Investigators Mum About Agnew Case

By JIM LUTHER Associated Press Writer Tightening the lid on its investigation, the Justice Department has refused to comment on a report that Spiro T. Agnew received $50,000 from private contractors after he became vice president.

The report was carried today by the Knight newspaper chain, which quoted sources as saying federal prosecutors have been told that contractors paid Agnew $1,000 a week over a period of years, and the $50,000 sum after he was elected vice president.

The investigation involves allegations of bribery, extortion and tax evasion growing out of kickbacks allegedly paid by building contractors and engineers to Maryland and Baltimore County political figures.

Brazil Trying To Keep A Low Profile

While most Latin American countries spend an inordinate amount of time and effort trying to make themselves appear more important than they are, Brazil works hard to do the opposite. Not that Brazilians have a low opinion of themselves.

To put it bluntly, Brazilians are trying to live down the accolade President Nixon once tossed them. Swept up by the enthusiasm of the occasion of President Medici's visit to Washington, Mr. Nixon toasted Brazil with words to the effect that as Brazil goes, so goes the rest of Latin America.

Brazil's many critics. In one way or another, Argentine, Mexican and Cuban commentators often seek to prove that Brazil is being encouraged by the United States to exercise hegemony in Latin America.

For '76 choice Each party needs 'untainted' man

At least two prominent senators have told me in recent days that neither political party can dominate for president in 1976 anyone with any sort of "taint" attached to him.

After all, a future candidate still will have to run the gamut of the established political process. In part that means winning, in the most personal sense, the support of politicians who, Watergate notwithstanding, stubbornly cling to standards of their own.

Should these two men in the opposing parties find themselves favored by fate as defined for 1976 and maybe long after, the presidential choices will narrow significantly.

Florida's Druggists Cheating
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee says the people of Florida are being cheated on prescription drug prices.

Sen. Lew Brantley, D-Jacksonville, said Tuesday that a study of 26 drugs in pharmacies around the state showed a 200 to 500 per cent variance in prices.

The survey, conducted in February, showed "little difference in prices from pharmacy to pharmacy but great differences in prices," Brantley said.

There may be an even greater variance in prices, he said, since 250 of the 500 questionnaires mailed out were not returned.

"The evidence shows the general public is being cheated," Brantley added.

In Gainesville '8 Trial Prosecution Angers Judge
By F. T. MACFEELEY
GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Gainesville Eight defense attorneys poured over transcripts of FBI interviews with the government's star witness "Doc" after an angry trial judge scolded the prosecution for not turning the file over earlier.

U.S. District Judge Winston Arnow ordered a surprise one-day recess Tuesday in the complex trial of eight members of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War. Arnow said the recess would give the defense time to study FBI interview transcripts with informant William Lemmer.

"I frankly cannot and do not understand why this material was not turned over earlier," Arnow fumed at Asst. U.S. Atty.

Jack Carrouth at the end of the fifth day of trial of the men, accused of plotting violence during the 1972 Republican National Convention.

"It just may be that I'm going to have a conference with the U.S. Attorney — in private," the judge said.

Arnow told the sequestered jurors that they could return to their homes for the day and then called Carrouth and U.S. Atty. William Stafford to his chambers. They emerged 40 minutes later, looking tight-lipped and grim.

He also testified that even after he was unmasked as an FBI monitor, he was invited on a trip to Miami where Camil and defendant Peter J. Mahoney, 23, of New York City met with a Cuban exile group leader.

The prosecution angered Arnow by waiting until the end of Lemmer's testimony before giving the defense transcripts of 10 hours of tape-recorded interviews with the former VVAW member-turned-informant.

He identified the defendants as Stanley K. Michelson Jr., 23, of Gainesville; William J. Patterson, 24, of Austin, Tex.; John Kniffen, 25, of New York City; Alton C. Foss, 25, of Hialeah, Fla.; Donald P. Perdue, 23, of Hollywood, Fla.; and John Briggs, 20, of Gainesville.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a white party cloth and the centerpiece was an elaborately dressed bride doll flanked by two tall white candles in silver holders.

Guests were served fruit punch from a crystal punch bowl, surrounded with cake, mints and coffee.

Approximately 25 friends and relatives were invited to attend including the honoree's mother, Mrs. Robert's Broadway and Mrs. Sue Davis, mother of the future bridegroom.

Miss Universe Beauty Queen Narrates TV News Program

By JOSE MYCHELL
PORTO ALGRESSE, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian beauty Ieda Maria Vargas Athanasio — Miss Universe of 1963 — has returned to the public eye, a decade later, this time with a daily TV news program in this bustling southern Brazilian city.

"I'm doing this for professional reasons. I'm not trying to be a show-window mannequin, nor am I preaching any feminine independence movement like Women's Lib," Mrs. Athanasio said. "My goal is simply to present a good program."

Women news commentators on TV are rare in Brazil, where "machismo" — male dominance — is still a way of life. "I didn't go on television to prove that I'm independent," Mrs. Athanasio stated. "My goal is simply to present a good program."

As Ieda Vargas, the green-eyed, brown-haired Brazilian beauty became an international beauty symbol a decade ago by winning the Miss Universe contest in Miami Beach.

Miss Vargas eventually returned to Brazil and in 1968 married local real estate agent Jose Carlos Athanasio. The couple has a son, Rafael, 2, and another baby is on the way.

Mrs. Athanasio says she's "much more mature" than when she was Miss Universe. But Porto Alegre TV viewers agree that she hasn't lost the youthful beauty that helped her win the title.

"She creates a good impression on camera and has a hoarse voice that is sensational," says Channel 10 news director Carlos Bastos, her new boss.

