Hayes Beats Sanford In 12th, 3-2, To Take League Lead

Hayes Goes Route And Strikes Out Nine Before 1520 Islander Fans

Skeen Drops Wayton's Limer To Allow Wayton To Score From Second; Hayes Ties Bill With Ocala Tonight

The 12th inning of a beautiful ball game, the Daytona Beach Islanders edged the Sanford Seminoles, 3-2, and took the Florida State League lead for the first time in two weeks before a crowd of 1,520 spectators. The crowd was the largest ever to see a Florida State League game in Daytona Beach.

It came the hard way for the Islanders. Willie Skeen, who has been serving the sentence of a year in the state penitentiary, pitched a brilliant game, muffed Hank Wayton's drive in the 11th inning and two were out and Hank was on base when the Islanders were scored with the winning run.

Tonight the Seminoles will attempt to regain first place by beating both sides of a double-header against Ocala at Municipal Ball Park. Game time is 8:15 o'clock. Manager Whitney Campbell has nominated Jodie Rowington to take the mound in the first game. Rowington has a record of seven wins and eight losses and six of his losses have been by one run.

The Seminoles looked like a shabby set of odds in the first game, but they were not. In the first inning, Ocala's Hank Wayton pitched a hit and played superb ball the rest of the way.

Miller "Whit" Hayes was named for the Seminoles and he pitched a gem. After a shaky start in which the Islanders got two runs, he did not allow a run until the fatal error from the fifth inning on.

FROM THE PRESS BOX

Second baseman a baseball manager is almost as futile as attempting to swim the Atlantic Ocean with waterwings, but cheerfully we take it upon ourselves to second guess manager Whitney Campbell of the Seminoles on his course of strategy during the ninth inning of the Daytona Beach game Wednesday night. We regard Whitney Campbell as a good ball player and a better-than-average manager, but from this corner we believe he pulled a bonehead the other night.

Any pitcher in any line of activity is entitled to make a few mistakes during the course of a year and Campbell made an error in judgment at a crucial time. Perhaps from his position on the coaching lines the perspective was not as clear as it was to some of us pencil-wielders in the press box, but we'll feel every body in the situation and they can make their own decisions.

Andy Johnson had already reared one run for the Seminoles in the ninth to bring Sanford within one run of tying the score at 4-4. Thomas, with one out, elected to walk Hayes to load the bases and set up a double play. In his hurry to push the contraption off the field, Johnson caused the error to fall on like an umbrella.

Fans were streaming into the park as late as the fourth run. At 7:45 people were waiting to buy tickets.

Kimble almost broke up the game in the 12th, but Rowington speared his line drive with a spectacular running catch near the foul line in left field.

Hayes, Marlon, and Wayton came playfully close to being elected for too consecutive outings with the umpires.

BARNEY MCCOSKEY continues to pace the Detroit "Soldiers" in their uphill battle for the American League flag with a spectacular hitting. Detroit is now in front by the slim margin of one half a game over the disastrous-ridden Cleveland Indians.

BRITISH REMOVE MAIL

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Aug. 10.—British censors removed 120 of 700 bags of mail yesterday from the American export line Escalibur which went out of its way to land the Duke and Duchess of Windsor here en route to his new post as governor and commander in chief of the Bahamas Islands.

logical thing to have done would have been to put in a fast runner for Kimble at third.

With the bases set, all the third baseman had to do was throw home for a free run. The catcher did not even have to tag the runner. A squeeze play can rarely be executed unless it is unexpected and there certainly was no element of surprise after Gillespie had indicated his intention of hunting on the pitcher. After the first out, there was little chance for a double play as the infield had drawn in too close. Only a hit directly to one of the players would have made a double play possible, and even then, the first baseman had come in so far that it would have been almost impossible for him to get back in first in time to cover the base.

We could go on like this indefinitely, but as we said, second guessing is a futile task, and we have been futile long enough to fill this column, so we will call it quits and pray for no more errors in strategy.

At Least Two Die As Storm Passes Inland

Charleston Cut Off From All Contact When Radio Men Abandon Station

Property Wrecked, Highways Flooded

Considerable Section Of Charleston Is 4 Feet Under Water

ATLANTA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Danger from the worst tropical hurricane to strike the South Atlantic coast in recent years passed today, after bringing death to at least two persons, wrecking property, flooding highways and crippling communications.

The force of the storm spent itself inland, but heavy rains continued over Georgia and South Carolina.

Historic Charleston remained cut off from all communications after amateur radio operators were forced to abandon the station when water flooded the building.

Army officials at Fort Mifflin had received no reports of severe conditions in Charleston.

