

30 CENT HOUR MINIMUM WAGE ON RELIEF OUT

Hopkins Says Future Pay Will Be Rate Prevailing In Town Where Job Is Done

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—The Relief Administration today abandoned its 30 cents an hour minimum wage for work relief.

Hereafter, it was said, the factor in governing work relief wages will be the rates prevailing in communities where the work is done.

The order rescinding all rules and regulations governing work relief wages has been sent to state administrators by Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator.

Responsibility for determining wages in the future, it said, has been placed with local committees representing labor, business, and the local relief administration.

Celery Control Board Members Seek Better Pack

Sanford and Oviedo representatives on the Florida Celery Control Board will recommend that immediate steps be taken to bring about a more uniform and normal packing of celery during the new season, and that the unusually heavy "bulge" package be outlawed.

Meeting yesterday afternoon under the chairmanship of R. B. Chapman, seven of the eight Seminole County members of the state control board passed a resolution which embodied these recommendations.

They also named B. E. Squires as secretary of the county control committee and voted to establish a permanent office at Room 224 in the Meisch Building, beginning Dec. 1.

U.S. Steel Labor Body May Battle In Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A court battle between the giant United States Steel Corporation and the Steel Labor Board appeared a distinct possibility today as the result of the latest development in the corporation's labor board relations.

Negotiations between the corporation and the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel, and Tin Workers on an agreement as to their future relations have collapsed.

As a result, the steel board likely will make a decision soon as to Amalgamated's position for an election at the Carnegie Steel Company's Duquesne, Pa., plant.

In the event the board orders the election, it will need company payroll to make up voting eligibility lists. There have been hints from steel sources that the company might surrender these payrolls.

Mendenhall Bail Case Is Argued

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The Florida supreme court will determine whether J. J. Mendenhall, charged with murdering two women in Jacksonville, is entitled to his release on less than $50,000 bond in each case.

MAGUIRE TIES HIMSELF UP IN FASCIST PLOT

Board Probes Rumor Of CCC Camp As Operations Base

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Behind closed doors, the House committee on an American activities questioned at length yesterday Gerald C. Maguire, Wall Street bond salesman, regarding the report he was seeking to establish a fascist corps in the United States to impose a dictatorship.

Amidst reverberations of the charges laid before the committee Tuesday by Major General Smedley D. Butler, the retired marine, Maguire was asked to head the fascist headquarters.

At this camp, the committee heard, 500,000 men were to be concentrated for a march to Washington.

The committee recently investigated this camp. Its commander, Captain Samuel Glazier, was summoned Tuesday to testify again.

Britain Proposes Self-Rule For India

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The National Government moved yesterday to cut ancient India, hot-bed of discontent, partly free from Britannia's apron strings.

A modified form of self-rule for the homeland of the Mahatma Gandhi was proposed to the New Parliament in recommendations submitted by its joint select committee, whose 20 months of intensive investigation culminated seven years' study of the best way to reform India's government.

Supreme Court Rules $25,000 Verdict Against Coast Line Was 'Excessive'

The Florida Supreme Court has ruled that a Seminole County jury rendered a verdict and judgment that was "excessive" when in 1933 it decided that the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad should pay $25,000 to Sam Kinlaw, one of its employees at that time, because he had lost his foot in an accident while performing his duties.

The Court's mandate, held by Circuit Judge M. E. Smith, it also orders that the Coast Line as plaintiff in error recover from Mr. Kinlaw as defendant in error, the sum of $12 to cover costs of carrying the case before the Supreme Court.

The Court's opinion is as follows: "In this case the defendant in error was a switchman working for the plaintiff in error in the performance of his duties he jumped off a moving train in the dark, tripped over a switch block, and his foot was mangled under another train which was then rushing parallel to and in the same direction as the train was moving upon which the switchman was working.

"We do not think that an extended discussion of the case would serve any useful purpose. Under the facts as disclosed by the record, a jury might have found a verdict in favor of either the plaintiff or the defendant as there was some substantial evidence upon which either verdict could have found basis.

"We have found no reversible errors in rulings upon pleadings or as to rulings on procedural questions.

"The injury proven was the loss of the foot and a part of the leg, the same having been amputated between the knee and the ankle. The record shows that there were two amputations and the record also shows that there was considerable pain and suffering experienced by the switchman.

"The verdict and judgment was for $25,000. We think the judgment is so excessive as to require a reversal thereof with directions that the cause be remanded, for new trial. It is so ordered, reviewed and remanded."

This opinion was prepared by Justices Whitfield, Brown and Buford, and Justices Davis, Ellis, and Terrell concurred.

LASTING NRA RULES SOUGHT BY RICHBERG

New 6-Point Program Includes Revised Concept Of Anti-Trust Legislation

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A six-point program of essentials for permanent NRA legislation, including a new conception of the anti-trust laws, was advanced last night by Donald R. Richberg, director of President Roosevelt's executive council.

Richberg, in an address here, pointed also toward strong administrative opposition to organized labor's demands for a national 30-hour work week. His statements were considered of unusual significance, despite repeated assertions he expressed only his own views which "may not be generally acceptable."

Although Richberg did not segregate his six points pertaining to a permanent NRA, he did, in an address before the associated grocery manufacturers lay stress on the following:

- 1. Preservation of the "flexibility of code making" both as to commercial practices and labor conditions. 2. "I believe there is a demonstrable soundness in the fixing of minimum wages and maximum hours for each trade and industry."

