Superintendent William P. Layer said the students were informed when they transferred in August that they would not be eligible to participate in sports. He also said he would not sign a waiver for the boys because the school board went against its own policy in allowing the transfers after the July deadline.

But at the March 5 school board meeting, board member Robert G. Feather acknowledged that there is a student now participating in sports at Lyman High School who also transferred after the deadline. A waiver was signed for that student.

Feather also said he did not favor withholding the right of the Green youth to play baseball because he felt there was no recruitment in his case. Green had not played baseball at his former school, although he played baseball outside of school. Daniels and Wynn had played basketball at their former school.

In the elementary school rezoning issue, the school board is expected to approve a plan for moving about 200 pupils out of overcrowded Woodlands Elementary School in Longwood. Parents of Woodlands pupils, however, have indicated they do not want their children moved.

On March 12 the board postponed the rezoning after board member William Kroll said the parents evidently misunderstood the board's request when they presented only one possible plan to andle the overcrowding - a plan that did not involve any transfers.

Laver pointed out that in his opinion there was no alternative to some rezoning.

Appeal Expected On Defender Fee

By DIANE PETRYK Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County has won its appeal of a circuit court order directing it to pay $17,500 to two public defenders for their defense of a murder suspect, County Attorney Nikki Clayton announced Tuesday.

The public defenders today said they will appeal the case to the state Supreme Court if necessary. Clayton told the County Commission that the 5th District Court of Appeals struck down the order of Seminole Circuit Judge Tom Waddell Jr.

Waddell ordered the county in November to pay attorneys W.J. Heffernan Jr. and Mark Rabinowitz $17,500 for their defense of Terry Melvin Sins. Sims was convicted in July, 1979 of killing a reserve deputy sheriff during a botched robbery. Clayton recommended appealing the order because it appeared to be in violation of a state statute that provides a fee schedule for public defenders based on the type of case handled. In cases such as Sims the set maximum is $2,500. The county paid Heffernan and Rabinowitz the $2,500, but the attorneys said they spent 500 hours on the case and should receive reasonable compensation. They billed the county for 500 hours at $35 per hour. Heffernan said if it were for a private client he wouldn't have touched the case for less than $50,000. Rabinowitz said the quality of his defense of Sims was praised by other attorneys and Judge Waddell, who heard the case. But County Administrator Roger Neiswender said in November that if the county paid the requested amount, exceeding the fee schedule limitations, it could open the door to uncontrolled attorney's fees. Hoffernan said today their attorney, Andrew Graham of Titusville, is filing a motion for a rehearing before the 5th District Court of Appeals. If that is not granted, the case will be ppealed to the Supreme Court.

Deju said the commission was also concerned about what percentage of the state and federal funds for the tri-county plan would actually come to fast-growing Seminole County. Interest Rates: The Good And Bad

Interest rates have suddenly risen to match or exceed previous record high levels. That's good news for the economy in the long run. But it's bad news in the short term for several sectors. Some people believe high interest rates add to inflation because they add to costs. That may be true in the short term. But just the opposite is true in the long run. High interest rates discourage credit buying, reduce demand and so put the damper on rising prices. The best evidence is the way the futures market reacted to the rise in interest rates. Most interest rate futures fell to their daily trading limits. So did precious metals and other speculative commodity futures. Traders were betting that the high interest rates will curb inflation.

We support the tough action by Paul A. Volcker. chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. The same day that a "horrible" 1.6 percent increase in wholesale prices was announced for January, he raised the cost of banks' borrowing from the Federal Reserve to 13 percent, highest in history. Volcker pledged to stop the growth of the money supply, even if it means "horrendous" high interest rates.

That's tough talk in a presidential election year. It may send shivers up some backs at the White House. The high-interest-rate prescription is a bitter pill. But we know of no other practical remedy to the inflation fever.

Reducing the federal budget deficit will take time. The deficit should be eliminated entirely. But with the pressure for higher defense spending and the reluctance to trim social programs, i would be foolish to rely on congressional budgetbalancers as our front-line troops in the inflation

We must reduce demand in the private sector. We must make it harder to borrow good dollars today and pay them back in cheaper dollars tomorrow. That's going to hurt the housing market. It will hurt car sales. But it must be done.

