

Getting too far away from it all...

Rural aged face special problems

[Ed. note: This is another of a series of articles about America's elderly which will appear throughout 1973.]

By Tom Tiebe

DAK CREEK, Colo. — When Esther Lewis was younger, settling down from a brief career in vaudeville, she thought the Colorado Rockies would be the ideal place to live out her life.

Now that she's old, however, has a bum leg, has cramps in the arm and needs help to get around, the mountains are not so lovely. "They are looming. Stuck away like this," she says. "Why, I suppose I could die and not be found for days."

Mrs. Lewis, 72, lives at the end of a backwoods-like row of weathered apartments in this community of 500 people. Her husband died years ago, and her son has gone. Her neighbors give little indication they know she exists. She is lonely, isolated, ignored, and most of all, vulnerable.

"Once I had to go into Denver to get a brace for my leg. There is no train so I made it down to the highway to catch the bus. It took me two hours and with my leg and all it was very uncomfortable. Then when I got there I had to carry my own bag. I asked a policeman for help and he turned away. My cabdriver said he didn't like picking up handicapped people. Oh, it was a awful trip. But I haven't any choice, living out here."

Mrs. Lewis is not unlike hundreds of thousands of other rural elderly. Not many, then, have the choices. Only one or two per cent of Americans move when they reach retirement age, thus unable to seek out anything better. They must rely on their communities for old-age assistance. And in many instances, in rural America, there isn't any assistance.

Growing old anywhere has its problems. But growing old in rural America can be severely difficult. One reason: Only one or two per cent of Americans move when they reach retirement age, thus unable to seek out anything better. They must rely on their communities for old-age assistance. And in many instances, in rural America, there isn't any assistance.

Mrs. Lewis' problems with the outside world begin at her door.

Jimmy Benson is about to learn a lesson in competitive distribution.

Lessons every businessman has to learn. Lessons taught to him by the consumer. Jimmy is vulnerable to the consumer the moment he decides to go into business. Does he have the right product? The right quality? The right price? The right location? He'll soon find out. The consumer will tell him. And he'd better listen. If he wants to stay in business and become an asset to the community.

That's what in business is all about—responding to the consumer. Meeting people's constantly changing needs.

As independent businessmen, we believe in competitive distribution. The retail automobile business is built on it. So is every business advertised in this newspaper. And because of competition, you'll never be forced to buy one brand, at one price, from one store. Competition gives you a choice. The result is greater variety, better quality, better service. And, who would believe, even lower prices?

You call the shots. You, the consumer. We wouldn't have it any other way. After all, we're consumers, too.

Stock Market Investors Get Showered By Bad Statistics

By JOHN CUNIFFE
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Can you stand just one more handful of statistics on how a coup de grace of 2,652 stocks listed on the New York and American exchanges only 170 rose in the last 10 days?

Fortunately for this sense of rugged individualism, as well as for the investor, among the oils things have begun to pick up economically in South Route. Money being spent nearby Steamboat Springs (skiing area) is creating a wide-area. Young people are moving into the oil fields in Oak Creek, between Durango and a new ambulance. A full-time doctor is expected to occupy the local clinic.

The oil warden no longer throws the confiscated meat away. He gives it to me and I turn it pass it on, very discreetly.

The wife, she says, "is I can't leave my apartment. There's no one to take me. I used to try to get around by myself in the summer, but now I can't even do that."

She doesn't like to dwell on what has happened, not just because it's been a bad year, but because it's been a bad year.

But no longer can the ordinary investor be hurt by such as this.

He wouldn't want to probe deeply into that evidence either.

Cause it is in the past — although the past seems destined to extend to the future — but because he can't do much about it anyway.

About the past use of inside information and manipulation and inept record-keeping and bad advice and indifference to small accounts and brokerage house failures and the slowness with which the market is being reorganized.

About the business and investing scene, the dreary highlights of which are anemic dollar, an inflation that defies management, regulation from Washington, shortages — and supplies that aren't getting better soon.

He was still concerned, the ordinary investor would also recognize with horror the undeniable statistical evidence of a Dow Jones Industrial Average that is back where it was in 1964.

