BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

I sure despise the knocker and have time and again called attention to them in Sanford, for this city, like every other city in the world has them. The other day while sitting in a certain place of business here I heard a stranger ask about Sanford celery and what it was bringing and the prospects of the farmers and was greatly surprised to hear the home person remark that he had lost money on his crop and that there was nothing doing in crops, plumb here. I afterward asked this knocker what he meant by such a statement and he said that he had lost money last year but this season would retrieve his loss and make money besides. He did not mention the fact to the stranger, however, and the bad taste left in his mouth is probably there yet, unless he went out through the farm himself and investigated the prices this year. Of course every grower here does not always make a fortune but there are less failures in the vegetable growing business than in any other. He said while a man may fall down on one crop will make good on another and I challenge any grower here to prove that he has lost money or will lose money this season taking his crops from last fall until June of this year. If a man consistently farms here, starting in with lettuce in the fall, follows with a few acres of celery or more lettuce, then comes along with his spring crops followed by corn and soy, he cannot make a total failure unless he is just naturally a failure in life himself and there are some people who could not make good with Rockefeller's millions.

Such knocking though should be discontinued. The situation here is better than ever before and the prices obtained this season would make any other part of the country sit up and take notice. The perpetual knocker should be jailed or flung out of the country because he is no good to either himself or to the community and I see that some sections of Florida have taken steps to eliminate him according to law, as Dade City expects to do. The following from the Ft. Pierce Tribune is worthy of notice and the example could be followed by other cities:

Dade City may not be classed among South Florida metropolises, but certainly is more up to date in some matters than any other city in this blooming commonwealth. There is a pent abroad in Florida that has and is doing more to retard the state's development than all the white flies, tomato bugs and potato rats could do in a thousand years. We allude to that parasite known as the knocker, and every place has his full quota. He never sleeps, and all times is on the job, collecting all manner of malicious guff to roll around his tongue and spray out at any and every person senseless enough to listen. He lives and prospers on the work of others; a menace to the interests of this town, a barnacle on the body politic and an incubus to society.

But Dade City council has put a spoke in their wheel, to prohibit them plying their trade by framing the following ordinance:

That whoever, within the corporate limits of Dade City maliciously or with intent to profit thereby shall murder the title of any person to any property in Dade City, or to any property in Pasco county which at the time belongs to any citizen of Dade City, or which at the time is held for sale with any duly licensed real estate agent or dealer in such property; or is the agent of the owner of such property;

Or whoever within the said corporate limits maliciously or with intent to profit thereby falsely seizes or seizes the value, fertility, quality or healthfulness of such property, shall be deemed guilty of an offense against the city of Dade City, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the city jail for a term of not less than fifteen days nor more than sixty days, or by both such fine and such imprisonment, in the discretion of the mayor.

Other cities in Florida are seeing the advantage of having a wagon shed constructed for the benefit of the farmers coming to town to trade. Sanford woke up to this fact some time ago and the building erected at the corner of Palmetto Avenue and Second Street has more than paid for itself in the increased business accruing to the merchants. Mulberry seems to have realized the need of such protection and The Herald has the following to say regarding it:

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for our merchants to get together and build a public shed for the use of country people who come to our city to trade? Teams of people coming here have no place of shelter, and in case of rain their wagons and stock must take the weather. This is not good for the stock, not good for the wagon and not good for Mulberry, because if we fail to furnish this slight accommodation a large number of the farmers will stop coming to Mulberry and go to other towns that are willing to furnish sheds for their use.

We have known of merchants who considered their wagon shed their greatest drawing card for business. We want everybody we can get to come to Mulberry to trade, and if there is one thing more than another that will draw country people to a town to trade it is to show that you appreciate their trade and are willing to show them some accommodation to get it.

Let's have a public wagon shed in Mulberry and let a advertise and let the people know it is here and that they are welcome to use it and we believe it will be a great help for the town's business.

Judge Shackelford once opposed the movement for federal aid to good roads. Now he is in support in congress for the Shackelford bill which appropriates $25,000,000 for road building in the different states. The fact has led to criticism, those who are opposed to the principle treating it as the latest form of the pork barrel and violating the idea with ridicule.

Judge Shackelford himself, speaking in Kentucky has told the people here that something will be done for the benefit of rural districts even if there has to be reduction in appropriations for rivers and harbors.

It seems to be thought that rivers and harbors are the whole thing in the way of transportation, while highways in the farming sections of the nation are of small consequence. That is an utter mistake. Rivers and harbors have their use, but a principal use is a means of transportation of goods to and from the rural sections.

The great cities are on water routes mainly and it is comparatively easy to get to them and to get away from them.

It is far more difficult to reach the farms and to bring products off the farms to market.

It is a surprising thing that anyone should hold that the good roads movement is less important in any sense than the improvement of rivers and harbors. We spend about $250,000,000 on army and navy and about $200,000,000 on pensions and $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 on rivers and harbors. Yet $25,000,000 for good roads annually for the benefit of the entire nation is objected to in many quarters, though there is nothing but approval for the huge sums voted for other projects, none of them really more important than good roads.

Those people who are becoming impatient because the Commercial Club is not locating a new factory here every day are reminded that we are not looking for industries of the same old variety. We want prosperous, substantial factories or plants of all the committee in charge of this branch of the work, has numerous propositions under consideration. It is looking into the minds of those who are seeking inducements and it will not recognize any factory that would not prove of real advantage to this community. It receives requests for terms from industries that are manifestly out to gain selfish advantages only and these are promptly disposed of. It is no easy matter to go out and secure just the kind of an industry you would like to have located here and while the committee is working with energy and doing all within its power, it may be some time before an indefinite announcement can be made. There will be a story to tell some of these days and when the same is given to the public, those who are disgruntled now will be heartily ashamed of themselves.

An army of the unknown rich has been marauding in Chicago at the Lincoln tax window at the federal building with the Arnoures, Swifts, Rosenwalds and Buffers, revealing hundreds of fortunes not previously known except to Dun and Bradstreet, or to the more intimate knowledge of Hill's mercantile agency. It was not uncommon to see a man of fifty years or so, wearing shabby clothes, whose hands were heavy and gnarled and who had a three-days growth of beard, step up to the counter and file a schedule showing an income of $10,000, $15,000, $20,000, even $50,000. Many of the filers of these schedules give strange foreign names and, in their place of residence reports that the fashionable and known rich of the city probably never heard of.

Read the following from the News-Smyrna News regarding the city manager:

I have heard considerable discussion in New Smyrna lately about the plan of hiring a business manager to look after the municipal affairs, and the idea appeals to me as being worth considering. The plan is being discussed and adopted in a number of towns and cities throughout the country, and it seems to be working out satisfactorily. The plan is to have one man handle the business of the city and conduct the municipal affairs just as if he was hired to manage any business corporation, the citizens being the stockholders of the corporation. I have taken the trouble to make a little investigation along this line, and find that the idea of a business manager for city affairs comes from Germany, where most of the towns and small cities have such officials. These managers are not chosen for any political reasons, but for their ability to conduct all affairs of the town or city in a businesslike manner. Already a number of cities and towns in this country have adopted this business method and one of the latest towns to decide on this plan is Glencoe, Ill., a suburb of Chicago. Glencoe is a beautiful suburb, whose residents are mostly men well up in the business circles of the big city, and it is only natural that they should prefer to have the business manager plan for the conduct of the business affairs of the town. The Glencoe village trustees advertised for a business manager and no less than 150 applicants were received. Mr. Giff, chairman of the village board, in outlining the duties of the new manager, compared the city governed by a manager to any big business firm—its citizens as stockholders and its trustees as directors. It is apparent that the idea of a business manager to conduct municipal affairs is one that will grow in popularity. When the business men of a town come to the conclusion that the affairs of the municipality should be conducted in a business way they are considering one of the most important phases of community development. When a town is improved in its government it is improved as a place in which to trade. On the other hand, the town that does get the trade of its own people and community is likely to be the best town in government and in everything else.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Grand Duke Alexis, Only Son of the Russian Czar.

A LONESOME LITTLE BOY.

Some Things of Interest to Children. Robbing the Parson's Henroost. A Jolly Game—Why Four Little Lads Were Late at School.

It is very much better to be an American boy, with a good pair of legs and good health than to be half the Russian Czar with illness of a serious nature. It is said that the Grand Duke Alexis is afflicted with a lameness that may be permanent. His left leg has to be supported by a metal frame, so the story goes. The czar-vitch is very fond of the sea and spends much time in summer on board the Imperial yacht. The little czar-vitch dresses as a bluejacket. He wears the uniform of the sailors of the Imperial guard, a peaked body of men. Last summer he spent some time at a sanatorium, the Crimea cure station on the Black sea. There he was given special drills in the hope that his physical condition would be improved. The czar-vitch has just entered his tenth year, an age when all boys like to romp and play, but that is forbidden him because of his weakness. So it will appear that it is not worth while to envy him his high station. It is much more fun and satisfaction to be just a plain healthy American boy.

Robbing the Parson's Henroost.

To play this game every one, except the questioner, must choose a word and use it for every answer he gives. The leader asks questions of each in turn and each must use his word in his answer. If he forgets or says "yes" or "no" he must take the questioner's place.

For example, suppose the players A, B and C have chosen the words "elephant," "keyhole" and "thinkable." The questioner begins by saying, "The parson's henroost was robbed last night—what did you take?"

A.—An elephant.
Q.—How did you get in the henroost?
B.—Through the keyhole.
Q.—Where did you put what you stole?
C.—In a thinkable.

