Just An Easy!

Early this year the National Thrift Committee issued a program advising people how to get ahead in the world. That is, it advised them what to do with their money in order to have a little something when old age came creeping upon them or when some other rainy day arrived. Its program consisted of 10 points, as follows:

- 1—Work and earn.
- 2—Study and learn.
- 3—Save and use a budget.
- 4—Have a savings account.
- 5—Carry life insurance.
- 6—Own your own home.
- 7—Make a will.
- 8—Invest in safe securities.
- 9—Pay bills promptly.
- 10—Share with others.

A forum writer in the Tampa Tribune, who gives his initials as W. J. N., says that he has practiced six of these 10 points, the first, second, fourth, sixth, ninth and tenth, with the following results:

"I own property on which I cannot pay taxes and insurance and cannot make repairs needed to put it in rentable condition; my savings account is tied up in a closed national bank; I have worked only about one-sixth of the time and that at only one-half as much pay per day as I formerly received, and which merely enables me to pay for food and nothing left to replace clothes as they wear out; people who owe me cannot (or will not) pay."

"I have come to the conclusion that if I had practiced the 3rd point instead of the 10th, the 5th instead of the 6th, the 8th instead of the 4th and left off the 9th (as people who owe me do), I might be able to practice the 7th point to such an extent that whoever takes care of me in my old age would be requited."

Such a recitation convinces us that there is at least one flaw in the National Thrift Committee's program. Where it says you should "have a savings account," it should have said "you should have a savings account in a sound bank." We believe further if Mr. W. J. N. had practiced the eighth plank, he would be better off, although we would amplify this point to read, "Invest in safe securities at the right time; unload at the right time."

All of which leads us to add that any man in the United States could be a millionaire today if he had used his head during the past ten years. That sounds like a broad statement but we believe it is literally true. Wages and salaries from the lowest to the highest were abnormally high throughout most of the 1920's, and they were extremely high during the war period. Anyone who practiced the first, second, and third points of the National Thrift Committee's program certainly could have saved something.

Suppose he had taken those savings, no matter how meager, early in the last decade, and invested them in Florida real estate. It doesn't matter which real estate or where, just any real estate in Florida would do. He could have bought and sold from time to time, gradually increasing his holdings until early in 1925. Then, if he had been right smart, he would have seen what was coming, and unloaded his equities for CASH.

This cash, invested in almost any "safe securities," listed on the New York stock exchange, would have multiplied by ten or perhaps a hundred times during the next three years. He could hardly have gone wrong on any stocks he might have bought. They all skyrocketed to the skies. A thousand dollars invested "wisely" might easily have netted him a hundred thousand by 1929. Of course that was the time to sell.

If he had taken his cash in 1929, every dollar he could rake and scrape together from unloading all his stocks and equities, and invested them "wisely" in government bonds, he would still have that money today, just as much as he had then, paying him 3 1/2 or 4 percent interest. And if he had done exactly as we have pointed out, we'd be willing to bet he'd be a millionaire now.

See how easy it is, when your hindsight is better than your foresight!

Winter Arrives

The premature arrival of winter along the United States and Canadian border and the fall of temperatures even to the southern-most portions of Dixie arouse apprehensions over the possibility of a severe winter, with its attendant hardships on the needy, and make Floridians even more grateful that they live where the hardships of frigid weather are unknown.

For several years, or during most of the present depression, the weather Gods have been kind to those who, because of force of circumstances, have had no shelter or who have been without means of providing heat for their homes. This weather condition has worked very favorably for those in distress and it causes no little concern that it appears that this winter will not be as mild.

Here in Florida those who are indigent need not be alarmed at the approach of a cold winter, for, even at worst, the situation could not be even remotely as serious as that in the North. Whatever the faults of the state, whether hurricanes, fruit flies, or land booms, we do have an incomparable climate which will always be our blessing.

It seems too bad that those without homes and without the wherewithal to warm them cannot all come to this haven from the rigors of winter. However, such cannot be and it must not be lost sight of that only those who support themselves should be encouraged or allowed to enter this state.

Florida would be only too glad to receive all the people in distress provided the states from which they came furnished their maintenance while they were here.

Mark Sullivan Explains Gold Inflation Plan

We cannot do this one way or we cannot do it another, do it we will.

