Revised OPA Meat Subsidy Is Announced

Program Is Designed To Relieve Price Squeeze On Packer; Public Pays Same

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29. (AP)—A revised OPA meat price and subsidy program designed to meet industry complaints of price "squeezes" was reported today by the Senate food investigators. Informed quarters said the new program would continue consumer prices at their present levels, and accomplish the adjustments through subsidies.

The program may be announced this week. Details of the program were not disclosed, but the general aim was outlined in a letter from Wilbur La Folle, general counsel of the National Independent Meat Packers Association, to Chairman Thomas (Okl.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

La Folle said the OPA had "agreed in principle" to a more flexible policy under which it will seek to "keep the industry revenues in any quarter above the cost of production and by adjustments during the year will seek to maintain the industry earnings for that year as equal to those in a fair average base period."

Caldwell's Beer Tax Bill Is Hit By Senate Vote

Plan To Raise Money Is Ruffled In Committee By 7 To 6

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 29. (AP)—Gov. Caldwell's program for a first resort from the legislature yesterday when the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee declined by a 7 to 6 vote to approve his recommended beer tax of three cents a bottle.

The vote came after a four-hour public hearing in which Caldwell declared the proposed bill from seven-o'clock to a vote by three o'clock, but all six of Florida's brewers out of business.

Members of the House Finance and Taxation Committee and the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee met in the hearing room yesterday afternoon to discuss the bill until noon today.

New Facts Are Obtained

It will take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to bring the bill to the floor for consideration in the face of adverse committee reports. If the House should vote to pass the bill, it still would have to pass through the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee before it could be brought to the floor.

The governor who has proposed the beer tax has increased the tax to three cents a bottle, a four-cent beer tax to five cents, and a five-cent beer tax to six cents.

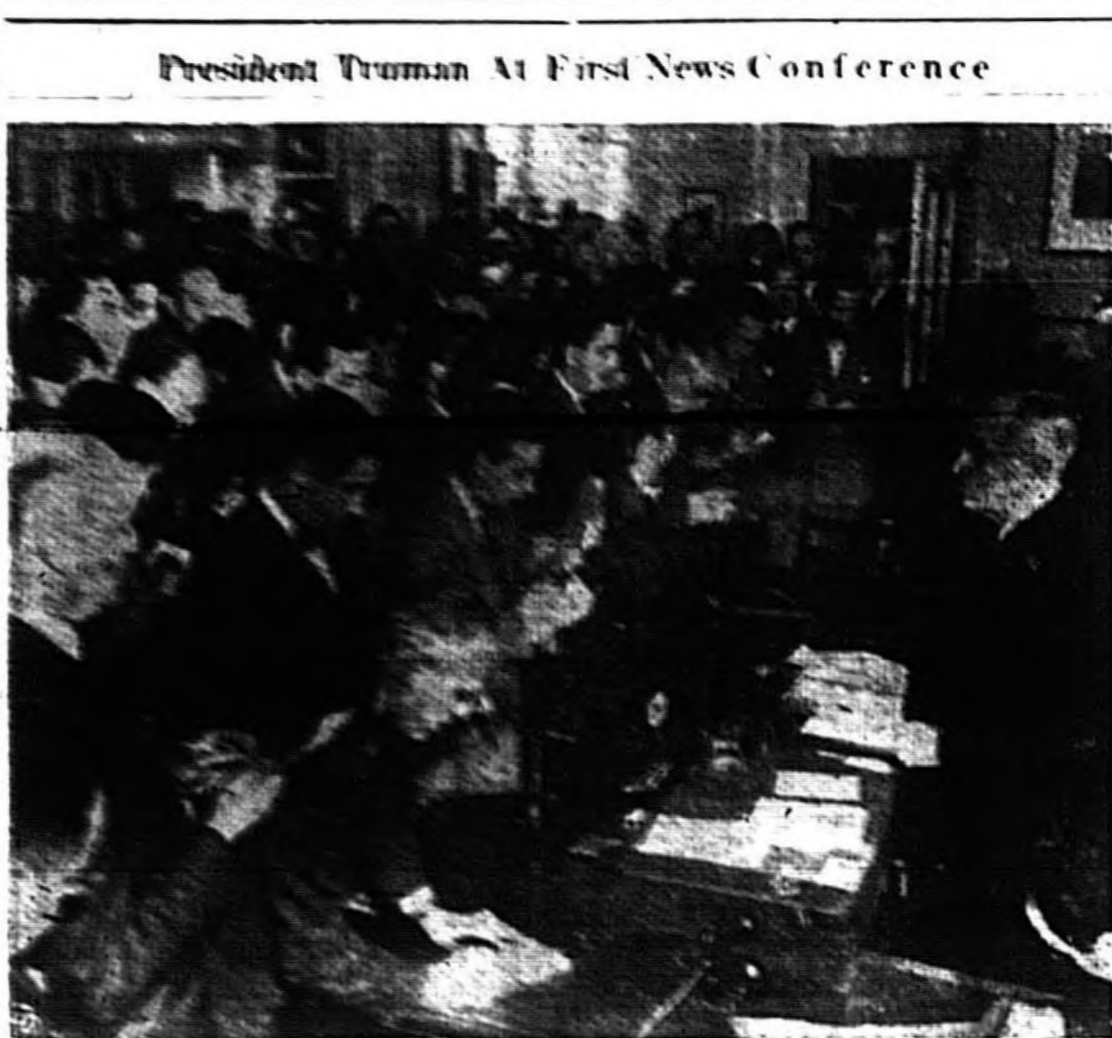

How Committee Will Proceed

The bill will be voted on by the committee with a vote of 7 to 6.

