Anatomy Of A Burglary Ring

Boys Seemed To Have The World On A String — What Went Wrong?

By Charles Cobb
 Herald Staff Writer

The three boys came from middle or upper-middle class families. They attended trendy Lake Brantley High School in the middle of Seminole County's most affluent suburbs. They were nice looking, intelligent young people. Each came from a home with two caring parents. None was the product of a broken home. They seemed to have it made. But after school the boys didn't attend Key Club meetings or shoot a few baskets with their buddies. Instead, they spent their afternoons breaking into people's homes and stealing jewelry, video recorders, handguns and liquor. In a period of six months they are believed to have burglarized 81 homes in posh South Seminole neighborhoods, carrying off loot worth almost $100,000. The boys stole with a skill that belied their relatively tender ages. For months they eluded an extensive police dragnet, literally escaping arrest by seconds on several occasions.

"I was shocked when I heard about them being arrested," said Seminole County deputy sheriff Dale Wagner, school resource officer at Lake Brantley High School. Wagner, who had talked informally from time to time with the three boys on the school campus, said he had no inkling they might be involved in anything like a burglary ring. "They were just students," he said, adding that each was friendly and courteous. After being arrested, all three eventually pleaded guilty to burglary charges. •Anthony Rapont, 18, of 201 Green Lake Circle in Longwood, pleaded guilty to 12 burglary counts, was sentenced to one year in the Seminole County Jail and was placed on 10 years probation. A judge also ordered him to repay $8,100 in restitution to nine of his burglary victims. •Seventeen-year-old Kevin Stuhrke, 193 Bristol Point in Longwood, pleaded guilty to two counts of burglary.

GNP, Business Profits Soar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A drop in orders for expensive factory-made items signals only the second backward step in the fast-paced current economic recovery, the government says. Orders for the "big ticket" items dropped 3.6 percent in July, the Commerce Department reported Friday. But the backlog of orders edged upward in July for the fifth consecutive month, a sign that the latest reverse in new orders was not enough to sap the forward momentum of the industrial economy. The total value of new orders for durable goods slipped to $87.6 billion. To underscore the recovery, the department also reported Friday that the nation's gross national product soared at an annual rate of 9.2 percent — the highest in five years. And corporate profits posted their biggest quarterly gain in eight years. The figures led to uncertainty on Wall Street. The falling durable goods orders, and the subsequent slowing of the recovery, were interpreted to mean interest rates will decrease. The Dow Jones industrial average went up just 1.73 to 1,194.21. Corporate profits after taxes jumped 14.7 percent during the second quarter of 1983. It was the strongest improvement since profits skyrocketed 20.6 percent in the third quarter of 1975, following another recession. In dollars, without adjustment for inflation, the $15.9 billion surge was the biggest for any quarter. "This explosive advance was far above the ... gain for the first two quarters of prior postwar recoveries," Commerce Department undersecretary Robert Dederick said. In California, where President Reagan is vacationing, a presidential spokesman called the revised GNP rate "more good news" that shows "the recovery is well in gear" and inflation under control. The drop in big-ticket orders was regarded as possibly the only jarring note in what has been a symphony of good economic statistics in July. For example, Federal Reserve System economists said earlier in the week that factory production was up 1.8 percent because of the heavy influx of orders earlier in the year. The advance report on new orders was especially significant because it was the first look at factors that will influence the economy in the coming months. The volatile category of aircraft and aircraft parts was thought to blame for dragging the transportation category down in July, the report showed.

Growth E. Seminole Schools Move To Defuse Vexing Problem Of Massive Student Influx

By Micheal Beha
 Herald Staff Writer

There's a "time bomb" ticking in the undeveloped eastern portion of Seminole County. And the explosion is going to come in the form of development east of Lake Jessup from Oviedo to Geneva: a blast that could be a nightmare for school planners trying to build enough schools to accommodate the influx of people to that area, according to Benny Arnold, assistant school superintendent for facilities and transportation. Sooner or later, development will hit there, Arnold said. From all indications, it will be sooner. Westinghouse Corp. has transferred about 450 employees from Pennsylvania to expanded facilities across the street from the University of Central Florida in Orange County. Many of those people have moved into Seminole County, primarily to the Tusawilla and Sunrise subdivisions between Winter Springs and Oviedo. Those developments are less than five miles from Westinghouse, Martin-Marietta Corp. and the University of Central Florida. Susan Pregon of Westinghouse said the families of at least 50 employees who transferred from Pennsylvania to Westinghouse's new Orange County facility have moved into Tusawilla. And Jackson Heights Middle School Principal Bobby Rainey said, "Westinghouse is buying up whole blocks in Tusawilla." Jackson Heights and other schools in southeast Seminole County are already feeling the impact of new growth.

At Oviedo High School, 57 new students have signed up for classes in the past two weeks and school officials said that rapid growth plus a big incoming ninth grade class from Jackson Heights could push enrollment as much as 300 students above last year's 1,420. Capacity at the school is about 1,100. At Jackson Heights, Rainey said enrollment is expected to be nearly 100 above the district's projection of 993 students. Last year, the school's attendance increased by 282 from 675 to 957. Already this summer, 82 new students have registered and 50-60 more are expected. "We are full, bursting at the seams," Rainey said. The story is much the same at Lawton Elementary School which expects 650 students when school starts Aug. 29, an increase of 50 over last year. And things could get worse. Development Corp. of Seminole submitted plans this week to Oviedo officials for construction of a 783-acre development in the city. Plans call for the first phase of the project, called Alafaya Woods, to have 318 houses and condominiums and is expected to be developed next year. When completed, the development is expected to have 3,815 housing units, according to developer Norman Rossman. School officials admit that school expansion projects are urgently needed to meet the demands made by growth in the area. Toward that end, work is set to begin Sept. 1 razing an outmoded building at

Local Politicians Are Off And Running Already

By Donna Estes
 Herald Staff Writer

The 1984 general elections are more than a year away, yet politicians hoping to be the next occupant of the White House are roaming the nation picking up support wherever they can. Even here in Seminole County, four candidates have already declared their candidacies for office. Incumbents who have declared are Sheriff John Polk and Supervisor of Elections Sandi Goard, both Democrats. Others are Ed Standley, who is challenging Polk, and Fred Streetman who is running for Robert G. "Bud" Feather's seat on the county commission, both Republicans. Mrs. Goard explained that once a candidate formally declares their intention to seek office, they must open campaign bank accounts, name campaign treasurers and file quarterly reports detailing the names of their contributors, amounts of contributions and expenditures. But what advantage does a candidate have in beginning so early a run for office? Streetman says there are several advantages. "One is that the first candidate to announce may forestall others entering the race, if the candidate has gained sufficient respect; secondly, it allows the candidate to raise money early before candidates for other offices begin activities and thus reduces the competition for funds; it increases the length of time a candidate can work to elevate his name recognition and it gives people interested in politics something to do," Streetman said. While Streetman has not served in public office, he has been very active in the Republican party over the years and

Senior Jocks Lining Up For Chance At The Gold

By Jane Casselberry
 Herald Staff Writer

The Golden Age Executive Committee won't be getting back in gear again after a summer hiatus until early next month, but for Virginia Longwell, the chamber's executive assistant, preparations for the annual event have hardly slowed down all summer. First there was the task of sending out 5,000 pieces of mail all over the country to promote Sanford's ninth annual senior citizen Olympic-style event to be held this year Nov. 7-12. Then the inquiries began to come in by phone and mail and entry forms started to trickle in to the chamber office: most of them from out of state, as local folks are notorious about waiting until the last minute. Mrs. Longwell said.

years old and over eager for a chance at the gold. They come from faraway states such as California, Colorado, Pennsylvania, New York, Missouri, North Carolina and closer to home, Georgia and all over Florida. The oldest entrants so far are James Deiso, 88, of Rockledge, for the men and Florence Linden, 83, of New York City, for the women. Both signed up for the golf tournament, by far the most popular event as indicated by the number of entries to date. Women's golf entries have tripled over last year, according to Chal and Ernie Horrell, chairmen of the golf tournament which is held Nov. 8 and 10 at the Mayfair Country Club. Registration for the 1 p.m. start on Tuesday has already been cut off because of the 144 golfer limit. Men's Calloway and Low Gross play and women's handicap, Calloway and Low Gross will begin at 1 p.m. Men's handicap golf will also have 7:30 a.m. starts on Tuesday and Thursday. Men and women will not play in the same foursome. The Horrells are urging local golfers who plan to participate in the Golden Age Games tournament to sign up as soon as possible. Residents of the Zellwood Station mobile home community will be out in force again this year and are already sending in entries by the dozens, according to Mrs. Longwell. In addition to their favorite events of golf and bridge, they will be sending a synchronized swimming team to compete in the games. Bowling, track and field and bridge are three other events that are attracting a lot of early entries. Mrs. Longwell said. Race walking — a new event here last year — is also evoking interest. In fact, there are entries in every one of the nearly 40 events. As entries still pour in (20-25 a week) Mrs.

Thanking The Judges

It was a tough job — judging all those recipes for the Evening Herald's Third Annual Heritage Cookbook Contest — but they did it and did it well. Presenting plaques of appreciation are Herald advertising director Bob Lovenbury and advertising consultant Jan McClung (left). The three judges were (from left) Barbara Hughes, Betty Jack, and Shelda Wilkins. The recipes the trio judged will be featured in the cookbook which will be distributed with today's Herald and Thursday's Herald Advertiser.

IN BRIEF

Tougher Searches Planned To Help Stem Hijackings

MIAMI (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Administration is considering stopping passengers and hand-searching their carry-on luggage when X-ray machines and fluoroscopes spot bottles.

FAA spokesman Jack Barker confirmed the agency is considering the new policy in the wake of the recent spate of hijackings by people threatening to ignite gasoline or lighter fluid if they're not taken to Cuba. He said a decision on the new policy would be made early next week.

The FAA also is trying to discourage heroism by passengers on hijacked flights.

A passenger aboard a Delta Air Lines jet that was hijacked to Cuba Thursday night apparently agreed with that philosophy. William Mizell, a Tampa construction manager, said he warned two men who wanted to stop the hijacker not to "be a hero at 22,000 feet."

The hijacking was the 10th successful air piracy to Cuba this year and the second time a Delta jetliner has been ordered to fly to the Communist island since May 1. Two hijack attempts this year have been foiled by passengers.

Strike-Bound Mine Open

MORENCI, Ariz. (UPI) — Hundreds of Arizona National Guardsmen and law officers were called out to prevent violence at a copper mine and smelter, which reopened today 11 days after striking employees armed with bats and chains threatened non-striking workers.

The Phelps Dodge Corp. mine and smelter were closed Aug. 9 for a 10-day cooling off period when striking copper workers, armed with bats and chains, threatened non-striking employees.

Strikers said they did not think the decision would spark new violence, but said it would make contract negotiations more difficult.

Phelps Dodge Vice President Pat Scanlon said he did not expect the reopening to affect negotiations between the more than dozen striking unions and the company, scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. PDT today. He added that the company would continue to hire workers to replace the estimated 2,200 who went on strike July 1.

Thieves Take Jewels, Pennies And Surfboard

Three jewelry boxes containing gold rings, chains and other assorted items valued at $1,000, plus $100 in pennies and a $200 surfboard were taken from the home of Paul William Jackson, 400-C Oak Valley Drive, Longwood, in a burglary Friday night.

According to a Seminole County sheriff's report, entry to the residence was gained by removing a screen on an open window.

STOVE STOLEN

Thieves who entered a Sanford man's home left the kitchen sink intact but made off with the kitchen stove.

Kenneth Russell, 47, of Landing Drive, said a $750 General Electric range was removed from the kitchen of his new home between 3:30 p.m. Monday and 9:46 a.m. Tuesday.

Russell said the thieves apparently entered through an unlocked kitchen window.

TOOLS TAKEN

Thieves entered a fenced in compound at Fourth Street and Maple Avenue in Sanford and stole assorted hand tools belonging to the Seminole County School Board. The tools were valued at $470 and were taken from two vans parked in a parking lot between 3 p.m. Tuesday and 7 a.m. Wednesday.

CITY HALL HIT

A vandal used a rock to shatter a $600 window on the east side of the Sanford City Hall, 300 N. Park Ave., between 5 p.m. Tuesday and 2:12 a.m. Wednesday.

In a separate incident, someone broke out three window panes at the Wee-Law Child Care facility at 3765 South Orlando Drive in Sanford between midnight and 8:45 a.m. Tuesday. The loss was estimated at $50.

STRONG ARM

Two men hit a Sanford woman on the head and grabbed her purse as she was walking in the 400 block of W. First Street at 1 a.m. Friday.

Anne Benner, 37, of 1021 W. First St., said the men approached her from the rear, struck her on the head with their hands, and fled down the street with her purse which contained $40 in cash. She was not injured.

Ride Just The Ticket

CHARLESTON, S.C. (UPI) — America's first female astronaut in space is the kind of role model the National Organization for Women is looking for, says Dr. Carolyn J. Schneider, NOW's state president.

Dr. Sally K. Ride, who flew the history-making flight in the space shuttle, was the keynote speaker at NOW's statewide conference in Charleston Saturday. "Sally Ride is what we want the future to be like," said Dr. Schneider, an English professor from Alken.

"She in a way is our most effective spokesperson. The way I would like the world to be is that you apply and woman or man, black or white, blue or brown eyes, you are chosen because you are the most qualified person."

Her mother is a NOW member and her parents planned to attend the conference to hear her speak on success.

Florida's 'Forgotten Hero'

World War I Veteran Waiting For His Medal

By Rod Griffith

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (UPI) — Sixty-five years after his commanding officer recommended him for a Distinguished Service Cross, World War I veteran Terpan Harris is a "forgotten" man still waiting for the medal.

"I'm going to write to the Veterans Administration to see if I can get it," Harris said. "The World War I veterans, they are the forgotten people. Sixty-five years ago I was in the battlefield in France."

Col. Jennings C. Wise recommended Harris for the award Oct. 8, 1918 for obeying orders under fire while other members of his company remained in shell holes, afraid to move. Exploding shells and machinegun fire never worried the small, thin man.

"I was walking sideways and they didn't have much to shoot at," he said.

Superior officers once turned down the request, but Harris and supporters have renewed his battle for the award.

For Harris, 95, an immigrant from Greece who came to the United States at the age of 19, serving in the American Expeditionary Forces was a duty he owed the country. It also was a duty for which he had to fight.

"They wouldn't let me in the Army in 1917 because I weighed only 107 pounds. I got a politician to arrange for them to let me in," he said.

In France, Harris worked as a messenger, carrying orders between his company and headquarters and guiding other troops through battlefields full of barbed wire. The war was a battle to survive shelling, hunger and other miseries, he said.

"It was a terrible war. Many, many nights we sat on the ground, put a poncho over our heads and slept all night like that," Harris said. "When we got there, there were so many dead people and guns, I could throw down my gun and pick up another one. But you couldn't see who was shooting at us."

During a recent stay at a VA nursing home in Gainesville, an interview with an official about Wise's recommendation renewed the hope he may receive the medal, he said.

Fellow veterans are assisting him in his quest, said Cmdr. James F. Morris of the Panama City Veteran of Foreign Wars post.

"Our post service officer has written some letters about it," Morris said. "We're waiting for some rep. We're going to try to get Congressman (Earl) Hutto in on it too."

VA and Army officials, however, said they can find no record of plans to give him the award.

While he hopes for some positive word, he suffers alone in his home dizziness and insomnia.

"I don't expect no miracles. I've seen so much pain and dilemmas. It doesn't matter now," Harris said. "I hope I get it, though."

Absentee Ballots Ready In Lake Mary

Absentee ballots for Lake Mary's Sept. 6 city election are available at city hall, 158 N. Country Club Road. Twenty persons so far have picked up ballots.

City Clerk Connie Major said that any city voter who will not be in the city on election day may personally pick up a ballot at city hall or may request an absentee ballot by letter or by telephone.

The ballots are available from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday at city hall and they must be returned before 7 p.m. election day, she said.

On the ballot are three races for city commission seats and a referendum on a property tax levy of $1.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation for a two-year period with the resulting revenues designated for road paving and paving repairs.

Commission seats up for election and candidates for each post are: Seat 1, Martin P. "Marty" Bacon Sr. and Colin Keogh; Seat 3, Robert B. Stoddard and Harry Terry; Seat 5, Burt H. Perinchieff, Arthur "Buzz" Peisos, and Dennis Smathers.

Perinchieff is the only incumbent running for re-election. Incumbent Charles Lytle is not running for re-election because he and his family are moving to Sanford and incumbent Ray Fox has said he is not running because he wants to devote more time to his family.

The city currently has 1,622 registered voters, eligible to cast ballots in the election. The election will be held at city hall where offices for general business will be closed on election day.

The members of the election board are: Pat Thompson, Millie Murray, Virginia Nelson, Alice Moughton and Gwen Butler. The canvassing board for the election are Mrs. Major and Commissioners Kenneth King and Russ Megonegal. —Donna Estes

By Sam Cook

TAYLOR, Mich. — If Chris Brock was born to hit, then Greg Ebbert was born to pitch.
Brock hammered a three-run homer and Ebbert handcuffed hard-hitting Northridge, Calif., on four hits Friday as the Altamonte Junior League All-Stars moved into Saturday's championship game with a 6-3 victory at Sam Pizzo Field.

