Rep. Buddy Berman is making to see what Sen. Em Frazier's ideas are before he decides whether he will run for the Senate or the House? It is rumored that Berman made a visit to the State Capitol but for re-election to the State Senate. In that event, possibly Berman would like to run for Congress in the 1970 election.

A special three-member Senate committee at Tallahassee last week under study the effect of the Seminole County official seeking reinstatement from their suspensions from office by Gov. Claude Kirk.

The case was the topic of an all-day hearing Sunday which lasted from early morning until around 11 p. m. in a Senate hearing room in Tallahassee.

Sen. Ralph Clayton, chairman of the committee, said today the group's findings and recommendations won't be made known until a report is made to the full Senate.

"We'll report after the Senate convenes," Clayton said in a telephone interview from Tallahassee. The Legislature convenes in special session here Jan. 29.

The committee on Sunday heard testimony on the suspensions of Seminole County Justice of the Peace Hugh Dan Johnson and George Kelsey, Oviedo constable.

Kelsey, in a statement to the Herald today, categorically denied charges by a former Wakee constable that he had ever made any request for investigation into the office activities of Justice of the Peace B. A. Johnson or any other public official in Seminole County.

However, Kelsey added that he had, at one time, "taken a woman to a state senator to make complaint about being abused by a judicial officer."

The former investigator, who requested his name be withheld because of professional reasons, stated in an interview with the Herald last week that it had been a request made by Kelsey to investigate Johnson's office. (Continued on Page 2 Col. 7)

Space Ferry Test Today

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The countdown clock today toward an unmanned launch of America's first Lunar Module, an eight-legged space ship which next year may ferry U.S. astronauts to the moon.

A powerful, 10-hour test of the Lunar Module's ability to land on the moon and lift off into earth orbit. There it is to undertake a series of exacting tests to determine whether it is designed properly for the critical job of landing astronauts on the moon and lifting them off.

Duncan, Kelsey Hearings Held

That led to the county-wide purge of law enforcement and judicial officials which resulted in the removal of Sheriff J. L. Hobbs, Sanford Justice of the Peace Hugh Duncan and Kelsey.

The B52s normally carry several hydrogen bombs and orbit the fringes of the North American continent continuously to be within close striking range of the Soviet Union in case nuclear war should erupt.

The accident was the first involving a nuclear bomb aboard a B52 since January 17, 1966, when another B52 was involved in a refueling collision with a KC135 tanker off the coast of Spain.

More Changes Due For Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the surest things about the Social Security system's future is that the earnings base for Social Security taxes will not stay indefinitely at its new high level of $7,800 yearly but will go on rising.

The 1967 revisions which lift the base to that point from the old $6,800 level do not, it is true, provide for further upward change—though the tax rate itself is to be increased many times starting in 1969.

But Social Security authorities are thoroughly convinced that, in an era of constantly rising prices, the earnings base from which the taxes are taken must keep a similar upward pace if the system is to remain strong and healthy.

If the base does not rise with climbing wage levels, they foresee these serious consequences: More and more workers would have earnings higher than the base, and fewer and fewer of them would ultimately get retirement or other benefits related reasonably to their full earnings.

The system's ability to respond financially to new and changing needs would be seriously weakened since a smaller and smaller proportion of the country's payrolls would be subject to Social Security tax contributions.

To finance a given rate of benefits or to increase benefit scales would mean higher and higher tax rates imposed on the same limited base.

A greater and greater part of the program's cost therefore would be thrown on the nation's lower-paid workers — those earning less than the limit fixed by the base.

Some specialists argue that the earnings base could quickly be pushed from the new $7,800 to around $15,000, since at that level the tax would be applied against the full earnings above the new base. In the case of U. S. workers as well as in the late 1960's when the base was just $6,800.

There have been suggestions that a formula be developed to provide for raising the earnings base in automatic stages as wage levels rise.

