Hospital X-Ray Department Gets 'Face-Lifting'

The x-ray department of the Memorial Hospital recently received a "face-lifting". A manual spot-film device has been replaced with an automatic photo-film unit.
A new high voltage x-ray tube has increased the milliamperage to 200, thus providing higher kilovoltage technique. Included in the new equipment is a high speed film.
Cost of the machines is an estimated $200. This investment will greatly improve the efficiency of the entire x-ray department.

Entertainment includes two sight-seeing tours, a seafood luncheon at Hogate's, a dinner dance and leisure time for shopping and relaxation.

TROOP TERMS SPECIFIED

LABAT, Morocco (UP)—Morocco announced today that all treaties on the stationing of foreign troops in Morocco must explicitly recognize this country's right to demand withdrawal of such troops. The United States has been negotiating quietly concerning the Strategic Air Command's five bases in this country since Morocco became independent in 1956.

VORONKHAY JOURNEY

LONDON (UP)—Soviet President Nikhlay Voronkhay will visit Poland later this month, Moscow Radio reported today. The broadcast said the Council of State of Poland had invited Voronkhay to pay a friendly visit and that the Soviet president had accepted.

SHIP IN FOR REPAIRS

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—Two French ships limped into the naval shipyard Monday for repairs to damage sustained in a severe storm off Cape Henry, Va., last week. Mountainous waves and 100-mile-an-hour winds split the hull of La Grandiere and shifted a heavy gunmount on the Jeanne d'Arc.

Youth Week Is Underway At First Baptist Church

Youth Week which opened at Sanford's First Baptist Church on Easter Sunday continues through Sunday, April 19. Some 180 young people have assumed places of leadership for the week in the church and church-related organizations.
At Phillips as Youth Pastor received a pilot's writ from the hands of Rev. W. P. Brooks, Jr. at the close of the morning service, symbolizing his willingness to lead the life of the church during this period.
Serving in other places of leadership will be Grace Marie Stimpert as Youth Educational Director, Don Knight as Director of Youth Activities, Dickie Ross as church treasurer, John Dinkins as financial secretary, and chairman of the youth board of Deacons, Buddy Feiler as church clerk, Robert Compton as music director, Marcella Bumgarner as church organist, Betty Carpenter as church secretary, Marvin Wood as Brotherhood president, Johnny Ray as Training Union director, Bobby Delle as head usher, Eddie Harbour as Sunday School superintendent. Other young people will be serving as teachers, leaders and workers.
An interesting and varied schedule has been arranged for the week. On Monday evening the youth deacons will be meeting with the regular deacons in their monthly session. Wednesday evening's midweek service at 7:30 will be led by the young people, as well as the Sunday School workers conference at 8:15. On Saturday evening the local young people will meet with others from the 28 churches of the Seminole Baptist Association for Youth Night on the recreation grounds of the Central Baptist Church. Sunday morning's Sunday School session will be supervised by the young people. At Phillips will speak for both 8:45 and 11:00 a. m. services, after which the pilot's writ will be returned to the pastor of the church. A general invitation is extended to enjoy the ministry of the young people during this week.

Troop officers said today that "the public is cordially invited to attend the ceremonies."

T. Hueston Named Hi-Fi No Longer Hobby Business

NEW YORK—The booming hi-fi industry's suffering from growing pains.
Competition within the industry is fiercer than ever, and some of the smaller component parts manufacturers are being forced into mergers, said George Silber, a top spokesman for the industry.
Silber, who heads the Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers Inc., said some inferior products and poor selling techniques have given the whole industry a black eye.
"The high-fidelity industry has matured," he pointed out. "We no longer are a hobby business. We now are catering to the general public, and we must change our whole approach to realize our market potential."
Silber, who heads the Ruk-O-Kut Co., maker of recording and playback equipment, said the early hi-fi customer was likely to be an engineer or a ham radio operator who knew every part by name.
"There were cult aspects to this situation," he continued. "Set owners talked in a jargon that was unintelligible to the average customer. Salesmen talked in the same language and this tended to scare away potential customers."
Silber said that in order to sell the mass market the industry must learn to talk the layman's language. He explained that confusion stemming from the use of technical terms has resulted in customers buying "packaged" sets.
This has hurt sales of component parts, such as amplifiers, speakers and turntables.
Educational Campaign
He said manufacturers of these parts will have to merge or band together and offer complete sets to the public.
The industry also must learn to "forego a sale just for the sake of making a sale; our prime purpose should be to tailor hi-fi to the specific needs and pocketbook of the customer."
He pointed out that hi-fi companies will have to undertake an educational campaign to overcome the stereotype of the hi-fi enthusiast as depicted by the cartoonist.
"You know what he means," Silber said—"the guy who has 77 speakers all over his house and who smashes all the windows in the neighborhood when he turns the set on."
He said this campaign should emphasize that a person doesn't have to be an engineer or technician to put hi-fi components together or to operate a hi-fi set.
Great improvements in recording techniques have been a boon to hi-fi sales, Silber observed, adding that the industry at present is mapping a program under which it will seek to have home builders pre-design homes for hi-fi.
"On the West Coast, builders are constructing homes with built-in electric train layouts," he said. "We will try to have them do the same thing for hi-fi."
Silber said the hi-fi industry is expected to hit the one-billion dollar mark by 1960.

International Plan For European Fun

ROME—Europe, which has been pooling coal, steel, atoms and trade, may soon pool entertainment.
The suggestion for an "European recreation union" with an international budget came, quite appropriately, from Italy, a land where leisure and the pleasure of life are duly appreciated.
A detailed plan worked out by the Italian Society for Assistance to Workers (ISAL) will be submitted shortly to all European governments and private and public cultural, artistic, tourist and sports bodies.
The plan, which would tear down national barriers to make all of Europe a big recreation ground for middle class and working class vacationers at extra low prices, calls for:
Abolition of frontier formalities for mass tourism and cultural trips.
Automatic extension of recreation facilities existing in one country to visiting nationals of other member countries.
Coupons To Spend
Integration of Europe's recreation and tourism, with a common monetary fund financing a European network of low-cost vacation sites for the use of public citizens of member countries.
Creation of an "international tourist coupon" which tourists could use instead of money. The exchange of rate of the coupon to national currencies would "take into account the cost of living in each country."
International exchanges, festivals, shows and competitions to encourage cultural contacts among member nations.

Selecting Proper Tax Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)
If you are one of the millions of American taxpayers who spend the lion's share of his income feeding, clothing, housing and entertaining his family, chances are there is very little you can do to reduce your 1957 federal income tax bill—but you owe it to yourself to try.
First of all, decide which of the two individual tax forms you are going to use to report your income. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from a possible tax savings.
The easiest way to file is to use the simple 1040-A Form. It's a card the size of a check, on which you answer a few simple questions and have the choice of either computing your own tax or letting the Government do it for you.
You are permitted to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $5,000, and if you did not have more than $100 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.
Before deciding to use the card Form 1040-A, you should consider these facts:
1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a reduction of about 10% of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.
2. There is no provision in this form for filing as a "head of household," as a "surviving spouse" or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.
If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040-A, you might as well use this simple card form.

When you elect to use the regular Form 1040, you still must decide whether to itemize deductions or take the standard deduction which usually amounts to about 10 per cent of your income or $1,000, whichever is less. Generally, you will save by itemizing deductions if you,
(1) Own real estate
(2) Had unusual medical expenses
(3) Had deductible child-care expense
(4) Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident or theft
(5) Made fairly large charitable contributions
Generally, it is best for married couples to file joint returns instead of separate individual returns, because the joint return gives them the advantage of income-splitting. That is, their total income is taxed at the rate which would apply if their income were cut in half.
There are a few cases in which separate returns might result in a tax saving. When capital losses are involved, for example, it is a good idea to figure both jointly and separately to see which results in the lower tax.
If you are supporting a dependent, although you are unmarried, you may be able to qualify as a "head of household" and figure your tax on a special table that gives you part of the advantage enjoyed by married couples filing joint returns.
You may qualify for a "head of household" status if you provide more than half the support of a parent and more than half the cost of maintaining the parent's household even if the parent does not live with you. You cannot claim a "head of household" status if you file a Form 1040-A.
The 1040 Form is arranged again

President Nasser Greatly Increases Prestige In Arab World

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The present trend in the Arab world seems to be defying analysis by the diplomatic experts of the United States and its allies.
It has been two weeks since King Saud of Saudi Arabia handed over sweeping power to his brother, Crown Prince Faisal. Nobody in the State Department or in the foreign offices of other allied countries appears to have any real idea of just what this apparently important move means.

