

Seminole High Quint Plays First Season Game Tonight Against Strong Ocala Five

Season's Opener In Ocala; Eight Men On Local Team

The inter-high school basketball season (as far as Seminole High is concerned) will open tonight with a game in Ocala between Sanford and Ocala. Eight men are going to the Marion county town, to battle for the local five, and a hard-fought contest is expected as reports are that Ocala has a strong quint this season. Coach McLucas, however, expects his lads will bring home the banner.

The first basketball game in Sanford will be on Wednesday evening of next week when Tavers will oppose Seminole High.

Tonight's game in Ocala is called for 8:15 o'clock, in the gym of the Ocala High School. Sanford men on the team in this initial basketball game of the season are Jack Purdon, center; Billy Zachary, Earl Whitten and Roy Wright, forwards; and Charles Robinson, Lester Phillips, John Morgan and Darrell Ferguson, guards.

Kentucky Teachers Defeat Tampa Meet Stetson U Tonight

The Western Kentucky teachers defeated the University of Tampa last night by a score of 40 to 18, and met Stetson University tonight in the first intercollegiate basketball game of the season in DeLand.

Coach Chester Freeman's quintet of Stetson, which made a great showing against the Florida Gators at Gainesville Tuesday night, should be in form for a thrilling exhibition of basket shooting against the Kentuckians.

The visitors on their part have a fine reputation, having been runners-up in the S. I. A. A. tournament a year ago.

The state motor vehicle department on December 10 reported collections as $50,000 ahead of last year, all of which further emphasizes the extent to which the Florida motorist is getting it.

Fifteen states will retain the same color combinations of their 1935 automobile license plates in 1936, merely reversing them as to background and numerals.

10 Races To Be Run Tonight On Longwood Track

Ten races, starting at 8:15 o'clock, have been arranged by Secretary B. R. Sherlock for tonight's card at the Longwood track of the Sanford-Ocala Kennel Club. The secretary said that the feature eight race should be one of the best of the season. This event will find Andy Beyer, Fred J. King, Lady Traffic, Sinners Chancer, Big Chance, Skinny Barney and Pearl Battery at the post seeking new honors and a place in the same cup which now is occupied by the favorite Walz King.

Guests last night included Auditor-in-Chief McGriff of the State Racing Commission. The crowd neared the 2500 mark for the eighth straight night, and Myer Goldberg, general manager of the plant, promised to maintain the same high standard of thrills and spills throughout the season.

Some People Got Big Salaries In Year, U.S. Learns

All Those Receiving Over $15,000 Are Listed In Report

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The natural curiosity of men to know how much money the other fellow is partly satisfied with the congressional disclosure of salaries paid all corporation employees in the country receiving $15,000 or more a year.

Such 12-month paychecks as $500,000 for William Randolph Hearst and $339,148.68 for Mae West were sprinkled among the 1934 salary lists made public by the House ways and means committee.

Submitted by the Treasury, as required by the 1934 revenue act, the figures covered some 8000 corporations, involving more than 18,000 paychecks.

Hundreds of corporation officials were revealed as making as much salary in one year as most men dream of accumulating in a lifetime of work. Salaries of $100,000 and more were not rare.

Small sums add up, one proof of which was that S. E. Kresge, chairman of the board of the S. E. Kresge Company, received $107,000. Another proof that nickels run into money was shown in some of the salaries Kresge paid, among them $106,368 to C. E. Van Dusen, president, and $107,000 each to C. E. Tuttle, treasurer, and R. R. Williams, vice president.

Edsel Ford, president of the motor company and generally regarded as one of the Nation's wealthiest men, was listed for only $60,000. P. E. Martin, a Ford vice president, received $107,241 and Charles E. Sorrensen, general superintendent, $103,435.

Most people who press electric light switches know Henry L. Doherty, Doherty received $100,000 from the company which bears his name.

Bing Crosby Inc., Ltd., paid Bing Crosby listed as an actor, $104,448 in 1934. The crooner received an additional $88,490 from the Crosby Productions, Inc.

The movie activities of Hank Bauer, one-time kippin of the heavyweight fighters netted him $110,446, in 1934.