It is also being argued that, with or without such a feature, rising wage levels seem sure to bring enough added revenue into Social Security coffers to make possible another formula, a secure one and automatically channel new money into the established benefit structure, rather than allow flexible attention to the program's needs to be presently unenforced.

As we have seen earlier in this series, there is mounting talk of drawing more of the program's future financial assistance from the general U. S. Treasury revenues rather than Social Security trust funds.

But now about $1 billion of general revenue surpluses employee-employer tax contributions under the system. By fiscal 1975, it is figured, the regular federal treasury will be paying out $1.8 billion annually for parts of the program.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York has proposed that the total supply $5 per cent of Social Security financing, to make possible far higher benefits and lift more aged folk out of poverty.

But resistance to this is high in many quarters. The self-help aspect of a contributory tax system, Social Security seems to have wide citizen acceptance; a heavy turn to general financing might greatly intensify demands for more benefits such as Medicare. Medicare efforts may prove to be the principal cause. Treasury supplies somewhere around half the money paid out for doctor bills under optional, supplementary medical insurance (patients also pay premiums) in 18 months of Medicare, 28 million doctor bills totaling $1,111,000,000 were paid. The only look is for much, much more of the burdens inherent in every-fighters and others may put upon the continuously enlarging Social Security system in the decades to come.

President Renews Tax Increase Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's administration told Congress today his 10 per cent income tax surcharge is urgently needed—even though federal spending has been cut to reduce the prospective deficit below this year's level.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler urged prompt action by the House Ways and Means Committee whose leaders have indicated they are not satisfied with a budget for the year beginning next July 1 forecasting $14 billion more spending than during the current fiscal year.

Fowler argued the increase is for defense and non-defense expenditures.

Moreover, he said, the normal increase in tax receipts as the economy grows more than covers the higher outlays so that "even if no changes were to be made in existing income and estate tax rates, the budget deficit would be lower in fiscal year 1969 than in fiscal year 1968."

But Fowler told the tax-writing committee the deficit would be reduced "to a point consistent with the stability and security of the United States economy" without a tax increase.

Taxes, Welfare Hit By Faircloth

on "second base" without making any effort to get there.

The Attorney General went on to cite the growing disparity and disorientation for the large of the land and further of the civil disturbances and increase of predatory crime, or crime against a person.

"The politicians on the corner are still and has always been the foremost control factor in curbing all types of crime" he contended, "but our State of Florida, now 80 per cent urban, is sadly lacking in having the required number of police per capita." The State must first restore the citizen's confidence in his protection and secondly do something about the seven to thirty billion dollars pouring into the coffers of organized crime, primarily through their invasion of private enterprise.

A portion of the Joyce Center, that is a man's club, should be of love rather than of men" was utilized by Faircloth to point out the fact that every citizen should have the guarantee of security to person and enjoyment of his property.

In closing the dinner meeting, Faircloth said the Joyce Center is one of the five oldest clubs in the State and has been the Me. 1 club for the past two years. He also announced that the club will be the recipient of the National "Goodwill" Award.

At 8:30 p.m. the club was held at the Joyce Center and was held at the Joyce Center.

Computer Can Translate Talk

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A University of Texas engineer is working on a computer that can convert spoken numbers to electronic signals, and he hopes it will understand everything from a Texas drawl to a Cockney accent.

"We hope we won't have to teach people to talk to the machine," says Dr. C. L. Coates, professor of electrical engineering and computer sciences.

He will describe his research Thursday at a meeting in Houston for local industrialists.

Coates said the machine would be of tremendous practical value as a desk calculator, for instance.

SSJH Ninth Grade Students To Take NEDT

More than 95 ninth grade students at South Seminole Junior High School will take the three hour National Educational Development Test on Saturday morning, Feb. 25, according to John G. Angli, principal.

"The NEDT battery," Angli said, "is a series of tests in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences, and word usage designed to measure students' ability to apply basic learning skills rather than his ability to memorize facts."

