No Game Rifle-Toting Spectator Stops Play, Lands In Jail

A Sanford man who argued with a Little League coach and then returned to the game carrying a rifle causing spectators and players to scatter, has been arrested for aggravated assault and improper exhibition of a weapon.

According to police and eyewitness reports, the incident occurred at the Westside field in Sanford during the first inning of a game between teams sponsored by Adcock Roofing and Atlantic Bank Monday. At about 7:30 p.m., a spectator at the game argued with coach Nate McCall of Atlantic Bank, witnesses said.

McCall said the man was harassing his players and that he walked over to where the man was to ask him not to belittle his team.

As McCall and the man — who were separated by the infield fence — continued their talk, the man reportedly swung at the coach and then produced a pocket knife and swung that, McCall said.

When the man returned with a .22-caliber rifle, fans and team members scattered until an unidentified man took the gun away from him, witnesses said.

At the time, Coach McCall was still on the infield. The game was postponed.

Arrested and charged with aggravated assault and improper exhibition of a weapon was Ernest S. Edwards, 55, of 1612 Peach Ave. He was being held at the Seminole County Jail today in lieu of $500 bond. He was scheduled to appear before a judge at 1:30 p.m.

Proposition 1

Tax Limit Plan Not Dead Yet, Backers Say

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Proposition 1 isn't dead. A new petition drive is expected to be launched Saturday to place a reworded tax-limiting constitutional amendment on the November ballot.

Leaders in the Proposition 1 movement see no problem of meeting the Aug. 7 deadline of gathering the 313,000 plus signatures necessary to put the issue back on the November ballot. And, they say, they'll consider taking the issue to the federal courts.

The Florida Supreme Court struck from the November ballot the proposed constitutional amendment to limit revenues produced by state and local governments. The high court said the proposed amendment was constitutionally flawed because it contained more than one subject which is forbidden by the state's 1968 Constitution.

Petitions seeking additional amendments calling for the direct election of members of the Florida Supreme Court and to change the state's public service commission to an elective rather than appointive body may be circulated at the same time as the reworded Proposition 1.

Winter Springs businessman Tom Binford, an advocate of Proposition 1, says "Floridians for Tax Relief" will meet at the Orange County convention center Saturday to consider their options and map strategy.

"Floridians for Tax Relief," a lobbying group, was organized by Lake County Property Appraiser Ed Havill to promote Proposition 1 several months ago. Havill headed the original petition drive to get the amendment on the ballot.

Binford said at the convention new petitions for a similar but reworded amendment will be prepared and the gathering of signatures will begin anew.

"We foresee no problem in gathering the required signatures on new petitions by the deadline," Binford said.

Meanwhile, County Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn said the court decision, Tuesday, if it keeps the amendment off the ballot, gives local government additional time to inform the public of how their money is being spent and what is being done.

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore said the high court decision probably won't stop the advocates of the amendment. "But the decision will simplify the budgetary processes for governments in Florida this year," Moore said, since they will not have to consider the complex requirements of the amendment proposal.

Moore doubts the proponents of the amendment will be able to collect sufficient signatures this year to get a similar amendment on the November ballot.

School Board Chairman Bill Kroll said he would have preferred that the issue went to a vote of the people.

"I am sure it would have been defeated. The Supreme Court's decision has irritated a lot of people," Kroll said.

"Both the advocates and opponents of Proposition 1 lost in the Supreme Court decision," Binford said. "What happened is that seven appointed people on the state level (the state supreme court) disenfranchised the people and because of that Gov. Bob Graham and the Supreme Court guaranteed its passage."

Binford, explaining the people may only vote on whether to retain Supreme Court judges in office, insists the judges are thus not elected by the people.

At the same time, Binford said appealing the state court decision to the federal courts is being considered.

In a unanimous decision, the state court said Amendment 1 violated the constitutional requirement that citizens' initiative ballot proposals be limited to only one issue.

City Ready To Slap Lien On Feather's Property

The Sanford City Commission will be filing a lien against County Commissioner Robert G. "Bud" Feather's lakefront property with a view toward foreclosure unless the $10,000 he owes the city is speedily paid.

The commission voted unanimously Monday night to instruct City Attorney Bill Colbert to begin the lien filing procedure early next week when the payment will be more than 30 days overdue.

A letter carrying Monday's date was delivered to the city from Feather saying "The city will be receiving the $10,000 shortly."

Mayor Lee P. Moore said Monday night, however, that he saw nothing in the Feather communication that would give the city cause not to file the default.

The $10,000 annual fee is supposed to be paid to the city on March 1 each year until the project Feather proposes — a life-care center — for the 8.8 acre parcel property immediately behind the Evening Herald Building, is constructed and on the tax roll at its full value. Feather has estimated the facilities he plans will be worth $16 million.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles notified Feather on Feb. 29 that the money was due on March 1 and again last week wrote him to say the fee is now in arrears.

When city officials released Feather from a "reverter clause" on the formerly city owned property a year ago, Feather agreed to pay the city $10,000 annually in addition to property taxes for the parcel.

The payment is to continue until a 240-apartment unit, 60-bed nursing care center is built.

Feather appealed to the city for removal of the reverter clause saying it impeded his gaining financing for his project.

Over the years, the city sold the property at least one other time and when development did not take place by the announced date the city took it back.

Interlocking concrete "erosion blocks" are installed by Sanford city workers on the beach of the Sanford Marina. Soil recovered from dredging of the bottom of Lake Monroe will be spread over the blocks and filtered between them to stabilize the beach.

Beach Work Continues

Sanford will pay $117,200 in cash for the maintenance dredging of the east and west basins at the city-owned Lake Monroe harbor.

In the meantime, the dredging, removing silt, sandbars and other dirt from the lake-bottom, is expected to be completed within 30 days, according to the contractor.

The product of the dredging called "spoil" and estimated at 14,000 square feet, is to be placed ultimately on the beach area at the marina to restore the beach front.

Anticipating this, city crews are now installing "erosion blocks" to halt future erosion of beach soil into the lake. The spoil will be placed on top of the blocks. Cost of the work is $44,850.

Need for the dredging was demonstrated a year ago when the ship Bay Queen, then operating cruises from the marina, foundered on a sandbar for a short period.

The commission had originally foreseen 10-year financing through a city bank requiring payments of about $10,000 annually. With an annual interest rate of 14 percent, however, and with lease payments amounting to little more than $10,000 annually, Knowles said the payments on the bank loan would have meant taking more money out of city coffers annually to make the payments over and above the $10,000.

Cookie Incidents Spread; Federal Probe Launched

From Wire and Local Reports

Nationwide reports of pins, needles, slivers of glass and bits of metal being discovered in Girl Scout cookies have triggered a federal investigation and left scout officials worried about the future of their annual multimillion-dollar sale.

So far there have been no reports of contaminated cookies turning up in any of the 600,000 boxes sold in the six Central Florida counties served by the Girl Scout Citrus Council, said scout spokesman Doris Bacon Elsea. The cookies sold locally were made by the Berry-Lu Co. in New Jersey, just one of four makers who operate a total of seven authorized bakeries that Mrs. Elsea said her group could have bought cookies from.

Many of the vandalized cookies were traced to the Little Brownie Bakery in Louisville, Ky., that manufactures about half of the 100 million boxes of Girl Scout cookies sold annually.

Food and Drug Administration officials in Washington said Tuesday they were investigating 23 cases of hazardous material being found in cookies. Only two injuries have been reported.

In Chatham, Va., a 15-year-old girl punctured her lip when she bit into a cookie with a pin in it. In McDonough, Ga., a 9-year-old boy was stuck with a needle that went through the edge of his gum and between two teeth. Neither injury was described as serious.

"We have 23 reports which have been coming in from various police and health departments and from the news media," FDA spokesman Jim Greene said.

Greene said the FDA was trying to determine whether the foreign material had been placed in the cookies at the time of manufacture or whether they were vandalized in the distribution system.

The first tamperings were reported in St. Louis about two weeks ago and since then have been reported in Virginia, Georgia, Maine, Nebraska, Minnesota, Indiana, Pennsylvania and Colorado.

"We never had this problem before, and we've been selling cookies since 1934," said Bonnie McEwan, a Girl Scout spokeswoman at scout headquarters in New York.

June Rose, executive director of the Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council in Hartford, Conn., said continued media reports of incidents could prompt copycat tamperings and jeopardize the future of the fundraising drive.

"I wish the press would not give bright ideas to all the lunatics," she said. "The publicity could really hurt Girl Scouting."

Sanford Backs Down On Fees For Lake Mary Water Hookups

The Sanford City Commission is willing to compromise on the issue of new Lake Mary water customers paying impact-connection fees to the city of Sanford.

The majority of the city commission Monday night agreed to waive the connection-impact fee of $425 per new customer plus a 25 percent premium.

The waiver will be good at least until the scheduled completion on Nov. 15, 1985, of the well drilling at Lake Mary's well field on Rinehart Road near Lake Mary Boulevard and the construction of a water plant there.

At that time, Lake Mary is to serve its own customers from new facilities and stop getting its water supply from Sanford.

Sanford commissioners for months have been discussing collecting the same connection fees from new customers in Lake Mary as those in Sanford must pay. The fee in Sanford now is $225 per water connection, but the fee is slated to rise to $425 in July, according to a new ordinance adopted by the city of Sanford.

Lake Mary officials have insisted that the contractual arrangement between the two cities does not call for connection fees to be paid to Sanford. And Lake Mary officials have said that they will need the revenues from connection fees from their customers to pay for their new water system.

Only one Sanford city commissioner, David Farr, did not agree with totally waiving the fees.

Farr said only Lake Mary Commissioner Colin Keogh has taken a hard stand against paying connection-impact fees to Sanford and not the entire Lake Mary Commission at last Friday's joint meeting of the two bodies.

Farr said he favors Lake Mary paying the connection fees for each new customer. He said the city of Sanford could hold the fees in trust, collect the interest from the trust, and return the principal fund to Lake Mary when it completes in a timely fashion its own water supply.

The two commissions are to meet again at noon on April 6 to discuss the water situation again.

Both agreed to discuss mutual water concerns among themselves prior to the meeting.

Commissioner Milton Smith, who brought the issue up Monday night, said the board needed to discuss the connection fees. Earlier in the meeting the commission adopted an ordinance increasing water and sewer connection fees to new customers in Sanford from a combined fee of about $900 per unit to $1,925 per connection, beginning July 1.

The water portion of the fees will be $425 per connection.

When Moore asked how the city could collect the fee from Lake Mary, City Attorney Bill Colbert said Sanford could go to court seeking an injunction against Lake Mary.

Colbert said under the contract any dispute between the two cities is to be decided by the Sanford City Commission. And after holding a public hearing the commission could impose the connection-impact fee.

Pointing to a complaint from Lake Mary Commissioner Russ Megonegal that it learns first of whatever action Sanford is anticipating from reading the newspaper rather than from personal contact, Farr suggested that even the public discussion about the possibility of court action could destroy the joint discussions now taking place.

"We should not destroy what has begun but should

NATION IN BRIEF

Meese Says He Welcomes Prosecutor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Edwin Meese says he welcomes the Justice Department's decision to seek a special prosecutor to probe his muddled finances because he is convinced he "can do a good and honorable job" as attorney general.

Attorney General William French Smith asked a special court Tuesday to appoint an independent counsel for a broad probe of Meese's financial dealings and whether six people get federal jobs for helping him out with his finances.

He also requested an investigation into Meese's knowledge of how Jimmy Carter's briefing papers were obtained by President Reagan's 1980 campaign, and the circumstances surrounding Meese's promotion in the military reserves.

The special three-judge panel did not immediately grant the government's request, the fourth since the Watergate-era law went on the books in 1978 to shield investigations of high-level government officials from political influence.

Bishop Chooses Injection

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Arthur Gary Bishop, choosing to die from an injection of drugs rather than a firing squad, says he has prayed for the families of five boys he killed and wants their forgiveness.

Bishop told 3rd District Judge Jay Banks Tuesday he preferred to die by lethal injection for his four-year murder spree in which he lured young boys to his homes, sexually molested them and killed five to keep from getting caught.

Under Utah law, Bishop, 32, of Hinckley, Utah, was given the choice of dying by a firing squad or lethal injection. A jury last week found him guilty and sentenced him to death for the five murders between 1979 and 1983.

"I would prefer lethal injection," Bishop told Banks after he apologized to families of the victims during a short speech given in a soft and at times emotional voice from a podium in the courtroom.

Sex Games Photographed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Operators of a preschool indicted for child molesting took "millions" of sexually explicit pictures of nude youngsters playing games like "Naked Movie Star" and used the tots as prostitutes, authorities charged.

"It appears that the primary purpose of the McMartin Pre-School was to solicit (children) to commit lewd conduct with the proprietors of the school and also to procure young children for pornographic purposes," prosecutors said in court papers filed Tuesday.

The documents opposed reduction of bail for three of the seven defendants, most of them members of a prominent Manhattan Beach family, including the 76-year-old matriarch who owns the school, her daughter and two grandchildren.

Man, Woman Robbed After Leaving The Barn

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Accosted in a Sanford parking lot, a couple who left a popular night spot to go home at about 8:40 p.m. Tuesday were seized by two bandits then forced to drive the robbers away from the scene.

Linda Kay Ackerman, 20, of Maitland, and her boyfriend, Robert Wilson, 19, of Winter Springs, had left The Barn, 1200 S. French Ave., when two men approached them and began a conversation while in the parking lot, Miss Ackerman said.

"I think they were talking to see if I was wearing any jewelry," she said.

After a "calm" conversation, Miss Ackerman said one of the men pulled a knife and threatened Wilson while the second man — from behind her — put his hands around her throat and threatened to strangle her.

With Wilson at knifepoint and Miss Ackerman choking, the robbers and their victims got into Miss Ackerman's four-seat

Toyota and at the bandits' order drove west on 13th Street.

Miss Ackerman said she did not know where on 13th Street she drove to but decided not to resist because every time she did, the man with the stranglehold choked her.

During the robbery, Wilson, held at bay at knifepoint, was punched a least two times, Miss Ackerman said.

After driving west on 13th street, and thinking that robberies only occur on television and could not be happening to her, Miss Ackerman said the men — who grew increasingly nervous — took her jewelry.

When Miss Ackerman tried to resist turning over her jewelry, the man took it from her, she said.

One piece of jewelry was an antique ring, an heirloom of her mother's worth $400.

It was a white gold ring with a topaz and emerald, she said.

The parking lot robbers also robbed Miss Ackerman of a small diamond ring worth $100, two turquoise rings valued at $20, a gold $25 necklace and $55.

