General's History Given At Rites

Florida Newspapers Editorially Favor Re-Election Collins

The first spade of dirt was turned yesterday to start construction of the Henry Shelton Sanford Library and Museum in Fort Mellon Park near the lake named for General Sanford's daughter, Mrs. Carola Dow.

Mrs. Maria Pansa, granddaughter of the founder of the City of Sanford, in a driving rain, pushed the goldpainted spade into the earth where a corner of the building, the inside of which will be an exact replica of General Sanford's Library in his home in Derby, Conn., will be located.

Also taking part in the ground-breaking ceremony was Clifford Cochran of Orlando, a cousin, who also turned a spade of dirt to help start the important building.

Prior to the groundbreaking ceremony, a program honoring the founder of Sanford was held in the recreation building adjacent to the site of the Library and Museum.

General J. C. Hutchinson, "father" of the city, presided over the crowd making use of the building because of inclement weather.

Today the dream of a grand many people of Sanford has come true.

Mrs. Katherine Abby Hanna of Winter Park and Rollin Collins, author and lecturer, noted historian, and an active member of the Florida Park Board, gave a delightful history of Henry Shelton Sanford. In beginning her colorful history of General Sanford she reminded her audience "there's a great trend toward going back and studying the lives of men."

Brady Charges Elderly People Are Neglected

Fire Destroys Under Portion Of 'The Boat'

Fire destroyed the under portion of a two-story building and soft drink store across from the Sanford Boat Works at the Ocean Bridge shortly after 6 o'clock last night.

Known as Dean's Place and commonly called by many as "The Boat", the roadside store was owned by Dean Taylor, popular sportsman and store manager of the structure, which houses sleeping and cooking quarters for the boatmen.

Loss is estimated in the neighborhood of $1,000, he said.

Stenstrom spoke on the achievements during the last legislative session and his record in voting for the construction bill, representing at that time "I have no apologies to make to the citizens of Seminole County for my record in the 1935 Legislature," he said. He added, "I cordially invite you to investigate every vote I cast."

The third in the series of eleven Democratic rallies was held in the Chamber of Commerce Building in Lake Mary.

Two candidates, appearing on another in the bid for the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, District Five, did not speak last night. Gus Schmalz and Homer Little were not present for the program.

However, the tension of the race for local offices is beginning to increase with charges and counter charges beginning to appear in the bitter verbal battles between candidates.

Stenstrom Target Of Blast

An unexpected substitute spoke last night in behalf of the candidate of Brad Miller of Melbourne in a bid for the 37th Senatorial District senate seat.

E. C. Brady flew into a tirade against Senator Douglas Stenstrom charging him with the neglect of the elderly people of Florida and for "taking no stand on the segregation issue."

"They can't get me out of poll," Brady said, and then added, "I'm proud to represent this county in my county."

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, the last speaker on last night's program at Lake Mary, took on time to answer Brady but calmly spoke for less than the regularly allotted five minutes to each candidate.

Car Is Demolished As Driver Loses Control On Curve

"Revolving came out," said Florida Highway Patrolman Carl Williams as he described an accident on State Road (secondary) 411 between Longwood and Everglades City. "It was the worst I've ever seen," he said as he reported that the only thing left of the car when it came to a stop were the wheels, dashboard and motor.

The accident occurred last night shortly before 10 o'clock when a 1934 Ford four-door sedan, driven by Richard Wiley Wike, stationed in Mobile, Ala. with the Air Force, lost control of his car on a curve and went off the road, on the left side, for approximately 400 feet.

Patrolman Williams said the car turned over between four and seven times demolishing its frame. The car was scattered for 30 yards in all directions," said the patrolman. The car came to a stop on its wheels still on the left side of the road.

"Apparently the car was traveling at a very high rate of speed," Williams reported. Wike suffered only minor cuts and bruises. He was jailed in the Seminole County Jail charged with reckless driving.

Accompanying Wike, who occurred during the driving rain shortly before 1:30 when a 1934 Cadillac, driven by Guy Henry Over of De Bary, one mile north of Sanford, left the highway smashing through a wooden table sign.

Over lost control of his car on a curve and traveled about 200 feet off on the right side of the highway away from the lake. The car made at least two complete turns before coming to a stop. Damage, said Patrolman Williams, is estimated at $250.

Candidates for Tax Assessor To Speak At Jaycee Luncheon

Candidates for the office of Seminole County Tax Assessor will speak at a luncheon to be held at the Thursday luncheon meeting of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce to be held at the Sanford Yacht Club.

Those speaking Thursday will be Miss Mary E. Zavis, Jack E. Stumper, Rudy L. Sloan, John W. Metcalf, and Raleigh King.

Officials of the Jaycees are expected to attend the luncheon to hear the candidates speak in their own behalf.

Members of the Jaycees are urged to take advantage of the "Get Out The Vote" campaign by attending the noon luncheon meetings where candidates have been scheduled to speak.

Stevenson Here Today On Handshaking Tour

Adult Stevenson, campaigning for the Democratic candidacy for the presidency, will be in Sanford this afternoon.

He is slated to arrive at 4 o'clock aboard a chartered bus which will be parked at First St. and Park Ave. during his handshaking tour of the downtown area.

Stevenson is expected to be in Sanford for a longer period of time than he spent here on Nov. 29 last year.

The presidential aspirant's visit to Sanford this afternoon will be in the shadow of the May 8 Democratic Primary where he and Senator Extra Rebovay will share the contest for Democratic nomination as the candidate representing the party in November.

Drawing immense crowds last November, he is expected to even exceed his record.

Ed Hunt stated that although he had made a few laudatory repeat calls, the response was so enthusiastic that he will be back to see the voters in a few days.

Kawner reminded other workers to turn their tickets in to the office by April 16, with collectors to be deposited with T. E. Tucker, Treasurer of the Seminole County Unit, American Cancer Society.

First 100 Per Cent Goal Is Reached In Cancer Drive

The first 100 per cent goal was reached yesterday in the Seminole County Unit, American Cancer Society's fund raising educational campaign.

Ed Hunt, serving as Harold Kasner's Special Gift's Committee member, reported that the completion of his division, with the goal reached.

But solicited among the Automotive Industry, including new car dealers, used car dealers, independent garages, and parts warehouses, a total of 21 prospective contributors.

Two candidates, appearing on another in the bid for the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, District Five, did not speak last night. Gus Schmalz and Homer Little were not present for the program.

However, the tension of the race for local offices is beginning to increase with charges and counter charges beginning to appear in the bitter verbal battles between candidates.

$712.26 Is Donated To Earl Cash Fund

A total of $712.26 was turned over to the Earl Cash fund today from the proceeds derived from a luncheon given for the benefit of the paralyzed Sanford truck driver.

Some of the funds turned over by Willie Percock, of the Florida State Bank who is trustee of the fund, were from contributions from friends who did not attend the luncheon.

Earl Cash expressed his appreciation for the wonderful friendliness and interest of those who made the fund possible. Those who took cash about the fund said "we will not wait" to express his full appreciation for what has been done for him.

Real Estate Loans For Improvements, Expansion In '35

Most of the Farmers Home Administration's real estate loans made in Florida last year were for improvements and developments on family-type farms such as constructing and repairing farm buildings, adding more acres, fencing, improving soil fertility, and establishing permanent pastures. The agency's local county supervisor, Curtis J. Green, said this week.

Loans are available through the agency to purchase family-type farms.

Curtis J. Green also reported that most of the funds for farm ownership loans in the State were supplied by banks and other private lenders under the agency's insured farm loan program rather than through direct loans from appropriated funds.

Insured loans are also the source of most of the funds for soil and water conservation credit supplied through the Farmers Home Administration. These are loans with which all-Florida farmers carry out soil conservation measures and develop domestic and irrigation water facilities.

The Farmers Home Administration loans funds to farmers to whom other lenders cannot furnish adequate credit. As soon as a farmer receives a loan, he is required to make regular payments to the Farmers Home Administration through banks and other lenders' regular credit services.

