

Patriotism Of French Proves Block To Reds

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

France may turn out to be one of the first imperial powers in history to let events internally through unrest and rebellion in her colonies.

With metropolitan France just barely staggering along, natives of Indo-China, Malagascar and North Africa have availed themselves of the opportunity to rise. Paris has taken stern restraining measures, promising reforms but backing her administrators with increasing numbers of bayonets.

Taking the side of the underdog (as usual, pending their ability to regiment him to their own purposes), the Communists have sought to appear liberal by trying to hamstring this colonial policy. By doing so, they have run up against something in the French National character which has definitely weakened the Communist position in a whole. A few months ago, the Communists seemed about to take over France. Today, even with their purported control of the Labor unions, they have been unable to sway the government from an increasingly rightist program for financial reorganization.

The French colonial situation would have seemed ready-made for the Communists. New impartial observers have ever had anything good to say about it.

When the late President Roosevelt met the Sultan of Morocco at his Casablanca, trip he appeared to take a slight detour in disconcerting Winston Churchill, who was present, with references to French oppression of the natives, to Anglo-French syndicates which drained the riches of colonies and to the possibility of self-development of Morocco's resources with American help merely hired for the purpose. The Sultan, says Elliott Roosevelt, assured the President that something would be done after the war. That something has developed into an independence movement.

That's why the French are so nervous over the presence of the old ruff leader, Abd-El-Krim, in Egypt. Krim, at the head of the wildest, most atrocious bunch of bandits in modern history, practically threw the Spaniards out of North Africa, in 1921, and the French had to stage a pretty good four-year war to subdue him. If Krim goes back to Morocco, as some observers fully expect, the French are in for real trouble.

So what possible good can France get out of such trouble abroad?

Just this. That French National trait over which the Communists have stumbled is patriotism. The average Frenchman is French before he is anything else. With a Communist, the Moscow line comes first. A lot of Frenchmen lean to Socialism, and a lot of frustrated European Socialists have been willing to team up with the Communists who are better trained for direct action.

But French Communists, by putting the policies of Russia ahead of those of France, and by giving comfort to the rebels within the empire, which they are doing merely to please the Communist parent, may find that they have overreached themselves in the Investigation Commission's report holding Yugoslavia primarily to blame for support of guerrilla warfare inside Greece was made public today.

The commission's findings and recommendations, already made known in dispatches from Geneva, were expected to precipitate a showdown between Russian and the Western powers in the Security Council on the perennial Balkan problem.

Covering a three-month inquiry into the Balkan situation, the 230,000-word document was formally submitted to members of the Security Council last Saturday.

The council was expected to begin a discussion of the report either Friday or early next week. There was speculation that the United States might inject into the debate the Communist assumption of power in Hungary and Communist moves in Bulgaria.

With Russia and Poland dissenting and France abstaining, the Balkan Commission fixed upon Yugoslavia the primary blame for support of Greek guerrilla warfare, and held Albania and Bulgaria blame worthy to a lesser degree.

Disturbed political and economic conditions and the persecution of minorities inside Greece were cited in the commission's report as contributing factors to the turbulent Balkan situation.

As a means toward alleviating this situation, the commission recommended that the Security Council establish a commission of investigation on the troubled frontier area of Greece for at least two years to observe incidents and settle disputes.

Such a commission or commissioner should, if established, report to the council every three months, and should have access to Albania, Greece, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, the report said.

With Russia and Poland also that support of frontier-violating bands should be considered a menace to world peace and subject to U. N. action.

To the majority report, that Yugoslavia was the chief offender, the Russian and Polish delegations affixed a minority report asserting that the Greek government was primarily to blame.

The majority held that exploitation of the Macedonian question by venturing claims to this territory outside the United Nations is "a positive threat to the tranquility of the Balkans and can only add to existing tension and suspicion and increase national passions."

A Greek representative appearing before the commission during the on-the-spot inquiry charged that Bulgarian and Yugoslav interference in Greek internal affairs was aimed at incorporating Greek Macedonia into the federal Yugoslav state of Macedonia. Both Yugoslavia and Bulgaria denied this charge.

France, which abstained from voting the blame for Greek guerrilla warfare, said in a statement contained in the report that "it is to be feared that in reaching conclusions with insufficient legal foundation we might only aggravate an already critical situation and do unnecessary harm to perfectly honest rivalries."

"Moreover," the French statement added, "the United Nations are faced not only with a critical but with a chronic situation, not with a flagrant aggression which requires a prompt and immediate intervention, but with a tension which, owing to a multiplicity of can continent," Eisenhower said.

He said the major requirements of a comprehensive military collaboration must be three-fold, listing them as:

- "We must continue to send military missions to other American countries when requested by them to assist in reorganizing and training their military establishments.
- "We must provide quotas for attendance at our service schools and institutions by military personnel from these countries in order to afford them the opportunity of studying at first-hand our methods of reorganization and training.
- "We must be able to make available to them the equipment necessary for their peacetime establishments, since all the training and indoctrination of personnel will be largely ineffective unless all of the armed forces of the hemisphere are identical in terms of organization and equipment."

Eisenhower expressed conviction that the legislation is in accord with "our national interest," will "assist materially the maintenance of peace and security throughout the American continent," and will be "a distinct contribution to world security."

He emphasized that the War Department has "no intention of initiating or encouraging an armament race among the other American countries."

He said that the United States would conclude with each participating country "a definite agreement" as to the size of the armed forces for which this country will make available arms and equipment.

He said, too, that it is not intended to increase the quantity of arms possessed by any other American country, but rather to better the quality of their defensive armament.

Taft-Hartley law—will push for speedy enactment of a 50 percent minimum wage boost.

Hearings on bills to raise the current pay floor from 40 cents an hour will be started Friday by a House labor subcommittee, with indications that a 60-cent minimum will be recommended.

The tip-off that such a bill would be put on the "must" list for this session was given by House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana at a GOP political rally in Wisconsin last week when he said:

"We are turning our attention to legislation dealing with protection of our workers in the minimum wage brackets."

"I understand the leadership will accept 60 cents," Rep. Landis (R-Ind) told reporters today as the labor committee announced its hearings. "We are going to pass a bill this year."

Landis, author of one of the many pending bills dealing with minimum wages, is second man on the labor committee.