Miami School Houses Crowded With Pupils

MIAMI, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Unprecedented demands upon Greater Miami's school system forced the county board of public instruction yesterday to order double sessions beginning Monday in at least five schools, and more as the season advances.

"Counting upon at least 3,000 more pupils to crowd into the already overtaxed schools between now and the seasonal peak of January, teachers will divide lower grades into morning and afternoon sessions in those schools.

RFC Authority Will Be Extended Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The RFC's authority to strengthen the weak spots of the nation's credit structure with millions of dollars in loans will be extended another year at the coming session of Congress.

Under present laws, its lending life would end Jan. 31.—Consequently one legislation to be submitted to Congress is to be a bill postponing the expiration date until, probably, Jan. 31, 1936.

East Warned Of Colder Weather

By The Associated Press. Snow and sleet in Southwestern and Rocky Mountain states early today served notice to the East that cold weather will follow on the heels of heavy rains that have swept the United States. Six deaths are credited to the rain. At Kansas City this morning the temperature was 33 and snow was falling heavily but melting. Generally high temperatures prevailed over the Eastern section of the country as rain and wind subsided. A negro was found dead in a water-filled ravine near Camp Hill, La. Four persons died in a truck and train crash near Lees Summit, Mo., and another person was killed at Joplin in a motor car crash. The Missouri accidents were attributed to blurred vision.

EDITOR SEEKS TO ESTABLISH RIGHT OF FREE SPEECH

Writer Would Protect Newsmen From Punishment By Juries

OCALA, Fla., Nov. 22.—(AP)—That another session of the Florida State Press Association should not pass without legislation being gently reminded that there should be enacted in this state a specific law that newspaper editors and reporters should not be punished by juries for refusing to divulge confidential information, is the comment of W. L. Straub of the St. Petersburg "Daily Times."

"Newspaper men have a duty as well as a right to hold the confidence of their news sources in violation," Mr. Straub says. "That duty is inherent. It is as fundamental as the guarantee of freedom to the press for fair and orderly criticism of those in high place. It is an elementary portion of the stuff from which confidence service is made. It gives promise assurance to an indolent public, loath to stir from its bed of sloth, that grave injustice will not be perpetrated beneath the mask of judicial power."

"The very life-blood of American journalism has been its freedom. From the founding of the nation it has demanded an untrammelled press. The people themselves have insisted upon the (Continued On Page Four)

County Institutes Condemnation Action

Unable to reach an agreement with regard to a 1,000 foot right of way needed for the construction of the lakefront boulevard, the Board of County Commissioners meeting in a special session at the Court House Tuesday afternoon, authorized the institution of condemnation proceedings. The property is owned by Arthur Yowell and the action was required in order to protect the State Road Department which had announced that it could not let a contract for the completion of the road until clear legal title had been acquired.

By resolution, the Board agreed to indemnify the State Road Department from any and all claims and judgments obtained against the Department by reason of its trespassing upon any property in the matter of construction of the road, and to defend any and all trespassing, and also to protect actions brought because of such trespassing, and also to protect any contractor against loss occasioned by reason of legal action which might follow a trespass.

Signs Of The Times

Kent Rosetter, whose profession as a florist is one of those which usually is first affected by the depression, today joined the ranks of local business men who are reporting "increased business and definite signs of improvement."

"My October and November business," he said, "is far ahead of that of the same months during the past few years, and from all indications florists everywhere can expect more and better business as the season progresses. Not only is the volume greater but the type of orders is improving. People are buying larger floral offerings for funerals, and are sending bouquets to wives and sweethearts in greater number than has been the record of past few years."

Ethel Allen, Cocoa Girl, Found Murdered

MELBOURNE, Nov. 22.—The body decomposed body of a girl who had apparently been murdered was discovered on the banks of the Indian River, a short distance south of Eau Gallie, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

J. E. McClelland, Eau Gallie police chief, was immediately notified, and initiated an investigation.

The body was identified last night as that of Miss Ethel Allen, 18, of Cocoa. Identification was established by Mrs. Gerald Finney of Cocoa, with whom she boarded.

ANTI-HOARDING DRIVE AGAIN IS RENEWED

Common Man Asked To Put Hidden Billion Into Circulation, Aid Re-Employment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The Administration has called upon the common man to join with business and industry in giving recovery efforts a $3,000,000,000 shot in the arm.

The plan is to put idle dollars now being hoarded or in corporate surplus reserves to work. Treasury officials estimate there are at least $1,000,000,000 still in safety deposit boxes, tea cups and under mattresses—out of circulation.

Federal Housing Administrator Moffett said approximately $2,000,000,000 could be expended usefully by corporations out of their surplus reserves in machinery replacement and otherwise bringing their plants to the 1928 efficiency level.

Money spent by corporations for this purpose, officials said, would stimulate the heavy or durable goods industry which must come before the nation can con- (Continued On Page Four)

Lake Mary Leaders To Stage Annual Sale

The second annual palm and shrub sale sponsored by the Beautification Committee of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce is to be held in the Community Building in that town at 7:00 o'clock tomorrow night.

Officers of the organization, including Roy Howell, C. W. Ishill, and Homer Gleason, are extending the public a cordial invitation to attend this event. Admission is free, and coffee will be served without charge.

An impromptu entertainment will be staged during the evening featuring music and the talents of juvenile entertainers. Proceeds from the sale will be used for the beautification work in that town.