The farmer pays an interest charge of 4 1/2 per cent on farm ownership or soil and water conservation loans. If the loan is from insured funds, the lender receives a net of 3 1/2 per cent and the Government receives one percent as an insurance charge.

Women Lucky Not To Have Efficiency Man

By DOROTHY ROE

Whenever I get the idea, I can cheer myself up immediately by being thankful that I am not married to a man whose business is household efficiency.

Can you imagine how awful it would be, for instance, to have as a husband the publisher of a women's service magazine, who comes home every night with new suggestions for improving your own tumbling household routine? A man who spends his working day among time and motion experts and anti-septic test kitchens and experts in every field of homemaking?

I should think it would give any wife a lifelong inferiority complex to be married to a man who knows more about housekeeping than she does. Such a man, for instance, as Howard A. Cohoon, of Jackson, Miss., who is head of a company which makes numerous household products, and who has worked up a homemaker's forum inviting women all over the country to send in household hints.

Now don't get me wrong, Cohoon is a charming gentleman, with an attractive wife and a happy family consisting of son, daughter and two grandchildren.

I am told that Mrs. Cohoon shows no signs of the complexes which I am sure would harass me if I were in her shoes. She even encourages her husband to give prizes, such as trips to Florida, for the homemakers who send in the best hints.

All I can say is she must be a paragon among women, and she must run the most efficient household in the world.

While chatting with homemaker expert Cohoon over lunch in New York the other day, I learned that he now has a roster of more than a half million women who have sent in their most prized household hints for his consideration.

"They come in at the rate of about 20,000 a month," said Cohoon. "We invite women to send in these hints over various radio and television programs, in newspapers and magazines and on the labels of the products."

"It's amazing how many bright ideas for short cuts and thriftricks arrive by every mail. And what surprises me is how many brand new ideas keep coming in. You'd think after a while they'd already have thought of everything. But there are fewer repetitions than you would think possible."

Cohoon and his cohorts will take 40 winning homemakers and their husbands for a week's free vacation in Ellisor Village, Fla., in June.

"My wife thinks it's only fair," says he, "that housewives be rewarded for their bright ideas, just as employes in other businesses get rewards for bright suggestions."

"When I first brought up this idea to Mrs. Cohoon, she was delighted. In fact, she produced a few household hints of her own that nobody else had thought of."

I guess, when you have to compete with a half million expert homemakers, you simply have to top them. And that, perhaps, is Mrs. Cohoon's secret.

Volunteer Fireman Charged With Arso
DUMONT, N. J. (AP)—A 36-year old volunteer fireman, chairman of a fund drive for a new fire house, was charged with arson last night in connection with a blaze which destroyed his company's old headquarters.

Lt. John Carey was accused of starting the four-hour fire which burned down Fire House No. 2 early Sunday with injuries to four of his colleagues.

Carey, who is married and the father of six children, was released in $10,000 bail after his arraignment before Magistrate Felix Angellilli.

Neither police nor Bergen County detectives would ascribe any motive. Police Chief Herbert Allmers 81, signed the complaint.

BUS-AUTO CRASH KILLS HOUSEWIFE
MIAMI (AP)—A spectacular bus auto crash killed a Miami housewife and injured 34 persons yesterday at a rain slicked intersection off U. S. 1.

Mrs. Frances Dunn, 36, was killed and her husband, Charles, 37, was critically injured. The other injured, most of whom suffered bruises or cuts, were among 37 Negro and Puerto Rican tomato pickers in a farm bus.

Write Business To Our Community And Try Using 'Courtesy Cues'

Yesterday we called your attention to the beneficial effects of establishing our city in the minds of all who come here to visit. We made an "The Community of Courtesy" and we mean just that. It was pointed out that EACH of us has a responsibility in that connection.

It is an oft repeated truism in commerce that "Business goes where it is invited—and stays where it is well treated". There is nothing that invites more appealingly than courtesy and impressive good treatment begins—and ends—with that same admirable trait of conduct.

Could be that the Merchants Association or any other civic group who think well of the idea—will promote a school under the auspices of an established and reputable authority to which could come ALL persons in our stores, filling stations, and other places dealing with the public. The fee would probably be quite nominal and might well be borne by the employing business establishment. It could refresh us on some of the fundamentals of acceptable conduct and maybe even teach us some new ones.

Here are some that occur to us and that are basic in almost any course on courtesy:

- Smile
- Keep conversation cheerful
- "Do Unto Others . . ."
- Strive sincerely to please
- Keep your word
- Learn, remember and use persons' names
- Please — Thank you
- Until something better comes along, maybe you'd like to try out those seven "Courtesy Cues". They'll work, bringing happiness and satisfaction to you, delight to those you meet, more business and favorable reaction to your firm.

Proposals Are Headed Nowhere

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analysis
WASHINGTON (AP)—It looks like a good, solid bet the Eisenhower administration's proposals for strengthening civil rights are headed nowhere. There's small chance Congress will approve any recommendations.

The only thing really new about them is that the administration finally got around to sending them to Congress where bills already are pending to carry out much of what Atty. Gen. Brownell proposed yesterday.

Those bills are hung up in the Judiciary committees of both houses. Neither committee has yet approved them. So none is now ready for floor action in either chamber of Congress.

Perhaps the House, where debate is limited, will pass some civil rights legislation. There the outnumbered Southern Democrats cannot block action with a filibuster.

But in the Senate debate is unlimited. And there the Southern Democrats can, and almost certainly will, filibuster to death any civil rights bill brought up. There can be no new civil rights law unless both houses approve.

The last attempt to get the Senate to act on civil rights legislation was in 1949 when the Truman administration moved to carry out some of the civil rights promises it made in its victorious 1948 presidential campaign.

The Senate's Southern Democrats filibustered 18 days. The Truman administration then gave up for the rest of its term, which ended in January 1953. It didn't push civil rights legislation again.

The Republicans, who controlled Congress from January 1953 to January 1955, didn't try either. Neither have the Democrats, who regained control of Congress last year, pushed for civil rights laws up to now.

If you have ideas on establishing a wide-spread reputation for Sanford as "The Community of Courtesy" let us have them. Meanwhile, pleasantly invite business here and courteously treat it while it is here. Truly, it will come again and again.

Encouraging Signs

One of the most encouraging signs of continued prosperity in the United States, and of course to those of us in Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida, is the report that small businesses are doing lots of business. In both sales volume and earnings, their 1955 level stood well above that of the previous year.

One strong reason for this improvement, the Small Business Administration says, is the fact that progress has been made in channeling a greater share of government contracts to small corporations. At the SBA's urging, a substantially greater proportion of military contract money has been earmarked for the smaller businesses. They also have been able to win a bigger share of civilian spending.

The picture for small business is not entirely rosy. Big corporations often get first crack at some of the raw materials made scarce by the high level of our economy. The little fellows also have trouble competing with the giants for skilled professional help, and they could use greater foreign trade opportunities.

But on the whole, the SBA report shows, small business is doing well. That is good for the country. One of the great strengths of our economic system is that it makes room, through small business, for the full exercise of private initiative.

The advent of an increase in the small business picture is important to this area, especially to our city and county. It is the small business on which we must depend for a continual flow of industry.

The channeling of contracts to the smaller manufacturer and plant operator, with an assurance that such a channel of business opportunities might continue, would mean to us the availability of these concerns to us.

Sanford and Seminole County is in an enviable position for the attraction of these small business firms. Location, tax structure, and availability of professional help adds much to our side of the ledger.

The good speaker is measured best by how good is the attention his listeners pay him.

A man can say anything he wants in his own home. Whether anyone pays any attention, of course, is quite another matter.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING IN RUSSIA

Newspaperman's Tour Report

This is the 14th in a series of articles written by Mrs. Carmage Walls who is representing The Sanford Herald on a tour of foreign countries.

Oh, Paris in the springtime! Actually it is springlike in temperature, but the trees have not started budding. After the past two days, however, I've decided that Paris is a state of mind rather than a city—and what a wonderful one at that!

We landed here Friday night very late after a 15 hour flight from Tel Aviv. The air view of the city at night was really lovely and, contrary to the usual, Paris looked exactly like I had expected.

