A Man On 'His' Bridge

It's Now The Douglas Stenstrom Bridge

By JANE CASSELBERRY Herald Staff Writer

Flags waved, the Navy Band played and perspiring speakers paid tribute to Sanford son and community leader Douglas Stenstrom as the year-old Osteen Bridge was renamed in his honor today "So far as I am aware never before in the history of our

It seems, according to the acting mayor, it was their grandfather, sea captain Nels Julius Stenstrom, who on driving a herd of dairy cattle from Savannah to Sanford in 1871, arrived at the St. Johns River.

He took one look at the old Osteen Bridge, put his hand on old Bossy's head and remarked "Something's got to be one about that bridge!" "Little did the old gent dream that 107 years later his farm at the port Monday.

Total cost of the clean-up has been estimated as high as $50,000. That cost will be paid by Sazzon Oil, according to Assistant Port Administrator Dennia Dolgner. Late Wednesday night county and state fire officials lifted the restrictions placed on the 3.5-million-galloncapacity tank farm, according to Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser. The Seminole County Fire Department and the state Fire Marshal's office had placed a ban on further operation of the tank farm until the spill was cleaned up. "The blankets brought in to soak up the remainder of the spill were very effective according to the report given me," said Kaiser.

Though the cause of the spill is still officially under investigation, preliminary reports indicate the spill may have resulted when a tanker driver fell asleep while filling his truck and allowed the gasoline to overflow. The spill went into a 200 yard by four feet canal leading to the St. Johns River.

A small amount of the gasoline may have entered the river, according to Dolgner. However, most of the spill was contained in the canal when county fire fighters sprayed foam over the spill. A lightning storm Monday afternoon posed a threat of igniting the spill, according to Dolgner.

I could not continue to work, and give all of this month by City Clerk Sig Pearson, clerk-typist Connie Major. City Planner Reggie Alford and Mayor Walter Sorenson. Today it was Sorenson's turn to "slave over the books." "I don't mean to imply that we are doing the job that needs to be

She may well turn out to be right," said the mayor. Mrs. DeVine became the city's bookkeeper in November, 1975, and was appointed the city's treasurer and given those added esponsibilities in October, 1976. She resigned effective Aug. 6. "I like the work. I really enjoyed it. I love bookkeeping and dealing with finances," said Mrs. DeVine. "The workload became heavier. There were the construction projects and the grant and

WORLD IN BRIEF

Balloonists Reach France;

Lindbergh Path Bid A?

PARIS (UPI) - Three Americans who made history's first trans-Atlantic balloon flight reached France today in a bid to follow the path blazed by Charles A. Lindbergh on his historic flight to Paris half a century ago.

The three Albuquerque, N.M., businessmen - Ben Abruzzo, 48, Maxie Anderson, 44 and Larry Newman, 31 - floated over the English Channel port of Le Havre, drifted southward and radioed for hamburgers and French fries when they land.

The balloonists said they hoped the wind would carry their helium-filled Double Eagle II along the historic route of Lindbergh to Le Bourget airport just outside Paris, where excited French authorities prepared a champagne reception for them. But shifting winds threatened to thwart their efforts.

The daredevil Americans, who crossed over Ireland last night to become the first balloonists to conquer the Atlantic, were sighted over Le Havre, 100 miles northwest of Paris, at 4 p.m. (10 a.m. EDT).

Carter Moving On $ Woes

WASHINGTON (UPI)- A deeply concerned President Carter plans to move rapidly in an effort to bolster the beleaguered dollar, whose value continues to plunge on the foreign exchange markets. The dollar shot up against the yen today on the Tokyo foreign exchange market, responding to reports of Carter action.

Hua: Toast Of Bucharest

BUCHAREST, Romania (UPI)- Chinese Communist Party Chairman Hua Kuo-Feng has become the toast of Romania's capital, thanks to a few strong words of warning aimed at Moscow. Hua, first Chinese leader to travel west of Moscow, began his unprecedented trip to Europe and Iran Wednesday and started foreign diplomats and Romanians alike by abandoning the stodgy image he has projected since he replaced the late Mao Tsetung in 1876.

