Vihlen, Other Witnesses Heard Former Officers Seek Releases

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

RAYMOND BENNETT

Character witnesses, including Seminole County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., have testified on behalf of two ex-Sanford policemen seeking reductions in prison sentences meted out guilty pleas to felony burglary in connection with a police burglary ring.

In a Thursday hearing before Circuit Court Judges Clarence T. Johnson Jr. and A. J. Hosenmann Jr., attorneys Newman Brock and Gerald Rutberg backed their arguments that Raymond Bennett, 30, and Hiram Hamlin, 22, should be released from prison on probation with testimony from 17 witnesses out of a courtroom nearly filled with the ex-officers' relatives and friends.

Judges Johnson and Hosenmann said after the two-hour hearing that they will issue a written decision on the motions to reduce sentences within the next 10 days after studying notes taken during the hearing and examining a number of affidavits and letters submitted in addition to the courtroom testimony.

Bennett, Hamlin and a former city animal control officer, Robert Ray Campbell Jr., 23, were sent to prison in June after

The hearing was held on 24-hour notice after Bennett and Hamlin's attorneys filed the motion for reduction of sentence. Reporters weren't notified of the hearing until two hours before it took place.

Victims of the series of burglaries that police investigators said the burglary ring members confessed to were not seen in the courtroom.

Vihlen was the first witness to testify and said he'd known Bennett for 12 years. "Based on my personal knowledge of Raymond's character," Vihlen said, "I feel he could fulfill requirements of probation and return to become a productive member of this community."

Bennett was sentenced to seven years in prison plus eight years probation; Hamlin to five years in prison and five years probation; and Campbell to 10 years in prison.

Bennett and Hamlin filed appeals on the convictions but the appeals were withdrawn by the defendants early this month. Campbell's appeal is still pending in the Fourth District Court of Appeals, West Palm Beach.

The two-judge panel Thursday wouldn't allow Assistant State Atty. James Figgitt to cross-examine the character witnesses and announced that the court would accept hearsay testimony.

always very truthful with me as a friend and a customer, he's just a real fine boy," Kader said.

"I'm positive he could make it on probation," Kader said.

Police Capt. C. B. Fagan Jr. who headed the internal investigation that resulted in the ex-policemen's convictions, testified to Bennett's "good character" and noted that while free on bond after his arrest that Bennett got a job and worked to support his family.

Fagan said Bennett was the ringleader in 11 area burglaries. He said police recovered all items that Bennett allegedly stole. "They were Mrs. Marie Hamlin testified that her husband, while incarcerated in the Clermont Correctional Institution in Lake County, has become vice-president of the Clermont Jaycee Chapter. She said Hamlin "knows" what he's done and is ready to come back to face people of the community."

She told the court that Lake County news reports described Bennett and Hamlin as "ideal inmates who have no problems getting along with fellow inmates."

Witnesses testified that if the ex-officers are released from prison that they have jobs waiting for them in Sanford.

"I submit that there's no ridicule in this community for these men," Brock told the court. "And I don't think society will ridicule anyone if they are released."

Tate said he still doesn't understand how the officers "got into this and I don't think we'll ever know." He said he thinks Bennett and Hamlin have "suffered enough" and should be released from prison. "I think the people of Sanford are behind us," Tate said.

County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. testified that when he took Bennett and Hamlin to jail after sentencing that the men said they "didn't feel bad toward the police or the court." They said they did wrong and would pay the penalty and be men and

Parents Can Plan For Safe Haunting

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

With growing apprehension among parents about the safety of their children as they dress in costumes and indulge in the traditional "trick-or-treat" fun of Halloween, area organizations have stepped in to provide planned and supervised events.

"Haunted houses" designed to put terror into the timid soul are springing up in various locations around the county.

Perhaps the most impressive of these is the Haunted Castle utilizing the real-life castle of Glenn Turner on Bear Gully Road (off Howell Branch Road in Southeast Seminole) as a setting for spine-tingling scenes from horror movies enacted by area high school drama groups.

The Goldenrod Jaycees are sponsoring the Halloween project for the second year and it will be open to the public tonight and Saturday from 6-10 p.m.

The Jaycees won national honors last year for their fund-raising project and cars were lined up for miles waiting to get in. Movies will be shown those in the waiting line. Proceeds will benefit a youth shelter.

Igor's Haunted House at the Altamonte Mall, across from the York Steak House, is a project of the South Seminole Jaycees in association with the Altamonte Mall Merchants' Association. It will be open tonight from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. Saturday, 5-10:30 p.m.

Count Dracula heads the list of assorted resident ghosts and ghosts who will greet those daring to enter the 12 "scary areas." There will be free candy and surprises provided by the Mail merchants.

An electronic haunted house will be sponsored by the Grace United Methodist Church at 1311 Palmetto Ave., Sanford, tonight from 7:30-10 p.m. with the proceeds to go to the purchase of new for the new church building.

For those with weak hearts who prefer friendly ghosts, there is "Casper's Ghost House" tonight at Casselberry Elementary School (Crystal Bowl Circle). This is a project of the Pi Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Spring Oaks Homeowners Association has designated tonight "Trick-or-Treat" night from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. for neighborhood youngsters, with only commercially wrapped candies permissible.

In the interest of safety for those youngsters who will be venturing forth, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary (VFW) Post 10108 of Sanford will conduct a "Lite-a-Costume" project from 6:30 today at Winn-Dixie on First Street, Zayre Plaza, and the Bill Burns Texaco Station on 25th Street. The Auxiliary will put reflective tape on the children's costumes.

FORMER POW RETIRES FLAG

Sanford Christian School students salute as new flag was raised at their school Thursday. Present to decommission the old flag were Navy Commander Giles Norrington, a prisoner of war in North Vietnam for over three years, and an honor guard from Orlando

Naval Training Center. Norrington raised the old flag at the school on May 1, 1972. The school campus is located at the Sanford airport. (Herald Photo by Bill Vincent Jr.)

Grand Jury Clay Pit Investigation Hinted

Seminole-Brevard State Atty. Abbott Herring today was unavailable for comment on speculation by courthouse sources that he will take a probe of an alleged county commission clay pit purchase to the Seminole County Grand Jury.

Herring earlier said that a new full term grand jury will be impaneled next week.

Herring has personally been heading an investigation into the clay pit controversy and today was greeted by Lester Mandell, president of Greater Construction Co., owner of the 103 acre site between Markham Woods Road and I-4 and north of Dixon Road.

On Tuesday, real estate agent Tom Binford, who also is chairman of the Seminole County Port Authority, reportedly voluntarily answered questions under oath about the $317,000 land deal for over an hour at Herring's courthouse offices.

Herring would not comment on his session with Binford, who lost a $12,500 commission when county commissioners reversed their decision to buy the land as a county clay supply. Commissioners, who earlier had contracted to buy the land, backed out of the deal Oct. 14, hours after Herring met with leaders of the Markham Woods Association which led opposition to the clay pit purchase.

Area residents had contended it would cost the county $100,000 a year for 10 years to use clay from the site, as opposed to the $20,000 the county presently is paying for Volusia County clay for use on county roads.

Area residents had contended it would cost the county $100,000 a year for 10 years to use clay from the site, as opposed to the $20,000 the county presently is paying for Volusia County clay for use on county roads.

County commissioners didn't explain their reversal on the purchase decision, but County Attorney Tom Freeman said, "The economics of the purchase was probably a significant factor."

Freeman advised commissioners not to say anything about the decision that they wouldn't feel secure saying in court since the county had signed a contract to purchase the acreage.

Earlier, Herring said he had assigned investigators to look into the clay pit controversy. "We'd be interested if there was a conflict of interest involved here," he told reporters.

Binford is Freeman's first cousin.

Mandell has said a $50,000 broker commission was to have been split 50-50 between Laurel Realty and Metropolitan Realty, a company owned by Greater Construction.

Binford, who has since severed relations with Laurel Realty, said he learned from news reports that the county was looking for a new clay pit site and asked Mandell for the listing on the land.

