Immediate Plans For North Orlando Shopping Plaza Denied

Rumors of a grocery store and shopping plaza to begin construction within two weeks in North Orlando were denied today by Bill Deutsch, vice president of Masterbuilders Inc., who said construction of a proposed 7-11 drive in grocery and other stores will not begin before 60 days. The site of the first business stores in North Orlando will be located on the Longwood-Oviedo Road across the street from the North Orlando Homes sales office.

"There will be three other stores tied in with the 7-11 construction," Deutsch said. "Tentative leases are presently under negotiation with other businesses for the other store buildings being planned," he added.

Three Big Virginia Stores Start Integration At Lunch Counters

By United Press International
Three big stores in northern Virginia integrated their lunch counters Wednesday, and new demonstrations by Negroes against segregation at the lunch counter broke out in North Carolina.

The lunch counter demonstrations, which began last February, have virtually ceased in the South since beginning of the summer vacation at schools and colleges. But summer school students at a Negro university in Charlotte, N. C., staged sitdown demonstrations in at least six stores Wednesday.

The F. W. Woolworth Company and two department stores in Arlington, Va., just across the Potomac River from Washington, integrated their lunch counters after two weeks of such demonstrations. Woolworth said the Arlington store would be the only one in Virginia to do so.

At Nashville, Tenn., a speaker at Fisk University's annual race relations institute called the sitdown demonstrations "one of the most massive social movements this continent has ever known."

Dr. Robert Johnson, consultant to the Field of Foundation of New York, told the Fisk audience that during the past decade there has been a "sharp increase in the tendency of American Negroes to become orderly and effective aggressors rather than avoiders or acceptors." He ascribed this to desegregation of the armed forces and major league baseball teams.

In Alabama, Gov. John Patterson refused requests of several Negro organizations to create a bi-racial committee to study the race question in the state. Patterson said the requests came from "Negro racial agitators" with whom he would not deal.

Brides Galore

June is still the favorite month for marriages in Seminole County.

With one week to go before the month ends, there have been 31 applications for marriage licenses as compared with 39 for the entire month of June last year.

Since Thursday morning two more applications were posted in the county Judge's office in the courtroom.

Although the vast majority of applications are filed by county residents, there are many from people in various sections of the nation.

Health Director Seeks More Help

County Health Officer Dr. Clyde Brothers told the Jaycees Thursday that he plans to ask the County Commission for an additional $5,000 out of the 1960-61 budget to employ another sanitarian.

Answering a question at the Jaycees luncheon, Dr. Brothers said that the county health department now has only two sanitarians. He explained that the two are kept so busy devoting their time to checking property sewerage and water facilities that they haven't time to inspect restaurants in the area, "which is one of the main jobs of that office."

Venezuela Leader Hurt; One Killed In Murder Attempt

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — President Romulo Betancourt was injured and a top-ranking Venezuelan officer was killed today in an apparent assassination attempt against the President.

Betancourt's naval aide, Capt. Lopez Parra, was killed by a bomb blast and Interior Defense Minister Gen. Jose Lopez Henríquez and his wife were seriously injured.

Col. Armas Perez, head of Betancourt's armed guard, also was injured.

First reports conflicted on where the bomb came from. Radio newsmen said it was thrown at a line of official cars in which the government men were riding. Other sources said it was planted in the defense minister's vehicle.

The explosion came as the caravan turned into Avenida de los Proceres in downtown Caracas. Betancourt's car was heavily damaged.

Word of the assassination attempt spread like wildfire. The army rushed tanks and troop reinforcements to the presidential palace, apparently fearing the attack as a prelude to a revolutionary coup.

The assassin or assassins struck as the Betancourt caravan was enroute to Army Day ceremonies. The explosion came just as the cars were passing a soda fountain. The site was only a few blocks from the reviewing stand.

Betancourt was taken to the University City clinic for emergency treatment. First reports said he was only slightly burned.

Longwood Mayor Takes Street Problem To Moore

Television star Garry Moore may have found the solution to Longwood's sidewalk problems.

On his TV program "I've Got A Secret," he has his panel's fingerprints imprinted in concrete blocks. "While they were doing this he said, 'If any Mayor needs his sidewalks repaired, just send me a telegram.'"

Longwood Mayor A. R. Lormann did just that. He sent Garry Moore a telegram, explaining the need for good sidewalks in the community, and told the TV personality, in his telegram, he would give the concrete blocks.

Freighter Rams Lightship Off Harbor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The historic "eye" of the world's biggest harbor—Ambrose Lightship—was rammed by a passing freighter in thick fog today and sank at its lonely anchorage eight miles off New York City. But its Coast Guard crewmen were saved.

The 6,125-ton American freighter Green Bay, outward bound, collided with the U. S. Coast Guard's "Relief 303" at 4:30 a. m. in the blacked-out gateway to New York harbor, the world's busiest sea lane.

The stubby, 120-foot lightship sank in 90 feet of water, leaving the main Ambrose channel temporarily unguarded. The Green Bay was only slightly damaged. It launched a boat at once and shook the lightship's nine crewmen to safety. The Green Bay's crew dumped a raft alongside the sinking lightship and its Coast Guardsmen made it to safety just minutes before the red-and-white beacon vessel plunged to the bottom.

The men paddled with their hands in a desperate battle to get away lest suction haul them down with the doomed lightship. They made it.

Taken aboard the freighter, the Coast Guardsmen waited while two cutters sped a dozen miles from Staten Island in New York harbor—one to take up the vigil at Ambrose and the other to bring them home.

Nikita Accused Of 'Meddling' In U.S. Affairs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter accused Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today of meddling in U. S. internal affairs by his comments on presidential elections.

Herter also told his news conference—the first he has held since collapse of the summit meeting in Paris—that he has decided to retire from the State Department no matter which party wins the November elections.

On still another subject Herter denied flatly that the United States in any way suggested to Tokyo that it should call off President Eisenhower's trip to Japan.

Meeting with newsmen on the 10th anniversary of the Communist attack in Korea, Herter used the news conference to call for a "re-assertion of the free world's determination to resist aggression and our support for the United Nations."

Herter said in his comment on Khrushchev that the Soviet leader's statements that he would not deal with President Eisenhower and his letters to Democratic political figures came about as close to interfering in U. S. domestic affairs as anything he could think of.

Khrushchev recently quipped that if it were true that the U. S. candidate endorsed by the Soviet Union would lose, he would endorse Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Herter said that because of his age and the possibility that his arthritic condition might get worse he has decided that a "younger man" should take over the post of secretary.

When he became secretary a little over a year ago, he recalled, his doctors gave him a medical clearance only until the end of the present administration.