The bill will be reported to the Senate on Monday.

The bill will be reported to the House on Tuesday.

The bill will be reported to the Governor on Wednesday.

President Truman At First News Conference

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29. (AP)—President Truman today announced that he had approved the bill to increase the beer tax to three cents a bottle, a four-cent beer tax to five cents, and a five-cent beer tax to six cents.

The president said that he had signed the bill at 11:30 a. m. today.

The bill will take effect on July 1, 1944.

Turn Backs On Allies As Goebbels Admits Decision Is Near; Hitler Retreat Hit

A Berlin military spokesman said the Russian spearheads had penetrated the Hangelberg forest between seven and twelve miles. The German High Command announced Red forces smashed six miles into Berlin's outer defenses within thirteen and half miles northeast of the city limits.

The German central reserve was thrown into the "murderous battle at the gates of Berlin today," the Nazi radio said, reporting Russian spearheads threatened strongholds 4 to 17 miles northeast, and east of the smoking capital.

To meet the massive Red Army push described as raging almost to the limits of Greater Berlin, the Germans were forced to retreat from their positions on the eastern front.

German high command said the Russian spearheads smashed through the Hangelberg forest and penetrated 4 to 17 miles northeast of Berlin, only 40 miles from the U. S. First Army in the West. The German High Command said Soviet troops are battling at the "gates of Berlin" and the greatest tank battle of all time is raging to seal a climax on the approaches to the capital. Moscow dispatches said the Red Army is driving into the Berlin defense system and announced that Red forces across the Nazi Reich have captured East, Moscow, West, and 50 miles southwest of Berlin, indicating that troops are well across the city's defenses.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 29. (AP)—President Truman, keeping up his prodigious work schedule he has followed since he was sworn in, rounded out one week in office yesterday with a demonstration of his intention to work with Congress.

While giving full evidence of his cooperative attitude in a meeting with Democratic leaders of both Houses, the new Chief Executive at the same time made it clear he is not retiring from the field. Rather, he stepped into the current legislative picture by telling his cabinet he stands fully behind the general legislative program of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Two elements of that program are now in Congress. A House Committee is considering a proposition to extend reciprocal trade legislation and permit tariffs to be cut 50 per cent under current law in exchange for concessions from other nations.

The Senate is working on an extension of the Selective Service Act, with the War Department opposing amendments to fortify combat use of 18-year-olds who have less than six months training. Such amendments are backed by a bi-partisan group of Senators.

Range of Labor

The President's call list illustrated the weight and range of his labors: Senator Taft (R., Ohio), the Democratic legislative leader, the Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, Senate chaplain; Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan (General) of the Army George C. Marshall, the Judge Advocate General of the South American Republics, Turkish Ambassador Hussein Ragip Baydar, and Lebanese Minister Dr. Chelice to present their credentials; Philippine President Sergio Osmena and the Secretary of State.

Word has been received from the Navy Department that Robert Lee Cullum, hospital apprentice, 2/c USNR son of Mrs. E.H. Cullum, 519 Oak Avenue, and the late E.H. Cullum, is missing in action.

In order not to give possible aid to the enemy, the name of his ship and station has not been divulged.

Robert L. Cullum was born in Orlando in 1925. He attended local schools and Seminole High School. He enlisted in the Navy in August, 1943, trained at Pensacola and has been overseas since December, 1944. He was 20 years of age on his last birthday.

Wednesday Rains Welcome Relief On Local Farms

Golden Sweet Corn Cut By Galloway

Growers of citrus, corn, beans and peppers in Seminole County hailed with joy two downpours of rain Wednesday that in Sanford totaled 93 of an inch, adding in the slight drizzle of Tuesday evening, according to B. F. Whittier, weatherman.

The first shower Wednesday came at from 3:30 to 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, and wind and rain with big heavy drops swept the downtown section, but out at the Sanford Naval Air Station there was no rain recorded.

The real downpour came, accompanied with thunder and lightning at 7:00 o'clock. A strong southeast wind had been blowing and this shifted to the north and brought a drizzling rain.

Army Advances Slowly On Japs On Okinawa Isle

Admiral Halsey Demands Jap Officer For Every Soldier

Three American infantry divisions advanced slowly against the deep Japanese defenses of Naha, Okinawa, in the heaviest all-out offensive of the Pacific war.

Unopposed amphibious forces developed a new threat to Naha, the 1st Division captured Bairo Island, 45 miles north of Okinawa, which was already threatened by the U. S. hold on the Sulu Archipelago within 30 miles of east Borneo.

On Okinawa, the Seventh, 27th and 96th Divisions of the 24th Army Corps, ended a 13-day stalemate attacking the front wall of the intricate Naha defense. Admiral Nimitz said a terrific bombardment and "great flights of carrier aircraft" supported the offensive.

