BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

LOVE DESTROYS FEAR: There is no fear in love but perfect love casteth out fear...

It is becoming increasingly evident that modern politicians are no longer content to feed the starving multitudes with appeasement.

Lepo Vesel and Johnnie Walmüller have separated after only a few months of wedlock.

And just as the government was preparing to take huge out of production Walt Disney came along with his three little pigs and cleaned up a fortune.

We can't become interested in itinerant street preachers, when we have several churches in this city which are deserving of support.

According to one of the intelligence experts, man reaches his highest degree of intelligence at the age of about 17 years...

On account of the many splendid devices for milking farmers, many farmers are unable to purchase devices for milking cows.

Persons on CWA relief rolls who at the same time hold some other remunerative position are not only keeping some worthy persons out of CWA jobs but are also making it more difficult for them to find work in the normal channels of trade.

Steadily rising tides of new car buying today caught the automobile industry unprepared to meet the public's demand for $250,000,000 worth of cars this month.

Roosevelt has agreed that a time limitation of three years may be lacked on by Congress to his money bill.

It was interesting to note that after all the squawking in Cuba against foreign bondholders, most of whom are Americans, and the threats against American residents of Cuba...

We don't believe in war but we are very highly commended President Roosevelt's request of Congress for a suitable appropriation for the construction of new warships.

Money For Homes

In addition to going into the banking business, the utility business, and the railroad business, as well as taking an active interest in many other forms of business, the government has recently decided to launch itself rather vigorously into the real estate business.

Atlanta has asked for three million dollars for a 2,000 room project. Cincinnati has started off with a $2,400,000 project. Indianapolis has received approval for a $5,000,000 housing plan, and Cleveland has started one involving an expenditure of $14,000,000.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes, in a statement published in Collier's Weekly outlining the purposes of the Emergency Housing Corporation, says: "We hope to speed up housing in localities where private and public bodies are having difficulty in getting started."

Mayor LaGuardia of New York announces that he will take all the money he can get from the government corporation. "I mean business about housing," he states.

Robert D. Kohn, head of the government's Emergency Housing Corporation, says: "The program will cover the country. Every town can be a part of our plans."

Harold L. Ickes, Public Works Administrator, supplies details of the financial arrangements. "No one is going to swindle the government by charging extortionate prices for land," he states.

John T. Flynn, business economist, sums up the economic soundness of the whole project by stating: "Slums are one luxury that we've got to get rid of."

This Racket Was A Bust

Here's a splendid little racket, not unlike many which have been worked before, but one which proves that old rackets in new clothes can be made profitable.

Naturally when men received letters from him stating that he was raising $5,000 for the purpose of buying the bust for the National Gallery of Arts and that a small contribution would be appreciated, they promptly sent in their contributions.

Among those, thus fleeced, were none other than Andrew Mellon, one time secretary of the United States treasury; Charles G. Dawes, Chicago banker, and former vice president of the United States; W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; William Randolph Hearst, who as a newspaperman should have known better.

It was discovered that Layton had written more than thirty thousand letters to men of prominence signing General Squier's name and asking for contributions.

However, Layton's scheme has been uncovered at last. He has been arrested and undoubtedly will spend a considerable portion of his remaining years on earth in the quiet contemplation of his money making scheme.

CONDITIONS IN Sale Of Tickets To President's Party Pleased Committee AS DEPLORABLE

Placed over the response which has been made to the appeal that should be to the President Roosevelt Birthday Party of next Tuesday night to be bought as soon as possible, members of the committee on arrangements rebuked their efforts today in making the event surpass anything of its kind ever staged here.

Rollins Professor Has Pessimistic View Of Affairs On Island. WINTER PARK, Jan. 25.—Publishing a dismal picture of the situation in Cuba, Professor John Martin, in his weekly public lecture on international relations at Rollins College Sunday morning, predicted that the United States may yet be driven to take a hand in the settlement of the disturbances which have kept the island republic in a turmoil for many weeks.

Already, Professor Martin pointed out, "all the business elements, the owners of property, the most solid citizens of the island, are fleeing for the United States en masse to land."

The Cuban revolution, Mr. Martin maintained, has reached only its middle stage. "It began in the desperate, frenzied uprising of all-night the whole population against the unrelenting tyranny of President Machado," he explained.

Harold L. Ickes, Public Works Administrator, supplies details of the financial arrangements. "No one is going to swindle the government by charging extortionate prices for land," he states.

The revolution, Mr. Martin believes, is moving inevitably to the left. It is passing from a political into a social revolution. The struggle in the great electrical supply works, which left Havana in darkness, and without water or gas was a portent. If the social course of revolution is followed, the disorder will daily increase.