Herter also told reporters: The United States has been giving information concerning Cuba to the Inter-American Peace Committee but "at this moment" has made no decision to bring a major indictment against Cuba in the international body.

He expects Japan to remain a staunch free world ally despite Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's announcement that he will resign. He said cancellation of President Eisenhower's Japanese trip last week was entirely on Japan's initiative.

He has seen no basic change in Soviet policy or in Premier Khrushchev's position in the Kremlin hierarchy despite Khrushchev's bitter attacks on President Eisenhower.

Mao Challenging Nikita For Red Rule

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China's Mao Tse-tung is plainly challenging Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev for the supreme leadership of international Communism.

This is the considered opinion of noted Communist affairs experts who have watched a Sino-Soviet dispute over party ideology burst into a secret inner-circle debate into a wide-open, public debate.

These experts believe the quarrel — basically over the Marxist-Leninist teaching that war with capitalism is inevitable — is too deep-seated for the two men to share equal status in the Communist hierarchy.

Khrushchev's pro-Cia line is what Mao, even if he is equal to Khrushchev with party negotiations, seems no longer willing in the interest of Communist unity to accept the world's view of him as a secondary leader.

He had been reported recovering and had written letters saying that he expected to return to work in August. A rising temperature Tuesday was the only indication of possible complications in the post-surgical period, his family said.

Members of his family had returned home to Orlando to await his discharge from the hospital after doctors had reported his progress as satisfactory.

Funeral arrangements will be completed this weekend, the family said.

Demo Criticism Puzzles President

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Eisenhower described by his staff as puzzled and somewhat amused by Democratic criticism of his failure to visit Japan, will present his side of the recent Far Eastern trip to the American people Monday at 7:30 p. m.

Speaking 1 1/2 hours in Washington, where he is expected to return Sunday, the Chief Executive will accent the positive rather than defend his trip. He still believes firmly that his visits to the Philippines, Formosa and Korea added up to a successful venture in developing closer ties between the United States and the Orient.

Eisenhower's speech, under preparation here in consultation with members of his White House staff, will be broadcast nationally by radio and television and relayed around the world over the short-wave circuits of the Voice of America.

Tornadoes, Heavy Rain Cause Havoc In Ohio Valley

By United Press International
Summer storms unleashed a deadly fury of tornadoes and record rains at the Ohio Valley Thursday.

The tempests smashed homes and farms, knocked out communications and sent rivers surging over their banks in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky. Severe flooding was feared.

Four lions escaped their open air pit at a Louisville zoo when a record five inches of rain in nine hours collapsed a concrete wall. Three were shot at once. The fourth roamed wild for eight hours before being shot.

At least seven deaths and dozens of injuries were blamed on the rain, wind and lightning that raged from the Mississippi to the Appalachians. Four persons were killed in Kentucky, two in Illinois and one in Indiana.

Two private planes were reported missing over Ohio or the east as the storms swept the area.

Cleanline, weathermen in Florida said a potentially dangerous squall area in the southwest Gulf or Mexico was not expected to grow into the season's first hurricane.

The Weather Bureau said the cold front which produced the storms would cross the Appalachians toward the East Coast today. But the storms were expected to abate and air only showers or isolated thunderstorms from Miami to Florida. Clearing weather was predicted for the hard-hit Midwest.

Dibble Elected Club President

W. E. Dibble of Geneva was elected president of the new formed Southeastern Seminole County Republican Club.

D. N. Ladd, Republican candidate for Congress from this district, spoke to the group after the business meeting.

Cattle Improving

The majority of the cattle in Seminole County is of native stock which has been "bred-up" and improved with good purebred Brahman and "English blood" bulls. This improvement of quality has been of great importance to the beef cattle industry. Continued increase in range cattle in Seminole County hinges on continued stress of quality and improved production efficiency, according to County Agent Cecil Tuerber II.

Garden Gate

By MRS. E. G. BRISSON

The common pentas may not stir up a lot of excitement among garden clubs and horticulturists, as rose growing or orchid growing can do, but this doesn't mean that it is not a good plant.

For the pentas—pronounce it pen-tas—has a place, and a good one, in gardening. It should be more widely used, especially by new gardeners.

The pentas is easy to propagate. Just cut off a small branch, stick it in a container of soil, put in shade and water it daily. Soon you'll have a rooted plant.

And will it stand after you have planted it, like many a shrub, and wait for weeks or months before putting out the first new growth? Not at all. The pentas will begin to grow immediately. And not only that, but it will soon be flowering and producing clusters of red, three shades of pink, three shades of lavender or purple, white, and speckled pink and white blossoms.

And does it discourage the pentas to be cut in pieces for bouquets to brighten the living room? Not at all. New growth comes out immediately, and soon the shrubs are covered with flowers again. There is certainly no more suitable plants for a new home, whose grounds are bare of trees and shrubs, than the pentas. Plant it on the east or west side, or on the north side.

But don't just stick a plant out in poor soil. Make a good bed, with plenty of rich soil. If you can't get rich soil, mix sand and peat, and fertilize. Keep pentas greatly well watered. Soak the ground once or twice a week. Fertilize monthly, a little, not heavily. Keep the plants in good healthy growth. Watch for those big horn worms and grasshoppers. They're the only serious insects.

In good soil the plants grow so fast and bloom so much that you'll have to keep cutting them back.

In the meantime, you can be collecting more permanent plants. Eventually you can replace the pentas with these.

The pentas comes from tropical Africa. It is a semi-woody plant, and doesn't seem to be able to live more than two or three years before it begins to lose its thrifty appearance. However, new plants can be started and older, declining ones taken out.

Since 1944, there has been an 82 per cent decline in the death rate from acute rheumatic fever.

Too Many Flowers

Don't crowd the pattern when you put your summer outfit together. Summer fashions bloom with patterned fabrics in dresses, separates, and all-weather coats. Even shoes and handbags come in fancy designs, not to mention hats.

Aim for a coordinated outfit as you shop for individual items. Just a little "fancy" with a lot of "plain" is a helpful guide. For instance, a flowered dress goes well with a plain-colored wool jacket, but it fights with a plaid or bold tweed jacket.

The flower bedecked hat of many colors wants to be the "whole-show" — so let it. Your dress and coat can be smart, yet plain enough to set the stage for that crowning glory.

MARTY JONES is having a pleasant visit in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Perkins, Sr. She, and her three children will be joined later by Mr. Jones.

People are saying farewell to the Rozsas at parties. Their neighbor, Mrs. Robert Ramey entertained with a swimming party for them and Mrs. Charles Quinn had a dinner party that included others with the Douglas Company, Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. D. McPherson will have a cook-out on their patio for Mr. and Mrs. Rozsa. Co-hosts will be Lt. and Mrs. Neil Pruden.