Constantine Bennett drew $175,183; Charles Chaplin, $143,900 and Walt (Mickey Mouse) Disney, $61,500, all from their motion picture activities.

Other movie salaries listed for 1934 included: Pandro Berman, producer, $129,224; J. J. Conroy, $26,974; George Burns and Grace Allen, who took their $88,701 jointly; Dorothy Parker Campbell, just plain Dorothy Parker to admirers of her pithy sayings, $18,000; Claudette Colbert, $85,000; Gary Cooper, $129,667; Marjorie Dietrich, $148,000; W. C. Fields, $148,000; Miriam Hopkins, $71,145 and Sylvia Sydney, $110,538.

Col. Frank Knox of the Chicago Daily News has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States, a job which pays $75,000 a year. That is just what Colonel Knox took home in 1934.

R. R. McCormick, president and editor of the ribbit Company, Chicago, received $50,000.

Readers of smart magazines will be interested to know the Nest Publishing Co. paid Ovando Vest $49,990.

The drink at the soda fountain costs only five cents but lots of nickels added up to $75,000. W. Woodruff, president of Coca-Cola at Atlanta, Ga., a 1934 salary of $100,250.

returned to the Mayfair for another visit before going to their home in Rochester, Mr. Pigott, now retired, was an officer of the Standard Training Lithographic Company which has offices all over the United States.

U.S. Tax Yield Of Big Income Over That Of Year Ago

6.42 Percent Of Total Receipts Paid On Large Earnings

By BERNARD S. OHARA
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Tracing a rising price curve through most of the year, the 1935 bond market gave a logical response to two important fundamental influences—a plentiful supply of cheap money and accelerated business revival.

From the depression-era accumulations of investment capital, funds flowed in a widening stream into listed bonds and into new offerings, finally revived by simplified SEC registration requirements.

The huge financing operations of the government also attracted wide attention.

Treasury offerings, which found ready absorption, involved more than eight billions of dollars, including a considerable part for refunding the remaining Liberty loans and maturing Treasury issues.

The first quarter of the year was marked by uncertain trends in listed bonds, reflecting anxieties over the railroad situation and a halting pace of industrial recovery at that time.

With the advent of the broad upturn in business and trade in the summer, the market began to reflect a general rise in investment confidence.

Analysis of the performance of the various categories on the list of the New York Stock Exchange reveals that utility firms achieved the largest gain in values.

Based on The Associated Press averages, a representative group of utilities had an average gain of more than $15, per $100 of par value, from the levels of early January. In general, these firms were decidedly less sensitive to the utility holding company than were the related equities.

Industrial classifications improved slowly but consistently, and most corporate issuers were breaking factor, but as against ranges.

The action of railroad loans, particularly those of second grade, reflected periods of marked nervousness on the part of holders.

The placing of three important systems in trusteeship was a depressing factor, but as against these developments there was a powerful counter-action in the final half of the year in the form of a pronounced upturn in rail revenues generally.

Finish Paving Down Town In About 3 Weeks

Completion Date For Entire Project In Far Future, Says Engineer For WPA

Avenue Closing Rumor Refuted

All Streets Will Be Kept Open Despite Paving Operations

Believing the brick pavement on First Street through the business section of the city will be resumed Tuesday morning, and the indication is that the improvement in the downtown zone will be completed in about three weeks. The pavement has been relayed from Sanford Avenue westward to the west side of the intersection of Magnolia Avenue.

The paving crews will also resume work Tuesday on Park Avenue. It was rumored yesterday that the Avenue would be closed to traffic for 60 days, but W. S. Earle, project engineer for WPA, stated at this meeting that he wished to deny "emphatically" that Park Avenue nor any other street would be closed. It is necessary to close a block or a portion of a block at a time while the pavement is being relaid, he stated, but he declared that there are no grounds for the reports that Park Avenue would be closed.

Another rumor under the direction of Engineer Earle this week is a street closure connection with the main line on Park Avenue to the steel bridge on First Street. The main line on Park Avenue is being relaid. The bridge on Magnolia Avenue, and the crossing into the sanitary sewer and across First Street and passes down the alley by the telephone building have been closed. The sanitary sewer has received storm water heretofore, but it is believed that the improvement has installed will be appreciated by all, especially by those whose sanitary organs function properly.