The question, one of many, is, will this gradual reduction of the gold value of the dollar force prices to the 1922 level? About this there is some argument. If the present step does not do it, the President is to repeat his own words, "I will do it another way."

It is not clear what other way the President has in mind. It is not clear whether he is to reduce the gold value of the dollar further, or whether he is to reduce the gold value of the dollar still further, or whether he is to reduce the gold value of the dollar still further, or whether he is to reduce the gold value of the dollar still further.

The inflationist leaders are of the opinion that it is necessary to reduce the gold value of the dollar still further, and will use the means of government.

SANFORD FORUM

Wagner, Fla., Midway Sanford-Oviedo, Oct. 24, 1935.

Dear Sir:

The writer has read with interest the several letters published recently in The Herald relative to the new state milk laws. Especially the ones by Mr. Martin. I have one cow for family use and sell one quart of milk daily for help on the feed bill so wishing to comply with all laws and regulations I wrote to Tallahassee to the Milk Control Board, explained to them that I sold one quart of milk daily and Mr. Weems, director of the board informed me that it was quite necessary to have a license which was only $2.50 and also a Solicitor's license which was $1.00 more, $3.50 for graft. Who in Congress was it that spoke these immortal words during the war with Tripoli? "Millions for defense, but not a cent for tribute!" That, all taxes and licenses amount to these days—just tribute, tribute to corrupt politicians. Where are the Statesmen of (Washington and Hamilton days.) Have our people forgotten this country's early history?

Such a small insignificant matter as selling one or two quarts of milk a day—to think it comes under classification of crime and is punishable by such heavy prices and imprisonment. I ask you, is that justice?

It seems that quite a few people misunderstand the whole mess—from the time the first article appeared in the paper. This new milk law has nothing to do with the federal government at Gainesville—this is the state of Florida, visited of first degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering his cousin, Matilda Stewart, 23.

Not only that, they attempt price fixing. They say—you will have to sell milk at such and such a price—is that fair? Let's say the guy next door has 4 to 6 kids and 2 or 3 days work a week—a hard time of it, the kids need milk—I have a cow, I offer them one quart a day, I offer them one quart a day, enough to take the pale yellow wormy look out of their little faces—he can pay 10¢ no more. He says no! He can't pay more—they have to have corn bread and white meat on the table—now there you are—why I can't even lawfully give it to them! What a mess—and we call this a free country (what a bunch of saps we are.)

Not something's got to be done about it or we'll all be "on the road"—No one will pay any attention to such a darn fool law. It seems as though its time for someone to start a concerted rush of this atrocious law and nip it in the bud before it is as firmly rooted as its correlating foolish law, the state prohibition act.

An enclosing Mr. Weems' letter shows you how he feels about it. The law as well as the protection of the people.

Highway Group Meets To Adopt Year's Program

partment of State Road No. 67 from the Osteen bridge to the DeLand road was set as the fifth project.

During a discussion of county road projects, the committee expressed its appreciation of the work done by the County Commissioners and the Road Department in the adequate maintenance of roads in this county on the very limited operating budget available. Condition of the roads in the vicinity of Forest City, some over which large volumes of citrus fruit raised in Orange county are transported to packing houses in Forest City, was called to the attention of the committee.

The committee decided to divide its first project on county road work into three parts. First, the Forest City road by way of Bear Lake to the Orange County line. Second, the Forest City road to the Orange county line south of that community. Third, the Forest City road westerly in the direction of Apopka to the Orange county line. These roads are in real need of prompt attention, it was reported.

The County Club road to Paola was adopted as the second project of county roads, and the Milk road near Slavia was adopted as the third county project.

As a final item of business, the committee voted unanimously to request that the dedication of the new highway bridge across the St. Johns river be deferred until the road is completed into Sanford.

Those attending the meeting were: Chairman Harry M. Papworth, P. W. Bender, Fred Forward of Forest City, J. A. Logan, of Geneva, H. J. Lehman, John Meisch, Sr., H. B. Pope, V. A. Speer, F. T. Williams, and Karl Lehman.

Every person producing milk which is sold at retail is subject to a minimum license of $2.50 per year, and a Solicitor's license of $1.00. If you desire to pay for the Dealer's license quarterly, it will be 65¢ for each quarter. The Solicitor's license is acceptable only on a yearly basis.