And so on around the circle till all have answered.

Riddles.

My first implies equality, my second the title of a foreign nobleman and my whole is naked and given a hundred times a day with equal indifference and yet is of so much importance that it has saved the lives of thousands.

Why might merit be only half cooked? Because what is done cannot be helped.

Who had the first entrance into a theater? Joseph, when he was taken from the family circle and put into the pit.

When is a clock on the stairs dangerous? When it runs down and strikes one.

What do we often catch, yet never see? A passing remark.

Quite Right Too.

Oh, Jeremy, Jonathan, Joseph and James were four little lads who delighted in games.

Each morning they started with books and a slate.

To trot off to school, but they always were late.

Because on the road, I am sorry to say, they stopped here and there "just a minute" to play.

One morning when running from lessons, a lack, they met a policeman, who ordered them back.

And Jeremy, Jonathan, Joseph and James, the four little lads who delighted in games, went quickly to school with book and slate.

And ever since then they have never been late.

THE BIG FEST NEXT TUESDAY AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AUDITORIUM

RESPLENDENT AND CAPTIVATING MUSICAL EVENT

GRACE, BEAUTY, HARMONY

GREAT EXPECTATIONS FROM OUR SPLENDID HOME TALENT AND A CRUSH TO HEAR SAME

The Big Musical Fest next Tuesday night promises to tax the capacity of the Congregational church auditorium, where it is to be given. The grand organ, choir and orchestra, with a strong chorus of fifty voices will be heard in the most delightful of choral compositions, including selections from the operas, Lohengrin and Rigoletto and such composers as Verdi, Auber, Fauré, Sullivan, Elsbach, Keller and others. Not only will there be great music, but beauty will also grace the festive occasion. The ladies will appear in the handsome costumes for which Sanford gentler sex have a charming reputation and the chorus setting will be a delight to the eye as well as the renditions a rapture to the ear. On either side, the balconies will be towers of loveliness, graced with floral profusion, the center of which will be ten of the city's fairest rosebuds. The names may be read elsewhere. The gentlemen who form the male contingent peel out a powerful volume of tenor and basso profundo. Soprano and contralto are superb, and the great grand organ, piano, orchestra and voices, in grandeur and sweetness rarely equaled in places much larger than Sanford.

The seating capacity of the auditorium in which the event takes place is not large and only as many tickets will be sold as will seat, unless there should be those who desire to stand, which is not pleasant for either the listener or performer, so it is hoped that the extra seating will accommodate all, and not necessitate purchasing standing room at the door after or while program is in progress. Let all kindly come early, thus being well seated and ready for the initial number, which begins at 8 o'clock.

New Novelties Works

Messrs. W. S. Price and V. C. Collier two well known carpenters of this city will open a novelty works in the course of a few weeks in the building which was used by the Carter Lumber Co. a few years ago for that purpose.

The new company will be known as the Sanford Novelty Works, although a general line of contracting and building will be done. They expect to be able to build anything that may come up in this section in the way of building, nothing being too large and nothing too small for their attention.

These gentlemen have had years of experience in their line. Mr. Price has been a resident of Sanford and vicinity for a number of years and had charge of the novelty works of the Carter Lumber Co. while it was in operation and has since been doing a general line of contracting work. Mr. Collier was here several years ago and did a considerable amount of work on different houses in the city then under construction. Both are good mechanics and are looking for business in the building line in Sanford and they will help us to build a greater Sanford.

Surprise Party

The Eagles Club greatly surprised Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hynes of French avenue last Monday evening, it being her birthday. She is a special favorite of the club and was remembered with a set of silver knives and forks and several other articles. Music and cards furnished entertainment and at a late hour the most perfect refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Houghan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fernandez, Mr. and Mrs. G. Smith, Mrs. and Miss Hodges of South Carolina, Mr. and Miss Jackson of South Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Noel, Mrs. Geo. Blackwelder, Geo. Tarantus and Robt. Rickenbecker. All voted Mr. and Mrs. Hynes the loveliest people to surprise and wished Mrs. Hynes had a birthday quite often.

Wesleyan School Re-Opens

Those who have enjoyed the new classes as taught by Miss Florence Frank will be pleased to learn that she will again open her school of modern dancing at the city hall Monday evening, March 23rd at 7:30 p. m. Many of the new steps, other than those taught in her former classes will be introduced. Miss Frank will also have a class in waltz and two-step, opening Wednesday evening, March 25th at 7:30 p. m.

REDMEN'S CONVENTION

State Lodge Will Hold Annual Convention here in 1915

Word was received here yesterday that the next annual meeting of the Order of Redmen of the state will hold their next annual convention in Sanford. This convention will occur on the third Tuesday in March or March 16th.

This will mean much to Sanford. Every lodge in the state will be represented by from one to three men and this will mean that special arrangements will be necessary to accommodate the crowds during the convention.

The bringing of this convention to Sanford is largely due to the efforts of H. J. Reeder, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph Co. here. Mr. Reeder holds the position of Chief Wampum of the state organization of Redmen.

East Coast President Named

With the election of W. H. Beardsley of New York, for many years associated with the late Henry M. Flagler as the latter's New York financial agent, as president of the Florida East Coast Railway and the Florida East Coast Hotel Company, the interest manifested recently as to the probable successor of the late J. R. Parrott, who succeeded Mr. Flagler as head of the great Flagler interests, is removed. At the annual meeting of the Florida East Coast Railway Company and the Florida East Coast Hotel Company held in the convocation offices Tuesday, directors and officers to serve during the ensuing year were named.

William R. Kenan, Jr., a brother of Mrs. Henry M. Flagler, one of the trustees of the Flagler estate, was named as one of the vice presidents.

The following were named directors of the Florida East Coast Railway: W. H. Beardsley, William R. Kenan, Jr., J. P. Beekwith, J. C. Salter, L. C. Haines, George W. Perkins, Dr. Andrew Anderson, J. E. Ingraham and R. W. Parsons. Officers to serve the F. E. C. Railway were named by the directors as follows: W. H. Beardsley, president; J. P. Beekwith, vice president in charge of operation; J. R. Dr. Swartz Dead

Dr. Swartz, widely known in his life as a Lutheran theologian and pastor, died at Baltimore Tuesday. He was born near Strasburg, Va., and was 80 years old. Dr. Swartz was chairman of the committee which prepared the general Lutheran synod's book of worship. He affiliated with the Congregational church twenty years ago.

The above news despatch will be sent to the many friends of Dr. Swartz.

He resided here several years ago, having the Congregational church during his winter vacation where he served the people of that section most faithfully and often, glad the pulpit of the Sanford churches. His son, William, who has evangelized work in New York makes Sanford his home, and his family is residing here now. Dr. Swartz has several other children who reside in northern cities.

Wesleyan Brotherhood Class

The business men class at the Methodist Sunday school continues to increase in numbers and interest. Last Sunday morning it was an inspiring sight when thirty-five men took their places in this class and at the conclusion of the service one of the number applied for membership in the church. The laymen's missionary movement has been started in this church and will soon be thoroughly organized and working, looking towards local evangelism.

The soprano, contralto, tenor and bass of the Fest chorus are, for a city of the size of our own, simply grand.

TOURISTS SHOULD ORGANIZE AGAINST SLANDERS OF TOURISTS

LAKELAND TELEGRAM HAS RIGHT DOPE ON MATTER

SOREHEADS MALIGNANT

OTHER NEWS OF THE STATE OF SUNSHINE AND SORROWS: WHERE THE BIRDS SING AND PEOPLE KICK

There ought to be an organization of the tourists in the various tourist centers of Florida so that in the case of truth and decency and their own personal interests as well they might give our formal and authoritative contradiction of the malicious and ignorant falsehoods which sometimes find their way into the northern press purporting to come from respectable tourists who have been winter visitors to Florida. These fellows, nursing a ground following, personal disappointment for which Florida is in no wise responsible, go back north and relay their feelings by deliberate defamations of the state and its people; or possibly they are paid to tell lies in the interest of some rival section seeking immigration and winter visitors. There is no way to prevent degenerates from flooding the atmosphere in their immediate neighborhood with falsehoods and slanders, but when they take their lies into the public prints where they are spread broadcast and can do real damage, the antidote can be supplied by contradiction from reputable sources. It may be that the contradiction be made more effective than through local tourist organizations, and in some parts of the state we believe they have them. Here is a paragraph from the Worcester Mass. Telegram of recent date which indicates the use of such an agency as we have suggested: It was the oldest white pine that Florida ever had. Orange trees are named and the natives expect the orange crop will be small. It is feared on many of the shores of water about the state, said Major J. E. Peardon, Norris house, when he arrived at the office of the Telegram yesterday afternoon direct from Florida, after a visit of three months.

Five thousand acres of land in the fertile Apopka section, changed, owned by W. H. Swartz, says the Orlando Sentinel the sellers being Ed. Thomas and Austin Starbird, and the purchaser being J. W. Jackson, M. M. Smith, J. H. and J. S. Smith. The transaction is being handled through the real estate agency of S. C. Gentry.

This is probably one of the largest deals to be consummated in this section in a long while. An interesting feature is the fact that the purchasers are all home men, and have exhibited their confidence in the future of this section by investing a trust heavily.

The land lies north of Forest City about the Clay Springs and Rock Springs sections and goes west to the Seaboard Air Line railway. It is regarded as the best of any land, and for general farming it might be extended according to the statement of those in position to know. The best of staple crops have been grown on the land, and those who eventually come into possession will be taking no chances on the adaptability of the soil.