More important is the policy to be pursued by Gamal

Abdel Nasser in his new capacity of president of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria.
Victory for Nasser?
The Saudi Arabian turnover has been greeted as a victory for Nasser over King Saud, who has refused to recognize Nasser as the leader of the Arab world and has shown leanings toward the United States.

Some reports say that Crown Prince Faisal intends to shift Saudi Arabian policy toward close cooperation with Nasser.
Other reports say that Saud has not really given up any power and that he will continue cooperation with Iraq and Jordan, which have formed a federation as a counter to Nasser's Arab Republic.

The State Department has adopted a policy of determined optimism in the Saudi Arabian situation. It may well be right. Saud is a powerful and influential man. Nevertheless, the Washington attitude is reminiscent of the boy whistling past the grave yard.

To Visit Khrushchev
The latest development in the Middle Eastern situation is that Nasser is going to visit Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev this month while, at the same time, he is negotiating for aid through the World Bank for improving the Suez Canal.

The one certain thing in the present Middle Eastern situation is that Nasser is doing fine.
His successful merger of Egypt and Syria, and the turnover of power in Saudi Arabia—whatever that may really mean—has greatly increased his prestige in the Arab world.

Nasser seems to believe that he can play off Russia against the United States and profit by his relations with both countries.

County's Progress Revealed Last Night

An unprecedented year of progress in Sanford and Seminole County was revealed last night at the quarterly meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors held at the Mayfair Inn.
John Krider, manager of the chamber of commerce, in making his industrial report said that six industries have been secured for the county with expansion plans already in the making for all of them.
"This industrial job is easy," Krider said, "if we can keep them here long enough to meet some of our people." The chamber of commerce manager made the statement as he spoke on the selling of the community to prospective industrialists who come in to look for locations.
Krider pointed to industries in Sanford and Seminole County now operating plants or about to get underway: Sanford Manufacturing Company, HarCar Aluminum Products Company, Brookfield Mills, Allen of Orlando, Johnson Electronics and York Manufacturing Co.
Directors approved a request from the Sanford Merchants Association that its activities be absorbed by the Chamber of Commerce Commercial Activities Committee.
Ralph Pezold of the Florida State Bank was named treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce last night, replacing Dallas Loop who left the city to accept a position with the McNulty Group of Banks, with headquarters in Hialeah City.
Clifford McKibbin, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, presiding at the meeting, told directors that the chamber's advertising committee had adopted a $5,000 budget which included nine displays in nationally

Board Rejects Airport Zoning Proposals

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners refused to approve the recommendations of its Airport Zoning Commission at a public hearing yesterday at the Seminole County Court House.

Sen. Holland Will Address Joint Civic Club Meet

Senator Spessard Holland will address a joint meeting of Sanford Civic Clubs tomorrow at noon under the auspices of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce.
The Senior Senator of Florida was first invited to Sanford for the joint meeting of local civic organizations by the Rotary Club but because of conflicting dates in the Senator's itinerary and the Rotary club's program schedule, the Jaycees arranged tomorrow's meeting.
A capacity crowd at the Sanford Shrine Club Building is expected to hear Senator Holland.
Reservations have been made for members of every Sanford civic club and by local citizens.
Subject of Senator Holland's address has not been made public but it is expected that he will touch on many of the top problems confronting Washington lawmakers during the present session.
Jaycee President M. L. Raborn Jr. said that plans for a tour of local points of interest and especially the Sanford Naval Air Station have been made if Senator Holland's time will allow him to participate.
Jaycees and members of the Jaycee Wives Club will assist in serving the huge crowd attending the luncheon meeting tomorrow.

nole County Court House attended by 87 citizens either for or against the proposed measure.
However, the board of commissioners also refused to approve resolutions establishing an advisory board and the board of adjustment and a resolution "removing the stigma of hazardous from the area."
The board called for legal opinions from its attorney, Mack N. Cleveland Jr. on these resolutions and the bill adopted by the 1957 legislature on airport zoning.
Decisions of the board followed fiery language from Attorney George A. Speer Jr., representing landowners in the area affected by the proposed airport zoning regulations.
Speer revealed that the landowners had participated in two meetings with each person opposed to any zoning "that put a stigma on the area," he accused "the other side" of zoning for the purpose of safety when "reality to keep down the value of land."
The landowners representative produced a petition circulated Monday night at a meeting and signed by 135 landowners which represented 8,700 acres of land.
He said "The proposed house bill, in so far as airport zoning is concerned, is unconstitutional because the requirement are that the bill must be run 30 days before the bill is considered."
"PIIA approval" was taken away because of the petition.
Speer said as he urged the proposed recommendations be originally stated to come before the board at the public hearing.
John Krider, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, after hearing Attorney Speer speak for the landowners called on Karl Housholder to speak for the Airport Zoning Commission.

State Report Shows Increase Of Sales In Seminole County

Local Pilot Club Accomplishments Last Year Many

A definite indication of a continued increase in retail sales in Sanford and Seminole County was reported by State Comptroller Ray E. Green.
In his monthly report on sales tax collections for the month of March, based on February sales, Green pointed out that there was a 22.8 percent increase statewide.
However, in Seminole County, sales tax collection increased nearly 30 percent over the comparable month in 1957 and 10 percent over the previous month.
Green reported that sales tax collections in Sanford and Seminole County totaled $42,926.88 for the month of March 1958 (based on February sales) compared to the $28,835.45 collected during the same period last year.
Sales tax collections for February (based on January sales) totaled $30,906.51.
The collections indicated that the Central Florida area is increasing in sales tax revenue while the entire state averaged a 1.3 decrease under the collections of last month.
The "business is booming" reports of Sanford and Seminole County as well as other areas in Central Florida are backed up by the release made by Comptroller Green in his latest report.
Local business houses are continuing to report increasing business over last year and over the previous month, accounting for the increased revenues by the state in sales tax collections.
Other indications of a continuing climb in Sanford and Seminole County economy come from reports by the Director of the Seminole County Zoning Commission, Robert S. Brown, who said that construction permits totaling nearly a half-million dollars were issued last week. The weekly report stated that 63 permits were issued.

SNAS Invited To Elk's Pancake Jamboree Saturday

The Sanford Naval Air Station and Heavy Attack Wing One personnel were cordially invited to participate in the Aunt Jemima Community Pancake Jamboree to be held at the Elks Club Annex Sanford on April 12.
In a brief ceremony at the Air Station yesterday, Ralph B. Wright and W. G. Livingston, representing the Elks Club, presented complimentary tickets to Captain L. A. Arthur, Commanding Officer, NAS Sanford and Commander J. M. Miller, representing Captain J. R. Reedy, Commander, Heavy Attack Wing One.
The expected profits from this worthy community enterprise will be utilized to benefit local youth organizations, the local scouting organizations, Youth Wing at the Civic Center, Elks Playground and other youth activities.
Participating commercial firms whose donations of their products make this event possible are the Quaker Oats Company, Pet Milk, Lutzian Coffee, Wesson Oil, Sunland Sausage and the Staley Syrup Company.
It is expected that a large crowd will avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy an "excellent" meal and at the same time join in a real community effort to raise money for very worthy causes.
Meals will be served from 7:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.

Baseball Clinic To Be Conducted For Rotary Teams

Tomorrow at 4 p. m. the members of the five teams that make up the Rotary baseball league, their parents, the club managers and officials are asked to attend a baseball clinic that will be conducted by Hans Lobert, scout and instructor for the San Francisco Giants. The session will be held on playing field number four just south of Eighth Street and Sumner Avenue.
Last year a similar course of instruction was given to over 250 people and Lobert hopes that tomorrow's class will be even greater.
Sonny Powell, commissioner of the Rotary league, said that this was a fine opportunity for boys and their parents to learn about the game from one of the sport's renowned masters. He expressed appreciation to Lobert and to the Giants for the cooperation they are giving in support of this annual Spring festival of diamond-dusters between the ages of 13 and 18 as they play a 16 game schedule under the sponsorship of the Youth committee of the Rotary club.

