EX-CONGRESSMAN HAINES GIVES VIEWS ON SITUATION REGARDING PROHIBITION

Seminole County Winter Visitor Talks

PROHIBITION FORCE

WILL NEVER MAKE PROHIBITION EFFECTIVE BECAUSE MAJORITY DID NOT WANT DRY LAW PASSED.

"Laws should not be made which will not be respected and cannot be enforced, and the prohibition amendment to the Constitution is one of these," said the Hon Charles D. Haines in a special interview given to the Herald.

Mr. Haines, former Congressman from New York, builder and owner of a score of electric systems, has a winter home at Altamonte.

"Millions of people will agree and millions disagree with this statement and it is for this reason of people's disagreeing that issues are created," Mr. Haines continued.

"In the minds of many the question of prohibition has been definitely settled, for, they contend, does not the constitution now prohibit and, we will see that the law be enforced even if it takes the full civil and military strength of the nation to accomplish it," but no question is finally settled so long as there are millions of people who honestly differ, especially when one element considers that they have been deprived of their just privileges and those which are their's by inherent right.

"We will concede the merits of prohibition and confess all that which has been said against the liquor question as being undeniably true, but if, as is feared, prohibition is to create a bitter enmity between two forces of people of equal strength we shall face the struggles which will determine whether or no this country will continue a republic such as we are now enjoying or be framed into one perhaps no less radical than the Bolshevik.

"Who and what are the American Patriots that speak so boldly as to proclaim that the prohibition amendment to our Constitution will not be effective?

"Among its leaders are many famous Americans whose names and records are known in every household. Its rank and file includes men of all shades of political and every religious domination. It holds no brief for aught save Americanism for nationality, for solidarity, for patriotism, for dedication to the shrines and altars of our forefathers. It is non-partisan, and non-sectarian, non-exploiting. It has no right to wrong except those against our common country, no enemies to fight except those who strike at our common heritage of ordered liberty.

"Among the numbers of the Executive Committee are: Governors Alexander of Idaho, Bickett of North Carolina, Bilbo of Mississippi, Boyle of Nevada, Capper of Kansas, Cornwall of West Virginia, Harding of Iowa, Manning of South Carolina, Catts of Florida, Nevels of Nebraska, Norbeck of South Dakota, United States Senators Johnson of South Dakota, Jones of Washington, King of Utah, McLean of Connecticut, McNary of Oregon, McKellar of Tennessee, Myers of Montana, Smith of Georgia, Southerland of West Virginia, Thomas of Colorado, Townsend of Michigan, Williams of Mississippi, Major Generals Allen Ballou, Cronkhite, Dickman, Goethals, Greene, Kuhn, Moursier, Strong, Sturgis, Leonard A. Wood, and General John J. Pershing; Admirals Dillingham, Dunn, Eberle, Flak, Fletcher, Grant, Knapp, McElroy, Mead, Milton, Moore, Olive, Ransom Tappan, Woods.

"Why does the American Patriots now concern themselves with a issue that has been definitely settled?

"In order to give a qualifying reply we will first look at the foundation of our national structure before we begin to analyze our super-structures.

"The American republic is made up up from the peoples of all the various nations that inhabit the earth. There are at present nearly 6,000,000 people in the United States who cannot read or write our language. When it is known that seventy-five per cent of the Socialists are Americans and that the majority of practically all the radical organizations, with their isms and isms-foisters are Americans, and that all these combinations have been and are today transplanting their noxious and deadly poisons in a virgin and fertile seed plot, we should realize that the average citizen has no comprehension how great the inner dangers in the United States are. They have not contemplated these dangers, they have not dared to do so; they are living in the foolish and superficial contentment of voluntary blindness.

"Socialism is making rapid progress in every part of our country. A thousand speakers are preaching socialistic doctrines. The late Theodore Roosevelt said: 'If we don't by wise preparedness in advance

BRYAN IS CONSULTED ON TREATY

ARRIVES IN WASHINGTON AND IS IMMEDIATELY SOUGHT BY SENATORS.

Washington March 17 (By Associated Press) William J. Bryan arrived from Florida enroute to New York and became a participant in an eleventh hour negotiations with Democratic senators working for a pacific treaty compromise. Democratic senators began to consult him before he finished breakfast.

CONSTANTINOPLE UNDER THE GUNS ALLIED WARSHIPS

AND SHIPS ARE CLEARED FOR ACTION IN CASE THEY ARE NEEDED.

Constantinople March 17 (By Associated Press) Allied Troops have occupied Constantinople and guns of the giant allied warships are cleared for action to command both sides of the Bosphorus. The arrival of the allies has caused no panic except in Stamboul. All the allied powers participated in the movement and are under orders from the British commander here.

STEVENS CAN HOLD POSITION

ACCORDING TO DECISION RENDERED BY CITY ATTORNEY CARY D. LANDIS.

H. R. Stevens is eligible to hold the position of City Commissioner of Sanford and Mayor according to Cary D. Landis the City Attorney. Mr. Landis recently handed in his resignation but is acting as City Attorney until such time as his successor can be appointed. The following communication from City Manger Abbott explains the position of the City Manager and the City Attorney on the subject:

Mar. 10, 1920.

To the City Commissioners of the City of Sanford Sanford, Florida, Gentlemen:

You have requested my opinion whether or not Mr. H. R. Stevens is qualified to serve as a member of the City Commission of the City of Sanford.

I have investigated this matter and am of the opinion that he is legally qualified to serve as a member of the City Commission.

The fact that Mr. Stevens may hold a pass over the lines of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, by virtue of his being Master Mechanic of that Railroad, does not disqualify him as a City Commissioner. The duties of the Master Mechanic of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad require that he travel upon the railroad, and I do not believe that it is seriously contended that Mr. Stevens when travelling as a Master Mechanic of the Atlantic Coast Line upon the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad should pay his transportation. The pass that he holds is not a free ticket or pass, but a pass that must be used by him in the performance of his duties as Master Mechanic of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

I am therefore, of the opinion that Mr. Stevens is duly qualified to serve the City of Sanford as a City Commissioner.

Respectfully submitted
CARY D. LANDIS
City Attorney.
March 16, 1920.

Mr. Robert Holly
Editor of Sanford Herald
Sanford Florida.

Dear Sir:

I enclose copy of communication received from Cary C. Landis, Attorney, DeLand Florida regarding the eligibility of H. R. Stevens as Mayor for the City of Sanford under the present charter.

Any communications which have been addressed to me on this subject have been referred direct to the legal department as I am endeavoring to comply with the City ordinances and to carry out the wishes of the City Commission which is functioning under the charter passed by the State Legislature and approved by the Governor of Florida June 1919.

Sincerely,
G. A. ABBOTT
City Manager.

Cattlemen To Meet

Kissimmee, March 15.—Secretary Pat Johnston of the Cattle Raisers Association of Florida, today announced the arrangements for the first annual convention of that organization, to be held at the Tampa Bay Casino, Tampa, March 16, 17 and 18 next. The headquarters of the secretary will be at the Tampa Bay Hotel.

Secretary Johnston stated between three and five hundred members of the association were expected as this was the first meeting since its formation December 1909 last.

One of the features will be the cattle sale held at the Tampa Packing Company's plant on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 07, and anyone desiring to stock with Aberdeen Angus or India Brahm cattle can buy them. The Aberdeen Angus breed will be offered by J. J. Logan of Jacksonville and G. T. Kennard of Newberry.

The India Brahma will be placed at auction by the Lykes Brothers, of Tampa. These were originally brought by them for their own use but they have agreed that in order to help out the association and cattle business in the state to put up some of their best stock for sale.

