Dust Is Studied For Use As Fuel

ELRING, Germany, Nov. 13. (AP)—Dust and powdered grasshoppers soon may serve the Fatherland as motor fuel.

German scientists and engineers wrestling with the problem of using dust, waste, residues and even ground insects in motors have just received word that experiments of Dr. E. Wahl, of the Schickau shipyard, with dust combustion engines are nearing success.

One of the main obstacles of dust as fuel—the heavy wear and tear on the motor by grinding ashes—has been successfully overcome, declares Dr. Wahl. He says the Schickau company has developed a metal alloy which is harder than any known steel and therefore suitable for a motor designed to run on dust.

Previous attempts with dust combustion motors failed, explains Dr. Wahl, because usually after 50 hours trial run the cylinders and pistons were worn to pieces by the grinding effects of the extremely hard residue of burnt dust.

The new metal alloy, however, withstands the hardest grinding, he says, citing that only 1-700 of a millimeter was ground off the cylinder walls of a motor made of the new metal during a test of 150 hours.

The experiments are part of the nation's four-year plan to achieve economic self-sufficiency.

Dr. Wahl says his "dust motor" is not much bigger than an ordinary motorcycle engine, but declines to divulge further details, except to say that it runs on almost every kind of properly powdered dust, such as that of brown coal, hard coal, saw dust, remnants of grain, beech nuts, copra, cocoa powder, rice, hay and even ground grasshoppers.

Thousands Are Idle As Result 'Of Sitdowns'

3 Goodyear Plants With 12,000 Workers Shut Down Following 'Sit-Down' Strike

General Motors, Fisher Body Hit

Few Hundred Sitdown Strikers In Pontiac Lose Work For 14,721

AKRON, Ohio, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Twelve thousand Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company employes were idle today as the result of a "sit-down" precipitated by a scheduled layoff of 1,000 workers.

Operations were suspended in three plants of the largest of Akron's big three rubber companies.

John Hines, president of the Goodyear local, United Rubber Workers of America, called a union meeting for Sunday to consider the "sitdowns."

A few hundred men whose sit-down strike in the Fisher plant in Pontiac closed two automotive factories employing 34,721.

Company officials said that neither the Fisher plant nor the Pontiac Motor Company plant would reopen before Monday.

B. P. Fisher, general manager of the Fisher plant, said that General Motors, attributed the strike to "radical mismanagement" and described it as a "flagrant and lawless violation of the agreement between General Motors Corporation and the U. A. W."

The strike was the third in a General Motors plant since U. A. W. delegates last Sunday rejected a proposed new agreement with the corporation.

Richard T. Frankenstein, assistant president of the international union, said that "General Motors could have prevented all of this trouble by offering the union a sufficiently decent contract."

The strike began last night in the Fisher plant, a few hours after E. H. Lederer, plant manager, had insisted in conference with union representatives upon the suspension of four men whom he described as instigators of a 12-hour strike that began Monday night.

A. F. Of L. Leader Killed In Minneapolis Labor War

Anonymous Telephone Call Gives Warning, Promises That Two More Are Slated To Go Before Score Is Settled

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 18.—(AP)—An anonymous telephone call that "two more are to go" led police last night to fear that the slayers of Patrick J. Corcoran, secretary-treasurer of the powerful teamsters council, had marked other Twin City labor leaders for death.

Corcoran, five years prominent in Northwest labor circles, was shot once behind the left ear Wednesday night, apparently while making a desperate effort to escape his assassin.

Rev. Bram Talks 50,000 Nimrods On Book Reading In Florida Are At Seminole High Ready For Woods

Fruitful Thinking Is Hunting Season Opens Acquired By Good Reading, It Is Said

Declaring that what a man thinks is stronger than what he can do, the Rev. Martin Bram, pastor of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, told the students of Seminole High School in their chapel program, celebrating National Book Week yesterday that this fruitful thinking may be acquired through reading good books.

"A great many people think a book is just something to have on the shelf," he said, "but it is a book that is read that counts. It is a book that is read that counts. It is a book that is read that counts."

The students in the poster contest in recognition of National Book Week were also announced during the chapel program, Mr. McKay reported.

They were as follows: First place "Lost Horizon" by Franklin D. Bournon; second, "Moxie" by Anne Wright; third, "Moxie" by Anne Wright; fourth, "Moxie" by Anne Wright.

Lottery Probe Is Continued By Grand Jury

Baptists Commend Investigation Of Lottery Racket Here; Deputy Tate Resigns

The Grand Jury reconvened today to delve further into gambling operations in this section. However, no indictments could be returned today because of the absence of Circuit Judge Willard E. Smith who will not be here until Monday, at which time it is expected, the Grand Jury's report will be made.

