Social Security Best News This Week: Good, Bad, So-So

COPLEY NEWS SERVICE
In a week of good, bad and indifferent news developments, President Nixon signed into law a new boost in Social Security benefits, a Brazilian jetliner crashed in flames near Paris, killing 122, and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell fended off a Senate Watergate Committee. On the good side of the ledger, the new Social Security measure increases benefits by more than 5 per cent next year to compensate for the impact of inflation on the buying power of the elderly. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz warned that consumers face serious food shortages if price ceilings last longer. The Cost of Living Council meanwhile launched a nationwide investigation of the petroleum industry, from the refinery to the gas pump, to determine whether prices have been boosted illegally. James W. McInane, deputy council director, said price rollbacks will be ordered where violations of the government's price freeze are found. In Florida, State Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin filed suit against 15 major U.S. oil companies, accusing them of conspiring to violate anti-trust laws by creating a nationwide fuel crisis. Oil industry leaders denied charges contained in a Florida suit. "At a time when the people need honest answers to questions concerning the state and national energy problems, and sincere efforts to conquer this problem, we are offered a series of wild, unsupported charges which can only have the effect of clouding the real issue," said Chris Jensen, executive director of the Florida Petroleum Council. Now Is The Time To Attack S-t

By JANE GLENN HAAS
Copley News Service
The time has come to gird our loins and smite smit. And every citizen will be expected to do his true-blue duty. Across the length and breadth of the land, a clarion cry for community standards of pornography will be heard, responding to the Supreme Court ruling abolishing a "national level" for erotica. Personally, I think the Court has put its foot in it, shooting from the hip that way at pornography. Admirable though it may be to clear magazine stands and local television houses of s-e-n-s-i-t-i-v-e magazines and flicks, the awesome burden of determining a community's moral standards must not be allowed to fall into the wrong hands. Responsible citizens will be obliged, in good conscience, to volunteer to review b-l-e-s-s-ed hard-core junk in order to protect less sensitive e-s. The line at the courthouse will form on the right. More difficult than determining redeeming social value in porno is the mandate to enforce a local community's standards. For one man's voyeurism is another's violation. Presumably we will have a predicted rollback and fold up of most of the smut houses. Obviously, the community that doesn't indulge itself in an orgy of smut smiting will have itself open for charges of being collectively lewd and obscene. Of course, for some communities, or even entire states, such charges could result in an economic bonanza never envisaged by the good judges. Consider, for example, an economically depressed state, such as North Dakota, which doesn't even have Black Hills to being in the tourist books. By setting its moral standards at a shockingly low level, North Dakota could lavishly pander to purient interests and make a fortune. There would be charity, flights, weekend excursions, name entertainers and places of pornography. Look what the slot machine did for Nevada! To control smut in this manner, border guards would have to be added, checking IDs and purses of those leaving. North Dakota postcard would rival the old French ones. Anyone leaving the state would have to be frisked for this type of pornography literature, films and so on.

Gurney Defends Altamonte Plant, HUD 'Cold-Shoulders' Fund Freeze

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer
Sen. Ed Gurney (R-Winter Park) today defended federal funding of the Altamonte Springs sewer plant, and a Housing and Urban Development spokesman called "unfair and impossible" a temporary fund freeze request by the Seminole County commission. In reply to questions by The Herald, Gurney said through press spokesman John Gardner, "The Altamonte Springs project followed all applicable regulations. The Environmental Protection Agency did comply with every existing law and regulation, and the best indication of this is the General Services Administration report recently which showed that all Florida projects, including the Altamonte-Longwood project, had followed the law." Gurney's spokesman said. In a 15-page report Tuesday, Commissioner Greg Drummond charged HUD and other officials, including Altamonte Springs Mayor Lawrence Swafford, with a "web of public deceit and incompetency" in allowing approval of the plant. Further, Drummond — supported by his fellow county

'Secret' Watergate Funds, Mission Tied to Kalmbach

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Anthony T. Ulawicz testified today that a nervous, ill-at-ease Herbert W. Kalmbach recruited him to carry Watergate money, saying it was a legal project. The former White House secret agent said Kalmbach, who was then President Nixon's personal lawyer, called him to Washington June 29, 1972, and talked to him in Kalmbach's room at the Statter Hilton Hotel. He seemed nervous and ill at ease, Ulawicz said. Ulawicz said Kalmbach asked him to engage in a secret project, which he said he had been asked to undertake. "It was legal, that is what I was to provide funds for persons in difficulty," Ulawicz said. Ulawicz quoted Kalmbach as saying the money was for support of families and for payment of legal fees. Seeing his own disfigurement was evident to Ulawicz, Kalmbach then told him the "Watergate situation, I guess you have guessed that," the witness said. Kalmbach testified Monday and Tuesday that he raised the $200,000 for the Watergate defendants and their lawyers. He said he did so thinking it was a legal, humanitarian project because he had been asked to undertake it by White House aides John W. Dean III and John D. Ehrlichman, two men in whom he said he had absolute trust and confidence.

Zoo Coffers Get $100,000 Boost

Uncle Sam provided the "kick-off" money to begin construction of Seminole County's 104-acre park and zoo complex on Lake Monroe and a $100,000 matching fund grant Tuesday, through the State of Florida Department of Natural Resources. The money from the U.S. Department of Interior and funds raised by local zoo backers, completes a $500,000 minimum amount to begin work on the facility to be dedicated July 28. Both the federal and local funds are for developing an 83-acre tract to be used as a park, with nature trails and picnic and supporting facilities. The remaining funds, either pledged or already in the Seminole Zoological Society executive director Clifford Nelson. "This is the bare minimum we can start with," said zoological society executive director Clifford Nelson. "The final goal is to have a $2 million facility called the Central Florida Zoological Park." The announcement highlighted a decade of work by local organizations to relocate the 48-year-old Sanford Zoo, with the combination zoo-park being built a quarter-mile from 14 on the southeast shore of Lake Monroe, stated G. Blake, president of the zoological society. The park will feature an elevated walkway through much of a large express swamp that borders U.S. 17-92, as well as other trails with recreational facilities scattered throughout the now densely vegetated area. Society officials say they hope for a completion time of early 1974.