BLIZZARD IN DAKOTA DISASTROUS

MUCH DAMAGE DONE AND PEOPLE LOSE LIVES ON THE PRAIRIES.

Bismark, N. D. March 17 (By Associated Press) Five were frozen to death and thousands of dollars worth of damage done to the state today when a blizzard swept the state the worst in thirty years. Many fatalities occurred when persons were lost in the prairies.

Official authorization, by the Post Office department at Washington, was received by the Aero Limited of Miami, to carry U. S. Mail between that city and Bimini and Nassau. C. Nichols Reinhardt, general passenger agent of the company, stated Monday afternoon that he has notified the Miami postal authorities, and the company will begin at once the carrying of mail between the ports. "Letters will be carried for the two-cent postage rate," said Mr. Reinhardt, "but they must be marked 'aerial mail' or they will be by boat. We can carry up to 1,500 pounds at one time and propose to do so if necessary."

VILLAGE TO BE SOLD

NEW YORK SHIPBUILDING CORPORATION OWNED WHOLE WORKS.

Camden, N. J. March 16.—The New York Shipbuilding Corporation has relinquished its interest in Yorkship Village in South Camden, where the Emergency Fleet Corporation constructed about 1,500 homes for workers at the shipyard, according to an announcement made at the office of the yard.

The government, it is said, attempted to sell the village to the corporation, but the price asked was considered too high. The stock held by the shipbuilding firm has been transferred to the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

Yorkship Village was built by a realty company in conjunction with the Emergency Fleet Corporation at a cost of about $12,000,000. It contains 1,386 houses, 1,000 of which are now occupied; a thirty-eight room hotel, fifty six apartment houses stores and a gymnasium. Several churches are in process of construction.

OUR LANDS IN FLORIDA LOW PRICED

PRICES ARE ENTIRELY TOO LOW COMPARED TO OTHER PARTS OF THE COUNTRY.

By Sam T. Fleming Field Agent U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Gainesville, March 16.—Florida farm land values are too low in comparison with United States values. Comparison of farm land values which are made on March 1 of each year by this bureau, indicates that the boom in farm land values, which has been taking place over a large part of the United States has not affected values materially over the greater part of Florida's farming area.

The average acre of plow land in Florida has always been lower than the average acre for the United States and under normal conditions there has been a gradual increase in these values with a tendency for Florida values to gain more or less regularly on those of the United States.

Since 1919, however, and especially for the present year, this condition has been reversed and Florida's average acre of plow land is proportionately lower than it should be.

As Florida values show generally a normal, healthy increase when compared with past years, the change relation to United States' values is evidently due to an unusual increase in these values over parts of the United States.

The value of the average acre of plow land in Florida varies greatly in the different sections of the state and is dependent in a measure on the rapidity with which the different sections are being settled up as well as on the comparative productive capacity of the land. Northwest Florida reports an average value of $26; north central Florida, $24; south central Florida, $52, and south Florida, $83.

The following table shows for Florida and for the United States the average value per acre of poor plow lands, food plow lands and the average of all plow lands. The three past years are included for comparison.

VIRGINIA REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

OPENED AT ROANOKE PROMISES TO HAVE SOME CONTEST.

Roanoke Va., March 17 (By Associated Press) Virginia Republicans convention opened with a contest expected between supporters of Harding and Lowden for the presidential endorsement. Delegates at large and candidates for electors and state committee will be chosen tonight.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF PRESIDENT TAKEN AGAIN

FIRST TIME SINCE ILLNESS THAT PHOTO HAS BEEN SNAPPED.

Washington March 17 (By Associated Press) Photographers were permitted today to take pictures for the first time of President Wilson since his illness as he left the White House for an automobile ride.

Had Too Much Liquor

S. W. Chastain was arrested by the city police force yesterday for having liquor in his possession which is a violation of Ordinance No. 5 and he was arraigned in city court this morning for this offense the gallon of moonshine being the evidence which was found on his place which he conducts near the A. C. L. station.

After hearing the evidence Judge Herring gave him a fine of $300 or thirty days. Chastain's attorney A. K. Powers entered a plea of nolle contendere and will sue out a writ of habeas corpus and the case will probably come up in the county court. The police have heard so much about Chastain selling liquor that they watched his place for some time but have not been able to prove the selling and only brought him in for having liquor in his possession.

But General Strike Casts Country In Confusion

MOB RUNS RIOT

TRIES TO LYNCH FRENCH OFFICERS AND DISORDER IS RAMPANT.

Paris March 17 (By Associated Press) German conditions are growing worse in the last twenty four hours despatches say. There is little doubt that the Kapp movement is a fiasco but the general strike is casting the country into confusion. Disorders in many sections are attributed to the Spartacus faction who seized the opportunity to create trouble. Mobs stormed the French headquarters at Bonn and several French officers narrowly escaped lynching the Berlin despatch says. Fifty-nine were killed at Treves in the American zone of occupation the despatch says. A Frankfurt despatch says Kapp will return unconditionally as the result of the threat of the armed workmen at attack the new regime.

London March 17 (By Associated Press) Independent socialists and communists began a violent agitation for a soviet republic and the alliance of Russia the Exchange telegraph says.

Paris March 17 (By Associated Press) Latest despatches say the military movement resulted in bloodshed in twenty four German towns. The Spartacus is reported to have risen in Dresden where a clash with the troops it is declared resulted in one hundred dead and three hundred wounded.

Paris—Ten thirty o'clock—A despatch from Berlin denies that Kapp has resigned.

Hamburg, March 17 (By Associated Press) Ten were killed last night in a clash here with Spartacists and troops.

London March 17 (By Associated Press) Machine gun fighting was heard in Berlin last night an Exchange Telegram Berlin correspondent says. Sixty nine workmen are reported killed at Spandau where the fighting continues. Truck loads of soldiers are constantly passing through Berlin streets with guns pointed at the sidewalks.

LABOR TO ELECT FRIENDS

LOCAL COMMITTEES TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN WILL BE ORGANIZED.

Washington March 17 (By Associated Press) Local committees to conduct organized labor's campaign for the defeat of its enemies and the election of friends will be organized over the country March 22, it is announced today.

NEARING END IN SIMS CASE ON THE NAVY

ADMIRAL SAYS HE WAS NOT ALLOWED ADEQUATE STAFF HELP.

Washington March 17 (By Associated Press) Nearing the end of the testimony of Admiral Sims before the naval investigation committee he elaborated the charges of inadequacy of his staff aboard which is said to have prevented for several months the maximum efficiency of the United States Naval participation in the war. He said the requests for help were unanswered.

The Breezy Farce "La La Lucille" At The Princess Friday Night.
If "La La Lucille", the breezy farce which comes of the Princess Friday night, has no musical setting it would still be an excellent entertainment. Written by Fred Jackson the author of the well known successes "A Full House," "The Naught Naughty Wife," "The Velvet Lady" etc., it would still be played as a straight farce and give complete Jackson's success is that she isn't afraid to put a plot into a musical comedy and the success of "La La Lucille" is partly owing to the fact that it has a plot. Twelve big song hits are interpolated in the action of the piece and with a cast which includes such expert farceurs as Nell Pratt, Julia Gifford, Leila Tarsanen, Rene MacKehzie, Marion Langdon, Howard Sloat, Frederic Hampton, Vivian Gill, Paul Hamlin, Bert J. Norton, Robert Livingston, to say nothing of its excellent beauty chorus "Lucille" is a genuine hit.
Seats on sale Wednesday at Bower & Roulmatt.