The following adventure will amuse my parents. I know, since it is so typical of me. Yesterday morning—as much as I hated missing our meetings with General Granther, head of SHAPE and with Premier Guy Mollet—it had to be. We had accumulated purchases and printed material for three weeks—and something had to give! It was I. Finding that the American Express was only open 8 hours that morning, I got a hotel porter and beat it on down to the American Express office, a block from the hotel. They were remodeling so we had to go to the back and walk upstairs. All this with five heavy medium-sized bags, mind you! The porter gasped for breath, grabbed his up, and headed for home.

Then I found out the three canvas sipping bags and Carmage's dictating machine (which blew out in Cairo) could not be shipped unless crated—and naturally (since this is my usual trick) they did no packing there so we had to go to the back and walk upstairs. All this with five heavy medium-sized bags, mind you! The porter gasped for breath, grabbed his up, and headed for home.

I know this is not news story and it cannot possibly be as much fun to the reader as it was to me. But, Frank, I had the most marvelous time and, according to Homer and Richie Lanford, with whom we had dinner last night, I got the best quick visit and "feel" of Paris possible. Homer, who has been with our Embassy here for about five years, is a brother of Doug Lanford (here in Gadsden). We and his charming red headed wife gave us a grand evening and we picked up a lot of Paris color and stories from them.

I went to shopping, but looking - yesterday afternoon. Clothes and accessories are extremely high in Paris but they surely are lovely.

He ushered the bags and me in graciously and after I told him in English and gestures what I wanted, he told me in French and gestures what I would get. He then started taking each article out of the bags at the same time commenting on each. He looked at pictures we have had made with various big shots - admired Carmage's suits - and eluded disapprovingly over some dirty socks and shirts we were sending home. He handed the empty bags to me - I got the idea finally and gave them back indicating we wanted them shipped too. The man then got that "give me strength" look and dumped everything back in the bags - told me by using a calendar and clock to come back Monday at 8:00 for shipping papers and I got nearly hysterical with laughter!

A walk of four blocks in the direction of what appeared to be a busy boulevard got me to cab stand and, thank goodness, "Grand Hotel" sounds the same in both languages. After another 30 minute ride - punctuated by my cab driver right up to his back and simultaneously blowing the horn and yelling at him - after which we both apologized and smiled - we made it to the hotel.

I know this is not news story and it cannot possibly be as much fun to the reader as it was to me. But, Frank, I had the most marvelous time and, according to Homer and Richie Lanford, with whom we had dinner last night, I got the best quick visit and "feel" of Paris possible. Tourists Like 'The Out Islands'

By MAL BOYLE
ELEUTHERA, Bahamas (AP)—More leaves from a sunburned notebook:

Did you ever hear of the old Maine farmer who yearned all his life to see Boston?

Finally, one morning he decided he simply had to satisfy his curiosity, so he caught the early milk train to the city. That same evening he returned home on another train. Plumb tucked out, he sat down to rest by the stove in the general store of the hamlet near which he lived.

"Well, Ezra," asked one of his neighbors, "tell us—what was Boston like?"

"To tell you the truth, I still don't know," replied the old farmer. "There was so much going on in the station there I never did get out to see the city."

Tourists who come to the Bahamas and spend all their time in Nassau, the capital, remind me of that old farmer. Nassau is no more the Bahamas than New York City, Miami, or Los Angeles are America.

The perfume shops abound, as do exquisite French handkerchiefs and the excellent Paris umbrellas—the world famous hats (there alone I could have lost my head and purse)—not to mention the dresses and suits. It was a woman's dream come true but unfortunately the prices jarred one awake.

Will finish this tomorrow since we are going sight seeing this afternoon and then to the famed Folies Bergere.

After lunch yesterday we got a car and driver and did our best to see in one afternoon what it actually takes a couple of weeks to do. I shall not go into too much detail since volumes and volumes have already been written on Paris, but I will mention a few of the afternoon's highlights. The Rue de la Paix with all its other another of the world famous designers and jewelers and the like; the simply enormous Louvre, one of the largest and most magnificent museums in the world; Cathedral of Notre Dame; the lovely Luxembourg Gardens; Arch of Triumph; Eiffel Tower; Sorbonne University with its many buildings; Montmartre—the haven of artists for centuries, and the center of which is the Church of Sacre-Coeur; the Left Bank of the Seine—with its flower and bird markets and the book stands—the literally countless numbers of sidewalk cafes—oh, its hard to know where to begin and/or where to end in describing it.

Last night we did the "tourist's special"—the renowned "Folies Bergere"—the costumes and some of the sets were really something, but to those who have ever been to the Latin Quarter in New York City or its equivalent, the Folies was just another show. We were glad we saw, but it's too long and boring a stage show to repeat very often, to put it mildly. (It is possible that the fact that our seats tilted forward at a 45 degree angle influenced our opinion.)

We are leaving in a short while but Carmage and I are looking forward, of course, to another trip to Paris some day. It is one of the loveliest cities I've ever seen—its everything song and poetry and books and artwork and cook-books have said it! To do Paris justice one needs, I believe, two weeks. But—for this gal—these two and a half days have been wonderful.

To get the full flavor of the Bahamas, you have to go out to "the out islands," some of the 3,000 islands and cays scattered over 70,000 square miles of turquoise sea. To them still clings the savor of the picturesque Bahamian past.

It isn't hard to do. You can sail to many of them in a few hours. You can reach others in a half hour from Nassau by air.

One of the most interesting is Eleuthera, a curving island a hundred miles long and ranging from one to 30 miles in width, flung like a boomerang against the Atlantic waters.

It was there that a group of London gentlemen, calling themselves "The Company of Eleuthera Adventurers," first sought to establish a brave new world (Eleuthera comes from a Greek word meaning "freedom") in 1647. The venture was a financial flop. Since then Eleuthera has known many economic ups and downs. It has been the haunt of pirates and shipwreckers, buccaners and cotton barons; it has survived many a hurricane and many a heartache.

Today it is "the bread basket of the Bahamas" and the site of an American missile base. It has a thriving dairy and growing cattle herds. At Rock Sound Arthur Vining Davis, the American aluminum titan, is building a multi-million-dollar resort center, complete with an 18-hole golf course designed by Robert Trent Jones, the Michiganite of the fairways. Wild cotton from abandoned plantations flowers on roads leading to new luxurious villas rising along the pink-sanded seashore. One is owned by Rosita Forbes, the novelist.

Every island should have a queen, and the unofficial queen of Eleuthera is Knid Bethel, a bachelor lady who drives a taxicab. "Miss Knid"—all the 6,000 inhabitants here call her that—is a living link with the island's 300-year history. She had two ancestors among the first group of settlers who landed here.

"Another of my ancestors wrote the Declaration of American Independence," she adds proudly. Miss Bethel is a very informal looking queen. She has short dark blonde hair and her customary costume is a pair of slacks and a light-colored blouse. She is a very busy queen, and half down more jobs than she herself is sure of.

"There isn't time to get bored or tired on an island," she says, "there is too much to do."

Treatment For Dry Skin
By HERMAN H. DUNSTON, M.D.
DRY skin is a common winter complaint. Not only is this due to the relative low humidity, but also to the fact that your circulation is somewhat slowed by the cold.

Frequent and prolonged bathing in hot water, a common winter practice for many of us, might also lead to dryness of the skin.

Alkaline Soaps
Too frequent use of alkaline soaps and detergents can be a contributing factor, too. This is especially true of homemakers whose daily chores require great use of water, strong soaps and detergents.

This skin dryness may vary from only a slight, uncomfortable feeling to annoying roughness. Sometimes your finger tips or nails may be involved, with resulting hangnails or slight cracks in the skin. Your nails may become coarse and easily broken. Dry skin may make you more susceptible to bacterial infection, sunburn and certain chemicals and other irritants.

To help clear up the condition, it's probably a good idea to avoid soap and water as much as possible. Sponge baths are usually preferable to regular tub baths or showers.