PILOT CLUB MEMBERS recently combined business with pleasure when they met at the home of past president, Lurene (Mrs. Raymond) Ball. A board and general business meeting was followed by a "Cook Your Own Steak" party in a lighted area on the Ball's Crystal Lake property. While members cooked on charcoal burners, the serving committee consisting of Mrs. Joel Field and Mrs. Harvey Swanson, took charge of all the good things that usually go with thick, juicy steaks.

Conversation centered around the International Convention to be attended by Lucky (Mrs. A. O.) Payne in that continental city of San Francisco July 24-28. Members talked, too, of the plastic party to be held next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. T. J. Westgate.

Special guests were Miss Jeanne Cepeda, Mrs. Doris Midmer and Mrs. Carolyn Richmond, all of Winter Park and Mrs. Harry Hansen of Hollywood.

MONA AND RALPH JARVIS have had out-of-state guests coming and going—and have a house full now. The Jarvis' San Clair estate on Sanford Avenue is so secluded by hedge that one often misses the beauty of their gardens. Especially lovely now is the mass of bright blue hydrangea on the front lawn under the row of tall, stately palms.

"Baba" (Mrs. Richard) DEAS was hostess to her Thursday Bridge Club yesterday and the club was well sprinkled with guests. Enjoying the afternoon were Shelia Roberts, Katherine Bishop, Charlotte Donahoe, Jennie Shedden, Doris Angel, Evelyn Bales and Carlin Eick.

The Dodgers pounded three Sanford pitchers for 13 hits which included two doubles and a triple. They also issued nine bases on balls. Righthander Bob Golick started for the Greyhounds and was going strong until the fifth inning. He issued two walks and gave up four hits, one a three run double by Arlo Engel with two outs, as the Dodgers pushed across four runs. The next inning he got them out in order but in the seventh inning he lost his control and was pulled in favor of Bertie Bailey.

Bailey stopped the rally in the seventh when he fanned the last batter leaving two runners stranded. He then lost his control in the eighth as he walked three and gave up a single to Manager Randy Davis. Joe Patrikovic then came in and was promptly tagged with a double and a single before he could retire the side. Patrikovic gave up a single and a triple in the ninth as the Dodgers pushed across their 11th and final run.

OUTBOARDING'S BEST DEAL IN A DECADE

40 hp performance, 4-cylinder dependability for little more than a 2-cylinder 25!

enjoy "outboard living days" with MERCURY world's No. 1 outboard!

Before you buy any outboard in the 25-40 hp class, compare it with a Mercury — the best horsepower buy in outboard history! A Mercury 300 gives 40 hp performance plus the extra dependability and smoothness of 4-cylinder design, but is yours for about the same price as competitors' 25 hp motors with only two cylinders. And a 4-cylinder Merc 400 has 45 hp performance but is priced in the range of competitors' 40 hp 2-cylinder motors.

BIG POWER at low cost is just one reason why you'll want a dependable Mercury "four" — the modern in-line engine design with lighter, tougher reciprocating parts and much lower piston speeds than competitors' long-stroke, big-bore twins. Mercury's short-stroke, small-bore design reduces inertia forces — the main cause of engine wear — to only about one-third those of competitors' outboards operating at the same RPM. So you get not only bonus performance but longer engine life! See your dealer for a demonstration of Mercury — 6 to 80 hp. Ask about liberal trades, easy terms.

Take a family demonstration ride now at your Mercury dealer! Get Free booklet, "Introduction to Outboarding".

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am an intelligent, attractive, well-dressed girl of 20. Everyone says I have loads of personality. I am a huge success with everyone—except the opposite sex. Some girl friends have told me I'd be more popular with men if I bought myself a few "curves." (I am 23-24-33, and 5 ft. 5 and weigh 125.) I don't see where this kind of cheating would do me any good. If a man got interested in me for my "figure," I'd have to tell him before we were married that it was artificial. What should I do? Does that kind of dishonesty pay?
"STRAIGHT UP AND DOWN"

DEAR "STRAIGHT": Many of your "straight up and down" sisters buy "curves" because they want to look better in their clothes—and it is not a matter of baiting their hooks with sponge rubber. It's no more "dishonest" than using artificial color on your cheeks and lips or putting an artificial curl in your hair. All's fair in love and war, and the war is on!

DEAR ABBY: I know a lady motorman who has so much electricity in her that when she takes her clothes off the sparks start to fly all over. I would like to know if there is any danger of her catching fire.
CLOSE FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: No danger—unless she has a conductor.

DEAR ABBY: Don't adults with young children answer the telephone themselves any more? I am in business and use the telephone a great deal. And

I am sick and tired of talking "baby talk" with some three-year-old who has answered the phone for "Mummy" and wants to play guessing games with me.

This morning I asked a child whose mother was down in the basement washing to please call her mother to the phone. Apparently the child was dazed on the way and forgot all about it. I waited on the line fully 15 minutes, then hung up. I couldn't call back because her receiver was off the hook half the day. I think children are cute—but not on the telephone.
DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: I agree with you. And in this connection, now that we can dial long distance directly, many children have accidentally made some very costly long-distance calls while playing with telephones. I recommend toy telephones for children.

DEAR ABBY: You can tell 24-year-old "Miss L" that the 82-year-old "bachelor" she is running around with has a wife and children. Furthermore, there will be no divorce in this family. My husband's name belongs to my children and me. "Miss L" can expect nothing but ultimate disgrace and possibly a child with a name. His name goes with this family—and so does his income. "AS WIFE"

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teenager," is on sale at all bookstores.

Healthy hair is lustrous. It shines. It is full of life, vitality, and vigor. The only way to preserve its natural beauty or to renew it after illness or neglect is to bring new health to the scalp and to the entire body.

Hair growth can be aided through stimulating circulation by massage, by brushing, by shampooing properly and regularly and by combining this with the use of special hair preparations, most of which contain some stimulating ingredient. It is not the hair preparations alone that will give results. It is the massage and the way in which the preparations are applied, plus brushing, which sets up circulation and increases the blood supply.

Use any of your favorite hair preparations on your scalp, but to relieve tension and that taut feeling it is necessary to massage the scalp, working from the nape of the neck up to the crown of the head. To aid in this, touch the finger tips with cosmetic oil. Professional hair treatments are very beneficial because they stimulate circulation while the rest of the body is relaxed. You can do a good job of massaging your scalp yourself and, although not completely relaxed as in a professional massage, you can get good results.

It is a pity so many men and women have only that proverbial five minutes to grab a bus in the morning. They swallow fruit juices and gulp down coffee and the juices and coffee "slosh" around in their stomachs all morning. Important things like scalp massage and hair brushing just cannot be done in the morning—yet it would most probably set you up for the entire day.