Williams Appointed
Washington, March 16.—Wm. Martin Williams, of Alabama, will succeed Daniel C. Roper as commissioner of internal revenue.
Mr. Williams' selection by President Wilson was sent today to the senate. He is a member of the department of agriculture and was recommended for the position by former Secretary Houston.
As head of the bureau of internal revenue Mr. Williams will direct the work of collection millions of dollars in taxes and also will have charge jointly with the department of justice in prohibition enforcement.
Commissioner Roper recently presented his resignation to President Wilson, effective April 1. With the retirement of Commissioner Roper, Claude Callan, assistant commissioner in charge of income tax collections, will have the bureau and will be succeeded by Paul M. Myers, chief clerk of the treasury department.
Mr. Williams has been solicitor of the department of agriculture since 1907 and prior to that time practiced law in New York and Montgomery, Ala.

REPUBLICANS PUT UP STATE TICKET

Follow Usual National Convention Year Methods.

The republicans nominated a complete state ticket at their meeting at Palatka Jan. 29, but official copies of the list of names have just been given out. The new party organization, which is newly mainly in that it was elected at this time, but which has many to the old names, follows: Chairman, D. T. Gerow, Jacksonville; vice-chairman, Henry W. Bishop, Lake county, secretary, Joseph Lee, colored; Jacksonville. Following are the men selected to run.

The republican nominations for the state are as follows:

- United States senator, John M. Cheney, Orlando.
 - Congress, First district, H. B. Jefferson, Zephyrhills.
 - Congress, Second district, Fred Cubberly, Gainesville.
 - Congress, Third district, M. M. Owens, Bonifay.
 - Congress, Fourth district, P. L. Stickey, Jacksonville.
 - Presidential electors, Leland M. Chubb, Winter Park; B. G. Smith, Oviedo; Geo. P. Wentworth, Pensacola; S. C. Dell, Alachua; E. M. Brelsford, Palm Beach; F. F. H. Pope, St. Cloud.
 - Governor, George E. Gay, Palatka
 - Secretary of State, B. E. Dyson, St. Augustine.
 - Attorney General, W. M. Gober, Lakeland.
 - Comptroller, W. H. Northrup, Pensacola.
 - State Treasurer, F. E. Hunt, Miami.
 - Commissioner of Agriculture, N. B. Hull, Starke.
 - Justices of the Supreme Court, N. S. K. Pettingill, Tampa, and F. W. Marsh.
- In addition G. E. Bean, Tampa, was elected national committeeman. Delegates at large to the national republican convention at Chicago include G. W. Bean, Tampa; D. T. Gerow, Joseph Lee, and W. H. Northrup. They go uninstruced but with the obligation to do their best. The white republican party has also named delegates to Chicago and will make a contest but the names of their delegates are not at hand.

H. A. Neel of The Paragon Press is in receipt of a letter from his partner, N. J. Lillard of Brewton, Ala., stating that he had sold the Brewton Standard, a newspaper published by them. The letter also states that Mr. Lillard will at once dispose of the Florida, Ala. News, owned and published by the Neel-Lillard Publishing Co., and that he and his wife will drive through to Sanford to make their home here.

CANNOT PAY HIS BILL

We Received the following from one of our Subscribers.

"For the following reasons I am unable to send you the check asked for:

"I have been held up, held down, sandbagged, walked on, sat on, flattened out and squeezed. First by the United States Government for Federal War Tax, Excess Profits Tax, Liberty Loan Bonds, Thrift Stamps, Capital Stock Tax, Merchant's License and Auto Tax, and by every society and organization that the inventive mind can invent to extract what I may or may not possess.

I have been solicited by the Co-cioity of John the Baptist, the G. A. A., the Boy Scouts, the Jewish Relief the Belgian Relief and every hospital in town: Then on top of it all came the Associated Charities and Salvation Army.

"The Government has so governed my business that I don't know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined and re-examined, informed, required and commanded, so I don't know who I am, where I am, or why I am here. All I know is I am supposed to be an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race. And because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I have been cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, hung up, robbed and nearly ruined, and the only reason I am clinging to life is to see what in the hell is coming next."

Gasoline Advances 2 Cents

Price of gasoline advanced Sunday 2 cents per gallon, the wholesale price now being 30 cents per gallon. Gasoline has advanced from 11 1/2 cents a few years ago to 30 cents—nearly 30 per cent. It is probable that the advance does not decrease the mileage run by the ordinary car.—DeLand News

The end came after three weeks of suffering from the "flu" and pneumonia, terminating with a hemorrhage of the brain a few hours before his death.

An Epoch-making event in the annals of American amusements is the presentation by Richard Walton Tully of the virile-compelling-accomplished American actor, Guy Bates Post, in the iridescent bubble of modern humanity, "The Masquerader." This dramatic masterpiece by John Hunter Booth, taken from the widely read novel of Katherine Cecil Thurston, intimately illustrates the lives of two men who met in the fog and traded identities and living quarters.

The dual characterization offers Mr. Post a wonderful opportunity and the constricted characters are impersonated by him with all the art of a genius mind. His drug fiend is a pitiful wretch; his Loder, the "man," the mental and moral antithesis of the other.

More intensely and artistically interesting than Jeckyl and Hyde—more massive in presentation than any modern play, and yet, so deftly done, its ponderous scenes move with the smooth rapidity of an uninterrupted panorama, and that is what this wonderful play is—A LIVING MOVING, TALKING PANORAMIC REFLEX OF THE WARP AND WOOF OF HUMANITY.

The most Ponderous of All Modern Plays pulsating with the element that comprises "Life" presented in

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT OUR FLORIDA

REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD STAY IF YOU ARE HERE AND COME IF YOU ARE NOT HERE

The following facts about Florida appear in the current quarterly bulletin of the Florida Agricultural Department, issued by Commissioner W. A. McRae, and will prove interesting to citizens of this great state as well as those who contemplate locating in Florida:

Florida has more seacoast than any other state, which gives us delightfully pleasant breezes and pure air, sea food in abundance and access to the markets of the world by water.

Florida mines 80 per cent. of the total output of phosphate in the United States.

Florida has a greater rainfall than any other state, making abundant moisture accessible to the farmer.

We have more surface water in rivers and lakes than any state except Minnesota, giving us fresh water supply, and cool breezes in summer and tempering the winds in the winter.

We have more growing days than any other state.

We produce more Fuller's earth than all the other states combined.

Florida has the largest pecan groves in the world.

Florida leads all the states in average crop values per acre.

Florida has 75,000,000 fruit and nut bearing trees.

There is enough lumber standing in the forests of Florida to build homes for all the people in twenty of our largest cities.

Florida grows a greater variety of products than any other state and can grow more crops on the same land in a single season than any other state.

Florida still has deer, bear, wild turkey, quail, ducks, squirrels and other game and 650 different kinds of fish swim in her waters. It is the hunter's garden of Eden and the fisherman's paradise.

We can go fishing, surf bathing, or pick strawberries in January.

We have many of the largest and most beautiful springs in the world. Some of them send up 7,500 barrels of water per minute, or a daily flow of over 10,000,000 barrels.

Florida has 4,158 miles of graded earth roads; 664 miles of asphalt; 483 miles of brick; 35 miles of concrete; 1,268 miles of rock, oil treated; 538 miles of shell; 1,944 miles of sand-clay; a grand total of 9,224 miles, and more being built.

There are within her borders 10,000,000 acres of red clay subsoil land, and 10,000,000 more acres of sand and muck land, making at least 20,000,000 of the 37,000,000 acres value of the state suitable for growing something. Less than 2,000,000 acres of this has been touched by the plow. Better buy some of it while it is plentiful and cheap.

No state in the nation has better natural advantages for growing poultry and live stock than Florida.

