High tides overflowed the beach and flooded the streets in front of the building. Residents are shown wading about in the water as the wind began to subside after raging for 8 hours. WHEN JIMMY CAME MARCHING HOME FROM EXILE

Home from three years' voluntary exile in England, former Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York, and wife No. 2, the former Betty Compton of the stage, were in happy mood when they reached Gotham. They are shown waving to the crowd on the pier as their ship docked. A host of Jimmy's admirers could not wait for the liner to reach its pier. And so they chartered tug and yacht and hurried down the bay to meet the ship at quarantine. The small craft are shown clustering around the liner Manhattan as she plowed her way up the bay. "It's marvelous," exclaimed Walker on the bridge of the Manhattan as he observed the harbor boats bedecked with banners reading "Welcome home, Jimmy." "Hello, Jimmy," and the like. He resigned as mayor during an investigation of his administration and sailed for Europe in 1932. He and Miss Compton were married in Cannes, France, soon afterwards. (Associated Press Photos)

Commissioner Mayo Writes State Road Department Will Put On Re-Surface

Federal Money Might Be Late

Committee Chairman Says Funds Could Be Used Elsewhere

Officials of the State Farmers' Wholesale Market in Sanford were advised today that the State Road Department will probably re-surface the roads around the market, getting the big plant in first class shape before the busy season begins, not waiting for the allocation of promised federal funds for the project.

Nathan Mayo, State Commissioner of Agriculture, writes H. M. Papworth, chairman of the executive committee of the market, that the chief engineer of the State Road Department informed the commissioner he felt quite sure the Road Department would put this surface on for us.

The allocation of $24,370 from the federal government for re-surfacing the market roads is expected, upon the County agreeing to put up $400 as its share, but Mr. Papworth said today that there might be some delay in actually receiving Uncle Sam's money. Therefore it has been suggested that the funds be used for other purposes.

Union Thanksgiving Service Is Planned

Union Thanksgiving Day services will be conducted in the Congregational Church this year with Captain F. S. Fernon of the Salvation Army as the speaker. The Ministerial Association decided at this week's meeting the religious service will be held at 9:30 on the morning of Thanksgiving Day. It will be the first such union service in this city to be addressed by a Salvation Army official, a member of the Ministerial Association reported.

The cantata to be put on by the united choirs of the local churches will be given under the direction of B. C. Moore in the Episcopal Church on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24. The choir are to sing "Ruth" by Gaul.

'Buddy Poppies' Will Be Sold Tomorrow

Tomorrow is to be observed as "Poppy Day" in Sanford and other Seminole County communities when the "Buddy Poppies" made by disabled veterans will be offered for sale. The local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is sponsoring the sale which will be conducted by a number of young women who will be stationed at the Postoffice, the Courthouse and at busy corners on First Street.

As money paid for the little memorial flowers will all be used in relieving distress among disabled veterans and their families, Commander Harry Kent of the V. F. W. said, it is hoped that they will meet with ready sale.

No poppy is supposed to be sold for less than 10 cents, but purchasers can pay any amount above that figure they desire.

Marks And Brands Will Be Enforced Beginning Monday

Inspectors Must See Stock Killed Here Or Driven Through

Marks and brands on all cattle and hogs slaughtered in Seminole County or driven through the County or shipped from any point in the County must be officially inspected on and after Monday, Nov. 11. This is a law the Governor is putting into effect through the appointment of two official inspectors in District One of the County as defined by the Board of County Commissioners.

District One is west of the river and is commonly known as "the fence territory." The inspectors appointed by the Governor are E. L. and R. L. Humphrey, and they have duly qualified. There are no inspectors for District Two. Offices of the inspectors of marks and brands will be located at 303 Sanford Avenue.

Clerk of Court O. P. Herndon has outlined the laws as touching on marking and branding of livestock, and he finds that the duties of the inspectors will be to inspect the marks and brands of all cattle and hogs driven from or through or shipped from their respective districts or slaughtered therein, and to keep records of the names of persons driving, shipping or slaughtering marked or unmarked cattle, and furnish certificates and reports to the county commission each month.

The statutes make it unlawful to "alter, deface or change any existing mark or brand" on any animal with the intent of claiming such animal, or to fraudulently mark or brand any unbranded animal. Violation of the statutes is punishable by a year in the state penitentiary.

It is also made unlawful, under penalty of a fine of $100, to cut off the ears or head of any sheep, hog, beef or other domestic animal until it has been dressed. The law also prohibits the slaughtering for any purpose of any "bull, steer, cow, heifer, yearling or calf" without inspection, under penalty of a $500 fine, and any person slaughtering beef or hogs for sale without first notifying the inspectors is liable to a fine of $100.