As for your nails, try applying castor oil. For chafed hands, you can apply olive oil or talcum powder each night before bedtime, wearing cotton gloves to protect pillowcases and bed linens.

In addition to these measures, your physician might decide your case calls for administration of vitamin A or thyroid extract taken internally.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
M. K.: What causes the skin to itch an hour after eating ice cream?
Answer: Itching of the skin after eating ice cream might be due to a nervous disorder or to an allergy or sensitivity.

Presbyterian Church

Circle No. 2 of the Presbyterian Women of the Church held its regular monthly meeting at the lovely country home of Mrs. John Brumley in Indian Mound village with Mrs. Arumey as hostess.

Eighteen members were present and Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, chairman of the circle was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Jay B. Beck was appointed newspaper reporter for the group. Reports from standing committees were given and the meeting places for the ensuing year were read by Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, vice-chairman, who also made a short talk on mission work at Ybor City near Tampa. She also brought to the attention of those present the offering for the Mission Haven Home for missionaries on foreign fields and the establishment of the Peter Marshall chair at Columbia Seminary. Both of these projects are located at Decatur, Ga.

Miss Lol Banks of De Bary gave the lesson on "Let's Talk About." Miss Zeta Davison, former Home Missionary in North Carolina and Kentucky among mountaineer families, gave the devotional, using as her subject the story of Ruth and Naomi. The theme for the year is "The Christian Home" and she portrayed a beautiful word picture of the love that existed between Ruth and her mother-in-law, Naomi. So effective and well chosen were her words, that she held her audience in complete silence as they listened intently to her story.

The highlight of her talk was reached when she quoted from the Book of Ruth that well known verse "Estreat me not to leave thee, nor to return from following after thee."

She stressed the fact that Naomi was a noble, religious Jewish woman who loved her two sons and husband and extended that wonderful love to her two daughters-in-law. Miss Davison stated that, "The lovely character of this noble Jewish woman shines down through the ages and

Sunday Night Buffet Is Given For Gen., Mrs. H. P. Newton

By MARY FOWLER
Gen. and Mrs. H. P. Newton of Fort Dierich, Md. were welcomed to De Bary at a Sunday night buffet given by Mr. and Mrs. Arne Erickson.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. James V. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Feyl, Col. and Mrs. Gregory Kessenich, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Latimer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lambert and their house guest, Mrs. Ralph D. Fairchild, San Antonio, Tex.

The Newtons are building next to the Kessenichs on Plumosa Drive. Their decision to locate in De Bary was a chain reaction impulse generated by Mrs. A. L.

Arrington, who is Mrs. Newton's sister. Last fall she visited their mutual Washington friend, Mrs. Kessenich; she became so taken by the bary that she bought property there.

Upon returning home her descriptions so enthused her sister that she, in turn, induced the General with the idea of retirement in this Southern town. So now the Faron enterprises are building homes for Mrs. Arrington and the Newtons who will be neighbors.

Gen. Newton is an agriculturist-expert whose talents will be much appreciated in De Bary and Sanford, where he has already met with the Rotary.

On The BOOKSHELF

BY S. DRIGGERS

Reviews on new books just received: "Island of The Pit," by Vincent James, the story of an American soldier, wounded in action and his beautiful wife who sail home in a small boat across the Pacific, accompanied by an old army friend. After two days they go ashore on a lonely island and the story, which mature readers will enjoy, moves swiftly toward its terrifying climax. "Bang the Drum Slowly," by Mark Harris is a beautiful story. Bruce Pearson, a dumb, third-string catcher for the Mammoth is a very sick man. Although this is unknown to the management, eventually, to the team and to the reader, he becomes an important and respected human being. A touching novel, both sad and humorous.

"Abigail," by Louise Mally is set against the brilliant background of Louisville plantation society. This is the story of Abigail, a northerner, who fell in love with Randolph Harrison, but it was not until after she married him that she realized the depravity of the household at Waverly Plantation and her own helplessness. Miss Marjorie, the old Negro seamstress who hid slaves for the Underground Railway, tried to help her. The climax of the story comes with a terrifying outbreak of the slaves.

"Sabrina Kane" by Will Cook, the story of a woman with a man's determination, a man's courage and man's way of looking at things—this was Sabrina Kane. Sometimes this placed her at odds with men, yet there were many men in her life. Illinois, at the time when men broke the ground, stripped the forests and fought the Indians, provides the background.

"A Clear Place in The Sky" by Mary Bosworth, a heart-warming novel of young love, loyalty, and courage in the lush and lovely

By swamplands of Florida, the Everglades. A delightful novel that the whole family will enjoy reading.

"A Doctor For Barbara" by Margaret Howe has as its setting a modern hospital in North Carolina. Barbara Benson, the heroine, is attracted to young Dr. Davidson, who seemingly dignified all women and whose one aim in life is to find a permanent cure for polio. How Barbara, through helping another girl, finds the road to happiness is the theme.

The current Reader's choice of "Morningstar" still heads the list with two copies on hand. But they don't stay on the shelf long.

On the Best Sellers list of the week "The Last Hurrah" by Edwin O'Connor heads the list, with "Andersonville" still second. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is first on the non-fiction best seller. "Years of Hope" is a candidate for the list.

We have both of his books ready for circulation. This is a double selection for Book of the Month for March.

For the light fiction readers, we have some mysteries, love stories and westerns.

As you probably know, we do get requests for all kind of things, but here's one I read about that comes pretty close to some we've had. A little boy asked the librarian for some material on "tranquillity." The librarian was nonplussed. On inquiring, she was told: "You know tranquillity, I want to learn to throw my legs."

We had one little girl ask for the bibliography of the United States and so. Another asked if she could get the book about a horse and it was a green book about this (at. Some real cute things can happen)

TV Networks Are On Public's Side For Choice Series

NEW YORK (AP)—On Broadway you pay $8 to learn whether you think a drama critic's judgment of a play is sound. On television you merely have to twist a dial. In the theater, critics hold the power of life or death over a play. But what has been most popular with the public in television this season, according to the audience rating systems, has not always been most popular with the critics.

CBS-TV programming plans for next season, which were leaked recently, indicate that if a line were to be drawn between public popularity and critical popularity the network is on the side of the public.

About a dozen new filmed half-hour weekly series are planned, slated or in the making at CBS. They run the immemorial gamut of filmed half-hour weekly series — with some off-beat themes thrown in: crime, comedy, adventure and so forth. There always will be room for such pleasant events as "I Love Lucy" and the Phil Silvers Show. But by that time CBS finishes placing all its half-hour shows, basically stereotypes of other half-hour shows, is there going to be room for much else? It may seem unfair to pre-judge. But pre-judgment is necessary to a heavily committed policy from which there can be no withdrawal. CBS seems certain of financial success. It is increasingly apparent that sponsors like film; they feel they can control its direction without hassling with writers and directors as often happens on live dramatic shows.

In its policy, obviously based on close analysis of its current success among "the top ten," CBS seems to be saying that the public wants to be amused and entertained. But to this critic, the situations, emotions and ideas of the weekly half-hour filmed show are becoming increasingly limited. A TV viewing public with rapidly maturing tastes will yawn at the stereotyped half-hour show in time. True, CBS has announced "Playhouse 80" for next season. A weekly 90-minute dramatic series, it holds promise. It still will have "Omnibus," the most consistently intelligent regular program on the air. It still will have Ed Murrow — with the outside hope he'll be given more time. True, it will have some good live drama, such as "Ford Star Jubilee" and other regular dramatic shows this year. But what else will it have in the way of creative television programming?

The basic concept of good television is that it is essentially a live medium. Live means living, adaptive and eager for change. Let's hope that CBS has not finished announcing its plans for next year.

SCIENTIFIC GROUPS GET GOOD RESULTS

BELLAIR (AP)—Scientific groups are getting good results from a program to interest American youth in science, a leader in the movement reported here. Henry Dever of Philadelphia, president of the Scientific Apparatus Makers Assn., said the program was begun because of a nationwide shortage of technical manpower.