The rising cost of energy will continue to deliver hammer blows at the economy. Inevitably it will continue to drive up all prices. But we must compensate as best we can in other areas, and that includes curbs on inflationary borrowing.

People just refuse to accept the coins in change because they believe they're too easily mistaken for quarters.

Mint Director Stella Hackel, however, believes that Americans may still be persuaded to use the dollar bearing the likeness of the woman who spent most of her life trying to win the vote for her

The director has asked the Postal Service to give the coins in change as part of a campaign to encourage acceptance.

The government is denied the ultimate tool of the private merchandiser faced with an inventory glut because of a gap between supply and demand. There can be no end-of-month sales or other forms of discount.

Suspension of production is the only sensible answer until Hackel develops the supreme promotion to make the Susan B. Anthony dollar attractive. It may take awhile.

An estimated 22 million people will be covered in this year's census. Making a complete count with enumerators would be prohibitively expensive and time consuming.

The 1980 year marks the 20th time a population count has been taken in the United States. The first census was done in 1790 at the direction of then Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson. It covered 16 states and the southwest territory. Responsibility for the count was delegated to 17 U.S. marshals who hired census takers. The census takers traveled by horse, foot or whatever means available. They earned a salary of up to 2 cents for each person counted.

BUSINESS WORLD Socks Lead To Success

By JOHN M. LEIGHTY SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Mary Green would like to sock it to the Russians in Afghanistan.

The trim, energetic woman went to Afghanistan on her honeymoon four years ago. She returned with a bundle of intricately knit, colorful, knee-length Afghan socks that not only paid for the trip but launched her on a lucrative import business and made her lifelong friends in the Soviet-occupied coun-

Now she's waiting anxiously to see if a . promised shipment of about 22,000 pair of the high quality socks will find their way out of Afghanistan and into the hands of her sales staff of colorful, turbanned Sikhs from Afghanistan now living in the United States. "Theoretically, I'll get my socks. It's an

Her "hobby" of importing items to pay for her travels has mushroomed into a six-figure business. In addition to a line of ethnic "socks around the world," she has branched into handcrafted "belts around the world" and carved wooden "combs around the world." She has also published a book, "How To Be An Importer And Pay For Your World Travel," and produces a bimonthly newsletter of tips for importers.

"I haven't made a million yet, but I plan to," says Ms. Green, whose tall figure and blonde hair won't easily be forgotten by the village people who do the weaving for her in

Ms. Green said she wrote her Afghan contacts and received an immediate reply assuring her there would be "no problem" in through the religious experience that transupplying her with the socks. However, she sformed him into a born-again Christian. She said, the letter indicated there were two has just returned from a tour of the Arab obstacles - destination of the shipment and, the main worry, the political situation.

The young importer says she can't understand what the Russians would want with Afghanistan, a country with few natural resources, rugged terrain and tough individualism, except as a stepping stone to

JACK ANDERSON The Rising Trend In D.C.

WASHINGTON - President Carter's recent United Nations gaffe - first ordering a vote against Israel, then disavowing the vote - has been attributed to the ineptitude that has characterized his leadership.

But there may have been a deeper cause. Sources with access to the Oval Office have heard Carter privately express annoyance with Israeli Prime Minister Menachem the Aghan area of Paghnam, 20 miles from Begin. They also say that advocates of the Arab cause surround the president. Few people are closer to him than his sister. Ruth Carter Stapleton, who guided him world, financed in part by an Arab-American businessman.

Stapleton came back persuaded that the Palestinians "have got to have recognition in some way." One of her traveling companions, Cliff Custer, also quoted her as being "confused" about Begin's statements. "She has a gut-level question mark about where he's coming from," said Custer.

Mrs. Stapleton was careful to disassociate her views from those of her brother. "My brother knows I travel and am interested in politics," she said. "Early in his presidency, he reminded me that I was not appointed as his private ambassador to the world."

