

American GI Finds Himself Europe's Richest Soldier

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—“Seventy-five lousy dollars a month!”

Heard that complaint recently from any young American who has just received greetings from his dear home?

Well, if it's any consolation, the 75-a-month U. S. recruit is a rich man compared with the draftees in other countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

His British comrade-in-arms starts soldiering at $16.80 a month. The Greek conscript does not beat—$10.00.

And so it goes on down the line to the Turkish draftee, who's mustered in at—honest, this not a typographical error—11 cents a month.

These figures, supplied by U. S. military authorities, were made public by a House Appropriations subcommittee in connection with the $7,482,527,700 foreign aid bill which goes before the House today.

The spread between the pay of the American fighting man and his overseas counterpart will be even greater if Congress approves the ten per cent across-the-board increase which the Defense Department has asked.

The figures for the overseas NATO countries show that France pays its draftees $1.28 a month, less than half of what the United States pays. Belgium's draftee gets 61 cents a month.

It won't surprise enlisted men of any Army to learn that the pay goes up as fast as a man rises through the officer ranks.

France, for instance, pays a major $203 a month, compared with the $384.75 that an American major gets. Belgium, which has 36-a-month draftees, pays its majors up to $270.20.

And Turkey, with its 11-cent conscripts, pays majors up to $197 a month.

In other words, while an American major is paid about five times as much as a draftee, a French major gets the same as much as a French draftee and a Turkish major 1,700 times as much as a Turkish draftee.

There's one thing for sure about the Turkish system: It gives a man plenty of incentive to buck for officer training.

...but letting his master go out free.”

Johnson said Russian Soviet leaders can touch off similar aggression by “stogons” in Iran, Rumania, “the uranium mines of the Belgian Congo” or “a dozen scattered points throughout the globe.”

“We can go on fighting in Korea,” he said. “We can probably handle another war in Indochina. We may even be able to take on a bout in Iran or Yugoslavia. But somewhere—some place—some time—something will stop. We cannot go on forever draining away our lifeblood battling the satellites of the Soviet star.”

“The stark truth is the time could come when we could win against a mercenary enemy who had never fired a shot.”

Eventually the American people will grow impatient and demand a “cease-fire,” the Senator said.

This may come as a proclamation to the “men who sit behind the walls of the Kremlin,” Johnson said, in this form:

“We are tired of fighting your stogons; we will no longer waste our substance battling your slaves; we will no longer sacrifice our young men on the altar of your conspiracies. The next aggression will be the last. For we will recognize—and the world will recognize—that you, your self, and not your puppets, are the real aggressor.

“We will strike back—not just at your satellites—but at you. We will strike back with all the broadsword might that is within our grasp and it will be a crushing blow.”

Johnson said he hopes such an ultimatum never will be necessary, but the leaders of Communism must know that it will come—and that it will be a crushing blow.

Dusty Boots Riding Group Has Supper

More than 100 persons attended the supper, dance and entertainment at which the Dusty Boots Riding Association was host last night at the Sanford Farmers Auction to members of the New Smyrna Riding Club and the Silver Hands Club of Daytona Beach. About 80 out-of-town guests were present.

A program of music, singing and square dancing was enjoyed, said Carl Habun, president of the local riding club.

Plans were discussed to start work in the near future on a quarter mile track for racing, and an arena where novelty events will take place. It is planned, said Mr. Habun, to locate the track about a block east of the market building and it will run east and west.

Sheriff P. A. Mero, a past president of the Dusty Boots organization, welcomed the visitors and noted the contributions of the club to the community.

Finnegan Indicted

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—(AP)—James P. Finnegan, former Internal Revenue collector here and a prominent figure in congressional investigation into reported corruption in the nation's tax collection service, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of bribery.

Finnegan quit under fire last April soon after the grand jury began an investigation touched off by charges made against him on the Senate floor by Senator Williams (D-Mo.).

Two of the five counts in the indictment accused Finnegan of accepting a $250 check from a firm involved in income tax difficulties.

The others were under a federal law prohibiting a government employe from receiving compensation for services involving a controversy in which the government is a party.

Finnegan, a genial, loquacious friend of President Truman, has been the central figure in hearings before a House Ways and Means subcommittee in Washington, digging into widening reports of scandals in the Internal Revenue Bureau.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR DEFENSE BOND TODAY?

Defense is everybody's job. Every individual must realize that the dollars he saves today in Defense Bonds are building power for the nation—not only economic power to back up our great defense effort, but a reserve of purchasing power for future stability and prosperity when the present emergency is over. You can buy Defense Bonds on the partial payment plan where you work or through the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. Defense Bonds are better than ever. Here's why: Series E Bonds mature 10 years after purchase. However, you can hold your matured Series E Bonds 10 years longer. Every $75 invested now equals $100 in 10 years and $133.33 in 20 years.

Zalla Is Arrested

ORLANDO, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Bribery entered the Orange county bolita picture today with the arrest of Morris A. Zalla, on a charge of attempting to bribe police officers.

Zalla, who was arrested at a beer tavern he operates, was one of five indicted by the grand jury following a two weeks' investigation of gambling.

Only one of the five still remains at large and Sheriff Dave Starr and his deputies are continuing their search for him. His identity has not been announced.

The accused group is scheduled for trial at Macon next Monday.

The bureau also noted that an employee of the Veterans Administration hospital at Louisville, Ky., has been accused of embezzling out of the hospital and delivering the material to a plastic firm. Three arrests have been made in that case.

Other arrests during the last two months have involved thefts from the Boston Navy Yard, the Joliet, Ill. arsenal, installations at Parma and Ravenna, Ohio, Camp Carson and Lowry Air Force Base, Colo., Fort Bliss, Tex., Shumaker and Pine Bluff.

Miss Yolande Betbeze Keeps Quite Active

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 11.—(AP)—“The Queen is dead—long live the Queen” doesn't hold true in the case of Mobile's Miss America of 1951.

Yolande (Bebe) Betbeze made this clear as she flew into her home today for her overnight visit to pick up her dog, a French poodle. Then she'll go on to Chicago to join the Movielens, U.S.A. program.

The crowning of her successor at Atlantic City brought no end to the demands for her talents.

While here, Miss Betbeze will pack up her records and books to take to New York where she will study voice and languages this winter. In the spring she will go to Europe for further study.

The glamorous Mobilian plans a career divided between the stage, opera and television. She has recently been working in TV in New York on the “Hawaii 7 To the Girls” program. After Chicago, she will hurry back here to do two shows next week.

RELATIVELY HONEST

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The rate of dishonesty among Bureau of Internal Revenue employes is much lower than any other business, U. S. Commissioner of Internal Revenue John B. Dunlap says.

Recent scandals concerning tax collectors have given the bureau “a tremendous amount of unfortunate publicity,” Dunlap said at yesterday's final session of the 64th annual convention of the American Institute of Accountants.

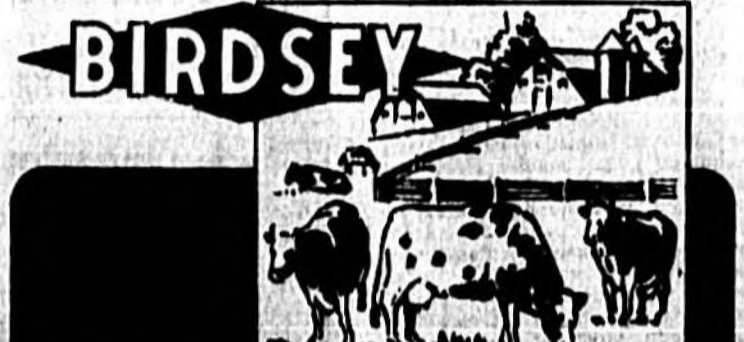

Alexander the Great inherited his army from his father Philip.

Weatherman Found Favorable To Fall Crops In Florida

ORLANDO, Oct. 12—(AP)—Weather conditions during September were generally favorable for Florida's fall crops, the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today.

The only exception was the heavy rain which accompanied the tropical storm in the lower part of the state, said the report as of Oct. 1.

Harvesting of corn, cotton and peanuts is well advanced while digging of sweet potatoes is making favorable progress. The citrus marketing season opened a little later than usual this season and by Oct. 1 very little fruit had met the maturity standard.

The quality of citrus is expected to be above average, the bureau said.

Production prospects for most field crops improved during September, with record corn and peanut harvests in view. Conditions point to a corn crop of 11,600,000 bushels—17 per cent above last year's crop. This gives a yield of 16 bushels per acre, pointing to a new record for the state.

Prospects for other field crops show farmers expect to harvest 68,400,000 pounds of peanuts, 780,000 bushels of sweet potatoes and 5,637,000 pounds of pecans.

The indicated cotton crop of 30,000 bales was unchanged from last month.

The production of all citrus in Florida for 1951-52 is forecast at 112,700,000 boxes. This is 7 per cent above the record crop of 105,000,000 boxes harvested during the 1950-51 season.

Farm Prices

about the same as last year. Poultry and egg receipts were up 31 per cent, and dairy products 22 per cent.

On the other hand, receipts from sale of wheat, corn, and fruits were lower than a year ago, but those from cotton and vegetables were higher. Tobacco receipts were largely unchanged.

Looking ahead for possible developments in the farm product market, the bureau said hog slaughter for the remainder of the year is expected to continue above last year and to reach its peak in December. Hog prices on the other hand, are expected to average a little less than a year ago.

Cattle slaughter, which was expected to be below last year, is expected to reach a season peak soon, with prices holding largely steady.

Producer prices of milk are expected to rise through the fall and early winter, but to decline in the spring.

The bureau said egg prices may have reached their peak for the year.

Relatively short supplies of commercial truck crops for the fresh market this fall and current strong demand are expected to result in substantially higher prices this fall than last year.

On the other hand, apples and grapes will be lower in price this year than last, the bureau said because of larger crops. The agency said prices of oranges and grapefruit should decline seasonally this month.

areas to be drawn around the United Nations advance peace camp at Munsan and the Red headquarters at Kaesong.