The new owners expect to close the entire tract out in one lot, and allow others to sell it for development purposes. With this end in view the price they have made on it is one which will encourage this object.

The practical judgment of the purchasers is well known, and this adds significance to the character of the transaction. It is said that this is the largest single body of land remaining undeveloped in this section, and it is likely that there will be an instant demand for it.

The case of Wilson W. Hyles, the young man from Ocala, whose auto killed Ronald Mozo, the 5-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Mozo, on Lackawanna avenue, Jacksonville last Sunday, is to be taken up at a preliminary hearing before Justice E. E. Willard at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Friends of the bereaved family say that the child was knocked about forty feet after striking the boy. The driver lost control of the machine, and it crashed into a pole. Hyles, who seems to regret the sad affair exceedingly, says he was driving at a rate of speed of between fifteen and twenty miles an hour, and that the child ran directly in front of his automobile from behind the rear of a street car from which the child had just alighted.

City Council Meets

City council met in regular session March 16th, 1914, at 7:30 p. m.

Present, H. W. Herndon, president; John Adams, W. W. Abernathy, C. H. Dinger, H. E. Tolar, R. C. Maxwell, J. D. Davison.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved. Also those of called meetings held March 8th.

Request of Harry Wray for a reduction of taxes on his Markham Park property heard. No action.

Petition of J. E. Laing to erect a galvanized building at the corner of Fourth street and Sanford avenue was referred to the building committee.

Moved and seconded that Mr. C. C. Woodruff be requested to furnish the council with a copy of the plumbing ordinance passed by the last council and afterward revoked. Carried.

Draft of an ordinance on sanitation and public health was presented by the city physician and referred to the city attorney for revision before presenting to the council.

Communications from B. M. Robinson, clerk of the circuit court of Orange county, appending a bill amounting to $89.00 read and the clerk was instructed to check the bill and if correct issue a voucher.

Motion of additional hydrants referred to the fire committee.

Council adjourned.

M. W. Lovell, Vice President of the Woodruff Garage

Active work has now begun on the new Washburn building on the corner of East and Commercial streets. S. S. Shinnover, who has the contract for the work started yesterday that the work would be finished as fast as possible and that the building would be ready for occupancy in the course of a few months.

The building will be a credit to Sanford as it will be built entirely of brick and will cost about the same as the new building on the corner of East and Commercial streets. S. S. Shinnover, who has the contract for the work started yesterday that the work would be finished as fast as possible and that the building would be ready for occupancy in the course of a few months.

Workmen are now at work on the extension and widening and water supply conduits for the construction of the Panama Canal.

District No. 1 Convention

The District No. 1 Convention of the Commercial Club will be held in Sanford on April 9th and 10th. About 100 of the leading business men of the district are expected to attend.

The local B. Y. P. U. look forward with pleasure to the coming of the convention.

And This Is The Truth

Towns don't have a residence because it is the place, but because there is something in the town, or its people which appealed to them. Towns are all built on the same plan, streets and alleys, buildings, stores. The difference is in the people. Towns are made; a self-made town is like a self-made man; it reflects the Almightiness of a lot of responsibility.

If you would have a moral town you must have moral people; if the town is to be healthful the sanitary department must be efficient; if your children are to be educated there must be a school; if you are to have a live town you must have live men.

So towns are greater than its people.

No more truthful words were ever written. Where in the city, which has not been built on this principle, except perhaps some few places which were specially endowed by nature in the form of natural resources such as gold, oil or coal. Let us ever remember that "Trifles make perfection, but perfection is no trifle."

MEXICO IS NOW WILLING TO TREAT WITH AMERICA

FOREIGN MINISTER ON HIS WAY TO NEGOTIATE

NOT QUITE SO CHESTY

OTHER NEWS OF THE WORLD-AT-LARGE-JAMMED TOGETHER RATHER HURRIEDLY

Washington, Mar. 20.—Officials today awaited official advice regarding the report that the Mexican foreign minister had gone to Vera Cruz to reopen negotiations with the United States through John Lind. It was understood that this government was willing to listen to any further proposals for peaceful settlement. The outcome of the fighting about Torreon is expected to have an important bearing on the situation. In the event of rebel reverses it was rumored that Carranza and Huerta would be willing to accept a compromise candidate for the presidency. There is no official confirmation of this. The Seventeenth infantry from Atlix, and four companies of the Ninth infantry from Little Rock left to join the border patrol today. Two more battalions of the Ninth infantry will leave for Fort Thomas, Ky., late today.

Forced by the increased seriousness of the financial situation in Mexico, President Huerta at last appears ready to resume negotiations with John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative which were broken off last October. Reports in the capital are true. Justo Portillo y Rojas, minister of foreign affairs has been directed to reopen the usual diplomatic exchanges with Mr. Lind, and for that purpose went to Vera Cruz yesterday, where he will meet Mr. Lind, it is thought. Every effort has been made to keep the matter secret, and should it take place, the government could repeat the explanation already made that the Minister is taking the trip to celebrate Santa day. President Huerta summoned to the National Palace six of the wealthiest Mexicans in the capital and intimated that direct financial support would be highly agreeable. They were reminded that the government had several months ago calling on owners of haciendas to equip and maintain the man for purposes of defense, never has been completed. Such compliance would mean according to the official figures the withdrawal of about 500,000,000 pesos. It is estimated that there are 52,000 haciendas, and a similar number of small Federal jurisdiction.

Preliminary skirmishes on the Panama toll-outlet will occupy the senate today as the result of an effort made yesterday by Senator Jones of Washington to have passed his resolution ending upon President Wilson for the purpose of the Panama toll-outlet.

Senator Jones of Georgia moved that the Jones resolution be referred to the foreign relations committee, declaring that the senate should not hastily consider a resolution ending information relating to foreign affairs. Senator Bristow of Kansas who is opposed to repeal of the toll exemption urged that the resolutions be referred to the committee on inter-oceanic canals, of which Senator O'Gorman, of New York is Chairman. Opponents of the repeal, of whom Senator O'Gorman is the leader, believe that the canal committee would give a favorable report on the Jones resolution, and that the committee on foreign relations would pigeonhole it. Upon this issue the senate may be forced to vote tomorrow. That such a vote could not strictly be considered as a test on the repeal issue, however, is maintained by some of the senators because some might vote in favor of a request for more information who would not vote against repeal on the final roll call.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company was sued yesterday by Attorney General McKeen under the Sherman anti-trust law, as being the dominant factor in a combination alleged to control the output of anthracite from Pennsylvania fields it touches. Among the defendants named were: Lehigh Valley Coal Co., Lehigh Valley Coal Sales Co., Cox & Brothers, Co. Inc.; Edward T. Satterbury, Daniel G. Reid, Charles Steele, George F. Baker and George F. Baer. By virtue of its monopoly, the complaint declares, the Lehigh has prevented the building of any new railroad into the anthracite region served by it and has kept the independent producers under the disadvantage of having to ship over a railroad also engaged in the coal business.

Child a Party

On Tuesday afternoon, Miss Rebecca Stevens, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stevens entertained delightfully a large number of children at a St. Patrick's Day party, given in honor of her cousin, Millicent and Anne Ringdorf, who have spent two months here and are about to leave for their northern home.

The house was beautifully decorated, the whole color scheme being faithfully carried out in green and white down to the last detail. Green flags were used for the room decorations, while fragrant flowers were everywhere, including bouquets of orange blossoms. The dining room was profusely decorated with small green flags. The dining table had as its centerpiece a huge bowl of fragrant white lilies and green leaves. At each end was a large green flag decorated with the golden harp of Ireland, and the favors for the children at each place carried out the same idea. A white package of candy with a small green flag standing upright. This table was surrounded by happy, eager children, all dressed in pretty summer dresses and bright gay ribbons and a beautiful sight, and resembled nothing so much as a garden of flowers. The menu consisted of such good things as potato chips, rolled sandwiches tied with green various cakes and candies, all in green and white, and lemon sherbet.

The smaller children were amused with games and stories, while among the older ones recitations, puzzles, were given, as well as games. A spelling match resulted in victory for Miss Anne Mason, who won first prize. Those present were: Ethel Henry, Florence Henry, Ruth Henry, Elizabeth Steinmeyer, Corinne Steinmeyer, Beryl Steinmeyer, Mildred and May Holly, Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Serifa and Maud Ladd, Margaret Neal, Norma Hayden, Millicent and Anne Ringdorf, Julia Laing, Helen Peck, Charlotte Strayer, Helen Keimig, Jean Maxwell, Clifford, Louise Shinnover, Dorothy Ray, Dorothy Burgh, Gladys Wilson, Gladys Ingold, Anna Mason, Rebecca Stevens.

Those who assisted Mrs. Stevens in receiving, entertaining and serving her young guests were Mrs. Neal, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Moses, Mrs. Lilia and Mrs. Ringdorf. The children went home with many pleasant words of thanks to their hostess for the delightful afternoon they had enjoyed.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETS

And Think Big Things for Monday Meeting in April

President Lake called the Commercial Club together last night with less than fifty present and on account of very important meeting to come before the club regarding entertainment of the Moving Picture Men of Florida, a new hotel and other important matters to be discussed the election of officers was postponed until the first Tuesday in April which will be the 7th of that month. At this time there will be a big rally, amok and general get-together meeting and some vital questions affecting the city will be discussed.

President Lake announced last night that plans had almost matured for the new tourist hotel and he could safely say that it would be built, but the matter will have and must have the cooperation of the Commercial Club and the lay citizens of Sanford.