Askew May 'Sink' Canal Despite OK

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reuben Askew said today he would have "very serious doubts" about allowing the Cross-Florida Barge Canal to be completed if it survives a court hearing on its future. "If the court's injunction is sustained, I would have very serious doubts in my mind about the economic justification for continuation of the canal even if it survives the environmental questions," Askew told a news conference. A federal trial in Jacksonville is underway to determine if President Nixon overstepped his authority when he ordered construction halted on the Gulf-to-Atlantic waterway in January 1971. Money Could Save Two Amtrak Routes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak posted discontinuation notices for two major passenger routes because it was seeking a budget that would not allow its operation, Sen. Startz says. The National Railroad Passenger Corp. (Amtrak) sought $93 million for the fiscal year that began July 1, the senator's office said. But the Senate has authorized an Amtrak budget of $105 million, and a House Interstate Commerce subcommittee has recommended a budget of $107 million. Amtrak President Roger Lewis told the House panel that $107 million would be sufficient to continue the operation of all trains now in service, including the two routes under cancellation notices; the National Limited between St. Louis and Kansas City and points East and a principal Chicago-Florida route. "We will be glad to operate these routes if Congress wants us to do so and we get the money to operate them," Lewis said in a letter to Rep. John J. Pickens, chairman of the House Transportation and Aeronautics subcommittee. It was forwarded to Symington by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., Senate Commerce Committee chairman.

Local Man Dies In House Fire

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer
Fire of an undetermined origin claimed the life of a Sanford man early this morning as most of his four-room duplex was gutted. Firemen found the body of Donald Walker Barnes, 60, on the floor in the bedroom of his 1201 Elm Ave. residence, after neighbors phoned an alarm at 3:32. Authorities believe Barnes was asleep in bed when he awoke and realized the house was on fire, but was overcome by smoke before he could escape. County medical examiner G. V. Garay pinpointed the cause of death as smoke inhalation after an autopsy this morning. Sanford Fire Department Assistant Chief William C. Galley said the fire began in the front of the house and spread through walls to the kitchen-dining room. Neighbors reported smelling smoke as early as mid-night, and one woman, who lived two blocks away from the Barnes residence, said she walked a block from her house looking for the origin of the smoke. Neighbors discovered the blaze shortly before 4 a.m. and called the fire department, which responded with two engine companies and a tanker. The other half of the duplex was unoccupied, and firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to it, although there was considerable smoke and water damage. The building is owned by Christine Gibbons of Delray. The state fire marshal's office has been called into the investigation and will begin sifting the ruins Thursday morning, although Galley said he has found nothing that would indicate the fire was a result of foul play. Firemen had the blaze under control within minutes, but were at the scene two hours. Officers of the first engine company at the fire said the house was engulfed in flames when they arrived.

President Nixon Looking Well After First Full Working Day

Viewpoints Of Drummond And Swofford

By FRANCES LEWINE Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon marked his sixth day in the hospital today and his doctors reported he showed "no untoward effects" from his first busy day of appointments since his illness.

Nixon met with seven top White House advisers and had three courtesy calls from officials Tuesday as he put in his busiest day since he was struck down with viral pneumonia last Thursday.

The Herald presented Drummond with a summation of Swofford's rebuttal, and the commissioner's remarks follow Swofford's below—the closest thing to a "debate" that could be arranged during the current hostilities.

DRUMMOND: The conflict of interest complicity rating the Planning Council and the general competency at that level is part of the problem.

SWOFFORD: The Board of County Commissioners disapproves of the plan because they don't understand it.

DRUMMOND: We also didn't understand that the original plan would "never" pollute Spring Lake!

SWOFFORD: Altamonte Springs has been asked to clean up a regional sewage treatment plant problem, and we have agreed to take in plans in Seminole County and Orange County.

DRUMMOND: Altamonte Springs has used a regional sewage treatment problem as a guise to justify this irresponsibly designed expansion to expand high density development in areas outside of the original city limits.

SWOFFORD: We've improved those plans considerably and considerably to clean up his (Swofford's) mess through hearings and directives while awaiting planning, court completion of two expensive, comprehensive studies which will make the county suitable for federal funding for regional plants.

SWOFFORD: The Board of County Commissioners has done nothing about regional sewage treatment problems.

DRUMMOND: We've improved those plans considerably and considerably to clean up his (Swofford's) mess through hearings and directives while awaiting planning, court completion of two expensive, comprehensive studies which will make the county suitable for federal funding for regional plants.

SWOFFORD: Greg Drummond is incorrect when he says these actions (plant expansion, strip annexation along SR 436) came contrary to Seminole County's (land use) plan.

DRUMMOND: The 1966 road plan and the comprehensive land use guide adopted in April, 1969, and revised in public hearings, is well known to the mayor, as he has referred to them often when lobbying for the special interests of absentee investors at county commission work sessions in the past.

Gurney Defending Altamonte Plant

Part of the seven-point resolution approved Tuesday by the commission included a demand that Gurney coordinate and manage all aspects of the grant.

Further, Gurney was asked to initiate a congressional investigation of the matter, as was HUD Secretary James Lov.

The meeting was attended by Ms. Linda Arnold, Gurney's district office chief, who today told The Herald, "I made a verbal report to the commission and mailed a copy of the 15-page report, and The Herald story for him to study."

appointments and slept soundly throughout the night after having a dinner of sirloin steak, peas and a potato pie. His temperature again was reported as normal and for the first time the President was reported still asleep at 7:45 a.m. when his doctors put out the first medical report of the day.

Nixon went to Camp David, Md., Friday to begin his recuperation over the weekend. He is to return to the White House late Monday.

Nixon held meetings involving seven of his top aides, including an hour's session with Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz and counselors Melvin R. Laird and Bryce Harlow.

House lawyers Leonard Garment and J. Fred Buzhardt, who handle Watergate matters for him, but there were not comments as to answers to questions on Watergate from Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

Senate Majority Leader Mansfield, D-Mont., and Minority Leader Scott, R-Pa., paying a get-well visit, said they talked about everything from food prices to Phase 4 and "spring flowers" with the President.