Saturday's game will be broadcast on Sanford's AM radio station, WTRR (1400 on your dial) at 2 p.m. and again at 5 if a second game is played.

The Altamonte victory eliminates Northridge and pits the Juniors against Manati, Puerto Rico at 2 p.m. Saturday. Altamonte needs to whip Puerto Rico twice to bring home the Little League Junior World Series title.

With Friday's victory over Northridge, the Juniors added the United States championship to their growing list of accomplishments. Brock, Altamonte's catch-all center fielder, continued his torrid hitting with a single and a homer, good for 3 RBI. For the three games in the series Brock has 10 hits in 13 at bats, three have been homers and his 12 runs batted in are a new tournament record.

"I've said it before. Chris Brock is the best hitter ever to come through the Altamonte program," said coach Terry Hagen. "He is so loose at the plate, nothing bothers him. He's had one helluva tournament."

Ditto for Ebbert. The fluid lefthander once again came through with a clutch effort in a big game. With the victory, Ebbert raised his post-season record to 7-1, four of which have been shutouts. In 57½ innings, he has given up just 15 runs for an earned run average of 2.10.

"Ebbert had the control today and he didn't get himself in any trouble," said Hagen. "He made the big pitches when he had to. And, we played good defense behind him."

Ebbert, who struck out one and walked three, choked off a Northridge team which had been using tiny Sam Pizzo field as its own personal launching pad. Since losing the tourney opener to Puerto Rico (16-13), Northridge has bludgeoned West Madison, Wis. (19-3) and Seaford, Del. (19-1). While rolling up 38 runs, Northridge ripped seven home runs.

Ebbert gave up two circuit clouts, but he continually kept Northridge off balance with his sharp-breaking curve ball. Ebbert's most difficult moment came in the seventh. After the first two hitters went out on pop flies, dangerous Scott Scibilia (3 homers) coaxed a walk and Greg Biley fouled off two 3-2 offerings before walking to bring the tying run to the plate in powerful Rex MacKackin.

"We knew he (MacKackin) had great power," said Altamonte manager Frank Messina. "But he hadn't hit Greg all day, so we stayed with him."

Ebbert slipped a curve passed MacKackin and then tossed him another bender which MacKackin grounded weakly to second baseman Jim Waring who tossed to first base for the final out.

"I usually get out of jams like that," said Ebbert after the game. "We had the lead and I threw him a real good curve ball that started out going toward him then broke over the inside corner."

While Ebbert handled the pitching chores, Brock continued to provide the clutch hits. Northridge took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Joe Wolfe's two-run homer, but Altamonte, batting last for the first time in the tourney, scratched out a run in the second inning.

Brock singled to open the frame and moved to second when Ernest Martinez drew a walk. Anthony Laszale then ripped a bad-hop base hit over the second baseman's head to score Brock with the run. Northridge loser Kirk Edwards averted further damage when Laszale was doubled off second on Ebbert's sinking liner to center and Ernest Martinez was thrown out trying to steal home.

Altamonte took control of the game an inning later. Matt Messina one-hopped a single off the center field fence but was cut down trying to stretch it into a double. With two outs, Matt Lange walked and Eric Martinez singled to right. Catcher Randy Green followed with a smash into left field to score Lange with the tying run.

Brock was next and he didn't waste any time. The 13-year old outfielder drilled a line drive into a stiff breeze way over the left field fence for a three-run homer and a 5-2 Altamonte lead.

"It was a high fastball," said Brock. "And the hit and run was on, so I hit it."

Series in Taylor, Michigan. On the right, Lange pushes MacKackin away and heads for second base. Altamonte beat West Madison in the first round and advanced to the tourney finals with a 6-3 victory over Northridge, California on Friday.

Eldrud reportedly told him. "I'm calling balls and strikes. What do you expect me to do, watch his front foot, too?"

And he was serious.

A tournament official and another umpire who was working the same game, agreed that Altamonte had a legitimate gripe. "We don't usually have people at this tournament who know the rules so well," said one official.

There have also been a few balks overlooked. Against Puerto Rico, the umpire went to the Manito pitcher and told him how to stretch with runners on base. "I've been teaching Greg (Ebbert) how to pitch out of a stretch since he was five years old," said Greg Ebbert Sr. "And when you get to this level of a tournament, and they don't call balks, it's incredible."

Altamonte's number one fan, David Nix, recited the Little League pledge prior to Friday's game.

U.S. Swimmers Surge To 5 Golds

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — America's swimming Armada surged through the water in methodical fashion Friday night and destroyed the opposition to add five more gold medals to its treasure chest at the Pan American Games.

Led by a pair of kids from New York state, Rick Carey of Mount Kisco and Sue Walsh of Hamburg, the U.S. aquacade ran its collection of gold medals to 12 in three days of competition.

Pan Am Games

Eager to make up for having lost two races in Thursday night's competition, U.S. swimmers scored victories Friday night in the men's 200 meter backstroke, the women's 100 meter backstroke, the men's 100 meter freestyle, the women's 400 meter freestyle and the women's 4 X 100 meter freestyle.

U.S. athletes also picked up three gold medals in shooting and another in synchronized swimming earlier in the day.

Carey, the world record holder in the men's 200-meter backstroke, held off a determined challenge by Ricardo Prado of Brazil to win in 1 minute, 59.34 seconds. That bettered the meet record of 2:00.98 set by Peter Rocca of the U.S. in 1979.

Carey had a large lead throughout much of the race and was not pushed until Prado began his move in the final 50 meters. The slow pace through the first 100 meters probably denied Carey a chance at bettering his world mark.

Prado, the powerful 18-year-old who specializes primarily in distance events, moved up with a final sprint to take the silver in 2:02.85. Canada's Mike West took the bronze in 2:03.11.

Walsh and Joan Pennington, of Franklin, Tenn., waged a tight battle in the women's 100 meter backstroke, with Walsh winning in Pan Am record time of 1:02.48. Walsh's time of 1:02.48 was 1.15 seconds ahead of Pennington, who took the silver. Barbara McBain of Canada won the bronze in 1:05.38.

In the men's 100 freestyle, Rowdy Gaines of Winter Haven, Fla., had a close call but emerged victorious over Fernando Canales of Puerto Rico and the favorite of the crowd, Alberto Mestre of Venezuela.

Gaines, who holds the world record and had set a Pan Am record in qualifying heats, was forced to rally in the final 30 meters to overtake Canales. Gaines' outstretched fingers hit the timing pad a scant five hundredths of a second ahead of Canales. Gaines finished in 50.38.

Mestre took his second bronze of the Games in a 51.09 and Chris Cavanaugh of Saratoga, Calif., was denied a medal in fourth place in 51.17.

"It feels really good. When I came into this meet, all I cared about was times," said Gaines. "Now when I look back on it, I could have done 53 (seconds) and won and still been happy. I knew it was going to be slow. I just wanted to win the thing. I'm not disappointed with the time, but I'm not happy with it either."

Concentration
Clarence Stover gets psyched up during warm-ups for the long, hot hours of practice ahead. Stover and his Oviedo High teammates are gearing up for a run at the Orange Bell Conference title in '83 after the Lions had a productive '82 campaign.

A pair of girls from Mission Viejo, Calif., battled it out in the women's 400 meter freestyle, with Tiffany Cohen outdueling more experienced teammate Cynthia Woodhead to win in a rather slow 4:12.27. Woodhead, who set the Pan Am record of 4:10.56 four years ago, was nearly two seconds behind Cohen in 4:14.07 while Julie Daigneault of Canada plodded to a bronze in 4:19.91.

The U.S. added its fifth gold medal of the night by winning the women's 4 X 100 meter freestyle relay — sparked by a strong leadoff leg by Jill Sterkel of Hacienda Heights, Calif., — in 3:46.46.

Canada took the silver in 3:49.49 and Mexico captured the bronze in 4:00.43.

In the shooting competition, Kim Dyer of Fort Benning, Ga., captured the women's small bore pistol match event with 589 points and helped the U.S. take the team title with 1,750 points.

Bucs May Sputter Without Doug; Vikings Eye NFC Central Title; Redskins Ready To Defend Crown

By Murray Olderman
NEA Sports Editor

Although John McKay, now entering eighth year, has the Bucs on course with back-to-back playoff appearances, the loss of Doug Williams looms as ominous blow for Tampa's chances in '83.

OFFENSE

Passing — Fortunate to trade for ex-Bengal Jack Thompson, but Jerry Golsteyn might get initial nod. Need another receiver to go with Kevin House, a burner, and reserve Gerald Carter might jump ahead of everybody. At tight end, Jimmie Giles, another unhappy one, is indispensable.

Running — In two years, James Wilder has made great strides as a classy fullback adept at all phases — blocking, catching, running. James Owens, Melvin Carver have continuing duel for playing time at halfback. GRADE: B.

DEFENSE

Line — Dave Browning, who

Pro Football

explosive nose tackle in 3-4.

Linebacking — Bucs call Hugh Green all-world backer and blitzer, most active player in their defense. Scot Brantley has thrived as inside linebacker and young Jeff Davis could do same at left inside post. Andy Hawkins has made great progress on right side.

Secondary — Only Mike Washington at right corner and Neal Colzie, moved to strong safety, seem likely to retain their starting roles. Cedric Brown at free safety and Norris Thomas at left corner are in tenuous position as John Holt, Thomas Moore and rookie Jeremiah Castille vie for places in lineup.

Prediction — Fourth in NFC Central, with record of 7-9.

Coach Bud Grant has turned his squad around from mud-and-snow-sloggers to nifty swifties. Reason? To adapt to their new playpen, the Metrodome. The deceptively bland Grant has an acute sense of what it takes to win. He manages to keep up with the NFL trend, which now is throwing the ball.

OFFENSE

Passing — Tommy Kramer has a proven gun and a rehabilitated personal life. Grant is confident Kramer will emerge any year as the league's top QB. He has a wide array of receivers, including all the running backs. Ahmad Rashad has retired, but Sam McCullum was, picked up to replace him. Sammy White is the primary deep threat. Joe Sencer, the tight end, penetrates defenses down the middle.

Running — Ted Brown has carried the load for the last three years and caught more than his share of passes. Darrin Nelson, '82 rookie, is also ready to contribute in both areas, as are Tony Galbreath and Rickey Young.

DEFENSE

Line — Vary between 3-4 and 4-3 according to situation. Nominally, they line up with Charlie Johnson at nose tackle relieved by Duck White on passing downs, and Mark Mullaney and Doug Martin at the ends. Randy Holloway adds extra pass rush.

Linebacking — Fred McNeill and Matt Blair at the outside positions have been together for nine years without a sign of slackening. Scott Studwell and Dennis Johnson play the middle tough, especially against the run.

Secondary — Vikings haven't picked off many passes lately, so

In 1982: 5-4, tied for second in NFC Central

In 1982: 8-1, first in NFC East, Super Bowl champ

Jocoy Browner was made top draft pick hoping to start at safety or even fill in at cornerback. Willie Teal and John Swain are the corners while John Turner and Tommy Hannan are safeties.

Fishing Slow; Good Time To Prepare For Hunting Season

We seem to be at that awkward time of the year when it is too hot for the fish to bite, and it is too early to go hunting. With the hunting season just around the corner, however, this might be a very good time to look over those dove fields, check the decoys, and look for early morning flights of teal and wood duck. Even if the fishing is temporarily in the doldrums, a casting rod is a good companion while you scout the ducks.

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has finally announced hunting dates for some of the migratory birds.

Rail, also known as marsh hen, and gallinule will be legal to take from September 1 through November 9 throughout Florida.

Wood duck and teal can be taken during the experimental early duck season scheduled to begin on September 24 and end on September 28. During this special season, the bag limit will be four ducks, not more than one of which may be a species other than wood duck or teal.

The mourning dove and white-winged dove seasons have been split into three phases with the first phase running from October 1 through 30. The second and third phases will run from November 12 through 27, and December 10 through January 2. Shooting hours are from noon until sunset during the first phase, and all day during the second and third phases.

White-winged dove never seem to get this far north, but if anyone should bag one this year, I would be very interested in hearing about it. This dove is very similar to the mourning dove, being the same size and having the same general coloration. The white winged dove can be identified by a more rounded tail and very conspicuous white wing patches, or stripes.

Snipe will be legal to take from November 5 through February 19. Crow season will run from November 5 through January 8. Woodcock season will be December

Cliff Nelson
Fishing and Hunting Writer

3 through February 5.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service have not approved Florida's proposed dates for the November and December duck season as yet. These dates will be announced as soon as the rubber stamp approval is made.

Any question on daily bag limits, legal shooting hours, or any other regulation can always be obtained by calling the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission using the toll free number listed on the inside front cover of most telephone books, or by contacting their nearest office.

One of the fun things for a sportsman and his family (or her family) to do during these hot doldrum days is attend the 2nd Annual Florida Sportsman's Festival being held up in Flagler County on September 9th, 10th and 11th. The open hours are noon to 9 p.m. on Friday, 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. on Saturday, and 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Seminars will be held on all kinds of fishing, turkey and duck calling, golf, tennis, archery, black powder guns, and retrieving and pointing dogs. There will be inside booths with exhibits on practically every aspect of hunting and fishing.

Then, for those who think they are the best in some outdoor sport, there will be participation and competition events in archery, black powder shooting, pistol shooting, bait casting, fly fishing, horseshoe pitching, turkey shoots, dog field trials, trout pond events, and tobacco spitting.

I don't know whether the tobacco spitting contest will be judged on distance, accuracy, or volume, but I have a couple of hunting acquaintances I'm thinking of sponsoring for this event who could win on all three counts. Their splatter shots are something to behold, and I've seen both of them knock a lizard silly at 10 feet.

The festival is about a 20 minute drive north of Daytona Beach, and is located just east of I-95 between Marco Polo Park Blvd and SR-100. Fireworks are planned for 9 p.m. Saturday as a climax to events of that day.

From all reports, fishing in the local area has been somewhere between poor and indifferent. Maybe the recent rise in the river from the daily rains has put the fish into a different feeding pattern. The early birds are catching a few bass before the sun gets hot on the water, but I have no reports on anything very spectacular being caught.

This might be a fine time to try night fishing between 3 a.m. and sunrise. I haven't tried it around here recently, mainly because 3 a.m. comes so early in the day. But twenty years or so ago when I was dumber and a lot more eager, we were moderately successful in the three hours before dawn. If you can stand the frustrations of snagging on every conceivable invisible weed, lily, and limb, you can be rewarded with an occasional lunker.

There have been several reports of good catches of speckled perch around the Osteen Bridge, and in the deeper holes in Lake Monroe.

Three manatees were sighted at Osteen Bridge the other day, headed up river. Please be careful in running your outboard around these docile sea cows. They are very susceptible to prop damage, and can also do serious damage to an outboard motor and boat.

A friend called the other day to state that my safety tip on keeping boat horsepower less than the operator's IQ, simply will not work, because he knows of several people who would have to paddle if they followed that advice.

Strange's 62 Good For Hartford Lead; Okamoto By Four

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — Veteran Curtis Strange tries to be a realist while struggling on the golf tour, and is surprised to find himself in the lead after two rounds of the $300,000 Greater Hartford Open.

Strange, seeking his first victory since 1980, went out early Friday, carved out nine birdies on the Wethersfield Country Club course and went into the clubhouse expecting someone to better his 62 round.

No one did.

Another early starter, Tom Kite, was in sole possession of second place, firing a 66 to match his first round and give him a two-day total of 10-under 132.

In third place, at 9-under, were Memorial winner Hale Irwin, 65-68; Sea Pines Heritage winner Fuzzy Zoeller, 67-66; Steve Melnyk, 65-68; Isao Aoki, 66-67; and first-round co-leader Payne Stewart, 64-69.

The field was cut to 71 players at 139, three-under-par, the lowest on the tour last year and the lowest this year.

SHAKER HEIGHTS, Ohio (UPI) — When Japan has an athlete going great guns in another country, its people are given every chance to bask in the reflected glory.

Approximately ten television people and 15 members of the Japanese press were on hand today to report every swing and putt of Ayako Okamoto, Japan's top woman golfer, who led the $200,000 World Championship of Womens Golf at Shaker Heights Country Club after two rounds.

The 32-year-old Tokyo resident set a torrid pace over the first two rounds, taking a four-stroke lead over Jan Stephenson. Okamoto shot a 4-under 32-36—68 Friday for a 139 two-round total.

Cannon Receives Five-Year Sentence

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Hanging his head in shame, former football hero Billy Cannon has admitted his mistakes.

But a federal judge quickly rejected his plea of leniency Friday and sentenced the Heisman Trophy winner to five years in jail and a $10,000 fine — punishment for masterminding one of the largest counterfeiting cases in U.S. history.

"The court refuses to allow those who have family or fortune or stature in life to commit crimes and receive a slap on the hand," U.S. District Judge Frank Polozola said, dismissing Cannon's suggestion he repay society by offering free dental services to an underprivileged neighborhood in his hometown.

Polozola indicated he would have sentenced the ex-running back for the Houston Oilers and Oakland Raiders to even more jail time, but a plea agreement Cannon reached with federal prosecutors limited the charges against him.

In a plea bargain agreement with prosecutors, Cannon admitted financing the initial engraving and printing scheme, which was hatched on New Year's Day 1980 to help bail himself out of a cash flow crunch.

