

ENFORCE PROHIBITION IN ALL THE BIG CITIES NEW YEARS A DRY DAY

Prohibition Enforcement Officers Will Be on the Job

WATCH FOR HOOTCH

POISON RESPONSIBLE FOR NINE DEATHS IN N. Y. HAVE NO PLACE IN CELEBRATION

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—New York City's prohibition enforcement battalion received today final instructions for carrying out the most rigid observance of law over New Year's holiday. They are scattered throughout the city and instructed to make no distinction whatever between Broadway and the Bowery, Fifth Avenue and Fourteenth street but to press the dry crusade into every quarter where merry-makers gather. Additional warnings were issued against the danger of drinking strange and poisonous concoctions being sold as hooch to which a dozen deaths were attributed since Christmas.

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—More than five thousand officers of the law, including enlarged staff from Prohibition Director Gregory's office, ninety-two investigators from Attorney General Brundage's office and city policemen are ready today to give Chicago a dry New Year's eve. If liquor is in evidence at cafes or restaurants their owners will be arrested and the proprietors who have guilty knowledge of its presence will receive the same treatment, Chief of Police Fitzmorris said.

NOMINAL TELEPHONE RATE INCREASE ALLOWED

Recent press reports carried the announcement of the granting of increased rates to the Southern Bell Telephone company. The Southern Bell has been battling for over a year to secure an increase that would have added approximately 28 per cent to the subscribers' monthly telephone bill, and in addition requested permission for increases in toll rates.

The first gun was fired November 15th, 1920, when the request was heard by the commission. At this hearing there were only two communities in Florida that had representatives present opposing the request for this increase. St. Augustine was one city and SANFORD the other. St. Augustine was represented by its city manager and a member of its board of trade, and Sanford's protest was registered at this hearing by its city attorney and the secretary of the chamber of commerce.

The objections raised at this time resulted in the commission ordering an audit and appraisal of the properties of the Southern Bell. The interim elapsing as a result of these objections and subsequent order of the commission resulted in a saving of thousands of dollars to those communities in which the Southern Bell operates.

If there had been no objections presented at the initial hearing it would, obviously, have been up to the commission to grant the 28 per cent increase requested, as the array of statisticians and technical experts appearing before the commission in behalf of the Southern Bell was a formidable one.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce alone was responsible for lining up the rest of the communities and deserves whatever credit is to be given for taking the initiative in this matter. The final decision of the commission, while unsatisfactory to a majority, granted only nominal increases as against the excessive amount originally requested. Insofar as Sanford is concerned business concerns now paying $4.25 will pay $4.50, and private party lines now paying $2.50 will pay $2.65. The exchanges in other communities not showing a profit will be taxed a correspondingly greater amount.

It might be further stated that Sanford was represented at all subsequent hearings on this matter before the commission.

Ku Klux Klan Played Santa Claus at Gainesville

Coupled Gifts With Notes of Admonition to Several Parties

(By The Associated Press) GAINESVILLE, Dec. 31.—The Ku Klux Klan made its public bow to Gainesville Christmas eve when white robed representatives of the organization appeared at two places in the role of Santa Claus. It had not been generally known that the klan existed here.

At one of the places the klansmen coupled their gifts with a note containing an admonition that his "good for nothing" former head of the family was not to share them and the mother of several children was requested to tell him that if he did not get a job within a week and pay her a stipulated amount he would be put to work on the county roads.

"These groceries are for you and your children only," the note said in part, "and if your good for nothing former husband comes around and tries to eat up this food, which we are providing for you and the children, just get you a good horsewhip and run him off. We will stand back of you and give you any protection you need if it takes 500 of us to do it. We mean to protect defenseless women against any and all loafers and spongers. Just let it be known around town if he gets bad—we'll tame him for you."

At the National Odd Fellows Home and Orphanage, a package of gifts was presented to the matron who responded to the door bell. The two matrons, elderly women, also were remembered. A note accompany the gifts said, "We all love little children."

FRENCH DELEGATION ASSENT TO APPLICATION INTERNATIONAL LAW

NEW FERRY TO ENTERPRISE

Chamber of Commerce Secures Much Needed Service

Captain G. E. Atkinson, together with his son, G. E. Atkinson, Jr., announce the beginning January first of a ferry service between Sanford and Enterprise. Captain Atkinson has already announced the schedule of sailings in this paper and last Saturday brought a party from Enterprise to shop in Sanford.