The special Beautification Committee in charge of the sale includes R. I. Waag, Roy Howell, J. W. Thompson, Robert True, C. W. Ishill, Frank Evans, Harvey Pugh, and Wm. Musgrave. The latter will have charge of a sandwich table.

Lehmann Sees More Progress For State In Next 10 Years Than In Past 300

"Florida will make more progress in the next 10 years than she has made in the last 300," Karl Lehmann secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will say in addressing the Florida State Press Association at Ocala Friday, speaking on the subject "Looking Ahead in Florida."

"There are sound and basic reasons why Florida will show more real growth and development in the next decade than in all of our past history," says Mr. Lehmann, "reasons why we will double our population in the next ten years as we more than doubled it in the last ten, reasons why we will double our improvement and developments."

"Whether we want it or not, the next 10 years will find us in the midst of another boom very similar to the one through which we passed in 1925 and 1926. Law Angeles and Southern California have passed through five similar boom periods in the last 35 years, an average of one every seven years, and we are not smarter in Florida than they are in California, we didn't bring the last boom on ourselves and we won't bring on the next one but it will descend on us from the North as it did before and we will be pretty well swung along in it as we were before. Bad as are the after effects of such a boom as we went through we can't prevent the boom coming, we can only act a little more wisely, magnify the possible good and minimize the inevitable bad so as to get the maximum value from it all."

"Florida has certain great fundamental advantages which will cause wise people everywhere to come to this state and if we are as smart as we ought to be we will advertise these advantages to the world."

"The proximity of Florida to the great centers of population and wealth this country will continue (Continued On Page Four)

Haney Commends President For Marked Change In His Attitude On Experiments

By LEWIS HANEY (Professor of Economics New York University) NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 22.—In his address before the conference on economic security, the President shows a marked change of attitude and one which is for the better. There is little in this address that realistic economists cannot agree with.

The two outstanding points are the following: (1) He says: "Our first task is to get the economic system to function so that there will be a greater general security."

This is true, and all practical and patriotic men will agree. It should mean that we must get industry to functioning so that we can produce and earn, before we can give full consideration to expensive experiments. It means that we must establish a basis of confidence, in the shape of business recovery, before we can attempt those "retorts" and reconstructions which hurt business and disturb confidence.

But on June 8, Mr. Roosevelt said: "It is foolish to speak of recovery first and reconstruction afterwards." At that time he stressed reform.

He now says: "I have not changed my opinion, but the fact remains that in stating that our first task is to get the economic system to function, he seems to change the emphasis."

(2) He now says: "There can be no security for the individual in the midst of general insecurity."

I take this statement to mean that until general business conditions are such that we have reasonable confidence in getting (Continued On Page 4)

There'll Be No Bars On Tampa Main Drag

TAMPA, Nov. 22.—The Franklin Street dry zone ordinance, shot through the board of aldermen Tuesday night without discussion or a word as to its provisions, was shot by a veto to Walter H. Campbell, who acted as acting mayor while Mayor Chaney was away on a hunting trip.

The measure, which prohibits the sale of liquor on Franklin Street from the north side of Levy street to the south side of E. 10th, was introduced by Councilman J. A. King May 10, and after a formal statement by John B. Smith, county attorney, before the county commission, will probably become law, under the city law which would require the city law without regard to whether the ordinance might do any good about it.

Springfield, Ga. Bank Safe Blown, Robbed

SPRINGFIELD, Ga., Nov. 22.—(AP) Bank robbers, apparently professionals, broke into the Exchange Bank of Springfield Tuesday night, blew open the safe and stole an undetermined amount of money.

Sheriff H. O. Carr, in charge of the investigation, was without clues, early today.

J. M. MacLennan, cashier, made his discovery yesterday morning when he opened the establishment for business. Entrance was made by forcing the back door.

YUGOSLAVIA ASKS PROBE OF SLAYINGS

Nation Complains To League That Deed Was Prepared On Soil Of Hungary

GENEVA, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—Yugoslavia today lodged a formal complaint against Hungary asking the League of Nations council to investigate the assassinations of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Foreign Minister Louis Barthou of France as acts calculated to disturb international peace.

M. Fottich, Yugoslav delegate to the League, sent a letter to J. A. C. Avenol, secretary-general, requesting that the matter be placed in the League agenda for discussion.

"The Yugoslav delegate alleged the investigation into the Marseille assassinations brought to light the fact that they were prepared on Hungarian soil by a band of international terrorists."

Speedier Planes Held Needed For French Protection

PARIS, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Minister of War Denain told France yesterday Germany's planes are "swifter and more modern" and asked 3,500,000,000 francs (about $200,000,000) to make the French air force superior.

"Since Goering (Hermann Goering, Hitler's minister of air) came to power, Germany has a military air fleet available and proclaims it," Denain told the chamber air committee.

"This air force is to be feared because it is composed of modern pursuit and bombing planes," he said.

Protesting against "panic fomenters" who pretend that Germany has thousands of military planes, the air minister estimated that the reich will have 1000 to 1100 planes at the beginning of 1935.

France has more machines, he admitted, but he declared the French models "are less swift and less modern."

Denain's plea for special appropriations outside the annual budget came as Leon Archimbaud, reporter of the budget, told the chamber's army committee the government would ask 800,000,000 francs (about $52,640,000) to strengthen French frontier fortifications.

Huge Farm Bloc Has Powerful Backing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(AP)—A huge farm bloc uniting the Middle West and South to demand "drastic fundamental remedial legislation" for agriculture was advocated today by Oscar Johnson, prominent AAA official.