Wilson was not robbed. After the robbery, the thieves jumped from the car and fled on foot.

Police are looking for two black males, one 5-foot 8-inches tall and of stocky build last seen wearing a baseball cap, white shirt and red pants. The second suspect was described as slim, 5-foot 11-inches tall and wearing a dark wind breaker. Both men are believed to be in their 20s.

Hart Hopes Connecticut Win Will Help In N. Y.

By Laurence McGuilian
UPI Political Reporter

Gary Hart, basking in the glory of his landslide win in Connecticut's primary, says the outcome reflects voter concern with Walter Mondale's foreign policies and his rival's use of "negative campaigning and negative politics."

The Colorado senator made it clear those themes will be the mainstay of his rejuvenated drive to capture next Tuesday's crucial New York primary and, ultimately, the Democratic party's presidential nomination.

Hart, Mondale and Jesse Jackson all planned limited appearances during the day to prepare for tonight's nationally televised debate from Columbia University in New York. It will be carried live by the CBS network.

Jackson did plan to participate in a pre-dawn candlelight march at Three Mile Island, to mark the fifth anniversary of the accident at the nuclear power plant in Pennsylvania.

Mondale, who is chalking up his loss in Connecticut to the brief forays he made into the state, received a lift today from a new poll showing him ahead of Hart in New York, which will pick 252 national convention delegates.

A Washington Post-ABC News tracking poll of voters who say they will cast ballots next week showed Mondale leading Hart 44 to 32 percent. Jackson was third with 13 percent. Eight percent were undecided.

Hart and his wife, Lee, broke out the champagne Tuesday night as their chartered plane flew to New York. They toasted Hart's first primary win in two weeks, and a sweep of all six New England states in a span of one month.

With all of the state's 722 precincts reporting, Hart had 115,915 votes, or 53 percent, to Mondale's 63,963 votes, or 29 percent. Jackson received 25,833 votes, or 12 percent of the ballots. The other six percent was scattered among candidates who have dropped out of the race.

Hart picked up 33 delegates to Mondale's 18. Jackson added one.

The latest UPI national delegate count shows Mondale now has 698 delegates, Hart 428, and Jackson 88. Another 305 are uncommitted in the race for the 1,967 needed for nomination.

After arriving in New York, Hart held an unusual news conference in the back of a Brooklyn pub and talked of the Connecticut win in terms of personal vindication.

"I believe it's a rejection of negative campaigning and negative politics," said Hart. He said he has tapped a nerve with people "who have longed and yearned for a message of hope and promise for this nation's future new leadership and a break with the establishment politics of the past."

discuss what steps we can take to protect the interest of Sanford," Farr said. "We wouldn't want Lake Mary to think we are embarking on a way to sue them."

Mayor Lee P. Moore said, however, that under the state "government in the sunshine law, the city commissioners have no choice but to discuss possibilities in public.

Moore added that there is the possibility that Lake Mary would willingly pay connection-impact fees if its water system is not on line by Nov. 15, 1985.

He said although the possibility of Sanford collecting the fees from Lake Mary's after that date was not discussed, it was implied.

Commissioner Eddie Keith said he could understand Lake Mary's feeling about already paying their share of costs for the operation of the Sanford water system since it is paying a 25 percent premium.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said Lake Mary is paying a bulk rate plus a 25 percent premium amounting to about 57 cents per 1,000 gallons while individual resident customers in Sanford are paying between 75 cents and 80 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Keith said if Sanford is not getting more for the water it sells to Lake Mary, the rates should be revised.

But Knowles said if Lake Mary is going off the Sanford system by Nov. 15, 1985, charging higher rates or attempting to collect connection fees in the interim "is not worth talking about."

"As long as Sanford can be assured of this, it is not necessary to collect more," Knowles said.

Moore agreed, saying that is true provided Lake Mary meets its schedule.

Knowles said Lake Mary's schedule might be delayed because of any number of things such as rain or natural disaster.

Stray Golf Balls Prompt Civil Suit

Claiming stray golf balls raining on their property from a nearby driving range have ruined their homelife and threatened their safety, two Longwood couples have sued the business.

While one couple is suing for damages of $210,000 the other is suing for damages in excess of $10,000 and are asking that the course be declared a private nuisance.

In consecutive suits, both Paula and Robert Sandlak and Corbet and Gladys Shuck, who live near the Palmes Driving Range, 651 U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, state that the stray golf balls have been damaging their property since 1978. That one golf ball hit Mrs.

Sandlak, and that the fear of being struck by the flying balls has destroyed the homelife of the plaintiffs to the extent that relatives and friends won't visit for fear of injury or property damage.

The Sandlaks maintain in their suit that the golf range owner, Jack Daniels, agreed in writing in 1980 — as a result of litigation — to erect barriers between their home and the artificial ball. They state the promised barriers, either trees or nets, have not been erected. The Sandlaks maintain that Mrs. Sandlak was struck by a golf ball and has suffered pain, embarrassment and mental anguish and lost the capacity to enjoy life and earn a living.

Sandlak is suing for loss of Mrs.

Sandlak's companionship.

The Shucks state their personal property has been destroyed and the "personality" of their home altered by the random incursion of errant golf balls.

They state in the suit that friends and relatives are reluctant to visit out of fear of being injured.

According to the suit, they have spoken — formally and informally — with Daniels and asked him or his agents to correct the problem. They too, state that Daniels agreed in 1980 to correct the problem but has not.

They are suing for damages in excess of $5,000 in two counts and ask that the range be declared a private nuisance.

Bomb Explodes At University

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A powerful time bomb exploded at the American University of Beirut campus today as fighting erupted across the Green Line dividing the city's warring Christian and Moslem militias.

Police said they had no motive for the bombing of the American university, which has remained open throughout years of Lebanese fighting and the 1982 Israeli invasion.

"For all we know, it could be the work of an angry student. We really do not know. We have started an investigation," a police spokesman said.

No one claimed responsibility for the blast, which went off in a classroom and caused damage but no casualties.

Moslem and Christian militias clashed across the Green Line, raining shells into residential neighborhoods in Christian east Beirut and the Moslem west.

The right-wing Voice of Lebanon radio station said there were casualties in east Beirut when at least 15 mortar shells crashed into a residential area. The radio did not say how many were injured.

French troops, who entered Beirut as part of the multinational peace-keeping force, left their posts on the Green Line but a contingent of French observers scheduled to replace them had not arrived.

The observers were to help neutral Lebanese forces try to maintain security.

Weapons 'Build-Down' Could Save Billions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration's proposal to scrap more nuclear weapons than it replaces could save nearly $30 billion by the end of the century, according to a new report from the Congressional Budget Office.

The report also outlined the costs and savings of various options on the MX missile program.

Slowing the purchase of MX missiles could save $4.4 billion in the next five years, the agency said, but if no arms control agreement is reached with the Soviets, slower production ultimately will drive up the cost of the 10-warhead missile. It said if the MX program were cancelled, the savings would be $14 billion from planned spending levels.

At recent arms talks in Geneva the Reagan administration proposed a "build-down," a reduction of total stockpiles that would be achieved by scrapping more old warheads than are replaced.

"Because build-down attempts to discourage deployment of multiple-warhead ICBMs, cancellation of MX would seem consistent with the philosophy of the proposal," the report said.

The report said that the proposal to retire warheads would allow weapons modernization to continue and would not put numerical limits on specific systems. But, it said, by the mid 1990s, total U.S. strategic warheads, including those carried by bombers, would decrease by about 30 percent. It said that in the same period the measure of missile payloads that indicates how many warheads can be carried by Soviet missiles would decrease by more than 55 percent.

By 1996, concluded the report, the United States would still have an advantage in warhead numbers and the Soviet Union would still have an edge in the measure of payloads, but the measures would be closer than at present, improving stability.

The report said that without any new arms agreements, the United States will allocate about $290 billion to its strategic forces over the next five years out of total military spending of $1.7 trillion.

Last week a special panel advised President Reagan that a build-down — first proposed by Sens. William Cohen, R-Maine, and Sam Nunn, D-Ga. — could be useful as long as the reductions were not formulated in such a way as to contribute to instability by increasing the ratio of warheads to targets.

In an aside to the report, the authors noted that a strategic arms reductions talks pact might be obsolete even before it were signed if the U.S. proposal is not modified to take into account Navy plans to buy about 4,000 sea-launched cruise missiles which could carry nuclear warheads.

Planned Changes In Food Stamps Protested

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three House members say the administration is considering changes in food stamp rules that would hurt needy Americans, but Agriculture Department officials say the proposal they are complaining about has not been completed.

The controversy arose last week when three legislators who head committees dealing with anti-hunger programs went public with the draft proposal and complained to Agriculture Secretary John Block.

"If implemented, these proposals would aggravate the plight of impoverished families and needlessly complicate program administration," the congressmen said in a letter to Block. They urged him to withdraw the rules.

The House members are Rep. Kika de la Garza, D-Texas, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; Rep. Leon Panetta, D-Calif., chairman of the House nutrition subcommittee; and Rep. Ted Weiss, D-N.Y., chairman of the House intergovernmental relations subcommittee.

They charged the draft drops a provision that prevents states from denying food stamps to people without fixed addresses. That action is contrary to a recommendation by President Reagan's task force on hunger that the homeless be assured benefits, they said.

Also, expenses such as dental costs, rehabilitation and some nursing care could be ruled out as medical costs in determining food stamp benefits for the elderly and disabled, the lawmakers complained.

John Bode, deputy assistant secretary of agriculture, responded. "What they are commenting on is a draft of work being done down in the Food and Nutrition Service that was not signed off by the administration."

The food stamp program provides benefits to about 22 million Americans at an annual cost of about $11 billion.

The draft is the result of a nearly year-long administration effort to reorganize and rewrite food stamp regulations for the first time since 1974.

Local Athletes Best In The Land

When a high-school athlete leads the county in his or her event, it's quite an achievement. When the same athlete leads the state in that event, it's even more noteworthy.

But when that athlete leads the nation in that event, it's time to sound the trumpets.

Seminole County is fortunate enough to have two such fine athletes in Seminole High School junior Franklin Barnett and Lyman High senior Schowonda Williams.

Williams, who has one of the top coaches in the state to instruct her in Lyman's Larry Baker, is the better known of the pair. The talented junior has been a dominant track performer since her sophomore year. She currently has the best time in the nation in the 330-yard hurdles.

In last Saturday's Lady Gator Relays at Gainesville, she was electronically timed in 42.24 seconds. Schowonda won the 330s at the state meet last year and is the favorite to do it again. She also runs the 110-yard hurdles with the best of them, long jumps and partakes in the Lady Greyhound relay teams.

Barnett, meanwhile, was a new name to this area, but not an uncommon one to track coaches around the state. The high-stepping junior, who specializes in several events, performed at Palatka the past three years before moving to Sanford this summer.

Barnett's parents are originally from Sanford although they have worked up and down the east coast. It was just Sanford's good fortune that Barnett and his coach of the past three years, Ken Brauman, decided to move to the Seminole High district the same year.

Barnett, also a hurdler, has the top national time for the 110-yard hurdles. He ran a 13.5 seconds at the Lyman Invitational earlier this year. Barnett also had a 13.5 last year, and Brauman said he feels if the conditions are right, his protegee could trim his time by two or three more seconds this spring.

Whatever they accomplish during the rest of the year, both Franklin and Schowonda know for one point in time, they were the best in the nation.

Worker Safety

Thorne Auchter is resigning as head of the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration. It's no great loss. Auchter, it may be remembered, is the man who started his OSHA career by destroying all existing copies of an OSHA pamphlet for miners on the subject of black lung disease, because its cover photograph was too "one-sidedly" sympathetic to black lung victims.

Nor did his subsequent initiatives suggest any change of heart. Auchter proceeded to petition the U.S. Supreme Court to repeal previous administration's safety standards for cotton-dust and lead exposure at the work place, so that we could issue new, weaker rules. During his term in office, he cut the number of his agency's work place safety inspectors by one-third and the number of citations issued for serious violations by half. His agency had to be taken to court and threatened with contempt before it would issue an unexceptionable new rule requiring employers to provide drinking water and toilets for farm workers. It took another court order to get him to impose a legal limit on hospital workers' exposure to ethylene oxide, EIO, after his own agency found it to be carcinogenic.

As it's gotten close to election time, Auchter has moderated his position and issued several needed safety rules with an ordinary amount of congressional prompting.

When President Reagan replaces Auchter, he is unlikely to find anyone worse.

"For heaven's sakes — don't call him a FRONT-RUNNER! Do you want to RUIN EVERYTHING?"

By Deane Jordan

Florida's do-it-yourself divorce law is almost in effect and because of a delay imposed by the Florida Supreme Court several people lined up this month at the courthouse to break the ties that bind not knowing they were three months early.

The snafu was caused by a delay in the implementation of the do-it-yourself divorce that was scheduled to begin March 1. Because The Florida Bar association made some recommended changes in the law to the high court, its implementation was postponed until June 1 — though many people unaware of the change have been showing up at the courthouse to file, according to clerks at the Seminole County Courthouse.

The new law has been dubbed the most liberal "do it yourself" divorce legislation in the country.

To meet the divorce requirements — besides each spouse having to appear in court and be a resident of the state for six months — the couple must agree upon how to divide mutual property and pay mutual debts. They cannot have any children born or adopted during the marriage and must submit proof that they are not pregnant.

The Bar suggested that the court also allow couples with grown or independent children seek a summary dissolution, which was not so provided by the original law. The Bar also suggested, and expects to have adopted, that the law require a basic statement regarding the financial status of both parties be prepared to indicate awareness of the rights waived or given up through the simplified procedure. A third suggestion was that any property settlement or agreement be written and attached to the dissolution petition and that the written format verify any agreement terms and be susceptible to review and future endorsement or modification if needed.

Another suggestion offered was to allow the divorce petition and all other allied documents be sworn before any Florida notary as well as a court clerk.

The Supreme Court has asked The Florida Bar to prepare educational materials concerning the new dissolution procedure for use in court clerks' offices throughout the state.

Surgery To Keep Lids Open

By Sharon Rutenberg
UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ezra Cohen, 69, a shoemaker on an Israeli kibbutz, could only keep his eyelids open for three to five minutes at a time.

He has a rare disease called essential blepharospasm, an involuntary closure of the eyelids that afflicts less than 1 percent of the population. The cause is unknown.

Cohen traveled to Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center for surgery, leaving his wife and children behind.

"In the past year and a half or two, it got gradually worse and he didn't want to live that way," said his interpreter, Mrs. Bronya Cohn.