Communist newsmen said four major issues had been settled. The liaison officers scheduled another meeting for 10 A. M. Saturday (8 P. M. Friday, E.S.T.) at Panmunjom.

A U.N. announcement said the Reds today proposed small circular neutral areas surrounding the new ceasefire line in the Panmunjom area and the Allied camp at Munsan. The five mile neutral area around Kaesong would be left unchanged.

The announcement said the Allies submitted a counterproposal which would give "both base camp areas equal security."

"If this point is not settled, we are a long way from opening the talks," said Brig. Gen. William P. Hueckel, spokesman for the U.N. command. "If the point is settled, I believe we certainly are on the verge of resuming the talks."

"However, that is such a big 'if' that it would be presumptuous to say that the talks are close to starting again."

U. S. FIFTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Oct. 12

(AP)—Thirty-two U. S. B-29 Superfortresses shot down 20 MiG jets in a 20-minute air battle in northwestern Korea's MIG Alley today.

The Fifth Air Force said one B-29 jet was destroyed and six damaged. It said all American jets returned.

It reported today's tally hiked the all time toll of MiGs in jet-to-jet warfare to 83 shot down, 20 probably destroyed and 207 damaged. The figure does not include Red jets shot down or damaged by B-29 superfortresses.

Bloody battles of American and French infantrymen cleared the Red off the last peak of Heartbreak Ridge, eliminating the longest and most costly hill battle of the Korean war.

Fierce fighting continued on the northern slope below the crest. U. S. 8th Army officers referred to it as "mopping up."

The Allies captured two other nearby peaks in the Eastern Korean Mountains.

Along the Western Front Chinese troops hurled three attacks at the United Nations line. Two were beaten back.

The Third Cavalry Division of the U. S. First Cavalry Division withdrew. The pullback was in the Yonchok sector, roughly 25 miles northeast of Panmunjom where Red and U. N. liaison officers were reported near agreement on reopening truce talks.

or crop, prices of potatoes are expected to average higher than last year. Prices of dried beans should be about the same as last year.

Livestock feed grain prices have been 10 to 15 per cent higher than a year ago. During the year ahead prices will be influenced, the bureau said, by prospective strong demand by feeders and higher government price supports for 1951 crops.

Hints to Housewives By JOYCE BEVIS

With avocados in season now, it's time to think of some of the uses for this luscious fruit.

Avocados may be frozen. They must be cut in halves or fourths or frozen as a puree. The whole fruit doesn't freeze well. If you are freezing avocado halves, cut and remove seed but not skin. Package in an airtight container as you have and freeze at once. (Aluminum foil or sealed cellophane is best.) Rubbing cut surface with lemon juice or vinegar before packaging will prevent browning. About two hours before you are ready to use, remove avocado from freezer to refrigerator, leaving wrapped, and then serve in the shell with more lemon juice or vinegar on your own special dressing. The seed cavity may be filled with a green salad, cole slaw, tomatoes, onion, and green pepper chopped together. If you wish to use the avocado in a salad, spoon out of the shell or use a melon baller. This is necessary because an avocado that has been frozen becomes very soft after being taken from the freezer and is difficult to peel.

Another interesting avocado recipe is sherbet made of the pureed fruit to serve on top of a fruit cup or a luncheon fruit plate. To the avocado add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon salt for each cup of puree. To this add 2 teaspoons dissolved or melted plain gelatin and stir to mix well. Turn into refrigerator tray and chill until set and partially frozen. Beat until light and smooth and return to the chilled refrigerator tray. A second beating may be necessary. Then spoon on top of chilled fruit cup or a chilled luncheon fruit plate. Serve at once. This may be made in an ice cream freezer, following general rules for making ice cream.

Avocado sherbet may be packed in freezer cartons and stored as long as six months.

An avocado spread called "guacamole" is fine for serving on crisp crackers or potato chips, or combined with mayonnaise and used as a salad dressing. This is a good way to use over-ripe fruit. Slice or mash avocado halves, add 1/2 cup lemon or lime juice, and 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup puree, and mix. Pack in light container and freeze. Guacamole can be held eight months at zero Fahrenheit. Pack in 1 or 1 1/2 cup amounts so it won't be necessary to thaw a large amount each time. After thawing, for a variation, add onion juice or 1 garlic clove powdered, or crisp crumbled onion, and mix well. Serve as a spread.

The avocado contains vitamin A, the B-vitamins, vitamin C, and fat. Half a medium avocado furnishes 280 food energy calories.

What is now known as the hot dog was called a "dachhoun sausage" before the turn of the century.

At a recent inspection at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, three men were commended by Lieut. Comdr. Frank W. Trapolin at right, who read a citation from Admiral John J. Ballentine, commander of the Air Force, Atlantic Fleet, praising the men for alertness in discovering fuel contamination at the Station. The men, left to right, are Lieut. John R. Gronachan, Chief W. M. McKinney, ADC, and Larry G. Serpass, A. N.

Navy Men Praised For Finding Fuel Contaminated

The alertness of three men, members of the FASHION Squadron at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station, in recently discovering contaminated fuel in a storage tank at the Station and thereby averting what might have been serious damage to jet planes, resulted in the recent commendation of the men, Lieut. John R. Gronachan, Chief W. M. McKinney, ADC, and Larry G. Serpass, A. N.

With the entire squadron lined up at a recent inspection, Lieut. Comdr. Frank Trapolin read the following commendation from John J. Ballentine, commander of the Air Force, Atlantic Fleet:

"Commander Air Force, Atlantic Fleet, is pleased to note that the recent case of fuel contamination reported by references (a) and (b) was detected and investigated at the time of refueling. Contaminated fuel is usually brought to light in the aftermath of a serious aircraft accident. It is, therefore, especially gratifying to note that a potential aircraft accident has been averted through vigilance and attention to duty."

It was while looking over and inspecting a gas storage tank that Larry Serpass noticed a discoloration in the fuel. He notified Chief McKinney of this, and the latter

De Bary Doings By KAY HENNINGHAM

We live in De Bary, Florida. Almost invariably after we make this statement, come the question, "Where is De Bary?" Our many friends in Sanford know where we are and may be interested in the activities of our community.

The opening of a row of new stores made us feel that the time had arrived to acquaint our friends with a picture of the business section of De Bary as it is today.

Let us take the office of the Plantation Estates Corporation as a starting point. This was the first business office to be opened here in 1947 and is the one nearest to Sanford. Across the highway, is the office of Joseph Christberger, owner and developer of Christberger Manor, adjacent to it, on the Joseph E. Schriener property, is the new office building which is occupied by our realtor, Ray E. Peck, and builder and contractor Joseph W. (Bromer) Miller. This building was opened on June 1 of this year.

North of this building is the one housing the De Bary Builders Supplies, Inc., owned and operated by William Fosse and beyond it, the office of Wilber G. Miller, builder and contractor. Across from the Miller office is reported to Lieut. Gronachan. He in turn made an exhaustive investigation to determine the source of the contamination.

a gas station operated by Emmett Pollitt behind which we find James Scott's Cabins. Mr. Pollitt is also the agent for the Anderson Nurseries.

Next comes the Post Office opened about two years ago. Until very recently, the P. O. shared the building which housed it with the Estates Food Center and both were run by Walter Hant. The P. O. has now advanced from a fourth class to third class office with two deliveries a day, so Mr. Hant will devote all his time to being Post Master.

The Estates Food Center has moved into a new and modern building adjoining the Post Office and is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stripp.

A short walk will bring us to our three new stores. First an ice cream parlor which will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ireland, and Joe's Meat Market whose proprietor is Joseph Parzialo, who is building a home on Colombo Road.

A little less than half a mile beyond these is the Gas Station run and operated by J. A. Jackson. We come to the end of the business section, when we reach the Lake View Cabins and Coffee Shop, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rappich.

It has not taken us a great deal of time to introduce our business men and women to you, but we are rather proud of the progress made in three short years. On future occasions we would like you to meet some of our residents who now number four to five hundred people.

It Isn't The Cold, It's The Heat That gets You In Space Travel

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Amazing heat out where interplanetary ships would fly was described today at a space travel symposium at the Hayden Planetarium. It is the first American space symposium.

After your ship left the protection of the earth's atmosphere, your danger would be getting too hot rather than cold. The heat is from the naked rays of the sun. Only the very best reflecting metals on the ship's skin would keep the passengers from unbearable heat. Even the heat from bodies of other passengers would be uncomfortable.

This heat problem was reported by Dr. Heinz Haber, of the U. S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Field, Tex. He was one of the leading German scientists of World War II.

Another trouble, Haber said, would be your lack of weight. You would feel as if you were falling into a bottomless pit. There would be a lot of surprises. A slight push with hands or feet might catapult you across the cabin.

There is likely to be a new form of seasickness, known as space sickness. This, Haber said, could incapacitate an entire crew.

Our flyers, said Haber, already are up at altitudes where there is only 21 seconds to remain conscious if an accident decompresses the air in the cabin. But there is comfort in the fact that this risk is already at its very worst. No matter how far out in space, you will still have 18 seconds.

Cosmic rays—the atoms of many kinds that fly all through space—will cause radioactivity inside a space ship. Not enough to harm passengers in a flight of a few days, but possibly risky in a flight that takes weeks.

of 1952 through the reduced allocations of steel, copper and aluminum.

Whipple, said that if you would parachute from 1,000 miles in space you would come down so fast that your chute would char when it hit the rare upper air.

Whipple posed a new problem for rocket engineers, who have proposed that ships returning to earth would be able to glide down. Gliding, Whipple said, would melt away inches of the front surface of a ship in the air friction. He said only a reversed rocket appears able to land.

Small meteors, which travel faster than 100,000 miles an hour, could drill through a ship from one side to the other. Dr. Whipple calculated that the chance of hitting one of these would be one in five on a round trip to Mars. He said celestial navigators would steer clear of the dozens or more known streams of meteors.