"We will put this thing through within the next few weeks," one of Halleck's aides said.

party colleagues are going to do everything they can to defeat the measure which would make House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) next in line for the presidency.

The Senate has agreed to vote on the bill at 1:00 P. M., tomorrow and Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), its author, conceded that if reports he hears are true, the Democrats might sink the proposal, with some Republican help.

Rep. Cooley (D-NC) called at the White House today to recommend a veto of the wool price support bill and reported afterward that President Truman did not "frown" at this advice. Cooley told reporters he urged a veto "because of the bill's import duty provisions."

The measure, which Congress sent to the White House last week, continues present government supports for wool prices and authorizes tariff boosts, or restrictions on imports, in event imports of foreign wool tend to depress prices.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Mr. Truman will act on the bill tomorrow or Friday.

Richard W. Hubbell, New York engineer, suggested to Congress today that radio stations be licensed for 17 years and predicted there will be a "mush-rooming" of television service if this is done.

Hubbell testified before a Senate Commerce Subcommittee which is considering legislation to revise the broadcasting laws. He is head of a consulting company for television, radio and motion picture construction and operation.

WASHINGTON, June 25, (AP)—Senator Taft disclosed the possibility that Congress may take further action on tax-cutting legislation before it adjourns next month.

Taft told reporters he has not changed his opinion, the tax measure is dead for this session, despite the fact Rep. Knutson (R-Minn) has re-introduced his bill to slice $4,000,000,000 from personal income taxes.

Keep Turning In Your Used Fats

Used cooking fats have represented a substantial part of our total industrial fat supply. The more than 600 million pounds of used fats that American home-makers have saved and turned in since 1942 has been of vital importance. It is a record of which every woman who contributed may well be very proud.

The United States still lacks adequate supplies of fats and oils. And we are particularly short of industrial fats. Many, if not most, of the things we all use and wear require industrial fats, or the products of industrial fats, such as soaps and glycerine, in their manufacture.

So won't you keep up your good work and continue to save and turn in every possible pound of used fat?

Economy Plan

Hoffman said "another collapse of that magnitude might cost us our free economy."

Hoffman is chairman of the board of the Committee for Economic Development, a group of businessmen organized to study the problem of maintaining a high level of productive employment.

He expressed his views in a statement prepared for the joint congressional committee on the economic report. This group is considering ways and means of preventing depressions so that substantially full employment may be continuously maintained.

Hoffman, in laying down a blueprint for government and business to follow toward this objective, told the committee:

"If through wise action we can make our economy operate more effectively, the real income of most of our people can be doubled within 25 years. We can largely realize the age old dream of abolishing poverty."

The key to achieving this goal, Hoffman said, is the creation and maintenance of what he called an economic program of "dynamic stability" which rejects the notion that "violent booms or busts" are inevitable.

Hoffman said that for the immediate future in the fight against inflation, there should be restraint on the part of all "in raising prices, wages and salaries, in recognition of the common interest in avoiding a further wage-cost-price spiral."

The "most vital function" of the government in the long-range economy Hoffman envisaged "is to establish conditions under which private enterprise can operate most effectively." To this end, Hoffman said, the government should:

1. Stamp out practices that create an artificial barrier to the entry of new competitors.
2. Break down barriers to creation and growth of small business, particularly by removing the bias in the tax structure against risk taking.
3. Repudiate federal spending

The three disunited statesmen will be faced with the monumental task of establishing a far greater degree of confidence between East and West than now exists. Unless that is achieved, the Marshall idea cannot be carried out in its fullness."

China Hits Reds On Control Of Seaports

NANKING, June 25, (AP)—The Chinese foreign office, in a lengthy "white paper" covering relations with Russia, today accused the Soviet Union of obstructing the Chinese control of Dairen and Port Arthur.

The statement called "serious attention" to Moscow's Soviet failure to observe terms of the 1945 Sino-Soviet Treaty providing for Chinese administration of the two Russian-held Manchurian seaports.

Meanwhile, Nanking newspapers carried reports that the foreign office had sent a second protest to the Russians over the recent border clash between Chinese and pro-Soviet Outer Mongolians in Sinkiang province. There was no immediate confirmation. Russia rejected the first protest.

Operating Costs Of Sanford Up 42 Percent In Five Years

"Work Or Fight" Law Advised For US Preparedness

Despite a two mill reduction from the 30 mill tax rate of 1941, total City expenditures for 1946-47 estimated at $424,400, not including the water works profit, represent an increase of $125,890 over the 1941 outlay of $298,510, or 42 percent.

Operating expenses exclusive of debt service and water utility, have gone up from $130,575 in 1941 to $281,150, a 115 percent increase. Outlay for interest, retirement and sinking funds of bonds amounted to $96,000 in 1941. An increase in assessed valuations maintains this revenue at its former level.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

LET THEM THAT DO BEWARE. THEY ARE PRECIOUS TO GOD: With thou also destroy the righteous?—Gen. 18:23.

It is a rather significant fact that while Sanford's municipal operating expenses have gone up, its tax millage has gone down.

There may be some difference of opinion as to the ban on the closed shop, but there is no argument whatever that the people of Florida, when they voted the ban into their State Constitution, started something which has spread over the entire country. Five other states have since enacted similar laws of their own, and now the Taft-Hartley labor bill contains a nation-wide prohibition against the closed shop. It remains to be seen what the Supreme Court will do about it.

People of the South are frequently condemned throughout the North for their Bourbon attitude toward the colored race, but it has remained for a New England couple, a Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ingalls, to be charged in court with re-instituting slavery. Not since the Civil War has a more flagrant case of holding a person in involuntary servitude come to light than the subjection of this 57 year old woman to more than 30 years of household labor which she sought to avoid.

Senator Holland and all of Florida's six representatives voted to override the President's veto of the Taft-Hartley labor bill. Senator Pepper took an outstanding, if not the leading, part in the fight to prevent the bill from becoming law. According to Washington Merry-Go-Round, it was Florida's Pepper who called a meeting in his office with various labor leaders to put the heat on the President to get him to make another last minute appeal to Congress to uphold his veto. They convinced him that if the Democratic party didn't uphold the veto, a Third Party would be formed.