However, he never made a legitimate dime from the scheme. He was arrested after trying to sell several million dollars worth of the phony money to a Secret Service undercover agent.

Martina Gains Revenge Tennis

TORONTO (UPI) — American Kathy Horvath thought her secret game-plan would enable her to subdue top-ranked Martina Navratilova at the $250,000 Player's Challenge. A hazooka might have been more effective.

Navratilova unleashed her vaunted arsenal of shots on the 14th-seeded Horvath Friday, gaining sweet revenge for her only loss of the 1983 campaign with a convincing 6-2, 6-4 triumph.

The defending champ thus advanced to the semifinals against Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia, who whipped third-ranked Andrea Jaeger 6-3, 6-2.

The strategy which proved successful for Horvath in her stunning upset at the French Open — playing the ball to Navratilova's backhand and keeping her at the baseline — was negated by the Deco turf surface at York University.

"This surface is too fast to be able to do that effectively," said Navratilova. "If she came up short, I was able to come in and take advantage of that."

The 23rd-ranked Horvath agreed with her opponent's assessment.

"She dictated the play this time, whereas last time (at the French Open) I dictated the play. The surface was too fast and I had to get a little more aggressive in the second set."

The tournament's defending champion admitted revenge was a factor in the win, but Navratilova didn't feel totally vindicated.

"I don't really feel I have anything to prove," she said. "But I had the French in the back of my mind as a motivator. She did beat me in a Grand Slam event, so I still have a little something to get back at her. But who knows?"

The Navratilova-Mandlikova matchup Saturday afternoon should prove an interesting one. Only three players have stretched the 1983 Wimbledon champion to three sets this year and Mandlikova has accomplished the feat twice.

The other semi-final pits second seed Chris Evert Lloyd, who appeared to be regaining top form with a 6-1, 7-5 victory over West German Claudia Kohde, against amateur Elise Burgin of Stanford University, who Friday upended 11th seed Kathy Jordan of the U.S. 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Evert and Navratilova have met in three finals this year, with the Czechoslovakian-born ace an easy victor on each occasion. Still, the possibility of a fourth meeting was appealing to Evert.

"She's human," said Evert, who after losing to Navratilova in straight sets last Sunday only half-jokingly suggested her longtime rival join the men's tour. "I know she is. I've seen her cry a few times."

In avenging her upset loss to Horvath at the French Open, Navratilova put on a sterling exhibition of the talent which allowed her to win 57 of her last 58 matches and 10 of her last 11 tournaments. Passing shots, drop shots, overhead smashes and backhand spikes were the order of the day as she easily dispatched Horvath in a match prolonged by two rain delays.

... U.S. Dominates

The U.S. also won a gold medal in the team moving target competition, but missed out on the individual gold when Colombia's Helmuth Bellingrode defeated Randy Stewart of Columbus, Ga., by three points. Michael English of Joplin, Mo., won the bronze medal.

Tracie Ruiz and Candy Costle, partners for eight years in synchronized swimming, earned the U.S. a gold medal in the duet event. The pair from Bothell, Wash., compiled 188.550 points to beat out Penny and Vicky Vilagos of Canada and Pilar Ramirez and Claudia Novelo of Mexico.

The women's basketball team finally got a chance to stretch its legs and defeated Brazil 107-92 behind a 24-point effort from Cheryl Miller of Southern California and 22 from Janet Lawrence of Louisiana Tech.

However, for all the firepower of the two Americans, the most electric play of the night belonged to Hortencia of Brazil, a 23-year-old physical education professor who scored 46 points.

Perhaps the most spectacular performance of the day was turned in by pitcher Lori Stoll of the U.S. women's softball team. Stoll, of Chillicothe, Mo., tossed a perfect game as the U.S. women avenged their only loss of the tournament by beating Puerto Rico, 1-0. Stoll has not given up a hit in 12 innings of Pan American competition.

In marked contrast to Stoll's performance, tennis player Eric Korita of Glenview, Ill., a U.S. hopeful for a gold medal, was beaten in men's singles by Fernando Pascual of Mexico, 7-6, 6-4.

The women's volleyball team won, stopping Brazil 15-3, 15-6, 16-14 and the water polo team also remained undefeated by topping Puerto Rico 16-5. However, the soccer team was beaten by Chile 2-1.

Boxers Paul Gonzales of Los Angeles and Steve McCrory of Detroit also had good nights and advanced to the semifinals of the competition. Gonzales made his debut in the junior flyweight class and outpointed Colombia's Arceio Diaz and McCrory outpointed Puerto Rico's Juan Casanova in the flyweight division.

Miami's 38-7 exhibition rout of Washington Friday night may have brightened things a bit for the previously winless Dolphins, but it didn't erase the memory of last January's Super Bowl loss to the Redskins.

"Well, we got our revenge, huh?" Dolphins' coach Don Shula said with a laugh after his team won for the first time in three pre-season tries. "You know I'm just kidding. We'll never get back what happened in January."

David Woodley threw two first-half touchdown passes to Duriel Harris and rookie Dan Marino passed for a second-half TD to lead the Dolphins.

"I felt we needed to play well tonight, and win a game," Shula added. "Everyone was a little more excited in practice this week than before most pre-season games, but I think we all knew we'd never get back what happened in the Super Bowl."

Woodley passed 23 and 7 yards to Harris and Marino's TD pass went 3 yards to Mark Clayton. Andra Franklin ran 2 yards and David Overstreet 3 yards for touchdowns and Uwe von Schamann kicked a 35-yard, first-half field goal for Miami.

Linebacker Mel Kaufman returned an interception off Marino 11 yards for the Redskins' only touchdown with just under six minutes remaining, leaving Washington at 1-2.

Miami held Washington quarterback Joe Theismann to just three completions in 12 attempts and 32 yards in the first half. Rookie Babe Laufenberg came on in the Rufus Bess is handy successor, plus Jarvis Redwine and maybe Darrin Nelson.

Prediction — First in NFC Central, with record of 10-6.

Will Super Bowl jinx hit Redskins, second surprise champions in row? Not likely. They've built on solid base. Coach Joe Gibbs has handle on what it takes to win in pro ball. Talent mixture of young and old is good. They're no flukes.

OFFENSE

Passing — Joe Theismann always could talk a good game; now he really believes what he says. Though 34, shows no signs of slowing. Return of Art Monk vital because he's only receiver with size among brigade of "smurfs." Charlie Brown's a marvel at catching ball in end zone.

Running — Another oldster, John Riggins, provides ground balance. Finished amazingly, with 610 yards rushing in the four playoff games. With Joe Washington's knees balky, help will have to come from draftees Richard Williams, Marcus Gilbert.

DEFENSE

Line — Tough a year ago, with super seasons by Dave Butz at tackle, strong pass rush from Dexter Manley and Matt Mendenhall. Could be even better in '83 with expected progress of Todd Liebenstein.

Linebacking — Mostly a no-name crew with Mel Kaufman, Rich Milot highly mobile in outside spots. Neal Olkewicz steady in middle.

Secondary — Except for Vernon Dean, the corner spots were hit by holdout of Jeris White, retirement of second half and completed 9-of-17 passes for 86 yards, but could not get his club into the end zone.

Laufenberg also had an 11-yard run in the fourth quarter, the Redskins' longest running play of the night.

Woodley hit 11-of-23 passes for 186 yards in the first half and Marino completed 8-of-19 for 91 yards in the second half.

"I thought Woodley did an excellent job of calling plays and putting points on the board and Marino kept us going in the second half," Shula said.

Miami turned Redskins' penalties into touchdowns in building a 24-0 halftime lead.

Woodley's first TD pass to Harris, on the final play of the first quarter, was set up by a pair of offside penalties against Washington defensive end Dexter Manley.

The Dolphins used two more Washington penalties to set up the second Woodley-to-Harris score, with 6:20 left in the first half. Washington seemingly had stopped the Dolphins and forced a punt from the Miami 24 but Redskins' linebacker Monte Coleman was called for a late hit on running back Tony Nathan, giving Miami a first down at its 37.

Von Schamann added his field goal with one second left in the first half after the Dolphins drove from their 33 to the Washington 17 in the final three minutes.

"I think that's the first time in 20 or 25 games that we just got whipped," said Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs. "We just have to go back individually as coaches and players and see why it happened. It was a real solid kicking."

Vikings 19, Seahawks 17

SEATTLE (UPI) — Steve Schonert is one of those obscure free agents that everyone will probably forget as soon as the NFL enters its regular season.

But this is still the NFL exhibition season and Schonert, a rookie kicker from Northern Iowa, had his moment of glory Friday night. Too bad he couldn't enjoy it.

With regular kicker Rick Danmeier on the sidelines with a sore back, Schonert drilled a game-winning 28-yard field goal with 2:08 remaining to lift the Minnesota Vikings to a 19-17 victory over the Seattle Seahawks.

But even though he came through with the clutch kick, Schonert didn't feel very good about his overall performance. He missed a 44-yard field goal attempt in the second quarter and then botched an extra point attempt in the same period. That miss eventually allowed the Seahawks to take a shortlived 17-16 lead in the final period.

"All in all it was a bad day," he said. "I just can't miss those extra points and expect to play in this league."

Steve Dils, Minnesota's backup quarterback, was given the chance to play the entire game when Viking Coach Bud Grant decided to keep regular starter Tommy Kramer on the sidelines. Dils came through with an effective performance, connecting on 18-of-28 passes for 199 yards and one touchdown.

"It's fun to get a chance to play," said Dils. "This was my first real action since last preseason."

Dils got his team moving in the second quarter when the Vikings scored 16 points. Jarvis Redwine dove in from the one-yard line for one touchdown. Dils connected on a 16-yard pass with Sammy White for another TD and Schonert booted a 45-yard field goal on the final play of the first half.

Seattle, which had trouble moving the ball with starter Jim Zorn at quarterback in the first two quarters, got their offense going after halftime with Dave Krieg running the team. Krieg fired a 23-yard touchdown pass to rookie Chris Castor midway through the fourth quarter and Norm Johnson converted the extra point to give the Seahawks a 17-16 lead.

Then, after the kickoff, Dils moved the Vikings 62 yards from their own 28-yard line on the drive that culminated in Schonert's game-winning kick. The drive, which consumed six minutes, was highlighted by a 22-yard run on a draw play by Tony Galbreath and by pass completions of 18 yards from Dils to Leo Lewis and 13 yards from Dils to Steve Jordan.

Schonert is given very little chance of beating out Danmeier and didn't really expect to play against the Seahawks.

"About two minutes before we came out for the game the coach told me I was going to do the kicking tonight," he said. "I could see Rick wasn't kicking well in the warm-ups and he told the coach he couldn't kick tonight."

That Schonert has made it this far through the NFL preseason is something of an unexpected accomplishment. He was invited to the Minnesota training camp only after another free agent kicker — Vince Wagner — was shelved with a knee injury suffered in a softball game.

"I was having a hell of a time getting into an NFL camp," said Schonert.

Sakata, Ripken Ignite Birds; Fimple, Pena 'Squeeze' Phils

A.L./N.L. Baseball

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Baltimore manager Joe Altobelli doesn't care who is pushing the broom when the Orioles sweep a double-header.

Reserve infielder Lenn Sakata, who had replaced second baseman Rich Dauer in an earlier, singled home the winning run to cap a three-run ninth inning and give the Orioles a 5-4 victory Friday night over the Kansas City Royals in the opener of a double-header.

Shortstop Cal Ripken singled in the winning run in the nightcap, as Baltimore completed the sweep with a 3-1 triumph that put them into first place in the American League East.

"I don't care who gets them as long as they're on our side," said Altobelli after it was pointed out that Dauer had highlighted an almost identical rally two weeks earlier to give Baltimore its last home victory before Friday.

Baltimore outfielder Ken Singleton said Gaylor Perry, who held Baltimore hitless for seven innings in the opener, "really pitched well. He didn't use any of his famous pitches tonight but he was all over the strike zone and kept us off-balance."

The Baltimore rally that overcame a 4-2 deficit followed a single by Eddie Murray that broke up Perry's no-hitter. The rally came against Royals reliever Dan Quisenberry, 5-2, who took over for Perry in the ninth.

Al Bumbry singled to greet "Murray" and moved to second on Ripken's infield out. Quizz singled to score Bumbry, took second on John Lowenstein's hit, and scored on Singleton's game-tying single.

Then Sakata scored Lowenstein with a drive to left-center to give reliever Sammy Stewart his sixth victory.

Tippy Martinez, 6-3, who took over for Storm Davis in the eighth inning of the nightcap, was the beneficiary of another late-inning rally.

White Sox 3-8, Rangers 2-1

At Arlington, Harold Baines singled in the go-ahead run in the 10th inning to lift the White Sox in the opener. In the nightcap, a two-run sacrifice fly by Jerry Hairston helped Jerry Koosman, 9-5, pick up his 200th career victory to spark Chicago.

Indians 6, Mariners 5

At Cleveland, Mike Hargrove drove in two runs and Gorman Thomas hit his 17th homer of the season to power the Indians and Neal Heaton, 8-4. It was the Mariners' sixth straight loss. Jamie Esterly got the last two outs for his second save. Reliever Karl Best, making his major-league debut, took the loss.

Blue Jays 8, Red Sox 7

At Boston, Barry Bonnell's two-run single in the sixth inning snapped a 6-6 tie and helped the Toronto Blue Jays back to a 6-0 deficit. Jim Acker, 3-1, pitched five scoreless innings in relief of starter Jim Clancy. Mark Clear, 3-5, took the loss.

A's 9, Brewers 1

At Milwaukee, Dwayne Murphy drove in four runs with a homer and single and Tim Conroy and Keith Atherton combined on a four-batter to help the A's snap the Brewers' four-game winning streak. The defeat dropped Milwaukee one game behind first-place Baltimore in the A.L.E.A.S.T.

Tigers 5, Twins 1

At Minneapolis, Chet Lemon slugged a three-run homer to key a five-run second and Jack Morris, 15-8, hurled his 13th complete game to spark the Tigers. The triumph snapped a three-game Minnesota winning streak. Bobby Castillo, 8-11, took the loss.

Yankees 11, Angels 6

At New York, Graig Nettles had four hits and three RBI and Onar Moreno three hits and three RBI, helping New York break a four-game losing streak. Ron Guidry, 14-8, allowed nine hits and six runs for his 14th complete game. Ken Forsch, 11-8, lasted only 1-3 innings for California and was bombed for six hits and four earned runs, including Steve Kemp's 12th homer of the year.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Jack Fimple didn't bunt too often in the minors, but he had to learn when he was promoted to the Los Angeles Dodgers. Evidently, he learned well.

Fimple's squeeze bunt keyed a three-run seventh inning Friday night and Alejandro Pena pitched a three-hitter to pace the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 3-0 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

"I always felt I could bunt, but at Albuquerque (the Dodgers' Triple A club) we didn't do much bunting because the balls sail there," said the rookie catcher. "I bunted off a slider. I had one other squeeze bunt early in the season against Atlanta."

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Cross Country Jamboree Prelude To Prep Season

The 1983 Summertime Seminole Cross Country Jamboree, hosted by Burger King and Seminole Track Officials, will be held Saturday, August 27 at Seminole Community College. Registration will be held from 4 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. race day. Entry fee is $2. Events three and four will be scored as team races. These teams of five or more runners will be declared on race day.

Event number one, a half mile run for boys and girls 10 years old and under, will begin at 5:30 p.m., followed by the 3-mile open run for men and women at 6 with awards for three age groups. The girls 2-mile team race will start at 6:30 with the boys 3-mile team race at 7.

Reds 2, Pirates 1

At Pittsburgh, Mario Soto pitched a five-hitter for his 14th victory and Dave Concepcion's fifth-inning single snapped a 1-1 tie to pace the Reds. Soto, 14-9, walked two and struck out seven in notching his fourth straight triumph and 14th complete game of the year.

Cardinals 2, Astros 0

At St. Louis, Dave LaPoint, 11-7, and Bruce Sutter combined on a three-hitter and Lonnie Smith had an RBI double during a two-run eighth to lead the Cardinals. The triumph was the Cardinals' third straight — all three coming in their last at-bat.

Padres 6, Expos 5

At San Diego, Alan Wiggins and Terry Kennedy drove in two runs apiece in support of Tim Lollar to lead the Padres. Tim Lollar, 6-10, gave up seven hits before being knocked out in the ninth. Ray Burris, 4-5, took the loss. Tim Wallach hit his 17th homer of the season in the sixth inning.

Mets 7, Giants 6

At San Francisco, Brian Giles moved two bases on a throwing error by third baseman Tom O'Malley and then scored on a double by Ron Hodges in the 10th inning to spark New York. Jesse Orosco, 11-5, pitched out of a bases loaded jam in the ninth and then retired the Giants in the 10th.

Texas' Honeycutt Dealt To Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Rick Honeycutt says he's dreamed of pitching for the Dodgers. Dave Stewart said all he ever wanted was a chance to be a starting pitcher.

Today, both dreams have come true.

The Texas Rangers, who stood a very good chance of losing Honeycutt to free agency in a couple of months, traded one of the American League's premier starters to the Dodgers Friday in return for Stewart, a fireballing right-hander who was frustrated with bullpen assignments.

The Dodgers will also give the Rangers a player to be named later.