From the United Nations came the first outline of international laws of space travel. Oscar Schachter, acting assistant secretary-general of the U. N. legal department, said we must agree on how high overhead a nation can be allowed to own space.

An unpleasant settlement would be a nation with military space ships strong enough to disregard the wishes of the rest.

Barring such a military outcome of the present arms race, Schachter said the rules of space flight probably will be like those for navigating the high seas. He predicted agreements to prevent any nation from claiming the moon, or a planet or satellite, by right of landing there first.

stren of the fire truck. His house, separated from the burning building by a high hedge, was only slightly damaged.

E. J. Moughton, Jr. stated that last night he and Mrs. Moughton had visited Mr. Fitts, who to dispel the chill had built a fire in one of the two fireplaces in the house. They left about 11:00 o'clock. Today, Fire Chief Cleveland inspected the fireplace to see if cracks in it or the chimney could have caused the fire. The cause was not determined.

Firemen, personally directed by Chief Cleveland, poured water from five hose lines into the burning building and kept the flames from spreading into the two nearby houses. A 1947 Cadillac sedan, the property of Mr. Fitts, which was parked close to the house, was damaged but not destroyed.

The local firemen were aided by firemen from the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station. About 1500 feet of two and a half inch hose and 200 feet of one and a half inch hose was used.

Among the firemen present were Lieut. Crow, J. T. Bennett, T. L. Keller, W. L. Rowland, G. V. Bartz. Two trucks were used and the firemen did not return to the station until 5:25 A. M.

Little Paris Lingerie Corp. was started in 1918 by Mrs. Yelvington, following her return from Paris where during the last war she had been stationed as a division secretary with the U. S. Counter Intelligence. She brought with her some Parisienne lingerie. When it wore out she asked her mother, Mrs. W. A. Fitts if she could duplicate it.

Mrs. Fitts reproduced the garment so well that her daughter got the idea for the new business, which was started in the attic of the Fitts home on Celery Avenue. The business outgrew the attic and the whole home, and in 1949 the firm moved to the rambling, 75 year old Elder Home at 1115 Celery Avenue.

Albert joined the firm in December, 1949 as vice-president. Mrs. Fitts served as secretary num. But manufacturers will be allowed to build 1,000,000 cars if they can employ substitutes and use up inventories on hand.

The 330,000 figure represents close to a 14 per cent cut under the present quarter's output of 1,100,000 autos, and a deep slash from the output of 1,600,000 cars a quarter before the Korean War.

The curtailments are necessary, Fleischmann said in his prepared statement, "because the defense program is beginning to hit its stride (and) the military use of basic materials is growing rapidly."

Direct military demands in first-quarter 1952 will absorb 12 per cent of the country's entire steel supply, 24 per cent of copper and 40 per cent of aluminum, he reported.

"The outlook is that production of such civilian items as refrigerators, stoves, radios, television sets and home appliances of all kinds will be reduced," Fleischmann said.

"But because generally ample supplies of these products are now on dealer's shelves, the supply should be sufficient to meet normal consumer needs."

The allotment of steel for consumer goods will be 870, 200 tons as against 984, 795 in the current quarter.

The figures include such items as light bulbs and commercial cooking and refrigerating equipment and some of these are being cut only slightly if at all from the pre-Korean rate. This means that the strictly household goods must have a correspondingly deeper slash.

In the case of schools and hospitals a field in which thousands of planned projects have been deferred by control orders, Fleischmann said DPA will try to follow this policy:

Providing enough material to build grade schools in defense areas, to replace condemned structures, and to complete schools already under way. Also, to give preference to elementary schools rather than high schools and colleges, because the great increase in student population is at the grade school level.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

The human machine desperately needs a complete change of attitude and pace once a week. To think of unseen eternal things. To review our course and reorient ourselves. Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

Children learn from their elders, but we can learn a very great deal from them. We should try to recapture their faith and simplicity. Jesus called a little child unto Him, and set him in the midst of them.—Mat. 18:2.

Orlando is doing a magnificent job of complying with the Kefauver committee recommendation to clean up gambling and corruption on the local level. "Objections have gone underground," says the Orlando Reporter-Star.

Out in Long Beach, Calif. where anything can happen and does, Jacquetta Sather complained to police that a young man was staring at her. He would just stand there and look at her for 20 minutes at a time, she declared.

Those of us who sometimes disagree violently with decisions of the Supreme Court would do well to study the moderation of Attorney General Ervin's language. Speaking of the recent ruling in the notorious S & G gambling case, Ervin said, "I cannot, and do not, criticize opinions of the Supreme Court. I must accept decisions of this kind with patience. That doesn't mean I must accept them with resignation. He is going to the Legislature for redress.

Dean Walter Matherly, head of the School of Business Administration at the University of Florida, who is well equipped to know what he is talking about, and whose advice on such matters should be heard, says, "Pay day is coming on this inflation business. Our supply of money has tripled and our production of goods has only doubled." As that spread between money and goods continues to grow, prices will continue to rise until you get next to nothing for the money you have. The cure? More production, or less money. It could be the former, if everyone would go to work.

We have been told so many times in this country that the government belongs to the people that some folks evidently are taking it literally and are arriving early in order to be sure of getting their share. The FBI reports the arrest of 120 persons charged with stealing blankets, coats, building materials, boots, shoes, radio equipment and hundreds of similar items from military installations throughout the country. At Camp Kilmer, more than $40,000 worth of goods were stolen in the last two months. Now do you know why your taxes are high?

When Egyptian mobs run riot and shout "Down with the British" because the once great British investment in the Suez Canal now seems like a million dollars their necks, they also shout "Down with the United States" for what reason do you suppose? From the Egyptian point of view, the Suez Canal is a link in the defense chain of the West. It is a link in the defense chain of the West. It is a link in the defense chain of the West.

Applied Education

Students and faculty at a small elementary school in West Virginia are learning valuable lessons together. Boys and girls who once merely recited their studies in citizenship now apply what they learn to such tasks as keeping the school grounds free from litter. Rules of diet and nutrition which the students study in the classroom are applied to their personal eating habits. The school library which was once regarded as a dry and uninteresting place of required reading plays an important part in their recreational life.

The improvement in the West Virginia school was largely the result of observations the faculty made under the direction of an alert supervisor. The teachers noted the things wrong in their school and then took positive and direct steps to correct them. Students were taught to keep nutritional charts of their own diets which were compared against ideal diets in the classroom. Libraries were placed in every classroom where children could easily suggest the kinds of books they might read for pleasure.

At least equally important with the immediate betterment in efficiency and morale among the students and faculty is the more basic lesson of the enterprise. All education has some direct application in people's lives. If teachers and students can retain that idea they will have come a long way toward understanding the real meaning of education.

Land Reform

Italy is getting land reform. The big estates are being broken up into small plots, and the peasant who has traditionally rented land which he farmed will be able to buy a piece of land, with payments spread over thirty years and amounting to about what he would have paid in rent. The owners of the big estates have nothing to say about it, but will be paid for their land on the basis of official appraisals.

It sounds like a good thing for the peasants. Many of the elements of the complex things called happiness and contentment can be found in owning a bit of land and a house of one's own, into which labor of life and love may be put, in confidence that no one can take them away. The future will show whether the peasant will be able to better his lot appreciably, but for a time at least he is likely to think it better whether it is so or not. The estate owners doubtless will think differently.

The ownership of land is important. But what it produces is more important. Whether the new land measures help Italy's economic position will be determined by whether the peasants get more productivity from their own land than from rented land, and whether the produce of the land finds its way more equitably into the stomachs and onto the backs of all the people.

Handicapped Workers

The efforts of every man and woman capable of working may be needed to meet the demands of our defense effort. Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson made this point in a public address in which he urged employers to hire handicapped workers wherever possible.

The handicapped individual is not necessarily incapacitated for useful jobs, and there may even be instances where his disability works toward a higher degree of concentration and efficiency for a certain job. To the handicapped worker his job is likely to be the source of a sense of accomplishment, not merely a dull routine by which he earns his salary.

It has been said that the democracies cannot hope to match the hordes of raw manpower amassed behind the Iron Curtain. But by relying on American skills and by complete utilization of all manpower resources America can nevertheless compete with the Communist countries on the production front. The actual and potential skills of the handicapped should not be wasted.

Columbus

(Continued from Page One) though they led him to believe there was no such place as America. The Smithsonian exhibit, a beautifully colored map published in 1482 from an original by Ptolemy, a second century Greek whose notions of geography were still current in Columbus' time.

Ptolemy underestimated the size of the earth and overestimated the extent of Asia," explained Richard Murphy, head of the library's map reference section. "Thus it seemed entirely feasible to reach the Far East by sailing west."

Columbus, of course, thought he had reached the Far East when he caught sight of the West Indies. He never budged from that belief, either. In fact he later had all his crew members sign affidavits that Cuba was part of the Asiatic mainland.

One more thing you ought to know about Columbus Day in Washington: A direct descendant of Columbus, 17 generations removed, is placing a wreath today on the statue of his distinguished ancestor in front of Union Station. He's an hereditary five-star Spanish admiral, 26 years old, here on a visit.

ROYAL VISIT

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 12.—(AP)—Thousands of flag-waving children sent up a shrill cheer today as Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived for a 15-minute visit opening the Ontario part of their tour of Canada.

Looking refreshed and relaxed despite two long days of official functions in the federal capital at Ottawa and an overnight train trip of 75 miles, the royal couple stepped to the station platform to acknowledge the cheers of about 20,000, mostly children.

IRAC TOO

LONDON, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Another Middle East country, oil rich Iraq, is seeking to revise its treaty of alliance with Britain, the foreign office said today.

Britain now has two air bases in Iraq under the terms of a 25-year treaty.