Captain Atkinson operates a steel hulled, forty passenger capacity yacht which will be used in this new service. During the time it is not being operated on this schedule it will be open for charter by hunting and pleasure parties, and Captain Atkinson has advised that if the service warrants it he will place a larger boat on the lake.

The Chamber of Commerce advised Captain Atkinson, before he brought his boat here, that there was a great need for such a service between these two points. There are a number of people in Enterprise who now shop in Deland and who will now have the opportunity of getting to Sanford without taking the long distance required by road. It is a big thing for the merchants as it opens up a new trade territory and also benefits the traveling salesman as it permits him to make quicker train connections than he can now make by waiting at Orange City Junction.

The trip to Enterprise by water is a distance of 4.9 miles and can be made in twenty-three minutes. It is the intention of the Herald to have the daily paper distributed there each evening and advertisers will receive the corresponding benefits.

Captain Atkinson's yacht, which he has appropriately renamed Sanford, will add greatly to the recreational life of the city as the boat can be chartered by individuals and civic organizations for river picnics and moon light rides on the river.

In emphasizing the possibilities for the profitable operation of a hunt on these waters, the Chamber of Commerce advised Captain Atkinson that he could be assured of local support as well as patronage from interior points, and other sections along the river near Sanford.

Captain Atkinson has stated that he will carry freight as well as passengers.

In Which French Interpretation Satisfies Demand of England

IN TIME OF WAR BE PROHIBITED FROM TORPEDOING MERCHANT SHIPS

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 31.—French delegation at Washington is understood in official quarters here today, already has given hearty assent to application of international law to operation of submarines which in French interpretation satisfies demand of Great Britain that submarines in time of war be prohibited from torpedoing merchant ships.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Agreements reached yesterday by the naval committee of the arms conference included size and aggregate tonnage limitations on aircraft carriers and, subject only to French government confirmation, on size and armament of auxiliary craft.

That cleared the committee's decks, pending replies from the French and Japanese governments on the Root resolution to initiate the banning entirely of submarine warfare against commercial craft. Adjournment was taken indefinitely but probably only until next week, when these communications are expected to have been received and completion of the naval limitation agreement in committee made possible.

DEATHS

DEATH OF GEORGE McDOUGALL

The city was shocked last night to learn of the death of young George McDougal, who has been at the hospital this week suffering from injuries sustained in an auto accident Monday of this week. George, in company with his cousin, Earl Beaton, and E. A. Moffett, was riding in a truck on the Geneva road and in turning off the road into the sand the truck turned over on the occupants. Beaton and Moffett suffered bruises and cuts but were not seriously injured. George had his leg broken and was injured internally and was taken to the hospital at once where every thing was done for his comfort and care and it was thought yesterday that he would recover, but he took a turn for the worst yesterday evening and passed away last night.

He was just at the threshold of young manhood, being nineteen years of age, and was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. George McDougall, and had lived in Sanford at the old home on Celery avenue all of his years where he ably assisted his father on the farm. He was a fine young man of many excellent traits of character and had a large circle of friends here and elsewhere who loved him for his sterling character and the fact that he preferred to remain at the home place with his father and mother and looked after their interests and welfare almost with the loving care of a man of mature years.

He leaves a father and mother and a sister to mourn his loss and many friends among the boys and girls of his acquaintance. The sympathy of the community goes out to them in their hour of sorrow.

The funeral services will be held from the home on Celery avenue tomorrow afternoon at 3:30, Father Hennessey, of the Catholic Church officiating. Interment will be made in Lakeview cemetery.

BARNEY LYONS DIES AT LAKE MONROE

M. B. Lyons, aged 54, died at his home at Lake Monroe Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. Mr. Lyons was a faithful member of the Catholic church and died fully sustained and fortified by its last holy rites.

Martin Barney Lyons, a son of Patrick Lyons of Mayo, Ireland, was born in Perry county, Indiana, where he lived the greater part of his life, having come to Florida seven years ago. He was engaged in the trucking business and though his progress had not been rapid, he had steadily accumulated until at the time of his death he was very comfortably established in life.