Dever also reported that the United States, catching up on spending for scientific research, has spent 32 billions for this purpose in the past 10 years. Only 10 millions was spent from Colonial days through World War II, he added.

Something Wrong With Sunday News Roundup On TV

NEW YORK (AP)—There's something wrong with the Sunday afternoon news roundups on NBC-TV and CBS-TV. They're just good enough that they hold out the hope of being much better. But they're just bad enough that they irritate the perfectionists.

The idea of a Sunday afternoon news program seems to be excellent. CBS entered the field first a few weeks ago with a half-hour program guided and edited by the able and urbane Eric Sevareid. Last Sunday NBC made its entry, a half-hour entitled Outlook moderated by Chet Huntley, whose manner and voice are equally impressive.

The NBC program has a slicker format than the CBS show. The technical quality of film shown last Sunday was superior to what generally has been appearing on the CBS program. Both programs appear to be aiming at doing two things: cover weekend spot news and offer some background features.

Both have run up against a fact that nearly everybody must recognize by this time: except for violence and sudden death big news usually is not made over a weekend. Yet, in straining to be timely, they tend to play up trivia when anything bigger is lacking.

The NBC program nearly dashed its brains out when it ran into the same wall of no news on its debut last Sunday. Suffering perhaps from a Wide World Complex, somebody decided it would be a clever idea to have various reporters in various cities do regional roundups of their areas. Two stood on streets, one looked out a window, another perched on a wall and reported what they'd read on the Teletype. It was embarrassing, for there simply wasn't any news.

A television news program should be flexible enough that it could skip a report from a reporter who has little more than the fact that Julius La Rosa was arrested in Wisconsin for driving 65 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Both programs would command wider audiences if they confined themselves to two things: (1) front page news — when there is any, and (2) a firm which has become known as the news feature — or study of a subject that is timely.

The roster of the Kansas City Athletics includes the names of 18 players who once belonged to other teams in the major leagues.

Mrs. James Partin was named and installed as president of the Oviedo P-TA. Other officers are: Mrs. John Evans, first vice-president and blue ribbons chairman; Mrs. James Pearson, second vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. F. M. Sparks, third vice-president and finance chairman.

people know me and know the kind of service I gave as Sheriff of Seminole County, I will appreciate your support."

Porter Lansing reiterated his statement of a former rally when he said: "I think I can organize a sheriff's force that you will be proud of and for which you won't have to apologize."

O. G. Owens stated "I promise I will be honest and stay honest — to perform the duties of the Sheriff's office and take the responsibility upon myself — and I will, with full determination, clean up the county and keep it clean."

Charles Beck admitted "can't make a political speech, but I sure will appreciate your vote and support on May 6."

J. Denver Cordell used a different ask in his bid for the Sheriff's office last night when he said "There's no end to how much a Sheriff can do to help the people of his county if he's not there to get rich."

Candidates for the Board of County Commissioners, District One made their bids to the Lake Mary audience led off by John Krieger. He said "I believe you are entitled to a hard surfaced road from Lake Mary to 17-92. Some candidates seem to think that all money has been pledged to 17-92 — but that is not true."

W. B. Miller again briefly told his audience "I have enjoyed working for you the nearly four years. I've tried to be a County Commissioner and not a District Commissioner."

Robert Bennett stated "I've done some work toward your park and public beach here. It's important to Lake Mary and Seminole County. I'll not take all of the county's road money and put it on 17-92. I'd like to see road money used on roads here."

Chairman James Lee of Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee overlooked Robert S. Billinger, secretary of the committee, who is also a candidate for County Commissioner, District One. He said, when finally introduced, "You will vote this year for your County Commissioner, District One. I will devote all the time that is necessary to serve as your commissioner in District One."

Otis Poirakre, in his bid for reelection, told the Lake Mary audience last night that money for secondary roads was pledged to 17-92. "We have built quite a network of roads, some of them right here and we're going to try to build some Seminole County roads next year."

Lawrence Swofford, vying with Fouraks for the Board of County Commissioners, District Three, said "I don't deny being a workman. I think the experience I've had as a town councilman and mayor helps me. Lake Mary has less paved roads than any other community in Seminole County."

In the Justice of the Peace race, District Four, incumbent W. H. Duncan said "I am grateful for the support I received four years ago. I am devoting full time to the office. I have no other employment and am available at all times to the peace officers."

Lewis Tate revealed "You gave me a good vote last time and all I am asking you for is a little better support."

In the Clerk of Court's competition, O. A. Roberts spoke first. "My job is a good one but it keeps me away from home a greater portion of the time. I will be frank with you, I need the job as Clerk."

Pitt Varnes revealed "I had a good speech ready for you — that we had a good clerk — that the county had provided an adequate retirement system, and that it wouldn't be necessary to work overtime to earn that retirement."

Robert A. Cobb called attention to the fact that all four men in the contest for Clerk of Circuit Court are native Floridians. "It doesn't take an after dinner speaker to handle the Clerk's job and I won't use political double talk as some have done," he said.

O. P. Herndon, speaking in his own behalf for reelection, told the Lake Mary audience "The fact that I have been in the Clerk's office a long time is rather an excuse than a reason that I am discharged."

John Melsch led off the speaking for the Tax Assessor's office. "It's been such a long time since the Tax Assessor has had opposition most folks have forgotten about it," he said. He reminded the audience "You've heard all of the candidates talk about all of the money they're going to spend. Where do they get it — from the Tax Assessor's office?"

Rudy Sloan stated "I feel that I am completely familiar with the duties and operation of the office and the method I propose will save both time and money."

Jack Stemper said "I know that our tax structure today is a prob-

VFW, Auxiliary Install Officers

Officers for the ensuing year were installed Monday night by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sanford Post, at impressive ceremonies which took place at the American Legion Hut on Seminole Boulevard.

The installation ceremony was a joint event with the VFW and I am against new taxes — but am for progress."

Miss Mary E. Earle struck at the proposed new plan for homestead exemption. She said "under the new law there is no permanent homestead exemption system. The law says that each tax payer will file a return each year by April 1. I was asked when I became a candidate, to sign a statement to support the Constitution of the U. S. and the State — that I intend to do."

Raleigh King, in his bid for the Tax Assessor's position, said "I know the different kinds of land we have here and their use. I know the swamps as I do the communities. The assessor's job is not just an office job — it is a countywide job. Homestead exemption is only permanent so long as you apply for it each year."

Four candidates spoke for the House of Representatives seat in the State Legislature.

Gordon Frederick stated "As a Representative — it means that I will go to Tallahassee to represent the people of Seminole County. I feel that my legal training is a great benefit to me. The candidate who stands up here and tells you what he will or will not do is only telling you what he would like for you to believe."

Thomas Stringer stated "Ow of the reasons I would like to serve you as your representative is to serve the youth. You don't have to be a lawyer to understand the problems of the county. After all — you don't have to be a lawyer to work hard for the people."

Wilson Alexander, pushing aside the microphone and rostrum to step up to the edge of the stage to speak, said "I am the only person to have the courage to come down in the south end of the county to open a law office. I want to give the people an opportunity to have a representative in the Legislature as one of you."

Don Bales, Sanford businessman emphasized the fact "The only thing I'm going to promise you is that I am for better schools — better roads — honest thrift and spending of the taxpayers dollar which we have not had in the past."

In spite of the inclement weather, an audience of approximately 200 turned out to hear the candidates in their third appearance in the series of Democratic rallies at the Lake Mary Community House last night.

who have made our life possible. I'd like to bring the man alive for you here today." In closing a most complete chronological history of General Sanford, his ambitions and his dreams, she said "it is extremely fitting for that building to be built out yonder. He was one of the first to open this section of Florida. When you see the Library do not forget — he was a real man."

Mrs. Mario Pansa expressed her joy at being able to attend the groundbreaking ceremony and to have a part in it. She read a message from Mrs. Carola Dow: "My friends of the City of Sanford: I am very happy to express to you all a few words of greetings and congratulations from the Old Homestead at Lerby, Conn.

I want to thank you, one and all, for your successful efforts to achieve this long anticipated ceremony of groundbreaking for the General Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Library.