NEW SENTIMENT FAVORING PEACE RISES IN JAPAN

Anti-Militarist Views Expressed By Many Members Of Cabinet

TOKYO, Jan. 26.—(AP)—An anti-militarist sentiment marked the first interpellation in Japan's Imperial Diet yesterday when members of the cabinet completed their statements of policy and declared questioning in order. It was a spirit in tone, with the plan for peace and "understanding" voiced by Foreign Minister Koki Hirota upon whom the greatest attention was focused as the diet was reconvened today. Count Yoshinori Futsura opened by criticizing the government for permitting publication of inflammatory articles and predictions of war, without specifically mentioning a recent magazine interview with Vice-Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu or a fictional account of a Japanese-American war recently widely publicized in the United States. There was a chorus of guarded ministerial agreement. (In an interview published in the Magazine Genial, Admiral Suetsugu, commander of the navy's combined fleets, was quoted as warning that Japan must prepare to defend herself against "America's policy of hostility encircling Japan by every possible means.") "The so-called national spirit fostered by such incitations is not the true spirit of Nippon, in which an international outlook is inherent. The true Samurai spirit seeks to prevail without fighting," Count Futsura declared. "I quite agree," said Premier Makoto Suio. Home Minister Baron Tatsu Yamamoto, in charge of censorship, said the government is acting to control such publications. Groundwork for this anti-militarist expression was laid earlier today in the pronouncement of Foreign Minister Koki Hirota on the Empire's delicate relations with Soviet Russia and China and improving contacts between Japan and the United States. "No question" exists between Japan and the United States, Hirota told the Diet, "that is intrinsically difficult of solution. I am confident that the United States will not fail to appreciate correctly Japan's position in East Asia."

Florida Has Profited By New Truck Rule

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Because the state requires that all trucks be weighed before a license tag is issued there have been many additional dollars collected by the motor vehicle department. George H. Wilder, motor vehicle commissioner, said yesterday more than 2000 trucks had been found to exceed the factory weight figure and actual weighing of the machines gives the state more money for the heavier ones. Truck tags are priced on the basis of 75 cents for each 100 pounds up to 5000, and $1 in excess of that.

Big Earnings Reported By 2 Major Concerns

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Two large industrial corporations made public their earnings statements yesterday and both reflected substantial increases for the comparative periods of the previous year. Bethlehem Steel Corporation reported a profit for the first time since the middle of 1931, earning net income of $629,671 in the quarter of 1933 compared with a loss of $5,621,678 in the same quarter of 1932.

Man Kicked, Beaten To Death By His Wives

MALDEN, Pa., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Because he did not divorce four previous wives, leader Huskewyl paid with his life yesterday. His fifth wife became suspicious, learned that her husband had not divorced four predecessors and searched until she found them. In time, the five became friends and the fifth lured the unsuspecting husband to a party at which all were gathered. Hired with saws all five kicked and beat him to death.

Documentary Stamp Tax Collection Halted

PENSACOLA, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Florida yesterday was restrained from collecting its documentary stamp tax from brokerage firms doing an interstate business, by a temporary injunction issued by a three judge federal court here. A petition for injunction was entered by Thompson & McKinnon and Frazier & Beane, brokerage firms, members of the New York stock exchange; when Comptroller Lee announced he would begin collection of the tax from sale of securities. Complainers claimed documentary taxes on their business would cost each about $500 a day. They contended the stamp tax act as applied to brokerage was unconstitutional because it laid an undue burden upon interstate commerce. Sanford Country Club. COMFORT, COLOR FEATURE LATEST SPRING FASHIONS

Newest Modes Placed On Display Before Elite Miami Throng

MIAMI BEACH, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Against a tropical background of palm trees and ocean white caps, the newest modes in sea shore resort wear were displayed here recently at one of the largest fashion shows of the season.

strated the newest styles in resort apparel. Simplicity, comfort, and color were the dominating themes of the show, which accented home-spun linens in natural tones, Mexican pottery colors for beach clothes and vivid hues for masculine wear.

Among the most striking beach styles for women were Mexican costumes of brown, orange and rust colored sail cloth in slacks and jacket suits, with bright bandannas and huge straw sombrens.

One smart costume was of blue denim, with a row of metal-rimmed portholes down each side of the slacks, and a fitted short jacket with red bandanna knotted at the throat.

Shorts for beach wear were displayed in the new longer length, just above the knee, with pleats for fullness. Tropicana shorts, suspended and worn with dark contrasting polo shirts, were shown, with peaked knitted Alpine caps. Materials were flannel, sail cloth or ribbed wool, and colors leaned toward hunter's green and brown.