"I don't feel I deserve the honor, but I do very much appreciate it," said the modest honoree. "There are a world of people who have contributed somewhere along the line to make the bridge a reality on the local, state and national government levels, - private citizens and public officials who have supported the bridge project over the years. I hope everybody will be thanked that had any part

The fact that some have referred to the bridge as the "Douglas Stenstrom Memorial Bridge" does cause Stenstrom some concern.

"I just lived through it all," he observed. And, "just living through it" took some determination and tenacity on the part of Seminole County leaders in their 16-year effort. It also took courage on the part of motorists using the rickety and dangerous 50-year-old wooden bridge that the St. Johns River. In fact, it was the drowning deaths of a New Smyrna couple and three of the eight other persons in October, 1974, when their van went off the narrow bridge, that gave added impetus to the efforts to replace the antiquated structure. The bridge was the scene of many accidents, including several fatal ones.

The drive to secure a safer, more modern bridge began in 1959 when Stenstrom was a state senator as well as chairman of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's Long Range Planning Committee for the Construction of Roads and Bridges.

The Seminole chamber is now known as the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce. "We ran into all kinds of problems including money, budgeting, design and the fact the bridge crosses a navigable waterway involving the U.S. Coast Guard and U.S. Department of Roads and Bridges," said Stenstrom. Five governors - Fuller Warren, LeRoy Collins, Haydon Burns, Claude Kirk and Reubin Askew promised a new Osteen Bridge. At one point $600,000 was even allotted by the state for construction, but when agreement was not reached on the height of the span, funds were lost to another county's project.

The old State Road Department applied for permission to build the new bridge in 1966 and it took five years to obtain approval from the Corps of Engineers. The span was finally included in the Department of Transportation's 1975-76 work program and the contract for construction was given to Houdaille Duval Wright of Jacksonville Work began July 14, 1975 on the $2.62 million two-lane was opened on April 13, 1977. The 2,300-foot concrete span replaced what was thought to be the last wooden bridge in the state. The 44-foot bridge includes two 12 ft. driving lanes and a 10 ft. safety margin for each side. "This is our last road project," said Stenstrom, "except for the completion of the widening of SR 419 from Oviedo." He said the Chamber of Commerce's long range committee had previously pushed through new bridges over the Wekiva, Econlockhatchee and Mims bridges, and

Ford Pinto Sales Suffering

DETROIT (UPI) - A spokesman for the Ford Motor Co., said Wednesday new Pinto sales have suffered because of adverse publicity surrounding a number of fiery accidents involving older model Pintos. In those older models the fuel tanks were dangerously susceptible to gas leaks and explosions in rear-end collisions, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

The spokesman said newspaper ads promoting the "redesigned fuel system" in new Pintos, are intended to clear up the "widespread confusion" resulting from criticisms of the older cars. "There has never been a safety question involving 1977 and 1978 models, but a lot of people have the misconception that all Pintos are involved."

U.S. Smokes Trade Level

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anti-smoking campaigns have reduced American cigarette consumption slightly, but American cigar ettes are welcome abroad and have helped reduce the size of the U.S. balance of trade deficit.

Trade increased during 1977, particularly American exports along with world production. The Agriculture Department's Foreign Agricultural Service reported recently greater cigarette exports by the United States and the Common Market were primarily responsible for a 9 percent jump in estimated world cigarette exports to 265 billion

U.S. cigarette exports of a record 66.8 billion sticks contributed a record 8615 million to U.S. trade accounts, up 21 percent from 1977. Volume increased 9 percent and prices were up 11 percent from an average $8.30 per 1,000 to $9.20 per 1,000.

U.S. exports this calender year are forecast at about 75 billion pieces valued at $740 million to $750 million. U.S. export volume during the first four months of 1978 rose 10 percent, primarily as a result of a 48 percent increase in shipments to Iran. The largest U.S. customer is Belgium and Luxembourg but their imports of U.S. cigarettes decreased slightly in 1977 to 11.6 billion pieces. But they were still much higher than the 4.8 billion

Their sales of cigarettes are declining under price increases and switches by customers to rolling their own cigarettes and to cigarillo sales.

Iranians, who import more than 96 percent of their cigarettes from the United States, were the second largest U.S. customer in 1977 at 8.2 billion cigarettes. Hong Kong was the United State's third largest customer. They reduced imports 16 percent last year but the U.S. market share ncreased from 79 percent to 83 percent.

