

Former Pion Leads CCF Government In Saskatchewan

REGINA, Saskatchewan — Here in Canada's midwest is a quiet, quiet 30-year-old man whose infectious smile and physical face are as familiar to Saskatchewan's 600,000 people as are the features of President Eisenhower to America's 100 million.

He is Thomas Clement Douglas, former Baptist clergyman, former amateur lightweight boxing champion of Manitoba, and for the past 10 years premier of Saskatchewan's Co-operative Commonwealth Federation (CCF) government.

"The only socialist form of government in North America," say Canadian newspapers. Not a daily paper supports the CCF.

Socialist or not, the government presents an absorbing drama that reflects themes both familiar and vital in the states.

In the 1930s the dry years came to Saskatchewan. The rich earth was scorched by the burning sun and the cattle lay dead in the alkali-white courses of the dried-up rivers. There was poverty and despair even more acute than in the American dust bowl far to the south. Thousands left the province. More than half of those who stayed were in some form of relief.

Then nature smiled. The wheat grew in bumper crops. Oil and uranium were discovered. Now the province is one of the richest in Canada.

Who gets the credit for this? The CCF under the leadership of Tommy Douglas, says the CCF. "We'd have had prosperity anyway," says a member of the opposition Liberty Party which the CCF swept out of office. "And if we hadn't had CCF interference we'd have had even greater prosperity."

The CCF government that came into power in 1944 launched idealistic social schemes, prepared hospital care, compulsory automobile accident insurance, government-owned industrial and commercial enterprises, measures of farm security.

Within CCF ranks they paint this picture of Saskatchewan when Tommy Douglas and his party came to power:

The farmers, who form the base of the province's economy, were getting on their feet after the lean years but they had no protection against crop failure. Rural schools were antiquated; medical facilities inadequate; roads in disrepair. Only 137 of the thousands of farms had electricity. As a result, there had been a steady erosion of the rural population, especially among young people.

The government went into industry in an effort to attract private capital, create manufacturing employment and stem the downward drift of population. Altogether it has set up 16 industries since 1944. Six have closed, four after losing up substantial losses. It operates an air service and a bus company with monopoly of provincial routes. A timer board regulates cutting and sale of timber, some of which goes to a government-owned saw factory. An intricate

Inventor Unveils 15 Ton 'Rhino' Swamp Buggy

INDIANAPOLIS — The man who took the splash out of the kitchen sink unveiled a grotesque, five-ton vehicle today that can roll like a ball through a swamp.

The inventor, Ellis P. Ashmides, used the ball principle to move his mechanical monster through mud and sand, speed 45 miles an hour over highways, even ford streams and churn out onto a lake. Ashmides calls it the "Rhino."

The new vehicle was given its first public test here today and Ashmides called it the greatest achievement of his life.

The "Rhino," which looks like a half of a tank, is set at slight angles to the motive chassis, they provide traction on uneven terrain, can climb a 45 per cent grade and tip at an angle of 45 degrees.

Rubber treads permit the 45 mph highway speed, with only a 110-horsepower engine.

Engineers of Marmon-Herrington, who have been building and testing the Rhino since 1940, believe the highway speed can be improved to 60 with a bigger engine.

A hydramat unit provides the power when the Rhino takes to deep water, but the present water speed is only five miles an hour.

Ashmides, a 35-year-old New York inventor born to Greek parents in Constantinople, thanks his Rhinos to the necessity to tanks and tractors with clanking treads that cut up roads.

Ashmides has been best known for his vacuum-fused gadget which mixes a gush of water to eliminate splashing in kitchen sinks.

Leaders Moving Out Of Kremlin

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW — A campaign is under way to de-emphasize the Kremlin as the seat of Soviet government power and to establish the ancient walled fortress as a symbol of Russian history and culture.

Government leaders are moving out to scattered villas and many government departments already have been established elsewhere in Moscow. A plan has even been announced to move the bodies of Nikolai Lenin and Joseph Stalin from their Red Square tomb to a planned new pantheon in the outlying Lenin Hills.

Just across Moskouvretz Square from the Kremlin on the banks of the Moscow River, the Krest frame-work of a new skyscraper is going up. Muscovites say upon completion this will provide government offices, enabling remaining officials at the Kremlin to leave.

Persons at the British Embassy dinner for former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his Labor party delegation during their recent visit to Moscow said Communist party secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev told them the government hopes to open the entire Kremlin to the public as a museum within a relatively short time.

The informed sources, who did not tell them the government was planning to leave the Kremlin altogether, but said such a decision must be taken from the plans to make it a museum.