DEFENSE IS YOUR JOB, TOO

Italian Treaty

The reply set forth for the first time Russia's official position on the Western plan to let Italy increase her arms and armed forces beyond the lightly-armed 300,000-man limit imposed by the 1947 treaty.

The Russian note said Russia could join in cutting arms limits only in case Italy leaves the aggressive North Atlantic bloc and does not permit military bases and armed forces of foreign nations on its territory.

The Atlantic Pact nations established southern European headquarters at Naples last June under U. S. Adm. Robert B. Carney, who also commands the big American Sixth Fleet operating in the Mediterranean and headquartered at Naples.

Italy also granted the United States permission last summer to use its bases for the storage of U. S. military equipment and supplies bound for the U. S. occupation army in Austria.

The Russian note said participation in the Atlantic Pact "throws Italy into the path of aggressive wars" and "determines the equality and independence of Italy, transforming her into a dependent country."

The previous western note had called for removal of the treaty restrictions of arms because they now "have no justification in present circumstances" and "affect Italy's capacity for self-defense."

Revision of the Italian treaty and Italy's admission to the U. N. Russia said, must be accompanied by an "amalgamated revision of peace treaties with Bulgaria, Hungary, Finland and Romania and their admittance to the U. N."

Regarding Russia's "unjustifiable veto" which the "waffling Western note said had kept Italy out of the United Nations, the Russian reply said the absence from the U. N. of the former axis partners "is exclusively the fault of the U. S. A., Britain and France, who have taken in the United Nations a completely unacceptable position on the question of acceptance of new members."

Russia vetoed Italy's membership application for the second time—and Finland's bid—on Oct. 11, 1947. At the same time, the West kept out Hungary, Romania, and Bulgaria by abstaining from voting on them in the Security Council and they failed to get the necessary majority of seven votes.

It's Your Move

By ARTHUR RODZINKI, World-famous Orchestra Conductor

At the end of the First World War, I returned to the University of Vienna to complete my doctorate in law. I was preparing to enter the law profession—not because I wanted to but because that was the wish of my family.

Everyone knew that I had blazed a career in music. For years I had worked hard on scores, orchestration and piano. But several unhappy experiences, including losing out on a job as pianist in a small music hall, silted my convictions. My family were against the idea and my friends said I wasn't good enough. So I was resigned to a lawyer's desk.

One day, however, I sought sympathy from an old law professor and revealed to him my disappointments and shattered hopes. Naturally I expected to be consoled. Instead he opened a book and asked me to write down these words by Goethe: "A man would move the world, he must first move himself."

This, he told me, is your answer. And, indeed, from that moment I abandoned the law and threw myself wholeheartedly into the study of music.

I believe that without these words I would never have become a symphonist conductor—the one thing I really wanted out of life.

Having to face disappointments and failures is one of life's toughest jobs. Most of us don't. The temptation is to blame other people, as Goethe says, "Let's get on control." It's so much easier to explain away our failures by...

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The big men, meeting the rich men, in Iran and Egypt are rocking the boat. Their own boat. But they can't rock too much or they'll sink themselves.

Communism is too close to them to be comfortable. And if Communism ever moves in on them they'll be the first to go for them. They are the ones with the most to lose: the rich men and the big landowners. They have no doubts of that.

So while they talk of boosting out the British—which is a nice way of building themselves up at home with the masses of the people by fanning the flames of nationalism—they can't afford to let the fire get out of control.

The Iranians, taking advantage of Britain's weakness, due to the war, has kicked them out and taken over the oil industry. But they can't afford to make ties-up with the Russians to such an extent that Communism could step in.

And because of the same British weakness the Egyptians are talking of boosting the British out of the Suez Canal area which the British have been guarding under a treaty with Egypt. But there are Communists in Egypt and the rich men can't let them make hay.

This reaction against the British is neither unnatural nor unusual. There has been long-standing resentment against the British who, when they had it, threw their weight around and never left much doubt as to who was boss.

Now that Britain no longer is the No. 1 world power, the smaller countries are taking advantage of her come-down in the world. And as British prestige sinks, more of the same may occur elsewhere.

If this involved only the British, the rest of the world might plating responsibility on someone else rather than doing that unpleasant thing: examining our own shortcomings and then correcting them.

In my own case, I had waited for things to happen to me when I was not yet ready, and I had blamed parental disapproval, the law profession and the musical critics for my frustrated hopes. My life since then has materialized into the career I had dreamed of. It has not always been a smooth course. But during the many bad times when I was tempted to blame poor luck or other's faults I have remembered, "If a man would move the world, he must first move himself."

What better reminder that success comes from within, not from without!

able to sit back calmly and say to itself: "John Bull finally got it in the neck." But it does concern a good part of the rest of the world.

Britain is one of the cornerstones in the Atlantic alliance between this country and Canada and Western Europe, an alliance which has been extended to include Greece and Turkey.

The oil of Iran has been important not only in the oil ships and revenue but in Western Europe. And what happens to it now—whether or not the Russians who need oil get a foothold in Iran—is important to the West.

The same with the Suez Canal. It's a link in the defense chain in the Middle East. And whether the Egyptians, in spite of their claims to be able to do it, could defend the canal by themselves is doubtful.

So the western allies and Britain will have to work out some deal with the Egyptians to be sure the canal is protected. And some deal will probably be made with Iran to be sure Russia does not get in the door.

As the British weaken, this country more and more has to move into the position of leadership in the non-Communist world, filling the gap left by Britain.

It's a responsibility this country must assume since it proceeds to world leadership in the 21st century with Communism.

No matter how much the feudal lords of Iran and Egypt dislike any more international entanglements, they're at least smart enough to know that if the West loses, they're not only done but dead. Rich landlords don't live long under Communism.

So they will, in spite of their lip talk at the moment, have to link themselves in some way with the West, after the present excitement dies down.

ANNUAL FLOWERS, VARIETIES AND SPECIES
A L Y S U M (Lobelia maritima) The several varieties of sweet alyssum, with white or light flowers are among the best of annuals for edging. Lower-growing, seldom exceeding a height of 12 inches, this plant should have a place in every garden and window box.

Of easiest culture, extremely hardy, sweet alyssum may be sown every month in the year, except during mid-summer, and will bloom in four to six weeks. Volunteer seedlings usually are abundant about older plants.

ASTER—CHINA ASTER (Callisthus chinensis) The several varieties of the white, rose or carmine flowers of the three varieties of annual baby's breath are handy to have for fill-in material. The tiny flowers on wiry stems add a dash of color to an arrangement that might be lacking in grace.

Several plantings at monthly intervals are to be recommended if the blossoms are wanted over a long period.

Blanket Flower (Gaillardia puchella) The annual forms of the blanket flower, single, semidouble and full double—are of great value in any Florida garden. The red and yellow daisy-like blossoms are desirable for cutting on account of their cheerful colors, long stiff stems and excellent keeping quality. The blanket flower is cosmopolitan, volunteering annually and producing abundant flowers persistently.

Blue-eyed African Daisy (Aztecus stockadifolia) Graceful, light blue centers are profusely borne by the plants of Aztecus. A most easily grown hardy annual, it succeeds in trying situations, volunteering year after year. The flowers close in the afternoon, so it is best not to use blue-eyed African daisies

Personal
Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bennett returned Wednesday from a two weeks trip to Savannah, Ga., and points in North Carolina.

Prominent Speaker To Be In Sanford

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst of Baltimore, Md., special assistant to Federal Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell, has been obtained for a speaking engagement next Wednesday at the Sanford Woman's Club. The meeting will be sponsored by the Civic Department for all members of the club. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock and the doors will be open to the public and visiting clubs at 1:30 o'clock to hear Mrs. Whitehurst.

Hostesses for the afternoon include Mrs. R. T. Warren, Mrs. James Huff, Mrs. S. C. Graham, Mrs. Willis Peacock, Mrs. D. C. Howard, Mrs. M. C. Slawter, Mrs. Clayton Smith and Mrs. Joe Baker. For reservations for the luncheon club members are requested to contact Mrs. Warren or Mrs. Howard by Tuesday noon. Following Mrs. Whitehurst's talk all members are urged to remain and prepare TB seals for mailing.

Mrs. Whitehurst has served the General Federation of Women's Clubs, an organization of 11,000,000 women, with outstanding distinction as chairman of the Education Department, vice president, and in 1941, president. She is chairman of the International Clubs of the General Federation and such has organized over 5,000,000 women in 86 nations.

SEMINOLE HI By BEVERLY GRAY

Seminole Hi has another football team this year instead of the A and B squads. It's Freshmen with a few eighth graders added. The first game played they won 27 to 13! That's just wonderful and we sure are proud of you. So keep the work up!

There's no home or out-of-town game tonight, but there's something else just as good and that's the Variety Show! Presented by Miss Whittle and the S.H.S. Glee Club, it will be held in the auditorium tonight. Time is 8 o'clock. There will be top hit tunes such as: "The Loveliest Night of the Year," "Sweet Violets," "Tea For Two," "Only Have Eyes For You" and many more. The price is only 55 cents for adults and 35 cent for students. "Stars Over Dixie" is just packed full of cute numbers, snappy songs, and plenty of soloists. Don't miss "Stars Over Dixie!"

Did you know that in Lake Charles, Louisiana, it is illegal to let a rain puddle remain in your front yard for more than 12 hours? We have but one answer: Why???

In with fall and out with summer for sure now! Out come the gabardine and corduroy along with cold tablets and kleenex. But it sure is nice weather for football! That reminds us that Oct. 12 will be a home game with Palatka! Can hardly wait... A typical poem for this weather: "I sneezed a sneeze into the air, it fell to ground I knew not where. But hand and cold were the looks of those in whose vicinity I sneeze." Did you know it won't be long until the "Celery Feed" comes out? Are you planning on getting a copy? It's going to be chock-full of good news, special events, and lots of gossip. This is really going to be a great edition!