Sanford National Guard Meets Goal

By Virginia Conn
A long desired goal has been reached here in Sanford. On the twenty-third of March the local National Guard unit surpassed its dream of one hundred men on the roster.
Company B, 154th AIR, now boasts 103 enlisted men and three officers. Only last year the unit went to summer field training with 61 men. This is the first time in the history of Sanford's Guard unit that a strength of 100 or more men has been attained.
Company B is one of the few within the Florida National Guard to achieve an increase in enlistments since returning from summer field training at Ft. Stewart, Ga. last July.
First Lieutenant John Keeling Jr. is the company officer. Under his proficient leadership, the officers and men of the Sanford unit have welded a company into one of the best in the state of Florida.
They are certainly to be commended for their initiative and efficiency. In time of war, the National Guard provides military strength. During peace, the men are called upon to secure order during riots, floods, hurricanes and other disturbances.
When Company B marches in Sanford's parade, local citizens should feel pride in those men who spend every Monday night training to serve their country. Drill and training are held weekly in the Armory on East 1st St.

All Golfer Will Play At Myfair

All golfers in the twenty-ninth annual Florida State Women's Golf Tournament will be playing at the Myfair Country Club. The Sanford Club was not included, but will not be necessary.
Miss Grace DeMa, defending champion, today asserted her right not to qualify. She remains top-seeded player.
An expected 120 flights will participate in match play tomorrow in the first day of the tournament. 100 golfers are qualified to play.

Sanfly' Receives Newspaper Award

Captain L. A. Archer, Commanding Officer, NAS, Sanford, Florida, during brief ceremonies held in his office last week, presented Milton J. Yanitch, Journalist third class, Editor of the station newspaper, "Sanfly", with the Department of Defense Newspaper Award.

The "Sanfly" Staff received the award for the months of October through December 1937, and in the 4th award the staff has received since the Naval Air Station was commissioned.

This recognition of achievement is awarded each quarter to outstanding Service publications which are selected for their conformity with journalistic principles and readability for the period. The certificate may be awarded to a publication only once in a twelve month period.

The Mental Health Society to be held in the Pinecrest School. Six outstanding speakers have been secured for this program.

Mrs. G. A. Stone, chairman for the Easter Lily Sale reported that $68.12 had been realized from the all-day sale Saturday, Apr. 3.

Miss Nancy Hicks was welcomed into the club as a new member.

Eagle Scout Awards To Be Presented

Boy Scout Troop 244, sponsored by the local Elk's Lodge, will make a special Court of Honor to make the first award of Eagle Scout rank in the troop's history.

Ceremonies are scheduled to commence at 7:30 p. m. at the Sanford Junior High School auditorium tonight.

In addition to awarding Eagle badges to Donald and Ronald McDaniel, the following merit badges and awards will be made: Camping — Giff Wasson, Lynn Lyon and Donald Dillmon; Citizenship in the Nation — Donald Willmon and Lynn; Nature — Daniel Mathers; Explorer Apprentice — Daniel Mathers, Donald and Ronald McDaniel.

Troop officers said today that "the public is cordially invited to attend the ceremonies."

Guest speakers for the evening will be Chaplain William C. Diller, Sanford Naval Air Station and Hugh Carlton, Principal of the Sanford Junior High School.

About one-half of all adults in the United States have trouble falling to sleep.

These Extra Millions Could Be Used To Defend Our Country

The new Soviet Russian challenge to the free world — her successes in the missile and satellite fields — cannot be answered by federal government "spending as usual" for non-essential civilian programs.

Everybody, from President Eisenhower to the man on the street, seems to agree that our new, all-out defense effort means that civilian spending must be cut to the bone.

Yet in the 1955 federal budget, expenditures are proposed that show not only a complete spending-as-usual attitude but continued duplication of costly domestic programs add even spending at cross-purposes — with one federal agency apparently undoing the work of another.

For example, the "soil bank" program of the Department of Agriculture is planning to spend $750 million to remove land from production. At the same time, the Interior Department's Bureau of Reclamation wants to spend $216 million to get more land into readiness for production, by building dam irrigation systems. More land for production — when the Commodity Credit Corporation intends to spend nearly two and one-half billion dollars to remove surplus farm and irrigation systems. More land for production from the market!

Similarly, the government has budgeted $111 million for "soil conservation," and $222 million for "agricultural conservation," here is a duplication of services that cannot be justified at anytime and certainly not in a period when the need for rigid government economy is critically urgent.

Americans should make it known to their Congressmen that they want waste and costly duplication in federal government stopped. We need these millions for defense!

Three Years Of Salk Vaccine

Just three years ago this April the Salk Vaccine was officially pronounced safe and effective and licensed for use by the U. S. Government.

Since then, the polio picture in this country has undergone a radical change. Before the Salk Vaccine we struggled with an erratic but mounting series of polio epidemics that reached their peak in 1952 with 57,879 cases. Last year, owing to widespread vaccination, the number dropped to 5,894. By this time it is clear that the Salk Vaccine, developed on grants from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is one of the triumphant milestones in the history of modern science.

What, in the meantime, has happened to vaccination? The first year it was given mainly to grade school children — some 10 million of them. The second year it was made available to young persons up to 20 and expectant mothers, and some 33 million were injected. Last year a crash vaccination program directed at all persons under 40 added 20 million more, making a total of 65 million. A big job done in a remarkably short time.

but not good enough for Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, warns us that, with 46 million Americans still unvaccinated, we may still have polio epidemics next summer. The answer? There is enough vaccine for everybody now, regardless of age. It's painless. It's inexpensive. It's effective protection against a lifetime of paralysis.

Buying Stocks Out Of Income

Americans like to buy things out of income. This is true of corporation stocks as well as cars and appliances. And pay-as-you-go stock buying differs from other installment buying in a way which is of great advantage to the buyer.

Only four years ago a monthly investment plan, known as MIP, was started. An investor can participate for as little as $40 a quarter. He selects the stocks he wants and makes his payments to a broker of his choice. The broker then buys for him whatever number of shares or fractions of shares the payments will cover. If, for any reason, he abandons his plan he gets the shares he has purchased.

In those four years, 124,900 MIP accounts have been started. Of these, 58,200 have been completed, terminated or transferred into regular brokerage accounts, while 66,700 are in force. So far, each year has topped the record of the preceding one. As of a recent date, more than $80 million had been so invested.

One of MIP's most attractive features is that it permits what the investment people call dollar cost average. In other words, by investing fixed sums at regular intervals, the investor acquires more shares when the price declines and fewer shares when it rises. Thus, over the pull, the ups and downs of the market are smoothed.

Best of all, MIP is of primary service and interest to investors of modest means. It is these investors who are proving the workability and vitality of democratic capitalism.

Look Ahead At Top World News

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead to the news that will make the headlines:

Finland Crisis
Finland appears headed for a government crisis. Premier Risto Rytty's cabinet, who formed a "cabinet of experts" last fall, probably will be ousted within a week or two. The new premier probably will be V. J. Subelainen, the agrarian leader who headed three minority cabinets last summer. The crisis may come on an agrarian motion concerning the government for rising bread prices.

The Ford Motor Co. seems ready to increase imports of its German car, the Taunus. The car scored a big hit and stole the show from English-built Pords at a private showing in New York last week. The big doubts will be aside of the current International Auto Show in New York. If the car scores a similar hit, Ford may decide to push its German car hard.

The U.S. is the work of division in the efforts of Anglo-American "good offices" negotiators Robert Murphy and Harold Beeley to get France and Tunisia together at the conference table.

Indonesian Prospects
Washington insiders are looking for a compromise end to the Indonesian struggle. The best assessment in Washington is that Red influence will fall short of any commanding role. The exports give the rebels little chance of knocking over the central government.

Traffic Trouble
British commuters are heading into some troubling weeks ahead. They may end up walking. London's 30,000 bus workers have called a strike for May 8—their first official walkout since 1937.

Income Tax Tips

The Flax Accountants Association, an affiliate of National Society of Accountants

With the rates now in effect, allow deductions are very important.

Deductions are classified as nonbusiness and business deductions. Non-business deductions are taken on Form 1040 when you file deductions. Business deductions are deductible on Schedule C of Form 1040, the business income, or Schedule G of Form 1040, the rental and royalty schedule.

Here are a few that are easily overlooked though they are fully deductible in many cases.

Abandon property. Accident insurance premiums. Accountant's fees. Advertising. Alimony. Allowances to dependents. Amortization of improvements, bond premiums, etc. Appraisal costs. Attorney's fees.

Automobile expenses of the pro-rata share of automobile expenses incurred directly in the production of taxable income. Not commuting traveling from home to place of employment. Be sure to include automobile expenses, such as gasoline, oil, tires, parking, etc., including the proportionate share of rent or depreciation on the home garage, maintenance, repairs, depreciation insurance, etc. Casualty damage in case of insurance, but not in case of the cost of the automobile.

