$300,000 Surety Bond OK'd

Dog Track Compromise Allows May 3 Opening

Call it a dead heat. Following a four-hour hearing before Seminole Circuit Judge Kenneth Leffler on Monday, lawyers for Seminole Greyhound Park and the Daytona Beach and Sanford-Orlando kennel clubs hammered out a surety bond agreement that will permit Seminole Greyhound Park to open May 3 while it appeals an appellate court decision that its racing license is invalid before the Florida Supreme Court.

Under the compromise struck between Seminole Greyhound Park lawyer David Strawn and Daytona Beach lawyer J. Kermit Coble, Seminole owners Bill and Jack Demetree have until April 20 to post a $300,000 surety bond against any losses the Daytona Beach track may suffer this spring when both pari-mutuels compete for betting dollars over the same racing dates. The bond is in addition to a $471,000 personal bond Leffler ordered the Demetrees to post last June against losses Daytona Beach suffered during Seminole's first season of racing. The original $471,000 personal bond will remain in effect, with the Daytona Beach and Sanford-Orlando kennel clubs as co-beneficiaries.

Lawyers for both sides failed to pinpoint to Leffler's satisfaction the exact amount of losses suffered by the Daytona Beach pari-mutuel during the 1980-81 season.

Coble brought Sidney L. Greene, the Daytona track's accountant, to the witness stand. He testified that Daytona's gross "handle" was down $7.3 million over 1980 because of competition for betting dollars over the same race dates. Greene estimated Daytona lost $709,303 on pari-mutuel commissions in 1981, and $52,178 in concessions.

Harris Dunn, assistant comptroller for Seminole Greyhound Park, however, testified that Daytona's losses in 1981 were in the neighborhood of $175,000 after the track covered variable expenses. Dunn estimated that, at most, Daytona suffered losses of no more than $210,000.

With that figure in mind, Strawn told Leffler that Daytona's combined losses for last year and projected losses for the upcoming racing season still would not exceed the original $471,000 bond posted last June by the Demetrees.

Leffler then ordered a recess and instructed lawyers for both sides to reach a compromise. Following a 20-minute bartering session between Coble and Strawn, the two agreed on the $300,000 figure, well below the original $1 million Coble had sought.

In addition to the surety bond, Strawn agreed to supply Leffler with financial statements on both Bill and Jack Demetree for 1980 by April 20 and financial statements for the brothers for 1981 as soon as they are available. Coble sought the financial statements to determine whether the brothers had the assets to ensure the bonds.

Strawn requested that Leffler review the financial statements in the event the Demetrees are unable to post the $300,000 surety bond and have to return before Leffler to post another personal bond.

Jack Demetree told Leffler he estimated his personal worth at $4 million and his brother's personal worth at $8 million.

But Demetree told Leffler the track may have trouble finding a surety company to ensure the bond. He told the judge the Demetrees have a bond line of approximately $10 million for their contract. See TRACK, Page 2A

DISTRESS? NOT REALLY

This upside-down American flag flying high atop the flagpole at the Seminole County Courthouse in Sanford on Monday reflects only human error, and not the international signal of distress. Realizing a mistake had been made in hoisting the Stars and Stripes, county personnel quickly rectified the error.

Sanford Commission May Take Months To Decide On Charter

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

It took Sanford's Charter Revision Committee 13½ months to come up with changes the group considered necessary in the city government's charter. And it may take at least a few months before the City Commission gives its approval to change.

In a first joint meeting late Monday afternoon, two of the proposed five major changes were discussed.

Three commissioners present — Eddie Keith, Ned Yancey and Milton Smith — didn't like the proposed creation of residency districts for commissioners.

According to a letter from Seminole Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce, she didn't like the election dates set.

If the charter committee's recommendation is heeded to change city election times from the first Tuesday after the first Monday in December to the second Tuesday after the first Monday in September, Sanford voters would have had to go to the polls four times in five weeks this year.

In a letter to the commission, City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles said the information from Mrs. Bruce was not available at the time the review committee did its work.

Mrs. Bruce suggests that the city election be held at the same time as the first statewide primary. This year the date would be Sept. 7. In addition, she suggested that the city runoff election be held on the same date as the second primary — Oct. 5.

Mrs. Bruce also added, "We have previously assisted you (the city) in conducting your runoff election two weeks after your city general election. Because of the workload in this office at that particular time, we would not be in a position to perform all the necessary functions — such as ordering ballots, programming the computer, counting the ballots, etc. — in a two-week period of time after our first primary election."

"However, we could assist you in the runoff election if it is held on the same date as our second primary election. In addition, this would allow additional time in which to issue absentee ballots for your runoff election," Mrs. Bruce's letter said.

She suggested that the city incorporate seven sections of state election law into the city charter.

The three city commissioners were not as concerned with the election date as they were with the districting proposal.

Keith, acting mayor in Mayor Lee P. Moore's absence, said that currently anyone in the city can bring him a complaint. "If there were districting, the people would have to go to their district commissioner," he said.

Dr. Velma Williams of the committee said she didn't interpret districting as restricting any commissioner to serving only those people living in his or her district.

Knowles told of the districting plan used in Volusia County years ago when each district county commissioner had his own budget to spend within his district.

Dan Pelham, committee member and former county commissioner, explained that the districts apply only to residency. He noted that technically all the city commissioners today could live next door to each other. "This would spread the residency of the commissioners throughout Sanford," he said.

Pelham said all commissioners would be elected by all the people.

Committee member Clyde "Robbie" Robertson said one of the reasons for the recommendation was to make it easier for the people to know the commissioners.

And committee member George Willis said he is willing to wager that 50 percent of the people could not name a single city commissioner. "We're trying to get away from the 'good old boy' type of government," he said.

Commissioner Ned Yancey said that when people show up for commission meetings now, they leave as soon as the item they are interested in is acted on. "The non-residence districting," Yancey said, "but I don't see how districting will stimulate the people to become involved."

City Clerk Henry Tamn said that if districting is to be approved, the group also needs to consider placing in the charter language explaining the consequences of two other actions.

The two actions include: whether a candidate can qualify for a district seat and, after the election, move into the district for which he has qualified; and what happens if a commissioner lives in a district and moves out after he is elected. "Would this disqualify him from holding office? Tamn asked.

Keith instructed the staff to consider Mrs. Bruce's suggestions and come back with recommendations. He also set regular joint meetings for the first and third Mondays of each month at 4 p.m.

Knowles warned that a final draft of a revised charter should be in mind by July 1 if the city wants to place the proposed changes before the people for a vote by the fall elections.

Sharon Meeker Freed In Sanford Arson Case

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A 31-year-old Sanford woman, facing up to 15 years in state prison following her conviction of second-degree arson Jan. 25, is free — for now.

Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler dismissed the case against Sharon Lee Meeker, of 606 Park Ave., Monday, on what state prosecutors are calling "a true legal technicality." However, the prosecution is expected to file a notice of appeal, transferring the case to the attorney general's office for appeal through the Fifth District Court of Appeal in Daytona Beach.

"The judge felt that by leaving out the word 'unlawful' (in the information of the case) that the words that were there did not charge her with arson," said Randy Kramer, state prosecutor in the case. "The word 'unlawful' is basically surplus. It's been something that some lawyers put in, but it isn't necessary or required. (Assistant Public Defender Norman) Levin was saying in his motion for an arrest of judgment that the word is mandatory. It's nothing we left out that we should have left in."

Ms. Meeker was found guilty of second-degree arson Jan. 25 after she testified in court that she torched the 1839 Jerry St. home of former Sanford police officer Walter L. Jones in 1980. Ms. Meeker also testified she committed the act, with the help of two other people, out of love for Jones and not for money he reportedly was to pay her, which he would collect from an insurance policy.

James Michael Williams, 35, of Union Park, and his ex-wife, Patricia, 34, of Lake Mary, confessed, prior to Ms. Meeker's conviction, to their participation in the arson. The couple also testified against Ms. Meeker in the January trial before Leffler.

Jones was arrested Feb. 3 on charges of solicitation for arson and insurance fraud, following an indictment by the Seminole County grand jury in the case. No trial date (for Jones) has been set.

Levin also said in his motion for dismissal that the state had charged his client with criminal mischief but that she had been convicted of second-degree arson, a crime for which she reportedly was never charged.

"We didn't charge her with the wrong charge," Kramer said. "We charged her with arson. That she burned down a home..."

"The judge did find her guilty originally (of second-degree arson)," Kramer said. "There was overwhelming evidence as to her guilt. I think everyone was surprised that the case was dismissed, but I drafted the notice of appeal before I left the office last night, and after I talk with a few more people about it, I'll probably file it with the attorney general's office tomorrow."

Levin and Leffler could not be reached for comment.

But what effect, if any, will the dismissal of the Meeker case have on the case against Jones? Will the state be able to prosecute Jones on charges of solicitation of arson if the person he is suspected of soliciting to burn his home remains free?

"This case — Ms. Meeker's dismissal — will not affect the Jones case one iota," said Steve Brady, who is the state prosecutor in the Jones case. "It will not affect it."

Toughlove

Frustrated Parents Seek Ways To Gain Control Of Their Lives

DR. JOHN CURTIS: "Children want a strong family support system up until about junior high age. Then they begin testing their parents in a power struggle."

Third In A Series

Herald staff writer Joe DeSantis attended a meeting of the Longwood chapter of Toughlove to gain a first-hand perspective of the problems facing parents with problem children. The identities of those attending the meeting have been withheld to ensure confidentiality.

By JOE DESANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

They come scared, frustrated and feeling they're the only ones in the world with the problem. Mothers and fathers, husbands and wives, desperately searching for a way to cope with a crisis at home. Trying to get a handle on how to deal with their dropout, drug-troubled, hell-bent-on-self-destruction sons and daughters.