The greater part of the province is organized into larger school units with greatly improved facilities; educational grants have been tripled. Labor legislation has given all workers collective bargaining rights, minimum wages and workmen's compensation have been increased with every employee assured two weeks vacation with pay a year. Expenditures on highways have risen from three million to 15 million dollars a year. About 25,000 farms have been electrified.

American Way

By GEORGE PECK
There is an old saying which goes something like this: "You can take the boy out of the small-town but you can't take the small-town out of the boy."

Like most of the old bromides, it's true—no true. Many years ago your American Way reporter shook the dust off his boots and migrated to the big city. It was a great adventure—al first.

The big city with its bustle and activity, its towering millions of cliff-dwellers rushing hither and yon for no apparent good reason, its theaters, museums, skyscrapers, night clubs—these and a thousand and one other wonders of the metropolis captivated the young man from the sticks at first.

He even got a thrill out of the worm's-eye view of the city which he got as he took his first ride on the subway, despite the pushing, nudging and crowding which are part and parcel of that mode of travel. It wasn't long, however, until this particular facet of city life lost its glamour—in fact became a distinct pain in the neck.

And now my hour of emancipation at long last has arrived. When you read this I will have said goodbye to the smog and carbon monoxide of New York City and have said hello to Laskin where I look forward to lasking in the sunshine and clean atmosphere of that great state.

My home and office will be located at Largo—a small town located on the Gulf Coast between St. Petersburg and Clearwater.

During the years that I was a captive of the big city I repeatedly stated in this column that the real people of America are not to be found in the metropolitan centers, but in the smaller communities and the unincorporated areas; and that if this nation is to be saved from the enemies who would destroy us, the grass roots people will do the saving.

And during those same years I have come to know and respect a large number of the men and women who publish the weekly newspapers in those smaller communities. These papers constitute the last of a few presses in America that are not owned by a few big cities.

Most of our metropolitan newspapers no longer seem to be concerned with preserving what our Founding Fathers bequeathed to this nation as a matter of fact, all too many of them actually editorialize and slant their news in such manner as to give great help to the subversives who would sow discord in America and take our freedoms from us.

So, as once again I become a small-town boy (I use the word "boy" loosely), here's one more salute to those loyal American men and women who publish and edit the rural press. May God give them the strength to continue their fight, not only to maintain a press free, fair and honest, but to make this an even better country in which to work and live.

And finally, my congratulations to me on having done my time in the big city and upon my parole into the custody of the friendly people of a small-town. My fervent hope is that they'll be as pleased to have this reconverted small-town boy in their midst as I am to be there.

Motorists' Excuses, Retorts On Air

SPOKANE, Wash., (AP)—George Amans learned radio on a police car inter-com, but today he's the northwest's most successful amateur radio personality.

A tall, handsome, well-dressed man, Amans uses a microphone and recorder to put the finger on traffic violators and back up a state-wide drive to cut fatalities.

He was on hand the other day when one driver turned from the wrong lane, whipped past a stop sign and weaved across a white line.

Pulled aside at the curb, the driver said: "That thing has gotten out of hand, officer. I'm going to tell the governor. He's a personal friend of mine. This is ridiculous!"

The driver's outraged cry was heard by an estimated 3 million west coast radio listeners because once shined routine safety lectures, now live up to bear spicy unbuttoned recordings.

Many notes of domestic strife are swirled in the program. When you want to live—

"Why should I?" growled the man. "I've got a wife who hates me and three kids. I don't care I'm leaving!"

"Well, Amans said, "If you don't want to live, others do and we have highway deaths from driving like that."

"I can drive that fast," the man said. "My wife says I can't do anything. Maybe I can't. But I can drive a car."

Maybe he could. But not for a while Amans talked him.

He walked out without paying for the pistol, a $72.50 item.

Nurse Lady

By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE
CYNTHIA found herself feeling a little sorry for this unknown girl who had married Alan as well as for Nora.

"Her name is Helen. That's all the letter said. Alan didn't say just when he—they would be home." For the first time Nora's voice had faltered, stumbling over that plural noun. Perhaps she was only just beginning to accept it; the letter which, so far, must seem completely unreal.

"You're better off without him!" Roz claimed. She knew it was small comfort to offer anyone, yet Nora would come to realize it was true.

"Without him?" Nora stopped. She looked around as though her eyes could not quite focus, or her mind grasp what she had repeated. How could she go on without someone she had loved for so long? Why should she want to? What could life hold for her now?

"Roz is right. But it will take time, darling, for you to understand everything," Cynthia said. The change that had come over Nora. Or perhaps it was more that she felt it.