General Everett Hughes, the Army's chief of ordinance, says the next world war is coming fast, will occur much sooner than anyone thinks, and when it comes, he adds, it will be fought in America. How soon it comes, General Hughes should know, depends on how well prepared America remains to fight back. You don't pick a fight with Joe Louis, neither do aggressor nations wage wars deliberately against those that can whip them. The next world war will occur, and will occur only when the people of America go back to sleep placing their trust and faith in something other than their own strength, courage, and resourcefulness.

General Eisenhower has accepted a position as president of Columbia University, following the tradition of General Robert E. Lee who became president of Washington and Lee University after he laid down his sword at the close of the War between the States. It is a mighty good tradition to follow. General Grant went into politics and was thoroughly discredited and smeared, a fate which is feared by all our great military leaders. Others have turned to big business and have been similarly tarnished in the eyes of the public. But in the halls of our institutions of higher learning, there should be a place for competent administrators of the Army and Navy where they can keep their reputations intact.

The Pilots Speak

Pilots, the men ultimately responsible for aviation achievement and failure, have spoken publicly about the recent fatal crashes of commercial planes. Through President-David L. Behmcke of the Air Line Pilots Association, they have challenged the Civil Aeronautics Board's findings of pilot error in two of three recent major disasters. They state that:

"The pilot is holding the bag at all times for mistakes made by everyone in connection with a flight, such as careless loading, mechanical and instrument unreliability, inaccurate weather forecasts and ground navigational failures."

Certain technical improvements in plane construction and landing field facilities as well as in flight instruments are included in the association's official recommendations. The president added that the pilots already had submitted all such suggestions to Congress, many of them to the C.A.B. and to manufacturers.

The pilots are well within their rights in pointing out to the traveling public that progress cannot be made by "inscribing pilot error on tombstones." The tragic accidents of the last few weeks show a need for intensive study by government and private agencies entrusted with all phases of commercial air travel. Safety in the air must be the goal of all such efforts. And the pilots who fly the planes should be listened to.

How To Get Housing

Speaking at the American Lumber Congress in Chicago, Ira Mosher, an executive of the National Association of Manufacturers, came out with the statement that people want housing, they will get it from government.

He blamed industry and labor alike for pricing the building industry out of the market, and condemned feather-bedding, unfair zoning laws and discrimination against pre-fabricated houses. Veterans are well acquainted with the fact, Mosher said, that the war was won by mass-production methods, and are unable to see why the same ideas are not applied to building.

It is a well-known fact that nothing so inspires people to whole-hearted co-operative effort as do war-time conditions. There is no reason why all the human elements in the housing shortage cannot be fused in a clean flame of enthusiasm for decent homes for all the people of this country.

Shocking The Japanese

The "Mikado," Gilbert and Sullivan's popular operetta, is to be performed in Japan under Japanese sponsorship. Before the war it was banned there because of its satire on the emperor, which struck Japanese officials as being in poor taste and even blasphemous.

Lately American players produced it in Japan for Allied groups. The few Japanese who saw it were shocked at its irreverent treatment of a ruler whom they were taught to consider sacred.

That Japanese themselves are now undertaking to sponsor the "Mikado," indicates a surprising change of attitude. And if the emperor's former subjects come to enjoy the fun poked at themselves, they will indeed be well on the way to a healthy democracy.

Ice Skater Starts World-Wide Congress

By MEL MOST
AP Newswriters
PARIS—A petite, blonde professional ice-skater from New York is spearheading a drive for a worldwide congress in 1950 to adopt an international constitution.

Blue-eyed, Viennese-born Trudy Schneider was graduated from New York's Hunter College and interrupted her American ice-skating career to become a traveling missionary for world federation. Calmly announcing plans for the world congress, she said:

"If the governments won't do it, we'll conduct plebiscites in each country to elect the delegates."
Miss Schneider, 24, an American former champion, is expected to skate at the age of five. She kept it up in New York with the "Ice Vanities" of 1940-41, at the Center Theater at Rockefeller Center from '41 to '44, at Cincinnati's Hotel Netherlands-Plaza the next season and then in the St. Regis Hotel back in New York. Meanwhile she was majoring in philosophy and psychology.

Last year, she said, she decided "the world is skating on thin ice." With her skates in her baggage she set out for the eighth month of a university speaking tour of Western Europe for the student section of the newly born United World Federalist headquarters in New York.

The plan for a world constitutional convention, she explained, originated privately with Henry Osborne, Labor member of Parliament, who expected to lead off with a campaign book to be published jointly with two dozen other MPs of every party, in a few weeks. They hoped to line up 10,000,000 signatures behind the British delegate to the world constitutional congress.

Newsprint Shortage Is Felt By Congress

WASHINGTON, June 26, (AP)—If the paper shortage doesn't ease up soon, Congress members may find it advisable to cut down on their speech-making. The Appropriations Committee informed the House of this dire prospect today.

It said the government printing office reports it is getting just barely enough newsprint paper to print the Congressional Record and has no chance for increased supplies. The record prints the speeches and proceedings in Congress.

A special session of Congress, printing officials said, might lead to a "great difficulty" in printing the record. Fewer speeches would save money. The officials told the committee it costs an average of $71 a page to print the record.

Bumper Grain Crop Reported In Russia

MOSCOW, June 25, (AP)—Glowing reports of the prospects for a bumper crop continued today to pour in from the great grain growing areas of the Soviet Union.

Newspaper dispatches indicated that the weather has been favorable everywhere since the beginning of June, and reports from some districts declared that local quotas for the harvest of winter grain already had been exceeded.

There has been no suggestion anywhere of drought nor of any serious dislocation in harvesting arrangements.

Chinese General Hold War Council

PEIPING, June 26, (AP)—With gunfire clearly audible, 40-ranking Nationalist generals in north China and Manchuria began gathering here today for an emergency war council with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Residents were awakened by heavy early morning gunfire from a Communist-Nationalist clash along the Peiping-Pootung rail line just south of the city. Military sources said the Reds were attempting to destroy the railroad.

During World War II about 50 billion eggs a year were produced in the United States.

Violations Of Game, Fish Laws Increase

TALLAHASSEE, June 26, (AP)—Florida arrests for violation of game and fish laws increased more than 35 percent last month, the State Game and Fresh Water fish commission reported today.