Nonetheless, she had private audiences with several Arab leaders who spoke to her about the Palestinian problem. She communicated their views to the president by overseas telephone. Answers to questions were written on scraps of paper and posted in public places. The first count showed a population of just under 4 million persons.

It is estimated the population will show that the 222 million Americans live in 86 million housing units. Information collected in the census will be available to 3,100 counties, 20,000 incorporated towns and cities; 35,000 county divisions, 45,000 census tracts, 275,000 enumeration districts and 2.5 million city blocks. The information will be available for distribution by 1982.

How long does it take to fry a three-minute egg? asked Lake Mary Councilman Ray Fox. recently after hearing a report from City Attorney Gary Massey on the status of the county's lawsuit against Lake Mary. The lawsuit challenges the annexation of the 1600-acre Heathrow planned unit development.

The issue has been in the 18th judicial circuit (Seminole-Brevard counties) court in Sanford since July, 1977. Massey told the city council Judge Dominick Salfi, who was recently added to a two-judge panel to decide the case, is expected to take some action within the next two weeks. Massey said he thought it was a mistake to appoint two judges (Robert McGreggor and decision which is the reason the third judge -Salfi - was brought into the case. Fox, a councilman for only two months, and

JEFFREY HART Anderson Showing Under Study

In essence, Rep. John Anderson is trying to repeat Wendell Willkie's Republican coup of 1940, though he is adapting his strategy to very different circumstances. Willkie burst upon the scene as a new and exciting personality - handsome, eloquent, and above all "interesting." He generated a surge of popular support, and his lieutenants cleverly orchestrated the cheering from the balconies at the Republican convention: "We Want Willkie! We Want Willkie!" Support for Willkie poured in from the radio audience. Alongside Robert Taft, Arthur Vandenberg and other GOP stalwarts, Willkie looked fresh and exciting. He swept through to the nomination, ran a vigorous campaign, and carried the Republican plus the anti-war vote against FDR.

Like Willkie in his time, Rep. Anderson has been working the media effectively. He too is attractive and interesting, and he has shown appeal to independents who normally do not vote Republican.

On the face of it, however, the idea that Anderson might gain the Republican nomination seems slightly silly. He supports racial busing, and, in effect racial quotas. He is for abortion on demand and gun control and ERA. With that set of positions, you would think he'd have trouble getting a ticket to the Republican convention, let alone be nominated by it. On the abortion issue, a complex matter by any standard, Anderson's campaign literature has been shrill and insulting, and it's time for him to disavow it and apologize for its tone. On military issues, as the balance tips steeply against the West, Anderson remains unconvincing Those are his liabilities, but he has plenty of assets, as his electoral performances are beginning to demonstrate. He is right on the 50-cent gasoline tax, a way of conserving petroleum; reducing the Social Security tax; and diminishing dependence on OPEC. On economic matters generally, Anderson is superbly well informed.

Anderson's stylistic appeal is powerful, and he has summed it up with his slogan "The Anderson Difference." He radiates what might be called the Style of Intelligence.

He has also shown impressive tactical gifts. In Iowa, where he was going nowhere, he faced the farmers and supported the grain embargo. In New Hampshire, where he had as much chance as the ayatollah of getting votes from gun fans, he got himself booed for advocating gun control. Both moves generated priceless publicity. Anderson may well be in the process of wrecking George Bush as the "alternative to Reagan." Under what conceivable set of circumstances could John Anderson slip through to the nomination in Detroit? The primary process would have to be inconclusive. Reagan, Bush, Anderson and perhaps Ford would have to show up with substantial numbers of delegates.

Battles Huge K.C. Fire

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) - Military police from the Missouri National Guard today moved into the city for the second time in a year to take over dozens of fire stations abandoned by 900 striking firefighters. As the MPs mobilized from communities across northern Missouri, fire-trained police and battalion chiefs battled the first major fire since the strike began Monday, a spectacular blaze at two warehouses in the historic River Quay area near the original Missouri River landing site.

One four-story warehouse burned to the ground, sending flames 100 feet into the air, but there were no injuries. The second structure was damaged.

Demo Group Wants Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A Democratic advisory group wants the party platform to call for wage and price controls - a policy Sen. Edward Kennedy advocates and President Carter strongly opposes.