Another WPA project, the agricultural experiment station on Celery Avenue, is also reported as progressing satisfactorily. Additional necessary tile was obtained and has been laid, steel posts for the green house have been set and concrete foundation walls extending three feet above the earth's surface have been poured, and construction of the building will be undertaken next week. County Engineer Tony Pritchard said today. The engineer said that window frames to replace those stolen will be manufactured locally.

Dr. E. H. Perry, director of the experimental plantings will be made at the new station on Jan. 11. He said today that he plans to plant a cover crop of clover on the six acre tract soon.

Norris Favors New Court To Pass On Law

Nebraska Republican Says Ruling Should Be Unanimous As In Murder Trials

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, proposed today to take away from the lower courts authority to decide the constitutionality of legislation, and vest it in a single court to be created, with appeals direct to the Supreme Court. Under the Norris proposal only unanimous vote could make a law unconstitutional.

Norris said: "It takes 12 men to find a man guilty of murder. I do not see why it should not take a unanimous court to find a law unconstitutional."

The recent decision of the of the Supreme Court whereby the agricultural Adjustment Act was held to be unconstitutional was by a vote of six to three.

Citing conditions throughout industrial areas, he said the "only method by which we can oppose employers' determination to profit by child labor is by ratification of the Child Labor Amendment."

Agricultural Economist Is Ordered To Washington To Discuss Farm Program Plan

Invitation To Tolley Is Considered As Of Great Significance

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Howard R. Tolley, former assistant AAA administrator, described by Administration officials as the "foremost agricultural economist" in the United States, was summoned from California today to attend the farm conference called by Secretary Wallace to discuss new plans following the AAA demise.

Tolley is also referred to as a "soil conservation wizard" and the invitation to him is considered significant because President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace and AAA Administrator Chester Davis have emphasized they consider it desirable to proceed toward production control through subsidized soil conservation. Word from the farm meeting also indicated the delegates were discussing soil conservation.

Wallace told the farmers that the Administration had summoned them because it wanted their advice, but the broad hint pointing toward soil conservation indicated New Deal belief that a foothold had been found in the Constitution for new federal control of agriculture.

The agricultural secretary also warned the farm population against obstructionists who might seek to split their forces with diverse proposals, and predicted that a 16,000,000 bale cotton crop and a 500,000,000 bushel corn surplus would be possible with good weather unless some control law were passed. The Bankhead Cotton Control Act provides for a crop production of only 10,500,000 bales. Normal corn production is 2,500,000,000 bushels.

Hoffman Asks Detention Of Dr. J.F. Condon

New Jersey Governor Wants To Question 'Jafsie' On Hauptmann Kidnap Case

Condon Leaves On Cruise To South

Ship Won't Dock Until Next Friday, Date Of Execution

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Governor Harold G. Hoffman announced today he would ask the attorney-general to detain for questioning Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh case, who sailed suddenly last night on a South American cruise. Governor Hoffman said he wanted to question "Jafsie" concerning certain features of the case.

In a series of magazine articles entitled "Jafsie tells all," Condon claims to have hit the undisclosed facts. The governor is especially anxious to obtain Condon's views on the question whether Hauptmann had a confederate.

"Condon goes so far as to write that he knew two of those involved," said the governor. "If Condon knows these things, I feel the authorities should have the information."

Hauptmann's execution is set for next Friday night. The best on which "Jafsie" sailed arrived at Cristobal, Canal Zone, that day, so it would be impossible to hear his story before the execution date.

Before the Court of Pardons met to consider Hauptmann's plea for clemency today Governor Hoffman said "I do not believe Bruno Hauptmann was the sole perpetrator of the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby. I do not believe the full ends of justice will have been served with the execution of Hauptmann." The Rev. J. Matthiesen, Hauptmann's spiritual advisor, expressed the belief that the condemned man is innocent. "If Hauptmann would have had a reliable defense lawyer at the start and if he would have asked for an interpreter during the trial, the very evidence used against him should have spoken in his favor," the minister said.

Hauptmann awaited action of the pardon court in his death cell two miles away.

