Gatchel Is Appointed Clerk

County Commissioner David Gatchel is the new clerk of the Circuit Court and is expected to be on the job Tuesday.

Gatchel was appointed Saturday by Gov. LeRoy Collins to complete the term of retiring clerk O. P. Herndon. The commission met early today to approve Gatchel's bond and he flew to Tallahassee to receive his commission from the governor.

Appointment of Gatchel to the $10,000 a year clerk's post leaves a vacant seat on the county commission which also will have to be filled through an appointment by the governor.

Among the first duties of Gatchel in the clerk's office will be to appoint a chief deputy to replace E. L. Burdick, who also retired Nov. 6 at the same time Herndon announced that he would leave the office due to ill health.

Gatchel also has served on the Sanford City Commission and as mayor. He gave up the city commission seat to campaign for the county commission and was elected unopposed in the general election last November.

6 Area Clubs Face License Suspension

Six Central Florida Veterans and fraternal clubs including American Legion Post 53 of Sanford pleaded guilty Friday afternoon to possession of gambling equipment at an administration hearing conducted by the State Beverage Department.

Decisions on whether beverage licenses of the defendants will be suspended or revoked will be made after the proceedings are reviewed by Grant Peoples, beverage director.

Agents in the raid on the clubs in August confiscated slot machines, punch boards, bingo paraphernalia and other items.

The raids were part of a statewide investigation involving hundreds of clubs, agents said.

Entering guilty pleas were Eika Lodge 1072, Aralea Park Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4297 and Moose Lodge 768, all of Orlando; Legion Post 33 at Sanford; Legion Post 22 at Cocoa; and Eika Lodge 1873 at Kissimmee.

Space Officials To Check Bases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Space Committee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, has started a series of on-the-spot surveys at military and civilian space installations.

Johnson ordered the committee staff last month to analyze President Eisenhower's plan for transferring the Army's team of experts from Huntsville, Ala., to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Four Are Identified As Orlando Residents

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A National Air Lines DC-7B carrying 42 persons on a midnight flight across the Gulf of Mexico crashed into the open waters early today, apparently killing all aboard.

Search planes reported a number of bodies, many clad in life preservers, floating in the area—about 120 miles east-southeast of New Orleans.

Debris and pathetically empty life rafts bobbed in the turbulent water.

Coast Guard and National Air Lines search planes reported not a sign of life.

The passenger list includes four identified as Orlando residents.

They were listed as R. Alexander, F. M. Page, J. H. Bickstaff and Renfro (no first name given).

The wreckage was found in about 90 feet of water. The Coast Guard said an early report that a section of the tail was sticking above the surface was erroneous.

The debris was spotted simultaneously by a National search plane and by a Coast Guard plane.

The plane last was sighted on an Air Force radar screen at an altitude of 14,000 feet. Then it suddenly dropped off the screen. Whether it plunged suddenly into the Gulf was not known.

Another burning question was why, if the passengers had time to don life jackets, the crew did not radio a distress signal.

If they had issued such a signal "we would have received it," an Air Force officer said.

The Coast Guard said there were "plenty of bodies, life preservers and life rafts" floating in the debris, scattered over about a half-mile radius of the wind-swept Gulf.

The plane was on the Tampa-New Orleans leg of a Miami-Los Angeles flight when it disappeared without a word of warning. It carried 36 passengers, five crew members and a man believed to be with the Federal Aeronautics Administration.

The plane crashed near the area where National Air Lines' last fatal accident early in 1953 killed 45 persons.

Fog enveloped much of the area at the time of the crash. For a time early today the fog seriously hampered search operations. Planes took off "on gust alone," one Coast Guard spokesman said and surface vessels had to rely on radar.

'Old Reb' Is 117

HOUSTON, Tex (UPI)—Old Rebel Walter G. Williams celebrated his 117th birthday a day late Sunday by eating sparrows and cake while a band played "Dixie" and "Old Soldiers Never Die."

But Williams was so weak he could not get out of bed to greet the many friends and relatives who came to see him.

His daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowler, with whom he lives, said he was excited by the celebration. He wore a new red flannel shirt and nibbled on a barbecued spare rib and a piece of cake.

On his 117th birthday last year, Williams told Ira Cox, manager of a band that serenaded him: "Come back next year, I'll be there."

Cox was there with his band Sunday, but Williams did not tell him that again.

He is barely able to talk. He is almost deaf and blind and has had pneumonia three times since June. Less than three weeks ago, he was thought to be dying, but his physician said he had completely recovered from the recent pneumonia attack.

Williams, the last surviving veteran of the Civil War, received separate telegrams from President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

New Blizzard Rages Across Western States

HELENA, Mont. (UPI)—The second raging blizzard in a week roared eastward today, leaving weather-battered Montana shivering under another blast of arctic air.

Cold wave warnings were issued for a band of states in the country's midsection, from the Dakotas to north Texas and New Mexico.

Hard-hit Montana, cleaning up after a fresh onslaught of snow, received the full force of the bitterly cold winds as readings of more than 35 degrees below zero were recorded.

The Weather Bureau said the mercury plunged to minus 26 degrees at Helena this morning, while it was 35 at Butte, 28 at Lewistown and 21 at Cut Bank.

High winds, clocked at gusts to 40 miles an hour, whipped snow into giant drifts that closed many rural roads in Montana and isolated several communities when the second blizzard howled out of Canada Sunday.

The new storm piled up more than eight inches of snow in this capital city, immobilized by a record 2 1/4 inch snowfall last week. Just as last week, stalled cars jammed the main street and pedestrians fought their way through waist high drifts.