A committee was appointed by the president as an entertainment committee to look after the Florida Association of Moving Picture Men that will meet here in April and several other matters were discussed before adjournment.

The big meeting in April will be well attended and every member is urged to bring another one with him, for Sanford needs beseeched cooperation so much as this thing. There is more money coming in from the crops than ever before and the time to make improvement is right now and it is hoped that all of the growers of the every delta will be present at the meeting in April, as well as the townspeople, for the Commercial Club is for the people of the whole county.

The Fest orchestra is fine. Be sure to hear it.

PAOLA POINTS

Mr. McGuinn has suffered a relapse and is once more confined to his bed.

Mr. Bell, who visited Mr. Brown recently enjoyed himself so thoroughly that he has returned and is again a guest at the Brown cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Snow of Denton, Texas had a present from the stork lately, a lively little son. All concerned doing nicely at last account. Mrs. Snow was formerly Miss Mabel Smeltz of Sylvan Lake.

A small party of our young people spent the day at Palm Springs on Saturday and finished up with an evening of music and dancing at the Pearson home.

The Buchanan fruit has all been picked and shipped to the Exchange packing house at Tavares to be packed. Mr. Brown will go to the same place this week. Mr. Hicks has about finished the marketing of his own fruit and that of other parties he has charge of. A good part of this fruit was bought by D. A. Caldwell & Sons of Sanford.

The hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan has been a veritable caravanary the past week. On Wednesday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Garnett of Topeka, Kansas and Mr. and Mrs. Hume Garnett of Kansas City, Mo. arrived. The two gentlemen are brothers and Mrs. M. L. Garnett is Mrs. Buchanan's eldest sister. These guests came by automobile from Sanford and the evening train brought Mr. John E. Whalen, fuel agent for the Frisco road, from St. Louis, Mo. Friday morning Mrs. A. Keely and Mrs. Paul Keely from Crystal Lake came by private conveyance, and the dinner guests that day numbered a round dozen. That all of these friends were comfortably housed, bountifully fed and pleasantly entertained goes without telling, as most of us can testify from our own experiences at this delightful home.

By the way, if the Crows and place, mentioned last week shows what a new corner can do in a short time, the Buchanan place shows equally well how an old settler can hold out Mr. Buchanan began operations here some twenty-five years ago and it has been his home ever since. His orange grove is a picture of neatness and thrift, trees uniform in size and condition, bearing bountiful crops year after year, while a large piece of lower muck land gives a fine garden chance. The large and elegantly furnished house is a model of comfort and convenience and beautiful plants and shrubs add much to the beauty within and without. Fine views of large and small lakes give artistic variety to the scene, and the lakes themselves make the place breezy and cool on the warmest summer day. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan frequently spend a summer at sea shore or mountain resort, and sometimes take a trip abroad, but many summers are frequently spent right in their own home, where they keep comfortable and well.

The ten-hour packing house at Twin Lakes is still busy. The McCormack, Eslinger and Bailey crews are shipped of their fruit, and the Allen grove will be finished this week. Children's fruit is all disposed of, and D. A. Caldwell & Sons have bought the last of the Tabor fruit and will commence shipping it this week.

Although the nights are still cool, we know the spring has come in earnest. All fruit trees are in full bloom and rich with the tender bloom of their new growth. The forest is beautiful with the yellow and pink rust that envelops the various kinds of oak trees and the silvery white of the pine trees. Easter candles. In every old field and clearing the wild plums have hung out their white lace curtains of bloom and nowhere can you find anything more fine than the delicate beauty of these patterns, fresh from Nature's own looms.

When Out of Sorts Start Your Liver Working Right

No Matter What Ails You Dodson's Liver Tonic is Usually a Big Help in Getting Well. Avoid Calomel

Nine times out of ten, when you are ill or out of sorts, your liver is out of order and getting it in order again will make you feel better. When your liver is sluggish and torpid and you are constipated and bilious, it is impossible to feel well.

There was a time when a great many people took calomel when so troubled. But this is not true today. It has become widely known that calomel often has bad after effects and it is even dangerous to many. The use of Dodson's Liver Tonic instead of calomel has spread wonderfully because it has proved so beneficial in so many households.

L. R. Phillips & Co. recommend and guarantee Dodson's Liver Tonic instead of calomel and guarantee to refund purchase price (50c) to you instantly without question if you are not perfectly pleased with the way in which it relieves you from constipation, sick headaches, biliousness, etc. It livens the liver and is a pleasant tasting, vegetable liquid, easy to take and causes no pain, no gripes, no bad results, no change from your regular duties and habits.

To test Dodson's Liver Tonic is a sensible matter because you get your money back if you are not satisfied.

SIMMERINGS OF THE POLITICAL POT BEING A BRIEF RESUME OF THINGS POLITICAL HERE AND ELSEWHERE

By R. J. HOLLY

These nice warm days are putting the politicians and their friends to work to get ready for the coming year. Men are speaking to each other again who have not held much attention to each other since the last election and little groups of men can be noticed every day standing on the corners or just around the corner discussing the price of putty we might say.

There are but few changes in the political line up since I last spoke about the political situation. In the Sheriff's race Hand, Brady and Arnie Smith are making a noise like running. There is a persistent rumor that John McKenzie of Oviedo will enter this race, but up to now John hasn't spoken for himself. One can hear of a frame up here and there but it is my honest opinion that this race will be left for Hand and Brady yet before election time and most of us would like to see these two put in the ring with boxing gloves and allowed to fight it out. There is an element of chance between these two since the appointments were made and so much fuss and feathers made over it and the majority of the voters are greatly in favor of allowing Hand and Brady to go to the post together and see who is the best man among the people. Arnie Smith and John McKenzie have plenty of friends and both of them will poll a large vote if they do run and one of them might be elected. For politics is something beyond the ken of man. Any of these candidates will make a good sheriff, but just as with several bets that wis' guys have made over Hand and Brady it would be much more interesting to see them make the campaign.

Judge Herring is the only man who has announced his candidacy for the office of county judge and of course is the only man who in official language is running yet. Judge Stringfellow says he is a candidate and will positively appear at the proper moment and if he does there will be some excitement even among the staid and dignified judges. Judge Herring although new in Florida politics is no novice in the game and stood high among the councils of the people in the green fields of Virginia and Judge Stringfellow has been around here some himself and is an old campaigner. When these two don't the coming year jump into the political business clerks to run for election will be some high sounding language couched in legal phrases and which look for a high toned campaign. In the elimination contest for Clerk of the Circuit Court there will be something doing and this race is second only to the sheriff's race as actual interest is concerned. Contrary to the expectations of many F. A. Douglass the present incumbent has announced his candidacy to succeed himself although it was rumored that he did not come up to expectations and Mr. Douglass might not run again. Dick Maxwell is the only other contestant and Dick is shaking the bushes mightily in all directions but Douglass' just jabs and says that he will be there when the bell rings. Dick claims that he will rent Elijah's garments in the hustings and he all want to see these two on the platform when the barbecue song begins. For there will be some tall scrambling done for this office.

The race for County Treasurer is the prettiest little race that we have and so anxious are the boys to hold this easy job that there are already four contestants and Will Howard of Oviedo is looking for a place to jump in. J. B. Jones, the present holder of the pension, wants to continue on the pension list and N. H. Garner, Bob Newman and H. H. Kilbee are all of the opinion that the money of the county would be safest with them and many and diverse reasons are advanced for their claims to the mazzuma. Mr. Garner is just crazy to give the money to the schools and Bob Newman wants to put the money in the bank that will pay the most interest and will give the interest back to the county and I have not heard what Kilbee intends to do with the money if he should get possession of it but suppose he will put it in the Bank of Geneva. All of these boys are hustling for the job and they lend an added charm to the situation and help the cigar manufacturers some. Seminole county is great on education and not only do we take the prize for having the best schools and the largest attendance but we have more men who want to lay down their lives for the privilege of hiring and discharging teachers with all the attendant good feelings that such a position engenders and we have three good men and true who want to guide the ship of education through the shoals and sharks of public opinion. The present incumbent wishes to hold over for another two years and D. L. Thrasher is none other than a campaigner and knows his people, but nothing after the votes and after the office is won they will not have much to say about me of the man who had to take an elephant for a desk and after he had him did not know what to do with him, but this is a free country and every good Democrat is privileged to run for office any time he feels like it.

Why I have even had people come to me today and tell me I had no business to think of running for the legislature and I fully agree with them, but if I want to run for the office I shall do so. Far up to the present time in this race I have been my fringes doing nothing to make the race. Of course I would vote for Forrest Lake for this position and I know he would vote for me. However Mr. Lake will have no opposition for the people here recognize his worth and ability, and he should go back this time unhampered by any local bills. Lake's election for Representative will virtually mean his election for speaker, and we take pleasure in announcing his candidacy for the position in this issue of the Herald.

John Jenkins is the man for the office of Tax Collector and he is such a good man that he will have no opposition. He attends strictly to his own business, which is more than any of the rest of us have ever been able to do and for this reason alone he should be elected. The other reason that he is the most competent man that can be found and one of the finest little fellows that I have ever seen is because there are no other fellows running. In the event that John does have opposition his opponent will pay me five dollars to say something nice about him and then it will be up to John to come again if he wants another nice notice.