Nora was walking toward the other room, her movements mechanical. Something like fear clutched at Cynthia's heart. She got up quickly to follow her. She wanted to put her arms around Nora, let her break down and cry her heart out. She remembered how Nora had cried when little old Mrs. Beckeroff, her patient, had died. It would be better if Nora could cry like that now.

Nora had gone to her room. By the time Cynthia could catch up with her, the other girl had closed the door and had bolted it.

"Let her alone," Roz advised. "She'll snap out of it."

"I wonder..." It had been Roz. Cynthia thought it might work out that way. But Nora was not Roz. Nora was sweet and simple. She trusted everyone. She was so good herself that she thought everyone else was, too. "I'm afraid for her," Cynthia added. "This would be a blow to any woman." But Nora—well, Nora's more like a child who should never have to grow up. How on earth could Alan, who knew her so well, do such a thing to Nora?

"It was love, my pet," Roz's reply was filled with irony. "Sometimes I think I don't want any part of it. What love can do to you, I've seen so darn much of it. My own mother eating her heart out the rest of her life after my father left her for another woman. Believe me, sometimes I think I'll stay away from the fire and end up a spinster sitting alone by my own hearthstone, and liking it."

"Cynthia could not quite picture the glamorous heroine in that role. But this was not the moment to laugh at anything.

"I wonder if I ought to phone Walt," Cynthia suggested later on in the evening as Nora still remained locked in her room. There had been no sound from within. Both Cynthia and Roz had taken turns listening, and once or twice Cynthia had knocked. Nora still had not given any response. She had made it evident that she wished to be left alone.

"Why wait?" Roz asked. The doctor had never struck her as a sympathetic person.

"Wait could prescribe a sedative," Cynthia explained. "I think Nora is in shock. She needs a medical check. She won't sleep. And she can't do there all night thinking about this terrible thing that has come to her."

"I might phone Alan's mother," Cynthia was thinking out loud. Mrs. Davies might be able to get close to Nora, since she had always said she felt as though Nora were her own daughter.

"At any rate the dear boy didn't write such a sweet epistle to his beloved parents as he did to his schoolgirl sweetheart," Roz said caustically. "If they don't know

Delinquency Decreasing In Detroit

DETROIT —Young rowdism is on the downgrade in Detroit. Authorities have their fingers crossed. But there is definite evidence in the police record that boy gangs aren't the critical problem they were just a month ago.

The police youth bureau estimates this kind of juvenile trouble has fallen off 25 per cent. The cure—if it is a cure—has probably been in part a derivative of the old "space the red and spoil the child" rule.

The courts have adopted a "get tough" policy. Teen-age offenders have been packed off to jail. Here before they got off with a reprimand, as a rule.

Adult groups also set out to do something about it, offering aid to civic authorities.

Earlier this summer the Motor City was alarmed over recurrent outbreaks of kid gang violence. Rival gangs, often armed, met in actual combat. Boys got badly hurt. Sometimes they were killed. There were neighborhood deputations too. Vandalism was frequent. School buildings were particular victims of plunder and destruction.

At times there were wanton street attacks upon citizens.

A crackdown on the youngsters has been in effect for six months.

Inspector Ralph Baker, head of the police youth bureau, said the "get tough" policy insisted on by the courts' "stern attitude" and an aroused citizenry.

"People have begun to step forward and ask what can be done," Baker said.

Baker distinguished between "rowdism" and actual juvenile crime in the latter, he said, there has been no decrease.

Mayor Albert E. Coburn's youth committee, cooperating with the police, courts, schools, churches and other groups, set out on a broad program against rowdism and delinquency in general.

The police insists on having the parents in court whenever a youthful offender appears before him.

A stern police policy is supported by churches, schools and other groups. There are neighborhood plans for teaching errant youngsters manners and discipline.

THE YOUNGEST and oldest patients in R. H. and M. J. compare notes on their treatment with Dr. Carlisle H. Ross, D. O., head of the 1934-1935 Creek Valley epidemic. Mrs. Ross, 82, in wheelchair, was the youngest victim in that epidemic. Her husband, 87, was the oldest. They were treated at the National Hospital for Infantile Paralysis, now being used as a temporary hospital for the International Epilepsy

Army Instructors Advocate More Realistic Training

FT. BENNING, Ga., (AP)—There is apparently a wide gap between the way the Army says it would like to train and the way it actually does.

In Washington, education say the latter experience of Korea proved once more that it takes time and stay alive. They speak of "hard-hitting" training for survival.

Yet despite this the program does seem to be a bit out of date. The Army admits that part of the reason is that the training is based on the conditions of the Korean War.

It is the Army's view that the training should be more realistic. A recent study by the Army's own instructors, however, says that the training is not realistic. It is based on the conditions of the Korean War.