The stocky Mississippi cotton planter who heads the producers cotton option pool within the AAA and speaks with an eloquent voice at conferences, confessed that he had been repressing his views for some time.

Now, he said, emphatically, the time has arrived "When America must definitely determine and publicly proclaim that industry and agriculture shall be upon an equal footing."

There is nothing so true as that history repeats itself.

Making A Place In The Sun

In other columns of this page appears an interview with Sam Byrd, local boy who made good on Broadway, which was published in the New York Herald Tribune on November 18, and which will prove of keen interest to Sanford residents in general and to Sam's erstwhile fellow troopers in Seminole High School and Little Theater plays in particular.

Although Mr. Saylor quotes Sam as modestly attributing his success to luck, we know that if it were not for pluck and ability, Sam would not be playing the coveted juvenile role, a "fat part" in this case, in "Tobacco Road," the realistic mountaineer play that is rousing out a year's run on Broadway and bids fair to break all records. Sam, who was mentioned by the Literary Digest as one of the six promising young actors of the present New York theater, has made a detour for himself by his beautiful piece of work in "Tobacco Road." The sincerity and vitality of his characterization of Duke Lester have been praised by such a seasoned and skeptical critic as Percy Hammond of the Herald Tribune, such an experienced and international performer as Morris Cost, and such a man-about-town and New York "bubber upper" as O. O. McIntyre.

Sanford people who have "taught" Sam's show—Sadye Moses, Ann MacNeill, Kitty and Bob Ann, to name a few—have been back stage to see him, say that his dressing room at the Forrest Theater is a sort of Florida-North Carolina club house where Sam's friends from down South drift in to congratulate him. A. D. Zachary's nephew, Clay Bridges of North Carolina, arrived from Poughkeepsie one night with ten North Carolinians, and the next day Warner Scrogan, formerly of Sanford, now a Brooklynite, dropped in with a contingent of Florida New Yorkers. And Sam, clad in the outlandish rags of Duke Lester, with a greasy paint sun tan and his hair rumped and disheveled, looking like Andrew del Sarto's Infant Saint John, masquerading as a tramp, greets them all with such bubbling enthusiasm and seems so genuinely glad to see old friends that he somehow manages to create in that New York dressing room in the Roaring Forties the very favour of real Southern hospitality.

When we remember that Sam arrived in New York to seek his fortune in 1929, the fatal year when everything first began to slide down hill, and that during the past five years, while millions have been added to the ranks of the unemployed, Sam has been steadily climbing upward, it looks as if that old truism still holds true, even in chaotic times like these, that if a person has sufficient ability and the grit to back it up, he will find his place in the sun whether it be under a genuine Florida one bearing down upon the green tiled acres of Seminole County, or that electrical affair which adds so much glitter and glamour to the shining Great White Way.

A King's Salary

When you are a prince of the ruling house of England, it pays to get married. The youngest son of King George and Queen Mary receives an annual allowance of $300,000 sufficient to enable him to live in any style to which she may have been accustomed even though she were a Greek princess. However, when Prince George and Princess Marina are married next week, his allowance will be increased to $125,000 a year. England considers the services of the royal family worth considerable to the country, for the British Exchequer pays King George $2,300,000 a year out of which he must run the royal household and pay the expenses of many entertainments and affairs of state. However, other members of his family receive about a half million more every year, and the Prince of Wales who derives most of his income from the Duchy of Cornwall has a half annual nestegg of $1,250,000.

These figures are rather stupendous in the light of the meager $75,000 which we pay our Presidents, with another $25,000 thrown in for traveling expenses. However, what the President receives is largely not, whereas the English king has to pay for everything out of his income. There are no taxes on the White House, no income taxes on the President's salary.

Furthermore, many of the President's requirements are met from resources outside his salary or reported direct contributions from other governmental agencies. On his trip to Honolulu last Spring, for instance, the Cruiser Houston was loaned him by the Navy Department. The services of this boat actually cost him a little less than $100, but a private individual making the same trip in similar style would have had to spend at least $150,000.

On that trip President Roosevelt sent wireless messages back to this country in the amount of 150,000 words. That didn't cost him anything, because they were sent over the Navy's wireless, but if a private individual on such a trip had sent so many messages, it would have cost him $11,500. Coming back from Washington, President Roosevelt and his entourage chartered a special train which cost them exactly $180,12. The regular charge for such service is $11,364.10.

However, when one considers the enormous amount of work which the President has to do, and the tremendous responsibilities which weigh upon him, his salary seems pitifully small. The King of England has comparatively nothing to do, and receives many times more compensation.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

C. M. Hand has returned from the Alachua County Fair held at Geneville last week and reports one of the most pleasant trips of his life. Mr. Hand had his colt on the track and won some of the prizes.

In spite of the inclement weather, large audiences attended the six opening services in the New Baptist Temple last Sunday. The first service was held at 9:30 A. M. and 47 of the workers were present to participate in the first formal worship of the new church home. At 9:30 A. M. the Sunday School assembled under the leadership of Hon. John D. Jenkins, general superintendent, and Miss Alice Bradford, primary superintendent. The attendance was 168.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Y. Bryan, accompanied by Misses Avis and Ann Stenstrom, left Sunday morning for a week's visit to relatives and friends in Arcadia.