High winds and freezing temperatures accompanied the blizzard as it moved into the Dakotas, Wyoming and Nebraska today.

Western Nebraska was buffeted by icy north winds gusting to 50 miles an hour.

The frigid air drove the thermometer from a high of 64 to zero in nine hours at Scottsbluff, Neb.

Sex-Changing Soldier Just Wants Normal Life

MIAMI (UPI) — Red-haired Charlotte Heidal, ex-Army private who had her sex changed by surgery, said she and her newly-wed husband plan to settle in Miami and "try to live our lives in peace."

The pretty 34-year-old woman said she is tired of "running and hiding" and wants to "lead a normal life like any other woman."

Mrs. Heidal, the former Charles McLeod, married her husband here two months ago. Neighbors said they were surprised to find out who she was.

But now that they know, Mrs. Heidal said she hopes they will let her remain.

She said she has left several good jobs in the past because of gossip.

But she said, "for once in my life, I'm not going to run now."

Steinmeyer Takes 2nd In Loop Play

Steinmeyer Roofing regained the second slot in the Thursday Night Mixed Bowling League this week as they took all three games from South Pinecrest, dropping that team to fourth spot. The roofers are also contenders for first place as they stand just three games out. Still in the top spot this week is B. Edwards Builders Supplies, with 20 1/2 wins 13 1/2 losses. The roofers have 20 1/2-15 1/2, followed by Furniture Center 17-19, South Pinecrest and Sunland Estates tied with 16-20, and Florida State Bank 15-21.

Sunland Estates is beginning to show signs of being a hard team to beat, as they took two games from the high rolling builders supplies John Burton, bowling for S. Edwards, turned in a 508 scratch series, while George Conkin showed fine form to lead Sunland. Arlene Dederick rolled a 216 handicap game, to break into the money circle this week. Conkin topped the 3-10 split, while Denny Phares picked off the 5-8-10, and Margie Wood picked up the 3-10 for the supply team.

South Pinecrest hopes to end their string of bad luck as they lost all three to Steinmeyer's, having done the same thing last week when they played the Furniture Center. Don Stetler turned in a 502 series to be top man on the roofing

Knows Her Right

MIAMI (UPI) — Mrs. Marie Kucera, a lady who insists she knows her rights-of-way, has warned she will throw up another roadblock across a busy thoroughfare to make her point.

She claims the thoroughfare runs across her property. "It's the motorists who are trespassing," she snapped.

Mrs. Kucera, a grandmother who gives her age as "over 21," erected a roadblock Saturday that brought howls of protests from horn-honking drivers and five police cars rushing to the scene.

Mrs. Kucera and three neighbors who help her man the blockade were arrested and later released on $50 bond. They were ordered to appear in court Friday.

But Mrs. Kucera said the fight was far from being over. "I plan to put up another barricade as soon as possible," she vowed.

She explained she had a survey made which showed that when the county put the road in two years ago, about 11 feet of it fell onto her land.

"So they are encroaching and I want to be reimbursed," she declared.

A police sergeant said the problem was one for the courts.

the modern popular way to cook without flame

TIME TO CHANGE TO AN ELECTRIC RANGE

Since 1950, over half a million more families in Florida have switched to modern automatic electric cooking.

CLEANER! Pots and pans stay "white-glove" clean. Kitchen walls and ceiling stay fresh and clean longer.

SAFER! As flameless safe as an electric light bulb. Does away with pilot lights. Gives priceless peace-of-mind.

COOLER! Electric range surface units send all the heat into the pan, not out and around it. Kitchen stays up to 16 degrees cooler.

AUTOMATIC! Just turn a dial or push a button. Controlled heat eliminates pot-watching.

THERE'S NO MATCH FOR ELECTRIC LIVING

See the new Electric Ranges... automatic Electric Water Heaters, too... at your electric appliance dealer.

And remember, it's cheaper to go all-electric in your kitchen-laundry than to use a combination of services.

Ancient Spanish City Is Perfectly Preserved

(Editor's Note: This is the 19th of a series of articles by A. M. and R. H. Haskell who are now in Europe.)

Cuidad Rodrigo, Spain... We spent last night in Avila, a city whose almost perfectly preserved medieval walls make it a monument of Spain. It was the center of activities for St. Theresa and an important religious shrine for Catholics. It is, incidentally, the town whose ramparts you saw if you had the misfortune to attend a movie called "The Pride and the Passion."

Actually, it is interesting to see anything as well preserved from former centuries as is this town. I recommend, however, that anyone who plans to visit the city do so on a program which will not necessitate spending the night. The hotel is unattractive and dull.

On the chief plaza of the town there is something that makes up for the hotel. It is the cafe and restaurant called Pedillo. The person who owns it must be the richest man in town. It is swarming from morning to late at night with businessmen, their wives of girl friends and small children. When we went to the dining room last night shortly after 9:30, we

Is All 'Development' Really Necessary?

Mr. S. Forbes Simpson of Fern Park has sent us a copy of a letter he said he sent to Gov. Collins protesting a proposed increase in funds for the Florida Development Commission.

Mr. Simpson's letter to the governor sets forth that the Fern Park resident doesn't think the Development Commission deserves the support of public funds and he says it "can hardly be considered a proper function of government."

He adds an important thought: "Furthermore, what is to limit their spending taxes and where will it stop?"

The Development Commission, utilized in the letter of its name, is a worthwhile effort to help the state grow and may even be vital. But, in the same mail which brought Mr. Simpson's letter, there arrived a "release" in the name of the News Bureau of the Florida Development Commission which explains how to select a prime rib roast for the family. This was accompanied by a photograph of a roast, some pie and trimmings and the one of the most insipid captions we have seen in quite awhile: "Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to his wife has said, 'Gee, I sure would like a prime rib roast!'"