"He could see before the operation but he couldn't keep his eyes open more than three or five minutes. He couldn't read," Mrs. Cohn said. "His eyes kept closing. It was like a spasm."

Patients with the chronic, progressive disease are unable to see because their eyelids clamp down, said Dr. Allen Putterman, the director of eye plastic surgery at Michael Reese who performed the operation.

"And it can become so severe that patients are unable to function, drive, watch TV, work and even to cross the street because their eyelids can clamp down so forcefully — and for such a long period of time — that they are not able to pry them open," he said in a telephone interview.

"And they are literally caught in the middle of traffic, unable to see."

The severity of the disease varies. For some, the eyelids close only once in a while. But in more severe cases, it can happen every few seconds.

Cohen had difficulty reading, walking, driving and was unable to perform his job as a shoemaker.

"It was severe enough that he was very incapacitated, unable to really lead a normal life," Putterman said. "He was certainly severe enough that they were willing to do whatever they could to help him."

In the three-hour operation, the muscles closing the eyelid were removed from both upper lids, parts of both lower lids, under the eyebrows, between the eyebrows and between the outer aspect of the eyelids and the ear.

Three reconstructive procedures were added to the operation.

"The eyebrows themselves will drop, so the skin of the upper lid just hangs in front of the eye," Putterman said. To allow the patient can see, a browlift is performed to raise the forehead and eyebrows.

To prevent the upper lids from drooping down, "we take the muscles that lift the lid and reattach them at their normal position." In addition, a crease is reformed in the upper lid.

The patient's entire face and head are bandaged to apply pressure to the eyelids and forehead for two to three days after the operation.

After the operation, there is a "great deal" of swelling and black-and-blueness. It "takes months for the final effect to be seen," Putterman said, but it's worth it.

"They're literally blinded ... and then to be able all of a sudden to see is extremely satisfying to the patient," he said.

Engineer Fired For 'Conscientiousness'

WASHINGTON — This week marks the fifth anniversary of the accident at the Three Mile Island nuclear plant — a near-meltdown that shook the American public's faith in the safety of nuclear power and all but shattered the industry in this country.

Incredibly, a conscientious engineer, who pointed out to TMI's owners what it would cost to help restore the public's confidence, was fired for his efforts. He says his bosses told him simply that he was "not their type." Here's the bizarre story:

A positive result of the TMI accident was that it sounded a badly needed reveille for the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, which until then had acted as a rather sleepy watchdog over the nuclear industry's safety measures. However reluctantly awakened, the NRC did establish a set of new rules designed to prevent future embarrassing accidents.

But TMI's owner, General Public Utilities, apparently wanted to play down the actual cost of getting the

JULIAN BOND

African Smoke Screen

If you didn't know the history, it would be easy to believe that a great step forward had been taken in Africa.

If you didn't know the history, you might think that the lawful governments of the world's only pigmentocracy had been mysteriously stricken with reason and sanity.

You might imagine that South Africa's armed aggression against her neighbors would soon end and that its troops would withdraw from Namibia.

It's conceivable that South Africa's attempts to subvert the lawful governments of Angola and Mozambique will stop. South Africa may end its financial and military assistance to guerrilla groups in both countries.

And it's even possible that free elections could be held in Namibia and a democratic, multi-racial government established just north of the world's most racially restrictive regime.

But if you know the history, you've got to be suspicious of South Africa's intentions and wary of being taken in by the white supremacist state.

In the last two months, there's been a great deal of what diplomats call "movement" at the bottom of the African continent.

South Africa signed a treaty of sorts with Angola in February. The treaty was preceded by a South African offer to withdraw its troops that had been occupying Angolan soil for 30 days.

But that offer was followed, in turn, by yet another South African attack on Angola, then by the present set of agreements that have raised hopes of peace once again.

Every American secretary of state since Henry Kissinger has harbored those hopes. They outlasted Kissinger and were passed to his successor, Cyrus Vance.

David Owen, the former British foreign secretary; Donald S. McHenry, the former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations; Chester Crocker, the current U.S. assistant secretary of state for African affairs; and Javier Perez de Cuellar, the secretary general of the United Nations, all believed they were about to witness a major breakthrough in solving Africa's most torturous problem.

Kissinger and South African Premier John Vorster discussed independence for Namibia by 1978 when they met in Pretoria in 1976.

No one mentions dates today. Instead, Perez de Cuellar, mentions "substantial progress" and Chester Crocker says current talks between the United States and African nations are "useful."

De Cuellar knows that U.S. vetoes and pressures will keep the United Nations from significant action against South Africa. Crocker knows that trade concessions from the United States and the blind eye America has turned toward South Africa's worsening internal racial affairs and its aggressive attacks on its neighbors have not lessened the racist state's intransigence.

And the international community knows that South Africa's recently announced "agreements" with Angola and Mozambique and the hint that it would permit elections in Namibia if Cuban troops are withdrawn from Angola are much like promises made before.

In spite of its "non-aggression" talk, South Africa has little reason to allow elections in Namibia, exposing its border and population to the virus of democracy.

Angola has less reason to permit the withdrawal of Cuban forces. Those forces protect it from further South African advances and continuous pressure from the South African-supplied UNITA, the dissident Angolan group that has been locked in a struggle with the Luanda government since the country's independence in 1975.

And the world has little reason to believe that a government built on racial superiority has any intentions of ever granting freedom to Namibia or its own majority black population.

'Great To Be Back ...'

By Steve Gerstel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At the bottom of the "whip notice" outlining the Senate's schedule for the week, Alan Cranston penned in a personal note.

In bold strokes, the California Democrat wrote: "Great to be back with you all! — Alan."

It was a nice touch by a nice man but it's a little hard to believe that Cranston feels that it is all that "great to be back" in the Senate.

After all, the 69-year-old Cranston has spent more than a year trying to become the Democratic presidential candidate. That's heady stuff for anyone.

People in every state listening to what you say, winging around the country and sometimes even being recognized, showing up even a little bit in national polls, being at least offered Secret Service protection.

To say nothing about raising huge amounts of money, spending that and going a million in debt and being spurned by the voters.

After that, the Senate, with its archaic rules and hidebound traditions, must seem a very lame existence.

But Democratic voters decided in Iowa and New Hampshire that Cranston and Sen. Ernest Hollings of South Carolina are much better suited to the Senate than to the White House.

And the voters in those two states plus their kin in Alabama, Georgia and Florida rendered the same verdict on Sen. John Glenn of Ohio.

That leaves Colorado's Gary Hart as the lone survivor in the four-man Senate entry into the nomination sweepstakes.

It appears, and it seems that Hart will remain absent for some time, returning either after the convention in July, the election in November or for his inaugural next January.

Cranston, Hollings and Glenn can find some solace in the Senate, which abounds with men who have sought and failed to win the White House.

There's Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the Republican standard bearer of 1964, and Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, the party's vice presidential candidate in 1976 and a presidential candidate in 1980, and Senate GOP leader Howard Baker, who ran in 1980 and plans to go again in 1988.

It will be interesting to watch what Cranston, Hollings and Glenn do now and in the years ahead.

These three are unlikely to emulate former Sen. Eugene McCarthy, who fired up a generation with his opposition to the Vietnam war and his elegance of speech in 1968 and then sulked through the election, winding up his Senate career without the hint of distinction.

They appear more likely to follow the lead of Sen. Edward Kennedy, who returned after his 1980 defeat to reclaim the role of leader of Senate Democratic liberals.

Age very probably precludes any of the three of running again, although Glenn is a possible vice presidential candidate, relieving them of the burden of that ambition.

They should be free to devote their time and talents to legislation, pursuing the goals that they spelled out in their presidential campaigns.

the suggestion of a job interview. Eng gave up on the GPU leads.

A Princeton-educated, former Environmental Protection Agency engineer, Eng finally took a $10,000 cut in salary to work for a time as energy conservation coordinator at Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C. He currently works part time and has testified on behalf of the hearing-impaired at telephone company rate hearings.

A GPU spokesman confirmed that Eng was fired, but would not say why. He said the cost estimates that Eng questioned were just for repair of the damaged reactor, and explained: "Our primary goal is to clean up the unit and then decide what to do with it."

In fairness, it should be noted that a GPU press release announcing the TMI cleanup cost estimate acknowledged that the figure "does not include the cost of modifications to meet post-accident regulatory requirements." This makes Eng's firing all the more mysterious.

Sanford Youth Is Top Orator

Kenneth Eckstein, 14, of Sanford, talked his way into first place at the Optimist Club Oratorical Contest zone competition for boys Sunday at the Westmonte Civic Center in Altamonte Springs. Shanan Stewart, 11, also of Sanford, was runner-up in the oratorical contest for girls.

Kenneth competed against students from Flagler, Lake, Volusia and Seminole counties, speaking on the topic, "My Responsibility — Involvement."

Winner of the zone contest last year, he followed up with a second place win the regional contest. He will be competing in the regional event this year on April 21.

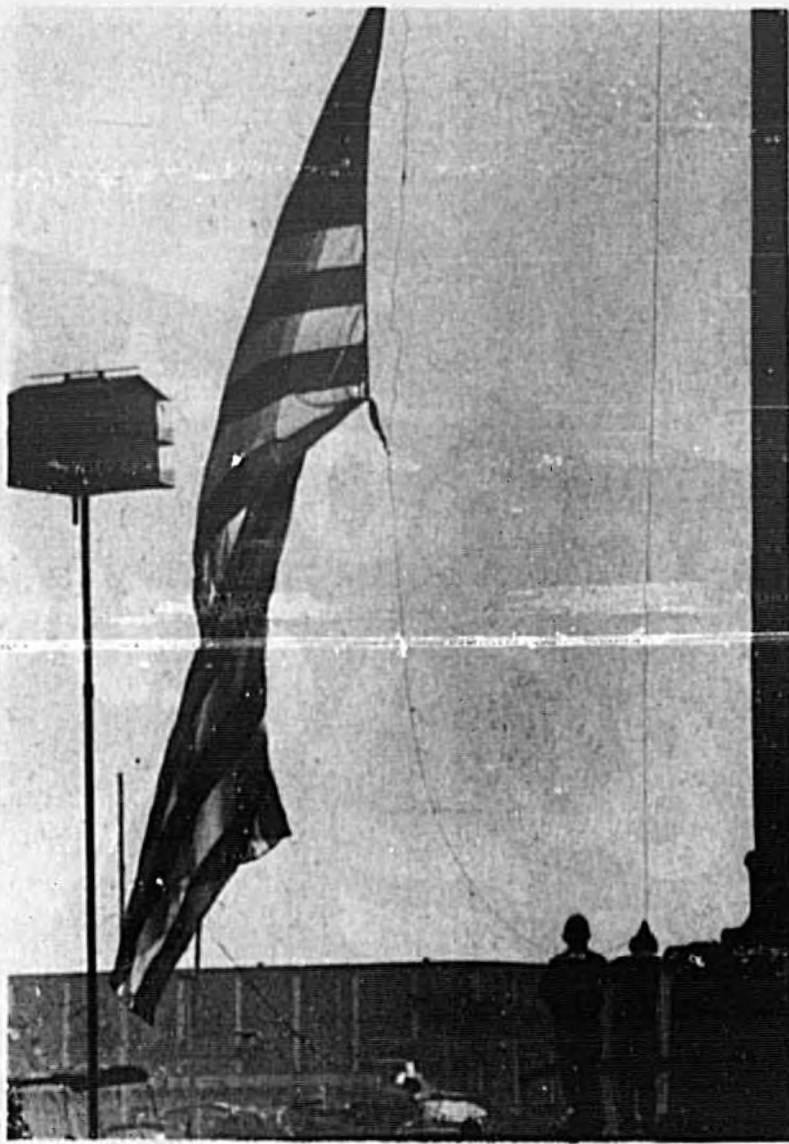

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Eckstein of 103 Aldean Drive, Kenneth is a 9th grader at Seminole High School. He and

Kenneth Eckstein

Shanan represented the Sanford Optimist Club. Shanan, winner of the local girl's oratorical contest, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roger Stewart of 305 Idyllwilde Drive, Sanford. She is a 6th grader at Sanford Middle School.

This Dog's Involved Too

Because of courtroom comments by a defense attorney, the Herald reported Tuesday that an Orlando man had entered a plea for guilty to resisting arrest of a police officer but not the officer's police dog.

Norman Levin, defense attorney for Harold Harrop, of Orlando, stated his client pleaded guilty to resisting arrest Jan. 7 of an Altamonte Springs officer and that his client's plea did not include "the dog."

However, since the charge was not amended to exclude the canine it means he also pleaded guilty to resisting arrest of the dog, Bruno, according to assistant state attorney Steven Brady.

Today, dentists treat the patient as a total personality. The psychology of the individual is important and a mouth that is merely healthy without being attractive, may be unsuited to the patient's urgent psychological need.

An attractive, comfortable, properly-functioning, healthy mouth is required if one is to enjoy a thoroughly happy and productive life.

Every face to face contact one has in business, social and home life, is affected to the benefit or detriment of the individual by the appearance of the teeth.

Frequently, beautiful effects can be obtained without the loss of healthy teeth. Proper preventive and reparative dental care is worth many times the investment required.

Paulucci Gets Award For Civic Achievement

Seminole County entrepreneur Jeno Paulucci was presented the "Lehman-LaGuardia Award for Civic Achievement" in ceremonies held in New York City Sunday.

The award is presented annually by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and the Commission for Social Justice of the Order of Sons of Italy in America.

The citation recognized Paulucci "entrepreneur, philanthropist, and humanitarian" for his "unselfish and tireless efforts on behalf of the underprivileged and handicapped, innumerable charitable endeavors, dedication to social justice and concern for Italian Americans and all ethnic groups that comprise the fabric of American life."

Paulucci is the third recipient of the award, named for the former New York Gov. Herbert Lehman and the late New York City Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia.

Prior recipients of the honor are Frank Macchiora, chancellor of the New York City schools system in 1982 and Louis Lefkowitz, New York attorney general in 1983.

LOSE WEIGHT EVEN AS YOU SLEEP

THE 24 HOUR DIET PLAN PACK

Losing weight has never been easier, faster, more healthful, or more certain.

The GNC Research Staff had a difficult assignment... to develop a weight loss program that puts its demands on science rather than human will power. They screened all the most effective plans and aids now known, and combined the best of the best. Although nobody expected a miracle, a lot of people are... describing this three-part program as just that.