Binford also said that he suggested that Mandell deal directly with the county because Binford is Freeman's cousin and that Mandell then approached the county with the deal.

County Commissioner Mike Hattaway, project commissioner on clay pit selection, said he dealt only with Mandell and contended whatever commission Mandell would have paid a broker is Mandell's business.

Binford said Laurel was to have received 50 percent of the $50,000 commission on the land sale and that he was to have received one-half of Laurel's commission.

Binford said both he and Mandell dealt with Hattaway, but Hattaway said he didn't know that Binford was involved.

The county contracted in July to buy the 103-acre site, but on Oct. 14, Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski made the motion not to buy the land. Hattaway and Commissioner Dick Williams, whose district includes the proposed clay mining site, joined to vote down the buy.

NATION IN BRIEF

Kissinger Testifies To Hostile House Intelligence Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is testifying before a hostile House intelligence committee to explain why he won't let junior aides testify about his policy decisions.

Kissinger has refused to turn over a State Department memo that dissented from his decisions during the Cyprus crisis last year. Instead, Kissinger offered to summarize today what he said was sometimes vigorous dissent by aides and tell why he rejected it.

The dissent memorandum was written by Thomas D. Boyatt, then head of the State Department's Cyprus desk, who told the committee he was under orders not to testify what his recommendations were.

Agnew Denies Guilt

CHOPFON, Md. (AP) — Saying that a "crushing blow" and intense pressure led to his resignation as vice president, Spiro T. Agnew has categorically denied again that he was guilty of anything except a single count of income tax evasion.

"The only thing I ever admitted was a single count of tax evasion. I categorically deny the rest and someday, when the various court cases are over, I'll be able to speak freely," he said Thursday in an exclusive interview at his office here with The Associated Press.

Medicaid Payments Opened

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government, in a policy reversal, is making public for the first time the names of doctors who strike rich by treating welfare patients.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare disclosed Thursday that 207 doctors in 14 states and the District of Columbia each earned more than $100,000 from Medicaid last year. They received a total of $29.8 million in federal, state and local funds.

SEA Backs Suspended Teacher

Lake Mary Road, file suit against the board for breach of contract seeking back pay, and "for protection of constitutional rights."

"A mere arrest does not give rise to legal grounds for suspension," said Grooms.

School Board Atty. Douglas Stenstrom said he would have no comment until the suit is served.

Grooms said Superintendent W.P. "Bud" Lauer and Stenstrom had recommended Denmark be suspended with pay, but the board by majority vote terminated Denmark's pay.

Grooms said Board member Allan F. Keeth publicly stated words to the effect that "the law doesn't require a suspension," said Lauer.

Lauer explained the state law says a superintendent may suspend a teacher for actions becoming a public employee and it also provides that "at the next board meeting, the board must sustain or reject the superintendent's recommendation."

"But the board voted to suspend him without pay," said Lauer.

Denmark and Alonza Teague, 23, 1108 E. W. 10th St., were charged with robbery of credit cards and money from Lou Dritz, 802 W. First St., owner of Casler's Junk Yark, 110 N. Holly Ave. Teague was acquitted earlier this week.

Denmark's trial is set for Monday Nov. 3, in circuit court in Sanford, but Grooms said asking that a hearing be set sometime next week. The suit asks the court to grant a preliminary and permanent injunction restraining the board from suspending Denmark without a hearing and to reinstate his salary, Grooms said.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Sadistic Gunmen Cast Pall Of Terror For Halloween

CLEMONT (AP) — A shadow of real Halloween terror hung over the citrus groves around this Central Florida town today in the specter of sadistic gunmen who "come out of nowhere and melt back into nowhere," police say.

Despite around-the-clock patrols by 60 officers, police warned parents in rural areas of West Orange and South Lake counties to keep their trick-or-treaters off the streets tonight.

The gunmen, armed with sawed-off shotguns and wearing black ski masks with eerie red eyeholes, have invaded six homes in the past four weeks, raping one teenager, smashing the eye glasses of four people and throwing liquid drain cleaner in the face of one woman.

Teachers May Have To Pay

MIAMI (AP) — All Florida teachers, even non-union members, would be required to pay a share of bargaining costs to the union representing their school district if the United Teachers' Union of Dade County wins a suit filed against the county school board.

Pat Tornillo, UTD executive vice president, said Thursday that the "fair share" suit was filed in the name of his teachers' union, but is a class action that would affect all state public employees.

The 1974 Collective Bargaining Law for Public Employees says the exclusive bargaining agent must represent all members of a bargaining unit whether they are union members or not." Tornillo said.

Flexible School Year Backed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Cabinet will be asked Tuesday to approve the first step in Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington's proposal for a flexible school year.

The state should get out of the rigid 180-day school year to allow youngsters to learn at their own pace, Turlington says.

The proposed change in Education Department rules would allow Turlington to approve experimental programs based on hours rather than days in class.

Grades 4 through 12 could hold classes for 900 hours within any number of days, and kindergarten through third grade 720 hours without losing state funds.

Askew To Keep Ashler

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew says he's decided to keep retired Adm. Phil Ashler as insurance commissioner because Ashler has convinced him that he's the man to handle mounting insurance problems.

Askew announced Thursday that Ashler will retain the $40,000-a-year Cabinet post until a successor is elected in the November 1976, saying any other appointment would plunge the office into political chaos.

"It's been my determination it's important to have stability now in that department and not have it put in jeopardy immediately in a campaign, which is essentially what would have happened regardless of whom I appointed," he said.

O'Malley Books To Be Closed

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Leon County Judge Hal McClamma says he'll close the books today on criminal charges against Thomas O'Malley by assessing the former insurance commissioner $500 in court costs on a misdemeanor conviction.

McClamma announced his intention to limit the penalty to court costs long before today's sentencing of O'Malley, whose political career crumbled this summer while a heart condition threatened his life.

The judge has delayed sentencing since O'Malley filed a no contest plea to the misdemeanor charge July 29 and resigned his Cabinet position.

Special Probe Unit Urged

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — A Leon County grand jury has again called for a special investigative unit in Tallahassee to watch for corruption in state government.

The investigators should be established in the office of Leon County State Atty. Harry Morrison, the grand jury said in a formal statement following an investigation of state leasing of office buildings.

Last February, a grand jury that indicted former Treasurer Thomas O'Malley said it was unrealistic to expect Morrison's office to handle all its routine cases and investigate complex charges of official misconduct.

Parolee Back In Prison

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Within a few months after he was paroled from prison, Tommy Lee Goodman, 30, of Jacksonville, managed to get in considerable trouble.

He was arrested Aug. 26 and charged with possession of a stolen payroll check and a stolen credit card.

Freed on bond, Goodman was arrested Sept. 26 on a charge of heroin possession. Again he bonded out, but was arrested Oct. 11 on a charge of offering a forged money order as payment for a room.

Man, Mother Face Charges

MIAMI (AP) — A Broward County man and his mother face a bond hearing today on charges that they smuggled more than $3 million of heroin into the United States earlier this year as part of an alleged international drug-dealing operation.

Flanked by local detectives, federal agents arrested Jerry Lerner, 33, of Lauderdale, and his mother, Jeanette Scalamoni, 54, of Sunrise, late Thursday.

Agents claimed they are connected with an operation based in Malaysia.

Cloud Reinstatement Sought

TAMPA (AP) — City officials say they are waiting for a legal opinion before deciding whether to reinstate slain vice detective Richard Cloud.

About 75 members of the force went to City Hall Thursday demanding that the 34-year-old sergeant be reinstated posthumously so his widow and two young sons can receive pension and insurance benefits.

The officers have the backing of the Police Benevolent Association and the Fraternal Order of Police.

Attorneys Rap Shevin

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Attorneys for a group of state prison inmates say Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin's office is interfering with attempts to interview prospective witnesses in a federal court suit.

Tobias Simon of Tallahassee and William Sheppard of Jacksonville filed a motion Thursday asking U.S. District Judge Charles R. Scott for an order giving them free and complete access to possible witnesses.

Scott made no immediate ruling on the motion.