Subsequent mails have brought similar releases from the commission, giving tips for the housewife. Such releases are sent free to newspapers all over the country by at least 500 public relations and advertising firms and scarcely need be duplicated by the development commission of the state.

We received another one which is a feature story about a turkey farm and of no use to The Herald or any other paper.

We are inclined to agree with Mr. Simpson that the Development Commission should limit its spending to developing and leave the menus to Betty Crocker.

Band Association Deserves A Hand

Another good example of the grownups giving physical as well as financial support to youth activities here was the barbecue Saturday sponsored by the Seminole Band Association.

The association continued this year to help back the activities of the band and add a lot to the fun of the football season and to the morale of the students in school and outside.

The funds the barbecue raised will be spent on band uniforms and instruments. There are many events where the band is shown off to good advantage and its appearance and equipment are important. School funds are limited for this activity, so the generous participation by the band association members deserves the applause of all who see the band and hear its lively music.

Says Rebel Yell Can't Be Imitated

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Columbia University English professor believes it is impossible nowadays for anyone to imitate the famous "rebel yell" of the Civil War.

Allen Walker Read describes the yell as "a mixture of fright, hatred and a pinch of pure deviltry."

While related to the Indian war whoop, the rebel yell "occurred only under the excitement and tension of the battlefield and therefore the real thing has not been heard since 1865," says Read.

Assignment Washington

BY ED KOTERBA

MARBLE POINT, Antarctica—The Irish flag flies over this part of Antarctica—the only such flag to wave over these frozen wastes.

Seabee Petty Chief Paul O'Leary of Albuquerque, N. M., put it there atop a 20-foot mast that sways hard with the polar wind above this snowed-in camp of a dozen quest-huts and three human beings—namely, O'Leary and two assistants. There's not much left of the flag, with the wind the way it is, but it's like flapping a welcome touch of home when you come over the last hill on a lonely 10-hour ride by snowcat and see it there.

Irishman O'Leary and his Seabee helpers, Robert Williams of Marshall, Wis., and Al Barade of West Dennis, Mass., are looking after this post which abuts the strangest airstrip on this ice continent.

What's so strange about the runway is that it is made of dirt. Someday this spot may well be Antarctica's first international airport. The dirt was pushed here through the ages by the Wright glazier which receded a mere few thousand years ago. Its leading edge is not a mile away.

Mixed in with the soil is some marble dust, from which this place gets its name. And there is volcanic ash, too, flung here from Mount Erebus, Antarctica's only active volcano. You see it now with its 13,350-foot cone top belching smoke—incoguous against the glaciers.

An International Geophysical Year survey party discovered Marble Point two years ago. The crude, small strip built since then accommodates small planes in emergencies. But the Navy wants to build a permanent 10,000-foot runway, which would take seven years to build and would cost 130 million.

There is only one other big runway on Antarctica now—on the ice of Ross Sea. But the trouble there is that it melts away each polar summer and then air operations from the outside world must cease.

We were looking over this place with a four-star visitor, Admiral Herbert Hopwood, Commander in Chief of the Pacific Fleet. The admiral said it wouldn't surprise him if commercial jet planes would be landing here 25 years from now. Then he visualized a big winter resort with the world's greatest ski runs.

Chief O'Leary said there's already a lake dammed up in front of the melting glacier. It could be stocked with trout. There's running water here most of the Antarctic summer. Offshore there would be seal and sport fishing.

Marble Point could become the vacation spot for people who have everything. But most important, of course, is that an international airport here is necessary for short-cut flights over the South Pole.

Looking around at this fantasy-land of snow under today's bright sun, I got to wishing I owned a piece of this property for investment. Chief O'Leary said the place grows on you. He's been here three years, summers only when it's daylight 24 hours a day. "I arrive when the sun comes up," he said, "and I leave when the sun goes down."

And that may be how tourists will be doing it in another generation or two.

Playhouse 90 Presents Timely Television Drama

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Playhouse 90 on CBS-TV presented a plan of uncanny timeliness Thursday night.

"The Hidden Image," by David Karp, dealt with political integrity, and personal humanity and integrity, subjects that much of today's national dialogue is concerned with.

The author pressed home the point that only the dead are invulnerable to temptation and it is the test of a man when he can fight it off. The play's timely message is one thing, however, and its effectiveness is another. I felt Karp cluttered his story with too many gimmicks, inconsistencies and contrived situations to set up his leading character, played by Franchot Tone, for the final display of undiluted integrity.

His straining to keep the play going until the climactic last few minutes made for some rather repetitive dialogue and meaningless razz-dazzle in the play's middle.

Tone, as an honest but cold, impersonal political boss, becomes embroiled in an investigating committee's effort to discredit him and, through him, his candidate for governor. The charge is that Tone fed juicy building contracts to his long-time friend, played by the peer-toned Martin Gabel.

There is no concrete evidence, only innuendo, but Tone becomes a political liability and is forced to deliver his resignation over TV. Real life cases of this sort have had more excitement and impact than this TV case.

The TV drama made frequent use of TV hearings, conventions and speeches, to demonstrate how the medium has become a political tool. A drawback to credibility was Tone's fight to defend his honor when the viewer could not see evidence to show he was dishonorable. At the end, Gabel tells him that he, Gabel, really was using his friendship and was ready to repay Tone. Tone throws him out of the house. Next, Tone tells his wife how, as a youngster, he rejected a $20 bribe to sell a hunting license to an unqualified customer. Here, I thought, was a clearer moral struggle. I thought Karp would have had a more effective point, albeit a less flashy one, if he had focused on that incident.

