Government Reveals More Allied Troops Landed In Norway; Pledge Fulfilled

Warplanes Raid Stavanger Airport

Germans Say 2 More British Submarines Sunk In Skagerrack

Britain announced today her forces "now have landed" at several points in Norway while the combined might of British sea and air strength rained new blows on the German invaders.

Disclosure that troops had arrived raised the veil on how Britain intended to fulfill her pledge to the Norwegians that "ship is coming." It also explained the ferocity of Britain's sea and air raids on Germany's coastal shipping at Narvik, the British reported yesterday. German destroyers were sunk at Stavanger where British warplanes made repeated raids, and where the British landed troops. The number of troops was not disclosed officially.

Norwegian officers reaching Stavanger said the British landed 100 troops under the protection of the warships, and said the Germans had withdrawn into the interior, where they were being surrounded by British forces.

Britain said two British troops had been killed and 100 wounded. Britain said two German transports were sunk and 400 troops were killed.

Higgins Speaks To Rotarians At Weekly Luncheon

Chamber Secretary Stresses Need Of Attracting Tourists

Declaring that the Chamber of Commerce is the promotion and sales division for the city and county, Edward Higgins, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, addressing the Rotary at its weekly luncheon today, said that the chief problem at present is to stop the business which has been coming in by Seminole Boulevard and going out on Park Avenue.

"If you can get the tourists to stop," he said, "then you can go about the job of selling them your city." The best way to get them to stop, he said, is to develop you roads and beautify your city since these have the same effect as beautiful widows have for a store.

President Roosevelt Tells Pan-American Union Force Must Be Met With Force

Speaks At Group's 50th Anniversary

Tydings Says Navy Should Expand By About 25 Percent

WASHINGTON, Apr. 16. —(AP)—Terminating wars abroad "more horrible and destructive than ever," President Roosevelt today said 21 American republics could keep open the way to eventual peace "only if we are prepared to meet force with force if a challenge is ever made."

He spoke before the governing board of the Pan-American Union on observance of the organization's 50th anniversary. He proclaimed the western hemisphere determination to "live in peace and make that peace secure." He said "we of this hemisphere have no need" to seek a new international order; we already have found it.

"This was not done by hysterical outcries, or violent movements of troops. We did not stamp out nations, capture governments, or uproot innocent people from their homes, he asserted.

"What happens in the old world directly and powerfully affects the peace and well-being of the new," he added, "and it was for this very reason that we have adopted procedures that enable us to meet any eventuality."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

CROOKED MEN MAY BE MADE STRAIGHT: This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.—1 Tim. 1:16.

LOVE AGAIN BLESS (From Poetry) My life ain't nothin' But a lot o' Gawd-knows-what. I say my life ain't nothin' But a lot o' Gawd-knows-what.

When I got you I thought I had an angel-child. When I got you I thought I had an angel-child. You turned out to be a devil That mighty niga drove me wild!

Tell me, tell me What makes love such an ache and pain? Tell me, tell me What makes love such an ache and pain?

At a Euclid plant sale the other day, they sold 400 azaleas at 25 cents a piece in just 20 minutes.

Getting the news reports from Europe these days is like listening to a couple of small boys, "Is", "Tain't", "Tis", "Tain't".

If "Sockets" Coe had spoken to 2,000 people in Sanford last week, instead of 200, he'd be in the runoff sure as shootin'.

There are 100 candidates in Florida for delegate to the Democratic National Convention, 57 of whom come from the one town of Fort Myers.

Wonder if any census enumerator has managed to catch up with Mrs. Roosevelt yet. Or have they counted her every time she whizzed by?

Now it can be told, as Washington Merry-Go-Round would say, Sumner Welles told President Roosevelt there is not much hope for immediate peace in Europe.

"This isn't our war", insists Senator Norris. Let's hope he can keep it that way, better than the Norwegians could when they were refusing to allow British aid to go to the Finns.

Tomorrow is the day. Remember to come down and get your glasses. But don't all come at the same time. Yours will be held for you until you call, all day if necessary.

A year after Germany signed a treaty with Denmark agreeing not to bother the little country, the Nazis moved in. You can't believe this fellow Hitler on a stack of Mein Kampf.—Ocala Banner.

According to the latest report of the poll being conducted by the Federal Magazine, Seward Holland leads in three out of five congressional districts. Whitehead leads in the Orlando area and Patey in the Miami area.

Something of the value of tourists is shown by Karl Lehmann who says that 2,000,000 tourists spent $4,000,000 a day for four months in Florida this past winter. They spent $1,288,000 for food, $1,190,000 for amusement, $200,000 for lodging, $288,000 for travel, and $280,000 on miscellaneous items.