Have you noticed something different at S.H.S.? Could it be that last year's Senior class makes things a little looser? It does seem funny not to see them up there, though! But where ever they are we know they're having a good time! Clarke Messler headed for the University of Florida. David Hester, Jimmy Hanson, and Luther Davis are in Georgia. By the way, did you know that David is on the Student Council? We sure are proud of

Sanford Jayvees Run Over DeLand In 19-0 Victory

Handful Of Fans See Spirited B Squad Play Wide Open Offensive Game

A handful of fans who braved the cold at Seminole High field last night saw a spirited Sanford Jayvees eleven roll over a big DeLand B squad in racking up a 19-0 revenge for the varsity loss to DeLand last week.

The play sparked with those long end runs by dodging hard driving backs that make football a great spectator sport.

The big DeLand team deep enough in reserves to play a two platoon system and still have a bench of unemployed men took the initial drive toward paydirt but lost the ball to penalties and a holding Colery Fed defense near the end of the first quarter.

Sanford took over and three plays later set the cue for the game as Sophomore Tailback Jimmy Wade scampered up his right side for 30 yards before he lost his interference. Then Jimmy raced another ten on his own.

On the next play Ray Davis, another back who looked mighty good the whole game out around his left end, faked and spun for 15 more.

A couple of plays later the fleet Wade legs carried him over for the Sanford tally.

The extra point try failed as the Sanford line was unable to give J. B. Howell the time he needed to kick the oval through the uprights.

Gene Estridge calling the signals in the quarterback slot pushed the alternating Davis, Wade and run combination for another drive in the second quarter that terminated in a yardage tackle score by Jimmy Wade for

Favored Tech May Have Only Slim Margin In Scrap With Louisiana

In 1945 Red Knight managed to get his crippled self on the field and kick a field goal late in the game to give Louisiana State its lone victory over Georgia Tech in eight years of trying.

The game ended 9-7 and there's an excellent chance another such skimpy margin will be the result Saturday in Atlanta when L. S. U. and Tech meet again, this time in the top show of the Southeastern Conference.

Tech, eighth best team in the nation, the weekly Associated Press poll says, is the pick to win.

Both teams are unbeaten and rate as two of the biggest surprises in football. Tech has produced running and passing good enough to whip big timers Southern Methodist and Kentucky in upsets, and to easily whip Florida.

It was narrowly in a big upset that Louisiana, defeated Florida last week end and opened the season by winning from Mississippi Southern.

Tech's Grant Field won't quite be a 40,000 seat, but has sold 10,000 more tickets than last year's Tech anticipated—proof again that there's no substitute for a winner when it comes to selling expensive football tickets.

Fans in Georgia not only have the top game, but they've got the second best — Maryland vs. Georgia in Athens tomorrow night. Maryland rates 10th in the AP poll after a great running attack from the split "T" has carried the Terrapins through two winning games.

Georgia passing is expected to score at least twice but Maryland remains the favorite.

Three other conference games besides the L. S. U. Tech scrap make this week important. Tech presently is on top after two conference victories. Other unbeaten teams in conference games are Auburn, Mississippi, Tennessee and L. S. U.

Tennessee has its bi-weekly weather against Chattanooga in Knoxville, Florida and Auburn meet in Auburn in a game which probably will be far better than the one in Lexington.

Some of the East's top teams are scheduled this week end. Villanova and Holy Cross, possibly the best team in the East, meet tomorrow in New Orleans.

Alabama tonight in Tuscaloosa and Holy Cross, possibly the best team in the East, meet tomorrow in New Orleans.

Less Professional Elevens Asked By Virginia Faculty

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., Oct. 12—(AP)—A faculty-appointed committee has recommended that the University of Virginia field "less professional" football teams and abolish scholarships and subsidies for athletes.

The faculty admitted wants closer oversight to the school's intercollegiate athletic program.

It said so yesterday in a 45-page report prepared after months of study by the three-member committee appointed by the academic faculty.

The committee said the "University's return to less professional teams at the present time might well mark it as a leader in that de-emphasis of football which college administrators, faculties, student bodies, the national press, and public generally are now calling for."

"It seems almost certain," the committee asserted, "that better colleges and universities of the country will move in this direction, not toward continued cycles of emphasis. The university would, therefore, have no difficulty in finding competition at its level of excellence among institutions of comparable education and athletic integrity."

The committee's report brought "no comment" from Colgate W. Barrien, president of the university. Gus K. Tebell, the school's athletic director, described the report as "interesting" and added "it would be wonderful if no one at any school received a thing."

Tebell added, too, that football in Virginia maintains 14 sports. He said a well-conducted subsidized athletic program has "certain advantages."

The committee recommended, among other things, that (1) before a student may participate in any intercollegiate contest, he must apply for it in writing and receive endorsed approval of his application from the faculty committee on athletics; (2) the faculty committee on athletics would have the duty of inquiring into and recording athletic experiences of athletes; (3) the committee before endorsing an athlete's application should satisfy itself the applicant has never accepted directly or indirectly "remuneration, compensatory gift, valuable compensation, or promise thereof" for or on account of his athletic services; and that he is in proper and strict sense of the word an amateur athlete.

A special meeting of the academic faculty was called for Oct. 17 when the report will be considered.

The recommendations would have to be approved by the faculty and then by the university senate, a committee consisting of 20 faculty members chosen by the faculty from the university's various departments. Finally, the board of visitors would have to give its approval before the recommendations would go into effect.

The University of Virginia is the second Virginia educational institution to have its faculty committee on athletics. # Powerhouse From Notre Dame Takes On Passing SMU

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—Football gets the undivided attention of the sports world tomorrow for the first time this year and offers such choice morsels as Southern Methodist at Notre Dame, Oklahoma at Texas, Ohio State at Wisconsin, Louisiana State at Georgia Tech and California at Washington State.

With the World Series scarcely history, the football season already has advanced to the point where Oklahoma and Kentucky, Sugar Bowl rivals in January, are starting combats; Notre Dame has been stamped another powerhouse and Michigan State, California and Tennessee are bracketed as the country's best.

Michigan State and Tennessee are at home Saturday at Marquette and Chattanooga, respectively. Neither of the top college teams is in a position where worrying is needed. California, however, travels up the west coast to take on Washington State. Such a joint has held its own in the past but shouldn't this season.

Texas A. & M., ranked No. 4 in the Associated Press poll, also has a relatively easy task, taking on Trinity of Texas.

But Notre Dame could have its hands full with Southern Methodist, which boasts of a great passer in Fred Henners.

Oklahoma, last year's No. 1 team in the final AP poll, was held to four puny first downs last week in its defeat by Texas A. & M., now must invade the Lone Star State for its annual battle with Texas University. The Sooners won a year ago, 7 to 6, and another such defensive battle is in prospect again.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—It isn't entirely true that (as Knute Rockne once said) all good things in football come from Yale. . . . Sometimes they originate in a Paris bar. . . . But after he graduated from Yale, Franny Murray made a tour of Europe and naturally he had to visit one of those famous bistros. . . . In the course of the visit, Franny was introduced to a "friend" he never had met, although he had played against the guy twice, Yale's Clint Frank. . . . It was this meeting which eventually led to the getting-together of the Penn players and having with the visiting squad after each game during its Diamond Jubilee season of 1951. . . . It's hardly new. Back in 1889 the Rutgers and Princeton teams had supper together after their first game and the custom continued for years. . . . Murray, as Penn athletic director, revived it because of the Penn players' having with the visiting squad after each game during its Diamond Jubilee season of 1951. . . . It's hardly new. # Sanford Jayvees Run Over DeLand In 19-0 Victory

Handful of Fans See Spirited B Squad Play Wide Open Offensive Game

A handful of fans who braved the cold at Seminole High field last night saw a spirited Sanford Jayvee eleven roll over a big DeLand squad in racking up a 19-0 victory for the varsity team last week.

The play sparked with those long and run by dodging hard driving backs that make football a great spectator sport.

The big DeLand team deep enough in reserves to play a two platoon system and still have a bench of unemployed men took the initial drive toward paydirt but lost the ball to penalties and a holding Celery Field defense near the end of the first quarter.

Sanford took over and three plays later set the cue for the game as sophomore tailback Jimmy Wade scampered up his right sideline for 20 yards before he lost his interference. Then Jimmy raced another ten on his own.

On the next play Ray Davis, another back who looked mighty good the whole game cut around his left end, faked and spun for 15 more.

A couple of plays later the fleet Wade legged him over for the Sanford tally.

The extra point try failed as the Sanford line was unable to give J. B. Howell the time he needed to kick the oval through the uprights.

Gene Estridge calling the signals in the quarterback slot pushed the alternating Davis, Wade and another combination for another drive in the second quarter that terminated in an off tackle scot by Jimmy Wade for the second TD. J. B. drove over the line for the extra point. Coaches Fred Ganas and Bill Fleming let the combination do it again in the fourth quarter to put the home team out in front 19-0.

The coaches cleared the bench as any man who knew the signals got a chance for a few plays.

In the backfield J. B. Howell made a strong bid for a varsity berth as he sparked the whole defense with his hard hitting play. Howell made tackles all over the field from his linebacker position. More than once he punted the Feis out of trouble.

In the line two defensive men proved hard for the Bulldogs to hold. Russell Mann at guard played a fighting, never quit game that saw him constantly in the DeLand backfield. At right end Raymond Yates made more than his share of the tackles. It was Yates who broke up the only serious DeLand threat when the visitors pushed to the Sanford line and threatened to close the victory margin. A tough Sanford line held the visitors and forced a fumble which Yates recovered to end the Huldoo challenge.

Both teams lost a lot of yards in the DeLand backfield. The victim of over a hundred yards from over eager play that called down the referee's flag.

Offensive guards Phillip Seaton and Ross Hannum looked good in the guard positions making the backs shine as they produced the downfield blocking to make the long gains possible. Bises and Fox at ends also did an effective blocking job. DeLand's Huddleby held under a DeLand pounding at center.

Almost outnumbering the spectators at the game were the Seminole High School band and the cheerleaders who urged their B-squad to its first victory.