He wouldn't want to probe deeply into that evidence either.

A company called Interactive Data Corp., one of those computer-based corporate autoparts, is the source of this morbidity intelligence.

It also discloses such tidbits as Mrs. Elsie L. Doff of 504 Orange Dr., Altamonte Springs, recently completed a U.S. Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps field training encampment at Lake Wales, Fla. He is a member of the 1st Cavalry Division AFROTC unit and is a 1966 graduate of Balboa High School in the Canal Zone.

Drummond Hits Swofford 'Extortion'

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

County Commissioner Greg Drummond today charged Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swofford with extorting in recent utility rate increases, and called for the indictment of all local, state, and federal officials responsible for approval of that city's main sewage plant.

Altamonte officials have said recently the rate increase, which only affects residents of unincorporated areas served by county, is to be used to fund legal expenses of a suit brought against the city over recent strip annexation practices.

Sponsoring the bill, Drummond has charged the city's recent strip annexations are aimed at "extortion" by Swofford.

The bill, introduced by Swofford, is the key point in a series of steps being taken by the plant's supporters to get service for the city.

Drummond has charged the plant's supporters are "greedy" and "unethical."

To Pave Way For Cuba OAS Breaking Old Ideology Block

Representative democracy may be going out of fashion in Latin America. Politicians, diplomats and government spokesman may even stop talking about it.

Already 10 of the 24 American republics are living under Marxist, anti-Marxist or non-descript dictatorship. The other 14 countries boast elected government that, in theory at least, would seem to indicate that they believe in the principle of political organization of the basis of effective exercise of representative democracy.

But appearances can be misleading.

In fact, at the hemispheric meeting in Lima, Peru, it was elected government, rather than a dictatorship, that suggested that the charter of the Organization of American States (OAS) be amended to eliminate the reference to "representative democracy."

Rather, the Mexican delegation to the meeting of the "Special Commission for Restructuring" the inter-American system proposed, the objectionable part of the OAS charter should be eliminated, and in its place "ideological pluralism" should be substituted.

Mexico, of course, believes in representative democracy. In fact, just a few days before the Mexican suggestion was advanced in Lima,

Other Thoughts

It would be rash to take any event in bloodied Northern Ireland as a harbinger of peace but the recent elections provided some grounds for optimism.

Voters gave a majority of seats to the moderate Unionist and the middle-of-the-road Alliance Party, both of which have indicated a willingness to share power, with the newly elected Catholic Socialists and Democratic Labor Party members. This is more than enough of a voice of moderation to outweigh the militant Loyalist coalition which is traditionally opposed to Catholics.

A coalition admittedly is tenuous by nature. Moreover, violence by extremists will continue to inject strong feelings into a situation which cries out for cool, considered reason.

Nevertheless all of Ireland badly needed evidence of Protestant and Catholic willingness to work together for common ends. The recent election of Protestant President Erskine Childers in the South and the selection of a moderate assembly in the North express a live and let live sentiment to a degree rarely seen recently in the troubled Irish nations.

Physical exam won't violate her chastity

DEAR ABBY: Doesn't a girl have the right to be chaste anymore?

My boy friend and I are soon to be married, and we don't want any kids yet, so I talked to my mother and she suggested I get birth control pills before I got married.

I called the local Family Planning clinic about getting pills; they said I would have to come down for a pelvic and breast examination by their own doctor. Is it any wonder they don't want them to say no?

Then I called a couple of private male doctors, and they said I would have to be examined before they would prescribe the pill for me. Then I called a woman doctor, and she said an examination wasn't necessary for me to get the pill as long as I feel well.

I think these male doctors are unfair and have no regard for a girl's feelings. I wonder why the male doctors require examinations and the women doctors don't? Is it male chauvinism, or greed for the exam? — WONDERING IN TOPEKA

DEAR WONDERING: A pelvic and breast examination by a male physician will in no way violate your chastity. Furthermore, medical authorities tell me that it's considered risky to prescribe the pill without having examined the patient, because not all women can take the pill safely. Most doctors, male and female, concur and take no chances.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating a lovely widow for over three years. While dating her, I also dated a couple of divorcees. Without going into detail, let me just say I did more than hold hands with all three of these ladies.

