AL SMITH HAS PARLEYS WITH PARTY CHIEFS

Nominee Stops In New York On His Way To Southland Where He Hopes To Gain Favor

Leaders Offer Plenty Of Advice

Many Urge Candidate To Make More Talks On Tour Thru Dixie

NEW YORK, Oct. 10 (INS) Al Smith, presidential nominee, here today before setting out to penetrate Dixie and the politically skittish states that border them the north.

From early morning there was a stream of Democratic leaders in and out of the Smith car on the fourteenth floor of the Hotel Biltmore, the only New York home the Governor has any more. Most of them came to counsel, to advise, or to warn. Many others came to cheer. And there were some who came merely to "see Al" and to observe what if any change there has been in his attitude toward the subject of the coin and wheat tariff.

Tomorrow Governor Smith will be in Virginia and North Carolina. Friday he will be in Tennessee, and Saturday will be in Kentucky. While none of his advisers pretended to believe that there was any chance of his losing Virginia, or, in fact, North Carolina, some of his most important counselors urged that he not spend an entire day in Tennessee, sothing as it undoubtedly is with the religious and prohibition issues, without saying a few words to the crowds in Chattanooga and Nashville.

The Governor has intended to make but one speech this week, and that in Louisville Saturday night, when he will make plans to leave on the tariff. That has been his obstinate, toward extending his speech-making activities.

HULLY TALKS ON WORLD PEACE AT ROTARY MEETING

World Fellowship Is Traced By Speaker To Prophet's Dream
Twenty-six (land) Rotarians were guests yesterday of the Sanford club at luncheon at the Episcopal parish house, the occasion being featured by an address by Dr. Lincoln Hulley, president of Stetson University, who spoke on the sixth anniversary of the Rotary, the promotion of world peace.

World peace, the speaker said, is not a dream, it is a reality. It is the realization of the prophet's dream, the dream of the future, the dream of the world. Hulley traced the world peace movement back to the League of Nations, the Treaty of Versailles, and the Kellogg pact as means of bringing about world peace. He described it as a dream that will not die and lauded Rotary for its part in the advancement of world fellowship.

Dr. Hulley was introduced by Dr. Harry L. Taylor, president of the visiting club. The meeting was in charge of George H. Beckwith, president of the local organization, City Manager George H. Cairns welcomed the guests and R. P. Wallis responded for the visitors. Miss Muriel Taylor of Fern Park sang two numbers, which were warmly applauded.

Dr. Hulley's address in part was as follows:

Gentlemen, your invitation asked me to speak on world peace. I do not think that I have any new ideas to offer, but I do think that I can bring you some news, some news that is good news, some news that is the news of the future. The news of the future is the news of world peace. World peace is not a dream, it is a reality. It is the realization of the prophet's dream, the dream of the future, the dream of the world.

Senate Won't Probe Campaign Expenses

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (INS)—Senator Frederick Steiwer, Republican of Oregon, chairman of the Senate campaign funds investigating committee, has tentatively decided not to hold hearings before the election, he said.

"This decision may be changed by developments," he added. However, he does not favor hearings on the eve of the election. This would give opportunity for flackbacks which might hurt either party.

Steiwer said that he does not favor an inquiry into campaign expenditures of Mrs. Mabel Wilbrandt, assistant attorney general, who has been assailing Governor Al Smith.

HOOVER TURNS HIS ENERGY TO GOTHAM TALK

Plans To Deliver Address In New York On Oct. 22 In Appeal For Backing Of East

To Discuss Topic With His Advisers

Speech Will Be Candidate's Big Effort To Carry Empire State

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 (INS)—Hoover, his position as head of the Department of Justice, has turned his attention today to plans for his visit to New York City tomorrow.

The Republican nominee intended Charles H. Hines, national committee man, and H. Edmund MacNeil, state chairman here from the Empire State to complete a program for his visit. Hoover will speak that night in Madison Square Garden and has agreed to devote the day to conferences in New York City with Republican leaders from all over the state.

Hoover also intended to discuss the subject of his speech with the New York leaders. His address will be the nominee's big effort to win the Empire State away from Governor Al Smith and the speech will be prepared carefully. It was indicated at his headquarters that Republican prosperity, administrative economy and "good times" would be the keynote of the speech.

Hoover meanwhile announced that his Boston speech, scheduled for Monday night, Oct. 15, will be devoted to the tariff, foreign trade and possibly the merchant marine. This was predicted by International News Service last week as Hoover plans to win New England on an appeal to the business instincts of the "down east voters."

Entzinger Heads Democratic Group In Longwood Area

The first of a series of rallies to be staged in the several county precincts under the auspices of the County Democratic Club was held last night in Longwood, where between 25 and 45 persons turned out to hear the speakers discuss issues of the national campaign.

C. W. Entzinger, pioneer citizen of Seminole County, was elected chairman of the precinct club. Other officers are to be named at a later date. Following his selection, Mr. Entzinger made a short talk urging support of the party and making an appeal for the return of those planning, both to Hoover.

The other speakers were: Mrs. John G. Leonard and D. J. Garrett, Sanford, essay writers. Each emphasized the necessity of party solidarity as a guarantee of preserving the Democratic Alignment, Republican corruption was scored and prohibition was described as not an issue.