Admiral Halsey has called for the death of a Japanese officer "two ranks higher" for every one of our men who was "killed" in the Pacific war.

This retribution would be a peace price for Japanese atrocities in a post-war plan which also would impose indefinite armistice, without a peace treaty, and military rather than civil control.

The plan to control Japan was evolved out of discussions with his staff, and Halsey refers to it as "this plan of ours." It is (Continued on Page Eight)

Navy Ball Team Is Defeated By 4 To 2

The Sanford Naval Air Station ball club, managed by Lieut. J. R. Edison, was defeated Wednesday, by a slight margin of 4 to 2, by the Daytona Beach Naval Air Station Nine. Pitcher for the Sanford team was V. J. Covello while N. E. Stewart was behind the plate.

Neither team scored in the first, second, third, fifth or sixth innings and in the fourth both sides made one run. In the seventh, Sanford picked up one run to lead two to one; however, in the eighth, the Daytona team scored three runs to win. Sanford failed to score in the first half of the ninth to end the game.

The Sanford club will be host to the Army Air Corps team from Hemdricks Field, Sebring, this afternoon at 4:00 P. M. in the municipal park. T. W. Borking will pitch and J. H. Denner will catch for the home team.

Sanford will play Sanford here at the municipal park Sunday at 2:00 P. M., when E. W. Howell will start in the pitcher's box, and Denner will catch.

WMC Director Will Confer On Veterans

R. A. Rasco, state director of the War Manpower Commission and R. E. McDonald, will meet this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock to assist in organization of the Veterans Service Committee of which Ned Smith is chairman, and to plan for aiding returning veterans in this section.

Various kinds of civic organizations have been invited to attend the meeting, which will be held in the Commissioner's room at the City Hall.

Farmers To Report For AAA Payments

Farm operators in Seminole County who needed winter legumes for a cover crop last fall, are being notified to report for AAA payments for these two practices.

The AAA payments for these two practices are to be claimed, according to C. R. Dawson, County Agent and Secretary of the Seminole County Agricultural Conservation Association.

The date of assistance offered to farmers by the AAA for establishing a cover of winter legumes needed last fall is $1.00 per acre, and the assistance for establishing a cover of small grains for grazing is $1.50 per acre, Mr. Dawson explained.

Farmers should file their acreage reports for these two practices at the office of the Seminole County Agricultural Conservation Association as early as possible. An employee of the association will be available to render any assistance needed, Mr. Dawson continued.

Pfc. L. E. Bauman Jr. Is Back In Action

Pfc. L. E. Sorrel Grandson Of Man O' War Is Derby Favorite

MIAMI, Apr. 20, (Special)—The Big Horse of your 1945 Kentucky Derby—in actual physical size—will probably be a sorrel colt named Ship Call, a strapping grandson of Man O' War who stands nearly 17 hands high.

Dwarfing the other 3-year-olds training this spring at Hialeah Race Course, the monstrous son of Trace Call caught the fancy of horsemen in his workouts. Some have gone as far as predicting, when he finishes growing, the horse will be the largest thing in North American racing since Pharos was imported from Australia.

Charlie O'Neill, Jr., Miami wholesale liquor distributor, took his horse at a $20,000 bid for the immense race after the 1944 Champagne Stakes, and has been pestered with offers this spring. Only recently the owner of two good horses, he propositioned O'Neill with $40,000 and then sent the Miami a blank check with instructions to "write your own ticket for him."

Warren Wright, John T. March, Fred W. Hooper and Edward S. Moore—all owners of at least two "good" Derby prospects—are, or have been in Miami, the last few weeks.

The Giant Galloper, shipped to Belmont this week by trainer Tommy Tault, may become one of racing's all-time bargains. He was "thrown-in" as a deal between O'Neill and H. B. Scott of the Glen Riddle Farm in 1943.

O'Neill owned a Blenheim mare Samuel Riddle wasted. For the mare and $1,000, Scott gave the Miami a Bull Lea filly named Lea Flag, a colt called Castle Fuzano and Ship Call.

"I didn't want him," explains O'Neill. "He was overcast and gawky and didn't look like much of a prospect to me. Mr. Scott told me to take him, anyhow, and if he ever won a race, to send a check for fifty hundred dollars."

The check was sent to the Glen Riddle Farm last August 31 after Ship Call's triumph over five and one-half furlongs of the Widener straight-away at Belmont Park for a three-and-a-half-length victory over Joe W. Brown's Old War and George D. Widener's Sir Francis.

"The more he ran the better he looked," explains Tault. "He started seven times before that win at Belmont. He's the kind of a horse that has to be raced into shape."

In 12 starts, the son of the Man O' War mare, Ship Abaze, won twice, finished second three times and third twice. He was "laxing" third in the Champagne Stakes when put from behind by another colt.

Two weeks after his first win he scored at seven furlongs at Narragansett, and in the James H. Connors Memorial lost a photo decision to Bedline which should have won," according to Tault.

"If we'd had a strong boy on him he would have won easily," says the trainer. "He's so big it takes a powerful man to ride him. He's been using Jackie Westrope. He rode him in both his wins. But we couldn't get him for the Connors."

James F. Byrnes Might Have Been President Of U.S.