Today there was a continuation of the questioning of witnesses known to be connected with the "bolita" racket in Sanford and Seminole County, although Court attachés and other officials remained non-committal as to the proceedings of the jurors and as to the possibility of indictments against any of the "bolita kings."

The following resolution was passed by the Board of Deacons of the First Baptist Church last night, a copy of which was read before the jurors in their session this morning:

"It has come to the attention of the Board of Deacons of the First Baptist Church of Sanford, Florida, that the Grand Jury, now in session, is taking steps to curb the gambling and lottery rackets in this community."

Foreign Minister Delbos Says Next Step Is Up To The League Of Nations

Japs Continue Gains In China

British Viscount Is Hitler Guest To Discuss Colonies

Foreign Minister Delbos today told the French Chamber of Deputies that the Brussels Conference had failed to mediate the Chinese-Japanese war. "Conciliation collapsed" was his terse summary of what happened.

In China today Japanese armies cracked the southern wing of China's new defense line protecting Nanking. Powerful blows were struck at the central and northern sectors of this line.

Bravely across the Shanghai peninsula some 40 miles inland from the captured city, Japanese troops advanced to within three miles of Soochow, the pivotal city of Chinese defense, and threatened to continue the march on Nanking, China's capital.

At Brussels, Japanese circles warned that Japan would block the Chinese coast against ships of nations that might try to help China with war materials. They said any action by the Brussels conference to accede to China's plea for aid would be regarded as a hostile act.

A Japanese spokesman declared there was "considerable action on the front west of Shanghai. He made no claims of new territory, however, apparently bearing out Chinese assertions that they were preventing an immediate frontal attack on Soochow, a pivotal point on the "Hindenburg line" 50 miles west of Shanghai.

Neither of the men were arrested but the case is pending in court.

Eyston Sets New World Record Of 311 Miles An Hour

Sir Malcolm's Record Beaten By Over 10 Miles Per Hour

HONNEVILLE HAIT PLATE, Utah, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Captain George Eyston of England today set a new world land speed record of 311.42 miles an hour.

He flashed through the measured mile and back in the "Thunderbolt," a 24 cylinder racing giant for an average of 11.56 seconds.

Eyston's speed, the fastest man has ever traveled in an automobile, exceeded Sir Malcolm Campbell's record of 301.1293 miles per hour by a wide margin. Campbell made his record here in September, 1935.

Eyston, a thin, scholarly man of 40 who retired from the British army several years ago, clipped the northwest mile in 11.79 seconds for an average speed of 265.54 miles an hour and then sped back in 11.23 seconds for speed of 317.74 miles an hour. The average for the two ways gave him a new record.

Farmers Grange Against Federal Wage-Hour Bill

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 19.—(AP)—The National Grange Convention put its foot down firmly on enactment of the Black-Cannery wages and hours bill yesterday and asked fair consideration for agriculture in negotiation of reciprocal trade agreements.

In adopting a resolution disapproving the wages and hours bill, which already had been passed by the Senate and is pending in the House, the stand was taken that it would be detrimental to labor and industry, as well as agriculture.

The grangers saw little, if any good in the bill and set forth their reasons.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1937

Millionaire's yacht is already being the St. Johns River to some extent. How many more would it be if they could get through the Indian River without going back to Jacksonville?

With the present price of wheat, says the Hartford Courant, "economic housewives are being plagues smothered in death." Not smothered, man, smothered.

No doubt there will be a lot of "musty" legislation sent down to Congress during this special session, but judging from the way the boys are getting started it will be "musty" legislation before they are through with it.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, says it may be necessary to levy a sales tax. That's one way of convincing the public you can't take a white rabbit out of a hat without putting one in.

Romer has it that Mark Wilcox and Pepper won't be the only candidates in next year's senatorial race. A man by the name of Finley Moore who hails from Gov. Cone's home town of Lake City is reported about to jump in and let the chips fall where they will.

Some congressman is asking for a Constitutional amendment making it necessary to hold a national referendum before a bill could be declared. If they do that, there won't ever be any more... at least not until the Jews are knocking at the door of the White House.

Claude Pepper was so sure that no one was going to run against him a few weeks ago and he was so voluble in expressing that certainty, that some of his friends are having a lot of fun these days at his expense since Mark Wilcox has tossed his hat into the ring. It seems that Mark canvassed the situation and found it not wanting.

Congress debates the anti-lynching bill while business lags throughout the country. Called in special session to do something to aid business, senators debate the wisdom of federal penalties for local crimes. Passage of the anti-lynching bill, unfortunately, won't help business, nor will it stop lynching.

In Philadelphia the other day a policeman almost fainted as he gazed at the ghastly spectacle of a truck driver staggering from his wrecked machine with his face, hands and clothes literally covered with blood. Closer investigation, however, revealed that the blood was tomato catsup which the driver was carrying in his truck.