"I'm still nervous. I can do better," Mrs. Athanasio admitted. Athanasio told a reporter he "agrees" to let his wife take the TV job because that way she will develop herself personally." Although his South American country has no laws prohibiting women from taking most jobs whenever they want, "machismo" tradition dictates that wives don't go to work without their husband's okay.

The important thing is for women to pursue their own goals and feel proud of their own accomplishments. It is in the home or performing a service, such as working in a factory, that a woman can find her own sense of accomplishment.

Rep. Langley Voices Objection To Louisa

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The sponsor of a law imposing a tax on little cigars says he'll ask the legislature to close a loophole that allows most manufacturers of the miniature stogies to blow smoke rings at the statute.

"We're going to take appropriate steps to close the loophole," said Rep. S. Curtis Kiser, R-Dunedin.

State Beverage Director Winston Wynne told the Board of Business Regulation on Tuesday that most manufacturers of the little cigars had been exempted from the 17-cents-a-pack cigarette tax.

Wynne said the manufacturers were using a section of the law, passed by the 1972 legislature, exempting cigars whose tobacco was "fully naturally fermented."

Wynne told the board he expected the one manufacturer left to apply for exemptions for his six brands before Aug. 15.

"We were told by Wynne to expect $3 million in new revenue as a result of the new tax," said Kiser, who guided the law through the House.

But Wynne said Tuesday that most of the $30 million in revenue collected since the law went into effect would have to be returned if the exemptions are okayed.

"I hope they test these affidavits to see if they have been filed in good faith," said Kiser. "One or two tests would bear out if they are using that type of tobacco."

The Senate tacked on the amendment exempting cigars whose tobacco was "fully naturally fermented" as a concession to Florida's cigar industry. The state does not impose a tax on cigars.

In a Monday editorial, The Tampa Tribune said Hodges had not made the property owners' names public and said the parcel was "a speculator's dream" because it was just 10 acres from Walt Disney World. Hodges told the Cabinet it was "just an oversight" that the acquisition proposal listed only a Winter Park bank as trustee for owners of the property, located six miles south of Clermont.

He identified the owners as Richard L. Lindland, president of Campbell-Wyatt-Cannon Foundry of Muskegon, Mich.; J. Gerald Wetzel, president of Stratford Land Co. of Lansing, Mich.; and Vito James Nico of Windermere, Fla.

Hodges said his staff found the proposed purchase in line with an appraisal of the property's value.

He said Langley's letter was the only opposition he has received to buying the site. Both the Lake County Commission and Lake County Conservation Council endorsed the proposed purchase, he said.

In other action Tuesday, the Cabinet authorized spending $7.5 million to buy a 25-acre oceanfront park site at Fort Pierce Inlet in St. Lucie County.

The Sanford Junior League All-Stars moved to within one step of the first state championship over for recreation baseball, with a 2-1 comeback win over Panama City Tuesday, to advance into the final tonight at 8 p.m. against West Palm Beach.

The local diamond nine found run-scoring hits from David Tangway and John Litton in the fifth and sixth innings, respectively, to overcome a one-run advantage by their semi-final opponents, who touched Sanford pitcher Joe Baker for the score in the second frame.

Baker went the entire route, giving up just one hit—an RBI single in the top of the second—to take the win.

Monday, the Junior Leaguers came up with the tie-breaking run in the top of the sixth and then added an insurance run in the seventh, to defeat Fort Walton Beach, 5-3, in the first round of the eight-team tournament.

Earlier in that game, Sanford scored three runs in the first, but the determined Fort Walton Beach nine knotted the score with three hits in the bottom of the fifth.

David Wiggins pitched the entire game for the win, with Jeff Anderson sparking the Sanford attack with two hits and Litton adding the other base tap.

Wiggins is expected to pitch tonight, with either Greg LaTour or Kenny Brown ready to go in to relieve the Sanford hurler.

West Palm Beach clobbered Tallahassee, 15-1, to earn the right to meet Sanford in the state finals.

The Junior League's advance into the finals completes "The best year ever for our Junior West in their state championship bid in Tallahassee," said Harry Smith, a Sanford Recreation Department spokesman, adding that it was the first time that both teams had made it into the final game of state competition.

It's the first time Sanford has had a team in the state finals since 1963, he added.

The Senior League All Stars lost a 3-2 heartbreaker to Key West in their state championship bid in Tallahassee.

The Herald will report results of the championship tilt Thursday, and will then give complete game-by-game results this weekend.

He got on right—on the scoreboard that is...and into the Cincinnati record books as a slugger.

Don Gullett of the Reds and Chicago's Rick Reuschel were locked in a scoreless duel Tuesday night when Morgan strode to the plate in the seventh inning.

Morgan knew what Reuschel would be throwing.

"It was a fastball, and when I went up there I just tried to concentrate on the fastball," he said.

He got it and smashed it over the right field fence for his 17th homer of the season. That was all Gullett needed, making the run stand up with a two-bitter for a 1-4 victory over the Cubs.

Morgan's blast tied him with Alex Kamouris of the 1937 Reds as the most homers by a Cincinnati second baseman.

Elsewhere in the National League, Houston blanked Pittsburgh 2-0, and the New York Mets downed St. Louis 6-3, Los Angeles punned San Diego 6-1 and Montreal edged San Francisco 2-1.

Astron 2, Pirates 0 Don Wilson hurled a four-hitter in the Astrodome triumph over the Pirates. Nelson Briles took the loss for Pittsburgh by giving up Roger Metzger's double and Cesar Cedeno's single in the fourth inning. The Houston added an insurance run in the eighth.

He lined a seven-inning tie-breaking homer off Tom Bradley, snapping a 1-1 tie to give Montreal its fourth straight victory.