Ford Tax Program Curbs Inflation Risk

What appeared to be the first shots of the 1976 presidential election were fired in Washington as President Ford announced a tax cut program that brought an answering salvo from congressional Democrats.

The President's proposal to tie the $28 billion in tax cuts for individuals and businesses to $28 billion in reductions in government outlays is a logical way to pump more money into the economy without adding to federal red ink that may hit $90 billion in the current fiscal year.

But this is too simple a solution for some Democratic lawmakers. "A mirage," said Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., chairman of the taxwriting House Ways and Means Committee, because in setting a ceiling on spending, Mr. Ford does not propose specific cuts in a budget which is headed toward $420 billion in the fiscal year starting Oct. 1, 1976. And there are not-so-subtle hints from Congress that it would give President Ford in spending cuts by carving them out of defense, foreign aid, space and other users of federal dollars without constituencies. This of course would be the height of irresponsibility and doubtless bring a presidential veto.

Indeed the President's program appears to be a reasonable compromise of opposing ideas within his own Cabinet. Labor Secretary John T. Dunlop had urged the administration to make permanent the $25 billion in temporary business and personal tax cuts enacted this year. Treasury Secretary William E. Simon was reported opposed to simply extending tax cuts.

With the inflation rate currently in the 6-8 per cent area, Mr. Ford faced a dilemma. All signs such as total output, industrial production, new factory orders, personal earnings, housing starts and corporate profits indicated the country is pulling out of the recession.

The administration wants to sustain the recovery but to invest millions of dollars more in its own programs as ALF-CIO President George Meany proposes markets to increase the deficit, sending the government into the money market to borrow so it can pay its bills and send up interest rates. This business and housing would have a harder time borrowing and recovery is stifled, causing more unemployment.

Another unhappy side effect of inflation is that as higher salaries seek to catch up with higher prices, individuals are pushed into higher tax brackets. And so inflation inflicts a hidden tax.

Present Ford in advancing his tax cut proposals says people should be able to keep more of their money instead of shipping it off to Washington. But at the same time they should be prepared to give up some of the mass of government services they now receive. Then perhaps Congress will see the logic of Mr. Ford's methods of stimulating the economy without boosting it into another destructive double-digit inflation.

Hunters' Boycott

The boycott is as American as the Boston Tea Party. It was used effectively against the CBS television network recently when hunters and their organizations protested in advance against the news show, "Guns of August," which showed hunters in a bad light.

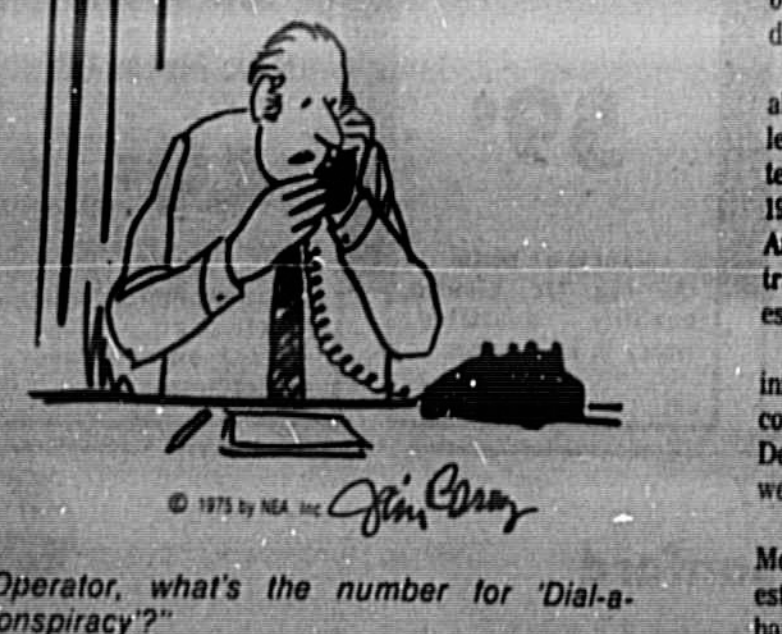

Most all of the advertisers who had bought time for commercials on the show withdrew their sponsorship. The network aired the show despite the boycott but the cancellation of the commercials added greatly to the network's cost in producing the show.

We happen to believe that "Guns of August" was slanted and unfair to the hunting fraternity. But we also hold with the dictum ascribed to Voltaire, "I disapprove of what you say but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

BERRY'S WORLD

Economic censorship has in the past made radio and television broadcasters shy away from all controversy. But a news medium that avoids controversy is an emasculated medium. The great issues that call for discussion always evoke controversy.

A free press can have the courage to do its job only if it is strong enough to withstand economic pressure.

Around

The Clock

The March of Dimes Pledgework has been set for Nov. 15 with the starting point for the 20-mile hike slated to be the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Building, beginning at 7 a.m.

William P. Bud Lauer, superintendent of Seminole County Schools and county chairman of the March of Dimes, says "everyone will be walking for those who can't — the many American children born each year with crippling birth defects."

Residents who can't be on hand to pound the pavement against birth defects are urged to sponsor a walker.

Pledgework funds are used by the March of Dimes to continue the work of medical service and research programs.

"A fine example of this is the Neo-natal Intensive Care Center, located in Orlando to serve all of Central Florida, Lauer said.

The March of Dimes headquarters for Central Florida is located at 830 North Magnolia, Orlando, and further information about the pledgework may be obtained by calling the headquarters at Orlando 849-0790.

Let's hope all of Seminole County's residents will get behind this annual pledgework and put the March of Dimes over the top in the same grand fashion displayed in the recent United Fund Drive.

Although today is Halloween, there will be plenty of Halloween-related activities going on around the area on Saturday, including a Corvette Charity Carnival which is to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. behind Don Mealey Chevrolet, West Colonial Drive, Orlando.

Sponsored by the Central Florida Corvette Assoc., the charity carnival will include fun and prizes for all who attend. Corvette rides, fire engine rides, clowns and the whole ball of wax will be staged with proceeds slated to go to the Kat Katigan's Children's Home.

In addition to the aforementioned, there will also be booths, games, hay rides, haunted house, balloons, cotton candy, bike races and much, much more.

For a fun day-after-Halloween, grab the gang and head on out to the Corvette Charity Carnival. A good time should be had by all.

Speaking of Halloween, we cannot urge everyone enough about being extra cautious this weekend when the little ones are out trick-or-treating.

To all motorists, we urge that you be extra careful and watch out for children, particularly in residential neighborhoods.

To the parents, we urge that you inspect every item the youngsters pick up in their trick-or-treat travels.

And to those who will be out trick-or-treating, we urge you to please respect the rights and properties of others. Don't be destructive. Remember, you'll be a property owner someday and you wouldn't want anyone damaging what you've worked hard to acquire.

Have a safe and happy Halloween. —Bill Currie

Inverted Solution To Layoffs

From time immemorial, most union contracts have provided that the first hired will be the last fired in case of a layoff. This has always seemed logical, if not always fair to younger workers.

Three researchers from the Center for Policy Alternatives at Massachusetts Institute of Technology suggest that a better approach would be a system of "inverse seniority" — or first hired, first fired.

During the current recession, minority workers and women have seen many of their recent gains in employment wiped away by layoffs mandated by the traditional seniority system, write Robert Lund, Dennis Rumstad and Sheldon Friedman in Harvard Business Review.

Both employers and unions have an interest in finding alternatives to the traditional system, they contend, if only because the government is challenging such layoffs on the ground that they are discriminatory. Conventional seniority arrangements, even when they are in no way inherently discriminatory, are increasingly coming into conflict with national equal opportunity policy objectives.

Under inverse seniority, the most senior eligible person is permitted to elect temporary layoff in place of the junior worker. While on layoff, the senior person receives compensation — normally more than the amount provided by state unemployment compensation — and has the right to return to his previous job.

Through this approach, say the authors, it is possible to retain more people in junior ranks where disadvantaged workers tend to be clustered.