By ARLENE WOLF
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The word "might" has played an important role in the recent political history of James F. Byrnes. "Assistant president" under Franklin Delano Roosevelt, and close friend and associate of President Harry S. Truman.

Byrnes might be the President of the United States today, had he not stepped aside, at the request of F.D.R. when Truman was nominated for the Vice Presidency in 1944.

He might have had a distinguished judicial career in the U. S. Supreme Court, had he not left the post when Roosevelt asked him to take on the assignment of Economic Stabilization Director in 1942. Taken out of the Senate by appointment by F.D.R. to the court in 1941, Byrnes stayed there just one year—long enough to write 15 opinions and join in 11 dissents.

And he might have been Senate majority leader, a national chairman of the Democratic party, had he not declined nomination for both posts in favor of remaining in the thick of the fiercest legislative struggle and political campaign for the ten years after he helped the Roosevelt administration in 1937.

The wiry South Carolinian who controlled U. S. economic-war-time life acquired a reputation for being able to handle the most difficult legislative programs of F.D.R., and served as White House contact man in many disputes.

Tough jobs are everyday tasks to Roosevelt's number one trouble-shooter. He kept up through the controversial draft and lend-lease programs, direct the biggest job of reorganization in U. S. history, regulated prices, wages, rents, food, fuel and manpower distribution. He supervised rationing, froze U. S. workers in their jobs, and became boss of the entire home front as Director of War Mobilization. He sat in with F.D.R. on conferences, both national and international.

"Jimmy" Byrnes, as his many friends in and out of the government know him, was elected to Congress in 1910, and served continuously until 1921. During World War I, he became fast friends with the man who was to influence the rest of his life so heavily—Franklin Delano Roosevelt, then Assistant Secretary of the Navy. Byrnes met his first political setback in the senatorial election of 1924, but was elected to the Senate six years later. Although he is a capable speaker, he won his points in the Senate through floorroom tactics, rather than oratory, and formed lasting friendships with many members of Congress.

A constant White House caller, and staunch supporter of Roosevelt and his New Deal program, Byrnes was one of the few southern Democrats who remained loyal even when the former President attempted to reorganize the Supreme Court in 1936. And when the plan fell through, leaving large gaps in Democratic ranks, Jimmy Byrnes helped pull them together in time for the 1940 election and the third term contest.

Byrnes, who recently left his war mobilization post to return to law practice, is a man of small physical stature, and quick, nervous mannerisms. He has served in all three branches of government—legislative, executive and judicial. His first introduction to the latter was as an official court reporter in South Carolina in 1904. Three years later, he was admitted to the bar, and acquired the Alken, S. C. Journal and Review, which he edited four years.

Truman Is Seen As Baseball Friend, Like Roosevelt

By CHIP ROYAL
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

WASHINGTON—Gosh, what a difference a week makes!

Just about seven days before Franklin Delano Roosevelt passed away, and Harry S. Truman became the 33rd president, it was revealed that he never misses a game.

He owned the Marion team in the Ohio State League.

Woodrow Wilson also was a great fan. He had control but not much speed. Baseball didn't appeal to Calvin Coolidge, but he carried on with the tossing act. Herbert Hoover liked a ball game—and still does.

The new President made a baseball promise last January that he may not be able to keep. When the New York writers were arranging their annual dinner, they invited Truman to speak.

He couldn't make it, but said he would be on hand for the 1946 affair. Time will tell. If Truman does make an appearance, he will make history as the first President to honor the baseball writer.

Just a few days before I caught him in the Capitol, Harry S. appeared on a sports broadcast and said:

"I want to join our enthusiastic sports fans and say 'Play Ball!'"

He announced that he'd reached his conclusions after a lot of talk with high military and naval authorities.

"The great American game of baseball is the most popular sport both at home and on the war fronts. Ninety per cent of the troops polled abroad are in favor of sports at home."

Add his comment a couple of weeks before that, when Truman was in New York for a fight, and told Tony Janiro, up-and-coming welterweight, that boxing provides a great lift for "all of us" and you get an idea that the Missourian is A-1 as a sports fan.

And if you are one of the millions who like to follow the horses, so does the President!

Bureau Tells Value Of Birth Certificates

ATLANTA, Ga. Apr. 20, (Special)—To give effect to the President's Child Health Day proclamation issued Apr. 9, many State health departments and bureau of vital statistics, particularly in the South, will carry out intensive birth-registration campaigns, the Children's Bureau and the Bureau of the Census announced today.

These two agencies are joint sponsors of this year's observance of Child Health Day, May 1.

"One out of every 13 babies born each year is not registered," J. C. Capt, director of the Census Bureau, said. "Of the bumper crop of 10 million infants born since Pearl Harbor, over 700,000 have not yet received their first citizenship papers, possession of which is a fundamental right of every child born in the United States. A birth certificate is the best evidence of citizenship, age, and place of birth. It is possible to have in claiming many of the privileges and protections of citizenship."

Incomplete birth registration has proved costly during the war emergency. During the first 18 months after the bombing of Pearl Harbor the Bureau of the Census had to make 500,000 searches of its records for proof of Government jobs which birth certificates were not available. These and subsequent searches cost the Federal Government $1,500,000 and required the services of 800 clerks and typists who labored 1,000 man years to complete the task.