The platform committee began hearings Tuesday, and it was urged to endorse an anti-inflation program more in line with Kennedy's ideas than with the one Carter announced last week.

Besides recommending wage and price controls, the panel warned against budget cuts and tight money policies that might worsen unemployment or impose additional hardships on minorities and the poor.

Slack Services Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A funeral will be held Thursday for Rep. John M. Slack Jr., D-W.Va., who died of a heart attack Monday on the eve of his 65th birthday.

Slack, who failed to gain national prominence but was considered unbeatable in his home district, died in an Alexandria, Va., hospital where he had been undergoing evaluation of heart pains. Slack's aides had planned a surprise birthday break-

Elvis Autopsy Subpoenaed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) - The secret autopsy report of late rock 'n' roll star Elvis Presley was subpoenaed Tuesday by the Shelby County Grand Jury, officials said.

The panel has been investigating the prescriptionwriting practices of Presley's personal physician, Dr. George Nichopeulos. Assistant Attorney General Michael B. Neal, working in conjunction with the jury, filed a motion requesting Chancellor D.J. Alissandrates remove a protective order sealing the Presley autopsy. Neal also asked for results of lab tests conducted in connection with the autopsy. Neal asked for a March 28 hearing on the motion filed Monday. Court officials said a date for the hearing probably would be set by Friday.

Jacksonville Cop-Killer To Seek Graham's Mercy

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) - A convicted Jacksonville cop.killer, whose crime so inflamed some policemen that they started wearing T-shirts demanding his execution, will seek mercy from Gov.

Bob Graham and the Clemency Board today. The board also will hear appeals to reduce the death sentences of a man who admitted strangling a Fort Myers schoolboy and a Panama City robber who was convicted for killing a convenience store clerk and the wife of a customer.

No immediate action will be taken in the cases of James David Raulerson, 30, Arthur Francis Goode III. 25, and Carl Jackson, 35. Graham will decide whether to sign their death warrants or recommend that the board commute the sentences of one or all of them.

Teacher Testing Delayed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) - A letter giving the impression a teacher testing contract was okayed by the Department of Education a month before the Cabinet could review it has prompted members to postpone the examination program. The letter, signed by Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington, was revealed Tuesday by Attorney General Jim Smith. It prompted a 6-1 vote to rebid the project and effectively means the teacher testing program ordered by the Legislature can't begin until next year. Turlington, embarrased by the situation, vigorously denied he knew the contents of the letter, and testing project director, Dr. Garfield Wilson, promptly stepped forward to accept blame.

Carter, Reagan Bury Opponents

CHICAGO (UPI) - Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan easily added Illinois to their string of primary victories along with bags full of new delegates in their quickening march toward the presidential nominations.

Illinois voters put Carter one-third of the way to the Democratic nomination Tuesday, and pushed Reagan to the 20 percent mark for the GOP nomination he just missed four years.

And the largest primary to date left it clearly up to the faltering challengers -Edward Kennedy on the Democratic side and George Bush and John Anderson in the Republican race - to produce something sensational to stop Carter and Reagan. Carter drubbed Kennedy almost 2 to 1 in Illinois' "beauty contest" and did almost as well in the separate voting for the state's 179 national, convention delegates. It was the seventh time in eight primaries he has beaten the Massachusetts senator.

Reagan defeated Rep. John Anderson in the battle of Illinois, doing even better in the tabulation for the GOP's 92 district delegates than he did in the popular vote. Bush, last month's "stop Reagan" champion, was barely able to keep the percentage of his third-place finish in double numbers.

The primaries move next to New York and Reagan was ahead for 42 delegates for an Connecticut, where the faltering challengers are said to have some prospects. But Carter nomination. Miss McKee, Mark T. Lang Repeat Vows

Lynne Jeannine McKee and Mark Thomas Lang were married Feb. 16, at 3:30 p.m., at St. Augustine Catholic Church, Gainesville. Rev. Henry Lang, uncle of the bridegroom, performed the candlelight and double ring ceremony which was written by the bridal couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Kleppe, 103 Oaks Court, Sanford, and Robert E. McKee, also of Sanford. Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her vows a formal ivory sheer gown lavishly embellished with alencon lace appliques. She wore an alencon lace hat, with attached veil of imported illusion, adorned with silk flowers.