They come looking for the support and strength to say to their kids, "Enough is enough — we don't condone your lifestyle and we aren't going to accept it. Live by our rules or there's the front door."

Parents are finding that by putting their foot down through the concept of "Toughlove," they can indeed regain control of their lives and their families. It doesn't come easy. And it doesn't come overnight. Like most personal problems and crises, the first step is always the toughest. It takes love — Toughlove — and the realization and acceptance that there is a problem.

At a recent meeting of the Longwood Toughlove group at Lake Brantley High School, 14 parents met to discuss the problems they've experienced and are experiencing with their problem children.

"It can put a hell of a dent in your parental ego when it dawns on you that you're not where you want to be, where you pictured you'd be with your kids when they are teen-agers," said one father.

"My wife and I grew up with the concept that you go through school, on to college, get married and settle down and raise a family."

"The typical American dream," said the parent in his early fifties.

In a fashion similar to Alcoholics Anonymous, the Longwood father of four began the meeting with his personal story, a

"Toughlove" concept that helps parents find out they are not alone, that their parental peers are facing the same heart-break and anguish they are.

"We were so naive," continued the father. "We knew something was wrong with our son but were afraid to admit he had a drug problem. I found a bag of 'grass' in his room and he told me it was marijuana. And I believed him," recounted the father.

"I didn't want to believe my kid was in trouble."

"Not my son, I told myself."

The father went on to retrace four troublesome years for his son and his family. He said the other three children didn't give him trouble.

"We lost control of our home for a while," he admitted. "Our son had worked a part-time job at night since he was a sophomore in high school. He always seemed tired and run-down. We thought it was from working late and getting up early for school. But then his personality began to change. He became surly and uncommunicative."

Things got progressively worse for that family, eventually. See PARENTS, Page 2A

You continue in barley's rich, wonderful history whenever you use it in your kitchen. Where do you begin? Right here, with these nutritionally-balanced menus featuring the best of barley main dishes.

HUNGARIAN BARLEY STEW

- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 1/2 lb. beef stew meat, cut into 1/2-inch cubes
- 1 1/2 cups chopped onion (about 2 large onions)
- 1 medium green pepper, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 cups water
- One 28-oz. can whole tomatoes, undrained
- 2-3 cup regular barley
- 1 tablespoon paprika
- Dairy sour cream

In 4-qt. heavy saucepan or Dutch oven, heat oil. Add meat; brown on all sides. Add onion, green pepper and salt; cook just until vegetables are tender. Add remaining ingredients except sour cream; mix well. Cover; bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Uncover, simmer about 1 hour or until meat and barley are tender, stirring occasionally. Dollop individual servings with sour cream. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: Substitute 1 cup quick barley for regular barley, if desired. Add quick barley after stew has simmered 40 minutes. Continue simmering 20 to 25 minutes or until meat and barley are tender.

ROAST CHICKEN WITH HERBED BARLEY STUFFING

- Stuffing:
- 3 cups water
 - 1/2 cup regular barley
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 1 cup celery slices
 - 1/2 cup chopped onion
 - 1 cup dry bread crumbs
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1/2 to 1/4 cup chicken broth
 - 2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley or 2 teaspoons dried parsley flakes
 - 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning

Chicken:

- One 4 to 4 1/2 lb. roasting chicken
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

For Stuffing: In medium saucepan, bring water to a boil. Stir in barley and salt. Reduce heat. Cover; simmer 30 to 60 minutes or until barley is tender, stirring occasionally. Drain; set aside. In large skillet, melt butter. Sauté celery and onion until tender. Add barley and remaining ingredients; mix well.

For chicken: Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Remove giblets and neck from chicken. Rinse chicken; pat dry. Lightly spoon about 2 cups stuffing mixture into body cavity. Secure neck skin over opening with wooden pick. Fold wings under back. Tie legs together. Place chicken breast side up on rack in shallow roasting pan; brush with melted butter. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of thigh, not touching bone. Roast about 2 hours and 10 minutes, or until meat thermometer registers 180 degrees to 185 degrees F., basting with butter every 30 minutes. Make 4 to 6 servings.

NOTE: Substitute 1/2 cup quick barley for regular barley, if desired. Decrease water to 2 1/2 cups. Decrease cooking time of barley to 10 to 12 minutes or until barley is tender, stirring occasionally. Proceed as recipe directs.

NOTE: Place any remaining stuffing in small baking dish. Bake, uncovered, with chicken during last 30 minutes of roasting.

CASSEROLE CONCARNE

- One lb. ground beef
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- One 15-oz. can tomato sauce
- 1 cup water
- 1/2 cup regular barley
- 1/2 cup black olive slices
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 to 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. In medium skillet, brown ground beef with onion; drain fat. In large bowl, combine ground beef mixture with remaining ingredients except cheese; mix well. Place in 11 x 7-inch baking dish. Cover tightly with foil. Bake about 1 hour or until barley is tender. Uncover; stir casserole. Sprinkle cheese on top. Continue baking 2 to 3 minutes or until cheese is melted. Garnish with additional black olive slices, chopped tomatoes or avocado slices if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

NOTE: Substitute 1/2 cup quick barley for regular barley, if desired. Decrease baking time of casserole to 30 minutes. Proceed as recipe directs.

FAR EAST BARLEY PILAF

- 4 cups water
- 2-3 cup regular barley
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup fresh mushroom slices or one 4-oz. can mushroom slices, drained

- 1-3rd cup green onion slices
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1-3rd cup water chestnut slices
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce

In large saucepan, bring water to a boil. Stir in barley. Season with salt and reduce heat. Cover. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Cook 10 to 12 minutes or until barley is tender, stirring occasionally. Drain; set aside. In large skillet, melt butter. Sauté mushrooms, onion and garlic until tender. Add barley, water, chestnuts and soy sauce; mix well. Continue cooking over medium heat until mixture is heated through. Makes 6 servings.

NOTE: Substitute 1 cup quick barley for regular barley, if desired. Decrease water to 3 cups. Decrease cooking time of barley to 10 to 12 minutes or until barley is tender, stirring occasionally. Proceed as recipe directs.

Entertaining In Stride, With Pride

Entertaining a group can call for a menu as complicated as a Victorian banquet... as costly as the wedding of a squire... as full of calories as the local candy store. Oh, it can be delicious, sumptuous, nutritious and inexpensive... with the right flavor... hot and cold dishes to please each taste and easy to prepare. The secret is in selecting party foods in the market that are low in cost, high in value and flavor.

TURKEY BREAST WITH PESTO SAUCE

Roast turkey breast served hot or cold with tangy Pesto Sauce. Who does not love tender slices of the white meat of our noble bird?

1 turkey breast (up to 6 pounds), thawed
Melted butter or margarine
Pesto sauce (Below)

Place turkey breast, skin side up on rack in shallow roasting pan. Brush with melted butter. Cover with foil tent and roast in 325 degree oven for 20 to 22 minutes per pound or until meat thermometer registers 170 to 175 degrees. Remove foil tent for last 30 minutes of roasting, basting occasionally with pan juices. (If turkey breast was not completely thawed add 30 to 40 minutes additional roasting time.) Allow meat to rest 15 to 30 minutes before carving. Serve hot or cold with Pesto Sauce.

To thaw: Leave turkey breast in plastic bag. Thaw 2 to 3 days in refrigerator. For faster thawing, leave turkey breast in bag and cover with cold water; allow one half hour per pound of turkey; change water frequently. YIELD: 8 to 10 servings.

PESTO SAUCE

2 cups tightly packed parsley leaves
1/2 cup olive or vegetable oil
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
2 cloves garlic
4 teaspoons dried basil leaves
1 tablespoon capers (optional)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
Combine ingredients in container of electric blender or food processor. Process 30 seconds or until smooth. YIELD: 1 cup sauce.

BAKED TURKEY STEAKS

Turkey steaks baked with seasoned crumbs, Swiss cheese and pimiento and served on a bed of rice — robust, hearty and full of savory goodness.

6 turkey steaks (about 5 ounces each)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
Two-thirds cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning, divided
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, divided
1 teaspoon paprika
3 whole pimientos, cut in half
6 slices Swiss cheese (about 4 ounces)
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/4 cup sherry
1/4 cup water
2 tablespoons snipped parsley
3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice

Brush turkey steaks on all sides with butter. Coat with bread crumbs mixed with salt, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and paprika. Place in buttered, shallow baking pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes. Place a pimiento half on each turkey steak. Top with cheese. Bake 5 minutes longer or until cheese melts. Meanwhile combine soup, mustard, sherry, water, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper in small saucepan. Heat and stir until boiling. Add parsley. Serve turkey steaks on beds of fluffy rice and top with sauce. YIELD: 6 servings.

ORANGE-RICE SALAD ORIENTALE

Cooked rice, fresh Florida orange juice and sections combine with snow peas and crisp water chestnuts complemented with a gingery dressing for a delightful melange of flavors.

3 cups cooked rice, cooled
1 can (8 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
3 Florida oranges, divided
1 tablespoon vinegar
One-third cup vegetable oil
3 tablespoons catsup
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
3 to 4 drops hot pepper sauce
4 ounces fresh snow peas (pod peas) or 1 package (8 ounces) frozen snow peas, thawed and rinsed in hot water. Dry and chill.

Combine rice and water chestnuts. Squeeze juice from half of one of the oranges. Combine juice, vinegar, oil, catsup, soy sauce, onion, sugar, ginger and pepper sauce. Pour over rice and water chestnuts; toss to combine. Peel and thinly slice remaining oranges. Pour boiling water over snow peas and let stand 1 minute; drain, dry, and chill. Spoon half of rice mixture into serving bowl. Cover with a layer of half of the snow peas and orange slices. Spoon remaining rice mixture over top. Arrange remaining snow peas and orange slices in a decorative design on top. YIELD: 6 servings.