1. Glucomannan helps you shed an average one-half to one pound a day. Two Glucomannan capsules taken 1/2 hour before meals with an 8 oz. glass of water form a natural high fiber gel that reduces amounts of food you need to feel full, and also provides the bulk your system needs for passing more calories undigested out of the body.

2. Amino FB burns away fat while you sleep. These amino acid tablets taken before bedtime have been known to stimulate the production of growth hormones which direct your system to burn fat for energy instead of protein or carbohydrates—a reversal of the usual process. This action is continuously effective, even during sleep.

3. Preventon assures healthful nutritional balance. This high potency vitamin and mineral supplement delivers the all important nutritional requirements your body needs to look your best, feel your best and work your best.

Absolute Guarantee We unconditionally guarantee that the 24 Hour Diet Plan Pack will help you lose up to 5 pounds in ten days or your full purchase price will be refunded.

The 24 Hour Diet Plan Pack contains directions and a 2 week supply of products that together make weight control a physical science, not a challenge for your willpower.

Third Suspect In Burglary Ring Arrested

A third burglary suspect who lawmen suspect of being a member of a gang of about 10 persons who have netted about $260,000 worth of loot from victims in Seminole and Volusia counties during the past three or four months has been arrested by sheriff's investigators.

Jeff Redding, 18, of 2020 Henri Ave., Sanford, whose name was suggested as a suspect during a joint investigation by agents in both counties, was questioned at the Seminole County sheriff's department and arrested Monday, a sheriff's report said. He was charged with two counts of armed burglary, two counts of grand theft and one count of dealing in stolen property stemming from the alleged sale of a rifle taken in a break-in.

Redding is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

The alleged leader of the gang, which hit homes in Midway, Geneva, Cauloata and Osteen, Leonard Taylor, 21, of 2451 Crawford Drive, Sanford, was arrested March 21 after he was allegedly identified through fingerprints found at a burglarized home. He is being held on $25,000 bond.

The first break in the case came when 18-year-old Bryan K. "Monkey Man" Knight, of 2441 E. 21st St., Sanford, was charged with armed burglary and grand theft on March 16 after questioning regarding several burglaries. He is being held by juvenile authorities.

The investigation into the alleged theft ring is almost complete and at least four other alleged gang members are expected to be arrested, sheriff's spokesman John Spolski said.

A second man hit her on the back of the head with a wooden stick, and the pair fled without taking any cash from the store, a sheriff's report said.

County Tennis Teams Gear Up For District Tournament

With the district tennis tournament only a couple of weeks away, area high school men's and women's tennis teams are gearing to make that final push that might bring a district championship to their school.

The men's tournament will begin Monday, April 9 at Evans High School in Orlando while the women's tournament will be the same day at Winter Park High School. Both tournaments last three days.

For most, the season ends with the completion of district play, but for some, it's on to the Regionals and maybe even State.

Locally, Seminole High School has had a bit of a struggle on its hands this season. Coach Jimmy Edmond's men's team is 0-10 for the year but coach Edmond points out that most of his men are 9th and 10th graders and are gaining valuable experience for next year.

Seminole High could have a strong men's team in a couple of years if the young men on the team stay together and work at their games. John Ludwig plays #1, Matt Albert #2, Todd Smith is #3, Mike Horner is #4 and Stuart Thornton is #5.

The women's team at Seminole High is 3-6 and seems to be somewhere in the middle of the group among area teams. The bad news here is that almost all are seniors and a vast rebuilding job awaits coach Edmond's next year. Susanna Huaman plays #1, Tracy McNeill #2, Paula Volpi #3, Brittany Tyre #4, and Judy White plays #5.

Larry Castle
SCC Tennis Instructor

At this stage of the season it appears that on the women's side, Lyman is the top area team. The Greyhounds have beaten most everyone rather handily and seem to be the favorite for district play, although Lake Mary and its #1 player, Mark Viner, tied Lyman for the Five Star Conference title.

Lyman has one of the top players in the state in their #1 player, Jeff Cohen. The strength of this team lies in extremely good depth, with other top players such as David Kasdin, Eric Hockman and Stuart Kasdin adding strength and experience throughout the lineup.

Winter Park High also has a fine men's team and could push Lyman for area honors. Lake Howell and Lake Mary appear to be the only other real quality men's teams in the area and if they get hot could walk away with district honors.

Some of the top men players appear to be Viner at Lake Mary, Cohen at Lyman, Andy McNeill at Lake Mary, Kenny Kundlis at Lake Howell, Robert Petteff at Trinity, John Holt at Bishop Moore and Kasdin at Lyman.

On the women's tennis scene it looks like Lake Howell is a little ahead of the rest. With the Enriquez sisters playing #1 and #2 and forming a strong doubles pair, Lake Howell seems to be at the head of the class among the women's teams.

Lake Mary has a very strong women's side and on a given day can press anyone for top area honors. Other strong women's teams include Winter Park, Lyman and Lake Brantley.

Some of the top women players on the high school scene this year include Kim Faulkner at Lyman, Catherine Enriquez and Patricia Enriquez at Lake Howell, Robyn Pinnock at Lake Mary, and Julie Fisher at Lake Brantley.

Opportunistic Lady Rams Walk Past Seminoles, 6-3

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

In softball, no matter how good the defense is, the pitcher has to get the ball over the plate. Lake Mary's Beth Watkins makes it look easy, she rarely walks a batter and thus her outstanding accuracy is sometime overlooked. Seminole's Alycia Dixon though had a tough time on the mound Tuesday as she walked six batters and that led to four Lake Mary runs as the Lady Rams claimed a 6-3 victory in Five Star Conference action at Seminole Community College.

Lake Mary improved to 7-2 overall and 6-0 in the conference with its sixth straight victory. The Lady Rams are one game away from clinching at least a tie for the conference title. Lake Mary's next conference game is Tuesday, April 3 against second place DeLand. Lake Mary hosts Lyman today at 4 in a non-conference game.

"We're seldom a walking team," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "But she (Dixon) was having trouble getting the ball over the plate and we took advantage of it. We'll take a win any way we can get it."

Seminole meanwhile fell to 3-6 overall and 1-5 in the conference with its third straight loss. The Lady Tribe is back in action today at 4 as it travels to Lake Howell for a non-conference game.

Seminole came out fired up and scored two runs on two hits in the top of the first inning. Dixon led off with a single and went to second when Jackie Farr reached on a fielder's choice. Katy Barbour followed with an infield single to load the bases. Sherry Peterson then grounded to shortstop Kim

Softball

Averill whose throw at the plate go by catcher Reedy Metz and allowed Dixon to score. Farr tried to score on the same play but Metz alertly got the ball and relayed to Watkins covering home and she blocked Farr off the plate and tagged her out to save a run. Barbour then scored the second run of the inning on Beth Nelson hit into a force play.

Lake Mary answered with one run in the bottom of the first. Watkins reached on an error and went to second when Lisa Gregory reached on a fielder's choice. Lisa Simkins singled to right to load the bases and Watkins scored on Laura Hellegaard's infield single.

Dixon's control problems started in the bottom of the third with Seminole still holding a 2-1 lead. Watkins led off with a single and, with one out, Simkins singled. Hellegaard then drew a walk to load the bases and Lisa Santulli walked to force in Watkins with the tying run. One out later, Terri Blayne drew a walk to force in Simkins with the go-ahead run.

Lake Mary took a 5-2 lead with a pair of runs in the fourth inning. Dixon walked Karen DeShetler, Kim Averill and Watkins to load the bases with no outs. Seminole then went with Angie Carpenter in relief and she got Gregory to fly out to left field for the first out. Simkins then drilled a single up the middle to knock in DeShetler and Averill came around as the centerfielder couldn't find the handle.

The Lady Rams made it 6-2 in the bottom of the sixth. DeShetler crushed a triple to left center and Averill picked up an RBI on a sacrifice fly to right center. Seminole fought back for one run with two outs in the seventh. Janet Hauck drew the lone walk off Watkins and Carpenter lined a single to left to put runners on first and second. Cassandra Frederick followed with a RBI single up the middle but Averill snagged Bert Dretville's liner for the third out.

Cougars Ready To Pounce

By United Press International

The Houston Cougars are doing more than getting ready to play ball when the Final Four get together Saturday in Seattle in the NCAA Tournament. They're preparing for combat.

"Our practices are wars," guard Reid Gettys said following a two-hour workout behind closed doors Tuesday.

Coach Guy Lewis has a reputation for hard-hitting practices, but seems to be outdoing himself in preparation for Houston's semifinal match against Virginia Saturday.

"I see him trying to key things up. Yesterday, he was running around calling us all sissies to get us going," Gettys said.

Georgetown plays Kentucky in the other semifinal Saturday afternoon. The championship game will take place Monday night, beginning at 9:30 p.m. EST.

Virginia is letting it be known that it's ready to play physical. Cavaliers coach Terry Holland particularly hopes to stifle the Cougar's Akeem Olajuwon, who has averaged more than 23 points and 13 rebounds in NCAA tournament play.

"We'll gang up on him," Holland says of Virginia's strategy against the 7-foot Nigerian.

"He's as big as a house and does such a great job establishing position," Holland added. "It seems like he is trying to do more offensively in the NCAA Tournament. We'll try to take away his game."

Gettys says Lewis' strategy of rough-and-tumble practices have helped the Houston team in the long run.

NCAA Basketball

"Beating on each other all day gives us a sense of pride. It seems ironic, but it tends to solidify us," Gettys said.

"Take the Wake Forest game," he continued. "I took an elbow to the mouth and it knocked out a cap. Michael (Young, another Cougar) came up and asked me who did it. He said he would get him back. But I told him it was accidental."

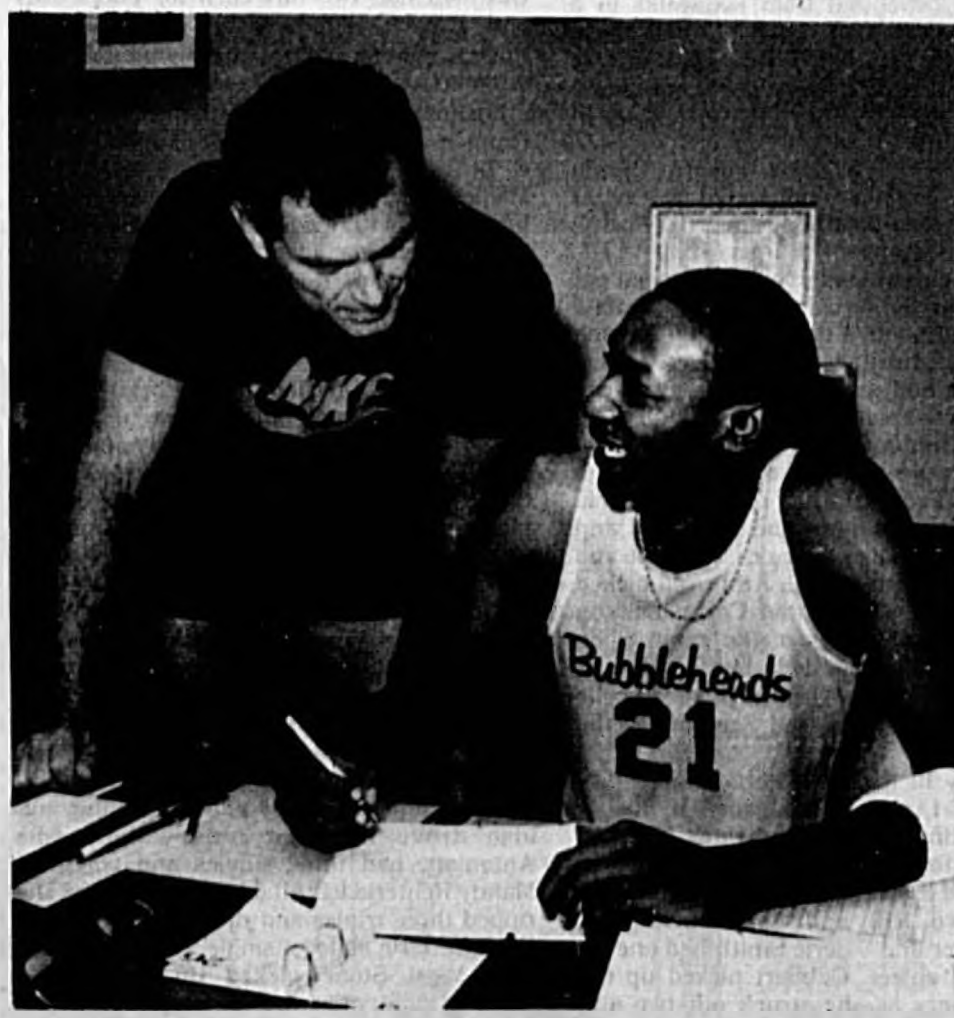

There is also a possibility of one-on-one combat between Olajuwon and Cavalier freshman center Olden Polynice.

When the teams played earlier this season (Houston won 74-65), Olajuwon elbowed Polynice in the throat as they were running down the court. Polynice fell and was unable to rise for several minutes.

When he did get up, he had to go to the bench. On his way there, he pointed an angry fist at Olajuwon. Olajuwon said the younger player had been "roostering" him throughout the game, and so he retaliated.

Polynice Saturday quoted Ralph Sampson — the Houston pro who played for the Cavaliers last season — as telling him after the game. "Ralph said I should have hit him."

Virginia, 21-11, is considered the definite underdog in the game against No. 5 Houston. But Holland rather likes that.

SCC cage coach Bill Payne and his new recruit Greg Johnson were all smiles Monday when the 6-7 forward became the Raiders' first basketball signee.

SCC Signs Small Forward Johnson

Seminole Community College basketball coach Bill Payne announced his first signing of the year Tuesday when he landed small forward Greg "Slim" Johnson.

Johnson, a 26-year-old eight-year Navy veteran, is a 6-7 190-pounder who will complete his tour of duty in the Navy in May. Payne was tipped off about the Johnson by Rollins College coach Tom Klusman.

"I guess Rollins must have played against Greg sometime," said Payne. "He's a very good player who should help us immediately."

Johnson played his high school basketball at A.C. Flora High School in Columbia, S.C. before joining the Navy.

Payne returns six players — guards Mike Phillips and Mike Tolbert, forwards Artis Johnson and Linny Grace along with centers Jay Adkins and Doug Bell — from last year's 21-victory team, but he said he may lose a couple players due to poor grades.

Four graduating seniors — Lu Phelps, Jim Payton, Delvin Everett and Bernard Merthle — have been visiting colleges during the past month. Phelps has visited Hardin-Simmons in Texas, Payton has looked at Southern Tech in Marietta, Ga., Merthle has visited Eckert and Everett plans to check out some schools in North Carolina.