When asked if Watergate matters came up, Mansfield explained: "We were interested in his health."

SANFORD FIRE CLAIMS LIFE

RANDAL WALKER BARNES, 60, of 1201 Elm Ave., Sanford, died in an early morning fire at his residence. The opening in the wall, shown in this photograph, leads to the living room where the fire apparently started. Two of the four rooms in the duplex were gutted, with Barnes' body found in a bedroom, where he died of smoke inhalation, medical authorities said.

In Homes Youth Help Sought

A group foster home is being sought in Seminole County by the state Division of Youth Services for young people who have gotten into trouble.

Most of the youths will be on probation of some sort, Bob Ritz, youth counselor said.

Ritz said the program is looking for a couple who will take in five foster children. If we do not get somebody to apply, we are going to lose the money," he said.

Parents applying will have a standard background check, basically where they are employed, and their home will have to pass the standard inspections from the fire marshal's office, etc.

A flat rate of $240 will be paid to the foster parents monthly whether none or all the beds are occupied. In addition, the parents will be paid $6.30 per day per child. There will be about five children in the home at all times, Ritz said.

Those interested in participating in the program should call Bob Ritz for further information.

DELAYED by the railroad crossing gate for more than 20 minutes without a train coming in either direction on Tuesday at 2 p.m., impatient motorists heading East on SR 46 towards Sanford drove into the left (oncoming westerly) lane. Once they were beyond the gate (right center of photo) the autos crossed the railroad tracks and proceeded towards Sanford, oblivious of violating the law and tossing safety to the winds.

Getty's Grandson Victim Of Kidnap

ROME (AP)—The mother of J. Paul Getty III says she is waiting for ransom instructions from her son's kidnapers after receiving a letter from the 15-year-old saying he was in good condition and wanted the ransom paid.

Mrs. Getty, the divorced wife of a son of oil billionaire J. Paul Getty, said on Tuesday that she was now convinced her missing son had been kidnaped and had been in touch with her.

"We have asked the police not to interfere, and we are now asking the press to help us," she said. "We want them to carry the message that the contact has been made and the family is ready."

In London, the boy's grandfather said he would not pay the ransom. Getty said he loved the boy but payment of ransom "only encourages kidnapers."

Mrs. Getty said the abductors did not specify a ransom figure in their contact Tuesday afternoon.

Later Tuesday, she received the letter from her son through Martine and Marie Zacher, German twins who are close friends of the youth. Police said the letter was mailed to the girls' home although it was intended for the boy's family.

Martine told police she was certain the handwriting was Paul's. The postmark on the envelope had been made and the family is ready."

His mother, the former actress Gail Harris, returned home two days later from her country home and was told by an anonymous telephone caller that Paul had been kidnaped and a ransom demand would be made later.

Police launched a nationwide hunt for the youth. But until Mrs. Getty's report Tuesday, there had been doubt that he had been kidnaped. He often had disappeared for several days at a time.

Known in the Italian press as the "golden hippie" because of the circles he frequented in Rome, young Getty was last seen on the night of July 9 leaving a Rome discotheque and then talking with a Belgian girl at the Piazza Navona.

Lakes' Level Endangered

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

CASSELLBERY — The city council has directed that a letter be sent to the county commission requesting "immediate emergency" action to protect the city's lake levels by requiring construction of culvert at the Lake Kathryn Estates mobile home park to permit the easy flow of water between Lake Kathryn and Gee Creek.

Three city lakes empty into Lake Kathryn out to outlet into Gee Creek.

Zacco said a 26-inch pipe is currently draining the lakes and this is not adequate. He continued that the road by Secret Lake Park is washing away and could easily be under water should hard rains hit.

Acting Council Chairman Edith Duerr, pointing out the road is not within the city, said Secret Lake Park is a marginal area and the city knew this when the decision was made not to fill it in excessively.

Bids were opened and referred to the city manager's office for study and recommendation on bridges crossing North Triplet Drive and Queen Mirror Circle and a culvert crossing on Seminola Boulevard. Apparent low bidder was Zell Construction Inc.

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS—A crew of eight men worked through the night until daylight today cleaning out the city's wastewater plant as a precaution after warnings were received coming through lines in the Spring Oaks subdivision, Mayor Lawrence Swofford said today.

Swofford said he ordered the water storage tank drained, flushed, culminated and refilled. Water lines to the development are being flushed today, he said.

Each of the four city water storage tanks are to be cleaned in like manner as quickly as city crews can get to them with the first, the number one tank at the old city hall, scheduled for treatment Thursday or Friday, Swofford said.

A hole in the screening at the west water plant was patched about two weeks ago and it is possible blind mosquitos laid eggs in the tank resulting in worms, Swofford said.

Tom Adams To Officiate In Longwood

LONGWOOD—Lt. Gov. Tom Adams will officiate at the unveiling and placement of a Florida Bicentennial Trail marker at the city's 86-year-old Longwood Hotel at noon July 27.

Prior to the placement of the marker the Bicentennial Commission will hold an executive committee meeting at 9 a.m., followed by local participation and a resources committee meeting.

The commission meeting is scheduled after lunch. Mayor Eugene Jaques and members of the Seminole County commission have been asked to take part in the ceremonies.

Seminole Junior College, co-sponsored by the Easter Seal Speech-Hearing Clinic of Orlando, will be holding a Lip Reading course, and all persons who think they may be interested are urged to "sit in" on a class or two.

Mother and daughter were both adopted

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I am a 22-year-old woman. I am working part-time, doing graduate work in college, and also taking care of a terminally ill mother at night.

Two months ago I gave up my newborn illegitimate daughter for adoption. Her father and my one and only relationship, and he doesn't know about the birth.

I wanted more than anything in the world to keep my baby, but felt that since I had given her life, I had an obligation to give her a decent future. Abby, there was no way I could have done it at that time.

While I carried her, I would stroke my stomach hoping she would somehow be aware of it, as it was the only physical affection I would ever be able to give her. I might add that I, too, am adopted. Maybe that's why I made the decision in favor of adoption. My parents were absolutely wonderful.