Mets 6, Cards 5 Rusty Staub singled and John Mendenhall doubled, setting the stage for "best" first-run single in the third inning and starting the Mets on the way to their victory over St. Louis.

The loss prevented the Cardinals from widening their five game lead in the East Division.

Dodgers 6, Padres 1 Los Angeles, retaining its four-game West Division lead over the resurgent Reds, did all its scoring in the first two innings against the Padres.

St. Diego finally broke a 26-inning scoreless drought in the ninth when Leroy Lee hit a bases-loaded single, averting a third straight Padres shutout.

Expos 2, Giants 1 The Expos climbed into a virtual second place in the National League East, closing to within five games of St. Louis and a scant one percentage point of runner-up Chicago. It was Bob Bailey's last that brought them there.

In the American League, Kansas City beat Boston 7-6 in 11 innings, California defeated Milwaukee 6-5 in 10, the Chicago White Sox toppled Cleveland 6-5 in 12 and, in a 150-of doubleheader splits, Texas beat New York 2-1 before losing to the Yankees 3-1, Oakland walloped Detroit 6-4 before the Tigers lamed the A's 5-6, and Minnesota beat Baltimore 4-2 before the Orioles stormed back for a 16-4 second game victory.

"I'm always disappointed if I don't win one of these," said Reggie.

The Orioles' Reggie Williams is expected to pitch tonight, with either Greg LaTour or Kenny Brown ready to go in to relieve the Sanford hurler.

Poor Pressbox Rating
Daytona International Speedway has the greatest stock car race on the NASCAR circuit in the Daytona 500. Unfortunately, according to the latest report by the National Motor Press Association, their press box facilities are rated "poor."

The Board of Directors of the NMPA conducted a poll of its members covering the Firecracker 400 on July 4th and from that poll came the "poor" rating.

Scribes were asked to rate these categories: authorized press only, limited noise while working, flow of information on race day, pit information on race day, information on qualifying, control of press box and press parking.

The categories in which the Daytona facility received its lowest ratings were authorized press only, pit information and control of press box.

According to an evaluation formula worked out by the committee the scale read excellent 316-420; good 211-315; fair 106-210 and poor 0-105. The Daytona rating for the July 4th event was 84.

Too Many Freeloaders
The NMPA was quick to point out that the report given was not to be critical but a report for the track to use as a guideline in their future services to the press.

Among the comments made by those scribes covering the Firecracker were that the press box is beautiful but they (Daytona) tend to think and deal more with accessory people and ignore working needs of the press.

Also it was felt there were too many "freeloaders," not associated with racing working around in the Press Box, creating noise after the race, while others were working.

And it was also pointed out that parking for VIP's was such that it left little for press parking.

The situation "must" be getting bad at the Daytona press facility, for we did not see a single report of any scribe snoozing while the race was going on.

Some fellows either have damn ears or else forgot their ear plugs on race day. They aren't going to tell us that their newsroom has perfect silence while those geniuses are hard at work.

Four For The Money?
How many golf tournaments do you see four pros disqualified for the same infraction? The only one we know of was the recent LPGA Classic in Columbus where controversial Jane Blalock and three others were disqualified for removing guy wires from young trees on the course.

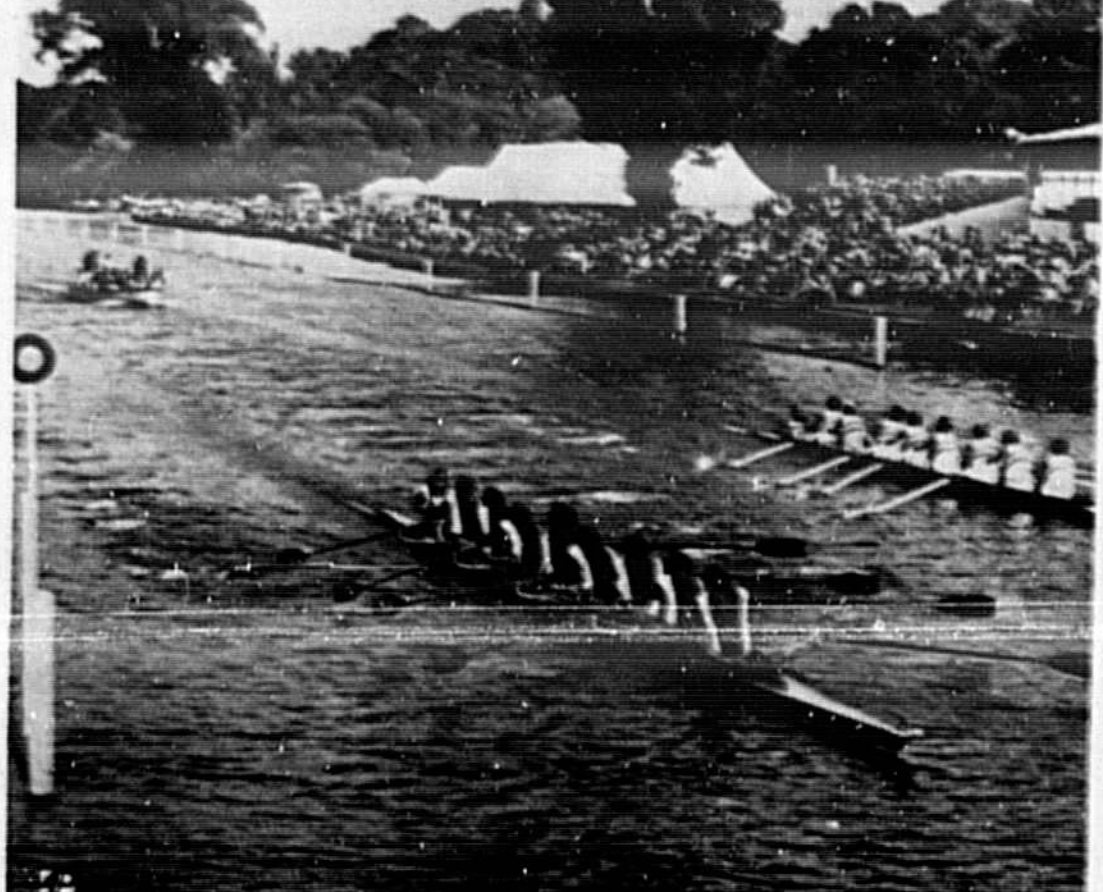

Others dismissed with Blalock were Betty Burfeindt, Beth Stone and Jo Ann Prentice.