Reasonable fees are allowed the inspectors and any person slaughtering, driving through and shipping livestock who refuses to pay the fees is liable to a fine of $10 or a jail sentence of 30 days.

The Committee of the American Legion appointed to raise funds for the transportation charges necessary to bring the field piece to Sanford announced today that the entire amount necessary has been assured by friends of the Legion and the formal application has been forwarded to the Chief of Ordnance through Lt. The order authorizing the delivery of the gun from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Maryland, is expected to be forwarded to the Merchants & Miners Transportation Company promptly. The gun will be brought to Baltimore by rail and then by water to Jacksonville, where the St. Johns River Line will pick it up and transport it to Sanford through the kindness of Otto Caldwell, local agent.

Sustained Siege By Jack Frost Works Havoc In Groves Of Four States

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8. — (AP) — Destruction in fruit groves and vegetable fields in California, Washington, Oregon and Idaho, was today placed unofficially at $10,000,000 as a result of the winter's first sustained siege on the Pacific coast. Southern California's $50,000,000 citrus crop escaped the Federal State Crop Reporting Service said, but fruit men spent many uneasy nights before the cold wave, sweeping down from the north, was broken.

Smudging was reported as general throughout the Southern California citrus section, and it is believed that the heavy pull of smoke emanating from thousands of smudge pots in the groves prevented serious loss to growers in the district.

Considerable loss was reported from the Sacramento valley in the northern part of the state, but the production of oranges and lemons in that region is small compared to the acreage in Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Riverside and other counties in Southern California.

District One is west of the river and is commonly known as "the fence territory." The inspectors appointed by the Governor are E. L. and R. L. Humphrey, and they have duly qualified. There are no inspectors for District Two. Offices of the inspectors of marks and brands will be located at 303 Sanford Avenue.

Storm Warnings Fly From Apalachicola To Tampa; Related Reports Of Deaths

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 8. — Tropical disturbance, apparently of great intensity, continued to hop, skip and jump about the Gulf of Mexico today with storm warnings from Apalachicola to Tampa on the Florida west coast.

Related reports reaching Jacksonville today told that the former estimate of the number of deaths in the hurricane work of the storm to 19 persons. Commissioner John H. Hedges said that 10 others, however, had been drowned on Great Atlantic Island Sunday.

Eight deaths in the vicinity of Miami are said to be the distribution. In his morning's address the Weather Bureau placed the center of the storm about 100 miles west of Tampa, moving inland. Wind observers reported the center to be no more than the thirty-mile radius of the storm's outer limit. Small craft were advised to use care during the next 24 hours.

Word from Nassau said that a severe storm had struck and that the weather bureau had placed the center of the storm in the area of the Bahamas. The storm was placed in the Bahamas.

Holding Company Act Held Invalid By Federal Judge

Announcement in New York that an appeal would be taken apparently headed the case to wards the Supreme Court of the United States.

Judge Coleman took the position that Congress "flagrantly exceeded its lawful power" under the act in authorizing the holding company act. He said that the act was unconstitutional in the nature of the thing and that the act was void.

Striding before the Italian columns, Ras Haile Selassie Gugsa, Makale's former governor who deserted to the invaders' side, was the first to enter the conquered city. Behind him the Italian forces poured in from three sides, their advance unimpeded.

Class 1 Roads Not Decreased for 9 Months—Headline. No prospect for the railroads.

We see in a New York newspaper where a series of Italian bonds are being offered for sale.

Billy Sunday is dead. And many a man who has hit the sawdust trail under his guidance will view his passing as a personal loss.

"I am the Apostle Paul," a big negro cried out as he entered a New York polling place the other day. "O. K. Paul," the Inspector replied, "you can vote."

We see where Admiral Byrd is planning another expedition to the South Pole. It seems that he got out of his last adventure down there alive.

We dare say that if all our little babies understood the debt burden being saddled on them by the older generation, they'd cry a heap longer and a heap louder than they do.

We see where they're planning to dig a canal from Sanford to Tampa now. The idea seems to be that this latter canal will get all the underground water that happens to escape, the cross-state canal.

There's some talk of Doyle Carlton running for governor again next year. He probably figures that if he managed to get into office in 1928 with nothing but the rear end of a Ford to ride on, what couldn't he do this time.

"We can't help wondering what the King of Italy is thinking about these days," comments an exchange. Well, the old boy may find it a lot more satisfying as well as convenient, nor to do any thinking at all.

Bainbridge Colby, prominent Woodrow Wilson Democrat, sees recovery as it really is. "We will be forced into open inflation," he says. "In fact, we are in the middle of an inflation today that is greater than we reckon. It is a flat credit inflation." The chief danger of inflation is that it is so difficult to distinguish it from prosperity.