Favored Tech May Have Only Slim Margin In Scrap With Louisiana

By STERLING BLAPPY Associated Press Sports Writer

In 1945 Red Knight managed to get his crippled self on the field and kick a field goal late in the game to give Louisiana State its lone victory over Georgia Tech in eight years of trying.

The game ended 9-7 and there's an excellent chance another such skinny margin will be the result Saturday in Atlanta when L. S. U. and Tech meet again, this time in the top show of the Southeastern Conference.

Tech, eighth best team in the nation, the weekly Associated Press poll says, is the pick to win.

Both teams are unbeaten and rate as two of the biggest surprises in football. Tech has produced running and passing good enough to whip big timers Southern Methodist and Kentucky in upsets, and to easily whip Florida L. S. U. won narrowly in a big upset over Alabama, defeated Rice last week and opened the season last winning from Mississippi Southern.

Tech's Grant Field won't quite be a 40,000 sellout, but at least 10,000 more tickets have been sold than Tech anticipated—proof again that there's no substitute for a winner when it comes to selling expensive football tickets.

Fans in Georgia not only have the top game, but they've got the second best—Maryland vs. Georgia in Auburn tomorrow night. Maryland rates 10th in the AP poll after a great running attack from the split "T" has carried the Terrapins through two winning games.

Georgia passing is expected to work at least twice as Maryland remains the favorite.

Three other conference games besides the L. S. U.-Tech scrap make this week important. Tech presently is on top after two consecutive victories. Other unbeaten teams in conference games are Auburn, Mississippi, Tennessee and L. S. U.

Tennessee has its bi-weekly meetings against Chattanooga in Knoxville, Florida and Auburn meet in Auburn in a game which undoubtedly will be far better than the regular season.

Mississippi meets Vanderbilt in Lexington.

One of the East's top teams are made this week end. Villanova vs. Alabama tonight in Tuscon. Alabama tonight in Tuscon. Villanova vs. Alabama tonight in Tuscon.

Trio Of Varsity Injuries Hurting Florida Chances

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 12—(AP)—Injuries to three first stringers, serious enough to keep them home, threw a cloud over Florida's hopes of beating Auburn in Auburn tomorrow.

The Gators, minus the valuable trio, work to leave by plane at 9:30 A. M. today for the Tiger homecoming game, also a Southeastern Conference contest.

Reed Quinn, Hubert Brooks and Jim Reeves are the casualties. Quinn, quick kicker and extra point kicker, is nursing leg and shoulder cuts, while Reeves, rugged defensive guard, is suffering from a badly injured hand. The injury was incurred against Loyola last week.

Yesterday the Gators worked hard and long, perfecting their running and passing patterns. Haywood Sullivan and Rick Casares also ran from halfback and fullback slots.

Major shifts to fill the vacant spots in the line, saw Coach Bob Woodruff insert Bob Hewlett into Brooks' post and aldo Joe D'Agostino over from tackle to hard-running fullback. D'Agostino, bruised from Orlando, has played all four tackle and guard positions this year.

The cry "war eagle" was shouted by the fans in the stadium.

Key To Tennessee Offense Is Triple Threat Lauricella

By ESCAR THOMPSON KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 12—(AP)—The University of Tennessee football team, like a ship without a rudder, was drifting aimlessly early in November, 1940.

The Volunteers had just been shellacked by Georgia Tech, 30-13. It was one of the worst defeats Gen. Bob Neyland had suffered in his long coaching career at Tennessee.

Neyland decided something "radical" should be done. So off he went to find a defensive team, where he found Lauricella to become Tennessee's No. 1 tailback.

"You're the tailback against Mississippi this week," Neyland told the slender, 170-pound sophomore from New Orleans.

Lauricella turned in a first-rate performance and overnight Tennessee became a new national gridiron power. He threw three touchdown passes, kicked for an average of 46.5 yards and churned six yards as the Vols routed Mississippi, 33-7.

"Except for our 7-0 loss to Mississippi State last year, we've been on the right track ever since Lauricella took over," Neyland said.

As to the gridiron by the coaches during the day reminding him that they are in for a rough day against the surprising Tigers. "War eagle" is Auburn's war cry.

Less Professional Elevens Asked By Virginia Faculty

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 12—(AP)—A faculty-appointed committee has recommended that the University of Virginia field "less professional" football teams and abolish scholarships and subsidies for athletes.

The faculty admittedly wants closer oversight to the school's intercollegiate athletic program. It said so yesterday in a 43-page report prepared after months of study by the three-member committee appointed by the academic faculty.

The committee said the "University's return to less professional teams at the present time might well mark it as a leader in that de-emphasis of football which college administrators, faculties, student bodies, the national press, and public generally are now calling for."

The committee asserted, "that better colleges and universities of the country will move in this direction, not toward continued over-emphasis. The university would, therefore, have no difficulty in finding competition at its level of excellence among institutions of comparable education and athletic integrity."

The committee's report brought comment from Colgate W. Hadden, president of the university. Gus K. Tobell, the school's athletic director, described the report as "interesting" and added "it would be wonderful if no one at any school received a thing."

Tobell added, "that better colleges and universities of the country will move in this direction, not toward continued over-emphasis. The university would, therefore, have no difficulty in finding competition at its level of excellence among institutions of comparable education and athletic integrity."

The committee recommended, among other things, that (1) before a student may participate in any intercollegiate contest, he must apply for and receive the approval of his application from the faculty committee on athletics; (2) The faculty committee on athletics would have the duty of inquiring into and securing athletic experiences of athletes; (3) The committee before endorsing an athlete's application should satisfy itself the applicant has never accepted directly or indirectly "remuneration, compensatory gift, valuable compensation, or promise thereof for an account of his athletic services; and that he is in proper and strict sense of the word an amateur athlete."

A special meeting of the academic faculty was called for Oct. 17 when the report will be considered.

The recommendations would have to be approved by the faculty and then by the university senate, a committee consisting of 20 faculty members chosen by the faculty from the university's various departments. Finally, the board of visitors would have to give its approval before the recommendations would go into effect.

The University of Virginia is the second Virginia educational institution to have its faculty vote in favor of the athletic program. The faculty at William and Mary made a similar proposal Sept. 19 and also asked that the school de-emphasize intercollegiate football.

Powerhouse From Notre Dame Takes On Passing SMU

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—Football gets the undivided attention of the sports world tomorrow for the first time this year and offers such choice morsels as Southern Methodist at Notre Dame, Oklahoma at Texas, Ohio State at Wisconsin, Louisiana State at Georgia Tech and California at Washington State.

With the World Series scarcely history, the football season already has advanced to the point where Oklahoma and Kentucky, sugar bowl rivals in January, are starting comeback; Notre Dame has been stamped another powerhouse and Michigan State, California and Tennessee are bracketed as the country's best. Michigan State and Tennessee are at home Saturday to Marquette and Chattanooga, respectively. Neither of the two mighty teams is in a position where worrying is needed.

California, however, travels up the west coast to take on Washington State. Such a joint has troubled the Bears in the past but shouldn't this season.

Texas A & M, ranked No. 4 in the Associated Press poll, also has a relatively easy task, taking on Trinity of Texas.

But Notre Dame could have its hands full with Southern Methodist, which boasts a great passer in Fred Henner.

Oklahoma, last year's No. 1 team in the final AP poll, was held to four puny first downs last week in its defeat by Texas A & M, now must invade the Lone Star State for its annual battle with Texas University. The Hoopsters won a year ago, 7 to 6, and another such defensive battle is in prospect again.

Illinois invades the East to test rapidly improving Syracuse and Ohio State barges into Wisconsin at Atlanta for an afternoon of bumps and bruises with Georgia Tech's youngsters, who have engineered a trip of 100 yards in the afternoon. Louisiana State brings its "split wing" backfield to Atlanta for an afternoon of bumps and bruises with Georgia Tech's youngsters, who have engineered a trip of 100 yards in the afternoon.

The fans in Georgia have two games as good as any carried for Saturday. In the afternoon Louisiana State brings its "split wing" backfield to Atlanta for an afternoon of bumps and bruises with Georgia Tech's youngsters, who have engineered a trip of 100 yards in the afternoon.

Other games on Saturday's card: East—Yale at Columbia, Princeton at Penn, Dartmouth at Army, Harvard at Cornell.

Midwest—Indiana at Michigan, Missouri at Colorado, Northwestern at Minnesota, Utah at Kansas, Kansas State at Iowa State.

Far West—Oregon State at Southern California, UCLA-Stanford, Washington at Oregon, Wyoming at Colorado A & M.

Inter-sectional—Holy Cross at Tulane, Navy at Rice, Penn State at Nebraska, Pittsburgh at Iowa.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—It isn't entirely true that (as Knute Rockne once said) all good things in football come from Yale. . . . Sometimes they originate in a Paris bar. . . . But after he graduated from Penn, Franny Murray made a tour of Europe and naturally he had to visit one of those famous bistros. . . . In the course of the visit, Franny was introduced to a "friend" he never had seen though he had played against the guy twice, Yale's Clint Frank. . . . It was this meeting which eventually led to the set-together the Penn players are having with the visiting squad after each game during its Diamond Jubilee season of 1951. . . . It's hardly new. Back in 1889 the Rutgers and Princeton teams had supper together after their first game and the custom continued for years. . . . Murray, as Penn athletic director, revived it because he felt he and most other players had missed a lot by not becoming acquainted with their opponents. . . . So far the visitors have found the supper so pleasant that they're lobbying for the same procedure at their own schools. . . .

The Kids Weren't Kidding. Bob Megargel, the Bucknell U. publicist, had the bright idea the other day of dressing up the nine sons of Bucknell coaches (ranging in age from a few days to 10 years) in variety jerseys and getting a picture of them. . . . Line coach Herli Maack was especially pleased when his eight-year-old, Roger, picked out 71, his dad's number at Columbia. . . . But Margel moaned: "All nine sons must be ten-second men. They didn't stand still long enough for the same broadcast." And when St. Bonaventure coach Joe Bask turned home after the Bonnies had taken their second straight thumping, he casually asked his daughter, Joanne, if she had heard the same broadcast. "Yeah," she replied the five-year-old, "but do you have to lose every time?"