Fort Mifflin gave refuge to some 600 civilians from Sullivan and other counties in the South Carolina mountains as they fled before the storm.

Some 100,000 gallons of water were poured over the city, and many homes were damaged.

A considerable section of Charleston was under water, and many homes were damaged.

FLOODS INUNDATE SOUTHWEST LOUISIANA

Much of Southwest Louisiana is under flood waters following heavy rains which came in the wake of a Gulf storm. Many persons are being evacuated by the coast guard, and the Red Cross and other agencies. This street scene in Lafayette, La., gives an idea of depth of water in some places.

Defense Measures Force Y. W. C. A. Camp Not To Open

It never occurred to about 15 Sanford girls a week ago that the proposed measures of the United States would interfere with their annual Y. W. C. A. Camp at Lake Winona this year.

Friday they were looking forward to leaving the next day for their camp. Barring tennis, tennis rackets, sun tan lotion and stationary were being picked.

But that day George M. "Leland," who was to be water out director of the camp, received a letter to report to the reserve officers' training camp at North Carolina. He got in touch with Mrs. O. H. Stenstrom, director of the camp, who immediately began to telephone and write the Sanford girls and a dozen or so out-of-town girls that the camp had been cancelled. It was too late for them to pack their gear.

"I was terribly disappointed," she said today. "And I know all the girls were too. But some of them will go to other camps, so they will still have their vacations. This was just one of those things," she added philosophically.

This was to be Mrs. Stenstrom's third session at Camp Winona. She declared that she intended to have the camp again next year as usual.

Hofmann Wins Second In Model Plane Meet

Dale Hofmann finished second and William Houghelder fifth in the gas-powered event of the state model airplane meet held at Lakeland yesterday afternoon.

Seventeen-year-old Gene Chamble of Miami captured top honors in the meet by taking first place in two of the three divisions. He won the glider competition with an average time of 11.8 seconds and took first in the gas-powered event with an average time of slightly over two minutes.

Behind Chamble were Dale Hofmann, Ed McIntyre of Miami, Armond Nielsen of Lakeland, and Houghelder. Ray Fox and Billy Herndon finished 9th and 10th in this event.

Fort Jeter placed sixth in the rubber-powered division which was won by Bill Knauer of Daytona Beach with an average of three minutes, 1.3 seconds. One of Knauer's flights was the longest of the day, five minutes and 53 seconds. Other fliers were Nielsen and Frank Whitte of Lakeland, Koran Smith of Jacksonville, and Donald Tyre of Orlando.

The contestants battled against a strong wind and those to get their ships in strong currents had frequently to start the planes at an angle.

Representative fliers in the meet were Dale Hofmann, Ray Fox, Ed McIntyre, Armond Nielsen, Billy Herndon, Gene Chamble, Frank Whitte, Koran Smith, Donald Tyre, and Bill Knauer.

Orlando Doctor Talks At Local Rotary Meeting

Says United States Is Healthier Now Than Ever Before

The United States is healthier today than at any previous time in its history and statistics show that the death rate in this country is lower than in other countries where socialized medicine is practiced, said Dr. Meredith Malory, Orlando physician, quoting from statements of United States Surgeon General Parran, at the luncheon of the Rotary Club today.

Pointing out that socialized medicine has been tried for many years in Germany, as well as in England, Dr. Malory said that whereas it has been tried in Washington in a higher cost and has been accompanied by the usual inefficiency and graft which characterizes most political bureaucracies.

Quoting death rates showing the mortality in England and Wales due to tuberculosis, cancer and numerous other diseases, Dr. Malory showed that fewer persons die from these ailments in the United States where the private practice of medicine has been maintained than in England and Wales where socialized medicine prevails.

Despite the advances which have been made by medicine in this country, political reformers in Washington proposed a few years ago an $800,000,000 fund for the purpose of establishing a system of "Compulsory Health Insurance" with the premiums to be paid by the members insured, assisted by generous contributions from the government.

If this system were devised to give the public wretched medical attention, Dr. Malory said the doctors would be among the first to favor it since it should be (Continued on Page 3)

Mrs. Bolly Relates Experiences On Auto Trip To Land Of Midnight Sun

By MRS. J. J. BOLLY

It was intensely dark as the last lights were flashed out of the house, and the only sound to penetrate the darkness was the deep bark of a dog, sitting somewhere in the backyard.

I scanned the far Western horizon in search of that tropical moon I saw three years ago, as we looked for the Great West, but instead only a few scattered stars blinked their farewell. As I stared I found myself wondering, "Will we see the same great thrill? Will there be anything as exciting as our first view of amazing wonders and beauty of the all walks of Texas? As the rugged Rockies and our first sight of the towering and mighty Rockies."