An officer on board a battleship was drilling his men: "I want every man to lie on his back, put his legs in the air, and move them as if he were riding a bicycle," he explained. "Now begin!"

After a short effort, one of the men asked, "Why have you been kidding me?" "I asked the others if you please, Bor," was the reply. "Oh, my son!"—Orlando Sentinel.

We have been charged with being too critical in some of our comments and paragraphs. We submit that a business man who sticks his head off to get to the office to keep his business going, and is harassed by a lot of state and federal bureau men who are trying to take it away from him to give to some one else, has a right to be critical of those who are coming to him with their demands. The only way he would be to let them go and go on government...

The Lynching Bill

Biggest issue in Congress, it appears from early oratorical-flourishes, is the anti-lynching bill to which the Senate has devoted the first full week of its special session. A strong group of eastern senators has been trying to cram this bill down the necks of Southern senators with the intention, so it is said, of helping to clean up the South's back yard.

While it could be argued that the New England senators would do well to devote their attention to their own trash cans, still we believe that substantial opposition to the bill can be successfully maintained on the strength of the theory that this particular measure instead of helping to reduce lynching in the South may actually increase it, and that under any circumstances it will have no beneficial results.

The anti-lynching bill provides that any county in which a lynching occurs shall be fined $10,000 and that any sheriff from whom a prisoner is taken and later lynched shall be criminally liable. In the event of such a lynching the county commissioners of the county in which the lynching occurred would be required by federal law to include in their budget this item of $10,000 and collect the necessary taxes for it from the local taxpayers.

Overlooking the fact that there is no constitutional right given the federal government for fining any city, county, or state, regardless of what it does, and that the federal government has no more power to fine a county, than a county has to fine the federal government, we get considerable amusement in speculating on just what would happen if such a bill finally were enacted into law and a subversive Supreme Court allowed it to stick.

Suppose, for instance, that there were a peculiarly vicious crime committed in Seminole County, and a mob were organized for the purpose of lynching the prisoner. Then suppose the taxpayers, aware of the penalties for such an offense and reluctant to pay the fine even under the exigencies of the emergency, finally succeeded in talking the mob into a fair consideration of their pocketbooks, and got them to disperse and go home.

But then suppose that a crowd in Orange county heard about it and decided that such a crime should not go unpunished any longer than it takes to stretch a rope, and aware of the fact that it would be Seminole County taxpayers under any circumstances who would have to pay the fine, got together, came over here, seized the prisoner, and lynched him. Seminole County citizens would be assessed a $10,000 fine just the same even though they did everything they could to prevent the lynching.

And the next time a peculiarly heinous crime occurred in Seminole County, what influence would the taxpayers then have in talking the mob out of hanging the prisoner? There would probably be some sort of agreement reached very shortly whereby Seminole County's prisoners would be taken over to Orange county and strung up there. Then Orange county citizens would have to pay the fine.

There are wonderful possibilities in this federal control of the lynching evil. We can envision all sorts of eventualities from the government's well meaning but ill considered plans to police the South.

Ezekiel Arrives

That Mrs. Elvira Garner's "Ezekiel" would be a huge success was clearly apparent from the first reading of the manuscript, that is now a best seller and one of the outstanding books of the year is rapidly becoming none the less evident. The first printing of 10,000 copies was sold out almost before publication. It is now in its second publication and these are going like wildfire.

Literary critics are saying of it everywhere that it is one of the year's best. William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of English Literature at Yale University, says he is including it in his list of "ten best," and adds, "If 'Ezekiel' is a children's book it is the best one I have seen this year; and if it is not a children's book, it is still one of the best I have seen this year."

My Lambertson Becker, in the New York Herald Tribune, also thinks "Ezekiel" is a book which appeals equally to all ages. "Ezekiel" is one of those stories," she writes, "that appeal to anyone with a streak of childhood left in him. It is amusing and gay... but it gives me more than amusement. My advice is to read 'Ezekiel' for your own sake; if a child listens in, so much the better."

Other comments from the critics include one from Ellen Lewis Buell, who says, "Here is as blithe a little book as the world has seen in a long time... the chronicle of a dark little Don Quixote. It is a book to be read and remembered with genuine pleasure," and from Constance Lindsay Skinner, who writes, "'Ezekiel' has been read with rapture! What a love of a book!"

Mary Ellen Chase says, "I have found it perfectly charming. Indeed I do not know when I have read a book for children or adults with such complete pleasure," and Irene Smith of the Brooklyn Public Library writes, "An irresistible book, soon to be well known and greatly loved by both children and grown-ups," while Charles J. Finger exclaims, "Glory be! A Joel Chandler Harris redivivus!"