Information should be coming out tomorrow as to the number of automobile drivers in Florida who have had their driver's licenses revoked. The law provides that any person convicted of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, or who has been convicted of driving while his right to drive is suspended, or who has been convicted of driving while his license is annulled, shall have his license annulled.

The American Attitude

We hope everyone read in full President Roosevelt's statement on the invasion of Norway and Denmark by Germany. It represents in clear concise language the attitude of all Christian peoples that the weak have rights which should be respected the same as the strong. Here is what the President of the United States said:

"Force and military aggression are once more on the march against small nations, in this instance through the invasion of Denmark and Norway. These two nations have won and maintained during a period of many generations the respect and regard not only of the American people, but of all peoples, because of their observance of the highest standards of national and international conduct."

"The government of the United States has on the occasion of recent invasions strongly expressed its disapprobation of such unlawful exercise of force. It here reiterates, with undiminished emphasis, its point of view as expressed on those occasions. If civilization is to survive, the rights of the smaller nations to independence, to their territorial integrity, and to the unimpeded opportunity for self-government must be respected by their more powerful neighbors."

This statement is consistent with the foreign policy of the United States ever since the dictator nations first went on the march in Europe. The President is against the breaking of treaties, the violation of neutral rights, the invasion of smaller nations by any power on earth. So are the people of the United States.

Unfortunately this latest unprovoked attack will not be the last. Despite the disapproval of Americans, the Germans will go right on attacking and subjugating weaker neighbors until they have conquered all of Europe, or until they have been sorely beaten by the Allies. In the outcome of such a test of strength the United States has a vital interest.

Rich, powerful, burdened with surpluses of all kinds, with tons of gold buried in the ground, with wheat and cotton storehouses overflowing, with factories idle and waiting for orders, with millions of unemployed, the United States can and should provide every possible assistance in the form of planes, munitions and other supplies, to the beleaguered smaller nations of Europe.

Men Gardeners

By way of the St. Augustine Record comes a list of eight men gardeners described by the April Good Housekeeping Magazine as "outstanding, all of whom have met with success in their vocation." Local men gardeners, and we know several, we are sure will be interested to know some of the nations biggest successes who are also gardeners.

Governor George D. Alken of Vermont is the first named by the author of the article. Governor Aiken is an authority on wildflowers as well as reducing state debts. Dr. Wendell Muncie, an associate professor at Johns Hopkins, who holds some other big jobs, and writes books on medical subjects, spends his after-hours leisure as head gardener on his farm at Aberdeen, Maryland. He says: "Gardening is one pursuit that brings emotional satisfaction. That's why I think it should be taught to young children. Things we learn when we are little have potentially for the most satisfaction in adult life."

Other industrious gardeners, who have become famous in many lines of work, are: Secretary of the Interior Ickes, the politician who grows dahlias; Louis Bromfield, author, globetrotter and cosmopolite; Alfred Lunt, actor, sophisticate; Grant Wood, one of the most famous of American painters; William Alexander Percy, distinguished poet, lawyer and world traveler, and Ronald Colman, motion picture star and charming English gentleman.

"So, local men who really would like to be working with the rose bushes, or experimenting with bulbs after work hours, but who shy away from such an avocation, because they are afraid somebody will think it is silly, had better get busy," says the St. Augustine Record. "Plenty of good examples have been set them."

"And for the hefty paunches and the bay windows that mar otherwise good figures, let it be said that gardening does wonders. Lifting, stooping, hoeing, digging, pulling and hauling all have their effect."

McNutt To Tour South In Behalf Of His Candidacy

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15.—(AP) Indications that Paul V. McNutt—a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination only if President Roosevelt doesn't want it—intends to make an active campaign from now on are seen in his plan for a swing through the deep south and the west next month.

McNutt will take three weeks leave of absence for the speaking tour, his campaign manager, Frank M. McElate, said last night.

The southern and western swings will take him over some of the ground covered in recent months by Postmaster General Farley, who has announced his candidacy without any predilections on the Roosevelt intentions.

To date, both Farley and McNutt have confined their political talks mainly to praise of the Democratic administration and have avoided open promotion of their own candidacies. They continued this practice in talks yesterday, McNutt speaking by radio from Washington on unemployment problems and Farley telling a Democratic meeting at Providence, R. I., that the only hope of the United States for peace and a "government that keeps abreast of human needs lies in the Democratic party."

In the Republican field, the immediate interest of politicians was turned on the candidacies of Vandenberg, Michigan, and Dewey, New York.

