

LOST! FOREVER!

... the dollar you spent away from home
YOU WILL NEVER SEE IT AGAIN

The Store That Got It Is Not Concerned
 About The Prosperity of Your Home Town.

Show That YOU Care

By spending your money in local stores, you help make business better; and make it easier for your friends, the local merchants, to provide quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices.

When you shop out of town, you hurt business at home. When you take money out of local circulation you injure your home-town people.

Keep Your Dollar In Your HOME TOWN

This I Know

My dollar in circulation soon becomes a hundred times a hundred cents.
 I exchange it for its value in merchandise or service.
 The person to whom I pay it trades it again for something he wants. It now has done two dollars worth of buying. Over and over again it plays a dollar's part.
 . . . Kept circulating in my home town, it daily adds to my town's prosperity.
 Carried off to be spent in another town, it is lost to my town forever.

Times-Picayune Is Slammed With Anti-Trust Suit

Justice Department Accuses New Orleans Paper Of Monopolization

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—Attorney General McGrath today announced he has filed a civil anti-trust suit against the Times-Picayune Publishing Co. of New Orleans, charging monopolistic practices.

He said the suit, filed in the U. S. district court at New Orleans, accuses the company and four of its officers and employees "with combining and conspiring to restrain and monopolize commerce in newspapers, in the dissemination of news and advertising, and in supplies, and with entering into unlawful contracts with advertisers."

The announcement said those named in the suit, in addition to the company, are L. S. Nicholson, president of the company; John F. Timm, Jr., its vice president and business manager; Aubrey F. Murray, advertising director; and Donald W. Coleman, circulation manager.

The Justice Department issued this statement concerning the action:

"The only newspapers of general circulation published in New Orleans are the Times-Picayune, a morning newspaper, the New Orleans States, an evening newspaper, the Times-Picayune and New Orleans States, a Sunday newspaper, all owned by the defendant corporation, and the Item, an evening and Sunday newspaper owned by the same company."

"The complaint charges that the defendants conspire to restrain and monopolize commerce in newspapers, in the dissemination of news and advertising, and in supplies, and with entering into unlawful contracts with advertisers."

"The complaint further alleges that the defendants conspire to acquire classified and national advertisements in its morning and evening newspapers only as a unit under a common plan."

Youth Problems Are Defined By Sanford Judge

D. Stenstrom Declares Lot Being Done To Help Young People

The four main causes of juvenile delinquency were defined and outlined by Douglas Stenstrom, county and juvenile judge, in a talk to school representatives at a recent study course on child and youth development at the South Side Primary School.

He defined these four factors as broken home, parental neglect, and sex books.

Other speakers were Mrs. Claude Hittell, Volke Williams, Jr., and Mrs. Troy Ray. Young children participated in the study course which is devoted to the healthy personalities are developed in children and youth.

Judge Stenstrom declared that there is much being done to combat juvenile delinquency for the children through such agencies as the Vocational Bible School, the Municipal Swimming Pool, the American Legion, the Rotary, the Boy and Girl Scouts, V. F. W., Marble tournaments, and the Elks Club.

He also pointed out the Red Cross Water Safety program in which 32 children won awards last year. Supervised guidance and recreation reduces juvenile delinquency, he said.

"One of the needs of our community is a probation worker to supervise offenders and to guide those who have been punished and paroled," he asserted. "The desire of the court is not to punish child offenders, but to rehabilitate them."

Mrs. Claude Hittell, who is president of the County Council of the Y. W. C. A., works under the supervision of T. W. Lawson, discussed ways and means of developing good citizenship personalities.

An atmosphere of friendliness and co-operation on the part of faculty and children is necessary, together with consultation with parents in the school program, to help the student, she told the group.

Recognition and respect for individual differences among children, is another aid, she declared, and that of the need of allowing for differences of opinion. Stressing the need for self-expression, she emphasized the need to build a sense of civic, social, moral and spiritual responsibility.

"Programs of vocational guidance and placement was the theme of the talk by State Representative-Elect Volke Williams, Jr. Vocational guidance gives emphasis on life, values, basic inclinations, self realization and possibilities for services," he said.

He disclosed that there is one vocational instructor for about every 200 pupils in the county.