Inverse seniority is not a new idea. A Bureau of Labor Statistics study of 364 collective bargaining agreements in 1972 found that 24 per cent, allowed senior workers to decline their rights to be retained in the event of a facility reduction, usually without jeopardizing their real rights.

Inverse seniority plans typically include supplementary benefit schedules financed by the company so that workers who elect layoff receive more than the amount provided by state unemployment compensation. Plans must also include certain key features if they are to protect minorities and women, as well as to attract to senior workers. For example:

— Compensation during layoff must be sufficiently high to induce senior workers to elect layoff. In several contracts this level has been set at about two-thirds of normal pay.

— Laid-off workers must be free from having to make weekly visits to pick up their compensation checks so that they may pursue activities of interest while not working.

— Senior workers must be permitted to maintain self-respect. One step in this direction would be to replace the term "laid off" with a term like "optional leave."

— The benefits must justify the costs to each of the parties concerned.

Tet Casualty Figures A 'Numbers Game'

The conscience-stricken ex-CIA analyst, Sam Adams, told Congress the truth about the false estimates spread by U.S. officials before the 1968 Tet offensive.

His testimony has produced a controversy over juggling statistics. Other intelligence experts have called it all "a numbers game." But the numbers, tragically, were flesh and blood.

By official count, 920 Americans died in the Tet attack.

Sam Adams' revelations have led the House Intelligence Committee to investigate the alleged role of Lt. Gen. Daniel Graham, director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, in distributing the phony figures.

It's a story we happen to know something about. Ten weeks before the Tet offensive, we learned about the secret dispute over intelligence estimates. We reported on Nov. 9, 1967, that Maj. Gen. Joseph McChristian, the Army intelligence chief in Vietnam, had been transferred to Texas for reporting higher estimates than the Pentagon liked.

"McChristian's estimates of communist infiltration and recruitment," we wrote, "were constant source of annoyance to Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, who thought they were higher than they ought to be."

"Intelligence specialists, who worked with McChristian, have told this columnist that his estimates were conservative. He insisted upon hard information and would never resort to

Kissinger Needs Own Peace Talks

Morale at the State Department is low. Good men are leaving. Able men are reluctant to sign up. There is bickering through the ranks, and backbiting — from the top down and bottom up.

There are repeated charges that the men who say "yes" to their superiors are promoted. They do not rock the boat. Those who challenge ideas and programs go nowhere or out. They are shunted to superannuated posts, or given assignments to realize that men and women with ambition grow bitter with boredom.

In office after office the feeling among officers is that no one on the seventh floor — where the top men sit — heeds their recommendations, thoughts or warnings — least of all Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

There is an inbreeding at the top. The policymaking process is confined to Kissinger and a small group of his intimate advisers. Even when Kissinger visits overseas, he seldom really listens to the senior embassy staffs of the countries he's in.

As a result, the professionals are slowly becoming demoralized. There is growing mistrust in the middle ranks and among members of senior officials just below the top echelon.

There is a growing tendency therefore for those men who stay and hope for promotion to say "yes sir." The hierarchy structure, more rigid in practice than in the military, minus the saluting, which doesn't occur very often in military offices in any event.

When good men feel no one is paying attention to their work, they first get restless, then critical, then angry. They either explode, and are eased out, or look for another job, or find destructive ways to fight.

Since officials in the middle ranks cannot take to their anger openly on Kissinger and his top aides, they get involved in petty bickering with associates.

The "outs," those ignored by the promotion boards for being uncooperative, fight the "ins," those careful to keep their opinions and thoughts to themselves and who are properly respectful about every view expressed by Kissinger and the men closest to him.

Those who are involved in quibbles over inconsequential points — technical squabbles that really don't interest them but give a vantage point for "the enemy" in areas where even Kissinger cannot retaliate against them.

Traditionally, the State Department has been divided into cliques, each headed by a small powerful group of men at the top. But never like this today.

All this is dangerous to the security of the United States, to our economy and the well being of all who live in this country.

Gentlemen:

This letter is prompted by a news item in the Sanford Herald of October 28, 1975, regarding "pot" smoking on at least one Seminole County school bus. In "reading between the lines" I conclude that my court battle of early 1975 may have to be repeated, since I note that Mayor Troy Pfund of Winter Springs mentions cigarette smoking on buses also.

Long before the tragic Seminole jail fire which claimed 11 lives had practically begged Sheriff John Polk to start enforcing Florida Statutes Numbers 859.06 and 859.07 which provide for taking into custody any minor who "has or has had" cigarettes in his possession.

They get involved in quibbles over inconsequential points — technical squabbles that really don't interest them but give a vantage point for "the enemy" in areas where even Kissinger cannot retaliate against them.

DeVoney Accused Of Interest Conflict

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — City Commissioner Cal DeVoney, unopposed for reelection here Tuesday, was accused of a conflict of interest at a political rally held in his Spring Oaks home territory Thursday night.

Sponsored by the Spring Oaks Homeowners Association, the program, billed as a "Floyd-Swofford debate" drew a near-full house audience at the subdivision's civic center.

Although the principal speakers were mayoral contestants, incumbent Norman Floyd and Lawrence Swofford, and city commission candidates, incumbent Helen Keyser and Glen Buschman, major attention toward the end of the two-hour program was given to unopposed DeVoney.

Doug Hotalen, president of the San Sebastian Civic Association, accused DeVoney of being employed by a land developer "who is causing problems" in both San Sebastian and Spring Oaks.

"You have not stopped work up on the hill by your employer," Hotalen said.

DEVONEY (LEFT) CHALLENGES HOTALEN... After the political forum

Hotalen continued that improper drainage from a parking lot owned by DeVoney's employer is running into the Wekiva River. He demanded that DeVoney say whether he would vote for a moratorium on construction of all parking lots in the community until drainage problems are solved.

DeVoney's response, "No, I don't think it is that big a drainage problem," brought loud "Ohs" from the audience. DeVoney explained today that he is employed by the Southeast Mortgage Co. and Cecil Moore, who is president of the corporation, owns an office building on SR 436 in San Sebastian Square.

He said runoff from the building's parking lot goes off the end of the parking lot through a building site. He said as the water moves along it picks up sand and goes down San Sebastian Prado in San Sebastian.

The water drains down a state right of way and apparently the state did not put pipe under San Sebastian Prado as it was supposed to. That is what is causing the sand to go down the street," DeVoney said.

DeVoney said apparently the state did not put pipe under San Sebastian Prado as it was supposed to. That is what is causing the sand to go down the street," DeVoney said.

drainage water is going onto some lawns, but he was not told about it until a month ago and has been working on the problem since.

He added today that Land and Cavone engineers from Longwood have prepared plans to solve the drainage problem and the plans are to be turned over to Moore today.

Earl Abbott, another resident, insisted that if DeVoney continues his employment it represents a "conflict of interest."

"Is there any way to get him (DeVoney) off the (city) commission?" Abbott asked.

Bill Fernandez, new president of the Spring Oaks homeowners group and moderator of the program, responded that there is a section in the new city charter permitting recall of elected officials and those who believe there is a malfeasance or misfeasance on the part of any official can take his complaint to State Attorney Abbott Herring.

"Mr. Abbott, you're a liar," DeVoney answered. "There is no conflict of interest."

"You are letting your employer do what no city official should let someone do to the city," Abbott said.

Fernandez ended the meeting at 10 p.m., inviting residents with more questions to talk directly to the candidates.

DeVoney left the podium and confronted Hotalen with, "I'm going to sue you, I'm taking you to court, baby."

Early in the meeting, after Swofford had concluded his remarks, J. Cheney Mason, who identified himself as Swofford's lawyer, charged the floor to call charges made against his client by Herring and others "false, slanderous, outright lies."

"I have gotten every case against Swofford dismissed over and over and over again," Mason said. "It has cost this man (Swofford) $25,000 to defend himself."

Mason contended that senior Circuit Judge for Seminole and Brevard Counties, Volle Williams, has said that Herring could "have indicted Jesus Christ himself," claiming the state attorney has had indicted six officials and groups of officials in the past three years, all of whom have been exonerated.