Spain, the Netherlands Antilles, Saudi Arabia and Japan were large customers followed by Lebanon, Ruwait, Canary Islands, Panama, United Arab Emirates, Mexico and Syria. Tobacco producers and cigarette companies had better news last year from exports than from U.S. production or domestic

Global cigarette production increased an estimated 2 percent to 4.1 trillion pieces, but the United States did not contribute to that American output decreased 4 percent from a record 1976 level to 665.8 billion pieces.

Output also decreased in West Germany, France and the United Kingdom, but that was offset by boosts in China, the Soviet Union. Japan and Brazil.

The FAS predicted world cigarette output in the current year will increase 1 percent to 2 percent. U.S. per capita consumption dropped 1 percent. Per capita consumption by persons aged 18 and older was estimated at 4,084 cigarettes, down from 4,092 in 1976. The record was 4,345 pieces in

The report said: "Government and health organizations' antismoking efforts are largely responsible for the erusion of the per-capita consumption figures.

"Intensified antismoking efforts in 1978 will likely reduce the per capita figures even more but total domestic consumption is expected to remain at about the 1977 level of 620 billion pieces.

Mr. Stenstrom's New Bridge

Today is a memorable day for an otherwise humble, quiet man.

He is being accorded a unique honor. An honor usually reserved as a posthumous gesture for a citizen who has done more than his share for his

Instead, this man, this resident of Sanford and Seminole County, has had a living memorial

The man: Douglas Stenstrom. The memorial: The Douglas Stenstrom Bridge - until today known to all as the Osteen Bridge connecting Seminole and Volusia counties across the St. Johns

It was Douglas Stenstrom who was the driving force for years behind the construction of the new bridge, a bridge designed and built to replace the old rickety structure that had been the scene of several accidents and tragedies through the years.

Mr. Stenstrom began his campaign for a new bridge in 1959 when he was both a state senator and chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce long-range planning committee. He persevered and fought all kinds of obstacles for the Finally, on July 14, 1975, the work began on the $2.62 million concrete bridge on SR 415 east of Sanford. It was opened on April 13, 1977.

Douglas Stenstrom's contributions to Sanford, Seminole County and the state of Florida are legend. We need not recount them here - except, perhaps, to recall on the local level his service as both school board attorney and counsel to Seminole Memorial Hospital.

So we join the rest of the community in sharing this great and beautiful day with Douglas Stenstrom. We add our thanks to this quiet-spoken gentleman for all he has done for his community Average to Land the Dadge to Streeting and the Called

We especially commend those members of our Seminole County legislative delegation, notably Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, for the persistent efforts in pushing through the legislature the honor we celebrate today for Mr.

Prisoner Swaps

Reported negotiations to trade two accused spies for the Soviet Union, free on bail in New Jersey, for the release from prison of Soviet Jewish dissident Anatoly Shcharansky are consistent with the U.S. stand on human rights.

The Soviet suspects' enjoying liberty while awaiting disposition of the charges against them contrasts dramatically with Shcharansky's confinement under a 13-year sentence after his conviction on trumped-up charges. Espionage is a crime in every country. Only a few governments are as repressive and intolerant of public criticism as the Russian one. Trading spies for a human rights activist is not an equal trade but it would symbolize to the world the difference between our system and the Russian system.

That would be in our national interest. And buying freedom for a man like Shcharansky would be a humane action in the best tradition of this freedom-loving country.

In the past 10 years there's been a surge of interest in native American arts and crafts. But how can you tell whether what you're getting kachina dolla, moccasina, pottery, jewelry or carved ivory — is authentic? There is a way, thanks to the 42-year-old Indian Arts and Crafts Board, run by five commissioners appointed by the secretary of the Every other year the board publishes what it calls a "source directory," listing all the native American arts and crafts businesses and operatives selling authentic goods. The latest directory - 16 pages - has just been published and it attests to the growing interest in native American arts. Contrary to expectations from a 1972 U.S.-Soviet pact, there has not been a significant expansion of two-way trade. The 1977 total came to some $1.9 billion - heavily in the American favor but, in the context of total U.S. trade for the year of $267 billion and compared to exchanges with such major partners as Canada ($55.1) billion) and Japan ($39.1 billion), scarcely on the decade ago. Terribly impressive on paper but never quite able to win big one. They come close, and they've been together quite a while now. So if Coach Bill Johnson's ever going to get them to the top, this should be the year because they've got it ail.