ORANGE BUTTERFLY CREAM

A delightful centerpiece as well as a fantastic dessert — a butterfly composed of oranges and strawberries in a gossamer-light Bavarian cream.

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 1/2 cups Florida orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
2 1/2 cups heavy cream, divided
6 Florida oranges, peeled and sliced
1 pint fresh strawberries, washed, hulled and sliced

In large bowl combine gelatine and cold water. Let stand 1 minute for gelatine to soften. Add boiling water; stir until gelatine is completely dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add orange juice and grated peel. Chill until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Whip 2 cups heavy cream until stiff; fold into gelatine mixture. Spoon half the orange and strawberry slices into a straight-sided, 1 1/2-quart glass serving bowl. Arrange fruit around side of bowl to resemble butterflies by placing rounded edges of orange slices together. Spoon half the gelatine mixture into bowl. Spoon remaining fruit over gelatine, reserving a few orange and strawberry slices for garnish. Top with remaining gelatine mixture. Cover. Chill until firm. Before serving, whip remaining 1/2 cup heavy cream. Garnish dessert with whipped cream and reserved orange and strawberry slices, if desired. YIELD: 8 to 10 servings.

Springtime is buffet time. Let Turkey Breast With Pesto Sauce and Orange Rice Salad Orientale star on the menu.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Thursday, April 8, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY April 8, 1982 This coming year you may form two important alliances with people whose ideals are in harmony with yours. These relationships will open up many new avenues of interest for you. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Conditions affecting your finances and security could come under the gun today. Do nothing in haste that may be costly if it's handled incorrectly. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Try to be self-sufficient today and don't rely on other unless it's absolutely essential. If something needs attention, you'll probably have to take care of it yourself. SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 22) Others may try to dump their problems and duties on you today because they know you're the one to come to when they want something done. Don't let them overload you. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This could be a very busy day for you, but it may also be an unproductive one because you might become involved in too many insignificant activities. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Major accomplishments are possible today, but they're not apt to come too easily. Be ready to put forth solid effort where goals are concerned. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be sure you and your mate are in complete accord today regarding the ways you want to handle problems that might arise with your children. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You might not be at your best today if you have to perform difficult mental work under pressure. Keep your mind on what you're doing. Don't wander. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be mindful today of painful past experiences or you might repeat a mistake similar to one that caused you headaches previously. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) There is a chance you could have complications today in a situation offering a second source of earnings. Be ready to make adjustments.

Red Blood Cells Damaged By Malady

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 61 years old and have been in good health until recently. Now I am told I have a myeloproliferative disorder. Is that leukemia? I have an anemia and the doctor has already given me eight pints of blood. He is also giving me folic acid and Pyridoxine. I am taking vitamins C, E and B-12 plus bone meal with bone treatment for you. You will understand how anemias occur and the ways

I'd like some more information on this if possible. Why do you need transfusions? Are you bleeding from somewhere? I have not noticed any bleeding. Just how does this disease cause an anemia?

DEAR READER — Myeloproliferative disease is not a specific term as it includes several different disorders. But, yes, many of them are also chronic leukemias. The word chronic is important because these people have a much better outlook than most patients with an acute leukemia.

The chronic disorder results in fibrosis of the bone marrow or replacement with other types of cells. The net result of these disorders is that your bone marrow is not producing enough red blood cells to replace the daily loss of red blood cells. Each red blood cell normally only lasts about 120 days so you must produce a lot just to maintain your normal level.

You can bleed from leukemia or cancer may cause bleeding, particularly cancer involving the digestive tract. But cancer or leukemia that involves the bone marrow may simply eliminate normal production. In many of the leukemia and cancer disorders the treatment is directed toward destroying the abnormal cells while stimulating normal bone marrow function at the same time. I don't think you should be taking medicines on your own without your doctor's approval and knowledge. You might affect the blood picture he is following as a guide to providing the proper formation and blood cell destruction can be upset from The Health Letter number 4-3, Understanding The Anemias, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My 15-year-old son has become very involved in a physical fitness program. He jogs eight miles a day and is on the school's track and wrestling teams. He is 5 feet 10 and weighs 138 pounds.

His latest experiment involves drinking three raw eggs with a glass of milk each morning. I feel that he is overdoing the raw eggs a bit. Could you please give us your opinion? Are there any real benefits to drinking three raw eggs in milk every morning?

DEAR READER — Raw eggs are often a source of bacteria, particularly salmonella which causes food poisoning. That problem can be solved by adequate cooking. Raw egg white contains avidin, a substance which destroys biotin, an important vitamin. Cooking destroys avidin and prevents this from occurring.

Then there is the question of the cholesterol content of egg yolks, 225 mg. in each. If your son's cholesterol level is low, and in his age group I mean 170 or less, it is not so important. But if his cholesterol is high then he should avoid high cholesterol foods such as egg yolks.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, SOUTH, EAST and card counts for various suits.

He considered passing the one spade response, but finally produced a two-club call. North toyed with the idea of a two no-trump call, but eventually bid three clubs which South was delighted to pass.

West opened the king of diamonds. South promptly took dummy's ace, cashed its king of hearts and led a club.

East took his ace and led back a diamond. West tried to cash a second diamond trick, but South ruffed. Now he ruffed a low heart in dummy, led a club, thought for some time and rose with his king. This dropped West's queen. The 5-3 heart break made it impossible for South to discard three of dummy's spades so he wound up making his contract on the nose for plus-110 and 10 match points out of 12.

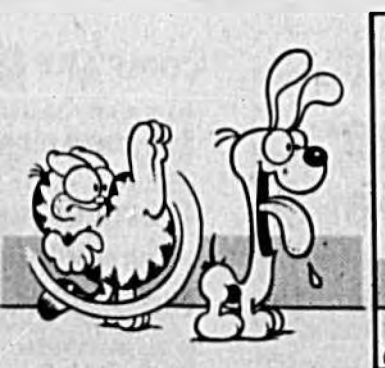

Had East ducted the first club, South might well have finessed the 10 and gone down one, but even minus-50 would have been just above average.

Why was plus-110 worth only 10 out of 12 match points? At a couple of tables East and West got into the bidding and wound up playing three diamonds doubled down two tricks.

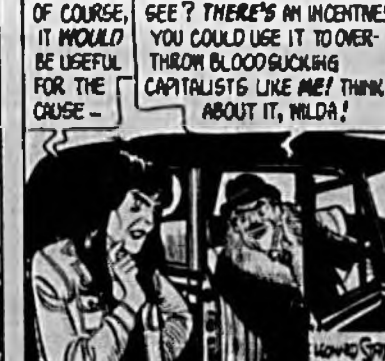

Part score hands frequently yield a lot of match points in a duplicate game. Here is a hand that might be passed out in some circles, but South has a jack and 10 above average with a good five card suit and elected to open it.

Freshly ground turkey is available in supermarkets today. It has a variety of uses including savory Turkey-Cabbage Rolls.

Try Tasty Turkey Rolls For Two

Cooking for one or two is challenging millions of men and women of all ages throughout the country. Many singles have become quite adept in the kitchen. They have learned to prepare foods they enjoy in small quantities. They can also expand their expertise to prepare several course meals for friends and relatives.

However, the problem is still one of the day-to-day planning so that the meals are interesting and economical with little waste.

Ground turkey is appearing in most markets now and may be used in many ways, such as a turkeyburger or turkey meatloaf. It also is a high protein ingredient of a turkey-cabbage roll for two.

Serve with whipped potatoes or rice and a dried fruit compote for dessert.

TURKEY-CABBAGE ROLLS

- 4 large cabbage leaves
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup chopped fresh cabbage
- 1/4 cup finely chopped fresh onion
- 1/4 cup finely grated carrot
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon dried dill weed, divided
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- 1/2 pound fresh ground turkey (uncooked turkey)
- 1/4 cup fresh bread crumbs
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup chicken broth
- 1 tablespoon freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Cook cabbage leaves 6 minutes in boiling water to cover. Drain, pat dry, set aside. Heat oil in small skillet; add chopped cabbage, onion, carrot, celery, salt and 1/2 teaspoon dill. Cook until vegetables are tender. Beat egg and hot pepper sauce in medium bowl; mix in turkey, bread crumbs and cooked vegetable mixture. Place 1/4 of the turkey mixture in center of each cabbage leaf. Fold sides of cabbage leaf towards center over filling, then fold and overlap ends to make a small bundle. Fasten with wooden picks. Place in a 10-by-8-by-1 1/4-inch baking dish.

To prepare sauce, melt butter in small saucepan. Blend in flour; gradually add chicken broth. Cook over low heat; stirring constantly, until thickened. Add lemon juice, lemon rind and remaining 1/2 teaspoon dill. Pour sauce over cabbage rolls. Cover. Bake in 375-degree oven 40 minutes. Remove picks before serving. Sprinkle with parsley. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 servings.

Fish Dish Is A Meal Within Self

A fish dish that is a meal within itself, can contribute valuable protein content, a treasure chest of minerals and vitamins, the most common of which are iodine, calcium, phosphorus, copper potassium, niacin, thiamine and riboflavin. Fish Broccoli Casserole provides these nutrients and more from other added ingredients.

The contribution that a food makes to the body depends largely on the body's ability to utilize its constituent parts. One of the unique and valuable properties of the proteins in fish is the ease with which the body digest and absorbs them. FISH flesh contains none of the coarse fibrous membranes found in so many animal meats. It is therefore more easily broken down by body processes. Fish is not bound up with large quantities of firm, saturated fat but is instead high in polyunsaturated fatty acids the body can more readily utilize.

A fat fish contains 6 to 20 percent fat; while a lean fish has 3 percent or less. Any fish containing 3 percent or less fat is suitable for those who are weight conscious. All finfish are naturally low in sodium content, almost to the point that it is non-existent. How well fish fits into a low-sodium diet depends primarily on how much is added during cooking and at the table.