Carrying charges, up to $500, on the purchase of a new car. Child care expenses. Claims paid. Cleaning and laundering of uniforms and work clothing if they are used by custom, usage, or by employer, and are not adapted for general wear. Collection Commissions paid. Contributions, conventions, cost of attendance. Custodian's fee.

Damages paid. Delivery. Depreciation. Discount allowed. Drivers license fees. Dues.

Employment agency fees. Entertainment. Gas. Not for yourself or family. Estate tax where paid. Income. Estates. Costs of fiduciary costs. Fees paid. Flowers. Freight.

Gambling loss equal to gambling gains. Gasoline tax. State. Gifts. Eat. Home expenses. Business insurance (not life). Interest. Inventory conversion losses. Investments. Cost. Janitor service.

Labor cost and clearing, for current crop. Laundry costs or depreciation. Lease fees. Light.

Magazines. Maintenance. Materials. Medical expenses. Messenger service. Moving costs. Net operating loss. Office costs. Painting. Parking costs. Patents. Postage. Power. Property damage. Publicity costs.

Real estate taxes. Rent. Repairs. Research costs. Safe deposit box rent. Safety equipment. Sales expense. Sales taxes. Salaries. Scrapped or abandoned assets. Securities. Costs of "healing in." Social Security taxes on your employees' wages. Stamp taxes. State taxes. Stationery. Storage costs. Storm damage. Subscriptions. Supplies.

Taxes. Taxi fares. Telegrams. Telephone. Tools. Transportation. Traveling costs.

Unemployment insurance on your employee's wages. Unemployment insurance on your wages in Alabama, California, New Jersey and Rhode Island. Uniforms required by your job and not adaptable to street wear. Union assessments for out of work benefits. Union dues and initiation fees. Upkeep.

This listing is not intended to be a full and complete list of all the costs and expenses deductible in the production of taxable income. This is only intended to give you a broad general idea. Almost anything that you spend is deductible if it is spent in the production of taxable income.

Before taking any of these deductions, please be sure to refer to the instructions for exactly how to do it.

I hope that you have found at least one deduction in these lists that applies to you.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia's suspension of nuclear weapons tests has failed to cause the world sensation for which the Kremlin obviously hoped.

In fact, the biggest impact seems to have been registered in the United States, where it was called a great Soviet propaganda victory in the cold war.

In other countries, even the "neutralist" ones like India, the announcement caused much less excitement than Washington had feared.

A survey of reports which have reached the United States from foreign capitals indicates that there were several reasons why the big propaganda bomb proved to be more of a dud.

Reported in Advance
The Kremlin "telegraphed its punch." It was reported long in advance of Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's announcement to the Soviet Parliament that Russia intended to suspend tests.

The announcement was made immediately after Russia had completed a long, important series of tests itself, including at least three in the million-ton H-bomb range. It will take a long time for Russian nuclear scientists to assess the results of these tests, and hence a long time before new ones would be planned.

The announcement was made with the knowledge that the United States was just about to start a series of long-scheduled tests in the Pacific, and was plainly intended to rouse international resentment against the United States.

The announcement was so hedged about with qualifications as to be almost meaningless. Gromyko said that Russia reserved the right to resume tests unless other countries followed its example. This means that if the United States carries out its tests, Russia can say that it must make more tests in its own defense.

One thing that seems to have figured in the reaction to the Gromyko announcement is that Russia's recent tests were exceedingly "dirty" — that is, that they caused a large amount of radioactive fallout.

Democratic Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota asserted that the United States had permitted Russia to "get away with this. But certainly the tests were political murder" in its suspension of nuclear tests by keeping silent on the fallout.

High Fallout Rate
Humphrey said: "Informed scientists believe the Soviet explosions spewed into the atmosphere at least twice or possibly three times more radioactive material than ever before."

Scientists of the Atomic Energy Commission did not agree with

Even in Japan, the Soviet announcement caused little excitement. Japan, which has experienced nuclear bombing, is more sensitive than any other country to the fallout menace.

United Press advices from Tokyo say that while the Japanese welcomed the Soviet announcement, they inclined to doubt Russia's good faith.

Saturday Rites Unite Couple At First Baptist Church

Mrs. Grace Hicks Ragland daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks of Orlando, and Mr. William W. Hendricks, son of Mrs. Lucy C. Grantham of 120 W. V. Julia Avenue, Deland, and the late Mr. D. H. Hendricks of Greenville, South Carolina, were married in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church, Sanford, Saturday, April 5, at 10:30 A. M.

Dr. W. P. Brooks, pastor of the bridegroom, performed the double ring ceremony before a background of palms and bridal wreath. Only members of the immediate families of the couple were present.

The bride was attired in a street length sheath dress of blue Irish linen, featuring a sweetheart neckline with pearl trim and rhinestones. With this she wore a small white hat and veil. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Hicks, mother of the bride, was dressed in navy with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of pink.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Grantham chose a dress of pinkish cotton in pastel pink with hat and gloves in the same shade. Her corsage was mixed spring flowers.

Mrs. Ola Waters, maternal grandmother of the bridegroom wore a two-piece dress of navy silk shantung with navy accessories and a corsage of purple lilies.

The bride is a native of New York and received her education in the Congregational Public Schools. She is presently employed as cashier with Herl's Drug Store, Westgate, Daytona Beach.

The bridegroom is a native of Greenville, South Carolina. He is a graduate of Seminole High School (Sanford) and attended Stetson University. He has served with the United States Air Force and has seen overseas duty with the United States Army in Europe. Mr. Hendricks is returning to the service as a Criminal Investigator for the Department of the Army, and expects to report to Fort Jackson, South Carolina on April 10, for reassignment.

Don Bales was elected president of Southside P. T. A. last week. Other officers included Mrs. Bill Kirk, vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, second vice-president, Gordon Frederick, treasurer, and Mrs. Clifford McKillop, secretary. Mrs. Andrew Bracken, historian.

Rev. David Carnotex presided over the business meeting. Announcement was made of the completion of the sidewalk on Palmetto Ave. He also stated that the recreation court would be begun soon. Proceeds to build the court came from the annual P. T. A. Halloween carnival.

A report from Mrs. J. E. Womack, library chairman, was received with tremendous interest. Around 500 books a month are being checked out of the school library, as opposed to an average of 50 in previous times.

Room Count was won by Mrs. Welsh, first, Mrs. Walton, second, Mrs. Smith third, and Mrs. Dotson, fourth.

Guest speaker was Harland C. Merritt from Stetson University. Mr. Merritt spoke on "Better Citizens Through Better Reading." After his talk, he called on several people in the audience to give their reaction to his message. Called on were Mrs. Mollie Barlow, Mrs. Barbara Hartwig and Gordon Frederick.

Methodist Circles

CIRCLE NO. 1

Refreshments were served by the hostess. Attending were Mrs. M.

Talent Night Monday Draws Good Crowd

Talent Night for the production of "For Better Or For Worse" was held Monday night at the Episcopal Parish House.

There was an excellent turnout. Try-outs included comedy acts, musical combinations, and models. Still needed are more models and men to sing in the chorus.

The performances will be held May 3 in the new Sanford Civic Center. Sponsoring the show are the Joyce Wives and the Gamma Omega Society. Proceeds will go to the Youth Wing of the Civic Center.

Walter Kimball, well-known T. V. musician, attended the affair Monday. Also present were Mrs. Kay Osborn and Mrs. Molly Seaman, of Molly-Kay Enterprises, who are arranging the performance.

Miss Pat Howe, professional model, will meet with the models next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Bergstrom Studio to instruct them. The entire cast will be revealed at an early date.

The Ambassadors of Jazz accompanied those performers who needed musical backgrounds. Coffee and cream were supplied by the Borden Company and cookies by the F. F. V. Company.

Joint chairmen, Mrs. Earl Crittenden and Mrs. Ernest Cowley, revealed that the bridal contest would close Wednesday. The winner will not be disclosed until she walks down the aisle of the Civic Center May 3.

Chairmen within the two organizations expressed appreciation for the co-operation they have received from the people of Sanford. The show will be a combination of fashion show, comedy acts, dance and music.

Tickets are on sale from members of both clubs.

Plans Revealed For Wedding
A candlelight ceremony will unite Miss Colleen Dawn Engstrom daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest F. Engstrom and Lieutenant Robert Eugene Beckwith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Beckwith, Sr., Saturday April 12 at 4:30 p. m.

The ceremony will be performed in the First Methodist Church by Dr. J. B. Root, pastor of the Congregational Christian Church. He will be assisted by Dr. R. E. Rutland.