The people who adopted my baby were childless. I heard they both were very kind and gave over to them. My question: How can I learn to live with the thought that I have a child somewhere in the world, without yearning to see her, and without wondering what she is like? Do mothers ever get over a thing like this? EMPTY ARMS

DEAR ABBY: I have a 5-year-old nephew who really worries me. He is exceptionally bright, but I don't know where he got this thing about money. He is absolutely fascinated with it.

He has a "piggy" bank which he can open himself, and he makes a game out of counting his money. He has no interest in toys, he just plays with his money. I say it's unhealthy. His parents think it's cute. He gets a wild look in his eye when he handles money. It's really frightening.

Neither of his parents is money mad. Would it be out of line if I told his parents they should try to encourage him to find another hobby? Or am I concerned over nothing? CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: A preoccupation with anything can be unhealthy. Tell his parents of your concern. But it's even money they won't do anything about it.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 6796, L. A., Calif. 90028. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope. Please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 29786, Los Angeles, Cal. 90028.

Newlyweds Feted At Buffet-Shower

Her Carmel headpiece was attached to a long veil of bridal illusion, edged in matching lace, which extended into a full length train. She carried a cascade bouquet of carnations and yellow daisies with ribbon streamers.

The groom, a 1971 graduate of Sanford Naval Academy is attending the University of South Florida, in Tampa, majoring in Medicine.

The couple spent the weekend visiting with his mother and former friends. Approximately 30 couples were invited to join the newlyweds for the evening.

The Crocker horse was decorated in a festive theme with wedding bells and other bridal decor. Highlighting the table decorations was a large white wedding cake adorned with pink roses and bells and a beautiful floral arrangement of large pink and green tinted carnations and astipatras leaves in a low container.

The groom is employed by Winn Dixie and the bride at Fairway Market.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Jim Thompson, Kansas City; Lee Legas, Ligonia, Pa.; and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Markos, Litchfield, Ill.

POLLY'S POINTERS Hot Casserole Plus Plastic Bag — Help!

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY — I accidentally put a hot casserole down on a plastic bag that melted and stuck to it. All my efforts to remove this have failed. I hope some clever reader will come to my rescue and save my best casserole dish — R. K. F.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with the new disposable diapers. My baby looks so uncomfortable with all that basically they are all sharp about the same. Square diapers are conventional but I think they would be so much better if they shaped more like underwear, that is, curved in at the legs. I hate to see my baby's walking posture impaired by all that bulk. Thanks for letting me gripe and I hope one or more companies will change the diaper shapes. — MAHY P.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Mrs. T. R. N. who has the auction had a musty odor. I filled it with crumpled newspaper and let them closed up in it for several weeks. The odor disappeared. Another good odor remover is plant dirt. She could place a good-sized bowl or open container of dirt in the drawer and leave it for awhile. I think she will find the odor will leave. — J. L.

DEAR POLLY — Each September when my daughter leaves for college I always see that she has some fishing line pictures for hanging her pictures. I have seen fishing line pictures for hanging her pictures. I have seen fishing line pictures for hanging her pictures.

Suit Hurting 'Popularity' Of Shevin

By KEN GEFFERT Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin didn't win any popularity contests in the petroleum industry last week when he filed suit accusing 15 major oil companies of conspiring to control the fuel shortage.

One angry official from American Oil Co. asserted, "The only reason he filed the suit is because he wants to run for governor."

Asked to comment on the charge by a Tampa television station, Shevin grinned and said, "I really haven't discussed my political future with American Oil Co."

But it's no secret that Shevin has the 1978 governor's race in the back of his mind.

"There's only one job in the state more important than mine—and that's the governor," Shevin said this week. "But it's a little too far down the line to make any concrete political plans five years in advance."

Shevin has made it clear he has no desire to lock horns with Gov. Reubin Askew in a 1977 gubernatorial bid.

But he says he's been pressured by political supporters to challenge U.S. Sen. Edward Gurney when the Winter Park Republican comes up for reelection next year.

"The Senate is a very prestigious job, but a junior senator has to be around a long time to accomplish anything. I'm not able to affect more lives as attorney general than I ever could as a U.S. senator," Shevin said.

He says he needs a second four-year term as the state's chief legal adviser because "I'm doing important things that need finishing." His first term expires in 1977.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Dan Dearing, author of the oil company suit, said Shevin shouldn't be "blamed" for the litigation.

"His staff wanted him to go with it and he did," said Dearing. Dearing said Shevin received a standing ovation from 200 persons at a Tampa hearing when it was disclosed the suit had been filed.

Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner flew to the Bahamas with his wife last week to watch another agriculture official take over as governor-general of the newly independent Bahamas.

"I was just trying to get established with the new regime," Conner said of the two-day trip. Governor-General Sir Milo Butler as former minister of agriculture for the Bahamas.

The NEW Tom

The NEW Tom Weiskopf is no longer a "potential" threat on the professional golf tour. That potential has been realized and as the 30-year-old Columbus, Ohio pro says, will be something to be reckoned with for many years to come.

Weiskopf, who became the third also-ran to win one of the four major stops on the pro tour when he won the British Open, credits his maturing to the realization that his father's entire life centered around his (Tom's) golf.

Weiskopf's father passed away just before this year's Masters at Augusta. It was shortly thereafter, about a month, that Tom began his string of outstanding performances.

The surge by Weiskopf is not like that of Bruce Crampton, another of the top money men on the tour this year. Tom has been up in the thick of nearly every tournament he's participated in since his first victory at the Colonial National Invitation, whereas Bruce has been either red hot or stone cold.

His lowest payday in this span was $6,160 for a fifth place finish in the American Golf Classic won by Crampton.

It was in that American Golf Classic that the NEW Tom Weiskopf was in full evidence. On the sixth hole of the final round Weiskopf was hitting his fourth shot, left handed with a wedge, a cameraman stuck out his camera and the ball hit the lens flange and bounced back into the bush from whence it came.

"Old' Weiskopf The old Weiskopf would have done more than offer a verbal reply to the cameraman as did the NEW Weiskopf. But more important, the old Weiskopf would have allowed the incident to ruin the remainder of the round.