Mr. W. E. Watson returned from Lakeland and Tampa Sunday afternoon. She was the representative of the Sanford Woman's Club at the Federation meeting and reports one of the best sessions probably the best ever held by the Federation.

Miss Mabel Cowan has returned home after a pleasant summer spent with friends and relatives in North Carolina and Tennessee.

Abba Kanna, who is studying here at Stetson University, spent the weekend with home folks.

On last Friday evening the members of the Sanford Young People's Union were most delightfully entertained by their president, Mrs. Clara Miller, at her home on Euclid Avenue. Those present were: the Misses Daisy Butts, Ruth Butts, Cora Lee Hamrick, Emma Rivers, Ethel Roberts, Ethel Stewart, Lorena Smith, Lillian Connel, Ed. Dennis King, Mary Gabel, E. L. E. Burns, E. C. What A Young Actor Thinks Of State Of Theater Today

BY OLIVER H. SAYLER In The New York Herald Tribune

What does the young actor think of the state of the theater, which he has chosen as his work at some time during the last five years? Are his problems specific and different from those of the young doctor, the young lawyer, the young architect—the young anybody—who faces a world that doesn't know how to make use of his talents and energies and somehow when he hasn't arrived quite yet?

Sam Byrd, of "Tobacco Road" and other points South, seemed as if he might be an intelligent and unbiased source of answers to these and kindred questions. He didn't be arrived on Broadway from the University of Florida and his home in North Carolina in that autumn of 1929 when the theater, like life at large, turned the corner from the great heights of the boom into the stage of the "Dip." Despite a prompt and auspicious entry into the land of his dreams and almost continuous employment since then, he must have had anxious and perplexing moments and must have wondered what the times and conditions were doing to his young play-act. And just because fortune has been with him he ought to be able to face these questions without the prejudice of one too favored.

Look! The Duke Lester of Broadway's "Tobacco Road" play these casual and in-between in producing that "I've just been lucky," he said. "Whereas my age, with the same training and the same experience, had to give up. They've got to the stage and the stage is hot to them. But what about you, young talent? Young Byrd wouldn't talk about that. What he was willing to talk about was the difference that has come over the theater, especially as it involves the chances of young actors, since those who have had the streak of "luck" he has had. "When I came to Broadway in the early fall of 1929 the theater was really high. Show after show was in production. If 'Tobacco Road' had come along at that time and had become the hit that it has been for nearly a solid year, there would have been a room two or six companies playing it all over the country. To make up these companies the producers would have used young actors and actresses from out of town, great numbers of colleges and dramatic schools, who had just completed their training and had no experience, training, a foothold. It was a hard time to get a job then than it is now.

"It was something more, of course, than just getting a job. It was a chance for the youngster to get a job, to get a salary, to get a chance to do something to get on and get from that profession and get the producers to find out, too. It was the open door into what I feel is the best training school a young actor can have. It was a chance to get experience, training, a foothold. It was a hard time to get a job then than it is now.

He also was publicly thanked for his offer to co-operate with the Club's Boy Scout building fund by playing a proposed Stetson-Rollins football game in Sanford. Club members voted to hold their next meeting at the Chamber of Commerce building next Wednesday noon in connection with a public luncheon honoring Congressman Mark Wilcox at a party of congressmen.

"He's greatly improved," was the report of a Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital attaché this morning when questioned as to the condition of W. L. Henley, prominent grower who was seriously injured in an automobile accident in High Springs last Sunday. Mrs. Henley's condition also had improved so much as to permit her being discharged from the hospital late yesterday.

A. R. Maddox, Cocoa negro, is in the local hospital suffering from a rupture of the liver and other injuries secured in an automobile accident on the Oviedo road yesterday afternoon. Maddox was at the wheel of a sedan which crashed into a canal, moving toward Oviedo in the same direction, that turned to the left into Tascavilla road just ahead of Maddox's car. Miss Pearl Ranew was the driver of the head car, and Mrs. Sheldon and Wm. Raut were passengers in her car. Miss Ranew suffered a deep cut on the head and Mr. Raut was badly cut on the hand. Mrs. Sheldon was unhurt, as was Joe Drayton, Cocoa negro riding with Maddox. Both cars were badly damaged. Maddox is tentatively charged with reckless driving, according to Motorcycle Officer E. T. Hamill who investigated.

In connection with recent notices that an attempt is being made to interest persons in the growing of poinsettias that are considered as good stock for a synthetic rubber, Harry M. Papworth revealed this morning that in February 1930 he called the attention of his friend, Thomas A. Edison, to the idea of making rubber from poinsettias. Mr. Papworth exhibited a letter from the Edison interests in which Mr. Edison was quoted as saying that "This plant, however, will not stand frost, so that it is not suitable for the purpose." Mr. Papworth is of the opinion that new attempts along this line are "back promotion schemes against which the public should be warned."

Promising many interesting facts relating to the efficient operation of the City of Sanford during the past year, the city auditing firm of Pentland, Gray and Moore was reported at the City Hall today as completing the annual audit with the view of releasing it about Dec. 1. Over a million dollars was "saved" tax payer as the result of various transactions involving the City and its creditors last season, it is reported. The Herald will disclose these facts just as quickly as they are released.

It was learned here today that Ben Coghurn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Coghurn of Sanford and an outstanding pupil at Seminole High School recently, had been named as an instructor in accounting at the University of Florida. Mr. Coghurn has won many honors at the University since his enrollment, and this latest promotion was being received here with much satisfaction by friends of the family.