And Alaska, oh, my visions cannot penetrate there, such a far northern land, shimmering almost as if it were a mirage, for the land of the Midnight Sun. Well, as San Francisco would say, "I think of all that tomorrow."

So for the moment this story is for the moment. We are a few miles south of San Francisco and we are on our way to the first day, and were very happy to see that the first day, however we stopped and after a few hours we were on a boat and the Gulf and watched the golden rays of a sun set.

As we drove over the bridge, the water was so beautiful, the color was over the colors of the rainbow, from green to deep blue and with the far horizon an indigo haze.

As we drove over the bridge, the water was so beautiful, the color was over the colors of the rainbow, from green to deep blue and with the far horizon an indigo haze.

National Guard Goes Through First Maneuver

Three Sanford Units Join 70,000 Others In Battle Problem, Stenstrom Writes

After being logged down with mud and high waters for three days, the 124th Infantry National Guard went through their first movement Friday along with some 70,000 other troops located in the sector east of Camp Beaugard, according to a letter received today from Julian Stenstrom of this city.

Company D, which includes Sanford members of the National Guard, was among the first troops of the 124th Infantry to leave camp on a maneuvering problem which consisted of establishing a defensive position and holding the territory as long as possible against an enemy of superior force in man power. Field umpires ruled that the defending units could not withstand the offensive warfare offered by the enemy.

In the course of the maneuvers, troops were forced to wade in mud knee deep and across rivers and streams nearly shoulder high. Malaria control experiment is being worked out during the encampment, Stenstrom revealed, in an effort to determine whether quinine or atabrine treatments are more satisfactory. One-third of the men in each company or detachment are taking doses of quinine, one-third are taking atabrine and one-third of the men are given no treatment. This method will be tried for the remainder of the encampment and each man will be checked for malaria symptoms, possibly by blood tests.

Stenstrom reports that nearly all the soldiers from Sanford and vicinity enjoyed the 1,000 mile journey by train and some stated they were their first oil wells in operation and crossing the muddy Mississippi were thrilling to be remembered.

Col. Joseph C. Hutchison, commanding the 124th Infantry with Lieut. Col. George W. DeCottis commanding the 1st Battalion, 124th Infantry, consisting of Company D and the Headquarters Detachment, both stationed at Sanford.

Soldiers are reported to be having wholesome, plentiful, and well balanced meals, and exercise to hasten the men for the coming winter in any way. The high winds, floods, and mud have delayed this conditioning process.

Major James K. Lawton states that despite the miserable weather, among the Florida troops is good and they seem in the best of spirits.

One of the highlights of early training sessions was a gas mask drill given to the first Battalion. Soldiers were instructed in the use of the gas mask and were given actual tests in tents filled with tear gas.

The Headquarters Company of the 124th Infantry is now in Florida. Temperatures within the Caribbean of New Mexico region are at 85 degrees throughout the year.

British Fliers Meet Air Challenge Of Nazis Over Channel

Dispatches From London Say At Least 14 Airplanes Were Destroyed In Raid

Nazis Claim 23 Planes Shot Down

Italians Are Irritated Over Beheading Of Albanian

British RAF fighting planes and anti-aircraft gunners clashed with 200 German raiders who swept across the English Channel at dawn today to storm the great naval base at Portsmouth and other military targets over a wide area.

Swift to accept the challenge, RAF defense planes raced out to sea to meet the Nazi aerial armada and drove back all but 55 of the attacking force.

London dispatches said that by early afternoon at least 14, possibly 16, German planes were shot down. The Berlin radio counter claimed that 23 RAF planes were destroyed in the opening phase of the day's battle.

German planes were reported till pouring across the channel in apparently growing numbers. The raiders sniped at harbor balloons, strung in protective networks like minas floating in the air, along the south English coast. Four of the "sky traps" were reported shot down over Dover.

Larger scale enemy activity is taking place over a wide area in the channel and the Thames Estuary, the British Air Ministry reported.

DNB, the official German news agency, said that the raid inflicted "new severe blows" and that the battle was still under way.

The Nazi high command asserted that 90 British planes were destroyed in yesterday's spectacular air fight, with three others shot down by anti aircraft fire. Twenty-one German planes were reported missing.

An eye-witness said one Nazi plane "made a flaming torch" as it plunged into the sea.

New international complications developed in southeastern Europe meanwhile as authoritative Fascists in Rome said that "serious consequences" would follow a reported beheading of an Albanian minority leader by Greek border raiders.