The old Weiskopf did not, and while he did not sink any fantastic putts, the Columbus pro did settle down and finish the remaining holes one under par.

Weiskopf made a prediction of "The best is yet to come" at the Colonial event.

NEW Tom now has nine tour victories to his credit, four of which have come this year and the latest (the British Open) put the Ohio State University grad into the "great" class. A field Tom himself felt he did not belong until one of the four major tournaments was won.

And the manner in which he won the British Open, leading from wire to wire, certainly earned NEW Tom a place among the elite on the pro tour.

Others Knew Potential Jack Nicklaus has long been of the opinion that Weiskopf had all the tools to become one of the game's best. It was just a matter of time until the NEW Tom would emerge.

While the $14,300 did little to improve Weiskopf's standing in the total winning's statistics it just may deeply entrench his new attitude during which he feels he can beat the best rather than beat himself.

The change in attitude according to Weiskopf enables him to overcome any shot he has to face. Earlier in the year Weiskopf expressed plans to go elk hunting while the $500,000 World Open was being held at Pinehurst, North Carolina in November. Now he has forwarded reservations for the two week event.

Oviedo Seniors Bow From Tournament, 5-1

CONWAY — Deft base running by Semoran's Senior League All-Stars proved to be the difference in their Division B Tournament tussle with Oviedo last night as they "ran off" with a 5-1 triumph to advance in the tourney.

The loss knocked the Oviedo All-Stars from further competition in the double-elimination event. The Oviedoians had split in its previous meetings with Northwest and Anna.

Two more runs in the third upped Semoran's lead to 5-0 and closed out the scoring for the winners. Mike Milonovich was out down trying to score on the hit. Rusty Hatton sent a long fly to right which scored Robertson with the fifth run. Carter doubled off Claxton but was stranded when Claxton fanned his mound foe, Steve Harper.

Oviedo's lone tally came in the bottom of the third. Ray Tyre led off with a single and stayed there as Mike Neilson popped to short. Larry Anderson forced Tyre at second and then came around to score on Hardy Willis' double into the left-center gap.

Regardless of who wins the 55th PGA event at Canterbury this year the World Series of Golf promises to be a wide open battle among the four contestants.

One-Run Squeakers Shoemaker, T&T Trip Foes

A pair of one-run squeakers in Women's Softball action last night saw Shoemaker Construction and T&T Steam score victorious runs in the final frame of their seven-inning games to defeat Noel's Grocery and Clark and Hirt, respectively.

Schoemaker, which topped Noel's Grocery, 4-3, was coasting along with a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the fourth and appeared an easy winner until Noel's came up with three runs in the top of the fifth to knot the score, but one run in the bottom half of the seventh saved the Constructioners' victory.

T&T Steam made off with a big five-run opening frame, while Clark and Hirt had to nibble at their lead, scoring a pair in the second and one each in the fourth and fifth, before the Steam team again struck gold — to the tune of two more runs for a 7-4 lead. Clark and Hirt lashed out for a pair of runs in the bottom half of that frame to edge to within one run of the Steam gals.

However, Karl King and Huth Steele's triple and single act paced the Steam team to the win. Cecilia Monti, Joyce Lowe, Rosa Sanders and Jo Sanders all added one hit.

plated in the top of the second, scoring eight runs on three hits and three costly Sanford errors. Delton Dockery started the frame with his second home run of the tournament, and the next two men walked. The ensuing two batters were safe on fielder's choices when Sanford infielders tried to cut down the lead runner, but failed, and then Johnson hit a pair of Leeburg batters. Donald Hixie and Leon Durham slapped back to back singles, before Johnson retired the next three batters.

Five more runs crossed the plate for Leeburg in the top of the fifth frame. Lefty Barnes led off with an infield hit, Bert Harrow walked and Greg McCullough singled home a run. With one out, Hixie, Durham and Dockery collected consecutive singles before Hixie came back with three runs in the top of the frame. Ormond Beach then tied the score at 3-3 with a two-run second.

Ocala scored twice in the third and once in the fourth, but Ormond Beach bounced back to within one run, 6-7, with four runs in the fourth. Ocala again scored two in the top of the fifth, but Ormond Beach rallied back to push five runs across the plate, allowing them to hold Ocala to a single tally in the sixth inning, and win the game.

Kevin Nelson, pitching in relief, was the winning pitcher. Chip Chestwood, second relief pitcher for his team, was the loser.

Jerold Smith and Frank Davis were both two for three for the winners. Smith smashed a solo homer in the second game, but couldn't beat them on the scoreboard.

Ormond Beach went ahead temporarily, 1-0, in the bottom of the first inning, but Ocala came back with three runs in the top of the frame. Ormond

Bills To Restrict War Powers Run Into Snag

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vietnam war-inspired legislation to impose a 120-day limit on the independent war powers of presidents faced attacks in the House today by being too strong and too weak.

Opponents sought to change the war powers bill to require that Congress either approve or disapprove a president's war commitment—not just force it to a halt in 120 days by doing nothing.

Those who felt the bill too strong, including Rep. C. W. "Bill" Young, R-Fla., drafted amendments to curb what they called the bill's blessing for a president to wage war on his own for 120 days.

Illinois Club Theatre Party Stated July 26

DELTONA — A trio consisting of Melanie, Judith and Joyce Thomas of Tampa, ages 8, 10 and 11 will entertain the members of the Deltona Empire State Club at their regular meeting, Sunday in the Community Center.

The Thomas sisters will harmonize in songs of today and yesterday. They are the grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. George of 1653 Gainesville Dr., Deltona.

The short business meeting will be held from 4 to 4:30 p.m. and the entertainment will be followed by refreshments. The club meets the fourth Sunday of each month in the center and there is no summer recess.

Cambodian Bombing Cover Called 'Lies'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon disclosures of more than 4,000 secret bombing sorties in Cambodia in 1969 and early 1970 has provoked charges that administration officials "deliberately lied" to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, said Tuesday that still classified reports of Indochina air operations furnished for the committee in 1971 and early 1972 show "a long list of zeroes" for B52 bombing in Cambodia for every month up to May 1970.

"They deliberately lied to the committee," Hughes told newsmen after the "very major" campaign "was disclosed by Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim.