Payne also said he sent home 6-10 Alexander Soyobo to Norman, Ok. Soyobo was discovered in Lagos, Nigeria by scout Joe B. Hall, Jr.

Payne, however, had trouble getting Soyobo to go to class, so they parted company. — Sam Cook

An old baseball adage says you can't steal first base. For the past two games, no one knows that better than Seminole High catcher Steve Dennis.

Dennis, a senior, has a good reason for cherishing first base. Because, if he gets to first there is a very good chance he will get to second.

And if he gets to second via the stolen base, Dennis will erase the Seminole stolen base record, which is shared by none other than Tim Raines. Brett Von Herbulis and Dennis himself with 28 thefts.

The spunky catcher should be wearing a mask for all the havoc he has wreaked on opposing catchers this year. When he swiped his 28th base last Wednesday against Apopka, he tied the record Raines set during his senior year and the one Von Herbulis had two years ago. Raines, like Dennis, wasn't thrown out his senior year. Von Herbulis, a fine hitter and also a catcher, was tossed out twice.

The past two games, though, first base has seemed as far away as Montreal to Dennis. Raines regular address when he is stealing bases and running down fly balls for the Expos.

Dennis, nevertheless, is steadfast in his thinking that he and that bag 90 feet away will meet again soon. Anybody with an on base percentage of .638 (44 for 69) shouldn't be worried about a little slump, especially with half the season yet to go.

"I coming out of it Wednesday," Dennis predicted about Seminole's 7 p.m. game against DeLand at Sanford Memorial Stadium. "I've been going up to the plate with the wrong attitude. I've haven't been going up there with the attitude that I'm better than he (the pitcher) is.

"I've been going up blank. But I've been thinking about the record all the time. I want it bad."

When Raines was informed Monday that one of his marks was about to fall by the wayside, he was all for it. "I wish Steve the best of luck," said Raines. "I hope by him breaking the record it will create some opportunities for him to play in college and hopefully professionally."

Although Dennis, who is batting .367, is a lock to break the record, Seminole coach Bobby Lundquist wasn't about to compare him with Raines. "When Tim played, we had a ballclub that didn't need him to run," said Lundquist about his 1977 team which reached the state semifinals before losing. "We had Bobby Robinson, David Wiggins, Donnie Williams, Jeff Anderson and Wayne Walker hitting behind him. All those guys could hit. Tim didn't need to steal.

"If he had wanted to steal bases, he probably could have stolen 50."

Tim Raines takes a cut in the cage before an exhibition game against the Boston Red Sox. Raines had doubles Monday and Tuesday while batting third in the Montreal lineup.

Bonilla Looks East, Feels Least Wanted

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI) — Juan Bonilla turned toward the only direction he could today, to the east, or more specifically, the Far East, hoping and possibly praying that someone in Japan can use "the best second baseman the Padres ever had."

Nobody in the big leagues seems to want him.

"We tried with every club we could, but none of them were interested," said San Diego general manager Jack McKeon, who along with manager Dick Williams informed Bonilla late Sunday waivers were being asked on him for the purpose of giving him his unconditional release. All clubs have until Friday to claim him, and if none do, Bonilla has said he might try to play in Japan.

Last month, he won an arbitration proceeding that escalated his salary to $325,000 from $130,000, but by releasing him now, the Padres are obligated to pay him for only one month.

He had to at least be a little shocked by his release but he did not show it when he got the bad news while he was still in uniform after Sunday's exhibition game with Seattle.

"OK, good," was all he said. He took his uniform off in a hurry and was gone before many of his teammates even realized he had been cut.

Earlier this spring, Williams had announced that Alan Wiggins would start the season as second base for the Padres. Wiggins, who began his professional career at second, played mostly left field for San Diego last season and filled in well at first base after Steve Garvey was hurt.

Bonilla, acquired in a deal with Cleveland, was with the Padres the past three years although he missed most of the 1982 season after fracturing his left wrist in a first base collision with Willie McGee of the Cardinals.

Williams explained that Wiggins was being moved to second so that Carmelo Martinez could play left field. The 23-year-old Martinez, obtained from the Cubs in a three-way deal last December, has been the brightest spot in the Padres' camp, hitting over .400 with four homers and a team-leading 13 RBI.

First, Bonilla thought that switch only meant he was to be the backup second baseman, and he didn't like that at all. He told everyone he was the best second baseman the Padres ever had and pointed to his statistics to back it up. Sometimes, he got a bit carried away and insisted he was the best second baseman — in the league, both leagues, you name it.

"I believe I'm the best second baseman

Milton Richman
UPI Sports Editor

there is," he declared without so much as batting an eye before he was let go. "I know I'm the best second baseman the Padres ever had."

"This is nothing against Alan Wiggins," Bonilla made it clear. "I give him a lot of credit and I believe he has the ability to do whatever he wants to do, but in my mind I am 'the best second baseman and I have the numbers to prove it.'"

Although that injury of his wiped out most of the 1982 season for him, Bonilla topped all Padres' second basemen in the number of games played (291) and assists (839) and is second to Tito Fuentes in put outs and double plays.

Coming off his injury, Bonilla still paced the Padres in games played (152) last year, and in triples (4), and was third in runs (55), hits (132), and walks (50).

Through the first week in August, his fielding average of .992 was right up there near Manny Trillo's National League record of .994 and the .9855 figure he finally posted was only a fraction off the .9858 with which the Cubs' Ryne Sandberg led all the league's second basemen.

Bonilla made only one error in his first 72 games, and his final total of 11 represented the fewest number by any second baseman in the league who played in at least 117 games.

Williams knows all about Bonilla's stats, and while he doesn't knock them he does say they fail to show how many balls Bonilla didn't get to due to his limited range. Moreover, he has had a poor spring at bat and in the field.

Similarly, Bonilla did not have a good year at the plate last season. After hitting .290 in 1981 and .280 in the 45 games he played the following year before he was hurt, he fell to .237 in 1983.

He still drove in 45 runs, more than any other San Diego second baseman before him. Maybe what all this actually proves is that Bonilla is the BEST second baseman the Padres ever had, but that they never really had a very good one, and please, Tito Fuentes, don't YOU start hollering now.

Astros Release Richard; Phillies Swap Matthews

COCOA (UPI) — J.R. Richard, whose wicked fastball and slider made him one of baseball's most fearsome hurlers in the late 1970s, has been given his unconditional release by the Houston Astros, likely ending his efforts to return to the majors after a 1980 stroke.

Richard was not available for comment after the announcement Tuesday.

Astros owner John McMullen said Richard will leave baseball and enter another field.

"It was a tough decision for J.R. to make, but it is his desire to now channel his energies in other directions," McMullen said.

Richard's contract, worth $450,000 per year, ended after the 1983 season. This spring, he was given a tentative contract which required him to make the team.

Richard, 34, of Ruston, La., leaves the Astros without reaching the goal he set in the months following his stroke — pitching in the majors and regaining the form that made him one of the most dominant right-handers in the game.

In his first appearance for the Astros in 1971, he tied a major-league record with 15 strikeouts. He led the majors in strikeouts in 1978 with 303, and in 1979 struck out 313 — the most ever by an NL right-hander.

He owns a career 107-71 record with a 3.15 earned run average.

Gary Matthews must have known his days were numbered last weekend when the Philadelphia Phillies acquired outfielder Glenn Wilson.

The Phillies Tuesday picked up right-handed reliever Bill Campbell and catcher Mike Diaz from the Chicago Cubs in a trade for Matthews, Bob Denner and reliever Porfi Altmarano.

Matthews, 33, an 11-year veteran and a lifetime .285 hitter, batted .258 with 10 home runs and 50 RBI last season but was voted the Most Valuable Player in the National League playoffs after hitting .429 with three homers and eight RBI in four games.

Phillies president Bill Giles said the team made the decision to trade away Matthews after they obtained Wilson from the Detroit Tigers.

"We figure Glenn Wilson is going to be our left fielder," Giles said. "As soon as we made up our minds that we were going to get Glenn Wilson, we had to trade Gary Matthews. We feel Glenn Wilson will be better than Gary Matthews, but that's yet to be seen."

Giles said the Phillies may also trade their other Garry from the outfield — sending Garry Maddox to the New York Yankees.

Baseball Roundup

In exhibition games:

At Fort Myers, Orlando Sanchez drove in two runs and Keith Creel pitched two scoreless innings to lead the Royals to a 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves. The Royals received some bad news when X-rays revealed outfielder Lynn Jones has a hairline fracture on his left hand.

At Bradenton, Lance Parrish hit a solo home run in the sixth and stroked a two-run single in the eighth to lift the Tigers to a 5-4 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

At Scottsdale, Ariz., reserves Brad Wellman and Scot Thompson each drove in two runs in leading the Giants to their sixth straight triumph, a 5-3 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

At Winter Haven, Gary Allenson drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a homer while Dwight Evans and Tony Armas belted solo shots, lifting the Red Sox over a split squad of Minnesota Twins 4-1. Dennis Eckersley scattered three hits in six innings.

At Tampa, Dann Bilardello drove in three runs with a home run and a single to pace the Cincinnati Reds over the Minnesota Twins 6-3.

At Miami, designated hitter Ken Singleton had three hits, including a three-run homer, to power the Baltimore Orioles to a 8-0 victory over the Texas Rangers. Singleton drove in four runs. Orioles starter Bill Swaggerty blanked Texas for six innings on three hits.

At West Palm Beach, leadoff hitter Omar Moreno scored four runs and No. 2 man Willie Randolph drove in three runs to lead the Yankees over the Montreal Expos 12-6. Dave Winfield and Lou Pintella each had three RBI for the Yankees. Pete Rose had four hits for the Expos and Tim Lincecum had an RBI double.

At Cocoa, reliever Julio Solano struck out Ron Shepherd with two men on base in the ninth inning to preserve the Astros' 8-6 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays. Earlier, the Astros gave pitcher J.R. Richard his unconditional release, possibly ending the former All-Star's agonizing comeback attempt from a 1980 stroke.

At St. Petersburg, Steve Carlton and Al Holland scattered a dozen hits in pitching the Phillies to a 2-0 victory over the New York Mets.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Valencia Singles 3 Across In 9th To Nip Raiders, 4-2

Valencia Community College exploded for three runs in the top of the ninth inning Tuesday to knock off Seminole Community College, 4-2, in a key Mid-Florida Conference baseball game at SCC.

The victory improves the VCC record to 8-2 in the conference, one game better than the Raiders' 7-3 mark. VCC is 21-15 overall and SCC is 22-10-1. The Raiders play Santa Fe Thursday at home at 3 p.m.

Chuck Brant, SCC's ace, gave up a first-inning run to the Matadors but then shut them down for the next seven innings. He got in trouble in the ninth and SCC coach Jack Pantelias called for Ray Perkins, but he couldn't put down the uprising. Brant suffered the loss and Lamar Chandler picked up the victory.

Hot-hitting Eddie Looper provided the SCC runs with a homer and a single. The Raiders got both tallies in the first inning, but could do little else against Chandler.

Irish, Michigan Battle

NEW YORK (UPI) — Even if Michigan tops Notre Dame tonight to win the 47th National Invitation Tournament, Wolverines coach Bill Freider will bite his tongue and say nothing bad about the NCAA selection committee.

The Wolverines have been determined not to make an issue of being excluded from the NCAA Tournament, and focused on winning the NIT instead.

"We were disappointed that day (the bids went out), no question," Freider said. "But we felt we were going to attack the NIT, not say anything bad about the NCAA. No sour grapes."

Michigan will "attack" Notre Dame in tonight's final, and Irish coach Digger Phelps thinks the Wolverines would have gotten into the NCAA Tournament if not for consecutive Big Ten losses to Purdue, Illinois and Michigan State — all on the road.

Michigan did beat Purdue, Illinois and Dayton — all NCAA Tournament teams — at home during the regular season.

Hazzard Replaces Farmer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — For the fourth time since the retirement of John Wooden, the mythical revolving door in the office of the UCLA basketball coach has spun. Out went Larry Farmer and in came another former Bruins star, Walt Hazzard.

Farmer abruptly resigned Tuesday, just four days after he signed a 2-year contract extension. UCLA wasted no time in replacing him, naming Hazzard within the hour.

A news conference was scheduled for 10 a.m. FST today with Farmer and Hazzard expected to attend.

IN BRIEF

Lone Man Hijacks Airplane To Cuba

MIAMI (UPI) — A hijacker calling himself "Lt. Spartacus" of the Black Liberation Army diverted a Piedmont Airlines 737 to Cuba by threatening to detonate explosives on board.

The plane returned from Havana less than four hours later Tuesday night and no one was hurt. No explosives were found.

The hijacker, wearing a heavy dark overcoat and a black beret, commandeered the aircraft just before it reached Miami on a flight from Newark, N.Y., Charlotte, N.C., and Charleston, S.C. Tuesday. After the plane changed course, he holed up in a lavatory and penned a faint note on the explaining his actions. "This is necessary. I would not ever hurt anyone at this point, but the time will come when we will meet as enemies. I have duties and responsibilities. I am a soldier," the note said.

$1.2 Million Settlement

TAMPA (UPI) — The quadriplegic son of a woman killed when a freighter rammied the Sunshine Skyway Bridge in 1980, has been awarded a $1.2 million settlement, according to federal court records.

U.S. District Judge Daniel Thomas, a semi-retired specialist in maritime law, awarded the settlement on behalf of the son of Eve Delores Smith of Pennsylvania, N.J.

Thomas has been visiting Tampa from Mobile to hear major portions of the lawsuit against the owners of the phosphate carrier Summit Venture, which rammied the bridge during a severe squall May 9, 1980. A section of the main span of the southbound bridge collapsed, sending 35 people to their deaths when a bus and seven other vehicles hurtled 150 feet into the storm-tossed waters of Tampa Bay.

Runoff Likely

Duarte Leads In First Official Election Returns

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Christian Democrat Jose Napoleon Duarte held a slim lead in early official returns in El Salvador's presidential election and political maneuvering began for a likely runoff between Duarte and his right-wing rival.

The Central Election Commission Tuesday said Duarte, a moderate, led with 11,029 votes, followed by Roberto D'Aubuisson of the far-right Nationalist Republican Alliance with 10,947 and Francisco Jose Guerrero of the National Conciliation Party with 7,471. Officials said the vote count in Sunday's election could take five days.

The Christian Democratic Party, in its own unofficial count, said Duarte finished first with 45 percent of the total vote. D'Aubuisson second with 29.4 percent and Guerrero third.