Dr. J's is the most oft repeated complaint. I receive hundreds of letters weekly asking how to make hair grow, how to dress un-lustrous and luxuriant, how to make it grow longer, and then—they cut it off!

If you want to know more about your hair and how to do things for it, send me a long self-addressed, eight-cent stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin. Use the booklet to your advantage.

HERE IS A SCENE from "Huckleberry Finn" coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Literary Classic At Ritz Sunday

Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," one of the great literary classics of all time has been brought to the screen and will open at the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Seen as Huck is 13-year-old Edie Hodges, who scored in the Broadway musical, "The Music Man," and followed with a hit on the screen in "A Hole in The Head."

Playing Jim the runaway slave, is Archie Moore, world's light heavyweight boxing champion, who makes his acting debut in the film and now adds to his laurels as the most surprising star "discovery" of the year.

Others in the cast are Tony Randall, Patty McCormack, Neville Brand and Judy Canova.

The film was shot largely on location and near the Sacramento River in California, which today is more like the Mississippi of Mark Twain's era than the Mississippi itself.

Circle Theater's Play On Prison Life Turns Out To Be Stereotype

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—As "The Prison Profession" began on Wednesday night's "Armstrong Circle Theater," I thought it was a shame that a school teacher had been sent to prison.

The teacher in this true story, Herb Holland, was sentenced to a six-month term in the Nassau County, N.Y., prison for obtaining narcotics illegally. I figured he needed hospitalization more than jail.

But as the CBS-TV drama drew to a close, I found myself thinking it was a shame the teacher was leaving jail.

What happens? Holland, who had kicked the habit, let himself get hooked on prison reform. He overcame official inertia, budget limitations, room shortages, inmate hostility and prejudice, and organized a school for the otherwise idle youth serving time with him.

(Holland's class seemed smaller than most classrooms on the outside, which may be one reason he was able to accomplish so much with his students.)
Holland wanted to move, with his family, to another part of the country and start life anew when his time came to leave the prison. But the county didn't want to abandon this successful experiment. You guessed it, Holland was hired as the prison's first "civilian" teacher and the show ended with Holland and "his boys" back together. Of course, the real ending of this story won't be known for years.

The play gets my vote because it was able to sweep us along, make us care, show how selfish, stodge human behavior can be made to yield before a determined and righteous cause.

Pat Boone To Host Special Teen Show

A great number of the country's top teenage performers will assemble Monday for a special musical revue with Pat Boone as host. WLOF-TV, Channel 9, will carry this special of this story won't be known for years.

Among the talents who will appear on this latest are Edd "Kookie" Byrnes, Connie Francis, Frankie Avalon, Paul Anka, Fabian, Bobby Darin, Annette Funicello, Anita Bryant, plus many others.

Coca Cola, the sponsor of this revue entitled, "Coke Time," said these performers were discriminated against by members of clubs across the country as being the artists they most wanted to see.

For this time only, the popular "Adventures in Paradise," usually scheduled at 9:30 p. m. will not be seen.

Steel Hour Plans Varied Summer Program Schedule

The U. S. Steel Hour, continuing its established policy of halling summer as another season—and not a reason to drop standards of entertainment—has lined up an exciting roster of stars in an array of fresh, new teleplays. Seen on alternate Wednesdays, at 9 p. m., the "live" drama series will present such luminaries as Polly Bergen, Dan Durya, Frank Lovejoy, Red Buttons, Ariene Francis and Hans Conrard, during the weeks to come.

On June 20, Emmy Award-winner, Polly Bergen, will co-star with Ed Begley, in "The Great Gold Mountain," the story of a beautiful swindler and a small-town editor who exposes her. Appearing with them will be Burt Brinckerhoff and Robert Lansing.

Because of a CBS pre-emption for the political conventions, the Steel Hour will produce only one dramatization during the month of July. "Shadow of a Pale Horse," starring Dan Durya and Frank Lovejoy, will be seen July 20. A provocative teleplay, about a group of untutored Australian villagers who struggle to establish law and justice following a murder, it was adapted by the new and talented young writer, Joe Palmer, Jr., from a story by Bruce Stewart.

Red Buttons, whose first straight acting assignment won him an Academy Award, stars in "The Case of the Missing Wife," an original teleplay by Orin Borsten, which concerns a man who is found guilty of the murder of his wife, even though her body cannot be found. Buttons will portray the inspector who solves the mystery surrounding the case.

Another original, "Dile of the Fox," by Budd Fishel and Barry Hyams, will be the Steel Hour offering, August 24. The romantic adventure story is set during the time of the Civil War.

And, on Sept. 7, one of television's most delightful personalities, Ariene Francis, will co-star with Hans Conrard in "When in Rome," a warm comedy about a wife who finds it difficult to believe in her husband's innocence, when he is willed a large sum of money by an unknown American woman. "In memory of three divine days and nights in Rome."

TV Tonight

"Head of the Class" is the title of the new game show NBC puts on for the summer. Gene Rayburn is master of ceremonies.

NBC's "Cavalcade of Sports" lists a 10-round light-heavyweight fight between Doug Jones and Bob Olson. This is the last program of this long-lived sports series on NBC.

EDMUND PURDOM and Georgia Moll in a scene from "The Cossacks" opening at the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

'The Cossacks' Opens At Movieland

"The Cossacks" will open a two night run at the Movieland Drive-In Theater Sunday.

The other feature on the program is "Never Say Goodbye," starring Rock Hudson.

Starring in "The Cossacks" is Edmund Purdom, John Drew Barrymore and Georgia Moll. This is the first time this film has been shown in the Sanford area.

"The Cossacks" is the story of the war between Caucasian tribesmen and the soldiers of Czar Alexander II of Russia during the period from 1850 to 1860.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, "The Badlanders" starring Alan Ladd and Ernest Borgnine will play. The other feature on the program is "Damn Citizens," starring Keith Andes.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "Who Was That Lady" starring Tony Curtis and Dean Martin; "The Purple Gang," starring Barry Sullivan and "The Woman They Almost Lynched," will play.

Skelton Purchases Old-Time Studio That Chaplin Built

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Filmworld has been described as a place where the inmates run the asylum.

One inmate, Red Skelton, soon will be running his own little asylum—the first comedian since Charlie Chaplin to boost his own movie factory. It so happens the studio is the same one Chaplin built.

In many respects Skelton's purchase of the old Chaplin Studios is in keeping with the belief that Red has filled the void left by Charlie. He is Hollywood's favorite clown, a position once held by Chaplin.

Fortunately for Skelton, the only thing Red about him is his hair. Chaplin's political sympathies eventually led to his downfall in tinsel town.