Masculine fashions attracted wide attention in the show, with their display of vivid-hued sail cloth slacks in orange, yellow, scarlet, blue and rust. A favorite combination was rust colored sail cloth slacks and deep blue polo shirt.

Narrow wale corduroy shorts were featured in the masculine swim fashions, with matching beach robes.

For daytime wear, men models showed contrasting jacket and trousers of brown and gray in solid colors and checks.

For evening, the young men of fashion next summer will wear a white tuxedo and black trousers or a white mess jacket with knicker-bund.

Feminine costumes for the races stressed the elegance of white, for trimming on chalk white crepe suits, with dark tuffeta blouses and wide-brimmed, dark linen hats.

Hats for sport and sports wear were almost uniformly wide-brimmed and shallow crowned, in various versions of linen and straw.

A white sports suit that attracted interest featured a green Pabloy blouse and frog trim, with a green Shantung hat.

VOLUSIA CLUBS JOIN NORTHEAST FLORIDA LEAGUE

Sanford To Be Asked To Enter Loop That Has Weaver At Head

DELAND, Jan. 25.—That central and northern Florida follow-up of the national pastime will get a run for their money this year became an assured fact yesterday when DeLand and Daytona Beach met their lot with the Northeast Florida League, thus rounding out a strong six-club circuit composed of Jacksonville, Gainesville, Palatka, St. Augustine, DeLand and Daytona Beach.

Verflet money was posted by the DeLand and Daytona Beach clubs yesterday following a conference which got under way here yesterday morning and terminated at the beach city some hours later.

This conference was attended by Buck Weaver, league president; R. E. Fletcher and E. A. Byrroughs, Jacksonville business men and backers of the team from that city; Teen Gallagos, manager of the Jacksonville entry; and one-time DeLand Red; W. J. Page, Red manager; and G. E. Gilliland, DeLand Chamber of Commerce secretary, and Dr. Kenneth West, who represented the Daytona Beach interests.

It was reported by Mr. Gilliland late yesterday that the meeting resulted in the coming out of the schedule difficulties and other minor differences that have heretofore stood in the way of the Volusia counties applying for league membership.

It was also learned on good authority last night that an effort is being made to bring Sanford into the fold, and that if this is accomplished a further effort will be made to enlist Leesburg, thus making up a strong eight club circuit.

The Sanford Celeryfeds are natural rivals of both the Reds and the Daytona Beach Buccaneers, and both favor their being added to the roster if at all possible of accomplishment.

Daytona Beach, in common with DeLand and Palatka, is making improvement to its playing fields and in view of reported keen interest, will doubtless live up to past records and place a strong array of talent in the field when the official league season opens in April.

Conrad Field here, which has been improved through the joint efforts of the city and the CWA, is reported to be approaching perfection under the watchful eye of Bert Chapman, former big league player, who has acted in an advisory capacity while work has been in progress.

INSURANCE FOR UNEMPLOYED IS STRONGLY URGED

Miss Perkins' Annual Report Also Favors Pensions For Aged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—(AP)—Unemployment insurance and old-age pensions were strongly urged recently by Secretary Perkins of the labor department.

In her annual report Miss Perkins recommended that states set up some form of insurance in an effort to prevent future suffering from unemployment, and old-age pensions to remove aged men and women from competition for jobs.

She also recommended full use of the government employment service by workers and employers; planning of production by factories to stabilize employment; provision for proper low cost housing; greater efforts to secure safety for workers in industry; and greater co-operation between state and federal labor departments.

Miss Perkins expressed belief that in some way the principal accomplishments of the NRA should be made permanent, including shorter working hours, higher wages, permanent abolition of child labor, use of government purchasing power for supplies and equipment to maintain high industrial standards; boards to pass on local industrial complaints and "general recognition of the desirability of competent wage earners representation, selected through organization, in all matters affecting industry, labor conditions and civic development."

"Some form of unemployment reserves," she said, "should be set up in the different states so that in the future it may take the place of the bread line or other charities as a sympathetic honorable method of tiding over a slump period for those who want work and lack it."

TWO HURT IN CRASH

ST. CLOUD, Jan. 25.—H. S. Partin and Charles Thomas of this city were injured yesterday in an automobile accident near here. Their car was said to have sideswiped one driven by Will Stevens as they tried to pass it. Stevens was not hurt. Both cars were virtually demolished. The injured men were taken to their homes after treatment at a physician's office.

CHEAP AUTO TAGS

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 25.—The Mississippi house of representatives passed a measure reducing auto license fees to one dollar per cylinder on passenger cars and to $27.50 on farm trucks.