These expressions are from some of the foremost literary critics in the country. Their appraisals of "Ezekiel" are perhaps the highest tributes which could be paid to it, unless it be that of the thousands of little boys and girls all over the country who are beginning to ask their parents where Sanford is and to please read them just one more story before they have to go to bed.

A. F. Of L. Leader Killed In Labor War

Police, meanwhile, had received information that several others also were under threat of death.

Alderman A. G. Basile disclosed he had turned over to investigators the names of the five labor leaders sometime ago and had asked that they "keep a close watch on everything."

He named Grant, Vince and Miles Dunn, brothers who led the bloody strikes of 1923, Bill Brown, another drivers' union official, and Corcoran.

gation on the bitter struggle for supremacy on the northwest labor front.

The A. F. of L. teamsters who Corcoran led have been a center of the controversy. They were said to number 12,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Cletton Mohr, neighbors of the Corcorans, supplied police with their only tangible clue in identity of the teamsters.

They said they saw two heavy-set men, of medium height, wearing jackets and cloth caps flee from the vicinity of Corcoran's home between 9 and 10 P. M., about the hour he was being shot. They said they also heard what might have been shots just before the men ran under an arc light.

Anglo-American Trade Pact Seen Fascist Detour

Offset To Effect Of Rome-Berlin Axis Is Result Of Treaty

LONDON, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Great Britain has persuaded her dominions to make broad tariff concessions for an Anglo-United States trade pact by arguing that such an agreement will be construed abroad as a "united democratic front" against totalitarian regimes. It was reliably learned last night.

The government, it was said, brought strong pressure upon the dominions to bring about concessions and early support for the pact in a belief that the "moral and psychological" effects of a reciprocal agreement would far outweigh any trade advantages or disadvantages.

Following formal announcement in Washington and London yesterday that negotiations are about to start on a reciprocal treaty British financial quarters said that actual conclusion of the pact probably will come before next Spring.

The British Government, although refusing to make an open admission of the fact, is known to hold the view that a commercial treaty between the two powers will serve as a caution to Europe's dictators. Viscount Thorne, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, said in a speech a few hours after the announcement that the activities of these dictators have brought the United States and British closer together than at any time in years.

It was considered significant in financial and trade circles that the almost eager concessions by the dominions came at a time when the British Empire is being seriously disturbed by the war in China, the German-Italian-Japanese pact against communism, unrest in Central Europe and Mediterranean suspicions.

When dominions representatives gathered in London last May their opposition—particularly that of Canada, Australia and New Zealand—in any weakening of their trade preferences under the Ottawa agreement was so strong that it appeared that the drafting of a British-United States trade treaty might be indefinitely delayed.

Since then their attitude has changed almost completely and financial observers believed that, in view of yesterday's announcements, the broad lines of the pact already have been decided upon.

Although there has been no official intimation of the lines of the agreement it is expected to provide for British tariff concessions on American agricultural products and U. S. concessions on British manufactured and partly-manufactured goods.

The actual negotiations with the United States will be made difficult by the fact that the balance of Anglo-United States trade strongly favors the United States.

During the year 1936 British exports to the United States totaled $138,145,000 while the United States shipped $466,500,000 in goods and produce to Great Britain.

Negotiations of the pact, observers say, will accomplish the following:

- 1. Bring the world's two wealthiest democracies together on a mutually beneficial economic ground.
- 2. Strengthen their political ties and possibly lead to unite them in future international crisis.
- 3. Present other nations with the most powerful commercial and monetary bloc in history.
- 4. Pave the way for permanent establishment of the United States tariff policy on a trade treaty basis.

Dionne Quintuplets Grow Skeptical of Real Santa Claus

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—There are some Santa Claus skeptics among the Dionne quintuplets now, so this year Santa had better watch his step.

Dr. Allan R. Dafoe said yesterday he believed one or two of the sisters "have a little doubt" about Santa, because last Christmas they pulled off his whiskers, and thought they recognized him. "Oh, no they still believe in Santa," said one of the "advisers" usually present at an interview about the quintuplets. Dr. Dafoe didn't say anything more after that.

Anyway, big plans for Christmas are underway in quintland—not the least of them the dinner for Mama and Papa Dionne and their 11 children, to be served at the five sisters' nursery.

Dr. Dafoe here for a few days' vacation, also said the quintuplets have a half million dollars in liquid assets. Get a great "kick" out of using a hammer and nails. Call him "Docteur Dafoe." Like to tell the story of Jesus. "Hello" was the first English word they learned to say.

It may be 10 years or more before the quints become millionaires, for their expenses, Dr. Dafoe said, will be greater from now on.