Two questions arise. What does Red think of Chaplin? What does he plan to do with a studio of his own?

"One at a time," said Red. "First of all, I knew Chaplin personally. I entertained him one time from two in the morning until dawn at a party given by a mutual friend.

"He seemed very likeable—that was before he went to Switzerland and got into trouble with all his political views and actions."

Turning to the subject of his new studio, the redhead announced he has big plans for making it a busy place.

"I plan to produce my own movies and TV series," he said. "I plan to use my mobile tape unit for everything I do for television.

"This will be the first all-color studio in Hollywood. I will also produce color movies there," he said.

GOP Leaders Trying To Get Into Act With Well Timed Political Limericks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Since all the comedians are telling political jokes these days, I guess you can't blame some of the politicians for trying to be comedians.

One political group that likes to be the life of the party, provided it's the Grand Old Party, is the Republican congressional committee.

The limerick long has been a means of condensing issues pointedly and succinctly in poetic form.

Just as the limerick described the people and issues in the days of its chief patron, Edward Lear, so today's election year campaign lends itself to limerick descriptions of candidates and issues.

I have noticed that when politicians set out to emulate Edward Lear they usually wind up sounding more like King Lear.

However, I found that they at least are printable, which is more than you can say for most limericks.

I'll let you decide for these samples whether they condense the issues pointedly and succinctly.

Coal Industry Proves American Enterprise Pays

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Something like 44 million tons of unsalable British coal lies on top of the ground—a monument, like our own heap of surplus foodstuffs, to the socialization of an industry. True, British miners and American farmers are working and eating at public expense and probably voting for their political benefactors, although this is becoming less certain through the years. But the work of these persons is worse than useless, since they are growing gray and bent in the production of commodities which are not needed and which nobody wants.

Contrast this dismal study in British nationalization and American vote buying with the story of coal in the United States. It is an industry which hit bottom a few years ago and was accounted by many as good only for the graveyard. At the end of the postwar boom, however, it followed the 1945 coal strike by the end of the last phases of losing its best customers. The American railroads were shifting to diesel oil and curtailing their passenger runs. The American household, with the war demands over, was getting plenty of fuel oil, and was yielding to a very successful sales campaign for natural gas as the house heater. In the distance loomed atomic energy as the industrial fuel of the future. The price of coal in 1948 was $4.99 a ton at the mine head—about one-quarter of a cent per pound. There was a wave of featherbedding and trade restriction by the unions. The standard definition of a coal mine was, "A hole in the ground owned by a you-know-what."

But behold! Twelve years later a remarkable upturn is in progress. The price of coal is a fraction lower than in 1948. It is just about the one anti-inflation commodity in the market place. Between 1947-58, the number of coal mining jobs dropped by 230,682, and the number of tons mined dropped by 228 million tons.

But the figures do not represent bad news. Quite the contrary. The miserable, low-paid, pick-and-hand miner has been replaced by machinists making $2,000 to $4,000 a year and bossed by general managers making $23,000 to $25,000. The welfare fund of the United Mine Workers (supported, of course, out of the cost of the product) is taking care of the derelicts, while new jobs are being opened up in related fields as coal begins to prosper. Coal operators no longer think of tons, but of thermal units—that is, quality has replaced quantity in their thinking. And while production is down, productivity is up and is climbing. The U. S. Bureau of Mines puts the rise in American productivity at 78 percent in the past 10 years. The American coal miner produces 12 tons a day, and the industrialist to produce 15 tons in another five years. His socialized counterpart in Britain produces a mere 1.7 tons per day.

All of this astonishing transformation came about, not by winning the government for subsidies and price fixing restrictions, but by a magnificent get-together of the interested parties. Capital has worked with labor. The owners and operators of the mines, the United Mine Workers and affiliated unions, the shipping facilities of railroad, river bars, and ocean freighter—the joint success belongs to all.

Instead of assuming that coal markets had gone, never to return, the entire industry performed research to find new outlets. The old coal furnace has surely departed, but something that the UMW calls coal-by-wire is coming in with new electrical appliances for the household. The electrical utility companies of the USA are doubling their capacity (and need for fuel) every ten years. The Atomic Energy Commission has become, instead of a competitor, the largest single buyer of American coal.

Then, there are a number of new uses in the making. One is a railroad engine to burn pulverized coal at greater economy than it can burn diesel fuel. Another is a microwave process of "cooking" coal and extracting valuable chemicals. Another is the use of coal as highway "binder" material.

It is a remarkable revolution, to be witnessed in multimillion dollar cutting machines, in diligent efforts by the coal diggers to restore the ripped-up land to woods and pasture, in almost unbelievable fraternization of labor and management officials. It makes the beholder believe, if he ever doubted, that nothing is impossible to the American system of enterprise.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Can you criticize people without engendering ill will? This is a most difficult psychological dilemma. Every teacher, businessman and parent should tutor himself thoroughly in the "sandwich method." It is the only sure-fire plan for handling this delicate problem.

CASE E-496: Calvin K., aged 20, is a department store manager.

"Dr. Crane, my biggest problem as an employer consists of how to administer criticism," he admitted to me at a luncheon we were attending.

"Even when I try to be reasonably tactful and even when the correction is vitally necessary, the victim of my criticism always seems more or less resentful."

"But new employees often require instruction. When they make a mistake, it is essential that they be corrected."

"Such criticism is helpful to them, for it teaches them how to avoid repetition of faults that would ultimately lead to loss of a job."

"But how can a man criticize his wife or his employees without engendering hostility and resentment?"

"The best technique to use in this delicate situation is the 'sandwich method.'"

"Sandwich your correction or reprimand between two honest compliments. The first layer of the sandwich must be a sincere bit of praise."

"This demands some self control and careful personality analysis on the part of the critic so he can pick out a legitimate virtue of his employee."

"Too often our correction or criticism is blurted out on the spur of the moment and in an angry tone of voice."

"That is especially true in our dealing with members of our family, especially our children. Criticism should preferably occur in private and should be a good teacher or employer should have unusual self control. He should resist the natural human tendency to grow emotional and become embroiled in an angry verbal exchange.

Criticism always tends to deflate our ego. It is human nature to resent ego deflation.

The strategy in the sandwich method, therefore, consists of first bolstering up the ego of the person being criticized so that the possible deflation of the "meaty" layer of the sandwich will be offset by the twin compliment.

Thus, by starting off with an honest compliment, we enhance the vanity of the victim."

"Then we hand him the meaty layer of the sandwich which consists of our criticism."

"Even then, try to make it an intellectual rather than an emotional matter, and slip into it casually by the 'I wonder' route. Because the victim receives some deflation to his pride finish the sandwich with another honest compliment, which should bring his ego back to normal if not even above par."