This will be about all for this time and if any of the readers of The Herald office seekers are not satisfied with these few words they can come in and write their own obituary. In the interim I am a candidate for the postoffice in 1916, provided Mr. Haskins does not want it any longer than that period. All my friends want me to have this exalted position, that is all of them that do not wish it for themselves and like the candidates for county treasurer I am willing to give all the money back to the government, for I only want the position for the great honor there is in it. Certainly I do not need the money. The primary June 2 is not a Democratic primary but a general primary. Candidates for office in all parties are required to be named at this time. We have a host of very great contests for place either in the social or Republican or Bull Moose gatherings. Some of these parties have arranged to yet in put out a ticket.

In the Second District the present holder of this easy snap is L. P. Hagan and he will be opposed by W. J. McBratney who would like to worry about the county affairs and like C. C. Wood, who was called from the job. Mac has heard the call of politics and thinks he will try the game. As the county commissioners are to be elected from the whole county the contestants will have no easy job getting after the votes and after the office is won they will not have much to say about me of the man who had to take an elephant for a desk and after he had him did not know what to do with him, but this is a free country and every good Democrat is privileged to run for office any time he feels like it.

Many newspapers about the state are urging on their readers that candidates for the legislature should be pledged to vote for a resolution submitting the proposition of a constitutional convention to the voters. Dr. J. R. McEarchen is a candidate for the state senate against D. T. Finlayson in Jefferson county. There's plenty of room for action in the county field still. Most of the present incumbents for office will run again

Forrest Lake of Sanford will seek reelection to the legislature and will be a candidate for speaker of the house, his friends say.

Looks like there would be a fairly good sprinkling of newspaper men in the next legislature. C. E. Woods, the editor of the Eustis Lake Region and S. J. Triplett, business manager of the Kissimmee Gazette are already in the field for members of the lower house from their counties. Editor R. J. Holly of the Sanford Herald is being urged to make the race against Forrest Lake and Editor Bill Russell of the Eustis News may decide to get into the race for the state senate. Charles H. B. Floyd of Apalachicola, who is pretty near a newspaper man in the field for another term. Prospects are that the Fourth Estate will be well represented. Say's Kin Martin; There would be better laws if there was more editors and less lawyers making the laws.

Florida needs a constitutional convention. The next legislature should give us a new constitution.

Representative Frank Clark left Washington last night for Florida. He will speak in Live Oak next Saturday and at Perry on Monday.

Voting for county commissioners and county school board is all right. While the candidates come from their own districts they really represent the whole county and should be elected from the whole county.

John V. Denton, who hails from Micanopy, announces his candidacy for Congress against Frank Clark. We heard about Micanopy once—but who is Denton? Tampa Tribune.

Our brick roads will be worth millions of dollars to us in the next few years alone. There is probably no section in the south where the roads are as full of holes as the Sanford celery delta and brick roads are an imperative necessity. Let the good work proceed with all hands pulling together.

The canning school for 1914 was held in the department of home economics of the Florida State College for Women, March 9 to 13. A number of the county agents attending the school, in homes, economics, they handled two weeks and on Monday, March 9, all the remaining county agents of the state arrived in Tallahassee.

A powder plant explosion at Alton, Illinois last night shook territory in Illinois for a distance of fifty miles. Henry Miller, night watchman at the plant, and the only man known to have been within a mile of the mill, is believed to have been killed, as no trace of him could be found. Soon after the explosion reports of the earthquake shocks began coming in from Illinois towns. A Centralia man told fifty miles distant. The shock was not felt in St. Louis. The explosion left only a deep crater in the ground in the spot where the building stood. Nine tons of black powder went up in one blast. The shock rocked buildings in Alton and broke every plate glass window in East Alton. At the home of Edward Cunningham a stove was overturned and the house was in fire.

The state committee has clearly defined the Bryan primary law as being a white primary and this effectively nullifies the far fetched idea that the Negroes were being registered in the Democratic primary. This temper in the political arena was stirred up in the belief that Senator Fletcher's record could be belittled but it was conclusively proved that he had nothing to do with Fletcher's campaign and therefore Fletcher had nothing to do with the registering of Negroes. We ought to at least endeavor to play fair in this campaign, no matter how painful such a procedure may be.

AIN'T IT THE TRUTH? Those misguided females who persist in sending us letters of abuse when something in the paper does not meet their approval, are gnawing a file, besides wasting time that ought to be devoted to cooking or sweeping their houses if they have them. They cannot get on from the alleged error of our press and their efforts are entirely in the nature of love's labor lost. We are going to run the paper as it suits us, and if they do not like it they can lump it. There is no compulsion for them to take it. They are going to read it no matter what betides. Besides we are as independent as a wood Sawyer and care little whether school keeps or not.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

KEY WEST'S CANDIDATE

William H. Malone is the "Key West candidate" to dispute with Claude L. Engle the Congressional honors of the new Fourth District. Mr. Malone is a good man and a true man. Key West has been fighting for recognition in political matters for a long time—but it will discover, we fear, that it made a step from bad to worse when it got out of the district with Tampa and jumped into the district with Jacksonville. If Key West ever gets any recognition in the Jacksonville district, it will be because it is something Jacksonville doesn't want. We will try to treat the Key Westers kindly over here, although insisting on re-electing our Congressman every time—but they would not be satisfied and plead before the legislature for divorce from Tampa. They got it and immediately joined their political fortunes to those of Jacksonville—now in the shoe string district with Jacksonville pulling the strings at both ends.

Our best wishes are with Mr. Malone, but we are of the opinion he will have to move to Jacksonville to be elected.—Tampa Tribune

He will have to move even farther and get out of the same district with Claude L. Engle for Claude is going back to Congress.

WHY NOT REAL TRACTION LINE?

Orlando merchants have put on a show to have placed in operation two large auto trucks for transporting freight from Sanford to Orlando. These trucks carry several tons of freight each day from the Clyde docks at Sanford to Orlando and there must be a big saving in this or the idea would never have been inaugurated. This brings to mind the fact that The Herald has contended for years that a traction line should be built from Sanford to Orlando. The trucks offer a partial solution to the affair—that of cutting the freight rates that prevail until relief is found in traction line.

As editor of the Orlando Reporter-Star we advocated this line, wrote columns about it, tramped through the by-ways and hedges to see the farmers and merchants about it and to obtain the right of way and since locating in Sanford have never been idle on the subject. We were held up to ridicule at various times on the subject and earned the sobriquet of Holly Trolley, but the name will be made famous yet by the realization of this pipe dream and many other pipe dreams that bone heads have seen fit to joke about because they could not see any farther than their own individual profit grabbing, private schemes. The traction line idea is bearing fruit and the auto trucks are the start of the awakening of the business men of this section to their great need.

Orlando with two of the largest department stores in interior Florida and a constantly growing population has seen the light and the merchants down there should awake to the very important fact that they can never hope to transport goods by the railroads at present freight rates and sell them at the prices that will appeal to the trade. They have outgrown their village days when a few bundles of merchandise could be imported and sold at ordinary prices. They have jumped into the big city class and must now meet big city prices and the cheap mail order houses of the northern cities. In order to do this successfully they must lower their freight rates and to lower their freight rates they must have the benefit of water transportation. What is the answer?

Get to the water at Sanford where the daily boats on the St. Johns river are bringing goods to the wharves from the big markets of the world. Orlando, Kissimmee and other interior cities can never hope to have better freight rates unless they build a traction line. These riches of the greedy railroads have reduced freight rates in every state in the Union except Florida and we will reduce the freight rates only when traction lines have been built all over the peninsula.

Sanford, Orlando and Kissimmee business men have money enough to finance such a line and the wonder of it is that they have never investigated the matter deep enough to start such a line. Once the rails are laid the road could be bonded for sufficient to purchase cars and equipment and the road could begin paying dividends from the very beginning. The three counties could well afford to make the taxes free on such an enterprise for a number of years. The three counties could well afford to bond for sufficient to finance the plan, for it would pay even larger returns to the tax payers than brick roads and benefit more people.

The little farmer, the big farmer, the fruit grower, the tourist, the business man who would like to live in the open and transact business in the city would all ride on the traction and ship their goods that way. The farmer's wife could have some relaxation from the cares of the household and with her basket of produce step on the trolley as her door, be whisked to the city, do the trading and be back home before dinner. The advantages are manifold and too numerous to mention in this article. Suffice to say that our section offers more to the builders of a traction line than any section of the inland northland offered when tractions were first built in that frozen country.

No more beautiful country, no more populous country, no more fertile country in the whole southland than the forty miles of smiling countryside from Kissimmee to Sanford offers to the investor to come and open the treasure trove of riches by the pick and shovel of the traction builder.

Opportunity is knocking at our door.

The date for the Lake Region Press Club to meet has been postponed to April 8th on account of the enforced absence of several of the members on business on the date of March 25. Remember now, boys, that we will meet in Kissimmee on April 8th and every one of you must be there.

Hon. Forrest Lake of Sanford is a candidate for the legislature and will be returned without opposition. Being returned he will be elected to the Speakership of the House, a position that is his by reason of his long service in that body and the fact that he is recognized as one of the most able men in the political affairs of the state.

The growers are making more money this season than ever before, the bulkhead is on the way, the new tourist hotel will be built, the twenty-five miles of brick roads will soon be finished and the election will soon be over and there is nothing more to be desired for the people of Seminole county. After that the millennium.

Gentleman From Maine Thinks People Should Receive Herald

The following letter from Mr. J. F. Spaulding, who while living in far away Maine yet is a Sanford booster, was received yesterday. Mr. Spaulding, like others who have written before is on the ground and should know what is necessary to put Sanford before the eyes of the people who intend to visit Florida. The letter follows:

Augusta, Me., Mar. 16, 1914

Editor Herald, Sanford, Florida: With much interest I read the letter from F. J. McDannel of Owasso, Michigan, which appeared in the issue of March 10 in The Herald. I was interested in this letter, because I am interested in Sanford, for some day I expect to make my home in that beautiful city and I am anxious to see good citizens going there.