Hughes said Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., acting chairman of the committee, has agreed to call administration officials under oath "to tell us precisely what happened in these bombing operations and falsification of reports, who ordered them and how they were conducted."

"This revelation of deliberate deception in official information requested for the Armed Services Committee brings to a head the most fundamental issue of all-civilian control of the government as provided for by the Constitution," Hughes said.

Elks Lodge 1281 of Sanford recently held an initiation of nine candidates with Exalted Ruler Morris Pierce officiating. Candidates were R.F. Blaschke, Bruce Guinemer, Alexander Pagnin, Harold Muller, Gordon Scholer, C.W. Gardner, G.O. Adams, Frank Woodruff IV and Richard Burkett.

African, Indian Cuisine

By SUSAN DELIGHT Copy News Service

The cooking of America is a wonderful blend of cuisines from all over the world. For those who dare to be adventurous, there is fun aplenty in cooking.

Among the cuisines which are popular in this country are those of India and Africa. The recipes featured today are a sampling of recipes from those areas.

They are Chicken, Moroccan Style, and South Indian Chicken Curry.

CHICKEN, MOROCCAN STYLE

1 (7 1/2 to 3 lb.) chicken, cut into 8 pieces

1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided

2 tablespoons olive oil

1/4 cup freeze-dried shallots

1/4 teaspoon instant minced onion

7 tablespoons water, divided

3 tablespoons lemon juice

1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

1/2 teaspoon oregano leaves

2 tablespoons parsley flakes

Sprinkle chicken with salt and black pepper. In a large skillet place 2 tablespoons of the butter and the oil; heat until butter is melted. Add the chicken and brown well on all sides. Meanwhile, rehydrate shallots and garlic in 3 tablespoons of the water for 10 minutes. Remove chicken from skillet; set aside. Add shallots and garlic; saute 3 minutes. Add remaining 4 tablespoons water, lemon juice, lemon peel and oregano. Return chicken to skillet. Cover and simmer 20 to 30 minutes or until chicken is tender. Remove chicken to serving platter. Add parsley and remaining 2 tablespoons butter to sauce. Pour over chicken and serve immediately with cooked rice, if desired. Yield: 4 portions.

SOUTH INDIAN CHICKEN CURRY

2 (1 1/2 to 3 lb.) chicken, cut into 8 pieces

2 teaspoons salt

1/4 cup celery flakes

3 tablespoons instant minced onion

1 two-thirds cups water, divided

4 teaspoons curry powder

1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

2 tablespoons flour

2 chicken bouillon cubes

Sprinkle chicken with salt. In a Dutch oven or large heavy saucepan heat oil. Add chicken, a few pieces at a time, and brown well on all sides. Meanwhile, rehydrate celery flakes and minced onion in one-third cup of the water for 10 minutes. Remove chicken; set aside. Add celery, onion, curry powder and ginger; saute 3 minutes. Stir in flour and cook 2 minutes. Stir in remaining 1 one-third cup water and bouillon cubes. Bring to boiling point, stirring constantly. Return chicken to Dutch oven; reduce heat, cover and simmer 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender. Serve with cooked rice, if desired. Yield: 8 to 9 portions.

STRAWBERRY BANANA BREAD

This is a moist loaf.

1 1/2 cups sifted flour

2/3 cup sugar

1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 cup quick-cooking oats

1/2 cup salad oil

2 eggs, slightly beaten

1/2 cup mashed strawberries, about 1 cup whole strawberries

1/2 cup mashed bananas, about 1 medium banana

In a medium mixing bowl sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Mix in oats. Add oil, eggs, strawberries and banana, stirring just until the dry ingredients show. Turn into a greased loaf pan (8 1/2 by 4 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches). Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven. A cake tester inserted in center comes out clean - 80 to 85 minutes. Cool in pan for 10 minutes. Turn out of pan; turn right side up; cool thoroughly. Tightly wrap cold bread in foil or transparent plastic wrap and store overnight before slicing.

'Paul Mason Celebrity Wine Cellar' Is Unique Feature

By MARY LESTER
Copley News Service

Wine-tasting rooms are a year-round popular attraction. Some consist of nothing more than a small, splintered wooden bar with a few bottles and paper cups perched atop. Savoring this type of atmosphere generally requires the offering of exceptionally good wine or drinking a great deal of the product. Charming surroundings do add to the tasting experience.

The glamour of a genuine Hollywood movie studio is the latest setting for tasting wines. Called the "Paul Mason Celebrity Wine Cellar," this unique feature is the newest attraction at the Universal Studios Tour in Universal City.

The Wine Cellar includes a tasting hall for sampling the wines and a retail store featuring wines and wine-oriented gifts. There was even a premier opening with an R.S.V.P. invitation stating: "Celebrate the Opening With A Wild Tour of Paul Mason Wine Days That Never Were. Followed by A Ribbon Cutting Ceremony With All the Hallelujahs of A Hollywood Premiere and a Sumptuous Cocktail Buffet Including Very Cold Duck & Champagne With Entertainment PLUS Real Celebrities."

Visitors should find debarrier Stanley Forster, hospitality director, a fine substitute for any of the movie stars they might not see on the tour — he's that distinguished looking.

Probably the two most dramatic tasting rooms located in an honest-to-goodness winery setting are Taylor and Great Western in Hammondport, N.Y. About 60 miles south of Rochester, these two wineries are side by side. Both the tasting rooms are wooden — massive dark wood walls, pillars, chairs and tables. There is a small kitchen where the hot and cold hors d'oeuvres are prepared. When you are seated, a host offers all the wines and champagne for tasting. A large plate filled with delicious snacks, made from Greyton Taylor's cookbook recipes, is placed on the table and then begins a relaxing afternoon of eating and tasting the wine away. It is most difficult to extracthe hospitality of Great Western and Taylor's. I tried — when I was the first woman tour director of any winery in the world. My book, "Hand Me That Corkscrew, Bacchus," to be published this September by

Paper Publishing Co., Minneapolis, Minn., relates the adventures of a young, single woman who lived nine years on a vineyard, with a winery in her backyard, called Almaden. Those were really the tasting days!