Dialing and Filling: Sammy Davis Jr., starring on CBS-TV's Zane Grey Theater, was cast as an Indian-hating cavalryman trying to lead his all-Negro unit out of an Indian ambush. His acting touched about every emotional base as he raced, back and forth between hysteria and tranquility.

(Editor's Note: This is the last of a three-column profile of Governor Nelson Rockefeller, looking toward the 1960 Presidential election.)

NEW YORK—Beneath the surface of this monstrous city, with its fantastic contrasts of wealth and degrading poverty, there is today a rocky discontent which erodes the casual prosperity can discern. Nothing seems to get done about juvenile crime, the spreading stain of the slums and the streets clogged with traffic, and a bitter and cynical conviction of graft permeates the public mind.

One evidence of the discontent was the rejection of a $500,000 bond issue for badly needed schools. Why give ten more dollars to the city when the angry reaction of many citizens, in a huff over the defeat of a project he had supported in his own belated and ineffectual fashion Mayor Robert F. Wagner went off to California on a trip which had been billed as a sortie in the interest of his Vice-Presidential candidacy. That candidacy seems at the moment scarcely viable.

As the criticism mounts both from the left and the right—"The Shame of New York" is the way the liberal magazine, The Nation, put it in devoting a whole issue to graft, corruption, rackets and misgovernment—the city becomes a political phenomenon for 1960 of the first importance. Once upon a time another governor, Franklin Roosevelt, sat in the State House in Albany as scandals festered in the city and he began to emerge as the champion of rights and justice.

Those who are beginning to point to an analogy between Rockefeller and Governor Nelson Rockefeller are not slow to note similarities in the situation today. Rockefeller is more fortunate than Roosevelt was, in that he is a Republican who needs feel no qualms about moving against a Democratic mayor bearing the stamp of Tammany Hall and Boss Carmine DeSapio.

With the mixture of shrewd political calculation and sincere desire for good government that is part of his ambition, the Governor has a clear, cold view of what this opportunity means. In fact, the shot is already in his locker ready to be fired next February or March.

Last May Rockefeller announced the appointments to a seven-member group with the politeness of his Vice-Presidential sounding name of Temporary

State Commission on Governmental Operations of the City of New York. Known as the Little Hoover Commission for the city, it was created by the legislature which empowered the Governor to name three of the members of the commission, the other four to be chosen by leaders of the State Senate and Assembly.

The commission will probably go into all the hideous malformation of the structure of government that tries to maintain a semblance of civilized order in this vast human ant heap. But it is almost certain at the same time—and here are the sensational headlines that will resound across the nation—to come up with evidence of graft in alliance with crime of a shocking nature.

Chairman of the commission is Otto L. Nelson Jr., selected by Rockefeller. Nelson, vice-president in charge of housing of the New York Life Insurance Company, is one of the numerous businessmen with an interest in government whom Rockefeller has enlisted in a variety of commissions assigned to come up with prescriptions for improved government.

Already Nelson's role is being compared to that of Samuel Seabury in 1830. As the head of a similar commission Seabury conducted a courageous investigation into the city's scandals and thereby paved the way for the reform administration of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia. Incidentally, too, he advanced the candidacy of the aristocrat in politics, Roosevelt, who had been elected Governor.

error largely through his own popular appeal.

One does not have to talk with Rockefeller or those in his organization for long before realizing the great amount of thorough preparation that precedes every step he takes. It is characteristic of the man and the background from which he comes; a conditioning in which every move is thought out in advance with extreme care, since so much money and prestige is at stake.

Rockefeller believes that with the additional taxes he wrung off of the Republican legislature last year he will be able to balance his budget in 1960. At one point a very large segment of those voting for him a year ago had turned against him on the tax issue.

In the early months of next year the commissions he has named will begin to make their reports. They will suggest a pattern of better government as an expanding economy. And, with everything that happens in this state in which so much power is centralized, these reports will have repercussions across the country. That is one reason why so many Presidential candidates have come from New York.

To say that Nelson Rockefeller looks to 1960 with confident assurance would be wrong. He is far too careful and calculating for that. But to say that he is ready to make every use of the opportunity that offers itself in a Presidential year would be correct.

'Showdown' Bowl Battles Slated

United Press International
New Year's Day rivals in the Sugar Bowl and Orange Bowl should emerge from next Saturday's showdown battles in five conferences but Syracuse, the nation's No. 1 team, will have to wait until Thanksgiving Day before learning its Cotton Bowl opponent.

Wisconsin, Washington, Louisiana State, Clemson and Missouri are favored to win the juiciest game — but the footballs have been taking crazy bounces the last two weeks and the craziest may be yet to come. Six of the country's top 11 teams and eight of the top 20 were beaten in last Saturday's series of form reversals.

Texas, beaten, 16-9, by Texas Christian in one of the upsets which left Syracuse and Southern California the only major perfect-record teams, can win a share of the Southeastern Conference title and the conference's Cotton Bowl bid opposite Syracuse by beating Texas A&M, Nov. 28.

How the situation shapes up in the five most lucrative bowls as the season heads for its grand climax:
Sugar Bowl: Wisconsin (4-3) can win the Big Ten bid by beating Minnesota (1-3) even if Northwestern (4-3) defeats Illinois (3-3). Michigan State, also 4-3, has finished its conference schedule. The West Coast bid will go to Washington (6-1) if the Huskies beat Washington State. A Washington loss and an Oregon (5-1) victory over Oregon State would give the berth to the Ducks.