"Thus you have put across the reproach of criticism, while retaining his friendship and good will."

"Suppose a wife feels her husband is using too much slang or profanity around their children, and wishes to correct him."

"John, you are so wonderful in devoting time to playing with the children. They can hardly wait till you get home at night."

"I wonder, though if it wouldn't be better to be more careful in your speech around them, for they are young and impressionable."

"You know, darling, how they try to imitate you in every way, for whatever you do is perfect in their eyes, and the wife should smile adoringly at him."

"So be sure to smile when you employ the sandwich method, for the smile helps keep the situation on a friendly plane! Smiles are disarming."

"They help take the sting out of your criticism."

"Send for my 'Occasional Guide to Kids' enclosing a stamped return envelope and 20 cents. It offers many other pertinent ideas of use to employers, as well as to parents and teachers."

"You can do it on a shoestring, provided the shoestring is tied around $3,000"

WANTED: DEAD OR ALIVE!

POSTCARDS by Stan Delaplane

"The vest is definitely back," said the tailor looping the tape measure around my waist. He cinched it up and read the number. "Grown a bit, haven't we?"

"A year ago, you couldn't have had a suit with a court order. Today, about half our customers want a vest. It is the greatest change in men's fashion since the coat with the belt in the back."

True, I have been noticing a number of vests lately—Grandma used to say anybody with a weak chest should wear a vest. So there are some healthy aspects to the style.

Nobody seems to know exactly how men got on the new fashion. Our banker always wears a vest. But I consider it part of a banker's uniform. It shows conservatism. Look around any race track and you never see a vest. (I do not include those flashy Tattersall things. If my banker wore one of those, I would move the account.)

Some of the tailors blame it on President Eisenhower. He put on a vest the minute he got out of Class A.

"In the papers the other day," said the tailor, "I notice Eisenhower wore a vest in Manila. That's hot country, right?"

"Like a Sheriff's pistol, Filipino formal dress is a pleated shirt with the tails hanging out."

"So Eisenhower wears a vest. Look at it this way. No matter how light you get the material, a vest is bound to make you hotter. He must feel pretty strong on vests—like he wasn't dressed without it."

I ordered a vest with the suit. (We can always wear it with working pants; I don't know anything handier for natts than the four pockets on a vest.)

A vest came with the suit when I got my first pair of long pants. And for years thereafter, we always got a vest with our suits. (Two pairs of pants too. Remember? I don't remember exactly when vests just disappeared. But the tailor said it was during World War II.

"Same time they took the cuffs off the trousers and the flaps off the pockets. It was to save material. Do you want pleats on the trousers?"

"Should it? Pleats are square, aren't they?"

"They are good for camouflaging the stomach. If you wear the coat open, if you wear a vest, that will do the same thing."

"Some say it's the Italian look," said the tailor. "And some blame it on the Continental influence. But I say it's the politics. Look at Nixon. Never wore a vest until he was Vice President for a year.

"The minute he put on a vest, I said to myself: 'There's a man who's thinking of the Presidency.'"

"What about President Truman?"

"The double-breasted type. Even when double-breasted suits went out President Truman wore a vest. Along with the bow tie. A double-breasted suit cuts down the spread in the middle and you don't need a vest."

"Remember Truman had been in the haberdashery business. He didn't need anybody to tell him the tricks of dressing."

The tailor sees little prospect for Kennedy—"an Ivy League type but I haven't seen any vests in the picture." Stevenson—"I'd like to get sleeve appeal; but I'd like to get a look in his closet. I'd

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER
Fire departments have to know where the fire is before they can put it out.

That fact was brought home to a 35-year-old man in a small New England town in a very graphic way.

Roused from sleep by the smell of smoke, he jumped from a second story window of his burning home and sprinted to the nearby volunteer fire station, a short distance away. He quickly yanked the whistle cord to summon the volunteers.

He was in such a hurry to get back to his burning house, however, that he neglected to wait and tell the first volunteer where the fire was. Nor did he leave any direction on how to reach his home which was hidden from sight.

By the time the bewildered firemen found the fire, the house had burned to the ground.

Little overlooks can cause big trouble. Pay attention, therefore, to the small things which contribute to the peace of your home, community, country and world. In God's plan, no detail of life is unimportant.

"The impatient man shall work folly."
(Proverbs 14:17)

Keep us reminded, O Lord, that trifles can lead to perfection but that perfection is no trifle.

Happiness Through Health
You May Be Missing Something!
(By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

It is important at this time to explain why Chiropractic stands out from all the others as a separate, distinct healing science and what constitutes its practice and its legal definition.

Chiropractic, in brief, is legally defined as the science and art of adjusting bony articulations that have become misaligned (subluxated), more especially those of the spine, for the purpose of giving freedom of action to those nerves that may cause pain or abnormal function (disease).

The trend of all healing sciences is toward Chiropractic. Records of the past few years show that research workers have ascribed interference to nerve flow as the fundamental cause of 720 definite diseases. More will be added to this number until such time that all healing sciences will agree that basically disease is caused by nerve interference.

You will note as time goes on that health articles in newspapers and magazines will deal more with the brain and nerves and their relationship to health.

Those who are now adopting and enjoying the benefits of Chiropractic in their health program are utilizing the health service of the future.

One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin, whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FA 1-fax 2-7442.

More Marriages

NEW YORK (UPI) — The din was deafening from the nation's wedding bells last year—more Americans walked down the aisle than ever before. About 1,505,000 couples stood before the altar during 1959 for a 2.7 percent rise over the preceding year.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — A person just doesn't go up to the vice president of the United States and ask him if he knows why some people don't like him. But I did.

And his reply was direct—and enlightening.

Richard Nixon's answer was not complete, for this "I don't like him but I don't know why" phenomenon is a complex one.

But a face-to-face discussion about personal things with the vice president leaves the interviewer with a heavy respect for a man such as he—and, for that matter, for any individual of great responsibilities who must contend with nasty talk about his manners and personality.

Nixon turned his head toward the window and thought a moment before the reply came.

Finally, he said, and not with bitterness: "I think this is something that is inevitable—any individual who takes a vigorous stand on controversial matters is bound to find that there are people who don't like him."

I thought that would end it right there. But, it was obvious now, this was a matter of concern to him—not so much himself personally, but concern on behalf of his children.

The vice president philosophized: "You learn to roll with the punches," he said. "The give-and-take of politics, he said, sometimes has a disillusioning effect on young people. In his home, he pointed out, "we don't tune to political programs, nor do we discuss politics."

Because a certain newspaper cartoonist occasionally portrays the vice president as an unshaven ogre, the Nixon do not allow the paper delivered to their home.