It may not have been anybody's fault during the last hurricane when several hundred veterans were trapped on the Florida keys, but this week when another big blow suddenly appeared the FERA quickly got the men to places of safety.

Stanley Woodward speaks of the insane outbursts of schoolboy enthusiasms which manifest themselves at football games by fist fights, rival demonstrations, and such property damage, as football schismatics. That last is something like scientific progress which, according to scientific research, is a discovery or illustration of the natural functions.

"It is easy to get a people into a war," says Dr. Alfred Adler, the well known psychologist. "People have more than they understand. They have an instinctive desire to escape them. Mankind has a tendency to be a crowd. Mankind works in a crowd. In a crowd of people, the people seem to follow a sort of automatic or instinctive desire to follow the crowd."

The Price Of Bread

White bacon, beef, and pork are not the only food prices which have been going up during the past few months. Did you know that you, on the average, are paying more for bread now than you did one year ago? The United States News has it figured out that taking the country as a whole bread now costs one and six-tenths cents per loaf than it did a year or two ago. One and six-tenths cents per loaf is not a big increase. It may be accounted for in the rise in the price of wheat alone. But one and six-tenths cents on every loaf of bread which all the people in the United States consume in the course of a year is a lot of money. The United States News also figures this out and finds that the people are now paying $100,000,000 a year more for bread than they used to.

But this is not the whole story. While the people are paying $100,000,000 a year more for bread, they are not getting as many loaves as they used to. Five hundred million fewer loaves of bread were eaten by the American people during the past year than during the preceding year. This little rise of one and six-tenths cents per loaf kept some people from eating as much bread as they had formerly consumed.

Now what is the answer to this problem of rising prices and reduced consumption? The United States News digs up facts and figures from the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics and finds first of all that the farmer is now getting more money for raising less wheat. In 1932 his share of the housekeepers' bread bill was $58,000,000. But in 1935 the cost of the wheat used for the purpose of making bread had risen to $132,000,000. "Furthermore," says the News, "there was in addition a processing tax that added $40,000,000 to the 1935 wheat bill. This item was not present back in 1932. When combined with the cost of wheat going into bread, the total was about $172,500,000, which meant that the wheat farmer received nearly three times as much for his part of the bread bill as he did three years ago."

Other than wheat, farmers received an increased share, too. Ingredients, aside from wheat, rose in value from $68,000,000 to $81,000,000. Included were such items as lard and lard substitutes, milk, sugar and yeast. When the farmer had been given his increased return, less remained in total dollars for the miller and the baker and the retailer.

"The miller who turned wheat into flour got $49,600,000 for his work in 1932 and $31,700,000 in 1935," continues the News. "This sharp decline was due in part to the smaller amount of wheat turned into flour. Drought and crop control had made wheat scarce enough to require that millions of bushels be brought in from outside the country."

The baker and retailer who received $416,700,000 for their share of the 1932 bread bill were getting around $387,200,000 for their share in 1935. It was this decline in the amount available for the man who makes the bread and the man who sells it that has led to the latest rise in the price of bread against which housekeepers are now complaining.

Bakers and retailers contend that not only has their share of the bread dollar fallen but that the cost of distributing it has gone higher owing to increased labor costs, increased rents and other increases in the cost of doing business.

Burying The Past

Very few things in this old world of ours are perfect. It is therefore not difficult during times when people are depressed or having more troubles than they can well bear to see the faults in everything and close their eyes to the virtues. So now the "Star-Spangled Banner," America's national anthem, is coming under the bangs of the anvil chorus, and, along with the Constitution, "rugged individualism," and the Golden Rule, is being blamed for the depression and the fix we are in.

"A most astonishing objection to the national hymn has come from an Assistant Superintendent of Schools in New York," says the Cincinnati Enquirer. "Speaking as an educator, this gentleman contends that it is too militaristic for high-school students." Emphasizing that he is not a pacifist, he argues that such lines as "bombs bursting in air" are too bloodthirsty, and develop the wrong sort of patriotism.

"As an educator, the gentleman is doubtless right. But national anthems do not grow on trees. They are born of national crisis, most often in the grave emergency of war, and it is not surprising that they reflect something of the hatred and the savagery of war. Perhaps it is a bad thing, theoretically, to teach young people that many of our national heroes won their fame by killing their fellowmen. But the facts of history are facts. War is too much a part of our national heritage to be rooted out in deference to a pacific ideal.