"Complete birth registration is of enormous assistance to State and local health departments in planning adequate health programs for children," Miss Katharine F. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau, pointed out. "Under the Social Security Act, Federal funds have been available to State health departments to promote programs of maternal and child health and welfare. Part of these funds is allotted to States in amounts determined by the number of registered live births occurring in the State. Unless all births are registered in a State the amount of money received by that State is less than the proportion to which it is entitled, and so fewer children get the care they might have."

WAC PVT. Marjory L. Labinski, of Baird, Pa., has been awarded the Air Medal posthumously. The first WAC to receive this honor, she was killed on July 27, 1944, in the crash of a dive bomber at Stillwater, Okla., while engaged on a WAC enlistment assignment. A. A. F. photo. (International)

Birth registration, it is estimated by the Bureau of the Census, is less than 80 percent complete in some States, although the Nation as a whole shows about 93 out of every 100 babies registered. Among the non-white population in two States the percentage of births registered is believed to be as low as 48 and 40 percent respectively.

May first has been Child Health Day since 1923. Its importance was officially recognized in 1928 when the Congress passed a joint resolution requesting and authorizing the President to issue an annual proclamation designating May 1 as a day on which all groups interested in bettering conditions for children might unite and rededicate themselves to help build "better children for our Nation; a better Nation for our children."

Florida Sugar Crop Is Up 90,000 Tons

CLEWISTON, Apr. 20, (FWS)—The 1944-45 sugar cane harvest at the United States Sugar Corp. has come to a close with approximately 90,000 more tons of cane harvested this year than last, in 25 days less time, according to figures released Saturday by company officials.

"This increased harvest in a shorter period of time is due largely to an improvement of the labor supply through the reversion program of the War Food Administration, which made available a plentiful supply of workers from Jamaica," Jay W. Moran, vice president and general manager of the company, said. Final production figures have not yet been completed.

The bulk of the labor supply during the current season has been Jamaican, with a small percentage of domestic labor. The 350 war prisoners working for the corporation have been used largely in cultivation and planting operations.

These Jamaican laborers are now being moved into other farming areas of the country, but a new supply is being obtained by the corporation for planting and cultivation during the summer months.

In spite of adverse weather conditions in December and January when very low temperatures were recorded, there was only a negligible loss in cane tonnage, and during the season approximately 24,000 acres of cane were harvested.

The record of grinding has been very good and despite the difficult labor supply at the sugar season, it has operated at a very high degree of efficiency, Moran said.

The harvest season lasted 187

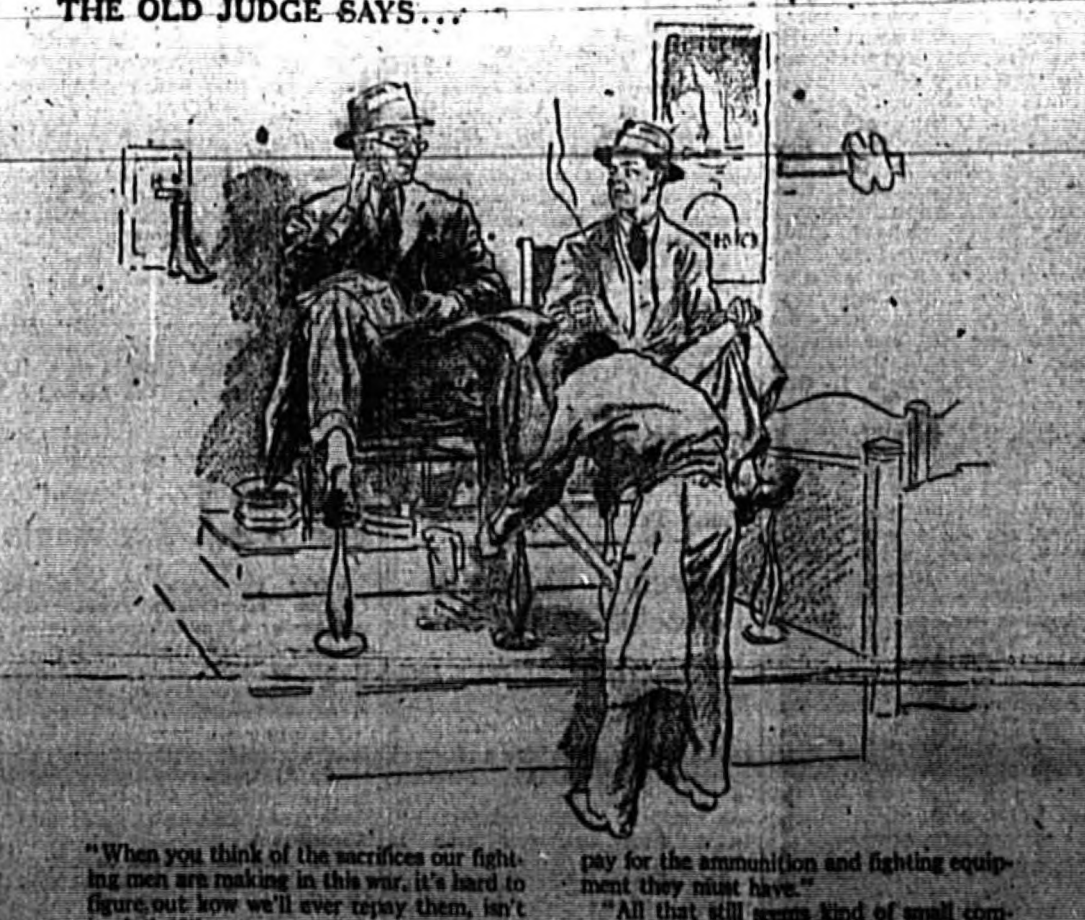

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

More than $4,000,000,000 worth of canned foods were put up by 25,000,000 households in 1944.

