SNOOK PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO SLAYING CO-ED

Trial Of Alleged Brutal Killer Of Ohio
University Student
Is Set For July 22

COLUMBUS, O., June 24.—(INS)—Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of Miss Theora Hix, attractive 24-year-old Ohio State University co-ed, today pleaded not guilty when arraigned in criminal court. Date for his trial was set by Judge Robert Duncan for July 22.

"The not guilty" plea by Snook was made in spite of the fact that he had signed, after an 18-hour police grilling, a formal confession that he hammered and knifed the girl to death on the night of June 13 "because she had threatened to kill his wife and baby."

The ex-college professor—was handcuffed to another prisoner, also accused of murder, when he was arraigned.

"What is your plea—guilty or not guilty?" asked Judge Duncan, addressing Snook.

"Not guilty," replied Snook in a clear, firm voice.

Prosecuting Attorney John J. Chester then announced that no agreement had been reached with the judges of the court of common pleas to set the defendant's trial for July 22. Objection was immediately made by E. O. Blieckert, of counsel for Snook. He said that the date was too soon and would not give defense counsel sufficient time to prepare its case.

"I believe you will have ample time," replied the judge, overruling the objection.

Snook, who was released later announced that before the date of the trial he will file a motion for a change of venue on the ground that it would be impossible for the defendant to obtain a fair trial in Franklin because of the condition of public sentiment.

Snook was handcuffed to Albert C. Gunning of Columbus, charged with shooting his wife to death while they were automobile riding.

When his case was called he stood up, handcuffed to Gunning, his hands clasped behind his back, refreshed. He did not have a quizzical manner, and answered the judge without a tremor in his voice. He listened in quietude to the reading of the indictment returned against him late Friday by the Franklin County grand jury comprised of eight women and seven men. He was prompt and emphatic in his plea of "not guilty."

An indication of Snook's mental poise, when the prosecutor called the case of a man accused of killing his wife, came from former professors, smiled when Chester read the indictment charging the prisoner with defrauding "an able-bodied," the prosecutor immediately readied it, "a hotel keeper," correcting the grammatical error.

600 Blacks Stage Riot In Harlem Among Themselves

NEW YORK, June 24.—(INS)—Three of 600 West Indian negroes who staged a riot in Harlem last night with sabers, and empty rifles, were near death today, many others were nursing minor injuries and 15 were under arrest. Police reserves, armed with rifles and a submachine gun, broke up the battle after a free-for-all fight in which occupants of neighboring buildings participated by throwing bottles and other missiles from the windows.

The riot started when 50 members of the universal negro improvement association, strutting in their blue uniforms with glistening gold braid and brandishing unloaded rifles, attempted to force an entrance to the Liberty Hall. The Garvey Club, a rival negro organization, was holding a meeting in the hall and its 500 members were similarly armed.

The 100 members of the universal association, which recently broke away from the Garvey Club, its parent organization, wanted to take the hall and were overwhelming the smaller band, belaboring them with rifle butts and sabers, when the police riot squad with gas bombs and machine guns broke up the party.

Negroes participated in the battle, swinging their fists and pulling the kinky hair of the "enemy troops." The battlefield occupied an entire block,

Enthusiasm Over Young's Reparation Plan Is Absent In Address To Reichstag

BERLIN, June 24.—(INS)—Stigler, it was obvious, he was referring to America and not that the whole-hearted enthusiasm with which the Young plan was received in Germany's capital, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister of the German Republic, outlined the negotiations of the reparations committee of experts at the Reichstag yesterday.

In addressing the Reichstag, Dr. Stresemann revealed that the Young plan is not looked upon as a permanent solution of postwar problems so far as Germany is concerned. "The Young plan is not an ideal solution," Dr. Stresemann declared. Nobody in the world can tell whether it can be carried out successfully. But if it eases the situation for the next 10 years, and that is as far ahead as anyone can see."

Dr. Stresemann made the veiled charge that the United States has refused to offer any concessions in the negotiations, although Germany's other former enemies did all in their power to encourage it.

"At Paris," he declared, "the European powers did all they could to relieve one another's situation by mutual concessions. For there certainly were no concessions coming from another side."