Floyd said the citizens are concerned "with integrity, honesty and ability in city government," adding under his leadership the city reduced its property tax this year for the first time in 14 years.

He accused Swofford of "haphazard mismanagement of funds" during his administrations.

Mrs. Keyser, during her remarks, blasted continuation of the eight per cent utility tax.

Fifi's Actions Part Of The Act

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Ron and I have been married for five years and have a child who is 3-years-old.

Last week, we went to an amusement park and decided to take in the big attraction there. (It was Fifi La Belle and her star-studded review.) We got a table at the front of the auditorium so we wouldn't miss a thing.

Fifi came out in a very revealing costume, and she spotted Ron immediately. (He's very good-looking.) She came over to our table and sat down on Ron's lap and ignored me as though I were invisible. She sang to Ron and made a big fuss over him. He claimed he didn't like it, but I noted he didn't push her off his lap. I laughed along with the rest of the audience, but while Fifi was on my husband's lap, I was burning up with jealousy.

She ruined my whole day. Should I have pushed her off Ron's lap? I know it wasn't his fault that she picked on him, but if he didn't like it, don't you think he should have pushed her off?

STILL BURNING DEAR STILL: It's not unusual for a female entertainer to single out a man and make a fuss over him. It's part of the act and for five years I know it wasn't his fault that she picked on him, but if he didn't like it, don't you think he should have pushed her off?

DEAR MOMMY: Jealousy is a natural (though unattractive) human emotion. Remember that, Mommy, and explain it to your children. It may not eliminate the jealousy, but it will help to reduce their guilt feelings about it.

DEAR ABBY: My son is being married in a church at 2 p.m. I am advised by the bride's mother that it is improper to wear a long dress at a 2 p.m. church wedding, so I shall wear a short dress.

The reception begins at 5:30, followed by cocktails and dinner. I am told that a LONG show, but as one critic said, "You can enjoy it" ("Dames at Sea" even if you weren't around in the 1930s or if you have never switched on the late show."

Admission to "Dames at Sea" is by membership to Seminole Mutual Concert Association only; no tickets will be sold at the door.

Persons interested in joining the association can do so by contacting Irene Brown at the Flagship Bank downtown.

dress is required for this. The church is a great distance from my home, making it impossible to drive home after the wedding to change. So I'll have to take a long gown and matching accessories to the church to change into after the wedding.

My question: Is it absolutely necessary for two different dresses for this wedding? I will if you say so, but it seems like a lot of trouble to me.

GROOM'S MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: It's not necessary. The dress you wear to the wedding will do nicely for the reception.

Julie Nixon Eisenhower Avoids White House

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower lives five minutes from the White House, but she says she avoids looking at it when she's in the neighborhood.

"You know, I never look at it when I pass by. I try not to," Richard M. Nixon's younger daughter said Thursday.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who has just written a cookbook for children, appeared on the television show "Not for Women Only." She told hostess Barbara Walters that her knowledge of cooking has been acquired in the six years since she married David Eisenhower, grandchild of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Pat Nixon, according to her daughter, was not interested in food. "Generally, what we had when we were children was spaghetti, chicken or meat loaf," Mrs. Eisenhower said.

'Amarillo Slim' Indicted

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Thomas Preston, 46, better known in the world of professional gambling as "Amarillo Slim," has been indicted on charges of gambling promotion.

Preston and Earl Summers, 47, were indicted Thursday by a Potter County grand jury, accused of receiving and recording bets and of using property under their control as a gambling place.

They were arrested Oct. 19 and have been free on $5,000 bonds.

Benefit Exhibition Falls

COLO, Iowa (AP) — The former "Dog Lady of Des Moines" thought her troubles were over when pool hustler Minnesota Fats agreed to a benefit for her 200 dogs.

But the exhibition lost money. Only 250 persons showed up, and their tickets didn't even pay the rent for the auditorium. A friend made up the difference.

"I'm just sick about it," said Lena McDonald, 65. "What am I going to do now?"

Mrs. McDonald and her dogs moved to a farm near Colo after the Iowa Supreme Court ruled last year that she could keep no more than five dogs in Des Moines. Since then, she has gone deeper and deeper into debt, paying food and veterinary bills.

Romanian Head Dissatisfied

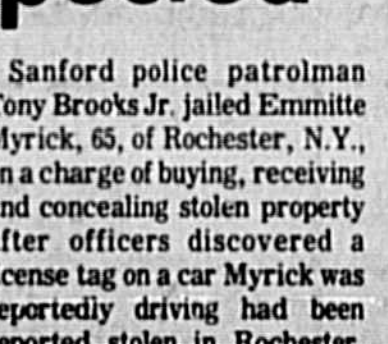

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The royal palace isn't palatial enough for Nicolae Ceausescu, chief of state of Romania.

The Communist leader also is unhappy because the crowds aren't large enough and don't cheer loudly enough, according to sources handling arrangements for the Romanian's state visit to Portugal.

A butler at the 17th century palace said he had been told to take off his shoes so he wouldn't disturb the visiting Romanians.

Patrolman Lewis Combs said the fire was the fifth in recent months at the house. All of the fires have been extinguished with the same damage sustained by the wood frame structure.

Investigators from the Sanford police and fire departments and the state fire marshal's office are probing suspected arson in a mattress fire that damaged a house at 811 Cypress Ave., at noon Thursday.

Residents Petition Board

County Bows To Pressure, Denies Pot Lake Relief Pipe

Under pressure from petition-bearing residents, the Seminole County Commission has turned down a request from the City of Altamonte Springs to install "relief pipe" from Pot Lake into Prairie Lake.

Bill Dale, the county's director of environmental services, recommended against placing the pipe between the lakes. It would have allowed runoff water in the smaller Pot Lake to drain into the larger Prairie Lake, officials said.

"It wouldn't be too detrimental, but sufficient evidence hasn't been presented," Dale said.

But Robert Conrad, the chairman of a homeowners association, presented the commission with a petition he said signed by 236 residents who opposed any drainage into Prairie Lake.

Conrad said he opposed any pollution into Prairie Lake. He said runoff from apartments flows into Lake Pot, causing the water to be polluted and erosion of nearby yards.

Another resident who opposed any runoff into the lake said Prairie Lake is part of a chain of lakes which eventually flow into the St. Johns River.

Dale admitted Pot Lake residents "do have problems."

One resident near Pot Lake said each time it rains his yard floods.

Many areas in Altamonte Springs flood out in the rainy season.

Most of the flooding has been attributed to overbuilding and runoff from completed construction projects.

City officials are seeking methods of alleviating flood conditions.

USC's McKay Set To Sign With Tampa

TAMPA (AP) — John McKay of Southern California is expected to announce today that he's quitting his college job at the National Football League's Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

The Tampa Tribune reported today that McKay would make his announcement in California at 2 p.m. EST.

A spokesman for the Southern Cal athletic department said, however, that no news conference was scheduled and that the Trojans were to leave Los Angeles for their Saturday game with California at 1 p.m.

It has been widely speculated that McKay, one of the nation's most successful college coaches, has decided to join the pros.

McKay, in quest of his eighth straight victory, has coached USC to three other undefeated seasons, four national championships and eight Rose Bowl berths.

The Tribune said that if plans go as expected Bucs owner Hugh Culverhouse will make the announcement simultaneously in Tampa. McKay and Culverhouse have been negotiating since mid-summer.

The son of a West Virginia coal miner, McKay last year was president of the Football Coaches Association of America.

In California, the Long Beach Press Telegram also reported that McKay has decided to make the jump to the pros.

McKay was quoted as saying earlier this week that pressure had become "tremendous" on his family, coaching staff and Trojan players.

"It's just unfair for everybody to have to live with this," he said.

The report said McKay had met with USC President John Hubbard to tell him of the decision and that McKay had recommended longtime assistant Dave Levy to become head coach and another assistant, Craig Fertig, as athletic director.

A spokeswoman for Hubbard's office said she knew of no such meeting and to the best of her knowledge McKay and Hubbard had only spoken during a luncheon before hundreds of persons Thursday.