Wax will go on floors and other surfaces more easily and smoothly if it is not too cold.

There are more than 12 billion nerve cells in the human brain.

Days in comparison with 182 days for the previous season, Moran says, but the weather is not more sugar may be expected as there will be an increase in the acreage planted, which should result in a substantial increase in the harvest of the next crop.

"When you think of the sacrifices our fighting men are making in this war, it's hard to figure out how we'll ever repay them, isn't it, Judge?"

"Yes, it really is, Tom. There are only certain things we can do. Such as... write them cheerful letters often. Send them favorite gifts from time to time. Write them cards to cheer them up. Give them everything they need to finish their job quickly. Buy more and more War Bonds... especially during the current drive... to pay for the ammunition and fighting equipment they must have."

"All that still seems kind of small compared with what they're doing for us, Judge?"

"True, but it's about all we older folks back home can do. Tom, except one more thing. And that is to be sure our fighting men come home to the same kind of country they left behind. The kind of country their letters tell us they want. Nothing changed that they don't want changed while they're away and unable to express their wishes."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THOSE WHOSE DEEDS ARE EVIL DO NOT LIKE THE LIGHT: The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light.—Isa. 60:19.

Don't forget to buy a poppy tomorrow.

That was a pretty good rain we had the other night. It almost laid the dust.

Congratulations to Jack Rocco on his election as post commander of the American Legion.

Money to this GI was just so much mud—a frame of mind which everyone handling other people's money would do well to cultivate.

Many interesting and varied ways have been suggested for celebrating VE day when it arrives, as it probably will within the next few days.

President Truman is encountering his first political opposition in the fight the Republicans are making over the repeal of the reciprocal trade agreements.

When Paige Cavanaugh, and old friend working on the movie production, "The Story of GI Joe," wrote Ernie Pyle some time ago, "I have completed my plans for the postwar world and I find no place in it for you," he may have planned better than he knew.

Bill Leedy of Orlando who thinks a three percent sales tax is the best way to raise not only the $12,000,000 which Governor Caldwell says the state will need, but also many more millions which would be divided among the municipalities of the State.

The San Francisco Conference

Delegates from all over the world are meeting in San Francisco next week for what will probably be the most momentous conference since the Treaty of Versailles was drafted.

Every member of the United Nations will be represented with the possible exception of Poland, where a dispute over recognition of the Lublin government still prevails.

The Dumbarton Oaks Proposals, which were drawn up by representatives of the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China and which provide for an organization not unlike the League of Nations, will be subjected to their first critical analysis by the little powers.

Even the big nations are by no means in agreement on everything. Britain demands six votes in the General Assembly with other nations, including Russia, having only one.

Even in America there is widespread disagreement on some controversial points. Should the American delegate to the Security Council have the power to commit the United States to a foreign war without prior authority from Congress?

Agreement among men even in a small organization like a chamber of commerce requires considerable patience, tolerance, and willingness to compromise.

Are Our Generals Too Young?

Criticism of a few American field commanders because they are "too young" for capable leadership runs contrary to the lessons of history.

George Washington was 43 when he assumed command of the Continental Army under a Cambridge elm. Ethan Allen was 38 when he led his Green Mountain boys to victory at Ticonderoga.

At 34 Nathaniel Green was a Major General in the Revolution, while Henry Knox was just 31 when promoted to a similar rank for signal service at Yorktown.

Ulysses S. Grant was 40 when commissioned Major General after the capture of Fort Donelson and a Lieutenant General at 42.

Phil Sheridan was 33 when he "saved the day" at Winchester by the 20-mile ride that is remembered in the classics of American poetry.

Wolfe was only 32 when he climbed the heights to Quebec and wrested half a continent from Montcalm in the engagement that forever ended French dreams of a New World empire.

Hannibal was the leader of the Carthaginians at 26, and only 28 when he made his famous winter march from Spain through France and over the Alps into Italy.

ROAD TO SAN FRANCISCO

SANFORD FORUM

Editor, Sanford Herald, Sanford, Florida, Dear Sir:

Since my last communication to your paper things have quieted down to some extent on Capitol Hill (Tallahassee) but underneath the surface rumblings still can be heard, especially in the lower House.

The co-education bill failed of passage; there have been several other bills introduced and withdrawn, for what reason I am unable to state.

A change of attitude on the part of a great many members is apparent, but I will not even hazard a guess as to the reason why.

Very sincerely, J. R. LYLES.

Over $3,000,000 Earned By Florida Parolees

TALLAHASSEE, April 18 (AP)—Florida parolees earned over $3,000,000 and have assisted in taking care of 146 dependents.