I agree with Mr. McDannel that there is no better way of advertising the city than by sending the Herald judiciously through the north. There are many Maine people going to Florida and the number is increasing every year, but of the large number who are going, few if any, are going to Sanford, and why? Because they know nothing of its fine location, its productive soil, of its commercial advantages, and in fact many have never heard of the place, hence they are being allured to other places by the advertising of land companies. By chance I learned of Sanford, went there and have spent time enough there to know something of the place and know I am a Sanford booster in this part of Maine. I have several parties interested and I believe some of them will go there. If the Herald could be mailed to parties who are interested in the fair state of Florida and contemplate going there, I have no doubt that many would be influenced to visit Sanford and a visit there would be a clinch and they would become settlers, for nowhere can they find a more charming spot. Quite a Maine colony has settled at Fellsmere, attracted there through the advertising of the Fellsmere Sales Co. in the Fellsmere Farmer, a paper which has been circulated through the state.

It seems to me that the Commercial Club would make no mistake in arranging to send a few hundred subscriptions of The Herald into the state of Maine in three months and watch the results. I would gladly assist in securing a list of names of prospects in this section if my services would be acceptable.

Yours respectfully, J. F. SPAULDING.

Creed for Young Farmers

In every school house in Prince Edward County, Va., a placard containing a creed for the American country boy and dedicated to the Boys Corn Club of Virginia has been posted. It reads:

"Country Boys Creed"

I believe that the country which God made is more beautiful than the city which man made; that life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of man. I believe that work with nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery. I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but how you do it; that opportunity comes to a boy on the farm as often as to a boy in the city; that life is larger, and freer and happier on the farm than in the town; that my success depends not upon my location, but upon myself; not upon my dreams, but upon what I actually do; not upon luck, but upon pluck. I believe in working when you work and in playing when you play, and in giving and demanding a square deal in every act of life.

Dangers of Over-cautiousness

The President Wm. H. Taft, in common with most great thinkers of all times, has danger ahead because of over-cautiousness in the preparation of our tax books. In a speech January 20th the President said:

"I feel that the so-called prudishness and the avoidance of nasty subjects in the last generation have ever blunted any substantial number of girls or boys to the wickedness of vice or made them to recognize sin and to know that they ought to avoid it without leading them into an atmosphere which they can hardly breathe without polluted suggestion."

The moving cause of this grotesque and dangerous addition to the curriculum in education is the view that the sins of the individual are not his, but those of society, and that society, by giving him knowledge of evil, will give him or her a panoply against its temptations. I cannot think the small amount of possible good can make up for the great dangers of this experiment.

Criticism of a different nature might well be directed to many text books that seek to incite aversion to the use of intoxicating liquor. The unwise extremity to which legislatures have gone in the requirement for such teaching which stimulated a class of books which dwell on the results of the use of intoxicating liquor in such an exaggerated way that the pupils soon begin to understand that they are grotesque exaggerations, and therefore become skeptical in respect to the whole matter. WE CAN NOW SUPPLY THIS HAIR PREPARATION

Our big Harmony Laboratories in Boston have brought up their orders now and so we won't have to disappoint any who are using Harmony Hair Beautifier and want more of it, or any who have been advised by your friends to use it. We can now fill all demands, even if it becomes even more of a rage than it is now.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil, but a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, wavy softness, rich beauty. Easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. Contains no oil, and will not change color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair, leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50c. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back—sold only at the more than 7,000 Retail stores, and in this town only by us. I. R. Ice Cream Slot Machine.

Dropping a nickel in a slot machine and getting in return a disk of ice cream is one of the many things possible in a new automatic restaurant recently opened in New York. In the same row with the ice cream machine are other slot machines for melons, oranges and other fruits that require to be kept at a cool temperature to be at their best. This is accomplished by a system of refrigeration.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

"I am too excited to think, anyway," the woman added, "because my brother broke his arm this morning, and I am on my way to his home to see him."—Kansas City Star.

Less Tapoca Now.

Tapoca is dearer owing to the fact that large areas formerly devoted to its planting in the Straits Settlements are now being used for rubber planting. While we were still in the nursery we registered a vow never to eat tapoca pudding when we were once in a position to order our own meals, and this information leaves us cold.—London Globe.

Good Business.

An evangelist who has been holding services in Atchison received $1,700 for two weeks' effort. This is more than most of the faithful Atchison pastors receive for a year's work. However, the evangelist made a record of $95 collections, which is also largely in excess of that of any local pastor.—Kansas City Star.

She Was Satisfied.

"Oxygen, oxygen, madam. That is what you need," said the eminent specialist. "Come every afternoon for your inhalations. They will cost you $5 each." "I knew our family physician didn't understand my case," declared the fashionable patient. "He told me all I needed was plain, fresh air."

Indeed, Who Would?

"Listen to this, wife," said Mr. Hubby, looking up from his newspaper. "For every missionary sent abroad last year Christian America kept 1,498 gallons of liquor." "Merciful, goodness!" exclaimed his wife. "Who'd ever think missionaries were such drinkers?"

Their Similarity.

The social reformer was inspecting the slums. "I have come to the conclusion," he remarked, "that good men are mighty scarce." "And bad ones are apt to make themselves so when they are wanted," replied the plain clothes man who was showing him around.—Philadelphia Record.

Hint for Employers.

"I don't know how to refuse a girl employment. I hate to send her away feeling discontent." "I always send her away smiling. Tell her truthfully they're so good looking that they might disturb the office work."—Washington Herald.

Leather Polish.

To make a polish for patent leather, make a mixture of one part linseed oil and two of cream. Mix it thoroughly and apply with a flannel, after removing every particle of dirt from the shoes. Then rub the shoes or with a soft cloth.

'Tis Now, With Some.

A New York judge says a man should not be expected to give all his salary to his wife. The question of carfare and luncheon for men may become almost as pressing as that of votes for women.—Washington Star.

Enough for the Money.

Client—"But you tell me of nothing but misfortunes." Fortune Teller—"Well, what do you expect for two francs? That you will win the big prize in the lottery, and marry a millionaire."—Polo Mele.

Extremes of Logic.

An English magistrate made a startling discovery the other day—startling because of its originality. "If you don't take drink," he observed to an erstwhile thiraty defaulter, "you won't get drunk."

Almost the Limit.

"Is he lazy?" "He is. He'll go into a revolving door and then wait for somebody to comb along and turn it around."—Kansas City Journal.

Still Worse.

"You intimate that he robs Peter to pay Paul?" "Dear man, it's worse than that! He robs Peter to pay Pauline."

Tampa Stomach Sufferer Gains Weight After Wonderful Remedy

Alex. George Defeats Dyspepsia After Suffering Stomach Ills for Years

Alex. George of 404 Hampton avenue, Tampa, Fla., after years of suffering with indigestion and other stomach ills, took a dose of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy "just to try it." He got swift relief and in a short time found himself gaining in weight. In a letter he wrote: "I took your simple treatment after suffering for years with various stomach troubles, pains and heaviness after eating, gas on the stomach, sour stomach and all the forms of dyspepsia. The first treatment relieved me and I sent for three bottles more. Now I feel so free from my old complaints I hardly know how to express my gratitude. I can eat anything I want and have gained flesh and strength." That letter from Mr. George is typical. Thousands have taken Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy with just such wonderful results. It is known all over the country because of its merits. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of morbid accumulations and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from stomach, liver and bowel troubles. Many insist it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives. Because of its wonderful success of this remedy there are many imitations, so be cautious. Be sure it's Mayr's. Go to L. R. Phillips & Co.'s drug store and ask about the remarkable results it has been accomplishing among people they know—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, M.D., Chemist, 154-156 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you its wonderful effects.

Pecan Culture Means Ready Money for Farmers

Every farmer should have at least a few pecan trees. While coming into maturity, the trees will not interfere with other crops. They will begin to bear in five to seven years from planting and if properly grown will produce 25 to 30 pounds a tree by the tenth year. The big pecan orchards may or may not prove profitable—much depends upon the management. There always will be a good market for pecan nuts, however, and the farmer who grows the trees along with other crops will find them a fine investment—a dependable source of ready money year in and year out.

Griffings' 1914 Tree Book

This work shows how pecans may be made profitable—gives instructions as to planting, care and culture. It shows the big Z pecan tree and describes this great new variety. Griffings have introduced several splendid pecans but in many respects Big Z is the best yet. Every farmer should plant it.

Other nuts that farmers should grow more generally have special attention in this book. It covers fully all the fruits that are adapted to the South, also shrubs, trees and plants for decorative purposes. The book is a complete planting guide—write today for a copy. Nurseries at ten convenient Gulf Coast points. Address Griffing Brothers, 313Q Forsyth St., Jacksonville, Fla.

General Literature Day. At the Women's Club March 26th, from 3 until 5 the Literature Department will entertain the club members. The committee in charge has arranged an interesting program for the afternoon, consisting of readings and music. All club members are most cordially invited to be present. Literature Department

A pleasant feature of the week was the meeting of the Literature Department on Wednesday afternoon, March 18th.

The Department in pursuance of the policy of Women who have influenced American life, had a most interesting story of the life of Mary J. Holmes, told by Mrs. Twichell, who is spending the winter in Sanford, and a near relative, and having spent twenty years or more in the home of Mrs. Holmes was well prepared to give an account of this familiar and well loved author.