Hawaiian Cooking Inspired This Chicken Dish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. We've come upon a lovely chicken and pineapple dish, inspired by Hawaiian cuisine, that is especially good to serve in warm weather because it is made on top of the range. The sauce makes use of the excellent condensed chicken broth that is now widely available, and vinegar, soy sauce, brown sugar and garlic add extra seasoning. Green pepper, too, is teamed with the chicken and pineapple.

1 can (10 1/8 ounces) condensed chicken broth
1/2 cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 large clove garlic, minced
1 large green pepper, seeded and cut in 1/4-inch wide strips
1/4 cup cornstarch blended until smooth with 1/4 cup cold water
Cooked hot rice
Drain pineapple reserving 1/2 cup syrup
In a 12-inch skillet, heat shortening, add chicken and brown on both sides; pour off fat. Stir together the reserved 1/2 cup pineapple syrup, chicken broth, vinegar, sugar, soy sauce and garlic; add to skillet. Cover and cook over low heat, turning chicken as necessary, until tender — about 45 minutes.
Remove chicken to serving dish and keep warm. Add drained pineapple chunky, green pepper and cornstarch mixture to skillet; stirring constantly, cook until sauce is clear and thickened. Pour over chicken and serve with rice.
Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Camp Fire Meal
Campers who like to make do with a minimum of supplies enjoy creating a complete meal that can be cooked over a camp fire in a large skillet. A Campers' Macaroni is a complete dish with mushrooms, onions, peas, macaroni, and tuna all blended in one skillet in less than half an hour.

CAMPERS' MACARONI
1 can (3 ounces) whole mushrooms, undrained
1 can (16 ounces) small whole onions, undrained
1 can (16 ounces) green peas, undrained
2 jars (4 ounces each) marinara spaghetti or tomato sauce
2 cups (one-ounce) sliced macaroni (8 ounces)
2 cans (7 ounces each) tuna, drained and broken into chunks
Drain liquid from mushrooms, onions and peas into large skillet; stir macaroni, sauce and bring to a boil. Gradually add macaroni so that liquid continues to boil. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until macaroni is tender, about 20 minutes. Stir in vegetables and tuna. Cook for several minutes, stirring occasionally, until mixture is hot throughout. Makes 8 servings.

Camp-Out Cooking Made Easy
Casserole meals make cooking during a camp-out much simpler. This is really the ultimate one-dish meal. One recipe that satisfies appetites whetted by fresh air and exercise is an Herb Baked Chicken Pasta Casserole. All ingredients are canned or packaged for easy carrying.

HERB BAKED CHICKEN PASTA CASSEROLE
1 box (8 ounce) spaghetti (twists, cooked and drained)
2 1/2 cups cooked chicken chunks
1 jar (15 ounce) marinara spaghetti sauce
1 can (3 to 4 ounce) sliced mushrooms
1 1/2 tablespoons Italian Seasoning
1 teaspoon onion powder
In a 2-quart casserole combine spaghetti and chicken. Blend remaining ingredients. Pour over spaghetti mixture. Cover and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 45 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Sprinkle with cheese, if desired. Makes 8 portions.

It's Ice Cream Time!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor. When I was a little girl homemade ice cream was the most exciting of all sweet treats. On a summer Saturday or Sunday our family would take the car to the back porch and my father and uncle took turns at cranking it. My sisters and cousins and I all watched so we could finally take turns at licking the dasher.

Nowadays some families still like to use old-fashioned hand-cranked freezers, others prefer to use electric freezers. But whichever type is used homemade ice cream is still the greatest culinary treat on the food scene.

PINEAPPLE COCONUT ICE CREAM
3 eggs
1 3/4 cups sugar
3 cups milk
2 cups heavy cream
1 tablespoon vanilla
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 can (15 1/4 ounces) crushed pineapple, drained (about 1 cup)
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) flaked coconut, toasted (about 1 cup)
In a large mixing bowl beat eggs until foamy. Gradually beat in sugar; continue to beat if necessary until thickened.
Add milk, cream, vanilla and salt; mix thoroughly.
Stir in pineapple and coconut.
Chill.
Churn-freeze according to manufacturer's directions for your particular freezer.
Makes about 2 quarts.
Note: To toast coconut, spread coconut thinly on a shallow baking pan. Place in a preheated 350-degree oven and stirring often or shaking pan, toast until delicately browned — 8 to 12 minutes.

'Prudent Diet' Is Sensible Heart Care

Fresh blueberries combine with sour cream and marshmallows for treat.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
A diet and coronary heart disease research study was established in 1954 in New York by Dr. Norman Jolliffe, an expert in public health nutrition. Only one factor was to be investigated: the relationship of diet to coronary heart disease. Now 14 years later, the final report is being made ready.

Iva Bennett, home economics and health education specialist, worked with Dr. Jolliffe from the beginning. She continued with Dr. George J. Christakis, now with Mt. Sinai (N.Y.) Medical School, and also with two other medical supervisors.

On advice of leading medical people she and an associate have written the entire program in terms understandable to the layman. Their book, "The Prudent Diet," explains a medically based diet using very good food. Martha Simon, also a specialist cook, co-authored the book. "The Prudent Diet," by Iva Bennett and Martha Simon, David White publisher, $7.95.

is designed to prolong the vigorous span of life," Mrs. Bennett says.

"It curtails excessive eating of fat meats, high-fat dairy products, eggs, hydrogenated shortenings and foods containing any of these ingredients. It encourages eating more fish and certain shellfish, substituting polyunsaturated vegetable oils and margarine for butter, lard and hydrogenated shortenings and other saturated fats. Note the diet does not advocate excessive use or complete omission of any one food.

The diet fulfills all requirements of the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council.

It is based on the knowledge that saturated fats raise the cholesterol level of the blood. Some examples of sources of saturated fats are beef, lard and pork, whole milk, butter and egg yolks. On the other hand, polyunsaturated fats lower the cholesterol level. Some polyunsaturated foods are fish, certain shellfish, liquid vegetable oils and whole grain foods.

family dinners: 1. Roast chicken, sweet potato and apple casserole, Boston lettuce, French dressing, fruit gelatin. 2. Lamb broiled, swordfish, tartar sauce, broiled tomatoes, corn-on-cob, cantaloupe.