Fish Broccoli Casserole is not suitable for low-sodium diets, unless adjustments are made. However, for the normal diet, few one-dish meals can surpass this sumptuous, yet delicate, combination of fish, broccoli, sauce and spices, accentuated with crushed chips and resulting as a delicious delicacy.

FISH BROCCOLI CASSEROLE

- 1 cup cooked, flaked fish
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli spears, cooked 3 minutes and drained
- 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup crushed potato chips

Place broccoli in a single layer in a well-greased 1 1/2-quart shallow casserole. Combine fish, soup, milk, salt and pepper. Spread fish mixture over broccoli. Sprinkle potato chips over top of fish mixture. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees F., for 10 to 12 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 servings.

Lamb Roast A Favorite At Easter

A meat frequently served this time of the year is spring lamb. You may purchase the fresh lamb or the frozen New Zealand lamb which is a good buy when fresh lamb is scarce.

A lamb roast, either the full leg or sirloin half can be cooked by the time or temperature. If you are going to cook by time alone for medium done lamb, the time is 9-13 minutes per pound. Start at 100 percent power for the first 3 minutes, reduce to 50 percent power and continue the remainder of the time at this power.

Estimate the total cooking time, divide it in half and use this time as the point at which you turn the roast over.

Start the cooking with the fat side down. Shield the narrow or bony sections with foil to prevent over cooking. The internal temperature reading on the thermometer should be 135 for medium done lamb.

If you wish to use the temperature probe for cooking lamb, insert the sensor into the meaty section not touching the bone.

A lemon marinade is good for basting the lamb roast.

- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 bay leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients and marinate roast before cooking. Use to baste the roast during the cooking.

New Potatoes with Fresh Peas, a congealed fruit salad and a buttery pound cake would make a perfect Easter dinner.

NEW POTATOES WITH GREEN PEAS

- 1 1/2 lbs. small new potatoes
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 1/2 cups frozen green peas or 1 1/2 cup shelled fresh peas

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 teaspoon salt

Peel one strip of potato peel around each potato. Place potatoes and water in 2-quart casserole, covered. Cook at 650w (high) 8-10 minutes or until almost tender. Add peas, butter and salt. Cook at 650w (high) an additional 5 minutes.

If using fresh peas, cook 8-10 minutes instead of 5 minutes. Serves 6.

Kabobs Elegant, Low In Calories

For a highly elegant dish that's low in calories, you might care to create these elegant kabobs and serve them on a beautiful bed of sauerkraut. There are fewer than 50 calories in a whole cup of undrained kraut.

FESTIVE KRAUT KABOBS

- 1 pound beef round, cubed
- one-third cup low-calorie Italian salad dressing
- 1 can (16 ounces) onions, drained
- 8 cherry tomatoes or tomato wedges

Marinate beef in salad dressing three hours, turning occasionally. On 4 skewers, alternately thread beef, onions, tomatoes and green pepper. Add kraut and sugar, if desired, to marinade; toss. Arrange kraut in shallow pan about 10" x 8"; place skewers on kraut. Broil about 4 inches from heat source about 20 minutes, turning once, or until meat is of desired doneness. Serve kabobs over kraut. Serves 4.

Variations: You may add small cooked potatoes or large mushrooms to the kabobs.

The phrase "the fourth estate," referring to journalists, was first used by Sir Edmund Burke during a speech made to the British Parliament, as he considered the various powers that be in the British government.

Love At First Bite

Salads are becoming a love-at-first-bite meal, especially for those who are watching their weight. No longer just a first course, salads of fruits and vegetables contain protein and may be served as an entree.

Here are two salads to enjoy at home.

2 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned (2 cups sections)
2 small red onions, thinly sliced and separated into rings

1 can (1 pound) cut green beans, drained

1-3rd cup stuffed green olives, sliced
1/4 cup salad oil
1-3rd cup tarragon wine vinegar

1 clove garlic, finely minced
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Combine grapefruit sections, onions, green beans, artichoke hearts and olive slices in large bowl. In small bowl or jar combine oil, vinegar, garlic, salt and pepper; mix well. Pour dressing over salad. Cover. Refrigerate 2 hours before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

FIESTA SALAD

3 oranges, peeled and sectioned (1 1/2 cups sections)
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned (1 cup sections)
1 can (1 pound) red kidney beans, drained
1 cup very thinly sliced celery

3 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

1/4 cup salad oil
3 tablespoons orange juice
2 tablespoons finely minced onion
1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon dried leaf oregano, crumbled
1/4 teaspoon dried leaf thyme, crumbled
Lettuce leaves

Combine orange and grapefruit sections, kidney beans, celery, pimiento and parsley in large bowl. In small bowl or jar, combine oil, orange juice, onion, salt, oregano and thyme. Mix well. Pour over salad. Cover. Refrigerate 2 hours. To serve, spoon into lettuce-lined bowl. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 to 6 servings.

FRENCH APPLE TART

1 unbaked (9-inch) pastry shell
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon firmly packed light brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon

1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
2 cups applesauce
1 tablespoon corn oil
margarine

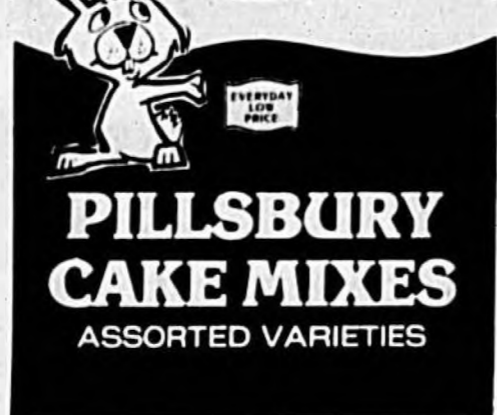

1 teaspoon vanilla
2 medium tart apples, peeled, thinly sliced (2 cups)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar

Partially bake pastry shell in 450-degree oven 8 minutes; remove. Reduce oven to 375 degrees.

In 2-quart saucepan stir together cornstarch, brown sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg.

Gradually stir in applesauce until smooth. Add margarine. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Pour applesauce mixture into tart shell.

Arrange apple slices on top to completely cover applesauce. Sprinkle with lemon juice, sugar, remaining 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg. Bake 35 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve with warm or cold. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

Spuds Take 'Tops'

Those who want to lose weight slowly but effectively — meaning keeping it off permanently — can follow a lower-calorie diet and enjoy it.

Eating three or even six small meals a day but keeping total calories at 1,800 to 2,000 plus regular exercise such as walking two to five miles a day or riding a bicycle, will help you meet your weight-loss goal with little pain. Always check with your doctor before beginning any diet or exercise program.

Severe dieting that involves fewer than 1,000 calories a day or eliminating a balance of fruits, vegetables, dairy and protein, or excessively strenuous exercise, without proper medical control may lead to permanent damage and, in some cases, death.

Why not get trim via moderation? It just takes patience.

As part of such long-term dieting, you may include potatoes, which contain complex carbohydrates, with a variety of toppings that add vitamins and protein.

Even if you are just "watching your weight," you will enjoy a complete meal of baked potato with a savory topping.

- KEEP 'EM LOW (CALORIE) TOPPING
- 4 Idaho potatoes
 - 1/2 cup creamed cottage cheese
 - 1/4 cup plain yogurt
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons blue cheese
 - 1/2 teaspoon chopped parsley
 - 1/2 teaspoon chopped chives
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- Scrub potatoes; dry and prick with a fork. Bake in a 425-degree oven 55 to 65 minutes, until soft.

Place remaining ingredients in container of electric blender. Cover, process until smooth. Spoon 2 tablespoons of topping over each potato. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings, 125 calories per serving.

- CHINESE BROCCOLI AND ALMOND TOPPING
- 4 Idaho potatoes
 - 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 - 1 medium onion, chopped
 - 1 clove garlic, mashed
 - 1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli spears
 - 1 1/2 cups chicken broth
 - 1 teaspoon vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 1 tablespoon soy sauce (optional)
 - 1-3rd cup toasted, slivered almonds
 - 1/4 cup chopped pimiento
- Scrub potatoes; dry and prick with a fork. Bake in a 425-degree oven 55 to 65 minutes, until soft.

In a large skillet, heat oil, saute onion and garlic until onion is transparent. Add broccoli, chicken broth and vinegar. Mix cornstarch with soy sauce (or 1 tablespoon water) and stir into skillet. Bring to a boil; boil 1 minute. Just before serving, stir in almonds and pimiento.

Spoon topping over each blossomed (cut open) potato. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings, 280 calories per serving.

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 4 teaspoons salt
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup coarse yellow corn meal
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup salad oil

Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Wednesday, April 7, 1982-36

1 cup chopped dried figs
Snip off fig stems. Use food processor to chop figs coarsely or snip with kitchen scissors dipped into water to prevent sticking. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, and corn meal. Add eggs, milk and salad oil. Stir or beat batter just until smooth (about 1 minute). Stir in chopped figs. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes about 15 muffins.

Meals For Two

Millions of Americans are living alone today and still more live in two-person households.

Chicken helps those who cook for one or two to meet the challenge of providing wholesome, tasty meals in scaled-down quantities.

Many of these singles and couples are over 65 and their numbers are rising every year. Because they often live on fixed incomes, it is of utmost importance to obtain the maximum nutritional benefits for a minimum cost. Older adults need fewer calories but a proper diet is essential to keep the body functioning at its best at any age.

Chicken provides the complete protein needed daily. But it is lower in calories and is more economical than most other meats.

One danger for the senior citizen (especially one who lives alone) is that "it's too much trouble" to go to the store and to prepare a balanced meal. Chicken combines so well with most fruits and vegetables that an almost endless variety of one-dish meals are possible with little time and effort.