For the last few months I've been dating the widow exclusively, and we are seriously considering matrimony. She is very inquisitive, and knowing that I have dated the divorcees, she keeps quizzing me about the relationships.

In fact, she presses me for the ... intimate details. Must I reveal everything this woman wants to know? We aren't kids. We are both in our fifties. Rush your answer to me and I'll abide by your advice. — SETTLING DOWN

DEAR SETTLING: What went on between you and the other ladies in your life is none of her business. Tell her you'd rather not consider discussing what went on between you and THEM than what went on with you and HER. That should settle it.

DEAR ABBY: I've a 76-year-old sister with whom I've been estranged for many years. She became widowed for the first time a few months ago. She has written to say that she and her 50-year-old son, who is extremely obnoxious, are coming to visit me and my wife.

This sister visited us 20 years ago and I'll never forget it. She made such a row that I had to call the police and have her forcibly evicted.

Frankly, she is not normal in the head and she makes trouble wherever she goes. I've discussed this with my wife, and she wants no part of my sister or her son.

I intend to consult a lawyer who will send a registered letter to my sister, telling her that she is not welcome here, and advising her that there are protective laws for persons who do not want to be molested by undesirable relatives.

Please advise me for legal ways that this is advisable and effective? Or have you perhaps some other suggestion that would accomplish the same end? — CANADIAN

DEAR CANADIAN: You know Sister better than I do. Let your lawyer handle it.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1973 CARROLL RIGHITER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TUESDAYS: Most everyone has some sort of a chip on his shoulder today and tonight, so you would be wise not to allow yourself to feel you are being imposed upon. Such an attitude now would alienate others from you and put you in such a frame of mind that you would be unable to rightly do the work expected of you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you handle those problems in a more objective manner, you can take care of them properly. Show how you compassion for those who are having trouble. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

TAUPIO (Apr. 20 to May 18) Instead of feeling sorry for yourself, get busy and help those who are far worse off. Avoid that social affair that could bring trouble of some sort. Be more willing to listen to others.

GEMINI (May 19 to June 21) Instead of trying to criticize a higher-up, back him and you get along much better. Think carefully before you get into that worldly matter. Make sure you take care of your personal business.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have fine ideas, but don't be disappointed if they don't work out immediately, since they may take a while. Get the data you need for new projects and you can also gain the support of big people.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 13) You have responsibilities that are difficult, but don't think others are less burdened. Keep busy and all is fine. Your idea concerning a loved one is all wrong, so put it out of your mind. Avoid one who is tricky.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You feel that long talks with a partner can clear up some annoying situations, but get right to the point. If you keep promises you have made, you have more improved conditions around you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take care you do not feel sorry for yourself simply because the aspects are gloomy; they are for others, also. Listen some to music you enjoy, read, watch TV, or do anything that will take you out of the doleful mood.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) There are pleasant conditions you can get into, so stop looking on the dark side. Give thanks for what you have and do those things that make others feel better. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get out into the business world instead of feeling you have to stay home so much. Don't argue at home, or there could be serious results. Keep quiet if an argument starts there and it will blow over quickly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get busy at the shopping you have to do and handle routine affairs in a clever way. Postpone that transportation matter that could give you trouble. Avoid one who is gossipy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 18) Plan time to think over money matters and do something very constructive about them instead of feeling low or upset. Ask an expert for the advice you need. Avoid one who does not think straight.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) You want to argue with good friends and go on some wild gags, but be writing. Study your references and make sure they are the best ones. Do something about your appearance. Get rid of any flaws.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY (July 18) You are the best person to help him. He or she will be one of those delightful young people who is very emotional and sensitive and may feel like giving up the ship when things do not go just as he wants them to. Encourage the boy to earn money, and then all works out just fine. There is a fine ability at getting things whittled down to workable size. Much ability at detail here. Give as fine an education as you can. Sports are important.

Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for August is now ready. For your copy send your birthday and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast (name of newspaper), Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90002.

POLLY'S POINTERS

She Has Eyes But Doesn't See

By POLLY CHARMER

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve concerns that hook and eye on the back of the neck of a dress or garment. I do wish they would use metal eyes like the hooks the thread ones soon fall out and the metal would be so much easier to find when one is groping around trying to locate the eye for the hook. — MAILED-IN

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY: I do wish some reader would tell me how to introduce a color to a pastel pink and blue halter top. Tub bows, sink bows, etc. and the walls pink half way up and then papered with a depressing gray, tan, pink, blue and white wallpaper. I have haunted paint stores and perused over magazines but with no luck. — MRS. R. J. C.

DEAR POLLY: — Judy who wants to receive snapshots from both sides of the photo in a photo album. If they are black and white snapshots (Not Polaroids), hand-tinted or color, she can soak the pages in plain water until the album is saturated, then lay it flat on a table, paint each photo with a thin wash of watercolor paint, then lay it flat again. Smooth pictures on a window, mirror or between borders so they will dry flat. Most album pages are made of a soft pulpy paper that soon falls apart whereas the snapshots are not hurt with a broad brush. I find it works every time. — HANS G. T.

(Polly's note: Colored snapshots I soaked for 24 hours also came out O.K.)

DEAR POLLY: — We have all heard the saying that "If one makes a better mousetrap the world will beat a path to its door." Well, I have not built a better mouse trap but I have discovered a more effective way to bait the one I have. Simply cut off a corner of a square caramel and fasten it to the trap with a bread twist. I find it works every time — JEAN

DEAR POLLY: — When the cleaner came to hang our draperies we asked him how to clean the drapery cords. They were covered with a strong solution of household bleach and hot water in a TALL container, gather the cord into this container and swirl it around. He stressed that the most important part was that a small amount of white vinegar to prevent the residue of bleach from rotting the cord and also to keep it from turning yellow. — BILL L.

DEAR POLLY: — A plastic-covered coffee can makes a toy that a child will enjoy. Punch a hole in the top and one in the bottom and run a string rubber band through a small stick, pointed to tie the band to the outside of the cover and the bottom. By winding the band around to tighten it and then placing the toy on the floor, the can will roll away and then come back. Once the toy is in motion it will be hard to make it stop but I would omit the noise-maker when the toy is for smaller children. Be certain there are no sharp edges on the can rims. — PEGGY

DEAR POLLY: — If Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Pet Peeve, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem, write Polly in care of this newspaper.

Senate Will Ask For Nixon Tapes

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Herbert W. Kalmbach testified today that in enlisting him to raise money for the seven original Watergate defendants, former White House counsel John W. Dean III did not tell him that the case could lead to trouble for President Nixon.

Kalmbach returned to the Senate's televised Watergate hearings before an investigating committee preparing to ask for tape recordings of Nixon's conversations with key figures in the scandal.

Kalmbach, Nixon's former personal lawyer, differed with Dean's account of the way he was recruited to raise money for the Watergate defendants.

Sen. Joseph M. Montoya, D-N.M., read Dean's earlier testimony, in which the former White House lawyer said he had told Kalmbach on June 29, 1972, virtually everything he knew about the origins of the Watergate wiretapping. Dean had testified that he expressed concern "this could lead right to the President."

Kalmbach said he did not recall it that way. "My recollection of that conversation was simply that he indicated that he wished me, he used the word again 'we,' I was being asked to raise funds for the legal defense of these people and for the support of the families," he testified.

Phase 4 Guidelines At Today's Meeting

By FRANK GOURIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, feeling improved after a restful night, scheduled decision-making meetings today on his Phase 4 economic program with Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Nixon set up a morning appointment with Shultz, one of his principal economic advisers, and with White House counsellor Melvin R. Laird, Nixon's Harlow.

The White House said Phase 4 also would be the principal topic at a 4 p.m. Nixon-Agnew meeting. The president and vice president have not talked since they entered the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital last Thursday.