Mr. Lyons was one of our very best citizens. Honest and upright as the day is long, his word was his bond. Of a kindly and gentle nature he was generally beloved, but especially by the children who always gathered about him—he, himself, was as simple, child-like and trusting as one of them.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Sarah Frances Lyons, two sisters survive: Mrs. Dave Keely, Simpsonville, Ky., and Miss Sarah Lyons, St. Croix, Ind. A niece, Mrs. Ben Lake, lives at Monroe.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been fully decided upon, as relatives from the north are expected, but services will probably be conducted Saturday from the Catholic church at Sanford, interment in the Catholic cemetery.

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Get in our big New Year's edition Monday.

We should all whoop them up on the first day of the year and start the new year right by advertising.

Every merchant ought to take an advertisement in this edition for we will send them everywhere.

Our new service to Enterprise starts Monday. The good people of Enterprise will get the Daily Herald almost as soon as the Sanford people. This means something to the merchants of Sanford.

Another good restaurant in Sanford opens tomorrow in the Seminole Cafe. This is another milestone in the progress and prosperity of this city. We have needed more restaurants.

From all indications the Sanford celery crop will be a good one this season, and good prices will prevail, remarks the Sanford Herald. Our celery has gone to market in other years when business was depressed in the North, and brought good prices and will do so again. The Herald adds that a great many people never get a chance to enjoy celery anyway, and a great majority of users are people of means. This is true enough, and more's the pity. Celery is one of the finest vegetables grown, and it would be a splendid thing if every family could have it regularly. The growers of celery in Florida are steadily increasing their acreage and doing their best to make it plenty and reasonable in price.—Times-Union.

SELF-STYLED FOSSIL

State Superintendent W. N. Sheats, evidently came into the association meeting just closing, with a chip on his shoulder. Any way, it was clear that he had a grievance to air, and he aired it. His chief complaint seemed to be that people were characterizing him as a buck number and a fossil. If any further evidence were required to convict him of the charge, his address or more properly his "harangue" as he styled it, furnished it. It was indeed pitiable to see an old man who has for 22 years been honored by the people of Florida with one of the most important and dignified offices of the state, turn political stump speaker before so large and so fine a body of educators as he confronted in the First Baptist church Tuesday evening.

Whatever may have been the record of Mr. Sheats in the past, he certainly displayed bad taste, and showed incompetency by the address delivered before the Educational Association that met in this city. It must be a source of regret to the progressive men and women of this state who are devoting their lives to teaching, that the state head should make such a mockery of educational issues, and show such partisan feeling as he displayed.

Perhaps, the theory advanced in the state of Washington, is the correct one: "Too long in office, unfit for service." Any way it must be apparent to all that the educational interests of Florida demand a younger, more progressive and broader minded man than Mr. Sheats at the head. Florida has many capable men who would do honor to this office and there is scarce reason for longer filling it with an excuse.—Reporter-Star.

Happy New Year!

WELAKA BLOCK

THE ADVERTISE AT HOME PRINCIPLE SAME AS TRADE AT HOME

If the Orlando Morning Sentinel were to come out tomorrow with an admonition to Orlando people to buy their shoes, drugs, automobile accessories, clothes, groceries, building material, etc., etc., from Chicago, New York, Jacksonville, or Tampa wholesale houses, the publishers of this newspaper would no doubt be ostracized and the paper boycotted.

The life of a newspaper is advertising, and advertising is a commodity as necessary to the success of a publication as various articles are to a general store. It has been the policy, and it always will be the policy of the Sentinel, to boost this city, its business and industries and its people to the exclusion of every other city or town in the world.

The business men look to the Sentinel for encouragement for home-trading and buying. At the same time the Sentinel looks to the home people and has every reason to expect them to buy their advertising at home and place it in an Orlando institution which is zealously devoted to the up-building of the City Beautiful and Orange County and everything that pertains to it. This newspaper and its publishers have made heavy investments here, pay heavy taxes and are diligently laboring in every possible manner for the improvement of the city.