Orange Bowl: Georgia (6-0) clinched its first Southeastern Conference title since 1963 when it beat Auburn, 16-12, Saturday but it is a doubtful choice. Louisiana State (6-1) probably will get the nod if it beats Tulane (0-4-1) and there is a chance the "visitor" bid will go to Mississippi (4-1) which winds up opposing Mississippi State, Nov. 28.

Green Bay Bowl: The odds are that Missouri will clinch the Big Eight's berth by beating Kansas while Oklahoma Downs Iowa State. Oklahoma (4-1) is ineligible because it played in the bowl last Jan. 1 and Missouri, Kansas and Iowa State are tied for second place with 3-2 records. The Orange Bowl committee Sunday listed LSU, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia Tech, Miami and Penn State as possible rivals for the Big Eight team.

Cotton Bowl: Syracuse announced its acceptance of a bid after blasting Colgate, 11-6, Saturday, and its rival depends upon the result of the Nov. 28 game between Texas and Texas A&M. It'll be Arkansas if Texas loses and Texas if the Longhorns win. Texas Christian can share in the conference crown but can't be bid to the bowl.

Golden Bowl: Clemson (3-1) can clinch the Atlantic Coast Conference title by beating Wake Forest (2-1). Georgia, Penn State, Mississippi and Tennessee are other leading candidates on a list a mile long.

No bowl bids will be involved—only plenty of sectional prestige—when Pennsylvania (5-1) tries to clinch its first Ivy League title by defeating Cornell on Thanksgiving Day and when Virginia Tech and Virginia Military Institute meet for the Southern Conference championship the same day. Penn moved to the threshold of the Ivy title by whipping Columbia, 24-6, last Saturday while Virginia Tech ended West Virginia's 20-game winning streak in the Southern Conference with a 12-0 triumph.

Georgia SEC Champs

ATLANTA, (UPI) — Georgia's Bulldogs won their first Southeastern Conference title since 1963 with a drama-filled upset of Auburn Saturday and speculation today has the Bulldogs in the Orange Bowl on New Year's day.

The Bulldogs scored on a 13-yard pass with only 30 seconds left in the game to beat Auburn 16-12. The victory gave Georgia a 6-0 SEC record and there isn't a team able to match it.

The Southeastern Conference champion usually goes to the Sugar Bowl but it looks like fourth-ranked, once-beaten Louisiana State will defend the conference's honor there. The Rebels, upset by Tennessee, rebounded in fine style Saturday with a 27-0 win over Mississippi State.

This all boils down to a question of what to do about seventh-ranked Mississippi which appears to be the strongest team in the Southeast. The Rebels, beaten by LSU, gained 477 yards Saturday while routing Tennessee 41-7. This top-sided win over a team that beat back LSU and Auburn should assure Mississippi a bid—probably to the Gator Bowl.

The SEC gained one bowl candidate and lost another Saturday when once-beaten, twice 7-1, Alabama upset Georgia Tech 9-7. A Tech victory probably would have left the Orange Bowl bid hanging on the outcome of the Tech-Georgia game. If Alabama can upset Auburn there will surely be a post-season opening somewhere for the Crimson Tide.

In other action Saturday, underdog Tulane tied Vanderbilt 6-6 with a fourth-period touchdown and Kentucky, unable to win in the conference, walloped Xavier of Ohio 41-6.

This Saturday, Louisiana State and Tulane close out their seasons at Baton Rouge, Kentucky will be host to Tennessee in the Wildcats finale. Alabama will be host to Memphis State. Auburn to Mississippi Southern, Florida to Florida State and Vanderbilt to Florence State.

Saturday's stars included fullback Charlie Flowers and quarterback Jack Gibbs of Mississippi, quarterback Francis Tarkenton of Georgia, place kicking specialist Fred Sington Jr. of Alabama, fullback Johnny Robinson of LSU and fullback Connie Andrews of Tulane. Flowers gained 188 yards rushing and Gibbs 123 yards passing in Mississippi's easy victory. Tarkenton completed four of five passes to carry Georgia 35 yards to victory in the final minutes. Sington kicked a 45-yard field goal that wrecked Tech. Robinson scored twice on pass catches. Andrews got all the yardage in Tulane's 25-yard tying drive.

Quarterback Charlie Bell of Georgia alternated between the roles of hero and goat. His fumble set up an Auburn field goal. His 28-yard punt return scored Georgia's first touchdown. And, he blocked a team-mate's punt with the seat of his pants to set up Auburn's touchdown.

GRACEY CATCHES TOUCHDOWN PASS for a Seminole score in third quarter after getting behind the Bishop Moore defenders in the end zone and being hit by a toss from Ray Lundquist, who fooled the Hornets by faking a roll out. Dave Demetree (71) tried in vain to deflect the football.

Sanford Loses Homecoming Game

By JERRY COVINGTON
One of the largest crowds ever to enter Memorial Stadium witnessed their thrill after thrill in a great homecoming contest between the Bishop Moore Hornets and the Sanford Seminoles. The Seminoles held a one-point lead at the half only to see the Hornets come roaring back to take the contest by a score of 21-20.

The contest opened with Sanford kicking. The Defense held and the Hornets kicked on fourth down to the 45-yard line. The Seminoles immediately began their march down field. On third down Lovelace traveled five yards for a first down. On second down Roberts rolled out and picked up six good for another first down. Then Lundquist took the pitchout and tossed a pass to Jim Gracey who carried the ball to the 18.

John Lovelace picked up another first down on the six and on fourth down, Roberts sneaked over from the one. Christensen boomed a kick through the uprights and the Seminoles led 7-0.

The Hornets were not to be denied. They immediately took off and began their march. On second down and the ball resting on their own 42, quarterback Jack Sullivan hit Pierson in the end and the speedster took off for a 38 yard TD. The attempt to run the point failed and the score stood at 7-6 Seminoles.