"There probably is no harm, however, in hoping for a better national anthem. The 'Star-Spangled Banner' is faulty musically and psychologically. Very few people know the words, because it is so difficult to sing. Very few people realize, also, that it has been the national anthem for only four years. Perhaps, some day, someone will write a song embodying the spirit and the ideals of our great nation in a form more inspiring to those who have to sing it, and more satisfactory to those who are concerned with the ideology of our patriotism. But anything as traditional in nature as a national anthem is not to be changed merely because some pensive gentleman has found a pedagogical objection to the prevailing anthem."

THERE ARE CERTAIN duties in this world which women alone can perform. And I think the greatest of these is to bring new men into the world and to impart to them the finest standards, the courage and the high temper of soul to help them through life. The world will lose a great deal as women become more imbued with the idea of working outside of the home, leaving the care of children to others. I feel that by insisting on doing much of man's work, women are spoiling men.—Princess Bibesco.

Said David Harum: "It's a good thing for a dog to have a few fleas—it keeps him from worrying over the fact that he is a dog." Like a hundred other accepted adages, this sounds true; like a hundred other accepted adages, it is superficial and unsound and false. Offhand, one first is inclined to say that it is a good thing for central Florida to have a few minor worries—then, one bumps up against the second part of the adage, "to keep it from worrying over the fact that it is central Florida," which, of course, is unsound. If there is one thing over which dog has no cause for worry, it is the fact that he is a dog. I've searched the Scriptures for indication that animals, especially dogs, have a further life, just like man, and, while I find no such intimation, I like to think that animals, especially dogs, will share Heaven with their masters. If there is one thing over which Central Florida has no cause for worry, it is the fact that it is central Florida. Neither is that a reason for great rejoicing.

And, all the little worries of central Florida are submerged in the great worry over the cross-state canal, whether sea-level or lock. But, the threat is of real value in that it already has aroused much of this area from the general apathy and lethargy which curse the country, into active interest in an important subject. Daily, the fact becomes more and more conspicuous that the canal will ruin Florida; but, the fact is lost to sight in the fog of national and local economic and moral coma, while the promise of millions of trained and deprivileged dollars dulls the decency of many newspapers and civic organizations and individuals. Unfortunately, Orlando and Orange county continue to be Yes-yes sections and Yes-yes the canal and any other project laid before them. Seminole and Sanford are awake. Maybe, they can arouse the rest of central Florida, also.

Came to me from the Literary Digest a ballot for me to cast in its latest poll on the New Deal. Am I now in favor of the New Deal, or not? I mailed the reply within five minutes and I give my readers one guess as to its nature. The first Literary Digest ballot on the New Deal was taken in April, 1934, when only 65,000 voters showed! 62 percent in its favor and 31 percent against it. Ten million voters were questioned in June, 1934, with 61 percent approving and 29 percent opposed. Six months after the first test, the 65,000 original voters were queried again and showed 51 percent in favor and 49 percent against, as compared with 62 percent in favor and 31 percent against in April, 1934. The result in the current poll will be illuminating.

The general morale of the people is thus summarized to me in a letter from the editor of a great magazine: "Most of the people are dumb—some dumber than you think, and others just dumb. But, dumb or not, the majority only think, 'How much am I going to get out of this?' or, 'Am I getting all I can out of it?' That's the trouble with the U. S.—not so much dumbness, but looking out for No. 1, regardless of consequences to anyone else." And this editor will have added that the majority care less about the present and future welfare of their own children—their own young sons and daughters—than they do of the cattle in the fields. That is self-evident—self-demonstrated.

One ready news despatch that Works Progress Administration officials have discovered "an error in bookkeeping" amounting to $51,100,000. One who knows the bookkeeping methods of the government, in its operation of private and public business—the governmental unfairness and incompetence and, one is tempted to add, the actual falsification of accounts—is not in the slightest surprised. I have seen two high officials in the postoffice department, testifying before a congressional committee, disagree by $250,000 in their figures on a single item; indeed, the postoffice figures always are regarded as inaccurate and not entitled to the slightest credence. Senator Edge, 15 years ago, asked the Shipping Board for a plain balance sheet, exactly like that made by every business organization at least once a year. After three months of actual sweating, the Shipping Board accountants presented an amazing statement, with actually a forced balance. So, an error of $51,000,000 in government bookkeeping strikes me, as only a minor discrepancy in the miskeeping of governmental accounts.