Although the Foreign Minister had no mention of the United

HAGAN BELIEVES WORK OF SOLONS PUSHED FAST TO AIDED CITIZENS SUCCESSFUL END

Representative Lauds
Carlton And Effort
ToEffect Economics

Although it required two sessions to wind up its business, the legislature, following the recommendations of Governor Carlton, effected tax reforms, enacted measures looking toward a gradual reduction of public expenditure. In general, it committed itself to a program, which will be to the best interest of the taxpayers.

This sums up briefly the view of Representatives L. P. Hagan, two members in the legislature. Coupled with this statement was a word of praise for Governor Carlton who had a "bold new to how to bring the solons to needs" to his wishes.

Mr. Morgan, who supported all of the Governor's bills, except one, said he thought the legislature was to be commended for the successful manner in which it handled the task.

A meeting of the various elderly groups was held this morning at which time tentative plans for a clearing house were discussed. A committee is at work drawing up complete details to submit at the state-wide meeting to be held in Lakeland in mid-July.

About 15 of the leading shippers and growers in the section are expected to attend the Lakeland gathering.

Charles S. Lee, who has been heading the drive in the Okeechobee district, reports continued progress and hopes to have Okeechobee 100 per cent strong within a few days.

"There is no doubt that the state's welfare is a matter near the Governor's heart," declared Mr. Hagan. "He overcomes numerous obstacles and his ultimate victory was a fitting reward for that effort."

Interpreted by Mr. Hagan, the legislature's acts will mean a saving of approximately $100,000 annually for Seminole County. The extra gasoline tax he said, will make it possible for County

CITIZENS FORM BODY TO FIGHT FLY IN COUNTY

Wheeler Of Oviedo Is Elected President;
Monk Predicts Success
For New Effort

More than 100 citizens, it was believed, turned out to the annual dinner of the Seminole County Citizens Organization, held Saturday night for the purpose of assisting state and local authorities in conducting an intensive cleanup campaign in this county against the fruit fly.

It was agreed that Mr. Wheeler, the organization chose Randall Chase as vice president and R. A. Cobb as secretary treasurer. Those named on the board of directors include Frank Evans of Lake Wales, J. C. Hutchinson of Sanford, J. T. McLean of Geneva, W. M. Scott of Lamont and C. S. Lee of Oviedo, all of whom have shown a strong interest in the work of eradicating the pest.

It was decided that the organization, which has been organized to serve as auxiliary to the directorate, will be known as the following: W. P. Compton, Claude E. Ashby, Oviedo; S. F. Long, Chuluota; E. H. Kilwey, Geneva; T. Haines, Longwood; R. E. Baldwin, Sanford and Mr. Burnett of Forest City. The new members of the committee, representing the Lake Wales section, as yet to be appointed.

The organization, suggested by the state organization, was formally adopted, calling for a steady accumulation of contributions and having no dues. Its membership is open to every citizen of Seminole County and in this connection, Mr. Wheeler voiced an appeal for the people to stand in their name to a capable service.

Following the meeting was a session of the legislative committee, presided over by J. W. Monk, government agent who has charge of the open house of the Seminole County. An amendment was proposed for legislation that had already been passed by the people was given by the speaker, who urged the ballot to the newly formed group could and would lead a valuable assistance to the work here.

The meeting was held in the City Hall and was attended by about 60 people. Fifty one names were placed on the membership roll of the organization. A talk was given by J. E. Bassell of

Gene Tunney Files His Answer To Suit Begun Against Him

NEW YORK, June 24.—(INS)—Challenging extortion, Gene Tunney, retired heavyweight champion, through his attorney, today filed an answer to the $400,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty.

The answer was filed in Polk County, Conn., where Mrs. Fogarty's action was instituted, and was made public in New York by attorney Homer Cumming, of Stamford, Conn., associated with Tunney's attorneys—of Stamford, Cheshire, Stamford and New Haven.

There is no doubt that the state's welfare is a matter near the Governor's heart," declared Mr. Hagan. "He overcomes numerous obstacles and his ultimate victory was a fitting reward for that effort."