Her wedding bouquet was an arrangement of silk flowers. Sandy McKee attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a halter styled floor length grape colored gown complemented with a chiffon cape. She wore silk flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of silk flowers. Bridesmaids were Sandy Butler of Sanford and Chris Ruth of Tampa. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendant's.

Gary Lang served his brother as best man. Ushergroomsmen were Jeff McKee, brother of the bride, Sanford, and Richard Soldans of New York. The reception was held at University Golf Club.

After a wedding trip to St. Augustine Beach, the newlyweds are making their home at Hickory, N.C. The bridegroom is in manufacturing engineering management for General Electric. The bride is regional advisor for Body Shop Inc.

Ingenuity Can Turn Up Exotic Fare

You can create beauty, flavor, smiles and happiness - plus solid savings - by serving elegant meals that cannily cut down on complex methods of preparation.

Don't automatically eliminate old-fashioned, hearty dishes - or fancy foreign ones - just because of time-consuming preparation. Instead, use your ingenuity and take advantage of modern timesavers. You could, for instance, make an exotic curried shrimp in minutes by using a can of condensed chicken soup as your starting point.

In fact, condensed soups can be a short cut to many courses on the menu. A new cookbook, "The Creative Cook," from Campbell Soup Company, is chock-full of recipes for old favorites and exciting new ideas that can be prepared quickly, easily and economically with condensed soups.

Sauces impart new tastes, as well as enhance and enrich the flavors of the foods with which they are used, but Hollandaise or Mornay sauce can be time-consuming — and tricky — to make. Yet, by using condensed cream of asparagus soup as your starting point, you can, for example, create an elegant Blender Hollandaise Sauce with this recipe.

BLENDER HOLLANDAISE SAUCE 1 can (10% ounces) condensed cream of asparagus soup 2 egg yolks

2 tablespoons lemon juice

- Generous dash hot pepper sauce 1/2 cup butter of margarine, melted
- In blender, combine all ingredients except butter, Cover;

blend on high speed a few seconds. With blender still on high speed, remove cover. Very slowly pour butter in a steady stream into soup mixture. Blend 3 minutes more or until thick. Serve over cooked fish or vegetables. Makes about 2 cups. Mousseline Sauce: Prepare as above. Fold in ½ cup heavy cream, whipped. Serve over cooked fillet of white fish. Another idea from "The Creative Cook" that can tickle your taste buds and your ingenuity includes creating combination vegetable dishes - an assortment of greens simmered in

- condensed chicken broth.
- BAKED RED SNAPPER IN WINE SAUCE
- 1 two-pound red snapper, cleaned and scaled
- 90 Salt and pepper 10 1-% tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 large tomato, cut into wedges small onion, sliced and separated into rings
- lemon, sliced
- % cup dry white wine
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch one-third cup heavy cream
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano, crushed
- Dill sprigs Lemon slices

Place fish is well-buttered shallow baking dish. Season with salt and pepper. Place tomato, onion and lemon on top of and around fish. Pour wine over all. Bake at 400 degrees F. about 20 minutes per pound, until fish flakes and is translucent near the bone. Transfer the fish to serving platter. Strain pan juices into saucepan. Blend cornstarch into cream. Add to saucepan with oregano. Cook, stirring, until thickened and smooth. Pour over fish. Garnish with dill and lemon slices. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, Mar. 19, 1980-5C On A Shoestring Budget? Serve Spicy Fish Dishes

It seems that everyone is economizing on food budgets these days. Fortunately, inexpensive dinners need not be boring or flavorless. In fact, some of the most popular dishes in the world originated from peasant cuisines.

Herbs and spices have been used for centuries by imaginative cooks the world over to enliven economy cuts of meat and to add extra flair to vegetables, soups and other heat, stirring constantly, 1 minute. Remove from heat.

can enhance any dish.

