LAHARSEE, Fla., Mar. 11—(INS)—"I regret that I should be mistreated here. It would be impossible for the governor of New York or the governor of their state in the Union to put all the infractions of the law that might be to an offensive, prying person who might be in his office during the lapse of or so after it was received."

Statements were telegraphed by Governor John W. FRICK DIES AFTER BATTLE-FOR LIFE
LASTS 108 HOURS

Paralysis Victim Succumbs
Thursday Night After Living
Several Days On Respiratory
Furnished By Pals

EVANSTON, Ill., Mar. 11—(INS)—"Fifty-seven tight-lipped men were back on the job at the Illinois Public Service Company today—after the tragedy in their hearts written on every face." Alfred Frick, the man for whom each had given his full time and energy since last Sunday morning in an effort to save his life, will sit among them no more. The tense human drama closed with death the victor.

Frick, who had come to be known as the "living dead man," died at St. Francis Hospital last night after his fifty-seven fellow workers had kept him alive 108 hours by pressing the walls of his chest to give him the breath of life.

Death came quietly. Shortly before the end, the youth—he was only 22—looked at his father and mother and smiled. He was too weak to talk. A moment later he slipped into a coma and did not regain consciousness.

Young Frick was stricken early last Sunday with Landry's paralysis, a very rare disease. It cut off nerve supply to the diaphragm and chest walls, causing the lungs to collapse. Breathing stopped technically, the youth was "dead," but it was found that by pressing the sides of his chest, bellows fashion, artificial respiration could be induced.

He was thus kept alive and a hurried call sent out for volunteers to help in the strenuous physical work of pressing his sides. Fifty seven men with whom he worked answered the call. They organized teams and began the long battle with death, working in 15 minute relays. Physicians hoped that if the patient could be kept alive long enough the paralysis may lift and normal work of the lungs be resumed.

Physicians who could do nothing but watch the patient's condition and direct the efforts of the "breathing crew" felt all along that young Frick was doomed. What new records of Landry's paralysis cases they could find argued again a favorable prognosis.

Several hours before his death Frick rallied and was able to speak a few words to members of his family. He used the breath that his friends forced in and out of his wasted lungs to whisper words of comfort to those he loved.

"Don't worry," he said to his mother. "I've got a fighting chance."

His father said that as soon as he got well they would have a party for him.

"Shall we invite Miss Martin, the nurse?" asked his father, trying to control his voice.

"Sure thing," said Frick cheerfully.

These were his last words.

MAN AND FIVE CHILDREN DEAD IN HOME BLAZE

William Stevenson Pours Oil
In Stove Causing An Explosion
Followed By Fire That Destroys His Little Home

Another Child May Die From Injuries

Mother Can't Remember How
She Got Out; Clara Tells
Details Of Tragic Affair

BROWNS MILLS, N. J., Mar. 11—(INS)—William Stevenson, laborer, and five of his seven children were burned to death early today when their home here was destroyed by fire which followed an explosion when Stevenson poured kerosene into the kitchen stove.

Clara Stevenson, 20, is expected to die from injuries received when she jumped from a second story window. She is in the hospital with two broken hips.

Mrs. Rebecca Stevenson the mother, together with William Stevenson, Jr., escaped but Mrs. Stevenson, maimed by the tragedy, could not remember how she got out.

The children burned to death were Ernest, 11, Shinn, 12, Alfred, 9, Mildred, 6, and Lillian, one month old.

It was necessary for firemen to sawing poles to extricate the bodies from the burning embers.

Clara from her hospital bed told the story of the fire. She awoke early this morning and went to heat milk for Weepah, the sick child.

The coal fire in the range was only flickering so Clara awakened her father to help her. Stevens poured kerosene from a can into the stove.

An explosion followed which shook the house. The clothing of Stevenson and Clara caught fire.

Stevenson attempted to put out stars and warn his family but collapsed. Clara said she finally succeeded in getting up the stairs.

The entire house was soon afire. Clara leaped from a window and went to heat milk for Weepah, the sick child.

The coal fire in the range was only flickering so Clara awakened her father to help her. Stevens poured kerosene from a can into the stove.

A small fire was fairly burning today as prospectors continue to pour in. Many tents have been erected and wooden shacks are being hastily thrown together.

No mining camp would be complete without a dance hall, therefore one is being built.

Claims have been staked out for miles around the original strike but whether or not the discovery will "pan out" big is still a matter of conjecture.

Experienced miners men declare there is no question concerning the richness of the ore brought out by young Horton and Traynor. Their specimens assayed $78,000 to the ton.

An unconfirmed report was going the rounds today that George Washington millionaire head of Goldfield Consolidated, had taken over the claims where Horton and Traynor discovered the gold.

FREIGHT TRAIN WRECKED
Extra freight train number 1614, southbound, was derailed this morning near Pomona, delaying traffic over the rails of the Atlantic Coast Line for a few hours. No injuries were received by any number of the crew and only 10 cars left the track, according to local officials of the Coast Line.