Ticket Scalpers Plague Moscow Sports World

MOSCOW —Those racketeers, the ticket scalpers, continue to operate around Moscow's biggest stadiums and there are public complaints that the police are not doing enough to drive them out of business.

Last winter, before the start of the 1951 football season, the price of a ticket for a game at the stadium was 10 rubles. The scalpers, however, were selling them for 20 rubles.

The police are not doing enough to drive them out of business.

Venereal Disease Takes Big Drop In Recent Years

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Although Florida has made substantial progress in controlling venereal disease, this health problem continues to be a significant cause of death and disability in this state, the Florida State Board of Health said today.

Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, State Health Officer, said that in 1953, 5,222 cases of syphilis in all stages and 11,459 cases of gonorrhea were reported to the State Board of Health.

Florida's peak year for the number of syphilis cases occurred in 1943, when 33,540 cases in all stages were reported. For gonorrhea, the peak year came in 1947, with 20,150 cases reported.

"This is can be shown," said Dr. Sowder, "that the number of syphilis cases has declined 80 per cent in 10 years, while gonorrhea has dropped off 43 per cent since 1947."

"Along with the decline in cases, the death rate from syphilis has shown a corresponding drop. The death rate from syphilis in 1930, for instance, was 2.1 per 100,000 population as contrasted with 4.6 per 100,000 in 1953.

"The death rate among the white population from this cause was 2.3 per 100,000 population, slightly under the rate of 2.5 for the nation as a whole. Among the colored race, the Florida death rate in 1953 was 11.5 per 100,000 slightly above the national rate of 11.3 per 100,000.

"There has also been a major reduction in syphilitic insanity. In both 1940 and 1945, the first-admission rate to mental institutions for psychosis due to syphilis was 1980 the rate had been reduced 3.1 per 100,000.

"However, funds for venereal disease control have declined faster than the disease. For the fiscal year 1954 more than $200,000 was allotted by the Federal govern-

Court Will Hear Doctor's Reports

LIVE OAK (AP)—Circuit Court will hear reports of two psychiatrists assigned to investigate the sanity of Ruby McCollum.

This would put off at least until then her second trial in the fatal shooting of Dr. Lefroy Adams, white physician here.

The two doctors are William H. McCullough of Jacksonville and Frank A. Ferrey of the Veterans Hospital at Lake City. The defense also was authorized to have its own medical experts examine her.

All you need to be sure of is that the material you choose is easily and safely washable—for whatever you spread over your body should be able to take a laundering after each use. As long as you wash a cloth promptly, you don't have to worry about the usual mealtime stains. Soap and water will take them out.

ment to Florida to aid in controlling venereal diseases. Today, only about $46,000 comes to us from the Federal government for this purpose. The state and the counties have had to contribute more liberally to keep venereal diseases effectively under control."

In pointing up the need for continuing the state's venereal disease program, Dr. Sowder remarked:

"The control of syphilis and the other venereal diseases requires a large staff of trained epidemiologists, investigators, interviewers and clinicians, the active cooperation of the private medical practitioners and a considerable expenditure of funds. However, when the cost of finding and treating venereal infections is balanced against the cost to the public of maintaining the syphilitic blind, insane and crippled, and the cost of supporting the dependents of persons who have died prematurely from the disease, it is generally found that combating syphilis pays on a dollar-and-cents basis apart from the human values involved."

New Organization Is Trying To Get Cleveland Club Here

"Do you want professional baseball in Sanford," is the question C. R. Dawson asked a small group of fans at a meeting in the Celery City Printing Co. last night. "They voted unanimously that they did," he said.

Dawson said that this organization, a brand new one, plans to raise money throughout the town and then get a working agreement with the American League. In answer to a question, he said the organization is in correspondence with Cleveland and, "The chances are very, very good."

The organization plans to sell 16 shares of stock at $100 each to raise the money to get up a team. ## AL Head Fines Pitcher Of A's, Detroit Hurler

CHICAGO — Will Harridge, president of the American League, has fined pitcher Marion Fricano of the Philadelphia Athletics $150 and warned him against "throwing" at the batters.

Also drawing a fine—$100—was Steve Gromek, Detroit pitcher who tangled with Fricano after being hit in the kidney Sunday by one of Fricano's pitches.

Fricano is the hurler who also struck infielder Cass Michaels of the Chicago White Sox on the head with a pitch Friday night. Michaels, who suffered a fractured skull, is in a Philadelphia hospital.

In a telegram sent yesterday to Manager Eddie Joost of the Athletics, Harridge said:

"For his conduct in the first game of a double-header at Philadelphia Sunday pitcher Fricano is fined $150.