State wildlife officers made 320 arrests during May, compared with 237 in April.

Nearly half the arrests were for fishing without licenses, 13 percent were for taking under sized bass, 9 percent for fishing during closed season and 6 percent with netting and trapping.

Jean Alberla Whigham Becomes Bride Of Donald Randall Jones On June 25

Jean Alberla Whigham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Franklin Whigham, became the bride of Donald Randall Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas William Jones, in one of the most beautiful weddings of this season in the First Baptist Church on June 25 at 8:30 o'clock.

Dr. W. P. Brooks, Jr. officiated while the couple exchanged their marriage vows in front of a large assemblage of friends and relatives. White gladiolus, albatra daisies and white burning-tapers were used in decorating throughout the church. The ceremony was performed in front of a background of asparagus fern, Cocco Plumosa palms and the white gladiolus. At each end of the altar were banks of the gladiolus and rostrum. White candles were placed in all the stained glass windows.

The bride wore a dress of imported white eyelet embroidered linen with a shoulder bonnet of white eyelet. Her hair was styled in the classic "finger waves" of the 1940's. Her accessories included a small blue hat, blue gloves and a lavender orchid.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Mayfair Inn. The ballroom was decorated with palms, white gladiolus and branched candelabra. The receiving line was formed on the north side of the ballroom and opposite them was the long brides table. The table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a reflector upon which were the initials, J.W. and D.R. in white satin. The table was backed with asparagus fern and flanking the centerpiece were tall antique silver vases holding gladiolus and five-branched silver candelabra.

At one end of the table was a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and punch was served from a crystal punch bowl at the other end. Punch was also served from another smaller table and upon the small table and the bride's book table were branched silver vases holding asparagus fern, Mrs. F. E. Holt rendered a musical program of piano music during the reception.

Mrs. Julius Dingfelder, Mrs. James Ridge, Mrs. James Crapp, and Miss Joyce Hettel acted as bridesmaids. The groomsmen were Tucker and Miss Sylvia Welch. The ring bearer was the bride's brother, Mr. Donald Jones. The officiant was Dr. W. P. Brooks, Jr.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin which featured a lace yoke outlined with a bias band. The gown was trimmed with long pointed sleeves and a full skirt which extended into a long train. The back was a full-length veil of illusion which fell from a tiara of orange blossoms and her bouquet was of white roses and lily of the valley.

Her attendants were her sister, Miss Elizabeth Whigham, maid of honor, Miss Kathryn Wiggins, Miss Helen Hester, Miss Margaret Harper, Miss Elizabeth Fite, Miss Gene Harrison and Miss Mary Hopper. Tony Huddleston acted as best man and usher.

Mr. Jones is a law man and is now in the law school at the University of Florida. He plans to enter the law school in the fall.

Beauty Notes

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
You may be one of those lucky creatures who brown easily in the sun. But even if you do, necessary precautions should be taken to prevent coarsened skin texture, a peeling nose, sun-parched lips and little squint lines that show white beneath your opening tan.

It is always wise to use a sun lotion before exposing yourself to the sun's rays. You can usually gauge the amount of time you can safely spend in the sun by your complexion tone. The darker the skin, the more pigment it contains to help prevent burning.

Equip yourself with a little beauty beach bag. Throw in your sun lotion, a softening lanolin cream and a protective lip pomade.

Feds In Palatka Tonight; Twin Bill Here Tomorrow

Feds Drop 5 To 2 Contest To Cs Last Night; Lake Gives Up 2 Hits

GAINESVILLE, June 26 (AP)—The Gainesville G-Men capitalized on five Sanford Celery Fed errors to cop a 5 to 2 tilt from the visitors despite Buddy Lake's masterful two-hit hurling performance here last night.

The G's did not score an earned run. The four run uprising in the fourth was a result of the two Gainesville hits and three Fed boots.

Tonight the Sanford aggregation invades the Azalea Bowl in Palatka to play the A's in a single tilt. Tomorrow the Feds return to their own Municipal Park for a twin bill with the Palatka aggregation, and is scheduled to get under way at 6:45 o'clock.

Big Bill Stanton is slated for mound duties against the A's in Palatka tonight with Carl Kettles and Johnny Tomant getting the nod for the hill assignment tomorrow evening.

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

"D" LEAGUE PAY
We recently read a report that girl softball players, if they are good enough, and pretty enough, are being paid $100 a week in leagues in Chicago, whereas a Class D baseball player is lucky if he comes out of a complete season with as much as $1,000.

In simple words, if those girls play 20 weeks of softball, they can pick up twice as much as the better paid Class D Florida State League players.

This doesn't seem exactly right to me.

Victory National Tourney To Open Today In Chicago

CHICAGO, June 26 (AP)—The professional golfing phalanx today wades into the $15,900 Chicago Victory National Championships at the Westward Ho Club.

The 72-hole stroke play tourney, won the past two years by the now retired Byron Nelson, will afford an opportunity for such performers as leading money-winner Jimmy Demaret, Ben Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum to climb back into gold-dom's much-crowded driver's seat.

Demaret's last victory was in the masters tourney at Atlanta, in early April. Hogan, twice a winner since he won the Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth, Tex., in mid-May. Mangrum capped the National Capitol open at Washington early this month, but it was his first major triumph since the 1946 National Open.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Frank Shea, Yankees, blanked the Indians 3-0 with three hits for his third shutout and his ninth win against two defeats.

Walker Cooper, Giants, slammed his fifth home run in four days and singled twice to drive in four runs as the Giants licked the Cubs 9-3.

National Soaring Contest To Attract Many Record Holders

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., June 26 (AP)—Robert F. Blaine, director of the 14th annual National Soaring Contest, checked the entries today and found that every holder of an American record except one would be here July 4 through 20.

Also competing will be last year's National Champion and at least three National Champions for years prior to 1946. Also, the British Champion, Charlie Wingfield, and the French Champion, Eric Nessler, will accompany teams from their countries.

Blaine declared that there would be more high-performance, airplane pilots than ever before assembled in the United States, for the meet here.