Of late it has been observed that Orlando merchants are contributing their dollars in foreign mediums which are notorious, in one particular at least, for knocking and hammering Orlando. Reciprocity is a great word and consistency is likewise a strong word. It is only fair that business men should keep their advertising at home where it will achieve results.

To a few people this may seem to be an inconsequential matter, but to the overwhelming majority we believe that it will appeal because of the principle involved. It is not the question of giving to others that which rightfully belongs at home.—Orlando Sentinel.

You are eminently correct and hereafter you can refuse to take any advertising from Sanford. It is a poor rule that won't work both ways. At present the Orlando stores are not advertising in the Herald so this little story does not reach this paper but unless the Sanford merchants advertise sufficiently to keep the Herald moving we would not hesitate in going to Orlando and other cities and take advertising. You are right about your statement that it is a poor rule. It is also a double edged sword and cuts both ways and the newspaper will not be cut in the general wind-up. There are some things newspapers won't stand and lack of advertising is one of them. However you started it down at Orlando and you ought to be able to finish it.

BRIGHT DAYS IN STORE

One cannot live in Sanford without having the thought uppermost in your mind day after day that Sanford has the brightest prospects of any city in the growing state of Florida. Just to live here, just to see the beautiful sunshine, just to see the beautiful waters of Lake Monroe, just to hear our fine band, just to take part in the church work, the public work, the progressive movements, the joyous seasons of the holidays give one that spirit of boost and work and the joy of living. And to live in Sanford is to boost for Sanford and to work for Sanford for you can see the city growing day by day into that city of our dreams and it is getting into the big city class so fast that even the most pessimistic one in our midst is bound to admit it. There are brighter days in store for Sanford and all of her inhabitants. The New Year will be ushered in with a feeling that maybe we did not make as much money from our lettuce crop as we should have made, that maybe we did not have as many winter visitors in the early season as we should have had, that maybe things are not as bright as they might have been, but at that the people of Sanford are so much better off down here in this beautiful location that regardless of local color at present there are brighter days in prospect for all of us.

We are on the threshold of another year. It is ripe in potentialities and possibilities. Opportunity will knock on our door all through the year of 1922 as never before. We should be standing all ready behind the door and when the rascal knocks grab him by the neck and bring him right into the city and hold him. We should be all ready and all set for the greatest season in our history. Our merchants should start an advertising campaign that will bring the people here to trade for many miles around. The business men of Sanford should go after trade this season as never before. We have the greatest trading center in the state and we should cultivate the trade in the year 1922 just as we cultivate the celery fields from which

There are bright days in store for every part of the state of Florida and Sanford has the best location of any city in this part of the state. We have much work to do for nothing copies to those who sit down and wait. Go after the business, build up your city, be an active member of your Chamber of Commerce, take a hand in everything for the good of the community. "Work like hell and advertise" is the slogan on a postal card received today and we pass it on to the community builders of Sanford.

WRITTEN BY A. M. THRASHER.

The Paris edition of the New York Herald contains the following article headed "Common Sense," and signed by A. M. Thrasher, a former resident of Sanford:

To the writer it is astonishing that within this month so many men in high position and authority, in America, England, Italy and France, statesmen, authors, correspondents, rips in years, erudite, and with long experience in public life; yes, men who evidently drank deep at the Florian spring, have said, and done, things that are absolutely silly, have said things which are probably true and yet, they were things it was quite unnecessary to say at all, and said at the most critical time and most inopportune time and places, and I am convinced that it is because of a lack of plain, every-day common horse sense.

Was the Great War the cause of this unbalanced state of mind?

It is an old, old adage, that plain, every-day common sense is the most uncommon thing in the world and the writer believes it.

Common sense is precisely the thing needed in Washington, and in London and elsewhere today.

The lack of common sense, coupled with a small grain of egotism in Washington, may produce disappointment, and blast the hopes of an impatiently waiting world.

I am constrained to mention names but fear you would say I lacked common sense, and refrain. You know them. A. M. Thrasher.

After the descent the party left for the surrounding country and then returned to Sanford, where Mr. and Mrs. Moses had planned a dinner at the Valdez Hotel. All in all the young couple said that it was the most pleasant day they have had since their arrival in Florida. Tonight a farewell party will be given and they will leave for Jacksonville on the midnight train.