The administration's new proposal for wage-price restraints will be announced later this week, according to White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Nixon had a fever of 99 degrees during the night but had returned to normal by morning, the White House said today.

After dining Monday night at his break-in for wage tenderloin, string beans, carrots and fettuccini, the report said, "the President slept well throughout the night without difficulty."

Former congressional Bill Hurt requested time upon the agenda for a question and answer session with the residents of Winter Springs — a contingent of interested citizens expected at city hall for a meeting of city council Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. to protest a proposal by Councilman Victor Miller for either imposition of an ad valorem tax or dissolution of the city.

Nixon's two principal Watergate counselors, Leonard Garment and J. Fred Bihardt, made an unannounced trip to the hospital Monday night. The White House said they did not see Nixon but met with Ziegler and White House staff C. Michael M. Rebozo.

The President had an hour-long visit Monday night with his wife, Pat, daughter Tricia Cox, and Florida friend C. B. "Bebe" Rebozo.

Afterwards, Mrs. Nixon told reporters "He's great."

She and Tricia brought along their family dogs on leashes and Tricia reported that poolie Vicki, tennis Pasha, and setter King Timahoe "really perked him up."

Monday's final medical report said:

"It was not necessary for the President to have a chest X-ray today. His temperature was elevated to 99 degrees at noon. His lungs reveal only minimal infiltration. He continued his progressing the property tax, but according to city source, that has been allocated 'three minutes' to speak."

Hurt told the Herald Miller promised a recreation building, efficient management and enforcement of city ordinances, all of which, Hurt said, Miller has failed to fulfill. Continuing, "The only thing he does is talk. He doesn't get his way by imposing an ad valorem tax when we should dissolve our charter. He didn't help write the charter and didn't help get its passage. Nor was he responsible for the development of Winter Springs in any way. This was all accomplished by council before his time."

"Now," Hurt went on to note, "In defiance of public opinion and against the wishes of the majority of the people, our councilman (Miller) wants to shove an ad valorem tax down our necks."

"I urge the budget he is asking for does not necessitate more taxes, but why can't he be more reasonable in his requests and stop doubling and tripling salaries?" Hurt said.

Miller holds the position Miller holds "is too much for him to handle," Hurt said. "All his promises to the residents haven't been kept and he should admit failure and resign."

In other business council will hold a public hearing upon amendments to the police department budget, the object of the controversy. The budget for the list of all requests at $142,000, less than less than the entire city budget of $148,212 for the current fiscal year.

There will also be a public hearing upon annexation of a site for a new school.

Councilman Vicki Baker will present the budget for the marine department in which the sale and expansion of Mayor Granville Brown are the primary target for contention.

Mrs. Baker has also requested a $25 monthly hike in the "expenses" (mayor and council do not receive a salary per se) of council.

At last week's meeting it was pointed out the city is "looking toward a full-time mayor at an $8,000 annual salary."

The engineer's report included a slide presentation on operation of the city's new $1.5 million sewage treatment plant now in operation.

In other business, the board was asked by Central Florida Zoological Society representatives

Gib Blake for six months

Plans showing the board a slide presentation already viewed by county commissioners, asked this year's budget sessions to include funds covering the period from Oct. 1, 1973 to March 31, 1974, by which time all the animals should be moved.

The only other agenda item on the board's short afternoon session scheduled saw Ms. Dorothy Powell of Clinton Street win a one-week reprieve for several large trees on Glenway Drive between Clinton and Washington Streets.

Commissioners agreed to delay pending further discussion next Monday a decision to vacate the east 20 feet of Glenway Drive. The original order was given three weeks ago at the request of Police Chief Ben Butler.

Ms. Powell told the board she had read the public notice of the earlier commission hearing, and said 10 large oak trees on the road precluded any possibility of paving to the planned right of way.

Face Leesburg Tonight

Americans Bow To Ormond Beach, 3-1'

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

ST. CLOUD — A clutch two-out hit in the bottom of the fifth inning gave the Ormond Beach

Nationals a lead the Sanford Americans couldn't overcome Monday night, as the loss fell, 3-1 in the opening round of the double-elimination Florida Little Major League District IV

Tournament. In the other tournament contest, the Ocala Highland American All-Stars blasted the Leesburg

Leesburg and Sanford will square off in the final game at 6 p.m. tonight in St. Cloud, with the loser being eliminated. Ocala and Ormond Beach meet in the second game of the night.