John Robinson of Millport, N. Y., is the defending U. S. champion; he also holds the U. S. distance record, 290 miles, for cross-place planes. J. Shelly Charles of Atlanta, Ga., owns the one-place altitude title, 19,434 feet; Paul Tuntland of Los Angeles holds the two-place altitude mark of 18,770 feet; Richard Johnson of Burlingame, Calif., holds the two-place distance record of 314 miles, and Mrs. Virginia Bennis of Sanford, Fla., is woman's distance champ with 37 miles. Robinson also won the U. S. Championship, which is earned on total points immet, in 1940 and 1941.

World Trade Figures For 1946 Disclosed

ATLANTA, June 26 (AP)—Southeastern ports cleared 19,535,416,260 pounds of cargo valued at $672,019,915 in world trade last year, Regional Director C. Parker Persons of the U. S. Department of Commerce said today.

Although the 1946 figures included imports and exports by air for the first time, Persons said, the total value was $34,606,515 under the 1945 record.

Miami, Fla., exported by air last year 12,170,054 pounds of cargo worth $59,023,179 and imported 4,383,812 pounds valued at $18,342,373, the regional director said.

Unknown Italian Net Star Makes His Bid For Wimbledon Crown

WIMBLEDON, June 26 (AP)—Gianni Cuculli, a smiling, stocky net star unknown here before the Wimbledon championships, seeded Jack Kramer's bid to win the men's single crown.

In a third round match Cuculli, who himself doesn't give a hill of beans, gave his chances of upsetting the California ace, sets his first match on one of the show courts, No. 1.

Until this tournament began very little was known of the standard of Italian tennis, which was blacked out in international competition until this year. But Cuculli has, in singles and doubles, played well enough, to suggest he will give the American star a game.

As the men's singles took the spotlight again, eighth-seeded Bob Alkenburg of Los Angeles was slated to meet C. F. O. Lister of Great Britain; Torsten Johansson of Sweden, who has not yet lost a game, tangles with J. Asboth of Hungary; second-seeded John Bromwich of Australia is scheduled to meet Bernard Mathias of France, and Jasoslav Drohny of Czechoslovakia is pitted against Poland's W. Skonecki.

The Argentine champion, Enrique Morea, suffering from an injured right shoulder, is scheduled to meet Jacques Peden of Belgium.

The defending team of America's Margaret Osborne and Louise Brough touched off the women's doubles event.

Today's play included Murray Delorain and Mrs. T. Kenyon of Britain vs Lennart Bergelin of Sweden, and Doris Hart of Miami, Fla.

Kovacs Begins Quest For Title Today

PHILADELPHIA, June 26 (AP)—Top seeded Frank Kovacs, the so-called "Tennis Clown," today is expected to begin his quest for the Middle State Professional Grass Court Tennis Title, two days after the tourney began.

Meanwhile, two players, fourth-seeded Wayne Sabin of Mt. Washington, N. H., and Elwood Cooke, New York, smashed their way into the quarter-finals.

Sabin eliminated Henry Quinn, New York, 6-0, 6-1, and Robert (Junior) Ritchey, Miami, Fla., 6-4, 6-2, yesterday. Cooke defeated Vincent Richards, commissioner of the newly formed World's Professional Tennis League, 6-3, 6-2.

Kovacs is scheduled to play Ed Mennitt, New York, in singles and the team with Fred Perry, Miami, Fla., in doubles competition.

All opening doubles play, Cooke and John Faunce, Hollywood, Calif., eliminated Harold Dunsmuir, Boca Raton, Fla., and Robert Koolin, New York, 6-2, 9-7.

City Commissioners have failed to raise their salaries to any appreciable extent. In 1941 they were paid $1,028 and $1,250 is what they will get this year. The Municipal Court Judge, however, will receive $1,250 as compared with the $630 paid in 1941. The City attorney's office which got $600 in 1941 gets $1,225 this year.
It now costs much more to keep up public buildings. In 1941 this cost $3,737, but this year it is estimated at $11,750. Conservancy maintenance has increased from $1,438 to an estimated $4,500. Engineering cost but $55 in fees in 1941 and this year will cost about $3,775. Inspection costs have increased from $2,242 to $3,798 estimate.
Street lighting shows but a small increase, from $10,155 to $11,000. Insurance for City automobiles, fire, robbery, pensions, etc., was $3,294 in 1941 and this year will be $6,750 of which $1,000 is for employees' group life insurance and $1,800 in employee pensions.

The Municipal Zoo will cost nearly twice as much to operate as in 1941, the figures being $2,603 as compared with a $4,185 estimate for this year. Total recreational activities cost $4,415 in 1941. This year the budget estimate is $8,050.
Other increases are as follows: Parks, $3,778 to $5,750 of which labor cost shows an increase of $2,876 to $4,500; public health $3,997 to $5,030 including $1,500 for rodent control; public library, $2,312 to $3,576; charity, $1,643 to $2,050.
Airport expenditures are expected to show a decrease compared to the 1941 figure of $2,832 and are estimated at $21,850 this year. Publicity outlay shows an increase. In 1941 it was $3,249; this year will be $6,000 of which $5,600 goes to the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

In 1941 it cost $13,858 to operate the water department and this year total operating expenses are put at $30,330. However, this department is expected to show a profit of $28,750. Salaries for production administration and distribution were $9,187 in 1941. They are expected to total $17,632.

setbacks or delays. The enterprise which was launched in San Francisco two years ago is the hope of the world for lasting peace.
The President warned that "the effectiveness of the United Nations depends upon the member states meeting all their obligations."
Gromyko participated in the broadcast in place of Premier Stalin who declined an invitation to take part. The Soviet deputy foreign minister said he would make an attempt to evaluate the past work of the U. N. because this "would make it necessary for us to speak not only of its accomplishments but of its shortcomings as well."
"Id like to express the hope," Gromyko declared, "that in the future work the United Nations sure and exposure of profiteering, we may be able to force lower prices.

The CIO, added that if "increased foreign demands for food, clothing and machinery and crop failure continue this will require that we re-establish price control and a rationing program."

Emil Rieve, a CIO vice president, presented the organization's economic program in a statement prepared for the joint congressional will find itself sufficiently strong to overcome defects in its operation so as to become a real and effective weapon in the struggle for peace and security of all the peoples of the world."

Chiang Kai-Shek recalled that at the San Francisco conference China had declared the nations of the world must not hesitate to delegate a part of their sovereignty to the U. N. He said China still held this view and actually had become the only nation in the world to write into its constitution a pledge to uphold the charter.