"Although the umpires do not charge Fricano with throwing the so-called baseball, their reports definitely charge him with throwing at the batters. If this practice continues it can only result in serious consequences and tactics such as employed by Fricano will not be tolerated in the American League."

Fricano commented that he'd "like a hearing the next time he's in Chicago. There are two sides to every story and mine hasn't been told."

Gromek was fined "for his conduct in charging Fricano which precipitated a brawl," Harridge said.

Jockey Is Nearing 3,000-Win Mark

NEW YORK — Any day now Jockey Ted Atkinson will move into the select group of riders who have won 3,000 or more races during their career.

Atkinson made his lifetime total 2,998 yesterday when he won the second race at Aqueduct with Dwyly ($19.70) and the eighth race with Shanny ($9.00).

Only three other riders, Sir Gordon Richards, Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longden, have won 3,000 or more races. Sir Gordon retired recently after suffering an injury in England. He and Longden have passed the 4,000 mark; Arcaro passed 3,000 two years ago.

Atkinson has accepted 10,107 mounts in his 17-year saddle career which dates back to May 18, 1927.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—For the next three nights and days the eyes of the baseball world will be centered largely on Yankee Stadium, and at the end of that period we may see the greatest degree of emotion whether the Cleveland Indians are destined to snap the Yankees' string of five straight world championships.

If Al Lopez's vastly improved club should exceed even its most optimistic prospect and sweep the three-game set, they may be safe cracking open the customary keg of champagne when the Tribe boards the cars out of here on Thursday night for Chicago. The Bombers' chances of recovering from such a blow would be substantially nil.

If they take two out of three, the Indians will establish themselves as strong favorites to go on virtually unscathed to the wire. Even a single victory could send them back West still in a very advantageous position. The only thing they have seriously to fear is a complete collapse and the loss of the straight to their hard-driving pursuers.

In other words, this is the showdown of the Indians as, as admitters admit, an entirely different proposition in the Cleveland clubs which have run second for the past three seasons. They say there is no choke in this outfit, and that is what we are about to find out for certain.

A vast majority of American League fans will be pulling for the Tribe to survive the test brilliantly. There is no question that the section of Yankee permanent has long since begun to pull on the public, much as everyone was glad to see Casey Stengel win belated recognition as a great manager.

Play In City Bowling League Will Start Tomorrow Night

Play in the City Bowling League will get underway at the Sanford Bowling Alley tomorrow night at 7:45 o'clock.

In the first night of play, Stine Machine will oppose Cobb's Radiator Shop; Barnette's Painters, Celery City Printing Co., and Bukur's Musicians, Heller's Life.

New bowlers are required to bowl three games in order that a handicap may be established, according to Ed Kirchhoff, president of the league. Paul Preston is secretary and treasurer.

The league will last 20 weeks, during which each team is to play 50 games.

Pels, Crackers In Pennant Fight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New Orleans and Atlanta launch a five-game fight for the Southern Area pennant tonight with New Orleans a half-game ahead but within six outs of making it 11.

Before the regularly scheduled game gets under way at Atlanta, the visiting Pelicans will take on the Crackers in the eighth inning of a game suspended last week in New Orleans with the Pelicans leading on the lookouts with seven most loyal Cracker supporters figure their favorites will need to sweep the remainder of the series to win the flag.

Atlanta pulled to within half a game last night by clipping Birmingham 4-1 while New Orleans absorbed a 9-3 pasting from the unscathed Mobile Bears. Chattanooga clung to a faint hope of making the first division for the playoffs by thumping Nashville 10-1. Memphis held its 3½ game lead on the lookouts with a 10-0 decision over Little Rock.

Williams May Sit On Bench Tonight

BOSTON — Slugger Ted Williams is a doubtful starter tonight as the Boston Red Sox try to shake a three-game losing streak against Chicago's White Sox at Fenway Park.

Williams' 26th birthday celebration was marred yesterday as he suffered a bad bump on his left shin in the fifth inning of the 5-4 loss to Cleveland.

Ted drew two walks and then singled before getting hit by a foul ball off his bat in the fifth. Williams finally grounded out but had to leave the game.

Red Sox physician Dr. Timothy Lumphier and Trainer Jack Fardou had the shin ballooned up with a lump as big as a baseball, but X-rays were negative.

Alex Kellner, left-handed pitcher for the Athletics, holds the dubious distinction of leading the American League in 1933 in wild pitches. He threw 10 wild ones.

Antonelli Is First 20-Game Winner

ST. LOUIS — Johnny Antonelli stands today as the National League's first 20-game winner this season and the front-running New York Giants' first southpaw to reach the magic number in 17 years.