Workmen were at the Mayfair Hotel yesterday morning erecting the run-way which is to be used during the style show—scheduled to be staged during the Charity Ball Friday night, Nov. 30. The run-way is being erected under the supervision of the city engineer. The work is being done on the promise that there will be a new Public Works Administration grant this winter, and the state is anxious to have all public buildings, exclusive of city-owned properties, surveyed as to needs before the grant is announced.

Ten Sanford Kiwanians and their wives will leave for Daytona Beach early this evening to attend an inter-club meeting between members of clubs in the two cities. The feature of the dinner meeting which is to start at 7:00 o'clock is the humorous address of Jules Brazil, nationally known lecturer now associated with the National Broadcasting Co.

Athletic Director H. R. McQuiffan of Stetson University advised that the football team will be in Sanford for the Thanksgiving game.

FRANCE VOTES BIG NEW FUND FOR WAR PLAN

French Deputies Are Told Nazis Arming; U. S.-British Delegates Against Japs

PARIS, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—The Chamber of Deputies, in a short order today, voted the French war budget of $374,388,000,000 after a blunt discussion of German re-armament.

The tense session which preceded the voting was featured by outspoken warnings as to Germany's war strength and the statement of the French nation's determination to be strong herself.

An emergency appropriation of $23,640,000 for new equipment was voted separately later. Previously the chamber's finance committee had pledged itself to vote for whatever the country needed for national defense.

General Louis Maurin, minister of war, in appealing for the vote, said, "I don't say, 'if you wish for peace, prepare for war'; I simply say, 'we must be on our guard.'"

LONDON, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—The British and American delegations to the preliminary naval conversations agreed between themselves today to insist upon the continuance of the principles of the Washington Naval Treaty of 1922.

Johnson Declared Eligible To Sit On Market Board

The State Marketing Commissioner L. M. Rhodes has ruled that Alex R. Johnson of the Seminole County Agricultural Association is eligible to sit as a member of the State Farmers' Wholesale Market advisory board.

In a letter to Board Chairman Harry M. Papworth today, the subject of Mr. Johnson's eligibility is covered in the following paragraph written by Marketing Commissioner L. M. Rhodes:

"I have a copy of your letter to Mr. Mayo in regard to representation of the Seminole County Agricultural Club on the Supervisory and Advisory committee. Mr. Mayo writes me that he is leaving the matter entirely up to Mr. Hiett and me. I talked with him this morning and he is of the opinion, and so am I, that from our viewpoint it does not matter whether a man is a grower in Seminole County or some other county; it does not matter whether he is a grower of vegetables or of citrus.

"This is a Central Florida market so far as the state is concerned, a market for Seminole and the counties adjoining Seminole county or any county which is accessible to the market.

"Therefore, it is my personal opinion, not official opinion because the board is not in session, that any member satisfactory to the whole committee of the Seminole County Agricultural Club would be satisfactory to us.

"However, it is proved that there is division or dissension or contention caused by the appointment of this member or any other member of the committee which will be detrimental to the success of the harmonious working of the committee, the Agricultural Marketing Board can remove such a member."

SEMINOLE GET WORK

STUART, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—The NRA has found its way into the camp of Seminole Indian boys near here. A band of 30 boys will be given employment, and NRA money, on the $428,000 St. Lucia Canal highway construction. A number of Indian villages in Seminole county will be created by the NRA.

Masked Bandits Snatch Payroll

MEMPHIS, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—Four masked bandits snatched a payroll containing a company payroll, between $2500 and $3000, at the entrance of the American Plating Company and escaped in a waiting automobile. Robert McKinn, an office clerk, and O. V. Hutchinson, of the plating department, were in the company car. They had just driven to the office door after a trip to the bank. Four bandits, their faces covered with handkerchiefs and all armed with pistols, drove up behind them, and yelled, "drop that money!" One of the four grabbed the payroll and the car sped away.

NEW LOW-COST HOUSING SCHEME GIVEN APPROVAL

Roosevelt Okeys Aim Of Plan Seeking To Speed Construction

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—A gigantic government-financed low-cost housing program, designed to inject new blood into the construction industry, was given an important position yesterday in legislation President Roosevelt probably will send to Congress for speedy action in January.

Secretary of Interior Ickes, attacking private interests for delay in pouring capital into building activities, announced that housing and slum clearance would constitute a major part of a "very large and comprehensive" Public Works program for the next fiscal year.

Secretary of Labor Perkins and other Administration officials showed keen interest in Ickes' suggestion that labor might cooperate in the plan by agreeing to work at lower wages under a guarantee of year-round employment.

"Labor would make more money in the end," Ickes said, "than under existing high hourly rates for skilled workers. An agreement with labor on wages, plus an agreement with industry supplying materials would make possible a huge building program."

Miss Perkins said a guaranteed annual wage would be "interesting to any labor group." "The problem of labor has always been," she said, "to obtain sufficient revenue in a short time to insure a good standard of living for a year."

Ickes referred to "poor devils loaded down with mortgages," and said the government could build "very attractive and adequate houses at low rates which might be paid for over a long period."

Fletcher Seeks Views On U. S. Central Bank

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A confidential questionnaire has been sent out to the nation's most influential bankers sounding them out on their views toward a government-controlled central bank to replace the Federal Reserve System.