Today they're not only self-supporting—and it costs from $1600 to $1800 to maintain them, their nursery and staff—but they contribute $100 a month to their family and have that tidy half million in bonds.

The funny part of it is that money—even a shiny new dime—doesn't interest them at all.

FERN PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson MacFadden, and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kreh, of Pittsburgh, Pa. stopped for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Geisler. After a tour of Florida, they will go on to Cuba.

Mrs. Ada Mundorff entertained six of her friends at tea on Tuesday afternoon.

The Home Economics class of Lyman School, under the direction of Miss Mae Blair, gave a party at Sanlando Springs on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Newport Merrill of "Thimble Cottage" have gone to Cuba for a short vacation.

Mrs. Harry Selke suffered a painful head injury this week. A branch from the tree on which she was swinging, fell, and six stitches were necessary to close the gash.

Mrs. Gordon Barnett spent last Sunday visiting her husband who is a patient at Bay Pines Hospital, St. Petersburg, Fla.

WATT GETS COURT POST

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Nov. 18.—Hansell Watt of this city, has been named deputy clerk of the Thomasville District Federal Court, with headquarters in this city. It has been announced. Mr. Watt will take office at the present term of the court. The appointment came through George F. White of Macon, clerk of the court.

PALMY DAYS ARE GONE for New York racketeer Isidore "Boss" Thomas Dewey, recently elected district attorney for the metropolis. The gang buster is shown here helping himself to a banana in Bermuda where he rested after a strenuous campaign and prepared to take over his new job January 1.

Forbidden Zones Throat Europe Hamper Aviation

Ports, Arm Factories And Many Other Areas Restricted

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—"Forbidden zones" are the aviator's bane in Europe today, and are to the aviator's what the mine is to the miner. Each country now has its list of areas closed to ordinary flying—on penalty, in some cases, of being shot down. The forbidden areas include military fortifications, munitions factories and dumps, military camps and airfields, and large manufacturing centers. International frontiers especially are restricted. Where not to fly are indicated across international frontiers in narrow "air lanes."

 It's a natural consequence—all these aerial traffic rules—of a resumed Europe where suspicion runs high and where military secrets must be safeguarded from aerial photography.
 Military planes police these closed areas in some instances. Ground crews with high-powered glasses and "electric ears" do the rest. Penalties include heavy fines—and imprisonment. And aviators go miles out of their way, in seeking a destination, to avoid these prohibited areas.

France provides a good example of how severe the restrictions on flying have become. The French frontier is marked with forbidden zones (notably the famous Maginot line of fortifications). Only three narrow passages, in part only four miles wide, are open to planes along the 250 miles of French-German border.
 The French-Italian border also is heavily restricted to aviation, there being but one small passageway—three miles wide—at Modane. The Franco-Belgium border has four routes over which planes may fly, and the short Franco-Luxembourg border is entirely blocked off. The boundary line with Spain is closed except for a three-mile stretch at the western end and a mile-and-a-half stretch at the eastern end.
 Central and Eastern Europe has become a jigsaw puzzle for the aviator. Not only must he watch his maps with their "marked out" areas but bulletin boards as well for daily announcements of "artillery and anti-aircraft practice."
 The Czech, Hungarian, Yugoslav and Italian borders are closed to casual flying and aviators may cross these borders only at indicated places. Along the Czech and Hungarian borders aviators must keep within a five-kilometer lane; along Yugoslav and Italian borders, within a two-kilometer lane.
 Austria-German and Austria-Swiss borders are open. Germany, however, has a large number of prohibited zones, particularly along the North Sea and Baltic coasts, where new fortifications have been constructed. One of the largest of the "fired prohibited zones," into which no airplane is permitted to penetrate without permission of the military authorities, is just west of the Polish-German border, opposite Poznan. Another large zone is in Czechoslovakia, west of Pilsen.

 Britain is comparatively free at the moment of regulations of this kind. Until recently seven naval bases and two other ports were listed as prohibited areas over which aircraft might not fly at a height of less than 5,000 feet. This prohibition has now been abolished and today means over which flying at any height is banned, have been established. These areas are just large. Low flying is prohibited over a number of so-called "sensitive" areas.
 Visitors from the United States spent an estimated $2,000,000 in trips to Bermuda during the last year.

We are happy to announce the addition to our staff of Mr. Carlton Mercer who is a factory trained lubrication expert.

Theatrical Agent Shows Girls How To Get Their Man

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Feature Service Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Do you want to know how to steal the show in any drawing room? Let Vincenza Minnelli, young theatrical producer, who has coached scores of stage beauties in Hollywood and New York, tell you how.

First, the way to dress: Red is a good color for concealing, he says, but a red hat, bag or handkerchief will do you more good than a whole red outfit. Don't wear a red dress unless you think your rival's charms are greater than yours—and then don't wear it often.