The lefty turned in his 20th win, against only three defeats, last night as he held the St. Louis Cardinals to four singles for a 4-1 victory.

Antonelli, only 21, came to the Giants in a deal last Feb. 1 with Milwaukee as outfielder Bobby Thomson went to the Braves. With Milwaukee last season, he racked up a 12-12 record.

Carl Hubbell, now in the Hall of Fame, and Cliff Melton were the last New York southpaws to turn in 20 wins. Both accomplished the feat in 1937.

Bob Lemon of the American League Cleveland Indians is the only other major league pitcher to win 20 this season. He turned the trick on Sunday.

Gators To Start Drill Schedule

GAINESVILLE — The University of Florida Gators begin today their drill schedule for the 10-game season that faces them this football season.

More than 60 players are expected including 25 lettermen and 33 sophomores. Most of them already have arrived on the campus.

Couch Bob Woodruff scheduled an early morning drill for tomorrow after which the candidates will go to Florida Field to pose for press photographers from 10 until noon. Afternoon drills will begin at 4.

The team, led by Captain Jerry Blysk, St. Louis end, and alternate Captain Larry Scott, Pensacola fullback, open the season against Rice in Houston on Sept. 18. None of the new games that follow are likely to allow them a breathing spell.

Woodruff plans to kick a varsity squad of 18, then assign the remainder to a reserve squad for seasoning.

Special Train Being Planned

TAMPA — They're already planning an Al Lopez special train to Cleveland for the World Series. The hometown boosters of Lopez, manager of Cleveland, are so sure the Indians will get in the series a rematch has been named in plan for the special train and to work out entertainment for the Tampa boosters when they reach Cleveland.

The Cleveland manager played sandlot ball here, then broke into pro baseball with the Tampa Smokeys of the old Florida State League before beginning his climb up the baseball ladder.

Gavilan, Saxton Take Things Easy Before Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and challenger Johnny Saxton moved into town today both planning to take things easy until they meet at County Mack Stadium tomorrow night in their scheduled 15-round title bout.

Gavilan, 28, is at least a 21 favorite to turn back the title bid of Saxton, sixth ranking welterweight challenger. The champion will be making his eighth defense since becoming world champion in May, 1931. He holds a six-edge in experience with 116 fights, 96 victories, 11 defeats and 1 draw.

Saxton, 24, has won 41, lost 2 and drew twice in 48 fights. He is a former champion of the world in the flyweight division. He holds a 147-pound weight limit and that the hand he claims to have injured while training for last April's middleweight title fight with Carl (Bobo) Olson has healed.

Gators To Start Drill Schedule

GAINESVILLE — The University of Florida Gators begin today their drill schedule for the 10-game season that faces them this football season.

More than 60 players are expected including 25 lettermen and 33 sophomores. Most of them already have arrived on the campus.

Couch Bob Woodruff scheduled an early morning drill for tomorrow after which the candidates will go to Florida Field to pose for press photographers from 10 until noon. Afternoon drills will begin at 4.

The team, led by Captain Jerry Blysk, St. Louis end, and alternate Captain Larry Scott, Pensacola fullback, open the season against Rice in Houston on Sept. 18. None of the new games that follow are likely to allow them a breathing spell.

Woodruff plans to kick a varsity squad of 18, then assign the remainder to a reserve squad for seasoning.

Special Train Being Planned

TAMPA — They're already planning an Al Lopez special train to Cleveland for the World Series. The hometown boosters of Lopez, manager of Cleveland, are so sure the Indians will get in the series a rematch has been named in plan for the special train and to work out entertainment for the Tampa boosters when they reach Cleveland.

The Cleveland manager played sandlot ball here, then broke into pro baseball with the Tampa Smokeys of the old Florida State League before beginning his climb up the baseball ladder.

Annual Volusia County Derby Is Set For Sept. 10 At VCKC

DAYTONA BEACH — The Seventh annual Volusia County Derby, top race of the season at this resort greyhound track, has been set for Friday, Sept. 10.

Eight candidates for the championship race will be determined on a pair of elimination events slated for Monday night, Sept. 6. They will be staged as the 10th and 11th races on what should be the biggest Labor Day program in track history.

The Derby Consolation, composed of greyhounds who fail to qualify for the Derby test, will be run off on Saturday, Sept. 11. All events involving the Derby will be held over the grueling three-eighths mile Beach Course, a true measure of speed and stamina.

Racing secretary Toby Rogers anticipates the finest field ever to vie for the Derby crown when last year by However, the national champion.