The questionnaire was mailed by Chairman Dorman U. Fletcher, D. Fla., of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

Scot Protests Huge Donation For Duke

LONDON, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—An effort to get the House of Commons to look into the why and wherefore of the additional $18,000 ($75,000) the country will pay the Duke of Kent yearly after his marriage to Princess Marina was quashed with efficiency and dispatch yesterday.

James Martin, pinch-hitter for the fellow Glasgow labor member, A. McQuinn, who was not mentioned by his name last year when he called "parasites" at the time and the rest of royal life, said he had to be in the house to protest the allowance but he would not vote against it.

PRIEST PLANS FIGHT AGAINST NEW LEAGUE

Coughlin Discloses Program To Help Workers Defeat Wily Financiers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—In a series of conferences yesterday with members and other officials, Father Charles E. Coughlin outlined a monetary and labor legislative program which he said was designed to counteract the efforts of the American Liberty League and similar organizations.

At the end of a busy day, the Detroit priest summed up his program in the following words: "We propose that the laboring man and the agriculturist shall not be left to the mercies of financiers and industrialists."

Fighting for devaluation of the dollar to former levels, Father Coughlin stayed over for a conference with members of the Senate silver bloc today.

He conferred yesterday with Senators Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma; McCarran, Democrat, Nevada, and others, talking to them about the 16-point program advanced by his national union for social justice.

He made it plain he considered his organization—which he says will conduct a "direct, up and above board lobby" here—as a direct combatant of some ideas held by the American Liberty League, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and other organizations representing business, finance, and established wealth.

These organizations, he said, have launched a "direct move to 'scuttle' the NRA and shipwreck any effort to change the value of money."

Sebring Hopes To Hold 1934 Tax Levy To About 2000 Mills

SEBRING, Nov. 23.—The city council will make an effort to keep the 1934 tax levy down to 2000 mills when the new budget is completed.

The assessors have reported the valuation on which taxes can be anticipated is $479,983, with the balance of the roll, or $709,000, in tax-certified property.

The federal court has ordered levies made for judgments totaling about $435,000, but council also expects to include in the budget a sum sufficient to provide for non-litigating creditors. This will boost the budgetary requirements to $1,584,000 to be borne by the $675,893 valuation.

However, they may not include $340,000 in bond principal and interest due during the 1934 fiscal year, in which event the budget would total $1,564,000, requiring a tax of 1991 mills, to which would be added a millage for operating expenses. Twenty-five mills is the maximum allowed by the charter for operations.

By paring the expenses it is believed the levy can be confined to 2000 mills instead of the 2225 needed for the defaulted and maturing debt and 25 mills for operating expenses.

Cold Wave Envelops Many Parts Of Nation

By The Associated Press
The cold wave which sent many snoring for lower levels rolled outward today enveloping the United States.

Freezing temperatures were reported in Kansas and Missouri and Wisconsin, while heavy weather prevailed along the Atlantic seaboard and in some southern states.

But the forecast was for the heavy weather not to last long, and it included a big drop in temperature by nightfall. After a period of rain, sleet and snow, the weather was expected fairly clear.

Solution Of Lead Playing Tremendous Part In Speed Records Set During Year

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—Modern Mercury has a swamped winged foot for a solution of lead—and that, science says, is one secret of the new, smashing speed records of 1934.

Three days from London to Melbourne, three hours from Chicago to New York, 12 from American coast to coast, all done this fall, are starters in a speed contest between air, rail, road and water.

Moreover, in the biggest race of all time, the speculators will ride as passengers. For science is adding the lure of comfort, quiet and safety to high speed devices ready in the laboratories in all four racing fields.

HANEY EXPLAINS WHAT FRANCE IS TRYING TO DO

By LEWIS HANEY
It should be both important and interesting to understand what France is trying to do. In many ways the policy there (as well as in Italy and other "gold bloc" countries) is exactly the opposite of ours. France sticks to the principle of the gold standard government economy, and a balanced budget. Why? Which of us is right?

The great reason is that the French are a thrifty people and have been so hurt by their experience with inflation that they don't want any more.

So I would put first, their desire to avoid the further injury to the people which comes from inflation or devaluation. They have had enough experimenting and want no more.

Next, they want to make thrift and saving possible. The typical Frenchman is a saver, and a very large number are holders of their government's bonds. They know that if the value of the franc is reduced, the value of their bonds will also decline. They know that savings are not safe when inflation is under way—that like a thief in the night, inflation takes away their money.

So the French take the course of holding the quantity of money in circulation down to a figure which can be reasonably covered by their gold reserves. They do not say, "We need more money." They say, "We want to have sound and stable money which is as good as gold." And the only way they know to make France as good as gold is to keep them convertible into gold.

You see, one way to remedy a condition where so much currency has been put in circulation that it can't be redeemed in gold, is to reduce the amount of currency.

Jap Cabinet Passes Biggest Defense Sum

TOKYO, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—The cabinet yesterday passed the largest national defense appropriation in the history of the empire, more than one billion yen (about $200,000,000).

The cabinet after a 14-hour sitting which did not end until 3:00 A. M. yesterday, yielded to the persuasion of the army and navy. The ministers of war and the navy declared: "The international situation must be considered."

ALL ECONOMIC NATIONALISM IS DEPLORED

Obstruction Of Trade Development Decried By Russian In Farewell Talk

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—The policy of economic nationalism was decried last night by Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of the board of the Amtorg Trading Corporation.