The story went with little said and it seems odd what with Miss Blalock always being "newsworthy" especially in an instance such as this with the LPGA recently refiling their suit.

Burfeindt is fourth on this year's money list, with $38,250; Blalock has won $29,237; Prentice is in with $20,287 while Miss Stone has won $13,291.

Improper Relief
LPGA Classic officials claimed the four obtained "improper relief from tree wires in the second round."

Judy Rankin, the leading money winner on the LPGA tour, captured the $5,250 first prize in the Classic, increasing her slim lead over last year's leading money winner, Kathy Whitworth.

A's Lineup 'Hollow' Perry Ruins 'Musical' Protest

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Who's on first? That matter, who's on second, or third? Those were some of the questions that manager Billy Martin asked his players as he scanned Oakland's lineup card for the Oakland game of Tuesday's two-night doubleheader.

Among the other problems confronting Martin were trying to figure out who was in left, center and right field, who was pitching, catching and playing shortstop, and who was the designated hitter.

It wasn't a trick on the part of Tricky Dick Williams, the Oakland pilot, who has been known to play musical chairs with his line-ups.

"I just forgot to put the positions down," said Williams, who has been putting positions down on major league lineup cards since 1967.

After one batter, Martin marched out to inform umpire Larry McCoy that he was playing the game under protest because there was no way he could tell the designated hitter.

"I would have taken my chances on a protest," Williams said, "but Jim Perry pitched a 2-0 shutout against us, so it doesn't make any difference."

Actually, Perry and John Hiller combined on the shutout. That earned the Tigers a split—the A's took the opener 8-4 and kept them out of the American League's East Division by one-half game over Baltimore, one game over New York and 1 1/2 over Boston.

The Orioles dropped their opener to the Minnesota Twins 4-2 but took the nightcap 10-4, the Yankees beat the Texas Rangers 3-1 after dropping the opener 2-1 and Kansas City ripped the Red Sox 7-6 in 11 innings.

Elsewhere, the California Angels edged the Milwaukee Brewers 6-5 in 10 innings and the Chicago White Sox shaded the Cleveland Indians 6-5 in 12.

Martin didn't have a chance to protest the first game. He was ejected by McCoy for protesting a play at first base.

The A's also managed a split in the ninth inning after the Yankees had scored their one run. Also had three hits in that game too.

Bye-bye, 3 Red Sox 6 Lou Piniella doubled home the winning run, tied it with a sixth-inning triple.

Ken Berry danglely riced home from third on Bob Olevy's bases-loaded, newsworthy hit in the 10th inning, which Milwaukee shortstop Tim Johnson caught with his back to the plate. That gave the victory to freewheeling Nolan Ryan, who led his own American League mark of eight consecutive strikeouts.

White Sox 6, Indians 5 Rookie Jerry Hairston's two-out single in the bottom of the 12th following an intentional walk to Carlos May scored Bill Melton from second base with the winning run. The Indians kayped 26-game winner Wilbur Wood by scoring four runs in the first two innings.

The A's also managed a split in the ninth inning after the Yankees had scored their one run. Also had three hits in that game too.

Bye-bye, 3 Red Sox 6 Lou Piniella doubled home the winning run, tied it with a sixth-inning triple.

Ken Berry danglely riced home from third on Bob Olevy's bases-loaded, newsworthy hit in the 10th inning, which Milwaukee shortstop Tim Johnson caught with his back to the plate. That gave the victory to freewheeling Nolan Ryan, who led his own American League mark of eight consecutive strikeouts.

White Sox 6, Indians 5 Rookie Jerry Hairston's two-out single in the bottom of the 12th following an intentional walk to Carlos May scored Bill Melton from second base with the winning run. The Indians kayped 26-game winner

Canterbury Is Anything But A Cnch

CANTERBURY—There are some who call Canterbury Golf Club "shortie" but those individuals are only looking at the total yardage and the 18 hole par figures which are 6,832 and 71 respectively. It's short by most standards but certainly anything but a cinch.

This course perhaps more than any other will make this year will demand the ultimate in accuracy. Some long ball hitters may see their drive off four or five times all day.

No. 1, Par 4
438 Yards

Excellent beginning hole. Dogleg right which requires good driver off tee. Maximum tee shot will allow five or six iron to green. This tee shot is "toughened" by inability to see the landing spot. Players may be hitting into a prevailing wind off tee as well. Green is typical of Ohio landscape, rolling, and is well protected by bunkers and the fact that it tilts back to front. Needless to say this is not one of the birdie holes on the course.

No. 2, PAR 4
277 Yards

Position site of place begins here with many players forced to use 3-wood off tee. Idea is to keep ball in play on dogleg left fairway. High rough on left guards hole right. Long bunker protecting left side. Average green can then be reached with eight or nine iron. A few of the long hitters, or the more daring, may attempt to cut off some distance by going over the corner of the dogleg. In any event the hole rates as one which can be easily birdied, if played correctly.