Shorts And Shells. Now that the Yankees-Giants tussle is out of the way, the next big one is between the Yankees and Britain's giant-killers for golf's Ryder Cup. . . . The British card: East—Yale at Columbia, Princeton at Penn, Dartmouth at Army, Harvard at Cornell.

Midwest—Indiana at Michigan, Missouri at Colorado, Northwestern at Minnesota, Utah at Kansas, Kansas State at Iowa State.

Far West—Oregon State at Southern California, UCLA-Stanford, Washington at Oregon, Wyoming at Colorado A & M.

Spirited Trading Begins As Ball Clubs Start Rebuilding Programs

By RALPH RODEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(AP)—Major league teams, especially the also rans, have launched their 1952 rebuilding programs and it appears that one of the most spirited trading seasons in years is on tap.

No "big deals" have been consummated but a number involving name players are expected. Most teams are on record that they will trade anybody in order to strengthen.

The biggest deal brewing reportedly involves Ned Garver, the brilliant 20-game winner of the tail-end St. Louis Browns. Both the champion New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox are supposed to be dickering for Garver's services.

Reports persist that the Yankees made a down payment on Garver when they sold Outfielder Cliff Mason to the Browns on waivers during the season. Second baseman Jerry Coleman and four other Yankees along with a trade of cash are supposed to complete the transaction.

General Manager George Weiss of the Yankees admitted yesterday that he had huddled with St. Louis officials for three hours but had reached no agreement on any deal.

"There was no deal made," Weiss said.

The rumors also say the White Sox will send number of players including Jim Rivera, a rookie who burned up the Pacific Coast League and cash to the Browns.

Meanwhile, the Browns have been stepping up with minor leaguers. They have purchased pitchers Hal Hudson and Johnny Hankk from their Toronto International League farm club and yesterday obtained Infielder Ted Thomas from Portland of the Pacific Coast League.

The White Sox also reached into the minor leagues the other day for help. The Sox obtained pitcher Harry Crisman, a 20-game winner and Hector (Shiny) Brown from Seattle for five minor leaguers and cash.

The White Sox also reportedly have the inside track in a deal that will procure Third Baseman Hector Rodriguez from Brooklyn's Montreal International League team. Rodriguez was the International's rookie of the year.

The Chicago Cubs, National League tail-enders, have been the most active in the senior circuit.

Yesterday the Cubs obtained Outfielder Bob Addis from the Boston Braves in exchange for shortstop, Jack Cusick. Shortly after the season closed the Cubs swapped outfielder Bob Borkowski and Catcher Smokey Burgess to Cincinnati for Catcher John Prames and Outfielder Bob Uhr.

The Braves also released Veteran Catcher Ray Muller yesterday.

The heaviest trading season is expected during the major league meetings in New York in December. There also may be some action during the annual minor league "player draft" in Cincinnati next month.

IN A GREAT PROCESSION

"Hammurabi was a great king and a man of tremendous power in the ancient civilization out of which Abraham went, but it is Abraham, not Hammurabi—the man who left, not the man who stayed; the man who, to those in that country, seemingly failed, instead of the king, who seemingly remained in power—who has lived down through the ages and whose faith has been a stimulus to millions. The power of Egypt rose and registered itself in engineering works and physical monuments, but the intangible and seemingly unimportant words and teachings of Moses, whom Pharaoh rejected, have lived on, while the Nile Valley civilization has gone into eclipse. Rome, in all its vast power, came and went;
but the humble Galilean, whom it crucified, lives on."

Plantation Estates

By BESS PATTERSON

We are very proud of and happy for our young citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ireland, who opened the new ice cream parlor, sandwich bar and sundries store on the highway on Monday. Their store is very attractive and they will build their stock according to the demand. They intend to stay opened evenings until 11 P. M. so that after the movies or that cassata party you may get a snack. They have a lot on Lake Monroe and hope to start their home in the not too distant future.

The new butcher shop opened the same day and it promises to be a big asset to our community.
Joe Parziale sure knows his meats and is carrying the best. Joe has three school age children whom he has brought up alone since their mother's death six years ago. As soon as his house on Columbo Road is finished he will bring them down to live here. Lots of luck to them all.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bass are with us again in their house on Gen Lakes. The Basses commute between their home here and their construction business in the north.
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Eller have moved into their new home on De-Bary Drive. Mr. Eller was with the Borough Presidents Department of the Bronx in New York City until his retirement. Mrs. Eller had been a teacher.

Mrs. Ann Dempsey has her son,
John Dempsey and his family visiting her.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Whitaker have returned from their summer camp in the Adirondack Mountains in New York State. We are more than pleased to welcome them home. Mrs. Whitaker tells me the glee club will have its first meeting next Wednesday and Mr. Leonard, its president, tells me refreshments will be served after this meeting and everyone is invited to attend. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wonderly and their daughter Nancy at the end of the week for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Potter have arrived from Pennsylvania to take possession of their new home on Palmyra Drive. If the news is late this week I can only blame it on Mr. Potter who brought me the novel "Cross Creek" and is it ever good reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schneider of Atlantic Highlands have moved into their new home on Fifth Street, Charlie, who is an engraver of some repute, tells me they will have to go back for a few months to finish up a few jobs he has.

All her friends were glad to see Agnes Wallack back from a vacation spent in the North with her children. They tell me John has become quite a cook since you have been gone Agnes. Keep him at it.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lutz from New Jersey have taken possession of their new home on Half Moon
Lake. Mr. Lutz was with the North American Casualty Co. in an executive position for 21 years when he decided to quit work and spend the rest of his life having fun.
Don't look now, but he doesn't know about the kind of fun he has ahead on that nice big plot between the two lakes. Don't tell him, Barney A., he'll have more fun finding out for himself. At his farewell dinner he received many fine gifts but the one he prizes the most is the leather bound testimonial book, containing all the letters from his friends and associates of praise and good wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner spent a week's vacation at Daytona Beach. While there they entertained several of their friends from Plantation, among them Mr. and Mrs. William Tuma.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Payne had as their guests on Sunday, Mr.
Robbins and Mr. Miller of New York. The Paynes attended a house party at the Beach home of Mrs. Dorothy Bhafler of Daytona, a long time friend of theirs, on Tuesday and Wednesday.

What a Wonderful Story the Price Tag Tells!

WE would like you to come in and hear a wonderful story. First of all, it's the story of a great car—a car whose name is respected and admired everywhere in America. We are sure that the word "Pontiac" means something distinct and different from any other name in the motor car world.

The word Pontiac means a good solid citizen—a thoroughly good car—a beautiful car—a car with a reputation for delivering years and years of driving pleasure. But there's another important part of this story you should hear: It's the wonderful story of Pontiac's price! For this great car, desirable as it is, is one of the lowest priced automobiles in America—just one step above the very lowest. As a matter of fact, if you can afford any new car you can afford the pride and pleasure of a Pontiac! Come in and get our deal—it's a wonderful story all the way around!

Truman Offers To Talk Peace With Russians

Wake Forest College Hears President On Foreign Policy At Special Ceremonies

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Oct. 15.—(AP)—President Truman offered today to "sit down with Soviet Russia" to seek agreement upon disarmament and "free the world from the scourge of atomic warfare."

In his first major foreign policy speech since he announced Russia's explosion of a second atomic bomb, the President renewed a proposal for United Nations control of atomic power which this country suggested "long before the Soviet Union got the atomic bomb." He asked Russia to lay aside its "phony peace propaganda" and declared:

"We are ready now, as we have always been, to sit down with the Soviet Union, and all the nations concerned, in the United Nations, and work together for lifting the burden of armaments and securing the peace."

"We are determined to leave no stone unturned in this search not only for relief from the horror of another world war, but also for the basis of a durable peace."

Truman's speech was prepared for groundbreaking ceremonies for the new Wake Forest College campus here. The Baptist institution is being moved here from Wake Forest, N. C., under a multi-million dollar grant from the Reynolds tobacco family.

The President held out little hope of reaching any real agreement with Russia until the free world completes its armaments program. But he warned against "sewers of suspicion and peddlers of fear" at home.

"So long as one country has the power and the forces to overwhelm others, and so long as that country has aggressive intentions," Mr. Truman said, "real peace is impossible."

Truman was adamant, the more possible it will be to work out solid and lasting arrangements that will prevent war. Our strength in the United States, he declared, "is based on the hope that it will be possible to live without a war, in the same way as the Soviet Union and other nations have adequate defenses."

"As our defenses improve, the chances of negotiating successfully with the Soviet Union will increase," he added. "The growth of our defenses will help to convince the leaders of the Soviet Union that peaceful arrangements are possible."

Only Eleven Days Remaining To Register For Municipal Election

Citizens of Sanford who re-registered at the City Hall between Nov. 15 and Dec. 31, last year are not required to register again in order to vote in the Nov. 6 municipal election, City Clerk H. N. Sayer stated today.

He declared that he wished to emphasize this fact because some persons who re-registered last year are appearing again for registration.

Due to the coming city election, however, those who did not re-register in 1950 and who have not re-registered since the books were re-opened on Sept. 15, have only 11 days to do so as the books will be open through Oct. 25 only, said Mr. Sayer.

On Friday 1,680 out of potential 4,000 voters had received the new registration cards. The re-registration was ordered in the new City Charter of 1950 so as to make the list up to date.

Wednesday of this week is the deadline for candidates to qualify to fill the three places on the City Commission which will be voted on this year.

This morning, W. V. Bittig, druggist, now serving temporarily in place of Sam Hanna, who resigned, qualified to run in Group No. 3, to serve during the balance of the term which is two years.

