FARMERS' MARKET Derby Winner Will Seek Preakness Win

BALTIMORE, May 5—(P)—
Without any fanfare whatever,
Shut Out, the Kentucky Derby hero, arrived Monday at Pimilco, were he'll try Saturday to Treet Mrs. Payne Whitney's horse.

In fact, Shut Out came to town from Louisville with much less ado than usually attends the arrival of a Derby winner. He stepped off the train like any casual visitor and was led into a van with no fuss at all. He looked as fit as a horse can be. In the same car with him was his stablemate, Devil Diver, both of them in charge of Lee Cotton, assistant to Trainer John M. Gavor.

(WW)—The horse and lips of a western movie star are equally sacred. No other may ride his horse, and no designing little ingenue may kiss his lips.

Tiese are basic rules—as fundamental as the dictum that our hero, walking into a saloon in quest of a fight, may drink only mil.

this. They may also take need, for one of their favorites, Gene Autry, is in dire peril of losing isc.

For Miss Fay McKenzie, Gene's leading lady, already has ridden wery, Genel—Miss Fay McKenzie has designs upon an Autry kiss. Just to upset the tradition, she says—"though I might be hissed out of the Autry picture for doing it!"

Miss McKenzie (the name's Irish) is a tradition-upsetter By nature. Just turned 21, she's in her second movie childhood. She's a local girl born right in Hollywood, and she didn't have to go away to be invited to the screen. Her mother and dad were shew folks. Her dad, Bob McKenzie, still plays moustached sheriffs and the like. Her sister, Ella. used to be an ectress but now is Mrs. Billy Gilbert, wife of the ancezing comedian. The McKenzies had a stock company, and Fay made her first movie when she was 10 weeks old. She played Cloria Swanson's infant daughter—and Glorida would be surprised to see her baby now: a luscious brunette with astounding eyes and much else that is considered photogenic.

"I cut my first tooth on a movie set," says Fay, but denies that this was accomplished by scengry-chewing. "Then I grew up In pictures. In course of this career, I, sat on fly-payer, was hung from telegraph wires, had milk thrown in my face, had soot boured down my neck—everything happened to mel But then I grew up. When I was nine or 10 the little parts got scarcer and I played with my father in his stock company in Culver City. Kept on making pictures now and then, but not many."

It was "Meet the People"—the new talent revue that finally made Broadway—that revived the McKenzie career and brought her contract as Autry's leading lady.

NEW YORK, May 5—(A?)—
The New York Yankees humbled the Chicago White Sox again yesterday 6 to 1 for the American League tallenders' fourth setback in a new losing steak.

The Sox now have been beaten 11 times in their last 12 games and 16 out of 20 for the season. They would have been shut out yesterday, too, for the fifth time except for an error by Yankee Shortstop Phil Rizzuto with two out in the ninth.

"Turn Thou to God"

Though Christ a thousand In Bethelehem be born, If he's not born in thee, Thy soul is still forlorn. The cross on Golgotha Will never save thy soul; The cross in thine own heart, Alone can make thee whole,

Whate'er thou lovest, man,
That, too, become thou mustGlod, if thou lovest God,
Dust, if thou lovest dust.
He out, God will go in,
Die thou and let Him live, He not, and He will be. Wait, and He'll all things give

To bring thee to thy God Is but a round-a-bout. Drive out from thee the world, And then like God thou'lt be-A heaven within thyself In calm eternity.

Let but thy heart, oh man, Become a valley low,
And God shall rain on it,
Till it will everflow.
Oh shame! The silkworm works
And spins till it can fly,
And thou, my soul, wilt still
On thine old earth-clod lie?

Should seem on earth Should seem too long for thee, on thou to God, and tire, Time free, eternally.

lits all right to have a barge man across Florida, several of hom if necessary, but why not mild the pipeline and have the all moving before the blueprints for the cannel can dry?

Army Commissions

At long last our brilliant Congressional military strategists have decided to leave with the War Department the question of how to secure officer material for the six million man Army it is now in the process of raising. Certain Congressmen had objected strenuously to the practice of giving commissions to civilians without previous military experience.

Our great Congressional leaders seemed to think that only those who had worked up from the ranks should get commissions. It never seems to have occurred to them that while this might be an excellent practice if there were yet time to do it, even the best men cannot work up from the ranks in the few months now available to do it and that it was Congress itself which prevented the War All abituary notices, eards of shanks resolutions and notices of Department years ago from inaugurating just such a prosolution in the parameter of case of training.

Training funds will be charged for the resolution of the case of training.

Perhaps it would be better if commissions for such men could be held up until they have been given a little military training, at least until they learn which hand to salute with, but there isn't time. The Army needs these men and it needs them whether they know anything about military tacties or not.

As for combat troops, very few civilians, if any, get a chance to lead men into battle unless they have had previous military training.

Russian Discipline

A story is told about the visit of a British ship to Russian waters. At the Soviet dinner the abused admiral got drunk and abused his English guests. The incident was quickly closed, the admiral was obviously drunk, and the British took no notice. The next day, however, he had disappeared, only to be found not long after scrubbing the decks as a common sailor. One of the English officers commiserated with him, explaining that the alliance had not been in any danger by what had been regarded as a mere alip at a convival party. The admiral replied, "Oh, it's all right. It is what I deserve for being stupid. I am allowed to work my way up to the top again in seven years."—The New Statesman and Nation.

Goes to Work for Uncle Sam

The best bread package in America! That's what the judges of the 1941 All-America Package Competition proclaimed Southern TWIN-PACK Bread when they selected it from 20,000 entries and awarded it FIRST PRIZE in the Bakery Products Division.

NO HIGHER HONOR CAN COMB TO ANY PACKAGE

And now TWIN-PACK goes to work for Uncle Sam. Why? Because of the war emergency the government has suggested that bakers conserve waxed paper. Although this is not a law, the Bukers of Southern Bread, of their own accord, are cooperating at once by eliminating all double wrapping. This means that the exclusive, prize-winning, patented TWIN-PACK feature has "enlisted" for the duration.

each loaf is now enriched with an extra amount of needed vitamins and minerals to provide better nutrition so urgently needed to meet the present emergency.

The Bakers of Southern Bread realized the need for better nutrition eight years ago when they were the first bakers in Dixie to introduce bread enriched with vitamine. This important trend has been steadily growing. Recently Government Agencies recommended that all white bread be enriched. In quick cooperation with our government the Bakers of Southern Bread are now making not one - but three different ENRICHED loaves. And each loaf is immediately identified by the brand name "Southern" and the word "EN-RICHED" on every wrapper.