No. 3, Par 3
180 Yards

Under normal conditions a four or five iron will reach this large green which has a large lake out in front. While many pros will try to hook to reach green, those pulling ball to left will be penalized by very large tree on left side. Large flat green affords good use of putts which could lead to several birdies.

No. 4, Par 4
439 Yards

Another of the demanding holes on the course. Elevated tee to well-trapped fairway contrasts first shot. Dogleg left guarded by heavy, deep rough on right. Hitting fairway essential. Prevailing wind here again. Second shot to green catches another of the many well placed Canterbury tall trees. Small green is well-trapped with largest in front.

No. 5, Par 4
465 Yards

While this hole looks straight and easy, it too is very deceptive. Again second shot is key after players let it from a bunker. Large tree on right side about 240 yards out can pose problem. Well trapped green should be reached by four or five iron on second shot. Severe putting surface makes second shot placement vital. Certainly not one of the easy par holes with birdies quite scarce.

No. 6, Par 5
508 Yards

Retreating pause, a birdie hole, but certainly no gimme. Long hitter off tee may reach green with one or two iron, others will only have pitch shot. The hooked tee shot is in deep trouble. A muck to left side virtually assures bogey. Most will be happy with par here.

No. 7, Par 3
301 Yards

Well placed tee shot is must. Severe drop-off measured 30 yards on left with large trees on right as well as numerous protecting bunkers. Pretty hole for fans but possible "ugly" for cranks. A muck to left side virtually assures bogey. Most will be happy with par here.

No. 8, Par 4
418 Yards

Considered key hole on front nine, but not the entire course. Par is relatively easy but so is disaster. It's uphill to get away from trees all day. Avoided with trees all the way and a gully as well as out of bounds. Fairway wood or long iron may be selected to stay out of trouble. Another of the long holes. Second shot to green critical with putting surface

Pacemaker Recharge Possible

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

SILVER SPRING, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Helen Chambers, a 77-year-old grey-haired Baltimore resident, recharges her implanted cardiac pacemaker "while I'm reading, or watching TV, crocheting, or doing embroidery."

Robert Frazier, a 33-year-old athletic looking amateur weightlifter, sometimes recharges his "while I'm sleeping or watching TV."

Mrs. Chambers and Frazier, both of whom have serious heart conditions, are two wearers of the world's first rechargeable pacemakers. The devices, implanted beneath their chest skins, are recharged weekly by the patient themselves. They do so by first donning small "recharge" pads. Their plug wires from small recharge boxes into regular house electric outlets.

The box sends current to a small recharging coil attached to the vest over the implanted pacemaker, which is linked to the heart by a wire.

The coil converts the current to a magnetic field. This is transmitted through the patient's intact skin and recharges the battery of the implanted pacemaker. A yellow flash on the recharge box and a warning-buzzer sounds if the pacemaker is not being properly charged.

The two Baltimore patients told Tuesday about the do-it-yourself recharging process at a news conference called by scientists of the Johns Hopkins University, developers of the device.

Development of the pacemaker was first disclosed last May. The scientists said in a progress report that they have implanted pacemakers in five patients at the Baltimore hospital. They said nearly 50 other pacemakers have been manufactured and that most of these have been implanted and are working successfully in patients at a number of other American medical centers.

The new stainless steel pacemaker is about the size of a flat cigarette-lighter.

It was described as designed primarily to eliminate the need for surgical operations, every three to five years, to replace run-down chemical batteries of conventional pacemakers.

'Full Mission' For Skylab Crew

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — With Skylab 2's astronauts finally settled into an orbital routine, space agency officials have expressed confidence that the mission can go the full 30 days.

"The worst may be over," one official said Tuesday in looking back on the astronauts' illnesses and technical problems that plagued the flight during its first 11 days.

The three crewmen, Alan L. Bean, Dr. Owen K. Garriott and Jack R. Lousma, planned a day of experiments today with their solar telescopes, medical devices and earth resources photosensors.

Garriott, the first solar physicist in space, finally got his long-awaited chance to exercise the solar telescopes on Monday — task delayed a week because of the earlier problems.

His observations are expected to add a new dimension to the study of the sun, its source of power and how it affects the patient and communications on earth.

Flight Director Milton Windler expressed confidence about completing the mission and said the astronauts would spend part of each day during the coming week in troubleshooting numerous problems still outstanding.

The most serious problem is with two steering rockets on the Apollo command ship which is to ferry the astronauts back to earth on Sept. 25. Experts feel the Apollo can safely do the job, but until they fully understand the trouble, they have as a precaution ordered launch crews at Cape Kennedy to prepare a rescue rocket and spacecraft.

Crews are working around the clock, and the rescue ship is scheduled to be ready for launch on Sept. 10, or shortly after, if it is needed.

Serious Crime Rate Declines 2 Per Cent

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Serious crime in the United States fell 2 per cent last year for the first decrease in 17 years, Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson said today.

The overall numbers dropped, the volume of violent crimes continued to increase but at rates somewhat less than in previous years, according to the FBI report released by Richardson and FBI director Clarence M. Kelley.

The 272-page volume of statistics is the annual edition of the FBI Uniform Crime Reports, containing final tabulations for 1972.

Richardson said he considers the reports an inaccurate and incomplete measure of the crimes committed because they are based on data from state and local police officials.

In his report, the FBI agreed that many crimes go unreported but said the compilation reflects at least some measure of crime trends.

The report defines serious crime as murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny $50 and over, and auto theft.

The total reported for 1972 was 5,891,900, compared with 5,995,200 for 1971.

Violent crimes, which totaled 828,100, reflected an overall 2 per cent increase over 1971.