Other candidates, who have qualified are John Kain, and Lee Lee in Group No. 1, to succeed Mr. Sayer.

New Information Is Filed Against Lillian C. Clark

Former Clerk In Tax Collector's Office Is Held On Bond

A new information was filed this morning at the County Clerk's office against Lillian C. Clark, 46, who on Saturday morning was arrested and then released under $5,000 bond on a charge of embezzlement of $9,871 from the office of County Tax Collector John L. Galloway.

The first information was filed Saturday by State Attorney Murray Overstreet and had referred to the tax collector as "John W. Galloway." The new information contained the same charge, but gave the correct middle initial, L. to Mr. Galloway's name.

In filing the initial information, Mr. Overstreet ordered a capias for Mrs. Clark's arrest, said F. A. Mero.

Circuit Judge Millard B. Smith was notified by telephone of the arrest and the bond was set by her own surety company at $5,000. This information was furnished by Ted Womack, employer of Mrs. Clark's husband, John L. Clark, and by Rupert Strickland, local businessman.

Mr. Overstreet charged "that Lillian C. Clark on the 15th day of May and on divers dates between Oct. 15, 1949 and May 15, 1951, being then and here the agent, clerk, servant and employee of one John L. Galloway as tax collector of Seminole County, Fla., did then and there unlawfully embezzle and fraudulently convert to her own use certain money belonging to John L. Galloway as tax collector of Seminole County, Fla., to wit: nine thousand, six hundred and seventy-one dollars."

Mr. Overstreet said the position of chief clerk of Mr. Galloway's office and had charge of the automobile license department. She had served for five years, under the five grand jurors, tax collector and when Mr. Galloway took office.

Lovett Tells Legion Quick Wins Unsure

American Legion Convention Hears Secretary Of Defense Despite Hurricane

MIAMI, Oct. 15.—(AP)—President Truman called on the American Legion today to support new legislation which will give 60 cents to the veterans of the Korean war.

By DON WHITEHEAD
MIAMI, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett gravely warned the nation today that the United States does not yet have the fantastic atomic weapons which can win a quick, easy or magic victory in war.

In his first public address since becoming defense chief, Lovett told the American Legion convention:

"The plain fact is that, until new weapons and new military applications of atomic energy have proved their reliability and are available for field use, our national safety in the face of an attack will have to depend upon the improved orthodox weapons in ample quantity and well equipped ground, naval and air forces to use them effectively."

Bluntly, Lovett declared, "aggregated hopes are being pinned on the availability of new super-weapons for fighting and winning wars."

He said such over-optimism can lead to wishful thinking "which through disillusionment can bring pessimism and despair."

The new secretary who succeeded Gen. George C. Marshall in the defense post—plainly was trying to cut down the growth of optimism over the possibility of equipping the Army, Navy and Air Force in the near future with atomic weapons to replace the orthodox weapons.

He said: "It would be a grave disservice to you and to the nation to leave you with the impression that these advances in the atomic field had brought a ray, quick, cheap or magic way to fight or win a war."

Lovett spoke to the legionnaires at a small but power-packed hurricane moved slowly northward in the Caribbean Sea toward this playground city.

The storm threat added the only note of anxiety to the holiday spirit among the 20,000 or more legionnaires and members of their families gathered here from all parts of the nation.

Visitors were assured that even if the storm center should strike which isn't certain—they will be safe in the well-built hotels and will have plenty of warning of the storm's approach.

Tonight state legion commanders will hear Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, who often is mentioned as a possible presidential candidate.

The scheduled appearance of Russell tonight and Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Tuesday.

Liaison Officers Unable To Start New Peace Talks

Allied Troops Drive Into Lightly Held Enemy Territory

MUNSAN, Korea, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Allied and Red liaison officers wrangled for three hours in Panmunjon today but got nowhere in their efforts to get the stalled cease-fire talks started again.

Only hopeful sign noted was an agreement to meet again tomorrow at 10 A. M. (8 P. M. Monday EST).

An official U. N. summary said the Reds continued to insist on a "four-point" cease-fire area in Kaesong, former site of negotiations. The Allies want the five-mile reduced to 3,000 yards—less than two miles.

This, and a Red demand that security arrangements be settled by liaison officers, appeared to be the main stumbling blocks to the main negotiations.

One potential threat to the resumption of talks apparently was removed with the Allied admission that three U. N. warplanes strafed the Kaesong-Panmunjon area late Friday afternoon.

Unofficial Communist sources indicated the Reds consider the incident closed.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway Sunday night accepted U. N. responsibility and promised prompt disciplinary action. The Supreme Allied Commander also expressed his "heartfelt grief" at the death of a 12-year old Korean boy and the wounding of the boy's two-year-old brother in the attacks.

Brig. Gen. William F. Nickols, an official U. N. spokesman, said Monday's liaison meeting ended on an "inconclusive note."

Nickols said no new proposals were submitted by either side. It was the longest allied liaison meeting since the Reds broke off negotiations Aug. 23.

Mrs. A. C. Starke's Mother Died Sunday

Mrs. Ella M. Millen, 82, died at 7:15 A. M. yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Starke, 409 Mellonville Avenue. She had lived in Sanford since June.

Mrs. Millen was born in Illinois on Mar. 31, 1868 and had lived in St. Petersburg for the past 20 years where she was a member of the Methodist Church and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Besides Mrs. Starke she is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Florence Weaver of Akron, Ohio, the five grand children, also five great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 P. M. today at the Cookery Funeral Home in St. Petersburg with Dr. Paul E. Horton officiating. The O. E. S. also conducted services at the graveside in Memorial Park Cemetery where burial took place.

Services Tomorrow For J. D. Wright, Sr.

J. Danforth Wright, Sr., 81, died in a Valdosta hospital Sunday afternoon.

Formerly of Jacksonville for 26 years before moving to Valdosta about two years ago, he was employed as a Florida representative for the Georgia-Florida Railroad for many years and was well known in railroad circles. He came from Nashville, Tenn.

A special plane carrying Eisenhower later this afternoon at Paris this afternoon. Ad Robert N. "Mike" Carney, commander in chief, Allied forces' southern Europe, will meet Eisenhower and take him aboard the U. S. S. Des Moines, flagship of the Sixth Fleet.

Appeal Rejected By High Court In Civil Rights Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Justice Jackson attacked today the Supreme Court, by refusing to consider an appeal by a Texas constable in a civil rights case, was bringing "a dangerous and novel importation into American criminal law."

The constable, Bruno A. Kocher, got a $500 fine and six months in jail for beating up a Negro, Etrom Rasmbery. The beating occurred after one of Kocher's hounds was injured by the Negro's car near Marlin, Texas, the night of Aug. 23, 1949. Kocher and a friend, Hugo W. Ackermann, pursued the Negro's car and overtook it. Rasmbery was pulled out, put under arrest, and then beaten.

Kocher and Ackermann were tried in federal court in Texas on a charge that they violated Rasmbery's civil rights. Ackermann got a one-year sentence as the constable, both appealed to the Supreme Court.

The high court, by vote of 7-2 today rejected their appeal. Justice Black noted he favored a hearing for the pair. Jackson agreed with Black but went for their. He wrote a 390-word protest.

Jackson explained that in the Kocher-Ackermann case the trial judge told the jury that intent to violate a federal constitutional guarantee "is presumed and inferred from the result of the action" completed about the presumption of intent was Jackson's target. By refusing to grant a hearing on the appeal, the high court let the effect of the judge's statement stand.

"If this is not a dangerous and novel importation into American criminal law," Jackson said, "I do not recognize danger when I see it."

It is apparent from this case, Jackson added, that the civil rights statute involved "enables a federal administration to hold over all state officers."

"If the state officer who is guilty is attacked by the fact that this court cannot decide most issues of deprivation of rights." (Continued On Page 2)

5 Districts Of Near Equal Population Set In Resolution

The County Commission on Saturday afternoon adopted a resolution redistricting Seminole County into five county commission districts of approximately equal population. F. E. Breckenridge, county clerk, announced today.

This action was the result of second requests made by the Seminole County Farm Bureau through its attorney, John Willison, Jr., for redistricting in accordance with the state law that requires equal population in county commission districts.

Two new districts, No. 4 and No. 5, were created, and the old District No. 6, W. G. Kilham, commissioner, was divided between District No. 1, H. B. Pappas, commissioner, and District No. 4, R. C. Doud, commissioner.

Commissioner Willison, however, continues to serve their present districts as long as their present terms last.

In order to nearly equalize district population, a new district was created in Sanford which will be known as District No. 1 and Precinct No. 15. This was taken from District No. 1 and the district which has been known as District No. 2, J. P. McCallahan, commissioner.

The latter area will be included in a new district known as District No. 5 and will include Precinct No. 2, Lake Monroe, Paul, Precinct No. 1, and that portion of Precinct No. 1 in west Sanford which remains after a portion of it is added to the new District No. 2.

In splitting District No. 5, Precinct No. 6, Geneva, was added to Mr. Pappas' No. 1 district, which retains Precinct No. 3, minus the portion added to new District No. 2.

Precinct No. 7, Chuluota, was added to Mr. Doud's No. 4 district. Precinct No. 14, Fern Park, has been taken from O. E. Fouraker's District No. 3 and added to District No. 4, which includes Precinct No. 8, Oviedo; Precinct No. 12, Slavia; and Precinct No. 8, Goldenrod.

This leaves District No. 3 with the following precincts: No. 10, Lake Mary; No. 9, Longwood; No. 11, Altamonte Springs; No. 12, Forest City and No. 10, Bear Lake.

Tentative estimates rate the population at 10,000.

TAPT PLANS
DETROIT, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) will make what has been billed as a "most important speech" here tonight. But the Ohio Republican said today he won't have anything to do with the big question: his possible candidacy for President.

Senator Taft scheduled a news conference for 11 A. M. tomorrow at his Senate office. Signs point to a probably formal announcement then of his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.