Social Security Topic Of Speech By Paul Weaver

Kiwanis Group Hears Administrator Recall Act's History

The benefits given by social security to those eligible persons who retire or cease work at the age of 65 or over, was today defined to Kiwanis by Paul Weaver, social security administrator for Central Florida. He was introduced by J. J. Hunt.

Congress is now considering amendments to the Social Security Act, and among previous suggestions is the proposal to include self-employed persons, he stated. House and Senate amendments to the act do not run parallel, so it will be necessary to reach an agreement at committee before passing there, he declared.

The Social Security Act, he pointed out, was first passed in 1935, and has been effective since Jan. 1, 1937, including amendments made in 1939.

He stated that his office was wholly concerned with old age and survivors insurance, which is wholly administered by the Federal Government. To this fund, employees contribute 10 percent and employers an equal amount. The total old age survivors trust fund has been invested in government bonds from which interest benefits are derived. Within the Central Florida territory are more than 4,000 beneficiaries, he revealed.

Mrs. Troy Ray Tells Pilot Club Of State Welfare Board

The Need Of Having A Plan To Help Those Individuals Who Are Less Fortunate Than Others, Is An Age Old Story Known To Man Since The Beginning Of Time.

The need of having a plan to help those individuals who are less fortunate than others, is an age old story known to man since the beginning of time, Mrs. Troy Ray, District Welfare Board supervisor in Seminole County, told members of the Pilot Club at a meeting held in the Yacht Club last night as she outlined the various functions and services of the State Welfare Board.

The State Welfare Board, set up by a Legislative act in 1935, is a body created for administrative work, having 36 members. For use in public assistance.

She thanked the Pilot Club for its assistance in introducing the "Milk Check" and also mentioned other state clubs and organizations that are doing good work for those in need. She explained that every one has the right to apply for assistance, but that this first must prove eligibility for benefits. Maximum benefits are 50 cents per week.

Mrs. Ray stressed the fact that all information taken from the Bureau is confidential.

100 Bus Drivers Ask Governor To Shelve State Law

TAMPA, June 14—(AP)—More than 100 of the Tampa Transit Lines' 100 bus drivers today petitioned Gov. Fuller to urge him to invoke the state legislation law as a means of settling the company-union dispute.

William B. McGowan, Tampa attorney, said he had notified the Governor by telegram that 110 drivers had signed the petition declaring they do not want to be represented by the Transport Workers Union (TWU) and they do not want the state arbitration law invoked.

A scheduled arbitration of bus drivers was called off last week by the TWU after the governor urged the union to arbitrate under provisions of the state law.

(Under the provisions of the law, the Governor appoints a conciliator who has 60 days to attempt to work out the agreement.)

"Cinderella Man" Sails On Queen For Attempt At English Channel

DENNISPORT, Mass., June 14—(AP)—A 44-year-old wounded war veteran who swam his way back to health may be the "Cinderella Man" of the 1936 English Channel sweepstakes.

George (Scotty) Fraser, a stocky Glasgow native, will sail tomorrow from New York with little money but lots of courage.

The rugged, little Scottish-American is lured by more than the prospect of fame and fortune. He wants to show disabled veterans the restorative powers of swimming.

He owes his own rehabilitation in large part to rediscovery of a magazine hobby—swimming. He came to this Cape Cod town in 1944 to rest and recuperate from years of war, both mental and physical.

As a Merchant Marine officer he spent long harrowing months under enemy attack and suffered a severe leg wound when Nazi planes blasted his north Atlantic convoy in the Atlantic.

Swimming returned him to his old health. Now he works as an aircraft welder at Otis Air Force Base.

"I have one-way ticket on the Queen Elizabeth, plus $150. That amount certainly won't fill the bill. I need at least $1,000 more, but I'm not worried about that now."

Another bay states—Shirley May France of Somerset—also will be aboard the British liner. She will be accompanied by her several friends, party with her father, manager, trainer, and alone.

Although he has never met the 17-year-old Shirley, Fraser was impressed with her channel try last summer when she was pulled out of the water.

Six Escape Death As Plane Crashes Into Wild Region

MIDDLETOWN, Pa., June 11—(AP)—Six United States Army Air Corps pilots today were rescued after their plane crashed in a wild region near Elkies, Pa.