Ample Time, Biscayne and West Flagler Derby winner, Tombling P.T. Sarasota Derby champ, Money Stretcher, Jacksonville Derby King, as well as Big Zip, Society Blue, Faye Womack, Wavie Yukon Gal, Trans Melba and Straight Jack are just a few of the many challengers expected to try for the last Derby jackpot.

Adeline Gebick, sister of base ball's famed Lou Gehrig, was the S. women's fencing champion from 1920 to 1922.

American Legion Starts Big Parade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Legion aimed its innumerable convention parade — its biggest ever or close to it — down historic Pennsylvania Avenue today. When it would end was anybody's guess. Right up to the first "forward march" at 2 p.m., officials acknowledged they did not know how long the marchers would be stopping by. But, they predicted, it would be far into the night. And they had plenty of advance statistics on the swirling mass of drum majors, legionnaires, ladies' auxiliary members and the following. In and out.

Some 25,000 to 30,000 parading for a maybe 12 hours to the music of about 350 bands. Along the route perhaps as many as 700,000 spectators. Some of them government workers given the afternoon off. That would be bigger than the 500,000 or so marchers at the St. Louis legion parade in 1947. Ten parade divisions, each with its own marching band, up of marchers, bands and floats from the 48 states, District of Columbia and abroad.

Young Clark was given five years probation on a grand larceny conviction in 1951. Although he was to have been in jail for a year, he was permitted to return to the night club operated by his father, William Henry Clark. The son subsequently was arrested 11 times before Judge R. H. Hicks finally revoked his probation and ordered him to prison.

Senators Split On Blame In Row

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators who spent 36 turbulent days probing the McCarthy Army row split last night on whether Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was at fault, but all in their own way. It was Mr. Cohn and two high Army officials, Republicans and Democrats diverged in parceling out responsibility in the controversy. Republicans absolved McCarthy of improper conduct but said he had been lax. Democrats attributed "inexcusable actions" to both the senator and Cohn, former chief counsel to the Senate investigating committee on McCarthy.

And both sides said Secretary of the Army Stevens had sought to appease McCarthy and Cohn and had failed to stand up for what he regarded as his rights. Both were critical too of Army Counselor John G. Adams.

Cohn, 57, who bore the sharpest criticism from both sides, commented that apparently anyone who seeks to expose communists

"has to contend not only with the sneers of Communists but with partisan politics as well." Cohn is a Democrat.

As for McCarthy, the Republicans said in their report that he had not tried personally to bring improper pressures to bear on the Army in behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine, an unpaid subcommittee consultant before he was drafted last November. The four GOP senators, however, said McCarthy should have exercised "more vigorous discipline" on his staff.

The three Democrats' report, on the other hand, said McCarthy deserved "severe criticism" and contended he had "fully acquiesced in and condoned" what they described as Cohn's "improper tactics."

The Democrats also said that Stevens and Adams, as well as McCarthy and Cohn, merited "severe criticism." They said Stevens in the Schine affair had "pursued a course of appeasement" and had turning over the chairmanship

He told newsmen he would have no comment at this time on the reports.

Schine, stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga., told newsmen: "I have not read the accounts of the Senate committee report and I have absolutely no comment to make at this time."

W. German Arming Hinted

LONDON (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today the United States and Britain have set a secret deadline for starting West German rearmament.

France and West Germany will be informed of this in the next few days along with another British American agreement for rearmament, said a spokesman for the French government.

This was reported as Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet met in emergency session to consider the consequences of the French rejection of the European Defense Community project, devised as a means of using German troops in the defense of Western Europe under a strict international safe-guard.

The United States and Britain said the diplomatic informants, in a tend warning France they will consider rearming the Germans on their own unless France formally and finally accepts a system of rearmament.

That a German defense contribution to the West is essential, that it must be launched within a fixed period, probably by mid-1955 at the latest.

That the shape and size of the German contribution and the safe-guards accompanying it must be the subject of frank international negotiations—presumably by the foreign ministers of the 11 Atlantic pact partners.

The United States and Britain want these provisions written into a formal agreement between themselves, France and West Germany.

Officials said it is the British American belief that such an agreement, with its statement of agreed objectives, would be a prelude to a quick alternative to EDC.

They believe it will also make it easier for the West to reach an agreement with France on the form of the rearmament program within the set deadline.

The sources did not disclose the details of the agreement. The office would not comment on the report.

Harry W. Stewart, attorney for a group of Palm Beach County taxpayers contended that Turner is an officer of the authority and that his dual role as an officer of both the Road Department and the Turnpike Authority is illegal.

The state constitution provides that no man can hold more than one office.