Mrs. Bennett's special dinner menus include: melon, lean lamb and vegetables in casserole, romaine lettuce salad, hot blueberry tart.

For hot weather she gives this Prudent Diet menu: watermelon, cold potato soup, cold poached salmon with mayonnaise, avocado and tomato salad, fresh fruit, Italian macaroni.

Eating in a restaurant and staying on a diet can be difficult but not so with the Prudent Diet. Appetizers permit the diner to enjoy a variety of smoked salmon, caviar or sturgeon. Soups include Manhattan clam chowder, clam broth, gazpacho. Among the entrees are roast veal, broiled fillet of beef, London broil, fish or shellfish broiled baked or poached.

MARKET SPECIALS

Each week supermarkets have a special on something — beer, tomato juice, club soda, canned mushroom caps, canned artichoke hearts. All these are good, economical buys for the person or family who will use market specials to save money on each week's food costs. Bargains in food that do not fit into your family's eating habits are not bargains. Such foods merely are a waste of money because they usually go unused and eventually are thrown out.

How to Beat the High Cost of Food

Blueberry Season Is Here

A light, airy dessert is in order during summer. One takes advantage of the very special taste of fresh blueberries while they are in season. These berries make excellent pies, tarts and fruit whips and are very good eaten plain. Blueberry Magic is a treat that children and senior citizens will enjoy as a change from a regular dish of ice cream.

- BLUEBERRY MAGIC
- 1/2 cup water
 - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 2 cups fresh blueberries
 - 1 cup miniature marshmallows
 - 4 slices bread
 - 2 tablespoons prepared sour cream
 - 1/2 cup heavy cream
 - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Combine water, nutmeg and blueberries in a 1-quart saucepan. Simmer until berries burst. Remove from heat and stir in marshmallows until they are dissolved. Trim crusts off bread and cut each slice into 16 squares. Stir into hot blueberry mixture; chill. Combine sour cream with heavy cream and whip until thick. Fold chilled blueberry mixture into whipped cream. Garnish with dollops of sour cream if desired. Makes 4 servings.

FAMILY DINNER Lamb Shanks Rice Green Beans Salad Chocolate Cake with Mint Frosting

MINT FROSTING Use for chocolate cake made from a mix or from scratch.

In the top of a double boiler, beat together the egg whites, sugar, syrup and water; use a hand-operated rotary beater or an electric beater. Place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly until mixture stands in stiff straight peaks — 4 to 7 minutes, depending on beater. Remove from water. Add peppermint extract and beat until thick enough to spread. Makes plenty of frosting to cover top and sides of a chocolate cake baked in a 11 by 9 by 2 inch pan.

BARBECUED CHICKEN 18-ounce can tomato sauce 1/2 cup polyunsaturated oil 1/4 cup orange juice 1/4 cup vinegar 1/4 teaspoon oregano 1 teaspoon salt

HALIBUT TERIYAKI 2 pounds halibut steak 2 cloves garlic, crushed 1/2 cup soy sauce 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard 1/4 cup California sherry 1/2 cup polyunsaturated oil 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar 2 teaspoons red wine vinegar

Wipe and dry fish with paper towels. Combine remaining ingredients; heat to boiling. Pour over fish. Marinate two hours or longer. Broil over charcoal or in oven broiler until just tender, basting frequently. Makes six servings. Variation: Alternate pineapple chunks and green pepper with fish pieces.

FLANK STEAK 2 pounds flank steak 1/4 cup lemon juice or wine vinegar 2 tablespoons coarsely ground pepper 2 tablespoons Dijon mustard 1 teaspoon Thyme

Rub meat with lemon juice and pepper. Let stand two or three hours. Spread one side with mustard and thyme and broil for two or three minutes. Turn, spread other side and finish broiling for another two or three minutes. Slice very thinly on the diagonal. Serves 4.

Combine all ingredients, except chicken and glaze. Cover and stake vigorously to blend. In shallow dish pour tomato sauce mixture over chicken. Cover and marinate two hours at room temperature or overnight in refrigerator, turning occasionally. Drain, reserving marinade. Grill chicken over medium coals for 45 to 60 minutes, brushing with marinade and turning frequently. Just before serving, coat with Hollandaise-Mustard Glaze. Combine 1/4 cup honey and 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard. Makes six servings.

DODD EYES OLD GLASS MILK BOTTLES. A small, but growing, collection.

Dodd's Milk Bottle Museum Will Keep The Past Alive

TALLAHASSEE — The glass milk bottle, it appears, already is a thing of the past, indeed, a collector's item. But to keep alive a bit of the past of the milk industry, Jack P. Dodd, director of the Dairy Division of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, is building a "milk bottle museum."

Actually, Dodd's collection is still quite small. Therefore, he is seeking donations of old bottles from people who may have them lying dusty in the attic or basement. Dodd's collection is in a glass display case in his Collins Building offices.

The glass milk bottle came in many shapes and sizes over the years since it was developed in 1884 by Dr. Hervey Thatcher, a druggist in Potsdam, N.Y. Dr. Thatcher was watching a delivery from a milk wagon in which the milk was carried in 10-quart cans. From these, the fresh milk was poured by the deliveryman into whatever container the homemaker had.

On this day, Dr. Thatcher was watching as a little girl was playing with a dirty rag doll and dropped in by accident into the milk. The milkman fished out the doll and went on pouring milk. Dr. Thatcher realized this was highly unsanitary and got the idea for a glass milk bottle.

His first bottles were made by an ink well maker and didn't work too well, but later designs caught on.

Many different types of bottles were manufactured, some with fancy engraving or decoration on them. Each different dairy was likely to have its own brand-name bottles. Bottles were cast in green, brown and blue glass as well as clear glass. Some of the more colorful ones now can be found in antique shops with fairly steep price tags.

Glass bottles are going out of use in the dairy industry now because of the high cost of glass molding compared with plastic and cardboard cartons. Dodd said he hopes to build a collection that will be representative of bottles used by Florida's dairy industry over the many years bottles were used.