If the Christian Democrat figures are correct, Duarte and D'Aubuisson will face each other in a runoff that will take place 30 days after the count is approved by the Constituent Assembly.

Under Salvadoran election rules, a runoff is held if no presidential candidate gets more than 50 percent of the vote.

In a runoff election, D'Aubuisson, who has promised complete military victory over leftist guerrillas, would probably have the support of El Salvador's small rightist parties.

Guerrero made a flying tour of El Salvador to meet with party officials, and one highly placed Christian Democrat said initial contacts were made with the Guerrero camp to try to win his support for Duarte, who favors dialogue with the rebels.

As the official count began a day behind schedule, political leaders blamed the election commission for the delay while election officials claimed guerrilla attacks and time-consuming counting restrictions were responsible.

President Reagan Tuesday telephoned President Alvaro Magana to pay "tribute to the courage" of the Salvadoran people who braved violence to cast their ballots, a spokesman in Washington said.

The elections, backed and partly financed by Washington, were considered crucial to Reagan's policy of military and economic support for the Salvadoran government.

Alejandro Duarte, son of the candidate and mayor of San Salvador, said mass confusion at the polling stations Sunday kept 30 percent of those who wanted to cast ballots in the capital from voting.

Election Commissioner Jaime Trabaino, however, blamed the delay in counting votes partially on Marxist-led guerrillas, who backed out 90 percent of the country on election eve, mined highways and battled troops to disrupt the elections.

"The guerrillas have done all they could do to hinder the process," Trabaino said.

Elections officials claimed the blackout, which still affected two provinces Tuesday, had delayed vote counting and therefore slowed the delivery of results to San Salvador.

Tormenting Demons Led Lawyer Mary Evans To Crime

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI) — Psychiatrists say lawyer Mary Evans is a schizophrenic, tormented by demons, and would attempt suicide if imprisoned for engineering the escape of her killer client and eventual lover.

But Judge James Scott withheld a ruling Tuesday on a plea bargain that would place Miss Evans, 27, on three years probation. He told her to return to court today and be prepared to tell him why she helped convict Tim Kirk escape.

"I can't believe she still doesn't feel she has done anything wrong and she doesn't understand why people are so upset with her," Scott said.

"We have 8,000 people in the penitentiaries of this state and they have mothers and fathers and boyfriends and girlfriends who are looking at what we do here today," the judge said.

Scott acknowledged he could not force Miss Evans to testify and her lawyer, Robert Ritchie, said she may be too mentally unbalanced to take the witness stand today.

"I've got to talk to the doctors and see what the effect of testifying would be on her and her illness," Ritchie said.

Psychiatrists Robert Sadoff and Pat Embry both testified Tuesday that Miss Evans suffers from "vicious" hallucinations of flying carpets, tigers and "alien forces" so terrible they make her scream and sob uncontrollably.

"My concern is Mary Evans will take her own life. She has nothing to live for. She is a very, very psychotic person in need of extensive psychiatric treatment," Sadoff testified.

Miss Evans was representing Kirk on charges of killing two other inmates at Brushy Mountain Prison, where he was doing time for armed robbery, when she arranged to meet him at a psychologist's office for testing March 31, 1983.

She slipped the convict a pistol, helped him tie up the psychologist and guards and fled with him in her red Toyota. The FBI captured the couple 139 days later at Daytona Beach, Fla., and authorities speculated she helped him escape because she fell in love.

Sadoff, however, rejected that as the motive.

"People have speculated she was in love with Kirk," he testified. "I don't think she was capable of love. I think she was trying to save her life. The alternative was suicide."

Kirk was present during the early part of the hearing Tuesday, but Miss Evans refused to look at him. He had pleaded guilty to armed robbery and escape March 3 and the judge added 40 years to the 65 years he is already serving. While at large, he was convicted of the prison murders and a jury recommended life plus 35 years.

Miss Evans pleaded guilty to aiding the escape. Prosecutors have recommended three years probation and defense lawyers promised she will go to a mental hospital for a "prolonged stay" if the judge accepts the plea bargain.

Embry testified Miss Evans was insane when she began representing Kirk and had tried to kill herself by swallowing 15 tranquilizer tablets eight months earlier.

He played a tape recording made during an interview with her last month.

"They are so bad sometimes," her sobbing voice said on the tape. "It's like a bunch of them talking all at once. I always say, 'No, no again.' I say that over and over."

Miss Evans buried her face in her hands as she listened to the tape in the packed, hushed courtroom.

Meat Loaf Squares First In County Beef Cook-Off

Blanch Johnston of Altamonte Springs was the first prize winner in the Seminole County Beef Cook-Off sponsored by the Seminole County Cattlemen and CowBelle Association held at the Agricultural Center on March 21.

Mrs. Johnston won $50 for the recipe she submitted, Chinese Veggie Meat Loaf Squares.

As the county winner, Mrs. Johnston will compete in the state competition to be held at Fort Pierce on April 7. The winner of the state contest will be eligible to compete in the national contest for a grand prize of $5,000.

Other winners in the cook-off are: Anne Marie Fairbanks, Longwood, second, $25; Frances Morgan, Winter Park, third, $15; and Irya McLearn, Altamonte Springs, honorable mention.

Judges were Jackie Hennessy of Dairy Farms Inc.; Naomi Forbes of Central Florida Regional Hospital; and Florence Korgan, a Sanford model and homemaker.

Mrs. Johnston's award-winning recipe is as follows:

CHINESE VEGGIE MEAT LOAF SQUARES

¾ cup each finely diced onion, celery; sliced water chestnuts
6 ounces Chinese pea pods (or 1 pkg (6 oz.) frozen pea pods, thawed)
3 tablespoons peanut oil
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 pounds lean ground beef
1 teaspoon soy sauce
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg
¼ cup chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
½ cup shredded cheese

In a wok or 12-inch frying pan, over medium heat, saute vegetables in the peanut oil, stirring often, until vegetables are tender. Stir in half the ginger, salt and pepper; remove pan from heat and set aside. In a bowl mix together ground beef, soy sauce, crumbs, egg, parsley, garlic powder and remaining ginger, salt and pepper. Pat half the mixture into the bottom and up the sides of a 7½ by 12-inch baking dish. Spread vegetables on top; cover evenly with remaining meat mixture.

Bake in a 400° oven until well browned, about 30 minutes. Sprinkle with cheese and bake 5 minutes longer, until cheese melts. Cool for 10 minutes, then cut into squares.

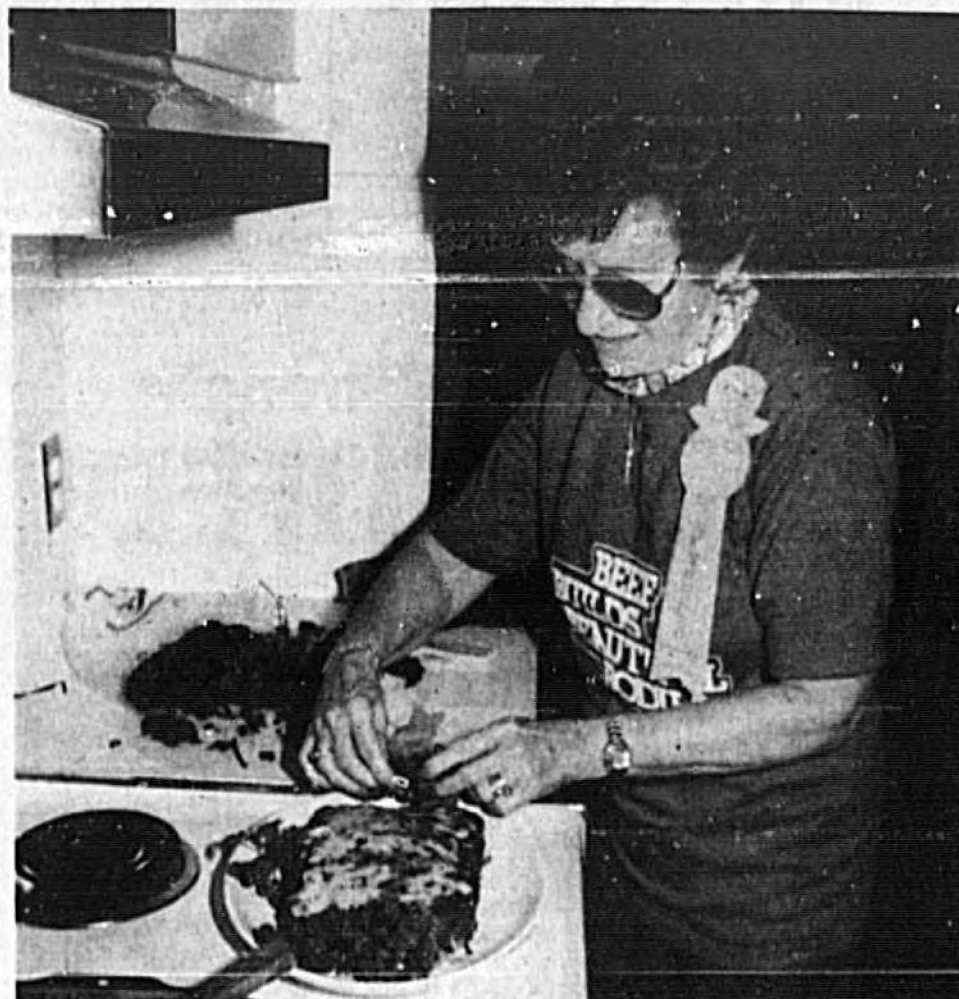

Servings: 5
Preparation time: Approximately 45 minutes (10 minutes to mix; 30 minutes to bake)

TIP: For extra special occasions, sprinkle cheese with toasted sesame seeds immediately on removing from oven.

Favor For Friend A Costly Experience

DEAR ABBY: Last summer before going to Paris, I was asked by a friend of mine to buy her a souvenir gold Eiffel Tower charm. She wanted to give me her credit card to charge it on, but I told her that I would pay for it myself and she could pay me back. I found the charm she wanted and bought it. It came to $61.50 in American money (I kept the sales slip.)

Dear Abby

Well, someone stole the charm from me while I was still in Paris, so when I returned home, I showed the friend the sales slip, explained that I had bought the charm for her, but it had been stolen. Then I asked her to share half the loss with me since I had bought it as a favor to her. She refused to share the loss, saying she didn't feel she owed me anything.

Now our friendship is strained. Do you think I should have suffered the entire loss? Or do you think she should have gone 50-50 with me?

NO LONGER FRIENDS

DEAR NO:

You were most accommodating to have purchased the charm as a favor to your friend. But since it was never delivered to her, I see no reason why she should go 50-50 on the loss. It would have been generous had she offered, but you were out of line to suggest it.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a girl of 14. I always knew I'd wind up writing to you sooner or later, but I was waiting on later.

Five months ago while on vacation, I met this guy I'll call Scott and we fell in love. You'll probably say that I'm too young to know what love is. Well, you're wrong! It happened real fast. Just 3 1/2 hours after we met we were making love. I never dreamed of going that far, but I couldn't help myself. He's 16. Three days later he told me it was all over between us.

After that, I started doing all kinds of crazy things like drinking, smoking, stealing and even doing drugs. Then I met this guy I'll call Kevin. He's everything I want, but I'm scared the same thing will happen with him that happened with Scott.

My parents are very old-fashioned. They won't let me have Kevin over to the house and they won't let me go to the mall to see him. I know I'm capable of handling myself, but my parents don't think so. How can I convince them that I am really more grown up than they think? They would kill me if they knew I had already experienced love.

Please, Abby, help me prove to my parents that I am mature and responsible. Sign me...

GROWN UP AT 14

DEAR GROWN UP: You can prove to your parents that you are mature and responsible by acting that way. So far, you have proven that you are not. Having experienced "love" (in your case it would be more accurately described as "sex") does not make you mature. Mature people make responsible choices and have no need to sneak and lie. Your parents love you and don't want to see you hurt. They are your friends, not your enemies. Get back on the right track fast before you end up in serious trouble.

(If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Sent $2 and a long stamped (37 cent) self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Live Longer

Nutritious Food Should Be First Item On Household Budget

By Lelord Kordel
Number Three of a Series

We heave more food available to us than most people on the face of the earth. Why is it, then, that malnutrition should haunt us in a land with such a high standard of living? With all this abundance and prosperity why do so many of us drop dead in the very prime of life?

The plain unvarnished fact is that we are not living as long as we should. We don't come anywhere near our potential.

The almost unbelievable part of it is that the very women who do the "most" for their families — are often directly to blame for some of this tragedy!

They are the devoted homemakers who overload their charges with rich baked goods, tasty casseroles, expensive tidbits!

MODERN LUCREZIA
Many a loving wife and mother would be highly offended if you suggested she was a present day Lucrezia Borgia.

Lucrezia, you know, was the gal who rid herself of an unwanted husband by giving him tasty viands spiked with arsenic or cyanide!

Lucrezia did it with cyanide — may a modern housewife does it with a skillet!

You see, most of our recipes are handed down from our great-great grandmothers who had to "make do" with what was available.

They grew their own wheat and ground it themselves. Refined flour was unknown.

They needed steak? A buffalo or deer was shot from the bounteous supply of wild game that roamed the land.

They wanted eggs? To the barn and back with a dozen.

An ear of corn or other vegetables? These were picked from virgin soil that had not been overworked.

There is an old saying that God made good food — but the devil made bad cooks.

In our modern, up-to-date kitchens the health-maintaining vitamins, minerals and other nutrients don't have a chance!

An ear of corn goes from field to wholesaler to supermarket. From package to refrigerator.

Finally, it limps in to dinner with as much as 77 percent of the mineral values and 50 percent of the vitamins lost in the shuffle.

To put it bluntly: the refinements we enjoy so much are killing us!

Unfortunately, like a broke leg, the penalty of bad nutrition doesn't arrive all at once.

It might be better if it did.

NUTRITIONAL SHORTAGES

Then more people would realize the danger and take steps to correct their nutritional shortages.

We eat today's over-refined foods and get fat.

We stuff ourselves to the gills — all the while our body is starving for vital nutrients.

Sooner or later our cells will let us know about it. It is then we begin to complain of "feeling old" while we are "still young."

Did you know that the male dies four times faster than his female counterpart?

Why is this so? It is the men who have been fed rich, fatty foods for a good share of their lives. First by their mothers. Then by their wives.

As she plugs in that electric fry pan, does the modern housewife realize she has suddenly turned into a modern Lucrezia Borgia? That she may be killing her husband in small daily doses?