Attlee urged his listeners not to pay too much attention to the controversial discussions in the Security Council, and thereby overlook the constructive work with which the United Nations is performing in the economic and social fields.

"Nor must we expect immediate results from this great experiment," he continued. "The world has still to recover from the wounds of six years of total war, but, if we can all unite in peace as we did in war and put our faith in the United Nations and determine to make it work, I am confident that it is our best hope for ensuring peace for ourselves and our children, and for increasing the general welfare of mankind."

Ramadier said the U. N. had grown "despite the difficulties which divide the nations in their exceptions and immediate interests, despite the multiple difficulties which delay, postpone and modify the work."

al committee on President Truman's economic report. The committee is studying suggestions on how to stabilize the nation's economy.

On the house side, Lieut. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg said the "peace and security" of North and South America depends upon a "complete integration of effort of the air forces of all the countries."

Vandenberg, deputy commanding general of the Army Air Forces, urged the House Foreign Affairs Committee to approve legislation authorizing the United States to cooperate with other Western Hemisphere nations in a military standardization program. This would include supplying them with arms.

Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz told another House committee that this country must not assume it is the only nation capable of developing the guided missile into the weapon of the future. The implication was plain that Nimitz was referring to Russia.

In a statement prepared for an Armed Services subcommittee, Nimitz said: "Failure to take adequate steps now to explore this new field of weapons and their uses would parallel our relatively slow development of the airplane and our tardy appreciation of its potentialities as an instrument of war."

He urged immediate construction of a missile test center and sea range at Point Mugu, California.

paring for the high water could continue.

The hardest-hit single area in the city was a north-central section known as the Franklin Area. There the Des Moines River punched a hole two blocks long in a levee spreading four feet of water over a 30-block section of homes and small businesses. As far as could be learned by Coast Guardsmen who toured the area, all inhabitants of the section had moved to safety before the break.

Funds Released

the governor commented "if it's going to handicap them too badly, they can come back" later with requests that the reserves be released.

Nearly all budgets call for greatly increased expenditures for next year than were approved for the current fiscal year.

The board approved a budget of $739,000 for the State Judiciary although the legislature had appropriated only $585,300 for the next year. Budget Director Homer G. Graham explained the Constitution requires expenses of the courts to be met, even if there is no appropriation, and said a deficit would result at the figure set by the legislature.

Other major budgets acted on today included: Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission -- estimated available from fees and federal funds $1,393,000. Budget commission released $1,078,000 -- which is $377,000 above its recommendation to the legislature.

Governor Caldwell commented the game board "has not done a good job up to this point. It may be because they have been handicapped for lack of money and personnel. They are making a earnest effort."

Secretary of State -- released $106,086 and reserved $14,440. State Comptroller Operations -- released $1,290,036 and reserved $102,265.

State Board of Health -- released $1,551,469 and reserved $193,500 of exclusively State funds, released $1,591,500 in federal money and $1,934,000 in county health unit funds without setting up reserves.

Crippled Children's Commission -- released $322,316 and reserved $70,600, including a $45,000 special legislative appropriation for care of spastic paralyses.

Florida State Hospital -- released $3,956,578 and reserved $398,830.

Florida Farm Colony -- released $218,750 and reserved $12,500 contingent fund set up by the legislature.

Florida State Prison at Raiford -- released $63,700 and reserved $372,163.

State Industrial School for Boys -- released $236,700 and reserved $19,750.

Arms Standardization

the Western Hemisphere, some other countries will. Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of War Patterson previously had said the same thing.

It was left to Eisenhower to make the disquieting disclosure that other countries already are trying to sell arms to Latin America. He declined to amplify.

Of course the point of wholesale standardization is that the United States would be the arsenal for the entire Western Hemisphere in event of an attack directed against both continents. No other nation is equipped industrially to cope with such an emergency. Any nation which isn't a party to the standardization program would be unable to defend itself, and therefore would be a weak link in the chain.

Eisenhower said that complete cooperation between the United States and Canada is imperative. This is true because in the event of another war one of the first moves of the enemy would be an air attack on the industrial centers near the Great Lakes.

Military experts learned invaluable lessons regarding standardization during both World Wars. There were times when lack of coordination between the allies like England and France was damaging. The same was true among some of the German allies, but in both conflicts Germany had a considerable degree of standardization among its followers.

Hitler achieved this through the simple expedient of forcing small countries to accept outmoded German armament in barter trade for the foodstuffs which the fatherland needed. Once a country was equipped with German arms, it had to secure ammunition and replacements from the Fuehrer's arsenals.

Of course it takes more than standardization to turn the trick. You must have resources and that's what America still has. Apropos of resources and German standardization, it fell to me to make a strange discovery towards the close of World War I while I was attached to British General Headquarters in France as AP war correspondent. I was walking across the ruined public square of the city of Peronne one day when I saw what I thought was a child's marbles lying among the debris.

"Poor little fellow," I muttered to myself, thinking of the small boy who I assumed had owned the playthings.

Then I saw a lot more of the "marbles," and it suddenly dawned on me that they were something more than toys. They were shrapnel balls. The Germans had run so short of steel that they were making them of concrete, an illuminating circumstance to British G. H. Q.

However, if America becomes the arsenal of the Western Hemisphere, nobody will have to substitute concrete for steel.

New Layoffs Threatened In Key Industries

Steel Mills Curtail Operations As Ten-Day Vacation Begins For Coal Miners

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
New layoffs in key industries were threatened today in the wake of this week's work stoppages in the nation's soft coal mines which have made idle more than 250,000 workers.

Stockpiles of coal have dwindled since mines started closing Monday as miners walked off their jobs in protest of the Taft-Hartley law. With all mines to close for 10-day vacation starting tomorrow, there was no hope of adding to the stockpiles.

Steel mills have curtailed operations and there were layoffs of some railroad crews. In Detroit, Chrysler Corp. and the Briggs Manufacturing Co. announced plans to lay off 28,500 workers because of a shortage of steel.

At the coal mines not already away from their jobs prepared to start their vacation there was no indication that they would be ready to return to work on July 6. The government relinquishes control of the 2,500 mines in 22 states on June 30 but the operators and the AFL-United Mine Workers have not signed a wage contract. The union follows the policy of "no contract, no work."