Black or white set a woman off to better advantage. Blue in any shade is sure-fire. Green is a hazard among strangers, for too many men dislike it.

If you want to appear fragile and appealing, wear a dress half a size too large.

Don't wear shoes too small. You can't get them small enough to change the appearance of your foot; they will only make you unhappy and ill-at-ease.

Wear something glittery—a sequin jacket or beaded belt. An audience or group is like a baby. Whatever flashes catches its eye.

Wear a becoming hat, if you want to attract a man.

Now, here are the Minnelli rules for that sweeping-all-before-you entrance:

Walk into a room as if you owned it, with your head held proudly and high. That means an air of self-possession, but not of snobbishness.

Walk slowly and gracefully, if you don't know how, learn by walking around a room and up and down stairs. Balance a book on your head. Check the District did it, so you should be willing.

Pause an instant at the door, get your bearings and then go directly to some spot. Never waver.

Be sure your hat, hair and make-up are perfect before you enter. Don't touch them afterward.

After you arrive look pleasant and natural and keep your hands as quiet as possible. Don't pose.

If you have a rival in the room, don't go to an opposite corner. Stand near her and steal her thunder. It will give you more satisfaction.

If she's as suave and well dressed as you are and you feel the scene slipping from you—here is some extra ammunition: Stand perfectly still. In a moving group of people, nothing is so compelling as one quiet figure.

Lower your voice. When the others see your conversation partner bending attentively to catch your words, they will think you must be fascinating, even if you are only talking about the weather.

Hold something attractive in your hands—a flower or a compact that catches the light—and let it flash when your rival moves or speaks.

TOMATOES BEING SHIPPED FROM PERCE, Nov. 13.
St. Lucie County's winter tomato crop is now being harvested, two carloads having gone forward. While the flood rains of last month will reduce the normal production considerably, it is estimated that 175 to 200 cars will be shipped during the season.

Operations are expected to show a decided pickup this week and harvesting should be well under way, after another week.

Harvesting of the cucumber crop is also scheduled to start this week. A season shipment of around 75 cars is expected.

STRIKERS GO TO JAIL — WITH MUSIC

To the accompaniment of banjos and guitars, 85 striking foundry workers made their cells ring with their singing in the county jail at Cleveland, Tenn. They voluntarily went to jail rather than make bonds on contempt of court citations for alleged violations of an injunction by the foundry employing them. The boys are shown tuning up for a tune.

City And County Praise His Work

Church Membership Grows From 135 To 650 In 25 Years

Twelve local civic and religious organizations joined today in tributes to Dr. E. D. Brownlee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as he nears the 25th mile post of his service to Sanford. It was on Jan. 1, 1913 that Dr. Brownlee took over the pastorate of the local Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Brownlee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, as he nears the 25th mile post of his service to Sanford. It was on Jan. 1, 1913 that Dr. Brownlee took over the pastorate of the local Presbyterian Church.

During his pastorate here, the membership of the church has grown from 135 to 650, while more than 1,185 persons have united with the church during this period. A new church has been built and paid for at a cost of $5,000, as well as a manse, valued at $9,000, on which only a small amount of indebtedness remains.

Advertise Old Goods And Help Business

The exchange of commodities is what is commonly known as business. When this exchange is rapid, business is said to be good; when it is slow, business is bad.

The automobile dealer can't sell many new cars unless he finds a buyer for the customer's old car. A man in the market for a new radio or a new refrigerator can hardly be sold unless some disposition can be made of the old one.

The best way to speed up the exchange of used goods and thereby using the economic blood stream is to advertise in the classified section of The Sanford Herald.

Frost Is Seen Over Central Areas Tonight

Cold Wave Sweeps On To South And East, Bringing Freezing Weather To Florida

A cold wave moved eastward across northern Florida, bringing chilling winds and a prediction of killing frost. The Weather Bureau forecast temperature as low as 23 to 25 degrees in the northern part of the state tonight and warned that killing frost may extend as far down into the peninsula as the upper sections of the Everglades.

Florida and the extreme northwest of Florida experienced a cold wave last night, Jacksonville, Central Florida and even the area around Lake Okechobee were warned to expect much colder weather tonight and tomorrow morning.

It was the first hard freeze of the year and it wiped the southern states from Texas to the Atlantic seaboard. Snow sifted over the upper Mississippi valley southwest to St. Louis and eastward to New York.

Light snow fell as far south as Atlanta. The heaviest fall in the South was five inches at Flatport, W. Va.