Nuptial music will be played by Mrs. Albert Hickson, soloist will be Gerald Covington.

The bride-elect has chosen Miss Barbara Lowe as maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Beula Boyd, Jacksonville, and Miss Marilyn Calhoun.

Best man is Arthur Beckwith Jr. Groomsmen will be Lt. (jg) Thomas Lilly, Charleston, Miss. and Frederick Jones of Selma, N. C. Ushers are Dean Hanson, Belleview and Lt. (jg) O. K. Jones of Brunswick, Ga.

Flower girl will be Margaret White. Jack Beckwith is the ring-bearer.

All friends of the couple are invited to attend the ceremony and reception.

Mrs. H. Kastner Honored Recently
Mrs. Harold Kastner was the guest of honor Saturday, when Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Castello, Lovelidge Heights, Eau Gallie, entertained for her birthday.

Attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Vandemark, Dundin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kastner, Miss Jennifer Castello, Barry College, Miami and Zau Gallie, Eighan N. Kelly, Miss Diane Supremant, Norwich, Conn., Richard Castello, and Gregory Castello.

The birthday celebration was followed on Easter Sunday with a concert program at the Oleaners Hotel. Miss Jennifer Castello was guest pianist. Miss Castello gave a concert featuring selections by Chopin, Liszt, Beethoven and Villa Lobos.

Personals
Mrs. Howard Brewer and Mrs. Miriam Russell have returned from the D. A. R. conference meeting in Clearwater.

Are You Nervous?

"Nervous tension" is a common complaint in our fast-moving world. It leads to various ailments, such as indigestion, constipation, and general weakness. It is caused by a lack of proper regulation of body function. Good health results from recognition of a basic principle: proper regulation of body function. The all-important factor in regulation of body function is the nervous system. If an organ is not properly regulated, it will not function normally. Nerve energy flows from the brain over nerve pathways to every cell in the body. When a nerve is impeded by a physical misalignment (subluxation), an interference to normal flow of this vital nerve energy is created. As a consequence one or more organs of the body will not receive the correct amount of this energy, the particular organ affected depending on which nerve is impeded. Your Chiropractor is scientifically trained to locate and adjust vertebral misalignments.

Dixie Water Ski Tourny To Open Apr. 12 At Gardens

...and to have been announced as the date for the 11th annual Dixie Water Ski Tourny... one of the most important of the year... at Cypress Gardens. With one of the greatest water ski shows in the world, the tournament, new records may be set in all divisions.

Trophies valued at more than $500 will be presented to winners in the three divisions of Men, Women and Trios. This year, competition will include entries in the Men, Women, and Veterans divisions in the tournament, sponsored by the Florida Water Ski Association and the American Water Ski Association.

The tournament will again attract top water skiers from throughout the country and the world, including top-flight performers from all over Florida and the southeastern U. S. International entries include the father and son team of Sam and Emilio Zamudio of Cuernavaca, Mexico;

John McCoy of Sidney, Australia; Carlos Elias Toranzo of Acapulco, Mexico; George Tschob and James Murray of Salt Lake; Lebononi Rita Holmstrom of Copenhagen, Denmark; and Guy and Yvonne Wesse of Toronto, Canada.

Charlie Amy of Winter Haven, Florida will not defend his men's title thereby leaving the championship open to a large field. Favorites include Joe Cash of Sarasota, present World Champion; Emilio Zamudio; Joe Mueller of McQuay, Tex.; Jon Holcomb of Syracuse, N. Y.; All-American trick riding champ and Northeast champion Mike Osborne of Winter Haven. The women's crown will be a four-way battle. Vying for honors are Nanele Rideout, Orlando, Florida, present World Jumping Champ; Lea Marie Atkins of Birmingham, Alabama, 1957 U. S. National titleholder; Connie Der of Winter Haven, defending Dixie title; and Janie Dorwin of Minnqua, Wisconsin last year's runner-up in the Dixie.

For skiers over 35 years of age, there is the Veterans competition, and the Dixie Tournament always attracts the largest gathering in this division. The defending champion is Henry Holmes of West Palm Beach, but stiff competition is expected from Dr. Edgar Stevens (father of five skiing daughters), Johnny DeMiller, and Red Davis, all of West Palm Beach, and Sam Zamudio of Mexico.

Today's Sportrait

By WILLIAM F. TRESH
United Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES — Charlie Dumas, the University of Southern California sophomore who holds the official world high jump record, isn't cocky but hopes some day to clear seven feet, five inches. Dumas set the world standard of 7 feet, 15 inches in the summer of 1956 and went on to set an Olympic record of 6 feet, 11 1/2 inches during the 1956 games.

Yuri Stepanov of Russia cleared 7 feet 1 1/2 inches last year but that leap hasn't been recognized yet because he used a special type of shoe on his take-off foot to provide more spring.

Mental Hazards?
Will Dumas try to surpass Stepanov's unrecoginized mark? Are there mental hazards when the cross-bar is placed at seven feet or higher?
"Well, I always try to do my best," the good-natured 20-year-old said as he dipped in a muscle stretching exercise that he thinks is better than jumping every day. "This kind of training helps me get my body up where I want it," he said, twisting almost in two.

"I haven't any particular aim. I just jump. But I've worked two inches higher every year since I started jumping in the ninth grade. I hope I can get up around 7 feet, 3 inches. I don't think there's any barrier."

Then, without any warmup, Dumas cleared a bar set well above his own six-one height. He was almost as casual about his preparations when he surprised the track world by clearing seven feet. "I'm ready," was all he said.

No Special Shoe
Neither Dumas nor his coach, Jess Morgenson, are considering the use of special shoes which has enabled Stepanov and several other Russians to make several outstanding high jumps.

"Until the shoe is recognized, we won't use it," Morgenson said. But he and Dumas are certain Charlie could go higher with such an aid.

"No telling where Charlie might go," Morgenson said. "He's one of those once-in-a-blue-moon natural athletes, similar to Parry O'Brien in the shotput."

Dumas says he likes plenty of fans in the stands when he competes because "they make me want to try harder."

Basketball Point Production Less

NEW YORK — A large reduction in the number of free throws in major college basketball during the 1957-58 season produced the sharpest scoring decline in the 92-year history of the game. NCAA statisticians released the season's final figures today and announced the point production was five per cent less than that recorded during 1956-57. In 4,149 major college games, the 1957-58 season produced an average total of 138.9 points per contest compared to the 1956-57 average of 144.0.

The number of foul shots per game dwindled for the fifth straight year. There was almost no change in the average number of personal fouls. Thus the decline in free throws was the result of the new rule which limited the number of free throw opportunities during the past season.

The scoring drop was emphasized by the few two-points-a-minute teams in major college ranks in 1957-58. Only eight, headed by Marshall's 58-point average, were able to average at least 20 points a game. This is the lowest total since 1952 and is in sharp contrast to 1956-57 when 24 teams scored at that rate.

For the second time in NCAA history, two teams from the same state finished 1-2 in scoring as West Virginia followed Marshall with an 86.9 average.

The final team defense standings also emphasized the trend in scoring. The 50.5 average compiled by San Francisco and Oklahoma State's 51.7 are the best defensive marks in six seasons.

Forty-by was the only school which finished in the top 40 in both offense and defense and ranked among the leaders in five of the six major statistical departments. Cincinnati led in margin over the opposition, averaging 20.6 points a game more than its opponents.

Oklahoma State led in free throw percentage, sinking 436 of 617 for .707 per cent. Fordham sank 603 of 1,440 field goal tries for a .421 mark and edged Cincinnati, which finished with a .460 percentage. Manhattan led the major schools in rebounding, recovering 581 per cent of those available in its games.

ROBERTSON HEADS FOES
CINCINNATI, Ohio — Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati was acclaimed today as the outstanding basketball player to face Xavier's National Invitation Tournament champions during the past season. The Xavier players also chose Alex Boo Ellis of Niagara, Leo Byrd of Marshall W. Va. and Don Lane and Frank Case, both of Dayton.

LIONS SIGN ZATKOFF
DETROIT — The Detroit Lions announced Monday that Roger Zatkoff, a tackle and linebacker, had signed for the 1958 National Football League season.