Pointing out the fact that the plaintiff is now an assured sum, E. J. Meyer, who has been in charge of the Sanford campaign, said a call for all the "80 centers" to join the association "cannot believe there is a man in

Two Gunmen Die In Pistol Battle With Group Of Four Men

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 24.—(INS)—Two gunmen with national reputations are dead today and third is wounded. Ben Barrett, 42, Chicago, former pal of "Big Tim" Murphy known as the "bulldog" of lawlessness, died Saturday in a gun battle with four other men in a rooming house in Kansas City, Mo., a city famous for its gangland warfare, though, as a consequence of giving up the life of a hoodlum, he was considered a public enemy.

Chiefly responsible with the administration, the Artizel, for the killing, was a member of the gangland crew which had been engaged in a series of holdups and bank robberies, including the recent holdup of the First National Bank in Kansas City.

Barrett, and his pal, by police, was a fugitive for a "ride" he was wanted for murder in half a dozen cities.

Eyes Of Rowing Fans Are Focused On Poughkeepsie Regatta Set For Monday

By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK, June 22.—Inter-collegiate rowing, hitherto just a financial step-sis in the family of big money sports, suddenly went luxurious today when the $100,000,000 for observation tickets at Poughkeepsie was sold, and in some cases received from the returning to town from Harvard's annual defeat by Yale spectators who paid this prohibitive price on tickets to the Poughkeepsie event were to sell out promptly. They intimated that the ante would be raised, probably, by tomorrow and certainly by Monday, the day of the biggest all races in the history of college rowing.

It is understood that no arrangements have been made as yet to sell sitting privileges along the banks of the river. The scalpers probably are working on the idea, however. They can afford to do so any time a boat race gets itself ready to overtake the Army-Navy football game.

With a record field of nine varsity crews, two of which are incipient world's champion, going to the post, it looks as though harvest moon is due to cast its golden glow upon the boys' boat first, Saturday afternoon.

Up to Poughkeepsie, was the word from the eastern rowing followers who came into town, weary and disgruntled from an all-night ride. They had gone to New London to see a boat race; instead, they witnessed an exhibition. Harvard, defeated by Yale in six of the last seven races, was inferior to the point of futility in the face of the Blue's greatly superior watermanship and it was not beaten more than six lengths only because Yale became comable in the last half mile.

There will be plenty of faith and hope in absolutely charity at Poughkeepsie Monday, all boat races with California, missing only two of the men who made up its world and Olympic champions of 1928, and an unseen Columbia eight furnishing much of the excitement. Washington has come on, too, since its early defeat by the Bears on the coast and has everybody watching it with an eye of to ebbing Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, the Navy and Massachusetts. Two make up the remainders of the field that never has shown an equal in the history of college racing.

The New London event was only a dress rehearsal. Half of the Poughkeepsie field already has been in Harvard as soundly as Yale did yesterday. Columbia, held to be unbeatable by eastern sharks outwitted Yale in an early race this year. Obviously the big show doesn't go on until Monday.

Two Youths Will Be Charged With Death

CHATSWORTH, Ga., June 22.—(INS)—Two Murray county youths, one of them the nephew of John Silvers, 60, who authorities claim was murdered last Friday night, will be arraigned before the grand jury charged with murder. George Blalock was arrested at Talking Rock, while the dead man's nephew, Joe Silvers, was seized at his uncle's funeral.

Although the youths insisted that the deceased had fallen off a horse Friday and sustained the injuries which caused his death Monday night, police believed that he was beaten in order to secure $300 he is reported to have had at the time.

Yancey And Williams Plan Atlantic Flight

PETERBORO, N. J., June 22.—(INS)—Lewis Yancey and Roger Q. Williams plan to hop off from Old Orchard, Me., for Rome early next week in the Bellanca monoplane North Star, which is now at the Wright motor plant being reconditioned for the flight.

Yancey said today that repairs on the ship, purchased recently from Mrs. Anne U. Stillman, could probably be finished early Saturday. This would give the two pilots a chance to take off from Peterboro airport for Old Orchard Saturday afternoon.