"We will use the test to help students, parents, and teachers identify individual strengths and weaknesses in each student's educational development and in making a realistic appraisal of his educational and vocational goals," he added.

Look Far Ahead

What has always been a prominent feature of the Florida citrus industry is the annual citrus and grove show. This year the show is no longer a simple affair, but a major event. It is the first time since World War II that the citrus industry has had a show of this magnitude. The show is being held at the University of Florida, Gainesville, from Oct. 21 to Oct. 25.

The specifics of these proposals, reasons pro and con, and the way in which they are being developed are being developed by the best of professional researchers, engineers, and architects. The show is being held at the University of Florida, Gainesville, from Oct. 21 to Oct. 25.

For instance, the day last week when two new proposals were announced, one was from the Florida County Chamber of Commerce and the other from the Florida Citrus Experiment Station.

Another was presented by the Orange-Seminole Joint Planning Commission which is a joint effort of the two counties. The show is being held at the University of Florida, Gainesville, from Oct. 21 to Oct. 25.

'I ONLY MAKE JOKE'

James Marlow Says:

Political Pro-Am Contest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1968 presidential race at this moment is a contest between professionals and amateurs, with the former letting the latter get the audience warmed up before they come on with their big act.

In short, they're playing it cool as long as they can although before the year is up they'll all probably be overheat.

The amateurs are Michigan's Republican Gov. George Romney and Minnesota's Democratic Sen. Eugene McCarthy. Neither has ever held the presidency before although both have been in politics quite a while.

McCarthy longer than Romney. Watching, perhaps amusedly, are the three old pros who seem to have the best chance: President Johnson and two Republicans, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

All three have been through the most grueling before. All three have had disappointments in their ambitions, an experience which is enough to make them realize eagerness for the presidency isn't enough and that tactics count.

While Romney and McCarthy talk their heads off, the three pros stay more or less mum as they wait for the election.

Hal Boyle Says:

Males Eye Female Courtesy

NEW YORK (AP) — Are American women getting more courteous? A cynic might reply to this query by saying it is impossible. But I keep bumping into a lot of most lately who really make me feel that the courtesy of the sexes is on the increase.

"I just got married last week and I don't see anything at all wrong with women," said the lady dispenser.

"The disillusioned majority, however, felt able to enumerate a number of things wrong with women."

Said male No. 1: "The main thing wrong with women is that there are too many of them. They've got us outnumbered. If there were half as many women as there are, they'd be only half the trouble that they are. It's all a matter of numbers."

Said male No. 2: "What I think is wrong about women is their presumption. They act as though they are the boss. They act as though they are the boss. They act as though they are the boss."

"They are confused, uncertain and capricious in that way. They don't know for certain what they want, but they insist on having it anyway."

"They are afraid now to be merry or kind. They are born not only with a chip on their shoulder but also with a grudge in their heart."

"Women expect for a man to treat them as women while the man is trying to take his job away from him."

"But in the business world they are neither a boon companion nor a half-fellow-well-met. They regard a man as merely something to take advantage of. Even during National Brotherhood Week how many women do you know who look over to take a man to lunch and pick up his check?"

Political Notebook:

How To Curb The Gold Drain

BY RAY CROWLEY, WASHINGTON (AP) — Though calling for more exports, in the main President Johnson is attempting to solve the gold drain negatively by clamping strong controls on the U. S. investment abroad and on foreign travel by Americans for pleasure.

We should be working for positive solutions. The gold drain heavily seems to be due to four factors: We spend more as tourists abroad than we do as investors here; we spend more as tourists abroad than we do as investors here; we spend more as tourists abroad than we do as investors here.

Considerable U. S. assistance to other countries has been in the form of foreign exchange, in return for which we receive large sums abroad in connection with the war in Vietnam and in the economic rehabilitation of these countries.