The delegates elected were Roy and Joe Chittenden, S. H. Dighton and W. S. Leah Alternates named were J. H. Bannister, L. V. Boyle, Stanley Walker and A. P. Haggard. The entire delegation will probably attend the convention, it was said at the meeting.

E. F. Boyle, who yesterday turned in a card of 87 for a membership of 68, is today leading for the prize trophy in the tournament. On his card was a 40 for his first 5 holes and 19 which gave him a net of 68. His next 18 could be played around 104 and he would still tie for first honors in the scheduled 10-round bout last night. Strirling weighed 180.

Final scores are to be turned in by Sunday evening to be counted in official. Thirty members of the Legion are competing.

Japan Accepts U. S.
Proposal For Parley

TOKIO, Mar. 11—(INS)—The Japanese cabinet today decided to accept the invitation of the United States to participate in a three-power armistice, the emperor has sanctioned the acceptance and minister of foreign affairs Shibusawa has cabled the Japanese ambassador at Washington to that effect.

Ambassador MacVeagh will be formally notified of the acceptance here today.

Kazemoto was last seen when he left his rooming house in the company of four men. Later two, one from Buffalo and one from New York, calling for all but $5 of his $15,000 account appeared at a local bank. It is believed these were carefully constructed foreigners.

Ambassador MacVeagh will be formally notified of the acceptance here today.

BUSY AS RESULT HOLDS ITS FIRST

Seven-Team Affair At City
Park Shows Team In Good Shape; Holke Makes Only
Extra-Base Hit Of Game

The initial practice game of the Indianapolis Indians' spring training grid was held this morning with four pitchers, one of them a rookie toiling on the hill before a gallery of President Willis C. Smith, Manager Bruno Betz, and a small flock of local baseball enthusiasts.

It was just one of those games. Ed Ash of the Indianapolis Times, was official scorer and when last seen he was attempting to straighten out his book in an effort to determine which team won. Six sets, double endings, were played before a side was retired. Walter Holke, first baseman, delivered the only extra-base hit of the morning when he clouted one of rookie Sweeton's curves into the left field for three runs.

Harold Warstler, recruit shortstop, Betz, and Sleckin on second and the boys in the outfield were a busy set throughout the seven-inning affair. Schmanke, Winter and Ambrose, all regulars, were the other players to display what their early training has done for them.

The only man yet to report is W.H. Matthews, who is expected to show up within the next two days. Matthews will hustle into condition as soon as he steps off the train and will probably be in the first exhibition series with the Cincinnati Reds.

Betz is planning another round for Saturday and a brief batting and fielding session for Sunday noon. The first game of the series with the Reds will find the Indians' first team in the stand at Tinker Field. The following two affairs should draw a large crowd to Municipal Field.

At Municipal Field, the Reds are expected to make a strong bid for the flag in the National League this season and their spring training games are being conducted seriously.

Pennant Raising At Municipal Field To Be A Gala Affair

A flag pole on which the Sanford Baseball Club is to fly the pennant won last year in the Florida State League is to be erected at Municipal Field in the immediate future and all preparations made for staging a gala celebration upon the day the flag is hoisted, according to Floyd Palmer, president of the Sanford Baseball Commission.

At last night's commission meeting, Lee Crowe, manager of the club, stated that he was ready to go forward with the plans for the 1927 team and that he had lined up a number of players of high caliber that in the event of trouble in finding some of last year's squad, the club would not suffer.

The loss of three men, Campbell, Wilson and Dunas, will be keenly felt and Crowe is not making any promises as to where his club will finish in the race this season.

Uniforms, carrying small pens, are to be sold and the book on the back of the house are expected to be used this season members of the commission have announced.

Telegrams were sent to a number of players in various sections of the country last night advising them of the reporting date for spring training.

State Department Policy In Nicaragua Is Subject Of Blistering Criticism Delivered
By Embassy Attaché

Worthless News Is Given, Man Asserts

Five Newspaper Writers In Nicaragua Add Complaints
To Letter To Department

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11. (INS)—A blistering criticism of the State Department's publicity policies is contained in a lengthy communication recently received by the department from Lawrence Dennis, secretary of the legation in Nicaragua, it became known today.

Incompetence, extravagant waste of government funds, doing out of worthless information, a supercilious attitude toward newspapermen, are among the accusations leveled at the department.

Although refusing to comment on this vitriolic assault, officials of the foreign service are reported to be less concerned over these charges than they are over the fact that Dennis possesses an important diplomatic document, which may prove highly embarrassing to the department if it were made public. This document, which Dennis was instructed to destroy, is alleged to contain written instructions covering the Nicaraguan situation that are directly opposed to the policy of the government as officially announced here.

Dennis resigned some time ago from his post in Nicaragua, but his resignation was refused. Ten days ago it was reported that he would be given an important place in the department if he would reconsider his resignation. Yesterday he was said at the department that the resignation had been withdrawn.

Five newspaper correspondents stationed in Nicaragua, added other complaints to the Dennis charges, asserting that officials have dismissed them with bodily gestures when they have sought answers to important international questions.

Other reporters, the Dennis letter states, are treated as "pulling infants," and are overwhelmed with "English mannerisms" and "superficial affections" when making inquiries.