What sort of meals do you have at your house? Plenty of meat and potatoes? Lots of rich brown gravy?

Apple pie? Chocolate cake? Hot rolls? Pancakes and waffles? Macaroni and cheese on budget nights?

After the age of 30, and most certainly after 40, you must begin taking stock of your eating habits.

Food should be the first item on your budget. Not new drapes for the living room. Not a new car. Not a house in the suburbs.

FOOD IS FIRST!
Food is item number one!

This, of course, means food that has not been devitalized by over-refining.

Next time you skin a potato, keep in mind that the peel has 90 percent of its vitamins. What were you going to do with those peelings?

When you tear off the outside leaves of lettuce or cabbage, remember that more than 60 percent of the minerals are concentrated there.

What were you going to do with them?

You were going to discard them, weren't you?

Do you also throw away the broth from cooked vegetables? Hold on!

This broth contains a good deal of the vitamins and minerals that came in the vegetables.

Don't pour this vital food down the drain! Make a clear soup of it in the following manner:

EXTRA NUTRITION
Simmer a small soup bone in about four quarts of water for three to four hours. During the last hour of cooking, add to it the outside lettuce leaves, cabbage leaves, celery tops, mushroom stems, pea pods — all the trimmings you would ordinarily throw away.

When these are tender, strain the broth. Allow it to cool. Remove any fat from the top of it. Refrigerate in glass jars.

It will make about two quarts of stock from which you can prepare a delicious consommé by the addition of lemon or spices and salt and pepper. Good nutrition is not a matter of intelligent selection. Proper foods actually cost less than many of those that are woefully lacking in nourishment.

Lamb Cuts Add Interest To Meals

Spring is a good time to think about incorporating lamb in menu planning. It is at this time that the supply is plentiful and the price is reasonable. Leg of lamb and lamb chops are the two favorite cuts; but other cuts such as breast, shoulder, or ground lamb can add interest to your meals.

A small leg of spring or New Zealand lamb will microwave tender, juicy and browned if a few suggestions are followed. Allow 10-14 minutes per pound, start at 100% power for 5 minutes, reduce to 50% power and cook until done. Well done lamb should be 150 degrees internal temperature. Shield the bone end of the leg with foil. Most herbs go well with lamb, but I'm partial to garlic and rosemary. Insert 2 or 3 cloves into the meat and rub the roast with the rosemary.

Lamb left from cooked leg can be cut into 3/4-inch cubes and prepared in the this manner:

MIDDLE EAST LAMB CASSEROLE
2 cups of cooked lamb, cubed
1 medium zucchini, cubed
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon red wine vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons olive oil
1/2 cup malt vinegar
2 teaspoons dry mint leaves
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon basil
Dash of pepper
Combine all ingredients in casserole. Microwave at 100% power for 3 minutes, reduce power to 50% power. Microwave for 8-12 minutes, or until zucchini is tender. Stir several times during cooking.

Serve over rice.
LAMB CHOPS WITH MINT SAUCE
Sauce:
3/4 cup water
1 teaspoon red wine vinegar
1 1/2 teaspoons olive oil
1/2 cup malt vinegar
2 teaspoons dry mint leaves
1 teaspoon sugar

Combine all ingredients in a 2-cup measure. Microwave at 100% power for 1-2 minutes or until boiling. Reduce power to 50%. Microwave for 5 minutes.

Place chops on roasting rack. Spread one teaspoon mint sauce on each chop. Microwave at 50% power for 7-10 minutes or until desired doneness. Spoon more sauce over each chop before serving.

You probably hadn't thought of doing kabobs of any kind in your microwave oven. Try these marinated lamb kabobs. I think you'll enjoy the results.

LAMB KABOBS/MICROWAVE

1 can (8 oz.) pineapple chunks, drained (reserve juice)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon dry mint leaves
1 pound of boneless lamb — cut into 24 pieces
8 firm cherry tomatoes
1 small green pepper, cut into eighths
4 wooden skewers (10-12 inches long)
Combine pineapple juice, lemon juice, soy sauce, ginger, and mint leaves. Stir in meat; cover. Marinate overnight in refrigerator. Remove meat and discard marinade.
Arrange lamb, tomatoes, green pepper, and pineapple chunks on skewers. Place skewers on roasting rack. Microwave at 50% power for 8-10 minutes or until lamb is the desired doneness.
Serve with rice pilaf.

Chef's Shrimp Treat

By JOHN DEMERS

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — Chef Bob Brunton of The Pier House calls broiled shrimp with tamarind butter one of his finest creations.

Brunton says it makes an excellent meal, served with a light green salad and parboiled, butter-basted plantains (cooking bananas) grilled in their skins.

He also recommends the tamarind butter for sauteing veal, lobster or baked fish.

On the hotel's restaurant menu his broiled specialty is called Shrimp Marquesas. The recipe following — which calls for overnight refrigeration — appeared in slightly different form in the first issue of Key West Life magazine, a bi-monthly. It is reprinted here with permission from publisher Jon R. Shutt.

If tamarind paste is unavailable, fresh lemon juice to taste may be substituted in the sauce. Brunton does not recommend it because the flavor is different, but lemon juice, like tamarind paste, provides acidity.)

2 pounds raw, medium-sized shrimp
1 cup freshly squeezed orange juice
1 cup coconut oil, sold in specialty shops

For the sauce:
1 pound unsalted butter, softened
4 tablespoons tamarind paste, sold in specialty shops

1 tablespoon boiling water
3/4 cup grated, unsweetened, toasted coconut

Coconut extract to taste
Salt and freshly ground pepper

Remove legs and body shells of shrimp but leave tail shells intact, to be used as a handle when dipping them in the sauce.
Whisk the orange juice and coconut oil together until combined. Stir in the shrimp and refrigerate overnight.

Whip the softened butter with a wire whisk until light and fluffy. Dissolve the tamarind paste, if using, in the water and blend it into the butter. If using lemon juice instead, blend it in at this point. Stir in the toasted coconut.

Add coconut extract and salt and pepper to taste, starting with a half teaspoon of the extract. Refrigerate overnight.

Remove sauce to soften about 3 hours before serving. It should be soft but not runny.

Drain the shrimp, reserving the marinade in refrigerator or freezer for future use, if desired.

Impale the shrimp in serving size portions on small skewers. Broil over charcoal or in a conventional broiler until just done but not tough.

Present the sizzling skewers of shrimp with individual bowls of tamarind butter sauce for dipping.

Low Blood Pressure No Health Guarantee

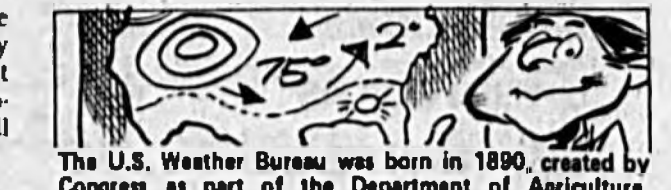

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm confused about the danger of high cholesterol and triglyceride levels in the blood and blood pressure. I'm 70 and in the last 20 years I've had high cholesterol levels. In the last 10 years I've had high triglyceride levels.

How To Measure Your Risk of Heart Disease, which I'm sending you. The three big risk factors that you can do something about are high blood pressure, high cholesterol and cigarette smoking. I'd appreciate your explanation of these contradictions. Why do I need to be concerned about these high levels if my blood pressure is so low? DEAR READER - You're confused about how risk factors are determined. If everything else was normal and all you had was high cholesterol levels, and if they were high enough, that would increase your risk of heart attacks or strokes three times what it would have been if you had a low optimal cholesterol value.

Comedies Pacing Box Office Draws

By Frank Sanello
UPI Entertainment Reporter

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Police Academy, a farce something like the cast of Porky's taking police training at Animal House, was the nation's top weekend box-office hit and the highest opening gross ever for Warner Bros.

The weekend's top five moneymakers, and seven of the top 10, were comedies.

Police Academy, a Ladd Co. teen-oriented comedy released by Warner Bros., took in $8.57 million to post the biggest debut of any film since Christmas.

Splash, Disney's mermaid comedy, fell to second place in its third weekend with a gross of $6.6 million. The film, released under the studio's Touchstone banner, has so far grossed $23.8 million and hiked its box-office take each successive weekend, setting records as the fastest moneymaker in Disney history.

Footloose, starring Kevin Bacon as an urban youth who moves to a rural community that forbids dancing and rock music, dropped from second to third with $4.4 million. In less than two months, Footloose has kicked up $43.9 million total.

Ice Pirates, a Star Wars spoof starring Robert Ulrich, fell from third to fourth in its second weekend, with $2.9 million. To date, the science fiction satire has grossed $8.4 million.

Tank, a military comedy starring James Garner, dropped from its debut fourth to fifth, grossing $2.8 million for $7.9 million to date.

Against All Odds held on to sixth place, with $2.2 million for a three-week total of $15 million.

Racing With the Moon, a bittersweet teen romance set during World War II that won rave reviews, debuted in seventh with $1.8 million. The film, which stars Sean Penn and Elizabeth McGovern, played at only 389 theaters for a respectable $4,636 per screen average.

Children of the Corn, based on a short story by Stephen King, dropped from fifth to eighth, grossing $1.7 million in a 37 percent decline from the previous weekend.

Terms of Endearment, the year's top Oscar contender with 11 nominations, lost a bit of its staying power and fell from seventh to ninth with a gross of $1.2 million. Terms has grossed $91.6 million in more than four months.

Michael Caine's Blame It on Rio rounded out the top 10 with $782,047, for a cumulative total of $16.8 million after six weeks.

Lassiter, the Tom Selleck Nazi spy caper, also continued to lose business, falling a dramatic 38 percent and dropping from ninth to 11th.

Odds Are, 'Right Stuff' Will Edge Out 'Terms' For Best Picture Oscar

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Shirley MacLaine and Robert Duvall are favored for best actor Oscars and The Right Stuff should win the best picture Academy Award next month, a casino oddsmaker says.

Lenny Del Genio, oddsmaker at the Frontier Hotel-Casino, said Miss MacLaine is a 3-1 favorite to win the best actress Oscar for her role in Terms of Endearment, while Duvall's Tender Mercies performance is a 3-2 favorite.

Accepting bets on the April 9 awards show is illegal in Nevada.

Glenn Close was listed at 5-to-2 for the supporting actress Oscar for The Big Chill, while Sam Shepard was a 3-1 pick to win top honors for supporting actor in The Right Stuff.

Director Bruce Beresford was Del Genio's selection at 3-to-1 to pick up the Academy Award for direction of Tender Mercies.

The oddsmaker's complete list of Academy Awards odds:

Cook Of The Week

City Manager Has It All Together: Career And Family

By Karen Warner
Herald Correspondent

It has been said that a woman cannot have a successful career and manage a well-kept home, spend time with her family, all at the same time and do it all well.

This week's "Cook of the Week," Lake Mary City Manager Kathy Rice, proves that it can be done, and done well.

Whether it is working a hectic week as city manager, a job that requires her attending two to three evening meetings a week as well as her other duties, or whether it is spending quality time at home as wife, mother and housekeeper, Kathy has it all together.

As a business person, Kathy admits that the inner workings of local government has always been a great interest to her. Born in Concord, Ga., her interest led her to Athens, Ga., where she earned her Master's degree in Public Administration at the University of Georgia. During that time, she met and married her husband, Mathew.

Her first job was as director of programs for 10 counties with the department of social services. Later she became personnel director for Clark County.

It was only one and a-half years ago that Kathy and Mathew, along with their three sons, Michael, 21, Adam, 19, and Timothy, 10, moved to Florida. To make Florida friends and contacts, Kathy began working with the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council, assisted in fund-raising for a computer program with the Council of Arts and Sciences, and joined in a campaign for candidate Sue Pins shot for a seat in the Orange County Commission.

But it was in October, 1983, that Kathy's lifetime goal became a reality when she was hired as Lake Mary city manager.

Aside from work commitments and son's baseball and soccer games, Kathy and her husband love to entertain in their home. Sunday brunches are one way that they entertain. Setting out a feast of coffee breads, cheese-filled cakes, mushroom almond pate, cheese souffles, coffee and Bloody Marys, the Rices invited their friends for a relaxing afternoon.

Theme dinner parties are another way they entertain. One dinner, Kathy said, was a year 1600 pre-Columbian Mexican, with Spanish influence. "I spent hours at the library researching what kinds of foods were eaten back then," she said. The dinner party was a success.

In order to make "quality time" for her family, Kathy spends time on the weekends pre-preparing her meals, for either freezing or storing in the refrigerator. As in her recipe for Shish Kebab, "I cut up all the ingredients ahead of time, marinate the meat, and store it," she said. "If I cook a meatloaf, I automatically cook two, one to eat, one to store. It saves me time during the week, and I can still serve my family good hot meals."

Following are just a few of Kathy's favorite recipes:

SHISH KEBAB

Kathy Rice uses Buttermilk Marinade for chicken, pork and steak cuts to have ready for a variety of Shish Kebabs. The Lake Mary City Manager shares shortcut recipes for meals that are delightfully different.

Herald Photo by Karen Warner

Cut into chunks, chicken, pork backbone or chuck steak.
Make several marinades and put each kind of meat into each marinade. Marinate at least overnight.

Drizzle oil over fresh mushrooms, quartered onions, zucchini and yellow squash, cherry tomatoes and put in refrigerator. (This will keep them from drying out and cooking too fast on the grill)

Buttermilk Marinade
2 cups buttermilk
2 chopped cloves of garlic
Salt and pepper

SPAGHETTI ALLA CARBONARA

1 lb. spaghetti
1/2 cup freshly grated parmesan cheese
1/2 cup sour cream
2 large eggs

Salt and pepper
4 strips crispy fried bacon
1 lb. cooked Italian sausage in small pieces
Cook spaghetti according to the directions on the package. Mix in large bowl, the eggs, bacon, sausage, salt, pepper and parmesan cheese. When spaghetti is cooked, strain and cool slightly with lukewarm water. Put spaghetti in bowl with egg mixture. Toss quickly. The heat from the spaghetti will cook the eggs and melt the cheese for a great sauce. When tossed add sour cream. Serve immediately. Serves 5.

PIPIAN DE CAMARONES Shrimp Fricassee

2 lbs. raw jumbo shrimp
1 cup pepitas (pumpkin seeds)
1 small onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, chopped
6 sprigs fresh coriander
1/2 lb. tomatoes, peeled and chopped
6 green chilies (mild Serrano or Jalapeno)
3 whole pimientos, chopped
1/2 tablespoon ground coriander
Salt and pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
3 tablespoons oil

1 tablespoon lemon juice
Boil shrimp five minutes. Cool and peel. Reserve liquid. Place pepitas in electric blender or coffee grinder and grind until fine. Combine onion, garlic, coriander tomatoes, chilies, and pimientos in blender and blend until pureed. Stir in pepitas, coriander, salt and pepper and sugar.