The Weather Bureau predicted fair and colder, with a cold wave in the central portion tonight, and temperatures 23 to 25 degrees, with killing frost in the extreme north, about freezing frost in the central portion, and possibly frost in the mucklands of the Okechobee region; Sunday fair, continued cold. Extreme northwest Florida; fair and colder in east portion, temperatures ranging 23 degrees, 21 to 23 degrees on coast, frost tonight, Sunday fair and continued cold.

Plans Are Made For Biggest Year At Local Market

Michael Reports All Is Ready To Accommodate Farm Sales

Extensive preparations for what is expected to be the largest season since the opening of the Sanford State Farmer's Wholesale Market are nearly completed, according to J. G. Michael, manager of the market.

Although the season is just beginning buyers are beginning to patronize the market regularly, although there is only a small amount of locally grown produce brought in for sale at present, it was pointed out.

In order that the operations of the market may be handled more efficiently during the coming season, the Supervisory Committee have adopted a number of regulations applying mainly to traffic at the market which will become effective today.

All automobiles must be parked on the east side of the market, with the exception of dealer's vehicles which may be parked at their stalls.

Trucks must be parked on the truck parking lot located on the north side of the market platform. Buyers trucks enter the market grounds free unless bringing merchandise to sell in this case they pay the regular per load fee.

Transferring loads from one truck to another may be done only on the truck parking lot. All merchandise entering the market for sale will be charged a per load fee at the gate, providing that such merchandise does not belong to a dealer on the market or is destined directly to a dealer on the market, in which case the load must go directly to the dealer's stall.

There will be only one entrance to the market, namely the north side of the platform, and the exit will be on the south side of the platform.

Schmah Appeals For Conservation Of State Forests

Michael Reports All Is Ready To Accommodate Farm Sales

Conservation of the forests of Florida through a more economical utilization of timber in the construction of containers in which Florida grown produce is shipped to market, was the principal topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the Seminole County Agricultural Association, Gus Schmah, president, stated yesterday afternoon.

The tremendous waste incurred through the construction of the "perfect container," which meets the present demands at the present time, is a threat to the existence of one of this state's greatest natural assets, Mr. Schmah said, adding that at the present time better materials were used in these containers which were burned after use.

Members of the association went on record as opposed to the use of the best of the state's timber for the short-lived container, when a container of a much inferior quality could be constructed which would serve as satisfactorily and thereby conserve the highest grades for more permanent uses.

At the present time approximately 23 percent of all timber brought to the crate mills is discarded, the Agriculture Association President stated, adding that if the lumber is off-color or contains small knots it is thrown on the trash heap.

The celery industry alone uses approximately 900 carloads of timber annually besides the timber used in containers made for all the other Florida grown products, including citrus and other vegetables, Mr. Schmah stated, pointing out, in view of these figures, the extent of the present annual waste.

This practice is not only a threat to the forests of the State, Mr. Schmah said, but also reverts to the grower who must pay an estimated 5 per cent additional for the "perfect container" which serves only to attract the fancy of the buyers at the market terminals, and cannot in any respect improve the quality of its contents.

The Agricultural Association, Mr. Schmah asserted, plans to take the initiative in a campaign to reduce the enormous waste which, he said, will not only conserve forests but will result in a savings for the growers.

At the meeting in the High School Thursday night Dr. R. W. Sprague both and Dr. W. B. Shippey, both members of the Bureau of Entomology here, appeared before the congregation of farmers and expressed their desire to cooperate in every possible respect in their work for the common good of all. They welcomed those at the meeting to their experimental station where they may secure first hand knowledge of their work.

Celery Feds Lose To St. Augustine By 20 To 7 Score

Led By Larry Tutten Saints Score Three Touchdowns To One

ST. AUGUSTINE, Nov. 20.—Coach Bill Ferguson's St. Augustine Mulletts pulled a surprise on a Seminole High School eleven last night and led by Larry Tutten gained a 20 to 7 victory over the Celery Feds on San Marco Field last night in the ancient city.

Tutten and Mullett back who has taken the backfield role of the former Bobbie Johnson, scored two of the St. Augustine touchdowns and the saved way for the other with several neat punts and using his right hand to sling a number of passes that were deadly to the Fed defense. During the evening, Tutten gained a total of 213 yards against the rugged Fed eleven.

The Celery Feds scored first in the early minutes of the second period as Morgan faked back and shot a beautiful 23 yard heave to Darrell Ferguson for a touchdown and Ferguson kicked the extra point from placement.

The Mulletts came back and opened with a sensational ground attack in which they went right through the Sanford defense with ease and took to the air as if it were scheduled.

Tutten started the scoring of two touchdowns in rapid fashion as he broke away for 60 yards and was nailed on the 24 yard line. Tutten then smashed over for the tally and a pass from Borum to Palmer was good for the extra point.