To help solve these deficits, U. S. federal, state and city officials should be seeking vigorous ways to find out why more foreign investors are not putting their money in the U. S. market.

The benefits and other incentives could be used to lure outstanding foreign companies to this country. There are precedents in our early history.

The import of foreign investment would help reduce the gold drain. It would also bring new talent and new operating techniques into these American industries and individual companies.

If the foreign firms could be induced to invest in the U. S. market, it would mean more jobs for American workers.

The foreign firms could be induced to invest in the U. S. market, it would mean more jobs for American workers.

State governments and local chambers of commerce should find out why more foreign tourists are not attracted to the United States.

The luring of tourists is as much an "export" business as the import of goods.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Tobacco Slavery — One View

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE 5-67; To G, aged 15, is a smart high school senior.

"Dr. Crane," he asked during the forum discussion held at my address in his high school, "if tobacco is so bad for you, why do you smoke?"

"It seems to me they'd be the first ones to quit," he said. "I've experimented during the last year and I've found that I can't quit. I've found that I can't quit. I've found that I can't quit."

Well, the answer is simple. For an experiment during the last year and I've found that I can't quit. I've found that I can't quit. I've found that I can't quit."

Convicted Youth Faces Second Trial

OPRIKA, Ala. (AP) — Edward A. Seibold, accused killer today in the death of a second homicide girl, Sarah Elizabeth, 18, after being sentenced to death for the slaying of her younger sister, Mary Lynn, 9.

An all-male jury Saturday returned the verdict after 90 minutes of deliberation and Circuit Judge L. J. Tynes immediately ordered selection of another jury for the second trial. Tynes, ordered the proceedings until 1 p.m. today after dismissing the empaneled jury.

Seibold is also charged in the bloody Sept. 6 knife-and-shotgun killing of a third girl, Mary Durant, 9, a neighbor who was spending the night at the Seibolds' apartment in Auburn home.

The 21-year-old former Auburn University student said calmly as the verdict was read, but his mother burst into tears and was taken into a witness room.

The judge set his electrocution date for March 15 despite protests from the defense charging the youth was mentally deranged now in spite of his condition at the time of the killings.

Under Alabama law death sentences are automatically appealed to the State Supreme Court. Seibold pleaded insanity but the court ruled he was sane.

Raiders Win Over Lake City 79-75

"We Are Now Number One . . . For Sure!"

By TOM ALLENKORNER Sports Staff
It was the game of the year, and the Raiders' Vernell Ellyay made rebound after rebound in their battle under the stars and stripes.

Coming back in the second half, the SJC Raiders started off the Lake City victory with a 10-0 run. The Raiders replaced the injured Steve Groover at forward. Stokes worked the ball in to Ellyay and then Ellyay would keep the ball moving as he would flip it to sophomore guard John Thomas and then back to Stokes who would shoot from the center stripe for the bucket. Moving the ball and keeping control of it in the final stanza proved the most important phase in the SJC game plan.

As one Sanford fan put it, "watch them. It was really some game."

B52s Pound Red Positions

SAIGON (AP)—Waves of big U.S. Air Force B52 strategic bombers pounded suspected North Vietnamese positions in the embattled Khe Sanh area Monday as fighting died down to only a few rounds of enemy mortar fire.

The huge eight-engine Stratofortress struck four times in 24 hours around the big U.S. Marine combat base at the Khe Sanh that guards the northwest approaches from the dominant zone and Laos into South Vietnam.

The bombers dropped their loads of up to 30,000 pounds of bombs and incendiaries and explosives such as suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations, staging and storage areas in a wide area ranging from three miles southeast of Khe Sanh to 15 miles north of the base.

In addition, Air Force Marine and Navy fighter-bombers flew more than 30 strikes Sunday in support of hard-pressed allied forces who for two days beat off brutal mortar, artillery and ground assaults.