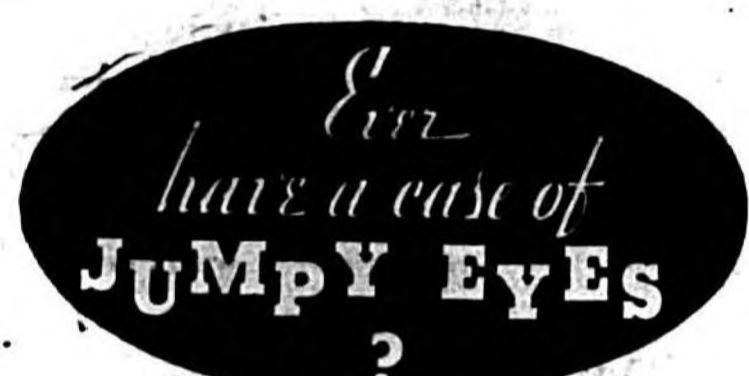

William Randolph Hearst writes to Governor "Our Dave" Sholtz: "The people of Florida have not been stampeded by demagogues or deluded by empty promises, and are to be praised highly for sound American common sense and good business judgment." Obey yourself! Enters a friend to discuss with me his idea for a financing company to loan money at, say, 6 percent, to small but sound industries for sound development. Such financing by various banks, he tells me, costs the borrower about 20 percent, even if he is able to get such a loan at all. First and foremost, one must not blame the banks, which are becoming more and more the marionettes or puppets of the national government and its bureaucratic dictators, and which are almost suffocated right now with overloads of government securities. In itself, the financing company idea is sound. Indeed, it was presented to me 25 years ago by former Governor Frank Brown of Maryland, and I have endorsed it from that day. Here's another New Deal idea: The price of every commodity must be raised, even if by the most artificial and unbusinesslike methods—of every commodity except money. The price of money, says the New Deal, must be made so cheap that there will be no profit in dealing in it—in loaning it to industry or business. Who owns this money commodity which the government proposes to sterilize? It is owned in major measure by the women and children whom you meet on the street, each day—they are dependent on the earning power of the money commodity for the insurance protection which their husbands and fathers and sons provide for them. They are dependent on the earning power of the money commodity in half a hundred different ways. Yet, the New Deal says that the money commodity alone shall be reduced in price, while food of all kinds and a thousand other commodities are artificially raised in cost to even higher levels. The price of money is forced down from 4 percent to 1-1/4 percent, by government; the prices of pork and corn, wheat, cotton and potatoes, and so on, are forced up by 150 or 200 percent. But, if the people are willing for Felix Frankfurter and Rexford Tugwell and other well-to-do simply call them "professionals" to run the country, the people have no right whatever to complain.

Ever have a case of JUMPY EYES?

One of the causes of jumpy eyes is the eye-tiring contrast between light and dark in your home.

The next time you read under a bright light when the rest of the room is almost dark, ask someone to notice the pupils in your eyes. Every time you look up from your reading your pupils will become noticeably larger as they attempt to adjust themselves to the quick change. This repeated adjusting strains your eyes.

When reading, some of the light should be used to light up the general surroundings. Have your home lighting tested and be sure of light for safe seeing and beauty. Call our nearest office for this free service.

"Calumet sure gives you your money's worth, with that Big New 10¢ Can!"

SAYS MRS. W. W. HICKY, OF CHICAGO, ILL.

"THERE'S a lot of good baking in that 10¢ can of Calumet," observes Mrs. Hickey. "It's worth more than a dime any day!"

"Of course, with my big family I get the pound can—and it's only 25¢ now. As long as I bake, Calumet will be in my pantry!"

Grandfather Rommel, who was a baker for 40 years, says, "Calumet takes the guesswork out of the job nowadays."

WHY IS Calumet different from other baking powders? Why is such a small amount needed—just a level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour in most recipes?

It's because of the way Calumet combines, no distasteful leavening actions. A quick action for the mixing bowl—set free by liquid. A slower action for the oven—set free by heat.

Calumet's Double-Action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening. Calumet is a product of General Foods.

MOCHA LAYER CAKE (3 eggs)

1/4 cup sifted Boston Cream
1/4 cup Flour
1/4 teaspoon Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Put flour, cream, sugar, and baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add flour alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add leavening. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Spread with frosting on cake. (All measurements are level.)

AND LOOK AT THE NEW CALUMET CAN! A simple twist... and the Easy-Opening Top lifts off. No delay, no spilling, no broken fragments! And inside, there's a special, convenient spoon-trivet!

ALUMET

All Calumet prices are lower! Calumet is now selling in its history... The regular price of the 10¢ Pound Can is now only 25¢! And now, to save the new, big 10¢ can—a lot of money for a dime—with Calumet, the Best Baking Powder.

Coach Says That He Never Felt So Confident Before

Sanford Celery Feds Picked To Win In Tonight's Contest

Sanford Celery Feds play Orlando Tigers in Orlando tonight, and Coach McLucas of the local squad is confident of victory. "I was never more sure of winning a game in my life," the coach said today.

The game in Orlando is called for 8 o'clock, but the Sanford squad will leave at 6 o'clock. The student body's motorcade will leave from the courthouse shortly before 7 o'clock.