Italians were described as "enormously irritated" by the Fascists also accused Greece of supplying British warships and planes with oil from Greek bases.

Stefani, the agency, said the decapitation had occurred near the border in Albania, united with Italy under the Italian crown since the flight of King Zog April 9, 1939.

Turning its fire upon the government of Dictator Premier John Metaxas, which is inclined to friendliness toward Britain, Stefani strongly indicated the alleged crime might fire Albanian nationalists to bring neighboring Greek territory into their Italian-occupied homeland.

The news agency, in a dispatch from Tirana, Albanian capital, identified the beheaded victim as Haxhi Hoggia, declaring "It is not the only recent episode of political oppression by Greece" and warned: "Hoggia's sacrifice will not be in vain since news of the evil crime has deeply moved Albanians in Clamuria."

Clamuria is the border region in which Hoggia was said to have been put to death.

Denouncing Greek "tyranny" over her Albanian minority, Stefani added: "Greek authorities, as has been authoritatively ascertained by numerous witnesses, even have gone so far as to affirm that Italians soon will be thrown out of Albania."

To make the crime even more serious, the news agency said how the killers had taken Hoggia's (Continued on Page Two)

Visit To Fair Described By Oviedo Woman

Mrs. Cooper Terms State Building "A Credit To Florida"

How the World's Fair made her sorry for everyone who does not live in Florida is told in a letter received here today from Mrs. R. F. Cooper, wife of the principal of the Oviedo School.

"Here we are, a Florida family at the World's Fair. Really can't say whether 'we are taking in New York or New York taking in us,' but I want to say that the Florida Building is a credit to our state. I do hope that everyone who has any chance to be in New York or near will see the Fair, and the Florida Exhibit. What a thrill it gives you for strangers to say, 'Have you seen the Florida Building?' Aside from giving sheer pleasure, naturally it will do much to advertise Florida, and also for New Yorkers to learn that Miami is not all of Florida—lovely though Miami is. Last night I stood by a group at end of Exhibit Diorama; one man said to another of the Citrus grove and shipping activities. 'Did you know that this is the best diorama ever made?'"

"Of course when we speak they spot us as if we are enjoying the Fair, and where we are from in the South. When they learn we are from Florida, they begin to speak of the Florida Exhibit."

"Right before last as I stood quietly near the dimly lighted patio and listened to Florida chimes play 'Schubert's Serenade', I was sorry for everyone who didn't live in Florida. (Of course I understand New Yorkers are sorry for anyone who doesn't live in New York.)"

"We have been visiting at a very quiet time, and have been able to see so much. I wouldn't have missed the wonders I have seen. With the country so upset, naturally speaking of war, and what may happen, seems to draw people closer."

"I wish every school child in Florida could see these exhibits, which I could share every wonder I have seen."

Yours,
MRS. R. F. COOPER

Rev. Housholder Dies; Services Stated Tuesday

Retired Minister Had Preached In This State Many Years

The Rev. A. E. Housholder, 86, of Knoxville, Tenn., father of Ernest F. Housholder of Sanford, succumbed yesterday to a lingering illness, a telegram received here this morning revealed. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in Knoxville.

A retired Methodist minister, Rev. Housholder was well known all over the state of Florida, where he had lived for 17 years and had served as presiding elder of the church for 24 years.

He had been twice minister of the Methodist Church here, the last time about 20 years ago.

Rev. Housholder had been minister of churches at Tallahassee, Tampa, Key West, Orlando, Jacksonville and Gainesville. He had also served as presiding elder of the Gainesville district.

Born in Knoxville in 1854, Rev. Housholder was ordained a minister in 1877. He first came to Florida in 1884. In 1921, when he was pastor of the church at Hastings, his wife died and he retired. Since that time he had made his home in Knoxville part of the year and visited his son, Ernest, and another son, Fred, in Tampa the remainder of the year.

In Knoxville, where Rev. Housholder lived with a niece, he sometimes preached at a small Methodist Church even after his retirement. He was given the privilege of filling in there whenever he wished to. Last year a party was given for Rev. Housholder and several brothers, who also lived in Knoxville. A picture of the group was printed in a Knoxville newspaper and the article accompanying it said that Rev. Housholder, at 86, was the youngest member of the group.

E. F. Housholder, Mrs. Housholder, and their son, Karville, were called to Knoxville last Monday by the illness of Rev. Housholder. They are expected to return Friday.

In addition to his son, Ernest, Rev. Housholder is survived by another son, Fred, in Tampa, six grandchildren and one great grandchild.