The rally for the second touchdown came when Captain Eugene McDaniel intercepted a Sanford pass on the Fed 30 yard line. Tutten then went over the double-stripe in three quick plays and the Mulletts took the lead.

Just before the final gun sounded, Borum went off tackle for 34 yards and a touchdown for the extra conversion point.

Sanford made four first downs during the game while Ketterling racked up a total of nine.

Mrs. J. W. Owen, formerly of Sanford, died Thursday evening at her home in Savannah, Ga.

Delinquent Taxes To Be Adjusted By City Commission

Formula Is Adopted In Meeting Last Night; Two Trucks Bought

The City Commission is now in a position to adjust all delinquent city taxes and special assessments prior to 1933, City Clerk Frank B. Lamson stated this morning.

In a special meeting of the Commissioners last night a formula for adjusting delinquent taxes was adopted by the Commissioners who announced that they had organized themselves as a Delinquent Tax Adjusting Board and that all applications would be given immediate consideration by the Board.

The Commissioners, heretofore, have postponed the adoption of a formula for adjusting taxes awaiting a decision of the State Supreme Court on the Murphy "low dollar" Tax Certificate act which provides for purchase at an auction of the delinquent certificates held by the state.

County Clerk O. P. Herndon stated today that since the Supreme Court, in its recent decision, had approved the Act in its entirety, he has again begun to receive applications for the sale of the Tax Certificates at a public auction and that probably next week he would begin delivering the Certificates previously sold at auction, which have been held up by order of the Court.

In view of the fact that property holders may pay up in date their State and County taxes at a nominal cost and also receive a "satisfactory" adjustment on delinquent city taxes and special assessments, Mr. Lamson estimated that much property in Sanford would probably be returned to the tax rolls on an active tax paying basis.

Mr. Lamson advised that all those who desire adjustment of their City taxes must fill out (Continued on page four)

Drug Rings Smashed By Treasury Raids

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Secretary Mergenstau said Treasury agents, in synchronized raids across the country, had smashed a $750,000 annual narcotic distribution ring. He added that preliminary reports showed 17 importers and large scale dealers in illicit drugs, most of them operating through the Hip Sing Chinese tong, were seized in the roundup.

Officials said seizures made previously during the course of a six months investigation indicated the narcotics handled by the syndicate had been imported from Japan, India and France.

Duvalier Pair To Hang In Nassau

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The execution of George and Willie Duvalier, sentenced to hang for a slaying during the disturbance at Great Inagua Island last August, was set today for Monday morning. The Duvaliers were convicted on Nov. 8 on charges of murdering John Munroe, a native employe of the salt works owned by the Erickson family of Swampscott, Mass.

15 Japs Seize Keystone City Without Fight

Seizure Called Most Amazing Capture In Annals Of Warfare; Not A Shot Fired

Chinese Withdrew Tired And Hungry

Capital Is Moved Inland, 750 Miles To City Of Chungking

SHANGHAI, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A Japanese army spokesman said 15 Japanese soldiers under a second lieutenant captured Soochow, the keystone of China's "Hindenburg Line" without firing a single shot. He added the fall of the city was "one of the most amazing captures of any important city in all the annals of war."

The spokesman said there was no real Chinese resistance at Soochow. He said the main Japanese force, expecting a fierce battle, was amazed to meet only small groups of apparently dazed soldiers.

He said the few Chinese soldiers in sight were looting about and made no effort to stop the Japanese. When the Japanese flag was unfurled, he added, the Chinese left the city. He explained the Chinese looked tired out and hungry.

In Nanking the Chinese government formally announced the removal of the nation's capital from here to Chungking in Szechwan province as Japan's legions surged toward this city through three gaps in the main Chinese defenses on Sunan River.

Puerto Rican Bishop Will Preach Here

The Rt. Rev. Charles Blayney Coleman, who has spent 33 years of his ministry in Cuba and Puerto Rico, will preach at the Holy-Cross Episcopal Church tomorrow at 11:30 o'clock, according to an announcement made today by the Rev. Martin Hram, pastor of the church.

Bishop Coleman is not only qualified to speak on Puerto Rico but he is a powerful exponent of the Christian faith who in reality has "budded for the land," the Rev. Hram stated. The West Indies, it was pointed out, first received Episcopal attention in 1902 and has now grown to include 12,000 baptized members and 6,000 communicants. The Episcopal Church maintains there a hospital, a diocesan relief room and three schools, and in these developments Bishop Coleman has played an important role.

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Fifty-seven persons were injured and an unidentified negro was killed in the wreck of the Norfolk and Western passenger train at a crossing over Bluestone River west of here.

Four cars, two of them baggage cars and two passenger coaches, rumbled down the bank to the edge of the river. Other coaches fell over on their sides at the side of the track. The cause of the accident was not determined.