"It was only yesterday (Thursday) that I found out they were talking to the Dodgers," the 29-year-old Honeycutt said. "And this morning, it happened. If I had played out my option, this is a club I would have pursued. I had dreamed about playing for the Dodgers and now it's a dream come true. I'm a believer in fate, and someone's been watching over me."

Honeycutt, who has also toiled for the Seattle Mariners, said he's eager to see a post-season game from a dugout instead of on television.

"I've never had a chance to play with a winning club," he said. "It means so much to be in a pennant race."

Honeycutt said the Rangers, mired in fourth place in the AL West, didn't seem interested in re-signing him.

"I felt we couldn't reach an agreement with Texas," he said. "I thought they were playing cat-and-mouse over a contract."

The Dodgers will honor his present contract. His new pact, a five-year deal worth a reported $700,000 a year, will take effect in 1984.

Honeycutt is 14-8 this season, trailing only Baltimore's Scott McGregor and Chicago's LaMarr Hoyt in victories (15 each). His 2.42 ERA leads the league and he has five complete games and two shutouts.

Alonso, Seninho Lift Sting

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ricardo Alonso and Seninho each got a goal and an assist to lead the Chicago Sting to a 3-0 defeat of Team America Friday night.

The as Seninho got the ball from Alonso, hitting from 12 yards off Team America keeper Paul Hammond's hand and into the far post.

At 25:59, Cho again started the scoring play as he fed Seninho, who crossed to Alonso. Alonso hit a 9-yard header.

JV, Frosh Start Monday

Seminole Junior Varsity and Freshman football practice will start Monday, August 22, at 3 p.m. at Seminole High.

Reserved seating season tickets for Seminole High football are on sale at the athletic department. Season tickets are $20. To order tickets go by the athletic office or call Sherry Koke or Cynthia Jones at Seminole High.

All-Stars Host Hallandale

The Sanford All-Stars will host the Hallandale Dodgers Saturday at 4:30 at Sanford Stadium and will play a second game against the Dodgers on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. There will be a game disc on Saturday night at the Silver Tip Tavern with free barbeque.

There will be an old timers game on Sunday at 1 p.m. and a raffle for a portable television.

Deficit Record $207 Billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Congressional Budget Office estimates the federal deficit will be a record $207 billion this year, nearly double 1982's, and stay that high for years unless Congress quickly cuts spending or raises taxes. The huge deficits would accumulate and the total national debt — now estimated at $1.3 trillion — would surpass $2 trillion in fiscal 1986. It took the federal government 200 years to reach $1 trillion in debt. But, the deficit could dip to $192 billion in fiscal 1984, which begins Oct. 1, and gradually drop to $146 billion in 1986 if Congress enacts all of the spending cuts and tax increases called for in its recent budget resolution.

tion. CBO chief Alice Rivlin said at a news conference Friday. "If Congress does not implement the budget resolution, then there will be continuing deficits in the range of $200 billion for the next several years, for as far as the eye can see," Rivlin said. High deficits would mean higher interest rates, slower economic growth and an end to the current economic recovery, she said. In an attempt to slash the deficits, the 1984 budget resolution approved by Congress earlier this year called for $73 billion in tax increases in the next three years and lower military spending and less domestic spending cuts than President Reagan wanted.

Alicia's Victims Try To Start Over

GALVESTON, Texas (UPI) — Hurricane Alicia's victims worked a hard day cleaning up blocked roads and smashed homes and businesses — some opening without power to meet public need — then spent a second night under curfew without lights. President Reagan Friday declared the storm a national disaster to trigger a flow of federal relief funds, and Gov. Mark White overflew "hurricane alley" from Houston to Galveston to look at the estimated $1 billion destruction. "I've never seen anything like this," White said. "This is the worst I've ever seen." Alicia — which raked Dallas 290 miles north of Galveston and still packed a punch as it sloshed into Oklahoma Friday — killed 11 people. The latest victim was a 10-year-old Dallas boy who drowned in a rain-swollen sewer Friday. The Coast Guard said four of five men missing on a tugboat were rescued Friday, and the fifth was last seen swimming for a rig. Insurance adjusters, recalling the $750 million in damage caused by Hurricane Allen in 1980, said Alicia's cost will run far higher. Insurance experts and a weather spokesman agreed damages would total $1 billion. Storm victims on Galveston Island, who took the brunt of the hurricane packing 130 mph winds before dawn Wednesday, dug out Friday fighting a persistent power outage, mountains of debris, low water pressure, looters and rattlesnakes to reclaim ravaged lives. Galveston grocers and druggists opened without electricity, using hand-held calculators and cash boxes to do business. "People need stuff, bread, other things, ice. Anything they need we try to give them," said Paul Richey, a Galveston grocery store manager. For Galveston, Friday night was a second night of darkness under a curfew from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m., primarily to deter looters. Fifty miles to the north, at the other end of Alicia's path of worst damage, more than 210,000 people in Houston remained without electricity a second day after the hurricane plowed ashore. Two-thousand telephone poles were down. Cleanup workers in downtown Houston swept up glass from hundreds of blown-out skyscraper windows. Storm victims flushed with wastewater because of low water pressure. Tony Lenz, 38, admitted he rode out the hurricane in the bathtub of his beach home, located near where its eye crossed shore 25 miles west of Galveston. He said he "wouldn't have done it if I'd known it was going to be this bad."

...Drugs And Booze Lured Teenage Boys Into Burglary Ring

Continued from page 1A according to Seminole County sheriff's investigator Allan Hatzel, who was in charge of the extensive investigation that finally broke the case. Stuhkrke will be sentenced Wednesday. He faces a maximum sentence of 30 years in prison. John Frederick Clifford, 18, of 959 Apple Lane in Altamonte Springs, pleaded guilty to four counts of burglary, two counts of grand theft and one charge of petty theft. Hatzel said. Sentencing is set for Sept. 22, and he could get up to 70 years in prison. Raponi graduated from Lake Brantley High School, located in southwest Seminole County, in June. Clifford and Stuhkrke, both juniors, dropped out toward the end of the school year. Hatzel said the boys have been linked to a series of 81 burglaries that began in August of 1982. At first, Stuhkrke pulled off the jobs alone, Hatzell said. Stuhkrke and Raponi met in a class in school last fall and Raponi joined Stuhkrke in committing the burglaries in December of 1982. Clifford, who also met Stuhkrke and Raponi at school, joined the burglary ring in January, Hatzell said. The boys usually committed their burglaries in the afternoon after school and on weekends, nearly always in the daytime. They usually hit homes in affluent neighborhoods near the school such as Sabal Point, Sweetwater Oaks and the Wektiva area. A few businesses, such as the Sweetwater Club, and some automobiles were also looted. "They would walk down the street and ring doorbells on houses and if nobody answered they would go around to the back and enter the home," Hatzell said. If a resident did answer the bell, the boys would pretend they were looking for a fictitious person. When they found an unoccupied dwelling, they often used a screw driver to pop open locks on sliding glass doors or windows. Sometimes the victims made the boys' task even easier by leaving their doors and windows unlocked. "They said it was 'chopped meat,'" said Hatzell.

The teen thieves "were extremely clever. They knew exactly what to do. They skipped around from one neighborhood to another. They didn't just hit the same neighborhood day after day. We never knew where they would strike next. They left no clues behind for us at all, like most burglars do," said Hatzell. Clifford and Raponi wore cotton gloves, but Stuhkrke used rubber surgical gloves which he stole from his mother who was a registered nurse, Hatzell said. "Stuhkrke said he got the idea from watching a detective show on TV. He never thought he would get caught." "They were very fast," Hatzell said. They would dash into a house, grab up jewelry, video recorders, handguns and alcohol and be out of the house in "one to three minutes. They would run out the back door into the woods" and then go to their car which they parked nearby but never in front of the victim's house. Several times deputies, responding to reports of burglaries in progress, narrowly missed capturing the fleet-footed youths. Making their job easier was their victims' "false sense of security. They felt they couldn't be hit" in their upper-middle class neighborhoods, Hatzell said. The boys, apparently buoyed by their earlier successes, even burglarized the Sweetwater Club which has its own security guards. The high schoolers sold their loot to "fences," pawn shops and private individuals. They used the money to buy whiskey, marijuana and cocaine, Hatzell said. Detectives are still investigating the persons who sold the liquor and drugs to the youths and Hatzell declined to comment further on this aspect of the case. Hatzell said he feels the boys, especially Raponi, were also motivated by a desire "for the kicks and the challenge." He described Raponi as a "good-looking, very intelligent person who had everything. He came from a good family. His father was a well-to-do businessman. They lived in a beautiful home in Sweetwater Oaks." All three boys were "intelligent. They had to be to do so many crimes for so long and get away with it. We did a tremendous amount of work on this case. At least 30 sheriff's officers took part in the investigation at some point, putting in thousands of man-hours," said Hatzell. As burglary reports showing the same mode of operation began to pile up, "we realized we were confronting a massive ring," said Hatzell. "I've been a cop 11 years and I've never seen anything of this magnitude." "It got out of hand," one of the young burglars, John Clifford, told detectives later in something of an understatement. In an all out effort to nab the elusive thieves, deputies in patrol cars began saturating the victimized neighborhoods. Finally, six months and 81 burglaries after the thefts began, the effort paid off. On Feb. 11, Clifford and Raponi burglarized a house in the Sabal Point area. They ran out the back door with their loot, jumped into Raponi's 1982 Dodge Charger and took off. But this time their amazing luck ran out and they were pulled over by an officer based on a description of one of the boys. Raponi was patted down and a pouch containing jewelry from that residence and three other recent burglaries was found in his underwear. Stuhkrke was arrested later the same day at his home. All three boys were charged with burglary. The three soon posted bond, got out of jail, and returned to their classes at Lake Brantley High School. Later, the state adjudicated them as adults and they were re-arrested and returned to jail with no bond set. They remain in jail today. In an unusual twist to the case, Seminole Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. ordered Raponi, who had amassed a $40,000 bank account, to repay $8,100 to nine of his burglary victims. Hatzell said most of the money has already been distributed to the victims. And what about the parents of the three high school boys who preferred burglaries to books, and ran up $1 scores in six months? "All the parents were very nice, caring people," said

Hatzel. "They cooperated with investigators. They were all shocked. They just couldn't believe it, especially that there were so many burglaries." Apparently none of the parents had any inkling of what their teenage sons were up to. "We were all heartbroken and very humiliated," said Mary Clifford, John's mother. "John was raised in a very caring, loving family. We taught him the difference between right and wrong." "We feel that John's been a victim of society to some degree. If drugs hadn't been available to him, none of this would have happened. The publicity has been devastating to all of us. John is very hurt, too, because he cares for his family." "We were very upset, of course," said Gall Stuhkrke, Kevin's mother. "It all boils down to drugs. They would get high and do this for kicks."

...Student Influx Causing Growing Pains For E. Seminole Schools

Continued from page 1A Lawton Elementary. The building is to be demolished and a new building constructed on the site for use in the 1984-85 school year. In the meantime, nine portable classrooms have been built to house this year's burgeoning number of students. The new and larger facility is expected to house 750 students next year but Principal Mike Mizwicki is already worried that new development may outgrow the building before it opens. "The portable classrooms are supposed to be moved to Oviedo High next year but Mizwicki says he's "not going to give them up until I know we don't need them." At Jackson Heights, Rainey said if his fears are realized, the school won't have adequate teaching staff when school opens. "Of course, we can hire more teachers but I don't know where we'll put them." Five portables were built at the school last year and "should be enough to cope with growth this year," Rainey said. "But by the end of this year..." Oviedo High School has added seven new portables for the coming year. The school now has 11 portables. Next year, Oviedo is scheduled to inherit the portables from Lawton but school officials are desperate for permanent expansion at the school. Guidance Counselor Barbara Kimball said when Oviedo High was constructed "only half of the building was built.

We're eagerly awaiting construction of the other wing which would bring us up to 2,200 capacity." But it could be a long wait. Permanent construction at Oviedo High appears to be at least three years away, according to School Superintendent Robert Hughes. The school board has already approved construction of the Lawton expansion and Hamilton Elementary School in Sanford this year. Next year, a middle school is scheduled for construction between Longwood and Lake Mary. That could indirectly help Jackson Heights through redrawing of district boundaries for several middle schools by the 1985-86 school year but offers little help for Oviedo. After all that is done, "the next phase

370 Area MD Patients Benefit As 'Jerry's Kids'

By Doris Dietrich
PEOPLE Editor

When Jerry Lewis takes over the airways with Ed McMahon and dozens of show business favorites from Caesars Palace in Las Vegas for the Labor Day Muscular Dystrophy Association Telethon, he will have lots of supporters and volunteers participating in the monumental fund-raising event.

Also some 370 persons with neuromuscular diseases in Orange, Osceola, Seminole, Volusia, Marion, Lake, Sumter, Brevard and Indian River Counties have a special interest in the telethon. They are benefactors of the MDA patient services.

Jeffery (Jeff) Homer, 22, wouldn't miss the telethon for the world when it is broadcast during the Labor Day Weekend by WESH-TV 2 with headquarters at the Sheraton Twin Towers, Orlando. The telethon is onstop from 9 p.m. (DST) Sunday, Sept. 4, to 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Jeff is a victim of Friedreich's ataxia, a slowly progressive disorder of the nervous system and muscles. The disorder, named for the physician who first identified it in the early 1860s, results in inability to coordinate voluntary muscle movements (ataxia).

This condition is caused by degeneration of nerve tissue in the spinal cord and of nerves that extend to peripheral areas such as the arms and legs.

The ataxia affects upper and lower limbs and the head and neck. There is also a partial loss of the sensations of touch and pressure in arms and legs.

Unlike some neurological diseases, Friedreich's ataxia does not affect mental capacity. And Jeff Homer is proof positive of this known medical fact.

Jeff's mother, Rita Belcher, a clerk in the office of Arthur Beckwith, Seminole County Clerk of the Circuit Court, says he has been confined to a wheel chair since he was 13. Doctors had no hope for him, she says.

Today, Jeff is in the Seminole Work Opportunity Program in Sanford. According to William Poe, executive director of SWOP, Jeff types labels for mailings.

Poe stresses that Jeff is "definitely not mentally retarded." Calling Jeff a "superb worker," Poe praises his efforts even with the loss of mobility of his limbs.

Poe says he recently procured a federal grant for $11,168 toward the purchase of a van with a wheel chair lift for Jeff before the end of September. But, he says this amount of money will barely get a "shell and a wheel chair lift." However, Poe is optimistic that he will locate the perfect van for Jeff before the grant expiration date.

Jeff has worked at SWOP for nearly two years. Mrs. Belcher says her son has "an extremely high I.Q. and he loves his work with SWOP. It gives him reason to get up in the morning."

Two years ago, Mrs. Belcher had back surgery. She credits her middle son, Randy Homer, 24, for unselfishly helping to take care of his brother. "I couldn't make it without him," Mrs. Belcher says.

She says that without the help from the Muscular Dystrophy Association, Jeff would not be alive today. Through MDA, Dr. Max Reddick of Winter Park, performed surgery on Jeff. MDA also provided a special wheel chair for Jeff and a special hospital bed since he was in a body cast for two years. Jeff has received other MDA benefits including attending camp.

Although he can't walk, dress himself or bathe himself, Jeff seems happy with his surroundings and conditions. "He never complains," Mrs. Belcher said.

MDA gave Jeff Homer a new lease on life.

Jeff Homer is a benefactor of the patient services offered by the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Jeff has Friedreich's ataxia which does not affect his mental capacity. In fact, William Poe, executive director of the Seminole Work Opportunity Program, calls Jeff a 'super worker.'

MDA Labor Day Telethon

Jerry Lewis: 'Each Man Must Choose The Cause Closest To His Heart...'

Special To The Herald

The Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon started in 1966. It was broadcast by only one station — WNEW-TV in New York, and it was the first televised fund-raising event of its kind to raise over $1 million in pledges.

From that time, Jerry's Labor Day Telethon grew steadily, and by 1970 it was carried by 65 television stations nationwide and broadcast coast to coast. Today, for millions of Americans, watching the show is a Labor Day tradition.

Jerry's confidence in the generosity and compassion of the American people is always justified every Labor Day.

In the 11 years that the A.C. Nielsen Company has been measuring the viewership of the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon (1972-1982), the viewing levels for the show have grown by 50 percent. More than 92.5 million Americans watch Telethon '82 on some 200 television stations in the U.S.

The Jerry Lewis Telethon continues to be MDA's single most important fund-raising event. Money raised during the show helps the Association carry on its fight against 40 neuromuscular diseases by supporting basic and applied research, a comprehensive program of medical and social services for patients and their families, and far-reaching professional and public health education.

People with neuromuscular diseases in communities nationwide benefit directly from Telethon dollars, which support local MDA programs. For example, at some 240 MDA-sponsored outpatient clinics around the country, patients receive medical care, physical therapy, selected orthopedic aids, and counseling. MDA also sponsors free camping sessions in 42 states throughout the U.S., offers adult recreational and educational activities year-round, and provides patients with aid in transportation. All of MDA's services are offered at no direct charge to patients or their families.

Over the years, a countless number of entertainers, athletes, and leaders in labor, government, and civic affairs have participated in the Telethon to show their support for the fight against neuromuscular disease.