In Florida you can be a general farmer, citrus grower, peach grower, truck grower, fig grower, grape grower, pecan grower, or you can specialize in poultry, hogs, cattle, sheep or goats. Come down and take your choice.

We can grow some kind of feed for live stock and poultry in every month.

Sunstroke to man or animal is rare, compared with other states.

We have the lowest death rate of any state in the union.

We ship an average of six cars of fruit and vegetables every hour in the year.

Florida is the natural home of the bee, and much money is shipped in car lots.

With a mild climate and plenty of grass, Florida is especially adapted to dairying.

No place on earth can grow an orange or grapefruit as fine flavor as Florida.

Seven thousand five hundred cars of watermelons and 300,000 crates of cantaloupes have been shipped out of Florida in a single season, value from 15 to 18 per cent. per annum.

Florida is as large as Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. Those states have 15,000,000 people. Florida has 1,000,000. There is room for you.

The only camphor plantation in the United States is in Florida, and tons of that important gum have been made. The camphor tree is one of the finest known for yard and street shade purposes.

We can go fishing, boating and surf bathing when the waters of the North are covered with thick ice.

Florida has more varieties of trees supply fruits, nuts, oil, sweets, dyes, drugs, chemicals, tar, pitch, rosin, turpentine, gum, lumber, cross-ties, moss, etc. All of these things are of value to man.

Bananas grow in Florida; so do the lemon.

The camphor tree is profitably grown in Florida; so is the coconut.

The live oak is at home in Florida. One tree at old Blountstown measures 8 feet 6 inches in diameter above the spread of the roots and is 48 feet around at the ground.

There are 160 nurseries in Florida and properly cared for they pay a good dividend.

Florida is rapidly becoming a cotton growing state. The Florida State Marketing Bureau shipped 104 cars of corn last season for Florida farmers. The annual production is about 13,500,000 bushels.

Florida produces more wintergrown tomatoes than all other states combined.

Florida has the largest frame hotel building in the world.

The population of Florida has increased 30 per cent. in five years.

Tampa factories send out to the smokers of the world 300,000,000 cigars per annum.

Key West is 300 miles nearer the Panama Canal than any other American port.

Florida abounds with artesian wells. Florida has the only sponge fisheries in the Union.

Coquina rock for building purposes is plentiful along the East Coast of Florida, and limestone exists in all parts of the state.

There are 3,000 different kinds of trees, shrubs, herbs, etc., in Florida.

Florida has some 500 sawmills, with an annual output of 1,250,000,000 feet of lumber, not counting cross-ties, staves, veneers, tanbark, etc.

Crops are grown in Florida every month in the year.

Florida has as large and fine sea beaches as can be found in the world.

Florida can be made to produce enough sugar to supply the United States.

You need less fuel and colthing in Florida than in any other state in the union.

There are 70 ice factories in Florida. It is easy to keep cool.

Seventy per cent. of the farmers of Florida are white; 73 per cent. of the farmers own their homes; 85 per cent. of the white farmers in Florida operate their own farms.

The total amount of farm mortgages in Florida is less than two per cent. of the total farm value.

Florida has 2,916 common schools, 104 high schools, 4 state schools for higher education, 16 denominational colleges.

Eleven steamboat lines are operated in Florida waters.

The gardens, fields and groves of Florida can be made to produce something good to eat in every month.

The decrease in the world's sugar crop, 1914-1918, was 6,204,141 tons. Florida could easily supply the shortage if all its sugar lands were developed and in use it could supply the world.

Florida as a whole is as safely out of the line and sweep of tornadoes and hurricanes as any state in the union.

Woman's Reserve Power. Nobody else can leave the impression of holding in reserve so much detailed knowledge of the utmost importance as a neighbor woman when she tells you that some other neighbor woman concerning whose health you inquire is doing as well as could be expected.—Ohio State Journal.

West African Superstition. In West Africa it is not unusual to see a native crouched over a stream talking to the "Spirit of the Water," and in that country, too, the traveler is unwise who looks at a native with any sudden scorn, for he will probably be a native with the Fangaree charm, and will see his beat with a bamboo hammer upon a tiny drum held above a live animal. As the traveler looks around the charm is struck, and it is the belief of the natives that whatever part of the animal is injured, the human victim will suffer in the same region.

CALL FOR "NIGHTCAP" CONFOUNDS HOTEL MAN

Official Relieved, Though, When the Guest Wants It On, Not In, the Head.

Eugene D. Miller, secretary and treasurer of the Pershing Square group of hotels, was finishing a busy day in the Biltmore in New York when his telephone rang and a man asked if the hotel could furnish a nightcap.

"It's not for me," he explained. "My wife wants it. She's subject to colds and wishes to take every precaution against this 'flu' epidemic."

Mr. Miller asked his married guest to hold the wire while he cast about for some means of providing the accommodations. Reluctantly he picked up the phone and said:

"I'm sorry, sir; there isn't drop in the house."

"But, I don't want—"

"Yes," interrupted Mr. Miller, sadly and soothingly, "and we should be very happy to be able to accommodate you, but every bit of our stock has been removed from the hotel and disposed of, weeks ago."

"I don't mean what you mean," said the married guest. "You are talking about a nightcap that goes to the head. I mean one that goes on the head; you know—the kind with ribbons and blue lace and all that sort of thing."

You know the rest.

CITY FOR WORKING WIVES

Johnstown, N. Y., One Place Where Nearly Everybody Works.

The labor department in Washington, after a survey of the cities of the country, found that 70 per cent. of the women of Johnstown are contributors to the family income. This is the record for the country.

Mayor Chamberlain was asked to tell more about his city. He responded:

"The wives in Johnstown make gloves at home. More working people own homes in Johnstown than in nearly any other city. They are holders of large amounts of Liberty bonds."

"Wives, whose husbands own their own homes and automobiles, work because they like it."

"The wages of men in this city vary from $25 to $60 a week. Chore men, without any experience, are being paid $4 a day, and boys leaving school get $3.50 per day."

"Living conditions in Johnstown are such that you cannot tell the workman's wife from a business man's wife. Women take an interest in all civic enterprises."

MODERN "ENOCH ARDEN"

Comes Back and Will Get Wife Who Married Again.

"Enoch Arden" is home in Seattle permanently. This time "Enoch Arden" is Richard Sorensen, who enlisted early in the war and was reported "killed in action."

Mrs. Beulah Irene Sorensen, his wife and the mother of sixteen-year-old Allen Sorensen, waited hopefully for verification of her husband's death. It came in the form of letters from those who "saw him last." All hope apparently gone, Mrs. Sorensen was married June 17, 1919, to G. C. Jackson.

A few days ago a telegram reached her from New York and it was signed "Dick." The "killed in action" report was false. The two husbands left the choice to her. Her choice was "Dick," and she has started annulment proceedings against her second husband. The suit is an amicable one, it is understood.

First Examine Good Qualities.

Dogs in Warfare.

Airedales are accounted one of the best breeds of war dogs. When the Airedale detects the foe he makes no fuss; he merely makes a low growl and stiffens his body—hints sufficient for the human sentinel, who immediately puts his dumb friend's advice to good account.

Hare's Ears Better Than Its Eyes.

Although the hare has beautiful large and prominent eyes, devoid of eyelashes, and adjusted so that it can see backward and forward, they are not good eyes. Perhaps for this reason it sleeps a great part of the time and always with its eyes open. There is some compensation for poor eyes, however, in the fact that its hearing is extremely keen.

Birth of a Second.

Each new second is heralded by a flash of light and the ring of a bell in the factory of an electrical firm in Providence—not to remind the workers that the dire day of doom approaches, but to help them in their work. Often men must count seconds accurately for certain operations while they watch their work closely. This concentrating on two things at one time is very difficult. It is simplified by the new second-announcer. As the pendulum of the clock swings to the right it touches a wire, thus making a contact that causes the light to flash and the bell to ring.—Popular Science Monthly.