WAR PIGEON IS DEAD

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Word reached the War Department today of the death of the veteran army pigeon, President Wilson, hero of the Meuse-Argonne offensive, at the signal corps loft, Monmouth, N. J.

President Wilson was one of the famous pigeons of the world war, during an intense machine gun and artillery action on the morning of November 5, 1918, he was liberated at Grand Pre, in the Argonne, with an important message. Twenty-five minutes later flying through fire and fog, according to his citation, he arrives at Ramsgate, 25 miles away, with one leg maimed and his breast pierced by a machine gun bullet.

Protests Are Made To Bar Leon Trotsky

WASHINGTON, June 22.—(INS)—Vigorous protest against any consideration being given to the United States was voiced with Secretary of Labor Davis today by Representative Albert Johnson, Republican of Washington, chairman of the House immigration committee.

"It is preposterous," Johnson said, "that this man who left the country and denounced it, who assumed such a position of power in Russia, that his word brought death to millions, should not be permitted to return to the country which damned upon leaving."

Johnson was assured the chances of Trotsky's being permitted to come to the United States are next to nil.

Electrical Storm Is Fatal To Worshipper

BOSTON, June 22.—(INS)—During a severe electrical and rain storm that swept Eastern Massachusetts today, Mrs. Ray Turner, 27, was instantly killed at the camp ground of the Seventh Day Adventists in South Lancaster when lightning ran down a ten-t pole and jumped to steel stay in Mrs. Turner's orset. Her husband and their year-old daughter, Dorothy, suffered shock.

Hey—goin' fishin'?

Sure! You and Jim know right where the big ones are waiting! Then you think of the last time you went up to the old fishin' hole—and the blisters on your hands from rowing the old scow for two solid hours—up river and back! Nope, never again!

But, wait a minute! Listen! Here's a chance for you to turn that old scow into a real motor boat that will take you up river and back in a jiffy!

Here's the Dope!

Here's all the dope. Marry you've heard about our contest—it's the biggest and best contest for boys ever held in this city! The winner will receive—the newest and finest outboard motor Johnson has ever made! A Sea Horse!

It is being donated as first prize in our contest by the local Johnson Motor dealer whose name and address you'll hear.

We are told that these Sea Horses have completely revolutionized outboard motor industry. With the Johnson Reliance Charger the Sea Horse will start as easy as any modern automobile! This starting system releases the compression in one of the cylinders and at the same time supercharges and practically doubles the spark intensity in the other cylinder. With the release charge the Sea Horse will start when loaded, or cold—always!

Speed and Power Galore!

The new rotary valve on these Sea Horses has increased the speed and power of the motor by permitting full gas charges to enter the cylinders at even the highest engine speeds. Now you have speed and power galore!

Outboard motorists have long wanted a motor that would do away with the noise and fumes of the exhaust. In the Sea Horse—Johnson has done this! The underwater exhaust carries both the noise and the fumes out under the water—leaving only the pleasant hum of a sweet running motor!

This motor is all yours—if you work for it! The boy who gets the most points in our great contest will take it home! And points are given for everything—you even get one when you enter!

Please read carefully all the rules of the contest on this page. Send them in to the Johnson dealer at the address below and see this wonderful prize. Ask all about it! Then come around to see us and we'll tell you how to win it! When don't we go? Let's go!

Profit By Example

Exhortations in an effort to obtain co-operation in the vital campaign on the Mediterranean fruit fly must become tiresome, but that these exhortations and admonitions have not been overdone is apparent from what has just taken place in Tampa. There, despite a most thorough drive to apprise the people of the danger of the pest, the owner of a home in a certain subdivision was so contemptuous of the public welfare that he caused the city to be placed in zone one by not destroying the fruit on his mango tree. We in Sanford would do well by profiting from the Tampa episode and it is with this in view that we reprint the following editorial of The Tampa Tribune which treats the situation in an admirable manner:

"Because a private property owner failed to remove ripe fruit from yard trees, a large part of Tampa has been put in 'Zone One.' For one mile in each direction from the premises where the infestation was found, Tampa will be subjected to the strictest restrictions and regulations of the Medfly eradication campaign. This is a situation which, while we had feared it, we hoped might be avoided through the vigilance of property owners and officials in removing and destroying ripe hosts on private property. Unfortunately, this was not done in the case in point—and the results are seriously damaging to the city.