"We definitely confirmed that the plane involved is the one missing between here and Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska," the base said in a statement. "All nine bodies have been recovered. A spot board was military personnel."

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, June 14—(AP)—Six Americans, including one woman and a child, escaped death Sunday when their plane crashed in the steaming, rain-soaked jungle near the Somali border, according to weak radio signals for help.

Names of the passengers are unknown but a radio message from the downed plane yesterday said that all were alive.

Rescue parties in high-powered cars are fighting their way through the wild, hazy and leopard country to try to reach them. Capt. Donald C. Collins of Los Angeles, Ethiopian airline pilot, has dropped medicine and food at a spot where he believes he sighted them.

Air Force Chief Advances Theory Of Power-Peace

Thomas K. Finletter, Secretary of the Air Force, today advanced a theory of power-peace, saying that a world without war is not possible unless America pursues a policy of peace through power.

Finletter spoke at a commencement exercises of the University of Pennsylvania.

"For prevention of war, we need a force so strong, so capable of violent counter attack, as to deter any nation bent on attacking peace."

And for the maintenance of peace, he said, we need a force so strong, so capable of violent counter attack, as to deter any nation bent on attacking peace.

Finletter said that the United States and her allies, because of the "curse of military power" are using everywhere.

The Air Secretary did not say new arms, but in the field of foreign and military policy, he said, he tried to get young people just getting out of college an understanding of why we are aiming when we aim peace, he said.

Already his speech indicated the need to prepare for a world in which we want peace, but we must have some of our citizens in the cover of a modern military establishment is applicable, and to give us further power, the role of defense now comes to be a major part of counter attack.

Finletter didn't speak of definite numbers of guns and planes and bombs. He didn't speak of Russia by name, but he talked of complex, not probable, a possible one.

"You see, he said, he had faith for the future, because there is a great thing on our side, which is the ordinary man everywhere for peace."

The W. T. Freemans have as their guest her brother Morris, custody of Surrey, Ga.

The Chamber of Commerce met Wednesday night, in the Community Hall, with the president, C. P. Brasington, presiding. Roll call, the reading of minutes of previous meetings and treasurer's report and those of various committees constituted the program. The sanitation committee pointed out that 95% man hours of labor had been expended in the current year campaign, of which 76 hours had been donated. W. T. Brady was appointed to select funds with which to buy a power lawn mower so badly needed in the effort to keep public parks clean. Volunteer labor for repairing the dock in the swimming park was asked. C. P. Brasington had already secured $135.00 material from the county commission for such repair. Within the week, three of the lakes had been treated with lime treatments, 8,000 in Crystal and 4,000 each in Mary and Emma. Two Orlando building concerns have promised to donate seats for the shuffleboard court. Ernest Humphries reported the next formal adjournment. The shuffleboard committee met and organized both their teams and schedule. The ladies of the Home Demonstration Club served nice coffee and lemonade late in the evening.

Business Barometers Pointing To Record Levels Of Activity

NEW YORK, (AP)—How firm a foundation supports the business boom and the year-old bull market in industrial stocks is a matter of debate.

But today we find a number of leaders going on the record as to the prospects for their specific industries in the weeks and months ahead. Most of them are outright optimistic. Some of them include the word caution.

There are interesting business barometers to watch in apparel, shoes, furniture, autos, newspaper, oil, steel, copper and factory construction. Also some government business statistics out today shed light on what's making the industries tick.

Oil production in Texas should jump 100,000 barrels a day next month—this is the estimate of the industry's needs by Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission which turns the oil well valves on and off in that state. Thompson has been looking at the rash of cars off the Detroit assembly lines, at the new diesels, at the smoke of eastern factories powered by heavy oil.

Auto producers say this week will show a new record in the output of cars and trucks. Charles E. Wilson, General Motors president, says the year's output for the industry will go well over seven million units and he thinks "the shortage of cars now is worse than it was last year or the year before."

Steelmen say that delivery quotas may have to be cut in July and August because of the carryover of unfilled orders. Even with the mills going at more than rated capacity the orders are piling up. Some mills now feel they'll be unable to work through this carryover this summer and must cut down on quotas of steel deliveries to customers.

"The second quarter of 1950 promises to be the best quarter the Wood Household Furniture Industry has ever enjoyed," says Frank E. Seidman of the industry's accounting firm, Seidman & Seidman. Further, he predicts that first half year output will be "within inches" of the record in 1948. The home building boom gets the credit.