Sanford had the bases loaded with no outs twice during the game, but couldn't score either time. The last two batters were retired without hitting the ball. The third batter was a walk-off, but the top of the fifth was with the top of the order.

Sanford's first threat came in the top of the third inning, when Rocky Jernigan singled to lead off. Joe Smith followed with a double, and Robby Sowers and Chet Red drew walks to fill the bases with two outs. The next three batters were retired on strikeouts, once again ending a big Sanford threat.

Ormond Beach jumped ahead 1-0 with a single tally in the bottom of the same frame.

Frank Davis walked with one out and Rick Hogue followed with a single. Davis went around to score on a pair of wild pitches, while Hogue was stranded on third base when Dave James flew out to the right fielder for the final out of the inning.

The Oviedo Stars, managed for the second year in a row by Jim Homer, dropped a 6-3 decision to Northwest's Seniors Saturday afternoon at Conway before storming back to beat Apoka crew yesterday. The loss eliminated Apoka from the double-elimination event.

Seniors had scored a Saturday victory over Apoka but fell last night in its meeting with Rolling Hills, dropping a losing 9-6 decision.

Another Division B game played Monday found Conway scoring a 5-2 win over the lead route to a 16-10 conquest of Northwest Little League.

In Division A West Orange dumped Eastis, 5-2, West Oak Ridge defeated Ocoee, 2-1, Azalea Park won over Pinecastle, 2-1 and Azalea Park dumped Union Park, 8-4.

Other games today at Conway Field have McCoy facing Northwest in a loser's bracket game at 2:30 p.m. and at 7:30, following the Oviedo-Senior tilt, a winner's bracket battle between Rolling Hills going up against Semoran.

Action in both the A and B Divisions will continue this week with the final set for Saturday and Sunday.

The Big League state Tournament is slated for Tinker Field later this week with the first games scheduled for Friday, July 20.

Orlando, the defending champion, first sees action on Saturday, July 21 at 5 p.m. against the District 6 champs.

Brevard's District 2 champs, Clearwater, the District 1 representative in the opening game of the tournament, Friday, July 20 in a 6 p.m. game.

Wrong Direction

While attending the Oviedo All-Star game with Apoka Monday night we learned at least one of the league's managers was in favor of changing the format of the regular season schedule which calls for the league to play a first and second field.

Having "first hand" experience with this sort of thing, and coming out on the short end we still feel the divided schedule is the best route to follow. It makes for a more interesting season and the main object is to provide added incentive for the boys.

It seems a few people lose sight of the objectives of Little League baseball. First and foremost to be considered is what is good for those youngsters in the league. Then proceed from there. It seems to us the direction to follow is simple enough but . . .

Who's At Fault

Due to circumstances beyond our control . . . That could have been the reason for the Oviedo All-Stars not having every top boy in the league at least trying out for the team which lost Monday night in Rolling Hills.

Do not get us wrong. The boys who represented Oviedo's All-Star team did an excellent job. But there were a few boys who played in the league this year who were not given a shot at trying out for the team and this is indeed a sad affair.

The failure of the few boys we have in mind WAS NOT the fault of the league president, directors or the all-star manager but a few other people who neglected their duty.

Unless the best players in the league are elected for their play during the regular season and awarded a chance to at least try out for the all-star team then perhaps the entire idea should be abandoned.

How It's Done

Moving on to other things. Today in the mails we received from Arizona State University (ASU) a brochure boasting of the talents of the Sun Devils senior halfback, Wood Green.

The publicity department of ASU headed by Sports Information Director Dick Mullins has launched its campaign to bring the highly publicized Heisman Trophy to the Southwest school.

In his release Mullins says he "stuck to the basics, for Woody's abilities do not need embellishing."

The Arizona State SID qualifies the release and brochure with a very good statement, one which needs a little more attention.