McKay would stay until the end of the season, including any bowl appearances by the Trojans who are currently 7-0 and ranked No. 4 in the nation.

NORBERT SEALS

WILL CARTER

Seminole Takes A Rest

Also-Rans Go After Season-Saving Wins

The also-rans take the spotlight tonight as four Seminole County High school football teams try to ring up another victory before the season slips from their fingertips entirely.

With district playoffs and post-season bowl games all but out of sight, Lyman, Oviedo, Trinity Prep and Lake Brantley play today.

The afternoon game pairs Trinity Prep against Florida Air in Melbourne at 4.

Tonight at 8 it will be Orlando Evans at Lyman, Oviedo at West Orange and Daytona Beach Mainland at Lake Brantley.

Seminole has the week off. The Trinity Prep affair finds the 4-2 Saints up against a team winless in five games. Norbert Seals is the biggest single threat to break the game open as the Trinity senior halfback has scored 10 touchdowns and picked up 875 yards on 120 carries. In several games he has sat out the second half when Trinity had already gained the upper hand and coach Joel Kelley chose not to run up the score.

The Evans-Lyman tilt has the makings of a close game. The host Greyhounds are only 1-5 and Evans is 3-4, but between the pair, some interesting battles are expected to develop. Lyman will offer the air-ground offensive tactics of quarterback Bob Burkhardt and running backs Wyman Jackson and Bob Riazzi. Evans will challenge the Lyman defense with an abundance of speed, particularly on the sweeps.

Oviedo has no easy task at West Orange. The latter turned out to be no patsy, despite being a first-year school combined from Lakewick and Ocoee.

Lion coach Bill Klein feels he is finished with the disastrous portion of his schedule, and feels "we're in this one."

Oviedo is 2-5 and looks to strong-armed quarterback Lee

Ward for leadership with much hanging on the defensive abilities of Tim Meeks, Jim Reeves and Will Carter.

West Orange stands 4-2 and is the Class AAAA, District 8 leader for the state playoffs berth.

Lake Brantley, still riding high after last week's upset of favored Lyman, gets a stiff home test against Mainland. The Bucs show the same record as the Patriots at 3-3, but can not be taken lightly, evidenced by wins over Spruce Creek and Eau Gallie. Spruce Creek trimmed Brantley, 31-17.

First down coming up as Bob Burkhardt leaves trail of tacklers in Lyman victory over Boone.

Tribe Boosters Play At Mayfair Saturday

The Seminole High School Athletic Booster Club takes another step toward its goal of paying off the indebtedness on the $150,000 stadium Saturday when 140-plus golfers will attack the Mayfair Country Club in a golf tournament.

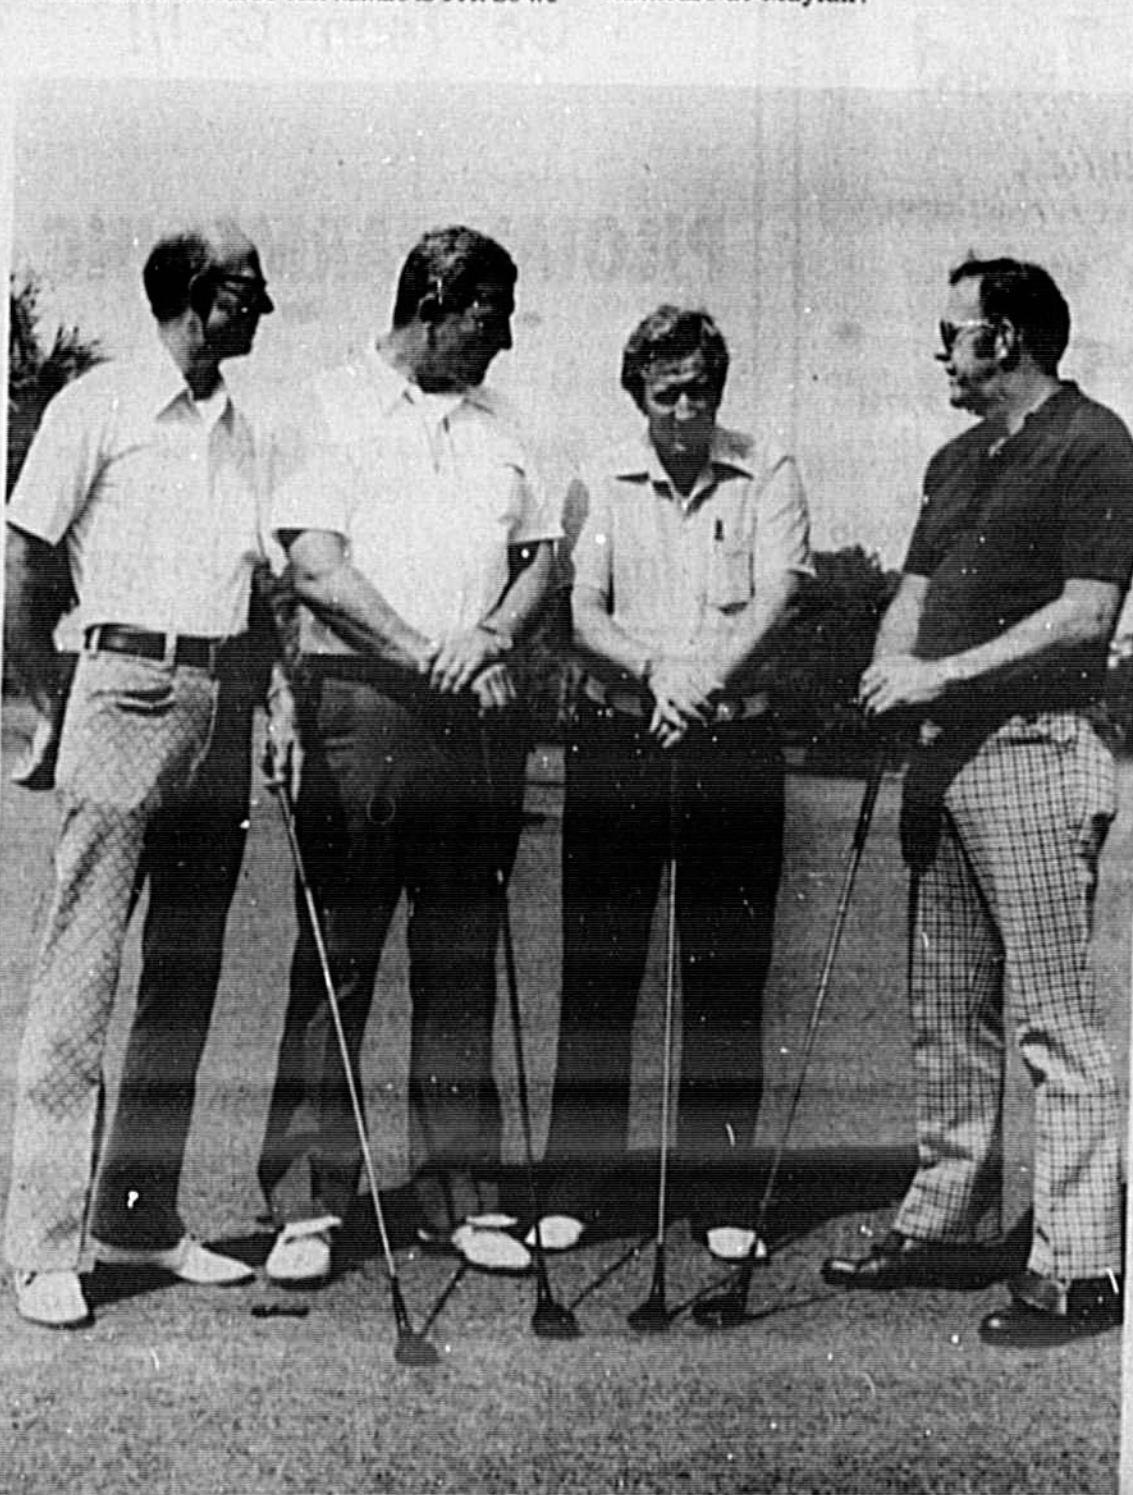

Funds raised from entry fees will go toward defraying building costs two years ago.