The Commission costs to the taxpayers of Florida since it began operating in October, 1941, have amounted to less than $275,000 and had the parolees now under supervision been sent to prison for one year as the parolees now under supervision spent one more year in prison the cost to the State would have been $391,462, figuring that cost at 50 cents per day per prisoner.

Such are some of the statistics made public in the Commission's fourth annual report, set off the Commission, through Dec. 31, 1944, 14,480 men and women have been paroled and 17,433 men and women placed on probation by the State's judges rather than being sent to prison.

Parolees' Fight Against Hitler and Hirohito of the parolees released from prison, the Commission has released 86 parolees, or 47 percent, in addition 30 others are serving sentences for new offenses in other states and will be returned to Florida to complete their terms here and the Commission is hunting for 37 others.

The members of the Commission wish to make it very clear that they do not pose as having supernatural powers, the members wrote into the report.

Nazis Throw In Reserves To Save Berlin From Reds

 of men, tanks and artillery. Propaganda Minister Goebbels marked Adolf Hitler's 56th birthday gloomily announcing the "decision is very near."
 On the western front General Eisenhower wheeled the weight of three armies against Hitler's Bavarian Alps redoubt area. Seventh Army forces swept to within 70 miles of Munich. The U. S. Third on the left flank, swept 20 miles southeast of captured Bayreuth, and rained up to 14 miles on a 35-mile front. British Second Army tanks rumbled to the Elbe within a mile of Hamburg's suburbs.
 On the Italian front the British advanced their tanks and captured Portomaggiore, 12 miles southeast of Ferrara in the Po Valley.

PARIS, April 20. (AP)—Triumphantly the Nazi flag waved yesterday over the inner German fortresses of Leipzig and Halle. Nazidom's shrine of Nuernberg was encircled and mostly in American hands, and spearheads were 25 miles beyond 70 miles from Hitler's Munich. Leipzig, fifth city of the Reich with a refugee-swollen population of 1,000,000, fell yesterday with astounding swiftness to the U. S. First Army.
 Shortly thereafter, as doughboys ferreted out the last die-hard snipers, it was announced that 16 miles to the northwest fortified Halle, city of 220,000, also had been taken.

U. S. 70 Miles From Munich
 The city was encircled when American units met south of the city and tanks broke through 25 miles northwest of Nuernberg were 70 miles from Bavaria's first city of Munich, where Hitler launched the Nazi movement.
 One German report said that on the west flank, the Seventh had opened a new offensive, and had penetrated into Aalen, 40 miles east of Stuttgart and 30 miles north of the Danubian city of Ulm.
 Resounding success were recorded on the opposite end of the Western Front, where the British Second Army armored spearheads thrust northward 20 miles to within five miles and six artillery range of Hamburg, Germany's second city and greatest port.
 Driving up to the Elbe River 20 miles southeast of Hamburg, the British drenched with artillery fire the first bridge across the stream at Lauenburg, thus sealing off from the rest of the Reich the defenders of the ports of Bremen, Emden and Wilhelmshaven.

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 20. Higher salaries for Florida circuit judges were voted by the legislature Wednesday after a lengthy house debate in which the move was attacked on the basis of economy and deflation of the state.
 The house voted, 66 to 26, to increase the judges' salaries from $6000 to $7500 a year.
 The bill provides for a 25 per cent increase in the salary of circuit judges.
 The Sheldon bill also placed a seven and one-half percent limitation on administrative costs of the old age program and increased from $100 to $500 the maximum amount of cash or insurance recipients may have.

 shower to the whole section. From the Crescent City section came reports of damage by "hail stones as big as oranges." This may be some exaggeration. However, it was today reported to Chase and Company's citrus manager, Robert Reely, that 300 acres of the company's citrus packing plant at Lake Como had been smashed by the huge hailstones, driven by a hard wind.
 According to Mr. Reely, the hail stones were as gentle to citrus growers who had watched new blossoms dropping because of the prolonged drought, and had on this account begun to anticipate a very "short" crop of citrus.
 M. L. Oullum, president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, pointed out that the rain would help control all kinds of insects which had been rampant because of the drought.
 Despite reports about April showers, normal rainfall for this month is only 2.81 inches in Florida according to Weatherman Whitner. Up to Thursday of this week, rainfall had totalled 1.44 inches, he said, for the first 15 days of the month.
 "It was perhaps the first crop of golden sweet corn to be harvested for shipment to a sugar market was cut Tuesday at the west-end farm of E. M. Oullum. The crop, he de-

Caldwell's Beer Tax Bill Is Hit By Senate Vote

 Caldwell's beer tax bill, which would be utilized without appropriating any state funds.
 "I am not convinced of the need for any new tax," he said.
 A bill to allow conditional increase of maximum monthly child support from $40 to $50 was passed 26 to 16 by the Senate.
 Meanwhile, the House and Senate are in conference on a bill to allow conditional increase of maximum monthly child support from $40 to $50 was passed 26 to 16 by the Senate.
 The measure restoring the maximum monthly grant authorized by Sen. Sheldon at Tallahassee contained a provision that the state could not increase its share of grants from $20 to $25 until the federal government raised its contribution of funds by a similar amount.
 The Sheldon bill also placed a seven and one-half percent limitation on administrative costs of the old age program and increased from $100 to $500 the maximum amount of cash or insurance recipients may have.