Enthusiasm of the audience was reflected in the generous applause that greeted the speakers' remarks. At the close of the evening, which was attended by several prominent local Democrats in addition to the speakers, county party leaders expressed satisfaction over the outcome of the rally.

Republican Speaker Denies Hoover Would Make Negro Appointments In This State

Judge Callaway Says Protective Tariff Is Necessary To Florida Prosperity; Prohibition Is Described As A Success

Branding as false reports that have been circulated to the effect that Governor Hoover is inclined to will appoint negroes to office in Florida, Judge R. E. Callaway, of Lake Hill, spoke here last night at West Street and Park Avenue in the interest of the candidacy of the Republican nominee for president.

The speaker delivered a long and stirring address, declaring that Florida's prosperity is dependent on the passage of a high protective tariff that will keep products grown by cheap labor in other countries from competing with those raised in this state.

Callaway declared that a success in the tariff campaign would mean the opening of the state to a new era of prosperity and that the passage of a high protective tariff would mean the opening of the state to a new era of prosperity and that the passage of a high protective tariff would mean the opening of the state to a new era of prosperity.

LEONARDY MAKES PLANS FOR VICE CAMPAIGN HERE

Prosecutor Says Elks Club Is Liquor Joint And A Gambling Den

Taking action under authority delegated to him by virtue of his office, County Prosecutor Attorney John G. Leonardy today announced plans for an anti-vice crusade by which he said he hoped to "clean out open and flagrant violations of liquor and gambling laws in Seminole County."

The first move of the Prosecutor was to sound a note of warning. In immediate acquiescence to his demands, Mr. Leonardy said he had information that would be filed and court procedure would be followed.

Action against a number of other bootlegging establishments is also contemplated, according to Mr. Leonardy, who said he had the "low down" on at least a dozen places over the country where liquor is disposed almost as freely as water.

More Laurels For The Victors

The New York Yankees remain the champions, the most powerful baseball machine ever assembled. For the second consecutive year they have administered a grim victory to a National League opponent by scoring four successive triumphs.

While they were again going through the more formalities of claiming another world's championship, the Yankees were smashing records with reckless abandon. To begin with the proteges of Miller Huggins captured their sixth American League pennant in eight years, their third world's title and set a new record in winning two straight series of four games.

All of these facts are interesting from the individual point of view of the Yankees. The New Yorkers are easily the most colorful aggregation ever assembled in baseball and this may be explained by the fact that they represent the best team that money can buy.

The question then is whether the Yankees are beneficial or detrimental to organized baseball. There can be no doubt that interest in the game has waned, proof of this being the greatly reduced attendance throughout the season and again during the series, especially in New York.

Republican Enforcement

Reading in Arthur Brisbane's column this morning something about bootleggers and bootleg liquor, we were interested to note the disastrous effects of drinking poisoned "smoke."

"There are limits, it seems to bootlegging," Mr. Brisbane writes. "The mayor of New York orders police to prosecute those that have been selling poisoned whisky, sometimes called 'smoke'."

"Twenty-six deaths on account of poisoned liquor in one city alone since last Saturday is a pretty high rate of fatalities. We should think it would not take long with so systematic a reduction in consumers to eliminate entirely the bootleggers' customers."

Another astonishing feature of Mr. Brisbane's comment is that although forty speak-easies—and we were of the impression that forty would be a lot of speak-easies—some 24,960 speak-easies still remain.

Under such circumstances it is difficult to understand the opposition to Al Smith on the liquor question. We thoroughly believe in prohibition, but we believe that it should prohibit. In other words, we believe in law enforcement.

"THERE IS BOLTING from both sides in this campaign, and undoubtedly a great deal of it in each direction. The most notable fact about the bolting movements in this: The Republicans who are leaving their party are doing so because they are for Smith, while the Democrats who are bolting are doing so, not because they are for Hoover, but because they are against Smith."

NEGROES IN OFFICE

Southern Democrats have fallen into Tammany's trap and are making fools of themselves about negro clerks in the departments in Washington. Anybody to hear Senator George, Senator Harris and some other "statesmen" yelp would think that half the government clerks were helpless Southern girls and the other half greasy back bidders, who put in about half of their time insulting the white girls.

The truth is that about one tenth of the clerks are negroes and they have to behave themselves. About seven of the other tenths are northern white Republicans. Southern and Southern women are much in the minority. It is against the federal law and the civil service rules in discrimination against the races.

Telling The World

By NEAL OHARA

Everbody's Doing It Now
The American is interested with Hoover, Democrite and Smith Republicans. Everybody's everybody's doing it now, except the fourteenth amendment. If this thing is going to be going in it is a better fall.

It is said that a prominent Harvard graduate, a student, N. Y., will support the Yale grad from this fall, according to an announcement by the Yale Athletic Association. Mr. Blister explained his action in a letter to the Yale authorities.

"I have been a Harvard man for twenty six years, I was a student and I think I have always supported every Harvard athlete team from the football squad down to the lacrosse team and the row club. I have always been staunchly for Harvard. But this year I cannot support the Crimson football squad."