Mullins says the brochure is needed because the Sun Devils and Green will NOT appear on national TV during the regular season and that many of the ASU games are played at night, unnoticed by scribes in the eastern section of the country.

Going to a game on Saturday night, the Sun Devils are given the best chance at becoming All-Americans.

Oviedo Seniors Remain 'Alive' In Tournament

Oviedo's Senior League All-Stars remained alive in the Division B Senior League Tournament by upending Apoka, 8-4 yesterday afternoon.

The Victory keeps the Oviedo crew in contention but they must fight their way back through the loser's bracket after dropping their game on Saturday. Tonight the Oviedo outfit has a 5 p.m. date with Semoran at Conway Field.

Lucci Mean For 'Fun'

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Linebackers aren't supposed to be guys, at least on the football field.

But Mike Lucci of the Detroit Lions is a mean guy, literally mean to an extreme during the off-season just in fun, however.

"I beat up a young lady to find out where her boyfriend was," Lucci said, describing some of his role as "Fast Eddie" in a casting studio selected him from a batch of players' pictures sent by the Lions.

Mike White, a strapping port side whose relief work for Apoka was the difference in the game, dropped a shot that pulled Miller third in his scoring attempt and was caught by alert Oviedo coaches. But that only delayed the Apoka scoring.

The next three batters were given walks by the second of three Oviedo pitchers, Steve Winter. At this stage Ned Golden came on in relief of Winter. An error on the first batted ball continued the Apoka surge while Golden was pitching.

Apoka opened the scoring with two runs in the top of the first on a wild and two singles.

Apoka's lead grew to four in the top of the third when Bell led off with his second of four straight walks. James Duke singled and Red had Bell circled the bases on a groundout of the tail of Lance Hillard.

ROLLING HILLS — But for a fifth-inning rally, Oviedo All-Stars might still be in the Ariea 3 Little Major Division championships being contested this week.

But as the result of that loneinning of failure the Oviedo stars are now among the losers and dropping a 15-7 decision to Apoka. A game a few days earlier.

In fact, Ned Golden's Oviedo crew were ahead much of the game and were led by a casting studio selected him from a batch of players' pictures sent by the Lions.

Movie in which he appeared. "I finally ended up getting shot down on the railroad tracks," the Herculean-faced middle linebacker added, during a break from the routine of two-a-day practices this week of the tournament.

Apoka Broke From a 4-4 Deadlock With an Eight Run Explosion in the Fifth Innings and Seven of Their Eight Walks Came in the Bottom of the Frame.

Actually but for some poor base running the Apoka crew could have had a few more additions in the fifth inning surging.

An Oviedo error opened that Apoka fifth inning but it didn't hurt much as the next batter hit a double to put runners on second and third.

After Apoka scored eight runs in the fifth Oviedo added three more in the sixth Oviedo added its final run. Bell and Ron Norman each drew a walk and then Dike unloaded a tremendous shot over the tarpier in dead centerfield.

Other Oviedo stars getting hits in the game were Johnny Winter, Ed Miller and Dike.

Apoka tied the score in the top of the fourth on two singles and a Oviedo outfield error.

12 runs scored five hits and seven errors. Oviedo sent 18 batters to the plate during the ninth safety.

The losers cut-bit the winners in this contest, with Leesburg collecting 10 hits to Oviedo's nine.

Cheatwood paced the winners with a three for four performance, while Serna was three for four with a triple. The losers were paced by Zack Nelson, three for three on the night.

Serna was the winning pitcher with six strike outs, while Dickey had only two in a losing effort.

Leesburg had jumped into an early 1-0 first inning, lead off by Rocky Jernigan singled to lead off the first, but couldn't score either time. The last three batters were retired on strikeouts, once again ending a big Sanford threat.

Select Hypnotist Carefully

"With the pressures, tensions and anxieties of everyday life inexorably increasing," says R. D. Wesley, Seminole County's only licensed Consultant in Ethical Hypnosis.

"Throughout history hypnosis has always attracted a fringe of quacks and charlatans, contrary to some beliefs, hypnosis is not something that I do 'to you' or 'for you.'