 published under his name, as told to Frank D. Morris, Collier's Pacific fleet correspondent, in the current issue of the magazine.
 Halsey proposes punishment of "all Japs guilty of war crimes, without respect for rank or high position," singling out Field Marshal Terachi, "the beast who was in command during the 'death march' of our prisoners at Bataan," and Gen. Yamashita, who commanded the Japanese forces in the Philippines.
 "Every one of them, right down the line, ought to get his just deserts," says Halsey. "I believe that for every one of our men who was murdered, officially or otherwise, a Jap officer, two ranks higher, should suffer the death penalty."
 The only announced callers of the afternoon were the President's brother, J. Vivian Truman, and U. S. Marshal Fred Casfil, both of Kansas City, with Ted Sanders, Democratic leader of Clinton County, Missouri.
 Mr. Truman quit his office at 4:30 P. M., the earliest since he took it over, and walked across the street to his temporary home at the Blair House, accompanied by his brother and a guard of secret servicemen. He walked the same route in reverse at 8:30 this morning.

RURAL COMMON SENSE

By Spuds Johnson
FLORIDA AGRICULTURE HAS MADE TREMENDOUS PROGRESS IN CENTURY
 In her hundredth year of statehood, Florida is justly proud of the tremendous progress in her agriculture.
 When she became a state in 1845, her principal products were cotton, lumber, turpentine, and citrus, but today her output includes all of these and many other crops which have been added to her agriculture.
 Citrus was important before 1845, but the quantity and quality of the citrus Florida produced a hundred years ago couldn't "hold a candlelight" to today's huge crops of fine fruit.
 Citrus was also important in 1845 but the cattle that roamed the ranges in those days wouldn't be recognized as kin by the high grade stock of today. It's the same story with hogs and, incidentally, 4-H club youngsters started the movement toward better hogs by bringing in pure-bred pigs.
 Out of the adversity of frozes in 1894-95 and 1896-97 came the great winter vegetable industry of the state. Citrus growers, working to re-establish their groves, tried vegetables in order to make a living.
 Between times, Mr. Truman sent his first veto to Congress appointed Spruille Braden, now ambassador in Cuba, to be ambassador to the newly accepted Argentine government, and took a minute out to accept the first Buddy Poppy in a Veterans of Foreign Wars drive for relief war funds.
 That only took him up to lunch time, with the afternoon remaining for paper work and perhaps less formally arranged conferences.

to have something that wouldn't be destroyed for several years by acid And so, the vegetable industry started; today, Florida is the winter vegetable basket of the Nation.
 Florida's forests were unwisely exploited in 1845 and later, but today they are coming back, with farmers and others convinced of the necessity for forest protection and proper management.
 Florida has shown the Nation that tung can be produced here, and the industry which Florida Experiment Station research established is becoming of greater and greater importance. Mangoes, avocados, Persian limes, Papayas, and other fruits have been introduced and developed since 1845, also.

Soviets Reported In Possession Of One-Fourth Of Berlin; Patton's Army Gains 28 Miles In Push Toward Prague

7th Army Expands Bridgeheads Over Danube To 40 Miles British Hit Bremen

WASHINGTON, Apr. 23. (AP)—President Truman today summoned the secretaries of State, War, Navy and military leaders to a conference this afternoon. The White House did not disclose the occasion for the meeting. In addition to the three cabinet members, the President called Admiral William D. Leahy, military adviser; General Marshall and Admiral King.

The U.S. Third Army, suddenly striking to the south eastward, gained 28 miles on a 65-mile front in a push to slice off the Pilsen-Prague munitions area of Czechoslovakia from the Nazis Alpine redoubt. Against minor resistance, General Patton's troops surged to within 25 miles of Regensburg on the Danube River 65 miles from Munich.

Westward, the U.S. Seventh Army expanded its bridgeheads over the Danube at Dillenburg to 40 miles, and fought within ten miles of the superhighway leading 50 miles east to Munich. In the north, the British drove their final assaults on Bremen and

Superforts Attack Southern Japan For 4th Time In 5 Days

(By Associated Press) Japanese infantrymen, infiltrating the U. S. 24th Division lines, recaptured Kakazu, a town in western Okinawa. Strategic bridge positions changed hands repeatedly, but eventually the lines were substantially unchanged.

Yanks Ford A Stream To Hit Nazi Lines

LAST THE BODY OF A NAZI SOLDIER OF THE 10th SS DIVISION, captured by the U. S. 24th Division, is seen in a trench near the front lines. The soldier was killed during the Yank's attack on the Western front where Allied armor has been driving forward into submission and fighting in the front lines.

Red Armies Only Few Miles From Seat Of Government; Only One Way Out

Red army troops held a tight grip today on from one-fifth to one-fourth of greater Berlin and bared in from three sides toward the heart of the blazing capital now blanketed by shellfire and all but surrounded, Moscow dispatches said. Red banners (captioned) from the battered, old city were seen and Soviet flags were hoisted on the main streets from the Kremlin to the city center.