Many also take part in fund-raising events throughout the country, working with MDA's National Office and MDA field offices nationwide.

Others serve in key voluntary posts, contributing their energies to the Association year-round. Among them are MDA Corporate Member and National Vice President Ed McMahon — Telethon anchorman for the past ten years — and MDA's National Sports Chairman and National Vice President, Bob Griese.

Other luminaries serving as MDA Vice Presidents are: entertainers John Astin, Pearl Bailey, Larry Gatlin, Julius LaRosa, Lorna Luft, Wayne Newton, Cliff Robertson, and Mel Torme; Good Morning America host David Hartman; Senator Edward M. Kennedy; national labor leaders Lane Kirkland, president, AFL-CIO; Jackie Presser, general president, International Brotherhood of Teamsters; and Richard Trunka, president, International Union of United Mine Workers of America; and sports greats Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Tug McGraw, and Stan Musial.

Among MDA's Corporate Members are: entertainers

Patty Duke Astin, Virginia Capers, and Chad Everett; noted photographer Yousuf Karsh; writer Budd Schulberg; Michael E. DeBakey, M.D.; radio and TV show host Casey Kasem; and national labor leaders Thomas R. Donahue, secretary-treasurer AFL-CIO; John A. Gannon, president, International Association of Fire Fighters; W. Howard McClennan, president emeritus, International Association of Firefighters; Frederick O'Neal, international president, Associated Actors and Artistes of America; and Vincent R. Sombrotto, president, National Association of Letter Carriers; Messrs. DeBakey, Donahue, Gannon, and O'Neal also are members of MDA's Board of Directors.

In addition to being the Telethon's host, Jerry Lewis is MDA's number one volunteer. Over the past 31 years, Jerry has contributed an immeasurable amount of time and energy to advance the search for cures and treatments for neuromuscular diseases. In 1957, he was appointed National Chairman of the health agency — an unpaid post that involved him in all phases of Association activity — and in 1983, Jerry's 26th year as

Pirigyis' Musical World

By Lou Childers
Herald Correspondent

Another "world" is coming to Central Florida. It is "The Musical World of William and Adele," better known as the Pirigyis (pronounced Per-ee-gee).

Their musical world, however, is not new for a lot of Floridians. This talented couple has been producing musical concerts throughout the state for six seasons and started their fall fling at St. Augustine during the city's annual, "Days in Spain," on Aug. 16. They will appear again there on Sept. 16.

October will find the Pirigyis' "Musical World" moving on to several area retirement towers, and on Nov. 20 they will open at the Maitland Civic Center.

Dec. 4th has been the date reserved at Altamonte Springs Westmont Civic Center for a presentation entitled, "A Musical Holiday with William and Adele."

The Pirigyis' repertoire is a potpourri to please every music lover's palate. They really mix them up starting with classical numbers, theme songs from Broadway shows and hit movies, and songs from their first love — opera — usually sung in English, however. They also entwine one or two Christian hymns into the program.

The professionalism which was a part of this couple's way of life when they toured together for five years with the Columbia Artist Community Concert Series up and down the East Coast from New York to Virginia is evident in the work they do today. All the way to the costuming.

The troupe that will be touring with Mr. and Mrs. Pirigyi this year will include a mixed adult chorus, eight to 10 voices strong, and a children's group, "Tiny Troubadours," consisting of the 6 to 12-year-old age group.

The youngsters forming the Tiny Troubadours will be meeting once a week to rehearse and learn new songs at the Westmont Recreation Center in Altamonte Springs beginning Saturday, Sept. 10, from 11 a.m. until noon. The registration is open by paying the $10 monthly fee at the center. To enroll call Bill James, director, at 862-0090.

The Pirigyis are looking forward to this year's concert

Community Band Needs Musicians

The Seminole Community Band will mark the beginning of its 12th year with the first rehearsal of the fall term on Tuesday, Sept. 6, at Seminole Community College. Rehearsals are held each Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m. in the Fine Arts building rehearsal hall at the college.

Membership in the Seminole Community Band is open to all who play band instruments and any person in the community who does so is urged to participate in this rewarding and worthwhile community endeavor. "Community Band, MUN 1180" is part of the curriculum of Seminole Community College and band members who desire to do so may register for "credit" in the usual manner at the registrar's office.

Members who do not wish to receive credit may register through the Leisure Time Program.

The Seminole Community Band was founded in the fall of 1972 for the purpose of providing a cultural service to the Central Florida community. The band's founder and its first and only director is Dr. William J. Hinkle who is also Director of Bands at Seminole Community College. It is Dr. Hinkle's expertise and untiring efforts that have been responsible for the growth and development of the Seminole Community Band over the past 11 years.

The band's membership is made up of a cross-section of the residents of Central Florida including Seminole, Orange, Osceola and Volusia counties.

There are some 60 to 70 members who range in age from 16 to 80 years. Among them are secretaries, housewives, high school and college students, middle school and high school band directors, both amateur and professional musicians, salespersons, ministers, law enforcement officers, computer programmers, engineers, roofers, teachers and members of many other professions. All of these people band together to further their musical knowledge or to continue to use the knowledge they have already acquired.

The Seminole Community Band makes numerous concert appearances throughout Central Florida, bringing musical entertainment to thousands of people each year. Thus, the band's members have the opportunity to participate in a rewarding community service as well as enhance their own musical knowledge in a most enjoyable manner.

For further information, contact Dr. William J. Hinkle, Director of Bands, Seminole Community College, 323-1450, ext. 290.

National Chairman, his commitment to the fight against muscular dystrophy and related disorders remains firm. Says Jerry, "Each man must choose the cause closest to his heart, and I've chosen mine."

Many organizations and businesses also back MDA's programs of research and patient care by holding fund-raising events throughout the year. Their representatives join Jerry on the Telethon to let the public know they're taking an active role in the effort to defeat neuromuscular disease.

The Telethon's national corporate sponsors include Anheuser-Busch, Inc., Brunswick Corporation, Caesars Palace/Las Vegas, Electronic Realty Associates, Hamilton/Avnet Electronics, Harley-Davidson Motor Co., Hickory Farms of Ohio, Maxwell House Division, General Foods Corporation, McDonald's Corporation, Pilot Pen Corporation of America, Service Merchandise Company, Inc., Southland Corporation, The Seven-Up Company, United Airlines, Warner-Lambert, and Western Union Company.

The Telethon's national cooperating organizations include Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity, Chi Phi Fraternity, Circle K International, Distributive Education Clubs of America, Kappa Alpha Order, Key Club International, International Association of Fire Fighters (IAFF), International Brotherhood of Teamsters, International Union of United Mine Workers of America, National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC), Roller Skating Rink Operators Association (RSROA), participating Shopping Center Industry malls nationwide, Tall Cedars of Lebanon of North America, and the United States Jaycees.

The success of the Telethon is also dependent on the many thousands of volunteers in neighborhoods nationwide who take pledge calls and help out in any number of ways to help MDA defeat neuromuscular disease.

Anyone who is interested in taking part in the fight against muscular dystrophy and related disorders is welcome to join MDA's crusade. For information on how to help, volunteers should phone Muscular Dystrophy Association, (305) 677-6665, Winter Park

Search On For 'Miss Citrus'

Applications are now being accepted from young women interested in competing in October for the title of Miss Florida Citrus. The Florida Citrus Showcase, sponsor of the Florida Citrus Queen Program since 1924, has, this year, changed the title to Miss Florida Citrus.

This change emphasizes the image transformation over the years from Beauty Queen to industry goodwill ambassador and media representative. The 1984 selection process involves three expense paid days of contestant interviews with citrus industry leaders and social event culminating with the Coronation Gala on Oct. 29 at Florida Cypress Gardens.

Miss Florida Citrus is unique among other such contests and titles; none other offers the kind of compensation and travel opportunities afforded by this program. Each contestant must be willing to discontinue her college education or current employment during the term of her reign and to devote her efforts to the promotion of Florida citrus throughout the United States and often in foreign markets. For Miss Florida Citrus. It is a year of hard work, glamour, personal and career growth.

During her reign, Miss Florida Citrus, will become a salaried public relations employee of the Florida Citrus Showcase. She will receive a wardrobe, living allowance and expense paid travel. When she is not traveling, she will be required to live in the Winter Haven area and attend to other citrus industry P.R. duties, such as filling in as hostess at the Citrus Pavilion in Walt Disney World.

Call or write the Florida Citrus Showcase for brochure and application. P.O. Box 9229, Winter Haven, Fl. 33883. (813) 293-3175. Applications deadline, Sept. 30.

School Sets 'Welcome' Open House

Lake Mary Elementary School students will have a chance to meet their new teachers during open house on Aug. 26, from 2-4 p.m.

Karen Warner

Previously, only kindergarten students had open house, but this year all students from kindergarten through fifth grade are welcome.

Students will have the opportunity to meet new teachers and new school principal Elizabeth Paul, as well as familiarize themselves with classroom locations.

According to the school secretary, everyone at the school is excited about the forthcoming year. Fresh paint, new carpeting, more counter space, as well as new windows have added to the excitement.

For more information contact the school at 322-5218.

enter the main doors of the school. The orientation will include a tour of the school grounds, rooms, as well as information on the new credit system needed for graduation.

Geneva Cochran has much to be thankful for. Recently while shopping at a local grocery store she had discovered that she couldn't find her purse. She then checked with the store clerk, but no purse had been turned in. Although there was not a large amount of money in the purse, she was upset about the loss of charge cards, driver's license and the like.

After arriving home, she was ready to start making the long list of phone calls that would be needed to alert the authorities and credit card companies.

Before she had the chance to pick up the phone it rang. It seems that Geneva had left her purse in the shopping cart and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lumiere (address unknown) discovered it, and immediately called Geneva to tell her.

Geneva said, "We so often read about the bad people in the world, and the horrible things they do, it's wonderful to find that there are honest and desirable people in our community."

Geneva wishes to express a heartfelt "thank you" to the Lumiere's and a thank you to God for an answered prayer.

The date has been set for the first PTO meeting of the new school semester of Lake Mary Elementary School. A meeting is scheduled for Sept. 27 at 7:30 p.m. All area parents are invited to come and meet the teachers and staff.

Lake Mary High School will hold student orientation on Aug. 25 for all new high school students. The schedule for the orientation is as follows: ninth graders with last names beginning with A-L should arrive at 8:00 a.m.; ninth graders with last names beginning with M-Z at 9:00 a.m.; all 10th grade students begin at 10:00 a.m.; all 11th grade students at 11:00 a.m.; all 12th grade students 1-2 p.m.

Retirement Fete Honors Educator Hugh Carlton

Hugh Carlton has been an educator for a long time - 33 years, in fact, with 31 of those years spent in Seminole County.

And now, he has retired, at least for awhile, according to his wife, Darlene.

In celebration of Hugh's retirement, Dan Pelham and Don Reynolds hosted and arranged a barbecue at Lake Golden Park, Sanford. About 70 educators and friends showed up for the event when fine food and fellowship was the order of the evening.

Hugh entered the education field as coach at Lyman High School, Longwood. Later he was to become principal of Sanford Junior High School, Lake Mary Elementary School and Sanford Middle School. Upon retiring, he was director for auxiliary services in the Seminole County School Board office.

Although he has had several job offers, Darlene says Hugh plans to "hunt and fish." They own a hunting lodge in West Virginia, and are anxious to visit there this fall. Travel is also included in their retirement plans, Darlene says.

Valerie Weld, Miriam Wright and Sandra Orwig have returned from a trip to New York where they saw six shows, including Robert Redford and Sandy Duncan.

Sandra reports a "real good time." She and Miriam took ballet and jazz classes in time to get the fall dance season off to a good start with many new and innovative ideas they picked up in the "Big Apple."

Jan and Vince Cara are planning the party of the year. An 8-page invitation was mailed out to guests who will be treated to a fun-filled evening Polynesian style.

There will be lots of island specialties, including food and entertainment. Also a celebrity mystery guest is expected to show up before the evening ends.

A telephone call nominated Shirley Fletcher, 713 Briarcliff, as the "rose queen" of the season. Shirley grows beautiful roses for all to enjoy.

Marguerite McBrayer called about "a sweet little thing" knocking on her door near Mayfair Country Club to inquire if she owned a cat.

The "sweet little thing" was Sandra (Sandy) Turner of Vihlen

Road who had rescued a helpless cat from the traffic on Country Club Road after the cat was struck by an automobile.

Sandy said traffic kept bearing down on the "poor little cat" and she and another party stopped at about the same time. She knocked on "eight or 10 doors" trying to locate the victim's owner.

"Some nice gentleman helped me put the cat in the car," Sandy said, "and I took it to Longwood Veterinary Clinic." Sandy didn't think the cat would survive, but it did and is now awaiting adoption at the Seminole County Humane Society.

Is Sandy a heroine? She says she is not. "I can't stand to see anything suffer," she says. Marguerite thinks we need more folks like Sandy around.

In the meantime Sandy is an excited bride-elect to be married to Thomas Wayne Wilkes on Sept. 24. And she'll take the cat after that time if a home has not been found or the owner is located.

Birthday wishes to: Gail Smith, Aug. 10; J. Harold Chapman and Philip Ricker, Aug. 15; Sheila Ann Johnson, Eric Larson, David Simmerberg, Robert Crowe, Betrice DeBruyne and Michael de Ganahl, Aug. 16; Mark West, Aug. 17; Kimberly Jeanne Hocker, Aug. 18; Marcia McLaulin and Beth Freeman, Aug. 20; and Beatrice Buck, John P. Eick, Patricia Anne Lee, William Brewer, Stephen Phillips and Kathy Miller, Aug. 21.

Anniversary wishes to Robert and Winona Newman, Aug. 21.

Woman's Live-In Also A Step-Out

DEAR ABBY: It's never too late to ask for advice. I'm a 61-year-old widow who's very much in love with a wonderful 63-year-old man. I would like to get married, but he's divorced and is scared on marriage, so I'm willing to accept him on his terms.

Dear Abby

We've been living together for four years (in my home), and although he's fairly well-to-do, I ask only that he pay half the food expenses. We both love to travel and have taken some wonderful trips together. (We share travel expenses.)

Now the problem: He says he loves me, but lately he's been taking an attractive 40-year-old woman to lunch quite regularly. I object to this and he can't understand why. He says she is just a "friend" whose company he enjoys, but I think there's more to it. How should I handle this? I don't want to lose him.

INSECURE

DEAR INSECURE: Couples who live together and "love" each other do not date others. Tell him that you feel threatened by his luncheon dates. If he loves you, he'll stop dating. If he refuses to stop, you've already lost him. Then the choice is yours: Put up with the dating or tell him to walk.

For Abby's updated, revised and expanded booklet, "How To Be Popular" - for people of all ages - send $2, plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

...Musical World Of The Pirigyis

series with enthusiasm. "We love to see people having as good a time listening to our music as we have producing it," says the Hungarian tenor.

William and Adele teach voice and music (piano) at the Allegro Music Center in Orlando. Most of their students are young professionals and many work at Walt Disney World.

"We see a trend today that has us worried," says Pirigy. Far too many young singers are not properly trained in voice, he says. "They have natural talent and ability, a flair for show business, but many are developing nodes and becoming hoarse."

His remedy is to teach proper breathing and his students quickly learn to leave the 30 percent group of singers who use only that much of their lung power and advance to the group that uses 90 percent of the lung's capacity.

Teaching from the old school, he says, "When you breathe and sing properly, it's not your vocal muscles that should be sore, it's your legs (from pushing air) and the diaphragm area."

Some seasoned professional musicians prefer to keep their skills current and polished by continuing weekly lessons. Student Joyce Noles falls into this category. As one of Adele's piano students, Joyce Noles is staying on her toes while teaching piano to 15 students weekly in her Geneva home. Holding a bachelor's degree in music doesn't mean "you know it all" for Mrs. Noles and many like her. As the old proverb states, "A wise man will hear, and will increase learning." (Prov. 1:5)

The musical Pirigyis have passed the skills that their own training under the world-renowned Maestro Emilio Roxas have wrought them onto dozens of others.

William and Adele met in New York while working with Roxas. Before moving to Florida they coached actresses Sharon Ferrell and Joan Hackett when they lived in California.

The list of the couple's accomplishments is almost endless. During the Korean War, William's military service took him on tour with the Special Services performing with Eddie Fisher and Vic Damone. His musical debut was at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. Both he and Mrs. Pirigy have performed at Carnegie Hall where they introduced the famed, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" from the 23rd Psalm, a song included in many of their concerts.

In the beginning years of their musical careers, opera was the style of music that dominated the Pirigyis' lives. A glance at a photo gallery in their Casselberry home gives you a glimpse of the hundreds of hours they've spent singing parts like Turiddu and Santuzza in the opera, "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Besides being an accomplished pianist, Mrs. Pirigy also sings soprano and teaches voice as well as piano along with her husband.

A fulfilling part of life for William and Adele in recent years has been taking "finer music" to those who normally might not be exposed to it. They do this by holding concerts in communities that will open civic auditoriums and halls to them in exchange for providing top notch entertainment. They also enjoy taking their musicals into nursing homes, senior citizen highrises, and even to mental institutions.

Unless the communities or organizations involved offer Mr. and Mrs. Pirigy an honorarium for their efforts, the pay remains the fulfillment they obtain from seeing joy in others.