Addressing a farewell banquet in his honor given by the directors of the American-Russian chamber of commerce, Bogdanov, who leaves next week for a new post in the U. S. S. R., declared:

"The policy of the Soviet Union is the maintenance of peace and the development of trade relations with all countries. Recently some countries have been carrying on a policy of economic nationalism. They have been obstructing the development of foreign trade by the erection of tariff barriers and creating other difficulties."

By its rapid internal development, Bogdanov said, the Soviet Union has reached the point "where, if necessary, we can to a large extent dispense with imports."

But, he added, "this does not mean that we intend to stop importing."

"The growing strength of the Soviet Union," continued the head of Amtorg, the Russian trading agency, "has led to an appreciation among ever widening circles not only of the stability of our regime but of the important role which we play in international relations."

Our policy of maintaining peace in the economic as well as the political sphere has made it desirable, indeed necessary, that we participate in world councils which have as their aim the lessening of the possibility of international conflicts."

This policy, Bogdanov said, coincides with the U. S. S. R. of the need to avoid economic nationalism.

After citing the voluminous trade activity between the United States and the U. S. S. R., which totaled $400,000,000 in the 10 years ending in 1931 and which showed a balance in favor of the United States of half a billion dollars, Bogdanov referred indirectly to the latch in settlement of (Continued On Page Four)

14-Year Old Couple Proud Of Blue-Eyed 5 Pound Daughter

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 23.—Little Ellen Pauline Mullins, 14, put away her dolls last night, for she had a baby daughter of her own. The proud father, H. Best Mullins, also 14, stood quietly by her bed.

"There wasn't nothing unusual about me and Ellen getting married," he said. "We'd been in love since we were kids and had been talking about getting married for a long time."

The young father, who works a little in a truck farm since he quit the seventh grade last spring to get married, is unemployed.

Mrs. Mullins was quiet. A good-looking brunette, blue-eyed, appearing no older than her 14 years, she was "doing nicely" as was the five-and-a-half pound baby girl.

"She's just a grand little thing," said Mrs. J. R. Nash, 33, mother of the young wife. "I'm proud of her. And I'm sure Pauline will make a fine mother. I know she's young, but she was grown at 11."

"She's swell, pretty as a picture," said Mullins of his infant daughter. "I'd hoped for a boy, but I'm glad now as a girl."

Russia Offers Army To France In Event Of War With Nazis

Officials, However, Believe Report Of Budget Officer May Be "Exaggerated"

PARIS, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—The budget reporter informed the French Parliament today that Russia had offered France its huge army in the event of a conflict with Germany although government officials term his description of the circumstances as "Exaggerated."

Officials said that relations between France and Russia are (Continued on Page Two)

Red Cross Workers To Stage Intensive Drive Tomorrow

Renewing their citywide canvass for Seminole County's quota for the American Red Cross, Seminole Chapter members headed by Mrs. A. W. Knox tomorrow will stage an intensive campaign in the business district with the view of sending the 1934 drive a considerable distance toward the goal.

Chapter workers are reporting that many persons who formerly made voluntary contributions for the national organization, have so far failed to contribute this year, but it is expected that they will cooperate willingly in the drive tomorrow when the necessity for such work as the Red Cross performs in all cases of emergency, is shown to them tomorrow.

Mrs. Knox, in discussing the thoroughness which is a feature of American Red Cross administration of funds where they are needed, recalls that frequently the national organization has returned more to this and many other communities than the quota sought in the annual drive.

One instance of this fact came only a year or two ago, Mrs. Knox stated, when the national organization authorized for the purchase of material needed in covering the roofs of many Sanford homes, damaged in a wind and rainstorm, and expenditure of over $650, more than Sanford's Red Cross quota for that year.

Persons approached tomorrow will be reminded of just such instances, Mrs. Knox stated, and the prediction is that the quota will be more nearly reached by tomorrow night. Nearly 20 women will be in the field she stated.

Mrs. Sarah A. Fischer Dies At Son's Home

Mrs. Sarah Alexandra Fischer, 29, widow of the late Benedict Fischer, died suddenly yesterday morning at the home of her son, G. I. Fischer at 300 West 5th Street. Funeral plans will be announced later.

Mrs. Fischer was born at Forsyth, Ga. on Dec. 17, 1864 as the daughter of Travis and Sorena Dorman Ivey. Her survivors include two sons, G. I. Fischer of Portland, Ore.; seven grandchildren, Kathleen Fischer and Nell Fischer of Sanford, Hubert Fischer of Savannah, Ivy Fischer of Atlanta, Mrs. G. A. Barham, Jr. of Orlando, Leicester Fischer of Cairo, Egypt, and Harold Fischer of St. Petersburg, and three great-grandchildren, Hubert, Jr. and Clara Dell Fischer of Savannah, and George A. Barham, III, of Orlando.

Private Bankers To Discuss Russia

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—An influential group of private bankers, gathered here to map ways and means of spurring foreign trade, yesterday were told by the state department to prepare to take advantage of trade opportunities that a debt settlement with Russia might bring.

Considerable significance was attached to this word from H. Walton Moore, assistant secretary of state, because of his familiarity with the obstacles which have prevented an agreement with the Soviet state on the claims this country presented after recognition.

Talmadge Finally Praises President

DOUGLASVILLE, Ga., Nov. 23.—(A.P.)—Governor Talmadge yesterday praised President Roosevelt in an address here saying "he is a good President who has a mighty tough job."

Speaking at the homecoming exercises at the high school here, the governor advised farmers to vote against the Bankhead cotton control bill which he said had worked a hardship on Georgia cotton growers.