Ellis H. Parker, Burlington county detective chief, who has expressed doubts regarding Hauptmann's guilt, said today he viewed "with suspicion" "Jafsie's" sudden departure from the country.

Budget Figures

The government has undertaken so many new and varied activities in recent years, and the figures representing receipts and expenditures have grown into such colossal sums that they escape the imagination of the average reader. It might be simpler to understand the President's recent budget message if the totals of billions be reduced to proportions of a single dollar.

Where the Government Dollar Goes

Table with columns: Actual mated 1934-35, Estimated 1935-36. Rows include: Interest on public debt, Retirement of public debt, National defense, Tax refunds, Veterans pensions, Other regular operations, Civilian conservation corps, Total regular expenditures, For recovery and relief, Relief (including drought aid), Public works (including WPA), Aid to agriculture, Aid to home owners, Tennessee Valley Authority, RFC (credits, deduct), Miscellaneous, Unallocated funds, Total recovery and relief, Supplemental funds, Grand total.

Where the Government Dollar Comes From

Table with columns: Actual mated 1934-35, Estimated 1935-36. Rows include: Processing taxes, Corporation income tax, Individual income tax, Back income taxes, Estate taxes, Gift taxes, Capital stock, excess profits, Alcoholic beverage taxes, Tobacco taxes, Stamp taxes, Manufacturers' excise taxes, Other internal revenue, Tariff collections, Miscellaneous, Total ordinary receipts, Taken from general fund, Borrowings, Total receipts.

It is interesting to note here that out of every dollar spent by the federal government between 30 and 40 percent is borrowed.

Running Into Trains

Thirty-seven percent of the accidents at highway-railroad grade crossings during the first six months of 1935 resulted from operators of motor vehicles crashing into the sides of trains, according to a report just issued by the Bureau of Statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Of these accidents, the report continues, "409, or 68 percent, occurred at crossings unprotected except for crossing signs, while 190, or 32 percent, occurred at crossings which were protected by safety devices at the time of the accident. Signals indicating the presence of a train were operating in 114 cases, a watchman was on duty in 65 cases, and gates were down in 11 cases.

Trains were struck back of engine, or leading car if engine was not on front end of train, in 215 cases, in the engine or leading car was struck in 209 cases. In 104 cases, or 17 percent of the total, the trains were standing, while in 486 cases, or 81 percent of the total, the trains were moving.

Fright trains were involved in 338 accidents, passenger trains in 118 accidents, and yard movements in 114 accidents. During daylight hours 46 accidents involved freight trains, 70 accidents involved passenger trains, and 30 accidents involved yard movements.

The report shows further that 145, or 24 percent of these accidents occurred during daylight, while 454, or 76 percent, occurred during the dark. In determining whether the accident should be placed under the heading "daylight" or "dark," consideration was given to the hour, the location, and the description given on the report, daylight being taken as ending one-half hour after sunset in doubtful cases.

The greatest number of accidents occurred between midnight and one o'clock. During this hour there were 64 accidents, or 10 percent of the total at night, with 17 persons being killed and 106 injured. During the previous hour there were 54 accidents, with six persons being killed and 84 injured.

Ghosts Rise In AAA Wake; Constitution Becomes Issue And G.O.P. Seeks Farm Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Several important presidential candidates are expected to be mentioned in the inaugural address which will be given in the Capitol at Washington.

The AAA situation brings home to the country, more than ever before, the question of the constitutionality of the government's power to regulate agriculture.

The Supreme Court's decision in the case of the AAA has thrown into a state of confusion which puts even the details of government finances into the center of the political campaign.

Combined, these various circumstances indicate a long and arduous congressional session, in place of the short, harmonious one they hoped for by the Administration.

The trouble and turmoil arising from the Supreme Court's rejection of AAA is not the heritage of the Democratic Administration solely.

When NRA died, those who had been sacrificing to keep it alive rejoiced, and it passed into history. The case of AAA is far different.

Months of wrangling in Congress, much agitated flying of trial balloons by candidates, and bitter divisions in the national political conventions all appear inevitable.

For the Democrats, long-range discussion of the subject seems certain to center around the question of a constitutional amendment.

It is not a question on which Mr. Roosevelt is expected to commit himself hastily, but it is one on which his friends believe he must speak plainly, now or later.