SINGLES POMATO CHICKEN BAKE

1 broiler-fryer chicken drumstick

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken thigh
- 1/2 cup instant mashed potatoes (dry)
- 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
- 3 tablespoons milk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- one-sixteenth teaspoon pepper
- 1 large tomato, quartered
- 1/4 cup chicken broth
- 1/4 teaspoon Italian seasoning

In small dish, mix together instant potatoes and cheese.

Dredge chicken in mixture to coat thoroughly. Place milk in small dish; dip each chicken part in milk and then again in potato-cheese mixture. In small greased baking dish, pour any remaining milk and potato-cheese mixture.

Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper; place in baking dish. Arrange tomato quarters around chicken. Pour broth over all and sprinkle with Italian seasoning. Place in 400 degree F. oven and bake, uncovered, for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees F., cover and bake 15 minutes more. Remove casserole from oven, turn chicken, cover and return to oven for 15 minutes more. Change oven setting to broil, remove cover and broil chicken until slightly brown, about 5 minutes. Chicken is done when fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Makes 1 serving.

BROWN CHICKEN AND NOODLES

1 broiler-fryer chicken thighs

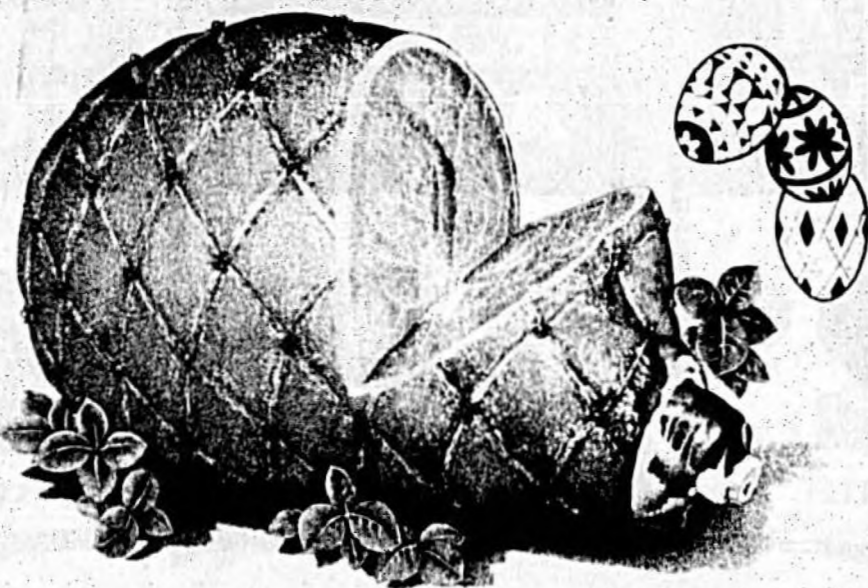

- 1 tablespoon margarine
- 1 ounce vermicelli noodles
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- one-sixteenth teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 tablespoon onion flakes
- 2 cups hot water
- 1 chicken bouillon cube

In small frypan, place margarine and melt over medium heat. Add chicken and cook, turning, about 10 minutes or until brown on all sides. Break vermicelli noodles in pieces about 4-inches long. Add to frypan and brown. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and onion flakes.

Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water; pour over contents in frypan. Cover, reduce heat to medium-low and cook 20 minutes. Remove cover and cook over medium heat for 10 minutes more or until liquid is absorbed and fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Makes 2 servings.

Cook Of The Week

Her Baking Brings Home The Ribbons

By LOU CHILDERS

Corinne passes her cooking know-how to not only her children, but also other children in the Geneva 4-H Clovers. She is also demonstrating to the group in preparing demonstrations to be given April 17 at the Ag Center in Sanford during County 4-H competition. "One of the girls is working on a food preservation demonstration using a dehydrator," Corinne adds.

When she was competing in county fair 4-H programs in Kingston, N.Y., as a youngster, Corinne often brought home the first place blue ribbons for the things she baked — things like peanut butter cookies and apple sauce cake.

She says, "When you've got a good recipe, the secret to success is simple — just follow the recipe to the T!"

Corinne's cooking education is an ongoing experience which took her to Washington, D.C. last September for a week long 4-H conference on Food and Nutrition. She received a partial scholarship from the Campbell Soup Company which covered her air fare.

"I've been very interested in nutrition for quite some time," she says, "and this has led me into buying quite a library of cook books." They vary from Adelle Davis to the other end of the spectrum — the "gooey sweets". In all, her cookbooks number over 50.

Corinne was also selected as one of the top 10 finalists in the Cowbells Beef Cook-Off this year. The event was held in Cocoa where Corinne prepared "Chuckwagon Chili."

When she is cooking for her family — husband, Joe, daughters Tina, 19, Carol, 17, and son, Tony, 10 at their Geneva home, Corinne likes to prepare specialties like Seafood Crepes, Easy Fruit Compote, Real Thing Cheese Cake and during special seasons like Easter, Hot Cross Buns.

If you ever see Corinne when she's not in her kitchen, you will probably see her with Tony working on their combined hobby — catching and categorizing butterflies. "One of my side trips while in Washington last Fall was a two hour jaunt to the Smithsonian to look at the butterfly collection housed there."

REAL THING CHEESE CAKE

Crust:
4 Tablespoons butter
4 Tablespoons sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon baking powder
pinch of salt
1 cup flour

Cream together butter and sugar; blend in egg. Add baking powder and salt, mixing well. Stir in flour and work until smooth. Mixture will be consistency of stiff cookie dough.

Using hands, spread dough on bottom and sides of a 10-inch spring form pan to about 2½ inches high.

Filling:
1 pound cream cheese
1 pint dairy sour cream
4 eggs
½ cup sugar
2 Tablespoons flour
pinch of salt
2 Tablespoons lemon juice

With electric mixer at medium speed, blend cream cheese and sour cream. Beat in eggs, then add sugar and flour. Add salt and lemon juice. Continue beating until fairly smooth. Some small lumps will remain. Pour into crust lined pan. For neat appearance, push any crust mixture down to level of filling. Bake in 350 degree oven for 1 hour 15 minutes until set. You may top with dairy topping, prepared pie filling, or fresh fruit.

SEAFOOD CREPES

1 7-oz. can salmon
1 7-oz. can tuna fish
½ cup finely diced celery
1 Tablespoon minced onion
5 Tablespoons butter
one-third cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
4 Tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 Tablespoon lemon juice

Saute onions in butter until tender. Blend in flour, salt and pepper, cook stirring until mixture bubbles. Stir in milk and continue cooking and stirring until sauce thickens and boils — about 1 minute. Blend in 2 Tablespoons of the grated cheese, and the Tablespoon of lemon juice. Mix salmon, tuna, celery in a bowl. Stir 1 cup sauce into seafood mixture, reserving remainder for later.

Crepes:
¾ cup sifted flour
1 Tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon melted butter

Sift together flour, sugar, salt and baking powder in a medium size bowl. Add dry ingredients; beat until smooth. Sift in milk and butter.

On medium to medium high setting, heat an 8 inch heavy frying pan. (Pan is heated enough when a few drops of water sprinkled on pan bounce.) Grease pan with butter. Pour a scant one-third cup batter in pan, tilting to completely coat bottom of pan. Cook 1 to 2 minutes until top is set and bottom is golden. Make crepes one at a time until all are cooked. Yield: 8 to 10 crepes. To assemble:

Put one-third cup filling in middle of each crepe. Roll up and place crepes seam side down in an ungreased 9 x 13-inch pan. To make topping, beat ½ cup whipping cream into remaining sauce. Spoon over crepes, sprinkle with remaining 2 Tablespoons grated cheese. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes until cheese is golden.

EASY FRUIT COMPOTE

16-oz. fruit cocktail, drained
1 banana, sliced
1 large apple, peeled & diced
½ cup orange juice

Place drained fruit cocktail in medium bowl. Add diced apple and sliced banana. Cover with orange juice; mix and cover fruit bowl, placing in refrigerator for at least half an hour to blend flavors.

HOT CROSS BUNS

2 pkgs. active dry yeast
½ cup warm water
½ cup butter, melted
two-thirds cup evaporated milk
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup dry raisins
4½ cups sifted all purpose flour
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg

Sprinkle yeast into very warm water in a large bowl. Stir to dissolve yeast. Melt butter in small pan. Remove from heat. Add evaporated milk, sugar and salt, stirring until sugar dissolves. Add to yeast mixture.

Beat eggs in small bowl until mixed. Remove 2 Tablespoons of beaten eggs and reserve for top of buns. Stir remaining eggs into yeast mixture, adding raisins.

Sift 2 cups of flour, cinnamon and nutmeg into yeast mixture. Beat until smooth; stir in enough of the remaining 2½ cups of flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured pastry board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 5 to 8 minutes, adding only enough flour to keep from sticking.

Place in greased bowl, turning to coat all sides. Cover and let rise in warm place about 1 hour. Punch down dough and divide in half. Cut each half into 16 equal pieces; shape into balls and place in greased 9 x 9-inch baking pans. Two pans will be needed for the 32 buns.

Cover and allow to rise 45 minutes. Brush tops of buns lightly with reserved egg. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pans; cool on wire racks. Drizzle lemon icing on top to make a cross pattern.

'Late Bloomer' Gets Support

DEAR ABBY: You really blew it to "Underdeveloped," the unhappy, flat-chested eighth-grader who wanted a bra but whose mother wouldn't get her one until she had something to put in it. You told her to be patient — maybe she was a late bloomer.

Girls that age have enough to deal with without feeling inadequate because they're flat-chested. As a former flat-chested myself, I know how that girl felt. Fortunately, my mother was more understanding than hers. She bought me a padded bra, and it made all the difference in the world to me. Instead of feeling ashamed of my underdeveloped body, it gave me a lot of self-confidence. I'm still a flatso underneath it all, but I've been wearing a padded bra for 25 years and I feel good about myself.