Nagging leg injuries have hampered Ken Anderson last couple of years but don't affect his status as one of most accurate passers in NFL. He'll carry load again, as he has for seven seasons. Has good corps of receivers, with the Curtis, returned from knee surgery, and Billy Brooks, who progressed during the's absence, supported by Pat McInally (who also punts). John McDaniel. Retirement of longitime tight end Bob Trumpy finds trio competing for vacant spot. Jim Corbett is best bet. Bengals use several waves of runners, with Archie Griffin, Pete Johnson foremost. Pickup of Mike Wilson from Canade is important to big, strong forward wall. Reting — Be dengals aren't standing still. Traded away Coy Bacon, drafted Ross Browner No. 1. Looking for him to step into 3-4 alignment at one end if he can beet out Eddie Edwards or Gary Burley, with Wilson Whitley playing nose techle. Young linebacking corps is solid, built around Jim LeClair. Bo Harris, Reggie Williams coming strong. They might miss Lemar Parris at corner and Tom Casaneva at safety if he holds to decision to retire for medical studies. But they've got young hids coming along to replace them and drafted Archie's young brother, Rey. Special leases are O.K., with Michaelty punting, Chris Bahr handling field goals. Reting — 8 e

For years now, Finley has been asking himself why it is that some people prefer watching football, basketball and hockey to bisball. The most common reason he hears is that baseball drags too much, it's not exciting enough. Charley feels he has come up with the answer to that and a possible solution as well. One of the things which make some people think baseball "drags" is the count of four balls and three strikes before a batter

Finley suggests. "The big reason football, basketball and hockey are considered more exciting than baseball is because the people in these three sports have been smart enough to balance defense with offense," Finley says. "The baseball people haven't been smart enough to "In football, you have 11 players against 11 others; in basketball, it's five against five and in hockey, it's six against six. You have perfect balance in all three of those sports, but in baseball, what have you got - nine against one. Everybedy is ganging up "What I'm saying, and have been saying for years," Finley goes on, "is give the poor batter a break. Give him first base on here balls instead of four. The result would be more action, more excitement, the game would be speeded up and there would be

West opened the king of clubs and shifted to the queen of hearts after East had followed with the deuce.

The student won with dummy's king, drew trumps and led a second club to West's ace. West won and led a third club. South discarded a heart on dummy's queen of clubs and cashed dummy's ace of hearts and paused to regroup. Finally, he led a diamond, finessed dummy's queen and was down one since he still had a heart to lose.

"What should I have

A Mississippi reader wants to know what you should lead against a four-heart contract. Needless to say, your partner has never bid.

A trump lead is called for.

September Construction Start

Sanford Aluminum Plant: The Final OK

Herald Staff Writer

After almost a year of dispute over its location Keller Industries' Sanford plant is now on its way to becoming a reality. The Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) confirmed Thursday it has issued the construction permit for the aluminum smeiting plant.

"As far as we're concerned the company can begin construction as soon as it meets all city regulations. We are satisfied they have complied with all our regulations," said Alex Senkevich DER permit, Keller senior Vice President Robert Connors said today: "We're very pleased to get the permit from DER since we believe we deserve it and have done everything that is required."

Connors added the company hopes to begin construction b September and be in operation by next March. Senkevich said once the plant has been in operation for 30 days the company and DER will conduct a test to see how much pollution is being released.

Keller officials now have to submit architectural plans to the fire department and then to the city building department.

plant, the site has been opposed by residents of the Silver Lake area. The plant is planned for a four-acre site on Cornwall Road and west of Seaboard Coast Line Railroad.

Most of the opposition to the plant stemmed from residents' concern the facility might release pollutants in its operation. These concerns were again aired last month at a workshop session at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce office Before the meeting DER officials had said they believed the ount of pollutants sent into the air would be minimal. The Silver Lake residents disagreed and the DER held the the plant will be 99 percent clean," said Chuck Collins a DER air and solid waste engineer. At the chamber of commerce meeting DER officials said a decision would be due in a couple of weeks and the residents would have the opportunity to appeal the decision and ask for a hearing. No hearing was asked for.

DER in late July sent out letters to homeowners saying the department was going to issue the permit. We checked with Tallahassee every day and no hearing was