Asst. Atty Gen. Frank Heintz, arguing for validation of the $3 million dollar bond issue to finance construction of the Hollywood to Fort Pierce toll road, told the court that Turner cannot be an officer of the Turnpike Authority.

He said Turner is merely a member and that the Legislature exercised its lawful power in extending his road board duties to serve with the Authority. Heintz said that in contrast to the other four turnpike board members, who are state officers, Turner received no commission and posted no bond as a member.

Heintz compared Turner's role on the Turnpike Authority to that of cabinet officers who served at the direction of the Legislature on various administrative boards.

Judge Walker asked Heintz if the Legislature had not made an unconstitutional delegation of power to the governor in providing that the chief executive should name one of the five road board members to the turnpike authority.

The legislature normally says that the secretary of state, attorney general or the treasurer should assume some added duty.

Much time, Weir said, is taken up with ordering the mountain of supplies a hospital will need. An illustration, he showed how a minute's time like safety pins must be ordered by size and head type.

In closing Weir said that although "there is a great deal more to it than meets the eye," he felt the public should be informed on their hospital.

Heintz replied that there was nothing in the constitution which said the legislature could not designate additional duties for an unspecified Road Board member and that consequently the legislature could do what it wanted.

McCarthy's Lawyer Launches Offensive To Oust Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The lawyer for Sen. McCarthy launched a new legal offensive today aimed at throwing out some of the charges against the Wisconsin senator.

Edward Bennett Williams turned to this after losing an attempt to get the special Senate committee investigating the charges to direct its vice chairman, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, to clarify his personal stand on McCarthy.

Williams argued that the committee ought to drop a charge that McCarthy was contemptuous of a Senate Rules subcommittee which investigated McCarthy in 1952. He contended the subcommittee was "acting outside the scope of its authority from the first day" and hence it was impossible for McCarthy to be in contempt of it.

The United States and Britain did not rule on this immediately. He said he would order the committee staff to check into the points raised by Williams but also told the lawyer.

"We are not out on a wild-goose chase in this inquiry," Williams said.

Earlier, Williams ruled firmly that Sen. Johnson (D-Iowa) has a right to sit in on the hearings regardless of what he might have said about McCarthy in the past.

"I can't see how any legal objection can be made if Johnson can be made to sit on the committee that will be maintained as a matter of law as a matter of fact."

McCarthy and Williams had asked the committee to direct that Johnson say whether he had been correctly quoted in the Denver Post last March in statements which they said show a "prejudice and predisposition on his part" in the centure case.

With that out of the way, the committee went back to putting in the record some of the 1953 correspondence between McCarthy and Johnson.

Hurricane Dolly Forms In Atlantic

MIAMI (AP)—The fourth hurricane of the season developed in the Atlantic about 725 miles east of Jacksonville.

The tropical disturbance formed in the eastern Sargasso Sea, about 100 miles east of the Weather Bureau for the past few days.

Named Dolly, for the fourth letter in the alphabet, the hurricane was located at 11 a. m. EST; north latitude 30.1 north, longitude 69.8 west, moving northward at about 20 miles an hour.

Dolly was just barely a hurricane. Winds were estimated at 35 to 75 miles an hour in squalls east of the center. Winds six hurricanes force when they are 75 miles an hour or more.

Gales extended outward 100 to 150 miles in the eastern semicircle and 50 miles to the west.

The 11 a. m. advisory said indications were for continued rapid movement toward the north with a slow curve to the north-northeast during the next 12 to 18 hours.

Some intensification and spreading out was expected. Shipping in the path of the hurricane was advised to exercise caution.

No land areas were in the path of the hurricane at present.

Sportsman's Group Favors Ban Action

The Seminole County Sportsman's Association went on record last night favoring closing the St. Johns River south to Mims to commercial fishermen, according to association secretary Guy K. Bishop.

The association met in the Court House at 8:30 o'clock last night. It voted upon the resolution, which follows: "Resolved, that by sportsmen's clubs south of Seminole County, would bar all commercial fishing in the area."

After the business had been concluded, Carl Williams showed the club some motion pictures on hunting dogs. The date for the next meeting, a chicken barbecue, has not yet been set.

Support Of Unity Pledged

Indications Pact To Fail

BERLIN (AP)—German officials today said they would support the Western powers' pact to restore sovereignty to West Germany.

The government pledged that it will continue to support the French rejection of the European army plan.

A special committee formed after the pact was signed by the Western powers, which included the United States, Britain and France, is expected to meet in Bonn.

The pact, which was signed in London, provides for the creation of a European army of 100,000 men, with West Germany contributing 30,000.

The pact also provides for the creation of a European court of justice, which would have the right to interpret the pact.