NO BOOBS IN BURLINGAME

DEAR NO: Let's hear it from a lady lawyer who accepted Mother Nature's verdict with grace.

DEAR ABBY: This letter is addressed to "Underdeveloped." Your letter to Dear Abby struck a responsive chord in me because I had the same problem at your age. My mother bought me a bra, and everyone made fun of me because it kept slipping up. (I had nothing to fill it.) Added to that, I was extremely tall and skinny. I was called "Stringbean" and "Telephone Pole." I, too, wanted to cry often.

Don't feel bad. You may be a late bloomer. I never was. However, I decided to make the best of what I had. I developed my mind, my personality and my self-confidence. The end result? A 6-foot lady attorney who the men love to flirt with and the women envy because I "could be a model." By the way, not one guy I have known since I was 18 has commented unfavorably about my flat chest.

MADE THE BEST OF

WHAT I HAD IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I went to the funeral of a beautiful young woman. At the grave site, her young husband had the casket opened and he removed her wedding ring. I didn't think that was right. What do you think?

APPALLED IN MONTCLAIR

DEAR APPALLED: I would not judge the actions of a young husband at the grave site of his wife.

On this long-awaited day, Tuesday, the people of Minnesota bravely battled the elements to witness the opening of the Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome. They settled into their seats with great hopes for a successful beginning, for a change in tradition: All they got was an instant replay.

Rookie Jim Mauer drove in five runs with a home run, a double, a single and a sacrifice fly Tuesday night to lift the Seattle Mariners to an 11-7 victory over the Twins, in the first regular-season baseball game ever played in the Metrodome.

"It's a thrill," said Mauer. "The thrill of a young rookie ballplayer to just be in the major leagues in front of 32,000 fans — to have that kind of high is just great. I couldn't believe the way the ball was flying out of here during the game."

Attendance for the Twins' 1982 opener was 32,278, the largest crowd ever to watch a baseball game in Minnesota. Floyd Bannister, 1-0, struck out 10 and gave up nine hits in 7 2/3 innings.

Mauer's slugging overshadowed an outstanding performance by Twins' rookie Gary Gaetti, who had a pair of homers, a triple, a single and four RBI. He was thrown out at the Phil Niekro couldn't have done any better. "It was a big lift for us since we don't have our No. 1 man," Braves' Manager Joe Torre said Tuesday night, after Rick Mahler, substituting for the disabled Niekro, fired a two-hitter to lead Atlanta to a 1-0 season-opening victory over the San Diego Padres.

"We're trying to keep this club from depending on just one man," continued Torre, who made his debut as Braves' skipper.

Mahler made the debut a happy one, which is the least he could do after scaring Torre half to death. Nine days ago, Mahler sent a line drive off Niekro's ribs, resulting in the veteran right-hander being placed on the disabled list.

"I was more excited than scared," said Mahler after pitching his first major-league shutout. "I knew I had to shut them out since we only had one run. But I don't think that's an indication of what this club will do. We're going to hit."

It was only Mahler's second complete game in 18 major-league starts. The right-hander struck out seven and walked three to make Dick Williams' debut as San Diego manager an unpleasant one.

Dodgers 4, Giants 3

At Los Angeles, Dusty Baker's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the ninth scored Bill

United Press International

Russell from third. Baker connected off Greg Minton, who came on after losing pitcher Gary Lavelle loaded the bases. Terry Forster worked two innings of one-hit relief to gain the victory. Jack Clark homered for San Francisco and Steve Yeager connected for the Dodgers.

Forster, who sustained an elbow injury in 1978 and underwent surgery, but still has had trouble with it, had a huge icepack on his arm and shoulder. He turned to fellow reliever Steve Howe, seated in the next cubicle, and kidded, "OK, Stevie boy, out of the way. You've had your three years, now it's my turn again."

Cardinals 11, Astros 2

At Houston, Darrell Porter slugged a three-run homer and Keith Hernandez knocked in three runs to key an 18-hit outburst. Jim Kaat, who relieved in the ninth inning for St. Louis, has now appeared in 24 consecutive seasons, a major-league record.

Blake's Grand Slam Batters Sunniland; D.A.V. Wins

United Press International

After going hitless in his team's first two games, Ronald Blake collected three hits, including a grand slam home run, to pace Poppa Jay's to a 1-0 win over Sunniland Corporation in the Sanford Little National League.

Both teams were 2-0 going into the game. Poppa Jay's now has a half-game lead over Rinker Materials, 2-0, which was idle Tuesday. Poppa Jay's and Rinker square off at 5 p.m. Thursday at Fort Mellon Park.

In other games Tuesday, the Railroaders nipped defending city champ First Federal 13-12, while D.A.V. picked up its first win of the season 11-9 over Cardinal Industries.

In today's action in the Sanford Little American League, Butch's Chevron plays Krayola Kollege at 5 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park, while Adeco Roofing battles S&H Fabricating and Engineering at 5 p.m. at Westside Field. Atlantic Bank plays Jack Prosser Ford at 7 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park.

Poppa Jay's had its first five batters on base in the first inning, but managed just one run. Sunniland tied the score in the bottom of the first without a hit.

Melvin Stevens opened the second with a single for Poppa Jay's and scored on an error. But Sunniland took the lead 3-2 in the bottom of the second, again scoring without a hit.

United Press International

Todd Revels led off the third with a home run for Sunniland to give his team a 4-2 lead. Lawrence Walters drew a walk for Poppa Jay's with one out in the fourth, Steve Johnson was hit by a pitch and Jeff Blake walked to load the bases. Ronald Blake then put his team in front to stay with a grand slam home run.

Taking advantage of errors and walks, Poppa Jay's put the game away with 10 runs on just one out in the top of the fifth.

Ronald Blake was also the winning pitcher, hurling the first three innings. Willie McCloud pitched two innings of no-hit relief.

The game between the Railroaders and First Federal was a see-saw battle. First Federal scored a pair of unearned runs in the top of the second, but the Railroaders jumped on First Federal starter Mike Rumber for six runs in the bottom of the second. Tarance Carr, Theron Tepabock, Melvin Walker and quick outs to preserve the victory for starter Joe Barnett.

Barnett had a pair of singles for D.A.V. and Coffield added a triple.

Tyrone Lee had a home run and double for Cardinal Industries, while Shawanta Green slammed a home run and single.

...Where To Learn About Toughlove

The manuals cost $6 each and may be ordered through the foundation at P.O. Box 70, Sellersville, Pa. 18960.
At the meetings, parents help each other cope. The group supports parents in their trials with teen-agers whose behavior is unacceptable.

"We work toward a more peaceful family existence," says Mrs. Quinn.
The groups encourage parents to work with the community—the probation officer, the school teacher, the law-

"We set bottom lines—telling the teen-agers that if they do a certain thing what the consequences will be, and we stick to it," she says.

"We tell the parents how they can confront a situation and at times there is something they can do to make their lives better. At times, perhaps reconciliation and negotiation is the answer," she said, noting that the group does not assign blame to the parents.

Between meetings, parents have the telephone numbers of other parents to help them handle any crisis that occurs.
"Parents need support from other parents. At times they are almost crazy with fear of what will happen to their children. Some children have become tyrants," Mrs. Quinn says.
She says the national Toughlove organization encourages groups to meet from 2 to 2½ hours once a week regardless of holidays or whatever.

The parents are encouraged to change the methods they are using. "If the parent is a screamer, we urge that he or she become passive for a week. If the parent is passive, we urge that he become a screamer for a week. If the parent is different, the child must be different. He 'll react," she says.

Every group has its own character and flavor. But many larger groups break up into smaller groups for their meetings. Members of one small group may discuss what they have done that week to make life better for themselves and better in their own homes.

Another small group might read a chapter from the manual and "bottom lines" for the week, Mrs. Quinn says.
"We are working for a more peaceful and cooperative family existence," she adds.

The stories told by parents are similar in at least one aspect.
Mrs. Quinn emphasizes that "Toughlove" is not a parenting technique. "It's a program to help parents with an unmanageable, ungovernable child so they can cope. The group is run by parents, not professionals in the counseling field. The Yorks themselves stress that their formula is for crisis situations only. It should not be interpreted as a guide to child-rearing. "For many children, tender, loving care is still the best way," David York says.

"Parents are intelligent and are able to handle the problems from their own personal experience," she says.
The Longwood Toughlove group meets every other Monday. Its next meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. April 12 at Lake Branley High School, Forest City.

Pat Calhoun, one of the parents who helped organize the group nearly a year ago, was actively involved with United Parents of West Seminole.

At first they met monthly. About 15 parents now regularly attend. Mrs. Calhoun said some parents had dropped out after their problems with their children were solved. "They really didn't feel the need any more. They had re-established order in their homes," she says.

She adds that parents had exchanged telephone numbers to be available to help one another if needed.

"There have been no crises where we had to step in and help with a child who overdoed. Sometimes, however, when a parent feels depressed, he or she can call another member to help out," Mrs. Calhoun says.

She adds that interested parents can call her in the evenings at 853-2797 or call "We Care" at 628-1227.

The Yorks, meanwhile, have scheduled a two-day training course in Toughlove April 17 and 18 at the Holiday Inn Airport, Fort Lauderdale, for parents and professionals.

The workshops are designed to provide an intensive two-day experience with emphasis on demonstrating and practicing skills and techniques fundamental to Toughlove Parent Support Groups. The workshop includes interaction with experienced Toughlove parents," Mrs. Quinn says.

The Fort Lauderdale sessions will last from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

The cost for those attending the workshop is $150, which includes lunch daily, coffee and pastry in the morning, a manual, and workshop papers.

Those wishing to make advance workshop registrations should call (215) 257-0421, Mrs. Quinn says.