Losing Watergate Irks Petersen

By JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anger, his voice at times squeaking, Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry E. Petersen poured out his resentment at losing control of the Watergate case to a special prosecutor.

"Damn it, I think it is a reflection on me and the Department of Justice," said Petersen, who rose from messenger to major-domo in 26 years in the department.

Following Petersen's testimony, the Senate Watergate committee recessed Tuesday to an indefinite date after the congressional summer recess ends on Sept. 3. The committee has heard 26 witnesses since it began its televised hearings May 17, but still has not quite finished the first — the Watergate phase of its three-pronged investigation of presidential campaign practices.

Meanwhile, the committee's chief counsel, Samuel Dash, said the panel was about ready to file its lawsuit asking a federal judge to order President Nixon to supply the committee with tapes and documents relating to Watergate. He said the suit will be filed by Thursday, Nixon, through his attorneys, told a U.S. District Court judge Tuesday that the courts have no authority to force him to turn over the material in a similar suit, filed by special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox.

After Petersen erupted in anger over losing the investigation to Cox, he apologized to the committee.

"Excuse my emotions but I have been there too long and this has been a terrible year," he said.

Petersen took charge of the investigation hours after five men were arrested inside Democratic national headquarters at the Watergate complex June 17, 1972.

As head of the criminal division, he supervised the three young prosecutors who caught convictions of the five burglars and two former White House aides — G. Gordon Liddy and E. Howard Hunt Jr.

Then, when new breaks in the case implicated higher-ups last April, Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst was forced out of the case, and later out of office, because some of the accusations were leveled against his friends. Petersen began reporting directly to the President.

But within weeks the new attorney general, Elliot L. Richardson, fulfilled a promise to the Senate and named Cox as an independent special prosecutor to take over the case.

"You will excuse me, I have to get something off my chest," Petersen told the Watergate committee.

"I resent the appointment of a special prosecutor. Damn it, I think it is a reflection on me and Kleindienst were forced out of the Department of Justice."

"We would have broken that case wide open and we would have done it in the most difficult of circumstances. And do you know what happened? That case was snatched out from under us when we had it 90 per cent complete."

A Salad For All Purposes
By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor
An all-purpose salad is crackly crisp and sweet with a combination of sliced Florida celery, raisins, chopped walnuts and carrots. Dressing has a sour cream base. Serve it with roast pork, chicken or a cheese main dish or with cold cuts. This salad does not wilt quickly so it is a good choice for a buffet dish.

Celery Slaw
3 cups thinly sliced Florida celery
1/2 cup coarsely shredded carrots
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1/2 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons ground black pepper
1/2 cup dairy sour cream

In a small bowl combine celery with carrots, raisins and walnuts; set aside. Blend together oil, vinegar, salt and black pepper. Slowly stir in sour cream. Pour over celery mixture; toss lightly. Serve with roast poultry or fish. Makes 6 portions.

Quick Fix Desserts Delight Hostesses

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copy News Service

Make-ahead desserts which can be finished off and stored in the refrigerator are a delight to hostesses who want to have meal climaxes which are just as impressive as the entrees.

Such desserts are Frozen Apple Souffle, a light-as-a-cloud dessert flavored with apple sauce, and Hawaiian Pineapple Charlotte, made with a devil's food cake mix and flavored with cream de menthe.

Both are handsome molded desserts, given lightness with gelatin. The Frozen Apple Souffle is molded in a souffle dish. The Charlotte is molded in a spring form pan.

- FROZEN APPLE SOUFFLE
- 4 egg yolks
  - 1 cup sugar
  - 1 envelope plain gelatin
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup light cream
  - 2 cups canned apple sauce
  - 1 teaspoon vanilla
  - 2 cups heavy cream, whipped
  - Semidried cherries (optional)
  - Walnuts or pecans (optional)

Beat egg yolks in top of double boiler over hot water until they become very light. Gradually beat in sugar mixed with gelatin and salt. Heat together light cream and apple sauce. When mixture is hot, gradually add to thick egg mixture, stirring all the time. Continue to cook and stir over hot water until mixture is thick and smooth, or until mixture coats a metal spoon. Empty water from bottom of double boiler and fill with ice cubes; replace top section of double boiler containing cooked mixture and cool over ice, stirring frequently. Add vanilla to cream and whip until stiff. Fold whipped cream and cooled apple custard together. If mixture is thick and fairly stiff, turn it into a small one-quart souffle dish with three-inch band of foil tied around outside top; chill in freezer overnight. If mixture is not very thick and tends to be liquid, leave in mixing bowl and chill, folding at intervals, until thick enough to heap in chilled souffle dish, then chill as above. If desired garnish with cherries and nuts. Makes six to eight servings.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE CHARLOTTE

1 (9 ounce) package devil's food cake mix
1 (1 1/4 ounce) can crushed pineapple
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/4 cups milk
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup white cream de cacao
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Two-thirds cup whipping cream

Beat cake mix with 1/2 cup milk and 1/4 cup oil. Bake in 8-inch square pan for 20 minutes. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat egg yolks with 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 cup oil. Fold in whipped cream. Spread over cake. Top with pineapple and whipped cream. Chill for 4 hours.

Prepare batter from cake mix as package directs; bake in greased 8-inch layer cake pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes, until cake tests done. LIKE A CLOUD--Frozen Apple Souffle, a party-time beauty, is a make-ahead dessert with cloudlike qualities.

Fresh Bartlett Pears Are Tops In Taste

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

There are lovely things to do with fresh Bartlett pears. Here are four suggestions:

For a salad go back to a dish that was popular years ago. Peel fresh pears and cut out the seeds and stem structure. Arrange pear halves, flat side down, on salad greens, cover with cream cheese softened with a little cream. Stud the pear halves with whole small or halved large seedless green grapes so that each pear looks like a bunch of grapes. You'll need a three-ounce package of cream cheese and two tablespoons of cream for four pear halves.