While Orlando defeated Sanford by the disastrous score of 28 to 0 last year, it is remembered that shows the two teams to be quite evenly matched, as Orlando won two games, Sanford won two, and one game (the 1935 contest) was a tie.

"King Kong" Williams will not be able to play in tonight's game. His position at left guard being taken by Jack Wilkinson. The lineup for tonight is announced as follows:

Pos.	Sanford
Orlando	Dunlon
Cornett	Stapler
Ross	Wilkinson
Hage	Squires
Maynard	B. Williams
Lucius	Warner
Young	Colbert
Lawton	Wright

SEMINOLE HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

CLASS MEETING

The monthly meetings of the four classes were held Tuesday morning, in the various class rooms. The Senior class meeting was held in the Boys' study hall, it was called to order by the president Roy Wright. A new class song was adopted, and it was decided that school pins were to be sold by the Seniors. The Balmain room Ellen Betts and Oris Saunderson were discussed, and it was stated that Mr. Johnson will begin making the pictures this week.

The Junior class meeting was called to order by the president, Billy Zachry in the Girls' study hall. The pictures for the annual were decided upon. A proposal was made that the Juniors have rings this year, a committee was appointed to discuss the rings with Mr. McKay. The new class song was then presented. The Sophomore class meeting was held in Mrs. Maxwell's room with the president, Nancy Rosseter presiding. The plans for the year were discussed. Among them were plans for "Sophomore on Parade," a one act play, and a May Day program. The "Sophomore on Parade" is to be presented sometime in February. MR. MASON SUFFERS IN CHAPEL Thursday, Nov. 7, 1935, P. M.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

The girls have their teams well organized under their respective captains. Wednesday afternoon Evelyn Wilkinson's team and Kathryn Thigpen's team practiced together. Two of the very promising freshmen of those teams are Irene Lundquist and Evelyn's team and Alice Higgs on Kathryn's team. Thursday afternoon Ellen Betts and Oris Saunderson's teams will practice together. All the girls are looking forward to the time when these teams will play together.

During gym period Miss Leuders is starting to teach the girls touch football. It really is fun if you can lay it, and most of the girls can.

VIRGINIA MERIWETHER.

T. A. sponsored the chapel program. Professor McKay led the devotional, after which several songs were sung. Mr. Mason then spoke on bird life of Florida. His main thought was the conservation of bird life. He discussed the numbers of the various Florida species of birds, and how they were rapidly becoming extinct.

Another good bout was between Lawrence Harnage of Sanford and Andy Rainey of DeLand. Harnage won all three rounds of this fight. I. H. Harper of Sanford, was matched with a Stinson boy, much over matched in age and weight, and the fight was stopped after the first round. Harper has no been in good health for several weeks.

One of the best bouts of the evening was between two negroes, weighing about 145 pounds each, both of DeLand, also a battle royal between five negroes. The program consisted of eight bouts.

Slot Machine Law Upheld By Supreme Court

Comptroller Ordered To Issue Licenses As Prescribed By State Legislature

Circuit Judge Exceeded Power

Lower Court Denied Right To Overrule Supreme Tribunal

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 9. (AP)—The State Supreme Court today awarded a writ of mandamus requiring Comptroller J. M. Lee to proceed immediately with issuance of licenses for slot machines. The Court said Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson of Miami, who recently granted an injunction against the licenses, did not have jurisdiction because the Supreme Court already had held the law was constitutional.

The comptroller's office was closed this afternoon and will be closed Monday, Armistice Day, and therefore there can be no licenses issued before Tuesday, Lee said he would issue a statement after a study of the Supreme Court decision.

The Court held that Judge Atkinson or any other Circuit Judge might grant injunctions against operating machines in their counties, but could not join a state officer from performing duties prescribed by law since the Supreme Court already had held it valid. The Legislature early this year passed and taxed slot machines making the revenue to the State $1,000,000 per year.

Slot Machines Irk Tampa Business Men

TAMPA, Nov. 9.—The slot machine law was branded as an instrument of hypocrisy and the machines themselves as destructive of good morals and damaging to legitimate business in a resolution adopted yesterday by directors of the Tampa merchants' association.

The resolution called upon all law enforcement agencies to prohibit the operation of the machines as far as the terms of the present law would permit and served notice that the next session of the legislature would be asked to repeal the law.

With the closing of the waters of Seminole County to sealing, and the approach of the hunting season, the State Game Commission is appointing 10 honorary game wardens in Seminole County for the protection of fish and game.

They wish to call to the attention of the public that the commission is now offering rewards for the following: $100 for the slaying and conviction of anyone taking turkey, deer or quail out of season; $25 reward for the arrest and conviction of anyone taking black bass illegally or selling or shipping black bass.