Backers of Dewey, who has chalked up victories over Vandenberg in Nebraska and Wisconsin primary preference contests, are confronted with a break in Dewey's home state Republican committee. A proposal aimed at ousting Kenneth F. Simpson, an avowed opponent of Dewey, from the post of national committeeman was approved 209 to 62.

Some New York Republican leaders pointed out that if Gannett captures seven to 10 votes in the New York delegation, and the 23 votes in Simpson's home county of New York are lost, then Dewey may go into the national convention with less than 50 of the states' 92 delegates.

Meanwhile, some Republican senators in Washington who are boosting the Vandenberg candidacy cautioned fellow Republicans against counting the Michigan senator out of the race for the nomination.

Senators Nye, North Dakota, and Capper, Kansas, said they believed Vandenberg's losses to Dewey in Nebraska and Wisconsin had not jeopardized his availability.

Both insisted that Vandenberg would have won both primaries if he had followed Dewey's tactics of personal appearances and campaigning.

UNIVERSITY, Ala., Apr. 15.—(AP) If Alabama has a good backfield next year you can just about count on some good ones better the following fall. Some New York Republican leaders pointed out that if Gannett captures seven to 10 votes in the New York delegation, and the 23 votes in Simpson's home county of New York are lost, then Dewey may go into the national convention with less than 50 of the states' 92 delegates.

Meanwhile, some Republican senators in Washington who are boosting the Vandenberg candidacy cautioned fellow Republicans against counting the Michigan senator out of the race for the nomination.

Senators Nye, North Dakota, and Capper, Kansas, said they believed Vandenberg's losses to Dewey in Nebraska and Wisconsin had not jeopardized his availability.

Both insisted that Vandenberg would have won both primaries if he had followed Dewey's tactics of personal appearances and campaigning.

$45,000,000 More Is Asked For U.S. Navy

Admiral Starke Seeks More Than Huge Appropriation Given House Approval

Emergency Now Exists, He Says

Relative Position Of Nation Reported Becoming Weaker

WASHINGTON, Apr. 16.—(AP)—Declaring the United States faced an emergency situation, Admiral Harold Stark recommended to Congress today that it appropriate $45,000,000 more for the Navy than the $965,000,000 voted by the House.

The proposed increase was made at the Senate Naval Committee hearing on other legislation which would authorize, but not provide funds for $455,000,000 in expansion of the Navy's ship-building program.

Asked by Senator Johnson whether he thought the emergency now existed, Stark replied the emergency exists when "our relative position is continually becoming weaker, as it is now."

He said that all nations are building more battleships. Japan, according to the best information, is secretly building eight new super-dreadnoughts.

Admiral Stark revealed yesterday by urging Congress to authorize a Navy bill enough to defend vital United States from simultaneous attacks on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts.

Testifying before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee on the Vinton bill authorizing an 11 percent naval expansion program, the chief of naval operations stated that there is scant official information concerning Japanese building of the tonnage involved.

He described the Vinton bill as "acceptable," but said the Navy feels a 25 percent expansion is vital in view of its "evolutionary" nature of the defense problems and requirements following the Munich agreement in 1938.

Pending Criminal Cases Continued Until Fall Term

The Spring term of the Circuit Court opened at the Court House yesterday and was terminated by the selection of a jury venire, as the cases pending were continued for the term.

The record of the proceedings shows that Assistant State Attorney Lloyd P. Boyle announced that he was ready for the trial of any of the criminal cases pending. E. F. Housholder and Q. W. Spencer, attorneys for most of the defendants, asked the court for the continuance of the cases which was granted upon the agreement of the Assistant State Attorney to the request.

Subsequently a motion was filed by George A. DeCoster for the "trial or discharge" of his client, J. E. Weathered, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of two DeLand girls when his auto plunged through an open drawbridge across the St. Johns River west of Sanford.

The motion was taken under advisement by Judge Edward E. Smith who presided.

Fourth Political Rally Is Held In Longwood By Democratic Committee

The halfway mark was reached in Longwood last night in the schedule of political rallies in various precincts in the county under the auspices of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee as the candidates for public office for the fourth time.

Presiding at the meeting was Chairman Fred W. Bender who introduced the speakers to the large audience of voters of Longwood, near Lake Forest City, Fern Park, Altamonte Springs and Maitland, for whom the meeting was held.