Fish Sticks with Rarebit Sauce is a very pleasing dish. Mellow Cheddar cheese is melted in beer and given a spicy tang by adding horseradish. The sauce takes only minutes to prepare, but tastes very special. It's equally delicious served over baked or broiled fish fillets. Some like their rarebits tantalizingly spiced, so why not put a bottle of Tabasco sauce on the table and let everyone season to their own taste. Broiled Fish Parmesan is a cinch to prepare. it's amazing how mayonnaise, perked up with Parmesan cheese, grated onion and hot pepper sauce, can be transformed into an unusual creamy and inexpensive topping for this fish dish. FISH STICKS WITH RAREBIT SAUCE

1 tablespoon butter or margarine 1 tablespoon flour

1/2 cup beer

Combine beer and water; gradually add to flour mixture. Cook Tabasco pepper sauce has been added to budget fish dishes over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and because it lends a special zing, and has a subtle piquancy that thickens. Add cheese, horseradish and Tabasco sauce; stir over low heat until cheese melts. Prepare fish sticks according to package directions. Serve sauce over fish. If desired, serve with additional Tabasco sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

> ¹² cup mayonnaise 1 teaspoon grated onion

1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese ¹² teaspoon prepared horseradish ¹4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

2 packages (9 ounces each) frozen fish sticks In small saucepan melt butter; stir in flour. Cook over low

BROILED FISH PARMESAN

- 3 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- ¹4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
- 1 pound fish fillets, 4 pieces (14 pound each)

In small bowl combine mayonnaise, Parmesan cheese, grated onion and Tabasco sauce; mix well. Wash fish fillets; pat dry. Place fillets on shallow baking tray; place under a preheated broiler 6-inches from source of heat, 5 minutes. Spread mayonnaise mixture on fish; return to broiler. Broil about 4 minutes longer or until topping is brown and bubbly and fish is easily flaked with a fork. If desired, serve with additional Tabasco sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

xil-history has developed into curiosity about our personal has become the third most popular hobby, after stamp and coin collecting.

Where immigrant grandparents sought to blend into the American melting pot, their children's children are seeking their ethnic past and reviving old customs. They've found that one of the best ways to get in touch with their origins is the family reunion. Recognizing this interest, Kraft has prepared a guide to planning a family reunion complete with genealogical chart.

of a chart of your family tree can provide a fascinating topic of isliconversation at the reunion. Using the accompanying tree diagram, place your name on the tree trunk, then record the birth names of parents in the lower branches, Working upward, add the names of their parents, and so on. This information may be obtained from relatives and from family documents such as Bibles, legal papers or correspondence. When you have exhausted the information available at home, check local records at the library, courthouse, county loffices, the historical or genealogical society, newspaper libraries, church registers and cemeteries. Several free or nominally-priced booklets with information on other genealogical sources are available from the federal government and from genealogical organizations.

¹¹⁹⁴ Of course, if all you pursue is names, your search will be ¹⁹ pretty dull. But most family sleuths find themselves drawn "into the details and traditions of their family histories. To get ⁹more from your exploration, ask relatives to bring old diaries, ¹²letters, scrapbooks and photos for a truly meaningful reunion. Another way to share your family heritage is to request that ^beveryone bring a favorite dish and the recipe to each reunion, reby building a file of family specialties. They even can be compiled in an attractive folder to send to all participants. Following are some recipes you may want to introduce at the ¹⁰ next family gathering to start the collection. Additional ideas for planning a reunion and learning more

Egg Dishes Save Day For Frantic Cook

You CAN prepare economical, easy, fast and fabulous main dishes - even in these days of rampant inflation. And all it takes are eggs, a few other ingredients and a skillet

Egg-based Skillet Suppers are the answer for the busy cook who wants to serve entrees that are quick to fix, great to eat and well within the week's food budget.

When you buy a dozen Large eggs (which weighs g-12 pounds) for 90 cents, the eggs are only 60 cents a pound - a real bargain! It's hard to beat that price for high-quality protein, and essential vitamins and minerals. And, eggs are so very versatile, they're easy to fix in an almost unlimited number of ways for any meal of the day. After all, eggs ARE the original prepackaged, fast-to-fix convenience food! Scrambled eggs, probably the first skillet supper, can save the day for the frantic cook with a nearempty refrigerator and drop-in company at the table.