Broil pears and serve for Sunday brunch with ham and eggs. Pare the pears and cut each in half lengthwise; remove seeds and stem structure. Fill pear cavities with honey, spreading a little butter on the top surface. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon. Place in a shallow baking pan or on foil with edges turned up and broil about four inches from high heat until fruit is hot through and flecked with brown.

Poach fresh pear halves and serve with vanilla ice cream and semi-sweet chocolate sauce. Call this dessert Pears Helene.

As an interesting accompaniment for poultry or meat, make up a batch of Apricot Mustard. The recipe follows.

APRICOT MUSTARD PEARS
4 fresh Bartlett pears
1/2 cup apricot jam
2 tablespoons or more prepared mustard
1/2 cup water

2 or 3 tablespoons lemon juice
Thin lemon slices
Wash pears; cut each in half lengthwise. With a melon ball cutter or a 1/4 teaspoon measuring spoon, remove seeds. With a small sharp knife, remove stem structure.

In a large skillet mix together the apricot jam, prepared mustard, water and lemon juice. Add pear halves to skillet. Cook gently, covered, until pears are tender. Add lemon slices.

Serve hot or chilled as a garnish for meat or poultry. Makes 8 servings.

Note: Pears may be pared, if you like. In this case, use a swivel-blade vegetable peeler and pare pears before halving.

Freezing is an excellent way to preserve leftover beef in top condition. To avoid losing track of or forgetting about small packages of leftover meat in the freezer, consolidate them by grouping individually wrapped items together in a large transparent bag. Be sure to label each.

LOS ANGELES—Shoppers everywhere are finding that feeding a family is eating up their paychecks.

"Prices are ridiculous," Mrs. James Stille said after making a few purchases at a local market.

Mrs. Louise Evans summed up her reaction to rising food costs in one word, "incredible."

She said she expects the cost of many things she always has bought, but purchases some of the more expensive items less often.

"I just do without the big steaks and roasts," she said. Like many shoppers, she also has noted a sharp rise in the cost of eggs.

She said she expected the jump in prices when she heard about the Newcastle disease epidemic which resulted in the killing of millions of chickens.

The largest single complaint of shoppers is the price of meat, according to Leo Gilleran of suburban Glendale, vice president of a chain of grocery stores.

"We try to explain that the rise in price is not our fault. We're just a pidgeon in the game," he said.

The increase in food prices has not helped the stores, he said. In fact, it has hurt them. "Earnings of supermarkets across the country are down."

Another common scapegoat for high meat prices is the livestock producer.

But cattlemen are just getting back to the profit rate they made 20 years ago, according to Earl E. Butz, agriculture secretary.

How much have meat costs risen? Western Livestock Marketing Information shows that in January of 1968 the average retail price of choice beef was 85 cents per pound.

This represents an increase of 40 per cent in four years.

The price of beef has risen at a greater rate than that of any other meat.

There is no single reason for the increase and no easy answer for the homemaker who wants to know why her meat costs keep rising.

To some extent, the consumer himself might be to blame.

American eat 47 pounds more meat per year than he did 25 years ago.

To make matters worse, there are 61 million more people in the country to provide meat for now.

Most shoppers want the most popular beef cuts, even though these cuts make up only half of all retail cuts, according to Sharon Higgins, home adviser of the agricultural extension of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Reports indicate that consumers have continued to consume more beef, despite even higher meat prices.

All this adds up to only one fact, there is a very great demand for meat in America today.

Since the cost of meat is determined by bidding, the demand has done its part of increasing prices.

But that is not the whole picture.

Forces of nature which began months ago at the farm feedlots

Feeding The Family

Food Budget Can Eat Up Paycheck

are affecting current prices. Meat Board President Stille said.

He added that lower cattle has been coming to market this year because of a hard winter and the corn blight of 1971.

Uncontrollable forces of nature have affected egg and poultry prices, according to Robert Bernier, of the Pacific Egg and Poultry Association.

The recent increase in poultry and egg prices can be traced to the Newcastle disease epidemic and generally bad weather, he said.

The epidemic resulted in the slaughter of eight million chickens in Southern California.

Bad weather has also doubled the price of soybeans, used for chicken feed, Bernier said.

Prof. Haring gave increasing production costs for farmers as a third reason for price inflation.

"Production costs have increased so rapidly that many small farmers have been squeezed out," he said.

A final reason for the meat cost inflation is increased salaries in the marketing process.

For example, a Department of Agriculture report shows that hourly earnings of meat packing and processing employees increased 36 per cent over the last 10 years, and wages of retail employees rose 38 per cent.

The outlook for 1973 meat prices from a variety of sources is that they will not decrease, but the rate of increase will not be as great as it was in 1972.

Haring, head of the economics department at Occidental College, there are at least three other major reasons for higher meat prices.

The first of these is the "dramatic increase" in the export of food grains, particularly the exports to Russia.

He said the export shipments decreased the supply of grains and increased their price.

"Since livestock producers use grain to feed livestock, the higher cost of grains is reflected in the higher prices of meats."

A second reason for higher prices is poor weather and unfavorable conditions for agriculture, Haring said.

The effect of the Soviet-Chinese grain deal might not have been felt so heavily if the bad weather had not already decreased the supply of grains for feed.

The hoopla, turmoil, jostling and crowding into an overpacked room for the sake of attending a much-publicized wine tasting, is just for this year.

The Fifth National Auction of Rare Wines, presented by Heublein Inc., brought a total of $273,000 from some 1,000 interested people.