The need for a plausible Republican farm plan has been a haunting presence in the background of Republican conferences for months.

Should the Democrats advocate similar proposals, demanding attention, it is assumed that by its very terms it would give the federal government broad powers over industry as well as agriculture.

That might mean a break far more real than the present one between Mr. Roosevelt and organized business. It might determine the whole character of the campaign.

Although it was easy, listening to the President's annual message, to conclude that he had turned to the "left" finally, irrevocably and without restraint, some of the wisest political philosophers found room for doubt.

They recalled that in politics, as in war, there are two kinds of strategy. One general prefers to stand on a given line and fight.

Another relies on the art of maneuver. Up to now, Mr. Roosevelt has been a recognized master of maneuver, seeming to turn left today, and right tomorrow.

Besides, neither the annual message nor the budget message contained proposals for new legislation repugnant to business.

The security markets held firm, perhaps on the theory that "sticks and stones will break my bones, but words will never harm me."

It is what Mr. Roosevelt does, more than what he says, which will hold the interest of the country in the present situation; and the determining question may easily be what he does about a constitutional amendment.

Lindberghs Arrive In England

Political Parade Of 1936 Gets Off To Flying Start

Campaign Won't See Letup Until Count Of Votes Is Ended

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The political parade of '36 is off to a flying start, and there will be no letup until the ballots are counted in November.

Not since President Roosevelt began in January of 1932 to line up delegates to the Democratic national convention has a political year begun more auspiciously.

The White House itself set the tempo. President Roosevelt's decision to take the nation in on his annual message to Congress in a "fireside chat" literally bowled everybody over. Reverberations from that hardly had subsided before he came through again with his budget message.

The Supreme Court held the spotlight all by itself on its first decision day in January. It will continue to do so on each succeeding Monday during the present session of the court.

The Democratic national committee, meeting in the capital to choose the 1936 convention city, signalled the formal opening of the campaign to re-elect the Roosevelt Administration in November.

Important political personages were in action on a wide front. At the Jackson Day dinner in Washington, President Roosevelt held the center of the stage, speaking to a nation-wide audience. He is to speak again later in January at Philadelphia.

One of the outstanding political events of the month is to be the address which Al Smith will deliver before the American Liberty League in Washington. Already widely publicized by the refusal of the 1936 Democratic presidential nominee to accept a White House invitation during his stay in the capital, the Smith speech promises to be a banner political event.

On the Republican front the going will be just as swift.

Senator Borah will provide the biggest show when he invades the East on Jan. 28 to make a speech in New York. Much more will be known of the Idaho senator's can-

S. J. Warnock of Atlanta has opened a new store in Seminole, handling staple groceries and gasoline.

Potatoes donated by J. W. Bell of Lake Monroe and lettuce supplied by A. D. Rountree of Sanford compose a part of a vegetable display in the Florida exhibit at Rockefeller Center, New York, which recently opened for a three month showing.

Former President Hoover is scheduled to deliver an address on the West Coast the latter part of the month. About the same time Representative Hamilton Fish will take the stump in Canton, Ohio.

And all the time Congress—the greatest political arena of them all—will be in full swing.

Advertisements are a guide to value

Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics and all of the materials that make up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch... knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. Here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or the use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The product that is advertised is worthy of your confidence.

Court Grants Injunction Restraining U. S. From Using Processors' Funds

TVA And Cotton Acts Undecided

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that $200,000,000 of processing taxes impounded by the courts must be returned to the taxpayers, refused to pass on the validity of the Bankhead Cotton Act at this time, and adjourned without ruling on the constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority Act.

The tax decision did not go into whether processors had to prove they had not passed the tax on to consumers before they could recover, a main point at issue. It was handed down in a case brought by the Louisiana Rice Millers.

The result had no immediate bearing on the prospects for suits by processors to recover $120,000,000 in taxes already collected under the defunct AAA. This question remains to be fought out in the lower courts.

The decision was unanimous. The aim-judges all agreed, also, that a review of the Bankhead case, which was allowed to go on a six to three vote, was "improperly granted." Another case involving the law, filed by Georgia's Governor Talma, was also allowed to go on.