Opening the program, laws enacted by the Florida Legislature which he said were the detriment of the small grower, E. E. Brady, candidate for the House of Representatives in Group One, was the first speaker in the legislative races. Declaring "I don't believe anyone under the shining sun fought these bills harder than I have," Mr. Brady stated he could not understand why representatives of the people had supported such measures. "Thank God, I didn't vote to rob the hungry tables of Florida on those three bills, while I was at Tallahassee," he said.

Declaring that the Workmen's Compensation Act had been the legislative hopper for 40 years before he reached the Legislature, Mr. Brady asserted, "It went over the moon when old Brady got there."

J. P. Hagan, second candidate in this group to speak, declared that a representative when he appears before the House, reflects back upon the choice of Seminole County voters whether good or bad. He said that he had represented the people of Seminole County at three regular sessions and in four special sessions of the Legislature. "During this time I tried to discharge the duties of a legislator in an efficient way, in a way that I believed merited the approval of you voters."

Assessing that he has always fought for public schools, Mr. Hagan stated "I believe our public schools are our guarantee to freedom." He said that old age pensions was being talked to and that some candidates had made many fantastic promises. "I pledge your co-operation for the adequate care of the aged," he said.

Determining certain statutes relative to Florida's citrus industry as political interference in the production and marketing of this state's principal crop, J. H. Lyles, also seeking election as legislator in Group One, declared that time favored revisions of those statutes.

He asserted that he would support legislation to give the aged of Florida monthly pensions of $40 and pointed out that he would support a similar bill in Seminole County's roads. "I held Gov. John Martin in his promise for the improvement of State Road No. 3 during my last term of office and I will continue to fight for road improvements if I get back to Tallahassee," the speaker said.

George H. Bridges, Jr., candidate for representative in Group Two, declared that he would fight for a scientific study of Florida's tax structure in order that intelligent consideration may be given remedial measures. Then all governmental agencies may share alike in the tax burden, he said.

A citrus grower himself, he declared that he was in a position to give intelligent consideration to the problems of the citrus industry and pledged his support to legislation in behalf of the small grower.

U. S. Trade Stimulated By Foreign War

Export Figures Total $344,000,000 For March, 30 Percent Above A Year Ago

WASHINGTON, Apr. 16.—(AP)—America's war-stimulated foreign trade went up 30 percent during March to $344,000,000—30 percent above a year ago.

The March total was about six millions over the February figures, but still about fourteen millions under the December-January level.

Secretary of commerce Hopkins attributed the increase to larger sales of machinery, trucks, iron-ore products, other metals, chemicals, and airplanes. Sales of cotton, meat, lard, corn, and fruit dropped off slightly.

Principal gains were made in Canada, France, Japan, Russia, Argentina, Finland, and the Philippines. England brought slightly less.

Britain Lands Men On Danish Faroe Islands

England Fulfills Pledge Made By Chamberlain More Than Week Ago

Third Of German Fleet Said Sunk

Germans Reported To Have Captured Point On Storlien Heights

By Associated Press

Allied war leaders confidently, enthusiastically told their nations today what they intended to do to Germany, and how they are doing it.

As they spoke, Britain disclosed she had landed an expeditionary force in the Faroe Islands, Danish possession between Scotland and Iceland. Thus Britain fulfilled a pledge made known by Churchill's week ago Chamberlain declared the Allies would "crush" Germany.

Reynaud said almost a third of the German fleet was wiped from the seas in the week's fighting in Scandinavian waters. He said the Nazis lost 30 percent of their naval strength including one-fifth of her destroyers.

A German crop which gained possession of a point on the Storlien heights, three miles from the Swedish border, 50 miles from Trondheim, was reported in Stockholm. If true it means that Germany almost cut Norway in two. The reports said the Germans reached the heights by a special train rushing through the district held by the Norwegians.

After railway employes thought the train bore Norwegian troops, a strong Allied expeditionary force rode to sea to attack German forces in Norway. The Berlin radio reported King Haakon and his government, fled to Sweden.

German would not acknowledge a captured Allied force had landed in Norway.

British bombers struck last night for the seventh time at Stavanger, and was reported to have destroyed German tank and two raids were shot down.

Britain called her 27-year-old air cadets, raising her army of 1,235,000.

The British announced 11 German transport and naval auxiliaries were sunk or scuttled, and four merchantmen captured since the invasion of Norway, while the British lost no merchantmen and two warships.

British forces landed on Norwegian soil have captured the main port of Narvik and surrounding countryside from the Germans and Allied aid is being sent to Narvik. A British radio message to the Norwegian people and last night.

The broadcast, in the Norwegian language, contained a plea for British aid. It said that the Norwegian people had been invaded by German troops and that the British were now fighting to liberate the country.