Congress, like the sunshine, has its periods of obscurity.

The tendency of prices, we note is up one day and up the next.

And still, there are times when the works of the good worker are not always good.

A young swain writes in to know how best to win a girl. Don't try—let her win you.

The man who speaks well of others need never worry over what people think of him.

No, we hardly charge the profiteer with sticking like a leech. The leech sometimes lets go.

There are some, we suspect, who object to the term "high cost of living." They only exist.

Charity of course should begin at home, but it is not always that we find charity in the home.

The modern photographer, of course, removes all facial defects from the picture—but only from the picture.

We still have some hope left, The league of nations is operating sufficiently to break into print occasionally.

There are some no doubt some husbands who pause long enough to kiss their wives, a second time—a few, no doubt.

The wise man makes his own choice of a wife, and the shrewd wife allows him to continue to think that he did.

The cable is a great institution. Without it we wouldn't know whether Europe is naughtier than us or we naughtier than them.

It's sad, but true. Now that warm weather is with us we can no longer make the excuse that it is too cold to go to church.

Some people never see their names in print because they never tell the editor anything that ought to be in print. Tell it to us and we'll tell it to others.

No, we have no objection to the other fellow "also running" for president, provided they are discreet and keep a safe distance in the rear of our choice.

A hook and line, a tin can full of bait, and a shady spot at a good fish hole looms up as an important duty soon to be pleasantly performed. Motion is carried.

When a girl begins to tell around that she never intends to marry it is a safe gamble that she has her mind definitely set upon some victim and is moving heaven and earth to get him.

Admiral Sims is kicking the navy dog around and making all kinds of criticism about our acts during the war. Well, we could all criticize the government for the sins of omission rather than commission but what is the use. We know more than Sims does about the navy and the army but at that it was the greatest in the whole world.

Headlines in Florida paper says, "Tourists Demand Wire Tappers be made Example of" which sounds funny to Florida people when you stop to reason that if it were not for the tourists there would be no wire tappers in Florida. The gold brick men live off the tourists in the winter and Florida people are never bothered by them probably because none of us have sufficient masume to tempt them.

WHAT OF TOMORROW? Today American products, exorbitant in price, are in great demand in Europe. This is so because Europe, devastated by war, can not make these articles themselves fast enough to supply the immediate demand. But in time Europe will be making sufficient for home consumption and will have an additional output for export.

In America wages are abnormally high, as are also the raw materials. The cost of manufacture is therefore "in the sky." In Europe labor is much cheaper and articles can be marketed at a cost below that for which we can produce them.

In time, when Europe has recovered, America will be required to compete with these countries for world trade—America with its high cost of manufacture against Europe with its low cost. That is the condition which the present insane inflation will bring about.

The misfortune of others has made us fortunate today—has enriched us beyond the dreams of avarice. But tomorrow it may be the reverse.

It is worth our serious consideration, when we hear people talk of prices going even still higher. Even a Shylock meets his Waterloo sooner or later.

Don't Tell It If you know a fellow who tries to be fair—Although in the past his career has been rotten, Don't give him a stab—but try to be square—And speak to him just as if all were forgotten. Don't tell it, old man, Don't tell it!

If you know a woman, who, once on a time, Sflid something, did something, no not liked in society, Why mention the matter as if 'twere a crime—When her everyday life is the height of propriety? Don't tell it, old man, Don't tell it.

If you know a couple who frequently scrap—Yet when out in public they're mild as two chickens; Why should you bother to give them a rap And hint to the world that they fight like the dickens? Don't tell it, old man, Don't tell it.

It strikes me that none of us justly can boast That our acts are all clear and are never disturbing; And before we give sidewalk of others a roast We'd better be careful and clear off our curbing! Don't tell it, old man, Don't tell it!—Palm Beach Post.

Irony. "It sounds like irony to call a bont 'she,'" remarked the Observer of Events and Things. "When one considers how many it is for a man to manage one."—Yonkers Statesman.

"Many a Mickle." If every home we have 20,000,000 of them—should waste on the average one-half cup of milk daily, it would mean a waste of 2,500,000 quarts daily—112,500,000 quarts a year—the total product of more than 400,000 cows. Ax Golf. The old farmer was trying to impress upon his son, who wanted to play golf for exercise, that chopping wood would answer the purpose just as well. "Oh, no, father," said the boy, "it is the walking between strokes that makes golf such valuable exercise; that gives the legs a chance as well as the arms." "Oh, that's it, is it?" said the old man. And then he went into the yard and placed sticks of wood at intervals all around it. After this he handed the boy an ax and said: "Now, play the full course."—San Francisco Argonaut.

BODIES OF CZAR AND FAMILY BURNED BY SULPHURIC ACID

New Details of the Tragedy That Wiped Out the Russian Royal Family on July 17, 1918, Brought Back to the United States by Col. George H. Emerson of the Engineer Corps—Scene Unspeakably Horrible.

St. Paul, Minn.—How the former empress of Russia and her oldest daughter knelt in prayer—making the sign of the cross, while former Czar Nicholas and his heir were murdered before their eyes, and how the assassins then turned their guns and bayonets on the remaining members of the czar's family and their retinue, is told in a report brought back from Russia by Colonel George H. Emerson, of St. Paul.

Colonel Emerson, formerly general manager of the Great Northern railway, returned from Russia January 20. He was a member of the American railway mission, headed by John F. Stevens, which was sent to Siberia in November, 1917, to keep open the Siberian railway in the hope that Russia's forces might be kept in the field. While the mission was en route the Kerensky government went to pieces, but Colonel Emerson was one of those who remained in Russia for twenty-six months attempting to assist the country to regain its fighting power.

Czechs Investigated Tragedy. Extracts from a special report prepared by General Dietrichs furnish the basis for the story of the murder of the former czar and his family, and these are augmented by an investigation by the Czechs, under command of General Galda, who became a staunch friend of Colonel Emerson.

On the night the czar and his family were murdered Colonel Emerson and other members of the commission were only about sixty miles distant. According to the report, a copy of which is in Colonel Emerson's possession, the czar and his family were awakened between midnight and 1 a. m. July 17, 1918. They were brought down stairs in their house at Ekaterinburg and told the Czechs would soon be upon them, and that therefore it would be necessary to put them to death. Almost immediately the red guards began firing.

The mutilated bodies of many of those murdered that night were discovered, but it is believed that the bodies of the czar and of the members of his immediate family were consumed by great quantities of sulphuric acid. Jewelry and trinkets possessed by them were found near the scene of the murder. These included many of the royal jewels.

Daily Life Sharply Restricted. With the usurpation of the government by the bolshevik severe restrictions were placed on the daily affairs of the czar's family. Thus, a valet, who had been in the czar's family for ten years, stated that after the turnover "there followed severe restrictions both in the funds for the upkeep of its occupation, and particularly in regard to their walks. When a demand was unexpectedly made by the central committee for the czar's family to transfer immediately to Ekaterinburg the czar's plan that his son was ill received no consideration."

As far as could be learned by the examination of inhabitants the leaders in the murder were Commissaire Yourofsky and his assistants, a workman of the Issetsky works, Pavel Medvedoff; and the red guards, Levantnik, Partin, Kostantoff, Mehail, Letomih, Sterkorin and Yakimoff. Some of them boasted of their participation.