Officials of the CIO Marine and Shipbuilding Workers Union predicted a threat of all Atlantic and Gulf shippers next week, making idle 150,000 workers. More than 40,000 members of the union went on strike yesterday against 10 East Coast shippers, nine of them operated by the Bethlehem Steel Co. The walkout followed a contract dispute.

French Cabinet Attempts To End Strike Crisis

PARIS, June 27 (AP)—Premier Paul Ramadier's non-Communist cabinet meets today to try to end strikes of 350,000 coal miners and bank employees, two in a series sapping the authority of Ramadier's government.

Striking Paris department store employees, meanwhile, were reported ready to return to their counters unless management balked at paying them for lost time during their walkout. They were scheduled to vote today on whether to accept a government-union accord giving them a wage bonus.

A skeleton cabinet meeting last night turned down a similar accord worked out between the miners' union and industrial production Minister Robert Lacoste. The union had announced that it was satisfied with this accord and ready to order its men back to work. The government gave no reason for rejection of the solution, which contemplated production bonuses of 60 francs (about 56 cents) a day and better bread and wine rations for miners.

Commercial activity has been crippled for a week by the nationwide strike of 70,000 bank employees. Industrial production is threatened gravely by the walkout of 280,000 coal miners, which has begun to deplete France of most of her daily 180,000-ton output.

Ramadier's government faces a test next week, when the legislature is to respond to his request for a vote of confidence on his economic policy of holding the line on wages and raising taxes.

Change Considered In Communications Act

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Cotton Lewis Jr., radio news commentator, suggested today that a bill to "keep on public file" a copy of every broadcast be revised to "complete open book" on his background.

Lewis offered this as a substitute for a provision of pending legislation which calls for the identification of the source of information used to news broadcasts. He gave his views to a Senate subcommittee considering a bill by Senator William M. E. Wright to amend the Communications Act.

Lewis said the source identification section represents a very commendable intention to try to correct certain newspaper liberties and unfairness and inappropriateness which have crept into news broadcasts.

America Faces Dilemma Over Disastrous Civil War In China

China Fails To Qualify In Time For U.S. Loan

Currency Hits All-time Low As War Situation Worsens

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The United States has agreed to turn over to China 130,000,000 pounds of surplus ammunition for weapons of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops.

State Department officials also told reporters that the Nationalist government has been authorized to purchase other military supplies from American private manufacturers.

On the question of economic aid for the hard-pressed Nationalist government, the Export-Import Bank announced it will consider lending money to China for specific projects.

SHANGHAI, June 27 (AP)—Troubled China felt the impact today of civil war reverses and the country's failure to qualify for a $500,000,000 American loan before the end of June.

Chinese currency sank to an all-time low on the black market. It was quoted at 58,000 to one American dollar. (The legal rate is 12,000 to one). Financial observers gloomily predicted it would reach 1,000,000 to one before the year's end.

Government authorities trying to halt the runaway market faced another severe problem, commodity prices rose higher and higher. Some prices zoomed a full 100 percent in the week. Rice hit 600,000 Chinese dollars per picul ($50 U. S. per 133 1/3 pounds by the fixed exchange rate).

Shanghai's Mayor K. C. Wu instituted new emergency measures to curb wild speculation. In a crack-down on commodity hoarders, he ordered police gendarmes to search warehouses.

The banking black-market market reacted violently to Secretary of State Marshall's announcement that China would not get its $500,000,000 loan from the Export-Import Bank by June 30 even though his decision came as no great surprise.

Y. H. Huang, national economic council member, clarified the deadline should be extended "undoubtedly" (Continued on Page Three)

10 Found Disloyal In State Department

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The State Department announced today that "at least ten" of its employees have been "fired" recently because of suspected disloyalty to the United States government.

Press officer Lincoln White described it as "a very recent decision." While told reporters he was unable to furnish additional details but it was understood the employees were dismissed under congressional authority granted to the State Department in its 1947 appropriations.

A clause introduced by Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) gave the Secretary of State "absolute discretion" to discharge any worker "whenever he shall deem such termination necessary or advisable in the interest of the United States."

Final Distribution Of Racing Tax Made

TALLAHASSEE, June 27 (AP)—Comptroller Clarence M. Gay today announced distribution of $5,500 to each of Florida's 67 counties as their final allotments from the State racing tax during the 1946-47 season.

The checks brought the total each county received for the year to $90,800. That is far above the $33,000 guaranteed them by the State law, but below the record $98,000 each received last year.

Britain - U. S. Want Aid Plan Outside UN

2 Nations Agree Germany's Potential Industry Should Be Pillar Of Scheme

PARIS, June 27 (AP)—Foreign ministers of Russia, Great Britain and France started consideration today of an European economic recovery program linked with American aid. There was no official indication of the Russian attitude toward the "Marshall Plan" but the British and French have welcomed the proposal of U. S. Secretary of State Marshall.

By ARTHUR GAVRON
LONDON, June 27 (AP)—Authentic British and United States sources said today the two nations had reached the "broad conclusion" that the Marshall Aid-Europe program should be operated outside the United Nations framework.

The informants said this conclusion was one of several arrived at in talks this week between British officials and William L. Clayton, U. S. undersecretary of state for economic affairs. They declared that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin would seek creation of extra U.N. machinery at the three-power Foreign Ministers' Conference opening in Paris today.

Russia is reliably understood to feel that any project for U. S. economic assistance to Europe, such as that proposed by Secretary of State George C. Marshall, should be conducted through existing U.N. facilities.

Diplomatic observers here also suggested that Russia's claim for $10,000,000,000 in reparations from Germany's current production would crop up in the Paris discussions.

In Clayton's consultations with the British, informants said, both Britain and the U. S. were represented as believing that the aid-Europe plan could best be handled outside the United Nations machinery because Germany was outside the U.N.

The two nations were said to have "agreed broadly" that Germany's industrial potential should be one of the main pillars in any scheme for reconstructing the continent.

The diplomatic observers anticipated that when the question of Germany's productivity was raised in Paris, Russia would want to know how her reparations claim would fit into the general recovery program.