"We have a full boat for this tournament," said Seminole principal Don Reynolds Friday morning. "We have 140 signed up, and the maximum the course can handle is 144. So we could take as many as four more, but that's it. We are very pleased with the response. I didn't think it would be this great."

Trophies and gift certificates will be awarded to winners in the Calloway handicapping system.

The Booster Club has already raised close to $90,000 toward stadium costs. Fred Good is resigning president of the Booster Club.

Tee-off time for the shotgun start tourney is 8 a.m. A luncheon buffet will follow in the clubhouse at Mayfair.

Coon Dogs To Howl This Weekend

The howling of coon dogs will be heard tonight and Saturday night west of Sanford.

The occasion is the annual Florida State Coon Hunters Association championship.

Coon dogs from all over the southeastern United States will be on hand at the Seminole County Coon Hunters Association headquarters on Longwood-Markham Road.

The hunts will score points for sighting and treading a raccoon. All dogs have been trained not to harm the animals after treading.

More than 200 dogs are expected for the hunt. Entries close at 7 p.m. both days and hunting will end at 5 a.m.

Florida To Meet Tough Auburn

Murmurs Of Jinxes Haunt Gators

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — The Florida Gators take their quest for their first Southeastern Conference football championship to Auburn Saturday amid murmurs of jinxes and lucky charms.

But who's jinxed?

In eight of their last nine contests at Auburn, the Gators have found misfortune—raising talk of a Tiger hex—but this year the jinx is on Auburn. The Tigers have played twice on their home field and have been humiliated both times.

Away from home it has been a little different. For the past three Saturdays Auburn has traveled to Kentucky, Georgia Tech and Florida State and come back with three miracle turn-around victories.

"There's no jinx for us at Auburn," says Florida Coach Doug Dickey. "We won two years ago (at Auburn). But when Auburn and Florida get together, it's a hard fought game no matter where it's played."

Auburn Coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan's 3-3-1 Tigers will be needing their lucky stars again Saturday against a Gator contingent which is 6-1 overall and 3-0 in the SEC.

Auburn is the first of three straight conference foes standing between Florida and at least a part of its first-ever SEC crown.

The Gators may be without the services of talented quarterback Don Gaffney, who has averaged a Florida offense averaging 436 yards per game. A wrist injury has put Gaffney on the doubtful list.

But 218-pound Jimmy DuBoise is in the starting backfield at fullback, ready to banish all talk of jinxes.

Last year he demolished Auburn, ranning for 143 yards on the way to a 25-14 Gator victory.

DuBoise has picked up more than 100 yards in Florida's last four games. His inside power is complemented by the outside threat of running backs Tony Green and Larry Brinson.

Auburn has been averaging 297 yards per game on offense.

With most of it coming on the darling slasher of tailback Miltzi Jackson. Fullbacks Kenny Burks and Sedrick McIntyre provide additional threats on the ground.

But quarterback Phil Gargis, who has had his troubles playing, is the Tigers' second-leading rusher. Jackson has churned for 586 yards, Gargis for 358.

Jordan will have to find a replacement for offensive tackle Chuck Fletcher, who suffered a knee injury. His loss comes at a time when Jordan is trying to revitalize the offense, urging his squad "to score more than we've been scoring."

The kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. CST at Jordan-Hare Stadium before a projected sellout crowd of 61,000.

'Canes Out To Crash Boston's Party

BOSTON (AP) — Coach Carl Selmer of the University of Miami is trying to make up his mind about the effect of the Hurricanes' idle weekend before meeting Boston College in football here Saturday.

"An open date can work both ways," Selmer explained. "We were happy to defeat Houston, but maybe the enthusiasm will be gone. On the other hand, we were banged up and this open date can help us get healthy."

Before taking the week off, Miami earned its first victory of the season with a 24-20 win over Houston. The Hurricanes, 1-4, lost to Georgia Tech, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Colorado.

The clash in Boston might well be described as a meeting of two disappointed teams, for the Eagles have alternately won and lost this year for an erratic 3-4 record.

"Boston College has the size and strength to run right at us," Selmer said. "They'd figured on being 5-0 or even 6-1 at this time. So they've got some things to prove."

This year's team was supposed to be Boston's best in more than a decade. Nearly every player returned from last year's squad, which swept its last five games for an 8-3 mark.

But as Selmer says, the Eagles have played "drop the football" instead. They blew a 14-6 fourth quarter lead in last week's 22-14 loss to Syracuse.

Head coach Joe Yukica blames his team's mediocre season record on injuries to key players and inconsistent play.

"Either Keith Barnette or Glen Capriola has been out of every game despite its record," he said. "They are

"We've moved the ball well but can't do things big. And our defense is decent but is not shutting people out."

Yukica is more charitable to the Hurricanes. Boston has lost six of seven games to Miami since 1955, and the coach is wary.

"Miami has been impressive in every game despite its record," he said. "They are

Boston will march onto the turf bolstered by Barnette's return. He led the nation in scoring last year with 22 touchdowns. But, hampered by injuries and infrequent appearances, he has scored only five this season.

Bethune-Cookman Tests 'Army'

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — Bethune-Cookman puts its 6-4 season record and its national ranking on the scrimmage line Saturday against an opponent knowledgeable in the ways of war on the gridiron and off — the football team from Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Bethune, ranked 15th among small colleges, originally was slated to play Jackson State. But the Mississippians backed out of the last year of their four-year contract.

So Bethune scrambled for an opponent and wound up with the soldiers.

"We're in good shape," said a team spokesman. "The game would not be important ordinarily except this is the first time the school has been ranked. There's 457 small colleges, so anytime you're 15th you gotta feel good about it."

Bethune is also feeling good about — and anticipating — the end-of-the-season collision with Florida A&M, with whom Bethune shares the lead for the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference crown.

The Ft. Bragg ruckus includes former players from Notre Dame and UCLA, but the team's 2-4 mark records the squad's difficulties this season. Fayetteville State blitzed Ft. Bragg, 45-0, and East Carolina edged the soldiers 22-17 last weekend.

Rozelle: NFL Ticket Slump May Spur TV Format Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — A continuing decrease in National Football League season ticket sales could prompt a change in the current television policy, says Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle told the House communications subcommittee that the NFL has no current plans to change its format of televising all road games back to a club's home city.

"We may not continue with the regional format if things don't go over the next few years," said Rozelle. "If attendance continues to go down, and if we feel it is because of the lifting of the blackout on home games, we may have to change the TV format."

Saints Seek Malavasi

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — There were reports today that Ray Malavasi, defensive coordinator of the Los Angeles Rams, is being sought as the new head coach of the New Orleans Saints of the National Football League.

Before joining the Rams in 1973, Malavasi was in charge of Oakland's linebackers for two years.

McCom fired Coach John North Monday, the day after the Saints dropped their fifth game of the season — a 38-14 rout by Los Angeles.

Basketball 'Freak' May Retire

COLMAN, S.D. (AP) — The man who bills himself as the world's greatest basketball "freak shot specialist" says he might retire after this season.

Wilfred Hetzel, 64, retired three years ago as a government typist and has traveled 40,000 miles a year since to perform in high school gymnasiums.

He owns several world records. Hetzel has made 144 straight free throws standing on just one foot and has made 92 in a row on one foot with his eyes closed. He once made four "droppicks" in a row from 20 feet.

Jets' Hill Takes Compliment

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Offensive lineman Winston Hill's epitaph may someday read: "I never held an honest man in my life."

Hill's name surfaced on a Miami Dolphins' poll that named him one of the five offensive linemen most guilty of holding in the National Football League.

Asked if the results of the tongue-in-cheek poll bothered him, the 13-year NFL veteran said: "Any time you're in a class by yourself, it's a compliment."

'GanGreen' Defense Keys A&M Rattlers

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — underestimate them again." Florida A&M Coach Rudy Hubbard says he expects his "GanGreen" defense to contain a potentially explosive Tuskegee offense but isn't predicting a third straight shutout by the Rattlers.