In the second quarter, the Hornets began to click again after taking over deep in their own territory where a Sanford drive was halted. The running of Pierson and Tommy Thompson moved the ball to the Seminole 25 where Sullivan threw to Thompson for their second score. This time Sullivan threw to Stenman for the PAT and the score stood at 13-7 in favor of the Seminoles.

As time was running out in the first half the Seminoles made their most spectacular drive. With only two minutes remaining on the clock they began to roll. Roberts ran 10 yards for a first down at mid field. On the next play he hit Gracey with a pass good for 14 yards and another first down. Then Coach Jim Pigott called on lefty Al McKibbin to throw. He rolled out from the quarterback spot and got a jump pass off to fullback John Mann who made a run for 29 yards to the Hornets 20. Lovelace hit off tackle for nine yards and Lundquist followed with five putting the ball on the six. With only eight seconds on the scoreboard Lovelace took the pitchout and threw to Christensen who made a catch for the score. Christensen added the PAT with a boot and the half ended with the Seminoles on top by a score of 14-7.

The second half opened with the Seminoles receiving. On the first play from scrimmage, Lundquist started down the field 35 yards where he was caught by Pierson on the seven. This time the Seminole passing game failed and the ball went over on downs with only two yards needed for a score.

The Hornets were forced to kick and Gracey returned to his own 40. Roberts then threw to Christensen who drilled two defenders and traveled 28 yards. Roberts then rolled out around right end good for 14 yards and a first down on the Seminole 26. Lundquist then took the ball and pitched to the blue-jointed Gracey for the score. Again, Christensen kicked the extra point and the score read 21-13 in favor of the Seminoles.

The Hornets took the kick and began their march back down the field. Short passes and a 15-yard penalty moved them to the Sanford 12. Thompson broke around end for the score. This time Barbour broke through and dropped Pierson as he attempted to run the point.

In the fourth period the Hornets took advantage of a Sanford fumble on their own 25. After they had moved to the Sanford 14 Pierson broke through and went the distance for the score. Again their point try failed and the score stood at 25-21 in favor of the Seminoles.

The Hornets halted the Seminoles after taking the kickoff and they were off again. This time Pierson traveled 44 yards for another score. They attempted to pass for the point this time but it was broken up by Lundquist. The Seminoles marched down the field again. A 17 yard pass to Christensen moved the Seminoles to the Hornets 30 and another to Gracey moved to the three where Lovelace went around end for the score. Christensen added the PAT and that was the end of the scoring. The final TD came also with eight seconds left on the scoreboard.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON
If ever a team looked great in losing it was Sanford here Friday night. One of the largest crowds ever to enter Memorial Stadium saw thrill after thrill in one of the finest ball games I have seen in many years.

The great passing game of the Seminoles made them superior to the Hornets of Bishop Moore but the difference of the ball game was one person—Russ Pierson. The potent Seminole offense moved for a score practically every opportunity but when the Hornets got behind they would call on Pierson and he would deliver.

The great back accounted for three quarters of the Hornets' yardage and his display of speed and drive sets him up as the finest ball player I have seen in quite sometime. You can bet that Notre Dame will watch him closely.

Among all the big brutes on the field Friday night here was one lad who might have been outmanned in size but not in ability. Little Bobby Barbour, who runs his 122 pounds at the defensive linebacker for the Seminoles, played his greatest game. When a tackle was made, he either did it or was in on it. The way he played, he might as well have been seven feet tall.

The ending of the first half was probably one of the most spectacular to be seen in some time. With only eight seconds remaining on the scoreboard, John Lovelace took a high pitchout which just about got away from him and fired to Terry Christensen for the TD. This climaxed a drive from the 50 yard line in less than two minutes.

Although the Seminoles came up on the short end, they came back every time and looked great in losing. Their total offense for the evening was 344 yards to the Hornets' 261. They picked up 15 first downs to the Hornets' 8.

Even though things turned out as they did, the Homecoming crowd was happy. It was a great team effort and the nice thing about it was that there wasn't a star on the field. Everybody had a part in it.

Offensive end Terry Christensen played the entire game Friday with a broken finger and even though his hand was hindered by a large bandage he made some phenomenal catches. On one play in the final quarter he made such a great catch that Coach Pigott hollered down to Dr. Morgan, "bandage them all up, Doc." I might add that Terry added four beautiful kicks for the extra points and boomed the kickoffs down the field like Sam Baker.

This was a good weekend to bet on the Gators — They were idle.

Browns, Giants Tie For NFL Lead

United Press International
If the Cleveland Browns win the National Football League championship, they should give Bobby Layne, the old playboy-quarterback, a case of the victory champagne.

Layne, a Texan who never has hidden his bid to spice the season with a bit of nightlife, is past the glory years when he led the Detroit Lions to two NFL titles. He's 32 and playing for the Pittsburgh Steelers, but he still is the master of the clutch play.

Layne's 45-yard pass to Tom Tracy Sunday with 30 seconds to go gave the Steelers (3-4-1) a 14-9 upset triumph over the New York Giants and stunned a capacity Yankee Stadium crowd of 68,706. The perfectly executed toss, against a defense that had not permitted a touchdown since it last faced Layne Oct. 25, produced a costly defeat for the Giants.

The Browns, looking more and more like the Cleveland teams that have dominated pro football since World War II, took quick advantage of Layne's assist.

With Bobby Mitchell opening a three-touchdown drive with a 60-yard run, the Browns made the Washington Redskins (2-5) their fifth straight victim. 31-17, and deduced the Giants for the Eastern Division lead. However, the Browns will know more about their feelings for Layne after they play the Steelers next Sunday at Cleveland.