Becky is a water baby — one part mermaid, three parts fish. We took her to the lake this summer, and she splashed and tumbled in the water joyously. I had to watch her every minute. I finally had to take her out by force — much to her consternation and objection. It took some doing to distract her.

Actually, it's relatively simple to comfort a small child whose wishes have been thwarted. A toy, a cookie, sometimes a loving hug will turn the trick.

But how about grown-up frustrations? When sick with disappointment, heartbroken or dejected by a bad turn of events, where can an adult turn for consolation and support?

God's Church is the mainstay to every situation. Radiating God's goodness, it offers reassurance and relief to the baffled and the hopeless. Men turning toward its promise find new confidence and faith and hope recovered.

Briefly

Seminole Heights Baptist Has Dunn As Pulpit Guest

The Rev. George Dunn, director of Missions for the Seminole Baptist Association, will be pulpit guest in both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services this Sunday at the Seminole Heights Baptist Church, which meets at the Lake Mary High School. He will also be preaching at Seminole Heights on the three following Sundays and leading the August 24 and 31 and Sept. 7 midweek services.

A graduate of New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary, he pastored churches in Louisiana and Florida and was director of Associational Missions in both Milton and Marathon, Fla.

Baptist Students Honored

Stan Tillman, minister of Youth and Education at First Baptist Church, Oviedo, has announced that eight students from the church have been accepted for membership in the Society of Distinguished American High School Students. To qualify nominees must excel in academics, extracurricular activities, civic activities and be nominated by a local sponsor. Once accepted they are eligible to compete for scholarships through the Society's national awards program.

District Champs Feted

The Casselberry Community United Methodist Church Youth Volleyball Team have won the Orlando District Championship. Coach Scott Werley will host a party for the youth of the church in honor of the team this Sunday at 3 p.m. at his home on Lake-of-the-Woods. Those going will meet at the church. Team captains are Donna Alderman and Ned Kohlhorsten.

The congregation will join the youth at the lakefront at the Werley home for a 7 p.m. vesper service in lieu of the usual evening service at the church.

Baroque Concert

A concert of Baroque music will be presented Sunday, August 28, at 5 p.m. at Emmanuel Episcopal Church, 1603 E. Winter Park Road, Orlando. This concert is free and open to the public. It will provide a unique opportunity to hear both a Blockflute (recorder) and a modern flute on the same program. The works of J.S. Bach, Johann Pepusch and George Telemann will be performed by Ellen Hinkle, flute; Lamar Simmons, tenor; Robert McClure, Blockflute; Carolyn Goosen, soprano; and Katharine Atkisson, harpsichord.

Salt And Light

Seminole Heights Baptist Church is beginning a new Sunday night series of studies for adults and youth entitled "Salt and Light: How to Influence your Community for Christ." The studies will last six weeks and topics will include "Making a Difference with the Aging," "Making a Difference with the Poor," and "Making a Difference with the Handicapped," and other avenues of ministry. Sessions will be held at 6 p.m. each Sunday in the Drivers Education room in Lake Mary High School.

Men's Day Set

New Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church, 12th Street, Sanford, will observe Men's Day this Sunday. At the 11 a.m. service, Deacon William J. Tillman, president of the Laymen's Department of the Florida General Baptist Convention, will deliver the morning message. At 3 p.m., the Rev. H.W. Davis of the Greater St. James Missionary Baptist Church of Mims and members of his congregation will be in charge of the service.

Gospel Chorus

The Gospel Chorus of First Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church will celebrate its anniversary at 8 p.m. Saturday with the Mass Choir of Lake Helen and other choirs of the city in concert. The anniversary sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Andre McClerkin of the Christian Service Center of Orlando at 11 a.m. Sunday. The Gospel Chorus will provide music for the occasion.

Guest Preacher

Pastor Kurt Biel will be guest pastor at Lutheran Church of the Redeemer this Sunday at the morning worship service in the absence of Pastor E.A. Reischer.

Tea Slated By Society In Sanford

The Daytona Beach Area Missionary Society of the Orlando Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church will present their Afternoon International Tea this Sunday at 4 p.m. at Allen Chapel AME Church, Olive Avenue and 12th Street, Sanford.

The various churches in the Daytona Beach area will represent different countries of the world.

The tea is open to the community. Mrs. Martha L. Woodard is Missionary Area chairman.

Civil Righters Split On D.C. March

By ROBERT MACKAY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The historic 1963 March on Washington, where more than 200,000 people heard the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. give his electrifying "I have a dream" speech, was a turning point in America's civil rights movement.

The massive but peaceful "March for Jobs and Freedom" helped generate support for the movement and led to enactment of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Fair Housing Act and the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Coining the theme, "We still have a dream," organizers of the 20th anniversary "March for Jobs, Peace and Freedom" on Aug. 27 expect to attract a crowd of at least 200,000 people from 325 cities.

The anniversary march, however, has run into the same kind of problems that have fragmented the civil rights movement since King's murder in 1968.

The National Urban League, a major force behind the original demonstration, refuses to join the anniversary march. So does veteran civil rights organizer Bayard Rustin, author of the original working plan for the 1963 march.

"We support the march's call for a 'coalition of conscience for jobs, peace and freedom,' but we believe the march's focus on the broad range of issues is likely to limit its impact," the National Urban League said.

"Our lack of participation reflects our decision to concentrate on activities we have designated as our priorities," the league said.

In addition, Jewish organizations active in the 1963 march originally refused to take part in this march because it called for opposition to U.S. arms exports to the Middle East, which they interpreted as meaning Israel.

In an effort to heal the dissension, march leaders promised Jewish groups two weeks before the march that they would avoid any specific statements about U.S. foreign policy anywhere in the world, including the Middle East.

Furthermore, march leaders said they would screen march placards and banners to make sure there are not any anti-Semitic or anti-Israel statements.

Despite those assurances, leaders of the anti-nuclear International Green Party said they plan to carry signs in the march specifically critical of Israel's "West Bank settlement expansion in the Middle East."

Unlike the 1963 march, this demonstration will concern a wide range of issues — jobs, nuclear weapons freeze, U.S. arms exports, immigration policies, women's rights, and U.S. policy toward South Africa.

That is exactly the reason Rustin and League officials oppose the march. They argue that the broad range of issues will simply obscure the basic problems of discrimination and joblessness among minorities; that money spent on the march could be more wisely used for other programs, including registering blacks to vote.

The national director of the march, Walter Fauntroy, the District of Columbia's delegate to Congress, said the march will cost between $600,000 and $700,000.

Coretta Scott King, widow of the slain civil rights leader and co-chairman of the march, acknowledged the split within the movement and said she hoped it could be mended by participation in the march.

"This New Coalition of Conscience must heal itself," Mrs. King said. "There is much reconciliation that must continue. The 20th anniversary celebration of the historic 1963 March on Washington affords us an opportunity for reconciliation, for healing, for locking arms and struggling together."

The 1963 march was the idea of A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and acknowledged elder statesman of the civil rights movement. He wanted a march by jobless blacks to demonstrate an unemployment rate among blacks that was twice as high as the white rate.

King joined up and helped persuade Randolph to broaden the target from unemployment to the whole range of civil rights issues.

Most of the leaders of the original march are dead.

The Aug. 28, 1963, march was attended by some 150 members of Congress, and civil rights leaders met privately with congressional leaders and President John Kennedy to lobby for civil rights legislation. But this time, Congress and the president will be away.

Scarbeary Speaker For Club's Prayer Breakfast

The Kiwanis Club of Sanford will hold a Prayer Breakfast Friday, Sept. 2 at 7:30 a.m. at the Sanford Landings Restaurant at the Holiday Inn, Sanford Marina. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Earl W. Scarbeary, executive director of the Christian Service Center of Central Florida, Inc., of Orlando. The theme of the "Dutch treat" breakfast will be "Spiritual Growth Must Match our Population Growth." Asby Jones is chairman of the Kiwanis Club's Support of Churches Committee, which is sponsoring the event.

A founding director, Dr. Scarbeary has been executive director of the center since 1978 and prior to that he was pastor of the Central Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Orlando for 14½ years. He served as president of the Illinois Convention of Disciples of Christ and of the Christian Church of Florida. For two years he was president of the Florida Council of Churches.

He is co-moderator of "Moral Issues of Our Time" over Channel 9 WFTV and "Community Tapestry" on Radio Station BJ105 FM and WCOT AM 95.

Singles Make Contributions

The story in the papers said they are thinking of tearing down Garfield Park Elementary School. That was the school I attended from the first to the sixth grade. Next to returning to the old neighborhood and finding that the house you grew up in is no longer there, there is nothing that makes us feel more uprooted from our past than the disappearance of the old schoolhouse.

My last visit to Garfield Park Elementary School was in 1970. It looked the same, except for the faces. Most of the teachers were younger than I was, some of them young enough to be my children.

With one exception.

She didn't remember me but I remembered her. Of course a lot of third graders had passed fingernail inspection at Garfield Park since I had been a pupil in her class in 1932.

But even more amazing to me than the fact that Grace Archer was still at the same old blackboard was the fact that she was still single. Still Miss Archer.

I thought surely she would be married. But if she was still single it was because she preferred it that way. Certainly it was not from lack of proposals.

Anyway, I always think about Grace Archer whenever I hear it argued — usually by somebody opposed to celibacy in the priesthood — that unless you have a spouse and children of your own, you can't know anything about family life or how to handle problems with children.

Spinster teachers, like Miss Archer (she since has been called to that Big Blackboard in the sky), are often among the very best teachers we have. They frequently look upon their pupils as their own children and sometimes know more about winning the love of a boy or a girl than the child's parents.

The same can be true of bachelors when it comes to family counseling. Three of the most outstanding clergymen I have ever known were bachelors and all of them were much sought after by parents or husbands and wives in distress.

I would have gone to any of them for advice and comfort (and comfort usually is more helpful than advice) on marital or family matters rather than to any married man or father I know.

I think the mistake we happily married make is to assume that because we couldn't conceive of living a full life if we were unmarried, that must be so of everybody else.

It is true (though less so than formerly) that many younger women dread the prospect of spinsterhood. But many women who don't get married find that they are happy, after all, being single. Maybe spinsterhood (not a word we use today) has advantages and compensations which are not evident to a younger woman.

But however it is with them, we probably couldn't get along without the happily unmarried in our society, for two main reasons.

First, they are good fighters. They are the last of the rugged individualists who will stand up for their rights — and sometimes for ours. While most of us are morally opposed to bad service, bad government or bad TV, these women frequently take up their cudgels against such things. Consequently they make formidable antagonists.

Second, they are good workers. Many a boss would never think of trading in his 50-year-old secretary for a pretty and shapely younger one.

Patients in hospitals may kid about the stunning student nurses but many more are grateful for the older-type single nurse who gave them a mother's care and attention.

Miss Archer stood in a great tradition. Many a third-grader now grown to maturity will attest to that. She was part of the root system that has given continuity to our years. No bulldozer can destroy that.

Do You Have Holes In Your Pocket?

Do you have holes in your pocket?

Frank Boreham has given us the story of a handyman of his childhood, named Bridger, who was a great friend.

One night Bridger had received his week's wages from Frank's father. An hour or so later Bridger was back again. He had lost all his money on his way home! The explanation was simple. He had a hole in his pocket.

What impressed young Frank was he caught Bridger wiping tears from his face with his sleeve. Bridger was crying, and all through a hole in his pocket! Not all persons cry because of a hole in the pocket.

One person hears a spicy morsel of scandal, makes a note of it and slips it into the pocket — the pocket with the hole in it. They say he is very clever at pocketing insults and slights; he pockets them but they never seem to weigh him down. The secret is that he puts them all in the pocket with the hole in it.

The pleasant things go into the opposite pocket, and he examines it every morning to make sure there is no

Pastor's Corner

By The Rev. Edward Johnson, Pastor First Christian Church, Sanford

hole there. And every night when he gets ready for bed, he empties the pocket that is so full and chuckles over all the treasures he finds there; and he puts his hand into the pocket that has the hole in it and laughs at finding it empty.

No one seems to know which of his two wonderful pockets affords him the greater glee.

Unhappily, however, that gentleman must be regarded as an exception. Very few of us get as much fun as he does out of the "holes" in our pockets. Most of us are more like Bridger. The hole provokes not gladness but grief.

The Old Testament prophet, Haggai laments that men should labor so hard and derive so little satisfaction from their toil. "He that earneth wages," he cries, "earneth wages to put into a pocket with holes."

When Bridger reached home the second time, his wife set to work and mended the pocket. But the hole Haggai the prophet was thinking of could not be fixed with a needle and thread.

In many men and women, the hole is one of a disease; (they earn wages and spend them in drink or drugs); of weak character (they earn wages and spend them in extravagant tastes and wasted lives); of the wrong kind of friends (they earn wages and squander them on the wrong values). How about your pockets? Do you put the right things in the pocket with the hole?

I would like to suggest that you read, or read again, the 5th chapter of the Gospel of Matthew, and let it sink in. It's better than Coke. It is the real thing.

Willie George Holt (with plaques), principal of Milwee Middle School, was honored by the Men of Allen Chapel AME Church, Sanford, recently for his leadership role and the inspiration he has given many young people of the community. Participating in the program, from left, Ronald Merthie, Emory Blake, Holt, his son, Bryan; Mrs. Holt, daughter, Lisa, and Robert Thomas, chairman of the event.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Table with columns for NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH and card suits (Spades, Hearts, Diamonds, Clubs) with counts and symbols.

East elected to make the overbid of four spades. His idea was to put pressure on South, and it sure did. South wasn't going to be shut out, and after mature deliberation jumped right to six hearts. He didn't really expect to make it, but he wasn't vulnerable and his opponents were. Now it was up to West. He knew his partner had spade support and not much in the way of high cards. He had a minimum opening of his own that included two aces. Should he double? He decided not to and just to pass. North knew that he had a lot of stuff for the only one who had made no call other than a pass, but he also knew that his partner might be making a desperate pre-empt against the enemy pre-empt. East had no problem. He passed. West opened the ace of diamonds, looked at a dummy and thought for a long time. Finally, West decided that South was void of spades and that East must have club strength. West led his jack of clubs, and the ace of spades became another wasted ace.

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Here is a hand played in the 1973 World Championship. We are not going to name the East and West players, but North and South were the Branco brothers of Brazil. The bidding started out with a normal spade opening by West and a pass by North. It was up to East to do something, and

...Golden Age Games Nov. 7-12

Longwell is predicting attendance this year will set a record.

In addition to the physically strenuous sports such as tennis, diving, swimming, basketball, decathlon, and bicycle racing, there are plenty of events for the less athletically inclined.

Take archery, canasta, dancing, dominoes, checkers, cribbage and knitting, for instance, not to mention the photography contest, a hobby show, and talent competition.

The Golden Age Games will be sponsored again this year by General Foods' Post Cereals and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. Chamber President Jack Horner said that he talked to a General Foods representative on the phone the other day and "they are very pleased with the games and how they are operated."

Horner said this year's event will be dedicated to the late Buster Crabbe, former Olympic swimmer, Tarzan in the movies and past honorary chairman of the Golden Age Games.

Appetizers

THE WINNER

Charlotte Blades, 44, of 8251 Via Hermosa, Sanford, was the winner in the appetizers and meat categories. A registered nurse, and attending college, she has been employed by the Seminole County Health Department for 11 1/2 years. Her special interests include cake decorating, bowling, needlepoint and family activities. She and her husband, Guy, have three children, ages 22, 20 and 18.

Reuben Balls

THE WINNING RECIPE

1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon butter or marg.
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon instant beef bouillon granules
1 16-oz. can sauerkraut, drained and very finely chopped
1 1/2 cups chopped corned beef
1 tablespoon snipped parsley
2 beaten eggs
1 cup milk
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 3/4 cups fine dry bread crumbs
Cooking oil for deep-fat frying
Mustard sauce (optional)
In medium saucepan cook onion and garlic in butter or marg. Blend in 3 tablespoons flour and bouillon granules. Add 1/2 cup water; cook and stir until thickened and bubbly. Remove from heat. Stir in sauerkraut, corned beef, and parsley. Cover and chill. Form into 48 small balls, set aside. For batter, combine eggs, milk, and remaining 1 1/2 cups flour; beat until smooth. Dip balls in batter; roll in bread crumbs. Fry, a few at a time, in deep hot oil (365 degrees) 1 minute. Drain. Serve with mustard sauce. Makes 48.

Mustard Sauce: In small saucepan combine 1/2 cup milk and 2 tablespoons dry onion soup mix; let stand for five minutes. Stir in 1 cup dairy sour cream and 1 tablespoon prepared mustard. Cook and stir until hot. Do not boil.

Polynesian Chicken Yum Yums

Marinade and dipping sauce:
3/4 cup white wine
3/4 soy sauce
4 tablespoons sugar bamboo or other small skewers, one per serving scallions cut into 1-in. pieces chicken breasts cut into 1-in. pieces green peppers cut into 1-in. pieces pineapple chunks
Marinate chicken breast pieces for half an hour while charcoal fire burns to grey coals. String chicken pieces, scallions, pineapple chunks and green peppers on skewers (two sets per skewer or more chicken if you like). Dip in marinade sauce and broil for about five minutes, rotating skewers until chicken pieces are done (they turn white).