And even a laggard joins the parade. The women's apparel and accessory trade, unhappy most of the year because retail sales have been slow, now reports merchants doing better in some parts of the nation and store buyers writing orders at the fall market opening of apparel and allied lines.

In shoes the talk is about rising leather prices and the difficulty in holding shoe prices down as output grows. Producers say they are caught in a price squeeze—tanners raising the price of leather and customers balk at paying higher prices for shoes. Production has been on the upgrade. Shoe factories expect June and July output to top last year's. They have been running ahead so far this year.

Copper users report that the government is again putting on pressure to get more of the metal for stockpiling. They say this, along with the high industrial demand, will keep copper in short supply in the months ahead. The price went up two cents a pound last week, and if Congress lets the two-cent a pound tariff be restored at the end of this month, another price boost is expected.

The business boom has lifted advertising volume and some publishers are worrying about the danger of a newspaper shortage again. But a spokesman for the newspaper association of Canada says his mills can keep up with the demand due to increased capacity.

Engineering construction contracts have reached a new peak—time high. So the Commerce Department and the securities and exchange commission are revising upward their estimate of how much businessmen will spend on new plants and equipment this year. The two agencies first predicted expenditures would be 11 per cent lower than last year. Today they guess it will be only six per cent less.

The Commerce Department also reports consumer income hit an annual rate of $212.8 billion in April, reassuring to merchants. And the Labor Department reports unemployment continuing to drop moderately.

Looking at the whole picture, the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia reports: "Business barometers now point to a very high if not a record level of activity." The bank praises "the caution exercised by bankers and businessmen in the postwar period" but that "with prices tending upward, business is in position to accumulate inventory once again."

The trade route over the Himalaya mountains follows passes 17,000 feet high.

Traffles grow in clusters underground and are found by dogs or pigs trained to recognize their distinctive smell.

Millions of years ago whales lived on land and walked around on four legs, says the Book of Knowledge yearbook.

Newspaper Slams Warren's Failure To Press Report

Miami Paper Claims Governor Has Full Data on Crime in Palm Beach County

MIAMI, June 15—(AP)—Gov. Fuller Warren could collect his own $1,000 reward for the first person in Florida to give information leading to the conviction of a gambler, the Miami Daily News said today in a copyrighted article.

"The Governor—who repeatedly maintains that gambling is practically extinct in Florida—has in his possession an official report giving the complete setup in at least one county," the newspaper said.

"The report, covering Palm Beach County, lists the gambling places, the owners of the places, the men who make the 'fix' to cover the operations, the amount paid in an 'fix' and to whom it was paid.

"This report was prepared for Governor Warren in the first few days of January this year, and while most of the establishments mentioned in the report were operating at the time, they have now closed for the season, as is their habit from year to year.

"The newspaper said it also had a copy of the report now in chief executive's possession. The investigation was made by an agent of the state beverage department who signed the report 'Ernest McQuire,' a fictitious name.

The news said it had made a copy of the report available to Senator Kefauver's Senate Crime Investigation Committee.

"The report makes the first statement that 'Joe Adonis' operated in Palm Beach County.

"Adonis is the 'front' man for Frank Costello of New York.

"There are also said to be five other confidential informants covering gambling and liquor violations in Palm Beach County.

"Warren has not seen fit to release the Palm Beach County report," said the newspaper, "if he did so, it would be official, and thereby gain publicity for information of Florida citizens.

Florida Highway Death Rate Soars Over 1949 Record

JACKSONVILLE, June 15—(AP)—Deaths on Florida highways are soaring over last year.

State board of health figures today showed 324 motor vehicle fatalities the first four months of this year against 307 last year. In all of last year, there were 704 and if the rate continues this year, said Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, state health officer, 1950 will wind up with more than 1,100 deaths.

Reports compiled in the office of Everett Williams, director of the bureau of vital statistics, showed motor vehicle deaths of white persons increased from 169 during the first four months of 1949 to 287 for the similar period this year. Non-white deaths jumped from 48 to 67.

The death toll for Negro women went up sharply. Only two met death from automobile accidents during the first four months of 1949. This year it was 16.