The Colts, defending league champions, got a chance to tie the San Francisco Forty-Niners (2-2) for the Western lead next Sunday at Baltimore. If they do, the Colts (5-3) will owe a vote of thanks to Johnny Morris and the Chicago Bears.

Morris ran the opening kickoff 53 yards to set up a one-yard touchdown plunge by Rick Casares and caught a 21-yard scoring pass from Ed Brown to lead the Bears (4-4) to a 14-3 triumph over the Forty-Niners at Chicago. Baltimore, with John Unitas firing two scoring passes to Ray Berry and the decisive touchdown toss to Jim Mutscheller, took advantage of Chicago's help by edging the Green Bay Packers, 20-14. Baltimore started the day two games behind San Francisco.

The Philadelphia Eagles (3-3) also benefited from Pittsburgh's triumph, moving within a game of the Giants and Browns (each 6-2) in the East by downing the Chicago Cardinals, 27-17. Clarence Peaks plunged a yard to snap a 17-17 tie with five minutes to go after Norm Van Brocklin's 43-yard pass to Pete Reitzel set up the play.

Earl Morrall completed a 79-yard touchdown pass to Dave Middleton and an 11-yarder to John Henry Johnson to lead the Lions (2-5-1) to a 23-17 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams (2-6) in the other game.

Insurance Team Paces Kegler Loop

In the Match-of-the-Week of the Sanford City Bowling League last Wednesday night, the rising New York Life Insurance team continued its winning ways by taking two games from the first place Harry's Liquors team, thus dropping Harry's into a tie for first place with Mather of Sanford, who swept three games from Gene's Seminole Cleaners and Laundry.

In the other match, Burnett Painters took two games from Celery City Printing Company.

Rip Stamper led the Insurance men to their important victory, rolling a big 506 series. Frank Hahn topped Harry's team with a 320 total for the night. Mather of Sanford was led in their sweep by Al DePalma's 210-531, while league prey Buck Ferguson tried to stop them with his 312 total.

Burnett Painters, with a fine team effort topped by Claude Foster's 483 turned back Celery City Printing company in spite of the 321 rolled by Hal Gilstrap.

Happiness Through Health (By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Everything Secondary To Good Health!

"With health, everything is a source of pleasure, without it, nothing else, no matter what it may be, is enjoyable. Even the other personal blessings—a great mind, a happy temperament, a happy temperance—are degraded and dwarfed for want of it. It follows from all this, that the greatest of all follies is to sacrifice health for any other kind of happiness, whether it be for gain, achievement, learning or fame. Everything should be made secondary to health."—Schopenhauer.

Along with other Kel's managers and the directors, Scott toured the new 17,000 sq. ft. Kel's store which opened in Holly Hill this month. Following the new store inspection, the officers of Kel's were hosts to their managers and directors at a dinner that evening. Kyle E. Lockeby Jr., president of Kel's, spoke to the management on the rapid growth of their company in the five years of operation. "Twelve variety stores and a chain of toy and hobby stores, Toy King, was just the physical growth of the company," Lockeby said. "A successful stock issue this year has added nearly 1000 investors to the Kel's family; this, too, is a sign of expansion."

Police Confiscate Million Dollar Weapons Shipment

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Treasury Department agents today investigated a million-dollar shipment of arms and ammunition which police intercepted during a truck weight check Monday.

The load contained U. S. and foreign made machine guns, rifles, bayonets, pistols, ammunition, cartridge belts and rifle slings, telescope sights for rifles and other miscellaneous arms.

The driver of the truck, Donald E. Maboe, 45, Sparks, N. J., was held for further questioning. He carried no bill of lading and the truck was one overweight.

"We'll go up to our necks in checking this thing out," Federal Agent George Mulvanick said.

"There's no legal reason I know of for a private individual to be shipping such weapons. This stuff is contraband."

Maboe told officers he picked up the load at the Dattel Co., Oconomowoc, Wis., and was taking it to the Service Armament Co., Begonia, N. J.

"They told me I had nothing to worry about," he said. "They told me I didn't need a bill of lading."

Two officers stopped the rig late Monday in a routine weight check. When they found the goods to be overweight they asked: "What have you got there?"

Maboe replied: "Guns."

Sub-Zero Weather Heading East

By United Press International
A sub-zero cold wave, worst of the season, headed toward the Gulf states and the East today, shattering Weather Bureau records that had stood since the turn of the century.

The frigid arctic blasts drove the temperature down to zero or below in the storm-ridden northern Rockies and across the country's midsection.

The searing cold was felt as far south as Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

The sub-zero readings left a trail of death in the northern tier of states.

A 70-year-old man was found frozen to death on the sidewalk in front of his Butte, Mont., home. At Hazen, N. D., an 80-year-old man was found frozen in a kneeling position outside his home.

A Montana State College student was reported missing three days in the snow-covered Rockies. Rescuers also sought to reach 30 hunters stranded at a ranger station near Augusta, Mont. However, the hunters were not reported in any immediate danger.

Montana, battered by two blizzards within a week, was given some respite today with early morning temperature readings as much as 45 degrees warmer than Monday.

Montana was still the coldest spot in the nation. The mercury dipped to 14 below at Drummond and seven below at Helena.

The bitter cold wave caused a state of emergency in Worthington, Minn., when an explosion at the city power plant cut all electricity to the community of 10,000.

At least 2,500 homes were left without heat when the power failure knocked out electrically-operated gas and oil furnaces. Public buildings using steam heat were opened to the residents.