Parent-to-Parent is another self-help group that has been started through Seminole County's juvenile court system. Those wishing help or advice about problem children may call 323-4330, Ext. 480, and a volunteer will get in touch.

The volunteer will explain the court system and how it works.

together," he said of his future relationship with the 51-member police force. "Once I'm on board and they know that I'm here to stay, I any morale or management problems will be taken care of 1-2-3."

Described by area law enforcement officers as 'a cop administrator who wields an iron fist' and a 'strong manager and strict disciplinarian,' Liquori says he is a man 'who likes to take charge.'

Liquori, a tanned, trim man with graying hair, is an FBI National Academy graduate, the OPD's head physical training instructor, owner of U.S.A. Goju Karate in Orlando for 25 years, and a graduate of Rollins College with a bachelor's degree in criminal justice.
"One of my first priorities will be to develop good public relations among the residents and among the officers," he said. "I also support the experimental K-9 program, but one dog just won't do it. I want to see that program expanded."

Described by area law-enforcement officers as "a cop administrator who wields an iron fist" and a "strong manager and strict disciplinarian," Liquori says he is a man "who likes to take charge."

At the OPD, he helped implement that city's team policing program and has been responsible for the department's tactical intelligence unit and SWAT team.

Liquori and his wife, Linda, said that although there is nothing to require them to move to Altamonte Springs from their Orlando condominium, the couple plan to move to the city "as soon as interest rates come down a bit."
Of the 57 applicants vying for the position, Liquori was among the five finalists interviewed by Eicheberger. The other finalists considered for the post were: Charles Simmons, field operations bureau commander with the Orange County Sheriff's Department; Maj. John D. McCormick, a Jacksonville Police Department captain; Chief Cody Gear of the Fernandina Beach Police Department, and Ronald Kazorski, a field investigations bureau commander with the Federal Department of Law Enforcement.

Elvis' $1,000 Scivvies Really Packing 'Em In

It's not exactly the King Tut exhibit, but it is attracting similar attention.

Packing them in this time around is the Elvis Presley road show — a $500,000 collection of artifacts and memorabilia called from the Elvis Presley Museum in Memphis and displayed three days at a time at shopping malls throughout the country.

The notoriously gaudy jewelry is an eye-catcher but the colored underwear is the real grabber.

"When the underwear came in I almost didn't buy it," says museum manager Jimmy Velvet, noting that the price tag on the scivvies was $1,000 per pair.

"As it was the women just went over it. Wanted their pictures taken with it."

The show generally attracts from 150,000 to 250,000 stargazers during its run, Velvet said.

Huston On The Stars

John Huston, who directed such films as "The Maltese Falcon," "The Asphalt Jungle," "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre" and "The African Queen," worked with the likes of Humphrey Bogart and Marilyn Monroe.

"I never felt... Marilyn Monroe's highly publicized appeal in person," Huston said in an interview in American Heritage magazine.

"But it was obviously there on the screen. I think the camera is simply a better observer than the human eye."

Of his pal Bogart, he said, "Bogey was not particularly well read. We didn't share much common intellectual ground. But Bogey was a good companion. We got along. We could insult each other without taking umbrage."

He added that Bogart would insult pompous people at parties. "Often he had to be rescued," Huston said.

Who's Sexiest—Burt Or Tom?

Who's the sexiest man in America? Dick Clark posed that troubling question and he immediately narrowed the choice down to two contenders — Burt Reynolds and Tom Selleck.

Clark did this by polling 50 women who work in a building he owns in Burbank, Calif. The women gave Reynolds and Selleck the nod.

Then, turning a tad more scientific, Clark retained Media Research Associates of San Barbara, Calif., to conduct a nationwide survey on the subject.

The winner will be disclosed on April 4 when Clark's new ABC series, "Inside America," makes its debut. Those not nominated may watch "60 Minutes."

TV Sound-Alikes

Actor-playwright Peter Ustinov says he can hardly tell President Reagan from Johnny Carson on television.

He told anchorman Rolland Smith of "News at Five," on the CBS-TV New York outlet WCBS, "Show business and politicians are really overlapping now. When your president speaks on television, it's really a talk show because he's got all the techniques down so well. I'm almost surprised to find that it's not Johnny Carson..."

Deal Struck On Tax Hike

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A House-Senate conference committee put the final wraps today on a $10 billion state budget and a penny increase in the sales tax that will provide an important new revenue source for cities and counties.

The two chambers have been so far apart on the insurance code, including the no-fault automobile insurance system, that it has been assumed they would not try to resolve the dispute until another special session — perhaps late this summer.

The more than 30 conferees unanimously approved the two plans that have been worked out during 80 days of struggle and cleared the way for the adjournment of the special session later today.

House and Senate budget writers said the budget and sales tax hike will meet most of state government's needs, including the funding for 150 more state troopers, 50 more Florida marine patrolmen and 20 additional game wardens.

House and Senate leaders also worked to resolve remaining disputes in the way of agreement on reapportionment plans for the Legislature and Florida's congressional delegation.

The spending plans also allow the state to continue the series of money increases designed to make its public schools, colleges and universities among the best in the country. The plans also give cities and counties a major revenue source in addition to property taxes which currently are as high in many counties that the voters are willing to stand.

They also revealed they are near agreement on a compromise bill to extend the insurance code, which expires in October under the Sunset Act.

Mrs. W.R. Crooms Eulogized By Those She Touched by her husband.

The roughly 100 people attending the memorial service, held Tuesday at St. James African Methodist Episcopal Church in Sanford, prayed together and rejoiced over Mrs. Crooms' "beautiful life and her beautiful death."

"Her loyalty, her faith and her kindness to all shall ever be a living memorial to her beautiful life. Truly this is the sentiment of all who knew Mrs. Crooms."

E.L. Blacksheare, Crooms principal, attributes Mrs. Crooms' dedication and conviction as a major factor in the upbringing of many Sanford youths. "She demanded, she insisted...therefore we are what we are today."

The Crooms High School resolution was one of many read during the service. All praised Mrs. Crooms' dedication and her "tireless and unselfish labor" during her years as an educator.

The Crooms High School Alma Mater shook the church walls during the service as former Crooms students sang in honor of Mrs. Crooms.

Reagan Heads To Caribbean For A Working Vacation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan is leaving this city's cold wave for the warm sun of the Caribbean, under which he will talk about economic development and celebrate Easter.

Reagan was to leave today for Jamaica, where former Prime Minister Michael Manley blasted the president's proposed $350 million Caribbean plan Tuesday as aid to "bloody dictatorships."

Survivor Faces Amputation

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Doctors are closely watching a woman who survived five days of being buried in an avalanche to determine whether her frostbitten feet can be saved from amputation.

Anna Conrad was in guarded but good condition at a hospital in Truckee, Calif., with doctors also looking for signs of blood poisoning.

U.S. Crime Rate Steady

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of reported serious crimes held steady last year, generally matching the record figures that plagued the nation in 1980, the FBI said.

Preliminary FBI figures issued Tuesday showed reported property crimes remained nearly stable in 1981, while violent crimes edged upward by just 1 percent.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A mild April blizzard blasted the Atlantic Seaboard with 20-inch snows, 53-mph winds and record cold, paralyzing cities from Maine to Maryland. A ship was missing off the New Jersey coast today and four campers were feared lost in the Catskill Mountains. A new storm churned east from the Rockies today, threatening the battered Midwest and Northeast with more stinging record cold and snow. At least 78 people died and hundreds were injured in a week of storms packing the worst winter has to offer — blizzards, tornadoes, hail and avalanches. As much as 3 feet of snow choked western Massachusetts and Maine today braced for another foot and a half. Winds gusted to 83 mph at Nantucket, Mass., Tuesday, while 10 inches of snow — the most ever for an April day — blasted Boston. A fishing vessel with eight people aboard was presumed to have sunk off the New Jersey coast in 30-foot seas whipped by 60-mph winds. The Gemini, in a Mayday message, reported to the Coast Guard it was taking on water Tuesday evening — before its radio went dead. Advisories for more snow and cold also were posted from Montana through Illinois, where Chicago shattered a 44-year-old record with a 15-degree low reading today. Freezing temperatures dipped as far south as the Carolinas. A Harrington Park, N.J., bus driver saved the lives of his 18 passengers Tuesday when he ordered them off the bus, which slid down a city hill and stalled on railroad tracks, moments before a freight train split it in two. Forest rangers searched Tuesday for 20 campers feared lost in the Catskills, where 18 inches of snow fell, and accounted for all but four of them. The missing — four young men from Long Island — probably could survive the night's 10-degree cold if they were experienced campers and well equipped, officials said.

In Foiled Convenience Store Holdup

Would-Be Robber Punched And Jailed

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A Casselberry man is being held in the Seminole County jail today on $10,000 bond in connection with the attempted holdup of a store during which the owner punched a would-be robber and two customers held him until sheriff's deputies arrived. Erik Hjalmai Swanson, of 7th Street, was arrested at about 12:36 p.m. Tuesday on charges of escape and attempted robbery of the Little Food Town convenience store, 807 N. U.S. Highway 17-92.

According to witnesses, a man approached the store clerk and said, "This is a holdup."

Store owner Kenneth Calder then walked up to the counter to find out what was going on when the man repeated that he was robbing the store, deputies said. At that time, Calder grabbed the man's arm, punched him in the mouth and knocked the would-be robber to the floor, deputies added.

Two customers grabbed the man while he was on the floor and held him until deputies arrived.

Although the suspect was unable to escape the grips of Calder, the two customers, his spirit was apparently not dampened.

Sheriff John Polk said that when the man was arrested, handcuffed and placed in a patrol car, deputies had every intention of transporting the suspect directly to the jail. However, the man had other ideas, Polk said.

While traveling north on U.S. Highway 17-92 at about 40 mph, the man dove through the back passenger window, rolled on the ground in the median and fled into a nearby wooded area near the Bald Ray Datsun car dealership, deputies said.