With the territory contiguous to the first zone in the second zone, the handling or shipment of prescribed products will be prohibited, and this includes the Tampa and Port Tampa districts, which will materially cripple the commerce of the port.

"Neglect of the prime precautions which have been promulgated by the Plant Board and published continuously in the newspapers has brought this situation upon us. Tampans have been asked, warned, urged, to at once remove all ripe fruits and plants from their premises. The campaign carried on by the Boy Scouts could not possibly cover the entire field—it was necessary that citizens operate. This has not been done thoroughly, as the Hyde Park discovery attests. In fact it has been ignored in conspicuous cases. A large, ripe mango was seen yesterday on a tree in the yard of a prominent Hyde Park home.

"It is too late now to avoid the situation which has been forced upon us—but there can be the utmost vigilance and the most industrious activity to get rid of it at the earliest possible date. Every citizen should become a 'Negligence committee.' The presence of 'blots' in any yard or on any premises should be immediately noticed and steps taken to immediately destroy them. It is not particularly considered good manners to tell on one's neighbors, but in this instance, it is a necessity for public safety. Officials and private citizens must cooperate in giving Tampa a thorough clean-up. Every possible spot for the infestation of the fly must be removed. Tampa must get out of the infested zone classification as speedily as human energy can accomplish it."

"Those who refuse to destroy the 'spots' of blots must be regarded as public enemies and constituted authority must step in and do what they fail or decline to do. The citizen who harbors 'blots' on his premises is as culpable as would be the citizen who concealed a case of communicable disease, calculated to bring on a devastating epidemic."

"The proposed extensive cleanup naturally comes too soon. In the meantime, each individual citizen should closely inspect his neighborhood, see if the danger exists and take immediate steps to remove it."

Raffles For Men

The world has watched with varying degrees of interest the increasing trend of abbreviation in women's dress. The upward climb to assure freedom of the knee has been arrested, temporarily at least, to permit a determined campaign for emancipation of the feminine neck. No authority says we are on style, but it appears to us that the revolutionary modes are more of an answer to the demand for comfort than an effort to exploit the beauty of form. At least, for diplomatic reasons, we like to think such is the case. But it was another our purpose to enter into debate about trimming out, but to call attention to the probable influence of madly's obscurancies of dress upon the future habillage of men.

Already the dawn of a new era in masculine styles has been proclaimed by enterprising tailors whose enthusiasm makes us strangle suspicious of what may happen to the female pocketbook. No less an authority than John David of New York, whose purports to be seeking for his fellow craftsmen in the tailoring industry, has predicted styles that will make current feminine modes look antiquated. Tailor David forecasts shorts for men instead of the conventional trousers, and, vising with the ladies, the male he declares, will soon begin to wear porous clothes of soft, thinny materials. Other visions of Mr. David include sandals of bright colors, with formal attire consisting of silk or satin lace breeches, cutaway coats, and buckled shoes.

Now, wouldn't that spoil your grandmother's preserves? Imagine Franklin Wadsworth in a running suit with knickerbockers or Bob Dodson making an evening call, attired in an outfit of crepe-de-chine trimmed in shiny lace. Or maybe you could picture Hodgson Hall strolled out in satin breeches of a delicate shade of pink, supplemented by a frocktail coat of harmonizing color and a cute pair of patent-leather buckled shoes with tails to boot. Now, we frankly don't think much of Clodfitter David's suggestions, and if we may be pardoned for our boldness, we rise to assert the belief that his proposals will arouse little enthusiasm in other masculine minds. Our present rigging still fills our needs and defines admirably.

FLORIDA'S ACTION
WALL STREET JOURNAL

Finally the anti-bell legislation from the Congress was taken to a vote in the Senate, and a new form of oil tax was adopted. As a result, the Senate's proposal, which could have been voted down by the House, passed. An extensive citrus tax was imposed, and Mr. Wheeler early recognized the seriousness of the situation and having lost in close touch with the government's policy, he is thoroughly familiar with the duties which he has agreed. Seminole County people should accord him their hearty support in this undertaking.