Temperatures are expected to dip to below 50 degrees in Minnesota County tonight and remain cold through Wednesday. No frost dangers are forecast.

Florida Colder
A cold front crept into Florida today behind a blanket of low clouds and drizzling rains.

In advance of the front, winds of 20 to 35 miles an hour whipped both coasts. Small craft warnings were posted on the Gulf coast north of Punta Gorda and north of Ponce De Leon inlet, near St. Augustine, to Cape Hatteras on the Atlantic coast.

The cold front was expected to cover north and central Florida this afternoon and most of the remainder of the state by Wednesday morning.

The federal-state frost warning service here forecast low temperatures of 31-34 degrees in the north portion of the Suwannee district Wednesday morning and 34-40 degrees in the remainder of northern districts.

Casselberry City Election Dec. 7 For Mayor, Council

Casselberry city elections will be held Dec. 7 when Mayor William M. Benson, Councilman Ray McCord, Town Clerk Mrs. Lillian Velez and Marshal Gus Sawyer will run for re-election. Lydia E. Swope, 230 S. Triplet Dr., will run for the council post being vacated by Edward C. Heinson, whose term is about to expire.

Mayor Benson was appointed mayor Oct. 31 when former mayor Donald Wilson became active postmaster of the town postoffice.

McCord is manager of Lang Hardware Store. Swope has been sales manager for a paper board firm. Sawyer was recently appointed town marshal, to succeed Nash Kennedy who died in office.

These candidates are supported by the Casselberry Non-Partisan Republican Club for their experience, ability, and unquestioned loyalty to the program of making Casselberry a better place in which to live," club president Roy V. Potteiger said yesterday.

The councilmen are not said, he pointed out. The mayor serves a one year term and the councilmen serve for two years.

The Non-Partisan Republican Club will meet at the Casselberry Women's Club Dec. 8 "where a full discussion will be had of what has been accomplished the past year as well as what can be accomplished this coming year," Potteiger said.

All registered voters and those interested in the betterment of Casselberry are invited to the 7:30 p. m. meeting. Refreshments will be served and entertainment provided.

Castro Rounding Up Conspirators

HAVANA (UPI) — The government has arrested more than 300 anti-Castro conspirators in five of Cuba's six provinces. Informed sources said today further arrests are expected.

Most of the counter-revolutionaries were rounded up in Las Villas and Pinar del Rio but arrests also were reported in Camaguey, Havana and Oriente. A number of clandestine radio transmitters were seized.

Officials said many of the plotters were followers of deposed Dictator Fulgencio Batista and members of a vast underground masterminded by Cuban exiles in Miami, but operating as individuals rather than as one organized force.

Premier Fidel Castro's government recently reinstated the military tribunals which sentenced more than 800 "war criminals" to death earlier this year. It also eliminated the habeas corpus writ.

Monitors Speed Hoffa Ouster Efforts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Court-appointed monitors voted today to speed efforts to force the ouster of Teamsters' President James R. Hoffa and his cronies from union office.

Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue made the pledge following a Supreme Court ruling which permits enforcement of his anti-corruption drive within the giant truck union.

Hoffa also faced possible trouble on another front. Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said Monday night he had asked the Justice Department to check whether the Teamsters were fully obeying the labor reform law's ban on executives holding union office.

Mitchell said Hoffa had advised him that only "a few Teamster officers" were forced to resign because of the ban. The secretary added, "The Justice Department has been asked to look into the accuracy of this report."

The Supreme Court refused

Federal Inquiry Is Opened In Crash That Killed 42

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A four - way federal investigation opened today into the mysterious crash of a National Air Lines plane in the Gulf of Mexico.

The bodies of nine of the 42 victims of the tragedy were brought ashore along with pieces of wreckage from the four-engine DC7B airliner.

From autopsies and a meticulous look at the plane parts, investigators hoped to find the reason why the giant plane, in apparently perfect flying condition, plunged out of the sky early Monday into the gulf.

Bad weather continued to plague the search for additional bodies and other portions of the stricken plane. The Coast Guard reported a "considerable concentration" of debris south and east of the crash site, about 120 miles south-south-east of New Orleans.

Winds of 35 miles an hour lashed the Gulf and made further search operations impossible early today. A Coast Guard amphibian plane went to the area but was forced back by the high winds and heavy seas. The boat that brought in the bodies returned to join the two cutters at the scene. They reported no more bodies had drifted to the surface.

The sighting of the telltale oil slick and tiny bits of wreckage floating in the sea Monday cancelled all hope that anyone had survived.

"We saw no sign of life," said T. L. Boyd, director of NAL flight operations, who flew aboard the search plane which first sighted the spot where the airliner went down.

"We saw small pieces of debris. We couldn't determine what they were,"

Capt. Robert Knox was the first to sight the mile-long oil slick. "The wreckage was in small pieces," Knox said. "There was no fuselage—nothing even looked like an airplane."

"We couldn't see any survivors or bodies," he added.

Better South Seminole Phone Service Delayed

An official of the Winter Park Telephone Company reported today that improved telephone service for South Seminole County telephone users will be delayed and may be "thrown out the window" because of a recent zoning board ruling.

M. L. Barre, assistant to the president of the telephone company, told the county commissioners that the zoning board turned down a proposal to build a new equipment building at Altamonte Springs to add in the service of 3,000 telephone company customers.

The zoning board turned down the request after a petition by a group of Negro citizens in the area claimed that the proposed building would hurt their residential property by adding a commercial structure there, Barre said.

"We need a building very badly in that area," Barre said, and "telephone users will suffer if we don't get it."

Barre said work on the proposed building was to have started in March and be completed by late fall. "Now that is all out the window," Barre said.