Travelers in Florida are showing an increasing willingness to try to beat railroad trains to the crossing and the loss of life from this cause has doubled as compared with last year. The figures show 10 persons were killed.

City's Monkey Island Has "Barbecue Day"

Yesterday was "barbecue day" on Monkey Island due to the generosity of the Dusky Boots Riding Association. Since the Dusky Boots Barbecue on Memorial Day the meat has been kept in cold storage, and was in need of cooking, according to Ed Richard, park superintendent.

During the barbecue, the new cages have been built on the Zoo to house rabbits and guinea pigs, who according to Richard, multiply so fast they create a "barbecue" problem.

George W. Chubb, chief of the Sanitation unit, has been given approval to build a new picnic house and to provide an area for "barbecue" with wood to burn.

Florida Moves To Reduce Aid To Blind, Aged

Cuts Will Be Based On Separate Needs Of Individuals

JACKSONVILLE, June 15—(AP)—The State Welfare board today took steps to reduce assistance grants to the needy aged and blind beginning July 1. Board members earlier had directed the welfare commissioner to make cuts if funds were limited.

Reducing the grants made necessary by the continued lack of state funds to meet full appropriations is a mechanical process handled in the state office here in Jacksonville.

The cuts will be based on the needs of the individual as determined by the district board, and as a result will not be the same for all recipients. Sherwood Smith, welfare commissioner, said.

Payments will be based for the needy aged and blind on 85 percent of their "budgetary deficit." Following that principle, those most in need will be cut the least, and in many instances not at all, he explained.

Those whose incomes are being supplemented to help them meet their basic living needs will feel the reduction to a greater extent, although the same percentage of their "budgetary needs" will be used.

Reductions in grants in the aid to dependent children program were put into effect in May because of the shortage of funds. These grants are being paid on the basis of 60 percent of the "budgetary deficit" of the child.

The budgetary deficit is determined by taking the cost of basic living needs for the individual, and then deducting whatever income or resources he may have. In many instances, where there is no other income, that deficit amounts to more than the maximum grant allowed by law. For the aged and blind, the maximum is $50 a month, and for dependent children $27 for the first child and $18 for additional children with the same family group.

The State Budget Commission, meeting in Tallahassee Tuesday, released funds amounting to 30 percent of appropriations for the first three months of the new fiscal year beginning with July. The commissioners indicated, however, that the same 30 percent release probably would be necessary during the rest of the year.

Tourist Club Closes Activities 'Till Fall

Pardon Given To Man Who Served 3 Sentences In Another's Place

TRENTON, N. J., June 15—(AP)—A former church fund solicitor with an embarrassing resemblance to a convicted forger had a governor's pardon today for the prison term he served 15 years ago.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll announced yesterday he had pardoned 64-year-old Clifford T. Shepard, whose jutting chin had caused him to be mistaken three times as a notorious forger with a nationwide reputation.

Twice those identifications resulted in Shepard's conviction on check forging charges once in 1935 and again in 1936. But he won his release later on a third arrest when he proved he had been in jail at the time of that forgery.

Shepard, who had been employed by a church fund-raising organization, came out of jail after 37 months to begin the work which resulted now in his pardon.

On the basis of information furnished by the American Bankers Association and the Bureau of Investigation, Shepard visited Edward Eugene Sullivan, known as the phantom forger, who was serving a sentence on bad check charges in Wisconsin State Prison, Wis.

Rulers Declare Revolt In Peru Is Stamped Out

Commies Blamed For Inciting Uprising; Forty Known Dead

LIMA, Peru, June 15—(AP)—At least 40 persons were believed to have been killed in a two-day revolt during which rebels captured most of the city of Arequipa. The government announced loyal troops, moving into the city, had put down the revolt.

Arequipa, with a population of 140,000, is Peru's second largest city. The rebels at one time held the city hall military headquarters, the airport, a radio station and other buildings.

No official figures on casualties were announced, but there were many wounded in addition to the 40 estimated dead.

Loyal troops crushed the revolt as soon as they reached the city. The government announcement said Centralist, imposed when the revolt began, was lifted this morning.

While the rebels held control of Arequipa they announced by radio that they would execute anyone who turned in a rebel.

State Rep. J. B. Hodges of Lake City was only a weak candidate for the job who emerged at the sheriff's office.