The Seminole County Citizens Organization has been formed to fight in the campaign of protecting the trust. No better, nor more capable man could have been selected to head the organization than R. P. Wheeler of Okeechobee. An extensive citrus tax was imposed, and Mr. Wheeler early recognized the seriousness of the situation and having lost in close touch with the government's policy, he is thoroughly familiar with the duties which he has agreed. TRAINING POLICE
MIAMI HERALD

Three universities now offer courses in training young men for doing police work if they feel inclined to that form of endeavor after they leave school. Thus the young lad will be taught to shoot with crooks as the targets. Northwestern University and Chicago University have followed the example of the University of California and will instruct students how to become bulls, barnacles, ticks and flatirons.

This addition to the curriculum is not so foolish as it may seem at first thought. Criminals have learned the game by tough experience available and ought to relish a change of idea. And the tremendous host of novelists who are writing the mystery stories that now fill the shelves of book stores might furnish a considerable number of instructors. The experiment would at least subject the story writer to a real test and would show conclusively, if his theories are worth while.

The crooks, however, are unlikely to be worried. If the test should show that the college-trained cop is dangerous then the thieves will spend a few years in the institution of higher education and when they receive their diploma will start out on an even basis which would seem fair to both sides.

Criminals no longer depend on brute strength for their success. They study their crimes and field of operation closely before they make a move and they carefully lay their plans so that their tracks are covered. They use modern knowledge and the latest inventions in carrying out their racketeering and if the police are to cope with them the police must be equipped for using the same machinery. Society cannot afford to let the crooks have an advantage.

Organizing a staff to back the new science of catching crooks ought not to be difficult. Old-time policemen who have learned the game by tough experience are available and ought to relish a change of idea. And the tremendous host of novelists who are writing the mystery stories that now fill the shelves of book stores might furnish a considerable number of instructors. The experiment would at least subject the story writer to a real test and would show conclusively, if his theories are worth while.

IS THE NEGRO DISENFRANCHISED?
TAMPA TRIBUNE

John Temple Graves, in his column made potent reply to a recent editorial of the New York World, which attacked Southern Senators who voted for the exclusion of aliens in the reparation bill, but are unwilling to disenfranchise Southern negroes also excluded; and the reply of Mr. Graves brought forth another editorial from the World, which round the Florida newspaperman's article "an interesting point."

The theory is one thing, the condition another. Then again the South has no legal stand on its disregard of the 15th Amendment. Under actual conditions, however, without regard to the social problem the negro (or those who control him) has weighed more in strictly national politics than the Southern white.

This is indeed an "interesting point" and shows that the negro, far from being disenfranchised, possesses a powerful influence in determining the nominees of the two major political parties, therefore in naming the President, Mr. Graves adds:

Since the political destinies of the nation are determined fundamentally in the conven-

The rooms where the tables were placed were adorned with quantities of sunflowers and marigolds in brilliant shades while the tallies were designed as flowers in the same colors.

At the tea hour refreshments were served by the hostess to the following: Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. Samuel Puston, Mrs. R. A. Newman, Mrs. S. R. Dighton, Mrs. J. E. Brouse, Mrs. Roy F. Symes, Mrs. George Witmer, Mrs. J. G. Sharon and Mrs. F. L. Lawrence.

President Returns After Week-end At His FishingG round

WASHINGTON, June 24—(INS)—President Hoover returned to the White House this morning from his fishing camp in the Blue Ridge Mountains after a week-end devoted to his favorite sport, and to wrestling with the task of selecting the new federal farm board.

The Hoovers and their guests, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, arose early and motored into Washington in about three hours, arriving shortly before 10 o'clock.

How much progress the President and his agricultural adviser made in nailing the more than 400 names for the farm board was not disclosed, but it is expected that some of the appointments will be announced this week. There are eight places to be filled. Eugene Sawyer, former head of the War Finance Corporation, is mentioned prominently for the chairman-ship.