These special game wardens ask the full co-operation of the public that game and fish might be preserved.

China Clipper Is Off On Flight Up California Coast

ACAPULCO, Mexico, Nov. 9. (AP)—The heavily loaded China Clipper, her four 600-horsepower engines at full throttle, roared up off this city's mountain coast today and headed for San Diego, Calif., 1000 miles to the north. Her goal is San Francisco where she will inaugurate the regular California-to-China mail and passenger service Nov. 22.

The clipper hoisted her own 26 tons and 60,000 pounds of additional load into air in 50 seconds. Her commander, Captain Edwin Mueck, reported she easily cleared the hill lying about Acapulco where she flew yesterday from Miami.

Acapulco, first overnight halt of this nation's largest airliner as she proceeds to the trans-Pacific here at San Francisco, was reached at 6:15 P. M. (E. S. T.) after an eleven-hour, three-minute flight of 1605 miles from Miami.

The sleek 24-ton all-metal monoplane descended with the sun at the Mexican port after winging over placid Pacific waves for two hours following the crossing of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, the (Continued On Page Five)

Being President Is Agreeable To Bernarr Macfadden

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Bernarr Macfadden, apostle of the body beautiful, healthy bathing suits and a cracked-wheat diet, has heard the People's Voice, and is not averse, to doing his setting-up exercises in the White House. The fifty-seven-year-old publisher of "Physical Culture," "True Stories" and many another magazine decided that he would make the perfect Republican nominee in 1936. Soon he will depart on a cross-country oratorical marathon to spread the gospel, and then...

Snow Falls In Western Area; New Cold Wave

"Yankee" Hurricane Blows Itself Out In Gulf Of Mexico During The Night

ATLANTA, Nov. 9. (AP)—Faster snows fell from eastern Washington to northern Minnesota as a new cold wave moved in on the West today. Temperatures dropped in the extreme north portion of the section beyond the Mississippi River, and even colder temperatures were in prospect for tonight, the Atlanta Bureau said.

An extensive storm area in the West centered over Colorado, causing rain over much of the Rocky Mountain area. The storm center appeared to be moving toward Great Lakes, and the weather man said he expected rain to fall as far South as Atlanta by Sunday night.

States in the Mississippi Valley were generally warmer. Most of country east of the Mississippi was fair, although cloudiness was increasing in the southeast.

The belated storm that played off the Florida coast for more than a week, causing death and destruction in the Bahamas and in the Miami area, dissipated in Gulf of Mexico west of Tampa during the night.

Revolution Party Blamed For Plot Against Minister

HAVANA, Nov. 9. (AP)—Army officials expressed the belief today that the plot to assassinate Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador to Cuba, was inspired by radicals for the purpose of provoking American intervention in Cuba, in the hope of thus starting a revolution.

An unimpeachable source disclosed last night that a "master plot" to assassinate the ambassador, had been thwarted by intelligence operatives of the Cuban Army on the eve of its execution.

Reliable sources said army officials were convinced the plot was nipped with the recent arrest of Cesar Villar, leader of the confederation of labor.

Also scheduled for death, army agents said they learned, was Pepin Rivera, director of the newspaper Diario De La Marina. Twenty-nine men, these sources said, had been sworn to kill Caffery, who was to be the first to go.

The plot was set aside for Nov. 1, the day after Villar's arrest, it was asserted. Six automobiles were ready to carry the assassins to a point already designated, agents disclosed.

3 Cents Per Dozen For Eggs, But That Is In Addis Ababa

ADDIS ABABA, Nov. 9. (AP)—Americans who complain of the high cost of living at home would find Ethiopia a paradise of economical purchases.

As a consequence of price control measures, taken by Emperor Haile Selassie, the price of eggs fell recently to two cents a dozen, beef fell to three cents a pound, lamb to two cents a pound and whole cows to $8.

With little demand among Ethiopian women for lipstick, rouge, cold cream and powder, these articles may be purchased for almost nothing.

Reprisal Threats Made Against Six Members Of Court

Schools Accused Of Trying To Change Justice's Opinion

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 9. (AP)—Florida's Supreme Court yesterday allowed public schools to share equally with state governmental functions in distribution of public tax money and educational interests had sought to swing the decision in their favor by using political pressure.

Justice Fred B. Davis in a special concurring opinion said "covertly or not openly" threats of political reprisal had been made against the six members of the Supreme Court if they dared to rule against the 30,000 teachers and school officials disgraced in the law.

The 1935 Legislature appropriated $10,500,000 a year from state funds to aid the counties in public schools. It specified how the money should be raised by chain store taxes, automobile licenses and other sources, but said if the state would not assist the schools should share equally with certain governmental agencies and departments whatever business concerned the general treasury.