Heat oil in skillet and cook for five minutes, stirring constantly. Add one cup shrimp water. Add the shrimp and heat. Do not boil. Just before serving, stir in lemon juice. Serves 6.

WHITE SPANISH GAZPACHO

3 medium cucumbers, peeled and chunked
1 small clove of garlic
3 cups chicken broth
1 lb. sour cream
3 tablespoons white vinegar
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup chopped tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1/2 cup chopped green onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup toasted almonds.

Combine cucumbers, garlic in blender with a little broth. Blend until smooth. Add remaining broth. Stir in sour cream, white vinegar, salt. Cover and refrigerate two hours or overnight. To serve ladle into shallow bowls. Put tomatoes, parsley, onions, pepper and almonds in small bowls. Spoon these as desired into soup bowls.

TAKKULI

1 cup bulgur wheat
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup salad oil
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 cup sliced green onions
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1/2 cup chopped fresh mint leaves
1 cup chopped parsley sprigs
2 firm tomatoes, chopped
Bring bulgur and water to a boil in covered pan. Remove from heat and keep covered until liquid is absorbed. Put bulgur into bowl and mix with oil, lemon juice, salt, allspice. Add mint, parsley, tomatoes and green onions. Refrigerate at least two hours. Serve with lettuce leaves or saltines.

JOE'S BEANS

2 lbs. Kilbasa sausage
1 (24 oz.) large package frozen green beans
1/2 cup white wine
Cut sausage into bite-size pieces. Mix with green beans and white wine in saucepan. Simmer until green beans are thawed, approximately 10 minutes. Put in refrigerator. When ready to eat, reheat. Serve with potatoes and salad for a great supper.

Peppercorn: Big Time Under The Big Top

The stadium at Lake Mary High School was nearly filled Saturday night when Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole presented "Professor Peppercorn and the Amazing Outdoor Traveling Show."

A heavy rainfall around noon halted rehearsal but the show triumphantly went off on schedule.

Crowds arrived early for the midway festivities - hot dogs, cotton candy, souvenirs, clown faces, displays, balloons - the works.

The high-stepping 21 Ballet Guild company dancers cast in the colorful outdoor extravaganza are: Heather Bennett, Kim Brinson, Lisa Clontz, Leslie Crabtree, Lynne Dickey, Shay Fielder, Nicole Green, Gina Hattaway, Heather Hoffman, Erika Mills, Theresa Moore, Stacey Morris, Melody Sanders, Dorian Sapp, Janet Sawczuk, Robin Scott, Rene Singleton, Shanan Stewart, Vera vonBerg, Desiree Wheaton and Shell Wilbur.

Guest dancers were Miriam Rye Wright, co-artistic director of Ballet Guild, Charmly Mann and Carolyn Moore.

Dr. Frank Clontz, a Sanford surgeon, portrayed the role of Professor Peppercorn, a lovable world traveler who brought his show to town. Clontz described each act in cleverly composed rhyme written especially for the original ballet by Mildred M. Caskey.

When the show time drew near, the large stadium was darkened as flickering lights and brightly colored spotlights swept through the audience, setting the mood for an exciting evening under the Big Top. Colorfully-clad clowns were on duty during the performance - passing out favors to the delight of the young and young-at-heart.

The entire performance was well staged and according to a longtime Ballet Guild patron, "the best show yet." This performance was the 16th annual concert since Ballet Guild was founded.

Dr. Clontz led the "Welcome - Parade of Flags" as dancers, in dazzling native costumes, danced their way into the hearts of the audience while flags of the world proudly waved.

There were funny clowns, puppets and puppeteers, gypsies, an American birthday party, Oriental harem dancers (a troop of unidentified guest dancers wearing veils), fan dancers, Mexican señoritas, Biblical dancers, Italian peasants, Texas cowgirls, soldiers portraying the civil war era and America the beautiful as the finale.

Before the show got underway, Valerie Weld, co-artistic director, explained to the audience that this original ballet was conceived by her sister, Miriam. The two sisters have been the BGS artistic directors and choreographers since it was founded in 1968.

Mrs. Weld presented the Silver Slipper award to Lisa Clontz for acquiring the most sponsors. Lynne Dickey was first runner-up.

According to Pat Scott, production manager, an estimated 1,500 persons turned out for the big show under the Big Top, the largest local audience ever recorded.

A first-time Ballet Guild patron expressed surprise at the professionalism of the show. "Why this is like the big time. I had no idea that such talent and creativity were in our community."

And that's how it was. Big Time under the Big Top at Ballet Guild's 16th annual concert. — Doris Dietrich

Grapefruit

Refreshing Meal Starter Shows Up In Delightful Flower Disguises

The juicy Florida grapefruit half which makes such a refreshing starter to any meal has shed its tiny sprig-of-mint garnish to appear in restaurants and hotel dining rooms in delightful flower disguises.

Sweet and attractively-priced grapefruit can be found in the market in abundance through late spring. Rich in vitamin C and fiber, grapefruit is used as a versatile ingredient in recipes from soup to desserts.

But the popular grapefruit half — each section cut and loosened from the membrane — has become a stage for interesting new garnishing ideas developed by young chefs. Here are a few suggestions to heighten both the eye and flavor appeal of this zesty citrus fruit.

For breakfast: mix ½ cup brown sugar with two tablespoons of cinnamon, spread evenly over four grapefruit halves and heat under the broiler for five minutes. Then add just-thawed frozen strawberries to the center. You can substitute honey, molasses or maple syrup for the brown sugar.

Another breakfast delight is created by mixing crumbled bacon or slices of smoked salmon with whipped cream cheese to top a grapefruit half.

For Luncheon or Dinner:

Insert narrow wedges of ripe black olives, petal fashion, between loosened grapefruit sections and place a slice of a pimiento-stuffed green olive in the center.

Decorate a grapefruit half with "flowers" made with a circle of mint leaves, each topped with a small pineapple chunk capped with a black olive half.

Make an appealing "blossom" using petals of fresh strawberry slices and a center of colored after-dinner mints.

For petals on a grapefruit half with thin apple slices complete with the red peel. Cover these with orange sections and put a chocolate mint patty in the center.

Flake canned salmon in the center of the grapefruit, sprinkle with parsley and surround with curly celery leaf petals.

To Prepare a Grapefruit Half...

You will need a paring knife and a thin, semi-flexible sectioning knife with a curved end to slip under sections.

Use this curved knife to loosen the back and bottom of each section and the paring knife to separate sections from the side membranes. With a little practice, you can produce a perfectly-sectioned grapefruit half in just a few minutes.

When selecting fresh grapefruit look for tight, shiny skin free of bruises or cuts. Select a fruit that is heavy for its size, which means plenty of juice. A greenish cast of small brown scratches are natural surface marks that do not affect the fruit's interior.

There are lots of ways to use nutritious grapefruit sections as an ingredient or as a garnish to glamorize dishes. Here are some new and exciting suggestions to revitalize your menus:

- Use grapefruit sections to bring out the flavor of shrimp and fish, either cooked or in cold salads.
- Slather pumpernickel with cream cheese or cottage cheese and add grapefruit sections and a sprinkle of olives.
- Top tomato slices with zesty grapefruit sections and scatter sliced scallions.
- Arrange grapefruit sections in a pinwheel and bathe with pureed strawberry sauce for a refreshing dessert.
- Use sections as an edible garnish for platter of chops or ham loaf — grapefruit blends wonderfully with ham and pork.

Pink or white grapefruit are interchangeable; just use the color of the other food on the plate as your guide.

SANIBEL RICE SALAD

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
 - 2 cups grapefruit juice from Florida, divided
 - ½ cup bottled Italian dressing
 - 3 cups cooked rice
 - ½ cup pitted, sliced, ripe olives
 - ½ cup chopped scallions

Stir remaining ½ cup grapefruit juice, dressing, rice, olives, scallions and radishes; mix well. Spoon into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

GRAPEFRUIT-SALMON SALAD

 - 1½ pounds new potatoes, cooked, cooled, quartered
 - 1 cucumber, seeded and sliced

 - ¼ cup thinly sliced red onion
- Line a large serving platter with lettuce leaves. Arrange salmon, grapefruit sections, potatoes, cucumbers, walnuts and red onions on platter. Serve with Citrus Dressing. * Yield: 4 servings.

*Citrus Dressing

 - ¼ cup grapefruit juice from Florida
 - 1 teaspoon Dijon-style mustard
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - ½ teaspoon salt
 - Dash pepper
 - ½ cup vegetable oil
- In medium bowl beat egg yolk. Beat in grapefruit juice, mustard, garlic, salt and pepper. Gradually beat in oil. Yield: About ¾ cup dressing.

Meatballs: Spicy Dish From India

Americans are developing a greater interest in the foods of other nations as more and more people travel to exotic lands.

One recent discovery is a meatball delicacy of East India called "koftas." They are spiced with cardamom, cinnamon, coriander, cloves and chili. This beef-ball recipe is adapted for American cooks and also uses onion, sweet red pepper, garlic and pepper sauce.

Indians eat the meatballs with their fingers as hot hors d'oeuvres or as a main dish.

KOFTAS (Meatballs)

- 1 medium onion, minced
 - 1 medium sweet red pepper, minced
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 2 tablespoons ground coriander
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground cardamom
 - 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
 - 1 pound ground chuck
 - 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Combine minced onion, red pepper and garlic, coriander, salt, cinnamon, cloves, cardamom, chili powder and pepper sauce. Mix well. Add meat and mix thoroughly. Form into 1-inch balls. Brown quickly in melted butter or margarine, shaking pan to prevent sticking. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 to 10 hors d'oeuvre servings or 4 main-dish servings.

Spicy Koftas make excellent hors d'oeuvres or a main dish.

Chambord Chateau Royale Ideal For A Bridal Shower

A rich looking and tasting dessert highlights any dinner. Here is one that has special lace cookie ruffles filled with coffee ice cream.

This dessert is ideal for a small bridal shower

CHAMBORD CHATEAU ROYALE

- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen raspberries in syrup, thawed
- 1/2 cup black raspberry liqueur
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 cup finely chopped toasted almonds
- 1 quart coffee ice cream

To make Chambord Sauce: Thoroughly drain raspberries over small saucepan. Press drained berries through strainer into small bowl to make a puree. Reserve puree and discard seeds. Bring liquid in saucepan to boiling over medium heat. Mix 1/4 cup of black raspberry liqueur with cornstarch until smooth; stir into saucepan. Stir in the remaining liqueur. Cook and stir until slightly thickened, about 2 minutes. Cool to room temperature and stir in reserved puree; cover and set aside.

To make Cookie Ruffles: In small saucepan combine corn syrup, butter and sugar. Stir over low heat until butter melts and mixture is thoroughly blended. Remove from heat. Stir in flour, then almonds. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly grease two baking sheets. Spoon batter for two cookies onto each sheet, using 1 1/2 tablespoons of the batter for each cookie. Bake in center of oven 10 to 12 minutes until batter stops bubbling and cookies are lightly browned. Cool about 30 seconds. Just until cookies are firm enough to be lifted with a buttered spatula. Working quickly, transfer pliable cookies to inverted 6-ounce custard cups (or similar bowls).

Form ruffled cups by molding with hands against bottom and sides of cup. Cookies will extend beyond edges of cups. When crisp, remove from cups. (If cookies harden before they are molded, return to oven for a minute or two to soften.) Repeat with remaining batter. Cool cookies and store in airtight container. To serve: Place Cookie Ruffles on individual plates. Fill each with a scoop of ice cream and spoon Chambord Sauce, equally divided, over ice cream. Serve immediately.

Elderly Vulnerable To Poor Nutrition

The elderly are especially vulnerable to inadequate nutrition, says Dr. Harold H. Sandstead.

"It's a real tough problem" because of age-related diseases, denture problems, inability to grocery shop, limited income and alcoholism, Sandstead said in a telephone interview.

"Many of these people need somebody else to thoughtfully help them, particularly if they're alone," the doctor said.

"I think that the family ought to be involved in assisting in getting people help."

Sandstead is director of the USDA's recently established Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts University, Boston.

He said researchers there will try to determine whether nutrition affects longevity and the occurrence of certain diseases and conditions associated with aging.

For the elderly without families, he said, life is especially difficult. In such cases, he suggests that neighbors and friends bring their situations to the attention of people who can help.

As a start, he said, the elderly need a balanced diet.

"They need a broad variety of foods on a regular basis," Sandstead said. "If they do that, they have a high probability of meeting their nutrient requirements for daily living."

"If they have poorly fitting dentures or don't have dentures then they need to get dentures," he said.

"Old people have infirmities. They have difficulty getting around. Then their ability to shop is cut down and their choices are restricted."

"There are groups that will help deliver their meals to them."

Sandstead suggests friends and family do their shopping.

"In some communities there are nurses who will look in on these people," he said.

Sometimes food selection is limited by income. After paying fixed living costs such as rent, heating and clothing, the elderly may have little or nothing left to spend for groceries, he said.

Poor nutrition may increase susceptibility to infectious diseases, delay recovery time in a hospital and impair the person's ability to cope with minor illnesses, he said.

He said social isolation can be reduced with the help of community resources — such as senior centers and churches or synagogues — where the elderly can meet to eat and socialize.

"All of these have beneficial effects on their nutrition," Sandstead said. "One of the problems if people are isolated or living alone is to get them out with their contemporaries. Family members looking in on them can also make a big difference in their nutrition."

Another problem arises when a spouse dies.

"The other member of the family may become severely depressed. And with depression they lose their appetite, they don't eat well and then they become malnourished."

"It's important that family and friends look in on the person. It may be necessary for the (survivor) to live for a temporary time with the family until they can recover and get back on an even keel."

Sandstead said alcoholism is surprisingly common among the elderly.

"It's kind of ignored but it shouldn't be."

Heavy drinkers don't eat properly, he said.

"And they tend to exclude foods that are rich in certain vitamins. They'll drink their calories."

"It's important that people address the issue honestly — don't brush it under the rug."

He said the elderly who have a drinking problem or who are dependent on drugs such as tranquilizers should enroll in programs to help them get off alcohol or drugs.

Greatest Food Show In Land Highlights TV Special

"The Magic of David Copperfield:VI" is a television Special which will air on the CBS television network on April 6, 8-9:00 p.m., EST.