Today or tomorrow the President expects to issue the Boulder Dam proclamation, formally declaring the project an actually now that six of the seven states have ratified the mutual pact.

The President has spent several weeks at his Hardee's retreat, but his fishing luck has not been pronounced until this trip. Mr. Sawyer started fishing 10 minutes after his arrival in camp Saturday morning, and his day's string amounted to a dozen mountain trout. The largest weighed a pound and three quarters, which is a gamey sized mountain trout.

THE FEMININE MODE

This frock was just created for those warm summer evenings, when formal frocks are unnecessary and a long-sleeved dress is uncomfortable. The unusual cage collar, abrilliant on the right shoulder, is elegantly draped in a diagonal line from shoulder to waist. The civil service skirt is joined to the top by a wide band drawn up and tied on the left side in a smart circle effect. This pattern also provides sleeves if desired. When made without the soft collar, leaving a plain rounded neckline, and inserting long tight sleeves, it is smart for the street.

"Now is the time for these conservative folks who have been holding back to see if the campaign could be put over to come in—if they don't they will be faced with the unpleasant experience of coming in after the drive had gone over the top. And go over the top it will within the next day or so, surely."

Fred Zerrner, one of the active campaign workers in this district and a prominent Sanford grower suggests that there are a number of growers out of the city who have not been given an opportunity to sign up.

"If you know of any such person and his address," declares Mr. Zerrner, "you will do a favor by writing and calling the man to the attention of the absent grower. We don't want to be content with 80 per cent here in Sanford; there's no reason why this campaign shouldn't have nearly five per cent of the Sanford acreage enrolled."

Flier Will Try Again To Set Flight Record

DU BOIS, Pa., June 24.—(INS)—Lee Schenck, youthful pilot whose plane was wrecked here yesterday as the culmination of his attempt to set a new trans-continental non-stop flight record from Los Angeles to New York, declared today that he was not discouraged by his mishaps and would make another attempt in the near future.

Schenck flew from Los Angeles to Cleveland in 13 hours and 20 minutes, being halved in the Ohio city on Saturday night by adverse weather. He attempted to continue to New York yesterday but thunder showers forced him to land at the military airport near here. When the skies cleared he again attempted to resume the flight, only to crash on the bumpy ground at the edge of the field, wrecking his Lockheed Vega monoplane, Goodrich Silver-tow.

The flier said he planned to strip the plane's engine back to the factory to put in a new plane. The fuselage was completely wrecked.

Drink Crazed Killer Has Chance For Life

LONG BEACH, Calif., June 24.—(INS)—With two bullet wounds in his chest, John Keller, 24, who shot and killed his wife and wounded police officer and Eddie Fink, a neighbor, in a drink crazed rage, was reported today to have a fighting chance for his life.

Trapped in his own home 12 hours after the tragedy, Keller elected to shoot it out with police officers only to be shot twice over the heart before he could draw a gun. Keller, 55, and the father of six children, is said to be a brother-in-law of J. Dawes, a Chicago police detective. His wife was 28. They were married in 1916 at Murray, near Salt Lake City, where Keller was known as Joe Kendall.

THE SEA HORSE 32

The King of the Seas—The Sea Horse 32 is the latest Johnson Outboard Motor.

It is easy to start and is powerful with authority.

There is no vibration.

Johnson has approached a running motor with a new idea.

Engineers and famous drivers have pronounced it the most powerful of the marine world.

It is an entirely different outboard than anyone has ever known before—possessing the Johnson's unique underwater exhaust, rotary valve detachable silent motor cylinder heads, and many other features.

It has increased the speed and power of the motor by permitting full gas charges to enter the cylinders at even the highest engine speeds. Now you have speed and power galore!

Outboard motors have long wanted a motor that would do away with the noise and fumes of the exhaust. In the Sea Horse—Johnson has done this! The underwater exhaust carries both the noise and the fumes out under the water—leaving only the pleasant hum of a smooth running motor!

This motor is all yours—if you work for it!

The boy who gets the most points in our great contest will take it home! And points are given for everything—you even get 'em when you enter!