"The incidents of psychosomatic illness is growing in proportion.

"Psychosomatic ills have no

"organic" origin and can manifest themselves in the form of: prolonged nervous tension; excessive smoking; insomnia; sexual problems such as frigidity and impotence; migraine; poor concentration, retention and recall; overweight; spastic colon or stomach.

"Problems of this nature could have several temporary remedies such as sleeping pills, shots, mood elevators or tranquilizers. However, Wesley says, "It is much better to make them more important that you select your hypnotist just as carefully as you would select your physician."

"With the therapeutic use of hypnosis growing each day, it becomes even more important that you select your hypnotist just as carefully as you would select your physician!"

"Be sure the hypnotist is licensed as an Ethical Hypnotist. This does not mean just a license to practice some kind of a business. If he practices hypnosis in accord with the Florida Hypnosis Law, he can secure a license as an Ethical Hypnotist. If he does not have such a license, you should certainly wonder, Why?"

"Does the hypnotist require a

"physician as a physician as required by Florida Law? Is he known to the local medical profession? A check with your doctor would clearly reveal the hypnotist's local standing or reputation."

"As a public service, Wesley gives free lectures, demonstrations to civic, religious and social clubs, or to any interested group. He explains the use and abuse of hypnosis and how it can be used to benefit the individual.

"Or, if you have a personal problem, you can make an appointment for a private consultation. Just call 322-5758."

"Magnetic striping on the back of light plastic signs allows the man who used his sign to both for business and private purposes, to stick the sign, or perhaps, to will a neat and useful device!"

"Store front lettering, truck signs! Drop by or call (322-7195) soon. Davis talks sign language!

"Call by at the Davis sign studio at 2619 French Avenue (Pine and Shores). Davis will be happy to show you samples of the types of signs and styles of lettering he offers.

The selection is wide—there's sure to be the perfect fit for your business. He will advise you as to size, color and arrangement of the words.

"Check Davis' distinctive gold-leaf signs for eye-catching qualities of wood or metal, his magnetic signs, and giant cut-out signs.

"Gold-leaf signs—the kind often used by lawyers or doctors lend elegance and distinction to a business. Goldleafing is difficult precision work requiring special skill rare among sign painters.

Davis applies the 23 karat gold to the signs with great skill and patience.

Now Is The Time To Attack S--t

By JANE GLENN HAAS
Copley News Service

The time has come to gird our loins and smile smugly.

And every citizen will be expected to do his true-blue duty.

Across the length and breadth of the land, a clarion cry for community standards of pornography will be heard, responding to the Supreme Court's ruling abolishing a national-level "S" rating.

Personally, I think the Court has put its i's in it, shooting from the hip that way at porno peddlers.

Admirable though it may be to clear magazine stands and movie theaters of s--- and m---, there are probably more awesome burdens of determining a community's moral standards must be faced.

Consider, for example, an economically depressed state, such as North Dakota, which doesn't even have Black Hills to bring in the tourist bucks.

By setting its moral standards at a national low level, North Dakota could lavishly慷慨地 spend to pursue interests and make a fortune.

There would be charters, flights, weekend excursions, name entertainers and places of pornography.

Obviously, the community that doesn't indulge itself in an orgy of open charges will be better collected and more obscene.

Of course, for some entities, or even entire states, such charges could result in an economic bonanza never envisaged by the good judges.

Consider, for example, an economic

state,

such as

Everyone leaving the state would have to be frisked for an array of outrages literature, films and so on.

Admirable though it may be to clear magazine stands and movie theaters of s--- and m---, there are probably more awesome burdens of determining a community's moral standards must be faced.

Responsibility citizens will be obliged, in good conscience, to volunteer to review b---d dances, n---c books and other bad-cop material in order to protect less sensitive e---.

The line at the courthouse will form on the right.

More difficult than determining "redeeming social value" in porno is the mandate to determine a local community's standards.

For one man's voyeurism is another's obscenity.

Promised we will hold up a predicted rollback and fold up most of the smut houses, stores and film emporiums.