ADMIRING TROPHIES for the state golf tournament are Mrs. Harry Gibboney Jr. of Ocala, p will present the Louise Camp Memorial Achievement Trophy Saturday night at banquet, Mrs. J. F. Lee of Coral Gables, 1957 president in the tournament, and M. Earl Higginbotham, president of the Hostess Club here in Sanford. Left to right, Mrs. Gibboney, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Higginbotham. ### Simpson suffers Fracture Wrist

By JOHNGRIFIN
United Press Sports Writer
All spring Casey Stengel has been complaining that his New York Yankees "n't doin' enough hitting," but they have staged springtime's best slugfest, in Casey happy?

No, he isn't because the fractured wrist fared by Harry Sullivan Simpson took a lot of joy out of the 30-slipping the Yankees handed Philadelphia Phillies Monday at Westville, S. C. It was the high core run up by any team thither and included six homers.

Simpson's wrist was fractured in the 17th inning when he was struck by a pitch thrown by Phil's southpaw Curt Simmons. The wrist replaced in a cast and he will be out of action about four weeks. It was due in New York today for further examination.

Bill Skowron slammed two of the homers a Mickey Mantle, Elton Howard Don Larsen, and Bobby Del Go accounting for the others. Mule added three doubles and single in a five-for-five day.

Southpaw Jew Antonelli, striving to comeback from a poor season, doled out four hits in his seven innings as the Giants beat the Cleveland Indians for the third straight time.

Lindy McDaniel worked seven scoreless frames in the Card's 8-0 win over the Chicago White Sox. Brother Von Eschen and Herm Wehmeier close up the five-hitter. Ray Katz three-run homer led the Cards.

Top qualifier in Tuesday's rounds of the Florida State Women's Golf Tournament was a grandmother with a 20 handicap. Mrs. Jack Elmore of Hyde Park came in with a 90 to lead the field of 102 golfers qualifying at the Mayfair Country Club.

Mrs. Elmore is a former resident of Cincinnati, O., and has lived in Florida for seven years. She has one grandchild.

Perfect weather encouraged the women golfers yesterday. Over two hundred had registered to play in the tournament, which extends through Sunday. Lower handicaps played today for medalist honors.

A business meeting of the State Golf Association will be held tonight in the ballroom of the Mayfair Inn where nearly 150 of the women are staying. The meeting will begin at 8:00 p. m. in the hotel ballroom.

First round of match play begins tomorrow, when golfers will play at both the Mayfair Country Club and the Sanlando Country Club.

Listed below are the top twenty qualifiers in Tuesday's matches.

Mrs. Clark Collins, Sarasota, 47-48-53.

Reorganization Meet Set For Game Fish Commission

TALLAHASSEE — The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission — with two new members — will hold a reorganization meeting in Tampa Thursday.

The special meeting was called by Director A. D. Aldrich following a recent shake-up in the commission which ousted two members, including the chairman.

Gov. LeRoy Collins has asked that Julian Alfred, a new member of Tallahassee, be elected chairman and the commission is expected to take the action Thursday.

Alfred replaced Forster Holland of Panama City on the commission. Holland has been chairman since 1955.

Color plays an important part in the coloring of feathers. A male is most attracted to a female bearing its own colors. In two species the secret wing patch is a reorganization sign. Orange and blue are vital hues for other species.

Millionaire For 5 Minutes

By DOC GUNGE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Some days you can't make a dishonest million. And what's worse, nobody cares.

A man in our office named Joseph L. Jones arose at 7 a. m. in his Polham, N. Y., home, feeling fine, and took the train to work.

He emerged from Grand Central Station onto 42nd Street and decided to do some banking before going to the office. The transaction involved transferring money from his account in one big 42nd Street bank to another big 42nd Street bank.

A Slight Mistake
He went to the first big bank and withdrew $3,330. He put the check in his pocket, walked two short blocks to the other bank, made out a deposit slip, and thrust it and the check into a teller's window.

"I think," said the teller pleasantly, starting at the check, "that this probably won't go through the clearing house. It says a million dollars here."

The face of the check announced that the sum to be paid was the order of Joseph L. Jones was $1,003,330.

"You better take it back and have them issue another check," the teller said.

"Go back and do it all over?" said Jones. "Oh no, why don't you just call 'em up and see what's wrong."

New Rolls-Royce Makes Up Intra Double Bed

By DOC GUNGE
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—I've seen a lot of things in New York's great showcase Coliseum, but I never expected to be introduced to an $8,000 Rolls-Royce that makes up into a double bed.

This is absolutely on the level. The thing has seats that fold in all directions. Single beds, double beds, lounging chairs. You fold the back seats forward and the whole back section becomes an extension of the luggage compartment—space for 15 suitcases.

Its glass partition between front and back seats is detachable, in case you want to get chummy with the chauffeur. This Rolls is also the most expensive catch-all ever built. It has built-in writing tables, electric razor, picnic table, espresso coffee maker with built-in gas stove, a w. i. n. g. kit, mineral water cabinet, and scores of other necessities.

Show in Full Throttle
As you may have guessed, the International Automobile Show is in full throttle at the Coliseum this week. On the first floor alone you are greeted by the great names of Skoda, Simca, Vespa, Maito, Volkswagen, Citroen, Mercedes-Benz, Studebaker, and Packard.

There are tiny buglike cars from foreign climes; big four-eyed blunderbusses from America; cars blooming with gardens of gadgetry and chrome; cars with a sack-dress look.

There is a Citroen (the pride of France) with a Jonquil-green body and a sort of leopard upholstery and a front end that looks remarkably like a bulldog—bulging eyes and a wide, shovel snout and mouth. A spare tire fits under the point of the snout.

Hard by the Citroen show is its subsidiary make, Panhard. It features a "Dyna" model whose front wheels are driven by a two-cylinder engine-52 horsepower, aluminum, air-cooled, and pancaked in design, so that the two cylinders operate horizontally instead of being upright or in a V. It has a taste-top speed of 87 m.p.h., cruises at 70, gets according to the Frenchman I spoke with 40 to 42 miles to the gallon.

Gravitate to Itols
Since English is the only foreign language I speak with any fluency, I gravitated to the hallowed Rolls-Royce balliwick, where I fell in with Harold Radford, head of Radford Coach Builders, Ltd., who dreamed up the aforementioned all-purpose Rolls model. He took me on a guided tour of his creation, and believe me it took all morning.

He has taken the Standard five-passenger, $12,550 Rolls and added "adaptations" that bring his Countryman model to $17,710, f. o. b. New York. I've used every bit of space available. All the doors have lockers in them, holding flasks, glasses, wash basins, soap, towel, first-aid kit, icecube thermos, camera, field glasses, and lots more.

Castanets are so called because they resemble chestnuts, which are known as "castanets" in Latin.

ROBERT YATES a young Sanford minister will begin a youth revival Sunday night at the Church of God located on French Ave., at 22nd Street, according to an announcement today by Rev. Yates. The public is urged to attend these services which will continue throughout next week.

THE CAMERA CAPTURES AN ARRIVAL—Under a blue spring sky and with the New York skyline for a backdrop the Chilean cruise ship O'Higgins heads for the Brooklyn Navy Yard for an overhaul. The ship was actually coming home—for she was formerly the USS Brooklyn. The O'Higgins will be in the yard for about five months for the overhaul, cost of which will be borne by the U. S. military defense assistance program. The photo was made on infra-red film. (International Exclusive)

Haiti Seeking More Tourists

By ROBERT L. FREY
United Press Staff Correspondent
PORT AU PRINCE—A swelling tide of Caribbean tourists is discovering Haiti, the little republic on the western third of the island Christopher Columbus named La Isla Española and which the English called Hispaniola.

Six years ago, Haiti had 7,810 casual visitors; last year there were 80,000. Now the government has appointed a secretary of State for tourism, appropriated $400,000 for his use and hopes this year to attract 100,000 tourists.

The realization by President Francois Duvalier, who took office Oct. 1, 1935, and his ministers, that domestic tranquility is essential to win tourists in numbers, is an added motive in the effort of this government to preserve a stable regime. The number of visitors was down last year from a high of 80,000 because of political turmoil.

Minister of Tourism Jean A. Magloire predicted that tourism can in time take first place in the country's economy, a position now held by the coffee trade.

Haiti's culture is a blend of African and French. Haitians speak a patois mixing 16th and 17th century Norman French, West Indian, English, Spanish and African. Haitian art is vivid and primitive. Every hotel lobby boasts at least one huge mural by a native artist and a display of canvases for sale. Hotel, Plane Plane

Parts of Port au Prince seem like bits of Paris transported to the tropics. All of the hotels except two are private homes, some of them mansions. Nearly all are in the cool hills above the city. Six hours drive by car from Port au Prince, or 40 minutes by plane on the north coast of Haiti, is Cap-Haitien, whose surrounding plantations at one time supplied half of Europe with its sugar and coffee. This is the site of the Citadel built by the slaves of King Christophe as a defense against Napoleon. Here, too, Columbus's flagship the Santa Maria was wrecked on Dec. 24, 1492.