Military officials ordered the 15 B52s to drop their loads of up to 30,000 pounds of bombs and incendiaries and explosives such as suspected North Vietnamese troop concentrations, staging and storage areas in a wide area ranging from three miles southeast of Khe Sanh to 15 miles north of the base.

The Red's then launched mortar and ground attacks on three strategic Marine Hill positions overlooking the Sanh, Hung Hoa and three Marine Combined Action Platoons in the town of Khe Sanh. None of the attacks were serious, U.S. officials reported. The U.S. Command in Saigon said captured enemy documents showed the Communists had planned to funnel 15,000 troops into South Vietnam's northern provinces during the Christmas truce.

The South Vietnamese government announced Sunday it was reducing its cease-fire for Tet, the Lunar new year festival next week, from 48 to 36 hours. A U.S. informant said the purpose was to give the Communists as little time as possible for unimpeded infiltration of men and supplies.

In other ground action Sunday, units of the U.S. 29th Infantry Division reported 27 enemy soldiers killed and 65 wounded in the fighting Saturday and Sunday. The South Vietnamese command

New Landlord Noncommittal On GE Plans For Base

General Electric Corporation and the State of Florida are drafting elaborate plans for the establishment of a large technical-vocational school to train skilled workers at Sanford Naval Air Station.

After the Navy leaves in mid-year, the Sanford Herald learned this morning, the future "landlord" has never been approached about the matter.

The City of Sanford, which has been "premiered" title to the Navy base property by the federal government after the Navy leaves June 30, is non-committal about the matter.

"We read in the newspapers," said City Manager

W. E. Knowles, "that GE is going to place this new school here at the base. Yet, GE nor the state has never approached us for our viewpoint. We have no idea how much land they will need, how many buildings, what municipal services," he added.

While city officials favor such a school to train skilled workers for present and future industry in Central Florida, they "feel they have been slighted" in the early stages of the planning.

A. K. Shoemaker Jr., chairman of the Sanford Industrial Commission, said last week he had received a letter from Gov. Claude Kirk setting up a conference at 1:00 p.m. next Tuesday at the House of Representatives.

Knowles said today that he and Mayor W. Vincent Roberts have received invitations to the conference.

Associated Press, at the request of The Herald, has been attempting to learn for more than two weeks from Kirk's Tallahassee office about the Governor's visit here next week. AP forwarded the following news dispatch this morning:

Gov. Claude Kirk said today there's a "possibility" he'll travel to Sanford next week for a major industrial announcement.

He made the comment when asked if he planned to go to that city for such an event, first responding:

"We're not in a position to state that yet . . . there's a possibility."

Kirk replied "Yes" when asked if the possible development was in connection with the former Naval station at Sanford.

Kirk gave no further information or comment.

City Tables 'Hot Potato'

The "hot potato" of what to do about the property being vacated by the Florida Express and claimed by the Bernard Macfadden Foundation was tossed about considerably last night at the session of the City Commission before it was moved by Commissioner Earl Higginbotham and supported by City Attorney W. C. Hutchison to table the entire question since the City of Sanford does not hold title at this time.

It was reviewed, that at the time the Macfadden Foundation came to Sanford it was represented as a tax-paying entity, according to the city attorney, which asked for a two-year exemption. "This then became a tax-free institution and proceeded to acquire more property on Lake Monroe as it grew," continued Higginbotham, who then questioned the authority of the former commissioners who entered into an agreement with the foundation to sell the disputed property, at cost, to them.

The City Commissioners that the City of Sanford "cannot legally dispose of any property whatsoever that is not in the interest of the people of Sanford."

In other action, the Board authorized the attorney to prepare and post an annotation ordinance for 58.83 acres of Sumner North, which is south of Howell Park and north of Red Bug Road; a water cooler for the city office.

Authorized purchase of a measuring wheel and 100 feet pipe for the road department.

Accepted maintenance bond for the streets in Indian Hills, unit three.

Awarded contract for paving of Queens Mirror West and North Trilbert Drive to Antick Construction Company, low bidder, on recommendation of the city engineer.