"The thing with children," he said, "is that younger people always do not see things in subtle terms. They only see them as black and white."

This makes it somewhat difficult for the vice president or his wife, Pat, to explain away a critical editorial or cartoon when the two Nixon daughters, Julie 11, and Tricia, 14, happened to come across one and start asking questions.

Yes, there are people who don't like him, who will vote against him if he is the Republican nominee for president. You can't be liked by everybody, he said. "In 1956," he said, "there were 37 million people who voted against President Eisenhower."

Maybe this "I don't like him" attitude has been distorted, he suggested, in recounting that a lot of folks were surprised by the large number of votes cast for him in the recent primaries.

Over the month when I'd hear criticism of the vice president, the critic would usually add: "But I know he's the most qualified man to be our next president."

Last week, one of our neighbors dropped a hint that may give an answer to the Nixon personality question. She said: "I don't like people who are so meticulous personally. If only Nixon would stub his toe in public once in a while, commit some silly personal blunder—like stick his elbow in the banquet soup—it would make him look more human."

She said if Nixon would look a little more like an ordinary Joe, with warm common appeal, she thought she'd vote for him.

Which would indicate that charm is more important than experience and ability in getting into the White House.

If your dream of a new home has yet to be fulfilled... This may well be your answer...

Dear Citizen and Newcomer to Sanford:

If you are a person retiring, a newly married couple having difficulty qualifying for a mortgage because of income deficiency, a veteran who has previously used VA eligibility, a Non-Veteran who has no way to take advantage of the low interest rates available under VA and FHA, or even if you are a person looking for an investment for rental purposes — this may be your best opportunity.

Years ago in examining the opportunities of Sanford for growth and service to our community and to our business by assisting Naval personnel in the housing area. They needed assurance that the homes they bought could be sold quickly in the event of transfer. Low down payments under the VA and FHA company policies of quality construction in conjunction with sound community planning. We also found that many of our local folk as well as newcomers in the areas first mentioned above could not in many instances qualify for VA or FHA even though many of them had demonstrated their ability to pay monthly payments by paying rent much higher than such payments would be under VA or FHA. At that time we made these decisions:

1. To build the best housing in the best planned subdivision at reasonable prices with financing available to permit any newcomer to Sanford to find suitable housing with the best financing plans available to anyone anywhere.
2. To endeavor to work with Sanford's Naval Personnel to the limits of our ability. (To this end we have at times repurchased the homes of Naval personnel transferred without prior agreement to do so. We have at times assisted without charge, to help them sell their homes directly. And in other instances we have made specific agreements to repurchase within a specified period and have honored these agreements.)
3. Our third decision was that in instances where we would repurchase, these already financed homes would be made available for resale at the same low interest rates that prevailed at the time they were first financed. In this way we felt we could help Sanford by making available the best homes with the most favorable home-buyer financing plans available anywhere in Florida.

Sanford has grown and will continue to do so. The population of Sanford has grown from 11,245 to 19,017 between 1950 and 1960. In the past five years Odham and Tudor has built over a thousand homes with an average occupancy of 94% persons that is housing for over 3,500 persons. That means that Odham and Tudor has furnished housing for over one-half of the population growth of Sanford since 1955.

But our plans do not stop there and neither should the plans for the rest of Sanford. This summer approximately 300 new families are expected to add to Sanford Naval Air Station. Just one of the electronic companies operating in Sanford is expected to add 150 members to their staff. Another industry has plans to double in size. This growth is here and such growth will continue with sound community planning which includes good housing.

Our program has made available homes one to three years old in Sunland Estates and Pincrest, financed at highly favorable interest rates under VA and FHA, that can be purchased by anyone merely qualifying with their own good credit. No further qualifying is necessary and down payments are low — monthly payments are low. We urge you to consider these home buy opportunities.

J. Braley Odham

We also have lovely new homes available in Sunland Estates and South Pincrest at Low Low Down Payments. For the Veteran no down payment and closing costs as low as $135.

Reds Storm Out At Geneva

GENEVA (UPI) — Russia and its Communist satellites abruptly walked out of the 10-nation disarmament conference today in a move which blocked hearing of new Western proposals and threw the parties into angry turmoil.

Chief Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin, the same man who broke up the last East-West disarmament conference in London in August, 1957, got the floor first. He announced that the Western powers had refused to discuss disarmament.

and, therefore Moscow considered this conference could do no more work.

Polish Deputy Foreign Minister Marian Naskowski, today's chairman, ignored repeated Western attempts—orally and in writing—to get the floor, and announced when Zorin finished:

"The work of this commission is now discontinued, its role therefore now exhausted." Much leaped to his feet, roaring: "I want the floor; I want the floor!"

Maskowski hesitated for an instant while he glanced at Zorin, then continued to lead the Communist group out of the room while Moch yelled, "Hoolulism! Hoolulism!"

British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore, who also was on his feet trying to get the floor, moved to the head of the table as the Communist disappeared through the door, and took over the chairmanship.

Chief U. S. Delegate Frederick M. Eaton, who returned from Washington with new American proposals only Sunday, then led off a round of Western speeches deploring the walkout and warning that the world would be the best judge of the Soviet action.

"This is a sad moment," Eaton said. "The Soviets have shown their true motives."

Eaton went to Washington 10 days ago and stopped off in London and Paris to confer on his way back here.

President Confers With Top Advisors On World Crisis

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower conferred with his top advisors today on the troubled world situation, the legislative outlook, and tonight's television report on his Asian tour.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter conferred separately with the chief executive at his request.

Nixon spent 40 minutes with Eisenhower and went over both global developments and the status of administration-backed legislation still pending in the closing days of Congress.

Herter, along with Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon, briefed the President on the latest developments in international affairs, including the blow-up of East-West disarmament negotiations in Geneva today.

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's speech tonight was mentioned "only in passing." Eisenhower had no listed appointments, and was expected to spend the rest of the day polishing his remarks. He will speak on the major radio and TV networks at 6:30 p. m.

Asked about reports that Nixon was given a copy of the President's address Sunday, Hagerty said "it's news to me." He added that the speech was not finished. Eisenhower, who returned Sunday morning from his 23,000-mile trip, is believed to feel that his mission in the Orient was successful even though he was forced to cancel a scheduled visit to Japan.

News Briefs

Death Toll

By United Press International
The Highway Patrol reported today that at least seven persons died on Florida highways during the past weekend.

Citrus Budget

LAKELAND (UPI) — The Florida Citrus Commission met today to discuss its 1960-61 budget of $8,250,000 and a proposal to split its advertising of fresh and processed citrus between two agencies.