The tragedy of July 17, 1918, was described by Capliolina Acanonovka in the words of her brother, Anatole Yakimoff, one of the red guards of the house of Ipatyeff. She said on the day following the murder her brother came to her, tired and broken down, and in great agitation announced: "This night Nicholas Romanoff, his family, the doctor, the fraulein and the lackeys were killed. All of the captives were awakened between midnight and one o'clock and requested to go downstairs. Here they were told that the enemy (Czechs) would soon be in Ekaterinburg and that therefore it was necessary that they be put to death. Then and there the red guards began to shoot at the czar's family. The first to be killed were the emperor and the heir. The rest of the prisoners were wounded. They had to be finished off by further shooting, butting with the butt ends of muskets and stabbing with bayonets. Czarina Thirty-Two Times Wounded. "There was particularly great trouble with the fraulein. She was wriggling and attempting to defend herself with a pillow. On her body 32 wounds were counted. The grand duchess, Anastasia Nikolaevna, had fainted. When we began to examine her she shrieked wildly, after which she was killed with bayonets and rifle bullets."

According to Yakimoff, the murder scene was so unspeakably horrible that he could not endure it. "I went outside for a breath of fresh air several times," he declared.

The evening following the murder Yakimoff left for the front, and when he came to bid farewell he was utterly out of countenance. His face was pinched, the pupils of his eyes dilated, and his lips were trembling.

Another red guard, Kusma Letemlin, related that on the day of the murder he was to have taken his post in the sentry booth in the street, when he observed a boy of the emperor's household in the street. When he inquired why, another of the red guards, Stekorin, told him of the murder. According to Stekorin's story Commandant Yourofsky had killed the czar, having previously read to him some paper, presumably the order of the Urals soviet of deputies. He told that during the murder both the empress and her eldest daughter were present, and were making the sign of the Cross. After the czar had been done to death Pavel Medvedyeff, assistant to Yourofsky, and the Letts killed the entire family and also the court retinue. The bodies of the murdered were placed in a motortruck and sent away, he said.

Later the police officers took away from Kusma Letemlin about one hundred different articles, all having belonged to the czar's family, and obtained, according to him, some time during the cleaning of the house after the murder. Others were taken from his brother, Mehail, a red guard.

Woman Confirms Story. A similar picture of the murder is drawn by the wife of Medvedyeff, the commandant's assistant, confirming her husband's participation.

Prokopi Kuthlenkoff, a red guard, who served in the house guard, told that he was in the Working Men's club of the Verk-Issetsk works July 18 or 19, and that the president of the executive committee of the soviet of workmen and soldiers' deputies, Serge Malshkin, the military commissaire, Peter Yermakoff and other prominent members of the bolshevik were conducting a secret conversation. Kukhtenkoff said he caught the sentence:

"There were thirteen of them altogether, the thirteenth was the doctor."

As they moved away, he followed them and heard one of them say:

"This is the second day we have been fussing. Yesterday we buried them, and today we have to rebury them." From this he deduced that Levantnik, Partin and Kostantoff took part in the funeral of the royal family. Their talk was boastful, he said, and they told that their victims had been dressed in civilian clothing, in which was skillfully sewed many valuables. He also said he heard one of the speakers deny that the heir had died at Tobolsk, as reported; because he was one of their victims.

Bodies Buried and Exhumed. From their conversation he also learned that the slain first were buried just outside of Ekaterinburg, but that later their bodies were distributed to other places further away.

General Dietrich's special report concludes as follows: "The correspondence will be submitted to examination for the purpose of establishing the participation in the death of the ex-emperor of the local and central soviet authorities. Besides this, in the near future one of the principal parties to the murder, in fact, the direct murderer of the czar, Pavel Medvedyeff, who has only just been detained, will be examined.

"The committee of inquiry attaches great importance to the cross-examination of this witness, since, in all probability, all the circumstances of the death of the former czar and his family will be made clear. It is probable, also, that clues as to the whereabouts of the corpses may be obtained, the search for which, notwithstanding all the measures taken, has furnished no results. At the present moment the business of investigation has been entrusted to the examining magistrate for special cases, Mr. Sokoloff. Also the necessary steps have been taken to preserve all articles of the ex-emperor and family which were found at the time of the search and which in the aggregate have an historical value."

Went to Aid Dying Woman, Found She Was His Mother. Crossing the street to offer aid to a woman he saw sitting on the steps of an apartment house in Beloit, Wis., Earl Flese found his mother dying from apoplexy. She was on her way home from shopping and died soon after her son reached her.

France to Conserve Daylight. Paris.—The ministries of public works and of the interior have decided to urge parliament to pass the recently proposed bill providing for the turning ahead of the clocks one hour beginning Feb. 1, as a fuel conservation measure. Their decision was the result of a meeting at the ministry of public works at which it was shown that France required 40 per cent more coal than she could secure by production and importation of the community. It was also decided to reduce street lighting to the minimum consistent with public safety.

St. Patrick's Social

One of the most delightful social events of the week was the St. Patrick's Social given Tuesday evening by Mrs. Tom Williams and Mrs. Brodie Williams to the Daughters of Wesley. In keeping with the 17th of Ireland, "numerous Irish flags and shamrocks decorated the rooms, and this color scheme was again used in the dainty refreshments of cream and cake.

Two of Sanford's most popular vocalists, Mrs. Claude Herndon and Mrs. Geo. Fox and little Miss Margaret giving several readings, rendered a program that was thoroughly enjoyable.

The guests departed at a late hour, each one vowing the Mesdames Williams capital hostesses and hoping that they will soon "do it again."

John Russell Entertains

John Russell entertained a few friends at his palatial residence on Second street Tuesday in honor of his guests, Mr. and Mrs. Day and Mrs. Buckmaster. Delicious shrimp salad, saltines and coffee were served and dancing served to while away a very pleasant evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Day, Mrs. Buckmaster, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walsman, Mrs. E. B. Brown, R. J. Holly, Dr. Ralph Stevens and Frank Allen.

The Musical Success "La Lucille"

At The Princess Friday March 19th "La La Lucille" the musical farce hit of the season is coming to the Princess Friday March 19th, with a notable cast and production. Its five months run in New York carried it right through the summer, an unusual record. A play has to be something rather out of the ordinary to stand that test and "La La Lucille" has that reputation. With an exceptionally fine cast of experienced farce players which includes Neil Pratt, one of the genuinely funny men of the stage who has been a conspicuous entertainer in many of the best musical comedies of the day Lella Tarsanen, Marion Langdon, Rene MacKenzie, Vivian Gill, Howard Sloat, Frank Wilson, Paul Hamlin, Robert Livingston, and the prettiest, daintiest fignoned, singing and dancing chorus that one could wish to see, a scenic production that is the last word in richness and good taste "La La Lucille" stand quite apart from the usual order of musical plays. The book is by Fred Jackson, author of "The Velvet Lady," "A Full House" and "The Naughty Wife." The catchy music by George Gershwin, is the sort that sets the foot a tapping, the lyrics by Arthur Jackson and B. G. de Silva.

As one might surmise from the title "La La Lucille" is a smart, snappy, up-to-date type of musical play with a really interesting story chiefly about a young couple who must be divorced to inherit a large fortune. There are moments of heart interest, but "La La Lucille" is really a gale of laughter from start to finish, embodying youth and charm. Seats on sale now at Bowers & Roumillats.

Beautiful Altamonte Springs

Altamonte is a quiet but very picturesque little burg and its home people and tourists find much thereabouts to please and interest them, for it is a typical lake region with its many acres of fruit and garden truck.

Some day Altamonte Springs may become a real city, but that's another story.

The present day feature of The Springs is the little club house, called the "Jasmine", on the property of former Congressman Charles D. Haines, who has his winter home there.