Mrs. Twichell first told of Mrs. Holmes having spent two winters in this part of Florida, once at Enterprise, where the beauty and surroundings so appealed to Mrs. Holmes that the scene of one of her books is laid there. Later she visited Orlando, where she met some of our own ladies, and had pleasant remembrances of them. How she had come of a large family and was a very precocious child, teaching at the age of thirteen. A rapid and prolific writer, she published thirty-four books besides writing many serial stories that were never published in book form. Of her great insight into the life and character of people.

In the course of her story Mrs. Twichell told of the many times Mrs. Holmes had made abroad and of the fine collection of paintings and art she had in her home. How she always loved people; her home was open once a week to those who wished to view her treasures. She received once a year in a general reception to the public, even until the last year of her life, having passed away when eighty-three years old. None knew her but to love her.

This was most charmingly told by Mrs. Twichell and the appreciation of the club was extended to her in a rousing vote of thanks.

Weisman has it all over man. She never looks warm in summer and she never looks cold in winter.

Summer Stops the Swing. If you exert a pound of pressure against a man in a swing you'll start him moving slowly "to and fro." If you continue to exert a pound of pressure against him every time the swing makes a trip you'll soon have him going so high that he almost turns the whole circle. If you stop pushing the momentum will die out and the swing comes to rest at "dead center."

Winning trade follows the same natural law.

Advertisements are the force behind the swing of public favor. Each new advertisement increases the momentum. Finally the accumulated force of these numerous impulses swings indifference to the buying point.

If you stop advertising you lose momentum.

The moral of which is: Don't stop the business swing in summer. Keep adding the pounds of advertising pressure.

People Known by Their Homes. Experienced travelers are elated when they come across well-planned and well-cared-for homes tastefully planted. They instinctively feel a desire to know the occupants, feeling sure they will find within people of intelligence, education, nobleness, generosity and affability. All know then, that the cultivation of plants and flowers is indicative of high ideals and character, even though he has never thought closely along these lines. It has truly been said that "the exterior of a home is an index to the character of the inhabitants." How will you be judged?

Bachelor's Savage Comment. A wealthy gentleman, who owns a country seat, on one occasion nearly lost his mother-in-law, who fell into a river which flows through his estate. He announced the narrow escape to his friends, expecting their congratulations. One of them—an old bachelor—wrote as follows: "I always told you that river was too shallow."

When a Public Official Goes Wrong. "When a public servant gets caught doing something he ought not to, he always seems to derive a lot of satisfaction from pretending that his motives are misunderstood," says an Ohio paper. That isn't what this says. He says: "I have no desire to try my luck in the newspaper."

Treating a Cold. We like to think that we are much wiser, much more sensible and much further advanced than our ancestors, and so we are perhaps in many ways. Yet almost a hundred and forty years ago John Adams, who was working for his country like many other men and who had no idea that he would one day be president, and that his sayings would be worth quoting, prescribed the most modern sort of treatment for a cold—plenty of fresh air.

That Lost Balance. A young lady while out boat riding one day in a park, attempted to change seats, and fell overboard. When she was brought up gasping and struggling, the usual crowd gathered around and asked how it happened. "Oh, I just lost my balance," she began, when a little Jewish boy, who had been listening open-mouthed, said: "You've lost your balance, lad, I will find it for you."

Policeman in Silk Hat. Savona, Italy, is probably the only town in the world where policemen wear top hats. One cannot help wondering what the policemen's "toppers" look like after the officers have had a rough and tumble with hoodlums. Perhaps, however, Savona lives up to the level of respectability indicated by the silk hats and does not possess hoodlums.—Wide World Magazine.

Eggs for Invalids. Separate the yolk from the white of an egg, beat the yolk thoroughly and then beat the white to a froth, add a heaping teaspoonful of sugar, a trifle of salt. Stir these into the yolk and then add the white. Add enough milk to fill the glass and stir. Add either one or one-half spoonful of sherry. The salt offsets the flavor of the egg.

TEST PROVES THAT BRICK ON NEW ROADS ARE ALL RIGHT

BRICKS ARE SUBJECTED TO A SEVERE TEST

STATEMENT OF ENGINEER

COMPARISON WITH BRICK USED ON CITY STREETS GIVES PREFERENCE TO NEW BRICKS

In order to make sure that the bricks now being used in the construction of our new brick roads were up to the standard the board of county commissioners caused a very severe test to be made using in this test the bricks which have been in use on the various city streets and those now being used by the contractors on the new roads.

The test used on these bricks is known as the Rattle test, and is the most up to date method of testing. The bricks which are subjected to this test are given what is considered to be as near as possible a duplicate of the actual treatment that will be given to a brick paving after it is put into use.

Mr. Fred Williams, the engineer in charge of the work and who is employed by the county commissioners, stated yesterday that after seeing this test there was no doubt as to the quality of the brick now being used.

Augusta, Ga., Mar. 11 and 12, 14. Results of various Rattle Tests made at plant of Hankinson & Hagler for committee of the Seminole county commissioners, of Seminole county, Fla., in presence of A. T. Rossetter, J. T. McLain, H. S. Jaudon, Hankinson & Hagler, Brown and F. T. Williams:

These tests where two bricks were broken would probably have run ten per cent higher. These broken bricks would have been crushed by the roller and have been thrown out of pavement, therefore a fair comparison would be to assume these percentages of loss at least two per cent less than shown.

Southern Clay Brick selected by Fred T. Williams on 9th street, Sanford, Fla. One sample, Rockmart, selected by Messrs. Rossetter, McLain and Hankinson; the other by H. S. Jaudon and F. T. Williams. Both samples secured on streets of Augusta.

Augusta block selected by H. S. Jaudon and Fred T. Williams and secured where they were used for paving in Augusta.

Hankinson & Hagler brick were selected by Mr. Brown and Fred T. Williams, except last test which was selected by Mr. Hagler.

In selecting these samples for tests a general average was taken in discarding any brick which would be thrown out on a visual inspection.

FRED T. WILLIAMS.

SATURDAY NIGHT CLOSING

Sanford Merchants Will Listen to Call of Overworked Clerks

There is no more reason for the stores remaining open after ten o'clock Saturday nights than there is for them to remain open all day Sunday. If it was understood by the buying public that the stores would be closed at ten o'clock then the public would be found making their purchases before that time, and when ten o'clock came the people would all be ready to pass out and the stores could close just as easily as they do now at twelve or after.

This business of keeping the stores open just to please the late shoppers on Saturday night can easily be obviated by all the merchants agreeing to close their stores at ten o'clock Saturday nights and a petition to do this is being circulated today and is being signed by the principal merchants.

The ladies who have been making a habit of shopping later than ten o'clock Saturday nights especially in the summer time have never stopped to consider the clerks or the idea that many times they are really buying goods on Sunday morning for the stores here are often kept open until 12 o'clock Saturday nights and sometimes after that hour.

All of this buying could be finished before ten o'clock if it was known that the stores would close before this hour and the early closing scheme will be laid out here and it is to be hoped that all the principal merchants will fall into line and sign the petition and close at ten o'clock.

Billy Russell on Young Tom

The Palmetto News of March 20th of which Hon. W. A. Russell, President of the Florida Press Association, is editor, has this day of the candidacy of young Tom Appleyard, the son of the veteran Florida editor.

"That bright, hustling, young man, T. J. Appleyard, Jr., of Tallahassee, who is making a campaign for commissioner of agriculture, and winning strong friends in every part of the state every day of his life, has struck the keynote to success by his promise to make his office and department a real help to the agricultural interests of the state; and not, as it is now strongly suspected, to be a centre of political activity. The one great criticism of the present commissioner, McRae, is that he is politician—yesterday, today and forever—and that he has as his main purpose the building up of a McRae machine to continue himself in power. The chances are that Appleyard will do as he deserves to do."

Tom was raised in Sanford and went to school in this city. He is one of Florida's best boosters.

Girls Camp Conferees

Miss Ethel McCoy of Jacksonville was in the city yesterday looking after the details for the Girls' Camp Conference to be held at Enterprise some time in July. The conference will embrace the Camp Fire Girls and kindred organizations and will be held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. The meeting will be most beneficial, not only from a health standpoint but also from the instruction that will be given to the girls by the teachers. The Epworth League has been most generously offered the girls by the owners, and Enterprise will be the home of about one hundred girls for a week, the girls coming from all over the south.

NO POSTMASTER AS YET FOR BUSY CITY OF JACKSONVILLE

SENATORS CANNOT AGREE ON THE MAN

GEROW KEEPS POSITION

OTHER NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE FAIR STATE OF FLORIDA FOR BUSY READERS

Washington, Mar. 23.—It is now understood at the postoffice department that a postmaster at Jacksonville probably will not be appointed until after the Florida senatorial primaries.

Senator Fletcher is in Florida busily engaged in his pre-primary fighting. Nothing is being done toward making the appointment, and the department is devoting its attention to other cases.

Senator Bryn's office gives out the statement that National Committeeman Crawford was not in Washington on postoffice matters. He simply stopped off here for a friendly chat en route to New York. He has left the city. Crawford, it is said, favors Dignan for the place.

Letters and telegrams commending dark horse candidates continue to pour into the department. F. O. Miller's and Julian Spears' friends are most active.