Broccoli Dip

2 10-oz. pkgs. frozen cut broccoli in cheese sauce
3/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons minced onion
Milk if necessary for dipping consistency.
Prepare broccoli according to directions. Place mixture in blender, add sour cream, lemon juice and onion. Blend until smooth. Chill, serve with fresh carrot sticks, celery sticks, broccoli flowerets, bread sticks, etc.

Pecan Roast

(serves ten)
1 cup of ground pecans (or brazil nuts)
1 bell pepper
1 big onion
3/4 cups of celery, chop all together. Then add 4 eggs, 1/2 cup of Wesson oil, 1 cup milk, 4 slices whole wheat bread (toasted in oven), dash of sage, salt, sugar, mix together. Cook 30 minutes at 350 degrees. (also, instead of chopping, the ingredients can be ground in food grinder, which we do.) (Gravy), run can tomatoes through sieve, add eggs plain, and cook until thick. Serve over pecan roast.

Ham Orange Tarts

2 3-oz. pkgs. cream cheese, softened
1 tablespoon milk
1/4 teaspoon finely shredded orange peel
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup sour cream dip with chives
1/2 cup finely diced ham
1 pkg. (10) refrigerator biscuits paprika.
Blend cream cheese, milk, orange peel, and mustard. Fold in dip and ham. Halve biscuits. Mold each half to fit a 1 3/4-inch muffin cup. Spoon about 1 tablespoon filling into each. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in 375-degree oven for 20 to 25 minutes or until set. Serve warm. Makes 20 tarts.

Charlotte Blades
Sanford

Cheese Wafers

1/2 cup butter
3/2 lb. medium or strong cheddar cheese, grated
1 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 tsp. red pepper (optional)
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup finely chopped nutmeats (walnut or pecan)
Cream the butter and cheese together. Sift the flour, pepper and salt together. Add to well blended cheese mixture. Add finely chopped nutmeats. Shape into 2 rolls, each roll to measure about 1 1/2-in. in diameter.

Wrap each roll in wax paper, chill in refrigerator overnight. Slice into 1/8-in. slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet and bake in a 350-degree oven 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 8 oz.

*American cheese may also be used. The rolls can be made up ahead and frozen. These keep well.

Oviedo

Crescent Chicken Squares

Blend 3-oz. cream cheese
2 tablespoons melted butter (until smooth)
Add 2 cups cooked chicken, cut up
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon chives or onions
1 tablespoon chopped pimientos
Mix well. Separate 8-oz. any flavor crescent rolls into 4 rectangles. Seal together. Spoon 1/2 cup chicken mixture in outer pull 4 corners of dough to center, pull four corners of dough to center of mixture and seal. Brush with melted butter. Dip in 3/4 cup crushed seasoned croutons.

Bake in ungreased cookie sheet 20-25 minutes until brown (at 350 degrees). Makes 4 sandwiches.

The Winner In 1981 Cheese Chili Cubes

8 eggs
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
3 cups (12 oz.) Monterey Jack cheese grated
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
2 4-ounce cans mild green chilies, drained, seeded and chopped Beat eggs until light (4-5 min.). Stir together flour, baking powder and salt. Add to eggs, mix well. Fold in cheese, cottage cheese and chilies. Turn into 9x13x2 pan. Bake at 350° for 30-40 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes. Cut into small squares. Note: Low-fat cottage cheese does not alter the flavor.

Cucumber Tea Sandwiches

Remove crusts from slices of white bread (save crusts for other uses). Butter each slice one side, add thinly sliced peeled cucumber slice to buttered bread. Keep cold. (bread may be cut into rounds or squares).

Note: Have read where these dainty sandwiches are served at the Queen of England's tea parties. They are delicious, especially on a hot day.

Vegetable Appetizers

1 medium carrot
 1 medium zucchini
 1 medium green pepper
 1/4 pound fresh green beans
 6 egg roll skins, quartered
 Cooking oil for deep-fat frying
 Parsley

Cut carrot, zucchini and green pepper in 2-inch julienne strips. Cut green in 2-inches. Cook carrots, green beans for 5 minutes. Drain well. Using one quartered egg roll skin, place 4 vegetable strips in a compact bundle below center of skin. Moisten all edges with water; roll up and press to seal edges. Fry in hot oil (375 degrees.) 3 to 4 minutes. Drain on paper toweling. Garnish with parsley. Makes 24 appetizers.

Peanut Butter And Cucumber Sandwiches

Toast white bread, spread one slice with mayonnaise. Peel and slice cold cucumbers. Put on this slice of bread. Next, lather peanut butter on the other slice of bread, press down over cucumber slices. Make plenty. These are crunchy, the cucumber slices add zest to the peanut butter.

HOW IT LOOKS

Tequila Salad

1 can-15¼ ounces-sliced pineapple, drain and reserve ¼ cup syrup
¼ cup lime juice
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
2 tablespoons tequila
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
¼ teaspoon salt
3 medium avocados
Lime juice
2 large grapefruits
2 large oranges
Salad greens
Chopped walnuts
Salt
Shake reserved pineapple syrup, ¼ cup lime juice, sugar, tequila, oil and ¼ tsp. salt in tightly covered container. Refrigerate at least 1 hour.

Cut avocados lengthwise in half; remove pits. Peel avocados; cut into ½-inch pieces with lime juice sprinkled on top. Cut pineapple slices in half. Pare and section grapefruit and oranges; cut sections in half or leave sections whole.
Just before serving, toss avocado pieces with pineapple, grapefruit and orange sections; place on bed of salad greens. Sprinkle with walnuts and salt over salad as desired. Serve with dressing. Serves 8.

Tasty Tomato Aspic

2½ cups tomato juice
1 bay leaf
6 whole cloves
2 slices onion
A few pieces of celery and leaves minced
1 pkg. lemon jello
1 tsp. worcestershire sauce
½ medium size green peppers, minced
1 cup chopped celery
Simmer tomato juice, bay leaf, cloves, onion and minced celery and leaves for 10 minutes. Strain.

Dissolve jello in hot tomato juice. Add worcestershire sauce. Pour into lightly oiled mold or 8 x 8 pan. Chill in refrigerator until slightly thickened. Add minced celery and green pepper to tomato juice mixture. Chill until firm. Serves 6.

Dressing: Blend 1 cup sour cream, ½ cup mayonnaise, 3 tsp. horseradish well together. Serve aspic on crisp lettuce leaf and top with dressing.

THE WINNER

Helene Edmondson of 3 Cunningham Lane, DeBary, was the winner in the vegetable category. Mrs. Edmondson is a retired Navy Senior Chief Petty Officer and married to a retired Master Sergeant, U.S. Army. She is Secretary-Treasurer of Branch 147 Fleet Reserve Assn., Sanford. She was en route to Southeast Region FRA Convention, Atlantic Beach, as a delegate and public relations chairman and was unable to participate in the cook-off.

Fresh Tomato Pie

THE WINNING RECIPE

2 medium sized ripe tomatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove garlic, minced
4 eggs
1 1/2 cups shredded Cheddar cheese
Pastry for one-crust 9-in. pie
1 cup chopped onions
1 cup diced green pepper
1 cup milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
Slice tomatoes, set aside at room temperature. Roll out pastry and fit into pie pan, prick bottom and sides of pastry, refrigerate 10 minutes, then bake in preheated oven at 450 degrees until golden, about 8 minutes. Remove from oven, reduce heat to 325 degrees. In medium skillet, melt butter or margarine, add onions, green pepper and garlic, saute for 5 minutes. In medium bowl, lightly beat eggs, stir in milk, cheese, salt, pepper and sauteed vegetables. Arrange tomato slices in the bottom of the pie shell, pour egg mixture over all. Bake in slow oven until a knife inserted in center comes out clean, about 50 minutes.

Let pie stand at room temperature for 5 minutes before cutting. Garnish with parsley if desired. Yield: About 6 portions.

Sweet 'N' Sour Cabbage

1 lge. head of cabbage
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup oil
3 TBS. sugar
salt to taste

Wash, core and chop cabbage. Combine all ingredients with just enough water to cover bottom of large pot. Cover and bring to boil. Lower temperature immediately to simmer and cook until crisp-tender. Do not overcook. Serves 4-6.

Living in a county that produces so much cabbage, and tiring of the old standbys of coleslaw and steamed cabbage, I was happy to learn this recipe from my mother-in-law who hails originally from Michigan, but has lived in Florida nearly 35 years.

Incidentally, sweet 'n' sour cabbage even tastes good cold from the refrigerator next day!

Linda Holt

Green Tomato Pie

2 cups chopped green tomatoes
1/2 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves (ground type)
1/2 cup chopped raisins
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon mace
Pie crusts (2-bottom and top)

Cover tomatoes and boil quickly. Drain. Add other ingredients. Put in pie plate lined with rich pie crust. Put top crust on, slash to let steam escape. Crimp edges. Bake from 35 to 40 minutes in 375-degree oven. (This is a delicious pie which tastes much like mince pie but can be served as a vegetable.)

Snow Capped Broccoli Spears

2 10-oz. packages frozen broccoli spears; or 4 medium size bunches of fresh broccoli
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
3 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Grated parmesan cheese

Cook broccoli spears according to package directions; drain well. If using fresh broccoli, steam until al dente.

Arrange broccoli with stem ends toward center of an oven proof platter or quiche dish (9-in. size). Brush broccoli with the melted butter or margarine.

In a small bowl beat the egg whites and salt with a rotary beater till stiff peaks form (tips stand straight up).

Gently fold in the mayonnaise. Spoon the mixture in center of the broccoli; sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes; (cheese should be golden brown). Makes 6-8 servings.

2 tablespoons butter or marg.
2 tablespoons flour
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon dried basil leaves
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/4 cups milk

2 tablespoons chopped pimiento (optional)
1/2 can cheddar cheese soup
1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese

Cook beans as directed on packages, omitting salt; drain. Place beans in ungreased baking dish, 8 x 8 x 2-inches.

Heat butter in 2-qt. saucepan over low heat until melted. Blend in flour, salt, basil and pepper. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture is smooth and bubbly; remove from heat. Stir in cheese soup and milk. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute; remove from heat. Stir in pimiento. Pour sauce on beans; sprinkle with parmesan cheese.

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Bake beans uncovered until bubbly and sauce is light brown, about 30 minutes. Six-eight servings.

THE WINNER

Fran Morton, of 119 W. Crystal, was the winner in the seafood category. Her special interest is a high school junior English aide course. She is married, a homemaker of 37 years, and mother of two young adults, Michael and Michele.

Seafood Souffle (Main Dish)

THE WINNING RECIPE

3 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, chopped
¼ cup all-purpose flour
1 cup hot milk
¾ to 1 cup scallops or shrimp, crab, lobster or any combination of the above
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard dash red pepper sauce
½ teaspoon dried dillweed
4 eggs
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Melt butter in a saucepan, add onion. Cook, stirring one to two minutes; do not brown. Stir in flour, add milk stirring until smooth. Cook until sauce is thick. Add seafood, salt, mustard, papper sauce and dillweed. Cook until mixture is heated through. Beat

Stuffed Sole Newburg

3 slices white bread, crusts removed
2 tablespoons dry sherry
1 tablespoon grated Cheddar cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup lobster meat*, cooked and cubed
2 lbs. fillet of sole
2 tablespoons butter or marg., melted
½ cup milk
salt

Newburg Sauce:
4 tablespoons butter or marg.
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
1 cup lobster meat*, cooked and cubed
2 tablespoons dry sherry
1) Stuff sole; preheat oven to 350°.

Coarsely crumble bread; combine with sherry, cheese, salt and lobster (1 cup).

2) Spoon some of mixture along one end of each fillet; roll up and fasten with toothpick. Arrange in flat baking dish.

3) Pour butter and milk over fillets and sprinkle lightly with salt. Bake uncovered, 25 min.

4) Meanwhile, make Newburg Sauce: Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Remove from heat, and blend in flour. Gradually stir in combined milk and cream. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Add salt and paprika.

5) Melt remaining 2 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add lobster and sherry; cook slowly about 5 minutes, until liquid is absorbed. Add lobster to sauce mixture.

6) Serve rolled fillets topped with sauce. Makes 8 servings.

The Winner

Melanie Schmitt Is Winner In Herald's Cooking Contest

The overall winner in the Evening Herald's third annual Heritage Cookbook Contest is Melanie Schmitt, 31, of 1116 Magnolia Ave., Sanford.

Her winning recipe in the dessert category, Chocolate, Chocolate, Chocolate Cake is a recipe she received about a year ago from an aunt in Atlanta, Ga., who had never used it.

Mrs. Schmitt, 31, who said this was the first cooking contest she has ever entered, said she was "really excited when they notified me I was the winner...I never expected it."

Mrs. Schmitt was presented with a silver and glass relish tray by Jan McClung, Herald advertising consultant, as overall winner.

Mrs. Schmitt is a 1970 graduate of Oviedo High School, a fulltime wife and mother, and she and her husband, Dick, have two children, Spender 3½ and Stephanie, 7 months. She is a member of the Church of Christ, Sanford.

Winners in the various other categories are:

Appetizers — Charlotte Blades;
Salads — Dean Greenstreet; Vegetables — Helene Edmondson; Casseroles — Jennifer Fraley;
Seafood — Fran Morton;
Poultry — Jean Jordan;
Meats — Charlotte Blades;
Bread — Dianna Hittell.

The contest ran for four weeks from July 3 to July 30 and the winners in each category were invited to compete in a "cook-off" Aug. 6 at the Seminole County Agricultural Center south of Sanford. The winners who attended prepared their winning recipe and had them taste-tested by the judges, Barbara Hughes, Seminole County home economics extension agent, Shelda Wilkins, part-time foods instructor with Seminole Community College and Betty Jack, co-owner of Sanford Heat And Air Conditioning.

Entries were judged on the basis of general appearance, presentation of product, flavor, originality and distinctive qualities.

Citrus Island Chicken

3 boned chicken breasts, halved, skinned and slightly flattened
¼ cup melted butter
1 tablespoon orange liqueur
6 thin slices cooked ham flour
2 slightly beaten eggs
¾ cup fine dry seasoned bread crumbs

1 stick butter, cut into bits
2 cups fresh orange juice
1 tablespoon tarragon
½ teaspoon ground ginger, if desired
1 teaspoon graded orange peel
½ teaspoon salt
6 ½-inch thick orange slices
Grated orange peel
Parsley, whole and some finely minced

Preheat oven to 400°. Place chicken breast halves on a flat surface, smooth side down. Brush with melted butter mixed with liqueur. Place one slice of ham on each breast and roll up, securing with toothpicks. Roll in flour. Shake off excess. Dip in beaten egg, then roll in bread crumbs. Arrange in a buttered shallow baking pan. Dot with butter bits. Bake 15 mins., turning once.

Mix together orange juice, tarragon, ginger, orange peel and salt. Pour over chicken. Reduce oven temperature to 350. Cover and bake 35 minutes longer, turning and basting occasionally.

Remove toothpicks from chicken. Place each chicken roll on an orange slice on heated serving platter and spoon sauce over chicken. Garnish with additional grated orange peel and some finely minced parsley. Add whole parsley for decoration. Serves 6.

THE WINNER

Charlotte Blades, 44, of 8251 Via Hermosa, Sanford, was the winner in the appetizers and meat categories. A registered nurse, and attending college, she has been employed by the Seminole County Health Department for 11½ years. Her special interests include cake decorating, bowling, needlepoint and family activities. She and her husband, Guy, have three children, ages 22, 20 and 18.

Glazed Ham Ring

THE WINNING RECIPE

1 cup milk
1 egg
2 tablespoons catsup
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups soft white bread crumbs
1½ lb. ground cooked ham (6 cups)
½ lb. ground pork
½ lb. ground veal
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Glaze:

1 can (8½ oz.) sliced pineapple
¼ cup light brown sugar
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
½ teaspoon ground ginger
Parsley sprigs.

1) Preheat oven to 350°. In large bowl, combine milk, egg, catsup, mustard, salt and pepper; beat until well blended. Stir in bread crumbs; let stand several minutes.

2) Add ham, pork, veal, onions, and parsley; mix well. Turn into 1½ qt. ring mold; packing down firmly.

3) Bake uncovered 30 minutes.

4) Make glaze: Drain juice from pineapple into small sauce pan. Add sugar, vinegar and ginger. Bring to boiling, stirring. Cut pineapple slices in half; add to boiling mixture. Reduce heat, and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat.

5) Remove ham ring from oven. Run spatula around edges to loosen and turn out in shallow baking pan. Pour half of glaze, without fruit, over top. Bake 20 minutes. Arrange pineapple on ham. Cover with glaze. Bake 20 minutes. Arrange rings in circle fashion. Stand up on top of ring.

6) With wide spatulas, remove ham ring to warm platter. Spoon glaze from pan over top. Arrange parsley in center. Serve with any remaining fruit and catsup. Serves 8.

Stuffed Beef Rolls With Spaetzle

(This recipe uses a food processor and if one is not available chop & blend by hand. Purchase ground pork.)