Numerous automobiles stop at the Jasmine and their occupants pass an hour or more in conference with the former congressman, and then are away, and among the callers are some of America's most noted men. People will wonder what it all means, yet there is no secret about it all.

The Hon. Charles D. Hines, railroad builder and manufacturer, is the president of the greatest patriotic organization in the country.

The American Patriots list of one hundred vice-presidents is made up of governors, United States senators, congressmen, generals, admirals, chief executives of the several largest organizations in the country, and those of great business affairs. Among the vice-presidents are several possible candidates for the presidency of the United States including both Generals John J. Pershing and Leonard A. Wood. The conferences held at the "Jasmine" are important for the American Patriots number millions and their leaders interest themselves on issues of national matters such as League of Nations, Americanism, Prohibition, Bolshevism etc. William Jennings Bryan was a recent visitor at the club house.

Mr. Haines was in Orlando yesterday, when seen by a representative of the Sentinel he was requested to give his views on the more important topics of the day.

"I believe that the senate should have acted, and favorably, months ago, although the senate has created the impression that we rushed in where Angels feared to tread and came out a singed puppet.

"After we finished the job we set out to do, we should have attended to our own affairs and gone about placing our own country in a safe and stable condition and not attempted to finance and moralize all the people of the world.

"We have troubles at home, much more serious than most people are aware of, and the problems we are to face are grave and dangerous ones."

"During the past four years the old order of things have passed away and we have taken on dangerous new ones.

"We are in fact a vastly different people in many ways, more selfish, more greedy, more money mad. Nothing will gratify our cravings for something still more new.

"The old landmarks are being obliterated and we are swiftly drifting into channels dark and treacherous and with no fixed place of safety in sight.

"The religious faith of our fathers is passing away and the peoples of the world are readily accepting new theories, divers numbers of isms and strange doctrines, while the Bible is being more and more considered fiction rather than that of the word of God.

"We are too deeply engrossed in worldly affairs to read the writings on the wall. The only hope, the only salvation of our people, if they would save themselves from actual Bolsheviki ideas and government, and in the not far distant future, is a return to the teachings of our fathers and mothers, and accept the Bible and Christianity.

"No republic can live, nor deserves to live, which ignores the Bible and discards christianity, for without these civilization cannot endure."—Orlando Sentinel.

PEOPLES BANK OF SANFORD

U. S. WAR FORCE THIRD LARGEST

"Ration Strength" in France Was Nearly 2,000,000.

BRITISH GIVE OUT FIGURES

France Headed the List and Great Britain Came Second, With a Grand Total of 8,654,467—America's Combatant Strength in France on Armistice Day Is Set Down at 1,160,000 and Great Britain's at 1,164,790—German Prisoners Total 393,220 in Last Drive.

The United States made the third largest contribution in fighting forces of the allies during the war—namely, approximately 2,000,000 men, according to figures compiled by British statisticians. France headed the list and Great Britain came second, with a grand total of 8,654,467.

The ration strength of the American army in France on armistice day, that is, the total number of men who were being fed from army stocks, is placed at 1,924,000. Great Britain's ration strength in this theater on the same date was 1,731,678. This does not take into account prisoners of war or the negro labor employed by England.

Near 1,200,000 U. S. Fighters. America's combatant strength in France on armistice day is set down at 1,160,000, and Great Britain's at 1,164,790. The combatant strength includes all troops whose functions are, in the first place, fighting.

(Major General March, American chief of staff, announced on January 26, 1919, that America had the second largest of the allies' armies on the western front in ration strength when the armistice was signed. The French, he said, had 2,550,000 men, the United States, 1,950,000, and the British, including the Portuguese, who were serving with them, 1,718,000. General March did not give the comparative figures of the national armies showing their combatant strength on armistice day.)

The captures of prisoners and guns in France during the victorious offensive against the German army between July 18 and November 11, 1918, are given as follows:

British armies, 200,000 and 2,500, respectively; French armies, 135,720 and 1,880; American armies, 43,300 and 1,421; Belgian armies, 14,500 and 474. It is pointed out that there were also 80,000 British combatant troops in Italy who co-operated in the final defeat of the Austrian army at Vittorio Veneto, capturing 30,000 prisoners, and that in the eastern theaters of war—Palestine and Mesopotamia—where on an average about 100,000 British troops were fighting throughout 1918, the complete defeat and destruction of the Turkish army was effected by the British alone, and a total of 85,000 prisoners taken.

British Empire's Contribution.

The following figures show the number of troops contributed by the various parts of the British empire during the war: British Isles, 5,704,416; Canada, 640,896; Australia, 416,800; New Zealand, 220,000; South Africa, 136,070; Spain, 1,401,350; other colonies 134,837. The grand total was 8,654,467.

Casualties of the troops of the British empire are stated as follows: British Isles, killed, 602,083; missing or prisoners, 140,312; wounded, 1,044,

786. Losses of troops from India, Canada, Australia and other parts of the empire brought the total to: Killed, 851,117; missing and prisoners, 142,057; wounded, 2,607,442. Prisoners repatriated are not included in the foregoing.

PNEUMONIA-FLU KILL 477,467

Deaths in Country for 1918 Are 1,471,367. The death rate in the United States for 1918 was the highest on record, according to the census bureau's annual mortality statistics, which shows 1,471,367 deaths for the year, representing a rate of 18 per cent for each 1,000 population.

Of the total deaths 477,467, or over 32 per cent were due to influenza and pneumonia, 380,000 having occurred in the last four months of the year, when an epidemic of these diseases prevailed. The rate for influenza and pneumonia was 683.2 per cent per 100,000. Influenza caused 244,081 deaths and pneumonia 232,786, showing rates of 289.9 and 284.3 per 100,000, respectively, the highest rates which ever appeared for these causes. The rate in 1917 for influenza was 17.2 and for pneumonia 149.8.

The other principal causes of death were organic diseases of the heart, tuberculosis, acute nephritis, Bright's disease and cancer, which together were responsible for 391,391 deaths or nearly 27 per cent of the total during the year.

GERMAN DRAWS DISMAL PICTURE

Lot of the Educated Classes Is Sorry One.

SHRINK FROM MANUAL LABOR

Deprived of Offices and With Professions Overcrowded They Balk at Work—An Official Warning Against Studying Medicine Is Issued—Engineers Are Advised to Dig Ditches—Students Find Little Encouragement.

The economic distress of Germany has made the lot of the educated classes a sorry one, and those who are about to begin their studies have little to encourage them to persist along those lines. A dismal picture is drawn by Josef Hofmuller in the Sueddeutsche Monatshefte, from which it was summarized in the Frankfurter Zeitung and has been printed in this country in School Life, the official publication of the Bureau of Education.

Three immediate effects of the war are presented as deterrents to the exercise of really ambitious effort. As the higher military career is now out of the question, the military calling ceases to exist for graduates of the higher educational institutions. This makes thousands of positions formerly occupied by officers non-existent. The wiping out of the German navy affects similarly the positions formerly held by naval officers. More than that, many of the young officers who otherwise would have remained in the military service are compelled to resign and look for positions in civil service.

Then there is another factor. Through the annexation of Alsace-Lorraine, the German-Polish, the German-Czechish, and the German-Danish territories, the offices hitherto held by Germans are lost to them. Moreover, the German officials in those provinces became dependent on similar places which must be vacated for them in Germany. This aggravates the outlook of a larger number of young officials, who will thus be placed in subordinate positions under them.