My father loved the beautiful city he founded, and always cherished hopes that it would become the Gate City of South Florida. It is my hope that the memorial museum and library with treasures from the General's old home in Connecticut will be of infinite value, pleasure and profit to you and your children and your children's children also.

May I finally express to you my deep appreciation for the committee's thoughtful desire to give my own name to the beautiful lake you are planning. No less for the charming gesture of selecting my own birthday for the date of the groundbreaking ceremony. I can imagine how it would have gratified both my beloved parents.

I can find no words more suitable to clothe this message to you, my friends, than the lines inscribed on my dear father's tombstone in Connecticut:

"And thus this man died, leaving his death for an example of a noble courage, and a memorial of virtue, not only unto young men but all his nation"

The Seminole High School Band under the direction of Ernest Cowley, opened the ceremonies with "The Star Spangled Banner."

The invocation was offered by The Rt. Rev. John D. Wing, D.D., LL.D., retired Bishop of the Diocese of South Florida.

Prayer was offered by The Rev. Fr. Richard J. Lyons, of All Souls Catholic Church.

Benediction was pronounced by the Rev. J. Bernard Root of the Congregational Church.

"The temperature here at 9 p.m. on April 5 is 30-degrees. We have had a very bad winter," he said.

"I read everything I can get my hands on about Florida," he said in writing to the Chamber of Commerce.

"The temperature here at 9 p.m. on April 5 is 30-degrees. We have had a very bad winter," he said.

SHS Band Features Festivities Friday At Opening Game

The Seminole High School marching band and majorette corps directed by Ernest Cowley, will feature the pre-game festivities at the opening game of the 1956 Lake-Orange League season at the Memorial Stadium Friday evening beginning at 7:45.

The Seminole band, 60 strong, received a superior rating for its marching at the district band festival in Cocoa last month. This will be the last time for Sanford residents to see the band perform on a field.

The 12 member majorette corps which also received a superior rating in the district competition will perform the same act that gave them this rating.

Many baseball dignitaries will be present including John Krieger, president of the professional Florida State League, and Frank Treen, president of the Lake-Orange League.

Mayor F. D. Scott of the City of Sanford is also expected to attend and will throw out the first ball to get the season under way.

A color guard from Co. B, 15th Arm'd. Inf. Bn., the Sanford National Guard unit, will raise the colors prior to the game.

Many prizes will also be given away during the evening. The prizes have been donated by "generous" Sanford merchants.

The opening game will be between the Sanford Cardinals and Appoka and will begin at 8 o'clock immediately after the pre-game ceremonies.

The Snapshot Guild

Spring sports, competitive or just-for-fun, are filled with good picture material.

Spring Sports in Snapshots

At this time of year, it is a pleasure just to have an excuse to be out of doors—and when the occasion is an athletic event and you have your camera with you, it all becomes doubly pleasant. You're out of doors, you're something interesting to watch, and in the pictures you take you can enjoy the event anew whenever you wish.

Action and athletics are almost synonymous. This, of course, means that they are ideal picture subject material for the movie camera user and for the still snapshotter whose camera has a lens fast enough to stop the action. But the doesn't mean that you who are devotees of the simple box camera should leave it at home. By all means, take it with you. You can shoot anything from the high jumper in action to the baseball moundman in his wind-up.

The only thing to remember is that you have to pick your shooting moments more carefully than the users of the other cameras. There are certain points at which you can get a picture just as good as others, while a shutter opening at another moment might give you a blurred snapshot because it didn't operate fast enough to "stop" the action.

Do your shooting at what is called the peak of the action. At some point in every action—such as that of a pole vaulter—reaches the maximum height—there is virtual stillness. A pause before the downward motion begins is plenty long enough for you to snap a sharp, clear picture.

So, when you go out as a spectator for spring sports, don't leave your box camera at home. The pictures it will take are the ones that cover the highlights.

Beginners At School Need Plenty Of Sleep

By MERRAN H. BROWDER, M.D.

In a few days, many tiny tots across the nation will be toddling off to a big, new adventure—school.

Entering kindergarten or first grade is quite a thrill for a youngster as many of you undoubtedly will remember. But it is also apt to create a few problems at home.

For one thing that youngster of yours probably will be deprived of his usual afternoon nap.

Ample Sleep

It is more important now than ever that he should get ample sleep. Mingling with large groups of children he doesn't know, his first classroom experience, the excitement of being away from home for hours at a time—all these are likely to make him tired.

Pupils in elementary grades need between nine and 11 hours sleep, depending on their general health, age and physical condition. If your kindergarten child wakes up at 7 a.m. to get to school on time, see that he is in bed by 8 p.m. at the latest.

Bedtime Hours

As he gets older, these sleeping hours can be adjusted somewhat. But permitting him to remain up even an extra 15 minutes at night often makes it that much more difficult to get him up in the morning.

If he is tired, nervous or irritable by mid-morning, it is usually a pretty good indication that he should get to bed earlier.

Quiet Relaxation

Do not yank a youngster away from the television set and send him scurrying off to bed. Before going to sleep he should have a period of quiet relaxation, even if it is only 15 minutes or so.

Maybe you can read to him or even tell him a bedtime story. Repeating an old familiar story will be better than recounting some new exciting blood and thunder epic.

And make sure that any homework he might have is completed long before he turns in for the night.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q. T.: What is the cause of a burning tongue and can this condition be remedied?

Answer: Burning of the tongue is usually due to infection. Sometimes a burning of the tongue occurs in individuals between 40 and 60 years old. X-ray treatments of the tongue relieve this condition in some cases.

Examination of the mouth and nose should be made to determine just what disorders are present, then proper treatment can be given.

Nassau Is Conservative Community

NASSAU, Bahama Is — Leaves from a sunburned notebook:

Tourists arriving here by ship in the old days used to get a thrill out of tossing pennies into the sea and watching native diving boys retrieve them.

But it has graduated into a two-bit sport today.

Several boatloads of the boys, their ebony bodies glistening in the morning sun, rowed out to meet our cruise vessel, the S.S. Nassau. One of the passengers lining the upper deck rails flipped out a penny. The boys below watched disinterestedly as the copper coin hit the water and sank.

One of them looked up and called in tones of dignified reproach: "Please, nothing smaller than a quarter."

It is difficult to say what is more entertaining on a cruise—to look at the sights or watch the tourists, who make quite a spectacle of themselves.

They storm ashore at the first chance, a merry mob in search of souvenirs at a bargain rate.

The surest way to tell a tourist here is by the fact that half an hour after he hits Bay Street, the main shopping thoroughfare, he will be wearing a $1.50 Nassau straw hat. The local residents go bare-headed.

Liquor prices are about half what they are in the United States. You are allowed to return with a gallon, duty-free, and most visitors avail themselves of the privilege. Oddly, half of them explain pointedly to the other half: "It's not for me. I'm taking it back for friends."

But most tourists are infected with a strange buying fever. They will buy anything from a Mickey Mouse watch to a bolt of English doeskin—just so they think it's a bargain.

One tourist I met, wearily trudging along with a native basket loaded with knickknacks, said: "Isn't this an odd town? I've looked all day for a place where I could buy a package of Life-savers. Couldn't find them anywhere."

He walked on, shaking his head—a doleful Robinson Crusoe in search of civilization.

But the best bargain in Old Nassau to many a food lover is conch chowder. It has a rich, almost nut-like tang to it that makes Manhattan or Boston clam chowder pale in comparison.

Some two centuries ago 3,000 pirates hung out in the Bahamas. It couldn't have been the loot that caused so many to flock here. It must have been the conch chowder. Nassau is a conservative community. While it welcomes all tourists, it doesn't like to see too much tourist epidemics exposed anywhere except at the beach.

"It is against Bahamian custom," says a polite note handed to all visitors, "for ladies to appear on the public streets in abbreviated sports costumes. Extremely short shorts and bra or halter ensembles are not welcomed on the streets and should not be worn while shopping."

This commonsense rule has done much to enable Nassau to retain its old world charm. It is picturesque enough as it is. It has no desire to be flooded by tourists who land looking as if they were refugees from a shipwreck.