Time Limit

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — The General Telephone Co. of Florida has 30 days to answer accusations by the State Railroad and Public Utilities Commission that it violated rate charges as prescribed by law. The commission filed the accusations Saturday, upon a complaint by Charles F. B. Phison, president of a West Coast communications company.

Stalemate

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Machinist approved one contract, counting was close in a second and a third dispute was stalemated today in union-aircraft-missile industry disputes. Douglas Aircraft workers in El Segundo ratified a new two-year contract covering 4,000 union members Sunday. Union spokesmen said 80 percent approved.

Pressure Expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. says Russia may "put pressure on us that might involve minor military actions" but the United States is ready for any eventuality. Gates said Sunday, however, he did not look for the Soviet Union to start any major action. Gates was interviewed by Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) on a television program.

Coexistence Pact

ROMANIA (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was believed today to have collected the signatures of five East European Communist leaders on a document supporting "peaceful coexistence" with the West. Western experts in London said such a document most likely would be used to back up Khrushchev in his current wrangle with Red China's Mao Tse-tung, who supports a "hard line" in the cold war.

Troops Ready

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI) — Troops poured into Leopoldville Sunday night and early this morning to head off a new outbreak of violence as a swearing in ceremony for Joseph Kasu Ngu, the first president of the independent Congo, instead of joy and celebration, an atmosphere of hatred and tension built up as this swearing in ceremony was held. The ceremony was scheduled to go into effect Thursday.

Flood Works 'Jeopardized'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic-controlled Senate has added "bad projects" to the $1.6 billion omnibus public works authorization bill and thus endangered 11 badly-needed Florida works, according to Rep. William C. Cramer (R-Fla.).

He said the "bad" projects by the Senate has jeopardized 11 Florida navigation, flood control and beach erosion control projects.

Cramer said the "bad projects" added $200 million to the bill. "Too many unsound and prematurely considered projects are being added when the Senate more than doubles the House-approved bill," he said.

The House approved the bill last year at $353,310,500.

"Florida projects represent a justifiable 5 percent of the bill approved last year by the House," he said.

Cramer said he would support the bill if the "bad" projects were eliminated "because a vote by the President would mean holding up many good projects to save the few bad ones."

The 11 Florida projects Cramer referred to are: Navigation—Everglades Harbor, $117,200; Gulf Coast shrimp boat harbors, $372,000; Bakers Haulover Inlet, $228,000; Palm Beach Harbor, Lake Worth Inlet, $4,300,000; Miami Harbor, $8,814,000; Little Pass, clearwater Bay, $104,000; St. Marks River, $1,711,000. Beach erosion control—Key West $231,000.

Flood control—Prosecution of the Central and Southern Florida comprehensive plan for flood control and other purposes approved by the flood control act of 1948 to cost $23 million.

It will include canals, levees and water controls, drainage structures in the Nicodemus Slough area, Glades County at an estimated cost of $319,000.

Many Homeless In Texas Floods

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Hundreds of families along the Gulf Coast moved back into their waterlogged and mud-encrusted homes today in the wake of floods caused by up to two feet of rain.

Partly cloudy skies and only scattered showers were predicted as some 1,500 or more homeless persons turned to the cleanup task in farm and city homes strung out along a 100-mile stretch from Houston to Port Lavaca.

A flood brought on by lack of drainage streams rather than swollen rivers and creeks.

There just wasn't any place for that much rain water to go in a hurry, so it just piled up on top of the flat terrain, flooded underpasses, streets and highways and crept into homes.

More than 37 inches of rain fell at Port Lavaca, a town of 6,000 on Lavaca Bay in Calhoun County, between 6 p. m. Thursday and mid-afternoon Sunday.

The rains didn't start until Friday morning further up the coast, but the gauges showed something like 17 inches at Houston and 30 inches at Bay City before the sun finally broke through late Sunday.

Benefits Bill Is Introduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Min.) and five members of his special committee on problems of the unemployed today introduced a bill designed to set up a $300 million expansion of the Social Security system.

McCarthy said the bill was aimed mainly at helping needy unemployed and their families, especially in areas of chronic unemployment where states and localities have been unable to provide effective assistance.

He said the measure would provide for federal grants-in-aid to states which elect to share the cost of the program — and which have established approved general assistance programs.

The bill, co-sponsored by Democratic Sen. Joseph R. Clark (Pa.), Jennings Randolph (W. Va.) and Pat McNamara (Mich.), R. Vance Hartke (Ind.) and Gale W. McGee (Wyo.) would help finance aid for about 45,000 state general assistance cases by providing up to $25 a month per person.

Havana Rocked By New Blast

HAVANA (UPI) — An ammunition dump explosion, the second such disaster to rock Havana in 3 1/2 months, touched off a wave of bitter anti-U.S. comment throughout Cuba today and semi-official charges of sabotage.

At least 10 persons were reported arrested in connection with the blast, which occurred Sunday night in a major Cuban army munitions depot in the Cayo Cruz section of Havana Harbor.

Official reports put the toll at two dead and 200 injured.

The explosion blasted huge sections of the stone wall of the ammunition dump 100 yards out into the bay. The concussion smashed in downtown storefronts. It smashed window glass in homes, apartments, stores and business buildings for five miles away.

A tremendous white cloud roomed high into the air over the dump. Residents rushed to the street from their homes, from restaurants and from evening masses at church in near panic. Electric power in some areas was knocked out temporarily.

The site was only 200 yards across the harbor from where the French munitions ship La Coubre blew up at dockside March 4, killing 90 persons and bringing accusations of sabotage against the United States that plummeted Cuban-American relations to a historic low.

'Hams' Compete For National Laurels

"CQ4, CQ4, this is WAPLB calling." For 24 consecutive hours Saturday and Sunday, 40 hams from the Orlando Amateur Radio Club worked feverishly to make contacts with other operators participating in the annual nationwide "hams" field day.

The club operated three radio positions from the Lake Mary site, getting power from mobile generators. Radio telephony, radio telegraphy and a new innovation which is rapidly replacing conventional methods, single-side-band, were employed by the group.

The objective of the field day is to test the equipment and men under adverse conditions such as would occur in event of a local or national emergency. Vice President Al Case said. The men ate and slept in the field to keep the transmission going around the clock.

The club competes with other clubs throughout the country for a total number of contacts in the U. S., its possessions, and Canada.

A point is given for every contact made, with extra points given for operating on emergency power and also for operating under a certain wattage. No prize except the honor of winning is offered nationally but "Skip," the Florida "hams" publication, gives a trophy to the state winner. Last year the Orlando club won the cup.

The event is sponsored by the American Radio Relay League whose membership numbers over 300,000. Most of the equipment belong to Civil Defense which cooperates closely with the amateur radio men.