Deputies pursued the man through the woods and apprehended him after he tripped over a stump, fell and injured his leg.

Swanson was taken to Florida Hospital-Altamonte where he was treated for a leg injury and released.

GUNS, RADIO RIPPED OFF

Thieves broke into a Winter Park man's car at about 8:30 p.m. Sunday and stole two rifles and a portable radio.

Timothy W. Cohen, 18, of 625 Glendridge Way, told deputies he was attending a youth meeting at the New Life Church, 4961 E. Lake Drive, Casselberry, when someone pried open the sunroof of his car and stole the guns and radio.

BANK ROBBER SENTENCED

A 44-year-old convicted bank robber has been sentenced to 150 years in state prison for the July 2 robbery of the Springs Plaza ComBank, Longwood.

Robert F. Krebs, who is wanted for questioning in several other states for a series of bank holdups, pleaded no contest Feb. 19 to charges of armed robbery, kidnapping, armed burglary, and carrying a concealed firearm.

Circuit Judge Robert McGregor retained jurisdiction of the case, meaning Krebs has to serve one-third of his sentence before becoming eligible for parole unless McGregor or his successor reviews the case and approves.

Wearing a red toupee as part of his disguise, Krebs entered the bank shortly before opening by posing as a bank examiner. Once inside, he unfolded a newspaper to reveal a submachine gun and ordered two tellers to open the vault.

After stuffing cash into plastic bags, Krebs ordered the tellers to lie on the vault floor. He then left the bank and walked to a parked car. Sheriff's deputies were waiting on him, however, having been alerted to the robbery when a teller activated a silent alarm.

RIB RESTAURANT RIPPED OFF

Thieves broke into the Bar-B-Q Rib Ranch restaurant, 2545 French Ave., Sanford, Monday and stole an undisclosed amount of money, meat and keys to a lease truck.

The thieves stole the money which was contained in a blue bank bag, hidden inside a beer cooler.

MAN WRACKS SHOP, ATTACKS OWNER

A man, reportedly upset over the firing of his wife from a Casselberry business, ransacked the shop at about 6:19 p.m. Monday and attacked the store's owner.

Joseph Serafin Barber, 44, of Fern Park told deputies a man came into his shop, Hair Triggers, 1633 E. Semoran Blvd., in the Butler Plaza, ransacked the shop and hit him several times, shattering Barber's eyeglasses.

Shuttle Comes Home

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The shuttle Columbia is back home and technicians have already begun the work of preparing it for its fourth flight, scheduled for late June. The 210,000-pound spaceship, bolted atop a gleaming 747 jumbo jet, arrived at Cape Canaveral Tuesday afternoon, completing a flawless, 1,500-mile piggyback journey from White Sands, N.M.

The awkward-looking jet transport departed the desert army base at 9 a.m. EST Tuesday and arrived at this Florida spaceport about seven hours later.

"It was a very, very smooth flight," said NASA astronaut Dick Scobee, the co-pilot of the 747. "We know of no damage to the orbiter or jet during today's trip."

About 2,000 space center officials and their families cheered as the Columbia-747 duo landed on the 3-mile-long concrete runway at Kennedy Space Center. Another 5,000 "bird watchers," many sunburned vacationers, lined beaches to get a glimpse of the spacecraft, which blasted off from this spaceport on its third mission two weeks ago.

Shortly after the rocket plane arrived home, technicians began removing it from the 747 and were expected to roll it to a processing hangar later today.

Preparations for its fourth and final test flight, scheduled for June 27, will include strengthening of some 1,200 of the shuttle's 30,000 heat-resistant tiles.

Seminole Spending Plan Praised

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

Thanks to a 12.2 percent increase in property tax revenues in 1980-81 over the previous year and some frugal spending by the Seminole County Commission, auditors have patted the commission on the back for a job well done.

Auditors Charles Lansing and Co., May Zima and Co., and Ballas, Bersch and Co., indicated Seminole should consider setting aside more money for replacement of equipment and revamp some of its accounting procedures, but overall told the commission that the county is one of the five best run counties in the state, and recommended that Seminole send its 1980-81 financial report to a national organization for consideration for a national award.

The financial report will be submitted to the Municipal Financing Officers Association in Chicago to be reviewed and compared to government accounting offices and to make sure the report complies with generally accepted accounting principles.

"We think the report is of high quality," said Charles Lansing. "Seminole County has a quality accounting system."

Lansing said that in addition to presenting residents with a financial picture of their county, the annual report is also a good indicator for prospective residents and businesses.

Despite the fact Seminole County did not increase its tax rate during fiscal year 1980-81, property tax revenues increased tax dollars per resident from $63 in 1980 to $68 in 1981.

While tax dollars increased during that period, per capita spending went down in the county's general fund. In 1980, the county spent $38.93 per resident compared to $36.34 per resident in 1981. Public service costs, however, rose from $32.06 per resident in 1980 to $34.94 per resident in 1981 as the price tag for fire protection and the sheriff's department took a $6.5 million chunk out of the budget.

Seminole County had targeted a $9 million general fund budget for fiscal year 1980-81, but spent just $6.7 million. The surplus, combined with more than a million dollars in unanticipated savings from several sources, left the county with an extra $5 million. But much of those excess revenues are targeted for a variety of capital expenses, contingencies and trust funds.

The auditors' report wasn't all rosy, however. It noted that the county's water and sewer funds are tied up in low interest rates, including one long-term deposit of more than $200,000 earning just 7.8 percent interest per year until the certificate's maturity in December 1985.

Auditors also indicated that the sheriff's department computer system generates some unnecessary reports and could be revamped to ease reconciliation of some accounts.

Glimmer Of Hope Seen For Peaceful End To Falklands Crisis

United Press International

Argentina's foreign minister, offering the first optimistic note in the Falkland crisis, said he is confident peace with Britain can be reached, but troops of both nations braced for all-out war.

President Reagan is sending Secretary of State Alexander Haig to London and Buenos Aires to try to negotiate a solution to the Falkland Islands dispute, the White House announced today.

The White House said that Haig, who had been scheduled to leave this morning with President Reagan for a five-day trip to the Caribbean will stay behind and then fly to Britain and Argentina.

Britain's ambassador in Buenos Aires prepared to lead the first exodus of 17,000 royal subjects from the mainland. War fever gripped the Argentine capital and anti-British sentiments soared.

Troops on Britain's 40-ship rescue armada — its largest naval force assembled in 26 years — drilled on the decks of aircraft carriers for commando raids as the fleet steamed the 8,000 miles to the Falklands in the South Atlantic Ocean.

Hundreds of new Argentine troops dug in on the windswept, 200-island archipelago and new arms were airlifted for the Argentine force that hauled down the Union Jack Friday on the colony Britain has ruled since 1833.

A military governor was to be sworn in on the Falkland Islands today in a show of broad support for the Argentine takeover. Usually bitter rivals — leaders of the military government, the Peronist powers they ousted, and union officials jailed in street riots last week — agreed to attend.

In London, Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher — Britain's "Iron Lady" — rejected financial market jitters and catcalls to resign and cut all imports from Argentina. In Washington, however, hope for a solution emerged. Argentine Foreign Minister Nicandor Costa Mendez expressed cautious optimism for a peaceful solution after meeting Haig.

The United States said Vice President George Bush was ready to mediate the dispute and Haig met separately with Argentine Foreign Minister Nicandor Costa Mendez, British Ambassador Sir Nicholas Henderson and Argentine Ambassador Esteban Takacs.

U.S. officials said Argentina may be disposed to accept the U.S. offer of mediation as the British flotilla nears its destination.

Others indicated a war could break without havoc with Argentina's already fragile economy — through trade bans and the expense of war. Inflation in the country has been running at 140 percent.

After meeting Haig, Costa Mendez said, "As a diplomat, I am confident we will reach through negotiations — even if they are long — an honorable and just peace."

He added he would convey to his government an American offer to assist in negotiations.

Henderson said the United States has a role to play in the dispute because "it involves the likelihood of aggression being successful in this hemisphere and of the denial of self-determination."

In Argentina, acting foreign minister, Alfredo Saint Jean, said his nation has a "clear willingness to accept a mediation, particularly from a friendly country."

But he said it would be "very difficult" for President Leopoldo Galtieri's government to withdraw the troops.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Graham Goofed On Special Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Supreme Court says Gov. Bob Graham misinterpreted history when he tried to limit a special-reapportionment session of the Legislature to less than 30 days.

In an unusual Saturday proceeding on March 27, the high court ruled 6-1 in favor of the Senate, which had sued Graham over the reapportionment issue. On Tuesday, the justices released a 14-page unsigned opinion explaining their ruling.

Bounty Hunter To Canada

ORLANDO (UPI) — An Orlando bounty hunter should be returned to Canada to face charges of kidnapping an imprisoned millionaire real estate developer, a U.S. magistrate has ruled.

Federal Magistrate Paul Dietrich said Tuesday there is "probable cause" to extradite Tunni Johnsen, 40, to Canada for bringing Sidney L. Jaffe from Toronto to Palatka to stand trial in a land-sales case.

Search Goes On For Kids

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Coast Guard planned to resume its search today for the bodies of two small children still missing after a boat carrying six people capsized in choppy waters of the St. Johns River on Monday.

Mugabe Woos Whites In Zimbabwe Election

SALISBURY, Zimbabwe (UPI) — Prime Minister Robert Mugabe, seeking to stem the flight of whites and their managerial skills from his black-ruled nation, vowed to attend to the needs of the white minority who vote today to fill a vacancy in the 100-member Parliament.

The parliamentary by-election comes a day after Mugabe lauded the split in the white Republican Front Party of former Prime Minister Ian Smith, in which nine of its parliamentary representatives resigned to become independents.