Yours very truly,

Plans Are Announced For Wedding Of Miss Virginia McDaniel

Plans were announced this morning for the wedding on Saturday, Nov. 4, of Miss Virginia McDaniel, daughter of Mrs. E. A. Douglas and the late J. C. McDaniel of this city, to Robert Ferdinand Lenox, of DeLand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Lenox, also of DeLand.

A large number of friends and relatives have been invited to attend the ring ceremony which will be performed at 9:00 A. M. at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with the Rev. Martin J. Bram, rector, officiating.

Miss McDaniel will have as her maid of honor, Miss Helen Gordy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gordy of this city, while Mr. Lenox will have his brother, Theodore W. Lenox, of Glenwood, as best man. Ushers will be Claude Herndon, Jr., William G. Ball, Alex Sharon, and Stephen Shindler. A. M. McDaniel of Bunnell, will give his sister away.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Miss Margaret Davy, organist, and Mrs. George Harden, soprano. Mrs. Harden will sing, "I Love You Truly," immediately before the ceremony after which Miss Davy will render "To a Wild Rose." The wedding party will enter the church to the strains of Liebesgrün's Wedding March, and will depart to Mendelssohn's recessional. Miss Davy will play, "Liebestraum," by Liszt during the ceremony.

Since the announcement of her engagement on Sept. 22 Miss McDaniel has been honored with many social courtesies by a host of friends. One of the largest affairs of the season was the tea given last Tuesday afternoon in her honor by Mrs. Ben Cantwell, Mrs. George Harden, and Miss Ella Spencer.

Miss McDaniel and Mr. Lenox will be honored with a party in DeLand Saturday night to be given by the personnel of the DeLand Postoffice.

Tentative plans for next week are an informal supper Monday evening by Miss Rebecca Stevens; a bridge party Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. James G. Shaven as hostess; and an informal party Friday evening after rehearsal to be given by Mrs. Mary Strong and her daughter, Mrs. Allan I. Moseley.

Loyal Boys Class Entertain Hustlers

The Loyal Boys Class of the First Christian Church entertained the members of the Hustler's Class of the same church with a Halloween party on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lee on West First Street. The home was decorated in the Halloween colors with various novelties.

During the evening games and stunts were enjoyed and at a late hour refreshments were served to the following members of the two classes: Ebert Mitchell, Harvey Hale, Lloyd Rivers, Allen Hughes, Carl Lee Joe Johnston, Jimmy Carter, Winter Newsome, Donald Pearson, Ed Mrs. O. T. Pearson, teacher of the Loyal Boys; and Stevenson Johnson, Elmer Handy, Howell Sharp, Henry Jamison, David Carney, Robert Pearson, Ward Keddell, and Leonard Nickblack, teacher of the Hustlers.

Daring Film Is On Bill At Milane Tonight

One of the most daring and unusual of screen offerings this season is "The Solitaire Man," starring drama of Continental crookdom featuring Herbert Marshall, playing tonight at the Milane Theatre.

The new picture, based on the play by Bella and Samuel Spewack, is a distinct departure from the conventional handling of drama for the talking screen. Many of the tense moments of the picture take place in the confined space of an air-liner cabin, with the conflict between personalities mounting to terrific heights.

Marshall and Elizabeth Allan, who scored recently in "Looking Forward," portray the romantic leads with Mary Boland and May Robson sharing comedy high-light. Also featured are Lionel Atwill, Ralph Forbes, Lucille Gleason and Robert McWade.

In order to organize a music club to be led the "C Sharp Club," the nine pupils of Miss Mildred Nix yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Nix on Palmetto Ave. Officers were elected and musical selections were enjoyed during the afternoon.

The following members will serve as this club's officers: Jessie Millen Durdle, president; Eugene Cochran, vice-president; Ruby Bonlake, secretary; and Carol Jean Nix, treasurer.

It was noted that the club will meet two months with music appreciation and music theory as its purposes. Musical selections and games were enjoyed until a 10 hour when refreshments were served.

Members of the club are: Jessie Millen Durdle, Jean Maxwell, Evelyn Stille, Elizabeth and Claude Wight, Carol Jean Nix, Eugene Cochran, and Wood Cochran. Monticello, A. W. Potts Jr., Guy Estrides, Ruby Bonlake, Allie Brewer, Jean Harper, Marylie and Dorothy Hill, and Miss Ruth Odham.