Failed to obtain the required two-thirds vote of Council to reconsider the application of Pat Boy Barbecue for sale of beer.

Auto Inspection Delayed

By JACK LIVERY

A public hearing has been set for Feb. 12 in regard to the pending change for the Seminole County Vehicle Safety Inspection Station, by City Commissioners in last night's meeting at City Hall.

The $400 worth of repairs on the southwest corner of 25th Street and Grandview Avenue.

Action was referred by the Commissioners in regard to a request by marina officials for additional work consisting of floodlights, water lines, tree power, etc., when Commissioner A. L. Wilson said, "It is time to call a halt to city support of these activities."

In the business session it was recommended that the city pay Shoemaker Construction Company its final bill of $25,000.00 on the basis of the contract with the sum of $1,025 to cover a damage claim pending action by the construction company's insurance carrier.

A license exemption, based on a 60 per cent veteran's disability, was granted Earl Nettles of Orange City, as a representative for Travelers Auto Association, who said he specialized "in arrest bonds and attorney fees for Negroes arrested in civil disorders, auto mobile violations, etc."

This action to grant the license was moved by Commissioner H. L. Wilborn and seconded by A. L. Wilson.

Officials of both Greyhound and Tamlam bus lines were invited to appear before the Commission on Feb. 12 in regard to service changes in the Seminole-Sanford area.

After considerable discussion with Commissioner Earl Higginbotham that the annual audit of the city's accounts be completed. The Commissioners so voted.

Mayor W. Vincent Roberts a clerk-typist to serve as assistant.

2 Policemen Named At Casselberry

By DONNA ESTES

Two new police officers for the City of Casselberry were appointed by Mayor Curtis Blawie and confirmed by the City Council last night.

Named were Carroll Lee Hill to serve as patrolman and Ernest H. Evans as lieutenant. Hill is currently a resident of North Orlando, but is planning to move to Casselberry. Police Chief James McCall reported. Evans resides in Titusville and was formerly on the police department here. The appointments take effect Feb. 1 and are contingent on FBI clearance.

Authorized purchase of a measuring wheel and 100 feet pipe for the road department.

Accepted maintenance bond for the streets in Indian Hills, unit three.

Awarded contract for paving of Queens Mirror West and North Trilbert Drive to Antick Construction Company, low bidder, on recommendation of the city engineer.

Mize Quits Judge Post

Municipal Judge Vernon Mize, of the City of Sanford, yesterday submitted his resignation to the Board of City Commissioners who regrettably accepted it last night's session at City Hall.

Judge Mize said that his resignation was accepted as soon as possible or March 1, 1968, "whichever occurs first."

His appointment to City Judge was made in January of 1968 following his term as County Judge of Seminole County. Outlined in the letter of resignation was the fact that the "position of Municipal Judge is only a part time judicial position, and I have also been engaged in the general practice of law during this time. In recent months, I have found that due to the increasing case load in our Municipal Court and the demands of a growing law practice, it has become increasingly difficult for me to devote the necessary time to my private law practice."

His resignation was accepted as soon as possible or March 1, 1968, "whichever occurs first."

The Board further voted to request the utility company to stop this morning by the County Commission until a correct maintenance bond on the street is accepted by the Board.

A delegation of residents led by Joseph Kogler and claiming to be representing 100 per cent of their subdivision complained they have been neither considered nor notified by the utility that sewerage lines would be installed.

"The only way we know the lines were going to be installed was through a report to the Sanford Herald," Kogler said. Commission Chairman John Alexander and Commissioner W. Lawrence Swiford again tangled verbally over whether permitting a utility to go into an area is in fact granting a franchise. Both commissioners, however, agreed regulating of the companies is necessary.

In other business the Board: Approved resolutions for both Greyhound Lines and Tamlam Trailways supporting the two companies' efforts to expand services of their respective companies in the state.