The third element which will affect the educated classes is pointed out to be the impoverishment of Germany which will cause the practice of strict economy in all branches of state and public organizations, and will affect the number of positions, the salaries, the chances for a pension, and the like. The impoverishment is shown also to be trenching on the so-called free callings. It must find expression in a tremendous deflection of capital and a large emigration of labor. The various technical callings, the large branches of industry, the banks, the insurance agencies, private officials down to the lowest-salaried office clerks, will be thus affected. It is said, detachments are also expected in the literary and artistic callings like architecture, music, literature, journalism, opera, stage, and various other theatricals, but also in the more expensive and therefore better recompensed house industry.

Professions Are Overcrowded. "The so-called better professions are already overcrowded as result of the oversupply of labor," says the writer. "This surplus will be increasing in the course of the next few years in the measure as the number of positions will be each month decreasing."

In the year 1914 the Bavarian Kulturminister, von Kindling, speaking about the prospects of the teaching profession, gave the following official data regarding the length of time it took candidates to be appointed to offices: Philologists, (ancient) 10 years; mathematicians, 18; philologists, (modern) 13; students of German literature, 10; natural scientists, 18; draftsmen, 12. It is surprising how anybody yet finds courage to take up teaching when it is necessary to wait for an appointment till the thirty-fifth birthday. Besides, the salary of an assistant is 15 marks per month and the length of service in that capacity approximately five years. A young person must thus expect to draw 25 marks per month only when he reaches the age of 34. (At the present time a maltster in a brewery draws 300 marks a month.)

Warnings against the taking up of medical studies issued by the Munich military board of physicians appear in the press at the present time. The prospects of physicians have been most discouraging by a wide extension of health insurance which restricts private practice by the ever-increasing quick treatment, the immigration of German physicians from abroad, and from the endangered territories in the west and east, and by the abolition of the posts of ship physicians. Since the beginning of the war 5,000 physicians were certified in an emergency. Because of a considerable oversupply the physicians suffer materially from financial stress.

The lot of the lawyers, the writer points out, is not a happy one, for young lawyers are already asking for-out-of-work donations. The few fortunate receive 300 marks per month, and only recently gymnasium graduates were advertising in the newspapers and were glad to secure secretarial positions in some district court for an annual salary of 2,400 marks. As for the church, many officers have already applied for admission, but the prospects for advancement are unfavorable and will become more so in the future as a result of the heavy taxation and the prospective separation of church and state.

Turned Away Daily.

"Engineers," says the writer, "among whom were some with high attainment, were told by a good authority to whom they applied for advice to try to find work as ditch diggers. An American would do it immediately. But can Germans show so much pluck? Every bank director asserts that he turns off daily dozens of applicants, among them a large number of former officers. We must take into account that in the future the now numerous banks and bank branches will be greatly reduced. There will be in the future fewer banks, as there will be fewer government positions, fewer courts, gymnasia, real schools, factories; for each position in these banks, courts, schools and factories there will be, however, more applicants.

"Nor will houses be erected as before. The cheap houses, so much in need at present, will be built after a certain model; there will be no money for large state, community, or private buildings. Everywhere the same thing will be repeated—workmen will find rooms easily, but not so the engineers; there will be need for a large number of locksmiths and engine-fitters, also mechanics, but not for men with technical education; bricklayers are desirable, but not architects. These are the conditions that the war did not bring about but that it did accentuate. Considered closely, the outlook is not so very discouraging. The watchword reads 'Hands—not heads!' The Germans will adjust themselves to these conditions with great difficulty, as until very recent times they were bent on developing their minds at the expense of their hands. With an overdeveloped organized system we had too many universities and too many schools of a higher type.

"The German people are more inclined to have their fate rationed out rather than to take it into their own hands. The great number of higher institutions simply strengthened this fatal inclination. Incredible things were expected on the strength of a one-year certificate; in reality these privileges were worth nothing more than mere cards without the corresponding amount of merit. Instead of letting the young persons practice as soon as possible, we lengthened the course of study wherever we could. There was no end to university studies."

PLANES TO RACE IN ALASKA

Trail to Be Broken for Mail Service to Seattle.

Landing sites, boats and other facilities are being sought in Juneau, Ketchikan and other southeastern Alaska cities for seaplanes which will participate in a proposed air race between Seattle and southeastern Alaska next summer.

The Aero Club of the Northwest, with headquarters in Seattle, is making arrangements for the race. Prizes totaling $25,000 may be offered, according to advices reaching Juneau.

Already two well-known aviators, Cliff Durant, formerly prominent automobile race driver, and Capt. Sir Arthur Whitten Brown, non-stop trans-Atlantic flyer, have stated they may enter the race.

Alaskans are hoping that the airplane racers will break trail for airplane mail service to Alaska from Seattle. Mail to the States at present is shipped as freight and weeks could be saved in some places if airplanes were used.

HAITIANS STILL SAVAGES

Marine Tells of Hair-Raising Episodes—West Indian Isle.

John Page of Sac City, Ia., declares that savagery and cannibalism are common in the republic of Haiti.

Page served there with the marines and has told relatives and friends here of some hair-raising episodes that marked service for Uncle Sam in the West Indian isle, indicating that as much excitement was experienced there as anywhere in the world war zone.

Page claims that he discovered that the citizens of the republic are really savages, believing in voodooism, involving witchcraft, snake worship and human sacrifice. Cannibalism and other South Sea Island practices are indulged in in the interior, according to his statements.

PRINCESSES HUNT JOBS

Hungarian Women of Royal Birth Would Be Governesses.

Several Hungarian princesses, refugees in Switzerland, finding themselves poor through the low exchange rate, are seeking positions as governesses and companions. "But the people generally hesitate to employ them, fearing they will instill extravagant ideas in their children."

One Hungarian princess, despairing of failure to obtain a position, departed for Zurich recently to take up employment as a waitress. A number of princely and aristocratic Hungarian families here are awaiting funds to emigrate to America, where they hope to find wealth and happiness.

Turtles Frozen Tightly to Ship Deck

Twelve sea turtles, averaging in weight from 300 to 500 pounds, arrived in New York city on a vessel coming from Costa Rica. On the way up the turtles were found to be frozen solidly to the deck. They were thawed out and thereon were subjected to a steam bath every hour or so.

Engineers Study Line to Join France and Italy.

French and Italian engineers have lately arrived at Chamoni, Switzerland, to make studies on the ground for a tunnel under Mont Blanc, directly joining France and Italy.

This project, which has been under examination for many years, now appears near attainment, as both governments have voted preliminary credits to commence work.

France has appropriated 45,000,000 francs and Italy 46,000,000.

When Death Cools His Sting.

There is in the West Indies a very curious superstition regarding death. When a death occurs in a house all the water in it should be regarded as poisoned and at once thrown away. The idea is that death after claiming his victim will cool his "sting" in the first water he reaches, which thereby becomes a deadly poison. No one can tell what water has been touched, so the safe thing to do is to get rid of all that is within his reach and do it at once.

DRUNKEN RATS DEFY POLICE

100 Stagger to Death From Liquor-Laden Sewer.

As though in open defiance of constitutional prohibition, 100 rats staggered bodily on wobbly legs into police headquarters at Duluth, Minn., less than 12 hours after constitutional prohibition became effective.

The rats were driven from the Duluth sewers by the thousands of gallons of liquor poured into the sewers by the police department. They came staggering out the big opening in the sewer made to carry the $30,000 in confiscated liquor emptied into them by the police.

Members of the police department killed the rats.

The Budget.

What is known in politics as "the budget" is that miscellaneous collection of matters which accumulate in the annual financial statement of the minister of finance (or as in Great Britain, the chancellor of the exchequer) to parliament. The budget contains two leading elements, a statement of the income and expenditure for the year that has passed, and the financial standing of the country at the close of the fiscal year, and an explanation of the probable expenditure for the ensuing year, with a scheme for the raising of the money necessary to carry on these expenditures.