In an earlier ruling the Supreme Court declared this so-called party act unconstitutional and yesterday's decision was a denial of a rehearing request by the Florida Education Association and other school interests.

State Senator Henry C. Tillman of Tampa presented the petition for the rehearing.

Italians "Dig In" At Makale And Gorrabei

36 Dead, 81 Wounded In Advance Along Northern Front In Ethiopian Conquest

The Associated Press

Victorious Italian forces, occupying the strategic cities of Makale and Gorrabei on northern and southern fronts, "dug in" today, scouting bands swept the territory around the new Fascist possessions, and engineering squads prepared to push roads forward through the undeveloped terrain.

The invading forces counted the cost of northern advance at 36 dead and 81 wounded, most of whom were native Askari.

King George in London approved of economic sanctions against Italy at a session of the Privy Council.

In Rome, Italian, French and British officials continued efforts for a definite Anglo-Italian understanding. Italian government orders halted press attacks on countries voicing sanctions against Italy.

Tammany Hopes Said To Center On Jimmy Walker

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—Tammany Hall feels that happy days are here again with the return of former Mayor James J. Walker to his "white hope."

"Walker has always recognized that Tammany has made him a high Democratic leader said today. "He won't desert the hall now."

Nobody in the Wigwam would say definitely "by the tribe expects of the" son who re-signed as mayor three years ago and only recently ended his self-imposed exile in Europe. Although Walker said "no more no more," one of the hall's spokesmen declared "Jimmy's return will produce another Democratic mayor in 1937."

Charles C. Geiger, U. S. Marine Corps, son of Mrs. Dorcas E. Geiger, Geneva, is at present stationed at the Marine Barracks, Yorktown, Va. It is announced by Major C. E. Nutting, officer in charge of Marine Corps recruiting activities for this state with offices in Savannah, Ga.

Young Geiger passed the entrance examination and was accepted for service with the Marines on Aug. 14, 1934. He received his basic training at the Marine Barracks, Parris Island, S. C., and was appointed lance corporal on Sept. 27, 1934. He is qualified as marksman with the rifle and pistol, and is quite proficient in the use of other weapons used by the Marine Corps.

County Asks State For Funds To Make Local Water Survey

Audit Shows That Suspended Clerk Misused $31,206

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 9. (AP)—Report of the State Auditing Department, released for the first time today, shows that V. E. Douglass, suspended clerk of the Seminole County Court, converted $31,206.81 of public funds to his own use. Mr. Douglass was removed from office last July 26, due to alleged irregularities found to exist in the conduct of his office, and O. P. Herndon was appointed as his successor as clerk.

The audit is a voluminous document comprising 86 large pages, prefaced by the following "comments":

"It was found that Mr. Douglass had converted to his private use public funds (including official collections) to be accounted for to individuals in the net amount of $31,206.81. This figure represents the net amount found to have been converted after allowing credit for cash on hand and, tentatively, for the actual cost of bonds substituted as partial cash collections.

In addition, two bonds of a par value of $2,000 owned by the county have not been accounted for by Mr. Douglass.

The net deficiency in assets available, (including accounts receivable from the state and county) to liquidate the total liabilities (including excess fees earned but not collected and unused deposits for fees) amounts to $31,911.74.

The amount of conversion and deficiency are subject to substantial increase if and as evidence is made available to support additional shortages indicated to exist, but proof of which is not yet available. On the other hand, the amount of $31,911.74 is shown by the clerk's records to be due him by individuals for fees earned but not collected. From these accounts, however, little is expected to be realized, and no credit is given therefor.

Proper record of tax redemptions was not made, apparently with the intention of withholding amounts collected, and the records and funds were manipulated in almost every manner conceivable that would conceal the results disclosed in this report."

Sanford Legion Post Will Be In Parade

Legionnaires belonging to Campbell-Living Post in Sanford are expected to participate in the Armistice Day parade next Monday. Commander Boyle said today the parade is to be at 10 o'clock, instead of at 9 as previously announced. The ancient locomotive built by the local Legion Post will be in the parade.

General Hugh Johnson is scheduled to speak at 11:30 o'clock Monday morning, and Rollins College will play the Alabama Teachers on Tinker field in Orlando at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

France Tries AAA To Help Its Wine Trade

PARIS, Nov. 9. (AP)—France is following the example of the American agricultural program in reducing production of fine wines to maintain prices.

The limitation is on the volume of labeled wine which may be turned out for each acre of grapes.

Champagne production, for example, has been limited to 440 gallons an acre. Wine over this quota may be sold, but not as champagne. Similar regulations are in effect in the Bordeaux region.

The quotas are set by agreement of producers and the agreements are made binding at law.