Scrambled eggs can be enhanced by any number of delicious stir-ins, spoon-ons or sprinkle-overs, such as sauteed onions and green peppers, seasoned tomato sauce, shredded cheese or dried herbs, to name just a few.

> CRUSTLESS SKILLET QUICHE

(6 servings) Talk about an easy one-dish meal! You don't even have to stir this easy entree as it cooks -- just mix, pour into the skillet and let it cook while you fix a salad and set the table. 6 eggs, beaten

1 can (1 lb.) mixed vegetables, well-drained 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss or Cheddar cheese

1 cup half and half or light cream 1 tablespoon instant minced onion

12 teaspoon salt

12 teaspoon dried marjoram or oregano leaves, crushed ¹s teaspoon garlic powder

¹s teaspoon pepper 2 tablespoons butter

Fresh dill, optional

Beat together all ingredients except butter and dill until well blended. In 10-inch omelet pan or skillet over low heat melt butter. Pour in egg mixture. Cook, covered, without stirring, over low heat until eggs are almost set, about 18 minutes. Remove from heat and let stand, covered, until knife inserted in center comes out clean, 10 to 15 minutes. To serve, cut in wedges or spoon out of pan. Garnish with fresh dill, if desired. TOAD-IN-THE-HOLE

(1 serving)

This is one of several names applied to an egg fried in a bread "frame." It's a neat trick for breakfast, lunch, dinner or snacktime. Double this recipe for hearty appetites. 1 slice bread

1 to 2 tablespoons butter

1 egg Salt and pepper

1 slice (1 oz.) Cheddar or American cheese, optional

Cherry tomato, optional Cut out center of bread with 2-inch round cutter. In small omelet pan or skillet over medium heat melt butter. Add bread slice (and cutout) and cook on one side until golden brown. Turn bread over and break egg into center hole. Reduce heat and cook egg to desired doneness, 4 to 6 minutes. Season with salt and pepper.

Place cheese slice over egg, if desired. Cover and cook just until cheese melts, 1 to 2 minutes. Garnish with cherry tomato, if desired. Serve immediately with cutout.

Variation: To make a Toad-in-the-Hole Over Easy, prepare bread as above and place in pan with melted butter over medium heat. Immediately break egg into center of bread and reduce heat. Cook until bread is golden brown. Turn bread and egg over. Season with salt and pepper. Top with cheese slice, if desired, and cook to desired doneness.

NEW ORLEANS FRITTATA (6 servings)

A frittata is an easy-to-make family-size Italian omelet that doesn't need to be folded. This one includes rice and Creoletype seasonings for flavor and color.

^{1/2} cup chopped onion

1/2 cup chopped green pepper 2 tablespoons butter

- 8 eggs
- 1/4 cup water or tomato juice
- 1½ teaspoons chili powder 1 teaspoon celery salt

1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

8 to 10 drops hot pepper sauce

1 cup cooked rice (about 1-3rd cup raw) medium ripe tomato, chopped

Green pepper rings, optional

In 10-inch ovenproof omelet pan or skillet, cook onion and green pepper in butter over medium heat until tender but not brown, about 3 to 5 minutes.

Beat eggs, liquid and seasonings together. Stir in rice and tomato. Pour egg mixture over onion and green pepper. Cook without stirring over medium-low heat until eggs are set at edges but still runny in center, 9 to 10 minutes. Broil about 6 inches from heat until eggs are completely set, 3 to 4 minutes longer. Garnish with green pepper rings, if desired. Cut in wedges to serve.