REPORT CURRENT THAT JACK, GENE TO MEET IN FALL

Tex Rickard Plans To Have Pair Fight For Championship Regardless Of Outcome Of Elimination Tournament

NEW YORK, March 10.—Back

months, broke out afresh today concerning an alleged plan by Tex Rickard to match Tunney and Dempsey for the heavyweight championship. In September, regardless of what may transpire, if anything, during the heavyweight tournament.

The story first saw the light of day when Rickard began matching persons and what not, it being the contention then that Dempsey would step in when all other contenders had thoroughly eliminated themselves.

The situation has altered in the meantime—but the contention hasn't. Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney remain as plausible candidates and now they say that this pair will manage to get rid of each other when they meet some time in the latter part of May.

The big here is that Maloney and Sharkey, lacking a real punch, naturally will flounder through 15 rounds, causing the populace to become very distract. In consequence it will go away from there, thinking of Dempsey as the man he once was and anything will be all to the mind. I would say that, if Rickard ever entertained any plan of this kind he was taking plenty for granted and that sort of thing is not the old boy's motif. Suppose for example, Sharkey knocked Maloney over in the first minute of pug, or vice versa, Rickard then would have first class challenger on his hands and all his alleged plans for Dempsey couldn't get rid of the gent.

Rickard today was receipt of a telegram from Dempsey in which the ex-champion stated that he no longer was troubled by blood poisoning in his arm and that he would "get to work right away."

ROME WANTS TO SEE AL SMITH AS CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Vatican Investigator Tells Cardinals Governor Of New York Is Probable Choice For Next President Of U. S.

ROME, ITALY. Mar. 11.—The Roman Curia, well represented by cardinals, bishops and lesser dignitaries, listened yesterday to a long report on religious and political conditions in the United States and on Romanist prospects for the future. The report was made in the form of a lecture by one Commandante Silvio D'Amico, who had been sent to the United States as a special observer of the pope on the occasion of the so-called Eucharistic Congress at Chicago.

This man lingered several months after the exhibition in Chicago had come to an end, gathering a lot of supposedly valuable information. He painted a rosy picture of the outlook for Romanism in America, which was greatly relished by the audience.

When he spoke in terms of fervent hope about the chances of "Al" Smith to become the first Catholic President of the United States his listeners cheered wildly. Here is the literal text of the speaker's remarks on the subject "Al" Smith and the coming Presidential election:

"I ask you members of my most distinguished audience to consider what profound change has taken place in the power and standing of our co-religionists in the United States since the days of Monsignor Carroll, the first bishop of Baltimore. Then there were in the United States about 30,000 Catholics. Today Catholicism in that country is entrenched with 20,000,000 members, 100 bishops, four cardinals, 18,000 churches, 6,000 parochial schools, 1,600 Catholic high schools, 20 universities, 120 seminaries, with organizations of great numbers and corresponding power such as the Knights of Columbus and the Holy Name Society."

"The Mayors of New York and Chicago are Catholics, and now there is in plain view before us a probable Catholic President in the person of Al Smith. He is surely standing on the threshold of the White House."

It was this utterance coming as a climax to the eloquent description, which brought the stormy outbreak of the appeal led by Cardinal Beuron, that Comptroller had had more or less official endorsement in the United States, where as late and emissary he served the pope for ten full years. When the applause had died down a little the speaker launched into a detailed exposition of the American Protestantism which as might be expected was far from flattering.

Plans Are Made To Float Loans For Veterans Of War

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11. (INS)—War veterans who want to borrow on their adjusted compensation certificates are to be accommodated despite Congress' failure to appropriate money for the loans, Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans Bureau, reported to President Coolidge today.

Gen. Hines said all arrangements had been completed for financing veterans' loans from existing bureau fund. Premium money on the government insurance policies will provide about 60 per cent of the necessary funds, and the other 40 per cent will be provided through sale of government securities now held by the veterans bureau.

He estimated that loans will be made at the rate of about $5,000,000 a month.

"We are going to discourage veterans borrowing on their certificates," said Hines, "but if they want the money they can have it."

Sinclair Lewis Is Author Of Another Sensational Book

High Goal Poloists Gathering In Aiken For Practice Games

AIRIN, S. C. Mar. 11. (INS)—Sinclair Lewis, who not long ago saved a Kansas City saint and defied God to strike him dead, appears today with a daring and sensational book, "Elmer Gantry," in which he pictures the life of a blackmailing, alcoholic soldier who strolls his way through the lounge saloons of the country, gaining fame and fortune through his sex sins.

The publishers to-day released the first run of 140,000 copies from coast to coast.

Lewis in his novel begins with Elmer Gantry drunk, and ends as the proselyte faces his congregation, casting his vicious look at the ankles of a new choir singer.

The great moment of the story deals with Elmer's experience with Sharon Falconer, a woman evangelist who exhibits great audiences clad in a white satin robe embellished with a red cross, and whose religious emotions, he craftily confesses, to satisfy his own desire.

The young woman was thrown out of the car and her neck was broken.

The couple were enroute to Miami where Metal said they were to be married. A young son of Metal was not injured.