Florida A&M, 5-1, plays the Golden Tigers in a Saturday afternoon game here.

Tuskegee, a young team, is 2-4. It upset an unwary A&M team 26-6 last season.

"We underestimated Tuskegee last year and found out they had a fine football team," Hubbard said. "I don't want to

Ghosts Haunt Various Pro Stadiums

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Boo! Ghosts and goblins have no business around the National Football League, even on Halloween ... or do they?

There is, for example, the ghost of Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium, where the Pittsburgh Steelers have been unable to win a football game since 1971.

They will try again Sunday and if they win, they can tie the Bengals for the AFC's Central Division lead. But it says here that the hex will hold and Cincinnati will protect its perfect record with a seventh straight victory.

Then there is the improbable battle for first place in the NFC East, where too-young Dallas is still one game in front and too-old Washington is tied for second. The ghosts have to catch one of those clubs in Sunday's game at RFK Stadium.

And don't forget the ghosts of missing quarterbacks — Jim Plunkett of New England, Steve Garbowski of Atlanta, and Bill Munson and Greg Landry of Detroit — all sidelined a week ago. Their absences will mean defeats for their teams this week, if you believe this pro picker.

names aren't important. What counts is that Roger Staubach is making it work for the Cowboys, who'll need everything they can muster to beat the tough old Redskins.

Houston 28, Kansas City 30
World you believe Houston's one-time whipping boys have won 11 of their last 14 games over two seasons, including a 5-1 start this year? The streak continues this week against the surprising Chiefs, who lost three, won three, and are now due to lose three more.

Oakland 31, Denver 17

The bottom is beginning to fall out for the Broncos, who keep running out of healthy bodies. Meanwhile, the Raiders seem to have put things back together with last week's shut-out of San Diego.

Miami 34, Chicago 10
The Dolphins are sky high after winning last week's war against Buffalo to take over the AFC East lead. Fly the poor Bears, who happen to be in the wrong place this week.

Minnesota 17, Green Bay 13
The Vikings aren't awesome. They just keep winning, doing enough of the right things every week to stay undefeated. The Packers are improving, but they're not in Minnesota's class yet.

San Francisco 10, Detroit 7
You have to pick against a team that lost its first-string and second-string quarterbacks in the same game a week ago. Only against San Francisco could the Lions even have a chance right now.

Buffalo 38, N.Y. Jets 24
The prospects are frightening. O.J. Simpson against a defense that has given up 31

NFL Injury List Continues To Grow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington Redskins Coach George Allen agrees: "I've never seen anything like it," he said, surveying his team's injury census. "With no taxi squad," Allen explained, "you are playing players that have bumps and bruises. Normally, you take them off for a week and let them rest and recover. One of the reasons coaches want a long period of time for players to recover is that every game is vital."

Even so, many teams seem destined to forfeit still more of their physical vitality because of the NFL's version of catch-22 — a built-in dilemma in the rule book.

A player on the NFL injured reserve list is paid his salary as long as he remains there. If a player on the list recovers during the season, he may be placed on waivers and another club may pick him up and use him in the same season. However, he cannot play for the club that put him there.

A rule change this year allows a club to protect only three players on its injured reserve list — a built-in dilemma in the rule book.

The six players on the Miami Dolphins injured reserve list include three defensive starters, safety Dick Anderson, middle linebacker Nick Buoniconti and tackle Bob Heinz. A recent key addition is tight end Jim McFarland. Any one of them could be lost.

Handy Beisler, starting wide receiver Otis Taylor and starting defensive tackle Marvin Upshaw. Four's a crowd and one of them cannot be protected.

Knicks' Hayward Looks Forward To Road Trip

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Spencer Hayward, the newest Knick, can't wait to get out of town. Hayward, the object of media attention since coming to the Knicks from Seattle one day before the start of the National Basketball Association season, is looking forward to New York's five-game road trip to the West Coast next week just to get some time to himself. "I was just overwhelmed by the whole New York experience," said the soft-spoken Hayward. "The whole New York thing has me up in the air. I think when we get on the road I'll have some time to calm down."

Hayward has been looking more at home with the Knicks in each outing and Thursday night he looked downright confident scoring 26 points and pulling down 11 rebounds as New York beat Kansas City 117-111.

"I felt better tonight, more relaxed," he said. "You can't do anything unless you're relaxed. I came here with a lot of ideas about changing numbers and what not, but it's not going to be like that. "I'm just going to play my heart out and try to win for the Knicks and then go home and try to live my own life."

Cleveland beat Chicago 108-91 in the only NBA game played Thursday night, San Antonio edged San Diego 102-100 in the lone American Basketball Association contest.

Brawling Marks Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The verbal brawl of the Ice matched the third-period slugfest that erupted out both benches.

Philadelphia scored three second-period goals in less than four minutes to rout the Toronto Maple Leafs 6-2 Thursday night in a National Hockey League game marked by much fanatical fighting and a wealth of penalties.

Afterward, Maple Leafs' Coach Red Kelly was as disturbed by the style of play as by the outcome of the game.

"We did all right in the end, and the fistfights," he said sternly. "But where we didn't do all right was in slashing at the ankles, at the knees, at the elbows, at the wrists."

The latter remark was referred to what Kelly considered unsportsmanlike conduct by the Flyers.

"If that's what they want to do, we can do the same thing," he said. "When you slash at somebody's ankles and knees, you are taking away their lives."

Brutus 2, Blues 2
"The trade was no surprise," confided New St. Louis center Derek Sanderson, who scored his first goal of the year after the Rangers sent him to the Blues earlier in the day.

TV HIGHLIGHTS

8:30-9 NBC CHICO AND THE MAN "Ms. Liz" The love bug has smitten Chico once more. And true to form, Ed isn't pleased. So Ed sets about to distract Chico from his love interest, using some reverse psychology.

9-10 CBS HAWAII FIVE-O A singing star, played by Lois Nettleton, apparently has evidence that can convict island rackets king Koko Apaleka, Tommy Atkins, of murder. He's out to rub her out. McGarrett, trying to nail the racketeer before he can get to the singer, finds himself in a reluctant alliance with another mobster, anxious to see his rival out of the way.

9-10 NBC ROCKFORD FILES "The Real Easy Red Dog" Stephanie Powers guest stars as a private detective who lures Rockford into her case. He's unaware that she has set him up as a decoy, but a murder interrupts the scheme and both find themselves in jeopardy as mobsters close in.

9-11 ABC FRIDAY NIGHT MOVIE "The Night That Panicked America" Note of caution: If you turn this on late, don't panic. It's just a recreation of a radio show that panicked America back in 1938. The original was Orson Welles' adaptation of H.G. Wells' "The War of the Worlds," on radio Oct. 30, 1938. The Welles actors were so convincing in their news-style drama that people, who missed the opening minutes, believed that the United States indeed was being invaded and hysteria set in around the country. Paul Shenar, a fine young actor, portrays Welles - Orson, that is.

10-11 CBS BARNABY JONES Two missile companies vie for a lucrative government contract. Industrial espionage and sabotage runs rampant. Murder and misdirected missiles, possibly not accidentally, bring Barnaby Jones into the case as an independent investigator hired by one of the companies. Through the maze of violence and intrigue, and marriage infidelity, Jones solves the case, with the help of pretty scientist Ruth Hanley, played by Rosemary Forsyth.

"Above and Beyond." Pepper is called upon to pose as a parolee, but the situation gets sticky when she kind of falls for the target, a bank robber, played by Peter Brown.

8-8:30 CBS BIG EDDIE. Eddie and Honey finally find themselves home alone, but only momentarily. While they are planning a cozy, romantic night, Boom Boom, who is Bang Bang's brother, shows up, unexpectedly, of course. Now they can't get rid of him.

8-8:30 NBC SANFORD AND SON. "Della, Della, Della, Della." Della Reese, singer-actress, turns up as a political campaign worker who turns the Sanford "estate" into headquarters for a candidate supported by Lamont. But Fred is with the other guy. Nice little added touch when Fred and Della sing together.