2½ lbs. thinly cut round steak
2 slices fresh pumpernickel bread, broken into small pieces
½ cup parsley sprigs
2 onions, cut into quarters
½ lb. pork cut into 1" cubes
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons drained capers
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram leaves
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 or 3 tablespoons Dijon mustard
2 dill pickles, each cut lengthwise into 8 slices
flour
2 carrots cut into 1" pieces
2 ribs celery, cut into 1" pieces
1 cup red wine (dry)
2 cups beef stock
Fresh parsley sprigs if desired for garnish

1. Pound meat with a mallet until about ¼" thick. Cut meat into 5"x3" pieces. Should have 12-15 pieces.

2. Using steel blade, process bread to fine crumbs. Remove from bowl. Process ½ cup parsley, one of the onions, and pork separately, using the on/off technique, until chopped.

3. Saute chopped onion in one tablespoon of the butter in a Dutch oven until tender, about 5 minutes. Add pork; cook until brown, about 10 minutes.

4. Using steel blade, process pork mixture, bread crumbs, parsley, capers, marjoram, salt and pepper, using on/off technique, until blended.

5. Spread each beef slice with a little mustard. Place a heaping tablespoon seasoned pork mixture and one slice of pickle in center; roll tightly. Secure with wooden toothpicks or tie with string. Coat beef rolls with flour.

6. Heat remaining butter in Dutch oven; brown beef rolls in butter. Remove from pan.

7. Using steel blade, process remaining onion, the carrots, and celery until chopped. Add to pan; saute about five minutes.

8. Place beef rolls over vegetables, add wine and beef stock; heat to boiling; reduce heat and simmer covered until meat is tender, about 1½ hours.

9. Transfer beef rolls to warm platter; discard toothpicks or string. Pour sauce over top. Garnish with parsley if desired.

Note: Any excess filling for the beef rolls just add to sauce. Serves 8-10.

Spaetzles:

2½ cups all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
6 quarts of water
2 tablespoons salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

1. Insert steel blade. Place flour and one teaspoon of salt in bowl with machine running, add eggs and ½ cup water through feed tube; process until dough forms a ball. (This may require a few more drops of water) Let dough spin around bowl for 15 to 20 seconds.

2. Roll dough to ½" thick on lightly floured board. Using a sharp knife, cut off slivers of dough.

3. Heat 6 quarts of water to boiling; add 2 tablespoons of salt. Drop dough slivers into boiling water and cook about 5 to 10 minutes. They will float to the surface when cooked.

4. Remove with a slotted spoon to colander. Drain. Transfer to heated dish and toss with butter.

Note: For a tasty variation cooked spaetzle can be tossed with ¼ pound sauted mushrooms; or 2 tablespoons of chopped parsley; or 2 chopped onions sauted until light brown; or ¼ cup grated parmesan cheese.

Beef Bourguignon

(French Touch)
butter
2½ lb. boneless beef chuck, cut into 1½ inch cubes
3 tablespoons brandy
½ lb. small white onions peeled (about 12)
½ lb. small fresh mushrooms
2½ tablespoons potato flour
2½ teaspoons meat-extract paste (not liq.)
2 tablespoons tomato paste
1½ cups Burgundy
¾ cup dry sherry
¾ cup ruby port
1 can (10½ oz.) condensed beef broth, and ½ teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf
1) Slowly heat a 4-quart Dutch oven with tight-fitting lid. Add 2 tablespoons butter; heat, but do not burn.
2) In hot butter, over high heat, brown beef cubes well, using a fourth at a time, or just enough to cover bottom of Dutch oven.
3) Lift out beef as it browns. Continue until beef is browned, adding more butter as needed. Return beef to Dutch oven.

4) In small sauce pan, heat 2 tablespoons brandy just until vapor rises. Ignite, pour over beef. As flame dies, remove beef.

5) Add 2 tablespoons butter to Dutch oven; heat slightly. Add onions; cook over low heat, cover until onions brown slightly. Add mushrooms; cook, stirring 3 minutes. Remove from heat.

6) Stir in flour, meat-extract paste, and tomato paste until well blended. Stir in Burgundy, sherry, port and broth.

7) Preheat oven to 350°.

8) Bring wine mixture just to boiling, stirring. Remove from heat. Add beef, pepper and bay leaf; mix well.

9) Bake, covered, stirring occasionally 1½ hours, or until beef is tender, adding brandy remaining, little by little. Serves 6.

Marvelous Meatloaf

1 lb. ground beef
1 lb. "favorite" ground pork sausage
1 cup fine dry cornflake crumbs
2 eggs beaten
¼ cup chopped onion
Combine ground beef and ground pork sausage thoroughly in large mixing bowl.
Work in cornflake crumbs.
Beat eggs well, add onion and mix well. Add to meat and crumbs and mix until blended.

Pack firmly into a buttered loaf pan, then unmold onto a flat baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven (350°) 1½ hours until well done.

Serve with fresh green salad, potatoes/rice, cranberry sauce, vegetable.

Yield — 6 servings.

1 teaspoon salt
1 pound ground beef
2 small onions, sliced
½ medium green pepper, chopped (about ½ cup)

3 tablespoons yellow cornmeal
1 can whole tomatoes (16 ounces)
1 can kidney beans, drained (16 ounces)
1 to 2 teaspoons chili powder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon crushed dried chilies
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
½ cup shredded taco-flavored or cheddar cheese (about 2 ounces) shredded lettuce

Heat oven to 350°. Mix 1 cup cornmeal and the cold water in 2-quart saucepan. Stir in boiling water, butter and 1 teasp. salt.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and bubbles; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spread evenly over bottom and side of greased 3-qt. casserole. Bake uncovered 15 minutes.

While cornmeal crust is baking, prepare filling. Cook and stir ground beef over medium heat until light brown; drain. Stir in onions, green peppers, 3 tablespoons cornmeal, the tomatoes (with liquid), beans, chili powder, 1 teasp. salt, the chilies and garlic salt. Pour into crust. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake uncovered until bubbly, about 35 minutes. Serve on lettuce in bowls. 8 servings.

Lady Di's Jalepina Cornbread

THE WINNING RECIPE

2 cups cornmeal (self-rising)
2 cups flour (self-rising)
3 eggs
3 teaspoons sugar
½ cup cooking oil
2½ cups milk
1 can (15½ oz.) cream corn
1½ cups (6 oz.) shredded sharp cheese
1 large jalepina pepper (chopped)
1 large onion (chopped)
Combine dry ingredients in large mixing bowl; add oil and milk, mix well, then add eggs one at a time; beat well after adding each egg. Beat with mixer on med. speed, until smooth.
Stir in cream corn, onion and jalepina pepper. Fold in cheese.
Pour in a 13x9 inch, oblong pan.

HOW IT LOOKS

Bake at 450° for 45 minutes. Makes about 12 servings

Portuguese Sweet Bread

(This recipe uses a food processor for mixing ingredients; however, they can all be mixed by hand. Makes two (2) 9-inch round loaves.)

2 packages active dry yeast
¾ cup milk, scalded
¾ cup sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs
5½ to 6 cups all purpose flour
1 egg, slightly beaten
1. Combine yeast and warm water. Stir until dissolved.
2. Combine milk, sugar, butter and salt in 1-quart measuring cup; stir until salt is dissolved and butter is melted. Cool to lukewarm.
3. Using steel or plastic blade, process 3 eggs until foamy. Add eggs and yeast mixture to cooled milk mixture.
4. Insert steel blade. Place 2 cups of the flour in the bowl. With machine running, add half the liquid mixture through feed tube; process until blended, about 5 seconds. Add about ¼ cup more flour. ¼ cup at a time, processing until dough forms slightly sticky smooth ball, let dough spin around bowl 20 to 30 seconds. Turn ball of dough onto lightly floured surface; knead briefly into smooth ball.

5. Place dough in greased bowl; turn the dough to grease the top of the ball.

6. Repeat steps 4 and 5 with remaining flour and liquid mixture.

7. Let stand covered in warm place until doubled, about 1 hour.

8. Punch down dough. Roll each piece of dough into long rope, about 1½ inches in diameter. Shape each rope of dough into a coil in a buttered 9-inch cake pan, starting at center and coiling around until all dough is used.

9. Let stand covered in warm place until doubled, about 40 minutes.

10. Heat oven to 350 degrees. Brush each loaf with beaten egg. Bake until golden and bread sounds hollow when tapped, about 1 hour. Remove from pans; cool on wire racks.

Blitz Bran Ring

9-inch Bundt Pan — 1 Ring
2 (3 oz.) packages cream cheese
½ cup 100% bran
2 (7.5-oz.) packages refrigerated biscuits (10 per package)
½ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
3 tablespoons margarine, melted
1 (2¼-oz.) bag pecan pieces, chopped
1. Preheat oven to 375°
2. Divide cream cheese into 20 pieces; roll each into ball; roll in 100% bran and set aside. Press each biscuit into 3-inch circle. In small bowl, combine sugar and cinnamon. Place 1 teaspoon cinnamon mixture and 1 cream ball (cheese) in center of each biscuit; pinch dough around ball to seal.

3. Pour margarine in bottom of 9-in. Bundt Pan, tilting to coat sides. Sprinkle half pecan pieces and half remaining cinnamon mixture into mold. Place half rolls atop mixture, seam-side up; repeat layers.

Bake 30 to 35 min. or until brown. Cool 3 min. in pan; invert onto serving plate. Serve warm. Makes 1 Ring.

Pretzels

In large bowl soften one cake of yeast in 1½ cups of lukewarm water. Add ¾ teaspoon salt and 1½ teaspoon sugar. Then add 4 cups flour and knead mixture into a soft dough.

Do not let dough rise. Cut into small pieces immediately and roll into ropes. (Do not make the ropes too thick because they swell in baking.)

Twist them into pretzel shapes and put on foil-covered cookie sheet dusted with flour.

Brush with beaten egg. Bake at 400° until golden brown.

This is a fun recipe to do with children. Can be served with mustard.

Orange Pecan Tea Loaf

¾ cup water
Peel of 3 medium oranges; cut into ½-inch pieces (about 1½ cups)
¾ cup sugar
2 cups all-purpose flour
¾ cup sugar
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon vegetable oil
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup finely chopped pecans
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
Heat oven to 325°. Grease loaf pan, 9x5x3 inches. Place water and orange peel in blender container. Cover and blend on medium speed until finely chopped, about 1 minute. Mix orange peel mixture and ¾ cup sugar in 1 quart saucepan. Heat to boiling. Boil and stir until consistency of thick applesauce, 10 to 12 minutes. (mixture should measure about ¾ cup after cooking). Cool.

Beat orange mixture and remaining ingredients in large mixer bowl on medium speed, scraping bowl constantly, 1 minute; pour into pan. Bake until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean, 50 to 60 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes; remove from pan. Cool completely before slicing.

Italian Bread

1 pkg yeast
1 tbsp. salt
2 cups lukewarm water
6 cups flour
Soften yeast in lukewarm water in large bowl. Stir in salt. Add flour gradually, mixing well. Turn dough onto floured surface; knead for 15 minutes. Place in a greased bowl, cover. Let rise for 2 hours or until double in bulk. Turn onto floured surface; knead for 5 minutes. Divide dough into 2 parts, cover. Let rest for 10 minutes. Shape dough into long tapering loaves. Place on baking sheet. Let rise for 1 hour. Bake at 425° 10 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 250°. Bake for 20 minutes longer.

Butterscotch Bread

2 cups all purpose flour
1 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. soda
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs well beaten
1 cup sour milk
2 tbsp. butter, melted
½ cup walnuts, chopped

Sift first four ingredients together, add sugar and nuts. Blend together eggs, sour milk, melt butter and add to first mixture. Mix just enough to moisten. Grease a 1 lb. loaf pan and pour mixture into pan. Bake at 350° 40-45 minutes.

Nutty Bran Muffins

1½ cups buttermilk baking mix
¼ cup granulated sugar
¾ cup 100% bran
¾ cup milk
1 egg
¼ cup peanut butter
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
½ cup dry roasted peanuts — chopped.
Makes 12 muffins.
1. Preheat oven 375°F. Grease 12 (2½-inch) muffin pan, or liners.
2. In small bowl, combine buttermilk baking mix and sugar, set aside. In med. bowl, mix 100% bran with milk; let stand 5 minutes. Stir in egg, peanut butter, vanilla and peanuts; beat until well combined. Add dry ingredients, stirring just until combined. Do not overmix.

3. Fill prepared muffin pan cups ¾ full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, or until toothpick inserted in centers comes out clean. Remove to wire rack.

Desserts

THE WINNER

Melanie Schmitt, 31, of 1116 Magnolia Ave., Sanford, was the winner in the dessert category. She graduated in 1970 from Oviedo High School. A fulltime wife and mother, she and her husband, Dick, have two children, Spencer 3½ and Stephanie, 7 months.

Chocolate, Chocolate, Chocolate Cake

THE WINNING RECIPE

3-4 teaspoons cocoa
½ pound butter, softened
4 ozs. cream cheese, softened
1¼ cups sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
4 (1 oz.) squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 (6 oz.) bag chocolate chips
Grease 3 8-inch cake pans (round), and dust with cocoa. Cream together butter, cream cheese, and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time; blend in vanilla. Sift together flour, soda, and salt. Blend flour mixture into creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Thoroughly blend the melted chocolate into batter. Pour HALF of batter into prepared pans. Sprinkle chocolate bits evenly over batter in pans and top with remaining batter. Bake at 350° for 20-25 minutes. Remove from oven and cool 10 min. then turn out on racks to cool completely before frosting.

FROSTING:

Melt 1 (6 oz.) package chocolate chips with 1 tablespoon vegetable oil. Beat together 4 ozs. cream cheese, softened and ½ cup butter, softened until fluffy. Slowly blend in 4 cups confectioner's sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Blend in melted chocolate. Beat in 1 egg. Add 1 tablespoon milk, a teaspoon at a time until frosting is of spreading consistency.

German Apple Cake....

This recipe uses a food processor to mix ingredients, but can be mixed by hand.

CAKE:
1 cup sugar
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
4 tablespoons butter, cut into four pieces
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 large egg
4 large apples (Rome, Jonathan, or Golden Delicious)
TOPPING:
3 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons melted butter
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 large egg

1. With the metal blade in place, add all the cake ingredients except apples to bowl of food processor. Process until the mixture resembles cornmeal. Spread mixture in bottom of a well-buttered spring form pan. (9" to 9½" size)

2. Peel, quarter and seed apples. Insert slicing disk in food processor and stand apples upright in feed tube. Slice using moderate pressure on the pusher.

3. Arrange apples in layers on top of the crumb mixture. Bake in preheated 305° oven for 45 minutes.

4. Meanwhile, add sugar, butter, cinnamon and egg to bowl of food processor, fitted with the metal blade. Process until mixture is smooth and sugar dissolves. Spoon mixture over apples at end of 45 minute baking period above, bake an additional 25 to 30 minutes more or until top is firm.

5. Makes one 9-9½" cake, depending on pan size.

Cream Puff Swans...

1 cup milk
2 teaspoons sugar
¼ cup butter
1 cup all-purpose flour
4 eggs

Bring milk, butter, sugar to a boil. Add flour all at once, stirring 2 minutes till it leaves sides of pan and forms a ball. Remove from heat. Beat one egg at a time by hand till mixture is smooth. Use pastry tube. Make 6-8 puff forms shaped like an egg. Then as many S shapes. Bake till done, around 12-15 minutes on greased pan.

Cut off ½ of tops. Fill centers with whipped cream or pudding. Cut tops for wings and tail. Use the S for neck by pressing in filling.

Olde Fashioned Sugar Cookies

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup butter
3 eggs
1 cup sweet milk
5 cups all purpose flour
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. cream of tartar
½ tsp. lemon extract
½ tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. nutmeg sugar
pecan halves

Cream the sugar and the butter together. Beat eggs and extracts into mixture until light and fluffy.

Sift flour, baking soda, nutmeg and cream of tartar together. Add to butter mixture alternately with the milk in several portions. Mix well. Chill dough several hours or overnight. Drop by teaspoons onto greased cookie sheet.

Sprinkle each with sugar and place a half pecan in middle of each. Bake 10 minutes in 375° oven. Yield: about 5 doz.

Plum Kuchen With Rum Sauce

Plum Sauce:
2 lbs fresh plums, quartered and pitted (4 cups)
1 cup sugar
1 tbsp cornstarch

Topping:
½ cup chopped nuts
1 tsp cinnamon
2 tbsp sugar
KUCHEN (cake):
¾ cup butter or margarine, softened
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
2¼ cups flour
2 tps baking powder
½ tsp baking soda
½ tsp. salt
1 cup sour cream at room temperature

Put plums in saucepan with sugar. Let stand until juices flow, stirring occasionally. Then bring to boil slowly, stirring. Add cornstarch dissolved in 2 tbsp. water. Cook and stir only until sauce thickens. Pour plums and sauce into strainer over a bowl.

Let drain while starting cake.

Mix topping ingredients, set aside. In mixing bowl, cream butter and sugar, add eggs and vanilla, beat until fluffy. On low speed, add sifted dry ingredients alternately with sour cream, beating only until blended, after each addition.

Spread half of batter in buttered 13x9" baking pan. Sprinkle with half the topping. Arrange half of the drained plums on first layer. Spoon remaining batter, spreading to cover. Top with remaining topping and plums. Drizzle half the plum sauce over plums. Bake in preheated 350° oven 50 minutes. Remove from oven, pour remaining plum sauce on top.

Bake 5 to 10 minutes more or until cake tests done with pick. Makes 12 servings. Keeps well in refrigerator and can be frozen.