I attended the previous tasting at the Stanford Court Hotel in San Francisco. Other tastings were held on the Queen Mary in Long Beach, in New York City, Dallas and Atlanta. The actual auction took place at the Atlanta Memorial Arts Center.

The rules of the game are simple: you can either attend the auction and bid on the wines offered or send a sealed bid. The winner is the highest bidder. It is absolutely amazing how many people vie for the right to outbid another wine buff. What is more astonishing is what discomfort people will endure for the privilege of tasting some unusual wines.

At the tasting, I went to bid from noon to 5 p.m., and 2,000 people has been sent invitations. When the doors to the Grand Ballroom were opened at precisely noon, it seemed to me that some 4,000 people stampeded through and directly to the glass-laden tables. They walked in, they ran in, they scrambled in, they tore in and I even saw four different men huddle in on crutches. To my fascinated amazement, there was one determined soul so intent on getting to the sampling that he came in on an electric wheelchair.

There were some extraordinary wines on display but, because of a new interpretation of the California wine tasting rules, only the brands actually owned by Heublein could be tasted.

The waiters were instructed to pour only one-quarter-ounce per glass. They were accurate to the drop. I tasted one-half-ounce of imported wines. Lacking the physical stamina or mental attitude to elbow my way to the front of a glass of the new, quite remarkable champagne from Beauville and elected to watch in wonderment.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I can't really writing a "Dear Abby" letter, but a friend has just put me on the spot, and I don't know how to handle it.

Sarah is a 29-year-old widow who "fell in love" with a 72-year-old widower she met on a cruise last winter. They are being married soon. She was as just as excited as a teen-ager. I think she's flipped her lid. She wants a bridal shower! Abby, Sarah has everything she needs, and she can afford to buy anything she wants, but she insists it's not the gifts, it's just the idea of having a shower.

She said when she was married the first time, things were rough, and she never had a shower, and now she'd like one. Sarah is such a dear and generous person I hate to let her down, but Abby, can I invite women to a bridal shower for a 29-year-old bride who has everything?

ON THE SPOT IN PASSAIC

DEAR ON: Easy. Make it a gag gift shower. Ask everyone to bring a cute little inexpensive present for the 29-year-old bride of a 72-year-old groom. The possibilities are endless. [Also hilarious.]

DEAR ABBY: There's this dude named Nicky I really dig. We are both nearly 16. The other night I called Nicky up because he was home just getting over [all things] the chicken pox!

The time passed so fast I didn't realize we'd talked for four hours, but this is what I want to say, Nicky said: "Hey, wait a minute, I think somebody's at the front door." Then he came back and said: "My dad is out of town on business and he's been trying to call the house for four hours, and he got so ticked off he called our next door neighbor long distance and asked him to come over here and tell whoever was on the phone to get the hell outta here!" Naturally, we got off fast, but here's the problem.

Nicky's dad put Nicky on restriction for a whole month. That means we can't go anywhere. Do you think this is a fair punishment for a little thing like that?

FEELS AWFUL

DEAR FEELS: It's a bit stiff. But I'll bet in the future, Nicky either gets his own telephone, or limits his conversations to 10 minutes.

DEAR ABBY: My grandson has been engaged to a lovely girl for a year and they are now making wedding plans. I know that both my grandson and his fiancée would like more than anything else in the world to go on a nice honeymoon, but they can't afford it because they have been buying appliances and household furnishings together.

I told him that I'll let my friends and relatives know that they would rather have a donation toward their honeymoon than a set of wedding presents, but he says he just couldn't tell them that it would sound cheap.

What do you think?

GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: He's right. He can't ask for money instead of gifts, but as his grandmother, you could suggest it to the relatives.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES. The morning is fine for continuing along the same lines as the two previous days. It is advisable that you avoid overly hasty actions in the afternoon and accept delays and obstacles with patience. Use extreme care in traveling.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can get fine ideas in the morning regarding the future so talk them over with associates. Don't go off on any tangents. Show that you are a fine citizen. Improve harmony at home.

AURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Follow your hunches during the morning. A business matter needs your full attention in the afternoon. Don't give advice to others unless asked to do so. Avoid one who likes to control.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) During the morning come to a better understanding with those who mean much to you. You know exactly how to drive away opposition. Trended your way. Engage in amusements in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Attend to important duties early in the day so that you can later be with others for exchanging ideas. Show co-workers more cooperation than in the past. Use your own ingenuity to gain your objectives instead of depending on others so much and gain the favor of higher-ups.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make appointments early in the day and then carry through with the work you have to do. Make sure you keep promises you have made. Assisting others will be greatly appreciated at this time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle family affairs early and then make plans to engage in the recreation you enjoy. Strive for more harmony with associates. An ally should be treated with understanding now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Think out a new arrangement that can put your life on a more satisfactory basis. Exercise boundless cheerfulness. Do your shopping early. Avoid going out in the evening if you can.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Handle money matters as soon as possible today. Use tact in affairs, especially those of long standing. Don't argue with family in afternoon. Learn to depend on yourself more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan social affairs much to your liking. Sidelight an opponent who could cause unexpected trouble. Help someone in need.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Study your plans carefully before putting them in operation later in the day. Attending to a group affair in the evening can bring fine results now. Show that you are a good citizen.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Discuss your ambitions with your friends before attending to regular routines. Show others that you are a friendly person and get good results. The evening is fine for the social.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make sure you handle financial matters skillfully today. Use your own ingenuity to gain your objectives instead of depending on others so much and gain the favor of higher-ups.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those dynamic young people with fine ideas who will accomplish a great deal early in life. Be sure to permit your progeny to get into life's work as early as possible so that much abundance can be realized. Later in life there could be a great number of delays and disappointments.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