There are talks in progress between the Haitian government and an American syndicate looking to the building of a $10,000,000 hotel at Cap-Haitien and opening up this area for increased tourist use.

Also, according to President Duvalier, plans are being discussed for enlarging the Cap-Haitien airport to accommodate the Pan American World Airways jet planes when they come into use about a year hence. They will cut the flying time to New York to Haiti in half, in six hours to three.

South Business Holding Up Better

ATLANTA—Business in the Southeast is holding up better than in the rest of the nation, the Atlanta Federal Reserve Bank has reported.

The bank's bi-monthly review of economic conditions said employment in the area was up 2.5 per cent in the Federal Reserve District in only slightly better advanced level of mid-1935 and that loan volume at banks "holding up well" in comparison with the rest of the country.

"As business down on inventories and cash operations, they usually raise credit," the report said, "and that loan volume at banks 'holding up well' in comparison with the rest of the country."

"As business down on inventories and cash operations, they usually raise credit," the report said, "and that loan volume at banks 'holding up well' in comparison with the rest of the country."

Conditions Improved
As for unemployment in the area comprising Alabama, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and the southern half of Mississippi and Louisiana, the report said: "District business can also take some comfort from the fact that the rate insured unemployment has eased considerably less in proportion than it has in the country. Throughout most of the latter part of the district rate unemployment was above the national rate. Since last November, however, conditions have been reversed."

It noted that national unemployment insurance has been largely in primary metals, fabricated metals and machinery, which provide only about 4 per cent of jobs in the district.

Florida, Top
"At one extreme we find Mississippi and Texas, where the number of people receiving unemployment benefits in February of this year was 10 per cent of the total cost by the unemployment insurance program," the bank said in breakdown by states.

"Florida, as a further extreme, enjoys the most favorable situation, with the unemployment rate at 2.6 per cent. Even among the other three states there is still considerable variation: 4.8 per cent in Louisiana, 6 per cent in Georgia, and 6.5 per cent in Alabama."

In the past year unemployment increases were smallest in Mississippi and Tennessee, but they "simply compounded prior weaknesses that have kept unemployment there substantially above other district states for a long time."

Agriculture Dept. To Accept Acreage Reserve Petitions

WASHINGTON—The Agriculture Department says it will accept immediately additional 1936 soil bank acreage reserve applications for spring wheat, corn, cotton, rice, and tobacco from farmers whose names have been carried on waiting lists.

Their applications had been held up for lack of funds. But Congress last week increased the $50 million dollars originally available for the 1936 program to $70 million dollars. The department said that with the possible exception of corn producers it appears that all eligible farmers on waiting lists in county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices will be permitted to sign and file applications.

Under the law, funds available for corn payments in any one year are limited to 200 million dollars. Corn farmers have offered acreage which would require total payment of more than $11 million dollars this year.

To the extent these offers are not reduced by farmers, acceptance of waiting list offers will be limited by corn fund allocations. A department official said that in all states except Minnesota, the waiting list applications will be processed on a "first come, first served" basis. In Minnesota, the corn funds will be distributed on a percentage basis.

The applications both accepted and unaccepted or all crops in the soil bank through March 23 represent 18,065,723 acres calling for payments totalling $730,326,006. The breakdown by crops: Wheat 5,444,066 acres, $107,466,000; corn 7,251,325 acres, $311,400,000; cotton 5,064,954 acres, $231,245,000; rice 170,131 acres, $11,200,197; tobacco 115,168 acres, $27,275,000.

Statewide Slum Clearance Contab Slated Next Month

TALLAHASSEE (UP)—A statewide slum clearance conference will be held next month aimed at securing more federal financial aid in removing substandard housing. Gov. LeRoy Collins called the meeting for May 5, and indicated it might be held in Orlando.

Although Florida law restricts state participation in the federal urban renewal program, Collins said he hopes a way can be worked out to take advantage of some of the funds available for slum clearance.

He said Federal Housing Administrator Albert Cole will attend, and the state's entire congressional delegation has been invited. He said he hopes all cities and counties will send representatives.

In another action, Collins endorsed the proposed cross state barge canal across north central Florida. He said the project, to cost an estimated 160 million dollars, would be "a tremendous boon for industrial development of the state" and may be of importance in defense planning.

The canal, 18 feet deep and 150 feet wide, would stretch from Jacksonville along the St. Johns River, up to Oklawaha with a cut through the west coast near Yankeetown.

Committee hearings on requests for funds to begin construction are underway in Washington now.

Weather Linked To Strange Talk

CHICAGO—Some strange terms crop up in talk about the weather. Do you know what is meant by "cat's paw," "Abraham's tree," "Ulloa's ring," "case weather" or "frog-strangler"?

A "cat's paw" possibly has been felt by everyone at some time in his life. In folklore, it is a light breeze affecting a small area. Such a breeze, weathermen tell us, causes patches of ripples on the surface of a stream. In some localities, the breeze is only identified as a puff of wind.

"Abraham's tree" is not a Biblical reference. Instead, it's the popular name given a cloud form, consisting of an assemblage of long feathers and plumes of cirrus clouds, which seem to radiate from a single point on the horizon.

According to popular superstition, it's a sign of rain. If the base of this cloud has the appearance of jouching a sheet of water, weathermen disclose that it is rain, in effect, that it will rain when "Abraham's tree" has its foot in the water.

Kentucky Women May Be Another 'Bridy Murphy'

JACKSON, Miss. (UP)—An Indianapolis businessman planned to begin digging through Louisiana's history today in an effort to verify what he described as his daughter's "first hand account" of Civil War fighting, given under hypnosis.

Leonard E. Kord said some incidents the daughter related already have been found to correspond with fact. He will conduct his research at Shreveport, La. he said here Tuesday.

The daughter, Mrs. Patricia Jeanne Williams, 20, of Louisville, Ky., "regressed" to a Civil War soldier while in an "age regression" trance induced by hypnotist Richard Williams of Indianapolis, Kord said.

Kord played tape recordings he said were made during his daughter's sessions with the hypnotist. The recorded voice, speaking in a Southern drawl, gave detailed accounts of Civil War battles.

"Ulloa's ring." Its a term applied to a halo surrounding a point in the sky diametrically opposite the sun.

Case weather is a tobacco industry term, particularly in Wisconsin. It applies to foggy weather, which moistens the tobacco hanging in the sheds and makes it fit for handling and removal. Tobacco, when thus moistened, is said to be "in case."

In the Southeast, where heavy rains are not infrequent, they sometimes are referred to as "cloudbursts" or "gully-washers." But a new term recently was coined by the weather observer at Centerville, Ala., while talking to a local farmer.

"We had a heavy rain a few days ago," he said. "It was not an ordinary rain. It was a 'frog-strangler.'"

THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "in Memoriam" notice in newspaper columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable verse brings help to them tender, poignant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
On the heart
When the occasion comes
You will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you."

Ike Predicted To Continue Offensive Against Anti-Recession Action

By BERTRAM SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower, with an eye on the coming Congress, will continue his offensive against further drastic anti-recession measures, administration leaders predicted today.

These sources said the President was apprehensive the lawmakers will descend on the Capitol next week in a mood to slash taxes quickly.

The Chief Executive was understood to be considering suggestions that be directly to the people with a plain-spoken warning that heavy tax reduction and unduly large federal spending might bring on inflation more painful than the current recession.

This is the administration's present position on the recession: Taxes: No reason to make decision on tax reduction now or possibly for weeks. If such a decision is reached, late May seems the earliest probable time.

No Big Public Works
Public works: This is no time for a big program. Such things move too slowly to ease unemployment and stimulate business in less than several months.

Deficit: Experts don't hope for much lower than a two billion dollar federal deficit this fiscal year; much more in 1959 and for years to come if Congress continues to appropriate large amounts to turn the economy upward.

Wages and prices: Restraint on the part of business and labor is indicated. Business particularly can do a lot more to help itself with better salesmanship, more attractive price policies and offering more attractive goods. Labor should consider new wage demands in the light of what they might do to prices.

Economy in government: Congress can help reduce the deficit by going along with administration suggestions for savings in government operation.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans, in some of the bluntest language yet used by an administration official, laid current policy on the line Wednesday night in a speech at Houston, Tex. As setting there must be an eventual day of reckoning for deficit financing, he declared.