"The Harvard football team is not the team I used to be when Maxan and Green were its leaders. It is doing nothing for the farmer. You can go through the varsity squad from Alexander to Zambar and find nothing but city boys from high school and prep schools. There are no good agricultural players in this squad."

Mr. Blister's ideas on prohibition are also being. They have always let the man carrying the ball pick his own opening without going into conference. I know that a good staff now runs the Harvard football team. We don't pretend to offer a solution to the problem, but we believe something should be done if the great American game, as we like to see it played, is to be preserved.

I am also against the Harvard athletic association. The crowd on Harvard when time out is called is a group of paper cups containing spring water imported from Germany to refresh the players. I believe that Harvard should patronize our national resources and give the boys water from Charles River to drink.

For these reasons I am this year going to root for Yale. On Nov. 24 I shall go up the ramp in the New Haven Bowl and take a seat in the Eli cheering section. And I am confident Yale will win."

Mr. Blister's defection is considered significant by the Yale authorities. He has always been prominently identified with Harvard having led Crimson cheerleaders since 1908 and 1909. He also ran for a Harvard town clerk in 1910, but was called back on account of holding in the line. Mr. Blister announces he will not only root for Yale this year but he will use a megaphone to do it.

Twombly Minks of Brooklyn, for twenty years a rabid supporter of the Dodgers, will hereafter pull for McGraw's team to win, according to a statement given out at Giant headquarters. Mr. Minks has supported the Brooklyn management's attitude on prohibition.

In his statement, Mr. Minks said "Conditions at the Brooklyn park have gone from bad to worse under prohibition. I was solidly behind the team in the good old days, when it was all right to throw bottles at the umpires. But prohibition has made a farce of this kind of support. Fans are not allowed to hurl bottles at the umpires any longer and what is the result? They are hurling pocket flasks, made of metal and much more dangerous, at them."

"I am therefore bolting the Brooklyn ball club and will string along with the once-hated Giants who have the right idea. The Giants realize you cannot curb human nature, and there will always be a demand to kill the umpire, so they have sane regulations. You can throw seat cushions, hot dogs and straw hats up at the Polo Grounds. It is the team every liberal-minded fan should support."

THE SOLID SOUTH

TAMPA TRIBUNE

The Chicago Tribune, supporting Hoover, sees, through the eyes of its special correspondent and political observer Arthur Sears Henning, the solid South again solid for the Democratic ticket.

It is our opinion that a white woman who doesn't want to go in the same toilet with a negro woman, or a white man who does not want to go in the same toilet with a negro man, should find something else than a government job. There is plenty of work to do, much better paid for than Uncle Sam will pay. If we were a Democratic president, we would fire every negro above the rank of janitor in the government service. But Cleveland didn't fire them and Wilson didn't fire them, and if Al Smith is elected and keeps his promise to the negroes, there will be more of them in Federal employment than ever before.

BOOZE FOR THE WETS AND BUNK FOR THE DRYS

Huge Russian Bribe Plot Involves High Officials Of Public

MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Another huge bribery and graft conspiracy, involving more than 15 high officials of the tax department, has been uncovered, it was learned today. A number of accusations are expected. Altogether 130 persons have been arrested.

The operations of the ring are said to have cost the government several hundred thousands of dollars in taxes. More than 100 private merchants and small manufacturers are accused of bribing tax officials for "doctoring" the books of private traders and granting reductions of from 50 to 100 per cent in income and personal property taxes.

The district tax collector, Boris Pechkovsky, is charged, resigned several months ago and became an attorney. He used his knowledge of taxing methods to advise private merchants, how to secure the payment of taxes. With the assistance of the acting chief of the tax department, Grode, the chief bookkeeper, Novikov, and about 10 others, Pechkovsky used practically every private merchant in town extorting bribes of from 100 to 5,000 roubles, depending upon the amount of the tax reduction obtained for each man.

EXECUTION ENDS HEATED DISPUTE AMONG SHERIFFS

Negro's Electrocuton Decides Matter Of Unpleasant Duties

PALATKA, Fla., Oct. 10. (USA) When Deputy Sheriff R. C. Drew of Sanford, threw the switch that started the life end of George Davis, 25-year-old negro, yesterday from this county yesterday, the dispute of who is responsible for execution in this state was apparently ended.

It was ruled by Sheriff R. E. Hancock of this county, who had been found to permit his deputy to pull the switch on Geo. W. Brown, negro, first man to be sentenced to the electric chair from the county, several months ago. His deputy, after a long conference with the sheriff, was later convicted to life imprisonment and one lay dormant, although J. G. Hinch, superintendent of the prison, will maintain that the duty of throwing the switch lay with the sheriff or his deputy from the county where the conviction was had.

You dispute from this county against the execution of an order issued by the sheriff to pull the switch. The order never arose as a dispute were requested by J. S. Bunch, having deposed Drew to act as executioner.

Which was absent from the prison yesterday, it was stated he was attending to business in Panama City.

That makes the first execution in this state where a sheriff or his deputy from the county where conviction was had had the duty to pull the switch and is expected to see a precedent for future executions.