John Angel Eyes School Head Post

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

John Angel, principal of South Seminole Junior High School, told the Herald today that he is definitely interested in seeking the Democratic nomination for superintendent of public schools and will make a formal announcement in the near future.

"Seminole County has been good to me and I think I'll serve well for 10 years," said Angel, "and I am ready to put some of this training into practice in terms of the whole county."

"I know Seminole County and its problems and needs," he stated.

Angel revealed that he had had an eye on the county school superintendent post for the past five years.

He has been principal at South Seminole since it opened in 1962 and prior to that was principal at Longwood and Lake Monroe Schools. He served as assistant principal at Sanford Junior High and Pine Crest Schools and has taught in mathematics and science. He holds a master's degree from Ritsion University.

Park Plans To Be Aired

Plans for the proposed regional park located off Highway 441 north of Orlando will be presented by George Huffman of the Orange-Seminole Joint Planning Commission at 8 p. m. today at the auditorium of South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry.

The meeting is being sponsored for the public's information by the South Seminole Women's Club. The proposed park would include among other things, a zoo, museum, camping area and all sorts of recreation facilities. The public is invited.

Promoted

Two promotions in the Florida State Bank were announced today by C. Howard Maltby, president. James R. Springfield and Lyndon C. Heuer were advanced to the official status of assistant cashiers.

Open House Scheduled By Jaycees

Sanford-Seminole Jaycees will host an "open house" at the Jaycee information building Wednesday at 10 a. m.

Ed Vilhen, vice president, told The Herald today that special guests for the event will be the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. He said that all members of the Chamber, business people and any interested Sanford area residents are cordially invited to attend. Coffee, orange juice and donuts will be served.

Jaycee Open House is part of the activities being conducted by the local chapter in conjunction with the nation wide Jaycee Week, Jan. 21-28.

Committee will be made during the "open house" by Jaycee president Wayne Kirby, Chamber president Ken McIntosh and Sanford Mayor Vincent Roberts.

Householders and business houses are warned of two "phoney" today by Sanford police and the sheriff's department.

One man, believed to be from Apopka but giving Winter Garden as his home, seeks yard work. When he gets a job, he asks for pay in advance, all or part, and then departs the scene with no work done.

The second case is a little more serious. A man posing as a Florida security agency at Orlando asks to inspect a business house. A check revealed no such agency. It is believed he may have been "casting" a business house here for a future burglary or robbery.

Robert McGill had a short-lived freedom last night. He managed to open a door from the second floor of the county jail to the roof and made good his escape. He was being held as a suspect in six burglaries. How he was caught? Police dogs trailed him from a house burglary last night.

Lawrence Hodge, of Christman and Chulosta, wants it known he is not the same Lawrence Hodge, of Orlando, mentioned in a police report yesterday as a suspect in the theft of outboard motors.

The old fire engine at the Elks playground on First Street was all "wrapped" this morning. That means some fun-loving kids wrapped it up in fine style with toilet tissue.

Hyacinths were all gone from the Holiday Isle marina this morning, apparently pushed out into the lake. They'll be on the lake back today as long as the Army Corps of Engineers continues to spray along the Upper St. Johns River.

Hot lunches were served for the first time in Seminole County.

"We have waited a long time for this," was the quiet statement by Bookertown's principal, Scipio Bracey, but the pleased smile reflected the happy reaction of his students. On hand for the occasion was William J. Phillips, school superintendent, who said that Monday's action is the result of concerned school officials to better serve the youngsters in the economically deprived area and to gather experience for possible future use.

Called "caterpillar," the food is prepared at Goldboro School and taken in a hot carry-all to Bookertown where there are modern facilities. Round-eyed students eagerly lined up for the meal which was served from steaming pans and placed on disposable plates. This method conceivably could be utilized when the three new schools now under contract and on the drawing boards open, since phase one of construction in each school does not call for a lunch room facility.