Weather
Low tonight 55 to 61; Friday partly cloudy, scattered showers.

Cuban Rebel Strike Appears To Be Ceased

HAVANA, Cuba (UP)—The rebels' general strike appeared today to have been stopped in its tracks.

Buses and street cars were operating and shops were open under the watchful eyes of Havana police and the army. The army's initial reaction to Wednesday's initial outbreaks resulted in the killing of "more than 30" insurgents. Scattered bomb blasts continued during the night, and rebel radios in broadcast victory claims warned that any attempt to operate public transportation would be met by more bombs and gunfire. But as Cuban workers streamed to their jobs this morning, with only a few cases of sabotage reported, the threat of violence failed to materialize.

A communique said the "more than 30" insurgents were killed in scattered "first stage" violence in and near the city Wednesday, in which both the government and rebels claimed victory.

A couple of rebel bombs riddled the blacked-out city during the night, but there were no reported casualties or damage.

Another communique said that saboteurs burned a truck and a bus in the outskirts of Havana Wednesday night. It said police opened fire on the attackers and inflicted a "few casualties."

Aside from these incidents, this metropolis of 1,200,000 persons appeared normal at the start of the working day.

Police stations still were heavily guarded with sandbags and cars entering and leaving the city were being searched. Some sections of the city remained without power.

But, for the post, business seemed to be functioning without difficulty.

Castro's forces that they would be shot down if they went to work, despite government claims Wednesday that the "revolutionary general strike" had been crushed and the insurgents routed.

Witnesses To Testify At Hearing Named

St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association committee appointed to arrange a hearing on the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal, named these witnesses who will testify.

There will be 22 witnesses from various sections of Florida, including an additional group of members of the Florida Congressional Delegation.

The witnesses will be: Hon. Hayden Burns, Mayor, city of Jacksonville; Dr. H. W. Bradbury, professor of Economics, University of Florida, Gainesville; Col. Herbert Gee, Consulting Engineer, Gee & Jensen, West Palm Beach; Earl Brown, president, St. Johns-Indian River Improvement Association, DeLand; Henry Balch, Executive Editor, Orlando Sentinel, Orlando; George G. Ware, secretary-treasurer, Florida Waterways Committee, Leesburg; James H. Coppedge, president, J. H. Coppedge & Co., Jacksonville; William Clapp, president, Florida Power Corporation, St. Petersburg.

Also Governor LeRoy Collins; Jack Murock, county commissioner, Orange County, Orlando; Florida Congressional Delegation; Volle Williams Jr., Circuit Judge, 8th Judicial District; Mack N. Cleveland Jr., State Representative, Sanford; Admiral R. Malcolm, managing editor, Florida Ship Canal Authority; Adolph Zuckerman, publisher, Hudson Paper Company, Palatka.

W. Palmer Van Arsdale, president, Florida Tank Lines, Ft. Lauderdale; McGee Smith, chairman of board, Florida Power Light, Miami; George King, manager, Port Canaveral Port Authority, Cocoa; J. Bralley Odham, president, Odham & Tudor, Sanford; R. Adminal S. P. Ginder, Florida Development Commission, Tallahassee; Marion Harman, Executive Editor, Sanford Herald, Sanford; and J. J. Parrish Jr., Titusville.

It was pointed out yesterday that the possibilities of reversing the unfavorable decision in a report submitted by Florida District, Corps of Army Engineers, looks exceptionally good.

Col. Herbert Gee, consulting engineer of Gee and Johnson, West Palm Beach, who is preparing the technical information to present at the hearing, pointed out in his brochure that growth and expansion in the immediate future and the foreseeable future "has not been taken into consideration in preparing the report on the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal."

Five Children Die As Fire Sweeps Through Home

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Five children in one family, all under seven years of age, died today in a roaring fire that swept through their home here.

Four of the children were trapped in an upstairs bedroom when the fire broke out while they were still in bed. The fifth child died in a downstairs bedroom.

The victims, children of Arthur Hicks, 30, and his wife Ann, 25, were Richard T., Robert G., Barbara Ann S., Roger Lee G., and Ronald, 4 months.

The mother, after trying to rescue the children, rushed into the street carrying in her arms the only child who escaped, Christine, 18 months. Mrs. Hicks and the two youngest children were in the downstairs bedroom.

A passerby climbed to a back porch roof in an effort to rescue the children as they screamed and tore at the bedroom window screen.

The fire broke out shortly after 7 a. m. and swept through the small house in minutes.

All members of the family were in bed except Hicks, a machinist, who had left for his job.

Handicapped Girl Swims Through Ice To Save Brother

UXBRIDGE, Ont. (UP)—A 13-year-old girl, born with only one hand, swam 75 feet through sharp ice Wednesday to help rescue her 22-month-old brother from Uxbridge Pond.

Ruth Cordingley reached her baby brother Wayne in time to help him into a rowboat launched by a passing motorist who saw the child's plight. Howard Young, 29, paddled to the rescue in a row boat left on shore.

Wayne was playing with his eight-year-old brother Ronald when the ice, formed by an overnight freeze, gave way beneath him.

Mrs. G. Schoenberger, Lake Worth, a 20 handicapper, posted a 92 on Tuesday to become the winning grandmother in the bid for the Anne Leavine Trophy for low net grandmothers. Mrs. Schoenberger has one grandchild.

Scores have been announced for the highest qualifiers in yesterday's rounds, which were called off during the afternoon due to thunder storms.

85—Mrs. J. H. Carruthers, Delray Beach, 44-11.
87—Mrs. W. E. Kader Jr., Palm Beach, 45-12.

By-standers Tuesday afternoon saw Sgt. Ben Butler of the Sanford Police Force, pull a sack out of Lake Monroe near the bandshell. Sgt. Butler did not open the sack at the scene, so its contents remained a mystery to the onlookers.

Dog Not Child Found In Sack

The crowd grew and the word flew. Yesterday word was received that the crocus sack had contained a small child. The rumors were completely unfounded. Chief Roy Williams verified that the sack held a dead dog.

This ghastly deed was had enough, not only cruel to the animal, but unsanitary as well. Lake Monroe is used by water skiers, fishermen and swimmers.

John Krider, chairman of the committee, met with 12 of his committee members to make the final plans for the hearing.

Maj. Doolittle's Death Investigated By Air Force

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—Air Force officials today investigated the gunshot death of Maj. James H. Doolittle Jr., son of the general who led the famed World War II raid on Tokyo.

The major's body was found Wednesday with a bullet wound in the right temple at his Bergstrom Air Force Base office. A .38 caliber pistol was on the floor beside the body.

A public information spokesman said it was not known whether the elder Doolittle, who is now a vice-president and director of Shell Oil Co., would come here. He was in Puerto Rico when informed of his son's death.

Auto Collides With Parked Truck On Sanford Ave.

A Cadillac automobile went out of control on Sanford Ave., near Fifth Street, last night shortly before 8:30 and collided with a parked pickup truck.

Impact from the collision sent the truck up on the sidewalk for a distance of 97 feet before it came to a stop against an oak tree.

The automobile, driven by Mrs. Joe Gatzl, came to a stop 57 feet from the point of impact.

Damage to the Cadillac was estimated by the investigating officer at from $1200 to $1500. Damage to the truck is said to be approximately $300.

Captain Arnold Williams of the Sanford Police Department investigated the accident.

The truck is owned by Samuel Wright, 58-year-old Negro barber of 1122 Locust Ave.

Women's Tournament To Terminate Sunday

Qualifying women golfers in the Florida Women's State Tournament were able to tee off this morning at 10:30, when showers cleared. All those who did not finish yesterday will play their 18 hole qualifying round again today at the Mayfair Country Club.

According to a ruling by tournament chairman, Mrs. Jeanne Foulk, scores posted by those who completed the round yesterday will stand. It was previously announced that scores posted yesterday would be wiped from the board.

Only lightning will take the ladies from the course today.

Henry Bolesta, tournament director, has ruled that two matches shall be played in four-omes in all flights on Friday excepting championship flight which shall play two eighteen hole matches in two scores. All finals will be played on Sunday as scheduled.

Mrs. G. Schoenberger, Lake Worth, a 20 handicapper, posted a 92 on Tuesday to become the winning grandmother in the bid for the Anne Leavine Trophy for low net grandmothers. Mrs. Schoenberger has one grandchild.

Scores have been announced for the highest qualifiers in yesterday's rounds, which were called off during the afternoon due to thunder storms.