BLUE CROSS REPORTS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Blue Cross plans enrolled 3,724,288 Americans during 1955, their national organization reported today in convention.

Total membership was listed as 3,724,288, only one out of every three persons in the United States.

Five Canadian Blue Cross plans have signed up nearly 26 per cent of population in the areas, they serve.

Al Smith of the Cleveland Indians doubled his previous season's home run output in 1955 when he smacked 22. In 1954 he hit 11 round trippers.

GRACE, PRINCE WILL SAIL ITALIAN WATERS ON HONEYMOON
MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) Prince Rainier III and Grace Kelly will sail on their honeymoon cruise in Italian waters. They will visit the romantic island of Capri, Naples and Rome and perhaps go on to the Greek islands.
A highlight of the trip will be the stop in Rome April 24. A palace source said they would be housed in a villa on the Via Veneto, one of the show streets of the Eternal City. The Italian government and diplomatic corps will turn out for a gala reception.
The next day Rainier and Grace will visit Pope Plus XII. The Vatican will receive them with ceremonies reserved for heads of state.
Afterwards, escorted by the famous Swiss Guards, they will visit St. Peter's Basilica.
Rainier's yacht, the 138-foot Deo Juvante II, has been refurbished for the honeymoon cruise. The Prince and his bride will board it a few hours after their marriage April 19 in Monaco Cathedral.
Grace arrives Thursday aboard the Constitution. The prince will take her and her party aboard his yacht a few hundred yards offshore and bring them into the flag-bordered small harbor of Monte Carlo. Yacht owners were requested to show American and Monaco flags and give one-minute whistle salutes.
Preparations for the wedding in Monte Carlo are reaching the semi-frenzied stage.
Presentations are arriving at the palace at the rate of one every five minutes.
Even the flagstones of the courtyard are getting a polishing. Gilded and red-and-white flagpoles have been mounted in a great circle around the palace square.
Prince Rainier has settled his dispute with American television and newscast men. After talks with representatives, he reversed an earlier decree barring them from the April 18 civil ceremony.
Rainier had feared the ceremony might be "vulgarized by the wrong kind of commercials."
The press center has issued more than 1,800 accreditation cards to reporters, photographers, TV, newscast and radio commentators.

"Date Tort" is bound to provide a happy ending to spring meals. Dates, walnuts, wheat and barley kernels and brown sugar all contribute to giving this dessert an unusual and delicious flavor.

Date Tort
2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup finely crushed wheat and barley kernels
2 egg yolks
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup chopped pitted dates

Beat egg whites and salt until foamy throughout. Add 1/2 cup of the sugar gradually and beat until stiff peaks will form. Fold in half of the dates.
Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored, add remaining sugar gradually, and beat until blended. Fold in remaining cereal. Add to meringue mixture. Then fold in nuts and dates.
Pour into 9x9x2-inch pan, which has been lined on bottom with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 to 35 minutes, or until done. Cool. Cut and serve with lemon sauce. Makes about 12 servings.

'Operation Alert' Slated July 20-26

WASHINGTON (AP) - A nationwide "Operation Alert 1956," a war drill to rehearse what might happen in a nuclear assault on 76 American cities, will be held July 20-26.

President Eisenhower, the armed forces, and the Canadian government will participate, the Office of Defense Mobilization has announced.
It will be a combined civil defense and government-evacuation exercise similar to but larger than last year's evacuation of skeletonized federal agencies to secret relocation sites.
Among the 76 areas affected will be 63 population centers in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone, as well as nine air bases and four installations of the Atomic Energy Commission.
Fifty two areas will be assumed to have been hit by single bombs, 24 by from two to five bombs in a single attack, the San Francisco-Oakland area will be assumed to be hit with a sixth weapon in a second attack two hours later.
The Canal Zone, Puerto Rico and Hawaii will get no warning time; the continental United States areas will have an advance warning ranging from one hour 40 minutes to three hours 30 minutes.
The maneuvers will assume that bombs will be dropped ranging in

Couple Back After Traveling Length Of World In Jeep

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) - Frank and Helen Schrader are back in their native California today with a trunk full of souvenirs, 20,000 feet of color film, an amphibious jeep "in sad shape"—and memories to last a lifetime.
Memories of 22,000 miles of rugged travel from the frigid Arctic Circle to the torrid jungles of Central America, to cold again where the tip of South America points toward the Antarctic Sea...

Memories of vicious storms and violent surf, of fording wild jungle rivers, or tropic illness, of hacking roads through jungles, of countless mechanical breakdowns, and finally of achieving their goal.
The couple of the young couple from Valley Center, San Diego County, Calif., was to become the first to drive the lengths of the Americas. They did, although they had to take the jeep to sea to make it.
The couple arrived yesterday by boat from Chile.
It was after World War II when Frank, 33, got his big idea. At first he thought he'd try the long jaunt on a motorcycle. Then he concluded the only vehicle that could carry him all the way would be a floating jeep. When he married Helen, 29, the jeep had to be it.
Helen, a pretty brunette, was "game for anything." So, with Frank's savings, plus money they earned working in Alaska, they set out in June 1934 from Circle City, Alaska.

In California, Frank bought the military type amphib for $250, then spent $2,500 equipping it with bunks and storage space for a stove, food and equipment.
Helen was sick with typhoid twice. The jeep had six major and countless minor breakdowns, but Frank, a UCLA graduate in electrical engineering, always was able to patch it.
In Colombia, their road for a time was a river. Later they followed a bulldozer through a jungle. In Bolivia they drove 18,000 feet high in the Andes.
Would they do it again?
Says Helen: "Not for all the money in the world."

Brooklyn Dodger first baseman Gil Hodges is the "sacrifice fly champion" of the National League. He has led the loop in that department for the past two years.

Crowd Braves Winds, Cold To See Stevenson On Yesterday's Visit

H. Rawls Is SNAAS Skipper For Five Minutes Tuesday

For a period of five minutes Tuesday morning, the U. S. Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Sanford, had a new skipper.

This unusual situation came about as part of the ceremonies in which Hardy W. Rawls Jr., Chief Aviation Metallmith, USN, was transferred to the Fleet Reserve after 21 years of Naval Service.

Captain R. W. Jackson, USN, Commanding Officer of NAAS, read Rawls a commendation in appreciation of the "outstanding manner" in which he performed his duties as Chief Petty Officer in charge of all Shore Patrol personnel and activities within the city of Sanford, its outlying areas, and the neighboring cities and towns.

Before reading the commendation, Capt. Jackson turned over the command of NAAS to Chief Rawls for his final five minutes of active service in the U. S. Navy.

A native of Ocala, Chief Rawls has served aboard 10 different ships and several shore establishments since entering the Navy in July, 1935. Before reporting aboard NAAS, he was with the 26-11 Phillips Squadron at Westville.

Among his decorations, Chief Rawls has five good conduct medals, the Asiatic Pacific Medal with two stars, Philippine Liberation Medal, Philippine Independence Medal, Navy Occupation (European Class), American Area, and National Defense.

He is a member of the Sanford Shrine Club, Florida Race Officers Association, Lions Club, and Elks Club.

He is married to the former Eva Belle Perry, of Elizabeth City, N. C. They have three children, Harry W. III, Michael Joe, and Terry Wade. They reside at 2011 Grandview Ave., in Sanford.

Cardinals To Open Season Tomorrow Against Apopka

Baseball returns to Sanford for the 1956 season tomorrow evening when the Sanford Cardinals open the year's play against Apopka in a Lake-Orange League fray, scheduled to get underway at the Memorial Stadium at 7:45 p. m.

Tonight the club will hold their first workout under the lights at the Memorial Stadium beginning at 7:30.

Either manager Lloyd Swain or veteran Buddy Lake will open on the mound for the Cards in the latter. Swain was slated to take the hill against Tavares last Tuesday night but that game was postponed so he may start tomorrow night.

The club was strengthened to day when John King, now stationed at the Sanford NAAS, joined the team. King plays shortstop and has played many seasons in Seminole and has two seasons in professional baseball.