As a result of a gunshot wound between the eyes, William F. White, 34 years of age, cashier of the Clyde St. Johns river line, met death Saturday afternoon. The shooting is said to have been entirely accidental. Mr. White was sitting at his desk in the offices of the company located on the Clyde line docks yesterday afternoon, and while examining his gun, it is stated that it was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering his head almost directly between the eyes and ranging upwards.

Mr. White died in the office of Dr. Ralph E. Smith, 261 West Forsyth street, where he was rushed for medical attention. Times-Union.

AS Cloud will have the honor of entertaining the state encampment of the Grand Army of the Encampment, WWV Grand Army of the Republic on the 14th and 15th of April. Great preparations are being made for this occasion and fully 5,000 visitors are expected.

Nomination of a candidate for the circuit bench in the eleventh circuit, to succeed Judge L. W. Bothel, incapacitated through illness, is not favored by a majority of the lawyers of Miami, principally for the reason that Key West would probably get enough votes to insure to that city the judicial seat, while attorneys in that part of the state rather have the judicial seat in a more accessible city, viz, Miami.

Pensacola wants a channel from the sea to the city docks that will accommodate the biggest vessels afloat. They are now asking for an appropriation to secure thirty-five feet and very likely the government will accede to their demands. Pensacola is one of the most important ports of the country and her commerce is growing daily. The United States is also building battleships and there must be places for the super-dreadnaughts to enter adjacent southern territory. Time-Union. Short Talks.

Deep water is the need of Miami, and the bickering over where the docks shall be is only a tempest in a teapot compared to the great question of making Miami a port, in the opinion of Chas.

A. Bookwalter, for ten years mayor of Indianapolis, authority on municipal affairs, keen observer, public speaker, and now urged as a candidate for the United States senate, who is so impressed with the city on this, his first visit, that he hopes to make it his winter.

The Board of Trade will show that Franklin County soil produces profitable and abundant crops if given proper cultivation. The experimental farm is now underway and it gives promise of being well worth going a long way to see. However, vegetable growing for profit is not new in Franklin county, as our readers are well aware. Some very wonderful results have been obtained in the past. In fact, so wonderful were the results that our up-country friends have doubted the credibility of the stories. Apalachicola Times.

Rev. Waldron's New Position. The Congregational church of Tampa last week invited Rev. George B. Waldron to become "Consulting Pastor," and Mr. Waldron has accepted this invitation. This means that he will have close supervision of the church, which is to be under the immediate charge of Rev. Arthur D. Anderson, who has been Mr. Waldron's assistant in Tampa for several months, and will continue to aid in the general mission work.

As soon as school is out in May Mr. Waldron expects to move with his family to Tampa. They will reside in the West Tampa Mission for the summer, thus giving Rev. and Mrs. F. P. Eslinger opportunity to take a much needed vacation. Both the American and Cuban churches in West Tampa have resident pastors, but there is need of a head for the entire work. In addition to these new duties Mr. Waldron will continue to have charge of the Congregational activities of the state as superintendent of mission work. It is proposed to make Tampa hereafter the center for this state work. Tampa church has had a checkered history, but is taking on new life and usefulness under the ministrations of these men.

Reception to Woman's Club. The Literature Department of the Woman's Club has enjoyed a most delightful season of study in American literature and the program to be given at the open meeting on Wednesday afternoon will be made up from the work of the members. It is hoped that every member of the club will be present to see the possibilities of the department. There will be an informal reception after the program which is as follows:

Selected. Mrs. F. P. Powell. Reading, King Robert of Sicily. Vocal Duet. Miss Olive Hill, Miss Aspinwall. Reading, "The Great".

Has there. Beware! Longfellow. Miss Gertrude Green. Vocal Solo, Sunbeams. Ronald. Miss Aspinwall. Reading, "The Courtin'". Lovell. Mrs. L. R. Philips.

A building permit has been issued for the erection of a $10,000.00 plant in Jacksonville. This new plant is to be a two story brick structure and will be one of the most modern of its kind in Jacksonville.

UNITED STATES TAKES HAND IN REDUCING LIVING COST

WILL ESTABLISH FARM TO CONSUMER PRICES

THROUGH PARCEL POST

AND FLORIDA FARMERS CAN THEN SEND PRODUCTS DIRECT TO BUYER FROM THE FIELD

Washington, March 23.—Preliminary steps were taken by the Postoffice Department today to forward its plan for reducing the cost of living by having the parcel post carry farm products direct to the door of the consumer. Ten cities in the country have been asked to investigate conditions, an order having been made by Postmaster Burleson, with a view to permitting the use of crates and boxes for butter, eggs, poultry, vegetables and fruit shipped by parcel post.

Orders to be sent to the postmasters at Boston, Atlanta, St. Louis, San Francisco, Baltimore, Detroit, La Crosse Wis., Lynn, Mass., Rock Island, Ill., and Washington, directing them to receive the names of persons who are willing to supply farm produce in retail quantities in parcel post. The printed list of these names will be distributed among town and city patrons.

"By the use of the lists," said First Assistant Postmaster General Roper today, "the city consumer can get in touch with a farmer who will fill his orders weekly for farm produce. The consumer will receive the produce from the country and the personal relationship established no doubt will tend to improve the quality. The farmer will be relieved of carrying his produce to market, as the rural carriers will make daily collections at the farmers' own door of the retail shipments to city consumers.

"The point has been raised that difficulty will be experienced in the return of hampers and other containers. This problem does not appear to be difficult as the farmers may use inexpensive hampers whose value would not warrant their return, or they may use the higher grade hampers for which they may include an additional charge to be credited to the consumer on the return of the hamper by parcel post.

"The Postmaster General is convinced that this plan is the one thing necessary to enable the people of this country to enjoy the potential benefits of the parcel post. No one ever has questioned the possibility of reducing the cost of living by establishing direct relations between the ultimate consumer and the original producer. A complete means for such direct transportation was proposed for the first time by the establishment of the domestic parcel post, but there has been lacking an agency by means of which the individual producer could get in touch with the individual consumer.

"The Postmaster General's plan designed to provide this agency for the most economical distribution of those products which are consumed in the form of condition in which they are produced.

War on Mendicants

Tampa, Fla., Mar. 20.—A campaign to rid Tampa of the numerous beggars who have put in a bad appearance on the streets of late asking alms of the citizens and tourists was started yesterday by Chief of Police S. T. Woodward. Orders were issued to the men to bring in every man found on the streets asking for money.

All of those arrested will be given an opportunity to get the first train out of town in any direction they desire to go and if they refuse to leave will be arrested and tried before Judge Cohen. Any cases taken in court will be vigorously prosecuted, according to the chief.

In the last week a brigade of legless and armless beggars have taken prominent positions in the city's streets soliciting alms. Others who are able bodied young men have also been seen. Beggars give any city a black eye, declared Chief Woodward yesterday, after Secretary Jackson had written the order to hifi j all of these men in.

Illinois Men Here

L. M. Crosswaite of Bloomington, Illinois is in the city this week with the following gentlemen: Mr. W. J. LaToor, president of the Dixon State Bank of Dixon, Illinois; Mr. W. W. Whitmore, an attorney of Bloomington, Ill.; Mr. S. J. Dicks of Bloomington who has a saw mill in operation at Trussville and Mr. G. W. Arnold of Bloomington, a large grain dealer of that city. All of these gentlemen are interested in Geneva peninsula and in an immense bearing orange grove in DeSoto county.

OLD DeBARRY SOLD

Famous River Steamer Will Be Sent To Baltimore

The Frederick de Bary of the Clyde St. Johns river line has been sold to the Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Company and Capt. B. F. McHorney and Chief Engineer E. Fitzgerald of the Potomac and Chesapeake Company are in the city today from Washington to take the familiar old river steamer north.

For thirty years the Frederick de Bary has been one of the landmarks of river navigation and in that time has taken many thousands of people from this city to the upper river points comfortably and safely.

The steamer is known as one of the staunchest that ever plied these waters and has made several voyages outside to Boston, where it was in the summer excursion business.

On its return from one of these voyages, in the fall, it was caught in an equinoctial storm and beached on the Carolina coast. It was thought at the time that the steamer would be a total wreck but an examination showed little damage done and the vessel was brought to Jacksonville, overhauled and repaired, practically rebuilt, and at once resumed her accustomed trips on the upper river from this city.

Thousands in this city had along the St. Johns river will miss the Frederick de Bary and will be sorry to learn that it has been sold and will be no more in their waters.

The steamer was launched yesterday from the Merrill-Stevens floating dry dock, which work was done on her hull, and is now moored at the shipyard undergoing some changes before the sailing.

The DeBary will be used in the passenger and freight service on the Potomac and its tributaries and will doubtless become as popular there as it has been in the St. Johns river.

Capt. McHorney, who is on his first visit to Jacksonville, is much pleased with this city. He reports freight and passenger business with the steamer of the company he represents as being very heavy. Times-Union.

G. B. Trammell's Invitation

With a progressive, industrious, intelligent, hospitable and high type of citizenry, with a rapidly increasing population, increased activities in the farm and fruit industries, a conspicuous enlargement of manufacturing enterprises and a very marked expansion of business operations, Florida is rapidly becoming the front as one of the greatest of the American states. For those who wish to find greater happiness and prosperity we bid you come to our state. No state offers greater opportunities to those who desire to engage in fruit growing, truck farming, general farming, cattle raising, or in manufacturing enterprises.

We offer you the finest fruit real estate on the globe, and our land and real estate generally can be purchased at prices that are reasonable. To you of the frozen north we say: Come to the land of the palm and the land of the fruit and this one, the land where the sun shines the brightest, the land where the skies are the clearest, the land of all lands the dearest.