To make handle ovenproof, cover completely with aluminum TERRIFIC TOMATO SCRAMBLE

(4 servings)

This main dish is so simple that even inexperienced cooks can put it together. If you like, add sauteed green pepper or some diced pepperoni or summer sausage. 8 eggs

1/2 cup milk

- 1 medium tomato, chopped
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese, optional 2 teaspoons instant minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon basil, crushed
- 1/2 tablespoons butter

Tomato wedges, optional Watercress, optional

Beat together all ingredients except butter, tomato wedges and watercress with a fork, mixing thoroughly for uniform ellow, or just slightly for white and yellow streaks. Heat butter in 8 to 10-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium heat until just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg and gently draw completely across the bottom and sides of pan, forming large soft curds. Continue until eggs are thickened, but do not stir constantly. Cook until eggs are thickened throughout but still moist. Garnish with tomato wedges and watercress, if desired. NOTE: It is better to remove scrambled eggs from pan when

doubled at his first opportun ty, but his three-heart overcall struck good support and was raised to game. The opening club lead was obvious. West switched to a trump at the second trick and declarer drew two rounds with his ace and king. South hoped for an even division in spades to accom-modate his club loser. He played the ace, king and queen of spades, but they failed to split. However, South had another thought. Clubs, because of the bidding and the early defense, were obviously divided seven-one.

What if he played the fourth round of spades and discarded his club loser? West would be left on play with nothing bu diamonds to lead. Declare would lose one club, one spade and only one diamond. Conse-quently, South led the fourth spade and pitched his club loser on his spade loser, which effectively end played West. South "guessed" how to play diamonds by having the opponents play them for him.

Athletic Probe Fizzles By DIANE PETRYK

Herald Staff Writer Florida's high school athletics head told the Seminole County School Board Wednesday night he will not investigate rumors of athletic recruiting in the school system.

Floyd Lay, executive secretary of the Florida High School Activities Association (FHSAA), said students have a right to an education, but no right to play athletics. "A student must meet all of the requirements, not just some of them," said Lay, who was requested to make an investigation in the face of pressure from parents of three transfer students who were denied eligibility to participate in sports at their new schools.

Lay answered questions about the association's rules for athletic eligibility, but said he would not conduct an investigation because he had not been given any evidence of recruiting.

The FHSAA is the governing body of high school athletics for member counties in the state. The association sets rules for sports participation, but membership in the private, non-profit corporation is not required. Seminole County is a member. Non-membership in the association would deprive a school of participating in FHSAA-sponsored

FHSAA rules, Lay said, stipulate that a transfer student must remain ineligible to participate in sports for one year after Floyd Lay, executive secretary for the FHSAA, tells the school signed by the former principal, superintendent of schools or school board normal deadline for such transfers. The students were told the transfers did not carry with them athletic eligibility.

But shortly after transferring students Harold Daniels and Sylvester Wynn, who went from Seminole High School to Lake Howell, requested waivers to allow them to play basketball, which they had played at their former school. The requests were denied and the parents of the two students sued the school board. Subsequently, the parents lost their case. Now the school board, according to its attorney, Ned Julian Jr., intends to counter-sue the parents.

Later in the school year, the parents of Gene Green, who transferred from Lake Howell to Lyman High School, asked that their son be allowed to play baseball since his grades had improved. He had not played baseball at his former school. Although Henley initiated the waiver for Green, he told the board last night he did so before realizing there would be any controversy in the matter. Kelly Loses Videotape Court Test

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A federal judge says congressmen implicated in leaked news of the FBI's Abscam investigation have no constitutional right to see films of their appearances in bribery meetings unless they become defendants.

Seven House members and a senator have been implicated in news leaks of bribery meetings in which FBI agents posing as favor-seeking rich Arabs offered money in meetings they secretly recorded on videotapes.

U.S. District Judge William B. Bryant Wednesday refused a request by Rep. Richard Kelly, R-Fla., for a tape showing him stuffing $25,000 in his pockets. Kelly has admitted taking the money, but said he did so to further his own investigation

Bryant said Kelly's claim of a right t see the film under the Fifth Amend ment's due process clause would no Herald Photo by Tom Netsel apply unless Kelly is indicted. N

> "The widespread disclosure of Abscan raises serious questions about prosecutorial misconduct," Bryant said 'It subjects Congressman Kelly to opprobrium for conduct not yet condemned in court."

But Bryant said Kelly has adequate ways to safeguard his right to a fair trial if he is indicted, including trial delays, a change of the trial place, and challenges