A large crowd is expected for tomorrow evening at the opening game and festivities for the occasion are planned.

A large number of prizes donated by "generous" Sanford merchants will be awarded to some "lucky" fan.

Pre-game ceremonies featuring the Seminole High School marching band will begin 15 minutes prior to game time.

Charlie Morrison will emcee the festivities and will also award the free gifts.

John Kridler, President of the Florida State League, Frank Trean, President of the Lake-Orange League, and City officials will be introduced to the fans before the game.

The Honorable F. D. Scott, mayor of the City of Sanford, is expected to throw out the first ball.

Interest Mounting In Political Races

Tension is growing and interest is mounting in the local political races.

Candidates for local offices in Seminole County are making use of every opportunity to place their platforms before the people of the county.

The fourth in a series of 11 Democratic Rallies will be held tonight at Longwood where the biggest crowd so far in the local political campaign is expected to turn out to hear the candidates express their views.

The Longwood Chamber of Commerce is relinquishing its regular meeting night for tonight's Democratic Rally. The meeting will be held in Sunnyside Park with doughnuts and hot coffee served by the Chamber of Commerce.

The rallies, sponsored by the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, will take the candidates into every section of the county and into practically every precinct.

There are 20 local candidates, four candidates for the House of Representatives and two candidates for the State Senate. Thirty-two candidates are scheduled to speak at each Rally.

So far, rallies have been held in Sanford, Lake Monroe and Lake Mary.

Tonight's rally, in Longwood, is expected to be held in the Park where speakers will address the crowds from the pavilion.

Charges and counter charges are appearing in the talks by candidates with opposition.

For the first time, voters will be choosing candidates for the Seminole County Board of Commissioners countywide instead of the districtwide election in previous campaigns.

Each candidate is allotted five minutes in which to place his platform before the people attending the rallies. They are introduced by James Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee.

Merchants' Assn. Announces Citywide 3-Day Sales Jubilee

Street Resurfacing Program Finished; 7.18 Miles Paved

The City of Sanford's 1956 street resurfacing program has been completed with 7.18 miles of streets paved with asphaltic concrete.

This year's program, combined with that of last year, gives the City a total of approximately 10.3 miles of street resurfacing.

The State has resurfaced a portion of West First St. and Celery Ave. along with the 2.5 miles of French Ave.

Already, application has been made for the resurfacing and widening of Park Ave. The widening portion of this project is from 23rd St. south to the intersection of French Ave.

During the City's 1956 program, 6,502 tons of asphaltic concrete were laid at a cost of $47,594.24. 176 tons of this total were used for the paving of the Goldshore Recreation Area at a cost of $1,270.72. This includes the paving of two tennis courts and a parking area. The paved area will also be used for a basketball court, a volleyball court, and a badminton court.

The remaining 6,418 tons of paving material were used on the 7.18 miles of city streets at a cost of $46,323.52.

Affair To Become Annual

Sanford Merchants are joining hands for a three day event that is destined to become an annual affair.

Banner Days will be celebrated April 19, 20 and 21 next week with the Sanford Merchants Association announcing that plans are complete for one of the most exciting sales events ever presented in the history of Sanford.

Merchants Association Committees have been busy for weeks planning the unusual event. The citywide sales jubilee participated in by all of Sanford's merchants will offer merchandise at the lowest prices in Sanford's sales annals.

As the formal announcement of Banner Days was made by Sanford Merchants Association president B. L. Perkins Jr., preparation was underway by individual merchants to attract thousands of shoppers to the local stores throughout the three-day sale that will astonish shoppers throughout the trade area.

Window decoration plans have been completed — show cards will be stacked up ready to take their place on thousands of wanted items — sales clerk personnel are being advised of the big event — banners are being made to hang throughout the stores — and special price tags are in the process of being marked and attached to sale merchandise.

No shop-worn outdated merchandise will be featured in Banner Days according to officials of the Merchants Association. Fresh, clean, ahead of style merchandise, some especially purchased for the gigantic event, will be displayed and offered during Banner Days.

Sanford Merchants promise that this will be one sale that Sanford Trade Area shoppers will never forget and they're getting in readiness to take care of the enormous crowds during the sales event.

There will be thousands of items of merchandise for the home, the car, the garage, the wardrobe, for men, women, and children displayed in Sanford Stores during Banner Days.

"This will be one of the greatest sales ever featured in Sanford," Perkins, Merchants Association President, said today.

"Banner Days is not a stock cleaning event for Sanford Merchants," Perkins said. "It is a real sale with some of the most outstanding prices offered for quality merchandise."

Perkins added, "We think that Sanford shoppers are in store for a real treat during Banner Days next Thursday, Friday and Saturday."

Residents Invited To Ground Observer Corps Meet Tonight

A meeting tonight of the Ground Observer Corps, will be held at 7:45 p.m. in the American Legion, according to George Maybury, Commander of the Campbell-Losing Post, American Legion.

"This meeting is a very important one to Sanford and Seminole County," Maybury said.

"Various attempts have been made to get the local unit of the Ground Observer Corps into operation, a very necessary adjunct to the Civil Defense effort of our community," said Maybury.

Both men and women are invited to take part, regardless of the amount of time they have to spare away from their duties at home or business.

Sergeant Lund of the Air Force, assigned to organize and put into operation the Ground Observer Corps will be on hand tonight to coordinate the local efforts of the Ground Observer Corps.

Whether it is one hour a week, or several hours that patriotic citizens can spare, George Maybury said, they can be put to very valuable use in spotting unfriendly aircraft.

"We will welcome all of the help from citizens of the community," Maybury said, "and hope that they will turn out tonight to meet with us and set up the final plans for getting the Ground Observer Corps unit into action in Sanford and Seminole County."

Longwood Council Affirms Resolution

Longwood Town Council affirmed the resolution presented to them by the Winter Park Telephone Corp. and Southern Bell at a meeting held at the City Hall last night.

The resolution, which was presented to the council at a meeting held at the City Hall last night, requested that the city purchase the telephone lines in the area of Longwood.

The council, in a unanimous vote, affirmed the resolution, which was presented to them by the Winter Park Telephone Corp. and Southern Bell at a meeting held at the City Hall last night.

Parents Register Children April 16 For First Grade

Lyman School at Longwood will hold a pre-school roundup and clinic for children entering the first grade next September. Parents may register their children Monday, April 16, from 9:30 a. m. until 12 noon.

Dr. Terry Bird, head of the Seminole County health unit, will be present to make the physical examinations and to give the immunization shots. He will be assisted by the nurses with the health unit, Mrs. Mabel Brown and Mrs. Hulda Kilbee.

Principal E. S. Douglas requests that parents bring birth certificates with them.

Committee Plans Important Meeting Tomorrow At 4 p.m.

The regular monthly meeting of the Seminole County Children's Committee will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the School Administration Building on Commercial Ave.

Herold Heckenbach, chairman of the Seminole County Children's Committee, will be out of town. However, the vice-chairman, the Rev. H. L. Zimmerman will preside at what has been termed one of "the most important meetings" of the committee.

All members are urged to be present, officials of the committee announced today.

It is possible that the countywide recreation program will be discussed at Tuesday's meeting, officials stated. However, other subjects of vital importance will be discussed.

Sportsman's Assn. Local Candidates Enjoy Stag Fish Fry

More than a hundred sportsmen and candidates turned out last night for the Seminole County Sportsman's Association Stag Fish Fry held at Seminole Camp on the Wekiva River.

Candidates were invited to the monthly meeting and outing of the Sportsman's group.

However, no speaking was included on the program that brought the large group of Seminole County sports enthusiasts together in spite of cool weather.

Plenty of handshaking and political maneuvering was on tap, however as candidates circulated freely among the members of the group.

Porter Lansing, president of the Seminole County Sportsman's Association, himself a candidate in this year's political competition, introduced the candidates but allowed no speaking.

Climax of the evening's two and a half hour get-together was when plates were piled high with fried fish, cole slaw, pickles, boiled corn, and bush puppies, along with hot coffee.