Flood Stricken Midwest Prepares For New Damage

DES MOINES, Ia., June 27 (AP)—The flood-stricken Midwest area of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois, where thousands remained homeless and damage to crops was estimated at millions of dollars, prepared for further devastation today as rivers and streams rolled on to near record crests.

Residents of Ottumwa and Edgemoor, Ia., who twice in less than a month have fought flood waters, again were threatened by the swollen Des Moines River. Yesterday the stream, together with the Raccoon River, brought the highest water in 44 years to Iowa's capital city of 40,000.

There was no letup in the raging Missouri River, which in Booneville, Mo., reached 31.5 feet in the greatest flood in 103 years. The muddy stream overflowed into thousands of acres of land near Rule, Mo.

At least 2,000 persons were homeless along the Mississippi River between Alton and Cairo, Ill.

In St. Louis, Army Engineers reported that levees protecting more than 42,000 acres in southern Illinois were endangered by the new crest of the Mississippi River which is nearing St. Louis. Residents of the 13,200-acre Stringtown-Fort Charities levee district north of Chester, Ill. were warned to move out as a "precautionary measure."

The Red Cross in St. Louis said 55 local chapters now are operating 31 shelters in the four-state area.

In Des Moines, two persons were missing and believed dead and 1,800 were homeless after 73 square blocks were flooded yesterday when the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers crested almost simultaneously.

In the southwest corner of Iowa water from the Missouri River poured onto lowlands through a breach in a dike at Pappin, Ia. Some flooding was expected from the dike breach at Hamburg, Ia., already hard hit by the swollen Nishnabotna River.

Meanwhile, throughout the area Coast Guardsmen, Army Engineers and rescue workers were on the job 24 hours daily.

Retention Of Okinawa By U. S. Is Favored By General

TOKYO, June 27 (AP)—General MacArthur told visiting American newspaper executives today that Japan should be "supervised" for "a generation," perhaps with the aid of American bombs and fighter planes.

The Allied supreme commander mentioned possible supervision by the United Nations, but at the same time, he was quoted as indicating that a "great sweep of our power" from Okinawa bases could protect—or supervise—Japan.

That MacArthur meant American approval was suggested by another statement which hinted he favored United States retention of Okinawa and the Ryukyus, formerly part of the Japanese empire.

The group of publishers and editors here on the Pan American Airways' inaugural world flight spent three hours with the five-star commander. A member of the party—J. Loy Maloney, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune—gave the Associated Press a report on MacArthur's views on various phases of the occupation.

While advocating generation-long supervision, MacArthur said he did not believe the military occupation of any country should last fewer than three years, more than five years. Little good could be accomplished in less than three years, he said, but he feared effects of an occupation beyond five years.

As in March, 1947, statement to correspondents, MacArthur urged a quick peace to end the abolition of what he called the "occupation."

Gerhart Eisler, No. 1 Communist, Gets Jail Term

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Gerhart Eisler, Communist, today drew the maximum federal court penalty of a year in prison and $1,000 fine for contempt of Congress.

Federal District Court Justice Alexander Holtzoff passed the sentence after denying a motion for a new trial and a dramatic personal plea for mercy from Eisler, who has been described in Congress as the "No. 1 Soviet Comissar" in this country.

Eisler was convicted June 10 of contempt in refusing to take an oath for testimony before the House Committee on Un-American Activities last Feb. 6.

In his plea for leniency, Eisler said he was a European anti-fascist political refugee. He loudly protested that he was "a victim of a witch-hunting hysteria in this country, instigated and encouraged by the Un-American Activities Committee."

Justice Holtzoff said he was imposing the maximum sentence because Eisler during the trial "showed an attitude of defiance and no disposition to cooperate with the congressional committee."

"It is apparent that this defendant does not respect the institutions of this country," the court declared.

Action Requested To Prevent Guerrilla Aid By Yugoslavia Albania, Romania

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. (AP)—Warren Austin, chief U. S. delegate, told the United Nations Security Council that it may have to resort to counterforce if Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria continued using force against Greece.

By MAX HARBELSON
LAKE SUCCESS, June 27 (AP)—The United States today charged that Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria had violated fundamental principles of the United Nations charter by "using force against the territorial integrity and political independence of Greece."

This accusation was made before the Security Council by Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, as the council began debate on the voluminous report of the U. N. Balkan Investigating Commission.

Upholding the commission's majority findings that the three Soviet satellite states had been aiding guerrilla fighters in northern Greece, Austin said:

"They have in fact been committing the very kind of acts which the United Nations was designed to prevent, and have violated the most important of the basic principles upon which our organization was founded."

He pointed out that Bulgaria and Albania were not members of the U. N., but said "this does not mean that they are not guilty of having used force in contradiction of the principles of the (Continued on Page Three)

Porter H. Lansing Is Re-Elected As Sportsmen Head

Porter H. Lansing was elected for the fourth time as president of the Seminole Country Sportsmen Association at its annual membership meeting held last evening at the Tourist Center.

John Meisch was elected as vice-president. Elmer Houghton, Jr. as secretary and George Stine as treasurer. W. E. Jamison was re-elected as custodian. Four directors were chosen, R. A. Frank and Jack Russell, for the first time, and Charles Brown and R. Lansing were re-elected.

In appreciation for his aid and legal counsel during the past three years the Association awarded a life membership to George A. Speer, said Mr. Lansing.

A resolution concerning activities of local commercial fishermen, offered by J. A. Howard, was deferred to the next meeting.

More than 20,000 fingerling bass, and 7,500 blue gill sun fish have been secured and placed in county lakes, and applications are in for additional fish which are expected shortly. Mr. Lansing told the group in his report of current year activities of the Association. Four hundred quails were secured and released.

He also informed the group that considerable work had been made to improve the game warden situation. Other projects include past and present efforts to clear the Wekiva River of logs and hydrachina.

Improvements at Mullet Lake Park include the opening of the park, placing an outdoor eating shack and table therein, erection of signs showing the location of the park, and the construction of rest rooms, he reported.

The cooperation of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has been secured in seeking the site for a fish hatchery in the county, he declared.

Other actions reported by Pres. Lansing were: approving a legislative program and sending delegates to nearly all meetings of the Game Commission and Florida Wildlife Federation in the interests of better hunting and fishing. Considerable assistance was given the Federation in its program of organizing at least one sportsman's club in each county.
